Certainly the tradesmen are to be blamed for the deficit in the supplies and the high prices, but they find themselves dependent on the law of supply and demand; and therefore under good circumstances they take advantage of, and under bad conditions become victims of, the state of the market. Therefore, any means that are adopted, if they are all directed against the merchants, will not only fail to attain their purpose, but will lead to contrary results. Certainly a very hard struggle is necessary against the frequently practiced abuses in trade. It is a dangerous experiment to put into the hands of city and county governments or co-operative organizations the management of the food supply, because it is impossible to create such colossal co-operation, such colossal organization of city governments to obtain the food necessities of a population of two millions. Such plans only serve to divert our attention from the fundamental cause which has operated to bring about our dearth of foodstuffs; that is, the lack of food shipment due to disturbed railroad conditions.

The food crisis is among us not because there has been a failure of crops. On the contrary, all products are in great abundance at the centres of production. The misfortune is that we have no means for the transportation of these food products to the large cities for consumption. From this it is very easy to understand that whoever occupies himself with the provision of food—merchants, city governments, or co-operative organizations, it does not matter—the crisis will continue as long as supplies fail to arrive.

In the foregoing Spring, when means were adopted to increase shipment by rail and by water, the supply exceeded the demand, the prices diminished 50 per cent., and all tradesmen, especially the bakers, suffered great losses. Our City Government, which had bought up large quantities of food, also suffered great losses. The prices rose considerably when transportation ceased—yet we forget the main cause which provoked the high prices.

For a vivid explanation of the main cause of the approaching crisis, I shall present the official data of the Petrograd District Committee and the numbers of carloads of wheat and flour that have arrived during the last four months.

WHEAT FLOUR.

During—	Gross No. Carloads.	Daily Avg.
May	2,132	69
June	1,226	41
July	1,204	39
August	153	4.9

CORN FLOUR.

During—	Gross No. Carloads.	Daily Avg.
May	1,455	47
June	1,893	63
July	1,618	52
August	173	5.6

WHEAT.

During—	Gross No. Carloads.	Daily Avg.
May	355	11.4
June	673	22
July	995	32
August	88	2.8

Thus during the month of August there arrived daily in Petrograd only 4.9 carloads of wheat flour, 5.6 carloads of corn flour, and 2.8 carloads of wheat, making a total of 13.3 carloads daily, while the demand in the capital for these three items usually is 150 carloads every twenty-four hours, and at present because of the concentration of a great number of wounded and refugees the demand has been increased considerably. In the same proportion the arrival of all other commodities has diminished. Especially is felt the scarcity of potatoes. In May 777 carloads arrived, making an average of twenty-five carloads each day, while in August only six carloads arrived for the whole month, a daily average of 0.2 carloads a day.

This cannot continue any longer. In the interest of the population of the capital it is necessary to adopt stronger means to secure the shipment to the capital of the necessary quantities of food. A given number of freight cars and railroad facilities must continuously and without fail be used for the transportation of the necessary food products in order to prevent the possibility of a famine.

A SOCIAL LABORATORY.

Opportunity for Americans to Study Problems at Birmingham.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

I feel that the situation as depicted by Miss Anne Ashley in the letter, copy of which is inclosed, is of peculiar interest to Americans at this time. To the student who wishes to become familiar at first hand with great social problems which many of the cities of America must face in the near future, Birmingham offers exceptional opportunity in the way of a sociological laboratory. Birmingham has met many problems old to her, but which are just formulating in America, and while we are shuddering at the taking on of new responsibilities, this other city is on the highway to their solution. Birmingham has a peculiarly American spirit in its method of approach and its way of handling its social problems. To the American student who wishes to broaden his education along commercial lines, Birmingham offers advantages superior to those of any other European city. Few Americans realize that in the heart of industrial England there is one of the most progressive universities of Europe.

Some years ago I was a student at the Birmingham University, and while there made close observations of social conditions. Last year I revisited the city, and was so struck by the great improvement in the condition of the lower classes that I could not but express my high appreciation of the change which I saw to my friends in Birmingham. It is to this that Miss Ashley refers in her letter.

LEE GALLOWAY.
New York University, New York, Oct. 20, 1915.

[Inclosure.]
3 Yately Road, Edgbaston, Birmingham,
Sept. 18, 1915.

Dear Mr. Galloway: Knowing as I do your interest in and friendly feeling toward Birmingham, I am writing on the chance that you know of any young American men who could give a year to help its keep our social work going while so very many of our own men are away. If the improvement in this city, which you so much cheered and gratified us by calling attention to, has really been at all considerable in the last ten years, it is due, among other things, to the organization of boys' and girls' clubs known as the Street Children's Union, run from a little central settlement house for men called Cathedral House. This was started since your first time in Birmingham, and has done a great deal for the city and its boys and girls. This year it appears as if the work will be very seriously shorthanded; about ten of the boys' clubs are without a leader. Most of the men who have been the best helpers for years are in the army. The Cathedral House (which holds about eight) seems likely to have only four or five residents unless some Americans would fill it up.

A man who wishes for a graduate year studying social problems, might, with great advantage, live at the Cathedral House and take the social study diploma of the university, helping in the clubs, &c., for the practical part of his work. There must surely be men who wish to pass such a year in Europe, but can hardly go to the Continent or even very happily spend a purely academic year in England, who might find our work here useful to themselves as well as to us. I understand many more Americans than can be used with advantage are eager to go to Belgium; perhaps some of them might feel that they could give their energies to an English city instead. Boys' club work can hardly be run without young men, but our own young men are needed elsewhere.

Any man who is interested should write to Rev. G. B. Cole, Cathedral House, Newhall Street, Birmingham.

ANNE ASHLEY.

Where Falls the Tax.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

May I ask your courtesy to make a brief correction of the report of the statement which I made before the Joint Legislative Committee on Taxation yesterday as it appeared in your issue this morning? I stated that of the approximately $700,000,000 spent by the Federal Government last year, only $41,160,000 was secured from the individual income tax, and that the working people of the country paid about $660,000,000 for the cost of Federal Government. (Instead of $66,000,000 as reported in THE TIMES this morning.) I also stated that, though I am a free-trader, I do not believe that the working classes will really be prosperous until the people may use the land without paying such heavy tribute to the land owners—that is, until they have freedom of production as well as freedom of exchange.

BENJAMIN C. MARSH,
Executive Secretary The Society to Lower Rents and Reduce Taxes on Homes.
New York, Oct. 22, 1915.

AT THE OUTER DOOR.

How Tenderly the Alien Is Treated at Ellis Island.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

I desire to correct the impression which would be gained from the statements in some of the papers and the assumption on the part of others that Ellis Island is a place of terrors and inquisitions, and that the passage of second-cabin passengers through the station is an experience to arouse their fear and horror. However true that may have been in old Castle Garden days, it is no longer true, and has not been for many years. The fact that nearly a million immigrants pass through Ellis Island annually in normal times and only on very rare occasions is any complaint made of anything approaching ill-treatment is evidence that the accommodations offered and the attitude of officials here are not such as are commonly assumed. I have never known a group of 500 men and women, either in public or private work, who were more devoted to their employment or more willing to be of personal service than the Government employes stationed at Ellis Island. I am in receipt of letters all the time from persons who have received some courtesy or consideration here, either as immigrants or as visitors; and any one who will take the trouble to visit Ellis Island, no matter how heavy the immigration may be, will, I believe, be convinced of this fact. The service of the island has been extended even beyond the station itself, in chasing down wrongs or abuses to aliens already admitted; an information office has been opened at the Barge Office for the purpose of giving aid, assistance, and advice; the railroads at Jersey City are constantly under surveillance to see that the accommodations for men and women there are adequate, clean, and sanitary. Large numbers of men and women, who were suffering from some temporary impediment to their landing, have been found positions and otherwise placed with friends or relatives.

Nor is it fair to assume that the Ellis Island station is a place to be dreaded. Any kind of personal inspection is not pleasant, but inspection here is done in as considerate, kind, and courteous a manner as possible under the law, and when it is necessary to detain or deport, that is done with full appreciation of the hardship imposed and a desire to alleviate it in any way possible.

The Government has erected here a station of which it may properly be proud. The dormitories are large and as comfortable as could be expected when as many as 2,000 persons have to be detained over night. The food is clean and wholesome, and the health of detained aliens is looked after by a splendid corps of highly trained physicians connected with the Public Health Service. There are a number of large hospitals in connection with the station, which are maintained at a high standard of efficiency.

The purpose of the order requiring second-cabin immigrants to be inspected at the station rather than on shipboard was twofold. In the first place, the medical and immigration officials, even under the best conditions, have very much less convenient facilities

BOSTON OPERA HERE WITH MLLE. PAVLOWA

Auber's Old Work of "The Dumb Girl of Portici" Given at the Manhattan.

DANCER IN THE TITLE ROLE

Giovanni Zenatello a Leading Spirit in Cast Containing Felice Lyne —Big Audience Applauds.

AUBER'S OPERA, "The Dumb Girl of Portici," At the Manhattan Opera House.

Fenella	Anna Pavlowa
Masaniello	Giovanni Zenatello
Alfonso d'Arcos	Georgi Michailoff
Elvira	Felice Lyne
Pietro	Thomas Chalmers
Borella	Paolo Ananian
Lorenzo	Federico Ferraresi
Selva	Giorgio Pulitl
Ismene	Nely Clement
Conductor	Agide Jacchia.

The Boston Grand Opera Company is the name of a new operatic organization whose activities are not confined to Boston and which is mobilized on the ancient tactical principles formerly practiced by Colonel J. H. Mapleson most conspicuously and by others. Last evening, coming to New York from experiences in the West, it began an engagement of two weeks at the Manhatran Opera House.

That house, it may be recalled, was permitted to be restored to operatic uses under the terms of the agreement of the Metropolitan Opera Company with Mr. Hammerstein, by which he was debarred from giving opera in it for ten years, and other people for five years. The five years having expired, it was free for the reception of the Boston Opera Company.

The opera house took on last evening an appearance suggestive, in some degree, at least, of the years when Mr. Hammerstein was writing new chapters of operatic history in New York. There was a large audience, though it did not entirely fill the house; nor could it be expected, in the last week of October, to be of the kind that traditionally adorns operatic first nights. It found various occasions to applaud; perhaps more for Mlle. Pavlowa's doings than for any other feature of the performance.

The Boston company ventured upon a work that was very probably unfamiliar to most of its audience at the opening performance last evening. Auber's opera of "La Muette de Portici," generally known in Italian, in which language it was given, as "Masaniello," but down on the bill last night as "La Muta di Portici." It is obvious that the choice of this opera was largely determined by the desire to gain all the advantages that might be afforded by the appearance in it of the much-admired Mlle. Pavlowa. The heroine of "Masaniello" is a dumb girl who has consequently neither music to sing nor lines to speak, and the opera, from its first production and in the days of its great popularity, has always been associated with the names of favorite dancers and mimers.

But even with such a laudable object in view, it was taking a considerable risk to put "Masaniello" before the operatic public of this day. The opera is eighty-seven years old. It has not been heard here since the days of the German opera at the Metropolitan Opera House, when it was given in 1884-85, and again in 1886-87. It is an opera much admired by historians; it has been called "in every sense epoch-making," the inspiration of "Guillaume Tell" and of "Les Huguenots"; it has been decried as pretentious and dull, full of "pretty little tunes absurdly out of place in a serious drama." No doubt the idiom and expression of the music, as well as the texture of the drama itself, are old fashioned and more or less conventional, but the music bears rehearing even today remarkably well.

There is vitality in a good deal of it and even brilliancy, a little faded. There are portions that are familiar to present-day music lovers. There are taking and grateful "airs and duets; two barcarolles that once had the quality of great popularity are still attractive. Some of the choruses are stirring, and even the ballet music, which loses its lustre sooner than most else, makes an effective vehicle for the dancing, which is one of the excellent features of the performance.

It was a performance of quite uneven merit. The first act was a dolefully amateurish attempt, lightened by the extraordinarily poignant and graphic pantomiming of Mlle. Pavlowa. This continued to be, throughout the performance, perhaps its most significant and striking feature, unaided and supported by the fact that some of the most successful of Auber's music is devoted to illustrating the dumb girl's doings, sentiments, and emotions.

The succeeding four acts gained in dramatic vigor and naturalness. Mr. Zenatello's entrance upon the scene had much to do with the improvement. The tenor, well remembered from the days of Mr. Hammerstein's opera and from later days of Chicago opera, was in excellent voice, sang with fire and intelligence, and acted with force and picturesqueness. He got much applause and deserved it.

Miss Felice Lyne, whose name and fame as an operatic artist have reached New York and whose voice was heard here last season in a concert performance, was unable to make the Princess Elvira seem much more than an unskillfully manipulated puppet, and sang her florid airs with a moderated degree of brilliancy and without any great appeal through purity or beauty of tone. Thomas Chalmers and Paolo Ananian gave two excellent impersonations as Pietro and Borella, respectively, but Georgi Michailoff neither in voice nor style distinguished his of Alfonso d'Arcos.

The chorus sang with a vigor often stentorian, or in a suppressed pianissimo. The dancing of the ballet, which was a departure from the conventional style of the "Masaniello" period, was made still more striking by the costumes of the dancers. Another such departure from the period was the scenery of Joseph Urban, "Pointillist," often of remarkable richness of color and real beauty.

The performance was conducted by Mr. Jacchia with much vigor, but with little elasticity, and a determination to keep up the semblance of life. The orchestra was large, quite as large as the score demands.

A Beautiful Adams Design

Let Dale Beautify Your Home

or office with Dale original lighting fixtures. Largest selection in New York —factory prices 20 to 35 per cent. less than retail. Have our lighting engineers submit plan to match your decorations, free of charge.

Write for Booklet,

"Lighting the Home"

Or, better still, call at our showrooms.

Dale Lighting Fixture Co.,

111 West 13th Street, New York.

ANNA HELD APPEARS.

She Heads a Very Entertaining Bill at the Palace.

Anna Held, grand and original predecessor of Gaby Deslys, has come back to vaudeville. It is for one week only, and this began yesterday afternoon when she met and conquered an amiable audience which filled to overflowing the roomy auditorium of the Palace Theatre. The passing years have been more than kind to Miss Held, and, looking exceedingly fit, she warbles and ogles with as much gayety and spirit as ever. She sings songs of her own writing in both French and English, first thoughtfully explaining which is which. Particularly intriguing is a wordless ditty wherein she merely laughs a wicked little laugh to the accompaniment of the orchestra.

Miss Held is the headliner of an unusually good bill. Specially worthy of mention are David Sapirstein, Ernest R. Ball, Harry Green, and the Arnaut Brothers. The enlistment of Sapirstein for vaudeville is a feather in the Keith cap, and, for good measure, the bill includes another pianist who always enraptures the Palace patron. This is Mr. Ball, who, in addition to playing and singing his "Mother Machree" and "Little Bite of Heaven," presents a new song called "You'll Be There," a good, martial air fouled up with a lyric designed as an answer to the recent if not very popular song which Colonel Roosevelt has made famous by hissing.

Written by Aaron Hoffman, staged by Edgar MacGregor, and played by Harry Green, "The Cherry Tree" is quite the brightest and most entertaining farce seen at the Palace since the season began.

BILLIE BURKE ROBBED.

Back from California Where She Says She Lost Jewels Worth $8,000.

Billie Burke returned yesterday from California, where she spent the last six weeks acting for a motion picture for the Triangle Film Company. The actress was offered $150,000 at the expiration of her contract for thirty more weeks' work in the movies, but as she is anxious to return to the legitimate stage she probably will not accept it. She will choose between two comedies, the manuscripts of which are in her possession, and a dramatization of Hall Caine's novel, "The Woman Thou Gavest Me," as the play in which she will appear this season.

Flo Ziegfeld, Jr., Miss Burke's husband, went to San Francisco to accompany her home. Their return was delayed by the theft of some of the actress's jewels valued at $8,000, which disappeared from her rooms in the St. Francis Hotel just before they were to depart. A telegram received yesterday by Mr. Ziegfeld from the Pinkertons said that no clue had been discovered.

Mme. Melville-Liszniewska's Recital.

Mme. Marguerite Melville-Liszniewska appeared for the first time in New York in a piano recital at Aeolian Hall yesterday afternoon. She is said to be a pupil and assistant of the distinguished pedagogue, Leschetizky, of Vienna, and presumably brings with her a store of knowledge and experience of the modern pianist's repertory and the principles of its interpretation, as well as some of the temperamental qualities of the famous teacher. But if she did bring all these things with her she was not wholly successful in putting them into her playing. She has naturally a considerable technical command; but her technique is not so accurate as might be expected, nor her tone so sympathetic, nor her knowledge of the different styles of different composers and what they demand of the interpreting artist so far-reaching. It did not appear from her playing yesterday afternoon that Mme. Melville-Liszniewska has a deeply poetical or warmly emotional outlook upon music.

Her program included D'Albert's arrangement of Bach's organ prelude and fugue in D minor, Chopin's B minor sonata, Schumann's "Scenes of Childhood," for which concert pianists have recently begun to show an unwonted affection; pieces by Brahms and by Debussy, Reger, Moszkzko, Friedman, Melcer, and Brzezinski, some of the last group being unknown names.

Everett Shinn, Artist, Is Librettist.

Everett Shinn, the artist, whose travesties on melodrama originally written to be acted by amateurs in the artists' colony of Washington Square, eventually found their way to the vaudeville stage, has turned librettist. Mr. Shinn has been commissioned by E. A. Weil to write the book of a musical play entitled "The Barc Idea," which will be Mr. Weil's first offering as a producer. Wallace Irwin will write the lyrics and Silvio Hein the music. There will be eight principals, and only twelve members of the chorus, and those all girls.

Mr. MacMillen's Recital.

Francis MacMillen, an American violinist who has been heard in New York in previous seasons, reappeared last night for the first time in several years, giving a recital in Aeolian Hall. The most prominent features of his program were Karl Goldmark's concerto in A minor and Vitali's craconna, the latter played with organ accompaniment. Besides these he played pieces by Gluck, Flocco, Sarasate, Sgambati, and Tov Aulin, a composition of his own, a "Barcarole," and Burmeister's arrangement of Couperin's "Soeur Moneque," and Kreisler's of Pugnani's Prelude and Adagio.

Italian Opera for the Thalia Theatre

Louis Zuro, who has given grand opera at popular prices on several occasions in New York in recent years, will offer a Winter season at the Thalia Theatre in the Bowery. The most popular operas from the Italian répertoire will be sung by a company in which there are many artists who have been driven to this country by the war. "Carmen" will be the opening bill and the first performance will be given Friday night, Nov. 5.

Fleishman-Kastor Wedding.

The wedding of Miss Helen Kastor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Kastor of 14 West Seventieth Street, to Leon S. Fleishman of this city, took place at 5:30 last evening at the home of the bride's parents. The Rev. Dr. Maurice Harris performed the ceremony in the presence of a few relatives and friends.

The bride was unattended. She wore a simple frock of white chiffon, a short veil of tulle, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and orchids. Her brother, Alfred B. Kastor, was Mr. Fleishman's best man. The ceremony was followed by a large reception and the couple left later for the South, where they are to spend their honeymoon.

THEATRICAL NOTES.

An article published in the Magazine Section of Sunday's TIMES about Emanuel Reicher's American People's Theatre brought many inquiries about the society. Mr. Reicher has offices in the Knickerbocker Theatre Building, 1,400 Broadway, and information may be had there. Julius Hopp is his representative.

Rosalind Ivan, an English actress, who played the leading woman's role in Strindberg's "The Father" when it was acted here several years ago, is appearing this week in the playlet "War Brides" at Proctor's Fifth Avenue Theatre. Miss Ivan plays the role created by Alla Nazimova last year at the Palace.

Jasper has sent out invitations for a birthday party. It will be served on the stage of the Gaiety Theatre on Nov. 13 after the evening performance of "Young America," in which Jasper plays the leading canine role.

Tomorrow's matinee of "Rolling Stones" at the Harris will be a souvenir performance, through the generosity of Congressman George W. Loft. Mr. Loft has taken a great interest in the play because the youthful heroes embark in the candy business at one point in their career. So he gave Marie Carroll, the ingenue of the cast, many boxes of candy for her birthday, and Miss Carroll generously decided to share her candy with the audience.

Eileen Van Biene will be seen in the role she created in "Sherman Was Right" when Frank Mandel's farce is given its first New York performance tonight at the Fulton, and not Suzanne Wilia, who had been announced to succeed Miss Van Biene.

Hereafter only two showings of the Twilight Sleep motion pictures will be made each afternoon in the Park Theatre—the first at 2 and the second at 4 o'clock. The questionnaire that follows each exhibition has been found to consume so much time that it is impossible to run the films off three times.

Two hundred marines from the battleships Texas, Florida, Wyoming, Arkansas, and Utah saw the performance of "The Girl Who Smiles" last night at the Longacre. The commanding officers of the five ships occupied the boxes.

A PENNILESS GIRL FINDS $4,000 GEM

Takes It to Police Station and Times Helps Her Get $100 Reward.

QUICK REPLY TO WANT "AD"

Mrs. Hotaling Told of Recovery of Bracelet Few Moments After It Is Found.

Through the assistance of THE TIMES a $4,000 diamond bracelet, lost yesterday afternoon by Mrs. F. C. Hotaling of San Francisco, who is a guest at the Hotel Belmont, was restored to the owner last night, and the finder of the gems, Miss Louise Schmitz, a hairdresser out of employment and without carfare to aid her in the search for work, received $100 reward.

Miss Schmitz, weary from walking the streets most of yesterday, and hungry, was returning at 7 o'clock last night to her room at 244 West Forty-fourth Street, when she saw something flash from the sidewalk in the ray of light from a shop window on Forty-second Street, near Sixth Avenue. The object lay in the path of the crowds, and several yards from the edge of the sidewalk where she had stopped.

Several times she tried to push her way through the hurrying theatre and supper throngs to get at the object which caught her eyes, but the crowds pushed her aside and kept walking over the flashing object on the sidewalk. Finally she picked it up. She saw the circle of flashing diamonds and forgot her hunger and weariness.

The sudden pause of men and women around her, who gazed curiously at her as she held the bracelet in her hand, frightened her and she slipped it quickly in her purse and hurried away. Straight to the West Forty-seventh Street Police Station she hastened, and breathlessly ran up to the rail and gazed at Lieutenant Walsh, too excited to speak a word to him. Tearing open her purse and exposing the contents to view, she managed to gasp:

"Look!" Walsh hurried around to her side. "Thirty-five diamonds!" he commented, after examining the bracelet. He called in a gem expert, who told him the bracelet was worth $3,500 to $4,000. Miss Schmitz, who has been here only a few years, and speaks but a few words of English, looked relieved when the Lieutenant said he would take charge of the bracelet.

"I was afraid to keep it for a reward," she said, when Walsh complimented her for giving it up so promptly. "I was afraid some one might steal it from me."

A few minutes after Miss Schmitz placed the bracelet in the care of the police, this advertisement was received at the business office of THE TIMES:

LOST—Monday afternoon, Oct. 25, between Forty-second Street and Park Avenue and Hotel Knickerbocker, by artist, West Forty-sixth Street, diamond link bracelet; $100 reward. Return Cashier, Hotel Belmont, Forty-second Street and Park Avenue.

The cashier at the Belmont said Thomas A. Burke, the house detective, knew the name of the owner of the lost diamonds and the description of them. Burke described it exactly as that in the hands of the police—thirty-five diamonds, set in little squares of platinum, on a gold circle. But, to make identification positive, Mr. and Mrs. Hotaling gave him a duplicate of the bracelet, except that it was set with sapphires. From THE TIMES office Burke took the sapphire bracelet to the West Forty-seventh Street Station and compared it with the lost article. It tallied perfectly.

Today Mrs. Hotaling will go to the station, and after proving her identity she will regain the jewel.

"Say, that's the quickest answer to an advertisement I ever heard of," said Detective Burke.

PLAN A NATIONAL PAGEANT.

Catholic Women to Give a Patriotic Entertainment at Waldorf.

Many society women are interested in the entertainment which is to be given at the Waldorf-Astoria on Tuesday evening, Dec. 14, under the auspices of the New York Chapter of the National Organization of Catholic Women. The entertainment is to be called a Grand National Pageant, and will be patriotic in character, with quadrilles in costume and many novel features.

A meeting was held yesterday at the house of Mrs. F. Burrall Hoffman, 58 East Seventy-ninth Street, where plans were discussed. Those selected to look after the artistic effects and costuming are Albert Herter, Robert W. Chanler, F. B. Hoffman, Jr., and Robert Van Coart.

Among the organizers are Miss Annie Leary, Mrs. Hoffman, Mrs. Henry W. Taft, Mrs. John G. Agar, Mrs. Andrew Dougherty, Mrs. James Clews, Mrs. Eugene A. Philbin, Mrs. William F. Sheehan, Mrs. Edward H. Hawke, Jr., and Mrs. Stuart Pullman West.

Palestine Commandery Entertains.

More than 1,500 guests attended the first ladies' night ever given by Palestine Commandery, No. 18, Knights Templar, Frank G. Stanley, Commander, last night at the Grand Lodge Room of the Masonic Temple, Twenty-third Street and Sixth Avenue. Mecca Temple Band played during the entertainment and for the dance afterward.

The entertainment, which consisted of songs, recitations, and "stunts," was given by many of the best-known actors and actresses, among whom were Lillian Russell, Adele Blood, Alice Fisher, Willa Holt Wakefield, Eugene Cowles, and Robert D. Mantell.

Passengers for Bordeaux.

Some of those booked to sail today on the Touraine for Bordeaux are J. B. Brown, the Rev. and Mrs. E. W. Byosh, Miss Brierly, J. S. Brown, T. M. Carlandu, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Calman, Eric Calman, J. R. Graham, Miss A. M. Lussy, George McCall, Miss Edith May, J. R. Osgood, J. R. O. Perkins, Mr. and Mrs. B. Ritner, Mrs. M. Riga, E. Salmon, E. C. Thompson.

SOCIAL NOTES.

Miss Helen Y. Judson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry I. Judson and a sister of Mrs. Francis Burton Harrison, will be married to G. Elton Parks this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in the Church of the Heavenly Rest. A small reception will follow at the Judson home, 777 Madison Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Kenneth Hadden (Miss Frances H. Wyeth) are being congratulated upon the birth of a son on Thursday last at 7 East Seventy-sixth Street. The child is a grandson of Mrs. Stephen G. Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Farquhar Hadden.

Miss Josephine Boudinot Danforth will be introduced at a reception on Nov. 26 at the residence of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eastman Danforth, 10 West Fifty-third Street. An informal dance will follow the reception.

Mrs. Wilber A. Bloodgood will give an afternoon dance on Nov. 25, followed by a dinner for her débutante daughter, Miss Rosalie Bloodgood, at her residence, 40 East Thirty-fourth Street. Later Mrs. Bloodgood will give a dance for her.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Graves will be at home on next Sunday from 4 until 7 o'clock at their country place, the Garage, at Mineola, L. I. Miss Ruth Draper will give monologues.

S. Bryce Wing, who is to marry Miss Marie Tailer on Nov. 3, will give his farewell bachelor dinner tonight at Sherry's.

Swift & Company's sales of Beef in New York City for the week ending Saturday, Oct. 23rd, averaged as follows: Domestic Beef, 10.92 cents per pound.—Advt.

PAUL HERVIEU DIES; FAMOUS DRAMATIST

Member of French Academy Fought a Bloodless Duel Two Years Ago With Leon Daudet.

PARIS, Oct. 25.—Paul Hervieu, dramatic author and member of the French Academy, died early today. He had been ill for several days. A servant who entered his room to awaken him found him dead.

Paul Ernest Hervieu was born at Neuilly-sur-Seine, near Paris, and was in his fifty-ninth year. He was educated in Paris at the Lycée Condorcet and the Ecole de Droit. Then obtaining his license to practice, M. Hervieu became an advocate at the Court of Appeals in 1877. After several years spent in the law he entered the diplomatic corps and was appointed Secretary to the French Legation at Mexico City.

M. Hervieu resigned in 1880 and adopted literature as his life's work, beginning by publishing a series of political, social, and satiric sketches. His first play, "Les Paroles Restant," was produced in 1892 at the Vaudeville in Paris. In 1895, "Les Tenailles" was produced, and two years later, "La Loi de l'Homme." Other plays followed until, in 1905, "Le Reveil" was produced at the Comedie Française—later, in 1908, being produced here at Daly's Theatre under the name of "The Awakening." His next play, "Connais-Toi," was produced in 1909, and in the same year was put on at the Berkeley Theatre in this city under the title "Know Thyself." His last play was "Le Destin est Maitre," which was produced at the Porte St. Martin in 1914.

M. Hervieu was a member of the French Academy and a grand officer of the Legion of Honor. He was Honorary President of the Society of Authors and Dramatists, and was also Honorary President of the Societe des Gens de Lettres.

Two years ago he fought a bloodless duel with Leon Daudet, editor of a Paris newspaper, who had offended him by a critical paragraph.

STADIUM FOR WHOLE CITY.

The Donor, Adolph Lewisohn, Tells of Program for 1916.

A committee representing the Trustees and Faculty of the College of the City of New York, the Board of Education, and Adolph Lewishon, donor of the Stadium at the City College, has devised plans whereby the Stadium will be at the disposal of the entire city during the periods when it is not in use by the college. A committee will soon be appointed to have charge of a series of entertainments and special meetings in the Stadium. It is expected a complete program, covering evenings, holidays, and Sundays, will be mapped out for 1916.

Adolph Lewissohn last night made the following statement concerning the project:

"As far as I am concerned, I would like to see the Stadium busy from morning until evening, Sundays and holidays included. Of course, the City College students have to use it for instruction. I would like to have it for the benefit of everybody—for all the people of the city—if possible.

"My idea is to have concerts. I don't know about Sunday concerts. If everybody is in favor of them, all right. Music for the people, evenings, would be excellent. That is the reason we are putting in the permanent lighting.

"We have had communication with the Park Department, that is, Dr. Finley and I, and Dr. Mezes and some of the Trustees, Dr. Lindsay and others. We have seen Cabot Ward, the Park Commissioner, and the plans are all formed.

"It is going to be utilized generally from now on. Dr. Mezes of the City College is in entire harmony with me on the subject. He is very anxious to make the Stadium of use. The Trustees are also anxious to make this Stadium of use to the students and to the people of the city.

"The whole thing is this, that while it is the City College Stadium, it is also going to be the Stadium of the City of New York."

Miss Helen S. Fowler Engaged.

George S. Fowler of New York and Glen Ridge, N. J., announces the engagement of his sister, Miss Helen Starkweather Fowler, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Fowler of New Haven, Conn., to Richard Russell Stanwood, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Stanwood of Boston. Mr. Stanwood is a graduate of Harvard University, Class of '06.

Obituary Notes.

STEPHEN C. BULL, senior member of the banking firm of Bull & Co.; died yesterday at his home in Waterford, Saratoga County, N. Y. He was 96 years old.

CHARLES F. SISSON, aged 69, head of the oldest dry goods house in Binghamton, N. Y., and prominent in banking circles, died in a hospital in Binghamton yesterday.

JAMES MADISON, father-in-law of Sheriff Stephen P. Pettit, died in Freeport, L. I., Sunday night, aged 64 years. He was in the meat business in Freeport, and also in Brooklyn years ago. Since his son-in-law became Sheriff he had held a position as court officer in Mineola.

Dr. VICTOR G. BECSKA died at his home in Passaic, N. J., yesterday. Dr. Becska was 34 years old. He served several years as a member of the Board of Health.

SAMUEL GREGORY YOUNG, 67 years old, died yesterday at his home, 157 Lincoln Street, Montclair, N. J. Mr. Young was born in Edinburgh, Scotland. He had been with a New York hat importing firm for twenty-five years.

Captain EDWARD BALLENTINE, of Detroit, master of the steamer Calumet, died yesterday. The captain was stricken on Sunday night, when the Calumet was in mid-lake.

JOSEPH KEENAN, formerly a Democratic Captain in the Sixteenth Assembly District of Brooklyn, died on Sunday at his home, 153 Gravesend Avenue; aged 61 years.

JAMES EDWARD STAFFORD, a retired shipping agent, formerly with J. W. Parker & Co., died on Saturday at his home, 1,015 St. Mark's Avenue, Brooklyn, on Sunday. Mr. Stafford was born in Bridgeport, Conn., sixty-three years ago, and had lived at his late residence for the last thirty years. He is survived by his wife and two sons.

Mrs. REBECCA BALFOUR McINTOSH, widow of Captain Daniel C. McIntosh, a ship owner of Cape Cod, and master of sailing vessels, died on last Saturday at her home, 5,502 Fifteenth Avenue, Borough Park. Mrs. McIntosh was 71 years of age, and was formerly active in the work of the Eighteenth Street M. E. Church. She is survived by two daughters and three sons, Capt. Charles F. McIntosh, commander of the Mallory S. S. Comal; Daniel F., who is Past Senior Grand Deacon of the Masons of the State of New Jersey, and Walter L., an engineer for the Consolidated Gas Company.

Mrs. SUSAN KIEFER VESTER, 72 years old, widow of John Vester and a resident of the eastern district of Brooklyn for the last fifty years, died on Saturday at her home, 237 Stanhope Street. She was a member of the Cecilia Women's Benevolent Society, and is survived by four daughters.

Mrs. ANNA KATHRINA FULLING, widow of John Fulling, died at her home, 1,107 Rogers Avenue, Brooklyn, on Saturday; aged 71 years. She left two daughters and a son, George Fulling, who is a member of the Democratic County Committee.

PHILIP AUER, a retired manufacturer of reed and rattan goods, is dead at his home, 1,204 Greene Avenue, Brooklyn, in his eighty-fifth year. Mr. Auer was a native of Germany, but had lived in Brooklyn for sixty years. He was a member of the West Side K. U. V., St. Catherine's Hospital Aid Society, and the Holy Name Society of the R. C. Church of St. Barbara.

Mrs. LOUISE H. WICKER, widow of Henry C. Wicker, and a prominent member of the colony at Locust Valley, L. I., died there on Saturday at the home of her daughter. Her husband, who died in 1907, was Traffic Manager of the Chicago & North Western Railroad for fifteen years, and President of the Fort Worth & Rio Grande Railroad for five years. He was afterward an executive member of the Governing Board of the Southwestern Rate Association. Mrs. Wicker was 65 years of age, and left two daughters, Mrs. Daniel A. Loring, Jr., and Mrs. Ira C. Wood.

JAMES MADISON, 64 years old, a Mason and Odd Fellow, died on Sunday at his home in Long Beach, L. I., leaving a widow and three daughters.

HIRAM PIERSON, a retired hat manufacturer of Manhattan, died on last Saturday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. William H. Cotio, 660 Decatur Street Brooklyn, at the age of 85 years. Mr. Pierson often boasted to his children and friends that he had made silk hats for Daniel Webster and President Lincoln. He was for many years foreman of the silk hat department of the Knox factory and later went into business for himself, retiring ten years ago. In June, 1914, he celebrated his golden wedding anniversary. Mr. Pierson is survived by his wife, two sons, and two daughters.

H. VON WANGENHEIM, DIPLOMATIST, DEAD

German Ambassador Was Credited with Bringing About Turko-German Alliance.

DEALT "THE MAILED FIST"

Ex-Minister to Mexico Criticised This Country for Selling Arms to the Allies.

CONSTANTINOPLE, (via London,) Oct. 25.—Baron von Wagenheim, German Ambassador to Turkey, who was credited with having been a great influence in bringing about the Turko-German alliance, died here today. He had only shortly returned from sick leave.

Baron Hans von Wagenheim was appointed Ambassador to Turkey in 1912. He was a frequent visitor to this country in times past and had a number of relatives of the same name living in this city and through the Eastern States. For a number of years he was Minister Plenipotentiary to Mexico, and became a familiar figure here. In 1886 he married a German-American girl, Lucy Ahrenfeld of this city, but they were divorced in 1897. Later he married the Baroness Joanna von Spitzenberg.

Baron von Wangenheim spent many years in Constantinople. It was said during those days he was wont to wield the "mailed fist" when calling the Sublime Porte to order, instead of adopting less drastic measures.

Baron von Wagenheim became prominent in the Morocco imbroglio in 1909, at that time being Chargé d'Affaires there for his Government. This affair resulted from the French seizing deserters from the Foreign Legion in the port of Casablanca. These were of German birth, and the affair became very acute before von Wangenheim settled it. After this he was sent to Athens, whence he went to Constantinople.

From that time on he worked indefatigably toward the Turko-German alliance, and the present position of Turkey in the war is said to be mainly due to him.

In April of this year von Wangenheim criticised this country for selling arms to the Allies. He refused to speak for his Government, but said: "My private opinion, though, may interest my many warm friends in the United States. I may say that I am disappointed to the utmost. In my private opinion, the United States is injuring seriously its good reputation before the entire world, which is regrettable in view of the splendid past of that country in its international relations."

BERLIN, Oct. 25, (by Wireless to Sayville, L. I.)—Commenting on the death of Baron von Wangenheim, German Ambassador to Turkey, the Norddeutsche Allgemeine Zeitung alluded to him as one of the most capable German diplomats—a man whose work had shown him to be of the highest efficiency.

"When in the hour of danger it devolved upon him to represent Germany's interests," the newspaper says, "he experienced the satisfaction of seeing his work crowned by success, while his co-operation was instrumental in bringing about the Turco-German alliance. During the war, which has laboured extremely hard in Turkey during the first year of the war in the performance of his official duties, and overwork resulted in his health falling. Recently, although not recovered in health, he returned to his post, where he succumbed to an attack of apoplexy. The sympathy at his loss expressed by the Turkish Government in Constantinople and by the German colony in that city are the best proof of the value of the services which the late Ambassador had rendered to his country."

Edwin S. Marlow.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Edwin S. Marlow, manager of the commercial department of the Potomac Electric Power Company and one of the leading business men of Washington, died this morning. He had been identified with the electrical development in the national capital and had a country-wide acquaintance in engineering, electrical, and commercial circles. He was to a large degree responsible for the establishment in this city of a section of the Electric Vehicle Association. Mr. Marlow was a member of the Board of Trade, Chamber of Commerce, Commercial Club, Rotary Club, Columbia Country Club, Blue Ridge Rod and Gun Club, the Mystic Shrine, and the Temple-Noyes Lodge, F. A. A. M.

The Right Rev. George Biller, Jr.

The Right Rev. George Biller, Jr., Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Missionary Diocese of South Dakota, died recently at the Rosebud Indian Agency in that State.

He was born in Russia, and came here with his parents when 13 years old. After preparing at the Berkeley Divinity School in Middletown, Conn., he was ordained in 1898, and went to Indian Territory as a missionary, being stationed at Lehigh. From there he went to St. Andrew's Church in South McAllister, later returning East and becoming vicar of the Chapel of the Incarnation in this city. Five years after he went West as Dean of Calvary Cathedral in Sioux Falls. In 1912 he was elected Bishop of South Dakota. His wife survives him.

Frank E. Turner.

Special to The New York Times.

PATCHOGUE, L. I., Oct. 25.—Frank E. Turner, 54 years old, Division Superintendent of the Montauk Division of the Long Island Railroad, stationed at Patchogue, died this morning at his home from heart disease. While engaged in his duty Aug. 19 last he fell from a derailed motor working truck, breaking his left leg, right shoulder, and nose. For several years past he had received the annual prize of $100 in gold for the excellence of his division, and this morning a messenger arrived with a letter from the railroad company commending him for his work, but found him dead.

Professor Wilhelm Windelband.

BERLIN, Oct. 25, (by Wireless Telegraphy to Tuckerton, N. J.)—The death of Professor Wilhelm Windelband of Heidelberg University, formerly of Strasburg University, was announced today. Professor Windelband, who was in his sixty-eighth year, was eminent for his philosophical works and also noted as an orator.

Captain Henry M. Jennings.

Captain Henry M. Jennings, last survivor of the old Light Guard, which was organized in 1857, died yesterday at his home, 2,793 Morris Avenue, the Bronx, in his seventy-sixth year. Captain Jennings fought through the civil war and was mustered out as a Captain in 1864. He was widely known among the real estate lawyers of this city, and was an authority on mechanic's lien law.

LINCOLN TRUST Company

BUSINESS is business," surely; but we are yet to be convinced that it becomes less so when transacted in a cordial and friendly spirit. In fact our experience is directly to the contrary.

204 Fifth Avenue

(Opposite Madison Square)

BROADWAY AT LEONARD STREET

BROADWAY AT 72ND STREET

ADMIRAL H. N. MANNEY DIES.

Retired Veteran Was Once in Command of Brooklyn Navy Yard.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Oct. 25.—Rear Admiral Henry Newman Manney, U. S. N., retired, 71 years old, died today at his home on Point Loma, from pneumonia. Two and one-half years ago Admiral Manney was elected to the Common Council of San Diego, an office he held at the time of his death. He is survived by a widow and one daughter.

Admiral Manney was born in La Porte, Ind., and was graduated from the Naval Academy in 1866, and became an ensign two years later. He rose through the various grades until retired as a Rear Admiral of the senior grade in 1906.

His service at sea commenced during the civil war, when he was on board the Macedonian at the pursuit of the Confederate steamers Florida and Tallahassee. Admiral Manney served on a number of the more important vessels of the navy, and during 1899-1901 was in command of the Brooklyn Navy Yard. At the time he was retired he was Chief of the Bureau of Equipment.

WAR VETERAN DIES AT 102.

Bennett Brittin, Once a New York Hotel Keeper, Expires in Plainfield.

Special to The New York Times.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., Oct. 25.—Bennett Brittin, aged 102 years, Plainfield's oldest resident, died today at his home here. He was born in Paterson, N. J., June 16, 1813, and early in life engaged in the hotel business at Sixth Avenue and Forty-first Street, New York. At the outbreak of the Civil War he enlisted in Company B, First New York Cavalry. He was then 48 years old and had to falsify his age to enter the service. He was also a member of the Veteran Volunteer Firemen's Association of New York, and one of the oldest members of the Knights of Pythias. After the war he was in the hotel and billiard room business.

Mrs. Philip Schuyler.

Special to The New York Times.

TARRYTOWN, N. Y., Oct. 25.—Mrs. Philip Schuyler, widow of General Philip Schuyler, died at her home at Ardsley-on-Hudson at 6:30 o'clock this morning. She had been ill for ten days with heart disease. Mrs. Schuyler was before her marriage in 1872 Miss Harriet L. Langdon, and for many years was prominent in New York and Westchester County society. Her husband was killed in a wreck on the Southern Railroad on Thanksgiving Day, 1906, together with Samuel Spencer, President of the Southern Railroad. Mrs. Schuyler was 76 years old.

Marriage and death notices intended for insertion in The New York Times may be telephoned to 1000 Bryant.

Married

CLARKE—RYERSON.—On Saturday, Oct. 23, 1915, at Christ's Church, Cooperstown, N. Y., Emily Borie, daughter of the late Arthur Ryerson, Esq., of Ringwood, and Georgs Hyde Clarke of Hyde Hall, Cooperstown, N. Y.

Brooklyn.

ABRAMSON—NEWMAN.—Oct. 24, Sylvia Newman to David Abramson.

OLCOTT—PURVES.—Oct. 23. Ruth Purves to Alfred Van S. Olcott.

STORCH—MANES.—Oct. 24, Ethel Y. Manes to Samuel Storch.

Died

AMRATH.—Amalia, Oct. 25, at her late residence, 90 East 18th St., Brooklyn. Services will be held at her late residence, Wednesday evening, Oct. 27, 7:30 o'clock. Interment private.

ARTHUR.—Ada M., wife of W. W. W. Arthur, at Battle Creek, Mich., Oct. 24. Burial, West Chester, Penn.

BAIR.—Maude De Pinna, beloved wife of Leo S. Bair, suddenly, Oct. 24, at her residence, 111 West 111th St. Funeral private. London, England, papers please copy.

CATLIN. — Suddenly, at Woodstock, Conn., Saturday, Oct. 23, 1915, Lynde Alexander, eldest son of the late Charles Taylor and Lucy Ann Derby Catlin. Funeral at Church of the Incarnation, Gates Av., near Franklin, Brooklyn, Wednesday, Oct. 27, at 10 A. M.

COOGAN.—On Oct. 24, 1915, James J. Coogan, at the Hotel Netherland, 5th Av. and 59th St. Funeral services at St. Patrick's Cathedral, 5th Av. and 51st St., Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock. Interment at Calvary Cemetery.

DRENNAN.—On Sunday, Oct. 24, 1915, William Drennan. Funeral services at his home, 4,919 Broadway, on Wednesday, Oct. 27, at 1:30 P. M. Interment Woodlawn.

FLYNN.—At St. Luke's Hospital, on Sunday, Oct. 24, Sarah A. Flynn, daughter of the late Joseph and Rebecca Jarvis Flynn. Funeral services at the Harlem-New York Presbyterian Church, 122d St. and Mount Morris Park West, Tuesday, Oct. 26, at 4 P. M.

GOODENOUGH.—On Sunday, Oct. 24, 1915, Jane, widow of Robert Goodenough. Funeral from her late residence, 26 St. James Place, Brooklyn, on Wednesday, Oct. 27, at 2 P. M. Relatives and friends are invited.

HUBBY.—Suddenly, on Sunday, Oct. 24, Alice Adams Hubby, infant daughter of Frank W. Hubby, Jr., and Alice Adams Hubby. Funeral services private.

INGRAM.—Robert, beloved husband of Jennie Allerdyce Ingram. Funeral services Wednesday, 2 P. M., at late residence, 2,556 Marion Av., Bronx. Interment in Woodlawn Thursday at 11 A. M.

INGRAM. — Brethren of Marion Lodge, No. 278, F. and A. M., are hereby summoned to attend the Masonic funeral services of our late Past Master, Brother Robert Ingram, at 2,554 Marion Av., Bronx, on Wednesday evening, Oct. 27, 8 o'clock. By order of WALTER McGIVNEY, Master.

AUGUST RIPPERGER, Secret

ABERG WINS WORLD'S CHAMPIONSHIP WRESTLING MATCH WITH ZBYSZKO — FOOTBALL

ABERG PINS ZBYSZKO TO MAT IN AN HOUR

Graeco-Roman Wrestling Champion Retains Title in Garden Bout.

Alexander Aberg completed the winning of the international Graeco-Roman wrestling championship when he threw Waldek Zbyszko in the continuation of their bout deferred from last June, at Madison Square Garden last evening. It was after an hour and four minutes of rather uninteresting wrestling that Aberg pinned the two brawny shoulders of the Pole to the mat at the conclusion of the one spectacular incident of the evening. It was a "fluky" sort of a win at that, as unexpected by George Bothner, the referee, as it was by either of the contestants, apparently.

Time had been called for the seventh of the ten-minute periods, and Zbyszko took his position on his hands and knees in the middle of the ring with Aberg half prostrate over him and trying to get a waist hold, as he had been when the call of time put an end to the sixth period. Zbyszko was puffing a bit and "Bobby" Dobbs, his trainer, had just remarked to the watchers at the ringside that he wished he had taken about five pounds more off "that boy" when Zbyszko made a tremendous heave of his massive limbs and tossed Aberg to one side with a supreme effort.

With tiger-like agility he grasped his huge blonde opponent, and for the first time in the bout was on top of his opponent and playing the aggressor with vigor. He held his supremacy only for an instant, for Aberg with a tremendous effort threw himself backward over the form of Zbyszko, using a head spin and the following somersault to get out of the clutches of his opponent. Both were on their feet squarely when Zbyszko rushed at the big Russian, caught him about the waist, lifted him from the floor, whirled him about in the air three times until Aberg's sprawling legs stuck out almost straight, and then threw him to the mat with a resounding thud. Zbyszko went down on top of Aberg, but failed to get a firm hold on him.

Like an eel Aberg slipped from his clutches with a side roll, quick as a flash grasped Zbyszko about the head and neck, got a firm head lock, almost a chancery hold, and before Bothner could fairly get where he could see what was happening, had pressed both the back of Zbyszko's green jersey and the tips of his two bronzed shoulders to the mat. The outcome of the bit of wrestling pyrotechnics had so surprised Bothner that he hesitated for an instant before he fully grasped the fact that the big Russian was down, slapped Aberg on the shoulders and raised his hand to indicate that the end of the battle had been reached, and waved both men to their corners.

The crowd which nearly filled the Garden was a bit stunned at the suddenness of the finish, and hesitated for an instant before it appreciated what had happened and then burst into a salvo of applause for the winner who blushed and acted like a big bashful school boy as he bowed his acknowledgements. Zbyszko was dazed as he finally grasped the fact that he had lost just at the instant when all seemed to be going well for him, and when he had actually got into the spirit of wrestling for the first time during the evening. Then, with bowed head he slipped out of the ring looking like a heart-broken youth, for it had been a very serious thing with him, particularly as scattered about the arena were about all the members of the Metropolitan Opera Company, who were his personal friends and had gone to the Garden to see him add the honors of a Graeco-Roman championship to those he had won in his favorite rôle as a catch-as-catch-can wrestler in Paris a couple of years ago.

The singers and musicians had pinned their faith to this handsome young Pole, and worse, from his point of view, had backed him with their good dollars against his older competitor. Fully a third of the occupants of the arena boxes and the floor seats were women attired in the height of fashion, and who have made wrestling a sort of fad among themselves since the songbirds of the Metropolitan had smiled on the sport and made it their own. These were for Zbyszko, and were as downcast over his defeat as if he was one of them taking part in a race over some fashionable course as an amateur rider.

During the six ten-minute periods which had preceded that in which the decision was reached there had been little to arouse the crowd to anything like enthusiasm. It was six minutes from the opening of the bout before anything was done. Then Aberg sent Zbyszko to the mat, and from that time well into the second period there was a test of strength between the pair, Aberg vainly trying to get Zbyszko from his hands and knees. It was like trying to overturn one of the pyramids with a crow bar, for Zbyszko was immovable, though Aberg puffed and pulled, hauled and struggled hopelessly to turn the younger man to the mat. Finally Zbyszko managed to struggle to his feet and escaped from a bad situation only to be thrown against the ropes at the east side of the ring, from which he was finally torn just as the period ended with a waist hold which Aberg secured. Zbyszko got free of it, only to be caught with a head hold, which threw him just as time was called.

It was not until well into the sixth round that the beginning of the end was indicated, for then Aberg managed to get Zbyszko to the mat and pinned one shoulder down on it just thirty seconds before the period ended. Zbyszko had just before that got away from a dangerous half-nelson hold by a head spin, and Aberg seemed then to be having the best of the contest, though neither was in distress. Most of the hour had indeed been passed in futile attempts to get a hold of any kind by which a throw could be made, and each of the wrestlers seemed fully able to break any sort of hold his opponent succeeded in getting. Neither seemed warmed up, in fact, and the crowd had settled down to the conclusion that there would be another such long-drawn-out bout as that which ended the Manhattan Opera House tournament. Just as they had reached this conclusion came the sudden and dramatic ending of it all.

In the two preliminary bouts which had preceded the meeting of the champions, Yousef Hussane, announced as "the terrible Turk," had thrown Thomas Draak of Holland in eleven minutes after a head-hold, and what the wrestlers call "a flying mare," in which Draak was easily pinned to the mat. Comedy was furnished by a bout between Sulo Hevenpaa and Georges Lurich, in which there was more scrapping than wrestling. It ended with Lurich leaping out of the ring after 23 minutes of wrestling, with Hevenpaa chasing him like he was giving an imitation of a crazy man, and the crowd booing at him for his manifestly foul wrestling. The bout was awarded to Lurich. Dr. Roller and Lurich challenged Aberg.

Cornell Men All In Good Shape.

Special to The New York Times.

ITHACA, N. Y., Oct. 25.—To bring the Cornell football team into the Michigan game playing in even better form than it did against Harvard, and to turn out for the final game against Pennsylvania an eleven playing in the zenith of its form, are the problems of the Cornell football coaches. The problem of keeping the men in condition is now at hand, and one step toward solving it will be taken this week, when the team will get lighter practice than in the two weeks preceding it. The coaches plan to put all of the regulars at work tomorrow afternoon, but much of the time this week will be spent on the substitutes and scrubs. Virginia Polytechnic Institute, which plays here Saturday, is not expected to be a very formidable opponent, but the game will not be regarded as a "sure thing," and all of the regulars will receive thorough preparations later in the week.

That the team is in the best physical condition of the year was the statement today of Dr. Munford, university physician. He said that there were no injuries and that even Captain Barrett, who was carried off Soldiers' Field in an unconscious condition Saturday, was ready to begin practice tomorrow. Barrett, he said, shows no ill effect from the blow that laid him out.

HARVARD NEXT IN VIEW.

Princeton's Attack Being Shaped to Defeat the Crimson.

Special to The New York Times.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 25.—Princeton's preparations for a powerful drive against the Harvard eleven on Nov. 6 began today. With four of the regulars excused from practice, either because Trainer Keene Fitzpatrick thought they needed a rest or because scholastic duties interfered with their gridiron work, Rush began today the perfection of the tactics which Princeton will depend on to bring a victory over the Crimson.

The work for the 'Varsity men was somewhat lighter than had been expected from the announcement of the plans for the week, but at that they had a good afternoon's exercise. Starting with practice in secret behind the stands of old University Field there was kicking and forward passing from some new open formations. Here the 'Varsity was lined up against the substitutes, and for almost an hour they tried out their overhead game.

Perhaps the most interesting feature of the afternoon was the indication that Billy Moore is to be taken seriously as a candidate for the end position. Moore was in the hands of Ham Andrews, the end coach, all afternoon, and was carefully groomed on all the duties of an end in a long individual practice. Moore's proficiency in receiving forward passes as well as his ability to run with the ball accounted for the care in teaching him the elements of a good defensive game. His drill was entirely in defensive tactics, breaking through interference and tackling a runner.

Adjourning to Palmer Stadium the 'Varsity spent most of its time running through signals, while the second 'Varsity and the scrubs engaged in scrimmage. Rush spent the entire afternoon with the second string men. Lamberton has returned to practice and, with "Buzz" Law, and a boy named Thomas, shared the honors of the afternoon. Lamberton was exceptionally good on his plunges. Thomas has hitherto been at end, but this afternoon he was shifted to half back, and his showing at the back-field position was excellent. He got away for several long dashes down the field, and while it is too late in the season to have him half back to be developed, he adds another name to the list of possible substitutes that Rush may call upon for the final games.

Columbia to Drill Substitutes.

Football practice for the Columbia team on South Field yesterday was restricted to signal work. Before the squad left the dressing room Coach Metcalf discussed Saturday's game from the standpoint of defense and offense. He said that he was proud and satisfied with the outcome of the first game, but he had noticed many errors in play and judgment which cannot go uncorrected. He added that although the score was a great surprise it should not be the means of overestimating the strength of the Blue and White, because hard games are still to be played.

For this week Columbia will be drilled almost entirely on the offense with the idea of developing a squad of first string substitutes. The injury to Stover, quarter back, last week leaves only Edward Miller for this position. Ecky Calder, left end, will receive more training so that he can substitute for Miller if necessary. He will be out of practice for a few days on account of a strained ankle.

Solon to Play "Pro" Football.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 25.—Lorin Solon, whose recent sudden dismissal from the Minnesota football team surprised university circles, will become a professional football player next Sunday. He has agreed to play four games with the Duluth Athletic Club, he said today.

COLLEGE BASKET BALL.

Season Will Open at Princeton Dec. 17 in Game with Cornell.

The schedule of the Intercollegiate Basket Ball League has been announced and includes a number of dates for the Columbia team, although it looked for a time, after the meeting last Spring, as if the Morningside university would withdraw from the league. Columbia, however, won a victory over the league in the matter of eligibility rules, and the new rules, which were to have gone into effect this season, will not be enforced until next year.

If the new rules had been adopted, Columbia would have been hard hit. Two of last year's star players, Captain Walter Dwyer and Calder, would have been lost to the team. In order to appease Columbia's objections, the other five colleges consented to permit the Columbia men to play. In other words, the new rules will not be enforced as far as they concern men who are already in college. The other colleges in the league are Cornell, Yale, Princeton, Pennsylvania, and Dartmouth.

The schedule of games announced by Secretary Ralph Morgan is as follows:

Dec. 17, Cornell at Princeton.

Jan. 7, Dartmouth at Columbia; 8, Cornell at Pennsylvania; 15, Columbia at Dartmouth, 3:30 P. M.; 15, Yale at Cornell; 15, Princeton at Pennsylvania; 18, Pennsylvania at Yale; 19, Columbia at Princeton; 22, Yale at Columbia; 22, Dartmouth at Pennsylvania; 25, Princeton at Yale.

Feb. 4, Pennsylvania at Dartmouth; 8, Dartmouth at Yale, 4 P. M.; 12, Pennsylvania at Columbia; 12, Yale at Dartmouth; 16, Princeton at Columbia; 19, Columbia at Pennsylvania; 19, Cornell at Yale; 19, Princeton at Dartmouth, 3:30 P. M.; 21, Cornell at Dartmouth, 3:30 P. M.; 23, Pennsylvania at Princeton; 25, Cornell at Columbia; 26, Dartmouth at Princeton; 26, Yale at Pennsylvania; 29, Dartmouth at Cornell.

March 3, Columbia at Cornell; 3, Yale at Princeton; 6, Pennsylvania at Cornell; 8, Columbia at Yale; 9, Princeton at Cornell.

Interstate Basket Ball League.

Eugene Kinkead, Sheriff of Hudson County, N. J., President of the new Interstate Basket Ball League, made a strong plea for clean sportsmanship at the meeting of the league which was held at the Hermitage Hotel last night. The Sheriff said that he would be fair with all teams, but he wanted the teams to be fair with each other. "Victory isn't everything in sport," said the Sheriff. "There is a good deal in the way you play the game. Play it always on the square."

The schedule for the season was adopted, consisting of twenty games at home and twenty away from home for each team. The cities in the league are Brooklyn, Kingston, Stamford, Paterson, Jersey City, and Elizabeth.

All the players' contracts were approved by the league, and the list of players includes the best professionals in this vicinity and several former college stars. The clubs agreed to honor each other's contracts. The managers announced their players, as follows:

Brooklyn — Sedran, Schmeelk, Ruckert, Friedman, Ripley, Brunner.

Jersey City — Bizzane, Roach, S. Harvey, Reich, Fuller, Corrizan, Muller.

Paterson — Clinton, Beckman, Leonard, Swanson, Harvey, Wallum.

Elizabeth — Smythe, Nolan, Curran, McIntyre, Harrigan, Bruggy, Dusanek, J. Hammerding.

Stamford — Norman, Barry, Smith, Dreyfuss, Taylor, Horan.

Kingston — Johnson, Smolick, Tone, Henschel, Barger, Morgenweck, Wachter.

Kennedy
12 Cortlandt St.
A Great Shoe Store

Very Dark Mahogany Russia Calf Shoes
$2.97 & $3.98
Worth $4 & $5

New Flat Last Low Heels.

Cordovan Shoes, $5.00 & $6.00
(Horsehide), a Rich, Dark Russet
Sold by custom bootmakers at $8

Arch Support Shoes, $3.98
For Flat Feet and Weak Arches
Long Inside Counter, Extension Heel in Kid and Black Calf.

STILL HOPE TO SAVE DISBARRED ATHLETES

Middlebrook and Tommers Assume Responsibility for Their Violation of Yale Rules.

Special to The New York Times.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 25.—Rumors were current tonight that the case of the five Yale athletes who have been disqualified for playing Summer baseball would be reopened by reason of the announcements made by Captain Middlebrook and Coach Tommers of the baseball nine, declaring that they were responsible for the act of the players in accepting their board free at Quogue, L. I.

The Yale athletic officials asserted that the players were disqualified with no string attached, and that they knew of no movement looking toward their reinstatement. It was believed on the campus that the statements of Middlebrook and Tommers paved the way for reinstating the players. A formal request has been received from Harvard that they be allowed to play again.

The Yale Daily News said today that a desirable movement would be the formation of an eligibility committee composed of representatives of the Princeton, Harvard, and Yale athletic committees, with power to handle all eligibility cases instead of leaving them to the eligibility committee of the three universities.

Legore was not at Yale Field today, but said that he would remain on the eleven of ineligibles who are playing against the 'Varsity in scrimmage practice.

Applications for tickets to the Yale-Princeton game, Nov. 13, closed today, and for the first time indications are that there will be enough seats in the Yale Bowl to accommodate every one who desires admittance. The applications received are far below the capacity of the Bowl, which is about 68,000.

The demand for tickets to the Harvard-Yale game indicated that the Yale allotment of tickets will be entirely covered by the demand here.

Yale football coaches today admitted that they regard the situation as critical. "We have no good punter, drop kicker, or forward passer behind the line," said one. "Our defense is weak, and our plan until the Colgate game on Saturday will be to specialize the practice in developing a satisfactory kicker and in strengthening the defense."

Dr. Billy Bull, who has aided Yale heretofore by developing punters, today formed a squad composed of Ames, Way, Savage, Smith, Neville, and Waite, who worked an hour in booting the oval. Smith, Neville, and Waite attempted punting Saturday, with unsatisfactory results. Way has been called upon to kick, but will not be played in the back field. If his punting is as successful as it was today he will drop back from centre to kick occasionally. Carl White resumed centre after a three weeks' absence, and will be used there Saturday. Savage's knee still troubles him, and he cannot be counted upon for regular work this year.

Because of injuries received on Saturday, "Chub" Sheldon, Moseley, Scovil, and Von Holt did not report today, but Captain Wilson believes that all will be in the line-up next Saturday. Way practiced punting. It was announced that the work throughout the week will be extremely light.

The squad were at Yale Field an hour today, dividing their time between signal rehearsal and instruction in defensive work and kicking. John Kilpatrick and John Field were the visiting coaches.

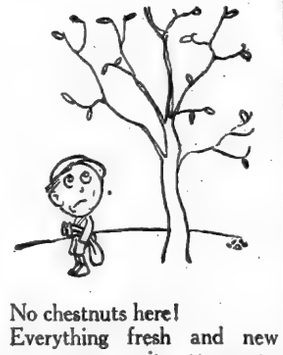
Shakeup in N. Y. U. Eleven Likely.

Coach Reilley of the New York University football team called off practice for yesterday and allowed both regulars and scrubs a day's rest before entering upon the rigorous routine which he has outlined as the work for the week. The Violet eleven will play the Columbia team in another practice scrimmage this afternoon on Ohio Field and the work is expected to bring forth several changes in the makeup of New York University, according to a report current yesterday that Coach Reilley was contemplating several shifts in the positions on the 'Varsity. The showing of the latter against Haverford pointed out several weak places and the Violet coaches will devote all of their attention during the week's practices to eliminate these defects before the Trinity game which is scheduled for Election Day and which is one of the hardest games on the schedule.

Stevens Fears Columbia.

The customary Monday let-up in practice was denied the Stevens squad this week, and instead of a light drill yesterday the men spent most of the afternoon in a hard scrimmage. Although the players were disappointed with the result of Saturday's game with Union, they are not in the least discouraged. They have a week to prepare for the Columbia game on Election Day, and, from the showing Columbia made on Saturday, this out to prove a hard contest.

Grymes and Middleton were unable to take part in the scrimmage on account of injuries received on Saturday, and it is possible that Gennert will not be in shape this week. This means another shake-up in the line, and Coach Rodgers will spend a good deal of time in trying out second-string men. Ford, who took Gennert's place at tackle on Saturday, showed up well and may appear in the line-up against Columbia.



No chestnuts here!

Everything fresh and new every season—suits, overcoats, shirts, hats, neckwear.

Among our handsomest Fall suits are those of "Forefathers' Cloth" (Registered Trade Mark)—a substantial, hard wearing fabric that's a reproduction of the very cloth worn by the Pilgrim Fathers.

The colors are butternut brown, olive green and grey.

"Scotch Mists" (Registered Trade Mark) don't care whether it rains or shines.

They're handsome Fall overcoats of Scotch cheviot, rainproofed.

ROGERS PEET COMPANY

Broadway at 13th St. | "The Four Corners" | Broadway at 34th St.

Broadway at Warren | | Fifth Ave. at 41st St.

FORDHAM AFTER A TITLE.

Hopes to Beat Georgetown in Catholic College Series.

Elated by its easy victory over the Holy Cross team last Saturday the Fordham eleven will now prepare for its next big game on Election Day with Georgetown, and on the outcome of the game depends the Catholic college title, Holy Cross dropping out of the race by its defeat Saturday. The Maroon team came out of the contest in remarkably fine shape. Conklin and Corriden, the two ends, are the only men who were injured, and they both are suffering from sprained ankles. Corriden was in a patched-up condition when he started the game, but he played through the entire contest.

The practice yesterday was devoted mostly to improving the work of the interference. While Fordham rushed off big gains Saturday, on several occasions the runner was slowed up by the other backs in front of him. The linemen also came in for a short drill. Coach Vaughan gave most of his time in showing the forwards how to break through on kick and open formations. No scrimmage took place, but several of the linemen were set against each other in pairs to correct the individual weaknesses evident Saturday.

All of the backs were kept busy for over half an hour in a punting drill. From their work yesterday it is evident that in Dunn, Yale and Butler, Fordham has a kicking trio behind the line each of whom can make 45 yards on a punt.

ARMY CENTRE RUSH HURT.

McEwan Will Be Laid Up Several Days—Scrimmage Today.

Special to The New York Times.

WEST POINT, N. Y., Oct. 25.—McEwan, the Army's star centre rush, is the only cadet who will likely be idle for a few days as a result of the rough contest with Georgetown last Saturday. Big Mac's wound has been cauterized and is doing well. The Army squad got in two sessions of football today, although neither of them was of a strenuous nature. The squad went through its evolutions on the plains rather easily, position drills, forward passing, and punting featuring the workout, which was chiefly designed to take out the kinks and muscle bruises. The second session was held in the "Gym," and consisted of a blackboard demonstration and talk.

Some of the men crippled in the Colgate game are still on the side lines, notably Ford and Coffin of the back field, and Meacham and Parker of the line. Oliphan also rested today. All of the huskies are expected back tomorrow, when the team will be sent into a hard scrimmage with the scrubs. The coaches were pelased with the Army's work Saturday and look for continued improvement this week.

Didn't Know He Made Touchdown.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 25.—The University of Pennsylvania's eleven had only a light drill this afternoon on Franklin Field, and a stage tale was unfolded, for it was learned that Graves Williams, the half back, has absolutely no recollection of the Pittsburgh game Saturday.

Williams was hurt early in the game when Fry, the Pittsburgh full back, used his knees to stop the Pennsylvania man. Williams went back to his position and was so badly confused that Captain Harris sent him to the side lines. The coaches talked to Williams after he had had a rest and he had apparently recovered from the shock. Today in the Pennsylvania dressing room he admitted that he had absolutely no knowledge of what happened after his injury. He said it was not until today that his head cleared and that he was very much surprised to learn that he had scored a touchdown. Williams was examined today by a specialist, who said that it was not an unusual case, and it would do the youngster no injury. Williams was out for practice this afternoon and treated the matter as a joke, saying that once before he had the same thing happen to him.

Boy Dies of Football Injuries.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 25.—The football season claimed its first victim here today when John Groom, aged 17, died from injuries received Saturday afternoon in a game at Braddock, a suburb. An investigation was ordered by Coroner Samuel C. Jamison.

"Won't spread at the top."

HOLISTON
The super-smart shape of the season
IdeCollars
GEO. P. IDE & CO. Makers, TROY, N.Y.

Warning! Buy Limousines Now
Great Variety of Winter Auto Bodies.
Real Bargains In All Styles
Limousines, Landaulettes, Sedans, Coupes, Coupelettes, Buses, Deliveries, Taxis, Jitneys, etc.
100 Fitting Packards, Pierces, or any good sized chassis....$100, $150, $200, $300, $350
Coupes, Coupelettes, Sedans, Taxis,
New and Used, $25 to $650.
Touring Bodies.....$15 up to $350.
5-Story Building Full of Bargains.
Tops, Racing Seats, Tanks, etc., Surprisingly Cheap!
JANDORF AUTOMOBILE CO.,
BODY DEPARTMENT,
301 to 307 West 59th St., Near Broadway.

TRUCKS TRUCKS

Can start you on profitable contract with 1, 3 or 5-ton truck. Contract provides for payment of truck on easy terms; only small cash investment required. See me at once.
E. F. Twyman
427 West 42nd Street,
'Phone Bryant 8530.

TRUCKS TRUCKS TRUCKS

Wanted—Contracts by day, week, month or year. Will supply truck equipped with suitable body. Get our rates.
R. J. Willoughby
183 West 87th Street
Schuyler 5637

TRUCKS TRUCKS

TRUCK BUYERS ATTENTION
Buy where reliability is assured. We have traded and will sell several attractive bargains in light delivery cars, from $150 up; 2½-ton chassis, ready for work, $700; also many others.
Phone Bryant 8530.
USED TRUCK DEPARTMENT.
A. C. WHITEFIELD,
427 WEST 42D ST.

Trucks Trucks Trucks Trucks
Special contractors feature automatic dumping trucks. We can save you big money. See us at once.
Phone Bryant 8530.
USED TRUCK DEPARTMENT.
A. C. WHITEFIELD,
427 WEST 42D ST.

COACH POINTS OUT HARVARD'S ERRORS

Haughton Illustrates on Blackboard Blunders Made in Cornell Game.

Special to The New York Times.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 25.—There was no optimism noticed about the Harvard football camp this afternoon, for the defeat by Cornell Saturday was not expected by the 'Varsity. The coaches today took occasion to point out the mistakes made by the team in the game, and this retrospect was not pleasant. Percy Haughton held his men in the blackboard room a long time before sending them to the baseball cage for signal drill, there being nothing except some late kicking practice in the Stadium, owing to the progress of the athletic games.

All the players who participated in the Cornell game reported today, but only five of them took part in the practice, the others not even putting on their football clothes. Dadmun and Cowen were the only linesmen in the drill with Watson again at quarter back. Caner, Taylor, and Whitney all did some work.

There were no serious injuries in the Cornell game. Gilman's ankle proved not to be severely hurt as was feared Saturday night, but he will have to be careful, and it is the intention of the coaches not to allow him to play before he goes into the Princeton game ten days hence.

Wallace is continually being hurt on the head, but his last blow did not amount to much. Parson looks a little the worse for wear, and Mahan was much bruised in the Cornell game. King sustained a bad muscle bruise which the coaches did not hear about until today.

Enwright was out with the back field today, playing with Wiggin and Rollins. Enwright, as well as McClintock, is ready to get into the thick of the play, and if these two can stand this week's hammering they will increase Harvard's backfield strength against Princeton a lot. Robinson worked at quarter back for a time, while the coaches today shifted Nelson, one of the heavy backs, into the line to play guard. He was an end earlier in the Fall.

The Crimson looks forward to a hard game against Penn State next Saturday, but the main work of the week will be to get things started for the Princeton game a week later. Jimmy Knox, the Harvard scout at Princeton, came to Cambridge today to see the squad and to attend tonight's coaches' meeting. He will start work this week, but all next week will be here to put on Harvard's defense against the Jerseymen's plays.

Launch L'Apache at Morris Heights

The twin-screw gasoline motor yacht l'Apache, built for James H. Snowden of Indianapolis for use in Southern waters, was launched yesterday morning at the yards of the Gas Engine and Power Company and Charles L. Seabury & Co. at Morris Heights. The yacht is 72 feet over all, 71 feet 6 inches on the water line, 12 feet beam, 3 feet 6 inches draught, and has a guaranteed speed of nineteen miles an hour. The interior arrangement is complete in every detail. The machinery consists of two six-cylinder 7x7 gasoline engines. The fuel tanks have a capacity of 700 gallons. The yacht was named by Mrs. J. H. Snowden, wife of its owner.

ANOTHER JONES AT YALE.

Brother of Howard and Tad Runs 100 Yards in 10 3-5 Seconds.

Special to The New York Times.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 25.—Clarence M. Jones of Excello, Ohio, brother of Howard and Tad Jones, two of Yale's most famous former athletes, won the 100-yard dash at the Yale Fall track games today in 0:10 3-5. Charles Stewart of Eccleston, Md., captured the furlong flat event in 0:23 3-5. Edward Degernea of New York City was a close second in both sprints. James A. Roche of New Haven furnished the best performance of the day in the quarter-mile dash by finishing in 0:50 3-5 against a strong wind. Henry Sage Cooper of Albany won the half-mile in 2:02 3-5, and Richard T. Wood of Bristol won the mile run in 4:50 2-5.

The high hurdles were taken by Douglas B. Simonson of New York City in 0:17 1-5, and the furlong timber event by Thomas C. Rodman of Los Angeles, Cal., in 0:27. Kenneth F. Potter of St. Louis was first in the high jump with 5 feet 5 inches, and Gilbert S. Lance of Kenosha, Wis., was first in the broad jump with 19 feet 9 inches. Gardner Jarvis of Webster Grove, Mo., was tied for first in the pole vault with James C. Potter of Rochester at 10 feet 9 inches.

Sanford Drives Rutgers Team Hard.

Special to The New York Times.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Oct. 25.—George Foster Sanford worked the Rutgers football team at full speed this afternoon in preparation for the game with Springfield Y. M. C. A. College at Newark Federal League Park on Saturday. A forty-minute scrimmage with the scrubs resulted in four touchdowns for the Varsity. The second team was strengthened by the addition of Toohey and Twing, last year's regulars, but was unable to withstand the rushes of the Varsity backs. Bracher was not on the field, nor was Captain Talman. Wittpenn, Garrett, Elliott and Scarr constituted the backfield. Elliott and Wittpenn tore big holes in the scrub line and made several long runs. The former, who is a freshman, is showing better form in every game, and shoul develop into one of the stars of the team. Miller was in uniform, but did not take part in the practice. Mason held down the pivot position and was flanked by White and Cole. Nash and Hendrix were the tackles and Austin and Rockefeller ends. Coach Sanford will drive the men hard for the remainder of the week, as he expects a hard game with Springfield.

Apportionment of Amateur Bouts.

Apportionment of the bouts to be decided in the try-outs for the international boxing tournament at the Panama-Pacific Exposition next month, the proceeds of which will go to the James E. Sullivan Memorial Fund, was made yesterday at a meeting of the New York Athletic Club and Crescent Athletic Club representatives at Amateur Athletic Union headquarters, 21 Warren Street. The New York Athletic Club will stage the preliminaries of the 108, 125, and 145 pound classes on Friday night, and the semi-finals and finals in these divisions will be contested at the Crescent Athletic Club on Saturday night. On Friday night the preliminaries in the 115, 135, and 158 pound classes will be held in the Crescent gymnasium, and the semi-finals and finals will be contested before the Mercury Foot members the ensuing evening. It will not be decided until tomorrow or Thursday how the bouts in the light heavy and heavyweight classes will be apportioned.

NO DECISIONS IN NEW YORK BOXING

Commission Will Not Permit Referee to Pick Winner in Garden Bout.

No decision will be rendered in the ten-round bout between Johnny Dundee and former lightweight champion Willie Ritchie which will be contested tonight at Madison Square Garden, Dundee's manager yesterday appeared at the weekly meeting of the State Athletic Commission and requested of Chairman Fred A. Wenck and Major Dixon that the power to render a verdict be vested in the referee, but the request was denied. Chairman Wenck repeated his statement of last week that no action would be taken regarding decisions until the full board of three members was in office, and until Governor Whitman had expressed his views on the subject. Wenck believes it will be at least the first of the year before the question will be brought up for official action. Wenck has expressed himself privately as being in favor of decisions, and Major Dixon is inclined to oppose them, so that it will be up to the third member who will succeed James R. Price to break the deadlock.

Jimmy De Forrest, former manager of boxers, received a referee's license. His application was supported by the Fort Hamilton Athletic Club. A renewal of the license of the Pioneer Athletic Club, with headquarters in West Forty-fourth Street, was also granted. The application of the Harlem Sporting Club for a permit to conduct sparring exhibitions was held over for a week, pending an investigation by Chairman Wenck into the responsibility of the organization. The club is located in the same building where the 135th Street Sporting Club, now out of business, formerly held forth. The commission desires to know if any of the officials of the 135th Street Club are connected with the Harlem S. C.

All the wisdom of the commission was needed to solve the question of whether Frankie Callahan of Brooklyn, whose right name is Holzman, and Frankie Callahan of New York, who received this name when he was baptized, should be permitted to compete in the boxing ring under the name of Callahan. The commission has no one but itself to blame for this puzzle. Both Callahans were present at yesterday's meeting, and neither was willing to relinquish the cognomen. The Brooklyn lightweight has been known as Callahan for six years, and has earned a fair boxing reputation under the name. The New York Callahan, who is a featherweight, is a comparative new comer in the squared circle. Chairman Wenck partly solved the query by asking the New York boy to advertise himself in future as Young Frankie Callahan. The boxer has taken the request under advisement.

Chairman Wenck requests all boxers to register their family names, addresses, and weights with the commission for future reference.

Wenck has a number of reforms in mind which he will introduce when he has a full board. Among them is a school of instruction for referees.

Pappas Defeats Coyne at Broadway.

Charlie Pappas, the Greek lightweight, defeated Jack Coyne of Orange by a small margin in their ten-round bout at the Broadway Sporting Club yesterday afternoon. Pappas entered the ring with a wounded right eye and before the end of the bout Coyne had completely closed it, but that was about as much as he could do during the ten-round go. Pappas is a hard hitter and frequently he jarred the Orange boy with swings to the jaw and head, but Coyne stood up under the punishment. The Greek possessed more skill than his opponent, and although outweighed, and handicapped by a shorter reach than Coyne, he outboxed the Orange lightweight. Coyne was wild, and he frequently broke ground before the Greek's rushing attacks. Pappas weighed 133½ pounds and Coyne 140 pounds.

The results of the three-round semi-professional bouts which preceded the ten-round go were as follows: Battling Joe defeated Jack Kiel, three rounds; Leo Curtiss defeated Young Howe, three rounds; Yankee Kid defeated Young Whitey, three rounds; Kid Dahlen defeated Sailor Axher, stopped by the referee in the first round; Eddie Jackson defeated Gus Schram, three rounds; Tommy Kiel won from Jack Tracy on a foul in the third round; Young Charlie Chaplin defeated Joe Beamish, stopped by referee in the third round; Lou Ansley kicked out Kid Albani in the second round; Jack Tracy defeated The Yankee Kid, three rounds.

Young Mike Donovan Beats Texan.

Young Mike Donovan defeated Charley Shands of El Paso in a ten-round bout at the Olympic A. C. last night. Both were hard, straight hitters, but Donovan hand d out the most punishment. Shands had a clinch repeatedly to protect himself. In the ninth round Donovan gave the Texan a bad pounding and had him groggy. The bell saved him. Shands's mouth was cut, and his face was badly bruised at the end of the bout. Marty Cross won from Farmer Sullivan of Greenwich Village in the other ten-round bout. The affair was even to the fifth round, and then Cross had Sullivan groggy and on the verge of a knockout. Sullivan rallied gamely, however, and, although he hung on repeatedly to save himself, he stuck it out to the end.

Colored Boxers in Brooklyn Ring.

Colored boxers displayed their pugilistic abilities at the Vanderbilt Athletic Club, in Brooklyn, last night to the edification of a crowd which filled the clubhouse. The principals in the ten-round bouts were negroes, and in each instance they were featherweights. In the main event Mark Spencer of Brooklyn earned the honors over Sailor Burton, and in the other contest Darky Griffin, weighing 116 pounds, outpointed Terry Martin, whose weight was announced as 116.

Beecher Outpoints Duffy.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 25.—At the Knickerbocker Athletic Club tonight Willie Beecher of New York and Jimmie Duffy of Lockport engaged in one of the fastest ten-round bouts seen at the local club this season. Beecher by his continued aggressiveness was entitled to the decision by a small margin.

Columbia Track Games Tomorrow.

Track athletes at Columbia are getting into shape for the annual Fall interclass meet tomorrow. Coach Bernie Wefers announced yesterday that twelve events will be held, and only one of these will be for the weight-throwers. The events are low and high hurdles, 100, 220, 440, half mile, mile, and two mile runs, broad and high jump, pole vault, and shot-put. The senior class is expected to duplicate last year's victory, although the 1917 men entered will push them hard.

Aristocracy.

A well balanced compound of right instincts, careful breeding and worthy heredity which makes the human thoroughbred.

Utterly independent of clothes, or race, or place, or circumstance. Bred in the bone—fundamental—unchanging.

The same thing in a cigarette.

Independent of label or outside characteristics. An inseparable and distinctive character which makes it the selection of the pick of humanity.

This is why they call Rameses "The aristocrat of cigarettes."

Its distinctive and characteristic flavor does not appeal to all men.

There is none of the soft mediocrity of less distinguished brands.

But nobody ever changes from Rameses.

Stephano Brey
Philadelphia

In tens, twenties and week-end tins.

RAMESES

WOMEN'S GOLF AT HACKENSACK

104 WOMEN PLAY GOLF AT HACKENSACK

Mrs. W. J. Faith of Wykagyl Wins 18-Hole Handicap with 89, 2—87.

Mrs. W. J. Faith of Wykagyl won the 18-hole medal play handicap over the Hackensack Country Club links yesterday from the largest field of entrants that the Women's Metropolitan Golf Association has ever known. One hundred and four players drove off the first tee in the medal lay handicap, and many other women entered in the Scotch foursomes and the putting contest in the afternoon. In winning the low gross prize with a card of 89, Mrs. Faith also set a new woman's record for the course, and tied for the low net score with Mrs. J. C. Barclay of the Hackensack Country Club, whose card of 94, 7—87 brought her on even terms with Mrs. Faith's 89, 2—87. An entrant is entitled to only one prize in a tournament of this kind, and Mrs. Barclay took the first prize for low net score, with Mrs. J. S. Irving, Scarsdale Country Club, second, with a card of 94, 6—88, and Miss K. Hartshorn, Hackensack Country Club, who lost on the draw with Mrs. Irving, third, with another card of 106, 18—88.

At the fourth hole Mrs. Faith nearly spoiled her record-breaking score by taking a 7, but recovered on the fifth with a par 4, and then took a par 3 on the seventh. Three putts on the tenth green gave her a 7 on this long hole, but she more than made up for this by stopping her tee-shot fifteen feet from the pin on the seventeenth green and then holded out her putt for a 2.

In the two-ball medal play handicap foursomes in the afternoon Miss A. Allaire of Fox Hills and Mrs. H. J. Bartholemae, Ardsley Country Club, turned in the best card for the nine holes, 53, 23—35. In the Kickers Handicap there were three players with the lucky total of 97, but Mrs. Ralph Hoyt was ruled out because her card was turned in with the envelope containing the number unsealed, and Miss K. Horandt lost on the draw, leaving the Kickers' prize to Mrs. W. H. Loftus of Montclair. Mrs. B. T. Fairchilds, Norwood Country Club, won the putting contest, with Mrs. J. A. Son, Dunwoodie Country Club, second. The scores:

Eighteen-Hole Handicap Medal Play.—Mrs. W. J. Faith, Wykagyl, 89, 2—87; Mrs. J. C. Barclay, Hackensack, 94, 7—87; Mrs. J. S. Irving, Scarsdale, 94, 6—88; Miss K. Hartshorn, Hackensack, 106, 18—88; Mrs. C. T. Russell, Ardsley, 97, 8—89; Mrs. S. A. Herzog, Fairview, 97, 5—92; Miss Ethel Scott, North Jersey, 103, 10—93; Mrs. J. Magee, Essex, 100, 7—93; Mrs. B. Salmon, Forest Hills, 106, 12—94; Mrs. S. Weil, Fairview, 102, 7—95; Mrs. H. R. Stockton, Plainfield, 98, 2—96; Mrs. C. H. Dickinson, Apawamis, 116, 20—96; Mrs. T. Thomas, Hackensack, 111, 11—96; Mrs. Ketchum, Five Hills, 111, 13—96; Mrs. Ralph Hoyt, Forest Hills, 122, 27—97; Mrs. W. C. Wynard, Englewood, 113, 18—97; Mrs. R. H. Smalley, Yountakah, 103, 3—98; Mrs. W. L. Holman, Hackensack, 114, 9—98; Mrs. J. Williams, Dunwoodie, 108, 9—99; Mrs. H. B. Goldsmith, Hollywood, 100, 1—99; Miss G. Wood, Englewood, 114, 14—100; Miss G. Worden, Englewood, 125, 25—100; Miss L. Bader, Dunwoodie, 118, 18—100; Mrs. D. J. O'Connell, Hackensack, 116, 16—100; Mrs. R. B. Neff, Montclair, 115, 15—100; Mrs. B. T. Fairchilds, Norwood, 115, 15—100; Mrs. W. Hutchinson, Forest Hills, 111, 10—101; Miss M. Hill, Montclair, 111, 11—101; Mrs. A. B. Gilkes, Siwanoy, 110, 8—102; Mrs. W. H. Loftus, Montclair, 122, 20—102; Mrs. W. H. Watts, Hackensack, 120, 18—102; Miss E. Spears, Morris County, 117, 15—102; Mrs. H. Bixon, Forest Hills, 120, 17—103; Mrs. C. Greenhall, Hollywood, 110, 6—104; Miss K. Horandt, North Jersey, 115, 11—104; Mrs. B. Waterhouse, Hackensack, 127, 22—105; Mrs. A. W. Williams, Hackensack, 123, 18—105; Mrs. E. C. Koempel, Glen Ridge, 113, 7—106; Mrs. H. Noonan, Hackensack, 120, 14—106; Mrs. F. Young, Forest Hills, 132, 25—107; Mrs. F. F. Steinhardt, Fairview, 118, 10—108; Mrs. C. M. Fishel, Woodmere, 120, 12—108; Mrs. R. Lawrence, Fairview, Plainfield, 116, 7—108; Miss A. Cowperthwaite, Arcola, 129, 20—109; Miss G. Griffith, Hackensack, 136, 27—111; Mrs. H. Rodrigo, Ridgewood, 129, 18—111; Mrs. R. Hardin, Hackensack, 133, 12—121; Miss E. O'Connor, Five Hills, 147, 25—122; Mrs. E. S. McDonald, Plainfield, 148, 25—123; Miss J. Kleinjung, Hackensack, 146, 17—132; Miss E. P. st, North Jersey, 152, 18—134; Miss H. A. Blauvelt, North Jersey, 160, 18—142. Other cards not turned in.

Nine-Hole Medal Play Handicap Foursome.—Miss A. Allaire and Mrs. H. J. Bartholemae, 53, 23—35; Mrs. B. T. Fairchilds and Miss E. Spears, 52, 15—37; Miss L. Bader and Mrs. J. Williams, 52, 14—38; Mrs. E. Young and Mrs. W. Hutchinson, 61, 23—38; Mrs. R. H. Blood and Mrs. H. B. Salmon, 54, 15—39; Miss G. Wood and Mrs. E. Brown, 51, 12—39; Mrs. W. J. Faith and Mrs. H. R. Stockton, 41, 2—39; Mrs. B. Waterhouse and Mrs. G. Worden, 63, 24—39; Mrs. W. Archer and Mrs. A. Williams, 62, 22—40; Mrs. H. Brown and Mrs. Ralph Hoyt, 62, 20—42; Mrs. L. Caine and Miss G. Mandel, 54, 12—42; Mrs. E. F. Sanford and Mrs. L. Ketcham, 53, 11—42; Miss B. Graham and Miss L. Graham, 53, 11—44.

Fairchild Knollwood Champion.

B. Tappen Fairchild won the championship of the Knollwood Country Club, Sunday, defeating F. X. Sadlier by 5 up 4 to play in the 36 hole final round. The winner's medal score was 76 for both rounds.

Winners with the Cue.

There was a surprise last night in the amateur handicap 18.2 balk-line billiard tournament at the Knickerbocker Academy in Brooklyn, when Claude S. R. Lewis scored an easy victory over Dr. H. D. Jennings, 185 to 172. Lewis had a handicap of 30 points, being required to score only 185 points, while Jennings needed 215 points to win; but it was plainly evident by the form displayed by Lewis from the beginning that his allowance was a superfluous concession. He showed a consistent brand of billiards throughout and completed his scoring in forty-four innings, making high runs of 19, 18 and 15, with an average of 4 9-44. Jennings tallied the highest run of the contest when he made 22 points, and he also had strings of 19 and 16. His average was 3 40-44.

G. Gardner failed last night in his attempt to concede a handicap of 3 points to L. Friedo in the amateur handicap three-cushion carrom tournament at the Audubon Academy, and lost by the score of 50 to 47 in seventy-two innings. Gardner was playing for 40 points, while his opponent had only to score 37 to win. Friedo made three runs of 4 points as the highest tallies of the contest.

Exhibitions at three-cushion and English billiards were witnessed last night at Doyle's Academy, in West Forty-second Street. Two games were played at the latter style of game, J. Knight defeating E. Brooks by the score of 150 to 131, while in the other contest W. Anderson scored an easy victory over E. Stevens by the score of 150 to 94. The opening game of the three-cushion tournament, in which Herbert McKenzie and Milton Pollock were the contestants, resulted in a victory for the former after thirty innings of close and interesting playing, by the score of 25 to 21.

Charles Otis, the Brooklyn representative in the Intercity Three-Cushion Carrom Billiard League, last night defeated Jerome Keogh, representing Rochester, in a long, drawn-out game at the Brooklyn Academy in Brooklyn by the score of 50 to 38. The contest was marked by considerable safety play by both players, and it required 101 innings before the final point was tallied. Otis's run of three points was the highest of the game, while Keogh's best effort was a run of two.

Poly Prep's Novice Games.

Sterling competitions were witnessed in the twelve events which comprised the program at the annual novice games of the Poly Prep School held yesterday afternoon at the school grounds in Brooklyn. The representatives of the fifth grade carried off the point honors, gathering a total of 49 tallies, while the third grade athletes were second, with 32 points. Third place went to the sixth grade, with 14 points; fourth place to the fourth grade, with 7 points, and fifth place to the second grade, with a total of 5 points.

Kirby of the third grade showed excellent ability in winning two events in the junior division, finishing first in both the 220 yards event and the 100 yards dash. In each event the first three places were won by members of the third grade, and the races were interesting. In the junior division De Witt's performance in winning the 220 yards event and the 100 yards dash stood out as the feature.

Cero Wins Race on Sound.

W. P. Frost's cruising motor boat Cero was the winner of the Long Island Motor Boat Association's cruiser consistency race for the Wallace trophy. Cero, which started at 3 o'clock P. M. on Saturday from the Stamford Yacht Club pier, crossed the finish line at 8:29 A. M. yesterday, beating her only competitor, Harry Anderson's Cardenia, by three hours corrected time. Cero's elapsed time was 17 hours 29 minutes. She made stops of 15 minutes at Black Rock, Bridgeport, Morris Cove, Port Jefferson, Huntington, and New Rochelle, a total of 1 hour and 30 minutes, so that her corrected time for the distance—about seventy-five miles—was 15 hours and 59 minutes.

FAST TRIAL FOR F. R. P.

Makes Two Circuits of Speedway Track at 102 Miles an Hour.

Bob Burman was an interested spectator at the first trial of the F. R. P. car yesterday at the Sheepshead Bay Speedway, as this is one of the machines which will oppose his in the Election Day races. With Jean Porporato at the wheel the big racer whirled around the track in one minute and eleven seconds, or at the rate of 102 miles an hour. A second trial a few minutes later was even a fraction of a second faster. It is expected that nearly record time will be made in a trial today.

With the exception of the Baby Peugeot which belongs to Harry S. Harkness, the President of the Speedway Corporation, the new F. R. P. was the only racing machine that tuned up yesterday. President Harkness said that the rumor regarding a challenge from Prince Troubetzkoy was true. "I am perfectly willing to race the Prince for a sweepstake of $10,000," said Mr. Harkness, "providing he qualifies a car, which means that he must be able to drive at eighty-five or more miles an hour." Prince Troubetzkoy may attempt to qualify a car this afternoon. If he succeeds the match race will probably be held on Election Day.

Most of the speed kings entered in the one-hundred-mile special invitation automobile race for the Harkess Gold Cup will start to tune up their cars tomorrow. The race will bring together only those drivers who have won some automobile racing classic.

Johnny Aitken and his Peugeot will be out on the track tomorrow. Aitken's entry is the same car he drove in the Astor Cup race. A broken connecting rod put him out of that race. He has since had the machine thoroughly overhauled at Indianapolis, Ralph De Palma, the famous Ardsley racer, has been hard at work in Indianapolis putting his Mercedes in shape. De Palma was unable to get the German-made car ready for the race that opened the Sheepshead Bay Speedway, but he declares that the Mercedes is in good running order now and will need but little tuning up for the 100-mile race.

Ralph Mulford's Peugeot, which holds the record of 110 miles an hour for the Sheepshead Bay Speedway, has been put in shape by Mulford in a Brooklyn auto shop. Dario Resta's Peugeot is already at the track and is ready for the race that is expected to shatter the world's records for 100 and 200 miles.

Bob Burnham, who drives a Peugeot in the Astor Cup race and was forced to drop out five miles from the finish because of a broken fly wheel, will pilot a big Blitzen-Benz in the special invitation race. Burman drove this car last in California and at that time the machine hurdled a ditch and crashed through a fence. When Burman recently examined the car he was surprised to find that the motor and running gear were in good condition and the only things needed to put the car in racing condition were a new racing body and two new wheels. Eddie Rickenbacker and his Maxwell will arrive at the track from Detroit on Thursday.

That there is much interest in the Election Day race is shown by the brisk betting as to the record-breaking possibilities. Even bets are reported that Bob Burman and his B. B., as the racer is now called, will make 121 miles an hour and that the winner of the Gold Cup will average more than 107 miles an hour.

There will be a mimic air battle at the Sheepshead Bay Speedway before the race takes place, and Dominjoz, the daring Swiss aviator in his Blériot monoplane will give a demonstration of what is occurring daily on the European battlefields when he makes an aerial bomb attack upon a big Stevens dirigible balloon piloted by Frank Goodale.

Weber Wins Y. M. C. A. Race.

W. A. Weber, with an allowance of 13 yards, won the 440-yard handicap run, the feature event of the bi-monthly games of the West Side Branch of the Young Men's Christian Association, in the branch gymnasium in West Fifty-seventh Street, last night, in the time of 0:54. Weber ran a good race from the start, and his margin of victory at the finish was decisive. C. Severins, with an allowance of 11 yards, was second, and T. Donahue, with a 17-yard handicap, was third.

Another interesting race was the one-mile handicap, with A. H. Dolder and F. M. Prederikson on scratch. Dolder's hurdle work at the scratch runners was equal to the task of overcoming the liberal handicaps allotted, and the race went to C. W. Miller, who had an allowance of 30 yards. He covered the distance in 4:39. Four other events comprised the programme, the winners being: Twenty-yard novice race, C. G. Terry; twenty-yard scratch race, W. Borgman; 880-yard novice, E. M. Norton; relay race, Smith, O'Donnell, Weber, and Monaillo.

Harvard Uncovers No Athletic Stars

Special to The New York Times.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 25.—Harvard's entire track squad took part in the 'Varsity and Freshmen Dormitory games in the Stadium this afternoon. The freshmen had a hard fight, Smith Hall finally winning the championship with 40½ points to 36 points for Standish Hall, and 30½ points for Gore Hall. The performances were generally ordinary, there being little class to the freshman performances, and the work of the 'Varsity men being in the main mediocre. The best showing was made by W. E. Haydock and M. McDonald in the pole vault, both men clearing 11 feet 4 inches, while, besides running the high hurdles in 14 3-5 seconds, A. E. Rouse also won the quarter mile run in 51 4-5 seconds.

Want Vote on Summer Baseball.

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—A telegram from The Daily Minnesota, published by the students of the University of Minnesota, received by The Daily Maroon, a Chicago University publication, asked the Chicago paper to take a straw vote among the students on the Summer baseball question. Similar telegrams, it is said, were sent to student newspapers at seventy-two universities. At The Daily Maroon office the suggestion was taken under advisement.

The request for the vote was based on a desire to ascertain the students' sentiments on the rule prohibiting students, who earn money playing baseball from taking part in college athletics. On a charge of violating this rule, Lorin Solon, the Minnesota football star, was disqualified by the faculty last week.

Dean Albion W. Small, University of Chicago representative on the Conference Faculty Committee said it was likely that the Summer baseball question would be discussed at the annual meeting of the committee, to be held at the close of the football season. The rule placing Summer baseball under the ban has been in operation fifteen years, Dean Small said. He denied a report that the committee recently had taken a vote on the subject.

Fight at Barnstorming Game.

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—The National Association of Minor Leagues, at its meeting in San Francisco, Nov. 9, will be asked to act on legislation designed to do away with some of the evils of "barnstorming." President Chivington of the American Association said today. Some players from Chivington's league took part in an exhibition game at Indianapolis yesterday, which reports said wound up in a free fight among spectators, players and umpires, and repetitions of that sort of thing he wants to prevent. Most of the Eastern and Central States delegates will gather here next week to begin the trip to the coast in a special train leaving Chicago Nov. 4.

Mack Signs New Catcher.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Oct. 25.—Scout Mike Brennan of the Philadelphia Americans was unsuccessful in obtaining the signature of Catcher Murphy of the Binghamton team, and wired Connie Mack. The Philadelphia manager arrived in this city this afternoon and soon had Murphy's name signed to a contract. The catcher's release was recently purchased by Binghamton from Montreal, and it is said Mack paid a good price to the local club in order to get Murphy, who is regarded as the best throwing catcher in the State League and a timely hitter. He started his baseball career with Reading of the Tri-State League in 1910.

Another Victory for All-Americans.

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 25.—The players of several clubs in the American League, who are called the All-Americans, in their tour of the West with the All-Nationals, a team of players in the National League, added another victory to their list here this afternoon, when they defeated the representatives of the older organization by the score of 5 to 0.

DOG SHOW PARADE IN BUSY HIPPODROME

Many Buyers Attend the Beginning of the Great Trade Sale in This City.

Pekes, Poms, Great Danes, and Others Mingle with Chorus Girls and Elephants.

A parade of haughty, blue-ribbon dogs marched down Fifth Avenue yesterday, the aristocratic canines looking with disdain on the pretty girls who paused on their afternoon promenade to applaud and admire them. The Fifth Avenue where this procession attracted so much attention wasn't the same street where the suffragettes marched on Saturday. It was the Fifth Avenue on the Hippodrome stage.

You see, it was this way. They are holding a dog show at the Hip, Hip, at the first three matinées this week. The show is benched down in the basement, where they keep the elephants, the St. Moritz ice and the chorus men. All the dogs were paraded by their owners in the Fifth Avenue scene in the first act. More than 100 dogs paraded yesterday. They were accompanied by an unusual assortment of barks and their fair owners. Some of the dogs had pedigrees and some left them home. Some were just dogs with nothing but a name like Rover and Jasper.

A few of the dog fanciers looked a bit pale in the glare of the calciums, but the dogs behaved well. Little Florence Oberoe, with her English bulldog Newington Maryland, led the parade, and then came Mrs. Elizabeth Kolee, with five tiny black and tans. Following were pertinent little Pekingese, Chihuahuas, Airedales, terriers, both Scotch and Irish, and one mutt with no nationality whatsoever.

One nervous young woman led a French poodle across the stage and caused a ripple of mirth. Maybe she didn't know what the audience was laughing at, but she might as well know right now—her hat wasn't on straight. Miss Evelyn Dummore was quite dashing in white broadcloth, trimmed with black fur. Her Pekingese and Pomeranian followed her without the aid of a leash. Miss Dunmore's "Peke" is Tuffnell Bango, and the "Pom" is Danny Leno, and while they didn't win a cup Miss Dunmore thinks none the less of her pets.

The best dog of the show and the second best were presented with silver cups, just like some folks get at a fox-trotting contest. The first cup was won by a stately Great Dane, Charles Ludwig's Prinz von Weisenau. Prinz is one of the best Danes in the country, and he is the papa of several blue-ribbon winners at the Westminster Show. The second cup was won by Meyer Cohen's ruby spaniel Champion Rosemary Red Rambler.

Mrs. H. A. Baxter entered her Pekingese Como Hong of Egham. The judges overlooked Como, but maybe that is explained by the fact that this is the smallest Peke in this country. From the back seats in the Hippodrome the dog was so small that it could hardly be seen. C. D. Atwood's Chihuahuas, Ramona and Benito Juarez, both blue ribbons at the Westminster show, were entered. Mrs. E. R. Wilbur's Boston bulldog Heilborn Queen was among the entries.

No dog show was ever attended by so many other features as this one in the basement of the Hippodrome. The fair owners had a difficult time to keep their attention on the dogs, and the judges were just as badly off. It's a lively place in that Hippodrome subway. First a troop of United States jackstars would rush by, benches of clots, then a bunch of chorus girls would go past on the jump. All the human toys in Toyland tarried a moment on their way to the Panama-Pacific Exposition upstairs to take a peek at the dogs. Not a dog was stepped on or stage struck. The terriers barked saucily at the elephants and weren't a bit scared.

There will be a lot more dogs in the parade today, for they consider it quite an honor. In years to come they will be able to tell their families of puppies proudly, "Your daddy was some dog in his day, little ones. Why, one afternoon I appeared in the show at the Hippodrome."

Other well-known fanciers who exhibited their dogs were Mrs. McClure Halley, Miss Anna Whitney, Mrs. William T. Drew, Miss Olive Fremstad, Mrs. Joseph Pennington, Mrs. London, Miss Gertrude Atwood, Miss Antonette Luescher, Mrs. Carl Erhimann, Miss Enid Askin, Mrs. Frank McCormack, and many others.

The winners of the different classes were as follows:

Collies, Patrick Tully's Scarsfield Chieftain; Fred Brundidge's Mrs. F. McCormack's Sir Dandy; Pekingese, Mrs. A. McClure Halley's Glenwood Pekin Dum Dum; Pomeranians, E. Blum's Poquito; Airdales, Mrs. B. C. Holmes's Reminiscence; English bulls, W. H. Shea's Gaby Chalys; Chihuahuas, Mrs. Atwood's Benito Juarez; black and tans, E. Hubner's Baby; English toys, Mrs. Meyer Cohen's Rosemary; Boston terriers, E. R. Wilbur's Heilborn Queen; Maltese, Mrs. Desbornes's Pimpolo; Griffons, Mrs. Sternberg's Moonstone; Yorkshire, Mrs. Sanford's Nemo; Great Dane, Mr. Luckert's Prince Weisenheim.

ATHLETES APPEAL CASE.

Kiviat and Smith Ask Rehearing of Charges of Professionalism.

Notice that Abel R. Kiviat of the Irish-American A. C. and Harry J. Smith of the Bronx Church House had appealed to the Board of Managers of the Metropolitan A. A. U. from the decision of the Registration Committee adjudging them professionals, was sent to President Frederick W. Rubien last night by John T. Dooling of counsel for the athletes. George P. Mathews, Chairman of the Registration Committee, at the same time was formally asked to have his committee rescind its action and grant another hearing to Kiviat and Smith.

Part of the appeal reads: "This appeal is taken without prejudice to their claim that the Registration Committee was illegally constituted; that men sitting on that committee were ineligible to act thereon, and that the provisions of the Constitution and rules of the A. A. U. were not complied with by said committee."

Columbia Tennis Progresses.

The second round of the singles in the annual Fall tennis tournament at Columbia was finished yesterday afternoon. Tunis, Conger, Von Bermuth, and Lamb of last year's 'Varsity, won their matches. George King, runner-up in the finals last year, succeeded in defeating H. P. Guiler in two straight sets. R. B. Haines, winner of the interscholastic title on the Columbia University courts last year, also passed into the third round of play. The scores:

Second Round.—L. Tunis defeated F. S. Appleby, 6—3, 6—4; George King defeated H. P. Guiler, 6—3, 7—5; W. F. Cornett defeated O. Hammerstein, 3—6, 6—3, 6—0; F. Conger defeated O. H. Adams, 6—3, 6—3; R. B. Haines defeated T. A. Clute, 4—6, 6—4, 6—3; E. T. Dana defeated H. R. Blake, 6—1, 6—1; W. M. Chester defeated H. W. Greene, 6—1, 6—4; J. C. Hegeman defeated J. F. Condon, 12—10, 6—1; A. F. Von Bermuth defeated W. B. Chapman, 6—4, 6—4; H. Lamb defeated R. Kunhardt, 6—4, 6—3, 6—4.

Mrs. Wilbourn Wins at Tennis.

Mrs. Percy C. Wilbourn defeated Miss Jennie La Noce in the final round of the women's singles handicap tournament of the Watson Field Club yesterday at Westchester in straight sets at 6—2, 6—1. Mrs. Wilbourn was handicapped at minus 15, while her opponent was placed on scratch. There were forty-three entries, and a number of the matches furnished exciting competition. Mrs. Wilbourn, in spite of her heavy handicap, met with little opposition in her matches and overwhelmed Miss La Noce with an aggressive attack and excellent placement game.

Stamford Y. C. Tennis Champions.

STAMFORD, Oct. 25.—The tennis championship of the Stamford Yacht Club has just been completed and was won by Vincent C. Arguimbau, who defeated Byrd W. Wenman in the finals, 7—5, 7—9, 8—6, 6—4. The semi-final in the doubles was won by Lea Herrick and Vincent C. Arguimbau, defeating Frederick Fox and Byrd Wenman, 6—3, 5—7, 6—1. Herrick and Arguimbau defeated C. and S. Betts in the finals, 6—3, 7—5, 6—2.

RUGS AND CARPETS SOLD AT AUCTION

Many Buyers Attend the Beginning of the Great Trade Sale in This City.

PRICES ARE SATISFACTORY

Bidders Represented All Sections of the Country—Offerings by Other Factors.

The auction sale of the Alexander Smith & Sons Carpet Company, taken in connection with the general opening yesterday of Spring lines of rugs and carpets by the principal factors in the trade, brought to this city what was probably the largest number of buyers of such goods ever seen here at one time. That the interest in the auction and the several openings attracted universal attention throughout the country was evidenced by the fact that representatives of rug and carpet houses were present from every section of the United States.

Naturally chief interest yesterday was centred on the Smith sale which in the amount of merchandise involved far exceeded the heavy volume of goods disposed of under the hammer last April. The offerings for the sale beginning yesterday include 97,000 bales of rugs and 8,000 rolls of carpets, the total value of the goods being estimated around $3,500,000. Stephen Sanford & Sons Incorporated, while not actually holding an auction, issued nevertheless what was termed a competitive price list of their products to run for this week only. This list made reductions on Spring floor coverings from the regular price list which becomes effective Nov. 2.

Wilmerding, Morris & Mitchell acted as auctioneers for the Smith concern and when lot 1 was announced at 10 o'clock, the crowd of buyers completely filled the large salesroom, standing room, in fact, was at a premium. Bidding was spirited from the start and was maintained throughout the day at rates surprising to the old-timers present. It frequently happened that the more attractive patterns in some classes sold almost up to the regular list. Other goods went at fair prices, with the usual shading for balances. While the Smith Company made no official statement of the amount of goods actually sold, it was thought the amount closely approximated $500,000.

The first offerings were 12-4 Manor tapestry rugs regularly listed at $9.90. This rug, 9 by 12 feet, ranged from bids of $8.70 for single lots, and $8.65 for lots or balances of 5 and 10 bales. Prices of the same class of rug, 11-4, 8 feet, 3 inches by 10 feet, 6 inches, the regular price of which is $8.35, went under the hammer at $7.50 to $7.45. Manor tapestries, 10-4, listed at $6.45 found purchasers at $3.80 to $3.70. The same class in 8-4 ranged from $4.95 to $4.70, as compared with $5.20 the regular list price.

12-4 Nepperhan tapestry rugs, 9 by 12 feet, seamless, brought $10.80 to $10.65, compared with $13.15, the listed price. 9-4 Saxony Axminster rugs, 8 feet 3 inches by 10 feet 6 inches, ranged from $12.25 to $12.10 for balances, while 15-4 Saxony Axminsters went at from $18.85 to $18.10. The 12-4 Ardsley Axminsters, 9 by 12 feet, seamless, were disposed of from $12.10 for single lots, to $11.95 for balance. Russian tapestry rugs, 9 by 12 feet, seamless, found ready buyers at prices ranging from $7.75 to $7.70. The regular Spring price is $8.75. This morning the auction will start with lot 301, covering Katonah velvet rugs.

Practically all of the large department stores of this city were represented at yesterday's bidding, while Marshall Field & Co., Carson Pirie, Scott & Co., the Ely-Walker Dry Goods Company, and a host of other mid-West jobbers were liberal buyers. In addition, the leading factors in other sections of the country, whose buyers have been reported in the buyers' arrival columns made good-sized purchases.

The Spring price list issued by the Smith Company, as was expected on account of the increase in manufacturing costs, showed a stiff advance in some lines and rather surpassed anticipations. Wilton velvet rugs, 9 by 12 feet, for illustration, are now $2.35 higher than at the opening of the Fall 1915 season, while Axminster rugs range in Spring prices from 35 cents to $1.45 higher in the 9 by 12 feet coverings, compared with the Fall rates. Tapestry rugs were put up from 40 cents to $1 on a 9 by 12 feet basis, while 9 by 12 feet velvet rugs are from 60 cents to $1.20 higher than at last opening.

The new Smith Axminster rugs, which have been named the Ardsley, are listed at $13.35 in 12-4. The prices given out by the Smith concern are subject to change without notice. Orders will be accepted subject to the ability of the manufacturers to make deliveries by April 1, 1916. The Smith Company also reserves the right to substitute from stock.

The regular price list of the Sanford Company, effective Nov. 2, also shows an upward tendency on certain lines.

J. Whitall, 114 Fifth Avenue, opened Spring lines of carpets and rugs yesterday. Prices on these goods, however, will be announced probably today or tomorrow.

Several of the leading firms will make their new prices today, among them the wholesale department of W. & J. Sloane, which acts as selling agent for several manufacturers. At the office of the Roxbury Carpet Company it was said that prices would probably be made today, while information given out by J. R. Shoaff & oC., selling agents, was to the effect that the new list would be announced either today or tomorrow. George B. Swayne, selling agent, did not care to make a statement yesterday, nor did a representative of the Firth Carpet Company. It is thought probable, however, that these firms will announce their prices today.

The Bigelow-Hartford Carpet Company was not prepared to give out prices yesterday, although a number were looking over the lines and placing orders "at value." Quotations will be named later in the week. The company, it was stated, is well supplied with dyes.

J. & J. Dobson, Inc., 104 East Twenty-fifth Street, and the Overbrook Carpet Company, for which A. & M. Karaghensian of 535 Fourth Avenue are selling agents, will quote prices later in the week. They report an active demand. The Hardwick & Magee Company, 874 Broadway, will name prices today.

GOODS PILE UP IN MANILA.

No Ships to Carry Exports—Army Transports to be Asked For.

The war in Europe and the sale of the Pacific Mail steamers have produced a serious commercial situation in the Philippines, according to L. R. Yangco, a Philippine business man, who arrived at the Waldorf yesterday. His father established the Yangco Steamship Company, which does a large business between ports in the Philippines. He is a member of the firm now operating the line. He has come to America on business, he said, and while here he hopes to be instrumental in having some steamship service established by which the Filipinos could resume their export business.

"A movement is on foot at present to induce the Washington Administration to lend its army transports to carry the accumulated products of the island from Manila to this and other countries," said Mr. Yango. "Our principal business is in sugar, which the Pacific Mail gave us access. Now that this line has gone out of business and the American flag has been wiped from the Pacific, the only substitute is the Japanese line.

"The Japanese ships which stop at Manila, however, make three or four stops in Japan before going to the Philippines, and the Japanese Government demands that they give the preference in carrying exports to Japanese shippers. As a result, the ships are nearly loaded when they reach Manila, and carry but little of our goods. The effect has been to cause great quantities of hemp, sugar, and copra to pile up, and now the growers are becoming discouraged and are not taking the trouble even to ship their products to Manila."

LATEST CUSTOMS RULINGS.

Shades, Lace, and Tracing Paper Among Things Passed On.

Jesse R. Hopkins, St. Louis, imported bamboo shades which the Collector returned for duty at the rate of 45 per cent. ad valorem as being in chief value of silk. The importer, at the hearing before the Board of General Appraisers, claimed 25 per cent. tax as stained or dyed bamboo shades. An official sample tested by the Government chemist showed that artificial silk predominated in the make-up of the articles. Judge Howell said that the result of the analysis showed that the goods should have been returned for duty at 60 per cent. ad valorem, a higher rate than assessed. The protest was overruled without affirming the Collector.

A protest by A. Sterzelbach & Sons Company turned on the question whether silk or cotton predominated in plushes. Appraiser Sague reported that silk was chief value, and the Collector accordingly demanded duty under the tariff at the rate of 50 per cent. ad valorem. On the other hand, the importers insisted that cotton predominated. The board directed the Government chemist to analyze the fabrics. As that official reported silk chief value, the board affirmed the Collector.

It was decided by Judge Fischer, acting as appraisement official, that heavy importations of lace articles from K. Tanida, Yokohama, were properly advanced in value over invoice prices by Appraiser of the Port Sague. The testimony showed that the reappraised value represented market values on date of shipment. The New York importers contended that the quotations and offers for similar goods at the time of shipment were fully as low as the invoice prices. Judge Fischer, however, said that the evidence clearly proved that there were no goods in the market at the time which could be had and that dealers could only accept orders for future delivery. He held that, until delivery at lower prices could be established, the dutiable values must be taken to be the values shown by deliveries made during the period covered by the shipments in the case at bar.

A controversy over the values of Swiss tracing paper was settled in favor of the importers. The paper, which was from Keuffel & Esser, Montreal, was ordered from the New York house to be shipped from Switzerland on its Canadian house in Montreal. On June 16, 1915, while in transit and about one month before the paper arrived in Canada, the agent in charge of the Canadian branch was ordered to forward the paper at once to the warehouse of the purchasers in Hoboken.

The letter containing these instructions was accompanied by the original invoices intended for Canadian entry. The paper was entered for export on July 17 in compliance with Canadian law and immediately exported on that date to this country. The local Appraiser regarded the importations as Canadian merchandise and exacted the usual duty. Judge Fischer, reversing the New York officials, held that the paper never entered into the commerce of Canada and must be regarded as a shipment from Switzerland. As the invoiced price of 120 francs per 1,000 siles was admitted to be the Swiss value, the Custom House authorities were ordered to take duty on the Swiss value, rather than on the higher values prevailing for Canadian paper.

WAR BOOMS AUTO SALES.

Foreign Business of Our Manufacturers Spurred by Hostilities.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Mainly on account of the European war, American automobile manufacturers doubled their sales abroad last year. Their exports of automobiles and parts in the year ended June 30, 1915, aggregated more than $74,000,000, compared with $38,000,000 in 1914, $2,000,000 in 1904, and $1,000,000 in 1902, the first year of record. The gains were most pronounced in the second half of the fiscal year. If the record made by July is maintained until the end of December, which seems probable from present indications, the total exports of automobiles in the calendar year 1915 will be well above $120,000,000.

All parts of the world are buying American motor trucks and passenger automobiles, about eighty different countries being represented in the year's sales.

The year's exports of passenger automobiles were slightly less than those of 1914. The constituent factors in the automobile export trade for the last two fiscal years are as follows:

	1914.	1915.
Commercial automobiles	$1,181,611	$39,140,682
Passenger automobiles..	25,392,963	21,113,853
Automobile tires	3,305,287	4,963,270
Automobile engines.....	1,391,891	1,403,334
Automobile parts	6,624,232	7,853,183
Total exports to foreign countries.....	$38,095,966	$74,476,422

Sales to Alaska were $91,381 in 1915, compared with $68,435; to Hawaii, $1,514,585, compared with $1,285,258, and to Porto Rico, $775,879, compared with $686,906.

The demand for American motor trucks by the nations engaged in war is shown by tables prepared by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce. In all Great Britain bought 243 American commercial automobiles, while in 1915 she purchased 5,306 cars, valued at $14,042,000. Her purchases of passenger cars in the United States in 1915 was also larger than in 1914, although in the case of most other countries there was a falling off in purchases of passenger cars. In 1914 Great Britain bought 6,962 passenger cars in this country. In 1915 she purchased 8,321 cars, valued at $21,114,000.

France, which purchased only two commercial cars in America in 1914, increased her purchases of American commercial cars in 1915 to 4,990, valued at $13,514,000.

Russia was another heavy purchaser of commercial motor vehicles. European Russia bought only two such vehicles in the United States in 1914, but in 1915 she bought 2,251, valued at $7,067,000.

COPPER EXPORTS INCREASE.

25,359,789 Pounds Were Sent Abroad Last Week.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—There was a very large export of copper last week, the total running up to the unprecedented amount of 25,359,789 pounds. Of this, the largest shipment, consisting of pigs, bars, and scrap, went to France, and there were 11,603,693 pounds of it. England took the next largest shipment, which was 6,460,009 pounds, and Russia came next, with 4,625,532 pounds. Sweden took 1,568,426 pounds, and Italy 391,419 pounds.

The imports were under the average, being 2,154,702 pounds of ore and 1,739,101 pounds of pigs and scrap. Cuba furnished the largest consignment of ore, which was 906,461 pounds, and Chile shipped in 883,701 pounds of ore. Japan shipped to the United States 974,275 pounds of scrap. England 467,000 pounds, and Peru 228,807 pounds.

THE CIVIL SERVICE.

City.

The following promotion lists are announced:

To stationary engineer, Bellevue and allied hospitals: George C. J. Muhlmeyer, 96.25; John McKnights, 81.50; Patrick Sullivan, 79.25; Thomas Doherty, 28.25. Public Charities Department, Institutions. Manhattan and The Bronx: James McTernan, 84.25; Andrew Whiteford, 83.50; William Knice, 82.55; M. J. Cronin, 76.80. Institutions, Richmond: M. Leavy, 84.75.

To foreman paver, Department of Docks, Bureau of Engineering: Garrett Lane, 79.00.

United States.

The Commission announces for Nov. 2 an examination for senior civil engineer: grade 2, for men only, to fill vacancies as they may occur in the Interstate Commerce Commission under the act providing for the valuation of the property of common carriers, at salaries ranging from $1,800 to $2,700 per annum, with necessary traveling expenses when absent from headquarters in the discharge of official duties. Appointments will be almost entirely for duty in the field. Competitors will not be assembled for examination, but will be rated on (1) general and technical education, and preliminary or apprenticeship training, and (2) responsible experience and fitness. Applicants must have reached their twenty-fifth, but not their forty-fifth birthday on the date of the examination.

Further information may be obtained from the Commission, Washington, D. C.

THE UNITED SERVICE.

Special to The New York Times.

Army.

WASHINGTON, Oct.

BUSINESS WORLD

Buyer's Wants

50 Cents per agate line each insertion. Count six words agate to a line.

DEPARTMENT STORE desires at once job suits, dresses, skirts, and waists; will pay spot cash. L 52 Times.

WANT JOBS in ladies' and children's coats, suits, waists, etc. Cal. with samples. Berges, 225 5th Av.

OPEN FOR FURS, plush coats, spot cash. M. Thal Fashion Co., Dayton, Ohio. 1,199 Broadway.

CAN USE nice flare Plush Coats; send samples. The Fashion, Auburn, N. Y.

DRESS FASTENERS wanted; all sizes. Telephone 5893 Franklin.

WANTED jobs of pile fabrics and fur-trimmed cloth coats. 45 West 34th St., Room 601.

JOBBER WILL LOOK at Spring line cotton waists Monday and Tuesday morning after 10:30. Mendelson, 108 Grand St.

JOBBER looking at serge and party dresses; bring samples. 28 and 30 West 25th St., first floor.

JOBBERS looking at wash skirts will place immediate orders; call between 2 and 5 P. M. S. Blate & Sons, 55 West 17th St.

CONTRACTORS ON PARTY DRESSES from $3.50 to $6.50; must have their own samples. Fifth floor at 158 West 29th St.

FUR TRIMMINGS.
To close out lot skunk, opossum, raccoon, $7 dozen; Jeanette, $1.75. Call Beaber, 25 Bond St. Spring 2301.

JOB 200 SERGE DRESSES to close out. International Dress and Skirt Co., 138 West 25th St.

JOB of dresses to close out; newest merchandise. Reliance Costume Co., 33 West 34th St.

JOB of dresses, serges, combinations, and velvets, to close out. 18 West 27th St., 7th floor.

JOB silk dresses to close out cheap. 33 West 34th St., Room 702.

ON THE tables for immediate delivery; up-to-the-minute model suits; new fur-trimmed effects; belted and flare bottoms in broadcloth, poplins, and cheviots; price, $6.75. Sh; see our special $6.75 coat, all lined, fur trimmed. Benjamin Martin, 8-10 W. 19th St.

WE CARRY LARGE QUANTITIES OF plushes; all kinds of mixture coats on hand for immediate delivery.
Weinstein & Kilpatrin,
139-141 Spring St., Corner Wooster St.

ON HAND for immediate delivery, plush coats, corduroy coats, and velvet suits; also a variety of mixture coats. M. & H. Gordon, 22 West 26th St.

ON HAND, large stock of Oriental laces, five-inch width, large assortment of patterns at very low prices. Room 105, 320 5th Av.

FUR-TRIMMED COATS.
In plushes, corduroy, velours, mixtures; 1,000 for immediate delivery. Kaplan Bros., 150 West 22d St.; Chelsea 2198-8618.

On hand, COATS, FUR TRIMMED; cloths, pile fabrics, $4.50 to $12.50; immediate delivery. Hirsch & Brother, 153 West 27th St.

FUR TRIMMED ladies' and misses' coats, broadcloths and kerseys, immediate delivery. L. Leibowitz & Co., 27 to 33 West 20th.

FOR SALE—Pencil striped half-wool serge; Lorraine's, 42-inch, navy and black. L 88 Times.

VELVETEENS, 350 yards fine twill back garnet velveteens, we will sell at a reasonable price. K 210 Times Downtown.

WE HAVE NIFTY FUR-TRIMMED DRESSES FOR IMMEDIATE DELIVERY. DICKER & GINSBERG, 142 W. 25TH ST.

BIG BARGAINS in fur-trimmed suits, broadcloths and poplins for immediate delivery. Hirschhorn Bros., 12 West 21st St.

HAVE 5,000 plush coats on hand, ready for immediate delivery, at reasonable prices. Rudinsky Bros., 27 West 24th.

VELVETEEN SUITS, fur trimmed, for immediate delivery. M. L. & G. Cloak and Suit Co., 20 West 17th St.

FUR-TRIMMED corduroy Bucklay mixtures and plushes, coats for immediate delivery. J. Press Co., 149 Spring St.

FOR SALE.—Forstmann & Huffmann Columbia broadcloths, all colors. Telephone 4193 Greeley.

FIVE HUNDRED FUR TRIMMED SUITS, TO CLOSE OUT. KIRSHMAN BROS., 36 W. 25TH ST.

Big job of silk serge combinations and chiffon velvet dresses. Coronet Costume Co., 114 W. 17th St.

ARLINGTON POPLIN, 54", all wool, for immediate delivery. Fried, 23 Union Sq.

FOR SALE—22" jubilards, navy, velveteen, 40c. Telephone 5575 Madison Square.

JOB of children's and misses' serge and corduroy dresses. Subin, 32 W. 24th St.

1,500 CONEY FUR SETS to sell cheap. Call after 4 P. M., J. H. Sheer, 423 West 55th St.

PLUSH COATS, fur trimmed, for immediate delivery; reasonable prices. 36 West 28th.

Jobs desired for cash in highest grade ladies' and children's dresses and suits, plush and Winter coats, skirts, waists, petticoats, furs, sweaters. Uneeda House, 8 Lispenard Street; Franklin 4315.

DESIRE at once jobs ladies' suits, dresses, skirts and waists; will pay cash. Eastern Merchandise Co., 456 Broadway. Spring 358.

AA.—Cash for cheap velveteen and plaid taffetas. Columbia Ladies' Waist Co., 160 Wooster St. Spring 3590.

WILL BUY woman's wearing apparel, Harris Bros., 40 West 22d St. Gramercy 2567.

OPEN FOR JOBS, coats, suits, and dresses, for cash. Handel's, 256 6th Av.

CASH PAID for job lots of women's apparel, Frank Jacobowitz, 10 Lispenard St. Fr. 2 950.

COMMERCIAL PAPER.

Yesterday ...3@3¼ per cent. for the best names
Saturday ...3@3¼ " " " " " "
The quotations are for six months' paper.

***

Should Influence Early Buying.

The heavy advances which the retail underwear buyers have been forced to pay as a result of putting off their purchases for this Fall should have been, according to the representative of a large manufacturer, a good lesson to guide their conduct in the future. Even the frequent warm spells that have occurred from time to time this Fall have not enabled the underwear mills to catch up with the orders they have booked. There seems every reason to believe that prices will continue to advance both in cotton and woolen goods. Now that the merchandise men of the big retail stores have become more lenient, it is natural to suppose that the buyers will do their purchasing earlier than for some time.

***

Are Behind in Deliveries.

It was said yesterday that the retail demand for staple dress goods for "at once" delivery was so large that jobbers are four or five days behind in deliveries. This was especially true, from all accounts, of such goods as serges, panamas, broadcloths, and plaids. Higher prices are being asked on goods that have to be replaced by the jobbers, but goods still in stock are being let out in most cases at the figures which prevailed at the beginning of the season. Reports from the jobbers also tell of a general improvement over last year in the advance business being done on Spring dress goods on the road. Business continues steady on both Spring and Fall goods in the primary end of the market, particularly on the cheaper fabrics. Recent price advances seem to have stimulated, rather than retarded, buying.

***

Staple Gray Goods Were Quiet.

Yesterday was another quiet day in the local gray goods market, at least so far as the staple fabrics were concerned. Fancies and specialties continued to sell freely, but the movement of printcloths, sheetings, and drills was limited. One of the features of the trading was the selling of printcloths from second hands, though none of the sales was large. Such sales were reported on 39-inch 80 squares at 6¼ cents, 68-72s at 5½ cents, 56-44s at 5 15-16 cents, 38½-inch 64-60s at 4 9-16 cents, 64-56s at 4½ cents, 60-52s at 4 5-16 cents, and 64-48s at 4 3-16 cents, all for immediate delivery. First hand spot prices were quoted as follows:

39-inch, 80-80s....6½c 38½-inch, 64-56s..4¾c
39-inch, 72-76s....5⅝c 38½-inch, 60-52s..4¼c
39-inch, 68-72s....5¼c 38½-inch, 60-48s..4¼c
39-inch, 56-44s....4¾c 27-inch, 64-60s....3¾c
38½-inch, 64-60s..4⅝c 27-inch, 56-52s....3c
*Asked.

***

Speculation in Dyestuffs.

The representative of a manufacturing concern was rather surprised to have one of his customers ask if he could use five cases of dyestuffs. He knew this party had no use for the dyes, but an inquiry brought out the following explanation: "While I was abroad I had a chance to purchase some dyes, so I bought five cases, which have arrived here. I knew that colors were at a premium and decided to bring them over for the profit." It would be interesting to find out just how the dyes were released, but the manufacturer's representative made no inquiry regarding this. The point he wanted to show was how far the sale of dyestuffs has developed into a speculative game. His customer expected to get double the price he had paid for the coloring stuffs.

***

The Burlap Situation.

While a pretty fair business was done in the burlap market in the last week on both spot and nearby goods, things were quiet enough here yesterday. One of the features of the market is the scarcity and price strength of 10½-ounce "forties," which continue firm at 7.90 cents. Other 40-inch goods were priced here yesterday as follows: 7½-ounce, 5.15c; 8-ounce, 5.25c, and 10-ounce, 7.60c. It is understood that these prices will be shaded for large buyers. Reports from Calcutta are said to give some basis of hope for higher prices in the near future.

***

Sellers Have the Whip Hand.

One thing the war and the things that have grown out of it have done for the business world is to give sellers the upper hand in practically all lines of business. The scarcity of merchandise in many lines and the resultant higher prices and delayed deliveries have turned many buyers, who needed it, into human beings during business hours, and they are said generally to be assuming less of a lord-of-the-realm air. In other words, they are beginning to realize that the seller is just as important to them as they are to him, something which many of them apparently forget when there is no sand in the bearings of business. The present situation is said to be especially enjoyable in the cutting-up trades, where, as a rule, sellers are pretty submissive to the demands made on them.

***

Higher Prices for Sweaters.

The sweater market has seen some stiff advances during the last month, and from all indications prices will continue to soar if the weather is propitious. The vogue for outdoor sports of all kinds has had a very evident effect on the demand, but the weather is, of course, the main factor in producing brisk business for the manufacturers. Advances range all the way from 10 to 25 per cent. Buyers are not quibbling over prices, but are anxious to get prompt deliveries. Some of the leading mills have their production taken up for the next couple of weeks. Brushed goods in imitation angora effects are the season's novelty, and quite a quantity of scarf sets are being sold. There does not seem to be as much demand for the fibre silk sweaters. These latter goods are considered to belong essentially to the Summer season, when warmth is not a requisite.

***

Cotton Warp Goods Advance.

While the Spring business in dress goods is practically over for the mills, some difficulty is developing on cotton warp goods because of the scarcity of cotton dyes. Advances have been made on 36-inch cotton warp goods, selling between 25 and 35 cents a yard. Buyers find it very difficult to locate navies, as the mills have practically run out of the character of dye required to get this color in cotton warp fabrics.

***

Tie Silks Hard to Get.

The tie silk manufacturers are finding it a hard matter to keep up with the demand. Despite the fact that prices have been advanced, the neckwear makers are still placing liberal orders, disregarding the prices asked, but insisting upon prompt deliveries. Artificial silk goods are almost impossible to obtain, and the market seems shifting to the use of silk and cotton mixtures. The demand is for a high character of goods. Plaids are coming along rather strongly for Spring, and figured goods seem to be falling off somewhat in favor of stripes.

ARRIVAL OF BUYERS

Arriving Buyers may register in this column by telephoning 1000 Bryant.

AKRON—M. O'Neil Co.; W. T. Tobin, ready-to-wear; J. T. Marshall, clothing; R. Cruikshank, carpets; 37 W. 26th.
AKRON—Monelli & Co.; J. J. Fendner, carpets; 37 W. 26th.
AKRON—M. O'Neil & Co.; R. Cruikshank, carpets; 37 W. 26th.
ALTOONA—W. F. Gable & Co.; A. W. Weidner, carpets, rugs; 2 Walker.
ATHENS—D. Zenner Co.; Mr. Zenner, carpets; 105 Grand.
ATHENS, Ohio—D. Zenner Co.; Mr. Zenner, carpets; 105 Grand.
ALBANY—W. M. Whitney & Co.; A. J. Palmer, rugs; 41 Union Square.
ALLENTOWN—Hess Bros.; Miss Brown, books, stationery, 41 Union Square; Breslin.
AMSTERDAM—Helzheimer & Shaul; P. D. Shaul, carpets; 320 Church.
ATLANTA—Davison, Paxon, Stokes Co.; Mrs. A. W. Richards, gloves, hosiery, handkerchiefs; 71 West 23d; Gregorian.
ATLANTA—E. L. Rhodes Co.; R. A. Beard, ladies' hats; 700 Broadway; Breslin.
ATLANTA—Frankel Clothing Co.; I. Frankel, Clothing; Central.
BALTIMORE—Bernheimer Brothers; S. D. Sampson, coats, suits, plush coats; 470 5th Av.
BALTIMORE—Pul & Berney; B. J. Berney, manufacturers shirts, tailored shirtwaists; 1,122 Broadway.
BALTIMORE—Hochschild, Kohn & Co.; A. J. Fry, cloaks, suits, silks; Miss C. H. Fuld, children's wear; Miss T. Stern, dress; 229 5th Av.
BALTIMORE—Cahn Coblens; Miss S. Lieberman, ready-to-wear; 1,199 Broadway.
BALTIMORE—Hochschild, Kohn & Co.; Miss B. Dooley, laces, trimmings; 220 5th Av.
BALTIMORE—Stewart & Co.; Miss A. Braner, 18 W. 35th.
BALTIMORE—A. A. Bruger, W. Adler, housefurn. goods; Grand.
BALTIMORE—Goldenberg Bros.; J. Wolf, coats, suits; Strand.
BINGHAMTON—J. S. Geary Co.; T. B. Geary, manufacturers clothing, pants, &c.; Collingwood.
BINGHAMTON—Rosenthal & Rubin; S. G. Rosenthal, rugs, carpets; 212 5th Av.
BIRMINGHAM—Goodall-Brown D. G. Co.; J. R. Sellers, notions, hosiery, furn. goods; Martinique.
BLOOMINGTON—Mandel & Schwarzman; H. E. Albee, upholstery, housefurnishing goods; Herald Square.
BOSTON—Wm. Filene's Sons Co.; Miss Diller, misses', children's millinery; Mr. Dutch, untrimmed millinery; Mr. Michaels, jewelry, basement; Mr. Schroeder, muslin underwear, kimonos; Mr. O'Brien, ladies', misses' coats, suits; V. P. Ring, dresses; Mr. Thomson, negligees, corsets; Mr. Smith, children's, juniors' infants' dresses, petticoats; Mr. Levy, waists; Mr. Cooper, general mdse.; Mr. Koenigstahl, men's, boys' clothing; Mr. Hahn, jewelry; 116 West 32d.
BOSTON—Jordan-Marsh Co.; C. J. Brady, carpets, rugs; C. H. Hurd, women's hosiery, knit underwear; F. Jury, inexpensive dresses, negligees; D. W. Edwards, millinery; 31 Union Square.
BOSTON—W. & A. Bacon Co.; Mrs. Bell, laces, embroideries; Miss Casey, leather goods; E. Adelberg, merchandise manager; 1,133 Broadway.
BOSTON—Jordan-Marsh Co.; E. J. Pendergast, silks; A. Samborn, ribbons; E. A. Brown, boys' clothing; Mr. Owen, ribbons; 31 Union Square.
BOSTON—Shepard Norwell Co.; E. Gillis, domestics; B. H. Maxwell, representing; 220 5th Av.
BOSTON—R. H. Stearns & Co.; Mrs. D. H. Putnam, muslin underwear, corsets, infants' wear; 200 5th Av.
BOSTON—Conrad & Co.; Mrs. E. Adelson, silk waists; 15 East 26th.
BOSTON—R. H. White Co.; G. B. Johnson, director; 470 4th Av.
BOSTON—C. C. Bailey Co.; W. C. Forsaith, carpets, rugs, mattings; Imperial.
BOSTON—R. H. White Co.; G. B. Suder, carpets, rugs; 470 4th Av.
BOSTON—Stern-Made Dress Co.; L. Stern, mfr. children's wash dresses; Latham.
BOSTON—Crawford-Plummer Co.; J. Schenker, coats, suits, furs; 12 W. 31st.
BRIDGEPORT—Dorsen D. G. Co.; A. B. Chamansky, women's ready-to-wear; Miss M. Murphy, muslin underwear, infants' wear; house dresses; J. C. Hernan, dress, wash goods, silks; M. Samuels, notions, art goods, laces, embroideries; J. Shaeffer, men's furn. goods, hosiery, gloves, underwear; 229 5th Av.
BRIDGEPORT—Howland D. G. Co.; J. S. Greening, carpets, rugs; 75 Spring.
BRIDGEPORT—C. Misch; H. Walder, ready-to-wear; 1,261 Broadway.
BRIDGEPORT—Hadley Co.; R. C. Opple, carpets, furniture; Ansonia.
BRIDGEPORT—Smith & Murray Co.; I. Lewis, carpets; 320 Church.
BRISTOL—D. O. Chapin, women's, misses', children's ready-to-wear; Broadway Central.
BUFFALO—J. N. Adam & Co.; W. D. Kent, rugs, linoleums; McAlpin; H. J. Ellsworth, silks dress goods; 18 West 35th.
BUFFALO—C. Francis, clothing; Holland House.
BUFFALO—Clawson & Wilson Co.; C. B. Stanbro, rugs, carpets; 43 Leonard.
BUFFALO—H. A. Meldrum Co.; H. D. Hosmer, carpets, rugs; 105 Church.
BUFFALO—Adam, Meldrum & Anderson Co.; M. Benson, carpets; 2 Walker.
BUFFALO—Hens & Kelly Co.; Mr. Bilger, laces, handkerchiefs, embroideries; 31 Union Square.
CANTON—C. S. Harrison Co.; C. S. Harrison, hosiery, gloves, underwear, laces, handkerchiefs; Imperial.
CANTON—L. Apt Sons; E. Apt, millinery; Breslin.
CANTON—W. R. Zollinger & Co.; J. C. McClure, carpets; 320 Church.
CARLISLE—Imperial Dept. Store; E. M. Handshew, carpets; 105 Grand.
CEDAR RAPIDS—Welsh-Cook Co.; C. H. Webster, upholstery goods, carpets; 43 Leonard.
CEDAR RAPIDS—Deneker Co.; A. M. Baltels, rugs; 320 Church.
CEDAR RAPIDS—Killian Co.; C. Falkenau, rugs; 105 Grand.
CHATTANOOGA—D. B. Loveman Co.; B. E. Loveman, dry goods; 148 West 23d.
CHICAGO—"Hillman's"; H. M. Hillman, women's waists, misses', children's garments; G. French, notions, leather goods, comb, cloaks, jewelry, silverware; Miss E. Keltner, muslin underwear, petticoats; 116 West 32d.
CHICAGO—Marshall Field & Co.; W. R. Bettcher, silks, velvets; L. T. Anderson, furs; E. G. Garnsey, bric-a-brac, art goods, china, lamps, glassware; C. Vail, suits; G. A. Wilson, waists; 104 Worth.
CHICAGO—Marshall Field & Co.; L. T. Anderson, furs; Miss K. A. Meier, street dresses, negligees; G. A. Wilson, furs; 104 Worth.
CHICAGO—Hillman's; J. D. French, notions, buttons, paper patterns, combs, hair goods, belts, leather goods; 116 W. 32d.
CHICAGO—Montgomery, Ward & Co.; J. H. Hawkins, hosiery, underwear, infants' wear; 43 W. 23d; Navarre.
CHICAGO—Mandel Bros.; N. H. Probst, wash goods; Miss E. Doherty, suits, costumes; 15 E. 22d.
CHICAGO—West, Burghardt & Pente; W. Pente, general merchandise; Collingwood.
CHICAGO—Rothschild & Co.; A. J. Jones, silks, velvets, dress goods; 215 4th Av.
CHICAGO—E. Schneider, millinery; Netherland.
CHICAGO—Singer Furniture Co.; M. Singer, furniture; Union Sq.
CHICAGO—D. M. Pfaelzer & Co.; L. Mayer, mfrs. clothing; Wentworth.
CHICAGO—Boston Store; O. Glassner, rugs; 15 East 23d.
CHICAGO—C. Dernberg & Sons; C. Dernberg, furs; 40 East 22d.
CHICAGO—Hillmans; J. D. Rutter, rugs; 105 Grand.
CHICAGO—Londy & Friend; J. P. Friend, plush coats; 1,161 Broadway.
CHICAGO—Mandel Bros.; O. J. Moyer, rugs; 15 East 22d.
CHICAGO—Siegel, Cooper & Co.; A. Levy, rugs; 13 E. 22d.
CHICAGO—Montgomery, Ward & Co.; J. H. Hawkins, sweater coats, hosiery; 43 W. 23d.
CHICAGO—Sears, Roebuck & Co.; O. Dollnig, clothing; 438 Broadway.
CINCINNATI—Alms & Doepke Co.; Miss C. Kavanaugh, children's wear; 850 Broadway.
CINCINNATI—Alms & Doepke Co.; L. Bockhalt, rugs; G. H. Breyhoff, carpets; 850 Broadway.
CINCINNATI—G. F. Otte Co.; G. F. Otte, carpets; C. W. Burger, rugs; Breslin.
CINCINNATI—The Outlet; R. Freidman, women's, misses' coats; 11 East 33d.
CLEVELAND—Wm. Taylor, Son & Co.; Mr. Strong, director; 470 4th Av.
CLEVELAND—Bailey Co.; L. G. Oppenheim, carpets, rugs; 71 W. 23d.
CLEVELAND—Schuele Co.; K. C. Schuele, carpets; 320 Church.
CLEVELAND—May Co.; R. J. Montgomery, carpets; 37 West 26th.
CLEVELAND—May Co.; R. T. Montgomery, rugs, carpets; 37 W. 26th.
COLUMBUS—Stewart Bros. Furniture Co.; P. W. Stewart, R. C. Stewart, carpets, furniture, curtains, stoves; Imperial.
COLUMBIA—M. Citron, dry goods, notions, hosiery, underwear; Albert.
COLUMBUS—W. C. Moore Co.; W. C. Moore, carpets, furniture; Collingwood.
CONNELLSVILLE—Wright-Metzler Co.; L. W. Brown, carpets, rugs; 212 5th Av.
COOPERSTOWN—Freeman Clothes Shop; H. Freeman, clothing, furnishing goods; Grenoble.
DANVILLE—A. B. Robertson & Bro.; A. S. Robertson, dry goods, shoes, carpets; 69 5th Av.; Collingwood.
DANVILLE, Ill.—Emery D. G. Co.; E. S. Pendleton, rugs; 105 Grand.
DAYTON—The Fashion Co.; J. Thal, furs, plush coats, ladies' ready-to-wear; 1,199 Broadway.
DAYTON — Elder & Johnston Co.; J. C. Schwab, rugs; 2 Walker.
DAYTON—E. Margolis, coats, suits; Room 1,201, 39 West 32d.
DENVER—Daniels & Fisher Stores Co.; H. R. Horner, carpets, rugs; 71 W. 23d; Flanders.
DES MOINES—J. Mandelbaum & Sons; S. A. Harsener, rugs; 105 Grand.
DES MOINES—Harris-Emery Co.; G. O. Hall, rugs; 320 Church.
DETROIT—J. Brushaber & Sons; F. A. Brooks, C. Brushaber, carpets, rugs; 212 5th Av.
DETROIT—Edson, Moore & Co.; J. H. Clement, ladies', children's ready to wear; 51 Leonard.
DETROIT—Well & Co.; E. M. Adler, general buyer, manager; Ansonia.
DETROIT—Simons & Hussenbuch; H. Simons, cloaks, suits, dresses; 1,161 B'way.
DETROIT—Hudson & Symington; C. Symington, rugs; 105 Grand.
DETROIT—Owen & Co.; W. E. Schaefer, rugs, carpets; 212 5th Av.
EASTON—W. Laubach & Sons; G. A. Laubach, mdse. manager; 41 Union Sq.; Continental.
ELMIRA—Sheehan, Dean & Co.; W. H. Creighmile, rugs; 320 Church.
ERIE—"Long's"; W. R. Long, ready-to-wear; 1,270 Broadway.
ERIE—Warner Bros.; G. Richel, flannels; Grand.
EVANSVILLE—Andres Co.; W. J. Nance, rugs; 320 Church.
FAIRMOUNT, W. Va.—J. M. Hartley & Sons Co.; I. H. Rownd, domestics, dress goods, silks, millinery; 1,270 B'way.
FALL RIVER—R. A. McWhirr Co.; J. E. Banister, rugs; 75 Spring.
FORT WAYNE—R. H. Brothers, ready-to-wear; Imperial.
GLOVERSVILLE—Martin & Naylor Co.; Miss C. Smith, infants' wear; H. A. Wilson, cloaks, suits; 1,270 B'way.
GLOVERSVILLE—Martin & Naylor Co.; F. C. Barney, rugs; 320 Church.
GRAND RAPIDS—Herpolsheimer Co.; H. B. Herpolsheimer, corsets; F. J. Brandt, rugs; 1,170 Bwy.
GRAND RAPIDS—Wurzburg D. G. Co.; J. E. Murphy; rugs; 105 Grand.
HARRISBURG—Dives, Pomeroy & Stewart; W. Speakman, carpets; 2 Walker.
HARRISBURG—Bowman & Co.; J. W. Bowman, rugs; 105 Grand.
HARTFORD—G. Fox & Co.; M. P. Sloman, boys', youths' clothing, furnishing goods; 1,270 Broadway.
HARTFORD—Crawford-Plummer Co.; Chas. H. McClellan, coats, suits, waists, petticoats; 12 W. 31st.
HARTFORD—Brown, Thompson & Co.; H. B. Strong, upholstery goods; 2 Walker.
HARTFORD—G. Fox & Co.; M. J. Sullivan, rugs; 320 Church.
HARTFORD—Sage, Allen & Co.; J. P. Abbott, rugs; 75 Spring.
HARTFORD—Wise, Smith & Co.; D. E. Bernard, rugs; 105 Grand.
HAZLETON—P. Diesroths Sons; E. Yost, rugs; 105 Grand.
HOLYOKE—McAuslan & Wakelin Co.; Miss A. Collins, ready to wear; W. B. Wakelin, women's suits, gloves, laces, ribbons; Navarre.
HUNTINGTON—Zenner, Bradshaw, Co.; G. O. White, rugs; 105 Grand.
HUNTINGTON, W. Va.—Croft, Stanard Co.; S. J. Williams, dry goods; 256 Church.
INDIANAPOLIS—William H. Block Co.; Miss Jacobs, muslin underwear, sweaters, kimonos; W. W. Wolf, carpets, rugs; 1,261 Broadway.
INDIANAPOLIS—H. P. Wasson & Co.; W. D. Alexander, carpets, rugs; 71 W. 23d.
INDIANAPOLIS—Pettis D. G. Co.; F. L. Pettis, rugs; 2 Walker.
JOHNSTOWN—Penn Traffic Co.; G. W. Hollenback, carpets, upholstery, rugs; Breslin.
JOHNSTOWN—M. Nathan & Bro.; B. Becker, rugs; 72 Madison Av.
KALAMAZOO—Gilmore Bros.; H. B. Sykes, rugs; 105 Grand.
KANSAS CITY—Klein Cloak & Suit Co.; Miss K. Clancy, waists; Mrs. Mitchell, cloaks, suits, misses' wear; 95 Madison Av.; Holland House.
KANSAS CITY—Jones Store Co.; G. B. House, jewelry, leather goods, silverware; 45 East 26th; Prince George.
KANSAS CITY—Emery-Bird-Thayer D. G. Co.; M. N. Kavan, carpets, rugs; 25 Madison Av.
KANSAS CITY—Berkson & Co.; Miss R. Frank, waists; 904 5th Av.
KANSAS CITY—Spalding Cloak Co.; R. S. Fink, ready-to-wear; 7 West 22d.
KANSAS CITY—Spalding Cloak Co.; R. S. Fink, jobs coats, suits, dresses; 7 W. 22d.
LANCASTER—Hager & Bros.; J. F. Ripple, rugs; 75 Spring.
LEXINGTON—E. L. March Co.; G. M. Tyrrell, carpets, rugs; 212 5th Av.
LEXINGTON—E. L. March; G. M. Tyrrell, carpets, 1,134 B'way.
LEXINGTON—B. B. Smith Co.; B. B. Smith, ladies' ready to wear; Imperial.
LINCOLN—Miller & Paine; E. C. Miller, rugs; 2 Walker.
LITTLE ROCK—Beal-Burraw D. G. Co.; H. C. Bland, notions, hosiery, gloves, ribbons; 72 Leonard.
LOS ANGELES—Bwy. Dept. Store; J. A. Haberposch, rugs; 95 Madison Av.
LOS ANGELES—Bullock's; C. E. Crawford, rugs; 95 Madison Av.
LOUISVILLE—Elite Garment Co.; J. Goldstein, jobs coats, suits; Room 1,201, 39 West 32d.
LOUISVILLE—D. Laird & Son; J. A. Krazeise, flowers, feathers; 621 Bwy.
LOUISVILLE—J. C. Lewis Co.; J. W. Collins, rugs; 105 Grand.
LOUISVILLE—J. M. Robinson, Norton & Co.; C. Weinstock, cloaks, suits, waists; 72 Leonard.
LOUISVILLE—O. Hidden Co.; L. C. Spillman, floor coverings; Breslin.
LYNCHBURG—J. R. Milliner Co.; A. W. Hawking, flannels, cloaks, waists, infants' wear; 15 West 32d; Grand.
MAHONEY CITY—Gulnan's; R. Guinans, rugs; Grand.
MEMPHIS—J. Goldsmith Sons; M. B. Johns, cloaks, suits, furs, waists, misses' wear; 148 West 23d; Gregorian.
MEMPHIS—B. Lowenstein & Bros.; G. J. Woods, handkerchiefs, laces, trimmings, ribbons; 22 E. 17th.
MEMPHIS—J. Summerfeld; J. Summerfeld, Jr., ready-to-wear; 15 E. 22d.
MEMPHIS—W. R. Moore D. G. Co.; Mr. Pund, carpets, rugs; 256 Church.
MERIDEN, Ct.—Ives, Upham & Rand; W. I. Wilcox, rugs; 75 Spring.
MIDDLETOWN, Conn.—J. H. Bunce Co.; J. E. McKenna, furniture; 75 Spring.
MIDDLETOWN—J. H. Bunce; H. A. Leonard, carpets; 75 Spring.
MILWAUKEE—The N. Y. Store; H. Hoffman, clothing, furnishing goods; Continental.
MILWAUKEE—Herzfeld, Phillipson Co.; W. L. Rowse, jobs muslin underwear; 31 Union Square.
MILWAUKEE—E. Schuster Co.; H. Koestner, carpets, rugs; 105 Grand.
MINNEAPOLIS—Minneapolis Dry Goods Co.; C. J. Peterson, rugs, carpets, linoleums; 432 4th Av.
MINNEAPOLIS—L. S. Donaldson Co.; F. O'Halloran, rugs; 2 Walker.
MONTGOMERY—Montgomery Fair; H. Danziger, general merchandise; 23 East 26th.
MONTGOMERY—Bernard Frank & Co.; M. F. Kahn, domestics, notions, furn. goods; 43 Leonard.
MONTGOMERY—A. Rice; jobs suits, corduroy coats; 303 5th Av.
MONTREAL—Almy Co.; Mr. West, carpets, upholstery goods; Mr. Monroe, representing; 2 Walker.
MUNCIE—The Keller Co.; H. J. Keller, clothing, furnishing goods, hats; Latham.
MUNCIE—W. A. McNaughton Co.; A. L. Murray, rugs; 105 Grand.
NEW BEDFORD—New Bedford D. G. Co.; W. J. Hyde, rugs; 75 Spring.
NEW BEDFORD—J. V. Spare D. G. Co.; W. Rush, rugs; 105 Grand.
NEW BEDFORD—Steiger-Dudgeon Co.; A. F. Myers, rugs; 105 Grand.
NEW HAVEN—Shartenburg & Robinsop; O. C. Herman, carpets, rugs; 75 Spring.
NEW HAVEN—Shartenberg & Robinson Co.; P. H. Burke, rugs; 75 Spring.
NEW HAVEN—E. Mallory Co.; J. T. Duff, rugs; 320 Church.
NEW LONDON—S. A. Goldsmith Co.; N. Dreyfus, rugs; 105 Grand.
NEW ORLEANS—Beekman's; B. Beekman, ready-to-wear; Wellington.
NEWPORT—J. H. Kazanjian & Co.; J. H. Kazanjian, rugs; Park Avenue.
NORFOLK—Miller, Rhoads & Swartz; H. L. Linnell, rugs; 320 Church.
NORWICH—Porteous & Mitchell Co.; J. A. Desmond, furnishing goods; 432 4th Av.
OKLAHOMA CITY—Harbour, Longmire Co.; J. F. Harbour, rugs, draperies; Martinique.
OMAHA—Burgess-Nash Co.; H. Jones, silks, dress, wash goods; Miss Dorris, gloves; Mrs. A. V. Rogers, muslin underwear, infants' wear; A. W. Hunt, carpets, draperies, furniture; T. S. Kelley, men's furnishing goods; 1,133 Broadway.
PEORIA—Block & Kuhl Co.; F. L. Aubertine, rugs; 320 Church.
PETERSBURG—A. Rosenstock & Co.; P. Rogers, curtains, rugs; Breslin.
PHILADELPHIA—L. W. Hirsch Co.; L. W. Hirsch, general mdse.; 116 West 32d.
PHILADELPHIA—Berg Bros.; A. A. Lewis, carpets, rugs; 105 Grand.
PHILADELPHIA—Reliance Skirt Co.; M. Kramer, mfrs. woolen skirts; Breslin.
PITTSBURGH—Kaufmann & Baer Co.; C. H. Churchill, carpets, rugs, linoleums; J. F. Carroll, laces, ribbons, embroideries, hdkfs., fur trimmings; Miss Hogan, women's neckwear, veilings; C. S. Burkholder, millinery; 95 Madison Av.
PITTSBURGH—Kaufmann Department Store; L. Silverstein, carpets, rugs; S. Levy, coats, suits, (basement;) J. M. Keller, plush coats, (basement;) L. Schwartz, muslin underwear, infants' wear, corsets, negligees; 1,261 Broadway.
PITTSBURGH—J. Horne Co.; J. B. Shea, director; R. L. Knight, pictures; McAlpin; 470 4th Av.
PITTSBURGH—Boggs & Buhl; A. J. Kunkle clothing; 37 West 26th.
PITTSBURGH—Arbuthnot, Stephenson Co.; G. L. Dihm, rugs; 43 Leonard.
PITTSBURGH—J. Horne Co.; F. W. Gremmels, notions, toys; 470 4th Av.
PITTSBURGH—Campbell's; L. C. Scott, rugs; Wallick's.
PITTSBURGH—Boggs & Buhl; J. Steibel, rugs, carpets; 37 W. 26th.
PITTSBURGH—J. Horne Co.; L. A. Hubach, rugs; 470 4th Av.
PITTSBURGH—F. Half & Bro.; F. Half, carpets; Imperial.
PITTSBURGH—Rosenbaum Co.; B. F. Whitehead, clothing; 116 W. 32d.
PITTSBURGH—K. Solomon Co.; J. Bibro, general merchandise; 116 West 32d.
PITTSBURGH—Pittsburgh D. G. Co.; A. W. Boreland, carpets, rugs; 43 Leonard.
PITTSFIELD—England Bros.; F. H. Fuller, rugs; 320 Church.
PONCE, Porto Rico—Otero & Co.; A. Otero, ladies', children's ready-to-wear; 377 B'way.
POTTSTOWN—Dives, Pomeroy & Stewart; J. A. McDougall, rugs; 2 Walker.
POTTSVILLE—Dives, Pomeroy & Stewart; D. Bible, rugs; 2 Walker.
PORTLAND, Me.—Porteous, Mitchell & Braun Co.; O. A. Moore, Jr., carpets, rugs; 432 4th Av.
PORTSMOUTH—G. B. French Co.; G. E. French, rugs; 320 Church.
PORTSMOUTH—East End Store; W. L. Hitchcock, clothing, furnishing goods; Hermitage.
POUGHKEEPSIE—G. E. Schlude & Sons; G. E. Schulde, carpets, rugs; 212 5th Av.
PROVIDENCE—Callender, McAuslan & Troup Co.; F. E. Leach, dress goods, silks; 2 Walker.
PROVIDENCE—Shepard Co.; P. A. Lynch, white, wash goods; Miss M. A. Gallagher, small wares; 220 5th Av.
PROVIDENCE—C. Misch; C. E. Cohen, ready-to-wear; 1,261 Broadway.
PROVIDENCE—J. M. Dana Co.; E. E. Saul, carpets, stoves, house furn. goods; Flanders.
PROVIDENCE—Callender, McAuslan & Troup Co.; F. F. Burlingame, rugs; 2 Walker.
READING—Lord & Gage; S. Goldschneider, furniture, rugs, upholstery goods; 23 East 26th.
READING—Kline, Eppihimer & Co.; S. Heckman, rugs; 315 4th Av.
RICHMOND—Wilkinson, Williams & Reed; C. C. Reed, white goods, linens, linings; 256 Church.
RICHMOND, Ind.—A. H. Bartel Co.; A. H. Bartel, carpets, upholstery goods; 43 Leonard.
RICHMOND, Va.—Anderson-Lewis-Gray Co.; T. L. Anderson, cloaks, notions, hosiery, furn. goods; Breslin.
RICHMOND—Wilkinson, Williams & Reed; J. H. Wilkinson, notions, furnishing goods; 256 Church.
RICHMOND—Miller & Rhoads; W. M. Diedenhafer, cloaks, suits, waists; 432 4th Av.
RICHMOND, Va.—Kaufmann & Co.; J. L. Kaufmann, millinery; 621 Broadway.
RICHMOND—Miller & Rhoads; W. R. Scott, wash, dress goods; 432 4th Av.
RICHMOND—Cohen Co.; W. Perlstein, rugs; 148 W. 23d.
RICHMOND—Miller & Rhoads; J. T. Otto, rugs, carpets; 432 4th Av.
ROCHESTER—Sibley, Lindsay & Curr Co.; J. Engler, upholstery goods; Prince George.
H. A. Dutton, silks, velvets; Prince George.
J. Lavery, rugs, carpets, linole

Pacific Gas & Electric Company

Operating 37,000 square miles of territory in California and serving 200 cities and towns, has a tremendous diversity of investment risk. The stability of the Company's business, serving such a growing territory, is obvious.

Net earnings are equivalent to over 7 times the dividend requirements on the First Preferred Stock. A descriptive circular sent on request.

Eastman, Dillon & Co.
Members New York Stock Exchange
Investment Bankers
71 Broadway New York

You can obtain real diversity in a single investment by buying the 6% Bonds of a successful Public Utility Company supplying the stable commodities of gas, electric light and power to 331 growing communities with a total population in excess of 900,000 in twelve states.

Write for our Circular TM describing these Bonds

A.H. Bickmore & Co.
111 BROADWAY, N.Y.

The Moderate Cost of Some of the Best Investments

should induce those who have available funds to place at least part of their money in one or more of the sound securities which are free of speculative influences and are giving especially attractive income returns.

Write for a description of the securities we recommend. Ask for Investment Offering No. 186

William P. Bonbright & Co.
Incorporated
14 Wall Street, New York
Philadelphia Boston Detroit
London Paris
William P. Bonbright & Co. Bonbright & Co.

New Secured Debts Tax Law

The text of the New York law and a summary of the essential details of the tax and tax exemption statutes, which directly affect bonds and similar securities owned by residents of New York State, will be furnished on request.

Send for Booklet 60

Harris, Forbes & Co
Pine Street, Corner William
NEW YORK

The Investment Situation

If you are interested in reading a concise, unbiased summary of business conditions every month, you will ask us to send our circular, "THE INVESTMENT SITUATION," together with our list of bonds that we recommend.

Address Dept. D-10.

Knauth, Nachod & Kuhne
15 William St., New York

UNUSUALLY EFFECTIVE

as a means of systematic saving is the

PARTIAL PAYMENT METHOD of purchasing high-grade, dividend-paying stocks and bonds, in amounts from one share up.

A small initial payment secures such a purchase and you receive all dividends from date of first payment.

This plan fully described in our Booklet No. 28, sent on request.

HARRIS, WINTHROP & Co
Members New York Stock Exchange
The Rookery 15 Wall Street
Chicago New York

BONDS

Wm. Morris Imbrie & Co.
Established 1882.
61 BROADWAY NEW YORK
111 West Monroe St., Chicago.

BONDS

FINANCIAL MARKETS

Large Gains in an Irregular Market—Erie at a New High for Recent Years.

The opening of another week without the development of any bad news over Sunday was marked yesterday morning by some violent rises in the stock market, which in turn produced some reactions before the end of the first hour. After that there was a conflicting display of buying on a fresh burst of bullish enthusiasm and of selling for profits, which gave the entire list an irregular appearance. A hopeful sign, in the estimation of the more conservative element on the Stock Exchange, was the spirited upturn in some of the rails, particularly in the hard coalers. Led by Erie, which made an advance of 3⅞ points on heavy buying, the railroad list moved upward in a way to indicate that at last the investing public has accepted as genuine the improvement in transportation results foreshadowed by a bumper crop and the reawakened activity at the great manufacturing centres.

Conspicuous among the weaker stocks yesterday was United States Steel, whose reaction can be ascribed to no other ground than the natural result of over-enthusiastic expectations as to the announcement which will come after the Directors' quarterly meeting this afternoon. Good as the steel trade has been, with unprecedented orders at high prices, it is impossible that the statement of earnings for the last quarter can satisfy the hopes of those who have been talking of net earnings in excess of $50,000,000 and the resumption of dividends. Steel sold down from a high of 86⅞ to 85¾ at the close yesterday, suffering a net decline of 1⅛.

The spectacular feature of yesterday's dealings was the behavior of the Maxwell Motor issues, which developed great strength, on the expectation that they will duplicate the rise of other motor issues. The common stock sold up to 90½, closing with a net gain for the day of 15½ points, while the second preferred closed at its top price of 64, with a net advance of 7½. Both issues were very active. There was evidence of realizing sales in Studebaker on the part of holders who wanted to shift to the lower-priced Maxwell stocks, the former selling off 4½ points to 184½. Bethlehem Steel sold as low as 566, a loss of 34 points from the high record, but it closed at 580, with a net loss of but 5 points. The Street expects Charles M. Schwab to accede to the request that ten shares of new stock be issued for each share in the present company, to make the stock more convenient for trading purposes.

The day was marked by another decline in foreign exchange rates, which are rapidly losing the improvement made when the Anglo-French credit was under negotiation. Demand sterling sold down to $4.61½, a loss of just 8 cents to the pound from the high price of Monday of last week, but it strengthened toward the close of the day and was quoted at above $4.62 late in the afternoon. The weakness lent color to reports that France, Great Britain, and Russia will all shortly arrange new credits here, to make settlement of their obligations incurred for munitions and other purchases easier. So far the unfavorable foreign news and the decline in exchange have had little effect on the belief of traders that prices will ultimately go much higher, both for the rails and the better industrials.

GOOD TONE IN LONDON.

War Loan Steadily Supported—Money in Increased Demand.

LONDON, Oct. 25.—Money was in increased demand to day for the payment of tomorrow's call on the war loan. Discount rates were firm. American exchange was very uncertain. After declining to 4.62¾, the rate advanced to 4.63¼.

The stock market maintained a good tone. The war loan was steadily supported, Kaffirs were in demand, and Mexican and Brazilian issues were firm features, all advancing on a good demand and a shortage of stock.

American securities were more active, and the list closed steady and near the best, with the exception of Canadian Pacific, which reacted under profit taking.

MONEY AND EXCHANGE.

RESERVE BANKS DISCOUNT RATES.

	Days, 10 or Less.	Over 10 up to 30.	Over 30 up to 60.	Over 60 up to 90.	Over 90.
Boston	3	4	4	4	5
New York	3	4	4	4	5
Philadelphia	3½	4	4	4½	5
Cleveland	4	4	4	4½	5
Richmond	4	4	4	4½	5
Atlanta	4	4	4	4½	5
Chicago	4	4	4	4½	5
St. Louis	4	4	4	4½	5
Minneap	4	4	4	4½	5
Kan. City	4	4	4	4½	5
Dallas	4	4	4	4½	5
San Fran.	3	3½	4	4½	5

*Notes maturing in not more than 90 days secured by cotton or other staples, warehoused and insured, or in course of shipment, are discountable at the special rate of 3 per cent.

BANK ACCEPTANCES.

Sixty days	2⅛@2¼
Ninety days	2¼@2⅜

COLLATERAL LOANS.

	High.	Low.	Last.	Renewal Rate.
On Call	2	2	2	2

ON TIME.

60 days	2¼@2½
90 days	2¾
4 months	3
5 months	3
6 months	3

COMMERCIAL PAPER.
Best Known Names.

4 months	3 @3¼
60 to 90 days	3

Other Names.

4 months	3¼@3¾
6 months	3½@4

FOREIGN EXCHANGE RATES.
Range of Sterling.

	High.	Low.	Last.	Chge.
Demand	$4.62⅜	$4.61⅛	$4.61⅞	— .01⅛
Cables	4.63⅜	4.62⅛	4.62⅝	— .01⅛

Closing Rates.

	Demand, (or check.)	Cable.
London	$4.61⅞	$4.62⅛
Paris	5.95	5.94
Switzerland	5.38	5.37
Scandinavia	25.80	25.90
Berlin	.81⅛	.81⅛
China—
Hongkong	48.35	48.50
Shanghai	56.00	..
Singapore	57.50	..
Greece	5.16	5.17
Holland	.40⅛	.40⅛
India—
Bombay	38.00	..
Calcutta	38.75	..
Italy	6.46	6.45
Japan—
Kobe	49.87	49.45
Yokohama	49.12½	..
Philippine Islands—
Manila	49.62	49.75
South America—
Buenos Aires	41.37	41.25
Rio	23.50	23.62
Spain	..	19.12
Austria	14.55	14.55
Russia	..	34.00

TIME BILLS ON LONDON.

	Bankers.		Commercial.
	60 Days.	90 Days.	60 Days.	90 Days.
	$4.58⅝	$4.58⅜	$4.57	$4.55

Clearing House Figures.

New York Clearing House exchanges, $261,195,951; balance, $22,094,174. Sub-Treasury credit balance, $894,965.

The local banks have gained $1,437,000 on their Sub-Treasury operations since Friday.

Domestic Exchange.

Exchange on New York at domestic centres: Boston, par; Chicago, 10c discount; St. Louis, par; San Francisco, 35c premium; Montreal, par.

Bar Silver.

London, 23 15-16d, up 3-16d; New York, 48⅞c, unchanged.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

MONDAY, OCT. 25, 1915.

	Stocks, (Shares.)
Total sales	1,121,739
Same day last year	Exch. closed
Year to date	137,484,576
Same period last year	45,989,158
Average price and change 50 stocks	92.93 + .01
Same day last year	*Exch. closed

	High.		Low.
Year's range to date	94.13	Oct. 22	58.99	Feb. 24
Range year 1914	73.30	Jan. 31	57.41	July 30
Range year 1913	79.10	Jan. 9	63.09	June 10

*Closing average July 30, 57.77.

— Closing. — Bid.	Ask.	Sales.		First.	High.	Low.	Last.	Net Chge.
32⅜	32¾	4,000	Alaska Gold Mines	33½	33¼	32⅜	32⅝	— ⅝
42½	43⅜	6,900	Allis-Chalm. Mfg.	44½	45	43½	43⅝	— ⅞
73	74	1,700	Allis-Chal. Mfg. pf.	74	74¼	73½	73½	— ⅜
71½	72	1,300	Am. Agril. Chem.	72⅜	72⅞	71½	71½	— ½
98½	99¼	250	Am. Agr. Ch. pf.	98⅜	98⅜	98¼	98¾	+ ⅛
65½	*63¾	2,100	Am. Beet Sugar	66	66	63¼	63½	— ⅝
190	200	200	Am.B.S.&F. pf. tr.	197	197	196	196	— 5
63	63¼	8,000	American Can	63⅝	64⅛	63	63	— ½
106½	107	100	American Can pf.	106¾	106¾	106¾	106¾	+ ⅛
88	88½	30,800	Am. Car & Fdy.	91½	92	87⅝	88¾	— 1⅝
113½	117	300	Am. Car & Fdy. pf.	115¾	116¼	115¾	116¼	+ ½
61	62	400	Am. Cotton Oil	63½	63¾	62	63	— ⅛
13½	13⅝	2,800	Am. Hide & Lea.	13¾	14	13¼	13½	— ⅛
57	58	2,200	Am. Hide & Lea. pf.	56	59	56	57½	+ ⅜
23⅝	23¾	500	Am. Ice Securities	23½	23⅞	23½	23¾	+ ⅛
20¾	20¾	40,860	American Linseed	28½	31¾	27½	29¼	+ 1⅞
49	49¼	10,200	Am. Linseed pf.	47¾	50¼	45½	49	+ 2¼
71⅝	72¼	10,950	Am. Locomotive	74⅜	74⅜	71¾	71⅞	— ⅛
99	99½	100	Am. Locomo. pf.	98¼	98½	98¼	98¼	— ⅛
6	6⅜	200	American Malt.	6⅜	6⅜	6⅜	6⅜	— ⅛
28	29⅜	500	American Malt. pf.	28	29	28	29	+ 1½
92⅞	93	4,800	Am. Smelt. & Ref.	92¼	93⅜	92¾	93¼	+ ⅜
86	86½	100	Am. Sm. Sec. pf. A.	86⅜	86⅝	86⅜	86⅝	— ⅛
70¼	71	7,900	Am. Steel Fdrs.	72¼	72⅞	69½	70¾	+ ⅜
112	113	500	Am. Sugar Ref.	113	113	112	112½	+ ⅛
124⅛	124⅝	1,000	Am. Tel. & Tel.	124⅜	124⅜	124¼	124¼	+ ¼
230	225	700	American Tobacco	230	231½	230	230½	+ ½
109	110¼	100	American Tob. pf.	109½	109¾	109¼	109¾	+ ½
55½	56	4,000	American Woolen	56¾	56¾	55¼	55⅝	— ⅛
52½	53⅜	200	Am. Woolen pf. tr.	53⅝	53⅝	53⅜	53⅜	— ⅛
96½	98½	100	Am. Woolen pf. tr.	96½	96½	96½	96⅞	— ⅛
11	11¾	1,300	Am. Writing Pr. pf.	10	12	10	11¾	+ 1½
74¾	74¾	6,400	Anaconda Cop Co.	75¼	75⅝	74⅝	74⅝	— ⅛
106½	109¾	4,250	Atch., Top. & S. F.	107⅞	107	106½	106¾	— ⅛
100½	101	300	Atch.,Top.&S.F. pf.	100½	100⅞	100½	100⅞	+ ⅛
140	141	38,600	Baldwin Locom.	146	146	138¾	140⅜	— 1⅝
92⅜	93¼	3,400	Baltimore & Ohio	92¾	93¾	92¾	93⅜	+ ⅜
75¼	75⅝	1,500	Baltimore & O. pf.	75⅜	75⅝	75⅜	75½	+ ¼
..	..	15	Bank of Commerce	171	171	171	171	—
1⅛	1⅝	300	Batopilas Mining	1½	1½	1½	1½	—
580	585	1,045	Bethlehem Steel	573	580	566	580	— 5
175	180	200	Bethlehem St. pf.	182	182	180	180	— 2
86½	87	100	Brooklyn R. T.	86¼	86¾	86¼	86½	— ½
6⅞	8¼	500	Bruns'k T.&R. Sec.	8	8	8	8	+ 1
63¼	63⅜	1,500	Butte & Superior	64	64	62½	63	— 1
18⅜	19½	100	California Petrol.	18⅜	18⅜	18⅜	18⅜	+ ⅛
41½	42¼	200	California Pet. pf.	42	42	42	42	+ ½
170⅜	171⅞	5,500	Canadian Pacific	171	171⅝	170½	171¼	— ⅛
50⅛	50¼	20,200	Central Lea. Co.	58½	59⅜	58¾	59¼	+ 1
106¼	107¾	100	Central Lea. Co. pf.	107½	107½	107½	107½	— ⅛
57½	57⅞	5,700	Chesapa ke & O.	57⅞	58⅜	57⅞	57⅞	+ ⅛
13⅞	13⅝	500	Chicago Great W.	13⅞	13⅞	13½	13⅝	+ ⅛
34⅝	35	200	Chicago G. W. pf.	36	35¼	35	35¼	+ ⅛
92¼	93	3,749	Chicago M. & S. P.	92¼	93⅞	92	92½	+ ⅛
128	*128	600	Chi., M. & S. P. pf.	128	128½	128	128⅛	+ ⅛
130	132	200	Chicago & North.	130	131¾	130	131¾	+ 1⅜
17	17¼	5,500	Chicago, R. I. & P.	17	17¼	17	17	+ ⅛
40¾	40⅝	4,600	Chino Copper	49¾	50	49¾	49¾	— ⅛
50	53	100	Clev., C., C.& S. L.	51¾	51¾	51¾	51¾	— ⅛
70	72	800	Cluett, Peabody	71	71	70	71	— ⅛
69	69¼	37,400	Colo. Fuel & Iron	69¾	69¾	61¼	58	+ ¼
32½	34	200	Colorado Southern	33⅞	33⅞	33¼	33¾	+ ¼
140¾	141¼	1,000	Consolidated Gas	141¼	141¾	140⅜	141	...
102	103	3,810	Continental Can	105½	105½	100	102	— 3½
106	106¾	500	Continental Can pf.	106	106¾	106	106	— 1
20⅞	21	64,500	Corn Prod. Ref.	19	21½	19	20⅞	+ 1⅞
88	89	900	Corn Prod. Ref. pf.	88½	9	88½	90⅜	+ 2⅜
91½	92	19,150	Crucible Steel	95	95¼	91	92	— 2
108¼	109	300	Crucible Steel pf.	109¼	109¼	109	109	...
115	118	300	Cuban Am. Sugar	117	117½	113½	116¾	+ ¼
146	148	100	Delaware & Hud.	148	148	148	148	+ 1½
205	212	100	D., L. & W.	210	210	210	210	— 2½
8¼	9¼	200	Denver & Rio Gr.	8⅞	9	8⅞	9	— ⅝
14⅝	15¼	100	Denver & R. G. pf.	15¼	15¾	15¼	15¾	+ ¼
120	120½	60	Detroit Edison	120	129	120	129	...
48¾	48⅞	15,700	Distillers Securities	48¾	49	48	48¾	+ ⅛
22⅝	22⅝	700	Dome Mines	22¾	22⅝	22¼	22⅝	+ ⅛
71¼	72	100	Electric Stor. Bat.	71½	71½	71¾	71½	...
39¼	39⅝	12,900	Erie	36⅞	39½	36⅞	39½	+ 3¼
56⅜	56⅝	42,500	Erie 1st pf.	55¼	56¼	55	55¾	+ ½
47¾	48	3,600	Erie 2d pf.	45¾	48¾	45	47½	+ 2⅝
27½	33	100	Fed. M. & Smelt.	30	30	30	30	+ 1½
50	50½	100	Fed. M. & S. pf.	50½	50½	50½	50½	+ ½
345	350	20	General Chem.	350	350	350	350	...
180	180½	13,800	General Electric	180½	182	179¼	180½	+ 4
365	375	200	General Motors	373	373	373	373	...
112	114	200	General Motors pf.	113	113	113	113	...
77	77½	10,600	Goodrich (B.F.,) Co	78¾	79	77	77	— 1½
110½	111¼	1,300	Goodrich pf.	111	111¾	111	111	+ ½
121⅜	121⅝	1,400	Great. Northern pf.	121⅝	122	121¼	121½	+ ⅜
51⅜	51½	18,400	Gt. N. C., Ore Fr.	52⅜	52⅞	51¼	51½	— ⅜
37½	38	600	Greene-Cananea	38	38	37	37⅜	— ⅜
67	67½	2,700	Guggenheim Explo.	68	68	67¼	67¼	— ⅜
110	120	200	Homestake Mining	119¼	119¼	119¼	119¼	+ 2¼
119	120	55	do., odd lots	119¼	119¾	119¾	119¾	...
107	108	200	Illinois Central	107	107	107	107	+ 1
44½	44⅝	10,400	Inspiration Cop.	45¼	45¼	44¼	44½	— ⅛
22¼	22½	300	Inter-Met.	22¼	22½	22¼	22½	+ ⅛
22¾	22¼	7,200	Inter. Consol.	21½	23⅛	21⅜	22¼	+ ⅜
78½	78¾	400	Inter. Consol. pf.	78¼	78¾	78¼	78¾	+ ⅛
23⅞	24¼	300	International Agric.	24¾	24¾	24¼	24¼	— 2⅜
54	55	3,400	Internat. Agric. pf.	53	55¾	53	54	+ 2
109¼	110	100	Inter. Harv., N.J.	109½	109½	109¼	109½	— ½
11	11¼	8,200	International Paper	10⅝	11⅜	10⅝	11	+ ¼
41	41⅛	5,300	Inter. Paper pf.	40	42	39½	41¼	+ 1⅝
25⅝	25½	3,600	Kans. City South.	28½	29	28½	28¾	+ ⅜
61⅝	61⅞	300	Kans. City So. pf.	61¼	61½	61¼	61¾	+ ⅛
123	123½	50	Kings Co. E. & P.	123½	129½	129½	129½	...
83¾	84⅞	5,000	Lackawana Steel	85⅞	86⅞	83⅝	83⅝	— 1⅝
9½	10½	100	Lake Erie & W.	10⅛	10⅛	10⅛	10⅛	— ⅜
77¼	77¾	10,000	Lehigh Valley	77	78	77	77¾	+ 1⅝
247	250	900	Liggett & Myers	248	248	247	247	— 1
23	26	100	Long Island	25	25	25	25	+ 1
177½	185	200	Lorillard, (P.,) Co.	180	180	180	180	+ 4
78¼	80	100	Mackay Cos.	79½	79½	79½	79½	+ 1½
65¼	66	100	Mackay Cos. pf.	66	66	66	66	+ ½
127¾	128	100	Manhattan Elev.	127⅞	127⅞	127⅞	127⅞	+ ⅜
90¼	90¼	43,800	Maxwell Motors	80	90½	77⅜	90¼	+ 15½
90½	99⅝	8,150	Max. Motors 1st pf.	98½	99½	98½	99½	+ 1½
63⅞	64	21,600	Max. Motors 2d pf.	57⅝	64	57⅝	64	+ 7⅝
51	53	900	May Dept. Stores	52	52½	52	52½	+ ⅝
90	90¼	8,300	Mexican Petroleum	88¼	91½	88¼	90	+ 1
34	34½	2,900	Miami Copper	34⅜	34½	34	34¼	+ ⅜
13	14	300	Minn. & St. Louis	13	13	13	13	...
120½	121	200	M., St. P. & S. S. M.	120	120⅞	120	120⅞	— ⅜
125	128	100	M.,St.P.& S.S.M. pf.	127	127	127	127	...
71½	75	200	M.,St.P. & S.S.M.l.l.	71	71	71	71	...
5¼	5½	800	Mo., Kan. & Texas.	5½	5½	5½	5½	— ⅛
13½	14½	300	Mo., Kan. & Tex. pf.	14	14	14	14	— 1⅛
4¾	5	1,200	Missouri Pacific	5	5	4¾	4¾	— ⅛
57	58	900	Montana Power	57	57⅝	57	58	— ⅛
81	83	100	Nat. Cloak & Suit.	83	83	83	83	— 1
..	..	15	Nat City Bank	450	455	450	455	— ..
33½	34	19,765	Nat. En. & St. Co.	35	36⅛	33½	33½	— ⅜
90	92	200	Nat. E. & S. Co. pf.	92	92	92	92	+ 1
67⅛	67½	1,000	Nat. Lead & Co.	67⅜	67⅞	67¼	67½	— ⅜
9	9½	1,000	N. Rys. of M. 2d pf.	9¼	9½	9¼	9½	— ⅛
14⅞	15	600	Nevada Con. Cop.	14⅞	15	14⅞	14⅞	— ⅛
149	151	4,000	N. Y. Air Brake	147	153	147	151¼	+ 3¼
100	100¼	1,700	N. Y. Central	100⅜	100⅜	100¼	100⅜	+ ⅛
40	42¼	30	N. Y. Chi. & St. L.	43	43	43	43	— 1
81	81⅜	5,900	N. Y., N. H. & H.	81	82⅜	80⅞	81	+ ⅛
30¾	30½	2,410	N. Y. Ont. & West.	29½	30⅞	29½	30	+ ⅛
115½	116½	4,300	Norfolk & Western.	117	117	115½	116	— ⅝
72½	73	100	North American	72½	72½	72½	72½	— ⅛
112¾	113¼	2,200	Northern Pacific	113	113¾	112	112¾	— ⅛
43	44½	7,700	Penn. R. R.	44	44	43¼	44	...
58⅝	58⅞	300	People's Gas, Chi.	120	120	120	120	+ ½
119¼	119½	1,600	Philadelphia Co.	47	47	46	46¼	+ ⅛
46	46⅞	6,800	Pittsburgh Coal	39⅝	39⅞	38½	38⅞	— ⅝
38¾	39¼	1,300	Pittsburgh Coal pf.	109	109	105¾	107	— 2
106¼	108	1,400	Pressed Steel Car.	72⅞	72⅞	71½	72	— ½
71⅞	71¾	525	Pullman Co.	168½	168½	168	168	+ 2
167	168½	100	Quicksilver	3	3	3	3	...
2⅝	3	100	Quicksilver pf.	4	4	4	4	+ ½
2½	4¼	2,400	Railway Steel Sp.	48¾	49	48½	49	+ ⅜
48⅞	49	100	Railway St. Sp. pf.	95	95	95	95	+ 1
93	96½	6,900	Ray Con. Copper.	25¼	25¾	25⅛	25¼	+ ⅛
25¼	25⅝	26,200	Reading	79½	81⅝	79½	80⅝	— 1⅛
80⅝	80⅞	5,500	Rep. Iron & Steel.	54⅜	54⅝	53⅜	54	— ⅝
54	54½	200	Rep. Iron & S. pf.	103⅞	104	103⅞	104	...
103¼	104	600	Rumely, (M.,) Co.	4¾	4¾	4	4	...
4¼	4½	2,000	St. Louis & San F.	6	6	6	6	...
5⅝	6¼	100	St. L. & S. F. 2d pf.	7¾	7¾	7¾	7¾	+ ⅛
7½	8	700	Seaboard Air Line.	16	16¼	16	16⅛	...
18¾	19¼	500	Seab. Air Line pf.	39	39½	39	39½	— ⅛
39	39½	200	Sears, Roeb. & Co.	157	157	157	157	+ ½
156¼	157½	1,550	Sloss-S. S. & I. Co.	61¼	61¼	60	60¼	— ⅝
60	60½	13,010	Southern Pacific	98¼	98¼	97¾	98⅜	+ ⅝
98¼	98⅜	2,200	Southern Railway	21	21½	20⅞	20⅞	— ⅛
20⅞	21	500	So. Railway pf.	59	59	58¾	58¾	— ⅛
58⅝	59	500	Standard Milling	73¾	73¾	73¾	73¾	— ½
77¾	80	9,000	Studebaker Co.	189½	189½	183	184½	— 4½
184	185	400	Studebaker Co. pf.	113	113	113	112¼	+ ¼
111	114	2,900	Tennessee Copper	63½	63½	62¾	63	+ ⅛
63	63½	1,100	Texas Co.	163⅜	165½	163⅜	165¼	+ 2⅜
165	166	1,000	Texas & Pacific	13	13½	13	13¼	+ ⅛
13	13½	1,700	Third Avenue	61¼	61¾	61¼	61½	+ ⅛
61¼	62	200	Tobacco Prod. pf.	100	100	99¾	99¾	— ¼
99¾	100¾	1,000	Underwood Typew.	97	97	91	91	+ 4
91	93	4,000	Union B. & P. Co.	6½	7¾	6¾	6¾	+ ½
6½	7	600	Un. B. & P. Co. pf.	25	27	25	26¾	+ 1½
25	27	11,100	Union Pacific	135¼	136⅜	135	135	— ⅛
135	135⅛	200	Union Pacific pf.	81⅝	82	81⅝	82	+ ⅛
81⅞	82	2,000	Un. Cigar Mfrs.	59	61	59	61	+ 4¼
60½	61¼	1,000	United Cigar Stores	10	10	9¾	9¾	— ..
9¾	10	100	Un. Dry Goods pf.	73	73	73	73	— 2
70	73	3,200	United Rys. Inv.	27	27	25¼	25⅜	— ½
25¼	25⅝	800	United Rys. Inv. pf.	44	44½	43½	43½	...
43⅜	43½	7,300	U. S. C. I. P. & F.	27⅞	29¾	27⅞	28¼	+ 1¼
27½	29	50	U.S.C. I. P. & F. pf.	43½	50	43½	43½	+ 1
48	50	200	U. S. Express	68½	68¾	68½	68¾	+ 1¼
68¼	69	1,800	U. S. Indus. Alco.	124⅜	124⅝	121¼	121½	— 3½
121¼	122½	12,200	U. S. Rubber.	54⅞	56⅜	54½	55	+ ⅞
54⅜	55	200	U. S. Rub. 1st pf.	106¾	106¾	100	106	...
106¼	106¾	100,700	U. S. Steel.	86⅝	86⅞	85⅜	85⅝	— 1⅛
85¼	85⅝	1,600	U. S. Steel pf.	115¼	115¾	115¼	115¼	+ ¼
115	115⅜	3,200	Utah Copper	70¾	70¾	69¾	69¾	— ¼
69¾	70	17,110	Va.-Car. Chemical.	48	51	48	50⅜	+ 3½
50⅜	50½	700	Va.-Car. Chem. pf.	100	109¾	100	109½	+ 9
109½	110	500	Va. Iron, Coal & C.	69	69	68½	68⅞	+ ⅜
68	69	50	Vulcan Detinning.	17	17	17	17	...
16	18½	200	Vulcan Detin. pf.	40	40	40	40	+ 4½
40	50	1,800	Wabash w. i.	13¾	13⅞	13¼	13⅜	+ ⅛
13¼	13¾	1,900	Wabash pf. w. i.	46	46	45¼	45½	+ ½
45½	46	1,700	Wabash pf. B w. i.	26¼	26¾	26¼	26½	— ¼
26¼	26½	200	Wells Fargo Exp.	119¾	120	119¼	120	...
119	120

AETNA EXPLOSIVES
AMERICAN BRASS
ATLAS POWDER
BABCOCK & WILCOX
CROCKER-WHEELER
DU PONT POWDER
E. W. BLISS
INGERSOLL-RAND
LIMA LOCOMOTIVE
N. J. ZINC
NILES-BEMENT-POND
ROYAL BK. POWDER
SCOVILL M'FG CO.

BOUGHT & SOLD

JENKS, GWYNNE & CO.
15 BROAD ST.
TEL. HANOVER 7474
MEMBERS N.Y. STOCK EXCHANGE

Members N. Y. Stock Exchange

Will Sell:—

Royal Baking Powder Com.
Safety Car Htg. & Ltg.
Remington Typewriter
Hopkins Alien Arms
Niles-Bement-Pond
Singer Mfg. Co.
Am. Bank Note Pfd.
Lima Locomotive
Ward Baking 6s
Tintic Company 6s

ESTABLISHED 1873
TOBEY & KIRK

Indications point to continued strengthening of prices for municipal bonds. We recommend for conservative investment

UNITED STATES Municipal Bonds

Our offerings include issues yielding 4% to 5.50%

List will be mailed on request.

Farson, Son & Co

Members New York Stock Exchange.
115 Broadway, New York City.

Beech Creek Coal & C.Co.1st 5s,1944
No. Pac. Ry.Co. Ref.&Imp.4½s,2047
Ontario Power Co. 1st 5s, 1943
Union Typewriter Co. 5s, 1916

Crawford, Patton & Cannon,
Tel. 1170 Rector.
Morris Building, Philadelphia. 61 Broadway, New York.

Renskorf, Lyon & Co.

Members { New York Stock Exchange; New York Cotton Exchange; New York Produce Exchange; Chicago Board of Trade; Associate Member Liverpool Cotton Association.

33 New Street New York

Central Aguirre Sugar

Bought and Sold

CHAS. H. JONES & CO.
20 Broad St. New York
Telephone 9140 Rector. Cable "Orientment."

Niles-Bement-Pond

J.K.Rice, Jr.&Co.

Phones 4001 to 4010 John. 36 Wall St., N. Y.

Parkinson & Burr

Founded 1866.
Members New York Stock Exchange
7 Wall Street, New York
Boston Hartford

W.C.Langley&Co.

Investments
115 Broadway, New York City

ASK FOR LIST AND BOOKLET "T" OF BONDS OF UTILITY COMPANIES IN 20 STATES

P. W. BROOKS & CO
(Incorporated)
115 BROADWAY, NEW YORK

Suggestions for Investors

may be had on request

A. B. Leach & Co
Investment Securities
149 Broadway, New York
Chicago Philadelphia Buffalo
Boston Baltimore London

BREAK IN COTTON AFTER EARLY RISE

Census Bureau Reports That 5,713,347 Bales Had Been Ginned Up to Oct. 18.

BULLISH EFFECT SOON OVER

Market Moves Up Briskly for About Twenty Points and Then Drops Forty Under Liquidation.

By its action yesterday the cotton market bore out the contention of the bear element, who have contended that a stale condition had developed and that higher prices could not be established until a decline had shaken out long holdings. In confirmation of this view the market declined approximately 20 points or $1 per bale in the face of a bullish census report on the amount of cotton ginned to Oct. 18.

The report placed the amount of cotton ginned at 5,713,347 bales, or just about what bulls had predicted. Some of the statistical authorities of the trade had taken the view that the report would show about 60 per cent of the crop. On this basis the production would be less than 10,000,000 bales. There is a general disposition, however, to believe that the percentage will prove to be somewhat less than 54.9, which was the high record established in 1909.

Immediately after the publication of the figures at the opening the market ran up about 20 points with March selling at 12.95c and January reaching 12.72c. There was a steady stream of liquidation, however, and the low price of the day registered a maximum decline of about 40 points.

Southern spot markets, as officially reported, were quiet, 10 to 15 points lower. The local market for spot cotton was quiet, 10 points decline; middling, 12.35c. Futures closed easy.

	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. Close.
Dec	12.61	12.22	12.24@12.25	12.42@12.43
Jan	12.72	12.32	12.35@12.36	12.54@12.56
March	12.95	12.53	12.55@12.56	12.74@12.76
May	13.05	12.63	12.65@12.66	12.85@12.90
July	13.10	12.68	12.68@12.70	12.92@12.94

Total port receipts, 40,000 bales; last year, 52,501 bales.

RECEIPTS.

	Yesterday.	Last Week.	Last Year.
New Orleans	6,850	4,176	4,450
Galveston	9,522	11,797	21,441
Mobile	1,805	286	908
Charleston	2,401	2,901	2,674
Savannah	5,177	9,784	10,172
Wilmington	2,935	3,400	1,224
Norfolk	4,790	3,964	3,122

INTERIOR RECEIPTS.

	Yesterday.	Last Week.	Last Year.
Augusta	3,238	3,421	3,220
Memphis	7,080	15,903	10,558
St. Louis	...	1,079	2,073
Houston	27,079	22,330	38,242

Exports, 12,264 bales; total thus far this season, 1,170,950 bales; total last season, 425,633 bales.

SOUTHERN SPOTS AND STOCKS.

Sales.	Spots.	Stocks.	Last Yr.
536 Galveston	12.20	265,185	234,126
2,275 New Orleans	12.00	204,995	94,660
25 Mobile	11.88	18,922	24,457
30 Savannah	12.00	183,217	104,987
— Charleston	12.00	53,169	33,750
— Wilmington	Nom.	37,101	21,417
391 Norfolk	11.88	56,821	25,989
1,521 Augusta	11.88	161,068	98,005
750 Memphis	12.13	...	138,623
— St. Louis	12.25	3,777	17,217
4,956 Houston	12.10	162,972	102,584

The Liverpool market opened quiet. There was a fair business in spot cotton, with middling 3 points decline, at 7.20d. Sales, 10,000 bales. Receipts, 17,000 bales, all American. Market closed quiet.

CONSOLIDATED EXCHANGE.

While certain of the leading "war stocks" early exhibited a tendency toward retreat, decided strength developed in other sections of the list. This was notably the case with the railroad issues. Among the stocks that made sharp advances were Erie, Reading, Colorado Fuel and Iron, Corn Products, Virginia Carolina Chemical, American Linseed Oil, Central Leather, Mexican Petroleum, and Maxwell Motor.

Sales.		Open.	High.	Low.	Close.
310	Allis-Chalmers	44½	44½	43¾	43¾
60	Am. Bt. Sug	66¼	66½	65½	65½
1,410	Am. Can	63¾	64⅜	63¾	63¾
1,110	Am. Car & Fy	91½	93¼	88¼	88¼
60	Am. Hide & L	13¾	14	13¾	14
70	Am. Ice Sec	24	24	24	24
820	Am. Linseed	29¾	31¼	28¼	29½
1,600	Am. Loco	74½	74½	72¼	72⅝
250	Am. Smelting	92⅞	93¼	92¼	92⅝
940	Am. Copper	75¼	75¼	74⅝	74⅝
30	A., T. & S. F.	106¾	107	106⅝	107
800	Baldw. Loco	145¾	145¾	139½	140¾
250	Balt. & Ohio	93	93¼	92½	92½
20	B. R. T.	87	87	87	87
20	Cal. Pet.	18⅜	18⅜	18⅜	18⅜
1,080	Cent. Leather	58½	60	58⅜	59½
330	Ches. & Ohio	57¾	58¼	57¼	57¾
60	C., M. & S. P.	93¾	93¾	93	93
450	C., R. I. & P.	16¾	17⅜	16¼	16¾
100	C., C., C. & St. L.	50½	50½	49¾	49¾
2,200	Col. Fuel & I.	59½	61¾	58	59
2,740	Corn Prods.	19¾	21¾	19¼	21
1,590	Crucible Steel	94⅜	96¾	92	92½
200	Dist. Secur.	48½	49	48¼	48½
6,180	Erie	36¾	39⅝	36⅝	39⅝
170	Erie 1st pf.	55½	56½	55⅝	56½
690	Goodrich Co.	79¼	79¼	77	77½
390	Gt. No. Ore	52	52⅞	51¾	51⅞
20	Guggenh. Exp.	67⅜	67⅝	67¼	67¼
240	Inspir. Cop.	45½	45½	44¼	44¼
50	Inter.-Met.	21¾	21¾	21¾	21¾
280	Inter. Cons.	21½	22½	21½	22⅛
10	Inter. Con. pf.	78	78	78	78
20	Kan., City So.	29	29	29	29
140	Lehigh Val.	77⅛	78⅛	77¼	78
1,900	Maxw. Mtrs.	79	91¼	77½	90⅜
160	Max. M. 2d pf.	59¼	63½	58¼	63½
580	Mex. Pet.	89¾	91⅜	89¾	90½
40	Miami Cop.	34¼	34¼	34	34
710	Nat. Enamel.	35⅝	36½	34	34
70	N. Y. Central	100⅜	100⅝	100¼	100¼
110	N.Y.,N.H.& H.	82	82	81¾	81¾
230	Pennsylvania	58¾	59	58⅜	59
60	Pitts. Coal	38¾	39¼	38¾	39½
30	Ps. Steel Car	72	72	71¾	71⅞
50	Ray Copper	25⅜	25⅝	25¼	25¼
6,330	Reading	79⅝	81⅞	79⅝	80½
240	Rep. Iron & S.	54½	54½	53⅝	54¼
140	Southern Pac.	98⅜	98½	97⅞	97⅞
40	Southern Ry.	21¼	21¾	21	21
80	Studebaker Co.	187½	187½	185	183
110	Tenn. Copper	63¼	63½	63	63½
120	Tenn. Cop. rts.	2¼	2¼	2	2
10	Third Av.	62	62	62	62
340	Union Pacific	135⅝	136½	135⅜	135⅝
1,320	U. S. Rubber	54½	58⅜	54½	55⅛
11,500	U. S. Steel	86¾	86⅞	85½	85¼
10	U. S. Steel pf.	115	115	115	115
240	Utah Copper	70⅜	70½	69⅜	70
620	Va.-Car.Chem.	48½	51½	48½	50
10	W. Union Tel.	80½	80½	80¼	80¼
5,730	W'houseE.& M.	73⅜	74⅜	72⅛	74¼
55,250

MINING STOCKS.

300	Atlanta	.26	.26	.26	.26
1,000	Booth	.37½	.37½	.37½	.37½
400	Consol. Va	.35	.35	.35	.35
500	Florence	.45	.45	.45	.45
400	Goldfield Con.	1.32½	1.32½	1.31½	1.31½
500	Goldf'd Merg.	.20	.20	.20	.20
500	Jim Butler	.80	.80	.80	.80
200	Jumbo Ext	1.35	1.35	1.35	1.35
500	Kewanas	.35	.35	.35	.35
500	Mispah	.22	.22	.22	.22
800	Montana	.28	.20	.28	.29
300	Round Mntn	.43	.43	.43	.43
300	Sierra Nevada	.90	.90	.90	.90
200	Tono. Mining	5.40	5.40	5.40	5.40
1,300	West End	.66	.66	.64	.64
7,900

NEW YORK CITY NOTES.

		Yesterday. Bid.	Asked.	Saturday. Bid.	Asked.
6s	—Sept., 1916	102⅝	102⅝	102⅝	102⅝
6s	—Sept., 1917	103⅛	103⅛	103⅛	103⅛
4½s	—June, 1965	102⅝	102⅝	102⅝	102⅝
4½s	—Mar., 1963	102½	103	102½	102⅞
4½s	—Nov., 1957	102½	102⅝	102⅝	102⅝
4½s	—May, 1957	102½	102⅝	102⅝	102⅝
4½s	—Nov., 1917	100⅝	...	100⅝	...
4½s	—May, 1917	100⅝	...	100⅝	...
4½s	—Mar., 1964	99½	99⅝	99	99¼
4½s	—Mar., 1962	99⅛	99⅜	99	99¼
4½s	—Sept., 1960	99⅛	99⅜	99	99¼
4½s	—Mar., 1930-60	99½	99½	99	99⅜
4s	—May, 1959	95⅝	95¾	95⅝	95¾
4s	—Nov., 1958	95⅜	95⅝	95⅜	95⅝
4s	—May, 1957	95⅜	95⅝	95⅜	95⅝
4s	—Nov., 1956	94⅝	95¼	94⅝	95¼
4s	—Nov., 1955	94⅜	95½	94⅝	95½
4s	—Nov., 1936	95	...	95	...
3½s	—Nov., 1955	85	85½	85	85½
3½s	—Nov., 1954	85¼	86	85¼	86
3½s	—May, 1954	85¼	86	85¼	86

B. & O. DENIES OVERCHARGE.

Says Complaint of Immigrants Is Due to Changing Tickets.

Officials of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, in answer to the charges made here recently by an official of the immigration department that immigrants were required in some cases to pay more than the regular fare for tickets, stated yesterday that the accusation was the result of a misunderstanding by the foreign agents of the companies as to the railroad situation, and not an attempt on the part of the carriers to impose discriminatory rates.

The misunderstanding arose over the value of the original immigrant ticket to the person desiring to buy a higher-grade ticket. The matter is being investigated by the railroads, and if an overcharge was made in any instance, it was said, the amount will be adjusted. The railroad officials explained that at no time did Mrs. Clark, the immigrant official who preferred the charges, confer with the carriers, and the first information they received about irregularities was in the newspapers.

METAL MARKET REPORTS.

These prices were quoted on the local Metal Exchange yesterday:

	Monday. Bid.	Ask.	Friday. Bid.	Ask.
Tin	33.50	33.75	33.25	33.50
Lead	...	4.75	...	4.75
Spelter	*14.25	.....	*14.00	.....
Antimony	34.00	36.00	33.00	35.00
Silver	$92.00	$94.00	$92.00	$94.00
Aluminium	†53.00	56.00	†53.00	56.00
Iron No. 2 X ldy	16.25	16.75	16.25	16.75

*Sales. †Nominal.

Electrolytic copper, 30 days, was quoted at 18@18¼c. per pound, in the open market. London quotations were:

	Monday. £	s.	d.	Friday. £	s.	d.
Copper, spot	72	7	6	73	2	6
Copper, futures	72	15	0	73	10	0
Tin, spot	133	15	0	131	15	0
Tin, futures	134	10	0	133	0	0
Spelter	89	10	0	86	1	0
Lead	24	7	6	24	3	9

TOBACCO STOCKS.

Closing quotations of stocks not quoted elsewhere were:

	Yesterday. Bid.	Asked.	Saturday. Bid.	Asked.
American Cigar	111	115	111	115
American Cigar pf	98	100	98	100
Am. Mach. & F'dry	85	95	85	92
Conley Foil	350	400	350	400
Johnston Tin F. & M.	120	140	120	140
J. S. Young	155	170	155	170
J. S. Young pf	105	109	105	109
MacAndrews & F.	145	153	145	153
MacAndrews & F. pf.	98	100	99	100
Porto Rico-Am. Tob.	185	190	185	190
R. J. Reynolds Tob.	410	425	410	425
R. J. Reyn. Tob. pf.	119	122	119	122

EARNINGS DOUBLED BY WAR.

International Nickel Reports for Six Months $6,770,000.

The International Nickel Company in its first statement since the shares were listed on the Stock Exchange shows total earnings of $6,770,707 in the six months ended Sept. 30. In the entire year ended last March the company reported an aggregate income of $7,230,760, which was only $460,000 more than in the succeeding half year. The large improvement is credited to the demand from war munition manufacturers and ordnance makers for nickel steel.

The company paid out in dividends in the six months $2,168,953, and after making reservations for depreciation and decreases of mineral resources, a balance remained of $3,398,466. The balance for the preceding year was $309,378.

Thomas Iron Company Contest.

A circular letter has been sent to stockholders of the Thomas Iron Company, a $2,500,000 corporation of Pennsylvania, by William R. Taylor, a sotckholder, to a group of individuals. The shareholders are to vote on the offer of $45 a share for their stock at a meeting at Hakendauqua, Penn., tomorrow. Mr. Taylor makes application of earnings to assets in a way to show that the stock is worth considerably more than the price offered. He asks that the Iron Company be let alone to work out "its own salvation."

Great Northern Ore Dividend.

Trustees of the Great Northern Ore properties declared yesterday a dividend of 50 cents a share, payable Dec. 15 to stockholders of record on that date. The payment is the same as made in each of the last two years, and is the only one declared this year.

BOSTON BANK STATEMENT.

Special to The New York Times.

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 25.—The weekly statement of the Associated National Banks and the Old Colony Trust Company compares as follows:

	Oct. 23,'15.	Inc. f'm Prev. Wk.
Circulation	$8,043,000	$21,000
Loans, disc. Inv	372,280,000	10,954,000
Ind. deposits inc. U. S.	330,392,000	5,910,000
Due banks	141,402,000	*100,000
Time deposits	15,636,000	*14,000
Exch. for Clearing House	14,318,000	*6,264,000
Due from banks	42,337,000	*2,485,000
Cash reserve	26,896,000	*67,000
Res. in Fed. Res. Bank	13,094,000	*92,000
Res. with other banks	93,735,000	3,816,000
Cash excess	6,045,000	71,000
Excess in New York	72,884,000	3,130,000
Excess with F. R. Bank	2,868,000	*435,000
Total excess	81,597,000	2,766,000

*Decrease.

OUT-OF-TOWN MARKETS

BOSTON.

MINING.

Sales.		Open.	High.	Low.	Last.
1,495	Alaska	33¼	33¾	32⅝	32½
55	Allouez	53¾	54¼	54	54¼
18,335	Am. Zinc	68	69¾	68	68¾
190	Anaconda	75¾	75¾	74½	74⅝
1,970	Ariz. Cml	7⅞	7⅞	7¾	7¾
50	Butte & Bal	3¼	3¼	3¼	3¼
3,044	Butte & Sup	64⅝	64⅝	62⅝	63¾
685	Cal. & Ariz	63	64	63	63½
5	Cal. & H	540	540	540	540
95	Chino	50½	50½	49½	49¾
120	Cop. Range	55½	55⅝	55¼	55¼
110	Daly West	2⅝	2⅝	2½	2⅝
155	East Butte	12½	13	12½	12⅝
185	Franklin	9¼	9¼	9	9
40	Granby	83¾	83¾	83	83
550	Green Can	38	39	37	37½
250	Inspiration	45¼	45½	45¼	45½
220	Isle Royale	28	28¼	28	28
30	Kerr Lake	3⅝	3⅝	3⅝	3⅝
30	Lake	13½	13½	13	13½
220	Mass Con	11	11	10¾	10¾
1,100	Miami	34⅜	34⅜	34⅛	34⅛
15	Michigan	2¼	2¼	2¼	2¼
185	Mohawk	78¾	79	78½	78⅝
45	Nev. Con	15	15¼	14½	14½
15	New Arc	10¼	10¼	10¼	10¼
73	Idria	9⅜	9⅜	9⅜	9⅜
20	Nip	6⅞	7	6⅞	7
380	North Butte	29½	29¾	29¼	29¼
15	North Lake	1¾	1¾	1¾	1¾
77	Osceola	82	82	82	82
580	Pond Creek	16½	16¾	16⅛	16⅜
1,511	Ray con	25⅜	25½	25	25½
1,533	Santa Fe	4⅜	4⅜	4⅛	4⅛
225	Shannon	7¼	7¼	7⅛	7⅛
1,800	Shattuck	28	28	27	28
20	So. Lake	5½	5½	5½	5½
209	So. Utah	30c	30c	30c	30c
190	St. Mary's L.	55¼	55¼	53¾	54¼
170	Super. & Bos.	2¾	2¾	2¾	2¾
33	Superior	27	27	27	27
25	Tamarack	52½	52½	52½	52½
515	Trinity	9⅞	9⅞	8⅞	9
1,500	Tuolumne	43c	43c	40c	40c
417	U. S. Smelters	43	4	42½	42½
201	U. S. Smelt. pf	47½	47½	47	47
925	Utah Apex	3	3	2⅞	3
40	Utah con	12¼	12¼	12¼	12¼
575	Utah Cop	70½	70¼	69¾	69¾
63	Wolverine	58	58	58	58

RAILROADS.

46	Boston & Alb.	183	183	180	180
2	Boston Elev	84	84	84	84
90	Boston & Me	32	32½	32	32½
2	Fitchburg pf	70	70	70	70
10	Mass. Electric	7	7	7	7
631	N.Y.,N.H.& H.	80½	83¾	80½	81
4	Union Pacific	135	135	135	135
35	W. E. St. R. R.	64½	64½	64	64
25	W.E.St.R.R.pf.	83½	83½	83	83

MISCELLANEOUS.

10	Amoskeag	64	64	64	64
210	Am. Agri. Ch.	72⅞	73⅜	72½	72½
348	Am. Ag. C. pf.	99	99	98	98
285	Am. Pn. Serv.	3½	4½	3½	3½
10	Am. Pn. S. pf.	17½	19	17	17⅝
10	Am. Sugar	112½	112½	112½	112½
125	Am. Sugar pf.	115	115¼	115	115¼
419	Am. T. & T.	124¾	124¾	124½	124⅝
375	Am. Wool	57	57	56	56
131	Am. Wool pf.	97¾	97¾	97	97¾
1,250	A., G. & W. I.	25	25¾	24¼	24½
1,536	A., G. & W.I.pf.	39¾	40	38⅝	38⅝
50	East Boston	9¼	9¼	9	9
18	Edison	240	240	238	239
68	Gen. Electric	180	180½	179	180½
7	Mass. Gas	88	88¼	88	88¼
5	Mass. Gas pf.	87	87	87	87
10	McElwain pf.	98	98	98	98
38	N. E. Tel.	133	135	134¾	134¾
34	Pullman	168	168	168	168
15	Reece Button	15½	15¼	15	15
73	Swift	118½	119	118½	119
1	Torrington pf.	29	29	29	29
210	United Fruit	134	134¼	134	134
442	Unit. Shoe M.	49½	49½	49	49
33	Un. S. M. pf.	28⅝	28⅝	28½	28½
2,148	U. S. Steel	86¾	86¾	85¼	85¼
10	U. S. St. pf.	115⅝	115⅝	115⅝	115⅝
2,785	Ventura Oil	11⅝	12	11⅝	11⅝
31	West. Union	80	80⅜	80	80⅝
100	Wollaston Ld.	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜

BONDS.

$2,000	Am. T. & T. 4s	89¾	89¾	89⅝	89¾
14,000	A., G. & W.I.5s.	76	76	75¾	75¾
2,000	C., B. & Q. jt.4s	97⅛	97⅛	97⅛	97⅛
1,000	Cent. Vt. 4s	70	70	70	70
5,000	Mass. G.4½s,'29	96¼	96¼	96¼	96¼
8,000	Mass. G.4½s,'31	91¾	91¾	91¾	91¾
5,000	N. E. T. 5s	101	101	101	101
3,000	Swift 5s	97	97	97	97

BALTIMORE.

STOCKS.

Sales.		Open.	High.	Low.	Last.
100	Bank of Com.	33	33	33	33
53	Cons. Power	108¾	109	108	109
2,894	Cosden	6¾	7	6¾	7
230	Elkhorn Fuel	18¾	18¾	18½	18¾
725	Fair. Gas	30	30	29¾	29¾
5	Fair. Gas pf.	46	46	46	46
10	Fid. & Dep.	141½	141½	141½	141½
125	Houston Oil	19⅞	19⅞	19⅞	19⅞
10	Hous. Oil pf.	61½	61½	61½	61½
39	Md. Casualty.	90	90	90	90
11	Merc. Trust	200	200	200	200
130	M. & M. Bank	20	20	28½	28½
2	Mt. V. Cot. M.	10	10	10	10
15	New Am. Cos.	51	51	51	51
70	Sapulpa Oil	3⅜	3⅜	3⅝	3⅝
190	Un. Ry. & El.	24½	24½	24½	24½

BONDS.

$2,000	A.C.L. cv. 4s	89	89	89	89
9,000	Elk. Fuel 5s	98½	98½	98¼	98¼
1,000	Norf. Ry. 5s	96	96	96	96
500	N. Va. 4s, '34	90½	90½	90½	90½
2,000	N.O., M. & C. 5s	42½	42½	42½	42½
5 000	Un. Ry. & El.	81	81	81	81
1st 4s

PHILADELPHIA.

STOCKS.

Sales.		Open.	High.	Low.	Last.
25	Alliance Ins	18	18	18	18
4	Am. Gas	116⅞	116⅞	116⅞	116⅞
80	Baldwin Loco	142	142	140	140
343	Buf. & S., t. c.	20¼	24	20¼	22½
565	Buf. & S. pf.	55	53	53½	54½
275	Brill	66	66	65	65⅞
50	Cambria Iron	43¾	43¾	43¾	43¾
12,218	Cambria Steel	67⅞	69¼	67⅜	68⅞
170	Elec. S. Bat	72	72	71¾	72
10	Gen. Asphalt	35	35	35	35
100	Gen. Asphalt pf	72	72	72	72
50	Ins. Co., N. A.	23½	23½	23¼	23¼
1,365	Lake Superior	9⅜	9⅜	9⅜	...
166	Lehigh Nav	78¾	78¾	78	78
305	Lehigh Valley	77	78¼	77	77¾
130	L. V. Transit	18	18	18	18
230	L. V. Tran. pf.	37⅞	38⅜	37⅞	38
1	Norristown	137	137	137	137
415	Penn. R. R.	58⅞	59	58⅝	58⅞
50	Penn. S. Mfg.	101	101	101	101
894	Phil. Electric.	27¾	27½	27	27½
5	Phil. R. Tran.	16¾	16¾	16¼	16¼
3,048	P. R. T. t. c.	16¾	16¾	15⅝	15⅝
12	Phil. Traction	76	76	76	76
1,690	Reading	79⅝	81¼	79⅝	80⅝
600	Ton. Belmont	3⅞	3⅞	3⅞	3⅞
205	Ton. Mining	5⅝	5⅝	5⅝	5⅝
455	Union Traction	43¼	43¼	43	43
800	U. G. Imp	86⅜	86½	86	86
3,096	U. S. Steel	86⅛	86⅜	85½	85½
335	Warr. I. & S.	10⅝	10⅝	10½	10⅝
15	West. Coal	60½	60½	60½	60½
10	York Rys	8⅝	8⅝	8⅝	8⅝

BONDS.

$5,000	Elec. & P. 4s	76½	78	76¼	78
2,000	Inter. Rys. 4s	59¼	59¼	59¼	58½
1,000	Leh. V. gen. 4s	89	89	89	89
63,000	P. R. R. gen. 4½s	98⅛	98⅛	98⅛	98⅛
3,000	P. R. R. con. 4½s, 1948	98½	98½	98½	98½
21,000	P. R. R. con. 4½s	104	104	104	104
1,000	Phil. Elec. 4s	79¾	79¾	79¾	79¾
38,000	Read. gen. 4s	93½	94	93½	94

CHICAGO.

STOCKS.

Sales.		Open.	High.	Low.	Last.
25	Booth. Fish. pf.	75	75	75	75
402	Chi. Pneu. T.	86¼	86¾	86	86
123	Chi. Rys. Ser. 2	17⅛	17⅛	17⅛	17⅛
210	Com. Edison	138	138	138	138
96	Diam'd Match	102¼	102¼	102¼	102¾
25	K. City Ry. L.	25⅞	25⅞	25⅞	25⅞
50	Lindsay Light	5	5	5	5
15	Mont. Ward pf.	112	112	112	112
305	Midvale Steel	95⅞	96	95⅝	95⅝
5	Nat. Carbon	160	160	160	160
37	People's Gas	119½	119½	119½	119½
8	Public Service	99	99	99	99
45	Quaker Oats	290	290	290	290
165	Sears Roeb'k	157¼	157¼	157	157
664	Stewart Warn	76	76	75	75½
10	Swift & Co	118¾	118¾	118¾	118¾
597

J. K. Rice, Jr. & Co. Will Buy

200 Aeolian Weber P. & P. Com.
100 American Brass
100 Bucyrus Co. Com.
25 Babcock & Wilcox
23 Conn. Ry. & Ltg. Com.
50 Celluloid Co.
200 Eastern Steel Com.
50 Eastern Steel 1st Pfd.
50 E. W. Bliss Com.
25 Fidelity Phenix Insurance
50 Franklin Fire Insurance
50 Gas Eng. Pr.—Chas. L. Seabury
100 Gray National Telautograph
50 H. W. Johns-Manville Com. & Pfd.
25 Home Insurance
200 Ingersoll-Rand Com.
50 Jos. Dixon Crucible
25 Jas. Butler Pfd.
100 Kelly Springfield Com.
100 Milliken Bros. Pfd.
100 New York Shipbuilding
50 Niles-Bement-Pond Com.
25 Phelps Dodge & Co.
100 Richmond Radiator Pfd.
25 Safety Car Htg. & Ltg.
25 Scovill Manufacturing
100 Tenn. Ry. & Light & Pr. Com.
200 Ward Baking Com.
25 Yale & Towne Mfg.

J. K. Rice, Jr. & Co. Will Sell

100 American Brass
200 Aeolian Weber P. & P. Com.
25 Arizona Power
100 Appalachian Power Pfd.
50 Babcock & Wilcox
50 Eastern Steel Com.
50 Empire Steel & Iron Com. & Pfd.
100 Eastern Penn. Ry. Com.
125 E. W. Bliss Com.
30 Federal Sugar Com.
100 Fifth National Bank
100 Gulf States Steel 1st Pfd.
25 German American Insurance
10 Harriman National Bank
25 Midvale Steel (Old)
100 Milliken Bros. Com. & Pfd.
50 New Jersey Zinc
100 New York Shipbuilding
25 National Park Bank
25 Prairie Pipe Line
50 Remington Typewriter 1st Pfd.
5 Sen Sen Chiclet 6s
50 Safety Car Htg. & Ltg.
50 Scovill Manufacturing
30 Thompson-Starrett Com.
25 Victor Talking Machine
10 Virginian Ry. Com.
10 Winchester Repeating Arms

J.K.Rice,Jr.&Co.
Phones 4001 to 4010 John. 36 Wall St., N. Y.

War Time Opportunities

Lima Locomotive

Descriptive Circular T-2 sent on request

Slattery & Co.
SPECIALISTS
40 Exchange Place New York
Telephone 4861 Broad.

We Deal in

American Brass
Babcock & Wilcox
Niles-Bement-Pond
Standard Screw
Scovill Mfg.

GWYNNE BROS.
25 Broad St., N. Y. Phone 3232 Broad

We Have Orders in

Am. Graphophone
Am. Sumatra Tob.
Niles-Bement-Pd.
Locomobile Co.
Standard Oil Cloth

DAWSON & LYON
40 Wall St., N. Y. Tel. 5441 John

BUY—SELL

MIDWEST REFINING CO.
HOUSTON OIL COMPANY
PORT LOBOS PETROLEUM
AM. SUMATRA TOBACCO
KENNECOTT COPPER CORP.
DU PONT POWDER CO.
COMMON STOCK

CARL H. PFORZHEIMER & CO.
Dealers in Standard Oil Securities.
Phones 4860-1-2-3-4 Broad. 25 BROAD ST., N. Y.

Hale & Kilburn
Bought—Sold—Quoted
Hoit & McWilliam
Phone 4744 Broad. 25 Broad St., N. Y.

New York Shipbuilding
J.K.Rice, Jr. & Co.
Phones 4001 to 4010 John. 36 Wall St., N. Y.

Dayton Power & Light Com. & Pfd.
American Gas & Electric Pfd.
Cities Service Com.
Adirondack Elec. Power Com.
American Power & Lt. Com. & Pfd.
Central States Electric Com.

FREDERIC H. HATCH & CO.
Phone Broad 5140. 30 Broad St., New York.
Private telephone to Boston and Philadelphia.

OUTSIDE SECURITIES

Prices Are Generally Lower on Moderate Trading in the Curb Market.

Transactions in the outside security market yesterday amounted to 337,244 shares of stock and $100,000 of bonds.

The sales of stocks were divided as follows: Industrials, 184,849; oil, 4,425, and mining, 147,970. The range of prices of all issues in which transactions were recorded was:

INDUSTRIALS.

Sales.		Open.	High.	Low.	Last.
2,040	Am.-Brit. Mfg. Co.	40	*42	33	38
5,000	Am. Zinc	67¼	68⅞	67¼	68⅞
150	Beth. Steel, w.i.	75	75	70	75
600	‡Can. Car & F.	100	109	106	107
800	‡Carbon Steel	134	134	125	128
2,000	‡Car, Lt. & P.	9⅜	9⅝	9	9¼
500	‡Cent. Foundry	17	17	16	16
400	‡Cent. Pdy. pf.	33¾	33¾	33	33
2,220	‡Chev. Motor Car Co., w.	112	128	119	121
2,600	Cosden Ref.	6⅞	7	6⅞	7
100	Cramp Ship	87½	87½	87½	87½
1,150	Driggs-Seab'y.	140	142	138	140
210	Emerson Phon.	11⅝	12	11⅝	12
327	Guan. Sugar	*70	*70	68	69
2,630	‡Hall Signal	34½	36	34½	36
350	‡Hall Signal pf	55	55	53	55
3,500	‡Hendee Mfg.	41	41	36	36½
740	‡Hopkins & Allen Arms.	51	63	51	62
10,000	‡Int. Mer. M.	9¼	10⅜	9¼	10¼
15,000	‡Int. Mer. M. pf	40½	43	39	43
4,025	Int. Mer. M. Cent. Tr. ctfs.	40	43	30½	43
3,500	‡Inter. Motors	47	47	44	45
945	Katho. Sr. pf.	4⅝	*4½	4⅝	4½
335	Kelly Spgfld. T.	265	278	265	277
210	Keystone Ord.	10½	10⅝	10½	10⅝
1,000	‡Lake Tor. Boat	18½	19	17	17½
500	‡Lake Torpedo Boat 1st pf.	18½	18½	17½	17½
97	‡Manhat. High Power Marine	98⅜	98⅜	98⅜	98⅜
900	Marconi of Am.	4⅜	4⅜	4¼	4¼
500	‡Mex. Lead.	10	10	10	10
50,000	‡Midvale Steel	97	97½	94¾	94¾
600	‡MidwestRefin.	36½	36½	35	36½
100	N. Y. Transp.	16	16	16	16
2,200	Corp. of R. & H.	5⅞	5⅞	5¾	5⅝
100	Sherman Carb.	8	8	8	8
1,200	‡Std. Motors	12¼	12½	12	12½
7,000	‡St. Jo. Lead.	13½	14⅛	13⅜	14
5,100	Submarine Boat	45	45	42½	42⅝
500	‡Tob. Products	40	40	39	39
2,500	Triangle Film ctfs	7¼	7¼	6⅝	6⅝
3,000	U. Prof. Shar.	2½	2¾	2½	2⅝
40,000	‡U. S. Lt. & H.	6⅞	6⅞	5¾	5⅝
1,000	‡U. S. L. & H. pf.	*6½	6½	6¼	6¼
600	‡World Film	3⅞	4	3⅞	4

OIL ISSUES.

Sales.		High.	Low.	Last.	Net Ch'ge.
50	Ill. Pipe Line	153	150	153	+ 2
2,000	‡Inter. Pet.	10	9⅝	9⅞	— ⅛
610	Midwest Ref.	36	35	36	+ 1
80	Ohio Oil	157½	156½	156½	— ½
260	Pr. Pipe Line	220	217	218	— 1
13	S. O. of Ind.	460	450	460	+10
9	S. O. of N. J.	485	480	485	+ 7
43	S. O. of N. Y.	300	298	300	+ 1
360	Ventura Cons.	11⅛	11½	11	..
1,000	Victoria	1⅜	1¼	1⅝	+ ⅛

MINING STOCKS.

Sales.		Open.	High.	Low.	Last.
8,500	‡Alaska Juneau	12⅜	12⅜	11⅞	11⅞
300	‡‡Alta-Con. M.	22	22	21	21
1,400	‡‡Am. Com'l'r.	10	10	10	10
10,000	‡‡Atlanta	26½	26½	23½	26
200	‡‡Big Cot'w'd.	4	4	4	4
700	B. Ledge Dev.	3⅜	3⅜	3¼	3⅜
2,000	‡‡Booth	31	37	30½	30½
6,700	Braden Cop.	9⅛	9⅝	9⅛	9⅝
3,000	Butte C. & Z.	4⅝	4⅝	4¼	4¼
3,100	Anaconda Cop.	1	1⅛	1	1⅛
3,500	‡Caledonia	96	1	96	96
1,000	‡Cashbor	5½	5½	5½	5½
5,000	Cerro de Esaco Cop. Corp.	55	55	48¼	48¼
6,400	‡Chile Copper	23¾	23⅝	23¼	23¼
7,000	Con. Ariz. Sm.	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛
200	‡Con. Cop. M.	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜
1,500	‡‡Emma Cop.	28½	28½	27	28
1,070	First Nat. Cop.	5¼	5¼	4⅜	4⅞
2,200	Goldfield Con.	1⅜	1⅜	1⅛	1⅛
1,500	Jumbo Exten.	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛
6,000	Kennecott Cop.	54⅜	54½	53½	53½
2,000	‡‡Kewanas	35	36	34	34
650	Magma Cop.	14½	14½	14¼	14¼
200	‡Majestic M.	75	75	75	75
550	McK.-Darg'h.	30	30	29	29
500	‡‡Marsh Min.	31	31	31	31
300	Mines of Am.	2⅝	2⅝	2⅝	2⅝
21,000	‡‡Mother Lode	35	36	34	35
500	Nev. Hills	21	21	21	21
2,000	Nip. M. Co.	7	7	6¾	6¾
1,000	‡‡Oro	6	6	6	6
1,100	Ray H., w. i.	4½	4½	4¼	4¼
2,200	‡‡Rex Con. M.	46	46	46	46
1,000	‡‡Sand. Kend.	10	10	10	10
3,100	‡Sea. Toy	22	22	20	20
200	‡‡Silver Pick	10	10	10	10
1,930	Stan. S.-L.	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜
1,700	Stewart	⅛	⅛	⅛	⅛
31,300	‡‡xSuccess M.	75	75	70	71
4,500	‡Sup. M. Co.	24	25	23	24
400	Ton. Belmont	3⅜	3⅜	3⅜	3⅜
1,500	Ton. Exten.	2⅜	3	2⅜	2⅜
500	‡Tonopah Mer.	43	43	41	41
1,300	Tri-Bullion	⅛	⅛	⅛	⅛
1,300	‡W. E. Con.	62	67	62	64

BONDS.

$100,000 Ken. C. 6s. 169½ 170 169¼ 170

†Sells cents per share. xEx dividend. *Odd lot. ‡Unlisted.

***

Bid and asked quotations of issues not traded in compared with those of previous week:

INDUSTRIALS.

	Oct. 25. Bid.	Asked.	Oct. 23. Bid.	Asked.
Am.-Br. Mfg. Co. pf.	83	105	85	105
B.-A. Tob. Co., ord.	14	15	14	15
B.-A. T. Co., ord. b'r.	14	15	14	15
Can. Car. & Fdy. pf.	119	120	121	122
Can. Gen. Electric	124	127	124	127
Carbon Steel 1st pf.	78	82	76	82
Carbon Steel 2d pf.	85	95	85	95
Car'ge Fac., Can.	52	54	52	54
Dominion Steel	47¼	48½	46¾	47¾
Fisk Tire	122	125	122	125
Franco-Spanish Pet. (a prospect)	1	1¼	1	1¼
Int. Motors pf.	68	72	69	73
Kelly Sp'f'd Tire new 1st pf.	92	95	92	95
Mutual Pr. Sharing.	9	9⅝	9	9⅝
Pacific Gas & Elec.	53	55	53	55
Pyrene Mfg. Co.	16	16⅝	16	16⅝
M. Rumely, w. i.	23	26	23	26
Sherman Carbide pf.	8	15	8	15
Steel Co. of Canada	35	36	33	34
Sterling Gum	2⅛	2⅜	2⅛	2⅜
Ventura Cons. Oil	12	13½	12	12½
Wayland O. & Gas	3¾	4	3¾	4

OIL ISSUES.

	Bid.	Asked.	Bid.	Asked.
Anglo-American	16¾	17	16¼	17
Houston Oil	19⅝	19⅝	19⅝	19⅝
Pierce Oil	13	13½	13	13½

MINING STOCKS.

Arizona Duquesne	37	40	37	40
Butte & New York	2⅝	3	2⅜	3
Dia. Black Butte	5	6	5½	6½
Florence	44	47	43	48
Goldfield Merger	18	20	18½	19
Howe Sound	4⅛	4½	4⅛	4½
Iron Blossom	68	72	68	72
La Rose Cons.	⅞	⅞	⅞	⅞
McIntyre	52	53	52	53
New-Utah Bingham	2⅜	3	2⅞	3⅛
Pacific Smelters	⅞	⅞	⅞	⅞
Santa Fe Mining	4⅝	4¾	4⅝	4⅝
Stewart	⅞	⅞	⅞	⅞
Tuolumne Copper	⅞	⅞	⅞	⅞
White Knob Cop. pf.	1½	2	1½	2

BONDS.

Anglo-French 5s	97¾	98	97¾	98
Con. Arizona 5s	25	30	25	30
Inter. Mer. M. n. 5s	85	90	85	90
Pierce Oil	80	82	80	82
Western Pacific	33	34½	33	34½

***

MUNITIONS STOCKS.

	Yesterday. Bid.	Asked.	Saturday. Bid.	Asked.
Aetna Explosives	163	166	163	168
Aetna Explosives pf.	84	87	85	88
Atlas Powder	263	268	260	265
Atlas Powder pf.	95	99	95	99
Bliss (E. W.)	435	455	420	445
Bliss (E. W.) pf.	72	80	72	80
Canadian Explosives	390	415	400	415
Can. Explosives pf.	100	110	100	110
Colt's Arms	870	890	825	840
Du Pont Pow., new	445	450	448	455
Du Pont Powder pf.	100	102	100	102
Hercules Powder	434	440	435	440
Hercules Powder pf.	114	118	114	118
Midvale Steel	400	475	325	390
Niles-Bement-Pond	133	200	165	175
Niles-Bement-P. pf.	101	106	101	105
Savage Arms	390	405	390	405
Scovill Mfg. Co.	375	390	375	390
Winchester R. A.	2850	3000	2900	3000
Midvale Steel & Ord.	95	96¾	96	98

STOCK MARKET AVERAGES.

The average quotations of twenty-five leading railroad and twenty-five industrial issues yesterday, and of those two groups of stocks combined, with comparisons:

	High.	Low.	Last.	Ch'ge.
Railroads	78.81	77.70	78.34	+ .51
Industrials	108.99	106.38	107.52	— .50

COMBINED AVERAGE.

Oct. 18	90.90	89.45	90.62	+1.28
Oct. 19	91.32	90.10	90.36	— .26
Oct. 20	91.92	90.33	91.24	+ .89
Oct. 21	93.55	90.98	91.93	+ .69
Oct. 22	94.13	91.91	92.84	+ .91
Oct. 23	93.79	92.09	92.92	+ .08
Oct. 25	93.09	92.04	92.93	+ .01

Range of Fifty Stocks.

	High.		Low.		Last.
*Oct., 1915	94.13	Oct. 22	92.93	Oct. 6	92.93
Oct., 1914	Exchange closed.
Oct., 1913	70.79	Oct. 2	66.20	Oct. 17	67.75
Oct., 1912	83.76	Oct. 4	81.47	Oct. 30	82.90
Oct., 1911	75.33	Oct. 16	72.01	Oct. 4	73.85
*Year, 1915	94.13	Oct. 22	68.90	Feb. 24	92.15
Year, 1914	75.70	Jan. 31	57.47	July 30	60.20
Year, 1913	79.10	Jan. 2	63.09	Feb. 1	68.04
Year, 1912	85.32	Sep. 30	75.24	Feb. 1	78.30
Year, 1911	84.41	Jun. 24	69.67	Sep. 25	77.00

*To date.

$2,750,000 GOLD ARRIVES.

Assay Office Overwhelmed by Shipments of Foreign Coin.

The Assay Office received $2,750,000 in English coin yesterday, $2,500,000 coming on the St. Paul from London Sunday and the balance being sent by a Canadian bank. It was assumed that the larger part was one of many small consignments to be sent here in the next few weeks by Great Britain to pay for purchases in this country.

The Assay Office has notified J. P. Morgan & Co. and other banking firms interested in the gold movement that heavy shipments cannot be handled for some time. The foreign coin has to be smelted and molded into bars, and the task has overtaxed the resources of the Government institution. The $25,000,000 shipment which was to come here from Ottawa this week will be split up into smaller parts in order to facilitate the Assay Office's operations. Practically all the metal coming into the country has to be smelted at the New York plant, as transportation to other Government institutions would be too expensive to the shipper of the gold.

RAILROAD EARNINGS.

The railroads reporting so far for the second week of October show these aggregate changes in gross earnings, those showing gains and those showing losses being stated separately:

Twenty roads	$12,896,387	+$1,601,091
Six roads	790,948	— 53,541
Total (26 roads)	13,597,335	+ 1,547,550

Miscellaneous Earnings.

AMERICAN SHIPBUILDING COMPANY for the year ended June 30—

	1915.	1914.	1913.
Net earnings	$173,770	$712,061	$849,874
Dep int., &c.	170,365	432,797	243,400
Balance	3,406	279,304	606,474
Pf. dividends	.....	276,500	553,000
Surplus	5,406	2,804	53,474

NEWPORT NEWS AND HAMPTON RAILWAY, GAS AND ELECTRIC for September—

	1915.	1914.	Increase.
Gross	88,472	71,082	17,390
Net after taxes	40,218	29,082	11,136
Total income	40,749	29,558	11,191
Surp. aft. chgs.	26,699	10,304	10,395
9 mos. gross	680,048	620,111	59,937
Net after taxes	273,837	228,454	45,383
Total income	276,420	222,879	43,541
Surp. aft. chgs.	99,990	60,559	39,431

TWIN CITY RAPID TRANSIT for September—

	1915.	1914.	1913.
Gross	816,124	803,486	787,890
Net	313,535	331,983	400,540
Surp. aft. chgs.	181,903	205,391	256,428
9 mos. gross	6,996,426	6,936,339	6,588,762
Net	2,465,034	2,620,539	3,232,544
Surp. aft. chgs.	1,272,300	1,453,828	1,909,698

SHORT TERM NOTES.

Government Issues.

Security.	Rate.	Due.	Bid.	Ask.	Yield.
Anglo-French 5		Oct., 1920	97½	98	5.45
Argen. Gov't.	6	Dec., 1915	100¼	100⅝	2.00
Argen. Gov't.	6	Dec., 1916	101	101½	4.60
Argen. Gov't.	6	Dec., 1917	101	101¾	5.35
Argen. Gov't.	6	May, 1920	99	99⅜	6.20
City of Mont.	5	Dec., 1917	99	99½	5.15
City of Q'bec	5	Apr., 1920	98½	99⅝	5.20
Dom. of Can.	5	Aug., 1916	100¼	100¼	4.60
Dom. of Can.	5	Oct., 1917	100	100⅛	4.80
French Gov't.	5	Apr., 1916	99	99¼	6.75
German Gov't.	5	Jan., 1916	99½	100	5.00
Italian Gov't.	6	Oct., 1916	99½	100	6.00
Norway Gov't.	6	Oct., 1916	100	100½	5.45
Norway Gov't.	6	Oct., 1917	100	100½	5.70
Swedish Gov.	6	Dec., 1916	98¾	99¼	6.70
Swiss Gov't.	5	Mar., 1916	99⅜	100	5.00
Swiss Gov't.	5	Mar., 1918	96¼	96⅞	6.45
Swiss Gov't.	5	Mar., 1920	95½	96	6.15

Company Issues.

Ala. Power	6	Feb., 1918	100	101	5.60
Am. Cot. Oil	5	Nov., 1917	100¾	101	4.45
Am. Loco. Co.	5	July, 1916	100⅛	101¼	3.00
A. T. & T. sub.	5	Apr., 1916	100⅝	101½	2.75
Ana. Cop.	5	Mar., 1917	100¾	101⅛	4.10
Balt. & Ohio.	4½	June, 1917	100¼	100⅜	4.40
Balt. & Ohio.	4½	June, 1918	100	100⅛	4.45
B. R. T.	5	July, 1918	100	100⅛	4.95
Can. North'n	5	Sep., 1917	97⅝	98⅝	5.75
Can. Pacific.	6	Mar. 2, '24	102½	102⅝	5.60
Ches. & Ohio.	5	June, 1919	95¾	96	6.80
Chi. & W. I.	5	Sep., 1919	99	99⅜	5.30
Con. Pow. Co.	6	May 1, '17	99	100	6.00
Con. Gas, Bal.	5	May, 1917	99	100	5.00
C. P. R. & L.	6	June, 1916	100	101	5.50
Chi. El. Rys.	5	July, 1916	92	94	18.65
Erie R. R.	5	Apr., 1916	100¼	100⅝	3.75
Erie R. R.	5½	Apr., 1917	100¾	101	4.80
Er. Pr. & L.	5	1918	93	98½	6⅝
Gen. Rubber	5	Dec, 1918	100	100½	4.90
Gr. Rap. Ed.	5	May, 1916	100	100⅜	3.78
Gr. Rap. Ry.	5	June, 1916	100	100⅝	3.88
Hav. El. Ry.	6	Sept., 1916	99¾	100	6.00
Hock. Val.	5	Nov., 1917	100¼	100⅝	4.60
Int. Harv.	5	Feb. 15, '18	101	101⅛	4.85
Lack. Steel	6	Mar., 1917	100¾	101	5.35
L. S. & M. S.	5	Dec., 1915	100¼	100⅛	2.00
Louis. G. & E.	6	Apr., 1916	99¾	99⅞	6⅛
Mich. Ry.	6	June, 1916	100	100⅛	5.85
Minn. Gen. E.	6	June, 1917	100¾	101	5.50
Mont. T. & P.	6	Apr., 1917	95	97½	7.95
N. E. Nav.	6	May, 1917	97¾	97⅝	6.90
N.Y.N.H.&H.	5	May, 1916	100¾	100⅞	3.50
North. S. P.	6	June, 1917	99½	100	6.00
Penn. Co.	4½	June 15, '21	99¾	99¾	4.55
P. S. C., N. J.	5	Mar., 1916	100⅜	100½	2.85
Sea. Air Line	5	Mar., 1916	100¼	100⅞	2.85
Southern Ry.	5	Feb., 1916	100¼	100⅝	3.30
Southern Ry.	5	Mar., 1917	99⅝	99¾	5.05
Sulz. & Sons.	6	June, 1916	100⅜	101	4.40
U. S. Smelt.	5	June, 1918	98½	99¼	5.25
U. S. P. S. Co.	6	Apr., 1918	97½	99	6.40
Union Typew.	5	Jan. 15, '16	94	97	10.50
United Fruit.	6	May, 1917	101½	101⅝	4.75
United Fruit.	5	May, 1918	99½	99¾	5.10
Utah Co.	6	Apr., 1917	100	100⅜	5.55
West. E. & M.	5	Oct., 1917	101	101½	4.35
W. Penn. Tr.	6	Mar., 1917	97	100	6.00
W. S. G. & E.	6	Oct., 1917	98¾	99¼	6.55
W. Pr. Co.	6	Mar., 1917	98½	98¾	6.25
W. V. T. & E.	6	June, 1917	96	98	7¼

STANDARD OIL STOCKS.

	Yesterday. Bid.	Asked.	Saturday. Bid.	Asked.
Anglo-American	16¾	16¾	16½	17
Atlantic Refining	625	635	630	640
Borne-Scrymser	265	275	265	275
Buckeye Pipe Line	110	112	110	112
Chesebrough Mfg	710	730	710	730
Colonial Oil	135	145	135	145
Continental Oil	250	255	250	255
Crescent Pipe Line	44	47	44	47
Cumberland Pipe Line	62	65	62	65
Eureka Pipe Line	250	260	250	260
Galena S. Oil	158	162	159	162
Galena S. Oil pf.	135	140	135	140
Illinois Pipe Line	150	153	150	153
Indiana Pipe Line	110	*114	110	*114
Int. Pet. Co., Ltd.	9⅜	10¼	9⅜	10¼
National Transit	31	33	31	33
N. Y. Transit	220	225	220	225
Northern Pipe Line	105	108	103	108
Ohio Oil	156	158	156	158
Penn.-Mex. Fuel Co.	58	60	58	60
Prairie Oil & Gas	408	413	403	408
Prairie Pipe Line	215	218	215	220
Solar Refining	285	295	285	295
Southern Pipe Line	230	235	230	235
South. Penn. Oil	335	340	336	340
South. West. Penn.	125	130	125	130
Standard Oil of Cal.	314	317	312	315
Standard Oil of Ind.	460	465	435	465
Standard Oil of Kan.	430	440	430	440
Standard Oil of Ky.	325	330	325	335
Standard Oil of Neb.	345	350	345	355
Standard Oil of N. J.	480	483	477	480
Standard Oil of N. Y.	199	201	199	201
Standard Oil of Ohio.	505	515	505	515
Swan & Finch	125	135	125	135
Union Tank	84	86	84	86
Vacuum Oil	219	221	217	220
Washington Oil	43	47	43	48

*Ex dividend.

PUBLIC UTILITY SECURITIES.

	Bid.	Asked.
American Gas Co.	116	120
†American Light & Traction	340	345
†American Light & Traction pf.	107	109
Adirondack Electric Power	14	16
Adirondack Electric Power pf.	53	59
*American Gas & Electric	103	105
*American Gas & Electric pf.	48	50
American Power & Light	59	62
American Power & Light pf.	73½	80
American Public Utilities	30	35
American Public Utilities pf.	64	67
American Waterworks & Electric	6	7½
Am. W. W. & E. participating pf.	13	16
American W. W. & E., 1st pf.	50	56
Atlantic P. & Lt. 7 p. c. cum. pf.	92	95
Cities Service	56	60
Cities Service pf.	62	65
Colorado Power	22	25
Colorado Power pf.	93	97
Commonwealth P., R. & L.	55	57
Commonwealth P., R. & L. pf.	81	83
Consumers Power Co. 5s, 1929	90¾	91¾
Consumers Power (Mich.) pf.	90	94
Dayton Power & Light	40	45
Dayton Power & Light pf.	80	93
Denver Gas & Electric gen. 5s	92	95
Electric Bond Deposit pf.	60	70
Electric Bond & Share pf.	98½	100
Empire District Electric 5s	76	80
Empire District Electric pf.	65	..
Federal Light & Traction	10	14
Federal Light & Traction pf.	50	70
Gas & Electric Securities	60	70
Gas & Electric Securities pf.	60	75
Great Western Power Co. 5s, 1946	81½	83
Lincoln Gas & Electric	10	20
Northern Ontario Light & Power	10	15
Northern Ontario Light & P. pf.	50	55
Northern States Power	29½	30½
Northern States Power pf.	88	88
Ozark Power & Water	15	25
Pacific Gas & Electric	54	55
Pacific Gas & Electric pf.	87½	89
Republic Ry. & Light Co.	14	16
Republic Ry. & Light Co. pf.	61	64
Southern California Edison	76	79
Southern California Edison pf.	92	96
*Standard Gas & Electric	5½	6½
*Standard Gas & Electric pf.	27	28
Tennessee Ry., Light & Power	7	8
Tennessee Ry., Light & Power pf.	28	32
United Light & Railways	38	42
United Light & Rys. 1st pf.	67	70
Utah Securities	14½	15½
Western Power	17	19
Western Power pf.	50	53

*Par value $50. †Ex dividend.

FRANCE TO PAY ITS NOTES.

To Redeem $10,000,000 Issue Sold to Bankers Here a Year Ago.

The French Government has notified the National City Bank that the $10,000,000 of one-year 5 per cent. notes placed here at 99¾ will be paid at maturity on Nov. 4. It was said that no new loan had been offered to take up the notes, and that it was not known whether or not the proceeds to pay the maturing notes would be supplied out of France's share of the money paid in by subscribers to the $500,000,000 loan.

These notes constitute the first borrowing done in this country by any of the belligerents. The loan was arranged as a credit transaction, and no public offering of the issue was ever made, partly owing to the popular feeling a year ago against war loans. Since that time the Bank of France has arranged for

SOUTHERN PACIFIC IS HURT BY AUTOS

Two-fifths of $8,600,000 Loss in Operating Revenue Due to Passenger Traffic.

ROAD EARNS 7.3% ON STOCK

Panama Canal Diverts Business, but Chairman Kruttschnitt Sees a Brighter Future.

The Southern Pacific Company for the year ended June 30, one of the most trying years in its history, made a respectable showing compared with some other trunk lines in successfully combating the general business depression and the disorganization of business due to the shifting of trade to the Panama Canal. The railway earned 7.3 per cent. on its $272,672,405 capital stock, compared with 7.5 per cent. in 1914 and 12.98 per cent. in the banner year of 1910. The net income in revenue for the year was $687,-598. This shrinkage was more than offset by the increase in net earnings in any one of the three months that have passed since the last fiscal year ended.

A feature of the voluminous report issued yesterday is that the Southern Pacific did not have a single fatality among passengers in train wrecks during the year. It is even more remarkable that there was only one fatality in the last seven years among passengers. During these seven years the Southern Pacific carried 282,719,444 passengers, approximately one for each dollar of capital stock in the road. These passengers were carried 373,233,119 locomotive miles for an average of 42.61 miles each, corresponding to 12,045,555,744 passengers being carried one mile. In the last year, moreover, only six employes out of 8,664 trainmen lost their lives in train accidents, compared with forty in 1912. Out of 38,853 employes engaged in pursuits not involving train movements fifteen lost their lives, an average of one fatality to every 810,300 days worked, or 2,200 years worked.

Mexico Lines Pay Expenses.

According to the report, the revolutions in Mexico, since the beginning of the Madero uprising in 1910, have cost the Southern Pacific Railroad Company of Mexico about $1,500,000 in property loss. Full claims will not be filed until a recognized Government is set up. Additional claims will be made for losses on freight service performed. Despite the troube in Mexico, the Southern Pacific's line across the border more than paid expenses.

In his general remarks to the stockholders Julius Kruttschnitt, Chairman of the Board of Directors, says:

"Since the opening of the Panama Canal, Aug. 13, 1914, competition has been intensified, and the gross revenue of the lines of this company has been considerably reduced by a large increase in the number, capacity, and sailings of steamships between Atlantic and Pacific ports, which, by a material reduction of rates, have taken a substantial volume of freight that was formerly shipped over transcontinental railroads.

"The business depression prevailing throughout the United States was aggravated on our lines by the outbreak of the European war. Some of the copper mines served by them were closed down and others were operated to about half normal capacity, which reduction of activity resulted in a large shrinkage of earnings from products of the mines and from the fuel consumed in their operation. The construction of new buildings was retarded and railroad construction and development almost entirely abandoned, these conditions causing a material decrease in revenue derived from lumber and other construction material. There was, moreover, a widely distributed decrease of earnings upon general merchandise and miscellaneous traffic.

Plan to Meet Canal Competition.

"These unfavorable conditions, and consequent general retrenchment in expenditures, have also affected both business and pleasure travel and have brought about a large reduction in passenger and related earnings, the former amounting to 41 per cent. of the total reduction of $8,604,585 in operating revenues. This reduction has been increased by serious inroads made upon local railroad travel by automobile competition, which the improvement of highways has encouraged and rapidly developed.

"While these losses were offset to some extent by Exposition travel, the increased earnings derived from that source before the close of the year were not sufficient to affect materially the general results. Earnings from express business increased under a new and more favorable contract with the express company. The net decrease in operating revenues of the company was equivalent to 6.25 per cent., which is less than the average percentage of reduction in earnings of large railroad systems reporting to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

"A readjustment of rates is now being made which is expected to check the diversion of traffic to the canal steamship lines; a normal condition of the mining industry has been restored; and, as has been previously stated, passenger earnings since the beginning of the new fiscal year have been substantially increased by Exposition travel. The prospect of better earnings during the coming fiscal year is encouraging, but the extent and permanence of the improvement will depend upon the return of general confidence in the business world, the absence of which, without doubt, has been the most potent influence that has held back revival of business and investment in new enterprises."

Texas & Pacific Earnings.

The Texas & Pacific Railway Company, a Gould property, reports for the year ended June 30 total operating revenue of $17,944,637, a decline from 1914 of $868,644. Net income from all sources amounted to $996,826, a falling off of $450,020.

Weather in Cotton and Grain States.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Forecast:

N. Car.—Fair Tues., warmer in e. Wed., fair, cooler in interior; gentle to moderate e. winds, becoming variable Wed.

S. Car.—Fair Tues. Wed. fair, cooler in w.; gentle to moderate e. winds, becoming variable Wed.

Ga.—Fair Tues. Wed., fair, cooler in n. and cen.; gentle to moderate shifting winds.

Fla.—Fair Tues., preceded by showers in extreme s. Wed., fair; moderate e. winds.

Ala.—Fair Tues., cooler at night in n. Wed., fair; gentle shifting winds.

Miss.—Fair Tues., cooler in n. and w. and at night in s. e. Wed., fair; gentle shifting winds, becoming n.

La.—Fair Tues. and Wed.; gentle to moderate n. to n. e. winds.

East. Texas—Fair Tues., cooler in interior; Wed., fair; gentle to moderate e. to n. e. winds.

West. Texas—Fair Tues., cooler in s. e.; Wed., fair.

Okla. and Ark.—Fair, cooler Tues.; Wed., fair.

Tenn.—Fair Tues., cooler in w. and at night in e.; Wed., fair.

Ky.—Fair, cooler Tues.; Wed., fair.

Ohio—Fair and colder Tues.; Wed., fair; fresh to strong w. winds.

Ind.—Fair, cooler Tues.; Wed., fair; moderate westerly winds, becoming variable Wed.

Lower Mich.—Cloudy and colder Tues.; fresh to strong w. winds; Wed., fair.

Upper Mich.—Rain or snow and colder Tues., with strong w. winds; Wed., fair.

Ill.—Fair Tues. and Wed., cooler in e. Tues.

Mo.—Fair Tues. and Wed.

Wis.—Fair Tues. and Wed., colder Tues.

Minn.—Fair Tues. and Wed., colder in s. e. Tues., warmer Wed.

Iowa—Fair Tues. and Wed., warmer Wed.

N. Dak.—Fair Tues. and Wed., with slowly rising temperature.

S. Dak.—Fair Tues. and Wed., warmer Wed.

Neb. and Kan.—Fair Tues. and Wed.

BANKRUPTCY NOTICES.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT, SO. Dist. of N. Y.—No. 22,856.—In Bankruptcy.—ISAAC J. COHN, Bankrupt.

Creditors of said Isaac J. Cohn are hereby given notice that on October 23rd, 1915, he was duly adjudicated bankrupt. The first meeting of creditors will be held at my office, No. 82 Beaver Street, New York City, November 8th, 1915, at 10:30 A. M. Creditors may prove claims, appoint a Trustee, examine the bankrupt, and transact such other business as may come before the meeting.

Dated New York October 25th, 1915.

WILLIAM H. WILLIS,
Referee in Bankruptcy.

THEFTS OF IMPORTS.

Supposed to be Taken Before Reaching Appraiser's Stores.

As a result of many complaints from importers that goods are missing from packages after their examination by the customs authorities at the Federal Public Stores, Appraiser Sague is conducting a searching investigation for the purpose of running down the thieves. According to merchants, cases are found short of laces, gloves, and a great variety of other merchandise, including liquors of different kinds.

The Appraiser designated Assistant Appraiser Schlamm of the Second division to look into the complaints. Mr. Schlamm is understood to have reached the conclusion that a great many of the thefts are committed before the merchandise reaches the Appraiser's Stores for the customary examination. The officials seem to think the packages are tampered with on the steamship piers, aboard ship or before being loaded at foreign ports.

While Collector Malone maintains watchmen day and night on the piers here, they have been unable to catch the thieves. Importers are said to hold the Appraiser's office responsible for most of the thefts. As the Government assumes no financial responsibility while merchandise is in the custody of the customs men, all losses through theft are total. By some process of reasoning the Government officials at the stores have reached the conclusion that visitors and employes in the building need watching. As a result, lawyers with bags containing legal papers and persons generally carrying parcels out of the building are required to submit to a burdensome pass and labeling system every time anything is taken in or out of the stores.

COTTON GINNING FALLS OFF.

Report of Progress Up to Oct. 18 Shows 5,713,347 Bales.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—The third cotton ginning report of the season, compiled from reports of Census Bureau correspondents and agents throughout the cotton belt, and issued today, announced that 5,713,347 bales of cotton, counting round as half bales, of the growth of 1915 have been ginned prior to Oct. 18. This compared with 7,619,747 bales ginned prior to Oct. 18 last year, 6,973,518 bales in 1913, and 6,874,206 bales in 1912.

Included in the ginnings were 54,422 round bales, compared with 15,239 last year, 49,030 in 1913, and 41,745 in 1912. Sea Island cotton included, numbered 40,237 bales, compared with 30,078 bales to Oct. 18 last year, 31,139 in 1913, and 15,960 bales in 1912.

Ginnings prior to October, by States, with comparisons for the last three years and the percentage of the entire crop ginned in those States prior to that date in the same years, follow:

Alabama.		North Carolina.
Year.	Bales	Year.	Bales.
1915	556,272	1915	264,695
1914	816,295	1914	301,108
1913	739,586	1913	356,449
1912	391,954	1912	356,226
Arkansas.		Oklahoma.
1915	281,190	1915	65,985
1914	379,203	1914	451,440
1913	322,181	1913	391,258
1912	300,351	1912	398,345
Florida.		South Carolina.
1915	32,162	1915	351,078
1914	43,213	1914	393,444
1913	35,856	1913	619,720
1912	23,575	1912	540,319
Georgia.		Tennessee.
1915	1,178,398	1915	79,247
1914	1,367,916	1914	102,177
1913	1,206,911	1913	131,933
1912	703,143	1912	66,719
Louisiana.		Texas.
1915	223,804	1915	2,007,211
1914	225,274	1914	2,715,772
1913	164,634	1913	2,451,279
1912	204,127	1912	2,229,631
Mississippi.		All Other States.
1915	1,335	1915	20,657
1914	474,788	1914	30,930
1913	435,013	1913	32,464
1912	367,130	1912	23,696

The next ginning report will be issued Nov. 8, and will show the quantity of cotton ginned prior to Nov. 1.

NEW INCORPORATIONS.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 25.—Fifty-four corporations, with aggregate capital stocks of $647,900 were chartered today. They include:

The Klahn Instrument Co., inventions, devices, compasses, marine instruments, $100,000; M. H. Nason, W. H. Cook, E. Klahn, Whippany, N. J.

Mack & Levy, Millbrook, cotton, other fabrics, $100,000; M. J. Mack, A. Hainburg, M. B. Levy, 137 West 38th St.

Glanda Textile Co., Hornell, textile fabrics, products, supplies, $50,000; J. Carty, F. R. Series, A. R. Palmer, 46 Cedar St.

Cortland Munitions Co., Cortland, fire-arms, ordnance, munitions, supplies, $50,000; C. O. Moore, H. M. Glenn, C. P. Seymour, Cortland.

Motor Appurtenances Corpn., accessories for motors, aeroplanes, autos, $25,000; T. M. Daly, E. T. Vanderpol, G. Frits, 428 Curtis Av., Richmond Hill.

Public Service Film Co., motion pictures, theatrical, $25,000; A. L. Jones, W. McBride, J. Leblang, 501 West 110th St.

A. Sartorius & Co., artists' materials, chemicals, paints, glassware, brushes, metal, $25,000; C. MacDonald, A. D. and F. Neuschaefer, 57 Murray St.

Goodger and Milow Shoe Co., Rochester, $25,000; R. L. Milow, M. Quinn, and W. C. Goodger, Rochester.

New American Confectionary Co., confectionery, $10,000; I. Friedman, R. and S. August, 1093 East 165th St.

The Brown-Delaney Publishing Co., Niagara Falls, magazines, newspapers, $12,000; M. T. Delaney, A. E. Lloyd, H. H. Brown, Niagara Falls.

Evans Addressing Machine Co., Buffalo, stencils, cabinets, filing systems, $20,000; G. J. Evans, E. G., and C. J. Hamlin, Snyder.

Cohen & Polowan, women's apparel, $10,000; J. K. J. and L. Cohen, A. Polowan, 795 March Av. Brooklyn.

Malvin Lichter, Inc., printing, engraving, stationery, $10,000; S. Lersh, L. Schafran, M. Lichter, 249 West 112th St.

Hopes Combustion Engineering Corporation, Manhattan, furnaces, boilers, $10,000; E. Hopes, Canova; N. M. and C. W. Hopes, Glens Falls.

United States Mail Order House, $10,000; N. Schoenbaum, D. M. Lambert, D. A. Tickin, 248 Broadway.

Attibonite Trading Co., Manhattan, brokerage, agents, merchandise, realty, construction, $10,000; T. Simmons, Jr., J. L. Hachtmann, J. Fraenckel, Gonaives, Republic of Haiti.

Eastbourne Mfg. Co., ladies' garments, $10,000; F. C. Rose S. C. Rose, S. Randel, E. A. Weiss, 405 East 7th St., Brooklyn.

J. L. Wegenaar Co., monuments, mausoleums, marbles, bronze, $10,000; W. E. Brown, M. E. and J. L. Wegenaar, 1,026 East 20th St., Brooklyn.

The John Day Tailoring Co., $10,000; A. E. Ellenbogen, Stanford Greenleaf, E. F. Roessell, 966 3d Av.

Collapsible Form Hanger Corporation, hangers for garments, fixtures, $10,000; A. A. Kotzen, C. H. Heatley, W. A. Haughton, 15 West 112th St.

Comestible Products Co., food products, condimenta, dyestuffs, chemical compounds, $10,000; J. R. Foley, W. A. Smalley, G. H. Werner, 1,330 Teller Av.

Joseph Szabo Co., cabinetmaking, woodworking, $5,000; G. Czinke Czerene and Joseph Szabo, 229 East 72d St.

College Holding Co., realty, construction, $10,000; M. D. Morrison, H. Cohen, M. E. Levine, 320 Broadway.

Cullen Contracting Co., Port Washington, building materials, construction, $5,000; F. F. Gallagher, E. Maury, J. H. Cullen, Jr., 1 B'way.

Pearlman-Friedheim Bookbinding Co., $5,000; Dorothy Spero, Y. Friedheim, M. Pearlman, 1,016 Simpson St., Bronx.

M. H. Lewis & Son, millinery supplies, $5,000; P., L. and M. H. Lewis, 235 East 57th St.

Davis Automobile Co., Binghamton, motor livery, $5,000; H. C. Walker, C. and J. Davis, Binghamton.

Royal Motorists Supply Co., Rochester, machines, engines, appliances, garage, $5,000; H. F. Barnes, C. X. U. Wright, W. S. McKane, Rochester.

54th St. and 14th Av. Co., Brooklyn, realty, construction, $5,000; P., M. M. and S. Frank, 250 Decatur St., Brooklyn.

The Essbee Waist and Dress Co., ladies' apparel, $5,000; F. Hyman and B. Shulsky, Hollis.

Apisdorf Co., wearing apparel, $5,000; R., B. and Lawrence Apisdorf, 200 East 79th St.

Ehrenberg Brass Mfg. Co., $5,000; D. Spiegelman, A. Farber, A. Kalish, 2,327 Cretona Av., Bronx.

Simon Zinn, Inc., New Rochelle, metal novelties, compounds, alloys, machinery, $5,000; R. H. Stern, A. S. and M. Zinn, 140 West 79th St.

Wiener Holding Corp'n, realty, construction, $5,000; M. Heller, J. and S. Wiener, 35 East 12th St.

Capital Increases: Sheepshead Bay Speedway Corp'n, Manhattan, $2,500,000 to $3,000,000; Belgrave Realty Co., New York, $20,000 to $100,000; Oceanview Associates, St. George, $50,000 to $100,000; John Murphy Umbrella Co., New York, $10,000 to $30,000; Beauty Waists, New York, $10,000 to $15,000; Warehouse Mercantile Co., New York, $500 to $25,000.

Capital Decrease: Reusch & Schwartz Co., New York, $400,000 to $200,000.

FINANCIAL NOTES.

The Old Colony Trust Company of Boston is distributing a booklet in celebration of its twenty-fifth anniversary. The booklet states that the first day the doors were opened in 1890 there were two depositors, both officers of the company. There are more than 30,000 depositors now, with deposits in excess of $100,000,000.

Hornblower & Weeks announce that certificates for stock of the Chevrolet Motor Company will be ready for issue on Wednesday.

It was announced yesterday that Granville Kane of Tuxedo, N. Y., and A. M. Anderson, manager of the bond department of J. P. Morgan & Co., had been elected Directors of the Erie Railroad.

The Joint Reorganization Committee of the International Steam Pump Company announced yesterday that 95 per cent. of the common stockholders had paid the assessment of $12.50 a share. The assessment on the preferred stock amounts to $13.42 a share, and payment of the first installment is asked before Nov. 17.

Zimmerman & Forshay are offering the new 5 per cent. Imperial German Government loan at a price to yield 8 per cent. At the offering price there is a profit in the exchange transaction of more than 10 per cent. of the face value of the bonds.

COMMODITIES MARKETS

PROVISIONS.

The market for hog products was steady early in the day owing to firmness in the hog position, but developed an easier tone under renewed selling through commission houses. Receipts of hogs at Chicago were 18,000; estimated for Tuesday, 12,000. Kansas City received 3,000 and Omaha 7,000.

CHICAGO PRICES.

	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. Close.	Last Year.
Lard—
October	8.77	8.77	8.77	8.85	10.60
January	9.02	8.95	8.97	9.00	9.92
Ribs—
October	....	....	9.37	9.37	10.70
January	8.92	8.85	8.87	8.90	9.82
Pork—
October	....	....	13.35	13.35	18.87
January	16.85	16.02	16.15	16.35	19.27

COTTONSEED OIL.

The cottonseed oil market was steady early in the day, with scattered buying on the census ginning report on cotton. Longs took this opportunity to sell heavily, however, and prices gradually gave way, and at the close were weak, with net losses of 12@14 points. Range of prices:

	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. Close.
Spot	....	....	7.70@8.25	7.90
October	7.95	7.95	7.70@8.05	7.90
November	7.97	7.88	7.80@7.85	8.01
December	7.97	7.75	7.75@7.78	7.98
January	7.95	7.76	7.75@7.77	7.97
February	7.88	7.88	7.87@7.88	8.03
March	8.03	7.95	7.93@7.95	8.08
May	8.18	8.05	8.04@8.06	8.16

CORN.

The corn market was moderately active, and prices were firmer, in sympathy with the advance in wheat and on strength abroad, closing with net gains of 1¼ to 1¾c. High freight rates from the Argentine to the United Kingdom are apparently checking business, and this was expected to bring about a more active foreign demand for the new American crop. The visible supply showed a decrease of 855 000 bushels. In the local cash market No 2 yellow corn was quoted at 75½c, prompt shipment.

CHICAGO PRICES.

	High.	Low.	Close	Close.	Prev. Year.	Last Year.
October	63¼	62¼	....	62¾	....
December	54¼	56⅞	58⅝	57⅛	68¼
May	59⅝	58⅛	59⅝	58⅞	71⅛

SUGAR.

Futures opened dull and inactive, 1 to 7 points lower, with sales on the call 100 tons. The weakness shown in the spot market was reflected in trading on the Exchange. A little trade buying at the close sent prices up 6 few points, but the volume of business was small. The market closed net unchanged to a decline of 5 points. Sales, 500 tons.

Range of prices:

	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. Close.
October	....	....	3.18@3.20	3.10
November	3.18	3.18	3.18@3.20	3.12
December	3.13	3.08	3.12@3.14	3.12
January	..	..	3.05@3.07	3.03
February	..	..	2.98@3.00	2.95
March	..	..	3.00@3.03	2.96
April	..	..	3.04@3.05	3.01
May	3.05	3.05	3.08@3.10	3.06
June	..	..	3.12@3.13	3.09
July	..	..	3.17@3.18	3.13
August	..	..	3.19@3.21	3.16
September	..	..	3.20@3.23	3.20

OATS.

The oats market was steadier, closing with net gains of ⅛c. Offers from the Northwest continued fairly liberal and receipts were large, but the visible supply showed an increase of only 93,000 bushels, compared with an increase of 657,000 last year. The local cash market was firm; No. 3 white quoted at 41@41½c; No. 4 white, 40@40½c; ordinary to fancy clipped, 40@44c, all elevator.

CHICAGO PRICES.

	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. Close.	Last Year.
December	58½	58¼	59⅝	58¾	50½
May	39¾	38¾	39¾	38⅞	33¼

COFFEE.

The coffee market was fairly steady at the outset, with moderate buying of the late months for outside account. Trade interests, as well as longs, were active sellers at times and prices developed an easier tone, and at the close of the day were 6 to 10 points net lower. Total sales were 20,500 bags. In the local spot market there was a fair volume of business, and prices were steady on the basis of 7¾c for Rio No. 7. Range of prices:

	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. Close.
October	....	....	6.39@6.42	6.45
November	....	....	6.39@6.42	6.45
December	6.52	6.52	6.43@6.44	6.49
January	6.44	6.44	6.44@6.45	6.52
February	....	....	6.47@6.49	6.55
March	6.57	6.51	6.50@6.51	6.58
April	....	....	6.53@6.56	6.63
May	6.68	6.60	6.60@6.61	6.68
June	....	....	6.65@6.66	6.71
July	6.80	6.71	6.70@6.71	6.78
August	....	....	6.75@6.76	6.83
September	....	....	6.80@6.81	6.88

WHEAT.

Receipts of wheat at Western points over Sunday were again heavy, and early in the day the market showed a decline of ½ to ⅝c, making a new low record for the movement, but heavy covering developed during the day, and prices advanced sharply, closing with net gains of 2⅞ to 3⅜c. The visible supply showed an increase of only 1,725,000 bushels, notwithstanding last week's heavy receipts, and it was apparent that the distribution for domestic consumption and for export had been larger than anticipated. In the local cash market No. 1 Durum wheat was quoted at $1.12, free on board New York; No. 1 Northern Duluth, $1.03¾, and No. 1 Northern, Manitoba, $1.04½, cost, insurance, and freight, Buffalo.

NEW YORK PRICES.

	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. Last
December	....	....	$1.03⅝	$1.06 $1.24

CHICAGO PRICES.

	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. Last
December	$1.01⅝	97	1.01¾	97¾ 1.15⅝
May	1.03⅜	$1.00	1.03⅜	1.00½ 1.20¾

BUTTER AND EGG MARKET.

BUTTER.—Receipts yesterday, 4,981 packages. Increasing firmness on the higher grades of fresh creamery, but no quotable change as yet. Secondary qualities steady to firm. Renovated well sustained. Ladies quiet and prices unchanged. Packing stock firm. Creamery, extras, (92 score,) 28½c; higher scoring, 29@29½c; firsts, 27¼@28¼c; seconds, 24½@27c; thirds, 23@24c; State dairy, finest, 28@28½c; good to prime, 26@27½c; common to fair, 23@25½c; renovated, extras, 24½@25c; firsts, 23½@24c; lower grades, 22@23c; imitation creamery, firsts, 23@24c; ladies, current make, firsts, 22@22½c; seconds, 21@21½c; lower grades, 19¼@20¼c; packing stock, June make, fine, 21c; current make, fine, 20¼@21c; No. 2, 20c; lower grades, 18@19¼c.

EGGS.—Receipts yesterday, 5,890 cases. Arrivals continue light, and there is a decided shortage of very high qualities of fresh gathered stock. The demand, however, is limited. Some holders are asking higher prices, but we hear of very few sales of candled and graded western above 35c, and the great bulk of supply is offering at lower and very irregular prices. There has been some reduction in the accumulations, and the market shows a slightly hardening tendency, but the demand for average offerings is only moderate. Storage eggs quiet, and there is some increase in the pressure to sell on the part of Western owners. Nearby white eggs very scarce and uniformly new laid qualities here. Jobbers wanted at former prices; undergrades irregular. Fresh gathered, extras, per dozen, 36@37c; extra firsts, 34@35c; firsts, 29@33c; seconds, 26@28c; thirds and poorer, 24@24c; dirties, No. 1, 21½@22½c; No. 2, poorer, 15@21c; checks, good to choice, dry, 20@21c; culls and inferior, 15@19c; refrigerator, special marks, fancy, 26c; firsts, 24½@25½c; seconds, 23@24c; thirds or poorer, 20@22½c; State, Penn., and nearby, henners whites, fine to fancy, 52@55c; ordinary to good, 35@50c; gathered whites, as to size and quality, 35@52c; Western, gathered whites, 33@40c; State, Penn., and nearby, henners browns, 38@40c; gathered brown and mixed colors, 28@37c; nearby, refrigerator whites, 27@30c.

Pacific Mails.

Postmaster Morgan announces that mails of the following dates—Melbourne, Sept. 29; Sydney, Sept. 30; Wellington, Oct. 4, and Auckland, Oct. 5—which arrived per steamer Makura, were dispatched east from Seattle on Oct. 22, and are due in New York on the morning of Wednesday, Oct. 27.

BUSINESS TROUBLES.

CHARLES ROTHMAN, jobber in cotton and woolen goods at 87 Eldridge Street, has made an assignment to Leopold Freiman. A petition in bankruptcy was also filed against him by these creditors: Karl Epstein, $773; Louis Adler, $229, and David D. Glans, $108. Liabilities are $3,000 and assets $2,000. He began business on March 1, 1910.

MAX SCHPIRO, dealer in gloves and corsets at 2,304 Seventh Avenue, has made an assignment to Isidor J. Greenberg. A petition in bankruptcy was also filed against him by these creditors: Louis Eisenblatt, $439; Jack Goodman, $45, and Joseph Seltzer. Liabilities are $2,000 and assets $500.

HIRSCH PETERFREUND, A petition in bankruptcy has been filed against Hirsch Peterfreund, diamond broker of 5 East 117th Street, by these creditors: Adolph Elsen, $228; Max Kammengeisser, $841, and Lippman Ginsberg, $301. Liabilities are $5,000 and assets are said to be $200.

Bankruptcy Schedules.

D. HIGNER & BROTHER, fur manufacturers at 12 East Thirty-second Street, have filed schedules showing liabilities of $8,038 and assets of $549.

LEONARDO DITANO, grocer of 310 East 112th Street, has filed schedules showing liabilities of $2,157 and assets of $260.

Assignments.

CARUSA FEATHER CO., manufacturers of ostrich feathers at 515 Broadway, has made an assignment to H. Louis Jacobson. The company was incorporated on July 1, 1912, with capital stock of $52,000. Max Moser is President.

MAX RAPPORT, dealer in cloaks and suits under the name of The Style Shop, has made an assignment to Charles Kremer.

JENNIE B. WINDERMAN, dealer in women's apparel at 135 Delancey Street, has made an assignment to Louis Weingarten.

Discharges from Bankruptcy.

Judge A. N. Hand has granted discharges to these bankrupts:

Jacobson & Friedman, brokers of securities, 111 Broadway, liabilities, $37,567; Max Schapira, clerk, 900 Rogers Place, liabilities, $25,000, mostly in Leipsic for furs; Nathan Ressler, grocer, 2,045 First Avenue, liabilities, $23,4-8; Henry M. Grotta, druggist, 1,392 Broadway, liabilities, $18,858; Herman Chertck, dry goods, Pawling, N. Y.; Herman Katz, men's furnishing goods, 1,570 Bathgate Avenue; Benjamin Sol, millinery, 391 Grand Street; James W. Kurtz, bookkeeper, 421 West Fifty-seventh Street; Max Bnokenstein, men's furnishings, 33 Canal Street; Charles Wertheimer, salesman, 310 East Nineteth Street; John X. Simon, 570 Teasdale Place, the Bronx; William Z. Rholes, laborer, Marlborough, N. Y.; Abraham Schwartz, 254 West 112th Street, dealer in merchandise on the instalment plan, and Morris Landau, as Landau Knitting Mills, 339 East Ninety-third Street.

Out of Town.

Special to The New York Times.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Oct. 25.—Joseph Bloomberg, barrel and cooperage, of this city has filed a petition in bankruptcy. He owes $18,760 to about thirty creditors, the principal of whom is William J. Dunn, $6,000, for individual notes, secured by mortgages on realty. There are no assets.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 25.—William Kamin, dentist; voluntary petition in bankruptcy. Liabilities, $61,842; assets, none.

JUDGMENTS.

The following judgments were filed yesterday, the first name being that of the debtor.

In New York County.

Ashton, Wm. J.—J. Stafford.....$5,957.14
Arnoldi, Henry K.—M. Neuman, costs..107.88
Appelbaum, Julius—I. Klatzkie.....452.85
Boyce, Myron J.—F. W. McGurk.....236.67
Brembas, Geo. N. and Thomas N.—
H. Fisher.....172.46
Baratie, Albert A.—S. L. Halstead.....224.26
Baumann, C. Ludwig—E. Stein.....600.42
Bacalatra, Giovanni—People, &c.....280.00
Beatty, James J.—L. Brodek.....253.46
Barth, Tyrone—E. W. Taber.....537.57
Cohen, Meyer—I. Watsky.....119.65
Carnegie Construction Co.—B. Altman & Co.....394.84
Campbell, Harry R.—Bemis Realty Corporation.....105.67
Cutler, Leive—L. B. Boudin et al.....139.91
Cowan, Rubey—C. C. Sichel.....222.91
Chamberlain, Mary S.—City of N. Y.....449.00
Same—N. Y. Edison Co.....114.98
Same—Empire City Subway Co., Ltd..117.38
Dykes, Francis, Forsythe Wicks, and Louis H. Friedman—G. Kelly.....5,390.18
Eckerson, Wm. C.—C. R. Bingham.....207.01
Evans, Wm. A. trustee—Rubber Goods Mfg. Co., costs.....159.69
Epstein, Max—D. Price.....139.91
Freeman, Jacob—I. Shapiro.....109.97
Finster, James B.—S. Dombrowska.....231.65
Graban, Hans E.—C. Lublin.....116.91
Gallaher, Joseph E.—W. J. Loughlin..3,482.90
Green, Daniel — Acme Metal Decorating Co., Inc.....365.82
Gabrielle Construction Co., John G. Kahaly, and John G. Kahaly, Jr.—A. Tonnell.....498.07
Germaise, Joseph, and Louis Keyman—Rembrandt Realty Co.....501.71
Hansen, Christian—J. McNeill.....113.56
House, John A.—H. M. Berger.....474.76
Ives, Dwight S.—Crescent Athletic Club of Brooklyn.....102.09
Illinois Surety Co.—White Rats Actors' Union of America, Inc.....948.02
Jordan Hotel Co.—J. Esterman.....321.01
King, James—Reid Ice Cream Co.....321.01
Kuhn, Jacob M.—Arrowsmith.....259.51
Kaeck, Rouert A.—A. M. Kaeck, costs..113.25
Lowe Publishing Co.—Electric City Engraving Co.....106.41
Levy, Charles—Lucille et al.....261.04
Maas, Frank W.—A. H. Claudet.....114.95
Merrell, John—Humphrey Co.....198.04
Mitchell, Patrick J., and John J. McDermott—W. H. Caldwell.....271.74
Linde, Jose—E. Kirsten.....1,000.38
Morrison, Daniel—Hannis Distilling Co..218.71
Meyerowits, Morris—N. Levin.....112.28
Mery, Frank—Hennessy Realty Co.....239.41
Meil, Max—H. E Fox.....283.91
Meltzner, Samuel—I. Rosenberg.....114.98
Muhlenberg Coal Co., Inc.—R. Frederico..320.25
M. Grohs Sons, Inc.—M. Farrell et al.....215.41
Napier, Thomas—W. H. Rogers.....307.52
Nelson, Oscar—Saver Corp of N. Y., Madison Building Co.....384.63
Putnam Hooker Co.—Tilton & Keeler..3,140.46
Peck Slip Fish Co.—W. V. Kane.....1,321.73
Reinstein, William—M. Cronman.....113.05
Rubin, Max—B. Werdenschlag.....185.05
Remington & Sherman Co.—City of N. Y., costs.....106.85
Rink, Henry—M. Kranpa.....1,340.08
Revell, Marion—D. J. Crowley.....750.00
Stonebridge Sales Co., Inc.—W. H. Black et al.....131.41
Schoen, Louis—F. W. Stock & Sons..115.16
Stevens, Wm. A.—Chemical Realty Co..197.46
Schweiger, Stretchen, or Margaret Schweorer—Henry F. Dabelstein & Sons, Inc.....120.98
Second Avenue Taxi and Touring Car Co.—G. Katz.....1,304.78
Shannon, Michael J. and Wm. J. Donnahan—S. J. Silverman.....172.87
Sanders, Simon—Schwegler Realty Co..347.40
Scandinavian Home Ass'n—A. Kahn..153.35
Stecker, Henry C.—Huron Cigar Co., costs.....196.52
Same—Same.....821.45
Siegel, Morris, and Sam Wasserman—S. Rubin.....281.31
Spencott Construction Co.—Colonial Mantel and Refrigerator Co.....251.91
Two Hundred and Fourth St. Corp.—Waters, John L.—Packard Acme Renting Service Co.....189.16
Young, Loda M.—E. W. Dunstan Co...100.40
Zupnick, Sam, and Rose Neuman—People, &c.....200.00
Eig, Abe—J. F. Mason.....138.84
Elson, Rebecca—B. Aimis.....125.00
Hoppenfeld, David, and Adolph Liebling—N. Y. Telephone Co.....23.97
Joseph Vielberth Co.—Burnet Co.....810.13
Kantor Bros., Inc., and Julius Kantor—R. Goldstein.....243.56
Levy, Charles—A. Bataille et al.....281.04
Rand, Adams & Rand—.....146.90
Reed, Charles S., and George Hildebrecht—C. S. Baeder.....11,521.55
Strauss, William L.—C. F. Janovsky et al.....240.22
Straus, Hugo, and Rose—A. Bechmann..34.72
Steger, Charles—M. Wexler et al.....332.03
Wenigmann Construction Co. and Ernest Wenigmann—J. M. Dollinger et al....5,468.20
William Buhl, Inc., and William Buhl—Germania Bank of the City of N. Y.....537.50
Same—Same.....539.05

SATISFIED JUDGMENTS.

The first name is that of the debtor, the second that of the creditor, and date that when judgment was filed:

In New York County.

Bloom, Nathan—Arthur Walker & Co., Inc., Oct. 14, 1915.....$904.48
Dillon, William H., and Nathaniel B. Bean—A. R. Haeuser Co., Dec. 11, 1914.....149.46
Friedman, David—Saks & Co., Aug. 12, 1915.....117.98
Hamm, Henry—J. Dean, Oct. 4, 1909..122.56
Mercadante, Joseph—Androvette & Townsend, Dec. 26, 1913.....2,190.33
Quinn, Lillian L.—N. Doyle et al., July 3, 1913.....2,235.62
Schleiff, Max, and Samuel Grundweig—People Co-operative Property Co., Sept. 22, 1915.....320.08
Same—Same, Sept. 22, 1915.....610.06
Ward, Patrick—J. W. McLean, March 18, 1914.....265.84
Winchel, George C.—H. S. Ketcham, Sept. 22, 1915.....393.70
McLoughlin, James G.—J. S. Sullivan, Sept. 17, 1915, (vacated).....2,089.78

In Bronx County.

Glasserow, Samuel N.—City Real Estate Improvemen. Corp'n, Feb. 8, 1915.....98.00
Sharp, David—J. R. Rafter, July 29, 1915.....56.25

Transpacific Mails.

These mails close at 6:30 P. M.

Japan, Korea, and China, (via Seattle)—Tamba Maru.....Oct. 26
Hawaii, (via San Francisco)—Matsonia.....Oct. 29
Guam and Philippine Islands (via San Francisco)—U. S. Transport....Oct. 31
Hawaii

DECISIONS AND CALENDARS

CASES WILL BE CALLED IN THE ORDER GIVEN BELOW.
(C) This character means versus or against.

FEDERAL.

Supreme Court.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Joseph Fried and William M. M. Speer of New York City, and Maurice Malcolm Moors of Boston were admitted to practice.

446—Central Trust Co. of Ills. v. George Leedens & Co.—Dismissed for want of jurisdiction.

805—E. Ceglow and S. Zarikoew v. B. H. Unt, Acting Commr. of Immigration at New York.—Reversed, with cost, cause remanded.

230—M. Cereceda v. U. S.; 880—R. Lancaster v. J. W. Thacker; 549—W. Wallbrecht, Sr., v. E. N. Ingram; 18—The Long-Bell Lbr. Co. v. W. Moses; 155—First National Bank of Belle Fourche, S. D., v. A. O. Eberhart; and 253—J. Espiral v. State of Louisiana.—Dismissed for want of jurisdiction.

644—L. L. Weber v. F. S. Freed.—Motion to advance granted, cause assigned for Nov. 29.

850—Northern Pac. R. R. Co. v. R. P. Wall.—Ordered on summary docket and assigned for Nov. 29.

871—State of Washn. ex rel. Gray's Harbor Logging Co. v. Superior Court of Washington.—Further consideration of motion to dismiss or affirm postponed to hearing on merits.

867—U. S. ex rel. the State of Louisiana v. A. Boarman.—Petition for writ of certiorari granted.

512—W. F. Jimmerson v. U. S. ex rel. Fall City Constrn. Co.

641—Vandalia R. R. Co. v. U. S.;

933—National Bank of Commerce of St. Louis v. B. B. Allen;

685—E. W. Mudge v. Black, Sheridan & Wilson et al.;

669—M. L. Bettman v. U. S.; and 671—S. Colburn v. U. S.—Certiorari petitions denied.

30 and 109—J. F. Cubbins v. Mississippi River Commission.—Passed.

825—United States v. Jin Fuey Moy.—Motion to advance submitted.

228—City of Cincinnati v. Cincinnati & Hamilton Traction Company.—Motion to advance submitted for appellant, and for appellees in opposition thereto.

62—M. B. Tyson Smead v. Georgia Southern & Florida Railway Co.—Certiorari petition submitted.

364—M. J. Bray v. United States Fidelity & Guaranty Co., and 397—M. Eichel v. same.—Motions to dismiss or affirm submitted for appellee, and for appellants in No. 354 in opposition thereto.

397.—L. Eichel v. same.—Motion to hear this case with No. 354 submitted for appellee, and for appellants in opposition thereto.

545—A. C. Brady v. M. E. Kern, and 675—L. C. Parker v. B. Parker.—Certiorari petitions submitted.

26—Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Co. v. J. F. Devine.—Motion to dismiss or affirm or place on summary docket submitted for defendant and plaintiff in opposition thereto.

618—C. M. Stratton v. W. B. Stratton.—Motion to dismiss or affirm or place on summary docket submitted for defendant, and for plaintiff in opposition thereto.

36—J. B. Greenlees v. F. L. Morris.—Submitted.

37—C. P. Bowditch v. The Jackson Company et al., and 455—Gardiner Investment Company v. same.—Argument continued.

25—The Pennsylvania Railroad Co. v. Bowman Shaft Coal Company, and 26—Seaman Coal Mining Co. v. same.—Reargument commenced.

28—P. Wagner, Inc., v. O. Leser et al., Judges, &c., et al.—Argument commenced for plaintiff.

Adjourned until tomorrow.

Call for Oct. 26: Nos. 28, 29, 33, 34, 35, 37, 38, 40, 41, (and 224 and 242,) and 42.

Southern District.

DISTRICT COURT—Learned Hand, J.—Room 337, P. O. Bldg., at 10:30 A. M. Jury calendar.

Wagner<Penn RR. Barrett<Clausen. — Schwartzman<B T Babbit.

DISTRICT COURT—Hazel, J.—Room 1, 12th floor, Woolworth Bldg., at 10:30 A. M. Equity.

Case on—Universal Film Mfg. Co. et al. v. Corp'n<Morris Plan Co. of N. Y.

No day calendar.

DISTRICT COURT—Hand, J.—Room 3, Woolworth Bldg., 12th floor, at 10:30 A.M. Admiralty:

Owners Tug Roselle, (Limitation) — D. & W RR<C RR of N. J. &c.

DISTRICT COURT—Mayer, J.—Room 227, P. O. Bldg., at 10:30 A. M. Jury calendar.

US<360 Bags of Shell Peanuts. — Colucci<Penn RR.

Barbagallo<Penn RR. Mott<Inter Mer Mar. Gleason<Thaw. Meares<D, L & W RR. — Dzinba<Cent RR of N. J. Dickerson<Penn RR. Trambreuski<Erie RR US<Israel. Glickman<Gilman.

Eastern District.

DISTRICT COURT—Veeder, J.—At 10:30 A. M., in Room 312, P. O. Bldg.

Criminal calendar: US<Van De Sand. Same<John Oltman. Contempt calendar: Yonaitis<Jamison. — Giamzo<Marresford. Klein et al<Blair et al (2.)

DISTRICT COURT—Chatfield, J.—At 10:30 A. M., in Room 323.

Sperlin<Holbrook, Cabot & Rollins Corp.

STATE.

Court of Appeals.

DAY CALENDAR.

Re Wilson. (2.) — Kimball<James, as Mayor.

Re Domsche, (Wilson) — Ramapo Mfg<Mapes.

Bradley Con Co<Sussman. — Bodle<Ill Surety Co.

Rowe<Hendricks, — Paul Co<Athens Hotel.

NEW YORK COUNTY.

Supreme Court.

APPELLATE DIVISION—First Department—Recess.

APPELLATE TERM—First Department—Recess.

SPECIAL TERMS—Part I.—Philbin, J.—Litigated motions.

Henry<Tully. — Johns<Met Art Assn.

Young<Buffalo Volksfreund Print Co. — Sobel<Sobel.

Nassau Assets Collecting Co<Popper. — People ex rel Martorana<St. Benedict Mut. Aid Society.

Re Rosenberg Bros. (Morrison.) — Israel<Alvino.

Pinell<Levy. — Forman<Forman.

Guarnaso<Watterson. — Cooke<Cooke.

Halpern<Funk. — Norton<Univ Film Mfg Co.

Kanzer<Osman. — Re Goldschmidt.

Levy<Levy. — Gray<Hebert.

Gunkel<Pine Hill Coal Co. — Keeler<Freeman.

Doherty<Smith. — Tucker<Texicali.

Francke<Francke. — Mut Life Ins Co<Doelger.

Volafutta<Westcott Sales Co. — Burak<Korn.

Nimis<Carolina Box & Lumber Co. — Prochaska<Prochaska.

Piciacco<People Co Operative Co. — Sloane<O'Neill.

Plafker<Silberman Dairy Co — Stith<Term Rty Co.

CNY<47th St Rty Corp — Curley<Emigrant Ind Sav Bk.

Southmayd<O'Farrell. — Gluck<Goldman.

Kechker<Frye. — Witteneberg<Notman.

Levin<Kurwitz. — Gilberg<Cohen.

Clacker<NY Co N Bk. — B S Barnard & Co, Inc<McIntyre.

Bendy<Robinson. — Fredericks<Taub, (2.)

Mueller<Stuyvesant. — Villemin<same.

Cowley<Goldstein. — Levy<Goldstein.

Rosenberg<Bronston Bros & Co. — Re Meyers.

Adams<Adams. — Buttle<Miller.

Corse<Chapman. — Greenberg<Am Sugar Ref Co.

Wiener<Oliver(Wiener<Oliver). — Moncrieff<Moncrieff.

Herman<Herman. — Brown<Brown.

Van Dyk<Friend. — Christ<Duffy.

PART II.—Erlanger, J.—At 10:30 A. M.—Ex parte business.

PART III.—Newburger, J.—At 10:15 A. M. Motions:

Calhoun<Little, Brown & Co. — Kinstler<Kinstler.

Shoenfeld<Hecht. — John<Ellis.

Emig Ind Sav Bk<Lawrence. — Mechthild<Berlin Laboratory, Ltd.

Jones<Jones. — Kirschenbaum<Kirschenbaum.

O'Farrell<Co Pac Co. — Flowers<Flowers.

Harris<Harris. — Peerless Paint Co<McClure Public'ns.

Rosenblum<Paige. — Pitolsky<Polonsky.

Norton<Pease. — Inter R T Co<CNY. Title Guar & Trust Co<Green.

Lewis<McCarthy. — Overlander<Holbrook, Cabot & R Co.

Abbe<Abbe Eng Co. — Ader<Stuetzer.

Pfeil<Hammond. — Rogers<Roger's.

Magyarics<Magyarics. — Giuliano<Giuliano.

Geary<Geary. — Maier<Maier (2).

Rose<Sanitary Wet Wash Laundry Co.

Rothschild<Rothschild. — Rothschild<Rothschild.

Star Co<Wheeler Syndicate, Inc. — Levy<Goldstein.

Carson<Carson. — Jones<Young.

Whiting<Whiting. — Brennan Eat<Dunn.

Ansonia Mfg Co<Potts Pines<Welch. — Trivers<Mark.

Cooley<Heinze. — Hoenig<Hoenig.

Gilroy<Straus Bldg & Realty Co. — Furman<Harshkowitz.

Schnurmacher<Schiffman. — Holden<Title G, &c, Co

Bruk Con Co<Lamberti Con Co. — Rose<White.

White<White Corp. — Eckford<Westley.

Strand Hotel<Markel. — Scandore<Scandore.

Epstein<Anglowitz. — Seccafico<Seccafico.

Weinberg<Weinberg. — Eckel<Eckel.

Taylor<Pitzer. — Masten Co<Hackar.

Stember<Stember. — Totten Film Co<Sawyer Film Corp.

Municipal Liens Co<Sturgis. — Stern<Warren & W.

Van Nort<Van Nort. — Paris<Paris.

Case on.

PART IV.—Greenbaum, J.—At 10:30 A. M. Case on.

PART V.—Giegerich, J.—At 10:30 A. M. Case on.

PART VI.—Hotchkiss, J.—At 10:30 A. M. Certiorari cases.

Ettinger<Purdy. — Bellas Hess & Co<same.

City Real Estate Co<Hall. — Fox<same.

Troy Realty<same (2). — Ingersoll<same.

Rafel<same. — Case on.

Norwood<Park<same.

PART VII.—Ford, J.—At 10:30 A. M.—Case on.

PART VIII.—Blanchard, J.—At 10:30 A. M. Case on.

TRIAL TERMS—Part II.—Weeks, J.—At 10:30 A. M.

Voegtlin<Shubert-Anderson Co. — Rush<Fields.

Sturm<Davis. — Mitchell Motor Co<Chandler.

Riley<Riley. — Schorack<London Guar &c Co.

Sherman Natl Bk<Basin (2.) — Snyder<Fisher.

W T Keogh Amus Co<Wm Fox Amus Co (2.) — Meyer<Sarom.

Same<Fox (2.) — Flora<Grossmith.

Mchts Nat Bk of J C<Sawyer. — 23d Ward Bank<La Spina Cut Stone Co.

Kress<Stevenson. — Livingston<Sinclair.

Schorack<London Guar &c Co. — Gabler<Bijur Bros.

Snyder<Fisher. — Case on.

PART III.—Pugro, J.—At 10:30 A. M.

Dunn<CNY. — Belogrodsky<Neuwirth.

Tangeman<same. — Newman<Herzfield.

Smith<Cunard SS Co. — Proctor<Proctor.

Pyres<CNY. — Armstrong<Mulcahy & Gibson.

Armstrong<Mulcahy & Gibson. — Levin<Harris.

Levin<Harris. — Hess<Int R T.

PART IV.—Delehanty, J.—At 10:30 A. M.

White<CNY. — Kelly<Workman's Educational, &c, Assn.

Reilly<C P Parker Co. — Eichel<Jefferson Leasing Co.

Glasser<C I & B R R. — Lantz<Sharpe.

Coben<Morgenstern. — Davis<Linden.

Magnanimo<Coast Coaling Co. — Thurston<Pittsburgh Coal Co.

Geschwind<Heydt. — Connolly<Bradley Cont Co.

Goldiarb<Wolffberg. — Florsheim<Cohen.

Gross<Smith. — Hirsh<Friedt.

Herk<E H RR. — Heldman<Oakley.

Fleitman, Jackson & Grossman Trust Co<Fleitman, Jackson & Grossman Trust Co. — Wagman<Bradley Cont Co.

Faber<CNY. — Morgan<Tiber Bldg Corp.

De Barberi<Borden's Condensed Milk Co. — Case on.

Ludvigh<Thurnauer. — Wehrlen<Kuy Scheerer.

Cohen<Engel.

PART V.—Donnelly, J.—At 10:30 A. M.

Wash Co. — Kalabya<Reilly.

Gendelman<E Riv Wet Wash Laundry Co. — Harlick<Postal Trans Ser.

Schesinger<C I & B RR. — Thorn<N Y Ry.

Fischer<Singerovitz. — Barnola<same.

Schlesinger<C I & B RR. — Holder<Corse.

Brooklyn RR. — Gerson<Fitzpatrick.

Williams<New Eng S S Co. — Hermanson<J Edwd Ogden Co.

Glynn<Roth. — Case on.

PART VI.—Davendorf, J.—At 10:30 A. M.

Woods<Yonkers L. &c. — Huhle<Varschleiser.

Buckley<Von Claussen — Abrams<Smith.

Cinquemani<Taylor. — Lewis<Huff.

Manglass<Pitts Cont. — Kuhre<Atlas Safe &c.

Benjamin<Verschleiser. — Christ<Duffy.

Case on.

PART VII.—Whittaker, J.—At 10:30 A. M.

Cullinane<Cons Gas. — Passel<Borden's Milk.

E Blumberg<Int R T. — Halmans<Int R T.

J Blumberg<same. — Kernan<Miller & Brisben Co.

Culley<CNY Rys. — Clear.

Leppanen<Irvel Rity Co.

PART VIII.—Pendleton, J.—At 10:30 A. M.

Eckstron<Yellow Taxi Cab. — Muslin<Fargo.

Weinstein<Singer Sew Mach Co. — McMurrough<3d Av RR.

Cornelius<Rieser. — Sullivan<Mad Sq Theatre Co.

Lake<Keller. — Stackor<Zaffe.

Leavitt<O'Rourke Eng & Const Co. — Steacor<Gibbs.

Johnston<Wave Imp & Const Co. — Wait, Jr<Shea.

Case on. — Bluemner<L'Ecluse.

PART IX.—Platzek, J.—At 10:30 A. M. Case on. Witnesses<CNY. — No day calendar.

PART X.—Adjourned for the term.

PART XI.—Adjourned for the term.

PART XII.—Adjourned for the term.

PART XIII.—Adjourned for the term.

PART XIV.—Finch, J.—At 10:30 A. M.

People's Surety Co<Mid-Part Con Co. — CNY<Bradley Cont.

CNY<NY Steam Co. — Smith Cont Co<CNY.

E D & J D Stein<Price. — N Y Assets Real Co<Thompson.

Posner<Kurzrok Bros Co. — Hoes<Stadler.

Shalek<Eppig. — Carlton Illustrators<Am Loco Co.

Fischer<Schram. — Farley<Schaefer.

Reich<Moody. — Case on.

Heath<Condon. — Muller<Cohen.

Lake<Pioneer P B Co. — Freehoff<Mears.

Moore<McDermott. — Powers<Henderson.

Fed Trust<Carberry. — Valentine<Martin.

Archer<Arnsdell. — Hall<Galban & Co.

Leavitt<Childs. — Payne<Waits Motor Vans & Stor Co.

Lykens<Hopkins. — Clear.

Ryan<Bailey.

Schloss<Hoffman Co.

PART XVI.—Lehman, J.—At 10:30 A. M.

Zulkin<Anis. — Hathaway<CNY.

La Fontenay<Hammerstein. — Hillyard<Brande.

Alexander & Co<Gelberg. — 42 St. &c, Ry<US Wood Preserv Co.

Hanna<De Paoli. — Hoffman<Hirsch.

John Kutsukian Co Prov<Wash Ins Co. — Clear.

PART XVII.—Gavegan, J.—At 10:30 A. M.

Case on—Dougherty<Southern Pacific Co. — No day calendar.

PART XVIII.—Goff, J.—At 10:30 A. M.

Inq—Matt J Ward Co<McNaughton. — Spraker<Pennock.

C A Smith Lum Co<Colonial Assur Co. — Rauchfuss<Van Schaick.

Sackloff<Burstein. — Van Den Berg<Guinness.

Merc Nat Bank<Fleitman. — McNeal<Sea Gate Assn.

Leopold<CNY. — Blumner<Waters.

Sturtevant<Fiss Doerr — Case on.

Surrogates' Court.

CHAMBERS—Cohalan, S.—At 10:30 A. M.—Motion calendar.

Abraham Schlesinger, Abraham Garside, Maria Gallo, Sabato Di Domenico, John J Conlon, Mary Ginty, Maggie McMahon, William Joshelowitz, John H Mehrtens, Andrew Ivanuishka, John H Fisher, Katie Walk, Marie Sutter, Louis Seube, Sarah Reed, Sadie Gogolick, Miina Bozinger, Frank O Creed, John Schnugg, Charles E Wilson, Jeremiah O'Sullivan, Margaret Coddington, Michael Palermo, Frank Zaccardo, Herman J Euler, Dunn Infants, John P Reid, Joseph Kaempfer, Winifred C Meng, Anna L Meng, Sadie Dooley, Curtis McK Holbrook, Agnes H McKnight, Joseph M Nugent, Viola Dingleman, Garrick L Mallery, Harry Spanier, Pina Spanier, Emanuel Spanier, Bernard Spanier, Reginald S Van Duzer, Mildred H Van Duzer, Timothy Summers, Charles Summers, Carl L Volckhausen, Robt G McGregor, Louise McGregor, Francis E McGuire, Maria T McGuire, Charles Seebald, Ralph W Hoyt, inf, Fuller Chenery, Tortorelli infants, Emelie Wolff, Melino infants, Gilbert S Coddington, Jacob H Leavenstine, Thomas B McKenna, Louis Tobias, Dora Corcoran, Collis P Huntington, Genevieve M Boswell, &c, infant; Isaac P Francis, &c., Henry Ungrich, Jr., Christian Knerr, Ali—— Anderson, infant; Clara D Harris, Henry Martens, Augustin Daly, William L Poore, Annie Saxton, Sophie Sulger, Samuel Groak, Robert Johnson, Gertrude V Kelley, Henry V Radford, Sigfried Steiner, George W Kemp, (2.) Matthew S Borden, Solomon Jacobs, Walter G Berg, Walter G Berg, Jr., Estates of, (issues of fact) Rachel Lorenz, Marguerita Hautau, Maurice M Mendham. Wills for probate: Nathan Silverstein, Richard V Henden, Rachel Dorman, Charlotte A McDonnell, William A Stiles, Laura M Nilson, John F Kennedy, Patrick Keogh.

TRIAL TERM—Fowler, S.—At 10:30 A. M. Estates of: Mack H Roth, Maurice B Mendham, Morris Ruskin.

City Court.

SPECIAL TERMS—Part I.—La Fetra, J.—At 10 A. M. Motions.

Re Naiman & Trubin, Douglas<Butler. — Hirsch Lumber Co<Sofianopoulo.

Wm Horne Co<Brown. — Tucker<Herman.

O'Neill<Adams Co<Klivert. — Ofrias<Sirotta.

Same<Lowy. — Hyman<Salomon.

Same<Chittick. — Tessler<Garfein.

Woodbury<Moore. — Stazzoni<Bradley Con.

Triandafler<Siratiotes. — E Lissberger Co<Lobsitz.

West Pub Co<Wood. — Le Monde<G F Johnson Co.

Crane<Sneckner. — Cohen<Hagler.

Ducimer<Kuchler. — Blau<Nehring Co.

Proctor<Stern. — Ursone<Cefola.

Newman<Mitchell. — Tomback & McPhee<Cefola.

Cohen<Sperling. — Sniffen<Borchardt.

Jones<Young. — Case on.

Brennan Eat<Dunn. — Morgan<Tiber Bldg Corp.

Trivers<Mark. — Case on.

PART II.—O'Dwyer, J.—Ex parte business.—At 10 A. M.

TRIAL TERMS—Part I.—Ransom, J.—At 9:45 A. M.

Lynch<Twist. — Parmet<De Passo.

Fein<Rodit's. — Miller<Glazer.

Ascher Det Agy<Drummond. — Ott<N Y Rys.

Spagnuolo<Liscarte. — Hushkowitz<Pioneer Novelty Co.

Internicola<Consol Tel & Elec Subw Co. — Tannenbaum<Wechsler.

Smith<Rosenheimer. — Hopkins<New Era Prod Co.

Sterrer<Fass. — Nussbaum<Weinstraub.

Yankiver<Marcus. — Ferrellitzky<Olman.

Cohen<Frankel. — Mullally<Moynihan.

Friedkorn<Kamilky. — Malbia<McCoy.

Timin<Yellow Taxicab Co. — Levenson<Goldfarb.

Kerrigan<H S Houpt Mfg Co. — Durot<Int R T Co.

Aetna Accident & Liability Co<Hooker. — Trager<Goldman.

Kasnur<L Bauer Co. — Nussbaum<Weinstraub.

Gillamee<NY & Q Co RR (2.) — Lazais<Holbrook, C & R Corp.

Dentists' Supply Co<Einsohn. — Kaplan<N Y Rys.

Harris<Morton. — Scheft<same.

P Armstrong Co<Mag M P Co. — Tuck<Levine.

Yaunsen<Krikawa. — Weber<Polanosky.

Brown<Gahlee Fish. — Casale<Gr East Cas.

McAnulla<Central Vermont RR. — Kimmel<Hamburger.

Freiday<Archdescon. — Gerrude V Kelley.

Blau<Pianoni. — Henry V Radford.

Stanchyk<N Y Rys. — Sigfried Steiner.

Myszlinik<Dock Cont. — Jones<Young.

Fowler<Carpenter Co. — Delosi<Gouse.

Klein<Horowketta. — Fellowes<Mulligan.

Fellowes<Mulligan. — Dowd<Int R T Co.

Case on.

The following cases will be called, but will be passed for the day as of course if counsel on either side so requests. Applications for adjournment for more than one day should be made by affidavit in strict compliance with the rules of the court:

Bumiel<Cohen. — Anderson<Morton.

Blonde<N Y Rys. — Glick<Rosenzweig. (2)

Meshurisman<same. — Wilkoseliez<Mason & Hanger Co.

List<N Y Rys. — Tryloninkc<Bradley C Co.

Edelman<same. — Chazinovitz<Gans.

Medvinsky<Linoh. — Mendham<Rosen.

Kilday<N Y Rys. — Flora<Grossmith.

McDermott<Guggenheim Lace Co. (2.) — Bledler<Davis.

Luparelli<Borden's C Milk Co. — Resnick<Baum. (2.)

Wolf<Ruppert. — Palefsky<Kroegler.

Forster<Whitcomb. — Rubenstein<N Y Rys.

Symons<Peis. — Brown<same.

Benarl<Fernbach. — Tatem<Hudson Trans Co.

Reid<Freitung. — Nicholas<Sterling Mfg Co.

Sandstrem<Lovering & Garrigues. — Geller<Bakrt.

Nelson<Nat Bridge W

SHORT CAUSE CALENDAR—Cases will be sent to Trial Term, Part II., for trial, if not reached in Part I. at 10 A. M.—Commercial calendar:

Gerchtruk<Irwin. — Clear.

Streyckmans<Kinstophoto Corp.

PART II.—Allen, J.—Clear.

PART III.—Smith, J.—Held in Brownstone Bldg. (Chambers St.) at 10 A. M.—Commercial calendar:

Times Sq Imp Co<Van Buren-N Y Bill Posting Co. — Rothstein<Int R T. Lowenstein<Smith.

Litwin<Blumenkron. — Flaks<Santini & Co.

Friedman<Hyman. — Rozdralinsky<Un Ry.

Lockhaven Tr & Safe Dep Co<Johnson. — Rath<Cavanaugh.

Same<Minck.

Sheinberg<Sternheil.

Goldman<Northwestern Nat Ins Co.

Weil<Jacobson.

Collingwood Rity Co<Stahlke.

McCurry<Gann.

Kraus<Cannanon.

Kohn<North British & Mercantile Ins Co.

Kohn<N J Fire Ins Co

Meyer<Blaustein.

Gabel House & Carton Co<Lionel Mfg Co.

PART IV.—Lynch, J.—Case on.

PART V.—Zeller, J.—Case on.

PART VI.—Finelite, J.—Clear.

PART VII.—Schmuck, J.—Case on.

PART VIII.—McAvoy, J.—Case on.

Referees Appointed.

SUPREME COURT—Erlanger, J.—Sara<3d Av. Bldg. Co.—Leo Leventritt. Equitable Surety Co.<Muller—Saul J. Barron.

SUPREME COURT—Philbin, J.—Wallace<Woolf (2)—Alexander & Rorke. Barber<Woolf—Harold V. Storey. Clergymen's Retiring Fund Soc'y P. E. Church<Hyams—Morgan J. O'Brien, Jr. Friedman Const. Co.<Dalley—Wm. C. Peckham. Faitoute Iron & Steel Co.<Tasker—Wm. C. Armstrong. Randolph<Thornton — Chas. W. Dayton.

SUPREME COURT—Newburger, J.—Field<Nagle—Sol. Korn.

Receivers Appointed.

SUPREME COURT—Erlanger, J.—Chas. H. Young<Amhie Lessen—John W. Keller. Samuel Robert<Cecilia Lazarus — Albert Sanders.

SUPREME COURT—Newburger, J.—Edward Brown<Otto W. Kritz—Edward Brown.

BRONX COUNTY.

Supreme Court.

CHAMBERS—Brady, J.—Ex parte business at 10 A. M.

SPECIAL TERM—Part I.—Brady, J.—Motion calendar.

Re Animal Relief Soc. Chebra Holche Zedek<McMahon. — Land & Lien Co<Fosume.

Payne Estate<Hunt's Point Estates. — Malden Lane Sav Bk<Frame.

Bernstein<Bernstein. — Bertin<Beringer.

SPECIAL TERM FOR TRIALS—Part I.—Brady, J.

Goldstein<Goldstein. — Horsch<Hersch.

Ginzberg<Ginzberg.

TRIAL TERM—Part I.—Brady, J.—No day calendar.

Surrogate's Court.

CHAMBERS—Schulz, S.—Ex parte business.

TRIAL TERM—Schulz, S.—No day calendar.

County Court.

CHAMBERS—Gibbs, J.—Ex parte business.

SPECIAL TERM FOR MOTIONS—Gibbs, J.

Hoffman<Ble. — Pollack<Union Ry.

TRIAL TERM—Nieman, J.

Tucker<Union Rway. — Rothstein<Int R T. Lowenstein<Smith.

Platzman & Shapiro<Brown. — Flaks<Santini & Co.

Canal<Union Ry. — Rozdralinsky<Un Ry.

Fine<Turek. — Rath<Cavanaugh.

Rubsam<Union Ry.

Referees Appointed.

SUPREME COURT—Brady, J. Bullinger<Streeter Com Co—Max Bendit. Hyson<Liberty Investing Co—Isidor Wells. Germania Life Ins Co<Newman Holding Co, (2)—John P. Dunn. City Real Estate Co<Pass—John F. Dunn.

KINGS COUNTY.

Supreme Court.

APPELLATE DIVISION—Second Department—Recess.

APPELLATE TERM—Second Department—Recess.

SPECIAL TERMS—Part I.—Kelly, J.—Motions.

Sifferlen<Sifferlen. — Mills<Mills.

Sullivan<Ollendorf. — Ormsby<Bell.

Lockwood<Lockwood. — Cohen<Leiter.

Teregina<Statler. — Kristopoppolos<Economy.

Re Fitts.

Wehle<Wehle. — Duffy<Holbrook, C & R Corp.

At 11 A. M.:

Pines<Hoye (Katz.) — Edelman<Huttner.

Schert<Schert. — Kissner<Lieberman.

Yoninas<Phila & Rdg C & I Co (2.) — Sullivan<Cox.

Pinson<Kancel. — Port Rich & B P F Co<No River Ferry Co.

J Dold Packg Co<Kings Co Refrig Co. — Abrams<Nelson.

Holland<Coyle. — Wulff<Kings-West Co, Inc.

O'Neill<O'Neill. — Zubriskas<Phila & Rdg C & I Co (2.)

Cooke<Maxwell. — Schaefer<Indian Refg. Co.

Home Title Ins Co<Catz.

PART II.—Callaghan, J.—Ex parte business at 10 A. M.

SPECIAL TERM FOR TRIALS—Part III., Benedict, J.; Part IV., Kapper, J.

Falk<Falk. — Schulz<Hauck Mfg Co.

Esler<Esler. — Case on.

Highest number reached on the regular call, 2506.

TRIAL TERM—Part I., Manning, J.; Part II., Kapper, J.; Part IV., Jaycox, J.; Part V., Maddox, J.; Part VI., Aspinall, J.; Part VII., Van Siclen, J.

Satterwaite<CNY. — Buck<CNY.

Heath<Steeplechase Park Co. — Herman<CNY.

Kessel<Kenny Co. — Cummings<Mauser.

Popik<Lehigh Coal & Nav Co. — Passano<Nassau RR.

Fink<B H R R. — Alberti<B H RR.

Rooney<Nassau RR. — Union Bank<Fleitmann.

Harvey<B H RR. — Callendo<same.

Meyer<Republic Rubber Co. — Schlers<B H RR.

Leonard<B H RR. — Henning<Foley, Jr.

Schmitt<German Evangelical Church. — Schumecher<Reilly.

Denenmark<Thomas. — Portello<Brice.

McAvoy<Benkowsky. — Russo<Tappella.

Tyrell<Wustl et al. — Barbanel<Engel.

Traub<CNY. — Capone<Law.

Colonial Mantel & Co<N Y Rys Co. — Kennedy<Rosenberg.

Smith<Peck. — Schissel<Agricola.

Coffey<McGreevy. — Ferraro<B H RR.

Dahlberg<CNY. — Rainly<same.

Annunziata<Tulin Co. — Nickerson<Riverdale Sanitarium Co.

The following causes, if marked ready, will be passed for the day. No cause will be set down for a day on this call.

Devoe<Streeter et al. — Lane<NY C & H R RR.

Burns<Interb Bwg Co. — Massaro<Pitts Con Co.

Hippel<B H RR et al. — Lupinacci<same.

Goebler<B H RR. — Sheehan<McKiniry.

Schanzer<same. — Turner<Busselle.

Adler<Nassau RR. — Benzinger<Pitts Con Co.

Quick<Sullivan. — Wiener<Epstein.

Elsen<Nassau RR. — Mottola<West St Ry.

Jacobson<B H RR. — Bates<Ellis.

Rouse<Heepe. — Highest number reached on regular call, 1896.

Giovanne<B H RR. — Cody<same.

Scheir<NY Consol RR. — Sealey<Reinhart.

Radsky<Douglas. — Scala<Garbarino.

Seaman<Nassau RR. — Goggin<B H RR.

Wright<Steeplechase Park Co. — Scott<Mullins.

Kean et al<Bennett. — Downing<Graves & Co.

Reid<Vogel-Miller Shoe Co. — Cavanaugh<Int R T.

Kline<Montauk Bank. — Akeson<Shewan & Sons.

Gill<Lee. — Highest number reached on regular call, 1790.

Surrogate's Court.

CHAMBERS—Ketcham, S.—Day calendar at 10 A. M.

Wills of:

Anna Venture, Walter E Smith, Patrick Hogan, James Appleton, Oliver C Shaw.

Accounting of:

Jeromemus Underhill, Ann J Eaton, Catherine Davis, Louis Friedman, Lewis Griebfeld, Nathan Giventer, William H H Childs, Frederick Wendell.

Administration of: Michael Zaccas, Charles Smith.

Estates of: Matteo Liguri, Carl Evertz.

Guardianship of: Mary Muller.

County Court.

PART IV.—Hylan, J.; PART V., Dike, J.—Calendar called in Part V.

Inq—Marino<Filippi, Held ready, Part IV.

Rogel<Goldschlag. — Schlers<B H RR.

McCandless<Pressprich. — Henning<Foley, Jr.

Fuckhaber<Nas RR. — Schumecher<Reilly.

Simon<Jung, Jr. — Portello<Brice.

Peterson<Chargaris. — Russo<Tappella.

Walker<B H RR. — Barbanel<Engel.

Zingsem<Nassau RR. — Capone<Law.

Borkowitz<Levin. — Kennedy<Rosenberg.

Morris<Levin. — Schissel<Agricola.

Ferraro<B H RR.

QUEENS COUNTY.

Supreme Court.

SPECIAL TERM FOR TRIALS—Clark, J.—Calendar called in Special Term Room, ground floor, at 10 A. M.

Shore Acres Rty Co<Hart. — Levy<Dockendorff.

Bushwick Co-Operative Bldg & Ln Assn<Darmstadt et al. — Schroeder<Bilstein et al.

Riccardo<NY Munic Ry Corp. — Laemmle Dairy Co<Hagenkotter.

Bischotsky<Wohl. — Goeller<Goeller. Mioari<Bloch.

Cases will not be placed on the ready section of the calendar until the pleadings have been received by the clerk.

The following causes, if marked ready, will be passed for the day; no cause will be set down for a day on this call.

Donner<Denner. — Koch<Ranaldi Con Co.

Siegel, as receiver<Reich and ano. — Nagle<Nagle.

Bklyn & Q H & H Cor<Uttermark. — Kline<Zwrien.

Koch, as trustee<Ranaldi et al. — Brzozowski et al.

Highest number reached on the calendar is 90b.

TRIAL TERM—Part I., Crane, J.; Part II., Blackmar, J.—Calendar called in Part I. at 10 A. M.

Mannikoff, as admr<Molloy. — Rice, an inf<Streiff.

T A Gillespie Co. — Wolchiech, as admx<Greiser. — L I RR.

Vorpahl, as admr<Molloy. — Caricola<B H RR.

Lamb<Steeplechase Co. — Bourke, an inf<L I RR.

Trefny, as admr<Wechselbaum. — Donahue<Puckelwaldt.

Unger, as admx<Belt Line Ry. — Healy<Dede.

Benens<NY & Q Co Ry et al. — McMahon<Baar Bros. — Webster<Niederstein et al.

The following causes, if marked ready, will be passed for the day. No cause will be set down for a day on this call.

Braun, as admx<Place et al. — Ochsen<NY & E R Ferry.

Pope, an inf<L I RR. — Anderson<Degnon Con Co.

Carney C & Co Ry — Midelski<Boyd.

Meissner, as admx<Atlantic Hygienic Ice Co. — Meyer<Elias Brew Co.

Rothfeld<Rath et al. — Greco<NY Con RR.

Tucker<Kohn. — Soper<Pepper et al.

Hannigan<Jones. — Capparucci<Met Cas Co

Lynch<C I & B RR. — Hadler<B H RR.

Nelson<Flushing Auto Exp & Taxi Co.

McNamee<L I RR.

Highest number reached on the general calendar is 441.

County Court.

TRIAL TERM—Humphrey, J.—At 10 A. M.

Hofstetter<Snider. — Costello<same.

Fiance<Ferris. — Van Wicklen<B H RR

Reitz<Moore. — Mitchell<same.

Hetterich<Reynolds et al. — Marsh<Kelly.

Scheurer<N Y & Q Elec L & P Co. — Florio<Man & Queens Trac Corpn.

Wood<B H RR. — Wiltpen<Kelsey.

Hart<Sus. — Wilson<Schwartz.

Mattulich<Amato. — Abrams<Greenbaum (2)

Corcoran, an infant<B H RR. — Smithwick<Bauerle. Motion:

Roscoe Lumb Co<Jamaica Bldg Co et al

Highest number reached on general calendar is 76.

WESTCHESTER COUNTY.

Supreme Court.

PART I.—Keogh, J.—At 9:45 A. M.

Garry<Page & Co (2.) — Feimeis<Kahn.

Rantz<Biesle. — McHugh<Rounds.

Vredenburgh<O'Brien. — Farley<Schmidt.

Alfano<Burnett Well Cons Co. — Secrati<Coumeight.

Marcus<Holzman. — The Iowa City State Bank<Robinson.

McCauley<Foster.

The following causes must be answered ready or marked over the term:

Weingraf<Bayden. — Dunn<NY C & H R RR.

Nat City Bk of New Rochelle<Van Slyke. — Railly<same.

Robinson<Doyle. — Nickerson<Riverdale Sanitarium Co.

Collins<Pitts Con Co. — Lane<NY C & H R RR.

Arbuthno<same.

Quinn<Bugden. — Massaro<Pitts Con Co

Reynolds<Fleischmann Mfg Co. — Lupinacci<same.

Koch<Ryttenberg. — Sheehan<McKiniry.

Amer Bond Co<Kelly. — Turner<Busselle.

Mooney<Mooney Con. — Benzinger<Pitts Con Co.

Brooks<Pitts Con Co. — Wiener<Epstein.

Moran<Mangini. — Mottola<West St Ry.

Zamborsky<Korz. — Bates<Ellis.

Hooper<Davis.

Highest number reached on regular call, 1896.

PART II.—Special Term—Morschauser, J.

Fell<Cucci. — Kensico<Carpenter.

Bonsai<Shiverick. — Gross<Kauder.

Shiverick<Bonsai. — Daly<Haight.

Governor<New Rochelle. — Shattemuc Y C<NY C RR Co.

Mace<Wenseman. — Moore<Neville.

Brush<Brush. — Kelly<Scarsdale.

Dickie<Norton. — Am Iron Supply Co<Salzano.

Brown<Brown.

Decker<Lindiner.

Surrogate's Court.

SAWYER, S.—At White Plains.

Will for probate: Florence B Delano, Alexander S Dalrymple. Compulsory acctg: Gustav B Hamburger. Release surety: Constance K Snapp. Re estate: Theodore A Lord, — Herbert G Squires. Petition to compel acctg: Gertrude Beekman. Claim: Bridget Ross. Discovery: Louise Schilling. Motion transfer tax: Berry Oakley Baldwin.

MECHANICS' LIENS.

Manhattan.

EDGECOMBE AV, e s, 15.11 ft n of 138th St, 90x85, and Edgecombe Av, s e corner of 139th St, 72x85; Simons & Mayer against 114th Street and Seventh Avenue Construction Co., owner and contractor; Max Weinstein, contract

REAL ESTATE AT AUCTION. | REAL ESTATE AT AUCTION. | REAL ESTATE AT AUCTION.

Go To It!

TO-DAY, AT 10 O'CLOCK

There Will Be Sold

for Whatever They Will Bring

At the Exchange Salesroom, 14 Vesey Street,

329 Lots, Broadway, 238th Street and vicinity, including 47 lots on Spuyten Duyvil Parkway, 244th Street and vicinity, of the DASH ESTATE.

This is probably the last sale where you will be able to buy lots on or near Broadway at a Subway station for probably $800 or $1000 each, perhaps less (only 30% cash).

If ever there was a chance to make a conservative investment, or TO MAKE MONEY or to lay a foundation for the future,

THIS IS IT.

Sale will last until 11 o'clock to-night.

QUEENS—FOR SALE OR TO LET.

MANY NEW HOUSES JUST COMPLETED.

Prices from $8,500 to $22,500, on convenient terms. These houses are well worth inspection. We offer also villa plots of exceptional beauty, commanding extensive views, on reasonable terms.

Kew Gardens

Surrounding Kew Gardens Station.

15 Minutes from Herald Square

Via Penn.-L. I.-Electric Express Service.

In the Beautiful Hills of Kew.

Information on request from JOHN J. BRITTON, Marbridge Building, Broadway and 34th St., New York. Telephone Greeley—5250 and 5251. Representative at Kew Gardens office at Kew Gardens Station every day. Convenient trains for inspecting Kew Gardens leave Penn. Station, 33d St. and 7th Ave., via L. I. R. R. WEEK DAYS: 8.17, 9.00, 10.00, 11.05, 11.50 A. M.; 12.30 (12.52 Saturday only), (1.15 Saturday only), 1.25, 2.06, 3.00, 3.45, 4.07, 4.29, 5.00 (5.11, except Saturday), (5.18 Saturday only), 5.33 P. M., &c. SUNDAY—8.25, 9.05, 10.00, 11.17, 11.34 A. M.; 1.08, 1.56, 2.12, 3.03, 4.11, 4.45, 5.25 P. M., &c. Returning at frequent intervals

Forest Hills Gardens

"A Forward Movement in Suburban Development."

15 Minutes from Herald Square

SAGE FOUNDATION HOMES CO.,

47 W. 34th St., or Forest Hills, L. I.

Send for Booklet S.

NEAR THE WATER

House 8 rooms and bath, hot water heat, gas, water, sewer, electricity; 30 minutes from city; refined location; private bathing beach; $500 down, balance to suit; guaranteed title. T. Stephenson, 243 West 34th St., N. Y.

REAL ESTATE.

HUDSON RIVER ESTATE

To close estate of the late

Hon. Frederick W. Seward,

property at Montrose-on-Hudson, 38 miles from New York, comprising about 50 acres. Beautiful landscapes, with forest trees and shrubbery; attractive grounds and drives. Extensive frontage on Hudson River; private lakes.

Photos and maps with

Horace S. Ely & Company

21 Liberty Street

LONG ISLAND—FOR SALE OR TO LET.

AN UNUSUAL OPPORTUNITY

Country home and farm overlooking Sound, 42 acres, on State Road; 40 miles from New York City, 12-room house, 2 baths, electricity, hot water heat, garage, 6-room cottage, all improvements, model chicken house, barn with rooms for farmer, orchard of 250 trees, beautiful shade trees. For quick sale owner will take $29,000.

EDWIN R. ROWLEY, Northport, L. I., Or 47 West 34th St.

HIGH GRADE BUNGALOW

COMPLETELY FURNISHED.

$4,000; all-year home; 6 large rooms and bath; open fireplace; steam heat; gas; verandas; station 5 minutes; 25 miles out, near bay; restricted location; desirable neighbors; small first payment; remainder like rent. A. E. McCord, Owner, Bellmore, L. I.

"Water Front Estate Bargain"

Beautiful water front estate, 8 acres; magnificent mansion, 110 feet long, Georgian brick, all improvements; outbuildings, aristocratic neighborhood; commuting zone; cost $125,000; sacrifice $60 000.

HARVEY B. NEWING,

WOOLWORTH BUILDING NEW YORK.

MUST HAVE $250 CASH

at once; will sacrifice 6-room house and garage, only one hour from city; balance can be paid off on $12 per month; open evenings. BAILEY, 349 East 149th St., N. Y.

NEW JERSEY—FOR SALE OR TO LET.

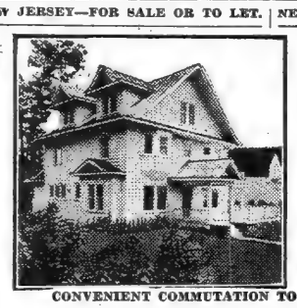
RENT then BUY

New, artistic, 8-room all-year residence, remarkably situated, right on golf course, 400 feet from country club; 2 baths, big living room; prefer sell outright, but willing to rent to proper party, with purchase privilege, rent to apply. "Owner," P. O. Box 416, N. Y.

AT MONTCLAIR

Am compelled to sacrifice my new $17,000 residence, 10 rooms, 3 baths, sun porch, sleeping porch, large plot, for $12,500. May be seen Sundays. Apply to my broker, Murdoch, opp. Lackawanna Terminal.

NEW JERSEY—FOR SALE OR TO LET. | NEW JERSEY—FOR SALE OR TO LET.



Artistic All-Year Colonial Home

Plot 258 ft. x 211 ft. x 188 ft.

PRICE $7,500

Terms to Suit

Responsible Purchaser.

CONVENIENT COMMUTATION TO CITY EXPRESS STATION.

11 LARGE ROOMS, 3 BATHS

Central hall; very large living room, with large open fireplace; dining room, butler's pantry, kitchen, seven large bedrooms; billiard room, storage room. Very large verandas, open terraces, upper balcony. Parquet floors; walls paneled in hard wood; beamed ceilings, laundry, heating plant; electric light. Established, select neighborhood; all summer and winter recreations; automobiling; best of water sports; fine country club conveniently located on lake; best of schools, churches, stores. A permanent all-year home, with all modern conveniences; magnificent views; highest, healthiest climate; within commuting distance of N. Y. City.

For Further Particulars Address

R. F. BARNES, 170 BROADWAY. Tel. 1521 Cort.

TO LET FOR BUSINESS PURPOSES. | TO LET FOR BUSINESS PURPOSES.

FOR LEASE.

At 1401-5 Broadway, (between 38th and 39th Sts.,) we will open about December 1st the largest shoe store on Broadway. The entire first floor above the store—49 feet on Broadway, 72 feet deep—is for lease. After alterations the floor will have a separate individual Broadway entrance. The advertising value of this Broadway front, which is practically all window space, is most exceptional; well adapted for office and showroom purposes.

Real Estate Department,

JOHN WARD CO.

78 Reade Street.

NEW JERSEY—FOR SALE OR TO LET.

FACTORY SITES

On Deep Water with Railroad Facilities

Property located midway between Newark and Jersey City, N. J., 5 MILES FROM N. Y. CITY HALL, fronting on the Passaic and Hackensack Rivers; in the heart of the World's Greatest Labor Market

crossed by

FOUR RAILROADS

and their branches, sidings from which can be obtained:

Pennsylvania R. R.
Central R. R. of N. J.
D., L. & W. R. R.
Erie Railroad

Newark Bay and Passaic River Channels up to the property 20 feet at low tide.

Property suitable for any kind of manufacturing or commercial enterprise requiring tide water and railroad facilities.

'Phone 744—Cort. 81 Nassau St., N. Y. City.

Industrial Department

IDEAL HOME

Price $5,500, Including Garage.

Cash required $500. Owing to business changes must sell; house has seven large rooms and cozy inglenook, with open fireplace; large closets, sanitary gas kitchen; tiled bathroom; large piazza; located on large plot; 30 minutes from New York; good transportation.

Schools, clubs, churches. All the conveniences, sewer, water, gas, electricity. This is not a speculative built house, but was built by owner by day's work for his own occupancy. Full particulars,

GEORGE S. SHAW,

Room 516—47 West 34th St., City.

ATLANTIC HIGHLANDS

Ocean View plots at attractive prices. Fully restricted. Building Loans arranged. NAVESINK PARK CO., 280 Broadway, New York.

APARTMENT HOTELS.

512 Fifth Ave.

Southwest Corner 43d St.

APARTMENTS

33 West 51st St.

CLOSE TO FIFTH AVE.

NEW 12-STORY HOTEL.

Suites of 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 rooms, with baths. Furnished or Unfurnished.

WRITE, CALL OR 'PHONE

Raymond W. Jones, Mgr. 'Phone 8264—Plaza.

APARTMENTS TO LET—Furnished.

BACHELOR APT'S

Furnished and Unfurnished.

2 & 3 rooms & bath, with service.

THE DURHAM, 7 E. 32d St.

THE Oakdale, 36 W. 35th St.

Renting Agent on Premises, or

Van Norden & Wilson

1 West 34th St., N. Y.

TO SUBLET, BEAUTIFULLY FURNISHED

2 and 5 Room Apts.

in a high class, fireproof building. Inquire office. 507 West 113th St.

APARTMENTS TO LET—Unfurnished.

MANHATTAN—West Side.

—A Few Choice—

Housekeeping Corner Apartments of 4, 5 & 6 ROOMS & bath; also extra maids' rooms.

Most convenient residential location in the city, close to the best shopping and amusement sections.

Very Reasonable Rents.

THE OREGON

162 W. 54th St., Cor. 7th Av.

New 12-story, fireproof building. Renting agent on premises, or

Slawson & Hobbs,

162 West 72d St.

One Doctor's Apartment.

BACHELOR APARTMENTS SPENCER ARMS

S. E. cor. B'way & 69th St.

2, 3 & 4 ROOMS

or larger combinations — maid service included, and meals served in apartments.

Every room with permanent outside light and large closet space.

Most Convenient Location in City

Rental, $70 to $125

C. F. de Casanova, Agt., on premises, or our own broker. Tel. Columbus 3906.

El Dorado

Situated Best Section Central Park.

ELEVATOR APARTMENTS

300 Central Park West 90th to 91st St.

SUITES OF

10 Rooms, 3 Baths
13 Rooms, 3 Baths

An apartment house of the highest class, modern in every detail. Rooms are exceptionally large and well arranged.

Apply Superintendent, on Premises, or

M. RAYMOND,

507 W. 113th St. 'Phone, Morn.—8240.

TERRACE COURT

202 Riverside Drive, S. E. Cor. 93d St.

Only one apartment of 8 rooms and one apartment of 9 rooms, 2 and 3 baths, remain to lease in this modern fireproof building. Apply to Manager on premises or SLAWSON & HOBBS, Arts., 162 W. 72d St., or

J. AXELROD,

OWNER.

200 W. 72d Street, Cor. B'way.

Manhattan Av. & 123d St.

Near 125th St. "L" and Subway.

High-Class Elevator Apartments.

2-3-4 & 5 Rooms

Kitchens and Kitchenettes,

$28 to $60 Per Month.

Large Rooms, Unusual Closet Space

'PHONE 3927 MORNINGSIDE.

LOFTS

247-253 W. 19TH St.

7,500 SQUARE FEET TO FLOOR.

NEW SUBWAY STATION, 18th St. & 7th Av.

Exceptionally fine lights; well kept building; nice class of tenants; few Lofts with all modern improvements; 100 per cent. sprinkler system; suitable any business.

Lease, Rent Reasonable.

Apply superintendent on premises.

REVEL REALTY & SECURITIES CO., OWNER.

51 Chambers St., Phone 732—Worth. OR YOUR OWN BROKER.

LIGHT STORE

In high-class sprinklered building on East 26d St., near Second Avenue. Size, 72x90. Will carry heavy weights. Very low insurance. E. W. Bliss Bldgs., 312 E. 23d St.

BROADWAY STORES TO RENT

VICINITY 103D ST.

Desirable Location—Subway Station.

LOW RENTS.

Goodale, Ferry & Dwight, 2705 Broadway. Telephone Riverside 975.

NEW JERSEY—FOR SALE OR TO LET.

FACTORY FOR SALE

IN JERSEY CITY, N. J.

Located on desirable plot, containing about 1¾ acres, fronting on two streets and the Morris Canal.

Buildings are one, two, three and four story brick, iron and concrete, containing about 20,000 square feet of floor space; also frame office, stables, and wagon sheds, covering half of the land area, leaving more than half an acre for future development.

Full particulars, maps, diagrams, and photos furnished on request.

HUDSON REAL ESTATE CO., 168 Ocean Av., Jersey City, N. J.

$75 Cash, $25 Monthly,

Which Includes Taxes and Interest.

Buys This HOUSE

5 rooms and bath; 2 added rooms can be finished off now or later. All city improvements. Attractive Northern New Jersey town; half hour out. Price $2,800. Address "Builder," P. O. Box, 1041, N. Y. City.

APARTMENTS TO LET—Unfurnished.

West Side, Above 110th Street.

THE

SOPHOMORE

21 Claremont Av.,

Just Above 116th St.

8 Rooms, 2 Baths, Lavatory.

Rents $1,400 to $1,600.

Unsurpassed location, overlooking Columbia University grounds, one block from subway station.

THE REGNOR

601 West 115th St.

N. W. Cor. Broadway.

Extra large, sunny rooms, all facing the outside, overlooking Columbia University grounds, one block from subway.

4-5-6-7 Rooms, 1-2-3 Baths.

Rents $810 to $1,850.

THE MENTONE

895 West End Av.,

S. W. Cor. 104th St.

5-6-7 Rooms, 2 & 3 Baths.

Rents $1,100 to $2,300.

Every modern improvement; one block from subway and surface lines.

THE LUXONIA

305 West 72d St.,

Bet. W. End Av. & R'side Dr.

Close to Subway Exp. Station.

5-6 Rooms, 2 Baths.

Rents $1,500 to $2,000.

Excellent appointments throughout. All have southern and eastern exposure. Should be seen to be appreciated.

Representative at Each House, or

PATERNO BROS.,

Owners and Builders,

Office, 601 West 115th St.

Tel., 1114—Morningside.

KEMPE & CO.

87th St. and Broadway.

DUE to the lateness of the season we offer extraordinary values in the following New Elevator Houses. Positively Best Values on Washington Heights.

The Duncraggan,

181ST ST. & RIVERSIDE DRIVE.

Just completed. On Plaza 120 feet wide commanding elegant view of Hudson River and Palisades.

3 Rooms, $30-$35

5 Rooms, $45-$55

Short walk to subway, surface lines. New bus line will pass door.

THE TROSSACHS,

106 Northern Av., at 181st St.

Unexcelled view of prettiest part of Hudson River and Palisades.

5 Rooms, $45-$50

6 Rooms, $55-$65

Near Broadway subway and surface lines.

HOLYROOD COURT,

436 Ft. Washington Av., Cor. 180th St.

On a tree-lined avenue under supervision of Park Department.

3 Rooms, $35

5 Rooms, $50-$55

Each of these Houses is thoroughly modern; rooms are large and light, with abundant closet space. Service of the highest type is assured.

NEW BUILDINGS

Now Ready for Occupancy

THE LOYAL

894 RIVERSIDE DRIVE

Overlooking the Hudson & Palisades.

Corner 161st St.

and

DUNRAVEN

654 WEST 161ST ST.

Suites of 4-5-6-7-8 Rooms and 2 Baths

Rents, $480 to $1,320 Yearly

Open Evenings.

Renting agent on premises. 'Phone, 9045—Aud.

Friedman Con. Co., 189 Broadway

The Riviera

Riverside Drive, 156th to 157th St.

Modern 12-story Fireproof Apartment. Subway Station Half Block Distant.

5 rooms $660 to $750 per annum
7 rms. $1000 to $1200 per annum
8 rms. $1200 to $1500 per annum
9-10 rms. $1600-$2000 per annum

A. J. ODELL, Resident Manager. Telephone, Audubon—5400.

Service and management under direct supervision of owners.

Manhattan Leasing Co.,

149 Church St. Tel. 6390—Barclay.

WHITE COURT

203 WEST 107TH ST.

6 Rooms, Bath. Large and Light. Select. Fireproof. Elevator Apartment. $68—$80. Efficient Service.

HALL & BLOODGOOD,

542 5th Ave. Bryant 7832.

61ST ST., 42 WEST.

Corner Apartment, 6 large, light rooms and bath, rent $60.

GOODALE, PERRY & DWIGHT, Inc. 1,133 Broadway, at 26th St. Phone Farragut 9494.

THE ANICO,

1690-1696 B'way (cor. 53d)

Two, three, five rooms, extra large; high-class elevator building; parquet floors throughout; baths; $50, $70.

Skylight Studios

5 West 16th Street

Bachelor Apartments

$30 to $60

West Side, Above 110th Street.

587 RIVERSIDE DRIVE,

Corner 136th St.

7 Rooms, Rental $960

8 Rooms, Rental $1,380

1100 PARK AVE.,

Corner 89th St.

9 Rooms, Rental $1,500

EDGAR A. LEVY,

505 Fifth Ave. Tel. Murray Hill 6980.

These Are Exceptional Apartments and positively represent the best value on Washington Heights.

Liberal Arrangements to Desirable Tenants.

BROCKTON—Elevator

661 WEST 180TH ST.

(N. E. Corner Broadway.)

4 Rooms ..... $35 to $40
4 Rooms, corner, top floor $50
5 Rooms ..... $45 to $50

KNAP & WASSON CO., Agents, 4729 Broadway, at 181st St.

APARTMENTS TO LET—Unfurnished. | APARTMENTS TO LET—Unfurnished.

The Belnord

86th Street—Broadway—87th Street.

A magnificent fireproof building, embodying every known improvement. Complete in all details. Private house rooms. A location second to none. Centrally located. Immense closet space. Largest open air garden, assuring light at all times. Manager on premises.

THE APARTMENT HOUSE COMPLETE

7 to 11 ROOMS,
2 to 4 BATHS
Rental $2,100 to $7,000

F. R. Wood, W. H. Dolson Co.

AGENTS,

80th St., Cor. Broadway. Tel. Schuyler 3800.

ALWYN COURT

New York's Most Exclusive Apartment House.

One Luxurious Suite of 14 Rooms, 5 Baths.

One Furnished Apartment to Sublet.

Special Terms for One or More Years.

182 WEST 58TH STREET.

MANHATTAN—East Side.

THE HILLHURST

160 EAST 91ST STREET

Desirable suites adapted to wants of bachelor men and women of moderate means. No children taken. Quiet, orderly people only. Tasteful decorations. Polite attendants. Superior service night and day.

UNFURNISHED HOUSEKEEPING APARTMENTS

TO LET: IMMEDIATE POSSESSION.

2 Rooms inside.....$14.00 to $20.00
2 Rooms outside.....$26.00 to $30.00
4 Rooms outside.....$33.00
5 Rooms outside.....$35.00

MAGNIFICENT ROOF GARDEN EXCLUSIVELY FOR TENANTS.

TWO OTIS PASSENGER ELEVATORS.

Free Private Phone in Each Apartment, Night and Day Service.

MEALS SERVED IN HANDSOME DINING ROOM IF PREFERRED.

$1.00 DINNERS FOR 50C.

New Buildings.

993 PARK AVE.

Cor. 84th St.

10 Rooms, 3 Baths..$2,800-$4,300

1,155 PARK AVE.

Cor. 92d St.

10 Rooms, 3 Baths..$2,700-$3,000

12 Rooms, 4 Baths..$3,200-$3,900

Larger or smaller suites can be arranged.

Apply on Premises or at the Office of

BING & BING, 119 West 40th St. Tel., 6410—Bryant.

145 E. 35th St.

THE SOUTHFIELD

Modern Fireproof Building, Southern Exposure.

Large, bright rooms. Extra maids' rooms. Exclusive features usually only found in higher priced apartments.

7 Rooms and 2 Baths (Simplex) $1,800-$2,500

3 Rooms and Bath $900

PEASE & ELLIMAN

Agents

340 Madison Avenue

'Phone, Murray Hill—6200.

Non-Housekeeping Apartments

A few Apartments available for fall renting. 1 and 2 large, airy, outside rooms with bath; modern in detail. Day and night attendance. Vacuum cleaning system, maid service, mail chute, open fireplaces, ample closet room. Meals served in apartments. Agent always on premises. 'Phone, Plaza—8070.

Rents, $600 to $1,000.

507 Madison Avenue At 53d St.

BACHELOR

691 Madison Ave. N. E. COR. 62d St.

Parlor, Bedroom, and Bath, Furnished or Unfurnished. Service included. RENTS $480 TO $720. Apply on premises, or to

MOORE & WYCKOFF

546 Fifth Ave., 45th St. Tel. 1263 Bryant.

APARTMENTS

109-111 EAST 56TH ST.

Elevator Building.

135 EAST 56TH ST.

2 Rooms and Bath.

Large, light studio apartments. Rent from $540 to $900, including room service. Apply to E. C. POULON, 103 Park Ave. Tele. 1850 Murray Hill.

RUTHERFORD

206 East 17th Street.

4 all light, outside, cozy rooms; elevator and telephone service night and day. Rent $38.

HATFIELD HOUSE,

103 EAST 29TH STREET.

One and three rooms and bath; southern exposure; near subway.

West Side, Above 110th Street.

780 Riverside Drive

Corner 155th St.

5 & 6 Rooms | $750 to $1250

630 W. 141st

Corner Riverside

5-6-7 Rooms | $700 to $1300

Furnished Apts. $1000 and up

THE HILLCREST

430 West 116th St. Facing Columbia University Grounds

MODERN ELEVATOR APARTMENTS.

8-9 Large Sunny Rooms & Baths

Rents $1,500 to $1,800

Parlors 18x23
Dining Rooms 19x16
Bedrooms 14x16

THE EDWIN

561 West 147th St. N. E. Cor. B'way.

4, 5, 6, 7 Large Light Rooms.

Quiet, well kept, conveniently located house, near subway and surface lines. One very desirable corner apartment.

Resident Owner.

The Plaza,

795 St. Nicholas Av., corner 150th St.—Magnificent large, light eight-room apartment to rent; every modern convenience; rent $67.50. Superintendent.

MANHATTAN—East Side.

The Scherinerhorn

ENTIRE BLOCK FRONT, MADISON AVE., 82D TO 83D STS.

Exclusive APARTMENTS

ALL OUTSIDE

9 ROOMS

Foyer and 3 Baths

$3500 to $3800

ONE APARTMENT OF

10 ROOMS

Foyer and 3 Baths

$4,000

Mark Rafalsky & Co.

56 WEST 45TH ST.

Telephone, Bryant—7848.

BROOKLYN.

St. Paul Arms

79-83-87-91 Woodruff Ave.,

NEAR ST. PAUL'S PL., FLATBUSH

Only 25 minutes from Park Row; ½ block Woodruff Ave. Station Brighton Beach "L." Best section of Flatbush. New buildings, nicely decorated, completely up to date in every respect. Sanitary kitchens, tiled floor and walls, etc. Day, Night Tel. & Hall Boy Service.

3-4-5 Rooms & Bath | $30 to $55

One 7-Room Apartment, 2 Baths, Suitable for Physician.

Hoytreis Con. Co. 515 5th Av., N. Y. Tel. Bryant 7142.

Office on premises. Phone Flatbush 2377.

ROSEMUIR

MOST DESIRABLE APARTMENTS IN BEAUTIFUL FLATBUSH.

1710 TO 1722 CATON AVE.

LOCATION UNSURPASSED.

ONE BLOCK NORTH OF CHURCH AVENUE STATION. B. B. L. TWO BLOCKS FROM PROSPECT PARK.

3, 4, 5 and 6 spacious rooms and tiled bath with shower; hardwood trim, parquet floors, handsome electric light fixtures, artistic decorations; all night telephone service; rents $28 to $60 from.....

Renting agent on premises daily, including Sunday.

WESTWOOD REALTY COMPANY

685 FLATBUSH AV., BROOKLYN, N. Y.

BRONX.

5 GRAND ROOMS $32—$38

JUST COMPLETED

University Heights Apartments 1912-1928 LORING PLACE,

BET. WEST BURNSIDE AVE. AND WEST 179TH ST., WEST BRONX. Broadway Subway, 181st St., to University Av. trolley, 8 cents. Parquet floors; two families on floor; tenants restricted. Booklet.

Mortgage Loans

Forty-five cents an agate line.

Wanted.—Building loans in Queens County; 50 per cent. valuation. "Attorney," H 223 Times Downtown.

Money advanced on rents, first and second mortgage money. De Leeuw, 15 Broad St.

City Property

Thirty-five cents an agate line.

Real Estate.

MARK RAFALSKY & CO., 56 West 45th Street. Tel. Bryant 7848.

BRYAN L. KENNELLY, AUCTIONEER, 156 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

J. CLARENCE DAVIES, Real Estate. 149th St. and 3d Ave.

RULAND & WHITING CO., 5 Beekman St. 695 Madison Av.

LOTON H SLAWSON COMPANY, 171 Madison Avenue, New York.

WM. A. WHITE & SONS, Real Estate. 46 Cedar St.

City Property

Thirty-five cents an agate line.

Manhattan—For Sale or To Let.

Four-story-and-basement dwelling house, 20x100; 224 West 56th St., opp. s. w. cor. B'way; will sacrifice for $35,000; mortgage $32,000. W 67 Times.

Brooklyn—For Sale or To Let.

Craftsman Homes in the heart of Flatbush; only $4,250; send for booklet. Otto Singer, on premises, East 13th St. and Av. K, Brooklyn. Avenue J station, Brighton Beach "L."

See our ad. Sunday, easy housekeeping homes. Crown St. Realty Associates, 102 Remsen St.

Queens—For Sale or To Let.

Will sacrifice two Jamaica lots for $165 each; original price $480 each; genuine bargain; must have some cash quick. C. Johnson, 8 Hanson Place, Brooklyn, opp. Flatbush Av. L. I. R. R. Depot.

Will sacrifice two lots for $600 cash; large town, 29 minutes from 33d St. and 7th Av.; good title; no agents. Bargain. Box 189 Times Downtown.

City Houses to Let—Unfurnished.

83D, 57 WEST.—Four-story, high-stoop house, 12 rooms, 2 baths; excellently laid out for rooming house. Will rent very reasonably. Caretaker on premises, or Goodale, Perry & Dwight, 2,705 Broadway at 103d.

For Rent.—Modern private house, West 93d St.; private family only. Inquire J. L. Miner, Attorney, 55 Liberty St.

129th, 106 W.—Handsome 3-story and basement dwelling; 2 baths; $900; near subway.

To Let For Business

Thirty-five cents an agate line.

PHYSICIAN'S OR DENTIST'S OFFICE. Large, light back parlor, 18x15; running water; exclusive use of front parlor for waiting room; private house; no objection to use for sleeping; near surface, subway, elevated, bus; electric light; reasonable; agents recognized. Telephone Harlem 5344. 1 East 124th St.

Looking for OFFICES or a LOFT? We can save you both TIME and MONEY. Large or small space. All parts of city. Long or short terms. THE SUB-LEASING CO., 1,476 B'way. (cor. 42d.) Bryant 5780.

b 247TH ST., 27-35 WEST. Lofts, 100x100. Automatic sprinklers. LOWEST PRICES IN NEIGHBORHOOD. A. J. KERWIN, 1,133 Broadway.

WILL BUILD FOR TENANT, 5,500 SQUARE FEET, NEAR 34TH STREET & NINTH AVENUE. M. M. HAYWARD & CO., 100th St. & B'way.

ONLY ONE STORE LEFT. Choice business location, transfer point, Madison Av., cor. 80th St.; suitable cigars, stationery, florist, confectionery, &c.

Offices to let—Transit Bldg. & Annex, 7 E. 42 St. & 10 E. 43 St. Homer Foote, Jr., Agt.

WM. H. WHITING & CO., 41 PARK ROW. Business Property—Sale, Rental, Management.

For Rent—Completely fitted show room. Apply Room 1,103, Oppenheim Collins Bldg.

Store, southeast corner 14th St. and 7th Av. E. S. Willard & Co., 52 William St.

Property Out of the City

Thirty-five cents an agate line.

Westchester—For Sale or To Let.

HOMES AND ESTATES FOR SALE OR RENT. ANGELL & CO., SCARSDALE, N. Y.

Country Estates.—Westchester, Orange Counties. Seaman Lowerre & Co., 15 East 40th.

Come and see homes and bungalows at Larchmont. Leo Bugg, 40 West 32d St.

New Houses in Van Cortlandt Terrace. Rollins Bros., cor. Broadway & Oakmont Av.

Long Island—For Sale or To Let.

Pretty 5-room bungalow, artistically and well built; beamed ceilings, paneled walls, open tapestry, brick fireplace, up-to-date fixtures; modern kitchen and bath; heat; spacious veranda; perfect in every detail; all large, airy rooms, overlooking bay and beach; hedge around large plot; easy terms; write for photos and further details. Bungalow, Box 185 Times Downtown.

NEW MODERN HOUSE.

Semi-bungalow type, 7 rooms and tile bath; sun parlor and large porch; electricity and gas, parquet floors, white enamel, 2d floor; 28 minutes out; 100 trains; restricted neighborhood; price $5,950; easy terms. J. Mead Briggs, 200 Broadway, N. Y. Phone 3870 Cortlandt.

Do you want to buy my little country place, consisting of a good 6-room house and large, cultivated ground, in healthy location, near R. R. and town? Can commute; good party can make this a fine, profitable home; just the place for poultry, &c.; easy terms. Treiss, Box 182 Times Downtown.

Chicken or vegetable farm; new, attractive 6-room house; range, tubs, china closets, &c.; large plot of rich soil; near trolley and depot and L. I. Sound; one hour from city; terms $100 down; $12 monthly. C. Owner, 1218 Broadway, corner Van Buren St., B'klyn.

If you are looking for a little house and large plot of ground, near station and trolley, churches and stores, $675 for all; $50 down; $7 monthly; answer at once. C. Store, 5 Hanson Pl., B'klyn, opp. Flatbush Av. L. I. R. R. Depot.

FOR LOW COST, HIGH-GRADE BUNGALOWS, VISIT BRIGHTWATERS; BOOKLET 5 ON REQUEST. T. B. ACKERSON CO., 1 WEST 34TH ST., NEW YORK.

$4 monthly and $25 down buys acre farm, near station and big towns; hour from city; price $425. Farm, Box 175 Times Downtown.

50x100; all improvements; good location; near station; 35 minutes out; $100; terms; wonderful bargain. B. F. McLain, 47 W. 34th St.

Floral Park—Fine 7-room house; improvements; steam heat; easy terms. Owner, 246 East 50th St., N. Y. City.

RICKERT-FINLAY REALTY CO., Phone, Greeley 5000. 1 West 34th St.

Neponsit.—Seashore homes in New York City. Neponsit Realty Company, 1 West 34th St.

Country Real Estate. L'Ecluse, Washburn & Co., 18 East 34th St., New York.

New Jersey—For Sale or To Let.

ATTRACTIVE BARGAINS

In modern one-family houses and choice building lots at private sale, a large number from which to select.

THE BANKING DEPARTMENT, STATE OF NEW YORK, to quickly close the business of two corporations, offers these properties at about 50% of former prices. They are located at Grantwood, Palisade, Moresmere and Leonia, New Jersey, (opposite Grant's Tomb), within twenty-five minutes of Manhattan.

An inspection of these properties will convince you that they are unusual bargains. Liberal terms. Title Guarantee Policy Free. For further details and terms address BENJ. D. HAIGHT, Special Deputy Supt. of Banks, care of Banking Department, 61 Broadway, New York City.

ONE ACRE, with modern 6-room cottage, steam heat, electric light, hardwood floors, all improvements; 15 minutes' walk from station; $5,000; comfortable terms. Might rent.

S. S. WALSTROM-GORDON & FORMAN, Ridgewood, N. J. Fone 555.

Cranford, N. J.—If you want a home do not overlook Cranford, the most beautiful town in New Jersey; have now a few houses at a bargain price and easy terms. Droescher, 79 Warren St., New York City.

BIG BARGAIN FOR SOMEBODY. Factory, 4-story, brick, 54x100, on plot 54x200; every improvement. ASHFORTH & CO., 11 EAST 42D ST.

Builder forced to take eight-room house, all improvements, hot water heat, best section, will sell $4,250; value $5,500. Smith-Singer Co., Ridgewood, N. J.

ALL THE ORANGES Modern houses, every description, sale or rent. Frank H. Taylor., Op. Brick Church Station.

COUNTRY HOME, 20 acres, old buildings; unobstructed view, brook, fruit, asparagus; sacrifice. R. W. Barton, Matawan, N. J.

FARMS, acre upward, hour out, for poultry, fruit, vegetables; $10 monthly. Write for pictures. Room 1,701, 141 Broadway.

Ridgewood, N. J.—Five-acre model poultry farm; new house. Y 348 Times Annex.

New Jersey farms to let; list 10 cts. Paul Williams, New Brunswick, N. J.

Connecticut—For Sale or To Let.

Westport.—10 acres fine shore front, only $30,000. John Crawford, 7 East 42d St.

Real Estate for Exchange.

Want good farm; not rocks; have good income property and mortgages to exchange. Piquet, 354 Fulton St., Jamaica.

Apartments to Let

Furnished.

Thirty-five cents an agate line.

East Side.

AN EXCLUSIVE apartment, 3 rooms and bath, for bachelor; very exceptional. 28 East 32d St.

WASHINGTON SQUARE DISTRICT. Roomy, newly decorated; artistic, refined furnishings; open fireplaces; 5 rooms, bath; most attractive neighborhood; silver furnished. K 203 Times Downtown.

Apartments.—Hotel Oxford, 35 East 27th. Furnished, unfurnished; full hotel service; restaurant; cheapest rental in New York; 2 rooms, bath, $12 weekly and up.

MADISON AV., 222.—Large, handsomely furnished parlor floor, three rooms, bath; reasonable.

West Side

HANDSOMELY FURNISHED APARTments, long, short leases; east, west side; high class only. R. de Flores, 501 5th Av. Murray Hill 8350.

Apartments to Let
Furnished.
Thirty-five cents an agate line.

West Side

THE WILSONIA,
325 West 69th St., near Broadway.
3 rooms, bath, and kitchenette, $50 up.

Apartments by the Month or Year.
Also Unfurnished.
SPOTLESSLY FRESH AND CLEAN.

No questionable or objectionable tenants. Phone, elevator service; maid service optional. Near Subway, "L," 8th Av. bus, street cars. REFERENCES ABSOLUTELY ESSENTIAL.

We offer hotel conveniences at apartment house rates. You are invited to inspect our specially attractive apartments.
CATHEDRAL PLAZA,
10 CATHEDRAL PARKWAY,
110TH ST. AND COLUMBUS AV.
We have 1, 2, 3, 4 room apartments, $30, $40, $50, $60 UP MONTHLY.
Completely furnished, including dishes, silver, cooking utensils. Maid service optional. Every apartment has private bath and kitchenette. Concessions on lease and unfurnished. Near subway and "L." Must be seen to be appreciated. Phone Riverside 3970. 8th Av. bus line stops at our door.

98th St., 305-307 West.—Schuyler Arms Hotel, between Riverside and Broadway; strictly high-class house; beautifully furnished apartments; shower baths; 2, 3, 4, and 5 rooms, with or without kitchen, fully equipped for housekeeping; all night elevator; telephone; hallboy and maid service; restaurant in building. Phone 3964 River.

THE VAN DYCK AND SEVERN APARTMENTS,
at Broadway, 72d to 73d St.,
overlooking Sherman Square, offer finely appointed furnished apartments of six, seven, and nine rooms, two and three baths.
Manager's Office, 175 West 72d St.
Telephone Columbus 8547.

Alcazar, 215 Manhattan Av., Corner 109th. Capitol, 107 West 109th St.
Elegantly furnished, 2, 3 rooms, kitchenette, bath, modern elevator buildings, near "L" subway; Central Park; rents $30 monthly up; references essential. Phone 10200 and 9735 Riverside. Restaurant in building, open evenings.

OVERLOOKING THE HUDSON.
Convenient 137th express subway; 5 rooms, bath, exceptionally well furnished in old English style; $100. Frederick L. Hurt, 30 East 42d. Murray Hill 5726.

Five to nine rooms upward, $100 to $350 upward; private parties subleasing; completely furnished; chiefly in new buildings; west side, 70s to 100s. Wickliffe Gray, 289 West 73d. Columbus 3974.

If you have a nicely furnished, high class apartment and want to rent it for 5 or 6 months send full particulars to Slawson & Hobbs, 162 West 72d St.

70TH ST., 2,030 Broadway, The Ormonde.—Magnificent furnished apartment, 4 rooms and bath, suitable for business gentlemen; also single rooms. 6,744 Columbus, Apt. 5 E.

113 WEST 37TH ST.,
adjoining 5th Av., 2 rooms, bath; living room 25x26, open fireplace; furnished or unfurnished; unusually desirable.

Five to nine rooms, $100 to $350; private parties subleasing; completely furnished; west side, 70s to 100s. Wickliffe Gray, 289 West 73d. Columbus 3974.

76TH, 144 WEST.—Handsomely furnished large, small rooms; select house; phone; exchange.

83d, near Riverside.—Modern, beautifully furnished seven-room apartment. Desayas, Schuyler 5950.

Handsomely furnished apartments; long short leases; choice localities. Clair Realty Co., 30 East 42d. Phone Murray Hill 5392.

86th, 23 West.—Handsomely furnished, unusually large two-room and bath; breakfast optional.

FURNISHED APARTMENTS.
Frederick L. Hurt,
30 East 42d.

GRAND COURT.
123TH ST., 610 West, near Riverside Drive.—4, 5, 6 rooms; high class apartment. Fisher.

Bachelor Apartment, 59th St., Overlooking Central Park.—Large living room, bedroom, and bath; maid service. L 92 Times.

Riverside Drive, No. 120, (north corner 84th).—Eleven all light, well-furnished rooms. Call or address W. R. Stewart.

We have furnished apartments for rent, 5 or 6 months or longer. Slawson & Hobbs, 162 West 72d St.

Beautifully furnished apartment, 8 rooms, 3 baths. 448 Riverside Drive. Phone 6570 Morningside.

47th, 16 West.—Very attractive, small kitchenette apartment, $50; unfurnished, $30-$40.

High-class three rooms, kitchenette, part or whole; appointment. Smith, 5060 Cathedral.

Handsome, newly furnished apartment, 7 rooms, 2 baths. Coyle, 137 West 82d.

86TH St., 119 West.—Two sunny rooms and bath.

119th, 480 West.—Five outside rooms, bath, completely, beautifully furnished. $85.

Nine rooms, four baths, west side; new building; beautifully furnished. Columbus 2790.

Apartments to Let
Unfurnished.
Thirty-five cents an agate line.

East Side.

MADISON AV., 1,186, COR. 87TH ST.
7 rooms, electricity, parquet floors; $100.
1,182 MADISON AVENUE.
Eight rooms, unusual light, size; $75.
53-55 EAST 56TH STREET.
Seven extra large rooms, $70-$75.

86th, 128 East.—Corner apartments, 6 large, light rooms, bath, steam heat, hot water, light on four sides, all outside rooms. Louis Carreau, Agent, 790 6th Av., (45th.)

FOR HIGH-CLASS APARTMENTS,
A. L. Mordecai & Son, 30 East 42d St.

234, 240 East.—Parlor floor and basement; six large rooms; private house.

West Side.

THE CLEBURNE, 924 WEST END AV.
HIGHEST TYPE S. 9, 10 ROOM APARTMENTS, 3, 4 BATHS.
APPLY ON PREMISES OR
L. J. PHILLIPS & CO., 158 BROADWAY.

GEORGETTE COURT, 515 West 113th St.
$35.00—5-room apartments—$45.00.
All modern improvements; elevator service day and night; parks, subway, "L," car, and bus service within one block.

Central Park West, 96th St.—Attractive 6-room modern elevator apartment; exclusive section; all improvements; newly decorated; unusual opportunity; sub-lease, 2 years to run. Call Bryant 4980.

140th St., 503 West.—Seven rooms, front; bath; electricity; convenient subway and "L"; refined house; owner on premises; $45; inducements to desirable tenants.

Will sublet 5-room apartment in elevator house, 50 Morningside Av., 119th St.; lease expires next Oct. 1; regular rent $55; concessions granted. Perkins.

SUBLET.
Three rooms and bath.
HOTEL WALTON, 104 West 70th St.

BROADWAY, 2,708, (103d.)—Three rooms, bath, kitchenette; owner's management; lease; $36-$40.

108D, 216 W., (corner Bway.)—Steam heat, just right, seven rooms; electricity; parquet floors. Huston.

21ST ST., 210 WEST.—ELEVATOR APARTMENTS, 5 AND 8 ROOMS, ALL IMPROVEMENTS, $35 UP.

Ask Lewis B. Preston, Inc., 165 B'way, N. Y. C., for illus. bklt. on The Roxborough, 251 W. 92d St.

Grand Concourse Apartments.—See H. A. Douglas Co., 187th St. and Grand Concourse.

SKYLIGHT 5 West 16th St. BACHELOR STUDIOS. $30 to $60. APARTMENTS.

Apartments to sublet on the upper west side, 4 to 10 rooms. Write Z., Box T 25 Times.

182 West 58th St.—An apartment most attractive; 14 rooms and 5 bathrooms.

78TH, 307 WEST.—8 rooms, 2 baths; $1,500-$1,800. Superintendent on premises.

Elevator apartments of 7 and 8 large rooms, $1,000-$1,500. 102 West 75th St.

An apartment having 3 master's bedrooms; any desirable location. Murray Hill 4520.

Madison Av., 121.—Desirable housekeeping and non-housekeeping apartments.

150 West 79th.—High-class apartments, nine rooms, duplex and simplex. $2,600.

838-844 Riverside Drive; near 158th St.; 6 and 7 rooms; $780 to $1,200.

156th, 601 West.—Elevator apartments, 4, 5, 7, 8 rooms; $38 to $100.

58th St., 200 West.—4-5 rooms, $1,400 to $2,000. Apply Supt.

180th, 561 West.—Elevator; 4 rooms, $40 to $50; 5 rooms, $50.

Apartments Wanted
Thirty-five cents an agate line.

Furnished.

Three clients wanting handsomely furnished apartments, east, west side; high-class only. R. de FLOREZ, 501 5th Av. Murray Hill 3850.

Wanted, 5 or 6 rooms, furnished or unfurnished, apartment, 5 months; responsible adults; $60. L 55 Times.

Board Wanted
Twenty-five cents an agate line.

Christian lady wishes warm, sunny, well-furnished room, not over 2d floor, for Winter or longer, between 72d and 95th Sts., west side. C., 2,262 Sedgwick Av., Bronx.

BOARD AND ROOM WITH REFINED PRIVATE SOUTHERN FAMILY. W. B. JERNIGAN, HOTEL ALBERT.

Country Board
Thirty cents an agate line.

Westchester.

HIGHCLIFFE HALL HOTEL, Park Hill, Yonkers.—Winter engagements now unexcelled. home cooking; large porches; well-heated house; river view. W. E. Robinson. Phone 2161 Yonkers.

New Jersey.

Convalescents' home; trained nurses' care; moderate prices. Schofield, 234 Avenue A, Bayonne.

Boarders Wanted
Twenty-five cents an agate line.

East Side.

5TH AV., 47.—Unusual location; double, single room; steam heat; private bath.

84TH, 117-119 EAST. (Near Park Av.)—Large and single rooms, with board.

45TH ST., 8 EAST.
Table board; rooms; references.

MADISON AV., 889.—Large, handsome rooms, with board; breakfast in room; appointments those of a private house; references.

MADISON AV, 71.—Handsome third story room, suitable for two; also small.

MADISON AV., 213.—Rooms newly furnished, some with bath; table board; references.

West Side

5TH AV., 2,066, (127th.)—Large room, second floor; small room; excellent board.

16TH, 20-22 WEST.—Large, small rooms, well heated; unexcelled board; telephone.

22D, 327 WEST.—One large room, vacant; unexcelled cuisine; references required; investigate.

43 WEST 47TH ST.
Attractively furnished rooms; first-class service; table unexcelled; every convenience; table guests.

47TH, 53 WEST.—Exceptional rooms, large, single; private bath; excellent board. 4589 Bryant.

53D, 57 WEST.—Quiet room, bath, suitable two; reasonable responsible parties; references.

54TH ST., 54 WEST.—Single and double rooms, suites; private baths; electricity.

56TH, 62 WEST. — Desirable large, small rooms, with board; suite, with bath; references.

57TH, 340 WEST.—One large room; southern exposure; private bath; board; references.

58TH, 37 WEST.—Attractive rooms; private baths; excellent cooking and service; table guests.

58TH, 146 WEST.—Handsomely furnished large and small rooms; table guests; references.

70TH, 127 WEST.—Attractive, newly furnished, redecorated rooms, with and without bath; exceptional table and service; table guests.

70TH, 127 WEST.—Attractive, newly furnished, redecorated rooms, with and without bath; exceptional table and service; table guests.

71ST, 120 WEST.—Single, double rooms, newly furnished; private baths; Hebrew social surroundings.

71ST ST., 340 WEST.—Exceptionally strictly kosher board; large, small rooms; table guests accommodated.

72D, 157 WEST.—Handsomely furnished rooms; southern exposure; well-appointed house; references.

72D, (Broadway, West End.)—Floor, four rooms, bath, electricity; en suite or single; high-class house; references. Columbus 2380.

72D, 52 WEST. — Superior location and appointments; private family desiring Winter home.

74TH, 102 WEST.—Desirable rooms; private baths; telephone; electricity; steam; table boarders.

75TH, 147 WEST.—BEAUTIFUL SECOND FLOOR; OTHER ROOMS; REFINED SURROUNDINGS; REFERENCE EXCHANGED.

75TH, 155 WEST.—Desirable rooms, with board; references.

76TH, 249 WEST.—Attractive rooms; parlor dining; table guests; references.

76TH ST., 237, 239 WEST.—Large rooms, bath, single; excellent table; fine location.

78TH, 164 WEST.—Pleasant rooms, excellent table; parlor dining; homelike; table guests.

79TH, 114 and 132 WEST.—Unusual and attractive "pensions," with large parlors, tea room, and lounge; steam heat; private telephones; booklet on request.

79TH, 128 WEST.—Newly decorated, newly furnished; electric light; telephones; opened Oct. 1.

89TH, 124 WEST.—Attractive large, small rooms; electricity; good table; parlor dining.

92D ST., 146 WEST.—THE BARRETT.
Rooms furnished, unfurnished; elevator; table optional.

92D, 19 WEST, (Kenilworth.) — Desirable rooms; excellent table; parlor dining; table guests.

92D, 124 West, (Graycourt.)—New and attractively decorated; modern; table guests; booklet.

92D, 20 WEST.—Beautifully furnished rooms; excellent home cooking.

93D, 5 WEST.—Unusually desirable, quiet; modern improvements; arrangements for coming season.

94TH, 53 WEST.—Beautiful, large room, private bath, electricity; excellent table; Jewish.

95TH, 130 WEST.—NEWLY DECORATED ROOMS; GOOD TABLE; REASONABLE TO BUSINESS PEOPLE; TELEPHONE.

96TH ST., 55 WEST.
Small and medium rooms; table guests.

96TH ST., 114 WEST.—Owner's home, large and small rooms. "L" and subway.

96TH ST., 23 WEST.
Superior accommodation; table board.

97TH, 138 WEST.—Refined home; large, small rooms; electricity; references; table guests.

99TH, 808 WEST.—Refined Jewish home can accommodate few people; excellent cooking.

102D, 253 WEST.—Saloon floor, elegantly furnished; private bath; also one single room with bath; Jewish family. Aarons.

103D, 246 WEST.—Large room, dressing room; table guests; New Englanders.

106TH, 514 WEST.—Unusual accommodations in private home for bachelor or family; two large rooms and bath; also single room; near Riverside.

107TH, 822 WEST.—Unusual opportunity for bachelor or family to live in luxurious economy; three large rooms and bath; also single room; between Riverside and Broadway.

120TH, 7 WEST.—Attractive large and small rooms, with strictly kosher board; table guests.

122D, 156 WEST.—Well-furnished large, small rooms; refined house; home cooking.

RIVERSIDE DRIVE, 582.—Beautiful rooms; southern exposure; refined surroundings; exceptional board; references.

THE EVELYN LODGE.
Charming family Hotel of high standard; Grand location; 20 min. Broadway, 5c. fare; Lovely furnished rooms; suites; all comforts; Excellent chef and service; separate tables; Delightful atmosphere; refined surroundings. Weekly, $10-$14 per adult, with meals. 71 CENTRAL AV., ST. GEORGE, S. I.

WEST END AV., 930, (105th St.)—Couple with references can find congenial home in private family of two. Alston.

WEST END AV., 520.—Residence for young girl students; home care, chaperonage; eleventh year.

Furnished Rooms
Twenty-five cents an agate line.

East Side.

11TH, 10 EAST, (Near 5th Av.)—Desirable steam-heated room; breakfast optional.

17TH ST., 130 EAST.—Desirable, well furnished rooms; bathroom floor; reasonable.

23D ST., 20 EAST, (Madison Square South.)—Suite, two rooms and bath.

30TH ST., 119 EAST.—Newly furnished room; modern conveniences; gentleman.

31ST, 47 EAST.—Large, front room, near subway; all conveniences.

53D, 32 EAST.—Two large rooms with or without bath, electricity; gentlemen.

45TH, 16 EAST.—Comfortable room, with bath; single room; breakfast optional; references.

55TH, 71 EAST.—Large, newly decorated rooms; electric lights; all conveniences; references.

55TH, 71 EAST.—Two large, light rooms, electric light; running water; references.

75TH, 1,044 Lexington Av.—Handsomely furnished room, bath, connecting; gentlemen only; references.

91ST, 75 EAST.—Neat, light room; terms reasonable; telephone; references.

IRVING PLACE, 14.—Front rooms; box-spring beds; tiled bathroom; absolute cleanliness.

LEXINGTON AV, 586.—Elegant back parlor and one large room; references; telephone.

West Side

8TH, 128 WEST.—Handsome room and alcove, bath adjoining; also studio, piano, electricity.

12TH ST., 48 WEST.—Very large room, bath, $12; well-kept house.

40TH, 66 WEST.—Floor 2 rooms, bath, single, en suite; exclusive; electricity; references; bachelors.

44TH, 12 WEST. (The Mansfield.)—Highest class bachelor apartments, furnished or unfurnished, with complete hotel service; refrigeration; open fireplaces; excellent location.

50TH, 60 WEST.—Attractive large room, private bath; reasonable.

52D, 55 WEST.—Large room; private bath; electricity; telephone; reasonable; gentleman only; references.

52D ST., 230 WEST.
Newly furnished rooms.

53D, 62 WEST.—Desirable double and single rooms, or en suite; private bath.

58TH, 49 WEST.—Large, elegant room; gas, electricity, bath, telephone; reasonable; light housekeeping.

58TH, 122 WEST.—Bachelors; perfectly appointed, splendidly kept house; rooms $10-$11.

66TH ST., 125 WEST.—Large, pleasant room; running water; suitable one, two; moderate.

68TH ST., 71 WEST.—Beautiful sunny rooms; every convenience; perfectly kept; moderate; references.

68TH, 68 WEST.—Large back parlor; private bath; kitchenette; conveniences; other rooms.

118 WEST 69TH ST.
West Hall.
Large room with southern exposure; saloon dressing room and private bath; suitable for two; also smaller room.

69TH, 111 WEST.—Desirable large room; steam, hot water, electricity, telephone; references.

70TH, 145 WEST.—Newly, elegantly furnished rooms; running water; strictly private house; references.

70TH, 220 WEST.—Desirable large room; electricity; private residence; gentlemen only; references.

70TH, 307 WEST.—Large, bright room, private house; all conveniences; suitable two gentlemen.

71ST, 57 WEST.—Large, sunny room; southern exposure; continuous hot water; references.

71ST, 66 WEST.—Large furnished rooms; telephone; improvements; near subway, "L" stations.

72D, 248 WEST.—The Greystone, phone Columbus 1894; furnished room; excellent table.

72D, 120 WEST.—Newly decorated and refitted; electricity; private baths. M. Luez.

72D, 121 WEST.—Large double room with alcove; twin beds; southern exposure.

73D, 103 WEST.—Nicely decorated rooms; running water; large closets; gentlemen; moderate.

74TH, 165 WEST. — Connecting rooms, elegantly furnished; separately or suite; bath; gentlemen.

74TH, 149 WEST. — ATTRACTIVE ROOMS, SINGLE, DOUBLE, WITH AND WITHOUT PRIVATE BATHS; CONTINUOUS HOT WATER; REASONABLE.

74TH, 104 WEST.—Comfortable, large, well-heated rooms, bath; continuous hot water; telephone; breakfast privilege; homelike; private residence.

75TH ST., (329 Amsterdam.)—Large, sunny room, adjoining bath; elevator; telephone; electricity; furnished or unfurnished; no other roomers. Wyeth

75TH, 147 WEST.—BEAUTIFUL SECOND FLOOR; OTHER ROOMS; REFINED SURROUNDINGS; REFERENCES EXCHANGED.

76TH, 125 WEST. — Sunny front rooms; handsome back parlor, with private bath.

76TH, 57 WEST.—Attractive rooms, adjoining bath; table guests. Tel. 9725 Schuyler.

77TH, 125 WEST. — Desirable, homelike rooms; quiet private house; references; telephone.

77TH, 124 WEST.—Handsome, large room; newly furnished; southern exposure; exclusive, private residence.

77TH, 102 WEST.—Very attractive, pleasant rooms; home comforts.

80TH, 119 WEST.—Large room and bath, suites and small room.

80TH, 136 WEST.—Attractive rooms, well furnished; hot water supply; reasonable; references.

80TH, 144 WEST. — Large rooms, private bath; lavatory, kitchenette; breakfast; $8 up.

81ST, 8 WEST.—Large back parlor, kitchenette; home comforts; electricity, steam.

82D, 152 WEST.—Moderate rates; handsomely furnished rooms; every convenience; "L," subway.

82D ST., 146 WEST. THE BARRETT.
Rooms furnished, unfurnished; elevator; table optional.

82D ST., 134 WEST.—Large and medium second floor rooms; rates reasonable; references.

82D, 56 WEST.—Large, well-furnished room; private bath; electric lights; references.

82D, 33 WEST.—Rent, beautiful large, small front room, newly furnished; references.

82D, 74 WEST.—One large and one small room; every convenience; reasonable.

84TH, 31 WEST.—Unusual southern exposure, 2d floor room; newly furnished, every convenience.

84TH, 56 WEST.—Newly decorated, sunny rooms; exclusive house; parlors for guests' use.

85TH, 333 WEST.—Attractively furnished, sunny, double, single rooms; select; references.

85TH, 207 WEST.—Large room, immaculate; running water; elevator; breakfasts; $6. Sharples.

86TH, 121 WEST. — Handsomely furnished parlor floor; studio, or doctor's; private bath.

87TH, 117 WEST.—Double rooms; strictly private family; moderate prices.

88TH, 181 WEST.—Very comfortable room in select house; all conveniences; breakfast.

88TH, 335 WEST, (Drocoam Hall.)—Exclusive bachelor dwellings; rooms, $5 to $12; subway.

90TH, 58 WEST.—Attractive rooms, running water, southern exposure; private house; reference. Barry.

91ST., 64 WEST.—Handsomely furnished large rooms; southern exposure; select house; references.

91ST, 203 WEST.—Southern exposure, parlor, bedroom adjoining; independent entrance; piano. Stobbie.

91ST, 38 WEST.—Newly furnished residence, sunny rooms, private baths; electricity; $10, $12.

93D, 21 WEST.—Well furnished rooms, wholesome food; phone; board optional.

93D, 253 WEST, (Broadway.)—Attractive, medium, small room, adjoining bath; private residence.

94TH, 250 WEST.—Newly furnished outside room, en suite or single; running water; private family. Apartment 2N.

94TH, 18 WEST. — Attractive rooms; private bath; table boarders; excellent meals; reference.

94TH, 55 WEST. — Beautifully furnished, large, sunny rooms; modern conveniences; private house.

94TH, 153 WEST.—Beautifully furnished rooms; single, double; running water; private house; bachelors.

94TH, 34 WEST.—Large, desirable front room; quiet, refined surroundings; owner; references.

94TH, 106 WEST.—Attractive back parlor, kitchenette; large front room, suitable two.

98TH, 231 WEST.—Beautifully appointed guest room, facing Broadway; gentleman; exclusive. Apt. 3D.

97TH, 251 WEST.—Desirable room; running water; modern elevator building; moderate. Brewer.

97TH, 316 WEST, (Next Drive.)—En suite or single; references. (Mrs.) Manager.

97TH, 218 WEST.—A sunny room; refined family; river view; near Drive.

97TH, 145 WEST.—Private house; unusually attractive, well furnished room, bath; gentleman.

97TH, 230 WEST.—Medium, well-furnished room; closet, water, heat, board. Apt. 8-A.

100TH, 253 WEST.—Attractive, newly furnished rooms, with bath; breakfasts; American family.

102D, WEST, (Between West End-Riverside.)—One, two rooms, bath; owner's private residence; elegantly furnished. Telephone 2007 Riverside.

102D, 302 WEST.—Private house; large, comfortable room, suitable two gentlemen; bath.

107TH ST., 230 WEST.—Handsomely furnished rooms for gentleman; elevator. Apt. No. 1.

114TH, 540 WEST.—Small, sunny south room; terms reasonable.

116TH ST., (Opposite Columbia.)—Large, sunny front room, for one or two; two closets. Miss Ward, 15 Claremont Av.

118TH, 414 WEST.—South rooms; elevator building; beside Columbia; kitchen privileges. Apt. 3.

118TH, 420 WEST.—Three rooms, furnished, for housekeeping; reasonable. See Supt.

124TH, 542 WEST.—Cozy room, conveniences; breakfast optional; French family. Apt. 3E.

Furnished Rooms
Twenty-five cents an agate line.

West Side

124TH, 1 EAST.—Newly opened, newly furnished, newly decorated, private house; handsomely furnished suites and rooms; large, small, private bath; electricity; refined surroundings; opposite park; reasonable; breakfast if desired; large, light back parlor; running water; for physician or dentist. Telephone 5844 Harlem.

136TH, 530 WEST.—Beautiful front room, private family; elevator; conveniences. Apartment 9-K.

139TH, (574 St. Nicholas Av.), near 140th St. "L."—Large, outside room, facing park; exclusive elevator apartment for one or two gentlemen; board optional. Bachrach, Apt. 4E.

145TH, 504 WEST.—Desirable rooms, conveniences, suitable one or two; reasonable. Grant.

162D, WEST, (16 Jumel Terrace.)—Two, single, en suite; bath; running water; large closets; spotless; telephone; $4, $5.

177TH, WEST, (228 Audubon Av.)—Elegant room, private family; telephone; $4. Apartment 36.

BROADWAY, 2,880, (112th.)—Two fine and unusually large rooms, adjoining bath; high-class apartment. Vosburgh. Telephone 3908 Morningside.

BROADWAY, 3,810, (150th St.), Apartment 44.—Pleasant room; reasonable; private family; references.

BROADWAY, (168th)—Seven rooms; two baths; 2, 3, rooms, bath. Audubon 3515. Ellsworth.

CENTRAL PARK WEST, (66th St.)—Couple, having charming apartment, rent delightful outside room; private lavatory; excellent transportation; 7915 Columbus.

DESIRABLE front room, overlooking Central Park; exclusive elevator apartment. Columbus 5277.

LARGE PARLOR and alcove, newly furnished; conveniences; suitable for couple. W 42 Times.

MUST BE SEEN TO BE APPRECIATED. In very select neighborhood, beautiful, large, and neatly furnished room; strictly private house; reference required; prefer gentleman. Address L 96 Times.

NEATLY FURNISHED small room in private house, West Seventies; conveniences. L 93 Times.

SOUTHEAST CORNER 118TH ST. AND ST. NICHOLAS AV.—Handsomely furnished rooms, with or without bath, from $6 to $10 per week; full hotel and elevator service; restaurant; very moderately priced.

STRICTLY PRIVATE HOUSE.
Large, beautiful, well-furnished and lighted room, adjoining dressing room; southern exposure; location, West Seventies; conveniences; gentleman preferred; suitable for two; references required. L 90 Times.

WEST END AV., 569, (87th.)—Room, with lavatory; steam heat; gentlemen; references.

WEST END AV., 676.—Two elegantly furnished rooms with bath.

WEST END AV., 676, (93d St.)—Two elegantly furnished rooms, with board.

Brooklyn.

ST. MARK'S AV., 101.—Handsomely furnished front parlor; also small room; near subway.

Unfurnished Rooms
Twenty-five cents an agate line.

40TH ST., 66 WEST.—Floor, 2 rooms, bath; single, en suite; exclusive; electricity; references; bachelors.

75TH, 124 WEST.—Large room; private bath; southern exposure; other rooms; telephone, references.

75TH, 159 WEST.—Newly furnished, high class, parquet floors, electric lights, private baths.

76TH, 148 WEST.—Large, sunny, pleasant room; bath adjoining; electric light; telephone.

76TH ST., 140 WEST.—Furnished rooms, bath, modern improvements, $5 up; references exchanged.

76TH, 171 WEST.—Homelike, sunny rooms, continuous hot water, private baths, electricity.

Rooms Wanted
Twenty-five cents an agate line.

Furnished.

Two young men wish large room and bath; meals if agreeable, in the neighborhood of Columbia Univ.; must be well appointed and reasonable. Address Room 413, 42 West 39th St. Give full details for the service, and the figure.

WANTED.—Three furnished rooms and kitchen in apartment; would board owner if desired; west side; reasonable. W 60 Times.

BACHELOR desires airy room, breakfast, bath, electric light, elevator; near subway; fullest particulars. W 50 Times.

By gentleman, room modern apartment, reasonable, near subway. W 72 Times.

Situations Wanted, Female
Fifteen cents an agate line.

BOOKKEEPER.—Expert; 8 years' double entry, controlling system; can familiarize with any set of books; knowledge stenography. W 85 Times

BOOKKEEPER - STENOGRAPHER.—Absolutely efficient and reliable; highly recommended; five years' experience; salary, $18. W 49 Times.

BOOKKEEPER, assistant typist, telephone operator; three years' experience; $8; no agency. H 802 Times Downtown.

BOOKKEEPER - STENOGRAPHER. — Four years' experience; competent; reliable; salary, $12. W 47 Times.

BOOKKEEPER, typist, correspondent, executive; experience; references; moderate salary. S., 3,391 3d Av.

BOOKKEEPER'S assistant and stenographer; several years' experience; competent; neat; references. W 45 Times.

BOOKKEEPER, STENOGRAPHER. — Five years' experience; double entry, trial balance; $12. H 370 Times Downtown.

BOOKKEEPER, 24; Christian; thoroughly experienced, competent, and ambitious; excellent references. W 71 Times.

BOOKKEEPER, typist; trial balance; modern methods; controlling accounts; $10-$12. W 70 Times.

BOOKKEEPER.—Double entry, trial balance; thoroughly competent; four years' experience; $10. H 372 Times Downtown.

BOOKKEEPER.—Double entry; can take complete charge of office; salary, $25 per week. G 345 Times Downtown.

BOOKKEEPER.—Expert; executive ability; five years manufacturing business; exceptional references. W 25 Times.

CARE of lady's or gentleman's apartment; capable woman; city reference; no cards answered. E., 23 Perry St., City.

COOK.—Competent cook wishes position in private family with kitchenmaid; city. W 52 Times.

COOK.—Swedish; position by day; sleep home; references. D 164 East 58d.

COMPANION.—Young lady, daughter of American army officer, having spent last five years abroad studying music and languages, (fluent French and German,) desires position as companion in New York or suburbs; highest references exchanged. W 66 Times.

DRESSMAKER.—Late Lucille, Ltd.; tailor suits, gowns, wraps; expert fitter, draper; remodeling equal to new; out; references. 785 Madison Av. Phone 7066 Plaza.

DRESSMAKER.—Competent; ladies' tailor; reasonable; remodeling; home. Mme. Juliette, 24 West 8th St.

DRESSMAKER.—Artistic; gowns, furs specialty; suits; remodeling; $2.50 daily; reference. 6189 Harlem.

DRESSMAKER.—Competent; stylish gowns; remodeling; out, home; references. Thomas, 500 West 123d.

GRADUATE NURSE wants position as office nurse, stenography. Address F. A. K., 805 Broadway, Long Branch, N. J.

HOUSEKEEPER, cook, or general work.—The writer, giving up housekeeping, recommends the services of her faithful domestic; eight years' service; faithful and efficient; speaks German and English. For particulars, W 87 Times.

LAUNDRESS, &c.—First-class laundress, or do house cleaning, by day; references. 440 West 55th.

NURSE.—Lady wishes to place infant's nurse; 4½ years' references. Call 10 to 12 Tuesday, 103 Central Park West. Apartment 8A.

NURSE.—Invalid or convalescent; hospital training; $25 month; references. A. B., Times Harlem.

MASSEUSE.—A Swedish masseuse, Stockholm graduate, two months here, wishes lady patients at their residences; reference. L 47 Times.

NURSE, undergraduate, wants position with doctor or to nurse an invalid; can give reference. C. Barnes, 321 West 28th St.

NURSE.—Thoroughly experienced infants' nurse; best references; sewing; knowledge languages. W 69 Times.

OFFICE WORK.—Young lady, (22,) well educated, refined, good appearance, knows typewriting and general office work, desires suitable position; willing to learn selling in high-class store. H 378 Times Downtown.

OFFICE ASSISTANT, with knowledge of stenography; neat appearing; Christian; $7. K 202 Times Downtown.

RELIABLE COLORED WOMAN.—Half-time place; best reference. Coleman, 117 West 138th.

SEAMSTRESS—REMODELING.
W 62 TIMES.

SEWING, &c.—French; all-around sewing by day or visiting maid; references. M. B., 227 East 43d St.

STENOGRAPHER - SECRETARY, several years' experience, executive ability, desires position requiring competent, conscientious worker. M. Fisch, 1,562 Washington Av.

Situations Wanted, Female
Fifteen cents an agate line.

STENOGRAPHER.—Christian; high school graduate; six years' experience, three of which private stenographer of firm; thoroughly competent, accurate, possessing tact, executive ability; earnest and willing worker; excellent reliable references. McNeils, 180 West 105th St.

STENOGRAPHER, SECRETARY. — Eight years' literary, insurance, engineering experience; manage office; absolutely reliable; superior references; $15. M 201 Times Downtown.

STENOGRAPHER.—Good English education; thoroughly trained in office duties; pleasant personality; willing worker; 18 years old. Miss J., 36 West 123d St. Phone 418 Harlem.

STENOGRAPHER. — Secretary; executive ability; handle correspondence; contracting, machinery, real estate experience; $18-$20. (T) F. E. B., 60 West 39th St. Tel. Greeley, 5495.

STENOGRAPHER.—Seven years' commercial, silk, import experience; switchboard; general office work; excellent references. Christian; $15. H 395 Times Downtown.

STENOGRAPHER and Assistant Bookkeeper, thoroughly trained, desires position with advancement. Margery Diehl, 695 Madison Av. Phone Plaza 2994.

STENOGRAPHER with secretarial experience; high school graduate; 21 years old; excellent references. (D) F. E. B., 60 West 39th St. Tel. Greeley 5495.

STENOGRAPHER and assistant bookkeeper; several years' experience; neat, capable, willing; salary $12. A. W., 413 East 90th St.

STENOGRAPHER, (20;) 2 years' experience; Christian; excellent speller, grammarian; neat, willing, conscientious, painstaking; $8. Evelyn, 238 Times Downtown.

STENOGRAPHER, telephone operator, assistant bookkeeper; 3 years' experience; familiar with office details; willing, obliging; $10. A 222 Times Downtown.

STENOGRAPHER.—Highly proficient; grammatical scholar; master technical detail; tenders her service reliable house; salary $12. L 376 Times Downtown.

STENOGRAPHER.—Neat girl, beginner, 16; anxious; graduate full course; American; serious; hard worker; $6. Miss Hansen, 352 Times Downtown.

STENOGRAPHER. — Five years' practical experience; good references; $12. H 373 Times Downtown.

STENOGRAPHER. — Competent generally rapid; neat appearance; willing; $8. H 374 Times Downtown.

STENOGRAPHER, bookkeeper, typewriter; accurate; salary reasonable; references. Stenographer, 311 East Broadway.

STENOGRAPHER, five years' experience, competent, rapid, and accurate; best references. H 333 Times Downtown.

STENOGRAPHER, three years' experience, knowledge of bookkeeping, reliable, Christian, $10. H 369 Times Downtown.

STENOGRAPHER, assistant bookkeeper; neat, accurate, experienced; $10. M. Salkon, 136 Sumpter St., Brooklyn.

STENOGRAPHER.—Three years' experience; 21; $10; references. K 204 Times Downtown.

SWITCHBOARD OPERATOR.—Four years experience; good office assistant; $8. H 365 Times Downtown.

TYPIST, rapid, accurate; good education; conscientious; references; $8; no agency. H 303 Times Downtown.

VISITING GOVERNESS. — North German, with best references. E. S., 160 E. 37th.

YOUNG high school girl desires position for afternoons, either to do clerical work or to take care of children. Apply Clara de Hirsch Home, 225 East 63d St.

Employment Agencies.
Forty-five cents an agate line.

COLORED HOUSEWORKERS.—Several neat girls, experienced, good references, thoroughly investigated, want places; city, country; other Southern help furnished. Lincoln Industrial Exchange, (Agency,) 314 West 53th. Phone 5022 Columbus. Established 1899.

COOKS, laundresses, chambermaids, waitresses, nurses, $25-$80; houseworkers, $22—$25. Domestic Exchange, 324 Columbus Av., (75th). Schuyler 9136.

COMPETENT colored help, short notice; references. TULL AGENCY, 2,297 7th Av. 8022 Morningside.

BERTHA CARLSON'S AGENCY, 2,415 Broadway, corner 89th St., first-class servants. 9463 Riverside.

SHEPHERD EMPLOYMENT.—Help supplied day, week, month, 107 West 135d. 6916 Morningside.

WHITE, Southern Colored; male, female. Noel Agency, 77 West 11th St. 7656 Chelsea.

Help Wanted, Female
Twenty-five cents an agate line.

ADJUSTER and COMPLAINT CLERK; one familiar with mail-order work preferred. Apply in person, Bellas, Hess & Co., 95 Morton St.

ALTERATION FITTERS.

Arnold, Constable & Co. require the services of Alteration Fitters for the Women's and Misses' Departments. Only those who are high-class experience need apply to Mr. Watson, 18th Street entrance.

COMPANION.—Young French lady to teach young American lady to speak French every afternoon; state age, reference, salary expected; sleep out. W 43 Times.

DRESSMAKERS AND FINISHERS wanted. Mme. Paon, 461 5th Av.

GIRL wanted; neat-appearing American girl to attend switchboard and do general office work; salary, $10. Apply by letter, Chas. W. Williams & Co., 212 Wooster St.

GIRL for general housework, no washing. Apply morning, between 9:30 and 11, Friend, Apartment 4B, 120 West 86th.

Automobile Exchange
Thirty-five cents an agate line.

HUPMOBILES.
1913, 1914, and 1915 touring cars and roadsters; all are excellent in both condition and appearance and guaranteed like new; no reasonable offers refused. Hupmobile Agency, 1,385 Bedford Av., Brooklyn.

Stearns Knight runabout, 1912; dynamo lighting, clock, Klaxon horn, speedometer; overhauled; manufacturer's new car guarantee. Stearns Company, 617 West 55th St. Telephone 7600 Columbus.

A Bargain.—Haynes, 1915, 50 horse power roadster, fully equipped and in perfect condition; must be sold to close estate; any kind of demonstration. 345 Amsterdam Av.

Pierce-Arrow (1914) touring; 48 H. P. Biota (1915) Sedan limousine; 45 H. P. Cadillac (1915) runabout; like new. Turner, St. James Hotel. Phone 3247 Bryant.

Ford delivery cars, bodies, every description. Automobile Manufacturers Exchange, 468 E. 149th.

LIMOUSINE and landaulet body wanted must be of the very best. Dunpe

CHLOROFORM WOMAN IN CROWDED STREET

Thieves Drag Mrs. Silverberg, 75, Into Hallway and Tear Gems from Her Ears.

Mrs. Dora Silverberg, 75 years old, a widow, of 167 Manhattan Avenue, was chloroformed by two men and dragged into a hallway at 578 Broadway, Williamsburg, about 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and a pair of diamond earrings valued at $500 were torn from her ears. A gold watch and a few dollars in cash were also stolen. The woman, after being treated by Dr. Seller of the Williamsburg Hospital, was taken to her home in a critical condition.

Mrs. Silverberg left her home to go to a jewelry store at the Broadway address. She had just started to enter the store when two men grabbed her and covered her mouth and nose with a cloth saturated with chloroform. The block is in the heart of the shopping district and the street was crowded. The men hurried the woman into the hallway next to the store, explaining hurriedly to the crowd that she had suddenly became ill. In a few minutes they hurried out, saying they were going for a doctor. They were seen to run through Broadway to Lorimer Street and board a car going south.

Some one then opened the door and found the woman huddled on the floor, unconscious and bleeding from wounds in the ears where the earrings had been torn out and from a wound on the head. Evidently she had been blackjacked as well as drugged. Policeman Shepherd of the Clymer Street Station called an ambulance from the Williamsburg Hospital. Dr. Seller found the woman suffering from a severe contusion of the head and internal injuries. When Mrs. Silverberg regained consciousness she begged to be taken to her home, despite the advice of the physician. Her son-in-law, Samuel Eisenberg, with whom she lives, was notified, and he asked that she be taken home. Because of her age, her condition is critical.

Indian Woman Lawyer in Court.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—The first Indian woman who ever appeared before the Supreme Court as a lawyer was admitted to practice there today. She is Mrs. Lyda B. Conley of Kansas City, a member of the Wyandotte tribe. John William Davis, Solicitor General of the United States, moved her admission to practice.

WASHINGTON MART, REBUILT, REOPENS

Mayor, McAneny, Prendergast, and Others Deliver Addresses to a Large Crowd.

FIRST LINK IN RETAIL CHAIN

Mitchel Hopes City Will Own String of Model Markets—Celebration All This Week.

Crowds of many thousands filled Washington Market yesterday to celebrate the formal reopening of the building since it has been reconstructed and converted into a model market of glass, marble, porcelain, enamel, and nickel flooded with light from a series of large overhead windows.

The ceremonies began with the arrival of a procession with a band at its head, city officials in automobiles following and the forty exempt firemen with their antiquated engines bringing up in the rear. The main floor and galleries were thronged, and hundreds of persons had to be turned away while the speechmaking was going on.

Mayor Mitchel said that the reopening of Washington Market as a modern institution was only a step in the plan to dot the city with model markets.

"The new Washington Market," he said, "is a link in a chain of retail markets which I hope that the city will some time own and control. Such a system of retail markets will be a part of a still more comprehensive system of food distribution. The entire plan will comprise wholesale terminal markets which will receive supplies of all kinds for distribution with the least possible handling and waste and will have a marked effect in keeping down the cost of living.

McAneny Reviews Improvement.

George McAneny, President of the Board of Aldermen, briefly reviewed the history of the market and of its reconstruction.

"This building was a disgrace to the city four years ago," he said. "But the new building is offered as a promise that this in time shall be the standard of all markets of the city. The start toward the reconstruction of Washington Market was made six years ago by the money saved through other economies. We saved nearly $500,000 from the $3,000,000 given us to use and $43,000 of this saving went toward the remodeled market."

The history of Washington Market and a detailed explanation of the great improvements that had been made were given by Matthew Micolino, President of the Washington Market Merchants' Association. Others on the speakers' platform were Ralph Folks, Commissioner of Public Works; Simon Steibner, one of the oldest dealers in Washington Market, and Mrs. Julian Heath, President of the National Housewives' League.

Borough President Marcus M. Marks, Chairman of the Market Committee, who called up on the long-distance telephone from San Francisco when he was at the exposition to settle some of the details of the market and to decide on the date of its opening, told yesterday of the visits paid to the old market by Edward VII. when he was Prince of Wales and by Presidents Grant, Garfield, Arthur, and Cleveland.

Special Exhibits All Week.

During the week the special exhibits will occupy places in the galleries. Up in the gallery is a woman suffrage headquarters, from which printed arguments in favor of giving women the vote were distributed yesterday, with oral arguments for those who stayed to listen. In another corner of the gallery the National Security League had an exhibition of modern small arms and various charts showing the low rank in military strength held by this country in comparison with other powers. The National Housewives' League had a booth from which advice on reducing the cost of living was issued and various patent foods were advertised.

Today will be given over to an exposition of the pure food principles for which the market stands. The speakers will be Alfred W. McCann, Joseph Hartigan, Commissioner of Weights and Measures; John Boschen, Sidney H. Goodacre, and Frank H. Hines. Tomorrow will be suffrage day and Thursday the day of the National Housewives' League. Friday and Saturday will be market days, with reduced prices on everything.

LOCATE THE ZEALANDIA.

Steamer Has Cargo of Resin—Yacht Two Sisters Regular Also.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—The American steamer Zealandia, which has been under investigation by customs authorities on charges that she had fitted out as a German sea raider when she sailed from Pensacola on Oct. 7 for Tampico, Mexico, has been located by British agents at Campeche, Mexico, with a cargo of resin. The Zealandia was one of several ships suspected by British agents of preparing to raid tank ships carrying oil from the Mexican fields to the British Navy. Officials here see nothing irregular in the Zealandia carrying a cargo of resin, but they say that there is no use whatever in Mexico for that commodity, which is used for making shrapnel and smoke-burning shells.

The Zealandia is said to have had the American colors on her hull painted out and to have hoisted the German flag while at sea, but that was denied by her owners.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 25.—Federal officials here said today that investigation of the power yacht Two Sisters, which was driven ashore near Cote Blanche, La., in last month's hurricane, had satisfied the authorities there was no foundation for suspicion that the boat might be intended for participation in a commerce raiding campaign by Germans or in a filibustering expedition against Mexico.

500 Pupils in Protest.

About 500 students of evening high schools went to the Bronx Borough Hall at Tremont and Third Avenues last night seeking Borough President Douglas A. Mathewson to complain against the possibility of closing the schools on account of lack of money. Mr. Mathewson was at the Budget Committee meeting downtown, but his consulting engineer, John W. F. Bennett, heard the complaints, and said he would forward them to the Borough President.

Lakewood Man Shoots Himself.

Special to The New York Times.

LAKEWOOD, N. J., Oct. 25.—W. W. Stillwell, a prosperous baker, shot himself through the right temple in his apartment in Main Street in the presence of his sister-in-law this morning. He is about 50 years old, and has a wife and two children. He may not survive.

CHURCHILL AGAIN INVITED TO RESIGN

Mayor Says It's His Duty to Quit if He Can't Run Schools on Money Appropriated.

MAY GET MORE FUNDS TODAY

Aldermen Expected to Grant His Request—Education Board Head Answers Mayor's Attack.

Mayor Mitchel made it plain yesterday that when he invited President Churchill of the Board of Education, as well as the other Commissioners, to resign if they could not get along for the coming year on the money furnished by the Board of Estimate he meant just what he said.

The argument which has been going on for several days arose over the request of President Churchill for $270,000 additional money to keep the evening schools open for the rest of the year. He got $50,000 by the transfer of funds from one part of the education budget to another. This, President Churchill said, was enough to keep the schools open only for a week. President Churchill issued a statement attacking the Mayor, and yesterday the Mayor made this answer:

"I made it clear in the Board of Estimate meeting the other day that I am prepared to vote funds to keep the night schools open, and President Churchill knows that. What I also tried to make clear was that the responsibility of the present shortage of funds for night schools rests on the Board of Education. The board has control of the school funds, to do as it pleases with them. It's an old trick to spend funds lavishly in one direction in order to create an artificial deficit in another.

"Every one knows that the question of financing the schools is not a political one. The trouble is that President Churchill tries to make it a political question, refusing to recognize it as a business question, as it is in all other city departments. If the Mayor had the same control over the Board of Education that he has over the heads of other departments the schools would be run for less money and the children would get no less service.

"If any of the gentlemen in the Board of Education, Mr. Churchill included, feel that they cannot run the schools on the money appropriated, it is their duty to resign and allow the Mayor to appoint those who can. I suppose the 'half-baked outsider' to whom Mr. Churchill referred is Professor Wirt, whom he brought here to use, and when he found he couldn't use him to promote the interests of the Board of Education, Mr. Churchill now proposes to attack him.

"The Board of Education's final budget, which this year amounted to $41,000,000 or $42,000,000, presents the greatest opportunity for genuine economy, by which I do not mean a reduction of service, but rather the application of business methods. If the members of the Board of Education want this proved, let them resign, and I'll appoint a board that will run the schools economically."

President Churchill, in his attack on the Mayor, said:

"We are in the clutches of politics. We ought not to be in the clutches of the City Hall. We prefer that the control shall rest in Albany. The Mayor is unconsciously thinking of his political future and sacrificing the schools to that. The Board of Education cannot be expected to accept the ideas of some half-baked outsider."

Late yesterday President Churchill went before the Finance Committee of the Board of Aldermen and made a plea for $237,000 for the purpose of continuing the night schools until the end of the term and to make good a deficit in the day school fund. He said that about $100,000 will be devoted to night school work and the balance to the day schools. Both the Tammany and the Fusion members of the Finance Committee agreed that the request was not unreasonable. The Aldermen at today's meeting of the board are expected to pass the appropriation unanimously. It will also require unanimous action by the Board of Estimate, which meets again on Friday. If the money is appropriated, the night schools will remain open until the end of the term.

When President Churchill was informed yesterday that the Mayor had again requested him to resign if he could not get along on the money furnished by the Board of Estimate, he said he had no intention of resigning. Several of the Commissioners also said they intended to stick. Mr. Churchill denied that he had meant Professor Wirt when he referred to a "half-baked outsider." He said he referred to some one closer to the Mayor than Professor Wirt.

CALLS BARNARD TEST FAIR.

Dean Gildersleeve Compliments Work of Unprepared Students.

In a report for the academic year 1914-1915, Dean Gildersleeve of Barnard College presents statistics showing that present college entrance examinations are a fair test of proficiency for students, whether or not they have been especially prepared for college. The Committee on Admissions held a special series of entrance examinations, managing them in the same way as the regular September examinations at Columbia University.

Forty pupils, who had not prepared for college work, took these examinations in one or more subjects. The results showed that in many subjects, such as English, elementary French and German, the examinations were fair tests of a good general school course. Excellent averages were obtained, even in Latin and mathematics.

The Dean reports gifts of $185,818.52 during the year. Of this amount, $135,000 was added to the Henrietta Carpenter Fund, and $38,452.70 to the Pulitzer Fund. Jacob Schiff's recent gift to the new students' building is not included.

BRYAN BEGINS OHIO TOUR.

Will Spend Six Days in Campaign for Statewide Prohibition.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 25.—William J. Bryan, former Secretary of State, speaking at Steubenville, Ohio, this morning, began a six-day campaign for the adoption of a proposed Statewide prohibition amendment to the Ohio Constitution, which will be voted on in the election of Nov. 2. Touring on a special train, he will visit forty-one counties and deliver forty-six speeches during the week. Whether he will discuss anything but the wet-and-dry issue was a question which Anti-Saloon League leaders here could not answer.

In addition to the speech at Steubenville, Mr. Bryan today addressed meetings at Uhrichsville, New Philadelphia, Coshocton, Newark, New Lexington, and Zanesville. Tomorrow's tour begins with a speech at Lancaster. After several cities in Southern Ohio have been visited, a temperance rally will be held in Columbus.

While the dry forces are conducting their whirlwind campaigns the wets also will be busy. Several speakers are to be sent out from their headquarters here to argue against prohibition, and an extensive advertising campaign has been planned.

FORD MELON IN CANADA.

Company There to Declare Stock Dividend Equivalent to $18,000,000.

WALKERVILLE, Ont., Oct. 25.—Distribution of a 600 per cent. stock dividend to shareholders of the Ford Motor Company of Canada, equivalent, at the present price of the stock, to $18,000,000, was recommended by the company's stockholders at their annual meeting today. This action follows payment of a 50 per cent. cash dividend to stockholders within the last two weeks.

The stock dividend is recommended as part of the plan approved by the stockholders for increasing the company's capital stock from $1,000,000 to $10,000,000. The Directors are expected to approve the action of the stockholders within a few days. There are only about 150 stockholders.

LONGACRE THEATRE, W. 48th St. Phone 23 Bryant. Evgs. 8:20. Matinees Wed. & Sat. 2:20. SPEC'L ELECTION DAY MAT. TUES., NOV. 2.
4th Big Month of Season's Musical Hit!
THE GIRL WHO SMILES
BY THE AUTHOR OF "ALMA," "ADELE," etc.
"A NOTABLE CAST WITH AN OPERA SINGING ENSEMBLE."
"A STUDIO SCENE WITH A SUCCESSION OF THRILLS."
"BEAUTIFUL MELODIES THAT HAUNT YOU."
"A MOST UNUSUAL 3RD ACT."—"An Operetta that Acknowledges No Debt to 'The Merry Widow.'"—Times.

NEW YORK'S LEADING THEATRES.
EMPIRE Broadway & 40th St. Evgs. at 8. Mats. Tom'w, Sat. & Elect. Day 2.
WM. GILLETTE
NOV. 9th FINAL PERFORMANCE OF His Famous Success, SHERLOCK HOLMES
NOV. 8th, "SECRET SERVICE."
LYCEUM West 45th Street. Evgs. at 8:20. Mats. Thurs., Sat., Elec. Day, 2:20.
ETHEL BARRYMORE
IN HER GREAT COMEDY SUCCESS, OUR MRS. McCHESNEY
NEW AMSTERDAM THEATRE, W. 42d St.
Mon., Nov. 1st, Seats TODAY, 9 A. M.
KLAW & ERLANGER WILL PRESENT
AROUND THE MAP
A Musical Globe Trot in Three Swift Gallops. Book and Lyrics by C. M. McLELLAN. Music by HERMAN FINCK.
CAST AND ENSEMBLE OF 125.
After the Play Visit ZIEGFELD MIDNIGHT FROLIC DANSE DE FOLLIES "Meeting Place of the World" Atop New Amsterdam Theatre
GAIETY B'way, 46th St. Evs. 8:20. Matinees TOMORROW, Sat. & Elec. Day 2:20
"A REAL PLAY AT LAST."—Eve. Mail.
Young America
GEO. COHAN'S B'way, 43d St. Evgs. 8:15. M. Mats. Tom'w, Sat. & Elec. Day
ELSIE JANIS in "MISS INFORMATION"
HUDSON West 44th St. Evenings at 8:15. Mats. Tom'w, Sat. & Elec. Day.
"THE SHENANDOAH" OF 1915."—Times.
Under Fire
With WM. COURTENAY.
HARRIS West 42d Street. Evenings at 8:15. Mats. Tom'w, Sat. & Elec. Day 2:15.
ROLLING STONES
HARRIS THEATRE THIS AFTERNOON 2:30
BISPHAM
as BEETHOVEN
In the Musical Drama ADELAIDE, Preceded by THE REHEARSAL.
FULTON THEATRE, TONIGHT AT W. 46th St. 8:30.
A. H. WOODS ANNOUNCES
SHERMAN WAS RIGHT
A NEW FARCE BY FRANK MANDEL.
BIRTH OF A NATION AT THE LIBERTY W. 42d St. 2:15 & 8:15.
TWICE Daily, Includ. Sunday. Ev. & Sat. Mat. 25-50-75-$1-$2. Other Mats.... 25c, 50c & $1.
D. W. GRIFFITH'S
GIGANTIC SPECTACLE. Symphony Orchestra of Forty.
CANDLER West 42d Street. Bryant 6344. Evs. 8:15. Mats. Tomorrow & Sat. SPECIAL POP. PRICE MAT. ELECTION DAY.
THE HOUSE OF GLASS
with Mary Ryan and the Great All-American Cast.
"FULL OF LAUGHS AND THRILLS."
Orch., $2. $1.50. 500 Seats in Balc., 50c, 75c, $1.
REPUBLIC West 42d Street. Evenings 8:20. Mats. Tom'w, Sat. & Elec. Day.
COMMON CLAY with JOHN MASON and JANE COWL
SEATS SELLING 8 WEEKS IN ADVANCE.
BELASCO West 44th Street. Evenings 8:30. Mats. Thurs., Sat. & Elec'n Day.
"BOOMS LAUGHTER MARKET."—Eve. Mail.
THE BOOMERANG
ASTOR B'way, 45th St. Evs. 8:20. Bryant 287. Mats. Tom'w, Sat. & Elec. Day 2:20
Geo. M. COHAN'S Great American Farce,
Hit-the-Trail-Holliday
With FRED NIBLO as "BILLY HOLLIDAY."
"ALL LAUGHING RECORDS BROKEN"
GLOBE EVERY NIGHT AND MATINEES Tomorrow, Saturday & Election Day
MONTGOMERY & STONE CHIN CHIN

The Biltmore
MORNING MUSICALES
Management of Mr. R. E. JOHNSTON.
Grand Ballroom, Hotel Biltmore, at 11.
Nov. 5, 19, Dec. 3, 17, Jan. 14, 28, Feb. 11, 25.
Frances Alda, Pasquale Amato, Lucrezia Bori, Clarence Bird, Enrico Caruso, Camille Decreus, Mischa Elman, Geraldine Farrar, Anna Fitziu, Mabel Garrison, Leopold Godowsky, Frieda Hempel, Josef Hofmann, Beatrice de Holthoir, Louise Homer, Fritz Kreisler, Giovanni Martinelli, Mme. Melba, Rosa Olitzka, Lucile Orrell, Ignace Paderewski, Marie Rappold, Antonio Scotti, Louis Siegel, Andreas de Segurola, Albert Spalding, Theodore Spiering, Aline Van Barentzen, Mary Warfel
Subscription Price, Res. Seats, $20 for 8 concerts; single seats, $3; subscription price for boxes, $200 for eight concerts; single box, $30. Now on sale at R. E. Johnston's office, 1451 Broadway. - Knabe Piano.

CARNEGIE HALL, Sat. Aft., Oct. 30, at 2:30
VIOLIN RECITAL— MISCHA ELMAN
(STEINWAY PIANO.) Mgt. Wolfsohn Bureau.
CARNEGIE HALL, TUES. AFT., NOV. 2d, 2:30.
SCHUMANN-HEINK ONLY SONG RECITAL THIS SEASON
(STEINWAY PIANO.) Mgt. Wolfsohn Bureau.
SYMPHONY
Society of New York
WALTER DAMROSCH, Conductor.
NEXT SUNDAY AFT., OCT. 31, AT 3.
GRAINGER
TSCHAIKOWSKY PROGRAM.
Seats at Box Office, Aeolian Hall.
MANHATTAN OPERA HOUSE
BOSTON GRAND OPERA CO. with
PAVLOWA BALLET RUSSE TONIGHT AT 8
"L'Amore Dei tre re" with Viliani, Baklanoff, Mardones, Ferrari-Fontana, Leveroni, Cond. Moranzoni, and "Orfeo" with Pavlowa, Volinine, Gay, Peralta Ballet & Chorus, Cond. Schmid.
Aeolian Hall, 2nd Recital Mon. Eve., Nov. 1, 8:15
CLARA AND DAVID MANNES
Schumann and Beethoven
Sonatas and Chausson Concerto with the assistance of the Saslavsky Quartet.
Tickets at Box Office and Haensel & Jones, Aeolian Hall. Tel. Bryant 6427. Steinway Piano.
PHILHARMONIC
SOCIETY OF NEW YORK
JOSEF STRANSKY, CONDUCTOR.
Next Thurs. Eve. at 8:15. Next Fri. Aft. at 2:30.
MacDowell, Max Reger, Berlioz, and TCHAIKOVSKY'S 4TH SYMPHONY.
CARNEGIE HALL. Tickets at Box Office.
Aeolian Hall, ANT. W. 43d St. | TONIGHT | AT 8:15.
Maud Powell Violin Recital
Seats $1.50 to 50c, at Box Office. Mgr. H. Godfrey Turner, 1400 B'y. Steinway Piano Used.
MAY PETERSON
Opera Comique, Paris—Song Recital.
Aeolian Hall, Thurs. Aft., Oct. 28, at 3. Seats now.
AEOLIAN HALL, TO-DAY AT 3.
SONG RECITAL Seats at Box Office | D'ARNALLE
Aeolian Hall, Fri. Aft., Oct. 29, at 3. Song Recital by Mme. GADSKI
50c to $2. Management Loudon Charlton.
AEOLIAN HALL, Sat. Aft., Oct. 30, at 3. Piano Recital by HAROLD BAUER
Mgt. Loudon Charlton. Mason & Hamlin Piano.
Bandbox, 57 & 3d Av. Plaza 812. Mats. Sat. & Elec. WASHINGTON SQ. PLAYERS Evgs. 8:45.
Ritz-Carlton Hotel, Thurs. & Fri. Evs., Oct. 28, 29, Bazar de Charite and Revue des Modes, Aid of French Wounded Emergency Fund.
Elsie Janis and The Dolly Sisters
Miss Betty Lee—Miss Grace Field
Mr. Maurice Farkoa—Mr. Melville Ellis.
Tickets $5, incl. supper, at Ritz-Carlton or Vacation War Relief Headquarters, 38 W. 39th.
CORT West 48th Street. Phone Bryant 46. Evs. 8:10. Mts. Wed. (Pop.) & Sat. 2:15
THE PRINCESS PAT Eleanor Painter
"BEST COMIC OPERA IN YEARS."—Chas. Darnton, Evening World.
LEXINGTON 51st St. & Lex. Evs. 25c to $1. "The Natural Law"
Mat. Today 25 & 50c.
STANDARD B'way & 39th St. Eve. 25c to $1. "THE SHOW SHOP"
Mat. Today 25 & 50c.
B. F. KEITH'S PALACE B'WAY, 47 ST. Daily Mat. 25c to $1 | ANNA HELD Harry FOX & Yansci DOLLY, Harry Green, David Sapirstein.
COLONIAL Mats. Daily 25c. | LUBOWSKA, WHITING & BURT, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Barry, others.
ALHAMBRA Mat. Daily 25c. | EVELYN NESBIT & JACK CLIFFORD, McKay & Ardine, oths.
VITAGRAPH, B'WAY, 44 ST. THE BATTLE CRY of PEACE
TWICE TO-DAY, 2:30, 8:30. Eves. & Sat. Mat. 25, 50c, $1 & $2. Other Mats. 25, 50c, $1. School Children's Mat. Sat., 11 A. M., 25c, 50c.
STRAND B'way & 47th St. Noon to 11:30. 10c to 50c. | BLANCHE RING "The Yankee Girl" Strand Orch. & Soloists
Next Week Geraldine Farrar in "Carmen"
Ice Skating St. Nicholas Rink Opens Next Sat.
COLUMBIA B'way & 47th. Burlesque Matinee Today.
Geo. STONE—Etta PILLARD and The Social Maids.
YORKVILLE 86th St., at 3d Av. Burlesque | Mat. Today 15c to 50c. Smoking Permitted
FROLICS OF 1915
EDEN WORLD IN WAX European War Heroes. Xtra Attractions. MUSEE
OPEN EVERY DAY FROM 10:30 TO 10:30.

Hippodrome
Management Charles Dillingham.
Mat. TODAY and Every Day
WORLD'S BIGGEST SHOW AT LOWEST PRICES | HIP HIP HOORAY with 100 Wonders. SOUSA and BAND Sensational ICE BALLET
Staged by R. H. BURNSIDE.
Evs. & Sat. Mat. $1.50 | BEST SEATS 1500 RESERVED SEATS AT 50c. | Daily Matinees, Exc. Sat., $1.00.
SUNDAYS ALL STARS AND SOUSA.
IRVING PLACE THEATRE
Tonight, Der Weltsteufel. Wed., Lehmann's Kinder. Thursday, Ein Idealer Gatte.
Century Central Park West, 62d to 63d Street. Phone 8500 Columbus.
Continental Music Hall. Smoking Sections. Evgs. 8:15. Mats. Tues., Thurs & Sat., 2:15.
WAYBURN'S TOWN TOPICS
Bargain Mat. Today, 25c to $1. All Seats Reserved. SUNDAY EVE. CONCERT—15 BIG ACTS.
Triangle Plays This Week: Ford Sterling in "His Father's Footsteps," "Martyrs of the Alamo," "Fickle Fatty's Fall." Julia Dean in "Matrimony."
Evenings at 8. Matinees at 2. Matinees, 25c and 50c. Evenings, 25c, 50c, 75c, $1, and $2.
Knickerbocker Theatre, B'way & 38th St.
PARK THEATRE, 59th St. & Col. Circle. Daily 2:30—4—8 & 9:15.
FOR WOMEN ONLY—Only Authentic Motion Pictures in the World of
Twilight Sleep
And Lecture by Dr. Kurt E. Schlosingk.
GLOBE THEATRE. Special Mat. Today & Every Day after. Chin-Chin is not playing. 25-50, MR. & MRS. VERNON CASTLE 75-1.00 in "THE WHIRL OF LIFE." A Thrilling Photo Drama in 6 Parts.
Note: MONTGOMERY & STONE in CHIN-CHIN Every Night and Wed. and Sat. Matinees.
Loew's American Roof 42d St. & 8th Av. Every Eve. at 8:15
FRANK BUSH, CHAS. BACHMANN & CO., 10 Oths. Enclosed. Heated. Comfortable. | ALL SEATS RESERVED 25c, 35c, 50c.
Ice Skating St. Nicholas Rink Opens Next Sat.
GARRICK 35th St., nr. B'way. | BURLESQUE "Blue Ribbon Belles" Mat. Today, 15, 25, 50c.

WESTPORT 2 1/4 IN.
THE CORRECT CUT-A-WAY SHAPE
Lion Collars
OLDEST BRAND IN AMERICA
UNITED SHIRT & COLLAR CO., TROY, N. Y.

RECTOR'S
"America's Leading Restaurant"
Special Dinner at $1.50 a Cover
All the skill and experience of Rector's unsurpassed cuisine is fully expressed in this special dinner at $1.50 a cover. Served in the Ballroom de Luxe, from 6 to 9. Faultless service. Pleasant surroundings. High Class Entertainment. Music. Dancing.
Dancing on Two Uncrowded Floors
All-Star Cabaret Best Dancing Acts
Broadway, 48th St. and 7th Ave.

Last Day of Our Birthday Party.
Better hurry to take advantage of the exceptional values in our
Hart Schaffner & Marx
Varsity Fifty-five Suits at $21.50
Some of the smartest suits in our great stocks have been called upon to do the honors.
No need for an R. S. V. P. —come in yourself— to-day.
Wallach Bros.
Broadway, below Chambers St.
Broadway, Cor. 29th St.
Third Ave., Cor. 122d St.
246-248 West 125th St.
} Open Evenings.

JETWOOD
A SMART COLLAR WITH A COMFORTABLE LOW FRONT
E&W
RED-MAN 2 FOR 25c
TROY'S BEST PRODUCT

Jansson wants to see you
At the Famous
HOFBRAU HAUS BROADWAY AND
GREATEST LUNCHEON AND DINNER PLACE
30TH ST. Highest Class Music from Noon Until After Theatre. Finest Table d'Hote in City, $1 30TH ST.
Carlton Terrace Broadway at 100th St.
CHURCHILL'S Broadway at 49th Street
DINE AT THE HOLLAND HOUSE
Fifth Avenue at 30th St.
(J. Charlton Rivers, Prop.)
TABLE D'HOTE DINNER $1.50
FINE ORCHESTRA MUSIC UNEXCELLED SERVICE
Bargains in Automobiles.
In the Automobile Exchange in The New York Times many slightly used cars by first-class makers are offered daily. Telephone 1000 Bryant.—Advt.
Hotel Bretton Hall
BROADWAY 85TH TO 86TH ST.
Offers All the Advantages of the Best New York City Hotels at Much Lower Prices.
EXCEPTIONAL APARTMENTS OF ALL SIZES,
FURNISHED OR UNFURNISHED, FOR LONG OR SHORT PERIODS.
Transient Rates, $2.50 per Day Up
No Extra Charge When Rooms Are Occupied by Two Persons.
Strand Roof Garden B'way & 47th | Tomorrow Evening Vanderbilt Cup Contest.
Cafeteria Lunch 11:30 A.M. to 2 P.M. Afternoon Tea 4:30 to 6:30. Evenings 8 P. M. to 12 P. M.

HOTEL ENDICOTT
Columbus Ave. and 81st St., New York City.
A "Home Hotel" of superior appointment. The spacious dining rooms and 400 sleeping rooms have been reopened after an expenditure of an enormous sum in remodeling, redecorating and refurnishing.
Cuisine and service of the highest standard. Average charge per entree, thirty-five cents. Restaurant prices fifty per cent. less than elsewhere.
RATES
Room with use of Bath.....$1.00
Room with Private Bath..... 1.50
Parlor, Bedroom and Bath 2.50
HOTEL THERESA
Under New Management.
Phone 8270 Morningside.
7th Ave., 124th to 125th St. Block Front.
The largest and most beautifully appointed hotel in Harlem.
One block from "L" and Subway. Surface cars to all points at door. Within a few minutes' walk of N. Y. Central R. R. Station.
FAMILY AND TRANSIENT
Special Rates by Month or Season (Board $10.50 per week.)
Single rooms with running water and shower .....$1.50 per day
Single rooms with bath .....$2.00 per day up
Double rooms with bath .....$2.50 per day up
All outside rooms with every comfort and convenience. Excellent cuisine and service. Breakfast, 50c; Lunch, 50c; Dinner, $1.00. R. F. Leube, Mgr.
Special Luncheon Every Tuesday & Thursday 12 to 1:30 P. M. 50 cents.
Fourteen East Sixtieth St. A quiet, luxurious Residential Hotel. Affording the Exclusiveness and Elegance of a Private Residence.
Opposite the Metropolitan Club and 5th Av. Entrance to Central Park. Apartments, single or en suite, rented, furnished or unfurnished, for long or short periods.
EAGER & BABCOCK.
CASTLES IN THE AIR AND ICE PALACE ATOP 44TH ST. THEA. After the Theatre Adm. $1.
Nightly 10:30 (Ex. Sun.) SUPPER AND DANCING.
Tea 4 to 6. Wed. & Sat. World Champion Ice Skaters
Adm. free to table d'hote dinner, $1.50, and a la carte, 6 to 9. Cantone and Pierre, Restaurateurs.
Luchow's
14th Street, near Fourth Ave.
Central Park West at 72d St.
HOTEL MAJESTIC
SUNDAY DINNER $1.50
12 Noon to 8:30 P. M.
RUSSIAN COURT ORCHESTRA
Reserve Tables Now
Telephone Columbus 1900
23 Years at This Address Means Something.
MODERN DANCES
ONE FULL HOUR'S PRIVATE LESSON..... $1
NINE LESSONS.....$5
Open daily from 10 A. M. until 10 P. M. Expert lady and gentleman teachers.
All Ball Room Dances guaranteed for $5; 4 class lessons, $1.
3½ Hours' Dancing, 25c.
Afternoon and Evenings
The Remey SCHOOL FOR DANCING.
917 8th Av., (at 54th St.) Tel. 4557 Col.
Send for FREE illustrated booklet.
The OSCAR DURYEA SCHOOLS
47 West 72nd St.
555-7 West 182nd St.
CHILDREN'S, ADULTS' AND TEACHERS' CLASSES.
PRIVATE LESSONS.
THE THREE STEP
A New Dance We Recommend.
Telephones 6212 Columbus, 5857 Audubon
The "EXCEPTIONAL SCHOOL"
Mr. G. Hepburn Wilson, M. B.,
American Authority on Modern Dancing,
FIFTH AVENUE, NEW YORK
Thorley Bldg., N. W. Cor. 48th St.
Telephone Bryant 6321.
All the Season's Newest Dances.
Our tuition does not merely teach steps. It develops Dancing Ability & Individuality
Terms Most Reasonable.
Send for "The Dance," our beautifully illustrated booklet, in colors.
Write for information
Teachers' Normal Course.
THE A. ALBERT SAATO
Academies of Dancing, B'way, 86-87 St.
Tel., 6435 Schuyler.
The Modern Dances taught privately. Children's and adults' classes now forming. Normal Course for Teachers. Booklet sent.
MANSFIELD Studios, 33 West 44th Street. Est. 1904. Bryant 4474.
All dances taught privately; each pupil has separate room. Lessons en group. Children's class Sat. A. M. Guaranteed course; terms reasonable. Circulars mailed.
MISS BENA HOFFMAN, 64 E. 34TH ST. Murray Hill 391
The New York Society Teachers of Dancing—Standardized Dances.

Mlle. MIGNON
Who created a furor in Paris with her distinctive dancing, performs every night at Bustanoby's
(39th St. opp. Maxine Elliott's Theatre)
THE delicious Dinner is what made Bustanoby's wonderful reputation among the "gourmets" and "bon vivants."
Dinner $1.50. A la Carte Specialties.
After Nov. 10—After theatre—gentlemen will wear evening dress on the dancing floor.

REISENWEBER'S 58th Street and Columbus Circle. 'Phone, 9640—Columbus.
A tuneful CABARET "FULL OF SPEED" Presented by SAM SHANNON
WITH AN EXCEPTIONAL BEAUTY CHORUS, SNAPPY MUSIC AND DELIGHTFUL DANCERS.
A most gorgeous and spectacular entertainment PRESENTED NIGHTLY AT 7:30 AND 12.
Afternoon Tea Dances 4-7. Beefsteak Dinner, $1.25.
An Exceptional Table d'Hote Dinner $1.00
A la Carte Portions Cooked to Your Order.
SERVED EVERY EVENING 6 to 10 AND SUNDAYS NOON to 10 P. M.
Assorted Relishes. Blue Points, Cherry Stone or Little Neck Clams, Canape Anchovies, Spiced Anchovies, Russian Sardines, Canape Smoked Salmon, Deep-Sea Caviar, Saucisson Hongroise.
Soups (Choice). Vegetable Soup, Cream of Corn, Consomme Celestine.
Entrees (Choice). Broiled Bluefish, Fried Kingfish, Salmon Solid, Breaded Veal Cutlet, Spring Chicken Saute, Broiled Lamb Chops, Ragout a la Deutsch.
Roasts to Order (Choice) Roast Shoulder of Pork, Half Fried Chicken, Broiled English Mutton Chop, Wiener Schnitzel, Roast Stuffed Chicken, Small Beefsteak, Hamburger Steak, Emince of Turkey.
Cold. Half Chicken, Sliced Chicken, Smoked Beef Tongue, Meat Salad Mexicaine, Bismarck or Mariniere Herring, Roast Beef, Sliced Star Ham, Salami, Smoked Salmon in Oil, Roast Sirloin of Beef, Sliced Virginia Ham.
Combination Cold Cuts, Sardines de Riga, Normanne Mackerel Roe.
Salads (Choice). Green Salads en Saison, Cress, Beets, Mixed.
Dessert or Cheese. (Choice). Rice Pudding, Fruit Sauce, Coffee or Chocolate Ice Cream, Raisin Cake, American, Macaroons, Lady Fingers, Cream Swiss, Plum Tartelette, Lemon Water Ice, Coffee Cake, Neufchatel, Demi-Tasse.

HOTEL WALLICK
BROADWAY AND FORTY-THIRD STREET.
Positively the Best Location and Values in New York.
Rooms, with Bath, $1.50, $2.00, $2.50, $3.00.
Also Attractive Suites at Very Reasonable Rates.
All the leading theatres within 5 minutes' walk.
And a Restaurant That's Known from Coast to Coast for Quality at Moderate Prices.
Dancing in the Pierrot Room — Afternoon and Evening.

Thomas Healy.
BROADWAY AT 66TH ST., N.Y.
BEEFSTEAK DINNERS
NO OTHER ESTABLISHMENT HAS SO WIDE A RANGE OF FACILITIES UNDER ONE ROOF.
AN EXTRAORDINARY (10 COURSE) TABLE D'HOTE DINNER $1.00 Served in the Balconades Ball Room from 6 to 9—at One Dollar and Fifty cents a Cover.—a la Carte service in MAIN DINING ROOM—where a delectable entertainment is presented.
PRIVATE ROOMS FOR BANQUETS
Make Reservations — Phone 9900 Col.

Hotel Ansonia
Broadway, 73d to 74th Street.
Overlooking the Hudson River.
Single rooms, $2.00 per day; with bath $2.50 per day; double rooms with bath, $4.00 per day; parlor, bedroom and bath, $5.00 per day.
Club or a la Carte Breakfasts served in rooms without extra charge for service.
17 Stories.
1,400 Rooms, All Outside.
Largest Transient and Family Hotel in New York City. Absolutely Fireproof.
Dinner $1.25 Luncheon 75c
Maitre Arthur 5 EAST 45TH STREET
Cuisine Francaise No Cabaret CLOSED SUNDAYS.
HOTEL BRISTOL 122-124 W. 49th St.
European Plan, $1.50; American Plan, $3.00 Per Day up. Weekly rate, 2 persons, 2 rooms with bath, European, $17.50; American, $37.50 up.
Special Accommodations for Banquets and Beefsteak Parties — Now Booking —
DALY'S RESTAURANT & GRILL 20 E. 42D ST. MUSIC
HOTEL BOSSERT
A transient-residential hotel of charm and comfort on aristocratic Brooklyn Heights, overlooking New York Harbor. Montague-Hicks-Remsen Sts., Brooklyn.
HOTEL NETHERLAND
FIFTH AVENUE AT 59TH STREET.
Finest location in New York City.
Breakfast 25c-50c
Luncheon 60c
Tea with Waffles.....30c
Club Dinner .....75c & $1
Open Sundays & Holidays.
The Fernery Miss Tucker, 22 East 33d Street.
The Oldest Tea Room in New York. Bet. 5th & Mad. Aves. Smoking in the Conservatory.

"All the News That's Fit to Print."

The New York Times.

THE WEATHER
Fair, slightly cooler today; Thursday fair; moderate southwest winds.
For full weather report see Page 13.

VOL. LXV...NO. 21,095. NEW YORK, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 27, 1915.—TWENTY-TWO PAGES. ONE CENT In Greater New York, Jersey City and Newark. Elsewhere TWO CENTS.

QUIT MISSION BODY OVER WAR ON POPE

Five Episcopalian Dignitaries Retire from Board After a Spirited Contest.

SEE AFFRONT TO CATHOLICS

Four Prelates and Dr. Manning Oppose Sending Delegates to Panama Congress.

BISHOP GREER IN OPPOSITION

Head of New York Diocese Advocates Seeking Converts Among South American Catholics.

Five High Church dignitaries resigned yesterday from the Protestant Episcopal Board of Missions after a heated debate in which they had tried vainly to stop that body from sending delegates to the Pan-Protestant Congress at Panama on the ground that such action would be an affront to the Roman Catholics.

They were the Right Rev. Reginald H. Weller, Bishop of Fond du Lac, Wis.; the Right Rev. Alfred Harding, Bishop of Washington, D. C.; the Right Rev. G. Mott Williams, Bishop of Marquette, Mich.; the Rev. Dr. William T. Manning, rector of Trinity Church, New York, and the Very Rev. Seleden P. Delaney, Dean of All Saints' Cathedral, Milwaukee, who on Nov. 1 is to come to this city as one of the clergy of the Church of St. Mary the Virgin.

The vote which seems to deepen and widen the rift between High Church and Low, between the ritualistic and the conservative wings, was 26 to 13. It was on the question of rescinding the previous action of the board, which last May voted to arrange to send delegates to the conference. The avowed purpose of that congress, which is to take place next February, is the evangelization of the Central and South American republics by Protestant denominations.

Divides Bishop Greer and Trinity.

The outcome of yesterday will be felt in every part of the Episcopal Church in the United States. In this diocese it arrays on opposite sides Bishop Greer and the rector of Trinity, the most important parish in New York.

The other members of the board who left it after much eloquence and argument belong to the Catholic party of the Middle West. The impassioned address of the leader of the Wisconsin ritualists, Bishop Weller, in which he declared that the issue as far as he and his followers were concerned, was "a matter of life and death," rang through the dim hall of the Church Missions House. He had been silent during the long debate, but when one of the prominent laymen of the church, George Wharton Pepper of Philadelphia, asked lightly if after all some members of the board were not taking themselves too seriously and if "the Pope in the Vatican would tear his robes and his hair when he heard that the Episcopalians were about to send delegates to the conference," Bishop Weller strode to the platform.

"I am sorry," said the Bishop, "that there are some here who take this matter so lightly. I could not laugh at the picture of the Bishop of Rome tearing his hair and clothing. What has been said hurts. It hurts me deeply. It hurts all of us who look forward to Christian unity. I am sure that the world will one day see Christian unity and before I die I hope to see its first stone laid. We have made the start. Is it that there is between us and the Church of Rome an unfathomable chasm which God only can close? I regard this Panama Conference as a direct attack of one part of Christendom upon another.

Driven to the Wall.

"It represents an effort which the good old Church of England would not permit. We have no business to join in such an attack. We are here to say that we will not make such an attack, and will not let you attack. We have to fight. You have driven us to the wall. I stand before you speaking for a large body of intelligent and faithful men. One part of Christendom is not going to war with another branch while the heathen are unconverted.

"The Church of Rome may be full of error, and South America may be dark and dim, and damp, but let some South American go if you will to slums of our great cities and he will find a condition which is hell on earth. Let him look at the impossible record of our divorce courts in this country.

"And so we would have a conference at Panama of Protestants where the only thing on which we are to agree is on the awful condition of Rome and Romanism! I say here that we will not join in fighting against another part of Christendom. We will rather walk on the other side of the line. It is true that with certain difficulties we have kept the fellowship for four centuries. I want to say to you candidly that when it comes to joining with Protestantism against Roman Catholicism there are some of us here, if you make us, who would take our place on the other side."

"What do you mean by that?" asked a lay member.

"I mean," was the reply, "that some of us will wash our hands of a board which makes a law not sanctioned by the General Convention of the Church."

Challenged by Bishop Greer.

"Do you mean that as a threat?" asked Bishop Greer, facing about and looking sharply at the High Church leader.

"My good Bishop," replied the head of the See of Fond du Lac, "I would never make a threat in this place. Now go your way and have your conference. In so doing you have left dissension, bitterness and discord."

Bishop Weller said in conclusion that the action of the board in arranging to send delegates was in defiance of the House of Bishops, and that it had no

Continued on Page 5.

RAIDER CAPTURED BY BRITISH CRUISER

German Crew of Yacht Academy Taken Into Fever-Infected Port —Captain's Wife Stricken.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PANAMA, Oct. 26.—The story of the capture of an alleged German raider crew, who were landed at a yellow fever infected port in Colombia, was brought here on the arrival of the British steamer Jamaica. The yacht Academy was captured at sea by the British cruiser Newcastle and was taken to Buenaventura, Colombia, where yellow fever is reported by the Canal Zone health authorities to be epidemic. Nine deaths have occurred within a week.

The wife of Captain Thomas Owen of the yacht Academy contracted the disease ashore there, and it developed aboard the Jamaica on the way to Balboa. She is now in the Ancon Hospital; there is no hope of her recovery.

According to a dispatch from Washington on Saturday the Academy arrived at Buenaventura from San Francisco, well provisioned. One of the owners telegraphed to the State Department that the vessel had no instructions to go to Colombia. The Captain of the Academy asserted that he had put into the port for repairs. Some doubt existed as to the identity of the vessel, and Washington officials cabled to the Consul at Callao, asking for a complete description of her.

TRANSPORT MARQUETTE SUNK IN AEGEAN SEA

Ninety-nine of Vessel's Personnel Unaccounted For, Says the British Admiralty.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—An official announcement made public tonight says:

"The British transport Marquette has been torpedoed in the Aegean Sea. It is understood that only ninety-nine of the personnel of the vessel are unaccounted for.

"No further details have been received."

F. W. Ridgway, Manager of the steamship department of the International Mercantile Marine Company, said last night that no word had been received here of the torpedoing of the Marquette.

"The three steamers Manitou, Menominee, and Marquette," he continued, "have been under charter to the British Admiralty for transport service for over a year, and we do not know anything of their movements. As a cargo vessel the Marquette carried about seventy of a crew, all told, but if she was trooping, and had about 1,500 soldiers on board, the extra help required might bring the crew up to ninety-five."

TURKISH TRANSPORT SUNK BY SUBMARINE

British Undersea Boat Operating in Sea of Marmora Destroys Ship Laden With Munitions.

ATHENS, Oct. 26, (via Paris.)—A British submarine on Sunday sank the Turkish transport Carmen, laden with munitions, in the Sea of Marmora.

The Austrian steamer Carmen, of 4,424 tons, was tied up at Constantinople at the beginning of the war. It is probable that it was this steamer, converted into a Turkish transport, that the submarine sent to the bottom. She was built at Sunderland in 1911.

WANGENHEIM POISONED, A ROME RUMOR SAYS

Sudden Death of German Ambassador at Constantinople Still a Mystery.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

ROME, Oct. 26, (Dispatch to The London Daily News.)—The sudden death of Baron von Wangenheim, German Ambassador at Constantinople, is shrouded in mystery. Foul play is suspected.

A few days ago a rumor was spread that the Ambassador had been poisoned. Under the pretext of embalmment a post-mortem was conducted by German doctors on von Wangenheim's body.

DANISH WOMEN VOTE AT NEXT ELECTION

Equal Suffrage Act Will Go Into Effect June 5, 1916, Says Premier.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Copenhagen says:

"Premier Zahle declared today that the Government intended to put in force June 5, 1916, the new constitutional law conferring suffrage on women, waiving the right to propose a prolongation of the old constitutional law owing to the war. It is expected that a general election will occur in July, when Danish women will vote for the first time."

The Danish Parliament on June 5, on the anniversary of the signing of the first Constitution by Frederick VII. in 1849, unanimously passed a new Constitution, which conferred suffrage on women.

100 DIE IN TYPHOON.

Storm Hits the Philippines and Devastates a Town.

MANILA, Oct. 27.—A typhoon has partly wiped out the town of Tobacco. One hundred persons were killed and the railroad line was washed away.

The Governor General is sending a relief expedition to the stricken district.

BREITUNG KNEW SPY PLOTTERS

Banker's Cousin Admits Particular Friendship for Paul Deache.

MEN HIGHER UP STILL FREE

Source Whence Fay Got $30,000 and Was to Get $500,000 More Is Now Sought.

DOUBLE GRIP ON PRISONERS

All Held Under Second Charges to Guard Against Any Chance of Bail Jumping.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—"Max" Breitung knows at least two of the alleged German spies under arrest in New York, and was on especially friendly terms with Paul Deache, who is said to be a Bavarian officer.

They met at the time the Kronprinzessin Cecilie, with $10,000,000 aboard, turned back when approaching the English coast, and reached Bar Harbor in safety with the treasure at the outbreak of the war.

Breitung and Deache were both aboard. The former was going back to Germany to spend his vacation, he having been in the United States about two years.

Deache and one of the other men, believed to be Scholz, called upon Breitung at the New York office of E. N. Breitung, where he was employed, and sought his aid in buying copper and other supplies.

Those facts were obtained today from relatives and business associates of Max Breitung after he had started for New York on the 10:30 o'clock Lake Shore train.

Albert Breitung of Chicago, who is a cousin of Max Breitung's father, had a long talk with the young man on Monday night at the Stratford Hotel, where the latter was staying.

Breitung freely admitted that he knew Daeche and spoke very highly of him. Apparently a strong friendship had sprung up between them, begotten not only of nationality and partisanship, but also of the fact that they were both comparative strangers in a strange land.

Stoddard Hancock of New York, also an employe of the Breitung banking house, who has been in Chicago for three months, discussed the matter tonight at the Stratford with the utmost frankness.

Advised to Return to New York.

"I am not a stranger to Chicago," said he, "for I was formerly in charge of the Chicago branch of the house in the Marquette Building. The branch was closed when the business slump occurred. Late last July I returned to Chicago on business for the firm, and Max has made two or three trips here on the same business. He had been here about a week on this last trip. This morning while eating breakfast I read in a newspaper that Max was named in connection with those New York arrests. I immediately called his room and told him. He came to my room and agreed that the only thing for him to do was to return at once to New York.

"While we were discussing it he received a telephone call from E. N. Breitung at Marquette. Mr. Breitung had also read the article and he told Max to go back to New York at once. Max hastily packed his grip and took the Lake Shore train for New York. He was not accompanied by any Secret Service agents. He went of his own accord, and I am certain he knows nothing of this matter.

"Most certainly he never supplied any money, for, while he is a young banker, the fact remains that he is not a capitalist, and is working for a salary.

"Max knew two of these men and liked one of them especially. They met, I believe, aboard the Kronprinzessin Cecilie. It is entirely possible that Max has known of the purchase of certain supplies, but that is merely a matter of business in which many are engaged."

When United States Secret Service men went to the Stratford Hotel this morning they learned that Breitung had hurriedly left for New York after a long telephone talk with his cousin, E. N. Breitung, who was at his Summer home in Marquette, Mich.

Coming to be Arrested.

"Max Breitung, who is supposed to be a German spy, is my cousin, and he left the Stratford Hotel, Chicago, for New York to hunt up whatever policeman has a warrant for him," said E. N. Breitung this evening, when asked at Marquette whether he could explain Max Breitung's alleged connection with German activities in New York.

"I am not at all alarmed over Max's situation, for I was myself accused of being a German spy and agent. If there is anything at all to give basis for suspicion against Max it will be found to lie in the fact that he may have subscribed money to some fund or other represented to be for relief work. I gave $100, the other day, just as I left New York, to a fund for buying tobacco for German prisoners in war camps. I can't swear that the money was used for that purpose, but that's what I gave it for.

"This spy business is largely nonsense. I went to the State Department in Washington and to some of the newspapers before I could get relief from the recurring insinuations and accusations that I was a German agent. The State Department helped me out readily, as I am known well there.

"Max didn't run away from New York," said Mr. Breitung. "He came to Chicago in response to a telegram from me, and I left him there to complete some business. He was publicly registered at the hotel and this morning

Continued on Page 4.

The Case of Edith Cavell

An answer to Dr. Zimmermann, Germany's Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs.

By James M. Beck,

Former Assistant Attorney General of the United States, whose article in The New York Times on "In the Supreme Court of Civilization, The Dual Alliance vs. The Triple Entente," was reprinted abroad and aroused wide discussion. In NEXT SUNDAY'S NEW YORK TIMES.

Order The Sunday Times today. The Times is always sold out early.

TAMMANY NEUTRAL IN SUFFRAGE FIGHT

County Chairman Black Says the Wigwam Will Keep Its "Hands Off."

WOMEN MUCH ENCOURAGED

Know They Have No Open Opposition Like Nugent's to Fear and Trust the District Leaders.

The New York County Democratic organization, as represented by Tammany Hall and the County Committee, of which William Harmon Black is Chairman, will take no part in the woman suffrage campaign. That is what leaders in the organization, most of whom did not want to appear in the limelight as for or against suffrage, said yesterday, adding that there was "no fooling about the matter," and that Tammany was "really out of it." Mr. Black, one of the few who was willing to be quoted, said:

"I can't make it too emphatic as far as the County Committee, the Democratic organization in the county, is concerned. It is a case of 'hands off.' Every voter is to vote as he likes on the proposition, and there will be neither opposition to the movement nor action in favor of it, as far as the organization is concerned. That is absolutely a fact. There has been no work going on, no organized effort. The County Committee, of which I am Chairman, has taken no stand and won't take any stand. Suffrage must rise or fall on its merits alone, so far as the organization is concerned.

"Personally I am in favor of giving the women the vote. But that is my own opinion and should have no influence upon other members of the organization. I am not for it because I am chairman of the County Committee, and I am not trying to influence the committee. I am for it simply because I, as an individual, believe in the cause. There is no other reason, no other influence brought to bear on me. I have been very particular not to speak on the question in any of the Democratic club houses or at any of the Democratic mass meetings. My convictions on this question are my own and have nothing to do with the Democratic County Committee. I want to make that very emphatic to show that the organization, as I have said, is taking absolutely no stand.

In view of the fact that it had been hinted that the word was being quietly passed about that Tammany Hall would "just as soon see the amendment defeated" the utterances of the leaders came yesterday as good news to the leaders of the suffrage cause. The women said they believe that with no influence acting to turn them against the proposed amendment the main body of the Tammany Hall voters would rally to their support. They had feared they might be confronted in this State with an opposition such as James R. Nugent, in Essex County, had led against them in New Jersey.

One thing which the suffrage leaders felt sure of was that election day would not see the Tammany workers in the various districts out in an effort to beat them as the Nugent Democrats were in Newark. They had heard that Tammany Hall had left the matter up to the district leaders, and their investigation had shown that the district leaders were not taking any active part in the campaign. It was felt that such vigorous statements of neutrality as that of Chairman Black would at least weaken any attempt at an organized fight and give the Tammany voters, who favored suffrage, the excuse to aid the cause.

FINAL RALLIES FOR SUFFRAGE.

Outdoor Demonstrations and Carnegie Hall Meeting This Week.

Fifty big mass meetings are being held by the suffragists in the big cities of the State this week, and in addition to the one to be held in Carnegie Hall in this city on Friday evening there will be a big final outdoor meeting at the east side of Madison Square on Saturday night, the formal wind-up of the campaign. This will include a concert with a symphony orchestra of 100 pieces and Miss Carolyn Ortman and Robert Maitland will sing. There will be a big chorus of the suffragists in which the spectators will be invited to join. From the platform, where the orchestra will play, suffrage balloons will be sent up and there will be a climax of fireworks.

Borough President Marcus M. Marks will make the address of welcome to the suffragists, introduced by Mrs. James Lees Laidlaw, who will preside. J. Stitt Wilson, ex-Mayor of Berkeley, Cal.; Raymond Robins of Chicago, and Commissioner Katharine B. Davis will speak. Searchlights will play on the hundreds of banners and flags which will help form a setting for the meeting.

The last torchlight parade of the campaign will take place tomorrow evening, suffragists of the Fifth, Seventh, Ninth, Eleventh, Thirteenth, and Twenty-seventh Assembly Districts taking part. The marchers will start from Hudson Park at Hudson and Clarkson St. and go up Eighth Avenue to Fifty-ninth Street. In Columbus Circle a big mass meeting will be held and speeches will be made from midnight to daylight to reach night workers and late-hour pleasure seekers. In charge of the parade will be Mrs. J. Shoenberg, Mrs. H. W. Corbett, Mrs. J. Zimmerman, Mrs. W. H. Wilson, Miss Alice O'Reilly, and Miss Eleanor Erving.

On Saturday there will be a luncheon in the Hotel Astor, which will bring to an end the centennial celebration of the birth of Mrs. Elizabeth Cady Stanton, the pioneer suffragist. While an individual celebration this will also be a

Continued on Page 6.

GERMAN PEACE PLAN REPORTED ON WAY

Von Buelow Said to Have a Mission to President Wilson and King Alfonso.

TO STATE BERLIN'S TERMS

Madrid Gives von Buelow's Brother-in-Law as Authority for the Report — Pope Still at Work.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—A report reached here today that Prince von Bülow, former German Chancellor, will shortly submit to President Wilson and King Alfonso of Spain an outline of the conditions on which Germany might be disposed to discuss terms of peace.

The report is contained in a Reuter dispatch from Madrid, and has not been corroborated from any other source. The dispatch gives as authority Prince Camporeale, an Italian nobleman, who is a brother-in-law of Prince von Bülow. The report was first published in Madrid, the correspondent says, in the form of a message from Rome.

ROME, Oct. 26, (via Paris.)—Pope Benedict, in an interview published in the Avvenire d'Italia, expressed his deep affliction by the tragic events ravaging Europe and his suffering at being obliged to look, powerless, upon such a spectacle.

But "in his Father's heart, which cherished alike all his children," the Pope said he thought only of the day "when the rulers of warring peoples shall understand the necessity and duty of ending the carnage which is overthrowing all human and divine laws."

The Holy Father abstained, he said, from passing judgments which had no practical result, but would on the contrary cause fresh recriminations and sow fresh discords. He deplored the violence and the barbarities practiced in a war wherein the conquests of science were placed at the service of murder.

In conclusion the Pope declared that, his appeal for peace having been unheard, he would continue his charitable work for the benefit of the wounded.

POINCARE AND KING REVIEW ALLIED TROOPS

French President Confers the War Cross on the Prince of Wales.

PARIS, Oct. 26.—President Poincaré and Minister of War Millerand yesterday met King George on the Anglo-French front and reviewed the British troops.

Today King George, accompanied by the Prince of Wales, returned the visit, and also called on General Joffre, the French Commander in Chief, and witnessed a march past by the French Colonial troops, and inspected the artillery observatories and the sites of the batteries.

President Poincaré conferred the war cross on the Prince of Wales, who has been at the front since a short time after the commencement of hostilities.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Wednesday, Oct. 27.—The Daily Telegraph quotes a letter sent to his brother by a member of a Scottish regiment as saying:

"As it happened some time ago, I can safely tell you now that we had a visit from the Prince of Wales. He came into the dugout I was in after the 25th of September engagement. He is a little brick and goes right up into the thick of it. When he visited us we were under a rain of shells."

ANOTHER GERMAN SPY IS SHOT IN ENGLAND

Still Another, Designated as "K," Sentenced—"L" About to Be Tried.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—The following official announcement of a military execution was issued today:

A prisoner who was tried on the serious charge of espionage was found guilty and sentenced to death by being shot. The prisoner appealed and the court of Criminal Appeal, on Oct. 18, dismissed the appeal.

The sentence was carried out by the military authorities this morning.

Announcement was made officially today of the arrest of two persons, designated as "K" and "L," who are suspected of being German agents.

"K" is described as a German, and is said to have had a forged American passport. He was tried by court-martial on Sept. 29. Sentence has been passed and will be carried out shortly.

"L" is a person of Turkish extraction with a German name. He will be brought before a court-martial.

In both instances the charge is of having attempted "to collect and communicate to the enemy information regarding his Majesty's naval and military forces, with the intention of assisting the enemy."

12TH ANNUAL BUSINESS SHOW
1 to 10:30 P. M.
ALL THIS WEEK.
See ad. Page 6.—Advt.

ALLIES TO STRIKE BLOW FOR BLOW IN BALKANS, LANSDOWNE TELLS LORDS, BUT SAYS SERBIA'S PERIL IS EXTREME

Serb Premier Appeals to British to Rush Aid; Cannot Maintain Resistance Indefinitely

Special Cable to The New York Times.

LONDON, Wednesday, Oct. 27.—The Daily Chronicle this morning says that Dr. Seton Watson and Dr. Burrows of King's College, London, received last night the following telegram from M. Pasitch, Premier and Foreign Minister of Serbia:

"Serbia is making superhuman efforts to defend her existence in response to the advice and desire of her great allies. For this she is condemned to death by the Austro-Germans and Bulgarians

"For twenty days our common enemy has tried to annihilate us. In spite of the heroism of our soldiers our resistance cannot be expected to be maintained indefinitely. We beg of you and many friends of Serbia in England to do everything you can to insure your troops reaching us as soon as possible that they may help our army and that we may defend together the common cause which now is so gravely menaced."

KING OF GREECE TO HEAD HIS ARMY

Proposed Visit to Saloniki Opposed by the Queen and Government.

FEAR HE MAY BE ATTACKED

Constantine Says He Must Defend the Country's Integrity, Should It Be Menaced.

Bulgars Attack Greek Troops; Repulsed With Loss on Border

LONDON, Oct. 27.—Greek troops have been drawn into the fighting near the junction of the Greek, Serbian, and Bulgarian boundaries, according to a brief message received from The Daily Mail's Athen's correspondent. The message says:

"Greek frontier guards have been attacked near Doiran, but repulsed their attackers with losses."

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

ROME, Oct. 26, (Dispatch to The London Daily News.)—The forthcoming visit of the King of Greece to Saloniki, where he will probably assume command of the army, is strongly disapproved by his Cabinet. A Ministerial crisis is considered not only probable but imminent.

Efforts are being made to persuade the King to abandon the visit. The Queen is likewise using her influence in this direction on the ground that the King's life might be endangered in Saloniki. Constantine, however, is asserting his own will. He declares his place is at the head of his army to defend Greece's territorial integrity should this prove necessary.

CYPRUS OFFER HAS LAPSED.

Grey Tells Commons the Conditions Were Not Met.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—Great Britain's offer of the island of Cyprus to Greece has lapsed because the condition under which the offer was made has not been fulfilled, Sir Edward Grey, the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, informed the House of Commons this afternoon.

The Foreign Secretary told the House that in the very critical situation in which Serbia found herself, the Allies were bound to obtain, if possible, the only assistance immediately available. Accordingly Great Britain informed Greece that if she would give her full, immediate support to Serbia against Bulgaria Great Britain was prepared to give her Cyprus.

VENIZELOS MENACES CABINET.

Blocks Move to Return Turkish Properties Seized in Macedonia.

ATHENS, Oct. 26.—Another Cabinet crisis has been narrowly averted. During a debate in the Chamber of Deputies a difference of opinion developed between Stephen Dragoumis, Minister of Finance, and Eleutherios Venizelos, former Premier and leader of the majority party.

The debate was on the subject of the recession of Turkish properties in Macedonia which were confiscated after the Balkan war. Heated remarks were exchanged, and there were constant interruptions from the Government side.

M. Venizelos tartly reminded the Government that its control of the Chamber depended entirely on the votes of his party. The Chamber was thrown into confusion and the sitting was suspended.

The Cabinet assembled hastily, and as a result of its consultation M. Dragoumis made conciliatory explanations, which brought about a settlement of the dispute.

PAYING IN GERMAN LOAN.

Cash Installments Now Amount to 72 Per Cent. of the Total.

BERLIN, Oct. 26, (by Wireless to Sayville, L. I.)—The Overseas News Agency announced today that installments paid in cash on the third German war loan up to Oct. 23 amounted to 8,732,000,000 marks, ($2,183,000,000,) or 72 per cent. of the total.

WHERE TO GO THIS WINTER.
Booklet issued by SOUTHERN RAILWAY full of information. N. Y. Office, 264 Fifth Ave.—Advt.

SERBS RECAPTURE TOWN OF VELES

Intrenching with French in the South to Await Arrival of Supports.

FORCED BACK IN NORTH

But Inflict Heavy Loss on Invaders—Germans and Turks Guard Black Sea Coast.

LONDON, Wednesday, Oct. 27.—The Serbian troops which have been so gallantly holding the little northeastern corner of their country, where the Austro-German and Bulgarian armies are about to join up, are being slowly forced back as the pressure upon them becomes greater. In fact, all along the northern and eastern frontiers the invaders are making steady progress, although at great cost, as the Serbians, now that they have reached the hills, are making them pay heavily for every mile covered.

It is only in the south, where the French have joined hands with the Serbians, that the Bulgarians are being held. Here the French and Serbians are intrenching themselves and awaiting reinforcements, which they hope will enable them to drive the Bulgarians out of Macedonia. The Serbians have recaptured the town of Veles (Krupulu) on the railroad southeast of Uskub, after desperate fighting.

According to The Times the following is the situation of affairs in Serbia:

On the Serbo-Rumanian frontier the Austro-German and Bulgarian forces are within twenty miles of each other. The Austro-German armies are advancing southwest and southeast of Belgrade on a hundred-mile front, which now extends between 25 and 40 miles south of the Danube.

On the west the converging advance from the Drina continues, and on the east the Bulgarian main force likewise is gaining ground.

The following, the newspaper adds, is the situation on the Belgrade-Nish-Saloniki line:

How Railway Is Divided.

The Germans command the first 50 miles from Belgrade; the Serbians the next 150 miles; the Bulgarians the next 100 miles, and the French the last 50 miles to the Greek frontier.

The Bulgarian forces, which have occupied Negoting and Prahov, are marching northward along the Serbo-Rumanian frontier to join the German Army, which, after crossing the Danube at Orsova, has driven the Serbians west of Kladovo.

With Uskub in their possession, says a dispatch from Saloniki, the Bulgarians now hold with strong forces the Nish-Saloniki Railroad between Vranya and Uskub. They have cut direct communication between Nish and Saloniki, leaving open only the uncertain means of transit over the Monastir-Pristina line. The dispatch, which is dated Monday, continues:

"A brigade of British troops will leave Saloniki tomorrow (Tuesday) for Doiran, (forty miles northwest of Saloniki.) The object of this move, so it is stated, is to prepare an advance on Strumitza in conjunction with the French movement by way of the Stara Valley when the allied offensive against Bulgaria is undertaken."

The report that Turkish troops are being concentrated at Burgas, Varna, and other points on the Black Sea coast of Bulgaria is reiterated in other advices from Athens. The Reuter correspondent says that the Turks are to oppose Russian attempts to land troops, having replaced the Bulgarians because it was feared the latter could not be counted on to resist the Russians.

A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company says:

"Five thousand German soldiers from Constantinople are replacing Bulgarians at points on the Black Sea littoral. Defense of the coast has been intrusted to Germany."

Official Reports of Operations.

The official bulletin issued by the Berlin War Office reported progress as follows:

East of the Vishegrad line of heights Suhagorapanos has been reached.

An attack made by the armies of General von Koevess and General von Gallwitz is progressing favorably.

Continued on Page 2.

SHE CANNOT HOLD OUT LONG

Allies Hope for Greek and Rumanian Aid But Don't Depend on It.

13,000 BRITISH AT SALONIKI

All Available Help Sent to Serbs When Greece Unexpectedly Refused to Fight.

LARGER FORCES ON THE WAY

Debate in House of Lords Emphasizes the Demand for a Smaller Cabinet.

LONDON, Wednesday, Oct. 27.—That the position of the Serbian Army is critical in the extreme and that it is considered highly improbable that it will be able to hold out for any great length of time against the combined assaults of the Austro-German and Bulgarian legions, was admitted by the Marquis of Lansdowne in the course of a discussion of the Balkan situation in the House of Lords yesterday afternoon.

Great Britain and France, the Marquis said, however, had taken up the challenge of the Central Powers in the Near East as elsewhere, and were preparing to strike blow for blow, and hoped eventually to receive the support of Greece and Rumania, although they were not depending upon them.

It was also made known that the British force landed at Saloniki numbered about 13,000 men, and was sent at request of Serbia, and at the instance of M. Venizelos (then Premier) for the purpose of enabling Greece to fulfill her treaty obligations to Serbia.

A much stronger force was placed under orders at the same time the Saloniki troops were dispatched, and its ultimate destination will depend on the situation when it gets there, the report of General Monro, the new British commander in chief, who has already arrived at the Gallipoli Peninsula, and upon the conclusions reached in joint consultation by the military and naval advisers of Great Britain and France.

This information developed from a question as to the progress of the campaign put by Earl Loreburn. In answering the query the Marquis of Lansdowne, the Unionist leader, who holds a seat in the Cabinet without portfolio, said:

"I must say with great regret I am afraid we must admit that the progress of the campaign in Northern Serbia has been such as to render it highly improbable that the Serbian Army will be able to withstand for any great length of time the attacks to which it is exposed from the Austro-German forces on the north, aided by the stab in the back which Serbia is receiving at the hands of Bulgaria."

Earl Loreburn asked whether the dispatch of troops to Saloniki had been determined upon with the approval of the naval and military advisers and whether the Government could give assurance that full provision had been made for the communications of this force and for its supply of men and material to the satisfaction of the naval and military experts. Earl Loreburn said he understood the Government's desire that the matter should not be debated at the present time, but that there was a reason for asking the question.

Disappointed in Dardanelles.

"We are disappointed in the Dardanelles enterprise," the Earl of Loreburn continued, and he added that he did not know whether that enterprise had commenced with or without the advice of the naval and military authorities, and one could not help asking whether this new venture would be a repetition of that. The greatest danger from which this country could suffer, the speaker said, was unpreparedness and indecision.

The Marquis of Lansdowne explained that there were moments when it was not in the public interest that questions relating to the war should be freely discussed in Parliament, as the effect on both the Allies and their enemies had to be considered.

He declared, however, that he could assure Earl Loreburn that nether in the present Government nor in any Government of which he had been a member had it been the practice or habit of amateur strategists to impose their plans upon the professional advisers of the Government. With the present Government it was unlikely that anything of the kind could occur. Earl Kitchener, Minister of War, was present at every Cabinet meeting, and it was impossible to suppose that he would allow himself to be deflected from his course by the pressure of his civilian colleagues.

Apart from that, the speaker added, the procedure by the committees and the councils had given a far greater opportunity to the military and naval experts to assert themselves and make their views known. The Cabinet as a whole considered the naval and military and political aspects of the case, so the Ministers and their advisers took account of both sides of the problem; but whatever particular views were given by the military and naval advisers, the ultimate responsibility for a decision on them must rest on the Government.

The Saloniki Expedition.

As to the Saloniki expedition the Marquis said:

"I cannot enter into the apprehensions which possess Earl Loreburn. I can quite understand, having before him our commitment in the Western theatre of the war, the position in which we find ourselves on the Gallipoli Peninsula and our interests in Egypt and the other possessions of the Empire, which should be borne in mind, it is profoundly distasteful to him that the matter should be complicated by our entering into new entanglements in the new sphere of the war."

Earl Loreburn, interrupting, said:

"I didn't say that. What I asked was if you had naval and military opinion to justify you in your decision."

The Marquis of Lansdowne: "I quite understand that Earl Loreburn should dislike the idea of what might be described as this further effort on our part at a time when we are making so many efforts in different parts of the world.

"Under what circumstances has a British force been sent to Saloniki? I should like to recall the position in the months of September. The Central Powers had made no progress in the western theatre for a long time. They, indeed, had been successfully attacked and pushed back at several points. On the Russian front their advance, overwhelming at first, had received a serious check. Italians were pressing their offensive, and in the minor theatres of the war—Mesopotamia for example—success was resting with our arms.

Cast About for New Outlet.

"That being the situation, the Central Powers very naturally looked about to discover some new direction in which to seek for a decision satisfactory to themselves. Their choice fell, as it was not unlikely to fall, on a great attempt to make good in southeastern Europe, and through Bulgaria to threaten our forces in Gallipoli and Constantinople, and perhaps Egypt, to say nothing of the vaster aspirations which perhaps lay behind.

"That great project became doubly attractive from the moment when, most unfortunately, Bulgaria threw her influence on their side. There was one obstacle, and only one, to that project. The key of the situation lay in the eastern corner of Serbia.

"We found Serbia threatened by a formidable concentration of troops, and cannot help here paying tribute to the wonderful gallantry with which Serbia withstood two separate invasions and her struggles against a third. She will afford one of the most glorious chapters of this great war.

"Under these circumstances Serbia made a direct appeal to us for help. But it was not only Serbia that invoked our co-operation. Serbia was bound to Greece by geographical propinquity, by common interests in this war, and by treaty obligations. Moreover, it was only through Grecian territory that help could possibly reach Serbia. It was only by the use of a great force that a base could be provided for it. In the circumstances the good will of Greece was of first importance to us, and we had at that time every reason to feel assured that we had that good will.

Aid Asked for Greece Also.

"Venizelos was still in power, and at his instance we undertook to provide a force for the purpose of enabling Greece to fulfill her treaty obligations to Serbia. It was under such circumstances that we sent such troops as were available to Saloniki. It was a small force, because only a small force could be collected at the time.

"The French Government, on their side, dispatched a force, which is now on the spot and which apparently at this moment is engaged with the Bulgarians on the eastern frontier of Serbia. At the same time a larger force was prepared for service in southeastern Europe, and transports were taken out for the purpose of conveying it to its destination.

"I suggest that these steps—incomplete, no doubt—were taken with great promptitude, and they were the only ones which could be taken to relieve the position of Serbia. They were taken after full deliberation with the naval and military advisers.

"The British force at Saloniki, 13,000 in round numbers, may be regarded as the precursor of a larger force which has been put under orders. As the same time the use to which that force will be put must depend on the situation when it arrives at the scene.

"Events have moved very rapidly in that part of the world. There have been two quite recent developments which profoundly affected the military and political situation. The first was the deliberate decision of the Greek Government that her treaty engagements did not require her to go to the rescue of Serbia in the present momentous crisis, and the other is the progress of the campaign in Northern Serbia."

Future Course to Be Decided.

Lord Lansdowne, after giving some details of the position of the Serbia armies, expressed his opinion as to the outlook for Serbia, as quoted in the beginning of this dispatch. Continuing, he said:

"The military plans must depend upon the military situation when the reinforcements arrive, and upon this point the Allies are of one mind. The military and naval advisers of Great Britain and France will consult, and until these consultations are concluded I cannot say for what purpose the British force will be used.

"Discussions are now proceeding and General Monro, who arrived in that part of the world today, has been instructed to report as soon as possible his opinion of all the aspects of the case.

"Lord Loreburn need have no apprehension in this or any other matter of the kind that the Government is likely to be led into precipitate action owing to some hurried impulse or some vague sentiment to achieve its object. At every step the Government will take the best military and naval advice obtainable, and that advice will have reference not only to the new enterprise but to all subsidiary questions, with regard to safeguarding communications and the supply of men and material."

To Block Foes in Bulgaria.

Lord Lansdowne said that an endeavor would be made to use the present force at Saloniki to counter the movements of the central powers to cross Bulgaria, but the precise method of countering and attack must obviously be left for further very careful consideration.

The Earl of Cromer, who was for many years plenipotentiary and Consul General at Cairo, added his voice to that of Earl Loreburn for more information. He suggested that the Government make some statement showing, at all events, what he believed to be the case, that the centre of gravity of the war had been transferred from the west to the east, and give some general indication of how they intended to meet the situation.

"Lord Kitchener," said Lord Cromer, "has been singularly parsimonious in his utterances in the House of Lords, and, speaking candidly, his statements have never contained much more than what we have already read in the daily papers. We want something which will show that there is a real grasp of the situation, and to be told in general outline what is to be done about it."

The Earl of Cromer disassociated himself from those who wished a change in the Government, but strongly advocated a smaller Cabinet.

Lord Loreburn, who expressed dissatisfaction with the Marquis of Lansdowne's answer, supported, as did other members of the House, the suggestion of a smaller executive, and in reply Lord Curzon said that Premier Asquith had this matter under consideration. Lord Lansdowne said that he personally favored a change.

Press View of the Situation.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Wednesday, Oct. 27.—The Daily News, discussing Sir Edward Grey's and Lord Lansdowne's statements in Parliament, says:

"In all this there is not much room for encouragement, and it is not unnatural that there should be murmurs of discontent, and even alarm, as to the course of events in the near future.

"The point for us to remember is that, grave as the situation is, the war as a whole will not be decided in the Balkans, but in the main theatres of the struggle, and that in those theatres the position of the Allies is steadily improving in numbers, in material, and in the power of initiation, and in one theatre, that of the sea, we have a supremacy that is absolute.

"If these considerations are borne in mind we shall understand that this is a time not for Ministerial convulsions but for loyal and passionate co-operation on the part of all the forces at our disposal."

MAY CUT CABINET TO TEN.

Twenty-two Members at Present in British Executive Body.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Wednesday, Oct. 27.—The Daily Chronicle's Parliamentary correspondent says:

"At least two of its members are in favor of a reduction in the size of the Cabinet. So much is gleaned from the discussion on the Balkan situation in the House of Lords today.

"Lord Cromer, though dissociating himself emphatically from those persons who desire the overthrow of the present Government, expressed himself emphatically in favor of a reduction in the number of Cabinet Ministers. It is impossible, he thinks, to conduct the war efficiently with a committee of twenty-two persons.

"Lord Lansdowne sympathizes with Lord Cromer's views. 'Personally,' he said, 'I am of the opinion that the efficiency of any body of that kind is apt to vary immensely with its numerical strength.' This, too, is the opinion of Lord Curzon, who, speaking later in the debate, said the question of the size of the Cabinet was now engaging the attention of the Prime Minister.

"The present Cabinet has twenty-two members. If any reduction is made it is sure to be drastic. The number probably will be reduced to ten. Six of these are certain to be the holders of the following offices: Prime Minister, Foreign Secretary, First Lord of the Admiralty, Secretary of State for War, Minister of Munitions, and Chancellor of the Exchequer."

DEFENSE OF CABINET CHEERED IN COMMONS

But Asquith's Foes in the London Press Continue Their Attacks.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—Replying to a question in the House of Commons today, Lord Robert Cecil, Parliamentary Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs, made the emphatic declaration that the Government, since he had been a member of it, had put forward all its strength and exercised all its belligerent powers in order to bring the war to a successful conclusion, and always would do so.

This statement was warmly cheered by the House as a whole. Lloyd George's announcement that Premier Asquith intended to make a full statement as to the progress of the war on his return Thursday also pleased the Commons.

Meanwhile, the campaign against the Premier continues in The Morning Post and the Northcliffe organs. The Times had an editorial yesterday plainly implying, though not definitely saying, that Mr. Asquith lacked "great driving power and initiative." The Morning Post today prints an article suggesting that "his ease is dearer" to Asquith than "his country."

The Liberal newspapers denounce these attacks, pointing out also that the provincial press of the country, together with Conservative organs like The Daily Telegraph and The Spectator in London, have rallied to the support of the Premier.

The Star predicts that "When Asquith comes back to his place in the House of Commons he will receive an ovation which will confound the hidden assassins, with their furtive daggers, their masked faces, and their poisonous press."

The Westminster Gazette says:

"This seizing of any pretext to discredit the Prime Minister and prevent him from taking a few days of greatly qualified repose, necessitated by his recent illness, is repugnant alike to good manners and public interests. The great mass of the public are wholly opposed to these unceasing attempts to foster political unrest in the middle of the war.

"The cry for a man to save the country is no new thing in history and generally resolves itself into denunciation of all men who are saving the country. Pitt was attacked as lacking foresight, courage, and imagination. Lincoln was blamed for everything, for interfering with his Generals, for undue leniency, and for failure in vigor and promptness. All men who were called upon to wear down their opponents by patience and endurance have fallen under the lash.

"We are not saying any of our present statesmen will win the crowns of Pitt or of Lincoln. These prizes are awarded only by history, which sees the end, but we do say the war in which we are engaged requires just those virtues of patience and fortitude which are so justly acclaimed by the historian in the case of these men, and which are so liable to foolish misrepresentation by shallow publicists and contemporaries."

FIRST RUSSIAN SNOW SPURS GERMANS ON

Hindenburg Drives His Attacks at Riga and Dvinsk as Early Winter Sets In.

RUSSIANS IN STRONG LINES

River Island, Near Riga, Now Centre of the Struggle — Germans Report Advance on Dvinsk Front.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PETROGRAD, Oct. 26, (Dispatch to The London Daily Chronicle.)—Near the left bank of the Dvina, twelve miles south of Riga and just opposite the river islet of Dalen, are two villages which at the present moment are of primary importance in the struggle for Riga. One, Kepe, two and a half miles south of Dalen, is in German hands, while the other, Klange, just on the bank of the river, is held by the Russians. The Germans are here trying to force a way on to the islet of Dalen so as to command the railway leading to Riga. The Russians at Klange are resisting this firmly on the left bank and maintaining a fierce fire against the German impetus.

In case of their attempt failing here the Germans are ready to take advantage of any chance opportunity that may offer at Olai further west. Again, in order to secure their flank, they are keeping up a pretty steady artillery fire near Shiok. But the main struggle is around Dalen and on the left bank of the river at Uxkull, which lies eighteen miles southeast of Riga. On the Dvina six desperate attacks of the Germans were beaten off by Russian infantry and artillery.

It is not worth while discussing the theory whether the Riga operation is a demonstration intended to divert attention from Dvinsk. The Germans want Riga very badly and are trying their hardest to get it, and if in the meantime the operation serves the purpose of a diversion that would be all to the advantage of their strategy.

But the Russians, while firmly resisting at Riga, show no signs of allowing themselves to be diverted from Dvinsk where the Germans have again brought up reinforcements and ammunition and renewed their attacks—they have succeeded in establishing themselves in the blackened ruins of Illoukst. They will probably try to force the Dvina here, but conditions are not wholly in their favor. The Russians have the advantage of ample cover in the shape of a forest extending between Illoukst and Dvinsk and on the edge of this forest they have already checked the German advance. If the Germans should come to the river they would be exposed to a terrible Russian fire.

The Russians are moreover steadily maintaining a countermanoeuvre to the south of Dvinsk. Here the capture of each obscure village may be unimportant in itself, but in their sum these captures denote the insistent approach of the Russians to the railway on which the whole German operation against Dvinsk is absolutely dependent.

The haste of the Germans to force Dvina is now intelligible. The snow is falling and Winter is setting in early.

OFFICIAL WAR REPORTS.

Hindenburg Gains on Dvinsk Front —Russian Success on the Styr.

BERLIN, Oct. 26, (By Wireless to Sayville, L. I.)—Today's German official report on the Eastern theatre is as follows:

Army of Field Marshal von Hindenburg: The Illoukst sector again has been crossed north of Illoukst. (Dvinsk front.) The village of Kasimirshiki, which temporarily was taken by the enemy on Sunday, again is firmly held by us.

Army of Prince Leopold of Bavaria: Russian attacks east of Baranovichi and in the vicinity of our positions on the canal, south of Lake Wygonovskoie, were repulsed.

Army of General von Linsingen: To the east of Kolki and to the west of Czartorysk, enemy positions were stormed during the night of Oct. 25. A general Russian counterattack was unsuccessful. Further progress was made yesterday. The enemy left in our hands four officers and 1,450 men and ten machine-guns.

PETROGRAD, Oct. 26, (via London, Oct. 27.)—The official communication issued from General Headquarters today follows:

On the left bank of the Dvina, south of Illoukul, the Germans attempted by a sudden attack, without artillery preparation, to rush one of our works, but they were discovered in time and repulsed by our fire.

On the Dvina from the region of Linden, below Friedrichstadt, there has been artillery and rifle fire. On the left bank of the Dvina, west of Jacobstadt, a spirited artillery duel has occurred. In the region east of Illoukst a further unsuccessful German attack was delivered.

Fighting near the village of Voynsuny, west of Lake Boginskoie, (south of Dvinsk,) terminated in our occupation of the village, on the rest of the front southward as far as the Pripet region there is nothing to report.

On the left bank of the Styr, northwest of Rafalovka, our troops stormed the village of Vulkagalinska, capturing prisoners and machine guns. An offensive by the enemy against the village of Medviejie, northwest of Czartorysk, was repulsed.

The enemy, having deployed large forces to attack our troops north of the village of Kukli to the north of Kolki, our troops after severe fighting, taking the enemy on the flank, succeeded in repulsing him, capturing seven officers and more than 200 men.

In the fighting announced in yesterday's communication near the village of Komarow our success was due to the fine qualities our troops displayed. Thanks to their self-sacrifice, the initial success of the enemy, who drove back one of our detachments, ended in his envelopment. He suffered enormous losses. The number of prisoners reported yesterday continues to grow and includes many Germans.

West of the village of Volitsa, north of Novo Alexinitz, three enemy attacks were repulsed. Heaps of enemy dead cover the ground.

BOOM IN RECRUITING FOLLOWS KING'S APPEAL

Execution of Miss Cavell Stimulates It—Many Birmingham Clerks Enlist.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—The King's appeal to the nation, Lord Derby's scheme, and the indignation aroused throughout the country by the execution of Edith Cavell have created a new boom in recruiting.

At Birmingham today recruiting meetings were held in the large factories, and these will be continued daily for some time. Among today's recruits were a large number of clerks and postal employes. More single men are now coming forward at Birmingham than ever before, but the number of rejections on account of physical unfitness is rather heavy.

Not since the early days of the war has recruiting in Bath been so brisk. The head recruiting office was besieged yesterday and today by young men in such numbers that the staff was hard pressed in dealing with them. Fifty-three Bath taxi drivers marched in a body to the recruiting office and offered their services as motor transport drivers.

In Leicester 24,000 men have been raised in a fortnight. Recruiting is also reported exceedingly brisk in South Wales.

RUSSIA TO SEND ARMY, ALLIES PUSHING NORTH

Franco-British Forces Are Now Only Sixteen Miles South of Veles.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, Oct. 26 (Dispatch to The London Daily Chronicle).—It is definitely asserted today that Russia will not content herself with naval action, but will send a considerable number of troops to aid Serbia. Nothing is said of how they are to reach the Balkan front. If this be so the situation may be regarded much more hopefully, for though the entry of von Mackensen's troops into the Sofia corridor cannot now be prevented, it will be so dangerous an operation that more German troops will have to be withdrawn from the French and Russian fronts to protect its line of communications.

The Franco-British expeditionary force has now reached Gradsko, a small town ninety-five miles north of Saloniki at the junction of the Vardar and Bregalnitza valleys. This is fifty miles short of Uskub, which the Bulgarians have occupied, but only sixteen miles short of Veles. As General Sarrail's allied force is able to hold a front of fifty miles from Doiran to Gradsko and to take the offensive successfully at several points, it must be in considerable force already.

ITALIANS HEAR DRIVE IS HELPING RUSSIANS

Austrians Reported to Have Withdrawn Troops from East Front to Meet Attacks.

ROME RECORDS NEW GAINS

Invaders Are Closing In Around Lake Garda — Intense Artillery Action on the Isonzo Front.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

VERONA, Oct. 26.—Greatly increased activity all along the Italian front for a week past is already having one result, in the reported withdrawal of Austrian troops from the Russian front via Lublin to Innsbruck.

Noteworthy progress has been made on the eastern side and Austrian end of Lake Garda, where, besides overspreading the rich vineyard country between the Rivers Garda and Adige, the Italians have occupied Brentonico, with the neighboring caste, thus dominating the important road leading from Mori to Riva, as well as the railway line thereto.

In the Tolmino and Mrzli Alpini and Bersaglieri add one by one fresh mountain positions, thereby protecting themselves from long-distance Austrian artillery attacks, and are taking yet another step toward the mastery of neighboring towns, of which the Italians desire to take possession without a bombardment of the civil population and public buildings.

ROME, Oct. 26, (via Paris.)—The official statement issued from General Headquarters tonight reads as follows:

In the Ledro Valley we completed the conquest of the left bank of the Ponale River by occupying on Oct. 25 the districts of Mezzolago, Molino, and Bezzeca, taking a number of prisoners.

The enemy directed an intense artillery fire from Monte Creino and the Riva defenses yesterday against Dosso Casina and Dosso Remit, south of the depression of the Loppio, conquered on the 24th, without shaking the resistance of our troops, who are well established in these positions.

On the upper Cordevole and upper Rienz we continue to exert pressure on the enemy's lines. In the valley of the Pontebbana Torrent one of our raids reached the crest of Hochkofel, damaging the enemy's defenses.

Along the Isonzo front an intense artillery duel continues, while our infantry is establishing itself firmly in newly gained positions. We repulsed several small counterattacks yesterday in the Plava zone and on the Carso, taking thirty-nine prisoners.

Our aeroplanes on Oct. 24 effectively bombarded the enemy's camps on the Bainsizza plateau and the Carso. An enemy aeroplane was put to flight by the machine gun fire of one of our aeroplanes. All our aeroplanes returned to our lines undamaged.

SHAW URGES AN ELECTION.

Coalition Ministry Worse Than the Former One, He Says.

LONDON, Wednesday, Oct. 27.—Lecturing in London last night on "Aspects of the War," George Bernard Shaw contended that it was the sacred obligation of the Allies to drive the Germans out of Belgium, but, he added, there could be no thought of crushing Germany. He declared that peace ought to be concluded on terms enabling the former enemies to respect each other.

With reference to British politics he considered that by forming the coalition Ministry the people got a worse Government than before. What was wanted, he said, was new blood in the Government and that the Ministers should be made responsible for their actions.

Mr. Shaw strongly advocated the holding of a general election immediately, and appealed for liberty of speech and the press. He denounced, in this connection, those who wanted to muzzle the Northcliffe press, although he himself had no sympathy with the policy of Lord Northcliffe.

CHAMPAGNE SALIENT CENTRE OF STRUGGLE

Both Sides Claim Success in Heavy Fighting — Artillery Active in Belgium.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—Again the most important actions on the west front have taken place in Champagne. Fierce attacks and counterattacks have taken place. According to the French report, German attempts to recapture the salient known as La Courtine have been frustrated while another German trench has been taken. The Berlin statement claims the recovery of the salient with 155 prisoners.

A heavy bombardment has taken place on the Belgian front.

The French communication of this afternoon says:

The close fighting in the Champagne district has continued in the centre of the position known as La Courtine, and the fluctuations of the tide of battle have been held to a limited area. The stubborn resistance of our troops and their immediate return to the offensive were successful in breaking the counterattacks of the enemy.

A lively attack to the northeast of Massiges made us master of a German trench close to the positions recently conquered by us.

The German official statement on the west front, as given out today by the Army Headquarters Staff, follows:

North of Souchez enemy hand-grenade attacks were repulsed.

In the fighting which took place on Oct. 24 at a salient angle north of Le Mesnil, in the Champagne, about 250 yards of our position fell temporarily into the hands of the enemy. The French yesterday were driven out. Five officers and more than 150 men remained in our hands. Northeast of Le Mesnil the enemy still occupies a small German trench.

On Combres height our mine explosions were successful. French mining operations in the Bois le Prêtre achieved no success.

The official communication issued by the French War Office tonight reads as follows:

There is nothing to report since the preceding communication.

One of our monoplane pilots gave chase north of Dormans (southwest of Rheims) to an enemy aeroplane, which he attacked at short range. The German aeroplane was hit in several places by bullets from the rapid-fire gun, but was able to make a landing near Jaulgonne, in the valley of the Marne. The two officers were made prisoners at the moment they were attempting to destroy their machine. This remains intact in our hands.

The Belgian official communication reads:

After a quiet night the enemy artillery today bombarded quite violently the district to the south of Nieuport, Pervyse, Oostkerke, the neighborhood of Dixmude, and our works to the north of Steenstraete. We replied vigorously, but there was no infantry action.

SHIFT PRUSSIAN GUARDS TO THE WESTERN FRONT

Kaiser Lauds Their Russian Exploits, Addressing Them in France.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—The German newspapers announce that "The Prussian corps of guards," not a particular guard regiment, was transferred from Galicia and Poland to the West and engaged in opposing the Franco-British offensive. They publish an address delivered by the Kaiser in France to the "second division of guards," in which the Emperor said:

"The Prussian Guards have defeated our enemies in both the west and the east, and they had to realize what it means when the King of Prussia threw in his Guards. With the help of God the regiments were permitted in the course of seventy fighting days to storm twenty-nine enemy positions and help end a campaign which cost the enemy all his frontier fortifications and untold booty. Your work being finished, the order of your King calls you to new deeds. On your way thither I have rejoiced to see you, eye to eye, and to express my royal gratitude.

FOOD AND CLOTHING SHORT IN GERMANY

London Chronicle Reports There Were Riots at Chemnitz, Where Shops Were Wrecked.

SOCIALISTS MAKING TROUBLE

Municipalities Encourage the Manufacture of Sabots Owing to the Scarcity of Leather.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Wednesday, Oct. 27.—The Daily Chronicle says in an editorial article:

"The prospect of war through another Winter is a hard one for all the belligerents, but evidence is accumulating that it will be much harder for the enemy than for the Allies. There can be no doubt that Germany is now feeling the effects of the British blockade.

"The presumption that the central empires are hard pressed is now strongly confirmed by what appears in their press.

"It is clear in the first place that they are running very short of clothing. Today a civilian actually cannot buy a blanket or woolen rug in a German town; the Federal Council has forbidden them to be sold. The shortage of leather is so great that municipalities are promoting the manufacture and use of sabots in place of boots.

"The Committee of the Socialist Party and the General Committee of German Trade Unions recently addressed a petition on the subject of food supplies to the Chancellor. They paint a terrible picture of semi-starvation among the families of those at the front and of undernutrition throughout the working community.

"The Berliner Tageblatt recently described hungry thousands surrounding municipal food shops. The police were called in to prevent them from rioting, and women were standing for hours, till they fainted from fatigue. At Chemnitz they did riot, and the butter and egg shops were wrecked.

"Meanwhile the papers publish recipes for making soup out of fruit-skins for the want of meat and fat, the Federal Council is to institute national butter-cards on the lines of the bread cards, and the potato supply is to be nationalized and distributed at fixed prices."

CANON UNDER INQUIRY.

War Minister Investigating Speech About "France Tottering."

PARIS, Oct. 26.—Alexandre Millerand, the French Minister of War, today began an inquiry regarding the speech Canon Lagardere is reported to have made to the Sixth Regiment of Dragoons on Oct. 6. The Canon is said to have declared:

"France is tottering under the weight of its errors and national faults. It has need of new inoculation, in order to make itself worthy of overcoming cruel punishment."

GENERAL TREFUSIS KILLED.

Colonel F. G. Howard Also on Latest British Casualty List.

LONDON, Wednesday, Oct. 27.—A casualty list just made public contains among those killed the name of Brigadier General the Honorable John Schomberg Trefusis, son of the Dowager Lady Clinton. Lieutenant Colonel Frederick George Howard of the Royal Engineers also is among those given as killed.

General Trefusis was the youngest son of the 19th Baron Clinton. He had been decorated for services in the South African war and was thirty years in the Fourth Devonshire Regiment. He was 62 years old.

Colonel Frederick George Howard was commissioned in the Royal Engineers in 1892. He served in the Chitral Relief Force in 1895 and the Tirah and Bazar Valley campaign in 1897. He was 42 years old.

HIGH PRICES FOR FOOD STIR RUSSIA TO ACT

Will Organize Refugees and Soldiers as Teamsters to Relieve Freight Congestion.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—An extraordinary meeting of the Russian Council of Ministers has empowered Alexei Khvostoff, Minister of the Interior, to take urgent measures to cope with the food problem, says a dispatch to The Times from Petrograd.

During his tour south Minister Khvostoff ascertained that as many as 6,000 cars of foodstuffs were being detained in the freight sheds at Moscow. To a representative of the Novoe Vremya M. Krvostoff explained that the main cause for the unprecedented rise in prices lay in the congestion of freight at Raizan, Tula, Orel, and other places, and the extortionate wage demands of teamsters, together with the failure of municipalities to adopt measures to facilitate the delivery of freight. He proposes to organize military companies of teamsters, consisting of refugees and soldiers, to discharge freight, and also to requisition drays and horses.

CALLS IT INSULT TO US.

London Paper Comments on the Reported Knighthood for Dumba.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—The Daily Graphic says in an editorial article:

"Should it be true, as reported, that the Austrian Emperor has celebrated the return of Dr. Dumba by conferring a knighthood upon that expelled Ambassador, it will be interesting to await American comment upon the incident.

"We have no wish to see the United States again in the war danger zone. It is permissible, however, to reflect that to ordinary observers Francis Joseph's action looks uncommonly like a deliberate insult to America.

"For all the world knows to the contrary, Austria and the United States are on perfectly friendly terms. Vienna accepted the dismissal of its disgraced Ambassador without protest. Consequently the least the Emperor could have done was to mark his prodigal's return with some outward show of disapprobation. But that is not the Austrian cum German way. The Central Powers have drunk so freely of the wine of arrogance that they mistake their intoxication for sobriety. What does it matter what other nations think?

"Dr. Dumba, knight, is another significant object lesson of that flaunting arrogance which would make the world unendurable if Germany proved victorious."

LONDON, Oct. 26.—A dispatch to Reuter's Telegram Company from Amsterdam says a message received there from Vienna states that Dr. Constantin Theodor Dumba, ex-Austro-Hungarian Ambassador to the United States, has arrived in the Austrian capital.

SAILORS AGED 56 SERVING.

English Reservists Are Being Used in the Dardanelles Operations.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—Ellis Ashmead Bartlett, describing in The Daily Mail the work of the British fleet at the Dardanelles, says:

"By one of those strange ironies which even the most astute of minds could not have foreseen, all the hard work, dangers, and strain of these naval operations off the Dardanelles are not falling on the young and vigorous manhood of the fleet, but on old, home-rooted reservists, who were called back to the colors to man this auxiliary fleet at the outbreak of the war. The ships are the oldest of veterans, and so are their crews.

"In some ships out here there is hardly an active service rating on the upper deck. There are many men between 48 and 56 years of age. Nearly all are fathers, and many are grandfathers. They have reached that age when, after a hard life at sea, they might reasonably expect to look forward to passing their declining years surrounded by their children and grandchildren in the happy enjoyment of their small pensions and engaged in the civilian pursuits each may have adopted at the conclusion of his period of active service."

SERBS RECAPTURE TOWN OF VELES

Continued from Page 1.

South of Palanka the northern slopes of the Raca Valley are in our possession, while further east Markovatsh, Laope, and Kutshevo have been taken by us. During the last three days 960 Serbians have been made prisoners.

There are no fresh reports to hand regarding the army of General Boyadjeff (Bulgarian).

The Bulgarian War Office issued the following statement yesterday relative to military operations on Sunday:

Our troops have captured Negotin and Prahovo, on the Danube. The booty, so far as known, is one commissariat storehouse, twenty railway carriages, and war material. We captured also one officer, 270 men, and found on the battlefield the bodies of 300 Serbs.

Prince Cyrille (second son of King Ferdinand) and the commander of the army were solemnly received at Uskub.

The Paris War Office yesterday made public the following:

During the day of Oct. 22 Bulgarian forces attacked the French forces in the region of Strumitza along the entire front. They were completely repulsed. The information according to which French forces have been repulsed on the right bank of the Vardar River is erroneous.

RUSSIANS IN ORSOVA FIGHT.

Captain of Battery Says Germans Hurled 3,000 Shells.

BUCHAREST, Oct. 25, (via Paris, Oct. 26.)—The battle near Orsova, when the Austrians crossed the Danube at that point near the Rumanian frontier, is described by a Russian Captain named Sinkevitz, who commanded a Russian battery at Tekia in Serbia and has just arrived in Rumanian territory.

Captain Sinkevitz said that the bombardment, which lasted most of the night, was resumed in the morning. Three thousand shells were thrown against the heights of Orsova, that locality being completely destroyed.

Protected by their artillery the Austro-Germans crossed the Danube in boats and installed five batteries on the Serbian shore. The Russian battery continued its fire to cover the evacuation of the population. The Serbian troops retired toward Negotin and Brza Palanka.

The Austrians, having secured mastery of the Danube, are preparing to transport heavy artillery and munitions.

In the evening the Russian steamer Tiraspal bombarded Orsova. The Serbians are constructing a second line of defense.

SERBIAN CAPITAL MOVED FROM NISH

Now at Tchatchak, 100 Miles Northwestward in the Mountains, Vopicka Reports.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—The American Consulate at Nish, Serbia, has been moved to Tchatchak, (Chachak,) according to a dispatch received today from American Minister Vopicka, at Bucharest, Rumania.

The American Consulate moved with the Serbian Government, and all other Consuls and missions.

Tchatchak, or Chachak, is in the mountains, about 100 miles northwest of Nish, on a branch line of the Nish-Belgrade railroad.

BERLIN USED BULGAR PRESS.

Carried On Active Propaganda Against the Allies.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Wednesday, Oct. 27.—The Daily News prints the following from "a well-informed correspondent":

"For some time past it has been known in official circles in London that one of the chief causes which flung Bulgaria into the arms of the Germanic powers was a persistent propaganda carried on in the Bulgarian press and manipulated by Germans, who bought some of the Bulgarian newspapers and bribed others.

"A contributary cause was the Russian reverses, but of the two chief causes the more potent was the widespread belief, which was fostered in Bulgaria and throughout the Near East, that the British were disheartened and inefficient and would not press the war to a conclusion. An insidious press campaign which sought to create this false impression in Bulgaria was carried on for many months.

"It has come to the knowledge of the authorities that the Germans in thus including Bulgarian opinion relied chiefly on the pessimistic articles and comments which constantly have been published in The Times and Daily Mail; that they gave wide dissemination to these publications through the medium of the Wolff Bureau, and secured their insertion in all the influential Bulgarian newspapers, such as the Dneunik, the popular evening journal, and its morning edition, the Utro, the Narodni Prava, organ of the Radoslavoff party, and the Kambana, which has been dependent entirely on German money."

HEARS RUMANIA WILL LET RUSSIANS PASS

Swiss Paper Reports that an Agreement is Near—Black Sea Coast Plans Halted.

LUGANO, Wednesday, Oct. 27, (via Paris.)—Negotiations between Russia and Rumania appear to be nearing a successful conclusion, says the Informazzione.

While awaiting the consent of Rumania for the passage of Russian troops, the newspaper asserts, Russia has temporarily suspended arrangements for disembarking troops on the Black Sea coast of Bulgaria.

RUMANIANS CALL FOR WAR.

Bratiano's Overthrow Sought by Two Former Premiers.

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 26.—Calls for the overthrow of Premier Bratiano of Rumania were shouted during a meeting yesterday in Bucharest, presided over by former Ministers Take Jonescu and Filipesco, at which a resolution was passed favoring Rumania's intervention in the war, according to a telegram from Bucharest.

The resolution demanded mobilization and "immediate action to prevent a junction of the Germans, Hungarians, and Bulgarians, which is threatening the existence of Rumania," the dispatch adds.

A procession was formed, it is stated, but the police barred the road.

Map Showing Position of Opposing Forces in Southern Serbia.

Latest advices indicate that from the Greek frontier to Veles, which has been retaken by the Serbians, the Saloniki-Nish Railroad is held by the Serbs and French, their position being indicated by the line of triangles. The French hold the section from Gievgeli to Krivolac.

The Bulgarians, whose positions are represented by squares, occupy the line from Uskub up to Vranya, and near Pirot are trying to force their way to Nish along the railroad from Bulgaria.

"IT CLEANS THE TEETH AND THE TOOTH-BRUSH TOO"

KOLYNOS Dental Cream

Facing It Regularly

Almost all daily hygienic duties are irksome—and in many cases the task of brushing the teeth is made as brief as possible.

You think that "after while"—next year or the year after—you are going to give your teeth the attention they deserve.

But EVERY MORNING, and after eating and during the night, pernicious germs increasing as the result of uncleanliness and neglect, are working their office of disaster.

It is not desirable, even were it possible, to destroy all these germs. Complete destruction would be attained only at the expense of the very tissue we urge you to preserve.

We commend to you the regular use of KOLYNOS DENTAL CREAM to secure an ideal condition of oral cleanliness — for Kolynos CLEANSES by POLISHING, WITHOUT ABRADING, the teeth.

It also destroys and washes away large quantities of bacteria, the undue accumulation of which is injurious. It also dissolves the fatty deposits which form a thin layer over the teeth, and contain minute particles of food and other objectionable substances.

Fortunately Kolynos is agreeable in taste. When the easily acquired "Kolynos habit" has been formed, the hygienic duty of obtaining mouth cleanliness becomes, to young and old alike, a real pleasure.

Mouth to Mouth Advertising is believed to be the most convincing, and therefore the best, advertising in the world.

The wonderful growth in popularity of KOLYNOS DENTAL CREAM is due, chiefly, to mouth-to-mouth advertising.

Within seven years more than 26,000 dentists have used it, approved it, spoken to one another about it and recommended it to their patients.

These patients have recommended it to their friends, — because their mouths were in a finer, healthier condition than ever before.

It has been the most effective mouth-to-mouth campaign that could be imagined.

And now you, like every other good user of KOLYNOS, will think to tell some other friend about this rapidly extending mouth-to-mouth campaign.

The "Overhead" Cost

After a dentist has put them in order, the actual cost of keeping your teeth clean and beautiful IS $2.50 A YEAR.

That pays for ten tubes of KOLYNOS DENTAL CREAM, at 25 cents a tube. Purchase them one at a time at your regular druggist's.

If You Are Blessed With a Large Family

When it comes to keeping a supply of dental cream in the bath rooms for a family of eight or nine people, economy is very apt to eclipse cleanliness.

Yet it is less expensive to use Kolynos, even for such a family, than not to use it.

From the toddler of three to the grandmother of seventy, every member of the family should be a consumer of SOME good dentifrice.

Kolynos minimizes the germs of dental decay and also neutralizes for a time the acid which they produce.

It actually costs no more to use Kolynos than any other dentifrice, despite the great expense of its ingredients; but the TRUE ECONOMY consists in its efficiency.

Dental Suggestions

Women are in large measure responsible for the health of their husbands and children. They should see that the tooth-brushes are in good condition and that the proper dentifrice is used.

Use Kolynos on a dry tooth-brush—wet bristles cause too rapid saponification.

The Kolynos Company, New Haven, Conn., U. S. A.

BELL-ANS
Absolutely Relieves Indigestion. One package proves it. 25c at all druggists.
Contains no harmful or deleterious substance

VECTO
To Stop Cold in the Head Get Ahead of the Cold
25c a tube—all druggists.
Write for free booklet on colds.
Vecto Chemical Co., 52 B'way, N.Y.

SMITH'S ISLAND
Oysters are now for sale at all First-class Hotels, Restaurants and Clubs.

HOTEL GOTHAM
THE HOTEL OF REFINED ELEGANCE & EXCLUSIVE CLIENTELE
Specially attractive rates for season rentals
WETHERBEE & WOOD
FIFTH AVE. at FIFTY-FIFTH ST. NEW YORK

MORE DETAILS OF BIG AIR RAID

Foremost Zeppelin, Attacking London, Killed Four in an Omnibus with One Bomb.

ONE SHOW A BIT DELAYED

Bomb Fell in Front of the Theatre, So the Performance Halted 15 Minutes.

LAWYER FLED FROM OFFICE

This Was Destroyed After His Departure, but Another Bomb Killed Him in Street.

The following additional details of the Zeppelin air raid on London on Oct. 13 were brought by a passenger on the Tuscania, which arrived here yesterday:

"The chief havoc of the highly destructive bombs was in the West End theatre district, off the Strand; at Lincoln's Inn Court, in Chancery Lane, famous as offices of barristers, and in Aldgate, three blocks away from the Liverpool Street railroad stations, where terrific damage was done a month before.

"Besides this the Zeppelins dropped bombs on Moorgate Street, near an underground station, five short blocks from the Bank of England. They missed Parliament only by two blocks, one of their bombs splashing down into the mud of the river bank at the bottom of Strand Street, running from the Strand to the river's edge and just off the Savoy Hotel.

"While the Savoy Hotel escaped with a shaking up and a few panes of windows being cracked, the Savoy Mansions, just down the slope from the Strand toward the river, had windows pierced by flying fragments of bombs. Three women guests were cut by the jagged missiles.

"Most thrilling of the work of the Zeppelins was the uproar they created in the theatre district, at Aldwych. The Lyceum Theatre got the brunt of it. The Gaiety, Strand, and Aldwych Theatres, all close by, were also damaged, but not badly enough to force the management to close them up.

Heart of London Aroused.

"The Zeppelins dropped their first bomb at the river's edge after apparently having worked their way along the Thames. Evidently they were heading for Parliament, Westminster, and Whitehall. Before they had gone the 100 yards to the Strand anti-air craft were after them and the whole heart of London was aroused.

"As the foremost Zeppelin of the fleet—it is now said there were four or three in different parts of the town that night—got over the Strand the second bomb was let loose. This one fell with a terrific roar into the middle of the roadway half a block beyond the Lyceum Theatre, on Wellington Street, some 150 feet from the Strand, off in the direction of Leicester Square.

"In a flatiron-shaped block between the Lyceum and Strand Theatres is the office of The Morning Post. Every window was smashed in and débris hurled over the plant. Employes escaped with bruises or scratches.

"The Gaiety Theatre is next door to Marconi House, the offices of the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company. While no windows were broken in Marconi House, the heavy brass fastenings on nearly every one of them were snapped off by the force of the explo-

Four Killed in an Omnibus.

"The Zeppelin's next bomb exploded almost in front of the Waldorf Hotel, toward the Kingsway end of Aldwych, some 100 feet from Marconi House. This one dropped toward the side of the roadway, digging its way through an omnibus and killing four passengers.

"One man was killed in a cigar shop in the Waldorf block. Candy shops, a theatre ticket office, a drug shop, musical shop, art shop, and other places along the Waldorf block were smashed in. The hotel suffered a few broken windows, while its walls were pierced with hundreds of chips from the bomb.

"A piece of wooden pavement used in the roadway went sailing to the roof of Marconi House and other pieces of the explosion burst windows in Somerset House, across the Strand from the Marconi House. The Aldwych Theatre's glass and iron awning was smashed, like that of the Strand Theatre.

"The Zeppelin swerved off toward the City district, dropping two bombs in Chancery Lane on the way. Here are clustered hundreds of barristers. Their offices, in gray, weather-beaten structures fashioned after the Whitehall architecture, and most of them put up two and three centuries ago, lie a few blocks off Fleet Street, back of the famous Law Courts.

Flees from One Bomb to Another.

"One bomb exploded in front of a law office which forms one of a complete square surrounding an open parkway, much like Irving Square, in New York. It ripped the building to bits and tore windows in every other office in the same square. A barrister left his office there in great haste when he heard the bombs dropping off the Strand. He hurried off into Chancery Lane, getting away just as the bomb dropped on his office.

"But he was unfortunate enough to have picked out the wrong way to go, for he went directly into the path of the next bomb, which, falling into the middle of Chancery Lane, killed him. This bomb wrecked a restaurant, killing three wayfarers. It ripped the whole street up so that the wooden blocks rose into a ridge in the middle of it.

"In Moorgate Street a bomb missed the underground station by fifty feet, but the concussion of it tore the windows out and the jagged glass badly cut pedestrians.

"At Aldgate Street a bomb dropped into the London and Northwestern Bank branch, completely wrecking it. The walls of the bank were knocked out, tumbling into the Aldgate Hotel next door. In the hotel it is feared many lives were lost. Some guests had already retired. They were undoubtedly killed in their sleep. As the hotel's floors gave way and wreckage was carried to the cellar, no actual estimate of the casualties there had been made up to the time when I left London.

"Everywhere for two blocks the effect of the Aldgate Street bomb was evidenced in broken windows, pierced walls, and battered doors.

"The Aldgate Street bomb fell five blocks away from the American Consulate, on New Broad Street."

According to Colin A. Cockburn of Toronto, who returned from London on the Tuscania, a panic was averted in the Lyceum by the cranking of an automobile on the stage.

"I was sitting in a box," he said, "about 9:30, when we heard a terrific explosion which seemed just outside the wall of the theatre next the box. The concussion was so great it rocked us in our seats, and we heard a crash of glass as if all the windows in the theatre had fallen out. An English artillery officer who was in our party exclaimed, 'My word, it's the Zeps!'

"Fortunately, just before the explosion a big automobile on the stage had been cranked, and the audience thought it was a cleverly arranged backfire of the motor, and the people never knew what had really happened until they left the theatre."

The following account, dated Oct. 14, the day after the raid, is from a private letter supplied to THE TIMES by its recipient:

"The raid was participated in by five or seven Zeppelins and was by far the most ambitious effort made by German aerial craft to carry terror and dismay to the hearts of the British people. In this respect it was an utter and grotesque failure. It is true that the casualties were heavier than in any previous raid on London and the eastern counties, especially in women and children, but from a military point of view the raid was an empty achievement and the material damage was lighter than ever.

"Only two of the Zeppelin fleet succeeded in reaching the metropolitan area. One of these devoted its attention to Croydon and Woolwich Arsenal and the other crossed the heart of London from west to east.

"It was this second 'Zep' which caused the greatest sensation. At a few minutes after 9 searchlights in Whitehall located the airship hovering almost directly over the Houses of Parliament and at once the angry roar of several anti-aircraft guns advertised the fact that another raid was in progress.

Overlooked Westminster Abbey.

"The crew of the Zeppelin were evidently unaware of the splendid opportunity they had to drop bombs on Westminster Abbey and Westminster Hospital, for immediately the British guns began to bark the airship sped eastward over Whitehall and the Strand and did not begin to drop bombs until it reached the heart of the Strand Theatre district.

"There nine were dropped in rapid succession between Exeter Street, Strand, and Chancery Lane at intervals of about 100 yards.

"The first bomb struck the coping of the roof over the gallery entrance of the Lyceum Theatre in Exeter Street, killing and injuring several people in a house on the opposite side of the street and smashing hundreds of windows in the locality, notably those of the east wing of the Strand Palace Hotel.

"When this bomb fell J. E. B. Stuart of Norfolk, Va., an official of the Texas Company, who, landing in England on Monday from the American liner St. Paul, was seated in his room on the fifth floor of the Strand Palace Hotel—less than fifty feet away—finishing a letter to his wife. The concussion smashed the window of Mr. Stuart's room, and gave him the shock of his life, almost hurling him from his chair. In less than twenty seconds Mr. Stuart was in the corridor, surrounded by shrieking and weeping women guests in various stages of undress, and he had great difficulty in calming them, some of them being so frightened that they sat up all night. Mr. Stuart, when he had recovered his nerves, added a postscript to his letter home, at least as interesting as the letter itself.

"It is an extraordinary fact that of the nine bombs dropped by this Zeppelin in the heart of London, where buildings are as thick as bees and the streets very narrow, only one—the first—struck any building, and the structural damage caused by this one was less than $200.

Strand Finished the Play.

"It was in the Strand Theatre, at the corner of Catherine Street and Aldwych, that the most notable episode connected with the raid occurred. Here Fred Terry and Julia Nielson are playing 'The Scarlet Pimpernel.' They were in the middle of the second act when a bomb fell on the sidewalk at the very door of the theatre, shattering doors and windows and bringing down laths and plaster in showers on the heads of both players and audience.

"Fred Terry, covered with dust and débris, stepped at once to the front of the stage, raised his hand, and in his calm, quiet voice said:

"'Ladies and gentlemen, please keep your seats and be calm. You are as safe here as anywhere. The play will proceed.'

"And proceed it did, the final fall of the curtain being only fifteen minutes later than usual.

"The number of persons were killed or injured by these nine bombs, but the material damage is almost wholly represented by a few tons of broken glass, carted away this morning, and the chipping of walls and woodwork by flying pieces of shrapnel from the Zeppelin bombs, all of which appeared to be of a highly explosive nature.

Zeppelins a Fascinating Sight.

"Throughout this bomb-dropping performance the Zeppelin was subjected to a fierce cannonading by anti-aircraft guns. The spectacle of the 'Zep' clearly outlined against the dark sky by searchlights with shrapnel shells bursting around her every moment was one of extreme fascination and people stood in the streets in hundreds watching it, apparently quite forgetful or scornful of the danger. Many of the shrapnel shells burst very close to the airship, but its altitude was so great—fully 6,000 yards—that it was practically impossible to get the range.

"The Zeppelin subsequently dropped three or four bombs in Aldgate, one falling close to the London Hospital—the biggest in England—and wrecking the well-known Three Nuns Tavern. Several were killed or injured here.

"Today the recruiting offices in London were busier than they have been for months, many thousands being added to Kitchener's evergrowing army."

Clarice M. Herivel, a nurse in St. Bartholomew's Hospital, London, writing to her sister, Mrs. L. M. Williams of Waverly, Penn., on Oct. 11, said of the raid previous to the last one:

"We have been having quite a lot of excitement here lately. I suppose you know that we have been 'Zepped.' About a fortnight ago—I forget the exact day, or rather night—a Zep flew over our heads (at 10:30 P. M.) and peppered us with bombs for about ten minutes. We hadn't a word of warning until the first bomb fell. None hit Bart's, (St. Bartholomew's Hospital,) but one fell in Bart's Close—twelve yards from the nurses' home—and smashed everything in the square (or close). It made a hole twelve feet deep.

"Our nurses' home suffered badly, and shook us as though on top of an earthquake. Nearly every tile came off; ceilings fell wholesale, and windows and frames were broken ad lib. We had 1,200 panes of glass smashed."

ANTI-ZEPPELIN GUNS INCREASED IN LONDON

Defenses Against Air Raiders Being Improved, Says Sir Percy Scott.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—The new defenses of London against attacks by Zeppelins are gradually assuming shape, according to a statement made

"The number of guns for defense this afternoon by Sir Percy Scott, who is in charge of this work. In this statement, read at an inquest held in the case of a Londoner who was killed during a Zeppelin attack, Sir Percy said:

against aircraft has been recently increased, and further improvements as to their position, number and character are in immediate contemplation."

Sir Percy asked the Treasury Solicitor who read the statement to warn the public to seek protection when Zeppelin raids were made, because otherwise there would be danger of being struck by fragments of shells from anti-aircraft guns

An attempt in Commons today to draw out A. J. Balfour, the First Lord of the Admiralty, regarding the recent Zeppelin raid, brought forth nothing except the statement that there had been a steady and rapid increase in the production of British aeroplanes, not particularly for the defense of London, but as part of the general policy of the Government.

MORE GOLD IN REICHSBANK.

Week's Increase Is 3,321,000 Marks, as Shown for Oct. 23.

BERLIN, Oct. 25, (via London, Oct. 26.)—The statement of the Reichsbank of Oct. 23 shows increases of gold of 3,321,000 marks; of net stocks, Treasury certificates, and notes of other banks 301,037,000 marks, and of loans 1,047,000 marks.

There were decreases in discounts of 486,930,000 marks, in Treasury bills 741,000 marks, in note circulation 102,243,000 marks, and in deposits 59,017,000 marks.

Tomorrow's issue of the Mid-Week Pictorial will contain as a separate supplement a special picture, 12½ x 20 inches, entitled "The Enemy." This picture is by the famous French artist Simont, and portrays artistically the element of romance in war. In addition 24 pages of text and timely illustrations. 10 cents all news stands.—Advt.

SEES GREAT WAR AS A DISCIPLINE

J. O'Donnell Bennett Tells of Some of the Fine Qualities Born Among Fighters.

EUROPE NOT "DEGENERATE"

Group of Germans Singing as They Toil to Raise a Steel Bridge Removes That Idea.

WORKERS FOLLOW FIGHTERS

Restoring Railway Lines of Communication All Over Devastated Poland.

By JAMES O'DONNELL BENNETT.

CZENSTOCHOWA, Russia, Sept. 25.—It takes a great deal of character to maintain good-will and good spirits in the face of the conditions under which the Austrian and German soldiers now occupying Poland have been living for months. I mean the conditions which I tried to describe in the last letter—the hot days and the cold nights, and the flies, and the all-pervading grime.

These are the things that take the heart out of soldiers. Wounds are honorable. Living in the middle of a grease spot that is edged with dust and mire is merely disgusting. Men who, like the Germans, come from the best-ordered nation in the world cannot find it other than horribly irksome. But they don't talk about that; they just go on doing their day's work of defending their country, not groaning over the task, but pushing it to completion.

You in America are sorrier for these soldiers than they ever are for themselves, because you take the neurotic point of view and they take the point of view of men of convictions who have an important work in hand and the grit to face it.

"Degenerates" as Bridge Builders.

You talk about "degenerate Europe" and the "effete monarchies of the Old World." I wish you could have seen some hundreds of the citizens of degenerate Europe raising the enormous steel bridge which crosses the Vistula River at Ivangorod. They were out on pontoons under the blazing sun, and because this is war time they were doing the work under heavy handicaps and with primitive facilities. A group was crowded onto one swaying platform that was supported by pontoons. Beside this platform rose a huge derrick equipped with a pile driver. There was no steam power to raise the driver and release it for its fall, but a maze of ropes led downward from the top of the machine, and each rope was raised and lowered by a dozen hands. It was hard work and monotonous work, but if you had only heard it and not seen it you would have thought it was some kind of game. For these men, who have been working since dawn—it is now midforenoon—sang as they worked, and laughed and splashed water on each other between gasps, and made the weary business one of the most fascinating sights imaginable.

Were they daunted by the colossal ruin they had to set to rights? Not they! The Ivangorod bridge lay in eight enormous broken sections before them, now plunged deep into the bed of the river and now tipping drunkenly upward to the sky. It seemed a hopeless proposition. These "effete" gentlemen with arms of bronze and chests like casks took a studious look at it, crawled all over it and dove under it, noted down measurements, and then began hanging pulleys from its twisted girders. They edged their pontoons around it and swung their derricks against it, and with a roar of song and clinking of hammers and smashing of pile drivers they went to work. Lo, the mighty spans rise from the river bed!

All day long the work goes on. Dusk falls and searchlights send their white glow streaming over the river and above the singing men still toiling against the twisted mass of steel.

Simultaneously with the preliminaries of raising the steel bridge the Germans and Austrians have put the finishing touches to a new timber bridge which lies just above the old one and leads into the fortress of Ivangorod. The last plank laid, they sang another song, hung garlands on masts at each end of the bridge, painted the words "Kaiser Franz Josef Brücke" on a board, for which they also made a garland, and then they beamed all over when an elated personage came along and said, "It is beautifully done, children!"

Going On All Over Poland.

This kind of thing is going on all the way across Poland. An officer said that on the Ivangorod line alone 5,000 German and Austrian soldiers were mending tracks and restoring bridges.

That's the way these builders who follow the fighters work, while you at home shudder and moan over the pains and burdens of war. The people who are suffering these pains and bearing these burdens are not nearly so vocal about them.

I used to be squeamish about certain of the sights of war, and it was not so much pity, I'm afraid, as self-indulgence. Now I make myself look, and I don't think that makes a man less sorry, and upon occasion it may make him more helpful.

In the railway station at Maubeuge a year ago I had to go out into the air while Cobb and McCutcheon stayed within, to be of what use they could during the dressing of wounds.

But one day at Jaroslav, in Galicia, months later, it did not seem to me a noisome thing to have to give the support of an arm to a Russian prisoner just in from the battlefield, whose clothes were soaked with blood from coat collar to shoes. The man had been doing his day's work, and he had got the worst of it. It was of no help to him to agonize over him. Nor were the wounded German soldiers pitying themselves.

Very white and shaking they were being lifted into freight cars drawn up in front of what remained of the Jaroslav railway station. Across the cars seats of pine had been roughly knocked together, and on these the lads settled themselves. There was not room for them to lie down on the seats, so crowded was the car, so they sat upright, each man helping to support the other. Pretty soon a surgeon came along and looked closely into the white faces. When he saw a man that looked particularly weak he said: "Can you bear to sit up, or do you want to wait for the hospital train?" To one and another and another and so on he put that question, and each one would waggle a feeble hand and say: "Yes, yes; I can sit up."

Not one of them was sorry for himself, though they were very tender toward each other.

War is the greatest discipliner and steadier of a people.

But only when they go into it trained for it and knowing what they are about. Possibly it is from the training that half the benefit accrues.

I have been tempted into this long digression by the things I have seen and the lessons I hope I have at least begun to learn during the last year.

Now we will get across the river by the Kaiser Franz Josef Brücke and into Ivangorod. There are interesting things there.

(Copyright, 1915, by The Chicago Tribune.)

FRANCE WILL JUDGE SHIPS BY OWNERS

Decree Signed by President Take the View of New British Order in Council.

PARIS, Oct. 26.—President Poincaré today signed a decree with regard to the method of observance of Article 57 of the Declaration of London, which provides that the nationality of merchant ships be determined by the flags they fly.

Premier Viviani, in a report on the subject, pointed out that application of the article in question often proved deceptive, and the decree signed today provides that the nationality of the ship is a question of fact, so that ship flying a hostile flag may be shown actually to belong to a neutral or an ally, and a ship flying a neutral flag or one of an allied nation may be proved as the property of a foe.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—Yesterday's new order regarding vessels flying a neutral flag was referred to in the House of Commons by Sir John Rees, who hoped that it meant that the Government at last was going to put forth the full power of sea control over the commerce of hostile nations. This drew an emphatic retort from Lord Robert Cecil, Parliamentary Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs, who said:

"As far as I am aware the Government has put forward the whole of its strength and exercised all its belligerent powers in order to bring this war to a successful conclusion."

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—The Times in an editorial article welcomes the new Order in Council relating to treatment of ships flying neutral flags.

"We now revert to the old law as elaborated by a series of distinguished judges in this country and the United States," The Times says. "In this as in so many other matters that law takes the plain, commonsense view of the subject. In deciding the nationality of a merchant ship it takes into consideration the nationality of her owners, and where the court is satisfied that there exists an enemy interest in the ship it renders any such interest liable to condemnation.

"Where neutrals and enemies have interests in thet same vessel the neutral interests are exempt, but the enemy interests may be condemned, and on such condemnation either the vessel is sold and the price of the enemy interests appropriated to the Crown, or the enemy interests are sold to the neutral coowners.

"It is astonishing that we ever suspended the operation of a system so just and so codified as the old law. It is still more astonishing that we did not acknowledge our mistake and fall back upon the established Anglo-American practice at an earlier period of the war."

BOMB SHOCKS WERE FATAL.

Many of the Air Raiders' Victims Were Not Hit by Shells.

LONDON, Oct. 15, (Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—Surgeons in English hospitals who have attended victims of Zeppelin raids give remarkable facts regarding the work of bombs launched from aircraft. Apart from their explosive force, missiles dropped from a height of a mile or two gain such momentum that they do great damage by their disturbance of the air.

Some of those killed have met their death from the shock of explosions without being hit by any fragments of shell or sustaining wounds. Persons have lost legs and arms from the same cause. A large proportion of those killed in the streets and a majority of the wounded have received their wounds from broken glass.

More persons in the London area have been killed or wounded in the streets than in buildings. Notwithstanding the warnings of the Government that they should stay indoors, the inhabitants persist in crowding into the streets, running to windows and going to the housetops when the word that Zeppelins are coming is passed around.

A prominent American resident, who had mounted a large telescope on the roof of his house, happened to be entertaining a dinner party on the evening of a recent raid. The party ascended to the roof and had a good view of the spectacle.

FRENCH CABINET CHANGES.

Paris Looks for Important Announcement Tomorrow.

PARIS, Oct. 26.—The expected decision in regard to the successor to Theophile Delcassé as Foreign Minister was not reached at the Cabinet meeting this afternoon. It is probable, however, that the decision will not be long delayed.

A semi-official note which was issued after the Cabinet meeting says that the Ministerial situation has been the subject of careful consideration since the resignation of M. Delcassé.

In the course of the conferences recently held by Premier Viviani with representatives of the various political parties a number of proposals have been advanced. This has given rise to reports that the Premier contemplates important changes in the Cabinet. There has even been discussion of a complete change. It is expected a final decision will be reached prior to the meeting of the Cabinet on Thursday.

RUSSIA TO OPEN BANKS HERE

PETROGRAD, Oct. 26, (via London.)—The Ministry of Finance is developing a plan to establish a number of Russian savings banks in the United States to receive deposits from Russian nationals there.

The first banks to be opened under the plan will be in New York and in Chicago.

"IN ALL THE WORLD, NO SURETY ORGANIZATION LIKE THIS"

UNDER A MANAGEMENT WITH AN EXPERIENCE OF OVER A QUARTER OF A CENTURY

THE PICK OF SURETY EXPERTS— A TECHNICAL STAFF OF UNSURPASSED ABILITY

OVER 12,000 AGENTS AND ATTORNEYS

"AMERICA'S LEADING SURETY COMPANY"

REMEMBER THIS: We Bond More People Than Any Other Company in the World

NATIONAL SURETY COMPANY

115 BROADWAY, NEW YORK

ENGLAND DEPORTS AN IRISH-AMERICAN

Michael J. O'Connor, a New York Saloon Keeper, Is Forbidden to Land.

ACTIVE IN THE CLAN-NA-GAEL

Made Pro-German Speeches Before Sailing and Was Suspected of Intention to Stir Up Trouble.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—Michael J. O'Connor, a citizen of New York, reputed to be engaged in Sinn Fein activities, has been prevented by the British authorities from landing from the American liner St. Louis, on which he arrived at Liverpool on Sunday. The authorities ordered that he be returned to America, and he will go tomorrow or later in the week.

Word to this effect was communicated today to the American Embassy, which was informed that O'Connor's presence in England was not desired. The Embassy was not supplied with intimate details. It is understood that suspicion that a traveler is undesirable is sufficient under the Defense of the Realm act to justify refusal to admit him.

Investigation by THE NEW YORK TIMES showed that the official attitude toward O'Connor was the outcome of information from America that in coming here he intended to stir up agitation regarded by the authorities here as "inimical." O'Connor, it is believed, expected to go to Ireland. He had an American passport with him and insisted on his right to land. It is understood that, courteously but firmly, he was told it was impossible.

It is learned that on nearly every steamer touching England from New York in the last few months one or two American citizens about whom some word has come to the British Government have had their passports taken by the allen officials so that inquiry could be made concerning their visits to Great Britain. In nearly every instance these Americans had German names. They have been allowed to proceed to London, and have had unhindered freedom so long as they were within twenty-four hours of the Scotland Yard officials. All that was expected of them by the police was to explain the reasons for their visit here. In almost every instance satisfactory explanations have been given, so that the passports have been returned and the travelers allowed to go.

It was explained to THE NEW YORK TIMES today that there was no reflection in this activity upon the authenticity of the passports, but that it was simply a precaution taken by the authorities when word had been received regarding a passenger.

In each case the American Embassy has taken pains to investigate when informed by the authorities that a passenger's passport has been held up, and without exception the embassy has been satisfied with the proceedings initiated. Out of all the cases of investigation of American passports by the authorities since the beginning of the war, it was stated today, only two had turned out to be fraudulent. Both of these passports were held by Germans, masquerading as Americans, and both individuals were detained by the officials.

Michael J. O'Connor, who now resides in the Bronx, has lived in New York for twenty-one years. He is well known as a prominent member of the Clan-na-Gael and other Irish societies, and is strongly anti-British in his views. Before sailing for Liverpool on the St. Louis he attended two or three Irish meetings in New York and made pro-German speeches.

Word was sent to the Foreign Office in London that O'Connor had sailed, and that he was a political enemy of Great Britain.

O'Connor has conducted saloons in upper Broadway and Lenox Avenue for ten years. He visited Ireland in the Summer of 1906, and on his return to New York he told the ship news reporters that he had purchased his native village in County Leitrim and had reduced the rent of all the tenants.

Friends of O'Connor said yesterday that he had been a resident of the United States since his youth and that he was a naturalized citizen. Several years ago, they asserted, he purchased a tract of timber land in Ireland, and he went abroad on the St. Louis to negotiate with the British Government for a sale of the timber. They knew of no reason why permission to land should be refused to him.

TURKS ACCUSE ALLIES OF VIOLATING RULES

Attacks on Hospitals and Unarmed Ships Alleged—Reprisals Threatened.

BERLIN, Oct. 26, (by Wireless to Sayville, L. I.)—A statement was given out today by the Overseas News Agency to the effect that attacks have been made by the Allies on Turkish hospitals and ambulances, in violation of international law. A number of cases are cited.

The latest attack mentioned is said to have been made by an allied aeroplane on Aug. 27 on a Turkish hospital at Galata Keui, on the Gallipoli Peninsula. The statement says one person was killed and three were injured.

Attacks on hospitals at Khalil Pasha and Agbah Bere by a aircraft in July are said to have resulted in the death of twelve persons and injuries to more than twenty others. Near Saghir Dere, the statement says, Turkish ambulances were attacked by hostile aircraft and six wounded soldiers were killed.

It is also said that unfortified towns on the Gallipoli Peninsula have been bombarded, resulting in the death of many women and children; that the hospital at Maidos, outside the military zone, was attacked by aircraft and that ten wounded inmates were burned; that the unarmed training ship Toughan, on her way to Constantinople with 700 passengers, was attacked without warning by a British submarine in May; that the unarmed steamer William Rickmers, flying a Red Cross flag and carrying 700 wounded, was attacked by a British submarine in July without warning, and that small craft of the Allies which were used for landing troops and war materials were protected by a hospital ship.

These charges were published in the Norddeutsche Allgemeine Zeitung, quoting from which the news agency says:

"The Turkish Government protests against these violations of international law. It states that the Trukish military authorities up to the present time have not made reprisals for the numerous violations of the elementary principles of humanity and law. If these violations continue the Turkish Government will be compelled to make reprisals. By admitting Red Cross physicians to hospital ships in the Sea of Marmora the Government has demonstrated the importance which it attaches to the principles of international law. For that reason it expects these principles will be respected by the enemy."

CANADIAN SHIP TORPEDOED.

MONTREAL, Oct. 26.—The steamer Donnacona has been torpedoed and sunk. No mention is made as to the safety of the crew.

The Donnacona was of about 3,000 tons, and until recently was engaged in grain and freight carrying between the head of the great lakes and Montreal, from which she was transferred to the ocean as a freight carrier. The Donnacona was owned by the Canada Steamship Lines, Limited.

GERMAN PARCEL POST TO AMERICA STOPPED

No Reason Given by Kaiser's Government—Service Had Been Hampered by Allies.

BERLIN, Oct. 25, (via London, Oct. 26.)—The parcel post service to America has been discontinued until further notice. No official reason for the discontinuance is given.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—American postal authorities said today that they have received no intimation from Germany of a discontinuance of the parcel post with the United States.

Several thousand parcel post packages mailed from Germany to the United States via Switzerland were returned to the senders last April by the Swiss postal authorities because the British and French Governments had given notification that parcels addressed to German citizens in the United States could be seized whenever found on shipboard. Parcels sent from Germany to Spain and Portugal have met a similar fate in France. On April 7 the German postal officials suspended the parcel post service to various parts of South America.

AN ARBITER ON IMPORTS.

Scheme Discussed to Hasten Release of Goods Held in Holland.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—With the object of facilitating the release of the American-owned goods of German and Belgian origin now held in Holland, the British Embassy and State Department officials are considering the feasibility of having some person or persons designated to pass upon and guarantee invoices. Under some such arrangement permission might be obtained for the British Embassy here to accept as final and sufficient the decision of such an arbitrator working in the United States and thereby save all the time now occupied in referring to London for approval the cases completed in Washington by the Embassy officials in conjunction with the State Department trade advisers.

Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, British Ambassador, was in conference today with Counselor Polk on this subject, but so far no conclusion has been reached.

The State Department today made representations seeking to extend from Nov. 1 to Dec. 1 the limit within which applications may be filed for the release of goods now held up abroad by the British Order in Council. Hundreds of applications for permits have been filed with the foreign trade advisers and many now are before the British Embassy. Delay in disposing of the applications at the embassy has resulted in the request for an extension of time.

SEEK ESCAPED OFFICER.

One Prinz Eitel Fugitive Supposed to be on Pacific Coast.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 26.—Federal agents are searching on the Pacific Coast for at least one of the German naval officers who violated parole and left the interned German cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich at Newport News, Va., according to members of a private detective agency, who said today they had been asked to aid in the search.

This officer's name was not disclosed, but he was described as a Lieutenant, 32 years old, who might be identified by a scar extending from the lobe of his left ear to the corner of his mouth, received in a student duel at Heidelberg.

Saks on Youth

¶ Youth is a habit—there are plenty of old men at twenty, and no lack of young bloods at fifty-five.

¶ We do not claim that Saks clothes will keep a man young — we do claim that they will render first aid.

¶ We are talking not about radical youthful styles, but about the spirit of youth which permeates all we do.

¶ Whether we turn a cuff, indent a waistline, or roll a lapel, we never fail to do it for all that it is worth.

¶ In fact, the prime requisites of a Saks garment are youthfulness of lines and originality of treatment.

¶ And whilst we make the proper distinctions between the style requirements of all ages, from mischief to memory, such distinctions are simply variations of which youth is the eternal theme.

New lapels and new cuffs.
New vests and new pockets.
New fabrics and new colors.

But the same old prices

Suits $17.50 to $50
Fall Overcoats $15 to $38

Saks & Company
Broadway at 34th Street.

Cut-Over Pine Lands For Sale

About 48,000 acres of Mississippi cut-over pine lands, located in Lamar, Forrest, Pearl River, and Harrison Counties, will be offered at public sale by the undersigned substituted Trustee at the Court House in Purvis, Lamar County, Mississippi, on Monday, Nov. 22, 1915.

The lands are well connected in solid bodies, are served by two trunk-line railroads, and, being located near old-established towns, are particularly attractive for colonization purposes.

The soil is well adapted for raising a great variety of crops, and is also well suited for dairying and stock-raising, as the success of Northern settlers on adjoining lands demonstrates.

Further particulars may be had upon application to

H. C. HOMEYER
Substituted Trustee,
226 Carondelet St., New Orleans, La.

Globe-Wernicke Office Equipment

New corporations will find at our salesrooms, everything for the office. Your desks, chairs, tables and filing cabinets—all will harmonize and you have the satisfaction of knowing you have bought the best for the lowest cost—that you can always match and add to your equipment as the business grows.

START RIGHT—Our furniture costs no more than the ordinary kind.

The Globe-Wernicke Co.
380 Broadway Branch, 30 Church St.
Telephone, Franklin 3870

Desks, Tables, Filing Cabinets in Wood and Steel — Sectional Bookcases, Chairs, Cabinet Safes.

Franklin Simon & Co.
Fifth Avenue, New York

Men's Clothing Shop
8 W. 38th St.—SEPARATE SHOP
A Step from Fifth Avenue

Men's Shoe Shop
4 W. 38th St.—SEPARATE SHOP
A Step from Fifth Avenue

Men's Silk-Lined Overcoats (Chesterfield Model) 23.50

Men's Franklin Shoes 5.00

Men's Furnishing Shop—16 West 38th St.
SEPARATE SHOP—A Step from Fifth Avenue

Men's Shirts—Exclusive Patterns
Of fine quality Crepe and Madras; made expressly for Franklin Simon & Co. 1.75

AEOLIAN HALL
"A Business Community with Distinction"

The present current of business optimism points to a large business prosperity in the near future. You want to realize your share of it, and offices in Aeolian Hall are an important measure of preparedness.

ELLEN & JEFFERY
Agents for Aeolian Hall
Telephone Bryant 807

SAFETY and A LIBERAL RETURN
10-20 YEAR
MORTGAGE-BONDS
Netting about 5½%
Secured by first mortgages on improved city real estate. Payment guaranteed by
THE MORTGAGE-BOND CO. OF NEW YORK
Capital, Surplus and Profits, $2,500,000
55 Liberty Street

THE BACHELORS
By
William Dana Orcutt
A strong story of American life — an impressive portrayal of varying types of men affected in different ways by college ideals in meeting the world as we know it today. The action moves steadily forward with cumulative interest to a dramatic and unexpected climax. And of course where there are "bachelors" there must be romantic complications.
$1.35 Net.
HARPER & BROTHERS

THE AUTOTONE
An instrument which so marvelously combines a superb upright piano with the most artistic player mechanism ever devised that it is called
The PERFECT Player-Piano
Made entire, in one factory, as a complete unit, and totally different from assembled combinations, which lack this merit.
Hardman, Peck & Co.
Founded 1842
433 Fifth Avenue,
(Between 38th and 39th Sts.)
524 FULTON ST., B'KLYN.
(Near Hanover Place.)
Edison, Columbia, and Pathe Phonographs and Records.

WELL MADE SHOES
Vogel's name on a shoe means that you are getting the best shoe made for the money—the result of 35 years' experience.

$5 to $8
E. VOGEL,
64 Nassau St., N. Y.

ROLL FLAT DESKS
Office Furniture in great variety of style and price

T. G. SELLEW 111 FULTON STREET New York.

DANIELS'S PROGRAM CALLED TOO WEAK

Henry A. Wise Wood of Naval Consulting Board Pleads for Better Defense Plan.

SAYS PEOPLE DEMAND IT

Asks President Wilson to Take Country Into Confidence Regarding Government's Intentions.

Henry A. Wise Wood, a member of Secretary Daniels's Naval Consulting Board, characterized the Secretary's naval program as "wholly insufficient" in a speech last night before the Life Underwriters' Association at the McAlpin, and called upon the Administration at Washington to lay before the country a plan which would place the United States positively in the position of the second naval power of the world.

The people, not the politicians, should pass upon the program, Mr. Wood declared. He urged President Wilson to be frank with the people and tell them what increases in the navy were necessary, how much the increase would cost, and how soon a position as second naval power might be attained. More than 400 persons cheered him to the echo when he formulated a policy which, he said, the American people were determined to have carried out.

Mr. Wood is Chairman of the Committee of National Preparedness, President of the Aero Club of America, and a prominent engineer. In previous speeches he had urged a program of preparedness and warned against a possible invasion by Germany of South America after the present war, but never before had he expressed in public his views of Secretary Daniels's program.

"In connection with my work on behalf of national defense I have just completed an analysis of Secretary Daniels's program, as announced in the press," he said, "and have been forced, regretfully, to the conclusion that his proposals do not at all meet the exigencies of the situation. I am convinced that they represent a compromise, an attempt to satisfy all views, and do not represent a vigorous handling upon their own merits of the important issues at stake.

Thinks $500,000,000 Figure Misleading.

"This belief is confirmed by the manner in which the estimates have been announced—as involving the expenditure of $500,000,000. The impression evidently sought to be given by this mode of presentation is that an enormous sum is to be spent upon the navy, whereas the increases which actually are to be made the coming year are, in view of the urgency of our situation, in reality but slight, with the five-year program, but an academic suggestion, not at all binding upon future Congresses. It clearly has been hoped that the mere size of the figure named would serve as an estoppel to those who are advocating placing our navy abreast of the times, while obviously it has been believed that the ultra-pacifists, in and out of Congress, could be appeased by being shown how little had been yielded to the advocates of preparedness.

"As to how seldom programs are adhered to, the history of the program of 1903 will illustrate. It was then recommended that building proceed at such a rate that by 1919 we should have a fleet of forty-eight battleships, with such lesser units as would round it out. This contemplated the completion of three battleships a year, that by the end of 1914 we were to be in possession of thirty-three. Instead, we had then but eighteen, having fallen short of our 1903 program by fifteen."

The Program in Detail.

Henry Wood's program, which he said the people were determined to carry out, was as follows:

"First, that it shall insist upon being treated in all respects as the equal of every other nation; second, that it shall deal with all other nations in that spirit of exact justice which is born of scrupulous regard for the rights of others, unselfishly interpreted, be those others great or small; third, that it wishes those peoples to be free, who wish to be free, and shall offer to all such its sympathy and moral support; fourth, that its first duty is to its own citizens, be they at home, abroad, or upon the high seas; its second, to those peoples, however remote, for whose welfare it is responsible; its third duty to its neighbors, whose proximity has made of them its intimates, and its fourth, and no less duty to the other peoples of the earth; fifth, that it has witnessed with surprise and horror the recrudescence of the use of armaments to settle the disputes of nations; sixth, that this reassertion of the principle that the use of force is permissible where negotiation fails has aroused its anxiety for its own position in the world, and for the safety of its citizens and dependents and those sacred institutions which it has slowly reared at such great cost in labor and suffering, and

"Seventh, that in view of the dangers which are inseparable from such an altered conception of international obligations and upon the responsibility of the living generations of Americans to maintain its equal dignity and prestige among nations, it is imperative that America should acquire naval and military strength sufficient to protect its coasts against invasion, to protect the Panama Canal, to protect its overseas possessions, to enforce the Monroe Doctrine, to insure respect for the inalienable rights upon the high seas of its citizens and dependants, to enter upon the construction of a navy which, in size and efficiency, shall be second to none in the world, and immediately to take such steps as shall forthwith restore it to the position which it formerly held, of second naval power, and to reorganize and amplify its military strength in such fashion that it shall be able successfully to resist, and to dispose of, the largest expeditionary force that any nation is capable of delivering upon its shores."

Mrs. James Lees Laidlaw, Chairman of the Woman Suffrage League, took "preparedness" as a keynote for her speech. "Our preparedness consists in carrying on a campaign to prepare the people of this State to vote on the suffrage problem," she said. Darwin P. Kingsley, President of the New York Life Insurance Company, and Edward A. Woods, President of the National Association of Life Underwriters, were the other speakers.

KITCHIN OPPOSED TO DEFENSE PROGRAM

President Anxious to Discuss His Proposals with Leader of House Majority.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Claude Kitchin, majority leader of the House of Representatives, has not yet been converted to support of the Administration's national defense program. Mr. Kitchin was in Washington for a few hours today. White House officials sought to get in touch with him, to arrange an appointment for him to discuss the army and navy appropriations with President Wilson tomorrow. He had left the city for his home in North Carolina, however, before official notification reached him. He said before leaving that he would be glad to confer with the President on the subject when he returned to Washington, about Nov. 7.

To those who talked with him, the majority leader frankly said he did not see how he could support the defense appropriation program if it came to Congress substantially as outlined in unofficial reports. He declared, however, that he would keep his mind open on the subject until he had talked with the President and seen the proposals for himself.

Friends of Representative Kitchin assert that, in case he cannot give the Administration his support, he will not oppose them as the leader of the House majority, but merely as an individual.

TWO NEW NAVY SEAPLANES.

One Curtiss and a Burgess-Dunne Machine Sent to Pensacola.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Two new hydroaeroplanes have been delivered to the navy for use in developing the aerial fleet of the Government.

One is a Curtiss hydroaeroplane of the Ah-3 or "school machine" type, and one a Burgess-Dunne seaplane. Both have been sent to the navy aeronautic station at Pensacola, Fla. Two other new Curtiss hydroaeroplanes, designated as Ah-13 and Ah-14, were also received at the Pensacola station the week of Oct. 4, and have been successfully tested and turned over to the flying school for the use of the naval aviators.

A WILSON-O'GORMAN PEACE.

Lockwood Appointed Attorney and Lynn Marshal.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Announcement was made at the White House today that President Wilson had appointed Stephen T. Lockwood of Buffalo to be United States Attorney for the Western District of New York and John D. Lynn of Rochester United States Marshal for the same district. These appointments are understood to mark the making of a treaty of peace between the White House and Senator O'Gorman.

Early in the Wilson Administration Mr. Lynn, now appointed Marshal, was nominated for United States Attorney for the Western New York District. This action was taken by the President in opposition to the wishes of Senator O'Gorman, and as a result of the Senator's efforts the Senate refused to confirm the nomination. Subsequently Mr. Lynn was designated by the United States Court to serve as District Attorney. Later he received a recess appointment from the President, but it was found that the fact that he had been rejected by the Senate operated to prevent him from receiving any salary.

According to the understanding in Administration circles the present appointment of Mr. Lockwood to be United States Attorney, the position which Mr. Lynn vacated, is acceptable to Senator O'Gorman, and it is believed that a compromise was effected by which the nomination of Mr. Lynn to be United States Marshal will not be opposed by the New York Senator when it comes before the Senate.

ODDS ON SWANN AND SMITH.

Max Borg Will Bet $1,000 Moss Won't Get 12,500 Votes.

Election money, the first of the campaign, was offered on the New York Curb yesterday by Max Borg, a Curb broker, who said that he was handling it for Democratic friends of Judge Swann and Alfred E. Smith.

Borg offered the following: $1,500 against $2,000 that Swann, Democratic candidate for District Attorney, will get 125,000 votes in New York County; $1,000 against $2,500 that Swann will win by more than 35,000 votes; any part of $10,000 at 2 to 1 that Swann will win by 20,000; $1,000 even that Frank Moss, Independent candidate for District Attorney, will not poll 12,500 votes; any part of $6,000 at 2 to 1 that Mr. Moss will not get 25,000 votes; $2,500 to $2,000 that Swann will poll more votes than Perkins and Moss combined, and $6,000 to $5,000 that Al Smith, Democratic candidate for Sheriff, will be elected by 50,000 votes.

BREITUNG KNEW SPY PLOTTERS

Continued from Page 1.

wired me that he was going to New York to find out what he was wanted for."

SPY CASE IN FEDERAL HANDS.

Suspects Held in $25,000 Bail—Seibs Accuses Breitung.

With the removal to New York of two of the three Germans arrested on Sunday in New Jersey towns on the charge of conspiring to build mines for the destruction of munitions ships the Federal authorities yesterday took full charge of the case.

Lieutenant Robert Fay, said to be the head of the plot, and Walter E. Scholz, said to be his brother-in-law, were taken from the New Jersey police yesterday by William J. Flynn, Chief of the Federal Secret Service, and are in the Tombs awaiting a further hearing before United States Commissioner Houghton next week.

The status of Dr. Herbert Kienzle of 309 West Eighty-sixth Street, arrested here on Monday by New York detectives and Federal agents, is the same, though he is likely to be bailed out today. Paul Daeche, the fourth man arrested, preferred to have his hearing in Jersey City, but he, too, is now in charge of the Federal authorities.

The fifth man sought in the alleged conspiracy is Max Breitung, a cousin of E. N. Breitung, the banker. He was in Chicago when the warrant was issued for his arrest, but he immediately started back to New York to face the charges, and is expected this morning. His cousin has announced his intention to assist him in every way, being confident of his innocence.

Silent as to Men High Up.

Meanwhile the Secret Service officials and the Federal District Attorney's office have suddenly become silent as to possible developments of the case. No one will say how much higher the plot may go, if it goes higher at all, or whether there is evidence in hand to indicate that there is a connection between this alleged conspiracy to destroy munitions ships and other activities of German agents in connection with fires, explosions, strikes, and passport frauds.

Fay talked freely, so freely as to arouse distrust, on Sunday night, and Scholz on Monday afternoon. Yesterday, after he had brought Fay and Scholz from Weehawken, where they had been detained since their arrest, Chief Flynn questioned Fay closely for two or three hours. The Chief would give little indication as to what Fay had told him, except to say that there was no reason for involving Captain von Papen and Captain Boy-Ed, Military and Naval Attachés of the German Embassy in Washington, and that Fay had insisted that his plans went no further than the blowing up of freighters loaded with ammunition. Fay, however, is said to have admitted that when he sailed for America he had a letter to "a high official" which he destroyed for fear it would be found on him.

The silence of the officials is construed in various ways. A dispatch from Washington yesterday said that Federal officers expressed doubt that a case could be made out against the defendants, in spite of the fact that Fay and Scholz had admitted that they had made mines and were anxious to try them. The Bureau of Investigation of the Department of Justice, under A. Bruce Bielaski, has not been connected with the case, the whole affair being handled by the Federal Secret Service and the local police. There was talk yesterday of friction between these two bodies, although Chief Flynn matched the complimentary statement issued by Police Commissioner Woods on Monday night with a declaration that the Secret Service appreciated highly the work done by the police in making the arrests and running down the conspirators.

Fay Named Big Sums.

The Washington officials of the Department of Justice who feared a case could not be made were not named, but it appeared yesterday that the Federal District Attorney's office did not share their skepticism. The unwillingness of all concerned to talk about the matter yesterday was attributed by some to the possibility of much more extensive developments, the arrest of some of the "men higher up," whom Fay is believed to have been shielding in his ready confession. That there were men far up is indicated by the fact that Fay spent more than $30,000, according to the Secret Service men, and that he mentioned as much as half a million as a reward for a ship Captain who might fall in with his plans. The source of such sums is something the Secret Service is now looking into, and, with Chief Flynn's men in charge and a curtain of secrecy drawn over their activities, the scope of the plot remains undefined.

A precaution against possible action of the men who have been furnishing the funds to get the prisoners out of reach of the authorities was taken yesterday when the complaint against Paul Daeche, the only one of the prisoners who had his hearing in Jersey City, was so drawn that any of the three men arrested in New York could be rearrested on that complaint also. Each of the prisoners had been held in $25,000 bail, and only one of them has furnished it as yet; but it seems to be the impression in Government circles that if the ramifications of the plot are as extensive, and its higher members so well provided with funds as seems to be indicated, it is not impossible that wealthy Germans might be willing to pay up the claims of surety companies if the prisoners should jump their bail in order to remove inconvenient evidence from the reach of the authorities. Precaution against this is found in the fact that any of the prisoners bailed in New York could at once be rearrested in New Jersey, and the total bail provided for each could thus be doubled.

Incidentally, it is noteworthy that Fay, who seems to have been well provided with money, and is said to have mentioned a sum as high as half a million dollars as being at his disposal, told United States Commissioner Houghton yesterday that he had no money to hire a lawyer.

Max Breitung's cousin, E. N. Breitung, the capitalist, bought the steamship Dacia last Fall from the Hamburg-American Line and sent her toward Germany with a cargo of cotton, only to have her captured by a French cruiser. Max Breitung is Secretary and Treasurer of the Oil Well Device Company of 11 Pine Street, of which his cousin is President. He is not connected in any way with the Oil Well Supply Company of 90 West Street. He came to the United States three years ago, and was put to work in E. N. Breitung's offices at Marquette, Mich. About a year ago he was transferred to New York, where he has been acting as manager of the Oil Well Device Company of late. He is about 25 years old.

"I don't believe there can be any truth in the charges against Max," said Mr. Breitung at Marquette yesterday. "I am under the impression that he has taken out his first naturalization papers. He has been interested in pro-German movements and has subscribed to various funds. If he is involved in any way in the present cases it must be through subscriptions of money, and I believe he did not know how this money was to be used, if it was employed for any improper purpose.

"The idea that when I bought the Dacia I was in any way acting on Max's suggestion or as an agent of the German Government is absurd. Max didn't know anything about the Dacia purchase until the deal was well under way. Then when I found it necessary to be absent from New York for some time, I turned the deal over to him to complete. As a matter of fact, he did not approve of it as a business proposition, but I thought it would make me some money. The United States Government is thoroughly familiar with my part in the transaction. As for this difficulty that Max is in, I have instructed my New York representatives to assist him so far as may be necessary."

Seibs Denies Trapping Fay.

Paul Seibs, the man who was responsible for giving the plot away and who was referred to as being connected with the Secret Service by some officials yesterday vigorously denied that he had in any way acted as a stool pigeon. As a matter of fact, according to the police, he was accidentally instrumental in bringing the affair to the notice of C. L. Wettig, a chemical engineer, of 17 Battery Place, a naturalized American citizen, who decided that the purchase of explosives by Germans needed to be looked into. Wettig, it is understood, told what he had learned to the Naval Attaché of the French Embassy, who has an office in the French Consulate General, and he notified Police Commissioner Woods. Investigation thus set in motion resulted in the arrest of Fay and Scholz.

Seibs has a desk room with Wettig in Room 941 of the Whitehall Building at 17 Battery Place, where Wettig is in business as the Whitehall Trading Corporation. Seibs yesterday protested against the statement that he had acted as a decoy for the police, that he had used an alias from time to time, and that he was an officer in the German Army.

"I never even did military service," he said. "I failed to pass the physical examination, and while I suppose I should be in the ranks by this time if I had remained in Germany, as my class in the Landsturm has been called out, I have never actually had any experience at all.

"I lived in America for several years before the war, most of the time in Chicago, and it was there that I became slightly acquainted with Max Breitung. I was in Germany when the war started, and last Winter I got into connection with some large electrical interests in Germany and went to Sweden to see if it would not be possible to start up a trade in copper via that country. Backed by these German interests, I founded the Gothenburg Trading Company, which was to import copper from the United States and export it to Germany. Then, in February, I came to the United States to further the business of this concern. I took the name of Karl F. Oppegaard while crossing the Atlantic, and succeeded in passing as a Swede, and thus escaping the British naval officers who have been taking Germans off of neutral ships.

"When I came to this country I visited Washington and talked to several officials, but eventually found that because of the strict regulations about ultimate destination which the British blockade was enforcing I would be unable to get my copper trading started. This left me without work and I got desk room with Mr. Wettig and started to build up a business as a dealer in metals and chemicals.

Says Breitung Bought Explosives.

"I had known Dr. Herbert Kienzle while I was trying to get the Gothenburg Trading Company on a business basis, and our business acquaintance continued. I also knew Max Breitung, and one day last Summer he wanted to buy, through me, some chlorate of potash.

"At that time I did not suspect that he wanted it for explosives. I sold it to him.

"To the best of my knowledge and belief Breitung was the one who made most of these purchases, and they went from him to Kienzle and from him to Fay. But I never met Fay until about two weeks ago, when Kienzle told me he wanted to buy some T-N-T. I hesitated, but I needed the money. So I asked no questions about what it was for, but I did ask him who the man was. He told me he would introduce me to him. So I met Fay in City Hall Park, and I told him I would get him some trinitrate of toluol.

"Then I went to Wettig, through whom I had been purchasing my explosives, and arranged to get the T-N-T through him. And the next thing I knew Secret Service officers were asking me what I knew about it."

Sought to Bribe Russian.

The police, however, say that Seibs told them that Fay had confided to him his intention to blow up "the biggest chemical plant in the country," which he did not locate more definitely than somewhere in New Jersey. They say, too, that according to the stories they have heard from Fay and Seibs, Fay knew of Seibs's connection with the Gothenburg Trading Company and suggested after that venture failed that he might try to run copper into Germany by bribing the Captain of some Russian ship which should sail from the United States with copper for Russia. "The Russians are all crooked, anyway," said Fay, according to this story. "Get hold of a Captain who could be persuaded to accidentally steer his ship into waters where German warships could capture him. There would be half a million dollars in it for the Captain."

Benno Lasky of 204 Broadway, attorney for Dr. Herbert Kienzle of 309 West Eighty-sixth Street, who was held in $25,000 bail by Commissioner Houghton on Monday afternoon for a further hearing on Nov. 4, came near to getting his client out of the Tombs yesterday. He arranged, he said, for the bond with the Guaranty Company of America, and Kienzle was brought down to the Federal Building to go through the last formality prior to being released. Then it was discovered that the only official of the company who was empowered to countersign bonds for more than $10,000 had left for the day, so Dr. Kienzle had to be taken back to the Tombs. He denied that he was guilty, but beyond that would say nothing.

Turned Over to Federal Officers.

In the court of Recorder George Rander of Weehawken, who had held Fay, Scholz, and Daeche after their arrest, there appeared yesterday morning, Mr. Drew, representative of the office of County Prosecutor Robert Hudspeth, and William J. Flynn, Chief of the Secret Service, who had warrants for all three, charging them with Federal offenses. After consultation with his superiors Mr. Drew agreed to the dismissal of the State charges of disorderly conduct and bribery, on which they were held, and Chief Flynn placed them under arrest.

Daeche, the only one of the three who had counsel, was told by his lawyer, August Ziegner, that he had a right to be arraigned before the nearest Federal Commissioner rather than to go to New York for arraignment, and that he could be taken to Jersey City if he wished. He said that he had nothing in common with Fay and Scholz and would prefer to have his hearing in New Jersey, so he was turned over to Joseph A. Kavanaugh of the Secret Service and Fay and Scholz were brought to New York by Chief Flynn.

Fay and Scholz, after spending some hours in conversation with Chief Flynn, finally came up before Commissioner Clarence S. Houghton at 4 o'clock. The complaint against them was that used in the case of Kienzle the night before, charging that Robert Fay, Walter Scholz, Paul Daeche, Max Breitung, and Herbert Kienzle "at and within the City of New York, did unlawfully, feloniously, and corruptly conspire and agree among themselves maliciously to attack and set upon a vessel belonging to another with intent unlawfully to despoil the owners of said vessel of their moneys, goods, and merchandise laden on board thereof."

Fay asked that the complaint be read, and when Commissioner Houghton had reached the words, "laden on board thereof," Fay interrupted. Before he could make it clear what he wanted to say, the Commissioner asked him to wait until the reading was finished, and Fay did not return to the point.

Bail Fixed at $25,000.

Then the two men who, according to the Secret Service, have spent more than $30,000 on their plot against munitions ships, said that they had no funds to employ counsel. At Scholz's request, seconded by Fay, Commissioner Houghton agreed to appoint attorneys to represent them; bail was fixed, at the request of Assistant United States District Attorney John C. Knox, at $25,000 each, and the hearing was refixed till 2 P. M. on Nov. 4, the same time set for the continued hearing on Kienzle.

Commissioner Houghton appointed Louis Jersawitz of 220 Broadway attorney for Fay and Abraham Snydecker of 256 Broadway for Scholz. They visited their clients at the Tombs yesterday evening and declared that they would not waive examination and would fight the case all the way.

Meanwhile Daeche had been taken to Jersey City and arraigned before United States Commissioner James V. Carpenter, Dr. His uncle, Emil Daeche, with whom he lived at 141 Hutton Street, Jersey City, was in court with two or three friends. The form of the complaint was the same, but in this document the conspiracy of Fay, Scholz, Breitung, Daeche, and Kienzle is also alleged to have occurred in New Jersey. In place of the specific acts alleged in the New York complaint, which are that to effect the objects of the conspiracy Breitung paid $112 to Paul Seibs about Aug. 15, and Fay paid $23 to Seibs about Oct. 21, is the charge that on or about Oct. 24 Daeche concealed explosives in Weehawken.

May be Rearrested.

The effect of this, it is understood, is that if any of the men are released on bail on the New York complaint they could be rearrested on the other and held until more bail is provided. Whether such action will be taken is regarded as uncertain, although if the Government should find reason to believe that wealthy and influential Germans are willing to pay the loss incurred by the forfeit of the bond it might feel that it would be safer to rearrest any of the men who might be suspected of planning to jump bail.

August Ziegner, Daeche's counsel, asked for delay, so the hearing was put over till Wednesday, Nov. 3. Bail for him, too, was set at $25,000, and as neither his uncle nor his friends were able to raise it he was locked up in the Hudson County Jail.

The police have made no more discoveries of explosives hidden on the Jersey side of the Hudson, and they gave the impression yesterday that they have possessed themselves of about all the effects of Fay and Scholz.

Mrs. Mathilde Scholz, wife of the prisoner, Walter E. Scholz, and said to be the sister of Robert Fay—though this has been doubted—lived for a time at 131 Palisade Avenue, West Hoboken. She left that address, however, about a year ago, and it is understood that she is in Germany.

Another of Fay's activities in this country was discovered yesterday when it was made known that he had been a frequent visitor to New Brunswick, N. J., where he displayed much interest in the Parlin Powder Works. He is said to have visited the plant several times. Fay used to go to New Brunswick about noon and stayed usually till sunset, returning to Jersey City. He made a number of friends in the city and was generally popular.

That he had designs on the powder factory, however, is contradicted by the statements which he made to the police on Sunday and to Chief Flynn yesterday morning. He has always denied that he had any intention of attacking ammunition factories, saying at first that he thought only of blowing up ships, and yesterday telling Chief Flynn that he could do more damage by blowing up the plants that made the chemicals which are the ingredients in high explosive shells.

FAY VIEWED MUNITION PLANTS

Picked Out Factories from Hartford Capitol Dome with Telescope.

Special to The New York Times.

HARTFORD, Conn., Oct. 26.—State officers and employes at the Capitol were much interested today in the possibility that Robert Fay had been in the building on Saturday afternoon. They were told by an employe that a man with a German accent had asked to be taken to the dome for a view of the city, and that when there he produced a telescope which he first focused on the works of the Colt Arms Company, a quarter of a mile away. Then he looked through the glass at the buildings of the Pratt & Whitney Company near by, in which war munitions are being made.

His concentrated interest in these buildings led Matthew Cooney, the guide, to comment on the excellence of his glass. The reply was that he had bought it in Germany for $75, and that he found it good company on his trips. He did not volunteer his name or home. He is described as a little over medium heighth, with a close, black mustache. He wore a brown topcoat, dark suit, and a Fedora hat. At 2:30 o'clock he left the Capitol and went in the direction of the railroad station, which is close by.

Yesterday several of those who saw him on Saturday found such a marked resemblance in newspaper pictures of Robert Fay that they declared it was Fay who was at the Capitol on Saturday.

SCHOLZ DROVE FARM TEAM.

Quit New London Job Suddenly After Long Talks with Fay.

Special to The New York Times.

NEW LONDON, Conn., Oct. 26.—Walter Scholz was employed as a teamster on E. S. Harkness's estate at Waterford, three miles west of this city, for a fortnight early last Spring. Supt. Jordan, caretaker at the Harkness farm, employed Scholz through the Farmers Bureau, in Nassau Street, New York.

Scholz said he was an architect, but was at that time compelled to accept any kind of employment and was glad to come to Waterford.

A week after hiring out as a teamster he received a telegram, and two days later a man from New York visited the farm and had long conversations with him. The stranger returned to New York and immediately after Scholz told Supt. Jordan that he had an offer of $100 a month, double what he was receiving from Mr. Harkness, to go West with the man who had visited him, and he thereupon quit the job.

Employes on the Harkness farm today readily recognized the picture of Scholz in the newspapers. The stranger, who was responsible for Scholz leaving the Harkness farm, was recognized as Lieutenant Robert Fay.

AT STAKE
The best building proposition in the world is dependent for its success, either wholly or in part, upon the degree of efficiency which enters into the conduct of the work.
It is thus apparent that the Contractor who is responsible for the work is a vitally important factor in the proposition, from its inception to its completion.
THOMPSON-STARRETT COMPANY
Building Construction

PERKINS FLAYS THE TIGER.

Says Swann Is Murphy Nominee, with Tammany Stain.

Speaking at a well attended meeting at the McKinley Republican Club, 346 West 145th Street last night, Charles A. Perkins, Republican candidate for District Attorney, said that a staff of Assistant District Attorneys appointed by a Tammany Hall prosecutor in this county would betray the public interests. Continuing his address Mr. Perkins said:

"What kind of a District Attorney do you suppose Mr. Murphy would appoint to run the office of District Attorney in this country if he had the actual appointing power? He would appoint a man who would take his orders from the Fourteen Street wigwam. In the present instance, he has not the actual appointing power, but he has exercised the power of nominating a candidate for the office. It is reasonable to assume that a Murphy nominee, if elected, would respond to the same influences that would be exercised on a Murphy appointee. The stain of Tammany is indelible; it does not wash out.

"It is a stain that has marked even higher men for public office than District Attorney of this county, and one that the advocates of good government, in New York City, have for many years been working to remove."

An automobile party of Perkins campaigners covered the upper west side last night, with ten out-door meetings.

Car Kills Republican Leader.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 26.—John S. Enser, a leader in Republican politics in Maryland, and Republican nominee for the State Senate from Baltimore County, was struck and killed by a trolley car tonight. He was on his way to a political meeting in an automobile which ran into a pedestrian. Mr. Enser got out of the machine to go to a drug store, where the injured man had been taken. In crossing the road he stepped in front of a swiftly moving trolley car.

INSTRUCTION.
FRENCH SPANISH All Languages. Superior native teachers. Terms Reasonable. Send for Catalogue.
GERMAN ITALIAN, etc.
The Best Method. Day & Evening Sessions. Classes and Private. Free trial lesson.
THE BERLITZ SCHOOL OF LANGUAGES, 28-30 West 24th Street. Harlem Branch, 248 Lenox Av., nr. 125th St. Brooklyn 1789 Pitkin Av. Livingston Sq. Philadelphia: 16th & Chestnut Sts. (Ritter Bldg.) Washington: 816 14th St., N. W.
NEW CLASSES CONSTANTLY FORMING.
Berlitz School lessons are not lectures, but conversations entirely in the foreign language between teachers and students.

WOMAN'S LAW CLASS OF NEW YORK UNIVERSITY
Lectureship endowed by the Women's Legal Education Society
A course of forty-five lectures on law for business women and those interested in the management of property. Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, 11:30 A. M., or 8:00 P. M., at the University Building, Washington Square, Manhattan. First Lecture, November 10th. Limited number of scholarships available. For bulletin address M. E. LOOMIS, Registrar.
New York University Washington Square, N.Y. City

THE BROWN SCHOOL OF TUTORING
Boys' School & Office, 241 West 75th Street. Girls' School, 239 West 75th Street. Phone Col. 8894.
Founded 1906. Positively only one at a time with a teacher enables brilliant, handicapped, and average to do at least 2 years' work in one. All advantages, and more, of class schools, but none of the disadvantages. Pupils taught how to study. Study supervision.
"A School With an Atmosphere at Work."

ACCOUNTANCY
Pace Standardized Courses
EVENING CLASSES FORMING THIS WEEK
Apply to Alfred H. Rejall, 215 West 23d St., N. Y.; Malcom S. Tuttle, 55 Hanson Pl., Brooklyn, or Pace & Pace, 90 Church St., New York.

LEARN TO CONCENTRATE
Our records give indisputable proof that through our method of teaching concentration our pupils have done four years' work in one year.
The Groff-Clark School
259 W. 75th St. Tel. 744 Columbus.

The Barnard School of HOUSEHOLD ARTS Tel. 8888 Schuyler.
DECORATIVE ART: Designing and Harmonizing line and color for decorating the home. Arts and Crafts. Practical courses in Dressmaking, Cooking, Millinery, Household Accounts, Conversational French, English, including Dramatic Art. Part time courses.
226 West 79th St.
Catalog.

FOUNDED 1851 CONCORDIA EVENING CLASSES
SCHOOL OF ACCOUNTANCY
WE PREPARE YOU FOR EXPERT ACCOUNTING POSITIONS & C.P.A. EXAMINATIONS.
SCHOOL OF COMMERCE
SHORTHAND, BOOKKEEPING, CORPORATION FINANCE, ECONOMICS AND BUSINESS ORGANIZATION FOR MATURE STUDENTS.
32 BROADWAY N.Y.C. PHONE 5639 BROAD

ACCOUNTANCY
Elementary and Advanced Bookkeeping
Taught by Practicing Certified Public Accountants who are trained and experienced instructors. C. P. A. CIVIL SERVICE AND REGENTS' EXAMINATION—JUNIOR ACCOUNTANTS. Evening classes now forming.
HARTKORN, 299 Broadway. Tel. Worth 2670.

FOREIGN LANGUAGES, Spanish, French, Russian, German, Italian. Native Teachers; easy, quick, conversational method. West Side Y. M. C. A., 302 West 57th St. Phone Col. 7920.

COME TO SEE
Riverdale Country School
Boarding and Day School for Boys.
Telephone for Directions—Kingsbridge 128.

Boarding and day school, at 857 Madison St., Brooklyn, for children from 4 to 10, has a few vacancies; music, languages; private tutoring and private special instruction for backward children.

SPEND THE FALL AT LENOX, MASS., where your children may keep up with their classes in the city—AT TRINITY SCHOOL.

Students prepared for college, Regents, privately, quickly, by experienced tutor. K 239 Times Downtown.

KOHUT SCHOOL FOR BOYS
Riverdale-on-Hudson, N. Y. Tel. 367 Kingsbridge.

N.Y. Engineering College Civil Engineering 6 W. 125th.

INSTRUCTION—Musical.
WEIGESTER
STUDIOS OF VOCAL MUSIC.
Robert G. Weigester, Director.
A Complete Education for the Singer. Superior instruction at moderate rates. Pupils assisted in securing positions. Write for booklet T.
CARNEGIE HALL, N. Y.

Mansfield Studios, 33 West 44th.—All dances taught, absolute privacy. Terms reasonable.

James McCreery & Co.
34th Street 5th Avenue
MODEL GOWNS & TAILORED SUITS
An unusually choice collection will be found in the Dressmaking Department, suitable for Fall and Winter Wear
We are prepared to make copies
At Very Moderate Prices

CHARGE PURCHASES MADE BETWEEN NOW AND NOV. 1st BILLED DEC. 1st.
J. M. Gidding & Co.
564-566 and 568 Fifth Avenue, 46th and 47th Sts.
Are now showing
"The New in Millinery
Introducing demi-saison effects in
SMART FUR-TRIMMED HATS
METALLIC LACE EVENING HATS
FASHIONABLE WHITE HATS
NEW BLACK AND WHITE EFFECTS
HATS OF GOLD AND SILVER TISSUE
FUR-TRIMMED VELOUR HATS
CHENILLE EMBROIDERED BEAVERS
THE NEW BATAILLON POKE
STUNNING HATS IN FRUIT & FLOWER EFFECTS
SMART "COXCOMB" TURBANS
BAZAR DE CHARITE
& Revue des Modes
auspices of
FRENCH WOUNDED EMERGENCY FUND
assisted by Mr. J. M. Gidding of J. M. Gidding & Company
RITZ CARLTON HOTEL
Thursday & Friday—October 28th & 29th committee Miss Anne Morgan Mrs. Ethelbert Nevin

This silver vase displayed in our 5th Avenue corner window is beautiful enough to inspire another Keats if he should see it in passing.
Reed & Barton silver has an unquestioned place in art. It is not so generally known that our stores contain a selected stock of diamonds, gold jewelry and watches.
But no one need be in awe of all this magnificence. We have and are very glad to sell many inexpensive little things for the minor purposes of life.
REED & BARTON
ESTABLISHED 1824
Fifth Avenue & 32d St.
4 Maiden Lane
Sterling Silver, Diamonds
Gold Jewelry, Clocks, Watches
Leather Goods, Stationery
Canes, Umbrellas.

R. H. Macy & Co.'s Attractions Are Their Low Prices.

Macy's

Herald Square, Broadway, 34th to 35th St.

The things That Are Not Seen

Yesterday one of our "shoppers" purchased at another store a blouse marked $7.90, reduced from $8.90, and placed it side by side with one priced $6.49 in our own stocks.

We note the incident not to call attention particularly to the difference in price, though that is interesting, but to further emphasize the danger of making mere price comparisons.

To most observers the two waists were identical—style, color, effect, form—all appeared to be similar. And then the head of our Blouse Department began to point out distinctions.

One by one she uncovered the hidden points of superiority in our blouse, which would have made it by far the better, even at a higher price than $8.90—the advertised "original" price of the other.

Quality Is More Than Skin Deep

Tiny gilded buttons, apparently the same, decorated the collar and cuffs of both waists. But closer study showed that our buttons cost twice as much. Upon turning up the crepe collar of the other blouse it was found to be lined with a piece of cheap cambric. Our collar was lined with Georgette Crepe.

One waist was made merely to "get by," the other was "finished" to "get buyers." One was skimped to make a certain price yield a certain profit. The other was made to conform with a certain standard of quality.

"Finish" is what tells in any creation. Hidden goodness may not be seen at first, but at the last it is the important essential.

The next time you shop for the sake of comparison, study the details of finish—and then compare the price.

Any store can quote low prices. But "Lowest-in-the-City" prices, quality for quality, is the principle which has made

Macy's Pre-eminent In Value-Giving

MELLEN REVEALS RAILROAD COMPACT

Tells How New Haven Forced the New York Central and Boston & Albany Into It.

IT PROVIDED FOR A LOBBY

Deal Made by Corporation Chiefs on Corsair—J. P. Morgan Said He Was Used as a Doormat.

The fight between the New York Central and the New Haven as a result of the absorption by the latter of the Housatonic and the acquisition of the Old Colony system, occupied yesterday the attention of the jury which is trying before Judge Hunt in the Federal District Court the eleven New Haven Directors, who are accused of having violated the Sherman law by the attempt to monopolize the transportation facilities of New England. Charles S. Mellen was on the stand all day, but nearly the entire session was spent in putting in further documentary proof.

The tedium of this method of procedure found abundant expression. R. V. Lindabury of counsel for the defense wondered whether the case was likely to last to next Summer, and Judge Hunt declared it passed human endurance to sit day after day and listen to technical details and mathematical summaries of traffic and carry the same in one's mind. He suggested that merely excerpts should be read from the letters, but Mr. Lindabury was not disposed to agree to that.

The conflict between the two great companies arose when the New Haven thought it was strong enough to upset the arrangements which had lasted for forty years and to demand a new division of rates that would be more favorable to itself. Mr. Mellen cheerfully acknowledged that the suggestion came largely from himself as Second Vice President in charge of traffic for the New Haven. He told how his activity displeased the late J. P. Morgan and how he marched down to Wall Street to square himself with that magnate. The interview closed, he said, with Mr. Morgan announcing that someone had been "making a doormat" of him.

New Haven Cut Rates.

The conflict between the New Haven and the New York Central, which led up to what is known as the first Corsair agreement, was the first subject taken up yesterday by Frank M. Swacker, counsel for the Government, with Mr. Mellen on the stand. In 1893, before the New York & New England had been captured by the New Haven, there was a chance that it might, through the New York & Northern, which is now the Putnam Division of the New York Central, gain an entrance into New York City.

There was a proposal that the New York & Northern should make an arrangement with the Manhattan Railway Company, which owned the elevated line up Eighth Avenue to 155th Street, for an interchange of passengers, and Mr. Swacker put in a letter from Charles P. Clark, President of the New Haven, to J. P. Morgan, asking him to withdraw from the negotiations.

In 1894 the New Haven found itself strong enough, on account of the acquisition of the Housatonic, the Providence & Worcester, and the Old Colony systems, to challenge the competition of the New York Central to many points in New England. Up to that time this traffic had been kept moving by the New York Central and the Boston & Albany, which only gave the New Haven the short haul from the point where the latter handed over the traffic. It determined to divert the traffic to its own lines all the way from New York.

This it did by an alteration in the rates, with the result that the Pennsylvania and Lehigh Valley lines were quoting lower rates over the New Haven to New England cities than the New York Central could give by the Albany route. The Central officials complained to Chauncey M. Depew, its President, and he wrote on March 17, 1894, to Mr. Clark for an explanation.

Asked to explain this situation, Mr. Mellen smilingly elucidated the advantage of the change from the New Haven point of view and said:

When Mellen Was Tempted.

"Of course, I was not anxious to take a short haul when I was employed to get a long haul. These letters contain complaints of the plan created by the New Haven in getting the traffic that belonged to it."

He said that all he was trying to do was to place the New York Central on the same basis as other roads and to take from it the advantage it had enjoyed. As for the change in the rates, Mr. Mellen said that was "a method of feeling their pulse." The New Haven was willing to take business from the New York Central at junction points, which only gave the New Haven the "short haul" as long as it could get the same net revenue from the short as it did from the long haul.

The New York Central parried the thrust of the New Haven by opening certain freight terminals of the New York & Northern to the New York & New England on June 1, 1894, and that, Mr. Clark was warned by his staff, would render the position of the New Haven in competitive freight business worse than ever. The New York Central also began to compete with the New Haven for the Berkshire Hills traffic. Concerning this Mr. Mellen wrote, on June 5, 1894, to Mr. Clark:

> When I consider the large amount of money there is involved in the question of whether this company shall do in its interests those things we find the New York Central people doing wherever there is a chance to earn an additional dollar at our expense, the temptation to exert the power we have is almost irresistible.

Mellen Defended Himself.

That Mr. Mellen was thoroughly convinced that he was in the right in fighting the New York Central from the point of view of an official of the New Haven is shown in a letter he addressed to Mr. Clark on Sept. 24, 1894, admitting that he was proposing to upset an arrangement with the New York Central which had lasted forty years, but justifying it by the great improvement in the New Haven line through its recent acquisitions, by the way in which the New York Central had hit at the New Haven, and by figures showing how the New York Central had all the best of the bargain from the financial standpoint.

So he suggested that the New Haven ask a reciprocal arrangement by which the New Haven might operate on the Boston & Albany as freely as the New York Central and the Boston & Albany might operate in New Haven territory; that the New Haven lines should be made the exclusive lines by which its territory could be served, and that it retain unquestioned the right to fix minimum rates.

Other letters dealing with these matters were put in by the Government, and the counsel for the defense protested vigorously. They argued that the letters, especially one from Charles F. Choate of the Old Colony system, could not show any wrongdoing, and they cumbered the record and took up the time of the Court.

Mr. Swacker, however, replied that the Government was merely trying to show that as soon as the New Haven by the improvement and extension of its system had the power it set to work to monopolize the traffic of its part of New England.

Mellen Appealed to Morgan.

De Lancey Nicoll pointed out, however, that all this took place before the United States Supreme Court had decided that the Sherman law applied to railroads and when every lawyer and court had decided that it did not so apply.

Mr. Swacker replied by producing a letter from Charles F. Brooker, one of the defendants, to Mr. Clark, and Mr. Lindabury exclaimed:

"Isn't that another letter? I want to get through before hot weather next year. I have given up this year, but why sit here for years?"

The letter of Mr. Brooker gave his assent to the proposed change in the policy of the New Haven with regard to freight rates, and then, when J. P. Morgan's name had been brought in again by another letter to him from Mr. Clark, Mr. Mellen told of the one interview he had with Mr. Morgan concerning the subject:

"I was advised," he said, "that Mr. Morgan was very much exercised over the relationship growing up between the New Haven and the New York Central. He was a Director of both, and he thought I had fomented trouble, and that I was creating an excessive nuisance value of myself, and he thought I ought to be retired.

"I was quite exercised in those days that a man of Mr. Morgan's prominence should have such a feeling toward me. So I did what I generally do. Marched down to Mr. Morgan's office and asked to see him. I was shown into the back office, and he came in and said: 'What can I do for you?' I told him what Mr. Clark had told me and he said: 'That is correct.' I said: 'I thought you were a fair enough minded man to be willing to hear both sides of the question, and I came down to see if you would hear my side.' 'Certainly, certainly.' I told him the whole story from my standpoint. He said: 'I never understood it, Mr. Mellen. I have been used as a door mat. Good day.'"

Chauncey M. Depew Chided.

"He had been used as a doormat?" asked Mr. Swacker.

"That's his expression. I didn't ask for an explanation. I was satisfied that he was satisfied."

Mr. Lindabury objected, but he could not get any more from Mr. Mellen than that Mr. Morgan said he had been used as a doormat, and he had asked no explanation.

As Mr. Swacker went on with the history of the dispute between the two great railroad systems he put in a letter from Mr. Clark to Mr. Depew in which he called his rival's attention to a batch of circulars sent out attacking the New Haven, and said:

> It would be, I think, unfortunate if we should attack the Vanderbilt lines and management and go into the history of what has been and is being done and spread it before the good people of New England, and so until I hear from you I shall remain seated in that little gilt chair and hope you will do so, but we must not let the boys run away with the interests of the owners of these two great properties.
>
> I have never in all my twenty-five years' experience seen such literature as is included in these circulars, and I do not believe you ever have.

Mr. Depew wrote and explained that he knew nothing about the circular, and then, as Mr. Mellen was talking about some more technical details, he mentioned the Trunk Line Association. Asked to explain that, he said, solemnly:

"It is an association in New York City where the representatives of the trunk lines congregate and exchange ideas. They could not do more than exchange ideas, you know, under the Sherman law."

Mr. Nicoll, as Mr. Swacker was about to read a letter from J. W. Miller, asked the jury to distinguish between him and George Maccullough Miller.

"Mr. George Maccullough Miller," he said, "is a defendant against whom the Government has not moved trial. He is an old gentleman, too old to be tried, 85 years of age."

Court Objects to Letters.

"These are improper statements," said Mr. Batts. "He has not been moved for trial on account of his physical condition."

"A full statement should have been made of who the defendants were," retorted Mr. Nicoll, "but one of the great omissions of the opening of Mr. Batts was that he left the whole thing in confusion as to who were the defendants and when they were Directors of the New Haven."

This digression gave the court an opportunity to protest against the length of the correspondence which Mr. Swacker was introducing. He thought the letters could be read by excerpts with just the essential points.

Mr. Lindabury objected, as excerpts would create an entirely false impression.

"My sole purpose is," replied Judge Hunt, "to expedite. It is beyond the power of human endurance to sit day after day and listen to letters concerning the mathematics of the traffic and carry them in our heads."

The Judge thought counsel might decide what should be read and what omitted and suggested, that the "facetiousness" might well be left out.

"That was all there was yesterday to relieve the tedium," said Mr. Lindabury.

No arrangement was come to, and a long letter by Mr. Clark to Mr. Miller was read. It narrated a meeting between Mr. Clark and Mr. Depew, Mr. Morgan and Mr. Vanderbilt, in which the entire situation between the two big systems was discussed. Of it Mr. Clark said:

> On the whole our talk was satisfactory, if anything can be considered as satisfactory in a talk with a politician, for our dear Chauncey (while very polite and amusing) does not wear his heart upon his sleeve.

Corsair Agreement Explained.

However, it came out that this meeting of the big men connected with the two lines led to what is known as the Corsair agreement. A great deal of discussion arose as to the precise terms of the bargain, as it was, according to Mr. Swacker, never actually committed to paper, but a memorandum signed by Mr. Mellen was put in which stated it fairly.

It proposed that the New York Central, the Boston & Albany, and the New Haven should co-operate in legislative matters at Albany, Boston, and elsewhere; that the New York Central and the Boston & Albany should assent to certain technical traffic rates and a certain division of traffic and that the arrangement should last for three years, and that each company should be at liberty to name its minimum rates, while the whole territory of the New Haven at South Norwalk and to the east should be thrown open to the New York Central and the Boston & Albany so that business might take either of the Boston routes.

It was put in evidence, Mr. Batts explained, to show that all the persons concerned in it not only proceeded part of the way to form a monopoly, but were looking for a further extension of their power.

The Government then brought up the decision of the Supreme Court in the Trans-Missouri Freight Association case, the importance of which was that it first applied authoritatively the Sherman law to railroads, which up to that time had been held by the highest authority to be excluded from the province of the Sherman Act. The opinion was rendered on March 22, 1897, and entirely changed the status of the railroads.

The defense is preparing to argue that whatever violations of the Sherman act had been committed by the Directors of the New Haven before the decision was handed down must be held harmless because of the prevailing opinion before the Supreme Court acted, while the Government will argue that as the law was not altered by the decision that can be no defense.

A recess was taken while counsel discussed with the court whether it would be necessary to put in the text of the Supreme Court decision, and when the hearing was resumed Mr. Swacker passed on immediately to two long memoranda prepared by Mr. Mellen. They dealt with the situation treated by the decision, and the defense asked the Government rather impatiently as to what illegal act they were intended to prove.

The Government took the view that while the memoranda were nothing but an expressions of views, they did show that Mr. Mellen was still considering how he might exert pressure on other lines in pursuit of his monopolizing policy by some other method than through rates, which had been now declared illegal. Thus, one of these memoranda contained the statement:

> Competition should be by facilities and not by rates or special inducements in divisions, and business common to both should be allowed to divide at will and follow its own course to destination.

The case will continue this morning.

New Haven Men Resign.

Henry K. McHarg and Frederick F. Brewster, the only two of the eleven defendants who still remained on the board of the New Haven, resigned yesterday. Their resignations will be presented formally to the stockholders at the annual meeting which is to be held in New Haven today.

While no formal statement as to the reason for their retirement was obtainable last night, it was said on behalf of the New Haven Company that their action was undoubtedly due to a desire not to embarrass the present New Haven management on account of their status as alleged violators of the law being a matter still to be determined by a jury. Their action follows that of the other former Directors of the road now on trial who have resigned at various times during the progress of the several Government actions against the New Haven Road.

Messrs. McHarg and Brewster entered the board together May 31, 1907. They took no part in alleged illegal acts committed by their fellow-defendants prior to that date and by which the Government is seeking to show that the alleged conspiracy to monopolize the traffic of New England was concerned at the time the Sherman law was passed.

Mr. Brewster lives in New Haven, and Mr. McHarg in New York. They figure in the case at a time when the New Haven was busy in taking over steamship lines and trolley properties.

REPORT SCHWAB IS OUTBID.

W. H. Donner Said to Have Obtained Control of Pennsylvania Steel.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 26.—William H. Donner, President of the Cambria Steel Company and Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Pennsylvania Steel Company, is reported as having captured the Pennsylvania Steel property. This would mean that Charles M. Schwab, head of the Bethlehem Steel Company, who until a week ago was believed to have closed for the property, either has been outbid by the Donner forces or has retired from the contest.

Mr. Donner is already credited with having obtained control of the Cambria Steel Company, and, if the report circulated today is true, it is likely that he will merge the two companies, which are already closely related through stock control, into a new independent steel company which would be able to compete with the Bethlehem Steel Company in many lines of business.

Some light may be shed on the subject tomorrow, when there will be meetings of the Directors of the Pennsylvania Railroad and the Directors of the Pennsylvania Company. The Pennsylvania Company owns about $15,500,000 of the $31,310,800 common and preferred stock outstanding of the steel company. The Pennsylvania Railroad owns preferred stock in the Pennsylvania Steel Company listed at $584,700.

Mr. Donner was reported as being in conference with E. T. Stotesbury, President of the Reading Company, on Monday, and Mr. Stotesbury was said to be in New York today.

Mr. Donner's visit to Mr. Stotesbury may have had more behind it than merely a discussion of the sale of the Pennsylvania, of course. It is possible that Mr. Donner discussed the financing of the big steel company which he plans to create, and Mr. Stotesbury would naturally confer with J. P. Morgan & Co. before making any answer.

Rumors that the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company would enter the Midvale Steel combination were revived today and given some credence in financial circles.

GOMPERS CALLS ON WILSON.

Union Chief Talks with President Regarding Labor Legislation.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26. — Samuel Gompers, President of the American Federation of Labor, talked with President Wilson today in advocacy of legislation to be proposed in Congress next Winter by friends of the labor movement.

Mr. Gompers urged the importance of industrial education, vocational training, and general legislation for conservation of human energy and life. For an hour Mr. Gompers outlined the features of a legislative program the federation has been considering, and President Wilson, making no comment, listened attentively.

Mr. Gompers also submitted to the President copies of correspondence between American Federation of Labor officials and labor leaders throughout the nations of Europe, revealing efforts made during the last sixteen months to maintain fraternal relations between the working people of the United States and those of the nations in the war.

CONDEMN 34 TO DIE AS SPIES AT LIEGE

German Court-Martial Orders Wholesale Executions—Reported Appeal to Wilson.

HE IS URGED TO INTERVENE

Petitions Also Spain's Ruler and the Pope—Daily Executions Terrorize Belgium.

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 26, (via London.)—According to the Tyd thirty-four additional death sentences against persons who were charged with espionage and treason have been pronounced by court-martial at Liége.

The newspaper adds that Pope Benedict, the King of Spain, and President Wilson have been appealed to by telegraph to intervene in behalf of the condemned persons.

"A reign of terror prevails from one end of Belgium to the other, men and women are being executed every day in all parts of the country, hundreds of men, and even women, who refuse to work in behalf of Germany and against their own country are being deported, whole communities are being punished, and so perfect is the German system of terrorism that it is safe to say that the news of not one-tenth of what takes place ever reaches the outside world."

Those assertions were made yesterday by a well-known Belgian now in New York, and whose activities in aid of his stricken countrymen and women are a matter of nationwide knowledge.

"Terrible and heart-sickening as was the brutal killing of Miss Cavell," this Belgian continued, "the fact nevertheless remains that she was but one martyr among a great many. The fact that she was English made her case stand out from among the rest, and in the horror of it all the world lost sight of hundreds of other women, all of them Belgian, who have met the same fate at the hands of the Germans.

"It would take a whole paper to tell even a little of all the terrible things that are daily taking place in Belgium. From authoritative information we know that not only are executions daily occurrences, but people are also being deported by the wholesale to Germany or somewhere else, God only knows where, at the whim of any German commander.

"The Germans need mechanics and other workingmen for their munitions factories, and although it is contrary to the law of nations to compel the people of an occupied territory to work against their own country, that makes no difference whatever so far as von Bissing and his subordinates are concerned. For example, there is a little city in Belgium called Lokerren. It is, or was, a place of about 20,000 people. Only a short time ago the German Governor of the town issued an order for all the mechanics in the town to gather at a certain place. When they were assembled he told them they would have to go to work helping the Germans manufacture munitions of war. They protested, and when one of the mechanics pointed out that what was proposed was contrary to The Hague Convention, the German commander tartly replied: 'We do not concern ourselves with regard to that convention.'

"He then informed the mechanics that they would have to report for work and do what they were told to do on the following morning. Morning came and nine appeared, whereupon the Germans closed the town so far as outside communication was concerned, ordered the time-honored weekly market meeting, ordered all Belgians to be in their houses by 6 P. M., and forbade the importation of any foodstuffs for the people of the town. What else happened or what has happened since then we do not know. All we know is that the story is true.

"Another thing that is worthy of the attention of the neutral world is that in the trials of men and women for offenses that are punishable with death the accused are not permitted to have counsel or to consult with counsel. The Germans handle both prosecution and whatever defense is permitted, and the victims, hundreds of them harmless women, pay the penalty with their lives without having been permitted to utter a single word in their own defense. Miss Cavell's case is but one among hundreds of others of the same kind.

"We know of a conversation that the Catholic Bishop, Rutter, of Liége, had a few weeks ago with a German officer. The Bishop referred to the fact that several priests of his diocese had been killed and asked the German what he thought the world would think of Germany when all that has happened in Belgium was told.

"'Don't worry,' replied the officer. 'It won't become known, for we are going to be victorious and the history of this war will be written by us and we will write it to suit ourselves.'

"On another recent occasion a number of German officers billeted themselves in the home of a prominent Belgian. They became very boisterous and the owner of the house protested. A little later the dead body of the man was found and when the parish priest offered a prayer for the repose of his soul the Germans arrested the priest and locked him up in jail.

"These are just a few instances of what is every day happening in Belgium. Not even the Armenians in Turkey are being treated much worse than are the people of Belgium, although there are, of course, no organized massacres in Belgium. We talk of asking Germany to prevail upon the Turks to be more merciful to the Armenians. Why not appeal to Germany to begin her charity at home and be more merciful to the unfortunate men, women, and children of poor Belgium?"

QUIT MISSION BODY OVER WAR ON POPE

Continued from Page 1.

right to commit the Church to any such principle as it contemplated. He insisted that the board rescind its action of last May instead of sending delegates.

The opening arguments on behalf of the High Church Party had been made by the Rev. Dr. Manning. Although the debate did not follow party lines, there were few deviations. The most conspicuous exception was that of Mr. Pepper, who is a prominent member of ritualistic St. Mark's in Philadelphia.

Dr. Manning declared that the whole purpose of the proposed congress was to bring a United Protestantism on the problem of South America, and to seek the co-operation of all bodies. He spoke of the recent action of the Catholic bishop of Panama in denouncing the congress and telling the faithful not to attend it on the pain of committing a mortal sin.

The rector of Trinity said many seemed to be amusingly unfamiliar with the fact that an effort toward church unity was being made in many directions, and that the action of the Panama Congress would be a movement "under hostile banners against the largest Church in Christendom." Especially at this time would such a congress endanger the close relations which were now developing between the great Eastern Church and the Church of England and the Episcopal Church in the United States. He objected especially to the plan of the congress in that it provided for an apportionment of territory, union schools, and an interchange of communicants.

He said that Theodore Roosevelt knew better how to approach the Latin-Americans than did some church men, for Mr. Roosevelt when he visited the Southern countries spoke of bringing the greetings of a young civilization to the older one.

The Rev. Dr. Ernest M. Stires, the rector of St. Thomas's, said the argument against sending delegates could best be met by the statement that the Episcopal Church was already in South America and had missionary districts therein charge of Bishops. He declared that he did not regard the action as in any way hostile to the Roman Catholics, as there were in Central and South American countries many persons who were not Roman Catholics and who had gone there on account of the great material development of the countries to the south.

That the attitude of the Roman Catholic Church was not especially friendly to the Episcopalians he deduced from the fact that when Cardinal Gasquet was here, then an Abbott, he had preached sermons at St. Patrick's Cathedral in which he referred to the Anglican and Episcopal churches as having been founded on a love affair of Henry VIII. Dr. Stires said that shortly after his return to Rome following these attacks, the Abbott received the red hat.

On the whole, Dr. Stires said he saw no reason why the relations with the Greek Church should be jeopardized, nor yet any reason why the peace of the Episcopal communion should be destroyed by the issue.

There was long discussion as to how the board might compromise the matter. Bishop Rhinelander of Philadelphia proposed that the matter be left to the missionary Bishops in South America. The advice of Julien T. Davies was that the delegates might be appointed under the condition that they were not to do anything but confer and were to have no power to enter into an alliance with the other bodies.

The motion to rescind was finally put with the understanding that the delegates were to have certain instructions from a committee to refrain from actual co-operation provided any were appointed. The polling of the vote, after one member who had refused to vote had changed his ballot to "No," resulted in twenty-six voting against the resolution and thirteen for it.

As soon as the result was announced Bishop Weller rose and said that it was with great sorrow that he must announce that he could no longer remain a member of the board. His associates quickly followed.

The board will have another meeting this morning to finish routine business, and meanwhile pressure is being brought to bear on the five members to reconsider their resignations.

Dr. Manning said last evening that this was impossible.

EDISON'S LIFE THREATENED

Has Bodyguard in San Francisco Because of Anonymous Letters.

Special to The New York Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 26.—Anonymous letters threatening the life of Thomas A. Edison because he had been named as a member of the Naval Advisory Board by Secretary Daniels have been received by the inventor since he came to San Francisco and have caused Chief of Police White to detail Detective Sergeant Gaughran to act as Mr. Edison's bodyguard. This fact first became known today.

Mr. Edison was threatened with death if he made any invention which would make war more terrible or which would tend to promote war in the United States. Detective Gaughran attends Mr. Edison constantly.

ASKS DIVORCE IN CINCINNATI.

Peter V. Sherwood Sues—Wife Here Professes Ignorance.

Special to The New York Times.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 26.—That his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Sherwood, of 160 East Sixty-first Street, New York, persisted in leading the life of a "social butterfly," refused to attend to her home, and ran him into debt in order to indulge in the butterfly life are some of the numerous charges made by Peter V. Sherwood in his suit for divorce, filed here today.

Sherwood, in his petition, said that when he complained of expenses she told him she didn't care how he got the money, so long as he "got it." They were married in 1906 and have one child, Jeselyn.

Sherwood also said his wife compelled him to contribute largely to the support of her mother.

Mrs. Elizabeth Sherwood, when questioned last night about her husband's divorce proceedings in Cincinnati, said she had no interest either in denying or affirming the report. She asserted that there had been no dissension between her and her husband. If divorce proceedings had been begun against her, she said, she had no knowledge of the fact.

"I saw my husband only last night, and I expect to see him again tomorrow," said Mrs. Sherwood.

Mr. Sherwood is a member of the firm of Tallaferro & Sherwood, manufacturing agents, at 346 Broadway. He married Mrs. Sherwood about seven years ago. The couple have one child, a daughter, 6 years old.

A SAFETY DEVICE

of the first order is our $9,000,000 Guarantee. Straight Mortgages, Participating Mortgages and Mortgage Certificates all are reinforced by our Guarantee—providing an absolutely safe 5% investment in any amount.

LAWYERS TITLE & TRUST COMPANY

160 Broadway, New York

188 Montague St., Bkn. 44 Court St., Bkn.
363 E. 149th St., N. Y. 1353 B'way, Bkn.
367 Fulton St., Jamaica, N. Y.
160 Main St., Wh. Plains, N. Y.

WET CELLARS MADE DRY

FROM INSIDE WITH SMOOTH-ON IRON CEMENT No. 7

Write for catalogue
SMOOTH-ON MFG. CO.
Jersey City, N. J.

B. Altman & Co.

In the Men's Wear Department (First Floor)

New Importations of Sweaters

are now being shown, comprising a very comprehensive stock of the newest and most desirable Sweater Coats for all outdoor sports, motoring, etc. The very moderate prices range from . . . $10.00 to 20.00

Also an important showing is made in

American-made Sweaters of Brushed Wool, in new heather mixtures, at . . . . . $6.00 & 8.00

In addition to the above are Wool Caps and Scarfs to match the Sweater Coats, complete assortments affording a wide field for selection.

Young Men's Suit Department

The newest and most desirable styles are being shown in the Department for Young Men. Deserving of special mention are:

Suits of the new Pebble Cheviot fabrics in richly blended colorings, reasonably priced at $28.00

These Suits are in winter weight, with quarter-lined coats having silk-lined sleeves.

Fifth Avenue - Madison Avenue
34th and 35th Streets New York

R. H. Macy & Co.

Ask to see our sample books of personal greeting cards. Place your order now, especially if you have friends abroad. Stationery Engraving department.

Macy's

R. H. Macy & Co.'s Attractions Are Their Low Prices

The quickest way to reach the Second Floor is to take the escalators from the center of the Main Floor and so on to the Sixth.

Herald Square, Broadway, 34th to 35th St.

Buy Auto Furs Now!

IT is a fact that the Fur Garments listed below may be bought today for what the Skins alone will bring in the open market. This is a strong statement, but it is supported by indisputable facts.

Our stock of Auto Furs was purchased last June before Fashion had decreed that so many garments worn by women should be fur-embellished. That decree has boosted the price of fur pelts to such an extent that when we are compelled to go into the market to replenish our stock of Auto Furs today prices will be sadly reminiscent—for the wearers who delayed buying at Macy's.

We cannot urge too strongly the desirability of buying Auto Furs NOW.

Raccoon Coats

Our Coats of Natural Raccoon are cut in the standard sweep essential for comfortable automobile wear. The garments are wool-lined throughout, with Venetian or satin yokes and sleeves, according to the grade of the pelt out of which the Coat is made. The prices range from $54.75 to $196.00.

Black Manchurian Dog Coats

After carefully looking over the Coats of the fur in stock we called up a manufacturer and gave him an order for 100 more. He refused the order, saying that he could make more money cutting up the dogskins he had on hand into trimmings for women's coats. The coats on hand are made of large skins, full auto sweep and wool-lined. Price, $14.75 and $24.75.

Russian Calf Coats

These are very practical Coats made of the skin of a hardy animal from the bleak steppes of far-off Russia. Of course the skin insures warmth and service. The garments are cut on liberal lines, are all-wool lined, and are fashioned so stoutly that they should last until the wearers are tired of them. Price, $24.75.

Lap Robes of Black Dog Skin

At the prices quoted these Robes, so necessary for comfort while automobiling in the cold days so close at hand, are remarkable value. The Robes are backed up with a good quality Kersey.

54 in. x 60 in., $10.75 | 54 in. x 72 in., $14.75 | 54 in. x 84 in., $19.75

A wide selection of other Fur Robes at most attractive prices.

Macy's—Fifth Floor, 34th Street.

GIMBELS

Broadway and 33d Street

Royal Kirmanshah Rugs
25% Less Than Marked Prices
Today the Last Day of This Sale

TO take one-fourth off the marked price of Oriental Rugs that are already low in price—and above all NOW, when good Rugs are practically unobtainable and the sources of supply cut off by the closing of the Dardanelles—seems very remarkable. When, however, it is realized that we invested judiciously but heavily in Oriental Rugs BEFORE the crisis came, it is seen to be of a piece with the everyday GIMBEL policy.

An Entire Aisle on Our Sixth Floor Has Been Given Up to a Display—or, Rather, an Exposition —of Superb Rugs Up to the Value of $50,000

All are subject to the 25% reduction and all have been selected by our experts for their firmness and closeness of weave, beauty in hue and blending of color, and ingenuity in tracery of pattern. Sixth Floor

Prices are now $22.50, $35, $39.50 and up to $656.25.
Carpet sizes, $125 up.

ESTABLISHED 1845
MARK CROSS
TRADE MARK LONDON ACTUAL MAKERS

Dislocation of Facts

The conviction which the Cross trade-mark carries with it could never have been acquired through the misrepresentation of Cross wares.

The more remarkable this, —when one considers that misrepresentation of facts is a thing which happens—even to merchants.

But then, no man should ever lie, except to defend—or entertain—a lady.

Bridge Case
Specially Priced

Bridge Case—(at left) Morocco case, in colors, "Envelope Design," fitted with two "new count" score pads and pencils and two packs of playing cards. Size: 7¾ x 4 x 1¾ inches, complete.....$6.00

Cigarette Case— (at right) — Stiff metal frame, ends and mounting of gun-metal silver or gilt finish, covered in colored morocco leather; lambskin lining. Size: 3¾ x 2¾ inches $3.50

Smart Fall Gloves

For Women

Sand shade washable capeskin, one button.....$1.50

Grey mocha, in pearl and medium shades, black stitched back and black kid binding, piqué seam, light weight.....$2.00

White doeskin (washable), black hand-sewn, pearl button.....$2.00

For Men

Tan capeskin, hand-sewn, one button.....$1.50

Tan washable capeskin, outseam, one clasp.....$1.50-$2.00

Tan capeskin dress glove, black embroidered back, 1 button.....$2.50

Yellow chamois (washable), black embroidered back.....$1.50-$2.00

Tan or grey mocha, 1 button...$2.00

Grey buckskin, heavy weight, outseam, one clasp.....$2.00

White capeskin, dress glove, piqué seam.....$1.50-$2.00

For Children

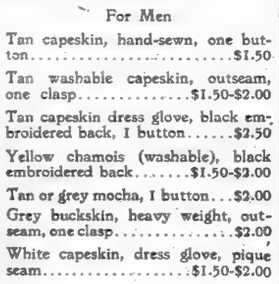
Tan capeskin, one button.....95c

Yellow chamois (washable).....95c

White doeskin (washable).....95c

Grey mocha, one clasp.....$1.25

"Week-End" Suit Case



Suit Case—Of English design, for men or women. Black enamel cloth covering, strongly bound with contrasting russet leather. Frame of sturdy boxwood with riveted reinforced corners; lined entirely with flowered cretonne or tan Irish linen; fitted with removable tray; pocket inside the cover; 23¾ x 13 x 7 inches.....$9.00

Painting two or more letters....75c

Mark Cross
World's Greatest Leather Stores

New York
404 Fifth Ave.
(at 37th Street)

Boston
145 Tremont St.

London
253 Broadway
89 Regent St.

Dealers Throughout the World

SEES SUFFRAGE LOST IN PENNSYLVANIA

One Penrose Leader Asserts the Amendment May Not Carry a Single County.

WOMEN STILL CONFIDENT

Predict Victory and Deplore Comparisons with the New Jersey Campaign.

Special to The New York Times.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 26.—Woman suffrage is likely to be defeated in Pennsylvania as it was in New Jersey. Predictions regarding the size of the majority against the Constitutional amendment which would permit women in the Keystone State to vote vary with the source from which they emanate. They run as high as 350,000 and as low as 70,000. As a general rule it may be said that all prognostications carrying figures are little more than guesswork. The political leaders who are in a better position to know than anybody else have no figures to make public.

With all signs pointing to defeat the leaders of the various organizations which are carrying on the campaign for the enfranchisement of women in this State still assert that victory will reward their labors on Election Day. When pressed to give reasons for their optimism, however, they have none more substantial to advance than had the suffragist leaders of New Jersey on the eve of defeat.

The women who are active in the suffrage fight here protest when they are reminded of this, and say that there is no analogy between the situation which existed in New Jersey on the eve of the special election and that which exists in Pennsylvania as the campaign for woman suffrage draws to a close.

"We never expected that New Jersey would return a majority in favor of suffrage," said one of the local suffrage leaders in discussing this phase of the situation with THE TIMES correspondent. "In New Jersey there was a Jim Nugent on the firing line against us. There is no Jim Nugent here, nor is there any organized opposition of any kind that we know of. We sincerely believe that we will carry Pennsylvania."

No one here except the suffragists themselves and a few men enthusiasts expect a majority for the woman suffrage amendment. Defeat is decidedly in the air, and about the only question that is puzzling most Pennsylvanians is the probable size of the majority against it.

The nearest attempt at a complete survey of the situation, made shortly after the suffragists had completed their Liberty Bell campaign in the rural counties, indicated a sentiment in favor of the amendment, which might place them in the woman suffrage column on Election Day, in sixteen rural counties, while twenty-eight counties, including the banner county of Philadelphia, were set down as opposed to woman suffrage, and twenty-three, including Allegheny County, were placed in the doubtful column.

The conclusions reached in this survey were based in most cases on confidential information received from Republican and Democratic leaders. All the counties set down as in favor of suffrage were counties of small voting population. Here is a table showing the counties and the total vote, polled there in 1913, which was an off year in Pennsylvania politics as is the present:

Counties.	1913 Vote.	Counties.	1913 Vote.
Blair	2,248	Jefferson	5,658
Bradford	3,641	Lawrence	3,364
Cambria	18,139	Montour	1,851
Clarion	4,875	Pike	620
Clearfield	10,495	Potter	3,001
Erie	7,863	Susquehanna	2,434
Forest	748	Wayne	2,348
Indiana	4,874	Wyoming	1,984
Total			75,965

In that year the total vote cast in Pennsylvania was 765,071, so the sixteen supposed suffrage counties supplied only about 10 per cent. of the total. Philadelphia County alone, which is regarded as overwhelmingly opposed to the enfranchisement of women, cast twice as many votes as did the sixteen counties now claimed for woman suffrage.

While this is an off year in the politics of Pennsylvania, a much larger vote is looked for than usual. The vote of 1913, excepting local contests, was for Superior Court Judges, who had been nominated as candidates for the bench at non-partisan direct primaries.

An experienced political leader, taking the claims of the suffragists, prepared a table, which, he thought, might furnish a good indication of what the returns on the vote for the constitutional amendment might be. When Colonel Roosevelt was running for President he carried Pennsylvania, polling a total vote of 444,894, but it is pointed out that this was a vote for Roosevelt rather than for the Progressive Party, and that, besides, it had been swelled by the votes of thousands of manufacturers and workingmen who were loyal to the Republican Party, but feeling certain that Taft could not be re-elected, and fearing that a Democratic victory would put an end to the protective tariff, voted the Progressive ticket for the purpose of defeating Mr. Wilson. So the politician in his basis placed the vote for Pinchot in the Gubernatorial campaign last year as a more trustworthy basis for what the Progressive vote would be with Colonel Roosevelt out of the running. He gave the suffragists 65 per cent. of the total vote in the sixteen counties claimed for them, which, on the basis of 950,000 polled in the entire State, would be 93,000. Here is his table:

Pinchot vote, 1914	200,876
Socialist vote, 1912	83,814
65 per cent. suffrage counties	60,000
Prohibition vote, 1912	19,525
Total	364,015
Against suffrage, 585,985.
Adverse majority, 221,970.

This would bring the prospective vote in Pennsylvania pretty closely within the ratio on which the vote was cast in the recent special election in New Jersey, when there were three votes against the amendment for each cast in its favor. If this ratio should hold good in this State it would give the suffragists 390,000 votes out of a total of 950,000, while 570,000 would go against the amendment—an adverse majority of 190,000.

MOB ASSAILS SUFFRAGISTS.

Republican Marchers Aim Roman Candles at Women.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 26.—A throng of several hundred Republican organization adherents, parading to a campaign meeting tonight, mobbed a crowd of woman suffrage advocates listening to suffrage speakers in West Philadelphia. Roman candles were turned into the gathering and the balls of fire fell upon the clothing of speakers and listeners. The Marshal of the parade rode his horse through the crowd and the opponents of woman suffrage completed their attack by flinging buckets of water upon the women.

Miss Miriam Gilbert and Miss Gratia Erickson of Evanston, Ill., suffrage speakers, were drenched, as were many persons in the crowd.

The attack occurred in front of Red Men's Hall, Sixtieth and Spruce Streets, where Republican speakers were addressing an audience of several thousand persons. Harry A. Mackey, leader of the ward, was Chairman, and those on the platform included John P. Connelly, the organization candidate for City Solicitor. The suffrage speakers were addressing a crowd outside the building, tactics they have followed throughout the campaign.

According to a number of witnesses, as the procession approached the hall, the leader, on a horse, shouted: "Down with woman suffrage!" and then rode into the crowd. Behind him were hundreds of men and boys, carrying Roman candles and red lights. They surrounded the suffragists, and the balls of fire from the candles were dropped into the crowd. The suffrage speakers stood in an automobile. Dr. J. Paul Chambers and other men then shouted cries for the police, who upon their arrival stopped the disturbance.

TAMMANY NEUTRAL IN SUFFRAGE FIGHT

Continued from Page 1.

feature of the general campaign work of the Women's Political Union. Speakers will include Miss Ida Tarbell, Dr. John Lovejoy Elliott, Dr. S. Josephine Baker, Samuel Untermyer, Miss Helen Todd, Cleveland Moffett, Mrs. Raymond Rogers, Roger Foster, Mrs. H. O. Havemeyer, Mrs. Arthur Brisbane, and Dr. Anna Shaw.

At the luncheon Mrs. Harriot Stanton Blatch will call upon the guests to bombard the attendants at the anti-suffrage mass meeting to be held in Carnegie Hall in the evening with the statements of George W. Wickersham, who will preside, made last December before a meeting of the Southern Society. At that meeting Mrs. Blatch will say, and she has had the statement printed on thousands of leaflets, that Mr. Wickersham challenged the members of the Southern Society on their attitude to the negro, saying that democracy demanded his full and free enfranchisement. Mrs. Blatch will ask guests at the luncheon to act as distributers of the leaflets before Carnegie Hall in the evening, where Mr. Wickersham will speak against the enfranchisement of the white woman.

Meetings are being held at 10 o'clock every morning this week at a suffragist booth at the new Washington Market, and suffrage literature is given out during the day and arguments are answered. This morning the speakers will be Mrs. Raymond Brown, Mrs. Mary Beard, Miss Alice Carpenter, Rheta Childe Dorr, and Alice Duer Miller.

There was a large crowd all day yesterday at Fortieth Street and Fifth Avenue, where the suffragists were holding a twelve-hour meeting. Dudley Field Malone, J. Stitt Wilson, Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, Miss Mary Garrett Hay, Mrs. James Lees Laidlaw, Mrs. Raymond Brown, and Fire Commissioner Robert Adamson were among the speakers. A fife and drum corps furnished music.

ROME'S FALL LAID TO WOMEN.

Decline Followed Their Entering Public Life, Says E. P. Wheeler.

Asserting that Rome fell because her women entered public life, Everett P. Wheeler, President of the Men's Association Opposed to Political Suffrage for Women, gave this warning to this country in a debate with Judge William H. Wadhams of the Court of General Sessions last night in the Broadway Tabernacle. Some in the audience took exception to Mr. Wheeler's views and at one time he had to ask a woman who laughed to cease insulting him. Judge Wadhams had the popular side of the discussion of the question: "Shall Political Suffrage Be Extended to Women."

Judge Wadhams traced the growth of the republican form of government and the progress of women in education and their ever widening sphere of activity.

"Those who oppose women having equal rights made the first mistake when they gave her the alphabet," said the Judge.

Mr. Wheeler pointed out that women wanted the vote as a weapon for other things, and said that in the present campaign the suffragists had spent ten times as much as had the antis. He spoke of divorce statistics in equal suffrage States as reason for thought, and predicted that an evil that would follow the vote would be the division in the home.

ANTI'S LETTER TO THE MAYOR.

Miss Chittenden Says Only 10 Per Cent. of Women Want Vote.

Miss Alice Hill Chittenden, President of the New York State Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage, issued yesterday a signed copy of a letter sent by her to Mayor Mitchel, dated Oct. 26, and asking for facts concerning the statement made by the Mayor on the suffrage mass meeting in Carnegie Hall last Friday evening, that the majority of women wished the franchise.

The letter opens by stating that the writer wrote Mr. Mitchel on Oct. 15 asking for the same facts, and not having received a reply she concludes the Mayor has no facts to give. Available evidence tends to show that less than 10 per cent. of the women of voting age want the suffrage, says Miss Chittenden, and she gives an elaborate statement with many figures.

Six Months at Hard Labor!

That is the sentence imposed by the Court of "Practical Experience" on every box of Holeproof Stockings or Sox. Six months of the hardest wear and tear that any Man, Woman or Child can give them—and in spite of all that, they are just as smart, soft, comfortable and good fitting as any sox or stockings sold at similar prices.

Holeproof Hosiery
FOR MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN

6 Pairs Guaranteed to Wear 6 Months or we will replace them with new hose FREE

For Men, 6 pairs, $1.50; Mercerized, $2; Silk Lustre, $3
Men's Silk Holeproof, 3 pairs, guaranteed for 3 months, $2
For Women & Children, 6 pairs, $2; Silk Lisle for Women, $3
Women's Silk Holeproof, 3 prs., guaranteed for 3 months, $3

HOLEPROOF SILK GLOVES FOR MEN, $1.00
The Tips Are Guaranteed to Outwear the Gloves

Brill Brothers

279 BROADWAY, NEAR CHAMBERS STREET
Broadway, at 49th Street — Broadway, at 42d Street
UNION SQUARE, 14th STREET, NEAR BROADWAY
47 Cortlandt St., near Greenwich. — 125th St., at 3d Ave.
FLATBUSH AVE., AT FULTON, BROOKLYN.

BLAMES INSPECTORS FOR SUBWAY CAVE-IN

Coroner's Jury Finds Seventh Avenue Disaster Was Due to an Excessive Blast.

IT EXONERATES CONTRACTOR

Censures City's Bureau of Combustibles for Failure to Regulate the Use of Explosives.

Censure was cast on the Inspectors of the Bureau of Combustibles of the Fire Department by the Coroner's jury which had been investigating before Coroner Feinberg for the last month the fatal subway cave-in in Seventh Avenue. The blast, it found, was excessive, but it declared that there was no criminal negligence on the part of the United States Realty and Improvement Company, the contractors. Recommendations were made that no traffic be permitted in the streets while blasting for subways is going on, and that the Public Service Commission should designate the maximum distance at which temporary work should precede the permanent subway structure. Here is the verdict:

We find that the said John W. O'Rourke came to his death on the twenty-second day of September in the subway excavation at Seventh Avenue and Twenty-fourth Street by a fracture of the skull and fractures of the ribs.

The death was due primarily to an excessive blast at the northeast heading of the excavation.

That, while due care was not exercised in estimating the amount of explosive to be used in this particular blast, the evidence submitted does not show criminal negligence.

That the Bureau of Combustibles, Fire Department, City of New York, which has control of all blasting operations, is hereby severely censured for not carrying out, through its inspectors, the powers assigned to it by the code of ordinances.

Jury Makes Recommendations.

We recommend that at the time of blasting in the subways of Greater New York no traffic of any kind be allowed over any part of the temporary structures.

We further recommend that the Public Service Commission shall designate the maximum distance to which temporary work shall precede the permanent structure.

The jury, in deploring this accident, expresses the hope that it will serve to impress on all contractors and the Public Service Commission the necessity for the utmost caution and care both in operation and inspection of all subway work.

One of the last witnesses called was John V. Davies of Jacobs & Davies, consulting engineers, who in answer to the questions of Alton B. Parker, counsel for the contractors, expressed the opinion that the accident was unavoidable and the temporary structure was of the best.

In summing up, Mr. Parker admitted that Mezzanitte, the foreman who fired the blast, was in some way responsible for the accident, but he asked the jurors to be careful in fixing criminal blame on him or the contractors, for a mere error in judgment was not criminal, and the contractors had made plans to the best of their ability.

Assistant District Attorney Follette called the attention of the jury to the fact that some of the timbering had been removed by order of the foreman, and reminded it that it must consider whether that amounted to criminal negligence.

Coroner Feinberg, in his charge, pointed out that mere neglect could not be held a crime, unless there were special circumstances concerning it."

After the jury had rendered its verdict Mr. Follette, speaking as a citizen, pointed out that there was no remuneration provided for the jurors at an inquest, and said he would urge the Board of Aldermen to compensate those who had sat in this long case.

Hammitt Denies Responsibility.

J. O. Hammitt, head of the Fire Prevention Bureau, of which the Bureau of Combustibles is a part, when told last night of the censure in the verdict said:

"The censure would have been very much more helpful if it were made more specific. As far as I am aware, and as far as I have been able to ascertain by very careful investigation, there was no failure on the part of the Department of Combustibles to enforce all the regulations relating to the kind of blasting operations that were conducted in the Seventh Avenue cut.

"During the investigation before the Coroner's jury there appeared to be an effort to make a point about the blast not having been covered. Irrespective of any advice of the Coroner's jury, which was not presumedly composed of experts in handling dynamite or experienced rockmen, we shall continue to prohibit the covering of blasts in rock excavations under the decking supporting the streets. Such a covering of the blasts would have introduced a very serious hazard by providing missiles in the form of the logs used in the covering. If the blast had been so covered there would have been great danger to the timbering.

"I should also like to say there was no evidence of any of the holes having been overloaded. Whether there were too many holes or they were improperly located, or whether there was too heavy a charge in any one of them was a matter over which the Fire Department had no control. It could not have had control unless a blasting inspector was detailed to attend every hole as it was loaded and fired."

WIFE SOLE SUPPORT OF W. M. VAN NORDEN

Ex-Banker Tells Court She Pays His Club Dues and Gives Him His Pocket Money.

HAS A JOB, BUT NO SALARY

Owns No Personal Property or Real Estate, but Has Been Sued for $1,200,000.

Warner M. Van Norden, the favorite son and the namesake of his father, has just been examined in supplementary proceedings on an unsatisfied judgment obtained against him in May by the Mercantile National Bank for $24,770. The elder Van Norden was President of the National Bank of North America and of the Van Norden Trust Company. He was once very rich, but he died on Jan. 1, 1914, heavily in debt. The defendant in the bank suit was once President of the Nineteenth Ward Bank. He lives with his wife and an adopted child at 7 West Fifty-seventh Street.

Examined before Justice Cohalan of the Supreme Court, he said that his wife's family had been supporting him since 1908. He declared that he had no property and that he didn't have to pay any rent or meet the expense of maintaining his family. Questioned by counsel for the plaintiff, Mr. Van Norden replied that he was the Secretary and Treasurer of the Lotus Tea Concern, at Fifty-seventh Street and Lexington Avenue, that he organized it in September, 1913, and that while the concern did $48,000 business in the first six months of the current year, he received no returns of any kind, and that the services he rendered to it were gratuitous. Questioned as to his social standing, his methods of living and the cost of his own upkeep, he replied:

"I am a member of the Metropolitan Club, the New York Yacht Club, the Clover Valley Rod and Gun Club, and the Riding Club. My wife pays my dues in these clubs. I have no monthly house charges, but if there were any my wife would pay them. My wife gives me spending money. I do not pay my living expenses and I contract no bills."

Before Mr. Van Norden connected himself with the tea concern he was Secretary and Treasurer of the South Yuba Water Company and the Central California Electric Company. He served as President of the Nineteenth Ward Bank for six years, but received no compensation for that work, or for anything else he did. He acted as the President of the Van Norden Trust Company from the time of its organization until 1909. Asked if he ever had a bank account, he replied that his bank account ceased in 1907. This was more than two years before he ceased to be President of the trust company that once stood high in financial circles.

Once he had some real estate, but he had disposed of all of it. Asked if he ever transferred any of his real estate to his wife, he replied that he had not done so within the last six or eight years. Concerning his resources, he said that he had a claim for $30,000, with interest, against H. W. Lazelle of the brokerage firm of Lazelle-Matthews, but that Mr. Lazelle had no money.

"I doubt," he said, "if the claim is good."

Mr. Van Norden said he turned all of his property over to his father in 1907, and in February, 1910, gave him a power of attorney to administer it for him. He has asked the estate for an accounting. The estate is suing him for an aggregate of $1,200,000 on notes, but he has set up counterclaims. He said that he had taken out life insurance policies for $150,000, but turned them over to his father.

Counsel for the plaintiff wanted to know if Mr. Van Norden didn't own something—furniture, or some other kind of personal property, and the defendant assured him that he owned nothing, whatever, no furniture, no personal property of any kind, or a bit of realty. But he did remember that the State Banking Department had recently obtained a judgment against him for $28,435, which was his share of liabilities as a Director of the Northern Bank.

If you have wondered who Colonel House is and what there is about him that draws President Wilson to him for counsel, read Richard Washburn Child's satisfying article, "How About Colonel House?" in this week's issue of

5¢ a copy
Collier's
THE NATIONAL WEEKLY

FOR THE LIBRARY.
The New York Times Mid-Week Pictorial, with its Rotogravure reproductions of actual war scenes and humorous and pathetic incidents in and near the fighting fronts, is the only permanent record of the great European conflict. 10 cents; sold everywhere. $5 a year. Ten numbers, forming handsome volume, $1 by mail. Times Square, New York. —Advt.

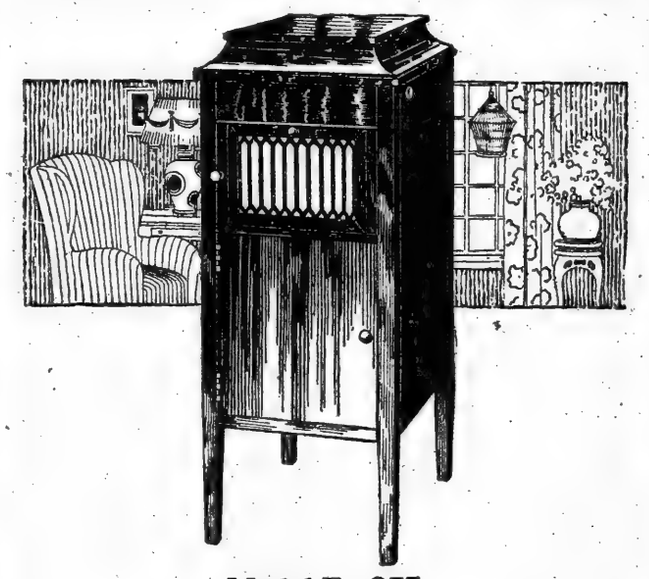
STEINWAY

The poetic imagery of the soul, the ever-changing moods of the human mind, find perfect expression in the wonder-tones of the Steinway Piano.

The Steinway costs no more than perfection is worth, based upon a lifetime of service and never-varying satisfaction. Priced but little higher than other pianos—$500 and upward for uprights; $750 and upward for Grands.

STEINWAY & SONS, STEINWAY HALL
107-109 EAST FOURTEENTH STREET, NEW YORK
Subway Express Station at the Door
Also pianos for rent at reasonable rates for city and country

THE AEOLIAN-VOCALION



Model F—$75

A New and Lower-priced Model of the World's Greatest Phonograph

THE AEOLIAN COMPANY takes much pleasure in announcing this new achievement of its manufacturing department.

As the Aeolian-Vocalion has become better known and its wonderful musical qualities and revolutionary phonograph features realized, the demand for it has increased enormously.

A portion of this demand—that of people desirous of limiting their expenditure for a phonograph to materially less than $100—it has been impossible heretofore to satisfy. Hence the production of this new model at $75, which is purchasable

$5 Down and $5 a Month

Every important and exclusive feature that has contributed to the extraordinary success of the Aeolian-Vocalion is retained in this new model. In size and tone-volume alone does it differ.

It contains the scientifically developed Sound-Box which produces the richer, deeper tones that distinguish all models. The new Symphonetic Horn which eliminates all phonograph stridency and preserves the distinctive beauties of different instruments and voices. The Vocalion Automatic Stop, the simplest yet devised, which starts the record and sets it to stop automatically. And the celebrated Graduola, the only device yet invented which allows you to play the record yourself, if you desire. Other regular models up to $375. A variety of beautiful Art and Period designs.

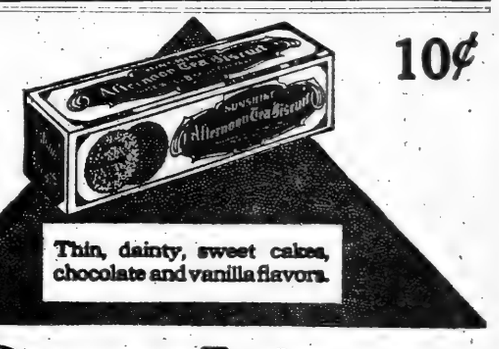
We invite you to hear this and other models of the Aeolian-Vocalion irrespective of any question of buying one.

THE AEOLIAN COMPANY
AEOLIAN HALL 29 WEST 42ND STREET

Makers of the famous Pianola and the largest manufacturers of musical instruments in the world

Copyright, 1915, The Aeolian Company

10¢



Sunshine
Biscuits

Today EXECUTIVES' DAY

¶ You, Mr. Banker, Mr. Manufacturer, Mr. Sales Manager—You, who are responsible for the big things in business—today is your Day. The Business Show is open to You, not to the general public.

¶ President Eliot said: "No man should be placed at work which a machine can do better."

¶ Experts at the Show demonstrate to Executives today the latest and most improved inventions for effecting PRACTICAL ECONOMY in the office, store and factory.

¶ An hour today may save months later on.

12TH ANNUAL BUSINESS SHOW
69TH REGT. ARMORY LEXINGTON AVE. & 25TH ST.
OPEN 1 to 10:30 P M

Founded 1827 Arnold, Constable & Co. Founded 1827

FINAL 7-DAY REMOVAL CLEARANCE SALE

Immediately Preceding

OUR REMOVAL, NOVEMBER 8TH TO FIFTH AVENUE AND 40TH STREET

Adhering to our plan as previously announced, and in keeping with the spirit of the occasion, we shall open the new store with new merchandise entirely in harmony with the new surroundings. This policy necessitates the immediate sacrifice of present Fall and Winter Stocks of the finest type and in splendid assortments. Included is apparel in the latest Fashion for Men, Women and Children, offered at the height of the season at unprecedented concessions in price.

Final Removal Reductions

Savings ⅓ to ½

$200,000.00 Stock of

HOUSE FURNISHINGS

Own Private Patterns. Own Stock Reduced.

10,000 Yards

Bigelow Carpets

Brussels and Axminsters in an attractive range of colors and designs in our own private patterns. 1.10 to 1.50
Formerly $1.65 to $2.00 yard.

Bigelow and English Wiltons in an assortment of colors and patterns suitable for Fall furnishings. 1.75 to 2.75
Formerly $3.00 & $4.00 yard.

Upholstery Fabrics

Tapestries, Damasks, Armures — Suitable for handsome Furniture Coverings, Draperies, Cushions, etc. 1.50 to 2.75
Formerly $2.75 to $6.50 yard.
Below Cost.

7 Days Sale

Beginning Oct. 28th

ORIENTAL RUG EVENT

500 Rugs, Value $150,000

All Sizes, Colors and Weaves

Value $18.00 to $110.00

Sale Price 13.50 to 85.00

Prices $90.00 to $500.00 25% off
Prices $600.00 to $3,000.00 30% off

Wool Blankets

Of superior quality, with pink or blue borders.

White Single Bed Size.
Regularly $3.50 pair . . . 2.50
Regularly $4.50 pair . . . 3.65

White Double Bed Size.
Regularly $9.00 pair . . . 6.25

Comfortables

"Warmth without weight," made to our special order under perfect sanitary conditions and filled with fine wool or cotton.

Sateen—In a variety of colors; single bed size, down filled.
Regularly $5.75 4.75

Silk Mull Tops, with plain border, cotton filled. Double bed size.
Regularly $3.50 2.85

Final Removal Reductions on

All Our Own Merchandise Reduced.

$15,000.00 Stock of

MEN'S FINE FURNISHINGS

Savings ⅓ to ½.

Further Reductions for Quick Disposal

Shirts

Fancy Flannel Shirts—Made with neck bands and single cuffs. Regularly $2.50

Finest White Cheviot Sporting Shirts—Heavy enough for Fall wear. Regularly $2.00

Fancy Soft Negligee Shirts—Very neatest patterns and all fine qualities. Regularly $1.50 and $2.00 95c

New Fall Pleated Negligee Shirts—All advance patterns and unusually fine woven Madras of imported qualities. Stiff cuffs. Regularly $3.00

Balance of All Silk Shirts—Not one reserved or held back. Pongees and satin stripes. Not all sizes. Regularly $3.95 to $10.00 1.95

Pajamas

Plain white Madras of good weight and self designed mercerized woven Madras in white, blue, lavender, tan and grey. Silk frog trimmings. Value $1.50 95c

Underwear

Natural Merino Underwear—A fine medium weight garment that is soft and smooth in finish. Long sleeve shirts and regular and stout ankle length drawers. Value $1.25 85c Each

Neckwear

High Grade Silk Neckwear—Made from the richest foreign cravatings and in the best prevailing shapes. Plain and the newest Fall fancy effects. Values $1.50, $2.00 85c

High Grade Silk Neckwear— Best of all plain cravatings in twenty-two of the best shades. Hundreds of the choicest and newest fancy silks included. Extra large folded four-in-hands. Value $1.00 45c

Raincoats

Newest Fall Models— Made from unusual Cravanette Coat Fabrics in diagonal and neat striped effects, woven to resist rain. Finest tailoring and silk yoke and sleeve lining. Value $22.50 Sale 13.50 Price

Top Coats from Imported Fabrics—A limited number, in colors that are new in raincoats, and styles that are most suitable for utility wear. Tailoring is the finest and coats will always hold their shape. Actual Value $25.00 Sale 18.50 Price

Bath Robes

Travelling and House Bath Robes—Large assortment of neat design of very fine Madras, cheviots and light terry cloths. All sizes and finely made and trimmed. Values $5.50, $6.50, $8.50 3.95

A BOX SALE

Prices ⅓ Off to Below Cost

$18,000.00 Stock.

38,000 Pairs.

Men's, Women's and Children's Hosiery

NOTICE—Owing to extraordinary reductions in price afforded by the last transfer of stock from the liquidation of our Wholesale Hosiery Departments, we cannot sell except by boxes of 3, 6 or one dozen pairs.

Men's Hosiery

Consisting of White Lisle with black hand clocks; all sizes, mixed two tones or Silk and Cashmere. Box 3 Prs. Reg.$1.50 Sale Price 90c
6 pairs, 1.70; 1 doz. pairs, 3.25.

Consisting of Thread Silk Hose in black, taupe and gray; a full fashioned reinforced lisle sole. Box 3 Prs. Reg.$1.50 Sale Price 1.15
6 pairs, 2.00; 1 doz. pairs, 3.75.

Consisting of White Silk with white clocks and black clocks in all sizes. Other colors, but not complete sizes in each shade. Box 3 Prs. Reg.$2.55 Sale Price 1.65
6 pairs, 3.15; 1 doz. pairs, 6.00.

Women's Hosiery

Women's Black Lisle Thread of medium weight; mercerized. Box 3 Prs. Reg.$1.00 Sale Price 75c
6 pairs, 1.45; 1 doz. pairs, 2.85.

Women's Silk Lisle, medium weight; highly lustrous; black or tan. Box 3 Prs. Reg.$1.50 Sale Price 95c
6 pairs, 1.85; 1 doz. pairs, 3.60.

Women's Pure Thread Silk of desirable weight and superior quality; strongly reinforced; black and white. Box 3 Prs. Reg.$4.00 Sale Price 2.75
6 pairs, 5.40; 1 doz. pairs, 10.65.

Children's Hosiery

Children's Fine Ribbed Cotton, black or white; medium or heavy weight; excellent for school wear. Sizes 6 to 9½. Box 3 Prs. Sale Price 65c
6 pairs, 1.25; 1 doz. pairs, 2.40.

Children's Winter Weight Wool—Fine ribbed; black only. Sizes 6 to 9½. Box 3 Prs. Sale Price 95c
6 pairs, 1.85; 1 doz. pairs, 3.60.

Misses' Stockings—Superior quality, imported, fine ribbed cotton, light weight, black, white or tan. Box 3 Prs. Sale Price 95c 6 pairs for 1.85; 1 doz. pairs, 3.60.

Prices ⅓ Off to Below Cost.

$28,000.00 Stock

SILKS, VELVETS, LACES, DRESS GOODS

Our Own Stock Reduced.

Silks

Black Chiffon Taffeta—Splendid value at $1.25 Removal Sale Price 85c

Black and Colored Chiffon Taffeta—Pure dye, foreign finish, in black, ivory, street and evening shades; also new changeable effects. 1.35

Black Crepes—Imported and domestic qualities, including crepe de chines, crepe de jette, crepe meteor, and sheer crepes. $1.75 and $1.25 qualities 95c and 1.35

Black Silks

Black Faille Silk—35 inch. Regularly $1.75 yard. 1.25

Black Charmeuse—42 inch. Regularly $3.50 yard. 2.95

Black Satin—36 inch. Regularly $1.75 yard. 1.25

Laces

Lace Insertions—Venise and Oriental Insertions, in light and heavy weaves; 2 to 10 inches wide. Regularly 50c to $19.75 yard. 25c to 9.75

Venise Allovers—Rich designs in Venise Allovers, 18 inches wide. Regularly $4.25 to $7.50 yard. 1.95 to 4.50

Lace Flouncings—High grade Flouncings; including Lyons, Maline, Chantilly, Oriental and Princess. 18 to 40 in. wide. Regularly $4.25 to $10.75 yard. 2.95 to 7.50

Real Lace Neckwear

Lace Barbes—Point Applique and Duchesse combined. Regularly $3.75 . . 2.45

Lace Barbes—Real Duchesse. Regularly $5.75 . . 4.95

Dress Goods

Black Dress Serge—50 and 42 inch. Regularly $1.00 and $1.25 yard. 78c and 90c

Colored Serges—50 in.: Copen, Nav, Wine, Green and Brown. Regularly $1.00 yard. 78c

Fall Suitings—44 to 54 inch. In an assortment of weaves and colorings. Formerly $1.75 and $2.00 yard. 1.15

Velvets

Fancy Velveteens—Neat striped effects in black, white and colors; 24 inch. Formerly $2.00 yard. 98c

Black Panne Velvet—24 inch. Regularly $1.75 yard. 1.45

Black Chiffon Velvet—41 inch. Regularly $3.75 yard. 2.95

Final Removal Clearance Reductions on

Savings ⅓ to ½

$18,000.00 Stock

FUR COATS, SETS, ODD PIECES

Our Own Stock Reduced.

At Unusual Savings, Averaging ⅓

Scarfs, Muffs and Sets

PERSIAN PAW SCARFS—Regularly $20.00 10.00
RED FOX MUFFS—Regularly $35.00 30.00
RATHEAD SCARFS—Regularly $27.00 15.00
RATHEAD MUFFS—Regularly $20.00 12.00
WHITE FOX SCARFS—Regularly $32.50 to $55.00 . . 25.00 to 45.00
GRAY MOUFLON AND SILK SETS—Regularly $55.00 . . 22.00

Women's Fur Coats

CARACUL—Regularly $110.00 78.00
HUDSON SEAL—Regularly $130.00 98.00

Women's Fur Lined Coats

FANCY TWEEDS in various models—Regularly $75.00 to $110.00 . . 55.00 to 65.00

Misses' and Children's Sets

WHITE MOUFLON—Regularly $12.00 to $28.00 . . . . 7.00 to 18.00
NATURAL LYNX—Regularly $45.00 35.00

Children's Coats

WHITE CONEY—Size 6 years. Regularly $25.00 to $48.00 . . . 15.00 to 25.00

Women's and Misses' Waists and Blouses

An attractive collection consisting of Voiles, Linons and black Silk with long and short sleeves. Values $4.00 and $5.00 2.15

Dainty models in Crepe de Chine and Chiffons; also hand made blouses in Organdie, Crepe Voile and Batista. Values $6.00 to $8.50 3.95

Women's Gloves

Chamois Lisle—16-button and two-clasp, washable, well fitting and smart in appearance; white, grey and light cream. Not all sizes in each shade. Value $1.00 pair 85c

Our exclusive "Regis" Glace Kid black two-clasp, perfect in fit and of superior finish. Black, white and a variety of the most fashionable Autumn Shades. Value $1.50 pair 1.25

Final Removal Reductions on

Savings ¼ to ½.

$25,000.00 Stock of

WOMEN'S AND MISSES' WEARING APPAREL

Our Own Merchandise Reduced —No jobs.

Coats

Misses' and Small Women's Coats

Of smart English Mixtures in the prevailing Autumn tones, in various models, including the Russian. Sizes 14 to 20 years.
Special at 14.50

Raincoats

The Celebrated

"Waterberry"

Cravenette Raincoats

Made from Priestley's practical rubberless coating in tan, navy and black, featuring the latest Fall models, with belted back and raglan or set-in sleeves. Sizes 14 years to 44 bust. Regularly $15.00 9.50

Utility Covert Coats—Cravenetted by the Priestley process. A new semi-belted model, in tan and Oxford, suitable for rain protection and utility use. Value $15.50 10.50

Gabardine Coats in tan and navy; featuring a new and splendidly tailored Fall model; showerproof and also suitable for general practical wear. Value $16.50 12.50

Kimonos, Robes and Sacques

Hand Embroidered Cotton Crepe Kimonos, direct from Japan, in Pink, Blue, Copenhagen, Lavender and Rose; hand embroidered in white. Regularly $1.95 1.45

Bath and House Robes of genuine Beacon blankets—figured effects in light and dark grounds. Regularly $2.95 2.15

Japanese Silk Boudoir Robes in black and dainty colors; silk lined and lightly interlined. Regularly $6.75 4.95

French Flannel Kimonos of superior quality; trimmed with satin ribbon. Regularly $9.50 7.50

Albatross Breakfast Sacques in dainty shades, finished with scallop edge. Regularly $3.00 and $3.50 2.50 and 2.95

Silk Petticoats

Of superior grade Chiffon Taffeta dependable for long service. Models are the season's latest, and the colors harmonize with the Fall suit shades. Regularly $5.95 3.95

French Lingerie

NOTICE—Owing to the scarcity of merchandise from abroad, and the extraordinary reductions offered in this sale, this opportunity should not be overlooked.

Of fine Nainsook, in the season's prevailing styles, hand made and hand embroidered.

Night Gowns—Regularly $5.00. 3.95
Princess Slips—Regularly $2.95 and $3.75 2.25
Drawer Combinations—Regularly $2.25 to $3.50. 1.65 to 2.45
Petticoats—Regularly $1.75 to $6.25. 95c to 3.50
Corset Covers—Regularly $1.25 to $1.75. 90c to 1.15
Drawers—Regularly $2.25 to $4.75. 1.65 to 3.50

Women's Knit Combinations

Union Suits—Light weight, perfect fitting, no seam at side, silk trimmed; tight or wide knee. Regular and extra sizes. Regularly 85c 55c 3 for 1.60; 6 for 3.15.

Broadway & 19th Street

GOLDWATER READY FOR NOSTRUM WAR

Board of Health Amends 'Formula Disclosure' Ordinance to Make It Stronger.

WILL GO TO HIGHEST COURTS

Wholesale Druggists Commend Proposed Regulation and Favor Federal Law.

The Board of Health met yesterday and by amendment strengthened the Goldwater Formula Disclosure ordinance, to become effective Jan. 1, which requires that any patent medicine sold in New York must have its formula registered with the Health Department. The action was taken in anticipation of a fight on the new ordinance that may reach the highest courts.

The vital paragraph of the section read: "The names of the ingredients of every such medicine shall be registered in the Department of Health in such manner as the regulations of the Board of Health may prescribe."

It was felt that this was not sufficiently clear, so the board amended it to read: "The names of all ingredients to which the therapeutic effects claimed are attributed and the names of all other ingredients except such as are physiologically inactive shall be registered in the Department of Health in such manner as the regulations of the Board of Health may prescribe."

The decision of some patent medicine men to fight was shown in a circular sent to retail druggists by firms dealing in patent medicines and proprietary articles, saying:

"We take this opportunity to inform you that we do not propose to comply with the terms and conditions of this ordinance, and in case you or any other retailer is prosecuted on account of selling our preparations, we guarantee to render you all assistance in our power for our mutual protection."

In addition Commissioner Goldwater has copies of The Weekly Drug Markets, in which it is said:

"'We intend to pay no attention to this regulation. If any attempt is made to confiscate any of our goods by the Health Department there will surely be a fight,' said a member of the firm of the Elmrod Manufacturing Company. 'I don't believe there is any authority which can compel me to place my business secrets on file for a bunch of Tammany politicians to do with as they see fit,' said a manufacturer. 'I believe that Dr. Goldwater is a menace to the best interests of the city. When the time comes for action, my firm stands ready to fight the measure to the limit.'"

"This section is going to be enforced," said Dr. Goldwater. "I believe that there will be a fight, but we will fight back. The patent medicine fakirs have had a long and prosperous career in this country, but their day will soon be over."

Dr. Goldwater has received a letter signed by eleven of the largest wholesale drug houses in New York declaring their intentaion to comply with the new ordinance and favoring a Federal law regulating the sale of patented and proprietary articles.

"Bluster has invariably greeted all attempts made to control the traffic in fraudulent patent medicines," said Dr. Goldwater. "It will have no effect. The protection of the public health demands that the truth be known about patent medicines, and that the traffic in fraudufent and vicious nostrums be suppressed. The manufacturer who is making an honest preparation for which no misleading claims are being made does not fear to register his formula."

The information obtained through registration is to be held sacredly confidential by the department.

OPEN FIGHT ON THE HYPHEN.

Reception for 20,000 First Voters at City College Stadium.

A group of prominent New York men and women, under the leadership of Immigration Commissioner Frederic C. Howe, has taken the task of eliminating the hyphen by organizing the League of Immigrants of New York. The league plans to conduct educational campaigns in schools, settlement houses, and social centres during the Winter to Americanize foreign-born residents.

Three committees have been appointed, the first headed by Henry E. Jenkins of the Departmnt of Education, with Miss Esther E. Lape as Secretary.

A second committee to bring the immigrant into contact with the life of the community and to protect him from imposition is headed by James Byrne of the People's Institute, with Miss Ruth Robinson as Secretary.

The third committee is known as the Citizenship Committee, and is headed by Adolph Lewisohn. The initial activity of this committee will be a reception to 20,000 first voters on Friday evening in the Lewisohn Stadium at City College.

FINDS BETHLEHEM FORTUNE

Twenty-eight Shares, Mislaid Since 1908, Net $15,904 Profit.

"My heart almost stopped when I discovered that a sheet of paper I was about to throw into the waste basket was a forgotten certificate for twenty-eight shares of Bethlehem Steel," said Frederick M. Kerr of Garden City yesterday, confirming a report that he had discovered a fortune in a forgotten corner of his writing desk.

"Some one induced me to buy twenty-eight shares back in 1908 at $12 a share. I paid the $336, tucked the certificate away in my desk, and gradually forgot the matter.

"A few days ago while going through my desk I was on the point of consigning it to the waste basket when the word 'Bethlehem' attracted my attention. Then I nearly fell off the chair. I did a little figuring, and found that I had a profit of $15,904."

"Have you still got the stock?" Kerr was asked.

"Bet your life!" said he, "and I intend to keep it. Maybe it'll skyrocket some more."

Mr. Kerr's town address is 38 West Forty-second Street, where he has an advertising business.

Read and laugh over

Jesse Lynch Williams's

Back to the Town;

or The Return to Human Nature

In the November

Scribner

All Newsstands

LINCOLN SALE CONTINUES.

Emancipation Proclamation Copy Brings $515.

The feature of yesterday's sale at the Anderson Galleries of the Abraham Lincoln material in the library of John E. Burton of Milwaukee was a copy of the Emancipation Proclamation on parchment paper, signed by Lincoln and William H. Seward. The competition for it was keen. It was finally knocked down to George D. Smith for $515. It is one of fifty authorized copies of the original proclamation prepared for the Sanitary Commission Fair in Philadelphia in June, 1864. Twenty copies were printed on parchment paper and signed by Lincoln and Seward at the request of Charles Godfrey Leland and George H. Boker.

A rare book, "The Bloody Junto; or, the Escape of John Wilkes Booth," by Captain R. H. Crozier, published at Little Rock, Ark., in 1869, brought $92.50. No other copy is recorded as having been sold at auction. It is not mentioned in the Lincoln bibliographies of Fish, Boyd, and Smith. The author was an unrepentent Confederate, but later he made efforts to destroy every copy of the work.

The first edition of William H. Herndon and J. W. Welk's "The True Story of a Great Life," which was suppressed on account of passages relating to Lincoln's birth and parentage, sold for $65.

A copy of the program at Ford's Theatre, Washington, on April 14, 1865, when Lincoln was assassinated, brought $20. It is the issue of the program with the Polkinhorn imprint, reading "Sensational Drama" and omitting the word "chairs" after "orchestra." It was this issue which has been declared to have been found in the theatre box after Lincoln had been removed.

The rare "Dreadful Warning of the Six Angels," published at Louisville in 1873, went for $10.50. The "Life and Character of Abraham Lincoln," by Richard Edwards, published at Peoria in 1865, one of the scarcest Lincoln sermons, realized $8.50. Thomas Ewing's "Argument on the Jurisdiction in the Case of Dr. Samuel A. Mudd, Tried Before a Military Commission," was obtained by Mr. Smith for $18. The scarce sermon "The Proper Use of the Memory of a Good Man's Life," preached at Bergen Point, N. J., by George Z. Gray, also went to Mr. Smith for $26.

The day's total was $1,448. The total to date is $3,761. The sale will be continued today.

TABERNACLE 75 YEARS OLD.

Anniversary of Church That Started in Worth Street.

The seventy-fifth anniversary of the Broadway Tabernacle, Fifty-fourth Street and Broadway, of which the Rev. Dr. Charles E. Jefferson is pastor, will be celebrated with a series of meetings beginning at the Tabernacle this evening at 8 o'clock, when memories of other years will be revived. On Saturday evening at the same hour a civic meeting will be held in Pilgrim Hall and addresses will be delivered by Chancellor Elmer Ellsworth Brown of New York University, the Rev. Jonathan C. Day of the Labor Temple, and others. Dr. Jefferson will deliver the seventy-fifth anniversary sermon next Sunday morning, and the celebration will continue further at services the same evening, the following morning and evening, and end with a meeting next Wednesday evening in Taylor Chapel.

The organization of the Broadway Tabernacle was effected in 1840 as an outgrowth of the work of the revivalist, Charles G. Finney, who designed the original Broadway Tabernacle building on Broadway, near Worth Street. The first house of worship had a seating capacity of 3,000 and frequently was used as a public forum, where the abolitionists talked against slavery. In 1857 the church purchased another site at Broadway and Thirty-fourth Street, to which it moved, and in 1902 it built the present edifice. Dr. William M. Taylor succeeded Dr. Finney in 1872, and continued as pastor until 1892. Dr. Jefferson has been connected with the Broadway Tabernacle for eighteen years.

STIFLED SCREAMS OF MRS. NICHOLS

Burglars Shown in Tallas Trial to Have Thrown a Bed Sheet Over Her Head.

CLOTH FOUND ON HER MOUTH

Physicians Testify They Saw Ridges on Her Throat and Believed She Had Been Strangled.

Evidence showing that Mrs. Elizabeth B. Nichols, wealthy widow of one of the founders of Austin Nichols & Co., died not of fright, but of strangulation, when burglars entered her home on the night of Sept. 8, was introduced yesterday at the trial of Onnie Tallas her pantry boy, charged with murder, before Judge Malone and a jury in General Sessions. The prosecution established the fact that the burglars threw a bed sheet over Mrs. Nichols's head, in order to stifle her screams. The intruders succeeded so well that her chambermaid, Edith Langfeld, bound and guarded by an armed man below, heard none of the aged woman's cries, heard nothing beyond the violent, and then feeble, ring of the servants' bell, with which Mrs. Nichols tried to summon help.

That the burglars actually choked Mrs. Nichols to death with a strip of cloth was the opinion of Dr. Joseph P. Delahunt of the Flower Hospital, who told yesterday of the condition in which he found her body on the night of the crime. He said she was lying flat on her back, her arms outstretched and her face congested and purple. A twisted piece of cloth lay across her mouth. The surgeon found ridges across her throat, and immediately accepted these marks as evidences of strangulation.

Dr. Kent of the Flower Hospital, who examined the body at the same time, testified that he also came to the conclusion that Mrs. Nichols had been strangled. Dr. Kent said Tallas appeared to be very excited when questioned by the physicians. When he opened the door for them he urged both to hurry upstairs, because his mistress had been taken "very sick."

Lieutenant Enright of the Third Branch Detective Bureau told yesterday of the confession by Tallas twelve hours after his arrest as an accomplice in the murder. According to Enright, Tallas, who first insisted that he knew none of the burglars, later admitted that he had planned the robbery, together with Arthur Waltonen, former butler in the Nichols home, and "Eddie" Lehto. A third man whom he admitted to the house was unknown to him. None of these three men, all indicted with Tallas for murder in the first degree, has been arrested.

The pantry boy in his confession said that he, Waltonen and Lehto had conceived the plan of robbing Mrs. Nichols of the jewelry which she wore about her person fully two months before the crime was actually committed. They discussed their arrangements in Mt. Morris Park and in furnished rooms, but they always kept postponing the deed to a more opportune time. Finally they decided on the night of Sept. 8, when they knew the cook and butler would be out. They would have only the timid chambermaid, Edith Langfeld, to deal with. Tallas was to be tied hand and foot for the sake of appearances.

Tallas also admitted to Enright that the burglars brought with them a package, an empty box which had once contained some hair restorer, in order to make it appear that he let them in because they had something to deliver to his mistress. This package, wrapped up in brown paper and tied with a white string, was found by the police behind the basement door after Onnie had called their attention to its presence.

According to Enright, Tallas said the burglars originally intended to steal up the stairs and seize Mrs. Nichols from behind as she was seated at the library table with her back turned to the door. The plan miscarried because Mrs. Nichols heard their footsteps and arose from her chair just in time to see the intruders enter. The attack which resulted in her death followed.

Former Assistant District Attorney Le Barbier, who appears for Tallas, cross-examined Lieutenant Enright and asked the detective whether the confession was not extorted from the defendant by threats. In answer to Mr. Le Barbier the detective denied that he had either punched or slapped the pantry boy or had made him "spit blood" in drawing the confession from him.

The trial will continue today.

OPPENHEIM FOUND GUILTY.

Convicted with Other Defendants for Misappropriating Bank Funs.

SYRACUSE, Oct. 26.—A verdict of guilty on all counts in the indictment was returned at 10:30 o'clock tonight by the jury in the case of Baron Eugeno Oppenheim, Dr. Howard J. Rogers of New York, and Richard Murphy of Amsterdam, accused of conspiracy and aiding in the embezzlement of funds from the First National Bank of Amsterdam.

The jury considered the case thirty hours.

STODDARD-AMPICO

Praised by the Great Masters

NOT only can you enjoy the best music of the world right at home—but you are assured of an instrument which has won the unqualified praise of the world's greatest pianists.

The Knabe Stoddard-Ampico reproduces the soul and spirit of the master-players—that is why.

No pumping or personal effort is required.

In addition to the Artist records, it will play any standard 88-note roll, as the ordinary player, or may be played by hand.

Built in both Grand and Upright Models. Daily Demonstrations in the Ampico Studio.

KNABE WAREROOMS 5th Ave., at 39th St.

Write for our attractive Stoddard-Ampico booklet

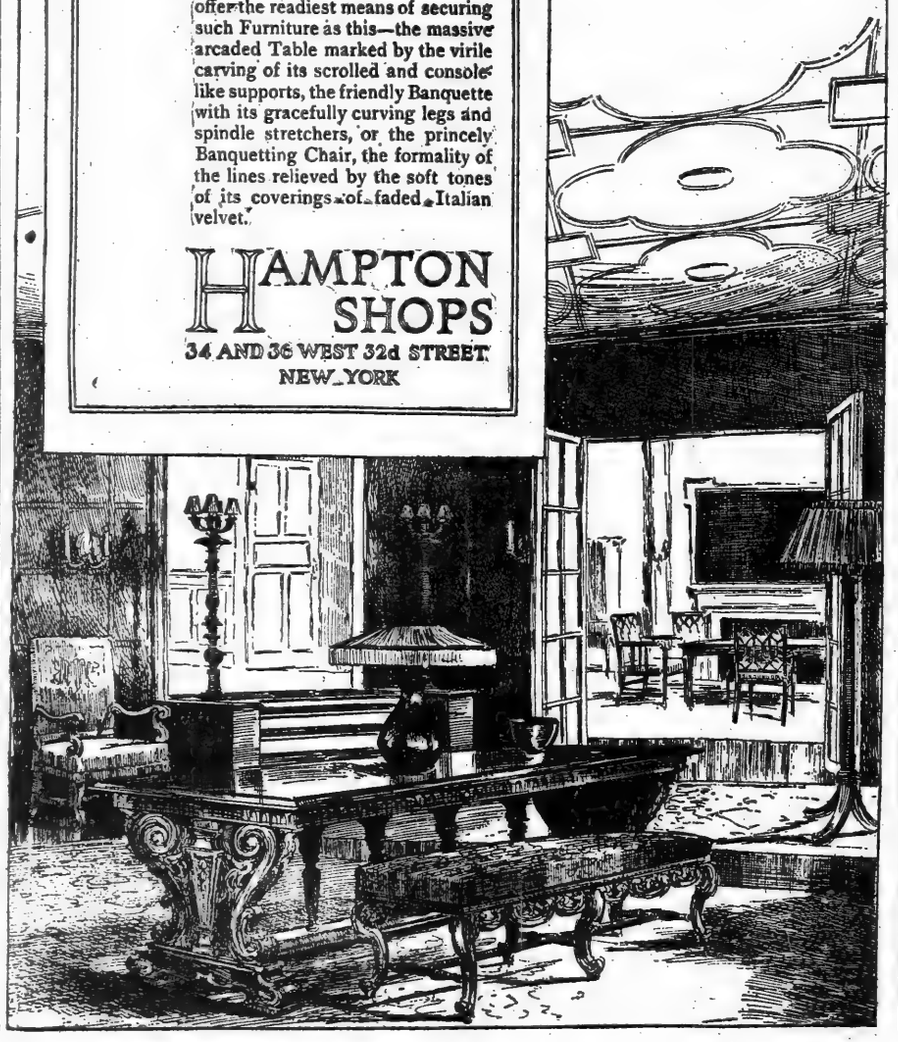
Hampton Furniture for the Entrance Hall

THE well-nigh palatial dignity which distinguishes Italian Furniture of those Renaissance times, when Rome and Florence and Venice were in the proud plenitude of their power, gives today to the Entrance Hall that suggestion of stateliness which should greet one on the very threshold of the modern home.

Hampton Shops Reproductions offer the readiest means of securing such Furniture as this—the massive arcaded Table marked by the virile carving of its scrolled and console-like supports, the friendly Banquette with its gracefully curving legs and spindle stretchers, or the princely Banquetting Chair, the formality of the lines relieved by the soft tones of its coverings of faded Italian velvet.

HAMPTON SHOPS

34 AND 36 WEST 32d STREET NEW YORK



ROLLED IN BLANKET, ELUDES DETECTIVES

Adrian Duffie Spirited Away by Parents and Taken to a College Football Game.

WANTED FOR AUTO ACCIDENT

Deserted Two Girl Companions with Broken Bones—Left Them Lying in the Road with Machine.

After an absence of three days, which included an automobile trip to the Princeton - Dartmouth football game wrapped like a log in a blanket to avoid detection by watching detectives, Adrian Duffie, who abandoned two girls after they had been thrown into the road from his automobile when the machine collided with a motor truck on Old Stone Road at Graniteville, S. I., surrendered to Detectives McKetrick and McNally of the Ninth Branch yesterday in the Stapleton Police Court.

The police say that Duffie, who lives at 1,886 Richmond Terrace, West New Brighton, S. I., and his companion, Andrew Oleson of Bergen Avenue, West Brighton, ran across the fields after the accident and persuaded two negro garage helpers who were passing on motor cycles to take them home.

The girls who had been riding with them were Ruth Booth, 17 years old, of 16 Union Street, and Elsie Kress, 18 years old, of 72 Manor Road, West Brighton. They were left lying helpless in the road beside the overturned machine. Miss Booth had a broken arm and Miss Kress a fractured rib.

Duffie could not be found when the detectives went to his home on Saturday morning with warrants charging him with speeding. The police say that Duffie, realizing they had seen him driving in West Brighton at a high rate of speed Friday afternoon, changed his machine at a garage in the evening to avoid arrest. The young man's father, Daniel P. Duffie, refused to tell the police where his son was.

Then, the police assert, Duffie was bundled in a blanket by his parents and taken in an automobile to the Princeton-Dartmouth game. On returning they left him at the home of his uncle, John Miner, in Manasquan, N. J.

In the meanwhile the officers had a warrant for his arrest on a felony charge, sworn out by George Dagsted of 2,165 Old Stone Road, who was driving the truck with which the Duffie car collided. By this warrant Duffie is charged with violation of the Callan law, which makes it a felony for anybody concerned in an automobile accident to leave the scene of the accident without first notifying the police.

The police showed this to Mr. and Mrs. Duffie, who consented to have their son give himself up. The young man when arrested declared that he had been under cover in order to consult a lawyer. He was held in $1,000 bail by Magistrate Handy for examination Nov. 3.

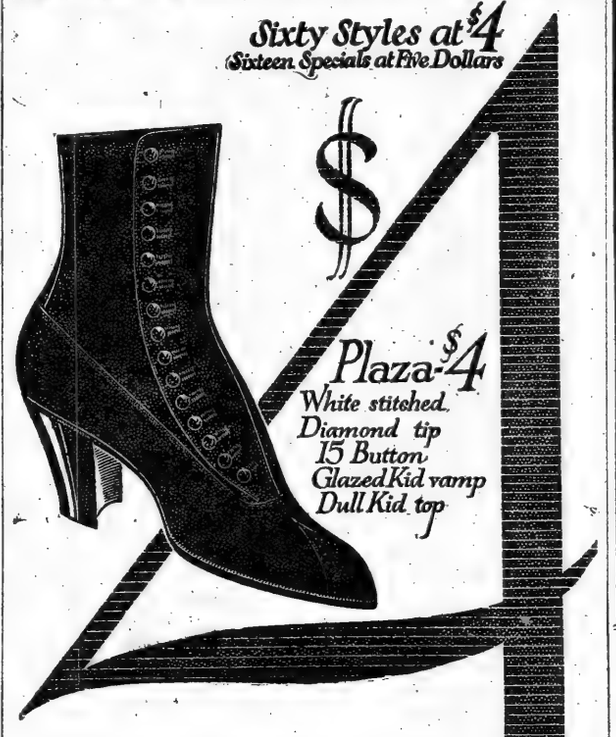
The police say that Duffie lost his nerve at the time of the accident because of a former accident in which Florence Murphy, a young woman with him, was killed. Mrs. Duffie asserts that her son is entirely innocent, and declares he is being hounded by the police.

Unkissed Bachelor Vindicated.

MINEOLA, L. I., Oct. 26.—Justice Scudder, in the Supreme Court, today set aside a verdict for $2,000 which Joseph O. St. John, a contractor of Harriman, N. Y., obtained against Warren A. Browne, a middle-aged bachelor of Hempstead, for alleged alienation of Mrs. St. John's affections. Browne had stestified that he never kissed or was kissed by a woman. The verdict was held to be contrary to the weight of evidence.

REGAL

Sixty Styles at $4
Sixteen Specials at Five Dollars



Plaza $4
White stitched Diamond tip 15 Button Glazed Kid vamp Dull Kid top

THE Regal Trademark is a hall mark—it stands for Quality and Style. It means that a Quarter of a Century of Regal Reputation is back of it.

Regal Shoes are not graded down to meet a price—but graded up to meet the highest standard of style and workmanship.

When you see this latest White Stitched, Diamond Tipped Black Kid Boot—a glazed kid vamp with a dull kid top—Trademarked Regal—at Four Dollars, you know that it represents the utmost value for the price.

Women who can afford to pay more, forget they paid less in the service, satisfaction, style and fit found in the Plaza at $4.

REGAL SHOE COMPANY

Twenty Stores in Greater New York

MANHATTAN: *175 Broadway; Broadway at Duane; Broadway at Spring; *Broadway at 10th; *Broadway at 27th; *Broadway at 37th; 40 W. 34th St.; Nassau at Ann; 6th Ave. at 21st St.; *14th St. at 3rd Ave.; 125th St. at 7th Ave.; 2929 3rd Ave.

BROOKLYN: *301 Broadway; 1049 Broadway; *1375 Broadway; 357 Fulton St.; 512 Fulton St.; 469 Fifth Ave.

NEWARK, N. J.: 825 Broad St.

JERSEY CITY: 108 Newark Ave.

*Shows stores selling women's shoes. Shows stores selling both women's and children's shoes. All stores sell men's shoes.

You Can Win One of These Saxons

Redeem the most Mutual Coupons for Mutual Premiums by December 15th and you get the Saxon Six. Redeem the second greatest number and you get the Roadster.

In the case of a tie, each tying contestant gets an auto.

Mutual Coupons

have the highest redemption value because they get you the same premiums for less coupons. 46 Schulte Cigar Stores and 500 other merchants give them.

Our premium parlors will exchange stamps, wrappers and other coupons for Mutuals, on a fair basis.

MUTUAL-PROFIT COUPON CORPORATION
DAVID A. SCHULTE, President

Main Premium Parlor, 210 5th Ave.—1132 B'way
Branch Station—39 Park Row Brooklyn Branch—411 Fulton St.

Space efficiency and cost efficiency

Space efficiency in the Equitable, whereby we have obviated awkward corners, not only enables you to lease your minimum requirements, but also enables us to lease a maximum of space as a whole, which operates to keep the rental cost at the lowest possible figure to you. In other words, the price is just as attractive as the space.

Equitable Building Corporation
120 Broadway

How Some Get Fooled At Toilet Paper "Sales"

They see a big, flaring announcement of eight or ten rolls of toilet paper offered for a quarter. Did you ever ask yourself how much real paper there is in these rolls?

We know the rolls look big, but that's because they are loosely wound or the paper is coarse and thick and very little paper takes up lots of room. Ask your dealer if the wrapper guarantees how much paper there is in that roll, for

"It's the Counted Sheets that Count"

Scottissue Toilet Paper

Has 1000 Sheets to the roll—10c

Printed on the label—you don't have to guess quality. But don't ever buy toilet paper on a quantity basis alone—Quality must always come first. Examine ScotTissue. It is as "soft as old linen," snowy white and very absorbent.

Sani-Tissue, balsam treated and very soft. A very excellent toilet paper for special purposes. 2500 sheets in carton of 3 rolls, 25c.

At drug, grocery, department and housefurnishing stores.

Copyright 1915 Scott Paper Company

SCOTT PAPER CO.
30 Church Street New York
Makers of Absorbent ScotTissue Towels

SAFETY FIRST!

Watch the Five A's Grow! They Spell Protection for You

A-A-A-A-A

ÆTNA
ACME
A——?
A——?
A——?

ÆTNA

GLASTENBURY HEALTH UNDERWEAR

GLASTENBURY Established 1835 KNITTING CO. — GLASTENBURY TRADE MARK

FOR MEN

Safety First, Last and All the Time—against Sudden Chills, Colds, Pneumonia and Rheumatism.

Famous over half a century for its superior qualities

Every garment shaped to the figure and guaranteed not to shrink.

Glastenbury Two-Piece, Flat Knit Spring-Needle Underwear is made in fifteen grades, several weights of fine wools, worsted and merino.

See special feature of adjustable drawer bands on

330—Natural Gray Wool, winter weight	per garment	$1.50
3005—Natural Gray Wool, winter weight (double thread)	per garment	1.75
C. B. Imp.—Natural Gray Worsted, light weight	per garment	1.50
A—Natural Gray Australian Lamb's Wool, light weight	per garment	1.75
G/H—Natural Gray Worsted, medium weight	per garment	2.00
A. H.—Natural Gray Australian Lamb's Wool, winter weight	per garment	2.50

For Sale by Leading Dealers

ROBERT REIS & CO., Wholesale Distributors, New York

Write for booklet—sample cuttings. Dept. S. Yours for the asking.

Glastonbury Knitting Company, Glastonbury, Conn.

THE INSTRUMENT OF QUALITY
Sonora

THE exquisite soft mellow tone of the Sonora Phonograph, for which it was given the highest award and a Gold Medal at the Panama-Pacific Exposition, can best be appreciated by a visit to our

Fifth Avenue Salons at 53d Street

Call and we will gladly give you a demonstration and explain the many points wherein the Sonora excels all other phonographs. Prices, $35, $50, $75, $100, $185, $150, $225, and $300. Ask for our book.

Sonora Phonograph Corporation
Geo. E. Brightson, President
Fifth Avenue Salons at 53d Street.
Main Offices and Sales Rooms,
57 Reade St., New York.

Entrance to our new home, Fifth Avenue at 53d Street.

Ethel Barrymore is talking

(in her latest comedy success
"Our Mrs. McChesney"
by EDNA FERBER now playing at the Lyceum Theatre)
"It's graceful, bouffant, practical and serviceable and at the same time elegant. Made in all the fashionable shades."

Thus of HEATHERBLOOM, the petticoat idea of this charming comedy, inspired by the graceful and practical qualities of the world-famous

HEATHERBLOOM
TRADE MARK
The PETTICOAT that made the play possible.
On sale at all good stores

BURRILL'S TOOTH POWDER

Is a tooth preparation of unquestioned merit. The best buy in a practical safeguard for the teeth. Keeps the teeth clean, white and beautiful. Burrill's Tooth Powder is widely known for its exceptional purity, fineness and flavor. Burrill's is recommended by Prof. Lewis B. Allyn of Westfield. An absolute guarantee of merit.

Insist that you get BURRILL'S TOOTH POWDER (Or Paste)
25c. in powder or paste form, at all good drug and department stores.
New England Laboratory Co.
LYNN, MASS.

L. M. HIRSCH
Sample Shoe Co.

Gold or Silver Cloth Pump, guaranteed not to tarnish... $6.00
Same style in Patent Leather or Dull Kid or Black or White Satin.....$3.50
Silk Hosiery to Match, 95c.
Send for Booklet T, with illustrations of new Fall and Winter Models.
404-406 Sixth Ave., N. Y. Bet. 24th & 25th Sts.

ADVERTISEMENT.

Drink and Be Sober
by
VANCE THOMPSON author of Eat and Grow Thin

AT ALL BOOKSTORES, $1.00.

CALIFORNIA
Lackawanna Railroad
ROUND TRIP
$94.30
Information at Ticket Offices, Broadway, cor. Wall St., Park Place, 95th St., 42d St.

CARPET CLUB DENIES ROOSEVELT SLIGHT

Apologizes for Story That Members Refused to Dine with Him.

TAKES INQUIRER TO TASK

Philadelphia Paper Says President Charles Fritz Withdrew—Colonel Invited, but Declined.

Members of the New York Carpet Club are stirred by an article which appeared in The Philadelphia Inquirer on Monday asserting that Colonel Theodore Roosevelt would not attend their semi-annual banquet at the Hotel Bresiin tonight because nearly a hundred of the leading carpet and rug manufacturers of the country who are in New York for the opening of the buying season refused to sit down at a dinner where the former President was to be the guest of honor.

The Dinner Committee yesterday sent the following letter, apologizing to Colonel Roosevelt for the incident:

The Hon. Theodore Roosevelt, Oyster Bay, N. Y.:

Dear Sir: The attention of the undersigned committee has been called to an article which appeared in The Philadelphia Inquirer, Oct. 25, headed with caption "Big Carpet Men Refuse to Dine with Roosevelt—Vaudeville Entertainment to Replace Him on Banquet Program—Many Members of Association Learning He Was to Speak to Resign."

From the first to the last paragraph The Inquirer story is a tissue of falsehoods, and we assure you that the New York Carpet Club, which is composed of carpet manufacturers, buyers, and sales managers repudiates every word of it.

The club is in no sense a political organization, and we will not permit any member, no matter what his official position may be, to use its name in the furtherance of political capital.

There may be those among our organization who do not agree with you politically, but it is hard to bring ourselves to believe that any man whom we consider worthy of membership in our club would stoop to tactics so low as to vilify one of America's foremost private citizens. We remain, sincerly youra.

MYRON W. ROBINSON,
ALEXANDER AIRD,
A. A. STEPHENS,
GEORGE NICOLS,
Dinnier Committee New York Carpet Club.
Oct. 26, 1915.

The Inquirer in its story declared that only a few of the leading carpet men were willing to sit down with Colonel Roosevelt.

"Charging that Colonel Roosevelt was directly responsible for the downfall of the Republican Party at the last Presidential election and the resulting Democratic Administration," said The Inquirer, "the carpet men, numbering among them some of the wealthiest citizens from every section of the nation, were ready to withdraw from their organization rather than have him as a guest.

"Charles Fritz is President of the Carpet and Rug Association of New York, under whose auspices the affair will be held. Mr. Fritz has been named for toastmaster, but when he learned that the Guest Committee had arranged for the presence of Colonel Roosevelt he announced his withdrawal from the banquet. Following his lead came announcements to the committee from more than 25 per cent. of those expected to be among the guests."

Many Members Protectionists.

The Inquirer gave as the reason for the action of the withdrawing members the fact that they were all protectionists and blame the Colonel for the wiping out of a fair tariff and for bad business conditions in the country. It declared that a vaudeville entertainment was substituted for the presence of the former President. It said the delinquent members promised to attend when they had been assured that "Colonel Roosevelt would at no time burst in on the gathering and put a stop to the singing and dancing of the theatrical performers."

At the rooms of the Carpet Club in the Hotel Bresiin last night members of the organization assured a TIMES reporter that the whole thing was untrue and cast a reflection on the organization.

"Our organization is in no way political," said one of them. "We may disagree with a man in politics, but we can at the same time admire his personality so that we would gladly listen to whatever he might have to say. It is not true at all that Colonel Roosevelt was forced to withdraw his name. In fact we asked him twice before receiving a letter notifying us that he would be unable to accept our invitation because of a previous engagement. No-body has been asked in his place. But we will have the cabaret entertainment just as we have always had in the past, and which we would have had anyhow."

President Frits in South.

It was said that President Fritz would be asked to resign from the Presidency of the organization unless he could explain the interview accredited to him by The Inquirer. It was admitted, however, that Mr. Fritz had already expressed regret that a necessary Southern trip would prevent his presence at the banquet.

The Dinner Committee sent the following letter to The Inquirer:

Editor of The Philadelphia Inquirer, Philadelphia, Penn.

Dear Sir: In your issue of Oct. 23, you have a column story under the head of "Carpet Men Refuse to Dine With Col. Roosevelt, Vaudeville to Replace Him on Banquet Program; Many Members of the Organization, Learning He Was to Speak to Resign."

This is not only a libel on ex-President Roosevelt, but on the New York Carpet Club as well. We are inclosing you a copy of letter which the New York Carpet Club is sending to Colonel Roosevelt.

We ask in justice to the New York Carpet Club and to Colonel Roosevelt that you print a retraction of your story of Oct. 25, which is absolutely untrue. The New York Carpet Club is not a political organization and it does not propose to be used as such, and no members or officials of the club are authorized to give out interviews voicing the opinion of its members as a whole or in part.

Roosevelt Declined Invitation.

Colonel Roosevelt was invited to attend the forthcoming semi-annual banquet of our organization for good and sufficient reasons with no reflection on the club or any of its members; he declined the invitation. We would have felt proud indeed, if Colonel Roosevelt had consented to become our honored guest. We remain,

Sincerely yours,
Oct. 26, 1915. DINNER COMMITTEE.

The carpet and rug buyers and manufacturers, with an organization of more than 2,000 members, come here twice a year, at the opening of the Fall and Spring buying seasons. The banquet is a semi-annual affair, at which some man of national reputation is asked to make the principal address. This year there will be no one in Colonel Roosevelt's place.

W. G. WILLCOX TO RUN AGAINST CHURCHILL

Opponents of Present Head of Board of Education Prepare for Election.

ECONOMY THEIR PLATFORM

Votes of 23 Members, Including 10 to be Appointed, Claimed—Greene on the Ticket.

Board of Education members who are opposed to the present conduct of affairs have chosen William G. Willcox as their candidate for President in the election to be held a little more than three months hence. He is in the insurance business at 3 South William Street, Manhattan, and lives at 115 Davis Avenue, West New Brighton, S. I. He is one of the two members from Richmond Borough in the present board.

Mr. Willcox was appointed by Mayor Mitchel, whom he accompanied when the schools at Gary, Ind., and other places in the West were visited. He is strongly in favor of the Wirt system of education for the New York public schools.

John Greene, Chairman of the Committee on Finance, has been chosen as the candidate for Vice President. The candidates' platform will be economy in the Education Department. It is asserted by their supporters that their election is assured. Thomas W. Churchill, when he first ran for President against Egerton L. Winthrop, Jr., was defeated by a few votes. The next year he was elected without opposition. In 1914 he had Robert L. Harrison as his opponent, but was elected President by a good-sized majority. Last year John Greene was his rival, but Mr. Churchill won again.

Mayor Mitchel next month will appoint successors in the board to Henry J. Bigham, Joseph E. Cosgrove, Miss Martha Lincoln Draper, Robert L. Harrison, Peter J. Lavelle, Alrich H. Man, Louis Newman, Mrs. Christine Towns, and John Whalen. Their terms will expire on Jan. 1, 1916. Their successors will vote for the President in February. It is not known whether the Mayor will reappoint any of the members, but it is thought that he will retain on the board Miss Draper and Messrs. Harrison and Whalen, all three of whom are regarded as opposed to the present school administration.

There are forty-six members of the board. One vacancy exists, caused by the retirement of Paul Fuller. The Mayor probably will appoint Mr. Fuller's successor also next month. A majority of the forty-six members is necessary to elect a President. Those who support Mr. Willcox's candidacy are counting on the votes of Miss Mary E. Drier, Abraham Flexner, Raymond B. Fosdick, Franklin H. Giddings, John Greene, Miss Alvina Leventritt, Isadore M. Levy, John Martin, Mrs. Helen St. Clair Mullan, Louis H. Pink, Dr. Ira S. Wile, William G. Willcox himself, and Egerton L. Winthrop, Jr. To these are added the ten members who will be appointed by the Mayor next month, making a total of twenty-three. The other vote necessary for election may be cast by Walter H. Bennett or John P. Benson.

The vote for President is by ballot. The names of the voters are not made public. The number of ballots cast and for whom they are cast are announced, but that is all. The names on the Willcox list are therefore more or less a matter of speculation.

Whether Mr. Churchill will run again is doubtful. He said just before the last election that he was not eager for the office, as it took so much of his time, but would run if his followers insisted.

The Willcox men say that if they win there will be a stricter accounting with the Superintendents. These officers will be required to show what they are doing, and why they are doing it. The Willcox people declare that there are many ways in which the expenses of the board can be reduced, and that they intend, if he gets into office, to try them.

NIGHT SCHOOL FUND VOTED.

Board of Aldermen Unanimously Appropriates $230,000.

At their regular meeting yesterday the Aldermen unanimously passed a resolution to appropriate $230,000 for the maintenance of night schools and day elementary schools for the balance of the year. Before revenue bonds can be issued the Board of Estimate must indorse the action of the Aldermen unanimously.

The matter will not come before the Board of Estimate until next week, as the Mayor cannot approve such legislation until it has been published three times in the City Record. Unless the money is forthcoming this week the night schools are likely to be closed.

The only way to save them is for President Churchill to find sufficient funds in another department and have them transferred to the night school fund. Already he has had $50,000 transferred. Members of the Board of Estimate hope he can find enough other money to be transferred to keep the schools open until the board can grant the amount requested by the Board of Aldermen. It was said yesterday that Controller Prendergast was opposed to granting special money for the night schools, and would vote against the proposition when it came before the Board of Estimate a week from Friday.

Carson C. Peck Left $454,585.

The State Tax Appraiser's report of the value of the assets left by Carson C. Peck, owner of The Brooklyn Daily Times and Vice President of the F. W. Woolworth Company, which was filed yesterday in the Surrogate's office in Brooklyn, showed that Mr. Peck left $454,585. The estate consists largely of real estate. Mr. Peck died on April 29 at Allenhurst, N. J. Clara S. Peck is named as sole legatee and executrix.

ESCAPING BURGLAR SHOOTS COMPANION

Fired Twice at Lieb Lurie, Who Faced Three Intruders on Stairs in His Home.

ALARM GIVEN BY HIS WIFE

Fugitive Leaves Trail of Blood, and Police Arrest a Man with Bullet Wound in Jaw.

After collecting silverware and other articles valued at $500 and putting them in a bag ready to be taken away, three burglars who entered the home of Lieb Lurie, a real estate broker at 1,431 Union Street, Brooklyn, early yesterday morning were surprised by Lurie. One of the burglars fired two shots at Lurie. One shot missed Lurie and the other bullet struck one of the burglars. The burglars then escaped from the house.

An hour later the police of the Miller Avenue Station found a badly wounded man at 456 Glenmore Avenue, East New York. He was attended there by Dr. Louis Fisher of 132 Pennsylvania Avenue, for a bullet wound in the chin. The bullet had penetrated his jaw and lodged near the windpipe. He is now in the Kings County Hospital, a prisoner, pending a further investigation by the police of the burglary in the Lurie home.

Lurie lives with his wife and son Irving, who is 18 years old, at the Union Street address. The son, who sleeps on the third floor, had been ill. At 3 o'clock yesterday morning, when Mrs. Lurie was awakened by a noise, she supposed Irving was up, and called to him:

"Is that you, Irving?"

There was no response, and Mrs. Lurie awakened her husband. Both sleep on the second floor. As Lurie walked out of his bedroom into the hallway he saw three men coming up the stairs from the ground floor. One of the intruders fired a shot at Lurie which missed him and lodged in the wall. There was a scuffle of hurrying feet as the burglars started to run down the stairs. The hall and stairs were dark, and the three intruders crowded together in their hasty flight to get out of the building. A second shot was fired immediately after the first, and Lurie heard one of the fugitives groan.

The burglars escaped through an open kitchen window in the rear of the building, by which they had entered. When Lurie went through the house he found a trail of blood leading down the stairs from the second floor, through the hall and kitchen on the ground floor to the open window.

The prisoner gave his name as John Rickless, Jr., and said he lived at 456 Glenmore Avenue with his brother. Rickless denied all knowledge of the burglary at the Lurie home.

$2,500,000.00
GUARANTEE FUND

Our Company's outstanding guarantees are but fourteen times the amount of its Capital and Surplus. This provides a greater margin of protection than most Mortgage Companies consider necessary.

Our investments, secured by first mortgages on New York City real estate, may be had in amounts as low as $100 and up.

PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST GUARANTEED
Write for Booklet, "The Ideal Investment"
New York Mortgage & Security Company
(Under supervision of New York State Banking Department.)
CAPITAL AND SURPLUS, $2,500,000
135 Broadway, New York. 203 Montague St., Brooklyn.

sunshine flowers orange groves good auto roads polo-golf tennis-sailing surf bathing out-of-doors every day

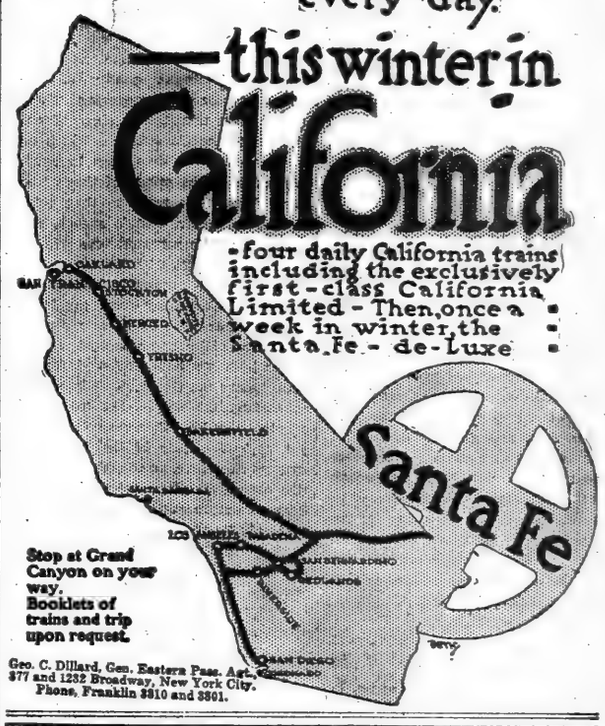
this winter in California



four daily California trains including the exclusively first-class California Limited - Then, once a week in winter, the Santa Fe - de-luxe

Stop at Grand Canyon on your way.
Booklets of trains and trip upon request.

Geo. C. Dillard, Gen. Eastern Pass. Agt.
377 and 1232 Broadway, New York City.
Phone, Franklin 3810 and 3801.

Founded 1826

The sales of our young men's Fall Suits are increasing at a rapid pace.

Variety of patterns—has something to do with it.

General cut and design—has more to do with it.

Tailoring, nicety of finish and price value—has much to do with it.

But the entire combination merged into one—has all to do with it.

Young Men's Suits
$20 to $35.

BROKAW BROTHERS
Astor Place & Fourth Avenue
Subway Station at Door

POLITICAL. POLITICAL.

LAWYERS' COMMITTEE FOR THE ENDORSEMENT OF THE CANDIDACY OF MR. JUSTICE SHEARN.

We, the undersigned, members of the New York Bar, commend to the voters of the First Judicial District the candidacy of Mr. Justice Clarence J. Shearn for Justice of the Supreme Court.

Justice Shearn was appointed by Governor Glynn in December last to fill a vacancy on the Supreme Court bench. His learning, ability, experience and character peculiarly fitted him for high judicial office. He has already justified the expectations of the bar and has proved himself a strong, fair-minded, hard-working and efficient judge, upholding the highest standards and best traditions of the bench. We therefore heartily endorse his candidacy and urge all voters to support it without regard to political affiliations.

October 27, 1915.

FRANCIS LYNDE STETSON	GEORGE W. WICKERSHAM	JOHN G. MILBURN
WILLIAM N. COHEN	ALTON B. PARKER	DAVID LEVENTRITT
JAMES A. O'GORMAN	VICTOR MORAWETZ	JOHN W. SIMPSON
BRONSON WINTHROP	JAMES M. BECK	JOHN M. BOWERS
CHARLES F. BROWN	AUSTEN G. FOX	EDWARD W. HATCH
LOUIS MARSHALL	JOHN A. GARVER	JAMES BYRNE
MORGAN J. O'BRIEN, JR.	WM. CHURCH OSBORN	FRANK H. PLATT
CHARLES E. BUSHMORE	JOHN B. STANCHFIELD	CHARLES H. STRONG
HENRY de FOREST BALDWIN	FREDERICK P. DELAFIELD	DE LANCEY NICOLL
WILLIAM H. HOTCHKISS	MARTIN W. LITTLETON	WILLIAM M. CHADBOURNE
FRANK L. POLK	ARCHIBALD R. WATSON	WALLACE MACFARLANE
MONTGOMERY HARE	WILLIAM A. BARBER	GEORGE GORDON BATTLE
HENRY A. WISE	SAM'L UNTERMYER	GEO. W. WINGATE
JOSEPH P. COTTON, JR.	ABRAM I. ELKUS	PAUL FULLER
JABISH HOLMES	PHOENIX INGRAHAM	ARTHUR H. MASTEN
WILLIAM H. PAGE	EZRA P. PRENTICE	HERBERT PARSONS
JOHN QUINN	EUGENE LAMB RICHARDS, JR.	RAINBRIDGE COLBY
GEORGE W. SCHURMAN	LORENZO SEMPLE	W. E. VAN BENSCHOTEN
ARTHUR C. TRAIN	LESLIE J. TOMPKINS	ALMUTH C. VANDIVER
NELSON S. SPENCER	MARTIN SAXE	EDMOND E. WISE
CHARLES E. HUGHES, JR.	R. S. ROUNDS	MARK W. POTTER
JOSEPH M. PROSKAUER	HENRY M. POWELL	IRA A. PLACE
NATHAN OTTINGER	J. VAN VECHTEN OLCOTT	COURTLANDT NICOLL
JOHN CALDWELL MYERS	JEREMIAH T. MAHONEY	FRANK MOSS
WALTER L. McCORKLE	FELIX H. LEVY	HENRY A. GILDERSLEEVE
SAMUEL S. KOENIG	L. LAFLIN KELLOGG	GEORGE J. GILLESPIE
CHARLES C. BURLINGHAM	ALBERT B. BOARDMAN	WILLIAM S. BENNET
JOHN G. AGAR	EVERETT V. ABBOT	GEORGE F. BROWNELL
M. LIDN BRUCE	PHILIP W. BOARDMAN	GEORGE CHASE
JOHN K. CLARK	JULIUS HENRY COHEN	WILLIAM EDMOND CURTIS
ALFRED A. COOK	ROBERT W. de FOREST	LEWIS L. DELAFIELD
JOHN R. DOS PASSOS	J. HAMPDEN DOUGHERTY	ALFRED ELY, JR.
TERENCE FARLEY	ROGER FOSTER	JOHN FRANKENHEIMER
DAVID GERBER	STUART G. GIBBONEY	GORDON GORDON
DANIEL P. HAYS	CHARLES L. HOFFMAN	ALBERT B. KERR
MAURICE LEON	CHARLES J. LESLIE	PHILIP J. McCOOK
TERENCE J. McMANUS	SAMUEL MARCUS	JOSEPH F. MULDOON, JR.
ELIOT NORTON	JOHN E. O'BRIEN	WILLIAM M. K. OLCOTT
SAMUEL H. ORDWAY	FRANKLIN PIERCE	ABRAM J. ROSE
W. CLEVELAND RUNYON	SAMUEL THORNE, JR.	RAYMOND D. THURBER
ADDISON A. VAN TINE	HENRY F. WOLFF	EGERTON L. WINTHROP, JR.
WM. B. WILDER	JOHN M. BATTLE	JOSEPH P. DALY
GEORGE W. ALGER	ALEXANDER CAMERON	GHERARDI DAVIS
GORDON AUCHINCLOSS	CHARLES A. COLLIN	ERNEST F. EIDLITZ
RAYNAL C. BOLLING	ERNEST L. CONANT	NATHANIEL A. ELSBERG
PHILIP J. BRITT	MORRIS CUKOR	SAMUEL H. EVINS
B. W. B. BROWN	EDWARD H. DALY	A. LEO EVERETT
ERNEST HELA EARLY	SAMSON LACHMAN	ADDISON S. PRATT
HENRY A. FORSTER	LOUIS LANDE	NELSON RUTTENBERG
JULIUS J. FRANK	WILBUR LARREMORE	HENRY W. SACKETT
JNO. M. GARDNER	F. C. LEUBUSCHER	ALFRED P. W. SEAMAN
GARRARD GLENN	JAMES F. LYNCH	C. L. SCHURZ
GEO. T. HOGG	J. JOSEPH LILLY	EVAN SHELBY
MAYER L. HALFF	LEE McCANLISS	EDWARD E. SPRAGUE
ROBERT L. HARRISON	ALLAN McCULLOH	SOL. M. STROOCK
JOSEPH M. HARTFIELD	CHARLES KING MORRISON	CARL TAYLOR
CHAS. BULKLEY HURBELL	JOSEPH WALKER MAGRAUTH	GERARD B. TOWNSEND
ALFRED E. HUNRICHS	CHASE MELLEN	OTTO v. SCHRENK
JOHN H. ISELIN	ROBERT C. MORRIS	FRITZ VON BRIESEN
JOHN G. JACKSON	STEPHEN P. NASH	ISIDOR WASSERVOGEL
FREDERIC B. JENNINGS	CARLISLE NORWOOD	WM. L. WEMPLE
ROBERT S. KEARNEY	N. TAYLOR PHILLIPS	J. DU PRATT WHITE
FRANK F. KIRKPATRICK	GEO. M. PINNEY	GEORGE W. WHITESIDE
ISAAC H. LEVY	LOUIS S. POSNER	EDWIN D. WORCESTER
J. NOBLE HAYES	ISIDOR WELS	L. HORATIO BIGLOW, JR.
	RUSSELL L. HARE	RALPH O. WILLIAMS

RYZON
THE PERFECT BAKING POWDER

Betters Your Best Recipe

Take that recipe which you regard as being peculiarly your own—the one by which you make your lightest muffins or your favorite cake—and use RYZON, but use no more than you formerly used of any other baking powder.

You will get better results than you thought possible.

In the opinion of cooking experts—those you know and trust—RYZON is held to be the very best baking powder ever produced.

In buying RYZON from your grocer, you buy it with an ironclad guarantee that it is pure and wholesome—that it is stronger and retains its strength. And, that RYZON is always the same in quality, therefore always produces uniform results.

Sold in quarter, half and pound tins, 10c, 18c and 35c.

IMPORTANT Please note that no more RYZON is required than of any other baking powder.

Modern recipe books and the cooking schools now use standard level measurements. If you do not use level measurements, use RYZON exactly as you would use any other baking powder.

GENERAL CHEMICAL CO.
FOOD DEPARTMENT
NEW YORK

The Case of Edith Cavell

An answer to Dr. Zimmermann, Germany's Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs,

By James M. Beck,

Late Assistant Attorney General of the United States, and author of the much-quoted article, "In the Supreme Court of Civilization," written for The New York Times, which has been republished in England, France, and elsewhere.

The execution of Miss Cavell is dealt with from several standpoints, but especially from a legal one, and Mr. Beck presents the case with force and skill. In

Next Sunday's Times

Order The Sunday Times Today.
The Times Is Always Sold Out Early.

The New York Times

"All the News That's Fit to Print."

PUBLISHED EVERY DAY IN THE YEAR BY THE NEW YORK TIMES COMPANY.

ADOLPH S. OCHS, Publisher and President.
B. C. Franck, Secretary.

Address: THE NEW YORK TIMES.

Publication Office.....Times Square
Times Annex...43d St., west of Broadway
Downtown.....7 Beekman Street
Wall Street.....2 Rector Street
Harlem.....268 West 125th Street
Bronx.....3,900 Third Avenue
Brooklyn....Room 905, 367 Fulton Street
Staten Island..98 Stuyv. Pl., N. Brighton
Queens...317 Fulton Street, Jamaica, L. I.
Jersey City.....538 Jersey Avenue
Hoboken.....91 Second Street
Paterson.....13 Park Avenue
Elizabeth.....50 Broad Street
WASHINGTON.....Riggs Building
PHILADELPHIA.....Public Ledger Building
CHICAGO.....1,202 Tribune Building
BOSTON.....7 Water Street, Room 316
ST. LOUIS.....409 Globe-Democrat Building
DETROIT.....826 Ford Building
SAN FRANCISCO.....742 Market Street
LONDON.....Marconi House, Strand, W. C.
PARIS.....32 Rue Louis le Grand

ONE CENT New York, Jersey City, Newark. Elsewhere Two Cents. Five Cents Sunday.

Subscription Rates:

Postage free in United States, Canada, Mexico, Panama, Canal Zone, Cuba, Porto Rico, Hawaii, Philippines, Guam, Samoa, Shanghai.

	1 Yr.	1 Mo.
DAILY AND SUNDAY	$8.50	$0.75
DAILY, without Sunday	6.00	.50
SUNDAY, with Picture and Magazine Sections and Review of Books	2.50	.25
Binder for Picture Section, $1.75.
Binder for Magazine Section and Review of Books, $1.25.
Canada, Sunday only	3.50	.45
Other countries, postpaid:
Daily an Sunday	24.00	2.00
Daily, without Sunday	15.99	1.30
Sunday only	8.40	.70

THE ANNALIST, (Mondays) per year, $4; Canada, $4.50; other countries, $5. Binder for 26 issues, (one vol.,) $1.25.

THE NEW YORK TIMES BOOK REVIEW, (Weekly,) per year, $1; Canada, $1.50; other countries, $2.

THE NEW YORK TIMES MID-WEEK PICTORIAL, (Thursdays,) three months, $1.25; six months, $2.50; one year, $5. Canada, $6; other countries, $6.50. Binder for 52 issues, $1.25. Bound volumes, ten numbers, Cloth, $1.

THE NEW YORK TIMES CURRENT HISTORY, Illustrated Monthly Magazine, three months, 75c. six months, $1.50; one year, $3. Per copy, 25c. Bound volumes, six monthly issues, Cloth, $2.

THE NEW YORK TIMES INDEX, Quarterly—Full Cloth, per copy, $2; per year, $8.

Entered as second-class mail matter.

NEW YORK, WEDNESDAY, OCT. 27, 1915.

MR. ROOT'S ONE CLIENT.

In the sixteen years of his public life, ex-Senator ROOT told the members of the Economic Club at their dinner on Monday evening, he has had but one client—the people of his State and his country. This assurance he gave in a noble passage of his speech that an appreciative world will not willingly let die, sentences eloquent with the spirit of full devotion to the public interest which are worthy to be compared with those utterances of the highest and greatest in our history that have become an imperishable memory. Mr. ROOT was speaking in advocacy of the adoption of the new Constitution. "Leaning far forward on the speaker's rostrum, his "face working with emotion," says THE TIMES report, he stirred his audience to a great outburst of applause with these words:

> Perhaps I am misled. Perhaps I insist unduly upon the work of the convention of which I was part. If I do you must forgive me. I beg you to do me the honor to believe there is no personal consideration which actuates me. Since I left this city, sixteen years ago last Summer, to devote myself to the service of the country and the State I have had but one client. I have had but one desire. I have had but one passion, and it has been for the prosperity and the honor and the growth in the spirit and in the power of my country and my State.
>
> I have given out all there was in me into this effort to do what I believed to be necessary for the perpetuity of our free institutions; this effort to make representative government worthy of itself. I have given up my strength and my life to help bring that about. I hope that it will not prove to have been in vain.
>
> No, it cannot have been in vain. This Constitution, I believe, will be adopted by the people of the State, but if it is not, the work of the convention will not be lost. It will be but the beginning of a process which through the workings of the processes of free government will bring about sooner or later in substance all the conclusions which are right and sound, for no honest effort in behalf of one's country can ever be lost.

Men who know ELIHU ROOT know that he spoke from his heart. Truer words and more sincere were never uttered, for it has become the deep conviction of those who have attentively and with candor and intelligence studied the career of Mr. ROOT during these sixteen years that no man in public life has served the people with a more disinterested devotion to their welfare and none with so great ability. It became the commonplace of our politics that Mr. ROOT was the ablest man in public life. In breadth of view, in understanding of political principles and of the consequences of public policies, in constructive ability as a legislator, and in the wisdom of his counsel as an adviser he stands among the first in the history of the Republic. It is only in minds warped by the miserable spirit of demagogy that Mr. ROOT has been misunderstood and misinterpreted. He has looked upon his public duty not with the eye of the politician who cajoles a fickle electorate with promises of an immediate millennium; the fallacies, the nostrums, and the shallow devices on which the lower and the lowest orders of politicians base their popular appeals have never passed the challenges of his analytical mind. With a broader and surer vision he has been the advocate of policies and of measures of lasting wisdom and soundness, measures that directly and permanently promote the welfare, the happiness, and the prosperity of the people.

It is, therefore, a matter of no small moment to the electors of the State of New York that ELIHU ROOT, wise in understanding, gifted in statesmanship, counsels their acceptance of the Constitution drafted by the convention, an instrument every part of which is familiar to him, and in the preparation of which he bore so large a part. Not lightly or thoughtlessly should counsel from such a source be rejected. Putting aside all minor things, we do know that the Constitution simplifies the mechanism of government in the State; that it substitutes an orderly fiscal system for a method that was no system, a method that directly promoted extravagance and was confusedly administered without check or responsibility; that it will materially reduce the expense of State administration; that it gives the people more direct control over the officers they choose to carry on the public business; that it provides for a more just system of taxation; that it introduces much-needed reforms in the administration of justice, making its processes more sure and doing away with intolerable delays; that it imparts greater dignity to the Legislature; that, in the words of Mr. ROOT, it makes "representative government worthy of itself" and establishes "a true democratic government for the State."

Here are reasons of substance and of great weight for a vote of acceptance by the people. It is not a partisan Constitution, it is a Constitution made by and for the people, prepared for them by representatives of ability and experience whom they chose for the work. The objectors and their objections have been fully, candidly, and convincingly answered by Mr. ROOT, by Mr. WICKERSHAM, by Mr. STIMSON, by Mr. LOW, by Mr. MARSHALL, by Judge O'BRIEN, and by many others. Democrats and Republicans, who have studied the draft in that spirit of broad patriotism which was the dominant quality of Mr. ROOT's address Monday evening. There is, we must admit, one class of objections to the Constitution which no man can answer in a way to bring conviction to the minds of those who raise them. We refer to that class alluded to in Mr. ROOT's speech, the legion of public servants who will be turned out of office by the severe but salutary and urgently necessary process of abolishing some hundreds or thousands of unnecessary places. Under the policy of unchecked expansion which we have followed for so many years the Government has been supporting the people, far too many people. As Mr. CLEVELAND pointed out, it is the duty of the people to support the Government, the correlative notion that it is the duty of the Government to support the people is held only by those who directly profit by it. Here the taxpayer is deeply concerned. It is for the people who pay the taxes to say whether they are willing to continue the payment of salaries to a horde of superfluous public servants, or whether, by introducing system and order in the State administration, they may thereby materially diminish the present extravagant cost of government. It would be strange if the electorate should give ear to the plaints of those who oppose the Constitution because it will force them to get a living otherwise than at the public cost.

THE GREAT DISCOVERER.

A prodigal and a spendthrift is Chairman HILLES of the Republican National Committee, and McDEVITT, the Wilkes-Barre "millionaire for a day," hands over his laurel wreath and makes obeisance. Mr. HILLES has sent Secretary JAMES B. REYNOLDS of the same committee touring the West to find out what is going on, and has hotel bills, railroad fares, tips, meals, telephone and telegraph charges, baggage transfers, and incidentals to pay for. And now Mr. REYNOLDS comes back and proudly reports his discoveries, and behold they are the discoveries the newspapers made several months ago. For the small sum of 1 cent, to quote the sidewalk vendors, Mr. HILLES could have found out last Spring and Summer what Mr. REYNOLDS has cost him large sums to discover in the Fall.

Mr. HILLES retails Mr. REYNOLDS's discoveries to the newspapers which first printed them months ago, and does it with the air of being the Queen Isabella of a new Columbus. His most important discovery is that the next convention will be a battleground of favorite sons; he has learned that Michigan will present WILLIAM ALDEN SMITH, Kansas Senator CURTIS, Idaho Senator BORAH, and Iowa Senator CUMMINS. Mr. REYNOLDS seems to have been in too much of a hurry to notice BURTON in Ohio, FAIRBANKS in Indiana, and the rest of the uncountable host of favorite sons, and neither he nor Mr. HILLES condescends to read the newspapers. He has, however, found that Illinois is not going to present Representative MANN, but Senator SHERMAN; a fact which he could have learned for a penny long ago.

He finds that many Progressives are coming back, so that they can dictate the action of the next convention; that California is going to present Governor JOHNSON, despite the fact that he is still a Progressive; that there is a great deal of sentiment for HUGHES and ROOT of New York, but none for WHITMAN of New York. We must say that we feel warmly on this subject. Why should Mr. HILLES enrich the railroads and hotels, when he and Mr. REYNOLDS could have obtained this information by dropping 1 cent in our own coffers—and, if he still doubted, an additional cent in the coffers of some one of our contemporaries?

VENICE.

If the Lombards had possessed dynamite and airships from which to throw destructive bombs upon sleeping and defenseless cities, perhaps Venice would have been bombarded from the skies in the era of the maggiori and the minori; perhaps not. We prefer to give the Lombards the benefit of the doubt. History scarcely records acts of barbarism so useless and shameful as the Teutons of this era of science and enlightenment are capable of performing. In all the wars of Venice, and the Venetians were a warlike and domineering people, the "tiara of proud towers" of the Adriatic city was unmolested. But now, when man was just beginning to think that he had conquered war and established the brotherhood of all nations, bombs shatter RUSKIN'S "level field of checkered stones" in front of the palace of the Doges, and the winged lion is threatened with destruction. The whole world was shocked a dozen years ago when the beautiful Campanile crumbled and fell, and now the new tower is a target for aerial bombs. The Church of Scalzi has been damaged and St. Mark's may go next. The historic doves may be frightened away from the piazza never to return. The clock tower may be smashed and the treasures of the biblioteca pass into history.

Dropping bombs on Venice is no more dastardly than dropping bombs on London, but somehow the shock to the world caused by this latest outrage of Teutonic warfare seems greater. For the whole world has taken pride in Venice, her preservation for all time seemed assured. BYRON mourned the departed glories of the sea city, but he was a poet and in a bitter mood. In the eyes of the modern world Venice has preserved her glories. Railroads and telephones have not destroyed her beauty. But the Austrian aeroplanes threaten to wipe her out of existence. The Zeppelin attacks on London have stirred the British martial spirit so that recruiting has become an easier work. It is likely that the Italians will fight the harder because of the attacks on Venice. Their enemies must pay for the damage they have wrought. "Frightfulness" does not frighten men, it inspires them to new efforts. Before many days have passed dynamite bombs may fall in the Landstrasse, which METTERNICH ironically called the entrance to Asia. It is, indeed, one of the reopened gateways to the domain of barbarism. Since the Huns and the Vandals Europe has known no such warfare as this.

REWARDS AND PUNISHMENTS.

In this country certain Germans have been arrested on a charge of conspiracy to blow up ships carrying munitions of war to the Allies. These patriots, should they be found guilty of the offense against the United States ascribed to them, are liable to imprisonment for ten years and a fine of $5,000.

The same day that saw the misfortune of these active partners of Kultur brought the news that Dr. CONSTANTIN DUMBA, late Austrian Ambassador at Washington, had received from the grateful Emperor FRANCIS JOSEPH the sacred particle of nobility. An Austrian conspirator, or accomplice in a conspiracy to put out of business American munition factories selling their product to the Allies, is ennobled. His German brothers, whose more spirited adventures were to be directed against ships, are locked up.

Let us ponder the inequalities of human fate, of the rewards of merit and service. Let us ponder also the calm utterance of Mr. FREDERICK RITTER, a delegate to the convention of "German-American" societies held at Worcester Monday:

> The neutrality of President Wilson toward Germany is a shameless farce. He has been a hypocrite of the worst kind. Any party which indorses the policy of President Wilson must fall by the way.

Dr. VON DUMBA and the persecuted Germans nabbed in the height of their great design, teach us what reutrality, benevolent neutrality, should be.

THE FIGHT BETWEEN GOOD AND EVIL.

The Christian Science Monitor treats its readers to this simple explanation of the defeat of woman suffrage in New Jersey:

> Corrupt politics, gang politics, cheap politics, liquor and its long and hideous train of allied evils, combined with deception and fear of woman's purity and honesty in public life, with such aid and comfort as were given by thousands of respectable and conscientious men, uninformed or misinformed as to the real issue at stake, made up the combination before which the suffragists went down.

This seems to be the official feminist view. Woman suffrage is supported by all intelligent and good persons. It is opposed, and beaten, wherever it is beaten, by cheap politicians—politicians who favor it are "dear" politicians—by political gangsters, by corrupt politicians, by the solid Rum Power, and all the leagued vices and vicious, all the sinister and evil elements of the electorate, and by "thousands"—can there be so many?—of respectable ignorant men who lack the mental power to understand the question.

The Paterson Press-Guardian shows the other side of the shield:

> Perhaps the worst mistake that the suffragists made in their campaign in New Jersey was to antagonize the men. From the beginning the suffrage enthusiasts themselves, as well as the newspapers and the male speakers who aimed to help the cause, took the position that every man and every interest that were opposed to equal suffrage were in some way identified with evil influences. The whole propaganda seemed to have been lined up on the principle that the male voters were made up of two classes—honorable men and dishonorable men, the former being practically without exception in favor of woman suffrage and the latter being almost to a man opposed to the cause.

A beautiful suasive way of convincing opponents and converting doubters. The assumption that not to be a suffragist is to be a son of Belial may be regarded as amusing or irritating, according to the temperament of the voter; it certainly was to many "uninformed" masculine minds another evidence of the unfitness of women to take part in political life. The belligerent and calumnious attitude of too many of the Jersey suffragists toward the other side "was a factor in the outcome," says the Paterson paper, though "the great majority of the men "of New Jersey voted against the "amendment because they believed "that the sacrifice to womanhood "would be too great to compensate for "any results that might come from "woman's vote."

New York and New Jersey are substantially one community.

THE IMPERIAL FOOD.

At the request of the Imperial German Chancellor, the Under Secretary of State prepares and issues to the world a statement on the food problem in Germany. In the first place, there is no such thing. There is plenty of food. "As a matter of fact," says the Under Secretary, "we have carried over from last year's harvest "into the new so much grain that we "are compelled to let 3,000,000 tons "of it be fed to cattle." Previously, as the reader knows, German cattle were fed on potato peelings. There is no scarcity of that provender. "We have also this year," continues the Under Secretary, "such a record "potato crop as Germany has never "known before in her existence." Besides, the raising of hogs has "had an undreamed of impetus."

Meal, pork, and potatoes to the point of satiation. What more could people want? Nothing. As the Under Secretary said at first, there is no food problem in Germany. The talk of it is all that remains to be explained. "The basis of fact," he says, "which has caused the foreign press "to busy itself with our internal affairs is that the Government is now "concerned in unifying and regulating by law all those measures which "the local authorities and military "Governors have singly promulgated." For instance, the great potato crop "will be apportioned throughout the empire by the newly organized Imperial Potato Department, with maximum prices, so that "the inhabitants of the cities will get "a sure and cheap supply of this "most important food."

The Under Secretary either contradicts himself or is contradicted by his Government. Why apportion the supply and fix the price of an extra abundant potato crop, other food being also plentiful? He is contradicted in many other ways, and not only by the "foreign press." Last week the Cologne Gazette denounced food speculators indignantly:

> Exasperation festers in the people because the task of holding out in the long war is rendered difficult by those who see in the present economic conditions a wonderful opportunity to make money. War usury remains an unsightly stain on the white shield of German honor, and war usurers incur the responsibility of gradually producing in a people who are self-sacrificing, enduring, and conscious of victory a gloomy and exasperated feeling.

What are "the present economic conditions" which give speculators their wonderful opportunity to make money? Conditions of plenty? The Under Secretary's conditions? On Oct. 22 the Berlin correspondent of THE TIMES cabled that the food question had become suddenly more important than anything else, the newspapers devoting more space to the subject of food, particularly butter, milk, eggs, and meat, than to the war itself. Then followed a discussion of the means to be adopted to "stretch" the meat supply; also that of milk.

On the same page with the Under Secretary's reassurance to the world that there is plenty of food in Germany appeared the news that in parts of Berlin the Imperial German Government had posted the scarlet colored warnings against rioting or any kind of rebellious violence, and this was to awe the housewives, who had been riotous in their efforts to obtain butter and other food commodities. This was only in the "poorer sections" of the capital.

The Under Secretary may be right. It may be that the confusion exists only in the terms. The problem in Germany may be not one of food, but one of poverty. In his statement are several inconspicuous phrases which perhaps deserve to be emphasized. "The old law of supply and demand no longer holds good," he said, "as in "times of peace. Government regulation must supplant this law at "many points in order to spare the "poorer population from excessively "high prices." In another place:

> Other measures also will be taken to provide a sufficient supply of meat at cheap prices to the poorer population by means of meat cards or otherwise. To achieve this we must be sparing in the use of meat fats and regulate the consumption in such a way that not only bread and potatoes but all other forms of nourishment can be got by all who need them, and not only by those who can pay.

Those who cannot pay! They are the terrible load. There is food enough for all the rest, no doubt, without the aid of the Imperial Potato Department.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES.

War Stops the March of Science.

A typical and significant result of the European war is that the French Government has felt obliged, owing to its need constantly to use the Eiffel Tower as a part of its military telegraph system, to withdraw the permission it had given for its employment during a few minutes of each day as a receiving station for wireless telephone messages from the United States.

This puts an end, for the time, to the highly interesting and very important experiments and tests which the engineers of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company were conducting between Paris and Arlington, and the establishment of transatlantic communication by telephone must be deferred until the warring nations have sufficiently exhausted each other again to substitute the arguments of reason for those of force.

The delay can hardly be called of great consequence, in comparison with other deprivations and losses to which war is subjecting all the world, but it is one especially well calculated to impress upon people everywhere their interest in the return of peace. For wireless telephony, while in this particular phase of it the undertaking of a corporation conducted for the profit of its own stockholders, is so little remote from the domain of what is called "pure" science, and its success is so obviously a matter of more than private or even national advantage, that in better days than these any Government would be glad to facilitate the efforts of its promoters by freely giving them any assistance it could command.

That is why the French Government did what it could to help, as long as it could, and why it now doubtless feels regret for the compelled withholding of further assistance. The work of experimentation can, indeed, go on over the other seas between stations that are not, as yet, in belligerent territory, but it is the Atlantic which it is most desired to cross, and the Eiffel Tower has no present substitute for height and equipment on the other side of that ocean.

Law as It Is and Should Be.

As the United States Supreme Court possesses the enviable power of making things so by the simple and convenient method of saying that they are so, time devoted to disagreement with its pronouncements or to criticising them adversely could obviously be employed to more profitable purposes. Still, though one cannot declare that court's decisions wrong, there is sometimes a certain sad satisfaction to be derived from wishing it had reached other conclusions from given premises and to wondering how it arrived where it did.

Take, for instance, the Supreme Court's refusal to join two lower Federal courts in sustaining the contention of the Commissioner of Immigration at this port that, in determining whether or not a newly arrived immigrant is likely to become a public charge, consideration should be given to industrial conditions in the part of the country where he intends to settle. That contention certainly seems plausible on its surface, and as far below the surface, for that matter, as such minds as most of us have can penetrate. One would, indeed, venture without much hesitation to declare it quite true that an immigrant who was going to use his scanty resources in traveling to a town where there was no work for him to do was so likely to become a public charge as to justify his exclusion from the country unless he could change his plans, and often, probably, he couldn't. On the other hand, the same man might be a highly desirable addition to our population if he were on his sufficiently provided way to a place where the services of such as he were in eager demand.

But the Supreme Court says "No." The new arrival must be judged unrelationally, so to speak, and without reference to his selected destination. If his state of body, mind, and purse be such that he can come in at all, he must be allowed to enter, and he and the law must take his chances and its as they come.

Of course that is not exactly what the court does say, but only the effect of its answering in the only way such a tribunal can, the only question before it—"What is the law?" We laymen are constantly inclined to ask the wholly different question—"What ought to be the law?"—and, having answered it to our own satisfaction, to assume that "ought to be" and "is" are identical.

Censors Are Really Not Needed.

Few people who have for words the respect they deserve will fail to thrill at least once in sympathy with that correspondent of THE TIMES who yesterday proclaimed his yearn for a censor or board of censors with power to sit in judgment on every new candidate for admission to our noble and justly celebrated vocabulary.

This proposal was the result of a laudable admiration for words well made and euphonious, and of an equally laudable hatred of those that are of evil construction and sound. Our correspondent mentioned several specimens of both sorts that have recently been added to our tools of expression.

But while the need for the exercise of a wise and firm authority in this highly important matter is apparently obvious, and while good linguistic taste has a seeming right to demand protection from barbarian assault, there are more than several insuperable obstacles to the establishment of the proposed board. The first and most serious of them is the fact that languages are not made and do not grow that way, and the few attempts to coerce them along a path selected by the self-elected Wise and Good that have ever proved at all effective, have all had results which are the despair and horror of later comers of the same stripe.

In both English and French, the two languages that have had most chance to profit by the labors of the learned, the very worst words, the words that most outrageously violate the only linguistic laws there are—were forced into reluctant usage by those same exponents of verbal propriety. Words of popular construction, on the contrary—those that come into being to meet a widely felt need and survive merely because they meet it—are all of sternly orthodox architecture, spelled and accented in strict and reverent accord with the ancient rules of formation, and sources of endless joy to elect and unelect alike.

For Free Public Lectures.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Permit me to lift my voice in protest against the threatened loss to the city of the free public lectures, the appropriation for which is to be decided upon on Tuesday. The discontinuance of these lectures at such centres as the American Museum of Natural History in particular, where their educational value has been of so high an order, will be in the nature of a calamity to those who have attended them for so many years.

M. E. BUHLER.

New York, Oct. 24, 1915.

AMENITIES OF SUFFRAGE.

If Apologies Are in Order, Let the Most Disagreeable Begin.

New York, Oct. 26, 1915.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Under the heading "Topics of the Times" in this morning's issue there is a call for a further apology to Mrs. Catt from the Men's Anti-Suffrage Association. It is not my purpose to provoke nor to enter into a controversy, but it seems pertinent to suggest that not one, but many apologies are due to the antis for untrue statements made publicly by prominent suffragists. It is impossible to overtake and destroy a lie once it is started on its unsavory and mischievous career, and it is a pity that this particular sin of misstatement should take such a prominent part in the campaign to obtain the vote for women. It is a truism that every worthy movement has supporters with unworthy motives. We all know of the traditional strange bedfellows provided by politics, and if some liquor dealers have declared themselves against woman suffrage it is only fair to recall the fact that Socialists, anarchists, free lovers, and extreme feminists all are for it.

Those women who are high-mindedly convinced that woman suffrage will be of benefit to women and the State simply ignore these baleful friends, feeling that they have nothing in common with them, and that their advocacy is merely an unfortunate point at which diverse interests meet. We do likewise, yet may I once more reiterate that no association opposed to won an suffrage has ever accepted money or assistance from the liquor or any other "interest" opposed to the welfare of the community, either collectively or individually, and to quote as my reason for writing this letter the following statements, taken at random from many more, for which I think humble and humiliating apologies are due?

Jane Thompson, from an automobile, (county fair in Nebraska): "There are two anti-suffragists on these grounds—they are in that box (they were Mrs. Crumpacker and Miss Lucy Price)—sent here by the vice interests."

The President of the National Woman's Suffrage Association (Dr. Anna Shaw) on various occasions:

"Marjorie Dorman is a big fool."

"Miss Minnie Bronson is the most skillful liar I ever knew except Mrs. A. J. George of Boston."

"The Presidents of anti-suffrage societies and the backers of those organizations are the wives of either the owners or the lawyers of great corporations, trusts, and liquor interests."

"If the women known as anti-suffragists are not working for some hidden cloaked force, why are they working at all?"

"We do not fear that little band of professional anti women going around the country advocating home, heaven, and mother. We are not at all disturbed by them. The only purpose they serve is that by holding out their skirts they act as a screen for the liquor traffic, the gamblers, the vicious, and those interested in dance halls and places where young girls are ruined."

The last is from The Congressional Record of the hearing held April 26, 1913, and was followed by applause from the suffragists attending.

Now I wait for the apology.

Mrs. FRANCIS M. (LUCY P.) SCOTT.

Mr. Wheeler Explains.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Your comment on the man-suffrage letter to Mrs. Catt was evidently written under a misapprehension. The letter from the association to Mrs. Catt was mailed to her on the 21st, and was signed by me as Chairman of the association. When the Secretary gave an abstract of it to the press on the 23d he did not add the signature. This has not been usual. He adopted the same method that you did in reference to the same letter. You had a copy of it furnished you yesterday, which copy was signed. You gave an abstract of it in this morning's paper, omitting the signature. So far as the letter itself is concerned, we did receive Mrs. Catt's protest, but we did deny the justice of this protest. There was no good reason for her complaint. But we desired no personal controversy with her, and when the complaint came in, not from her, but from the President of her association, at an earlier period in the month, we omitted Mrs. Catt's name from the pamphlet referred to. She does not deny holding the sentiment imputed to her in the original leaflet. This sentiment was that she was opposed to the doctrine that "the family is the unit of society and the State."

What we said in the letter which I signed was that no personal attack had been made upon her. None was made, in point of fact. We hastened to disclaim her inference that an attack was intended. Instead of accepting the disclaimer she vilifies us. The personalities are hers, not ours.

EVERETT P. WHEELER,
Chairman Man-Suffrage Association.

New York, Oct. 26, 1915.

Mr. Wickersham's Suspicion.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

In THE TIMES of the 23d inst. I am quoted as saying that Messrs. Smith, Foley, and Wagner all voted in the convention for the Constitution. This is an inaccuracy in reporting what I said, which was that they had all voted for the most important parts of it. As a matter of fact, they all voted for twenty-two of the thirty-three amendments adopted—including the budget provision, that relating to serial bonds, the reorganization of the State executive departments, (short ballot,) abolition of emergency message, reform of county government, judiciary, &c. Messrs. Foley and Smith were recorded as opposed to nine measures and Mr. Wagner to eight. Messrs. Smith and Wagner voted against and Mr. Foley for the adoption of the whole revised Constitution. All of these gentlemen, particularly Messrs. Foley and Smith, were most helpful in formulating some of the most important and far-reaching reforms embodied in the revision. They objected particularly to the home-rule-for-cities article and the reappointment provision. The latter is to be submitted separately. The former, while it does not go so far as these gentlemen wished, certainly embodies a very long step toward it. How they can reconcile their votes for the many important measures embodied in the revision with their present opposition to the adoption of the whole Constitution can be explained only on the basis of fancied political expediency in which I can but believe they have been constrained to act against their better judgment.

GEORGE W. WICKERSHAM.

New York, Oct. 25, 1915.

Conservation Misunderstandings.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Louis Marshall's defense of the conservation provisions of the proposed new Constitution refers to George A. Lawyer's violent attack upon them. Mr. Lawyer in his attack says "The Constitutional Convention, subservient to the 'interests' and at the behest of the lumbermen and water power owners, has adopted" the proposed conservation article. Mr. Lawyer further says: "These malevolent interests turned a deaf ear on all appeals made by the New York Board of Trade and Transportation—the body responsible for the present constitutional restrictions protecting the forests."

I may be permitted to say that I know of no member of the Board of Trade and Transportation who entertains any opinion derogatory of the prevailing influences in the Constitutional Convention. Some of the members of this board who are and for years have been the most earnest advocates of measures to protect our State forests from depredation and destruction approve the proposed conservation article. Others believe that the commission of nine members will prove a failure and a mistake, and, further, that to permit the removal of dead trees and dead timber will restore the temptation to set forest fires in the woods to make dead trees and dead timber to be removed, although such trees and timber when removed may not be sold.

FRANK S. GARDNER,
Secretary New York Board of Trade and Transportation.

New York, Oct. 25, 1915.

THE FOREDOOM OF HELPLESS SERBIA.

Facts to Disprove Count Apponyi's Assertion That Austria-Hungary Gave Solemn Pledges to Respect Her Sovereignty.

By PAUL VAN DYKE.
Professor of Modern European History, Princeton University.

Princeton, N. J., Oct. 13, 1915.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Count Apponyi, in his letter published in THE TIMES, has inadvertently fallen into two assumptions contrary to fact. The first is: "Neither was Russia compelled to make Serbia's cause her own after the solemn pledges freely given from our side that the territory and the sovereignty of that country should not be permanently impaired." Even a slight examination of the diplomatic documents shows that Austria-Hungary was not willing to enter into the discussion of the infringement of sovereignty contained in the fifth and sixth demands of her ultimatum, which Serbia offered to leave to The Hague tribunal until the 31st of July, when Germany's ultimatum to Russia made war inevitable, and it shows, further, that no "solemn pledge" about Serbia's sovereignty was ever given. This is sufficiently evident from the documents published in the Austro-Hungarian Red Book. It might be made even more clear by citations from other books.

July 20.—Count Szapary [Ambassador] to Count Berchtold:

> I expressed to Minister Sazonoff that we do not intend to take any Serbian territory, * * * that, moreover, we did not intend to violate Serbia's sovereignty. * * * Mr. Sazonoff replied that he felt reassured on the territorial question, but that he must adhere to his former view that the enforcement of our demand would place Serbia in a condition of vassalage.

July 30.—Count Berchtold to Szapary:

> I begged the Ambassador [Russian] to remember that we had repeatedly stated that we were not following a policy of conquest in Serbia; that we did not intend to infringe upon her sovereignty. * * *

July 31.—Count Szapary to Count Berchtold:

> Received your telegram of the 30th inst. My telegram of the 29th will have acquainted you. * * * Meanwhile, the conversations between the German Ambassador and the Russian Minister of Foreign Affairs have made it clear that Russia would not be content even with a formal declaration by Austria-Hungary that she would not reduce Serbian territory nor infringe upon her sovereignty. * * *

At midnight on July 31 Germany gave to Russia her ultimatum to disarm within twelve hours, and at its expiration declared war. Therefore the Austro-Hungarian Red Book itself shows beyond the shadow of a doubt that previous to the German ultimatum no formal declaration had been made by Austro-Hungary that she would not infringe on Serbian sovereignty, which was plainly infringed upon by the fifth and sixth demands of Austria's ultimatum, so that she was actually waging war to carry out an infringement upon Serbian sovereignty. No one ought to forget, however, that it is to the credit of Austria-Hungary that at the very last moment she did declare her willingness to begin a discussion as to the basis of the ultimatum addressed to Serbia. (The Yellow Book, 120, Aug. 1, British Book, 111, July 31.) It was Germany's ultimatum to Russia which destroyed the last faint hope of peace.

With the above-quoted report of the Austro-Hungarian Ambassador about the report of the German Ambassador that his conversations with the Russian Foreign Minister had shown that Russia would not be content even with the formal declaration of Austria-Hungary that she would not infringe upon the sovereignty of Serbia, we must, of course, compare the Russian account of those conversations. It is contained in the following documents.

The Russian Minister for Foreign Affairs to the Russian Ambassadors at Berlin, Vienna, Paris, London, and Rome, July 30. (Orange Book, 60):

> The German Ambassador, who has just left me, has asked whether Russia would not be satisfied with the promise which Austria might give—that she would not violate the integrity of the Kingdom of Serbia, &c. I dictated to him the following declaration to be forwarded to Berlin for immediate action:
>
> "If Austria, recognizing that the Austro-Serbian question has assumed the character of a question of European interest, declares herself ready to eliminate from her ultimatum points which violate the sovereign rights of Serbia, Russia engages to stop her military preparations." Please inform me at once by telegraph what attitude the German Government will adopt. * * * for we cannot allow such discussions to continue solely in order that Germany and Austria may gain time for their military preparations.

July 30 the Russian Ambassador at Berlin reports that Germany declares it impossible for Austria to accept this formula. (Orange Book, 63.)

July 31, at England's suggestion, Russia presents a modified formula, which reads in effect as follows:

> If Austria would stop action against Serbia until the great powers could examine the satisfaction which Serbia may afford to the Austro-Hungarian Government without injury to her rights as a sovereign State or her independence, Russia would undertake to maintain a waiting attitude.

In view of these plain facts, it seems difficult to maintain the assertion that either Austria-Hungary freely offered a solemn pledge that she would respect the sovereignty of Serbia, which her original ultimatum violated, or that such a solemn pledge, if offered early enough in the negotiations, would have been useless as a step toward avoiding war.

The second mistaken assumption into which Count Apponyi has inadvertently permitted himself to fall is: "The policy of her present Government * * * has unfitted America to act as peacemaker. * * * It is a splendid opportunity which has been thrown away under the pressure of Mr. Schwab and his company, and for the purpose of filling his bag with blood-stained money."

I take the liberty of calling Count Apponyi's attention to the fact that the reason why the United States Government refused the request of the Austro-Hungarian Government to prohibit the export of munitions of war is set forth at length in the reply of our Secretary of State. If the Count will address himself seriously to the task of answering Mr. Lansing's arguments, I venture to hope he will find his assumption that, in a matter gravely affecting the interest and honor of the Republic, the action of our President and his Cabinet is controlled by consideration for the profits of large steel companies, is, to say the least, gratuitous. PAUL VAN DYKE.

MR. HORNADAY'S ALARM.

He Protests Against Committing Wild Life to a State Commission.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Whenever Louis Marshall or any other gentleman sets himself up in the columns of a newspaper as a public mentor on the protection of wild life in the State of New York all deficiencies in knowledge and errors in statement become serious matters. I refer to Mr. Marshall's reply to George A. Lawyer in THE TIMES of Oct. 24. Furthermore, I wish to say to the people of New York that in my opinion the clause in the new Constitution conferring sweeping legislative powers upon the proposed new nine-headed conservation commission, covering "the taking, possession, sale, and transportation" of New York's "fish, birds, game, shellfish, and crustacea," is revolutionary, dangerous, and thoroughly reprehensible. Never before in the whole history of game protection in America has anything so revolutionary been seriously placed before a State for ratification by its voters.

If the English language still means what it says, five members of the proposed hydra-headed geographical conservation commission could in five minutes kick every one of our existing game protection laws into the gutter, and they could make whatever new "laws" might happen to suit their interests, their fancy, or their ignorance. To deny this statement is to deny our mother tongue.

For ten years and more, to go no further back, the Legislatures of New York have done well by the wild life of our State. What is the reason for discharging our Legislature and lodging in the hands of nine geographically selected appointees, over whom the people have no real influence or control, the vast law-making power that is to be lodged in the hands of nine new conservation Commissioners? I demand to know which of the wild life protectors of New York, if any, have asked for this overturning. Who has complained that the people's Senators and Assemblymen have not done right by our game and fish?

In view of the often published and never disputed fact that New York State now has the finest wild life protective laws of any State, the sweeping action of the Constitutional Convention is amazing. Mr. Marshall says:

> "Under the present system from 80 to 100 amendments to these [game] laws are passed at every session. They determine when suckers may be caught in certain waters."

As a purveyor of grotesque error and exquisite humor in tabloid form Mr. Marshall is a master hand. It is a fact that precisely 17 "amendments to these laws" were "passed" at the last session of our Legislature, but only 9 of them really related to fish and game. It is perfectly evident that in regard to the real status of game protection in the State of New York Mr. Marshall's knowledge is very crude and superficial.

Now, I put the whole matter up to the people of the State of New York, and I tell them that in my opinion the proposed new conservation commission is a scheme full of danger to the wild life of this State.

WILLIAM T. HORNADAY.

New York, Oct. 25, 1915.

Movies or Art?

To the Editor of The New York Times:

It appears to me that W. A. Brady's speech at the dinner given him by the Friars sounds a much-needed call to arms against the ridiculous inanities and obvious absurdities perpetrated by the movies. They can be charged, and rightfully, with childish simplicity of plot, vulgar, and often painfully exaggerated acting, and frequent and laughable errors in direction. What film-drama, however elaborately presented, could by photography hope to vie with the noble lines of Hamlet, or the exquisitely witty situations of Sheridan's "The Rivals"? The cinematograph, at best, is a harmless and worthless pastime for infants, as regards age or intellect. Meanwhile, let us rush to the aid of the hard-pressed spoken drama, the finest of the fine arts.

New York, Oct. 26, 1915. H. B. A.

CHILDREN HAVE TO BE.

Why Denounce the Roller Skater? Why Not Abolish Children?

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Does "Superintendent" think that by stopping roller skating the streets would be made quiet? Are there in his neighborhood no peddlers rending the air with their yells? (If there are not will he please send me the address?) Are there no horses clattering on the asphalt, no auto horns, no sweepers with scraping dustpans early in the morning, &c.?

And may I ask "Washington Square" whether the fact that the fourteen boys had on roller skates was the reason why they were "yelling as if possessed"? It is my experience that boys can yell, and frequently do, quite independently of roller skates.

I myself hardly ever risk

PAVLOWA REVEALED AS AN IMPRESARIO

Russian Dancer Is Head of the Boston Opera Co.—Invested $75,000 Made in Movies.

HER PLANS ARE AMBITIOUS

Opera-Ballet Combination Affords Broader Opportunities for Her Art, She Says.

It has become known since the arrival of the Boston Grand Opera Company in New York Sunday night that Mlle. Pavlowa, the Russian dancer, whose ballet forms an integral part of the organization, is in reality the financial backer and directing head as well, and, therefore, takes rank as the first woman operatic impresario who has ever brought a first-class company to this city. On the eve of fateful Nov. 2, suffragists take notice!

It is said by one in close touch with the affairs of the Boston Grand Opera Company that when Mlle. Pavlowa decided last Spring to undertake the formation of an opera company, the basis on which the plans were drawn up with Max Rabinoff, who had been her manager for the ballet tours and now has the title of managing director of the operatic organization, was that she would invest $75,000 and no salary was to be carried for her services as a dancer.

Incidentally, it is said that most of this money represents the receipts for the motion pictures for which she and her ballet posed last Summer at Los Angeles, so that the operatic organization owes its existence to this extent to the "movies."

When the story was brought to the dancer she confirmed it.

"Yes," she said, "I have wanted to conduct an opera company for many years, but never until now were the circumstances right. What interests me in having an opera company to work with instead of only a ballet is that much broader opportunities are offered. In the Russian school there are many works that combine mime and ballet work with operas and dramas.

"If our venture proves a success I have ambitious plans for broadening its scope, and making known some of these works I have spoken of, whose existence is hardly even suspected here. In the opera-ballet combination I hope to create there will be many opportunities for artistic and significant work, and this is why we hope our first season under the present plans will achieve the success it so far promises."

A combination of circumstances decided Mlle. Pavlowa and her advisers that the present season was the time to put their plans into effect.

In the first place, she had just completed a very extensive tour with her Russian ballet over the United States. Since there was no other country to go to, it was thought inadvisable not to travel immediately over the same ground again with the same ballet and repertoire, especially since another Russian ballet is to tour the country later this season. Then, too, war conditions abroad made it an easier matter to engage operatic artists than it would otherwise have been.

During the Summer, when Mr. Rabinoff was engaged in getting the organization together, nothing was done until it received the approval of Mlle. Pavlowa. While the details, especially those in the purely business line, were in the hands of Mr. Rabinoff, in the important questions she exercised the controlling voice, engaging in the selection of the artists and artistic staff and the shaping of the repertoire, and deciding other matters of first importance, just as is the case with the head of any operatic organization in existence.

Those who have been in touch with the organization and know the hold she has on the affections of all those who work with or for her, know that the spirit of the organization was not misrepresented when an American member said, "There is just one person who doesn't want this thing to go, and that is because it means so much to Pavlowa."

It was announced yesterday that Mme. Olive Fremstad had been engaged to sing the title role in "Tosca" Wednesday night of next week with the Boston Opera Company at the Manhattan Opera House.

'THE LOVE OF THREE KINGS.'

Boston Opera Company Also Gives a Scene from "Orfeo ed Euridice."

The Boston Grand Opera Company played the second performance of its engagement last night at the Manhattan Opera House, when Montemezzi's "The Love of the Three Kings" was given. This production brought forward a cast completely different from that of the opening night, and one which carried with it the additional cause for interest that only one of its principal members, Edoardo Ferrari-Fontana, had been heard here before under ordinary auspices.

After the opera, the "Elysian Fields" scene from "Orfeo ed Euridice" was given, with Maria Gay singing Orfeo, Phyllis Peralta singing Euridice, and Mlle. Pavlowa appearing with her ballet and the chorus. Adolph Schmid conducted.

While there had been some noticeable defects in the operatic performance of the night before, last night's presented a total effect that was admirable. This was due in part to the individual excellence of the members of the cast, but perhaps more to the fact that in Roberto Moranzoni there was at work a conductor who was sensitive to the delicate beauties and the throbbing vitality of the score, and who was able to obtain an effective coördination of the elements that made up the ensemble effect. Mr. Moranzoni is a conductor of considerable gifts.

The singing of Edoardo Ferrari-Fontana in the rôle of Avito has been made known through the performances of the work at the Metropolitan Opera House. It remains as a uniquely fine characterization, which vocally and histrionically fills the demands of the rôle with striking success. When the tenor abandons his disposition to lag behind the orchestra at times he will have removed the only serious fault that can be held against him in this rôle.

Luisa Villani, who has not been heard here since a short season several years ago at the Academy of Music, made an appealing figure of Fiora. Hers is a fresh and powerful voice, which she uses with flexibility and taste. While some of the subtlest shades of characterization that have been revealed in the rôle were not evident in her work, it had an individuality and an excellence of its own.

Mr. Baklanoff and Mr. Mardones, the baritone and bass, respectively, made decided impressions, especially the latter, since a thoroughly developed bass voice seems more of a rarity nowadays than an equally good baritone. One might find lacking in the Russian baritone's Manfredo a suggestion of the essential nobility of mind that it was the librettist's purpose to have the character embody, but the fact remains that, with a splendid voice and imposing stage presence, he made a rather "ungrateful" rôle count for considerable.

The lesser rôles were satisfactorily done, the only thing calling for comment being the curious resemblance between the voices of Brenda Gilscone, who sang Flaminio, and that of the singer who does the same rôle at the Metropolitan.

The performance moved without a hitch, if the playing of the pizzicato chords that accompany Archibaldo's appearance and the voice off stage in the second act be excepted. Mr. Urban's settings were admirable in their atmospheric suggestion, and there was some effective, if not novel, lighting in the second act. The chorus on the stage did not do too well with the last-act music. The orchestra in general was admirable.

Harry Lauder Here Again Nov. 15.

Harry Lauder will sail for America in two weeks, and Monday afternoon, Nov. 15, will begin his eighth annual engagement in New York. The Scotch comedian had intended opening his season earlier, but was delayed by the illness of his son, Captain John Lauder of the Argyle Sutherland Highlanders, who was twice sent home wounded from the front in France. Mr. Lauder has written several new songs for his tour that have already met with success in England. William Morris will direct the tour.

MISS POWELL'S RECITAL.

De Beriot's Concerto and d'Indy's Sonata for Piano and Violin Played.

Miss Maud Powell has long since established her position as one of the finest and most authoritative of American musicians; wherefore her appearance in a recital has become an occurrence of real significance in the musical season—one that engages the attention of serious lovers of violin playing and that offers them something of importance. She played last evening in Aeolian Hall, and, as she has so often done before, deeply impressed a large audience of the kind of listeners that count. She brought to her performance artistic powers of the highest order: fine taste and intelligence, knowledge and mature insight, an unselfish devotion and a disdain of all that tends to exalt the artist at the expense of the art, and an energy and enthusiasm which, though they sometimes needed a little more poise, were contagious. Her technical powers were at their highest. Only her tone at certain points, and especially in the beginning, her admirers would have wished in some degree more mellifluous.

A mellifluous tone is especially needed in De Bériot's G major concerto, with which she began, for this music, like so much more of its kind, has no other office than a lascivious pleasing of the ear. Violinists' music of this sort has an allurement for violinists, at least, that keeps it alive far beyond the term of its natural life; and Miss Powell played these faded and outworn measures with a brilliancy and an energy that almost carried conviction. She came immediately to sterner stuff that seemed much more alive, though so much older, in a noble and imposing prelude and fugue by Rust, and a sarabande and tambourin by Leclair.

She reached the highest point and the opposite pole of her program in Vincent d'Indy's sonata in C, Op. 59; a long and elaborate work that has not been attempted by many violinists, though it is one of the finest of recent contributions to their literature. It is severe, and, notably in the first movement, which seems unduly long, merits the description of "cerebral" that has been applied to d'Indy's music. But even here, and still more in the slow movement and the finale, there is much of great nobility and real beauty that appeals to the deeper understanding. The themes and their development, often through subtle rhythmic complications and harmony of great originality and striking novelty, have splendid breadth and amplitude. The second movement, a presto of fine-spun texture, is full of a crisp brilliancy. Mr. d'Indy in this sonata has not attempted to cast off accepted modes of musical expression; but he has wrought with material of his own and made of it something distinctly characteristic and individual—indisputably his own.

The sonata is difficult, especially in its requirements as to ensemble. Arthur Loesser played the piano part admirably, with fine feeling and unfailing precision, and the two achieved a performance of unusual excellence. In her last group Miss Powell played pieces by Victor Herbert, Percy Grainger, (an arrangement of his "Molly on the Shore,") a new polonaise by Edwin Grasse, and an arrangement by herself of Massenet's "Crépuscule."

COLONEL SEES 'BATTLE CRY'

Motion Picture Preaches Text of Americans for America, He Says.

Theodore Roosevelt saw the exhibition of "The Battle Cry of Peace," a motion picture which has preparedness for its theme, being shown in the Vitagraph Theatre yesterday afternoon. The ex-President was the guest of J. Stuart Blackton, head of the Vitagraph Company, who arranged the picture from Maxim's book, "Defenseless America." After seeing the picture Colonel Roosevelt said:

"I wish I had it in my power to make a law compelling every man, woman, and child in the United States to see 'The Battle Cry of Peace,' particularly the young men and pacifists. It is the primer, the public school, and the college of preparedness. 'The Battle Cry of Peace' teaches the text, 'Not of America for the Americans,' but of 'The Americans for America.' It is the most educational drama I have ever witnessed. I did not think that motion pictures were so capable of impressing the human mind."

Vernon d'Arnalle's Recital.

Vernon d'Arnalle, a baritone, not known to New York and said to come from Chicago, gave a recital yesterday afternoon in Aeolian Hall that had pleasing and interesting qualities. These were the result not so much of a voice in itself of inherently beautiful quality or of perfect mastery of vocal art, so much as of intelligence, musical feeling, an interpretative gift that gave his singing some distinction. Most of his songs were drawn from the treasury of the great German Lieder writers: Schubert, Schumann, Franz, and Brahms; and it was a part of Mr. d'Arnalle's intelligence to choose many that are not hackneyed, that are not well known, and some that are hardly known at all except to curious students. Mr. d'Arnalle's German diction might have been a little clearer and more finished. There were commendable features in his phrasing that contributed to the enjoyment of what he offered. A group of songs in English at the end included two Irish songs, Carpenter's "To One Unknown" and Hadley's "How Do I Love Thee?" Maurice Eisner played the accompaniments sympathetically.

John Drew's New Play, "The Chief."

It has been decided to call Horace Annesley Vachell's new play, in which John Drew will be starred, "The Chief." Since the Frohman Company accepted the play for production in America Sir George Alexander has purchased the English rights. Sir George has agreed to delay the London premier until the play has been produced here in the Empire. Mr. Drew has been rehearsing for several days with a supporting company that includes Laura Hope Crews, Consuelo Bailey, Thais Lawton, Katherine Stewart, Echlin Gayer, George Graham, and Walter Solderling.

Palmer-Fischer Wedding Today.

The wedding of Charles Sill Palmer, son of Charles M. Palmer of Saranac Lake, N. Y., and Miss Dorothy Kingsbury Fischer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Kingsbury Fischer of New York, residing temporarily at Saranac Lake, will take place this morning at 11 o'clock at Saranac Lake. The bridegroom's father is a prominent newspaper man of the West, and has important business connections in New York City.

The ceremony will be held in St. Luke's Church, Archdeacon W. H. Larom officiating. Only members of the two families will be present.

The couple will go by motor to Jamaica, L. I., to spend about a month, after which they will return to Saranac Lake, where they will take up their residence in Park Avenue.

S. Bryce Wing's Bachelor Dinner.

S. Bryce Wing, whose marriage to Miss Marie Tailer will take place on Nov. 3, gave his farewell bachelor dinner last night at Sherry's. The occasion was enlivened by minstrels, and an orchestra played during the dinner.

Mr. Wing had as his guests L. Stuart Wing, Jr., his brother, who is to be his best man, and Harvey S. Ladew, John D. Wing, 2d, R. Tailer Townsend, Archibald Stirling, Arthur R. Jones, Reginald L. Whitman, James F. Nagle, and N. E. C. Rutter, who are to be his ushers.

Also, L. B. McKenzie, Frank V. Burton, Jr., W. Whitewright Watson, William R. Grace, S. Ambrose Clark, Birdseye B. Lewis, Edward H. Carl, Stephen Peabody, Jr., Alden S. Blodget, Eugene S. Reynal, James C. Cooley, David Dows, Malcolm Stevenson, Edwin V. Kane, and J. Henry Alexandre.

Granger-Ketching Engagement.

Dr. William Granger of White Plains Road, Bronxville, N. Y., announces the engagement of his daughter, Miss Grace E. Granger, to Arthur Ketching, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore E. Ketching of this city. No date has been set for the wedding.

MISS HELEN JUDSON, G. E. PARKS'S BRIDE

Ceremony in Church of the Heavenly Rest Amid Masses of Chrysanthemums.

WEARS STRING OF PEARLS

Bride Has Only One Attendant—Reception at Home of Her Parents—Honeymoon in Far West.

The marriage of George Elton Parks of this city and a son of Mr. and Mrs. George Winant Parks of Providence, R. I., and Miss Helen York Judson, the younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry I. Judson and a sister of Mrs. Francis Burton Harrison, the wife of the Governor of the Philippines, took place yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Church of the Heavenly Rest, and the Rev. Herbert Shipman, the rector of the church, officiated. Masses of yellow and white chrysanthemums decorated the altar and chancel and were placed on the pews along the nave.

The bride, who walked with her father, wore a white faille silk gown made with a straight, long, full skirt. The corsage extended over it in points and was cut almost square and finished with point lace. Long tulle sleeves extended to the gloveless hands and a white velvet court train depended from the shoulders, being held with pearl clasps. Her full tulle veil was brought in a flat cap over her coiffure and orange flower buds edged it. She carried Farleyense ferns and white orchids with a few lilies of the valley and wore a string of pearls, the gift of her mother.

She had only one attendant, little Miss Nancy Heckscher, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Maurice Heckscher, who was garbed in an embroidered white net frock with a blue yoke, topped by a white straw poke bonnet having old time pink roses banded about it. She carried a tiny basket filled with mignon roses.

Mr. Parks had W. Ledyard Mitchell, one of his Yale classmates, for his best man. There were ten ushers who were James Cox Brady, who married the Lady Victoria Percy last year; Edward W. Ciuccas, G. Maurice Heckscher, D. Raymond Noyes, Arthur P. McKinstry, and Gordon W. Abbott, all of New York; Fayette Brown of Cleveland, Ohio; George S. Munson of Philadelphia, Justice Wilson of Toledo, Ohio, and Daniel Boles of Scranton, Penn.

A small reception followed at the residence of the bride's parents, 777 Madison Avenue, to which none except relatives and a very few close friends were asked.

Mr. Parks and his bride have gone to Canada and will go by way of the Canadian Pacific through the Rockies and on to the Pacific Slope, where they will spend some time. They have not decided on their future residence here. The engagement was announced last July. Mr. Parks is a Yale graduate, a member of Squadron A, and the Huguenot Society, and is a member of the law firm of Parks, McKinstry, and Taft.

BRIDE'S FATHER OFFICIATES.

Miss Elizabeth C. Price Married to Roland Preston Singer.

The wedding of Miss Elizabeth C. Price, daughter of the Rev. Dr. J. E. Price, pastor of the Washington Heights Methodist Episcopal Church, to Roland Preston Singer, took place last evening at 8:30 at the Washington Heights Methodist Church. The ceremony was performed by the bride's father, assisted by the Rev. Dr. Allan MacRossie, District Superintendent of the Methodist Conference of New York City. The ceremony was followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride, whose brother, Carl F. Price, gave her in marriage, was attended by Miss Lillian E. Crawford as maid of honor. There were also two little flower girls, the Misses Marjorie Ware of Scranton, Penn., and Betty Middleton of this city, and William Weller, son of Assistant District Attorney Royal H. Weller, was the ring bearer.

Harold E. Weeks acted as best man. The ushers were A. Ray Rohrer of Fresno, Cal.; Howard F. Ashley, Millard N. Roberts, and Adgar A. Sleight.

After a short honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Singer will reside in Philadelphia.

WED BY BISHOP MUNDELEIN.

T. J. Skuse, Deputy Naval Officer, Marries Miss O'Connor.

Miss Anne Marie O'Connor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh B. O'Connor of Bay Ridge, Brooklyn, and Thomas J. Skuse, Controller and Special Deputy Naval Officer of the Port of New York, were married yesterday afternoon at the Queen of All Saints' Church, Brooklyn. The officiating clergyman was the Right Rev. Bishop Mundelein, who was assisted by Mgr. Duffy, the Rev. Peter Leaher, the Rev. Thomas E. Carroll, the Rev. John S. Grasser, and the Rev. Charles Reilly.

Mr. and Mrs. Skuse have gone on a honeymoon tour of the South and will live in Brooklyn on their return.

MISS SANDS'S BRIDAL PARTY.

Her Marriage to John M. P. Thatcher to Take Place on Nov. 17.

Miss Katharine S. Sands, whose marriage to John M. P. Thatcher, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Thatcher of Somerset, Ky., will take place on Wednesday, Nov. 17, in the Chapel of St. Bartholomew's Church, will have four attendants. They are to be the Misses Vera A. H. Cravath, Elizabeth P. Thatcher, a sister of Mr. Thatcher; Alice A. Tripp, and Mrs. William S. Thatcher, (Miss Cornelia De Lancey Cammann.)

Mr. Thatcher will have as ushers Edward V. V. Sands, a brother of the bride; Douglas M. Moffat, Karl T. Frederick, J. Hampden Dougherty, Walter S. Gifford, and D. Chester Noyes. His best man is to be Robert T. Swaine.

The reception, which is to be held at the residence of the bride's parents, Dr. Robert A. Sands and Mrs. Sands, 101 East Thirty-ninth Street, will be confined to the relatives and a few close friends.

MARRIED AT SHERRY'S.

Miss Gertrude F. Schwartz Weds J. W. Strauss—The Attendants.

The marriage of Miss Gertrude F. Schwartz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Schwartz of 924 West End Avenue, to J. W. Strauss of this city, took place at 6:30 last evening at Sherry's. The Rev. Dr. Rudolph Grossman officiated.

The bride wore a gown of silver cloth and tulle embroidered in pearls. Her veil of tulle was caught up with a band of pearls and she carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley. Her sister, Mrs. Leon Levinsky, acted as matron of honor.

Mr. Strauss had as best man J. Lax, and the ushers were Leon Levinsky, Sidney Schwartz, Hugo Baer, Henry Miller, William Schwartz, Samuel Sprinz, Max Strauss, and A. Appel. The ceremony was followed by a reception and dance. After a trip through the South Mr. and Mrs. Strauss will make their home in this city.

Passengers from Liverpool.

Among the passengers arriving yesterday from Liverpool on the Tuscania were:

Mr. and Mrs. A. Bryan, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Canney, Miss Helen E. Cogar, Clifford Corbridge, Robert Farnworth, Lieutenant A. B. Ford, W. Guthrie, J. A. Henderson, J. E. Jackson, Dr. William Martin, Lionel H. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Sharp, Jr., Kenneth Murchison, G. L. Murray, and Miss M. Stanley.

FORMER TIMES MAN KILLED IN ACTION

Rawlinson Shot Through Heart at Battle of Vermelles—Had Won Promotion by Bravery.

Word was received here yesterday of the death near Vermelles, France, of Robert Rawlinson, a young Englishman, who came to America three years ago to study American business methods and who worked in the advertising department of THE NEW YORK TIMES from October, 1912, to August, 1914. He returned to England shortly after the outbreak of the war to fight for his country, and he was killed in action at the beginning of the battle between the Germans and the Allies at Vermelles in the latter part of September.

Rawlinson was only 21 years old at the time of his death. Despite the fact that he had had no military training before the outbreak of the war, he had distinguished himself on several occasions at the front, and had been made a Second Lieutenant of the Third Border Regiment. He was attached to the Second Border Regiment when he was killed, having been made a special messenger on account of his coolness under fire, according to a letter to his father from the Adjutant of the regiment. A month before his death he was recommended to headquarters for a decoration for gallantry in saving wounded soldiers under heavy shell fire.

The young man, who came to America in September, 1913, began work in THE TIMES office on Oct. 7. He was the son of an English railroad man, J. B. Rawlinson. While here he made his home at the Garden City Hotel on Long Island. It was his expectation to gain experience and business knowledge by working in several of the most important lines of business in this country, after which, his friends here understood, he expected to return to England and enter business for himself. After leaving THE TIMES and immediately before returning to England to enter the front, he worked in Wall Street for a short time to gain experience in the banking field.

While on THE TIMES Rawlinson made a specialty of statistical work. He also spent some time in the credit branch of the department in which he was employed so that he might become thoroughly grounded in credit systems. He made friends rapidly.

The first news of his death was received in the form of a letter from his father to a friend here. The letter read:

Maidencombe, Teignmouth,
S. Devon, Oct. 9, 1915.

Dear ——: You will be very sorry, indeed, to hear that poor Robbie was killed in action near Vermelles on Sept. 25 at the very beginning of the big battle. The Adjutant of his regiment writes that Robbie had been specially chosen by the Colonel to act as a communication between the Dorsets, who led the attack, and the Borders, Rob's regiment, "because of his gallantry and coolness under fire." Robbie was instantly killed by a rifle bullet through the heart before the first line German trenches were reached. Only about a month ago Robbie was recommended to headquarters for a decoration for gallantry in saving wounded under very heavy shell fire. I am hoping he may be awarded the D. S. O. at least.

Will you please be so good as to tell the sad news to his friends in U. S. A. His death has been an awful blow to all of us. As a lad I was proud of him for his good looks, &c. Now I am proud of him that he did not shirk risking his life for his country and for civilization. He has given his life, poor lad, and I pray that his sacrifice may not be in vain. Yours sincerely,

J. B. RAWLINSON.

Rawlinson was an only son. Before coming to America he lived with his parents at Graythwaite, Old Hall, Lancashire, England. He received his commission as a Second Lieutenant in February last.

In a letter to THE TIMES, written shortly before his death, Rawlinson described life in the trenches in France. He said that the soldiers dreaded the uncertain high explosive shells far more than the steady fire of an onslaught, and that it was not the long stretches of restless waiting in the trenches that frayed the men's nerves, but the constant expectancy of the sharp command to "go over the top" for a sudden attack.

AVIATOR REIGRER KILLED.

German World's Record Holder Fell, with Companion, in Aeroplane.

GENEVA, Oct. 26.—Word has reached here from Basle of the death of the German aviator Reigrer, who is said to have established a world's record by flying with passengers to an altitude of 5,500 meters, (nearly 3½ miles.)

Reigrer and his companion, Captain Mogan, were killed by the fall of their aeroplane.

Miss Lavelle a Bride Today.

The marriage of Miss Rosemary Lavelle, daughter of Peter J. Lavelle, a member of the Board of Education, and Mrs. Lavelle of 685 East 170th Street, and William Dougherty of Crotona Park North will be solemnized this morning at 10 o'clock in the Church of St. Thomas Aquinas, in the Bronx.

Mgr. Michael Lavelle, rector of St. Patrick's Cathedral and an uncle of the bride, will perform the ceremony, assisted by the Rev. Francis A. Barry. The Rev. William Dougherty, a cousin of the bridegroom, is to celebrate the nuptial mass.

To the Orient on Their Honeymoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald C. Lee, who were married on Saturday at the home of the bride's uncle, William T. Day, at Elizabeth, N. J., have left on a trip to the Orient to spend their honeymoon and will not return until January.

Mrs. Lee, who is a daughter of Miss Louise Day Putnam, daughter of Mrs. Henry Rice Putnam of 39 West Sixty-seventh Street and Pasadena, Cal. Her maternal grandfather was William Foster Day, a member of the Legislature of New Jersey.

Mr. Lee is a member of the Sleepy Hollow and Squadron A clubs and is a descendant of the Middlesex branch of the Lee family in Virginia. Their engagement was announced in September.

ENGLANDER—SILVERSON.

The marriage of Miss Pearl Silverson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Silverson of 120 West Seventy-first Street, and Paul Englander took place yesterday noon at the Hotel McAlpin. The Rev. Aaron Eiseman performed the ceremony.

SOCIAL NOTES.

Miss Luisita Leland of 563 Park Avenue is giving a dinner of thirty covers to this year's débutantes at the Tuxedo Club on Saturday in honor of Miss Murie' Oakes and Miss Madeleine Carey, who are to make their débuts this season.

The wedding of Miss Diantha Fitch, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Allen Fitch, and Connor Lawrence, son of Frank R. Lawrence, will take place this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in St. Bartholomew's Church. A reception will follow at the home of the bride's parents, 38 West Fifty-sixth Street.

Mrs. James M. Lawton has returned from her place in the Adirondacks to her home at 37 Fifth Avenue.

The Brazilian Ambassador and Mme. da Gama are at Ritz-Carlton for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Sterling, who have been at their country home at Mammaroneck, will open their town house, 42 East Seventy-second Street, on Friday.

Governor Robert L. Beeckman and Mrs. Beeckman of Rhode Island arrived at the French Lick Springs, French Lick, Ind., this week in their private car, having among their guests Mrs. George McPadden of Philadelphia, and Lawrence Waterbury and E. A. McCullough of New York.

THE SHOP OF A THOUSAND BLOUSES
SAMPLE SUITS, COATS & DRESSES, SPECIALLY PRICED for women of limited income. For trimmed Models; Sizes, 16, 36 and 38. Startling Values. MAISON DE LUXE, Broadway & 32d St.

LATEST WAR PLAY IS A QUEER FARCE

"Sherman Was Right" Is Produced at the Fulton Theatre.

WRITTEN BY FRANK MANDEL

Shoes and Ships and Spies and a Wooden Leg All Jumbled Together.

SHERMAN WAS RIGHT, a farce in three acts, by Frank Mendel. Fulton Theatre.

Miss Held	Susanne Willa
Office Boy	Frank Gerbach
Spencer Craig	Ernest Consart
Adriene von Rosky	Jean Shelby
Robert Caldwell	Hale Hamilton
Johann Schmitt	Martin L. Alsop
Otto Naegel	Sam Sidman
Anita Ritter	Regine Wallace
Augustine Ritter	Dorothy Dorr
Estelle Murphy	George Laurence
Captain Hartwig	Dodson Mitchell
First Officer	Ben Hendricks, Jr.

And still the war plays come. The fourth in a still young season was interpreted by a leather-lunged company for the edification of the polite but baffled audience that assembled last evening in the Fulton Theatre. It is called "Sherman Was Right," it is presented by H. H. Frazee, and the program fastens the authorship on Frank Mandel.

This newest in a long succession of war plays is not, like "Moloch," a serious drama, seeking sincerely to paint an impressive picture of the misery and waste of war. It is not, like "Under Fire," a military melodrama played jauntily to the strains of martial music. For "Sherman Was Right" is just a rattle-pated farce that asks only for your easy laughter. Mr. Mandel's piece tries simply to be amusing, and the only fault you can possibly find with it lies in that fact that it is not particularly successful in that endeavor.

It is by no means certain that abundant material for farce cannot be found in the troublous times of the last fifteen months. Indeed, "The Man Who Stayed at Home" is the only war play that has pleased London, and over there it was played frankly and genially as farce. A vague notion that, after all, this was the right way to go about it must have occurred to more than one playwright when he heard his most mysterious spy greeted with titters by the incorrigible playgoer, and surely there is the stuff for an amusing comedy in the comic aspects of the frustrated propagandist in this country. There was nothing the matter, then, with Mr. Mandel's idea, but his elaboration of it is clumsy and tedious. The complaint against "Sherman Was Right" is not that it is a farce, but that it is a dull farce. Manager Frazee has given us some entertaining plays in the last few seasons, but this, it must be sorrowfully admitted, is not one of them.

"Somewhere in France" has become a phrase to conjure with, but there is the touch of novelty to "somewhere in the Atlantic." That is where Mr. Mandel has cast the lines of his characters. They sail the ocean blue, and their saucy ship's the "Prince Karl," according to the program. This is a converted cruiser doing the unpleasant business of the Kaiser on the ocean in the fleeting weeks of August, 1914. On board are collected, by the beginning of Act II., sundry confiscated passengers from several neutral ships, including all the folk you meet in the mail. Mr. Kruse in Act I. Among them are three men, each of whom has been known at one time or another by the strange, haunting, and tell-tale name of Johann Schmitt. When it is known that the Imperial Government is scouring the seas for a deserter by that name, you can imagine the complications.

It would be difficult to describe them all in a mere column. You might get some notion from an incident or so. There is the one of the elegant pair of patent leather shoes found in the stateroom of the beautiful Russian lady-spy from the Wilhelmstrasse, the street the war plays made famous. They are so palpably masculine that several trembling suspects are forced by the Captain to try them on, like so many indignant Cinderellas. Then there is the incident of the shop-girl who is excusably alarmed for fear it will be discovered that the name of Johann Schmitt had been carved by her husband on her wooden leg. Be sure the play makes the most of the exquisite humors of this wooden leg. But, after all, these are mere inadequate samples.

"Sherman Was Right" speeds on its ways with that fine, careless disregard for the probabilities which the younger playwrights, even of farce-at its wildest, are finding costly sometimes, as it is written and played in the approved rapid-fire method, and the players all do their best. Hale Hamilton, as the much beset hero, works like a Trojan. Jean Shelby acquits herself creditably as the loving secret service lady, and Martin L. Alsop helps materially.

Sam Sidman, playing very much à la Lew Fields with the loud pedal on, found great favor with last night's audience. Mr. Sidman made more noise than any of his colleagues, which was quite a feat, for they all roared considerably. Indeed, they all behaved precisely as though they had been directed, on pain of dismissal, to wake up the veteran dramatic critic who was dozing so happily during the first act.

Julie Opp Suffers a Breakdown.

Mrs. William Faversham, known on the stage as Julie Opp, wife of the actor, was said yesterday to have suffered a nervous breakdown and to be confined to her home, 213 East Seventeenth Street, with two physicians in attendance. She returned to the stage on Oct. 1 in Syracuse, appearing with her husband in "The Hawk."

At the end of its Chicago engagement she left the company and hurried here, arriving in New York last Thursday. Mrs. Opp, her mother, said last night that she was quite ill, but that the specialists in charge of the case believed that she was improving.

Lillian Russell Coming to Palace.

Lillian Russell will return to the stage next week, when she will appear at the Palace Theatre in a repertoire of songs. This will be the first time Miss Russell, who in private life is Mrs. Alexander Moore, wife of a Pittsburgh editor, has been on the stage since her appearance in the Weberfields revival several years ago. It is said that she is in such good voice she has written George Bernard Shaw and made him an offer to write the book of a light opera for her use. If Mr. Shaw accepts, Miss Russell will try to get Franz Lehar to compose the score.

Andrew Ferrari, Chemist, Dies.

HARTFORD, Conn. Oct. 26.—Andrew Ferrari, a chemist, noted for his research work in connection with glass manufacture, died at his home here tonight, aged 76. For thirty-five years he conducted important experimental work in various New Jersey laboratories, and was regarded as one of the leading authorities on glass in this country.

DIAMONDS
The finer grades only.
SOLITAIRE RINGS
$50 to $1800
Theodore A. Kohn & Son
JEWELLERS
321 Fifth Avenue
at 32nd Street

RELIEF SOCIETY EXPANDS.

Governor Walsh Helps to Organize a Massachusetts Branch.

The formation of a Massachusetts Branch by the Special Relief Society, which was founded almost a year ago by prominent New York women to further a campaign among women for national preparedness, was announced yesterday at the headquarters of the society, 597 Fifth Avenue, by the President, Mrs. William Alexander.

Mrs. Alexander has just returned from Boston, where she conferred with Governor Walsh and Mrs. Barrett Wendell of Boston. The Governor appointed a general committee for the organization of the branch, which included Mesdames Larz Anderson, John T. Bottomley, Walter C. Bayliles, James M. Curley, A. Laurence Lowell, George von L. Meyer, Nathaniel Thayer, Bayard Thayer, Curtis Guild, Paul Revere Frothingham, F. L. Higginson, W. F. Fitzgerald, G. L. Kittredge, R. M. Saltonstall, Horatio N. Slater, James J. Phelan, Roger Wolcott, and Miss Alice Stone Blackwell.

Governor Walsh said the society would supplement the work of a committee of 100 prominent men of Massachusetts for preparedness, and would be permanent.

"It is the intention of this organization," he said, "to undertake to distribute cards to be signed by voters requesting Congressmen to vote for an adequate national preparedness, to arrange meetings at women's clubs, and wherever else possible to promote the establishment of military training in public and private schools."

Professor J. Henry Kappes.

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—Professor J. Henry Kappes, an authority on music, died at the home of a son in Evanston, a suburb, last night at the age of 91 years. Professor Kappes was born in Worms, Germany, and while a student at the University of Heidelberg became a leader in the secret society pledged to unify Germany. As a result he was imprisoned, but escaped to France, whence he sailed for America in 1848. He was a pupil of Felix Mendelssohn and was intimately associated with many great composers.

Obituary Notes.

HORACE MANN TABER, for many years in business in this city, died yesterday at his home in Washington, D. C., in his sixty-seventh year. He went to Washington last week from Bailey Island, Me., where he had been spending the Summer.

RICHARD L. SALISBURY, for many years prominent in National Guard circles, died on Sunday at his home, 404 West 147th Street, in his seventy-fifth year. He was born here, and in 1861 went to the civil war with the Seventh Regiment.

HENRY PREW, one of the founders of the Earle & Prew Company, now a part of the Adams Express Company, died suddenly of heart disease at his home in Providence, R. I., yesterday. He was 77 years of age.

WALTER E. DOWNING, general Eastern agent of the Illinois Central Railroad, died on Monday at a private hospital here. He was 52 years old, and lived at 365 West Twenty-third Street. Mr. Downing had been with the railroad for thirty-one years.

Colonel O. S. STORRS, one of the founders of the Juvenile Court of Denver, Colo., died on Sunday at his home there, in his seventy-sixth year. His wife and son, Lucius S. Storrs, Vice President of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, survive him.

ALBERT H. LOVETT, a member of the staff of The Washington Post, died on Oct. 24 in his rooms at the Oxford Hotel, Washington, from chronic nephritis, for a time a member of the staff of THE NEW YORK TIMES. Mr. Lovett was born forty-five years ago in Los Angeles, where his father was a banker and real estate operator.

ABRAHAM VAN BRUNT BUSH, formerly master mechanic and draughtsman for the Waterbury Rope Company, died on Sunday at his home, 285 Seventh Avenue, Brooklyn, in his eighty-seventh year.

FRANK M. ZEIGLER, a resident of Long Island City for more than twenty years, died recently at his home there, in his fiftieth year. He was a member of the Long Island City Liederkranz, the Exempt Firemen's Association, and of the Masons.

FREDERICK W. KRUSE, known for many years as "The Honey Grower of Bloomingdale," died on Sunday at his home, 201 West Ninety-first Street, in his eightieth year. During the early sixties he opened a little store on what was then known as the Bloomingdale Road, on the south side of 110th Street. He was also at one time the Postmaster of the Village of Bloomingdale, and all those living between Ninety-sixth Street and Manhattanville came to his store to get their mail. Mr. Kruse retired twenty years ago.

WALTER BURLEIGH CLARK, one of the best known fish merchants of Brooklyn, for forty years in business on Fulton Street, near Bedford Avenue, died on Sunday at his home, 665 East Twenty-second Street, Flatbush, aged 63 years. He was a native of London, England, and a member of Fulton Council, Royal Arcanum.

Mrs. JANE HEYWARD GOODENOUGH, 81 years old, widow of Robert Goodenough, is dead at her home, 26 St. James Place, Brooklyn, leaving three daughters. Mrs. Goodenough was born in Devonshire, England, and had been a resident of Brooklyn for half a century.

MICHAEL COOPERMAN, 52 years old, active in Democratic politics in the Second Assembly District of Brooklyn, died on Monday at his home, 123 Bridge Street, that borough, from paralysis. He left a widow.

Mrs. EMMELINE ELIZABETH NOSTRAND, whose great-great-grandfather, Roger Williams, came over on the Pilgrim ship Mayflower, is dead at her home, 870 East Fourteenth Street, Flatbush, from pneumonia. Mrs. Nostrand was 81 years old and the widow of Nathaniel Nostrand, for many years a smith of Jamaica and Brooklyn. She was for forty-five years a member of the Hanson Place Baptist Church and is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Florence H. Austin.

Mrs. AMELIA HARTZHEIM AMRATH, widow of Joseph Amrath, and for a number of years active in the work of the Women's Branch Alliance of the Second Unitarian Church, died at her home, 90 East Eighteenth Street, Bayonne, N. J., on Sunday, aged 74 years.

JOSEPH E. REYDEL, well known as a promoter of carnivals and the manager of the Long Island Baseball Club, died on Monday at his home, 451 Humboldt Street, Brooklyn. Mr. Reydel was a member of St. Cecilia's Day Association, Exempt Firemen's Relief Association of Columbus; the Twentieth Assembly District Democratic Club, and the Holy Name Society of St. Cecilia's R. C. Church. He was 59 years old and left a widow and a son.

Mrs. MARY DAVIS TAYLOR, 83 years old, widow of Stephen C. Taylor and one of the oldest members of the Lafayette Avenue Presbyterian Church, died from pneumonia on Monday at her home, 154 Lafayette Avenue, Brooklyn. She had been a resident of that borough for seventy years, and had lived for sixty years in the house

N. Y. U. PROTESTS FOOTBALL PLAYER BRICKLEY OF TRINITY TEAM—DAY'S GRIDIRON DRILLS

N. Y. U. ASKS TRINITY TO WITHDRAW 'PRO'

Formal Protest Against Hartford Team Playing Brickley Here Tuesday.

Following the course of action adopted by Williams College last week, New York University, it was announced yesterday by athletic authorities, has entered a formal protest to the athletic officials of Trinity College with regard to the alleged ineligibility of George Brickley as a member of its football team.

The communication, which was addressed to the Chairman of the Faculty Committee on Athletics of Trinity College, calls attention to the long existing athletic relations between the two institutions, for whom it has been the custom for many years to meet in an annual gridiron contest on election day in this city.

The Violet, as the next team on Trinity's schedule, while not threatening anything to the latter for the violation of the intercollegiate rule which forbids a recognized institution from playing a man generally conceded to be of professional standing, calls attention to the fact that its Faculty has at all times strictly enforced this rule and has frequently debarred men from participating in various sports represented at the Heights because of ineligibility.

The letter to the Trinity authorities draws attention also to the unequitable basis upon which the game on Election Day will be played, providing the professional men are retained on one team and not permitted in the line-up of the other. The request has further been made to Trinity that if any men have been playing on its eleven who for any reason are ineligible according to the regulations which interpret the professional status of a player they be withdrawn before the Violet's contest with the Trinity eleven on Tuesday. The letter was signed by Dr. Theodore F. Jones, Chairman of the Committee on Student Organizations, and Martin J. White, who is the student First Vice President of the Athletic Association.

HARVARD GAME IMPROVES.

Eleven Gets Down to Real Work and a Brace Is Apparent.

Special to The New York Times.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 26.—The Harvard football men got down to hard work again this afternoon. It was thought inadvisable to send many of the players who went through the Cornell game into the line-up, but the regulars, with the exception of Gilman, all were on the field in playing clothes and had a long drill in signals and new plays. The line-up was important, as it was that which will go into the Princeton game next week. Caner at right tackle was the only substitute.

For several weeks the coaches have been planning to use Mosely Taylor at guard, but could not do so until they were sure that the services of Wallace, last year's centre rush, would be available. Wallace's work in the Cornell game made him a fixture in his old place, and today Cowan was withdrawn from right guard on the 'Varsity team, and Taylor was shifted from centre to guard. In the line-up, however, Dadmun was moved from the left to the right wing, Taylor being flanked by Person and Soucy and Dadmun by Caner and Harte. Willcox has the call over Watson for quarter back, but there is yet considerable doubt as to who will be the first string man. Watson is a better field general.

In the backfield Enwright took his old place with Mahan and King as half backs. Enwright will bolster up Harvard's backfield strength both on attack and defense at least 35 per cent., and things should move fast provided he is able to keep in trim for the remainder of the season. McKinlock is not improving rapidly, and is still unable to get up much speed.

The drive today was for the substitutes against the scrubs. Taylor, Cowan, and Caner, with Willcox, all were in this, and Enwright showed that he could stand his share of the hard work, running in the backfield for half an hour.

The "subs" were full of ginger, scoring three touchdowns on hard line plays, and Robinson making a field goal from the thirty-yard line. The substitutes also stopped the second team's attack. Football looked better today than for a long time, and the Crimson's good spirits are returning fast. Gilman did not get into football clothes, and he will not be used much this week. Horween again showed power as a line breaker, but his defense was still very poor and he was slow in picking up interference. There was little open play this afternoon, although one forward pass from Robinson to Curtis was completed for a good gain. The backfield is improving on defense under the coaching of Bradlee of last year's team.

Amherst "Prepping" for Dartmouth.

Special to The New York Times.

AMHERST, Mass., Oct. 26.—After a day's rest the Amherst eleven settled down to work this afternoon for the Dartmouth game, the hardest of the season. As in previous years, when the Amherst team has held Dartmouth in the first half, only to give way before a fresh lineup, the lack of substitutes is felt. The scrubs held the ball during the first half of the long scrimmage and made gain after gain through the 'Varsity line before the attack was solved. With the first eleven in possession of the ball, line plunges by Ashley and Knowlton, aided back from the line, proved big ground gainers. "Billy" Washburn was tried at end and handled Knowlton's forward passes in good style. Knowlton and Tow practiced drop kicking and showed improvement in form. After scrimmage there was signal practice for the first eleven until long after dark.

W. & J. Won't Play Rutgers Here.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Penn., Oct. 26.—Another post-season clash at the Polo Grounds in New York between Washington and Jefferson College and Rutgers was proposed by Foster Sanford, head coach of Rutgers, when Washington and Jefferson was in New York on its trip there, but the proposition was turned down by R. M. Murphy, the local manager. As a result of Washington and Jefferson's success again this year a tempting financial offer was made by Sanford. The matter was put up to Coach Folwell and he decided that the campaign for his men would be severe enough, and as no additional honors could be won by playing Rutgers, he did not think it advisable to play the game.

VAUGHN GETS LINE ON SUBS.

Fordham Coach Wants Good Second-String Men for Tuesday's Game.

Coach Vaughn decided yesterday to get a good line on the Fordham substitute material he may use if Georgetown proves the husky football opponent it promises to be next Tuesday. As a result he rearranged the whole team yesterday, Captain Dunn at quarter back, Cartwell at left half, and Butler at right half, together with Bill May, the right tackle, being the only regulars in the line-up. Most of the other 'Varsity players were on hand, but they were kept busy following the scrimmage and picking out the weaknesses of their own substitutes.

The new men in the line-up yesterday were McGuire and Hall at the ends, Dougherty at right guard, Delehanty at centre, and Donnelly in the back field. Delehanty is the only one of these players who has appeared in a 'Varsity game this Fall. In addition, Kendricks, whose aggressive work Saturday piled up one Holy Cross rush after another, was shifted to right tackle, changing places with Dave Mulcahy, who played guard. Yesterday was the first time Dougherty has appeared in uniform this season. He was regular guard last year, but parental objections kept him out of moleskins until yesterday.

After giving the newcomers a chance to get used to their plans, Coach Vaughn ordered a scrimmage with the "Prep," and for over an hour the scrub players tried to show their right to regular places. The presence of the 'Varsity backs proved a big aid, and for the first time this year the Prep tasted defeat by the second-string men. Captain Dunn scored the two winning touchdowns. In the last half hour Treanor, Morcaldi, Kane, Benson and Yule went into the line-up, and tried some plays against the "Prep." The second of the scheduled practice games with New York University will be played at Fordham today.

Practice Resumed at N. Y. U.

New York University resumed its daily football practice yesterday, after a day of inactivity for the entire squad, and Coach Reilley devoted much attention to a general criticism of the playing of the 'Varsity as in the game against Haverford on Saturday. Although preparations had been made for a hard scrimmage against Columbia, these plans were changed at the last moment, and the Violet eleven will not tackle the Blue and White until Friday. Instead, the regular team had a brisk signal drill and some work against the scrub eleven. After Saturday's experience, when Cann, who did the punting for the New York players, had most of his kicks blocked by the Pennsylvanians charging through the line, the coaches decided to give the regular players some difficult work along these lines. Placing the second selection in position, Coach Reilley gave the 'Varsity a hard workout in supporting Cann in getting off his long spirals. This work was followed by signal rehearsal. Oiswang, the veteran quarter back, returned to his customary position yesterday, although it is not certain that he will be put there permanently in place of "Tom" Manly, the freshman, who has been directing the attack of the Violet since the beginning of the season. McCullough, another erstwhile regular, also appeared in his old position at right end, where Egan has been playing a consistently good game. The latter alteration, however, was made because Egan is temporarily out of practice owing to a slight injury received in the Haverford game. It is not expected that this will keep him out of the game long, however, and even yesterday he was on the field following the signal work.

Lehigh Works Out Passing Game.

Special to The New York Times.

SOUTH BETHLEHEM, Penn., Oct. 26.—Four complete sets of backfield men and as many pairs of ends practiced an hour and a half at Lehigh University today on forward pass formations. The entire afternoon was devoted to the lateral pass, first in signals and then in a semi-scrimmage. The results were fair. The day proved too warm for a hard scrimmage. Cahall, who was used most of the time, did good work in shooting the forward pass and showed considerable improvement speeding up the team. Maguinness was again at full back, although Halsted was out in uniform, but only had limbering up work. Heuer, the freshman, was advanced to left half back and did good work. Twombly was shifted from quarter back to half back, as was also Hallowell. Both show excellent prospects in their new positions, Twombly being one of the fastest men on the field and Hallowell exhibiting much ability in receiving the forward pass. Cahall was in great drop-kicking form this afternoon, his best effort being one of fifty-one yards.

Stevens Team Battered Up.

Stevens Tech. 'Varsity had a long workout yesterday, and over half the positions were filled by substitutes, owing to the many injuries received in the game last Saturday. The practice consisted mainly of falling on the ball and tackling the dummy, although a short scrimmage was held before dark, and the scrubs succeeded in scoring on the first team once. Coach Rodgers was dissatisfied with the showing the team made last week, and is driving hard for the Columbia game on Election Day. The Manhattan team is expected to give Stevens its most severe test.

Long Session for Lafayette.

Special to The New York Times.

EASTON, Penn., Oct. 26.—Using a ball painted white Coach Crowell kept his 'Varsity and scrub teams practicing until long after darkness came tonight. There was a brief intermission for supper, and then the team went at it again in a drill in the formations in the gymnasium. To equalize the strength, the 'Varsity backfield played behind the scrub, and vice versa. The scrub team scored two touchdowns on the 'Varsity and defeated them. The spirit of the practice was splendid, and the team is gaining in confidence as it draws nearer to the battle with Pennsylvania. Captain Luhr returned to practice. Livesey played the guard position which Gaynor worked in yesterday. Diamond and Williams played hard in the scrub backfield.

Rutgers Works at Full Speed.

Special to The New York Times.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Oct. 26.—Hard work charactorized the practice of the Rutgers football team this afternoon. Coach Sanford drove the regulars at full speed in a thirty-minute scrimmage with the scrubs. The second team tried some of the Springfield Y. M. C. A. College plays, but made only slight gains. Several of the first team players were absent because of classes, but the practice was satisfactory. Sanford expects a hard game with Springfield at Newark on Saturday, and is planning several new plays to spring on the Y. M. C. A. collegians.

Dartmouth Still Battered Up.

Special to The New York Times.

HANOVER, N. H., Oct. 26.—Dartmouth's eleven spent today going over the mistakes in Saturday's game at Princeton and had an hour of signal practice. The squad is still a little stiff and bruised and the work was light. Coach Cavanaugh impressed on the men that the important end of the schedule was ahead and not to be too greatly discouraged as there was yet plenty of chance to make up for this one defeat.

YALE IN NO MOOD FOR HARD WORK

Elis Have Not Fully Recovered from Exhaustion of W. and J. Game.

Special to The New York Times.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 26.—Worked almost to exhaustion in the Washington and Jefferson game Saturday, the Yale eleven omitted scrimmage practice today and the coaches said tonight that it is likely that it would be skipped again tomorrow. If there is any attempt to play real football before the Colgate game next Saturday it will be a short but sharp scrimmage encounter on Thursday afternoon.

There was some encouragement to the situation today when "Cupid" Black and "Big Dick" Kent resumed their positions as guards and Baldridge entered the line-up, although he was placed on the second team. All three will get assignments in Saturday's game. As Carl White returned to centre yesterday, four first-string players, who were not available against Washington and Jefferson, will face Colgate.

In the search for weight in the rush line and back field a general shake-up was ordered. Paul Wiedeman, who has played tackle, has displaced Allen at right end, and Jim Sheldon, the 'Varsity oarsman, who has been at guard, was today moved out to right tackle, displacing Gates. With Kent and Black in the guard positions and White at centre the rush line averaged eight pounds more individually than on last Saturday. Carrying out their policy of adding weight to the back field, Schmidt, the former tackle, and "Pie" Way, the former centre, were tried as half backs, Way's punting being keenly watched by Dr. Bull. Maurice Smith, the wrestler, was assigned to "Chub" Sheldon's berth at left tackle. Sheldon will be unable to play next Saturday because of the injury to his shoulder, and either Smith, Baldridge, or Schmidt will be selected. Both Joe Neville and Kirksmith were transferred to the second eleven, Higginbotham and "Essie" Waite getting their half back positions. Mike Sweeney, the Hill School coach, was on the side lines. The revised lineup, which will be used with little change in the game against Colgate, was:

Left end, Moseley; left tackle, Smith; left guard, Black; centre, White; right guard, Kent; right tackle, Jim Sheldon; right end, Wiedeman; quarter back, Captain Wilson; left half back, Waite; right half back, Higginbotham; full back, Scovil.

Harry Legore tonight denied that he would begin playing professional football next Sunday with the Humphrey eleven of New Haven. Legore says that he will neither play Sunday nor professional football.

At the offices of the Yale Football Association it was said that the applications for the Yale-Princeton tickets amount to about 40,000. As about 12,000 will go to Princeton supporters the public sale will throw about 7,000 remaining tickets on the market, and they will probably be sold in New Haven instead of in New York or Boston.

PLAN TO GET CHEAP FARE.

Dartmouth Boys to Go to Amherst as Caretakers of Pigs.

Special to The New York Times.

HANOVER, N. H., Oct. 26.—Dartmouth collegians have solved the problem that has balked Pennsylvania State College. The college desires cheap travel to the Amherst game. The Pennsylvanians hit upon the idea of doing their traveling as livestock, but the Interstate Commerce Commission ruled that "humans" were not "livestock," but they failed to limit the number of caretakers for the "livestock."

The Dartmouth boys have purchased several pigs and will journey to Amherst to care for them. One pig will have a whole car full of attendants, each of whom is paying fifty cents for the round trip.

Army Backs Fumble Ball.

Special to The New York Times.

WEST POINT, N. Y., Oct. 26.—The 'Varsity eleven was sent into the riding hall tonight to work on the tan bark with a strong scrub combination. There was considerable loose handling of the ball by the backs, which brought forth criticism from the coaches, and the half hour's scrimmage resulted in no score. The mentors were determined to use all the cripples during the practice, and everybody except Oliphant got into play at some stage of the game. The injured men are all back. Coach Graves devoted a lot of time to the linemen, who are being driven at top speed. Neyland's work at end improves with each drill, and he is gradually getting into the form which made him such a high-class wing man last year, when he worked with Merrillat. He takes the pass beautifully, and his tackling is hard and sure. Redfield and Britton are fighting it out at the other side of the line for the wing position. Both were used there today. Hudnut, too, is looming up prominently, and is being used often enough on the 'Varsity to warrant the belief that the coaches are pleased with his work. Trainer Harry Tuthill arrived home from New Haven today, where he has been putting in a few days with Trainer Mack of the Yale team, observing Yale's equipment and methods of training. Tuthill made a similar visit to Harvard last year.

Indians Back to Rudiments.

Special to The New York Times.

CARLISLE, Penn., Oct. 26.—The Carlisle Indian 'Varsity players were put through a stiff rudimentary drill this afternoon on Indian Field, after which much time was spent at signals. Forward passes were also rehearsed. The reserve and scrub elevens battled in a thirty-minute scrimmage with the 'Varsity as spectators. The 'Varsity did not scrimmage, but tomorrow will practice with the Dickinson College eleven on Indian Field. With Flood and Dickerson in the back field, the offense will be much faster than it was on Saturday and much is expected in the coming game against West Virginia Wesleyan.

PROFICIENT IN PASSING.

Middies Make Long Gains In Forward Hurling of Ball.

Special to The New York Times.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 26.—The Naval Academy football team showed in this afternoon's practice that it is acquiring real proficiency in the use of the forward pass, with which it has had little success so far this season. A large percentage of its attempts this afternoon were successful, and most of them resulted in long gains. In two cases touchdowns were scored on the play. Near the middle of the practice Westphal took a twenty-five-yard toss from Von Heimburg and crossed the line after a run of fifty yards, the gain being probably the largest made on such a play this year by the Navy team. Later, Blodgett, who was playing end, received the ball and ran forty yards for a touchdown.

The back field, which was used during most of the practice this year, is now practically settled upon unless there is an accident or a reversal of form in some position. Captain Miles, who has improved greatly in carrying the ball and in general play, seems now to be firmly fixed at quarter back. Martin and Westphal are ahead of the bunch as half backs, and Von Heimburg is an easy first choice for full back.

Williams May Play Columbia.

Negotiations to fill the open date of Nov. 20 on the Columbia football schedule are progressing rapidly, and an announcement is certain to be made within a few days. The Columbia management has sifted the number of possible opponents for this date down to less than a half dozen. All are colleges in upper New York State and New England. Williams plays its last game with Amherst on Nov. 13, and if a game can be arranged with the Blue and White on South Field for the following Saturday, it would prove the best drawing card on the Columbia schedule this season. Union and Brown are also on the list of possibilities. Hobart, Geneva, and Albright have also been discussed.

Three Blue and White players who have been on the injured list for the past week or two returned to practice yesterday and engaged in light work. They were Captain Simonds, Kornsand, basket ball player and contender for right end, and Bullwinkel, who has been regarded as a 'Varsity centre. Monroe is still unable to report on account of an injured hip, and Calder and Mansbach, who sustained slight injuries in Saturday's game, will be away for a few days more.

The workout yesterday consisted of tackling, forward passing, and a short signal drill. Coach Metcalf will not put his men through a stiff scrimmage until later in the week, when they are scheduled to play the New York University team in a practice game on Ohio Field.

Columbia Alumni Talk Football.

Football was the main topic of discussion at the annual meeting of the Alumni Association of Columbia University, which was held at the Automobile Club of America last night. Every one of the several hundred alumni present seemed to take keen delight in hearing about the eleven which defeated St. Lawrence University last Saturday. Head Coach Metcalf and Captain Francis M. Simonds, Captain of the 1915 team, spoke of the work of this eleven, which is the first that Columbia has had in ten years, and Tom Thorp, who was Captain of the 1905 'Varsity, also talked on the football situation.

Resolutions on the death of J. Howard Van Amringe, for many years Dean of the university and for fifty years a member of the Alumni Association, were read by Dr. Reginald H. Sayre.

The following officers were elected: President, Frederick Coykendall; Vice President, Morton G. Hogue; Treasurer, Lyman Rhoades; Secretary, George Brokaw Copton; members of the Standing Committee, Lucius H. Beers, Edward H. Daly, R. Daly, Harold Bagnell, and Rufus James Trimble; representatives of the association on the Board of Directors of the Alumni Federation, Frederick Coykendall and H. Banga.

Old-Time Football at Williams.

Special to The New York Times.

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Oct. 26.—Despite a wet and muddy gridiron, the Williams 'Varsity football squad went through a hard scrimmage here this afternoon on Weston Field. After a short signal workout, the first and second elevens lined up against each other. On a series of rushes the 'Varsity tore up the scrub line for first downs and advanced down the field for a touchdown with little difficulty. Throughout the practice the regulars made use of the old-time hammer-and-tongs game and attempted little of the open-style play. The scrubs were then allowed to take the ball in the middle of the gridiron and the 'Varsity played on the defensive. Repeated rushes by the second-string men failed on almost every occasion to result in any considerable gain.

MALTESE TERRIER BEST.

Yankee Snowball Wins Chief Honors at Hippodrome Bench Show.

Mrs. K. Stinzing's maltese terrier Yankee Snowball was adjudged the best dog of any breed in the show and dog parade which closed yesterday at the New York Hippodrome. Miss Elsie Janis's Chihuahua Coquette received the silver cup for the best "professional dog, or one associated with the stage." There were more than 300 dogs benched, and the exhibition was a success from every standpoint. The winners were:

Boston Terriers, Mrs. H. P. Leake's Chummy Dick; black and tans, Mrs. Kolce's Snookums; Yorkshires, Mrs. M. Thorpe's Clayton Wee; dachshund, A. R. Schmidt's Cinnamon; Chihuahuas, Mrs. Atwood's Benito; collies, Miss Mabel Wilson's Beauty; spitz, Milt Mooney's Snowball; French bulls, Mrs. Pulin's Winkie; English bulls, Thomas Grisdale's Gotham Defender; Maltese terriers, Mrs. Stinzing's Yankee Snowball; Airedales, Mrs. C. B. Holmes,s Reminiscence; German shepherd, T. B. Bell's Wolf; Pekingese, Mrs. H. A. Baxter's Tchak Arcady; Pomeranians, H. Hill's Ralta Radium; French poodles, Mrs. A. Panuska's Tiny; Japanese spaniels, Mrs. R. Harrison's Little O-Me; English toy spaniels, Mrs. A. Panuska's Royland; chow, Miss Benton's Cooley Foo; Blenheim spaniels, John Keller's Tapsey; Great Dane, Miss Christine Whitney's David.

Best dog actually engaged in the profession, Miss Elsie Janis's Coquette; puppy Pekingese, Mrs. W. H. Chamber's Cherry; Shetland collies, Miss Mattie Petelle's Lady Beauty.

Athletics at Military Show.

One of the main objects of the Military Show, which will be held at Madison Square Gardeen during the week of Nov. 15, will be to prove the worth of athletics as the best training for the soldier or sailor. With this end in view many events have been added to the program which will demonstrate the endurance and skill of the trained athlete. Rough riding, one of the most exciting events of the past shows, will play a prominent part in the nightly program. In this event the daring military athletes from Fort Myer, Va., will give an exhibition of bareback riding, and will perform other difficult feats of horsemanship. The leading amateur riders from every section of the country will also compete in special events.

TIGERS DEVELOPING POWER IN OFFENSE

'Varsity Success Only Fair, but There Is Evidence of Team Work.

Special to The New York Times.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 26.—There was a much harder day's work for the Princeton football squad today than yesterday. Coach Rush kept all the regulars with the exception of McLean and Eddy, who rested, out on the field all afternoon, and a long session of scrimmage work was indulged in.

The development of the offensive power of the team was again the objective of the coaches, and during most of the time the 'Varsity was allowed to carry the ball.

The success of the regulars was only fair, and although they gave evidence at times of an ability to work together, their general play gave little evidence of any advance over the standard of Saturday. It was the first scrimmage work of the week for the regulars and raggedness in some respects was to be expected. However, as there remains only three days more when serious scrimmage work may be held by the team without fear of overtraining, Rush will probably apportion his hard work in large doses during the next few afternoons.

The first part of the afternoon's practice was in secret on University Field, and it is understood that there were several new formations tried out. In the public work-out in the stadium the regulars lined up against the scrubs, and there was much stress laid on the kicking game. The overhead game was also worked for several long gains. The running of Shea was a feature.

During the first part of the afternoon Driggs did not appear in the 'Varsity line-up, and the Tiger back field was made up of Lamberton, Shea, and Tibbott, the tandem forming in the order named. In his new position, Shea gave evidence of much more speed than he had been supposed to possess. He skirted the end for several long gains from the second back position. The line-up was not permanent, however, and Driggs resumed his position in the back field before the end of the practice.

Semmens appeared on the field in uniform, and some hope was expressed that the star lineman would be able to take part in the Harvard game. He was not called on for any scrimmage, but seemed to be able to get around without showing many effects of the injury that has laid him up for the last week.

The Athletic Association announced today, after the time for the handing in of applications by students had closed at noon, that there would be plenty of room in Palmer Memorial Stadium for all who wished to see the Princeton-Harvard game. Arrangements are being made to have the pasteboards placed on sale in New York, but any one may obtain seats by applying to G. R. Murray, Princeton. The price of all the seats is $2, there being no reduction to students or graduates for the Harvard game.

Four-Mile Jog for Oarsmen.

Coach Jim Rice of the Columbia crews turned his oarsmen into a cross-country squad yesterday afternoon and ordered them to jog along for four miles on the Palisades in the vicinity of the boathouse at Edgewater. It has been several days since the crews have been sent out, owing to the rough water.

CORNELL VACATION OVER.

Coach Sharpe Will Now Prepare for Michigan Game.

Special to The New York Times.

ITHACA, N. Y., Oct. 26.—"Give the boys another day's rest," was the word passed out by Head Coach Sharpe of the Cornell football team when he arrived here today from New Haven, where he had been called after the Harvard game by the illness of his wife's mother. So the 'Varsity team took things easy while the second and third elevens mixed it up in a scrimmage on a muddy field.

Tonight, however, when the 'Varsity squad reported in Schoellkopf clubhouse for its blackboard talk and lecture, the men were informed that the holiday was over and that several days of strenuous practice was before them. Although the Cornell team plays Virginia Polytechnic Institute here Saturday, the coaches will begin tomorrow pointing them for the Michigan game at Ann Arbor on Nov. 6. The coaches told the men tonight that Michigan always has a good kick or two, and although the season has been disastrous for Michigan it would make Yost all the more dangerous for the Cornell game. So the policy here will be to drive hard for the Wolverines as the next big objective point of the season, and every effort will be made to turn out a considerably stronger eleven against the Wolverines than that which played Harvard.

It is certain that the Ithacans will be better equipped in second string men and can keep a strong fresh attack on the field in the remaining games. Men like Levia, the heavy, fast substitute full back; Toffman, Schlichter, and Benedict, the half backs, are improving fast and will be used more often in the future. There are a number of line men also due to break into the limelight, among them being Welles and Hewett, tackles, and McKeage and Bard, guards. Best of all, Tilley showed in the Harvard game that he was fast approaching form, and when he gets his gait he will no doubt be given a regular place in the line. For all-around hard, aggressive line playing he has no equal here.

WESTCHESTER STAKES.

Entries Invited for Eleven Events to be Run Next Season.

Entry blanks for stakes to be run at the Spring meeting, 1916 and 1917, of the Westchester Racing Association at Belmont Park were issued yesterday. The entries will close on Monday, Nov. 22.

The list includes eleven stakes which will be run next year, and the Belmont and the Withers for three-year-olds, now yearlings, to be raced in 1917. Four steeplechase stakes, which will be run at the Spring meeting, will be closed early in March, 1916.

Contained in the blanks are the conditions of all the early closing events which are best known to racegoers. They include the Metropolitan Handicap, Ladies' Handicap, Amateur Cup, the Suburban, which has been transferred to the Westchester Racing Association by the Coney Island Jockey Club, the Keene Memorial and a number of others.

Herron Wins Princeton Golf.

Special to The New York Times.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 26.—S. Davidson Herron, prominent in the national golf championship at the Detroit Country Club last August, today defeated W. A. Lowrie, 6 up and 5 to play in the finals of the Princeton golf tournament, thereby taking the championship and the President's cup. Herron was the steadier and led by three holes on the journey out. He kept his nerve on the return and after halving the first hole, won the next three in succession, taking the match.

KANSAS CITY CLUB'S DEFICIT

Federal Team Lost $35,332.13 Last Season.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 26.—That the Kansas City Club of the Federal League lost $35,332.13 this year, although finishing high in the race, was incorporated in a report made to a stockholders' meeting of the club by Conrad H. Hann, President, today. The report said:

"In order that the season might be finished with credit to Kansas City, the Directors personally advanced considerable sums of money to the company, and it will be seen if the company is to be continued next season and avoid forfeiture of its franchise (now threatened) it must be refinanced immediately."

Only in Kansas City did the Federal League show marked gains in attendance over the figures of 1914.

Mack Proves Himself a Prophet.

Connie Mack of the Athletics was in this city yesterday after a trip that he made looking up baseball material for next year. He didn't have much to say on this score, however, and is making no more predictions. He is resting on the laurels that he has won in that line already. In talking about the Athletics he remarked: "I said at the start of the season that I had the best eighth-place club in the League and it turned out just as I predicted."

Connie didn't make any comment on the report that the differences between himself and Baker had been adjusted. Report had it that some agreement between the two had been reached, even though Baker might never play with the Athletics. The stand which Baker has taken in his dealings with the Philadelphia Club has alienated the sympathy of many of the baseball players, no matter with which club they may be, and the owners, who were making a wild scramble for the services of the home-run king, are beginning to take a bit less interest in Baker. Even if he does come back into the game it is doubtful if his worth from the purchase point of view will be nearly as high as would have been the case shortly after his differences with Mack. A careful estimate of Baker's ability isn't placing him on quite such a high plane as after his sensational hitting in the world's series of two years ago.

Play Baseball at Night.

The first tryout of the new lighting system for playing night baseball at Washington Park next season was made, and, according to report, proved satisfactory. George S. Ward made the request that the lights be tried and Dick Carroll gathered in a number of semi-professionals who played several innings. While there were some faults which may easily be remedied by adjusting the screens in front of the lights, the scheme generally worked out well.

Cuban Player for Giants.

Rodriquez, a Cuban, who played with the Havana Reds when they toured the East during the past Summer, will get a trial at first base with the Giants next season when the club goes South. It was reported some time ago that the player would be with the Giants at Marlin, but it was not until a day or two ago that the matter was definitely settled.

Americans Win in Eleven Innings.

COLUMBUS, Neb., Oct. 26.—The baseball game between the All-Americans and All-Nationals, played here this afternoon, went eleven innings, the American League team winning out by the score of 7 to 6.

Columbia Fencing Practice.

Fencing practice at Columbia has been started and will continue regularly three times a week. Coach Jimmie Murray, Jr., of the New York Athletic Club is again in charge. Louis H. F. Mouquin, last year's captain, is the only 'Varsity man who has returned. Two former freshman captains, S. W. Allison, '17, and S. E. Valentine, '19, have reported and should make the team. Philip S. Harper, manager of the fencing team, has been elected manager of the 'Varsity tennis team at Columbia, to succeed R. W. McCracken, resigned.

NEW JERSEY FIELD TRIALS.

Fred Horn's Dogs Carry Off Honors in Events at Roseland.

Dogs owned by Fred Horn, of Newark carried off the honors yesterday in the field trials held under the auspices of the New Jersey Beagle Club, at Roseland, N. J. The feature event was the race for thirteen-inch bitches of all ages. The winner was Charmion Pearl, which got two kills, in the time limit of one hour. James Van Dyke, Sunbury, Penn., took the second prize with Rosedale Belle, and Midgie, entered by Harry M. Bosburg, Newark, received the yellow ribbon.

By also taking the reserve with Charmion Mettie, Fred Horn not only won the silver cup, but also two purses.

There will be two races today, the first for the Charmion Cup, for thirteen-inch dogs of all ages. The run will be for two and a half hours. The other event for the champion trophy is an open affair for fifteen-inch dogs and bitches of all ages. August Belmont, Jr., has entered a number of beagles from his kennels at Islip, L. I. The other entries include dogs from Virginia, Ohio, Maryland, Delaware, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York.

"Skookum"!

We are indebted to the enterprising apple growers of the Northwest for this addition to our slang vocabulary.

"Skookum" is a perfectly good word and more picturesque than "bully," which it means. If applied to apples, why not to toggery?

The "apple of our eye" is our young men's dress suit; ready to wear to-night.

How will it fit?

"Skookum"!

Identical fabrics; prices about half best tailor's.

Those "young Indians" at home! Do they sleep outdoors with Dad?

Our sleeping suits come in children's sizes too and are also "Skookum."

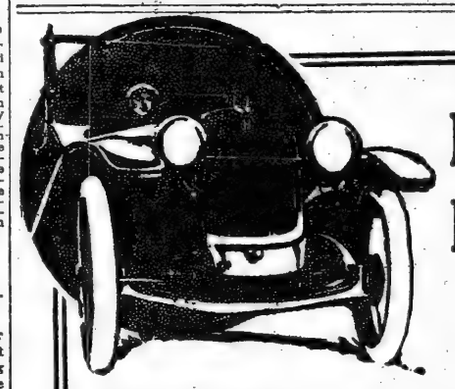
"Skookum" for cold feet!

Indian house moccasins, fleece lined, $1.25 a pair.

ROGERS PEET COMPANY

Broadway at 18th St. | "The Four Corners" | Broadway at 34th St.

Broadway at Warren | | Fifth Ave. at 41st St.



New Car Wins New Hupmobile Friends

These Dealers Sell Hupmobiles

CONNECTICUT

Stamford, Frisbie Motor Car Co.
Cos Cob, Palmer Bros.
Bridgeport, Fairfield Auto Co.
Hartford, Charter Oak Motor Car Company
Meriden, H. B. Bairaud
New Haven, J. J. Lavery Co.
Torrington, Torrington Garage
Waterbury, G. Lee Wooding
Winsted, D. W. Moore

NEW JERSEY

Newark, DeCamp & Riess
Elizabeth, Stanley L. Reed
Plainfield, Stryker Motor Car Company
Hoboken, Hoboken Garage
Hackensack, Barbarow and Byrne
Jersey City, N. E. Reemer Sales Co.
Asbury Park, Harry Ingalls
Madison, I. B. Wilson & Co.
New Brunswick, Garside & Smith
Passaic, Brown's Sporting Goods Company
Red Bank, George Hance Patterson
Trenton, Trenton Auto Sales Co.
Washington, Floyd Major

NEW YORK

Queens, W. L. and J. T. Callister
Yonkers, R. B. Hibbard, Inc.
Mount Vernon, Schlischer's Garage
White Plains, E. S. Hussels
Rockville Centre, Gardner Garage & Motor Co.
Huntington, Ray Lindsay, Inc.
Brooklyn, Diuguid Bros.
Bay Shore, Samuel Motolf
Central Valley, Central Valley Garage
Kingston, William Kemble
Newburgh, Blacks Auto Co.
Peconic, W. R. Wickham
Peekskill, Lawson Motor Car Co.
Port Jefferson, Price & De Wick
Poughkeepsie, Read & Forman
Westhampton, Graphic Cycle & Auto Works

PENNSYLVANIA

Bangor, S. A. Teel
South Bethlehem, C. L. Hoch

HUPMOBILE COMPANY OF NEW YORK
Wholesale Warehouse, 1741 Broadway

The Mark of Superior Motor Car Service

5-passenger Touring Car $1085

No other Hupmobile has ever had the enthusiastic New York reception that was accorded the 1916 model.

The $200 increase in value, and the $115 reduction in price, brought prospective buyers by the score to the salesroom at 53d and Broadway.

Hupmobile owners came, asking only for the chance to get one of the new cars early.

Other owners came, eager to place their orders, for to them the new price meant a Hupmobile at last.

In spite of increase in production, the factory is still working behind its orders; and buyers are patiently waiting for their Hupmobiles.

With 20 per cent more power and proportionately better performance; with even greater luxury and comfort due to better upholstery and equipment; with quality improved at a dozen points—the new Hupmobile at $1085 is unquestionably the best value the company has ever produced.

We shall be glad to demonstrate the new car.

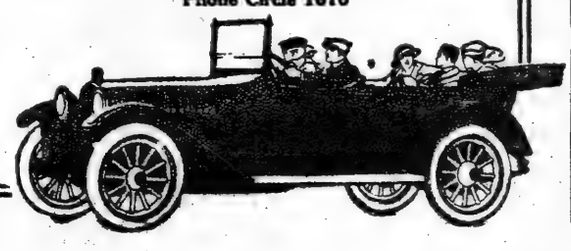
The Hupmobile Free National Service System—the like of which you get with no other car—is so complete, and means so much genuine satisfaction to the owner, that you should learn all its details before you buy any car. Call and ask us about it

1916 Hupmobile Prices

5-passenger Touring Car	$1085	Year-'Round Touring Car	$1185
7-passenger Touring Car	1235	Year-'Round Coupe	1165
2-passenger Roadster	1085	5-passenger Sedan	1385
		7-passenger Limousine	$1385

All prices f. o. b. Detroit

Chas. E. Riess & Co., Inc.
1690 Broadway, at 53d Street
Phone Circle 1616



OLD CROW
Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
RYE
America's Finest Rye
WHISKEY
HAND MADE SOUR MASH
STRAIGHT PURE RYE
MADE IN KENTUCKY, U. S. A.
H. B. KIRK & CO., New York, N. Y.

NOTE THE NAME

CÉLESTINS
VICHY
(FRENCH REPUBLIC PROPERTY)
Natural Alkaline Water
Unexcelled for table use.
Standard remedy for Dyspepsia, Stomach Troubles, Gout and Uric Acid.
Ask your Physician
Bottled at the Famous Spring at VICHY, France
CELESTINS CELESTINS

The World's Greatest Tonic and Appetizer.
DUBONNET
SUPERIOR TO THE BEST COCKTAIL
In Every Club, Hotel, Restaurant & Cafe.
IMPORTANT
WHEN ORDERING "DUBONNET" LOOK FOR CAT ON THE LABEL.
Refuse Others with Contempt as SPURIOUS IMITATIONS.

WE RENT MOTOR DELIVERY CARS.
Why tie up your money in a delivery equipment and subject yourself to the risk and responsibility of its maintenance? You can hire from us cheaper than you can own. We rent Auto Trucks and light delivery cars for any period at lowest prices. Write or phone for our new illustrated booklet on EFFICIENCY. Mailed Free.
Metropolitan Distributors, Inc.,
217 EAST 23RD STREET,
Telephone 4100 Gramercy.

TRUCKS TRUCKS
Can start you on profitable contract with 1, 3 or 5-ton truck. Contract provides for payment of truck on easy terms; only small cash investment required. See me at once.
E. F. Twyman
427 West 42nd Street,
'Phone Bryant 8580.

TRUCKS TRUCKS TRUCKS
Wanted—Contracts by day, week, month or year. Will supply truck equipped with suitable body. Get our rates.
R. J. Willoughby
183 West 87th Street
Schuyler 5687

TRUCKS TRUCKS
TRUCK BUYERS ATTENTION
Buy where reliability is assured. We have traded and will sell several attractive bargains in light delivery cars, from $150 up; 2½-ton chassis, ready for work, $700; also many others.
Phone Bryant 8580.
USED TRUCK DEPARTMENT.
A. C. WHITEFIELD,
427 WEST 42D ST.

Trucks Trucks Trucks Trucks
Special contractors feature automatic dumping trucks. We can save you big money. See us at once.
Phone Bryant 8580.
USED TRUCK DEPARTMENT.
A. C. WHITEFIELD,
427 WEST 42D ST.

1915 MERCER
with 4-passenger, stream line body, practically brand new, sporting model.
ROSKAM SCOTT CO.,
1896 Broadway, at 63rd St.

RITCHIE AND DUNDEE DRAW IN BOUT

RITCHIE EARNS DRAW WITH DUNDEE

Lightweight Champion Makes Fast Finish After Being Outpointed Earlier.

Willie Ritchie, the American lightweight champion, had to extend himself to the limit to get a draw in a speedy, slashing ten-round bout with Johnny Dundee at Madison Square Garden last night. The bounding Italian's fast work early in the bout puzzled the champion, and he missed repeatedly. It wasn't until the last few rounds that Ritchie got Dundee's measure, and then he gave him a severe lacing.

The eighth round was a whirlwind, and while Dundee was dancing rapidly about his opponent Ritchie clipped him with a right on the jaw, which took the little Italian off his feet and shot him against the ropes. Ritchie drove Dundee around the ring under his fierce attack, and when on the other side of the ring he again hit him on the jaw and almost knocked him off his feet.

Both boxers had a big following present and as the crowd filed out of the Garden there was such a variety of opinions about the bout that the arguments were flying thick and fast. Although Ritchie was decidedly more like the champion boxer that he is in the last three rounds, he was plainly bewildered by Dundee's freakish boxing early in the bout. Johnny jabbed him repeatedly on the face and got away and hammered his body in the clinches for the first five rounds.

Ritchie easily boxed Dundee's advantage away in the last few rounds and left the honors about even.

The main bout was delayed nearly half an hour by a wrangle about the $3,500 guarantee offered to Ritchie. The crowd was small. It was stated that the gate money amounted to less than $7,000. After the 7½ per cent. State tax had been deducted and $3,500 of the 60 per cent. was set aside for the champion, there was less than $200 left for Dundee's share. Dundee's manager wanted Ritchie to take $3,000 as his share, but Ritchie refused, and was about to leave the Garden when the full amount was offered him. Dundee's manager requested the Boxing Commission representative to weigh the men, as he said that Ritchie was more than ten pounds heavier than his opponent, a condition which would prevent the bout.

The boxers were weighed, and Ritchie tipped the beam at 141¼ pounds and Dundee at 132½ pounds. It was almost 10:30 o'clock when the bout started. Dundee began to jab Ritchie at once, and the champion was unable to stave off the Italian's aggressive attack. Dundee ducked and feinted, while Ritchie's only means of landing seemed to be a straight left jab. For the first five rounds Ritchie was unable to land his right on the Italian.

Ritchie got warmed up in the second round, and his defense was much improved. Dundee, however, landed more frequently.

Ritchie did not wake up until the fifth round, and then the boxers began to slug each other merrily. Both slipped and fell to the ropes, but no damage was done. Dundee was so quick at times that he ducked Ritchie's extended arms and got out of the way. There was repeated clinching, and the referee had to pry the boxers apart often. Up to this time Ritchie showed nothing like the form he exhibited against Freddie Welsh in his last bout in the same ring.

In the seventh Ritchie became more aggressive and his right arm became effective. He had solved Dundee's jumping-jack tactics and hammered him repeatedly in the face and body. In the eighth the Italian's mouth and ear were cut by the severe punishment. Dundee, however, refused to be suppressed, and poked Ritchie with his left and hammered the champion's ribs in the clinches.

In the ninth and tenth rounds Ritchie showed the style of boxing which made him champion. He struck out straight from the shoulder with his right and left, and his boxing looked superior and polished compared with Dundee's novel style. Two rights to the jaw staggered Dundee in the eighth, but he weathered the storm with rapid footwork. Both boys were slapping each other hard at the finish.

Dundee refused to shake hands with Ritchie at the beginning of the tenth round, and Ritchie made him suffer for the breach of ring etiquette.

Ritchie-White Bout in Doubt.

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 26.—Willie Ritchie, former lightweight champion boxer, who recently signed an agreement to box Charlie White of Chicago at 135 pounds at 3 o'clock on the day of the bout, now refuses to make the weight, according to notice given the State Athletic Commission today by he promoters.

Ritchie, it is said, prefers to box at catch weights, which is not satisfactory to White. The bout was to have been held here some time in November.

Ted Lewis Beats Mandot Easily.

BOSTON, Oct. 26.—Ted Lewis, the English lightweight, received the decision over Joe Mandot of New Orleans by a wide margin in a twelve-round bout tonight. Mandot put up a game exhibition, but was knocked down for the count of nine in the first round, and was floored again in the tenth and twelfth rounds.

Thirteenth Regiment Games.

A crowd, which was estimated at 3,500, comfortably filled the Thirteenth Regiment Armory in Brooklyn last night to witness the opening series of regimental games. The feature was the 880-yard handicap run. Thirty-five athletes faced the starter, with the limit handicap allowance at sixty-five yards; but Sid Leslie of the Fifth Company, starting from the honor mark, easily outdistanced the remainder of the field, and finished first, with an advantage of about forty yards. He caught the leading handicap runner at about the 600-yard mark, and thereafter set a stiff pace. A brief summary:

100-Yard Dash, Novice.—Won by C. Faber, 6th Co.; A. Peltier, 12th Co., second; J. Fenton, 1st Co., third. Time—0:11 1-5.

100-Yard Dash, Handicap.—Won by W. Fisher, 3d Co., (3 yards); E. Kaskell, 1st Co., (5 yards,) second; W. Brown, 1st Co., (4 yards,) third. Time—0:10 3-5.

880-Yard Run, Handicap.—Won by S. Leslie, 5th Co., (scratch); Walter Leslie, 5th Co., (35 yards,) second; R. Savage, 5th Co., (35 yards,) third. Time—1:39.

600-Yard Run, Novice.—Won by W. Taber, 5th Co.; F. J. Keller, 5th Co., second; L. Lamberton, 1st Co., third. Time—1:25.

Two-Mile Bicycle Race, Scratch.—Won by A. Apardie, 5th Co.; J. De Cross, 1st Co., second; M. Davies, 1st Co., third. Time—5:02 3-5.

NOTES FOR DOG FANCIERS.

The fourth annual show of the Newark Kennel Club will be held in the First Regiment Armory Feb. 12. Ralph R. Littlefield of Gardner, Me., will judge the bulldogs.

The Fort Orange Kennel Club will hold its annual show at Albany on Nov. 30, Dec. 1 and 2. Among the judges will be Mrs. A. McClure Bailey, who will take the Pekingese; H. D. Hoffman, French bulldogs, and C. C. Little, who will award the prizes in the Scottish terrier and dachshund sections.

The field trials of the Beagle Club of New Jersey begin tomorrow at Roseland, near Caldwell, N. J. The hunting ground will be in the vicinity of the Vosburg Homestead, and the headquarters will be at the Roseland House. Besides the regular stakes there will be a thirteen-inch class run for two and one-half hours for the Charmion Cup. The championship will be the last event on the program, and the little hounds will be required to run at least four hours on game until the judge decides the winner.

It is said that the list of ten candidates for the position of show Superintendent for the Westminster Kennel Club has been reduced to three names—those of Harry Mortimer, George Ball, and Wilbur Purcell. It is asserted that Mr. Purcell has asked to have his name withdrawn. He wishes to remain attached, but does not wish to take full charge.

The Collie Club of New York has decided to offer a special prize for the best collie owned by a member and exhibited at the bench show to be held at the Panama-Pacific Exposition. Several valuable specials in cups and money are to be offered for the club's show of 1916.

DIEGES'S BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Old Friends of Athlete Give Him a "Beefsteak" at Murray's.

"Two great historical events occurred in this country in the year of 1865. The civil war came to an end and Charles J. Dieges, Captain 22nd Regiment Engineers, N. G. N. Y., member of the Ancient Order of Timers, Order of the G. G. F. (General Good Fellows,) an Elk, a Mason and a member of almost every other fraternal and athletic organization of importance, in addition to being a medal maker, first saw the light of day." This mark was made by Terence J. Farley, toastmaster at a beefsteak given in honor of the fiftieth birthday of Mr. Dieges at Murray's last night, and was characteristic of the many speeches made extolling the character of the guest of honor.

Almost everybody who is anybody in the world of track and field athletics, men prominent in politics, members of the judiciary, and men who knew "Our Charley" simply as a friend and business associate, were at the party. It must be said for Captain Charley, that notwithstanding the remarks of Major John J. Dixon of the State Athletic Commission, he did not come to this country wearing wooden shoes.

Among those who extolled Captain Dieges in speeches were former Mayor Ardolph Kline, Major John J. Dixon, General George W. Wingate, P. J. Conway, Evert Jansen Wendell, Congressman Murray J. Hulbert, Francis M. Hugo, Secretary of State; Captain R. E. Enright of the New York Police Department, Supreme Court Justice Bartow S. Weeks, and Jeremiah T. Mahoney.

Among others present were Mortimer Bishop, George V. Bonhag, Thomas W. Churchill, Patrick J. Conway, Lieutenant James F. Cooke, Major W. S. Conroy, Prosper Clust, P. J. Carney, John T. Dooling, John J. Deignan, John T. Doyle, Captain N. F. Engel, Terence J. Farley, Captain Dominick Henry, General Henry De Witt Hamilton, Samuel S. Koenig, Arthur McAleenan, Captain J. C. Mansfield, John J. McHugh, Dr. John T. Nicholson, Colonel Frank H. Norton, George W. Pawling, Frederick W. Rubien, Lawson Robertson, William Parry, Martin J. Sheridan, Jacob W. Stumpf, Major C. W. Smith, Major E. E. Snyder, Captain H. Woodward, and Fred W. Wenck.

CHILDREN WILL BE GUESTS.

Inmates of Various Juvenile Institutions to Attend Horse Show.

Following its usual custom, the National Horse Show Association has invited as its guests, on the opening afternoon, which will be Saturday, Nov. 6, thousands of children from institutions for the care of orphans, crippled children and the blind in Greater New York. The idea originated in 1910 the first year of Alfred G. Vanderbilt's Presidency, and the children have been the associated guests at each succeeding Horse Show.

To add to the enjoyment of the visit Mr. Vanderbilt always arranged that every child should receive a gift of candy and a souvenir toy, as they were leaving the Garden. As Lady Bountiful, for the youngsters Mrs. Vanderbilt will continue the custom which has so delighted the children.

A special card that bristles with classes for riding, driving, and jumping ponies has been prepared for the delight of the youngsters, for experience has proven that they take the most interest in the ponies and in seeing children as drivers or riders. As the opening afternoon is free of school duties, it will be children's day, too, in the general attendance and the special program will also be an attraction to them.

Shetland ponies are speeding across the continent from the Panama-Pacific Horse Show to fill their New York engagements and all the pony classes have received record entries. The classes limited to children exhibitors have the largest entry, so that the ring will be crowded in their classes on children's day. The ponies entered by the children of Mr. and Mrs. Payne Whitney are to be brought daily to the Garden from Westbury in a motor horse van.

Winners with the Cue.

C. Johnson was unable to overcome a handicap of two points in his game with Jack Meyers at 18.2 balk in the amateur handicap three-cushion carrom billiard tournament at the Morningside Academy, 125th Street and Lenox Avenue, last night, and he lost the match by 20 to 17. Johnson was playing for twenty-two points, while Meyers had only to score twenty to win.

A close game was played last night in the amateur handicap three-cushion carrom tournament at Doyle & Adams' Academy, 127 Fortysecond Street, when C. F. Madden, playing at the scratch mark, defeated C. Adair by the score of 25 to 24 in thirty-six innings. The latter received a handicap of three points. Two games were decided in the English billiard tournament, the first resulting in a victory for T. Drew over J. Woods by the score of 150 to 128, while in the other Butler defeated Leo Flynn by the score of 150 to 62.

Joseph Stone of this city defeated John Scanlon of Cleveland in an interesting game last night at Doyle & Adams' Academy, Thirty-first Street and Broadway, by the score of 50 to 40, in the Inter-City League. Stone played a steady game from the start and managed to maintain a lead throughout.

To Start Masonic Bowling.

The first series of games in the second Masonic bowling tournament will be held at Louis F. Schutte's alleys on Boston Road at the corner of 177th Street, on Nov. 5. The lodges which will roll then are Guiding Star and Trowel. The others which will compete in the tournament are: Park, Wyoming, Gavel, Azure, Marion, Harlem, Loyalty, Lily, and Wieland.

YACHT SALES AND TRANSFERS

The following yacht transfers have been made through the firm of Cox & Stevens:

Invader, a 136-foot steel auxiliary schooner yacht, has been sold for John Borden of Chicago to Henry D. Whiton, New York Y. C. Savarona, a 114-foot steel auxiliary schooner yacht, has been sold for C. Howard Clark, Jr., New York Y. C., to Colonel C. L. F. Robinson, New York. Wingaersheek, 70-foot steel auxiliary schooner yacht, has been sold for Henry D. Whiton, Larchmont Y. C., to George Bullock, New York Y. C. Lodona, a 77-foot twin-screw gasoline houseboat, has been sold for James Godfrey Wilson, Larchmont Y. C., to Edwin A. Richard for use in Florida waters. Ariel, an 80-foot gasoline yacht, has been sold for Harrison S. Morris of Philadelphia to a New York yachtsman for Long Island Sound service. Winsome, an 88-foot racing sloop, has been sold for Phillip H. Johnson of Philadelpria to Peter W. Rouss, New York Y. C. Maris, a 77-foot twin-screw gasoline yacht, has been chartered for George T. Lippincott of Atlantic City to a prominent New York yachtsman. Kosagaas III., a 75-foot raised-deck cruiser, has been sold for Charles H. Baker, Columbia Y. C., to Charles Coryell of Bay City, Mich. Beluga, a twin-screw gasoline cruiser, has been chartered for A. W. Stanley to a local yachtsman. Mustang, a 65-foot cruiser, has been chartered for H. S. Beardsley, Columbia Y. C., to B. G. Work of New York. Cassandra, a 55-foot high-speed power boat, has been sold for Harry P. Whitney, New York Y. C., to August Heckscher, New York Y. C. Nepsi, a New York Y. C. 50-footer, has been sold for Johnston De Forrest, New York Y. C., to Gherardi Davis of New York. Grayling, a 50-foot raised deck cruiser, has been sold for Dr. E. J. Thomas of New York to Henry L. Blum of Baltimore. Chipper, a 57-foot bridge-deck cruiser, has been chartered for Isaac L. Hunt of Rahway, N. J., to Charles Percival of New York.

Style Counts Little in Putting.

Every golfer is anxious to improve his putting. He tries a new putter, he adopts a different stance, he changes his grip, but often all things fail, and his ball is as far as ever from the cup. If he sees Walter J. Travis on the green he imitates his methods, but rarely obtains the Travis result. First he walks off the green and surveys the roll between his ball and the pin. Then he crosses to the other side and gauges the slope from the pin to his ball. Next he picks up the dead leaves, straws, and other such hazards, brushes away the worm-casts with the back of his hand, gives a last look—and misses his putt. He decides that he is all wrong and goes to the opposite extreme by imitating Alec Smith. Alec strolls on the green, gives what seems a careless glance toward the cup, and immediately taps his ball down without any ceremony. When the aspiring duffer tries this the results are horrible, and he labels Smith's apparent carelessness as a delusion and a snare.

Then he watches Tom McNamara, who has a reputation as a deadly putter, and is astonished to find that McNamara actually gives a slice to almost every ball that he hits on the green. He tries this method in despair and gives it up in disgust. He eventually comes to the conclusion that putting is a natural gift, throws away his old putter, and buys a new one, with which he does just as badly as ever.

RUSSIAN PRINCE NOT OUT FOR SPEED

Paul Troubetzkoy Drives Touring Car Over Course, but That's All.

A small but enthusiastic group of spectators stood huddled together in the chill wind that swept across the Sheepshead Bay Speedway yesterday afternoon. They were awaiting the arrival of Prince Paul Troubetzkoy of Russia, who was scheduled to spin around the two-mile wooden course at 3 o'clock. Prince Paul was reported to have agreed to a match race with Harry Harkness, President of the Speedway Corporation, for $10,000, and yesterday was the day for the Prince to qualify with a speed of eighty-five miles an hour, as requested by Mr. Harkness.

As the hour of 3 passed the Prince had not appeared, but it was said that he would surely arrive. For an hour that small enthusiastic group, waiting to welcome the Russian Prince, did everything possible to ward off the chill blasts that came in from the ocean. Finally the chugging of a motor was heard in the distance. A small group of persons emerged from the shadow of the big stand and walked out to the judge's stand and although Princess Troubetzkoy was one of the party, her royal husband was nowhere to be seen.

There was another wait, during which the report that the Prince had left for the Russian front was several times denied. A five-passenger touring car, with a distinguished-looking pilot, finally made its appearance, and in it was the Prince himself. He circled the track in his touring car, first alone and then with his wife and Frank Coffyn, the aviator; Mrs. Coffyn and George Dillenbeck as passengers. After circling the track—the wrong way—the Prince and his party stopped in front of the judge's stand, informed the spectators that he had made a speed of fifty-five miles an hour and then posed for pictures. The cameras snapped like a battery of machine guns.

"Would the Prince make a real trip around the course in a real racing car?" was timidly asked by some one. "Why, surely," was the immediate response. There was another wait while his Royal Highness went to the garage to get a racing car. This wait was an exceptionally long one. The news-gatherers in the dark shadows of night started to gather over the big racing arena, tramped to the garages and were informed that the Baby Peugeot, in which Prince Paul intended bounding over the track at tremendous speed, was unable to hold more than a big man, and that after he had tried and tried to squeeze his huge body into the small racer without success he was compelled to postpone his flight over the wooden course. Of course, he was sorry, but then it couldn't be helped. The moon was looking on when the trial was called off. The Prince may pilot a racer around the course today.

No car, with the exception of the royal touring car, went over the Sheepshead Bay track yesterday. But then, there is plenty of time for the speed kings to tune up their machines before Election Day. It was learned yesterday that the Harkness Cup, which goes to the winner of the 100-mile special race, in reality does not go to him. The cup is to be a perpetual trophy, and will be the object of competition annually. A gold miniature of the cup will be presented to the winner of the Election Day race.

Bob Burman has his Blitzen Benz in the best possible shape to shatter all existing world's records, but it has no terrors for Barney Oldfield. Yesterday Barney wired from Los Angeles that no matter what time Burman made on the course, he had $5,000 to bet that his front-drive Christie would better the time. Barney's wager was accepted—at least, that it's what was stated at the track.

Henry Ford and Thomas A. Edison visited the Sheepshead Bay course recently. Mr. Ford said: "With such a course as this there now is some inducement for manufacturers to build racing cars. I'm not sure that I will not build one myself."

Colgate Practicing for Yale.

HAMILTON, N. Y., Oct. 26.—The Colgate football team had a long scrimmage this afternoon against the second eleven in preparation for the game with Yale at New Haven on Saturday. Another scrimmage will be held tomorrow, after which the line-up which will start the game against Yale will be definitely selected. Since Colgate triumphed over the Army several of the men on the second eleven have shown marked improvement, and they may win place on the Varsity which will play at New Haven. Many of these who have been on the injured list are now practicing, and it is expected that the eleven will be even stronger than when it faced West Point. Colgate is the only team in the East which has not been scored against. On its credit side the team has run up a total of 207 points. There is general regret that Colgate will not have the opportunity of playing Princeton or Cornell, it being the belief that Colgate is the equal of either of them.

FISH AND GAME NOTES.

Channel bass are feeding along the South Jersey shore in large schools, according to word received on Monday, and the fishermen from Atlantic City are hooking into a number of them about three miles off shore. One was landed at Corson's Inlet that weighed twenty-eight pounds. A number of striped bass are also being caught at the inlet. J. Trowbridge of this city landed two weighing eleven and eighteen pounds, respectively. James Mahon, also of New York, landed one weighing eight pounds.

Striped bass are being caught at Highlands, N. J. George Robertson was out last Saturday and caught several, one of which weighed four and a half pounds. He also landed three flounders and two weakfish. One of the latter weighed five and a quarter pounds. Robertson fished from a boat at the bridge.

The members of the Barnegat Fishing and Hunting Club and their friends are preparing for some fine wild duck shooting when the season opens next week. The clubhouse is on the bay, and has all accommodations for the sportsmen, such as guns, guides, boats, &c. Barnegat, along the bay front and on the many points a short distance from the village, offers one of the best wild fowl shooting places in the country, and the latest reports from there show good hunting.

One of the best places to get a good mess of flounders is in Long Island Sound in the vicinity of Sands Point. George Brown sends word that he was out there on Sunday on board the Lilly O., with a party of six, and that they boated over 400 of these fish, most of them being of good size.

The party boats from Wreck Lead on Sunday brought in some fine catches of porgies and blackfish. Anglers on board the Georgie M. were very successful.

David Gant of Bradley Beach, N. J., shot one of the largest deer of the season in New Jersey last Wednesday. It was a five-pointed buck and weighed 175 pounds.

George Decker reports that he has been having some fine sport recently, fishing at Longlake. Catfish are plentiful in the lake, as are also black bass, and many of the bass caught weigh about three pounds each.

A large number of boats went out Sunday to the fishing grounds in the vicinity of Sandy Hook and the Scotland Lightship. Ling, sea bass, and blackfish comprised most of the catches, with an occasional hake and whiting. Codfish are still scarce, but cold weather is needed to bring them around in quantities.

One of the largest catches of weakfish made this Autumn was brought in Friday by Percy McAvoy, Charles Hall, Clarence Thorn, Ed Way, and James Blair, when went out from Great Kills, S. I., with Captain Abe Hapenny of that place. They fished the grounds off Sandy Hook and boated eighty-one fine weakfish.

J. N. Breen sends word that he was out recently with four friends on board the motor boat Humbug on a trip up the Harlem River, where they caught twenty-eight striped bass. They are going out again on Sunday at Ardsley-on-the-Hudson after the stripers.

George Stone and N. Sterne left Monday for several days of woodcock hunting near Belvidere, N. J.

Eleven bass and nine pickerel was the catch made by Arthur Burnham on a weekend trip up to Mombasha Lake. Burnham reports the water low, but says it has not spoiled the fishing in the lake.

Friends of Clinton Mundy are enjoying cuts of venison taken from the big buck he killed last week in the Adirondacks.

BOARD OF SHIP MEN TO MODERNIZE LAWS

Foreign Trade Council Proposes Permanent Body to Keep Congress Informed.

SEE PERIL IN SEAMEN'S ACT

Threats of Government Ownership Pointed To as Discouragement of Enterprise.

The National Foreign Trade Council, composed of fifty merchants, manufacturers, railroad men, steamship men, and bankers, yesterday issued its first statement on the American merchant marine from the offices of its Secretary, Robert H. Patchin, the India House, Hanover Square.

This first word from the council is a condemnation of Government ownership and of the Seamen's act; but the council offers in connection with its criticisms definite suggestions as to what should be done to upbuild the American merchant marine.

The first recommendation is the creation by Congress of a permanent shipping board of five members, versed in shipping affairs, to recommend to Congress revision and modernization of shipping laws. It is proposed that this be a permanent advisory body, to keep Congress informed on the needs of American shipping.

The second suggestion is a modification of the speed requirements of the Mail act of 1891.

The third is that measures be taken to render private investments in American shipping safe and attractive.

Finally, it is proposed that the President be empowered to suspend such provisions of the Seamen's act as he may deem detrimental to American shipping until the suggested Shipping Board shall have acted toward modernizing the navigation laws. If this is not agreeable to Congress, then it is proposed that the provisions of the British law be made to apply to the number of able seamen and lifeboat men.

Driven to Foreign Flags.

Discussing present shipping conditions the report first narrates the original growth of the merchant marine and then its decline, due to "early European advantages in iron steamer construction, heavy civil war taxation, and the preoccupation of Americans in profitable internal development."

The report says the fruition of America's internal development came to demand a wider outlet for products of the soil and industry, and that, seeking this development, Americans did invest in shipping, but were obliged, because of economic and political handicaps, to purchase vessels abroad and operate them under foreign flags.

"The total foreign shipping thus owned by American interests," says the report, "before the present war, was between 1,500,000 and 2,000,000 gross tons."

The enactment of the Ship Registry act of Aug. 18, 1914, permitting foreign built vessels of any age to come under the American flag, and by authority of which the President suspended the most disadvantageous provisions of the navigation laws, is described in the report as the first evidence of liberalism in the national shipping policy. The shippers became encouraged and optimistic, but their encouragement and optimism did not endure, for soon came the threat of Government ownership and the Seamen's act.

Government Ownership Threat.

"Government ownership of vessels," the report says, "would be a natural concomitant of Government-made goods, brought to shipside by Government railways, and laden by civil service stevedores. As a commercial proposition, Government-owned ships can only result in disorganization of existing trade routes in which they might engage, while bringing about complete paralysis of individual effort to obtain for private American ships a larger share of American commerce.

"The fear of Government ownership was enough in itself to deter Americans from undertaking shipping ventures, but to increase the dangers and difficulties, another unfavorable policy was introduced by the Seamen's law, which places virtually all American ships alone in foreign trade burdens in excess of those found in the maritime legislation of any nation with which Americans are expected to compete."

The "language" requirement that 75 per cent. of the crews of vessels calling at American ports must be able to understand any order given by the officers is declared by the report to place American ships "at an enormous disadvantage as compared with Japanese vessels, whose crews are the only low priced labor understanding the language of their officers." On vessels of other nationalities, the report points out, orders are now passed by subordinates from the officers to the Asiatic sailors.

Only American Ships Hit.

The report further finds that Section 14 of the act, "requiring expensive alterations in life saving equipment and its manning, falls practically alone upon American passenger ships, since the Attorney General has decided that it does not apply to vessels of the maritime nations having 'reciprocity' arrangements with the United States covering passenger carrying certificates."

Answering the argument that the laws that add to the cost of operating American ships apply equally to foreign vessels entering American ports, the report says:

"If, in practice, the laws do apply to foreign vessels, they increase our freight rates and handicap our trade—if they do not apply to foreign ships they drive our ships out of business. There is no escape from one or the other conclusion."

CRUELTY SOCIETIES IN COURT

S. P. C. A. Opposes Power of Arrest for the Animal Relief.

Justice John J. Brady of the Bronx Supreme Court heard witnesses yesterday in the hearing on the application of the Animal Relief Society for power to make arrests. The application is being opposed by the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. Chris Kienan, President of the Animal Relief Society and Deputy Surveyor of the Port of New York, admitted that original minutes of the society previously ordered in court by Justice Brady had disappeared. Justice Brady said sharply that he hoped there had been no trifling with the order of the court.

Alphonse G. Koelble, a Director of the applicant society, testified that as President of German societies he considered the management of the Animal Relief Society had been properly conducted.

Against the application, Abraham Morris testified that on one occasion when he telephoned the office of the society and asked for a horse ambulance, he was told the society had none, but that he might obtain one from a certain private concern for $15. Thomas Marrian of 219 East Fifty-first Street said the society had promised him legal assistance should any of his drivers be arrested by the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals or the Bergh Society. He said he joined the Relief Society on the strength of this promise, but was unable to obtain assistance when he needed it.

No date was set for a continuation of the hearing.

AVENUE LIGHTS UNDIMMED.

Budget Committee Disregards Williams—Mayor Outvoted.

The Budget Committee of the Board of Estimate took up yesterday the 1916 estimate of Water Commissioner William Williams. The Commissioner said it was purposed to cut down the lighting between Twenty-third and 110th Streets on Fifth Avenue by changing the lights from 400 watt power to 300 watt power at a saving of $1,777. The members of the committee, which included the Mayor, the Controller, President McAneny, and Borough Presidents Matheson and Pounds, thought the saving was not worth while, and the lights on Fifth Avenue will remain as at present. It was also agreed not to do away with the red globes on fire alarm boxes.

When the question of standardizing certain employes of the department came up the Mayor said he was in favor of raising the salaries of certain old and faithful members of the department. Commissioner Williams thought they were worth the money.

"Mr. Mayor," interposed the Controller, "you have recently issued instructions to all your offices regarding the standardization of salaries, and those instructions have been followed until they have been interfered with by this committee."

"We have interfered with them in order to do justice to the men," retorted Prseident Pounds. The increases were granted.

When the question of raising the salary of J. Waldo Smith, Chief Engineer of the Bureau of Water Supply, from $10,000 to $12,000 a year came up it was explained that the Chief Engineer had charge of 1,700 employes and jurisdiction over a system worth $200,000,000. The sub-committee had recommended that his salary be reduced to $7,200. The Mayor said he had promised to advocate the increase for Mr. Smith last year, but had overlooked it.

"I now tell the committee," said the Mayor, "that I think his position is worth $12,000 a year."

In the vote that followed the Mayor was the only one who was in favor of the increase. Mr. Smith's salary will remain at $10,000.

The Budget Sub-Committee last night decided to allow Commissioner Katherine B. Davis of the Department of Correction funds for the purchase of night gowns, tooth brushes, and pillow cases for the use of prisoners in the various city penal institutions. Robert McIntyre of the Bureau of Investigation and Statistics objected to an allowance of $3,900 for the purchase of sheets. Mr. McIntyre said he could not see any need for sheets unless an allowance was made for supplying pink pajamas to the prisoners. The Bureau of Standards did not make any recommendations and the matter of sheets was referred to the main Budget Committee as a matter of "new policy."

The full Budget Committee will resume public hearings on salary and other reductions today.

DEFIED BY GRIFENHAGEN.

Schieffelin Accused of Attacking Sheriff on Hearsay.

The controversy between Sheriff Max S. Grifenhagen and the Citizens' Union over the union's indorsement of Alfred E. Smith, Tammany candidate for Sheriff, was enlivened yesterday when William Jay Schieffelin, Chairman of the Citizens' Union, made public a letter he had written Mr. Grifenhagen. The Citizens' Union said it hoped Mr. Smith's election would bring about improvements in the Sheriff's office. Sheriff Grifenhagen immediately wanted to know what prospective improvements were referred to. In reply, Mr. Schieffelin wrote:

You take a lofty position when you assume that the conditions in your office are not susceptible of improvement. Our opinion is that both in personnel and administration there is opportunity to better the condition. For example, we have heard complaints of inefficiency and inattention to duty in connection with the execution of process delivered to the Sheriff's office. Your apparent perturbation at our suggestion that conditions in your office are susceptible of improvement leads us to wonder whether there may be grounds for the unfavorable reports that have reached us from time to time concerning the conduct of your office—which we have not as yet had the opportunity to probe. For the present we feel that we know enough to fully justify us in believing that there is room for improvement.

Sheriff Grifenhagen said he never had taken the position that his office was not susceptible of improvement, but had stated that he was ready to improve the office in any direction that might be suggested to him by competent authority. The Sheriff added:

"If it is violating any confidence, you need not tell me from whom you got this information, but it is your duty to the people and to me to state the substance of any complaint which you have heard of alleged inefficiency or inattention. This is quite beside the question of your relying upon hearsay information and attacking me and the administration of my office upon unsupported hearsay statements which may have come to you."

WOMAN SUES V. J. MAYO.

Charges Lillian Cook's Employer with Fraud and Asks $250,000.

Virginius J. Mayo, who attained notoriety after the suicide of Lillian May Cook, the stenographer of the Mayo Radiator Company in New Haven last March, was sued in the Supreme Court yesterday for $250,000 for alleged fraud. The plaintiff was Wilhelmina Meyer, "also known as Wilhelmina Mayo." She was living with Mayo in his New Haven home at the time of Miss Cook's suicide, and remained there until it was disclosed that Mayo previously had been married to Miss Florence Weeks in Scranton, Penn., in May, 1890. Then she left New Haven and efforts to discover where she went were unsuccessful.

It developed that Miss Mayer was the daughter of wealthy parents who lived in Brooklyu, that she was the niece of Henry Stengel, a wealthy leather merchant, and that she had money of her own. Mayo declared he never married anybody but Miss Meyer.

Only the summons in Miss Meyer's suit has been filed. It was served on Mayo last Saturday in his home at 546 Fourth Street, Brooklyn.

Ralph Gillette, Miss Meyer's attorney, said last night that his client had married Mayo eleven years ago, the officiating clergyman being the Rev. Paul M. Grider. She was 21 years old at the time and Mayo was 45.

Mr. Gillette refused to tell where Miss Meyer was living. She has refused always to discuss her life with Mayo. When the scandal of Miss Cook's death was at its height she said only:

"I do not concern myself with matters that do not appertain to my household."

Mayo was sued also by Miss Susie Wahlers, who formerly worked for him in New Haven. Her suit was an effort to compel him to support her infant daughter.

ACQUITS WOMAN'S SLAYER.

Jury Accepts Decker's Story of Killing in Struggle Over Gun.

It took a jury before Judge Tiernan in the Richmond County Court less than thirty minutes last night to find a verdict of "not guilty" in the case of Calvin Decker, 39 years old, indicted for the murder of Marion Hart, 32, in her home at Butchersville on Oct. 13.

District Attorney Fach had testified to the confession of Decker, who declared he was intoxicated at the time the woman was killed. Decker testified yesterday that he reached the house on the Old Stone Road, Butchersville, about 6 o'clock on the night of Oct. 13. He had been drinking, he said. There was a can of beer on the table when he entered the house, and Mrs. Hart asked him to have a drink. He refused, and this angered her, he said, and she retorted, "I'll make you drink it."

A quarrel followed, and the woman, Decker testified, seized a shotgun, but before she could use it he got hold of it. In a scuffle the weapon was fired, and the charge entered the woman's neck and killed her.

SHIP ALMOST HIT BY SHELL.

14-Inch Missile in Sandy Hook Test Passes Over the Panther.

According to a report which reached the Navy Yard yesterday, the repair ship Panther had a narrow escape from being struck by a 14-inch shell fired from the proving grounds at Sandy Hook in the morning. The projectile whizzed over Panther and struck the water about a mile beyond her. Immediately after the shot was fired the commander of the repair ship sent a wireless report of the incident to the commanding officer at Fort Hancock.

The Panther, with a number of other war vessels taking part in the manoeuvres, composed a fleet that is defending the entrance to New York Harbor. Three other vessels, which also came within range of the 14-inch gun yesterday, were the mine planters General Mills, General Frank and General Schofield. A flotilla of six torpedo boat destroyers was patrolling further eastward but was out of range of the big gun. The Panther was seven miles from shore when the shell passed over her.

THE UNITED SERVICE.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—2d Lt. G. E. Arenburg, 9th Cav. to Ft. Sam Houston for examination for detail in Aviation Sect., Signal Corps, then to his station.

Promotions in Inf.: S. L. Faison, Lt. Col., 5th, to Col., attached to 5th; L. L. Dufee, Major 26 Lt. Col., unassigned; J. A. Penn, Major, 1st to Lt. Col. 3d; G. G. Palmer, Capt., to Major, unassigned; O. R. Wolfe, Captain, 10th, to Major 26th; A. J. Booth, 1st Lt. to Capt., unassigned; E. K. Massee, 1st Lt. 11th, to Capt., unassigned; J. A. Marmon, 1st Lt., 25th, to Capt. 3d; E. S. Miller, 2d Lt. to 1st Lt., unassigned; T. C. Lonergan, 2d Lt., 18th, to 1st Lt., attached to 16th and A. L. Sneed, 2d Lt., 7th, to 1st Lt., 7th.

2d Lt. E. L. Canady, 15th Cav., is detailed in Aviation Sect., Signal Corps.

Leaves—2d Lt. T. H. Jones, C. A. C., 2 months; 1st Lt. S. B. Buckner, Jr., 27th Inf., extended to and including Nov. 30.

Navy.

Rear Adl. F. E. Beatty, retired; W. McLean, from Fourth Div., Atlantic Fleet to Commandant Norfolk Yard; A. Gleaves, to Commander, Torpedo Flotilla, Atlantic Fleet, Nov. 22, and H. O. Dunn, to Commander, 4th Div., Atlantic Fleet, Nov. 22.

Capts. S. S. Robinson, Assist. to Bureau of Steam Engineering, Navy Dept., to command the South Carolina; R. L. Russell from command of the South Carolina, home wait orders, and W. S. Sims, from Commander torpedo flotilla, Atlantic Fleet, Nov. 22, to fitting out the Nevada and in command when commissioned.

Comdr. W. V. Pratt, from command of the Birmingham to Washington Navy Yard.

Lieut. Comdr. D. A. Weaver commissioned.

Lts. E. Friedrick, to New York Naval Ship, sick, and F. R. King, commissioned.

Jr. Grade Lt. G. B. Strickland, commissioned.

Ensigns S. Riche, the Arkansas, to New York Naval Hospital, sick; J. R. Henderson, the Michigan, to Philadelphia Naval Hosp., sick, and F. S. Low, the Connecticut to the Montana.

P. A. Surgeons C. W. O. Bunker, to New York Naval Hosp., and A. H. Dodge, the Salem to Portsmouth Yard.

Parsr. C. Stark, to Norfolk Recg. Ship.

Pay Clerk A. W. Riggin, commissioned.

Rear Admiral Henry N. Manney, retired, died at San Diego, Cal., Oct. 25.

Movements of Naval Vessels.

ARRIVED—Glacier, at La Paz; Prairie, at Port Royal; Montana, at Napeague Bay; Louisiana, at Norfolk; Culgoa, Parker, and Wright, at New York Yard; Machias, at Mobile, and the Fanning, at White Stone Landing.

SAILED—New Orleans, Topolbampo, for Guaymas; Prometheus, Sitka, for Cordova; Nicholson, Newport, for Stratford Shoal; Reid and Flusher, Boston, for Gardiner's Bay; Mackenzie, Havana, for Key West, and the Worden, Newport, for New London.

THE CIVIL SERVICE.

City.

The list for licensed fireman for Brooklyn is announced as follows:

F. Wright, Edward Lawler, L. La France, Jr., M. Berg, A. Bevilacqua, Thomas Clark, M. Dennen, A. Rouse, F. McCarron, J. Johnson, Charles Seaman, Edward Hernes, N. Strassel, Patrick Cusack, M. Flood, Thomas McNamara, D. Clark, John McKeever, Joseph Kovacs, A. Wink, L. Busterna, F. Mahan, Patrick McArdle, William Turner, Charles Reilly, J. Molloy, John Campbell, Charles Devlin, L. Tetley, William McDonald, R. Harris, W. McGowan, and John Roallo.

United States.

The commission announces for Nov. 2 an examination for senior structural engineer, Grade 2, for men only, to fill vacancies as they may occur in the Interstate Commerce Commission under the act providing for the valuation of the property of common carriers. Sal

411 ON TAX ROLL CUT TO 72.

Day's Inquiry Discloses 45 Non-Resident and 7 Dead.

Tax Commissioners in Manhattan yesterday examined 411 persons against whom a personal tentative tax assessment for 1916 of $34,006,500 had been made. Out of the number only seventy-two were held for final assessment and their total was $263,900. Those exempted owing to non-residence numbered forty-five, while seven were reported as having died since the assessment was made.

The total number examined since the books were opened is 4,318. Their total assessment amounted to $357,991,500. Of the number 706 have been held for a final assessment of $4,783,241.

AUCTION SALES.

MISCELLANEOUS.

ASSIGNEE SALE

In the matter of the general assignment of William W. Balke to Robert W. Thompson, Assignee,

SAMUEL MARX, Auctioneer,

Will Sell by Public Auction on Thursday, October 28th, 1915, at 10:30 A. M. Auctioneer's Salesroom, 115-17 Spring St., Near Broadway, City.

Assets of above, consisting of a very fine and elaborate collection of household furniture, books, carpets, rugs, paintings, bric-a-brac, silverware, and works of art, etc.; also Champagnes, Wines of old Vintages, Beers, Ale, Liquors, Groceries, etc.

ROBERT W. THOMPSON, Esq., Assignee. YANKAUER & DAVIDSON, Attorneys for Assignee, 261 Broadway, N. Y. C.

TRUSTEE SALE
SOLID SILVERWARE
SAMUEL MARX, Auctioneer,

Will Sell by Public Auction, on Thursday, October 28th, 1915, At 2 P. M., At 115-17 Spring St., Near B'way, City, Entire Collection of Henry Knebel, Dec'd, Consisting of

A very elaborate pair of Candelabra with Brackets, Samovar and Tray, Coffee, Tea, Cream and Chocolate Sets with extra trays, large and small; Forks, Spoons, Knives, Oyster Forks, Ladles, and various other articles, all being solid silver, and will be sold without reserve.

By order of Joseph K. Savage, Esq., Trustee, 52 Wall St., City.

Also by Order of Whom It May Concern.

EXECUTOR SALE

Norma H. Barrett, Deceased, consisting of an exceptionally fine assortment of Furs, such as Russian Sable Set, with extra Scarf. Alaska Seal Coat, Persian Coat and Muff, and a Fisher Set.

SALES ARRANGED AND CONDUCTED BY PHILIP SMITH.

SAMUEL MARX, Auctioneer, Woolworth Bldg., Suite 2120-2126. Tel. 6911-6912-7804-5 Barclay.

Salesroom 115-17 Spring St., nr. B'way, City. Tel., 4001-5882 Spring.

Exhibition and Descriptive Catalogue Tuesday, Oct. 26th, and Wednesday, Oct. 27th, 10 A. M. to 5 P. M.

MERCHANDISE.

About $50,000 Worth of
High Speed Steel Tools

BROWN & SHARP, PRATT & WHITNEY, AND OTHER HIGH-CLASS TOOLS CONSISTING OF

Milling Cutters, Gauges, Reamers, Arbors, Thread Gauges, Lathe and Drill Chucks, Taps, Dies, Face Plates, Tool Racks, etc.

CHARLES SHONGOOD, Auctioneer, will sell Thursday, October 28, 1915, at 10:30 A. M., at 539 Broadway, New York City, the above property.

ALL THESE GOODS ARE PRACTICALLY BRAND NEW.

JOS. SHONGOOD'S SONS
Julius Shongood, Auctioneer

Salesroom, 94 Bowery

Will Sell at Auction
TOMORROW, THURS., OCT. 28

At 10 A. M.

The season's largest and finest collection of

HIGH-GRADE FURS

BY ORDER OF

Jas. J. Ryan, Inc., 132 Myrtle Ave., Brooklyn
Robt. A. Adam Co., 2138 Fifth Ave., Manhattan
D. Silberstein's Sons, 8 & 10 6th Ave., Manhattan
Silberstein Bros., 2457 Eighth Ave., Manhattan

THE ASSORTMENT COMPRISES

RUSSIAN SABLE SETS
RUSSIAN SABLE SKINS, SEALSKIN COATS, SEALSKINS AND HIGH GRADE FURS AND FUR GARMENTS OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

DEALERS PARTICULARLY INVITED.

LIQUIDATION SALE

$10,000 STOCK OF ELLIS BROS., Ox Fresno, 685 Broadway, New York.

VAN PRAAG & CO., Auctioneers, Sell To-day at 10:30 A. M. ON ABOVE PREMISES

500 CARTONS SILK RIBBONS, From No. 100 to 250, 100 BOXES SILK VELVETS, Silks, Malines, Malinettes, etc.

STOCKS AND BONDS.

ANDREW J. McCORMACK, Auctioneer, REGULAR AUCTION SALE OF STOCKS AND BONDS, BY ADRIAN H. MULLER & SON, OFFICE NO. 55 WILLIAM ST., WEDNESDAY, OCT. 27TH, 1915, at 12:30 o'clock, at the EXCHANGE SALESROOM, NOS. 14 AND 16 VESEY STREET.

BY ORDER OF EXECUTORS ESTATE OF SARAH KIRKMAN, Dec'd.

$5,000 Southern Pacific Co. 5 p. c. Convt. Bds., 1934.
$7,000 Baltimore & Ohio R. R. 4½ p. c. Convt. Bds., 1933.
$5,000 Indiana Steel Co. 1st Mtg. 5 p. c. Bds., 1952.
20 shs. Chicago & Northwestern Ry. common.
52 shs. Corn Exchange Bank.
22 shs. Atlantic Coast Line R. R. common.
4 shs. Kirkman & Son pref.
50 shs. General Chemical Co. 1st pref.
FOR ACCOUNT OF WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.
60 shs. Royal Baking Powder Co. common.
100 shs. Third Avenue R'way Co.
30 shs. New-Yorker Staats-Zeitung.
30 shs. First Natl. Bank, Seabright, N. J.
8 shs. Flushing Terrace Realty Co.
3 shs. Little Farms Associates.
170 shs. Steinway Park Realty Co.
$20,000 McKnight Realty Co. 1st Mtg. 5 p. c. Gold Bonds.
13 shs. American Telephone & Telegraph Co.
$1,000 Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Ry. Adjustment 4 p. c. Bds., Stamped Registd.
17 shs. Pennsylvania Co.
5 3-10 shs. Harper & Brothers pref.
30 shs. New York Title Insurance Co.
20 shs. Publicity Clock Co., Inc.
15 shs. City of New York Insurance Co.
100 shs. Art Metal Construction Co.
$1,358.60 Claim of United Export Co. vs. L. K. Purdom, Tegucigalpa, San Salvador, for balance of account in favor of the United Export Co., with interest from Feb. 6, 1914.
$7,381.94 Judgment in favor of the United Export Co. against Alfred P. Moisant, entered in the office of the Clerk of the County of New York, April 20, 1915.
$50,000 Pittsburgh, Shawmut & Northern R. R. 5 p. c. Receivers' Ctfs., due March 1, 1916.

ADVERTISING SUPREMACY.

The New York Times in the nine months, from January 1st to September 30th, 1915, printed 6,678,709 agate lines in total advertising, help and situation wanted advertisements excepted—a greater volume than any other New York newspaper, morning or afternoon—365,878 agate lines in excess of the next New York newspaper.—Advt.

BUSINESS WORLD

Buyer's Wants

50 Cents per agate line each insertion. Count six words agate to a line.

DEPARTMENT STORE desires at once job suits, dresses, skirts, and waists; will pay spot cash. L 82 Times.

WE ARE OPEN for Amoskeag 32-inch chambrays, all colors; quantity no object; will pay cash. Address Box K 239 Times Downtown.

WANT QUANTITY LINEN wiping cloths, table cloths, napkins. Strong & Hary Co., Rochester, N. Y.

DRESS FASTENERS wanted; all sizes. Telephone 5893 Franklin.

JOBBERS looking at wash skirts will place immediate orders; call between 2 and 5 P. M. S. Blate & Sons, 55 West 17th St.

JOB 200 SERGE DRESSES to close out. International Dress and Skirt Co., 138 West 25th St.

JOB OF SKIRTS in latest materials and styles to close out at a price. Wear Well Skirt Co., 30 West 24th St.

FUR TRIMMINGS in job lot, all kinds, to close out for the trade. Room 802, 33 West 34th St.

JOB OF SERGE, silk, and velvet dresses to close out. Graber and Wechsler, 164 West 25th St.

25 PIECES WATERLOO CHINCHILLA colored black, navy, brown, and gray, to close out. Phone Farragut 9165.

ON HAND 1,000 cloth coats, fur trimmed; close out at $4.75. Hirsch & Bro., 153 W. 27th St.

JOB of dresses, serges, combinations, and velvets, to close out. 13 West 27th St., 7th floor.

BIG SACRIFICE.—Have 100 doz. waists to close out at exceptionally low figure. Jos. Rosenberg & Co., 134 Spring St.

JOB OF DRESSES to close out; newest merchandise. Reliance Costume Co., 33 West 34th St.

WE CARRY LARGE QUANTITIES OF ALL kinds of mixture coats on hand for immediate delivery.

Weinstein & Kilpstein, 139-141 Spring St., Corner Wooster St.

FOR IMMEDIATE DELIVERY, PLUSH COATS AND FUR-TRIMMED MIXTURE AND BROADCLOTH COATS. ALL SNAPPY STYLES AND LATEST MODELS. I. & B. SAPIRO CLOAK CO., 45 WEST 20TH ST.

On hand, COATS, FUR TRIMMED; cloths, pile fabrics, $4.50 to $12.50; immediate delivery. Hirsch & Brother, 153 West 27th St.

FUR-TRIMMED COATS.

In plushes, corduroy, velours, mixtures; 1,000 for immediate delivery. Kaplan Bros., 150 West 22d St.; Chelsea 2198-8618.

WE HAVE NIFTY FUR-TRIMMED DRESSES FOR IMMEDIATE DELIVERY. DICKER & GINSBERG, 142 W. 26TH ST.

HAVE 5,000 plush coats on hand, ready for immediate delivery; reasonable prices. Rudinsky Bros., 27 West 24th.

WILL SELL 12 pieces black, Erlanger's twill back velveteen; reasonable. W 101 Times.

HAVE BROWN 24-inch and black 22-inch imported twill back velveteen to sell. Phone Madison Square 7179.

VELVETEEN SUITS, fur trimmed, for immediate delivery. M. La & G. Cloak and Suit Co., 29 West 17th St.

250 PIECES OF FURS, consisting of scarfs, muffs, and coats, at a sacrifice. Schiller, 224 Sixth Av.

FIVE HUNDRED FUR TRIMMED SUITS, TO CLOSE OUT. KIRSHMAN BROS., 36 W. 25TH ST.

ON HAND for immediate delivery, up-to-date dresses at a price. Vassar Dress Co., 39 West 32d St.

Big job of silk serge combinations and chiffon velvet dresses. Coronet Costume Co., 114 W. 17th St.

JOB of children's and misses' serge and corduroy dresses. Subin, 32 W. 24th St.

SKIRTS, serge and velvet corduroys on hand. L. Chauser, 19 W. 21st St.

Jobs desired for cash in highest grade 'adies' and children's dresses and suits, plush and Winter coats, skirts, waists, petticoats, furs, sweaters. Uneeda House, 8 Lispenard Street; Franklin 4343.

DESIRE at once jobs ladies' suits, dresses, skirts and waists; will pay cash. Eastern Merchandise Co., 435 Broadway. Spring 3858.

CASH PAID for job lots of women's apparel. Frank Jacobovitz, 10 Lispenard St. Fr. 7,950.

COMMERCIAL PAPER.

Yesterday ..3@3¼ per cent. for the best names
Monday.....3@3½ " " " "
The quotations are for six months' paper.

Colored Buckskin Offered Now.

Manufacturers of buckskin are now producing their leather in colors similar to the kid used so largely, but it still remains, according to experienced shoe men, to be seen whether or not the colored buck will become popular. The dye used in coloring kid leather now costs $13 a pound, against a cost of 65 cents a pound two years ago. This extra cost means an increase of about two cents a foot on the leather, or about six cents per pair of shoes.

Gabardines Show Strength.

About the only feature to the demand for dress goods at the present time is the strength of gabardines and the probability of this fabric taking a much larger share of business than it has. Poplins continue to be well taken for Spring, with nowheres near the amount of cancellations that were predicted a while ago. Mohairs and serges are also being well received, something that cannot be said for the serges that were formerly sold to the women's wear trade. Buyers are taking shepherd checks more freely than ever.

More Talk About Blankets.

There were more rumors yesterday of blanket purchases by one of the allied countries, supposedly Italy, but nothing definite could be got. From all accounts it is not as easy to place this business as some that has gone before because of certain differences in specifications from the ordinary army blankets. So marked are these differences said to be that some of the blanket mills cannot touch them at all, and it is thought possible that before all is said and done the buyers in question will have to take, not what they want, but what they can get.

Linoleum Prices Unchanged.

Linoleum prices for the Spring season have been named on the basis of the last advance on Fall goods, which took place on Sept. 1. There is no assurance, however, that these prices will be held very long, for the rising cost of the raw material is said to be liable to cause an advance at almost any time in the future. While trading is never very heavy in this branch of the floor coverings trade on the opening day of the season, quite a large number of buyers dropped into the showrooms of the leading manufacturers to look over the new lines and to make selections for confirmation later on.

Retail Dry Goods Convention.

The convention of the National Retail Dry Goods Association will be held at the Hotel Biltmore on Feb. 3, 4, and 5. These dates will give the association two full days for transacting its business and a half day on the 5th, which falls on Saturday. The dinner will be held on the evening of the first day. The membership of the association has increased more than a hundred per cent. since last February, and 500 members will be present at the next meeting, compared with the 200 who were gathered at the Hotel Knickerbocker, where the last convention was held.

High-Grade Dresses Did Well.

With the end of the Fall wholesale season for dresses approaching, makers of high-grade goods of this kind report one of the best seasons in years. Buying is steady enough even at this late date, but in some quarters deliveries have been delayed so badly, through inability to get sufficient quantities of the fabrics wanted, that the manufacturers are not anxious for a great deal more Fall business. They want to get their present orders cleaned up and turn their attention to the new season. As a sample of how popular velvet has been this season for dresses, one manufacturer said yesterday that fully 75 per cent. of the street garments turned out by him were made of velvet, in black and colors, while 20 per cent. were of broadcloth, and the remainder of various silks. Colored velvets are said to be especially hard to get just now.

Shoe Style Question Settled.

The dispute over shoe styles for the future has been settled in favor of solid colors in the darker shades, according to the Morse & Rogers bulletin. Dealers who now have combination colored shoes in pumps are cutting prices in order to move them quickly. The bulletin says also that the large stores, which anticipate the wants of their customers early, are doing a fine business on high-priced kidskin shoes. Black, bronze, or African brown, mocha, olive, dark blue, green and purple are highly favored. Patent leather button shoes with black cloth tops and plain toes are again selling well, and the oldtime turn sole opera slippers with French heels, now called spat pumps, are selling better than they ever did.

What a Skating Fad May Do.

Manufacturers of various sorts of sporting goods are anxious to have the skating fad, talked of for this Winter, actually develop. Such a fad would spur on the demand for all kinds of apparel. Knit goods manufacturers, however, will receive most of the benefit, and there are signs already in evidence that the trade in their wares will be exceptionally brisk. If such a sport as skating is to be adopted for the Winter months by a large number of people, it will enable manufacturers in many lines to fill in time that is ordinarily very slack for them. Women's knit scarf sets in brushed goods are finding a large sale at present, which would seem to indicate that skating is "coming in."

A Scarcity of Jobs.

Buyers of women's ready-to-wear garments will not find much in the way of close out merchandise this season. Those that have put off ordering any large quantities, in the hope of being able to pick up goods at lower prices than now prevail, are very apt to be disappointed. The women's garment trades have been well employed, and prices will no doubt be maintained except in very rare instances. The manufacturing trades are finding it a hard matter to get desirable fabrics and, even where higher prices are paid, deliveries have become uncertain. With an actual scarcity of goods the manufacturers will hardly depart so far from correct merchandising principles as to sacrifice their product.

Weather Halts Coal Demand.

The Coal Trade Journal will say today that last week was relatively quiet in the anthracite market, but there was no slackening in the rate of mine operations. The producers were busy in catching up on their orders, and so were not disturbed by a temporary let-up in demand. The arrival of more seasonable weather over the week-end was promptly felt in retail circles, and its influence is now beginning to extend to wholesale offices. The great problem with bituminous shippers is how to get coal forwarded fast enough to take care of their contracts. The tonnage available for sale in the open market is relatively small, and is gradually becoming more limited.

Gray Goods Still Quiet.

Staple gray goods were again quiet in this market yesterday, the drop in cotton not giving the buyers any reason to operate further to any extent on spot and nearby goods. More attempts were made yesterday, it was said, to get contract goods than for several days, but the mills apparently have not got to the point where they will take what the buyers are offering for such deliveries. More second-hand goods were reported in the market during the day, at prices ranging from a sixteenth to an eighth of a cent lower than those asked by first hands, but it is said that there are not many of these goods to be had. Fancies continued to move actively. Spot printcloth prices were:

39-inch, 80-80s....6⅝c; 38½-inch, 64-56s...4¼c
39-inch, 72-76s....5⅝c; 38½-inch, 60-48s...4¼c
38-inch, 68-72s....5¼c; 38½-inch, 60-48s...4¼c
39-inch, 56-44s....*4c 27-inch, 64-60s...3¾c
38½-inch, 64-60s..4¾c; 27-inch, 56-52s....3c
*Asked.

BUSINESS TROUBLES.

In Town.

114TH STREET AND SEVENTH AVENUE CONSTRUCTION COMPANY.—A petition in bankruptcy has been filed against the 114th Street and Seventh Avenue Construction Company, builder, of 1,854 Seventh Avenue, by Weschler & Son for fees for these creditors: Simmons & Mayer, $500; Consolidated Chandelier Company, $500, and Brandt Construction Company, $500. It was alleged that the company had transferred real estate at 125 to 129 West 111th Street to Isidor Reis. Liabilities are stated to be $75,000 and assets about $5,000.

CARUSA FEATHER COMPANY.—A petition has been filed against the Carusa Feather Company of 815 Broadway, which made an assignment on Monday.

PRESSED ASBESTOS PRODUCTS COMPANY.—A petition has been filed against the Pressed Asbestos Products Company of 451 West Nineteenth Street by Monnier & Marcus, creditors for $581. It was alleged that William Tries, a former employe, obtained a judgment against the company for $1,038 on Oct. 19. The assets were seized by a Marshal, and a sale has been advertised for Oct. 26.

ABRAHAM BERSE, doing business as the Berse Hat Company, wholesale dealer in millinery at 106 West Thirty-second Street, has made an assignment to Louis H. Strouse. A petition in bankruptcy was filed against him by these creditors: Max Feist, $532; Alexander Brothers, $30, and Thomas Earle & Co., $77. Liabilities are $10,000 and assets $7,000.

MAX RAPPORT.—A petition has been filed against Max Rapport, dealer in cloaks and suits at 3,493 Broadway, by these creditors: S. Marcus & Co., $417; Economist Clothing, $440, and Lichtenstein & Reichlein, $118. Liabilities are $3,000 and assets $1,000. He made an assignment on Monday.

J. E. MANIX COMPANY.—The report of appraisers in the bankruptcy of J. E. Manix Company, buyer for department stores, at 320 Church Street, shows liabilities $238,000 and liquidation value of assets $275,359. Deducting liabilities of the receiver, amounting to $38,509, and estimating future expenses at $5,000, leaves a net balance realizable on liquidation of $231,750.

MANDEL & REDER, trading as the Regal Waist Company, at 7 West Thirtieth Street, have filed assignment schedules showing liabilities $47,000; nominal assets, $45,111, and actual assets, $2,178.

MORRIS GLASSER, glass dealer at 91 Ninth Avenue, has filed bankruptcy schedules showing liabilities $8,255 and assets $2,178.

Out of Town.

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—James C. Michael, President of the Prosperity Exposition, against which a petition in involuntary bankruptcy was filed three weeks ago, voluntary petition. Liabilities $12,975, assets $856. The larger portion of the liabilities are for notes and contracts of the exposition guaranteed by him.

A. Tuckhorn, a saloon keeper, voluntary petition. Liabilities $11,496, assets $1,750.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Oct. 26.—Thomas F. Dwyer, grocer of New Bedford, voluntary petition. Liabilities $2,833, assets $1,502. Allen Slade & Co., Inc., among the largest creditors with an unsecured claim for $288.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—In re Auto Mart. Petition filed that the Auto Mart be placed under a receivership. Petitioning creditor Century Rubber Works. Liabilities, $22,000; assets, $12,000.

Current Electric Company. Voluntary petition. Liabilities, $14,491; assets, $10,915.

BUSINESS NOTES.

Sawyer, Regan & Co., warp novelty woolens, have removed to room 1,101, 26 Madison Avenue.

The silk buyers of the Dry Goods Alliance will meet today at 75 Spring Street. A meeting of the dress goods buyers will be held at that address tomorrow.

The sixth semi-annual banquet of the Carpet Club of New York will be held at the Hotel Breslin tonight at 7 o'clock. Myron W. Robinson of the Crex Carpet Company is Chairman of the Dinner Committee.

Alexander H. Meyer, a resident buyer of this city, has leased the eleventh floor of the new Bijou building, Broadway and Thirty-fifth Street, for a term of years from the World's Manufacturing Corporation, which recently took a lease covering four floors in that building. The Meyer lease was negotiated by Irving M. Crane, who is President of the corporation.

The roads of the Trunk Line Association have notified the Secretary of the National Canners' Association that they will establish a special two-cent-a-mile rate in each direction in conjunction with the convention of the Canners' Association, which is to be held in Louisville, Feb. 7-11. Similar action has been taken by the Central Passenger Association.

The sixth annual convention of the American Manufacturers' Export Association will be held today at the Hotel Biltmore. Among the speakers at the convention and the banquet will be Percival Farquhar, head of the Brazil Railway Company, John Chandler Cobb of Boston, and Isaac N. Seligman. Alba B. Johnson, President of the Baldwin Locomotive Works, will preside at the convention.

RICE CROP WORRIES JAPAN.

Government Tries to Relieve Market by Buying Up a Large Amount.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Notwithstanding war prices and the steady demand for foodstuffs, there is distress in Japan at the surplus of rice on hand from last year's crop. The Government has bought a large amount, expending thus far $2,480,000 for the purpose of relieving the market, but there is an excess of 10,000,000 bushels, with a similar surplus in sight from this year's crop.

The annual consumption of rice in Japan is 55,000,000 koku or 275,000,000 bushels, and this year there is estimated to be an excess for exportation of at least 2,000,000 koku or 10,000,000 bushels. The tendency of the market during the Fall has been to lower prices and with the new crop coming on there is grave fears of a general slump.

Consul General Sidmore at Yokohama, in a report to the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, states that the purchase of rice in large quantities by the Government had little effect on the price and did not withstand the depression in the market. The Japanese authorities are at a loss how to meet the situation seeing that the recent effort by purchase to help things failed to accomplish any good.

JUDGMENTS.

The following judgments were filed yesterday, the first name being that of the debtor:

In New York County.

American Hay Co.—New York Central R. R. Co. $1,099.71
Beck, Harry B.—S. Prosser et al. 104.49
Brachman, Samuel M.—A. E. Fowler et al. 217.80
Borger, Andrew H.—H. Buckley 519.72
Benfre Realty and Holding Co.—A. Steurmann 179.81
Coen, John—R. Scobie 267.94
Central Moron Sugar Co.—A. R. Cenalin 14,129.58
Cullen, Charles—Lawson Piano Co. 196.22
Coakley, Wm. A.—W. J. Carroll 171.22
Crosby, Wilson R.—Algoma Produce Co. 328.46
Davis, Leonard—Paige Buffalo Co., Inc. 649.50
Damers, John, and Edward Koles—G. G. Barker, costs 408.19
Ophtania, Augusto—F. M. Conte 126.91
Erber, Ignatz—J. Lamarus 325.14
Elle, Joseph and Emme—Knickerbocker Clothing Co. 107.84
Egan & Leake—J. F. Morgan 149.97
Ingram, Ernest—Leake Co., Inc. 284.61
Fennell, Robert—L. J. Field et al. 196.48
Feury, Nellie M.—P. Shanley et al. 485.53
Gutzman, Otto—M. Michaelson 1,554.08
Goldfarb, Isaac—A. Radin 118.80
Goldberg, Joseph—A. S. Rosenberg & Co., Inc. 147.24
George A. Just Co.—M. Bayer, costs 112.10
Genser Feather Co. and Joseph Genser—J. Scheuer & Co. 177.85
Hyatt, Mary—K. Stearns 165.80
Heckscher, August, and Percy N. Furber—T. A. Navina, costs 110.38
Hur, Francis C., Laurence F., Helen, and Alexander R. Humphillas 296.33
Harcomb, J. Douglas—J. H. Rooney 110.98
Hoagland, George P., and Wm. F. O'Dwyer—Keystone Type Foundry 264.41
Jucaro & Moron Railway Co. —R. S. Cowdin 2,694.54
Same—Same 2,222.94
Same—Same 6,971.44
Jagendorf, Gusta—City Real Estate Co. 230.17
Logie, James—J. C. Mundy 534.96
Minkowski, Stanley—United Distillers Co. 105.89
McKinstry, Isabel A.—Astor Trust Co. 3,157.63
Mazzola, Louis—A. Hayes 3,930.42
Medici, Mary—H. E. Meeker 5,147.57
Nankin, Hussie—I. Dresner 333.63
Morfoganis, Peter—Cudahy Packing Co. 112.51
Pass, Henry F., McEntee 146.14
Meisteries, Sigmund—F. Fruehauf 120.78
McAleenan, Joseph A.—R. Cimino 13,131.98
Preu, Otto—H. C. Cameron 6,771.62
Pacher, Sophie—Morris & Co. 171.81
Polo Hygienic Ice Co.—Rossaler & Hoss-lacher Chemical Co. 743.40
Parker, John H.—James McCreery & Co. 145.34
Reiss, Samuel—A. Radin 302.87
Rosenberg, Yosta—Fidelity Bank 478.91
Schwartz, Isaac—M. Sollinger 817.57
Stevens, Edwin E.—Cable Construction Co., Inc 204.81
Schrodel, Frederick J.—Interstate Note and Holding Co. 121.55
Schwartzbarth, Klats and Annie—P. L. Berlinger et al. 171.24
Schultz, Carl W.—Charles B. Towne Hospital 305.96
Spamphanet, Vincent—Interstate Note and Holding Co., Inc. 141.25
Strauss, Wm. L.—C. T. Janowsky 240.22
Van Buren and N. Y. Bill Posting Co.—Times Square Improvement Co., Inc. 400.75
Vernon, Frank—Necessity Envelope Co. 188.69
Vanderlinde, Joseph M.—C. P. Leggett 1,439.54
U. S. Trading and Transportation Co.—N. Y. Telephone Co. 245.12
Thompson, Carey A.—Property Sales Corp. 390.28
Vermilyea, Bessie—H. Wechter, costs 107.27
Twist, Emily A.—E. M. Lynch 678.94
White, Stanford—Dodd, Mead & Co. 108.71
Webb Construction Co., Inc.—Empire Lighting Fixture Co. 217.86
William Burks Metal Corner Bed Co., Inc.—American Lurfer Prism Co. 208.74
Water Purification Co.—N. Y. Telephone Co. 107.64
Wilson, Maude—J. Staneck et al. 106.04
Walters, Albert A.—M. L. Macdonald 276.14
Wolpin, Henry, and Morris Gershrin—C. Kaye 265.66
Wykagyl Reservation, Inc.—P. R. Macnellie 3,200.53
Woolsleger, Joseph—United Distillers Co. 219.06
Yankaus, Baltrus S.—M. Feltenstein et al. 882.78
Yeaple, Byron J.—Metropolitan Chair Co. 306.45
Burlando, Emanuel—City of N. Y. 161.83
Bishop, C. W.—Same 145.72
Boyer, Wm. H.—Same 619.48
Brainard, Wm. H.—Same 267.11
Cook, Geo. J.—Same 499.23
Clark, Frederick E.—Same 619.88
Cohn, Fannie K.—Same 378.99
Ducasse, Francis—Same 146.58
Engeman, William—Same 267.11
Erie Boatman's Transportation Co.—Same 162.99
Fenn, Frank B.—Same 267.11
Frankel, Irving—Same 618.95
Forest Leasing Co.—Same 115.69
Good, Wm. H.—Same 267.11
Hunt, Max—Same 619.48
Hoadley, Joseph H.—Same 619.48
Hilgardner, John W.—Same 267.11
Holman, Edw. E.—Same 376.99
Iron Clad Mfg. Co.—Same 640.40
Interstate Securities Co.—Same 941.57
Kimberley, Augustus G.—Same 267.11
Kasaub, George—Same 267.11
Multiphone Operating Co.—Same 376.74
Martin, Geo. W.—Same 1,220.71
Miller, Samuel—Same 135.99

In Bronx County.

Ahrons, Ida B.—O'Neill-Adams Co. $75.09
Appelbaum, Julius—I. Klatzkie 452.85
Bronx Co. Pk'cy—Frederick F. Ingram Co. 25.04
Borger, Andrew H.—E. Buckley 519.72
Carnegie Construction Co.—B. Aitman & Co. 394.84
Cohen, Sarah—A. S. Lewis 70.04
Delecker, Charles—Echelis Realty Co. 435.58
Estates Contracting Co.—E. Bellow 1,090.18
Greenbaum, Jacob S.—Gordon Press, Inc. 70.97
Godard, Grace Purdy—W. E. Fanche 31.27
Iasevoll, Nicola—D'Andrea Construction Co. 40.97
Kspian, Abraham—J. B. Neiman 61.65
Lamole, Pasquale—People of the State of N. Y. 78.12
Mitchell, Patrick J., and John J. McDermott—W. H. Caldwell 271.74
Pyle, Albin F.—E. D. Longhman 20.51
Paley, Louis M.—O'Neill-Adams Co. 277.59
Partello, William Z.—F. Colsty 357.66
Regenthal, Anzel—O. Landau 193.22
Rottenberg, Lena—People of the State of N. Y. 414.54
Reinach, Adolph—S. Trimmer & Sons, Inc. 78.87
Rosenberg, Jacob—Defiance Button Machine Co. 33.16
Schleifer, Max—J. Dulon 185.90
Siegel, Dora—N. Y. Consolidated R. R. 114.50
Silvestri, Paul, Kovacs Construction Co., and Julian Kovacs—Cosmopolitan Bank 425.72
Watson, Matthew F. and Clarence C. Mann—Ebling Brewing Co. 283.16
Walzer, Harry—Henry L. Hunter, Inc. 107.72
Zeller, Joseph—J. Burckel 32.72

SATISFIED JUDGMENTS.

The first name is that of the debtor, the second that of the creditor, and date that when judgment was filed.

In New York County.

Green, Michael J.—W. H. Meyer, March 25, 1907 ..... $121.62
Glantz, Louis G.—Rubin Berrson—D. E. Bershall & Son, Aug. 16, 1915 ..... 180.29
Goldan, S. Ormand—E. Thompson, Oct. 20, 1915 ..... 201.61
Hecht, Rudolph—H. A. Budd, May 29, 1914 ..... 288.92
Herrmann, Henry—I. M. Delaney et al., Dec. 11, 1912 ..... 359.40
Israel, Julius and David—J. S. Wright, July 10, 1915 ..... 680.77
Kellogg, Andrew H., Andrew H. Kellogg Co.—J. George, March 5, 1915 ..... 2,955.38
Kaufman, Rebecca—M. Metzner, Sept. 23, 1915 ..... 960.94
Metz, Adam—National Lead Co., April 22, 1915 ..... 887.32
Molostowsky, Annie—E. A. Scott, April 2, 1915 ..... 897.32
Mercein, Daniel S.—McCready Pub. Co., July 9, 1913 ..... 424.44
Rosenthal, Frances—M. Wener, Oct. 14, 1914 ..... 186.91
Schleiff, Max, and Samuel Grumtwarg—Graf Realty Holding Co., Inc., Sept. 27, 1915 ..... 371.35
Two Hundred and Fourth St. Corp.—Murray & Hill Co., Oct. 25, 1915 ..... 867.06
Weber, Robert G.—Charles F. De Ganahl (vacated) 108,000.00
Wuppermann, Adolph E.—Alhambra Garage Co., April 10, 1914 ..... 229.43
Troegerlith Tile Co.—G. F. Hill, Feb. 3, 1915, (reversed) 2,129.70

In Bronx County.

Keilbert Construction Co., Francis X. Keil, and William T. Hookey & Sons Co., Inc.—M. Kobre, July 27, 1915 ..... 3259.51
Lang, Joseph—J. Bogart et al., Oct. 2, 1913 ..... 495.49
Lemlen, Gertrude—A. Kunst, Sept. 15, 1915 ..... 139.23

THE RUG AND CARPET SALE.

Continued Interest and Good Prices Mark the Auction.

While interest in the second day's auction of the Alexander Smith & Sons Carpet Company was maintained yesterday, buyers, particularly those from out of town, took time to visit the show rooms of the rug and carpet houses showing the new Spring 1916 lines of merchandise. A good many of the trade visitors concluded that it would be a good idea to see also what other firms were offering.

The auction began with Katonah velvet rugs, and these were followed in order by the other classes of the company's lines in velvet floor coverings. Many of the most popular patterns in the velvet goods brought full value. As on Monday, so yesterday, there was some shading for balances, but the day's prices as a whole held up remarkably well, in the opinion of experienced buyers. Among the classes of rugs sold yesterday, together with regular Spring list prices and single lot prices obtained, were the following:

Class.	List Price.	Auction Price.
12-4 Katonah velvet, 9x12, seamless	$11.00	$11.25
Z 18-4 Axminsters, 12x12	25.00	25.50
16-4 Axminsters, 12x15	32.55	26.25
E Saxony Axminsters, 27x54 in.	1.50	1.35
J Saxony Axminsters, 36x72 in.	2.70	2.55
E Axminsters, 27x90 in.	1.75	1.60
J Axminsters, 36x72 in.	1.60	1.60

Buyers at times were disappointed, apparently, at the auctioneer's announcement that duplicates were less than stated in the official catalogue of the sale. One of the features of the afternoon session was the wide distribution on many classes, this applying especially to such goods as small Axminster runners. As nearly as could be estimated, total receipts of the two days' sale closely approximate $900,000.

Today's auction at the Smith salesrooms begins at 10 o'clock with Lot 696, covering Smith Axminster mats. There are still 1,823 lots to be disposed of between today and Saturday night, but the Smith auctioneers hope by speeding up the remaining days of the sale to clear out the last lot late Saturday night.

Across the avenue from the Smith auction buyers made liberal purchases of rugs and carpets offered at special competitive prices for this week only by Stephen Sanford & Sons, Inc. This concern is understood to have taken orders so far this week for goods valued at above $300,000.

OTHER PRICES NAMED.

In One Instance an Advance Was Made During the Day.

Prices for the Spring (1916) season were named on carpets and rugs during the day by W. & J. Sloane, wholesale department, selling agents for McCleary, Walling & Crouse and the Shuttleworth Brothers Company of Amsterdam, N. Y., and C. H. Masland & Sons of Philadelphia. The carpet prices ranged from 4 to 10 cents a yard higher than those named at the opening of the Fall season, while the rug advances ranged from 5 cents on certain small sizes, the 27 inches by 60 inches, to $4.10 on the highest priced 11-3 by 15 rug offered. The latter advance is about 6 per cent.

One of the features in this part of the trade was that it became necessary during the day to advance the 9 by 12 size of the McCleary, Walling & Crouse Liberty axminster rugs an additional 25 cents, bringing the price to $18.25, against $12.25 at the opening of last season. All of the prices quoted are subject to change without notice, and all orders are accepted subject to strikes and fires and to the ability of the manufacturers to fill them prior to April 1, 1916. The new season's figures named by the Roxbury Carpet Company and the Firth Carpet Company are practically on the bases of the advances of July 1, when quotations on Fall goods were moved up quite a little. It is expected that J. F. Shoaff & Co., the selling agents, will announce prices on the goods they handle today.

EXPORT RECORDS BROKEN.

Those from This Port Last Week Footed Up $67,580,906.

All records for exports from this port were broken in the week ended Oct. 23, when outward shipments of war supplies and general merchandise totaled $67,580,906, according to the Custom House report issued yesterday. Exports in the week before amounted to $54,657,889, and in the week before that to $29,405,122. Exports in the corresponding week last year were valued at $21,397,327. Exports from this port to date for the year show total $1,241,943,613, compared with $707,606,179 in the same period last year.

England's weekly exports, which have been steadily mounting, reached high-water mark last week when they totaled $24,206,218, or $6,000,000 more than in the week before. Shipments to Wales amounted to $1,350,000, while Ireland's share was $626,216. Scotch exports were valued at $96,710. Exports for the week to British possess

KIDDER, PEABODY & CO.

115 Devonshire St. BOSTON — 17 Wall St. NEW YORK

Investment Securities
Foreign Exchange
Letters of Credit

Correspondents of
BARING BROTHERS & CO., LTD
LONDON

The Moderate Cost of Some of the Best Investments

should induce those who have available funds to place at least part of their money in one or more of the sound securities which are free of speculative influences and are giving especially attractiveincomereturns.

Write for a description of the securities we recommend. Ask for Investment Offering No. 186

William P. Bonbright & Co.
Incorporated
14 Wall Street, New York
Philadelphia Boston Detroit
London Paris
William P. Bonbright & Co. Bonbright & Co.

Liberal Returns on Conservative Investment Bonds

We shall be pleased to bring to your attention certain issues of conservative investment bonds to yield approximately 4¾% to 6%.

The value of the properties securing the issues is well in excess of the bonds outstanding, and earnings are largely beyond interest requirements.

Send for Circular 1553, Describing Bonds of the Character Outlined Herein.

Spencer Trask & Co.
INVESTMENT SECURITIES
25 Broad Street, New York
ALBANY BOSTON CHICAGO

True Value

Every value placed on a security should be backed up with intrinsic worth.

In selecting securities for investment, it is well to consider whether market value over or under estimates intrinsic value.

Our Department of Service will gladly supply you with the data which will help you to form an opinion.

F. S. Smithers & Co.
ESTABLISHED 1857
"64 Exchange Place"

State Of Tennessee
4s and 4-½s
Due July 1932-55
PRICES
4s, To Net.....4.22½%
4½s, To Net.....4.27½%
Ask for Circular T-61.

Remick, Hodges & Co.
Members New York Stock Exchange,
14 Wall St., New York
Correspondents:
R. L. Day & Co. Boston

Municipal Bonds
Free From Income Tax
To Net 4.25% to 5.50%
List "T" sent on request

Sidney Spitzer & Co.
115 Broadway, New York

We Offer
City of Newark, N. J.
Coupon or Reg. 4½s
Due Dec. 1959
Price 106, to yield 4.20%
Descriptive circular of the above and 20 other issues of tax exempt Municipal Bonds mailed upon request.

GEO. B. GIBBONS & CO.
MUNICIPAL BONDS
45 WALL STREET, NEW YORK

FINANCIAL MARKETS

Peace Rumor Checks Advance, with Some Confusion—More Startling Trade Figures.

A hint of what might be expected to take place in the stock market if serious peace overtures were made by one side or the other was given early yesterday afternoon when an unconfirmed rumor reached the financial district that Prince von Bülow, former Imperial German Chancellor, had prepared a proposition for submission to King Alfonso of Spain and President Wilson. This report came from Madrid, and lacked any corroborating evidence, but its publication was sufficient to check a rapidly advancing market and send some of the specialties back in short order.

The peace rumor came shortly after noon. The market had looked inviting for short sales to the professionals for several days, and with a weapon in their hands they started a drive against some of the issues which have been moving to new high levels without the customary reactions. In a few moments Maxwell common had sold from 93 down to 83, the first preferred from its high of 103 down to 99¾, and the second preferred from 85½ down to 64. Crucible Steel slumped from 93¼ to 88, Bethlehem from 580 to 550, Baldwin from 141½ to 128, and Industrial Alcohol from 124 to 120¾. Not all of these declines started from the day's high price with the receipt of the Madrid report; most of the specialties had already received a slight downward impetus from profit taking. But the lack of support clearly indicated to brokers that they had not erred in exacting large margins for purchases of the war stocks.

The market yesterday was even more active than on Monday, and the close, although irregular, showed gains for a great many issues. Railroad shares participated to a larger extent in the trading, and sentiment toward them was much more favorable, particularly for the lower priced stocks. Those lines which reach the Eastern seaboard are recovering their prestige with the circulation of stories of congested terminals.

As usual on a Steel Corporation meeting day, the action of Steel common was watched as a barometer of the feelings of insiders toward the business situation. The stock was very active, selling from 87¼ down two points and closing at 85⅞, with a net gain of half a point. The showing of $38,710,644 in net earnings for the quarter was gratifying except to those who had misled themselves into expectations of from $45,000,000 to $50,000,000. The ratio of increase in earnings as shown in the reports for July, August, and September by months, was equalled in October, and the outlook for dividends at the conclusion of the current quarter is encouraging.

The public mind is becoming so satiated with record-breaking trade figures that the export totals announced yesterday evoked little response. The average trader is at a loss to know whether he should construe each new total of exports as a good or bad sign. Nevertheless, the statement of exports from the twelve principal ports for the week ended with Oct. 23, which showed a total of $96,777,000 against imports of but $28,167,000, challenged attention in banking circles, where the arrangements for new commercial credits are taking shape. Sterling exchange was only slightly weaker, selling down to $4.61⅜ and closing an eighth above that figure at Monday's low point. There was evidence of a further improvement in the bond market, dealers reporting a good demand for New York State and City issues on the part of investors who had found banks unwilling to accept more deposits at interest.

MONEY AND EXCHANGE.

RESERVE BANKS DISCOUNT RATES.

	Days. 10 or Less.	Over 10 up to 30.	Over 30 up to 60.	Over 60 up to 90.	Over 90.
Boston	3	4	4	4	5
New York	3	4	4	4	5
Phila.	3	4	4	*4	5
Cleveland	3½	4	4	4½	5
Richmond	4	4	4	*4	5
Atlanta	4	4	4	*4	5
Chicago	4	4	4	4½	5
St. Louis	3	4	4	4	5
Minneap.	4	4	4	4½	5
Kan. City	4	4	4	4	5
Dallas	4	4	4	*4½	5
San Fran.	3	3½	4	4½	5

*Notes maturing in not more than 90 days secured by cotton or other staples, warehoused and insured, or in course of shipment, are discountable at the special rate of 3 per cent.

BANK ACCEPTANCES.

Sixty days	2½@2¼
Ninety days	2½@2¼

COLLATERAL LOANS.

	High.	Low.	Last.	Renewal Rate.
On call	2	1½	2	1½

ON TIME.

60 days	2½@2¼	5 months	3
90 days	2½@3	6 months	3
4 months	3

COMMERCIAL PAPER.
Best Known Names.

4 months	3 @3¼	6 months	3 @3¼
60 to 90 days			3

Other Names.

4 months	3¼@3¾	6 months	3½@4

FOREIGN EXCHANGE RATES.
Range of Sterling.

	High.	Low.	Last.	Chge.
Demand	$4.62½	$4.61¾	$4.61¾	— .00¾
Cables	4.63⅛	4.62¼	4.62¼	— .00¾

Closing Rates.

	Demand, (or check.)	Cable.
London	$4.61¾	$4.62¾
Paris	5.97½	5.96½
Switzerland	5.37½	5.36½
Scandinavia	25.83	25.93
Berlin	.81⅝	.81⅝
China—
Hongkong	43.35	49.50
Shanghai	56.00	..
Singapore	57.50	..
Greece	5.17	5.13
Holland	.40¾	.41
India—
Bombay	38.00	..
Calcutta	38.75	..
Italy	6.45½	6.44½
Japan—
Kobe	49.37	49.45
Yokohama	49.12½	..
Philippine Islands—
Manila	49.62	49.75
South America—
Buenos Aires	41.87	41.50
Rio	28.87	28.50
Spain	..	19.12
Austria	14.80	14.65
Russia	..	33.50

TIME BILLS ON LONDON.

	Bankers.		Commercial.
	60 Days.	90 Days.	60 Days.	90 Days.
	$4.58½	$4.56½	$4.56¾	$4.54¾

Clearing House Figures.

New York Clearing House exchanges, $601,029,987; balance, $22,493,114; Sub-Treasury debit balance, $1,670,813.

The local banks have gained $54,000 on their Sub-Treasury operations since Friday.

Domestic Exchange.

Exchange on New York at domestic centres: Boston, par; Chicago, 10c discount; St. Louis, par; San Francisco, 35c premium; Montreal, par.

Bar Silver.

London, 23 15-16d, unchanged; New York, 46⅞c, unchanged.

TOBACCO STOCKS.

Closing quotations of stocks not quoted elsewhere were:

	Yesterday. Bid.	Asked.	Monday. Bid.	Asked.
American Cigar	111	114	111	115
American Cigar pf	98	100	98	100
Conley Foil	350	400	350	400
Johnston Tin F. & M.	120	140	120	140
J. S. Young	155	170	155	170
J. S. Young pf	105	109	105	109
MacAndrews & F.	145	153	145	153
MacAndrews & F. pf.	99	100	99	100
Porto Rico-Am. Tob.	185	190	185	190
R. J. Reynolds Tob.	410	425	410	425
R. J. Reyn. Tob. pf.	119	122	119	122

TOPICS IN WALL STREET.

Cheer Follows Gloom.

Naturally a great many traders who waited in Wall Street until United States Steel Corporation's figures appeared were disappointed. Some had expected net earnings as high as $45,000,000, and $40,000,000 was the very least looked for in some quarters. When the total proved to be less than $39,000,000 there were many gloomy faces about the news tickers, but this condition did not last long. When it was found by reference to the corporation's records that only twice in seven years had this quarter's total been surpassed, the watchers cheered up. When they finally dispersed after prolonged discussion of the earnings, many remembered the September total and gain over August more distinctly than the entire income of the three months.

***

A Time of Large Figures.

Preliminary estimates of enormous earnings for the Steel Corporation might be considered a product of the atmosphere of expansion found in most corners of the stock trading district. The Street has been thinking in big figures and talking in huge totals for many a month now. It was known that the steel industry had grown until the mills were choked with work, and orders were being turned away. Hence the natural assumption was that earnings would reflect this condition. No allowance was made by the enthusiasts for the fact that profits are not yet what they were in other big boom periods, and that the mills were not crowded with orders through the entire period of the quarter.

Smaller Ratio of Depreciation.

The corporation set aside for sinking fund and depreciation accounts $1,026,400 more than in the preceding three months. As expressed in terms of net earnings, the ratio of depreciation to income was less than in the quarter preceding. In the second quarter the reserve was $7,688,471, against net revenue of $27,950,655, or about $1,000,000 in the reserve account to each $3,500,000 of net. In the last quarter the ratio was about $1,000,000 of reserve to each $4,500,000 of net earnings, the totals being $8,664,853 and $38,710,644 respectively.

***

Atchison Gains Again.

The September figures for the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe exhibit further strides of a well organized road. The gross earnings were $10,795,298, an increase of $156,002, compared with September, 1914, and the net earnings were $4,125,198, an increase of $23,099. The net earnings were $203,000 greater for September than for August. Since July 1 the Atchison has made an increase of $1,706,089 in gross and $949,345 in net.

***

No Bethlehem on Curb.

Efforts of promoters to start trading in "when and if issued" Bethlehem Steel stock on the Curb were nipped in the bud yesterday by the Curb Association. Notices will be sent to members of the association today not to trade in the mythical securities. There is a movement under way to get the board of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation to approve of changing the par value of Bethlehem Steel common stock from $100 to $10. So far, it is understood, the appeals have been poured into deaf ears. Anyway, promotors took up the reports and offered "when and if issued" $10 shares on the Curb on Monday. The stock has been offered all the way from $65 to $75, equivalent to $650 and $750 for the valid shares, but so far as reported no one has bought. Bethlehem Steel common closed yesterday on the Stock Exchange at $580 a share. It was reported yesterday on the Curb that the New York Stock Exchange had requested the Curb Association to send out a warning, but it was said on behalf of the Exchange that no such request had been made.

***

Two Hundred and Eleven Varieties.

Tiring of investing his enormous profits in gilt-edged bonds, a prominent Stock Exchange trader has hit on a new plan, which, he insists, has given him much satisfaction and pleasure. For the last month he has diverted his profits to buying ten shares of each dividend-paying stock in the Stock Exchange list. He has paid for all his stock in cash. This trader showed his list of stocks to friends yesterday, and it showed that he had 211 different stocks paying yearly dividends all the way from 2 per cent. to 50 per cent. He calls his method the "balanced investment method," but admits that his scheme is a hobby. He is looking about for other corporations which are having no trouble in keeping the wolf from the door. His friends, however, fear he will get a notion some day to sell out all his holdings. It is evident that the odd-lot dealer who will get the order will have his hands full and his brains whirling.

***

It's Up to "F. D."

Some time ago F. D. Underwood, President of the Erie, was quoted as saying that he would not quit the Erie until the Erie paid dividends. Friends of "F. D.," as some intimates call Mr. Underwood, are now worrying about a new job for the railroad man.

STANDARD OIL STOCKS.

	Yesterday. Bid.	Asked.	Monday. Bid.	Asked.
Anglo-American	16¼	16⅝	16¼	16⅝
Atlantic Refining	630	640	625	635
Borne-Scrymser	265	275	265	275
Buckeye Pipe Line	110	112	110	112
Chesebrough Mfg	710	730	710	730
Colonial Oil	150	160	135	145
Continental Oil	250	255	250	255
Crescent Pipe Line	44	47	44	47
Cumberland P. Line	62	65	62	65
Eureka Pipe Line	250	260	250	260
Galena S. Oil pf	135	140	135	140
Galena S. Oil	158	160	159	162
Illinois Pipe Line	150	153	150	153
Indiana Pipe Line	110	114	110	*114
Int. Pet. Co., Ltd	9⅜	10¼	9¾	10¼
National Transit	31	33	31	33
N. Y. Transit	220	225	220	225
Northern Pipe Line	105	108	105	108
Ohio Oil	158	158	158	158
Penn.-Mex. Fuel Co.	58	60	58	60
Prairie Oil & Gas	415	420	408	413
Prairie Pipe Line	215	218	215	218
Solar Refining	295	295	295	295
Southern Pipe Line	230	235	230	235
South. Penn. Oil	335	340	335	340
South. West. Penn.	125	130	125	130
Standard Oil of Cal.	315	318	314	317
Standard Oil of Ind.	459	463	460	465
Standard Oil of Kan.	435	445	430	440
Standard Oil of Ky.	325	330	325	330
Standard Oil of Neb.	345	350	345	350
Standard Oil of N. J.	485	488	480	483
Standard Oil of N. Y.	199	201	199	201
Standard Oil of Ohio	505	515	505	515
Swan & Finch	125	135	125	135
Union Tank	83	85	84	86
Vacuum Oil	219	221	219	221
Washington Oil	43	46	43	47

*Ex dividend.

NEW YORK CITY NOTES.

		Yesterday. Bid.	Asked.	Monday. Bid.	Asked.
6s	—Sept., 1916	102⅝	102⅞	102⅝	102⅞
6s	—Sept., 1917	103⅛	103⅜	103⅛	103⅜
4½s	—June, 1965	102	102⅜	102⅛	102⅜
4½s	—Mar., 1963	102⅝	103	102⅞	103
4½s	—Nov., 1957	102⅝	103	102⅞	103
4½s	—May, 1957	102⅝	103	102⅞	102⅝
4½s	—Nov., 1917	100⅝	..	100⅝	..
4½s	—May, 1917	100⅝	..	100⅝	..
4½s	—Mar., 1964	99¼	99½	99¼	99½
4½s	—Mar., 1962	99¼	99½	99¼	99½
4½s	—Sept., 1960	99¼	99½	99¼	99½
4½s	—Mar., 1930-60	99½	99¾	99½	99¾
4s	—May, 1959	95⅝	95⅞	95⅝	95⅞
4s	—Nov., 1958	95⅝	95⅞	95⅝	95⅞
4s	—May, 1957	95⅝	95⅞	95⅝	95⅞
4s	—Nov., 1956	94⅝	95⅞	94⅝	95⅞
4s	—Nov., 1955	94⅝	95⅛	94⅝	95⅛
4s	—Nov., 1938	95	..	95	..
3½s	—Nov., 1955	85	85½	85	85½
3½s	—Nov., 1954	85½	86	85½	86
3½s	—May, 1954	85½	86	85½	86

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

TUESDAY, OCT. 26, 1915.

	Stocks, (Shares.)
Total sales	1,156,882
Same day last year	Exch. closed
Year to date	138,650,458
Same period last year	45,989,158
Average price and change 50 stocks	92.78 — .15
Same day last year	*Exch. closed

	High.		Low.
Year's range to date	94.13	Oct. 22	58.99	Feb. 24
Range year 1914	73.30	Jan. 31	57.41	July 30
Range year 1913	79.10	Jan. 9	63.09	June 10

*Closing average July 30, 57.77.

Closing. Bid.	Asked.	Sales.		First.	High.	Low.	Last.	Net Chge.
38½	38¾	15,000	Alaska Gold Mines	32⅝	34½	32	33½	+1⅛
43	43¼	4,800	Allis-Chal. Mfg	43⅝	44½	43⅝	43½	— ⅛
73¼	73⅝	800	Allis-Chal. Mfg. pf	73¼	73½	73	73½	— ⅛
71½	72	1,300	Am. Agricul. Chem	72⅜	72⅝	71½	72	+ ½
65	65¼	1,900	Am. Beet Sugar	65	65¼	64⅝	65	— ⅛
63	63⅜	3,600	Am. Can	63¼	63⅜	62¾	63	..
106⅝	107	200	Am. Can pf	106¾	106¾	106⅝	106⅞	— ¼
88	88¼	17,325	Am. Car & Fdry	89⅛	89⅝	87⅛	88	— ½
115	117	200	Am. Car & Fdry pf	116	116	116	116	— ½
153	155	200	Am. Coal Products	154½	154½	154	154	— ½
61	62¼	400	Am. Cotton Oil	62½	63	62½	63	..
107	115	200	Am. Express	110	110	109	109	— 2½
13¾	13⅞	2,100	Am. H. & Leather	13⅝	14	13½	13½	..
57	57½	2,200	Am. H. & Leath. pf	58	58⅝	57	57⅝	— ⅛
25⅞	25¾	4,900	Am. Ice Securities	24½	25¾	24¼	25¾	+1⅞
27⅝	28	16,300	Am. Linseed	30	30¾	27	28	— 1⅛
46½	47⅝	3,900	Am. Linseed pf	40⅝	49⅜	40	46⅝	— 2½
71½	72	12,700	Am. Locomotive	71¾	73½	71¾	71⅞	— ⅛
7	7⅛	1,400	Am. Malt	7	7¼	7	7¼	+ ⅛
29⅞	31	700	Am. Malt pf	29	30	29	29⅝	+ ⅛
93	93½	5,500	Am. Smtl. & Ref	92⅜	94½	92½	93	+ ¼
109	109¼	200	Am. Smelt. & R. pf	109¼	109¼	109¼	109¼	+ ¼
86	87	230	Am. Smelt. S. pf. A	86¾	86⅞	86⅝	86⅞	+ ⅛
82¼	82¾	200	Am. Smelt. S. pf. B	82⅝	82⅝	82¼	82½	+ ¼
70	71¾	3,950	Am. Steel Fdries	70½	71¾	69⅝	70	+ ⅛
111⅝	112½	600	Am. Sugar Ref	112¼	112¾	111⅝	111⅝	— ⅛
115	116	200	Am. Sugar Ref. pf	115½	115½	115½	115½	+ ½
124¼	124⅝	700	Am. Teleph. & Tel	124½	124¾	124¼	124⅝	+ ⅛
230	232	1,400	Am. Tobacco	231	231	228½	230¼	— ⅛
110	110½	100	Am. Tobacco pf	110	110	110	110	+ ⅛
55⅞	55¼	2,700	Am. Woolen	55¾	56⅛	54⅞	55	— ⅛
53¼	53¾	600	Am. Woolen t. r	53⅜	54⅝	53⅜	54	+ ⅛
97	97¾	300	Am. Woolen pf	97¾	97¾	97¼	97⅞	+ ⅛
96½	97	100	Do., F.	97¼	97¼	97¼	97¼	+ 1¼
9½	10⅜	700	Am. Writing P. pf	11¼	11½	10½	10½	+ 1
76½	76¾	5,488	Anaconda Cop. Co	75¼	76⅝	74⅞	76¼	+ 1½
9½	12	2,050	Assets Realization	6½	11½	6½	10⅝	+ 5
107¼	107¾	3,000	Atch., Top. & S. F	107	107¾	106¾	107¼	+ ⅝
100⅝	101	700	Atch., T. & S. F. pf	101	101	100½	100⅞	— ⅛
138	138½	17,300	Baldwin Loco	139	141½	128	128	— 2¼
93	93¼	4,200	Baltimore & Ohio	92¼	93¼	92¼	93	— ¾
75¼	75½	400	Baltimore & O. pf	75¼	75⅝	75¼	75⅜	— ⅛
..	..	15	Bank of Commerce	175	175	175	175	..
..	1¾	300	Batopilas Mining	1⅝	1¾	1⅝	1½	..
575	580	950	Bethlehem Steel	580	580	560	550	..
177	182	200	Bethlehem Steel pf	182	182	180	180	..
83½	86⅞	500	Bklyn Rapid Tran	88⅜	87	86⅜	86⅝	— ¼
86	91	100	Brown Shoe pf	88	88	88	88	+1
7	8½	100	Burns, Tor. & S.	7½	7½	7½	7½	— ½
87	88½	600	Burns Brothers	91	91	88	88	— 2½
65¼	65½	7,900	Butte & Superior	64	66	64	65½	+ 2½
18⅛	18⅜	1,000	California Petrol	18⅜	18⅜	18¼	18¼	— ⅛
41¼	42	100	California Pet. pf	41½	41½	41½	41½	— ½
173½	173⅝	11,100	Canadian Pacific	171⅝	175	171¼	173⅝	+ 2½
79½	81	200	Case (J. I.) Co. pf	80	80	80	80	..
57	57¼	14,400	Central Leather Co	58⅝	59⅝	56¼	57½	— 2¼
107¼	108	200	Central Leather pf	107½	107½	107½	107½	..
57⅝	58	5,400	Chesapeake & Ohio	57⅞	58⅝	57⅛	57⅝	+ ⅛
13¼	13½	600	Chi. Great Western	13¼	13⅝	13¼	13⅜	— ⅛
34½	35	1,900	Chi. Gt. West. pf	33⅝	35¼	33⅝	34⅝	— ⅝
32⅞	33¼	1,900	Chi., Mil. & St. P	33¾	33¾	32⅞	32⅞	— ⅝
127¼	128½	800	Chi., M. & St. P. pf	129½	129½	128½	128½	— ⅝
131	132	200	Chi. & Northwest	131	131½	131	131½	— ⅛
17¼	17½	4,900	Chi., Rock Isl. & P	17¾	17¾	17¼	17¼	+ ⅛
50½	51	10,300	Chino Copper	49⅞	52	49⅞	50⅝	+ 1⅛
50	53	100	Clev., C., C. & St. L	50½	50½	50½	50½	— ¼
73½	77	100	C., C., C. & St.L.pf	73½	73½	73½	73½	— 3½
69	69¾	400	Cluett, Peabody Co	70¼	70¼	69⅞	69⅞	— ⅛
58⅝	59	10,700	Col. Fuel & Iron	60⅞	61	58½	58½	— ½
83½	84	600	Col. Southern	83⅝	83⅝	83½	83½	+ ⅛
53⅝	56	100	Col. & Soth. 1st pf	53⅝	53⅝	53⅝	53⅝	— ⅜
53½	54	42	Do., odd lot	53½	53½	53¼	53¼	..
140½	141½	3,900	Consolidated Gas	141¼	141¾	139¾	141¼	+ ¼
102	103	1,800	Continental Can	101¼	103	101¼	101⅝	+ ⅛
20¼	20⅝	14,500	Corn Products Ref	21¼	21¾	20¾	20⅝	— ⅛
89	90	700	Corn Prod. Ref. pf	89¾	90¾	89¼	89½	— 1⅝
90⅝	90	13,400	Crucible Steel	92¾	93¼	88	90	— 2
108	109	700	Crucible Steel pf	108½	108½	108	108⅝	— ⅝
146	148	400	Delaware & Hud	148	148	146⅞	147⅞	+ ¼
129	130	230	Detroit Edison Co	130	130	130	130	+ 1½
47½	47¾	15,150	Distillers' Secur	49	49	46¾	47⅜	— 1
27½	27⅝	22,500	Dome Mines	27¼	27¼	26⅝	27¼	+ ⅛
9	12	100	Dul., S. S. & A. pf	11	11	11	11	— ⅞
70	71¼	450	Elec. Storage Bat	72	72	71¼	71¼	— ⅝
39⅝	39¾	98,000	Erie	39⅝	40⅜	38⅝	39⅞	+ ⅛
56⅝	56¾	18,500	Erie 1st pf	56⅞	57⅝	56¼	56½	+ 1
47¼	47⅝	3,700	Erie 2d pf	48	48⅝	47⅜	47⅜	+ ⅛
178⅝	179	5,300	General Electric	181	181½	178½	178¾	— 1⅝
368	372	100	General Motors	375	375	375	375	+ 2
111½	113½	200	General Motors pf	113¼	113½	113	113	..
77½	77⅞	19,600	Goodrich (B.F.) Co	77	79½	77	77¾	+ ¾
111	111½	100	Goodrich pf	110½	110½	110½	110½	— 1
121⅜	122¼	1,900	Great Northern pf	122¼	122⅝	121½	122	+ ½
50½	50⅝	17,300	G. N. certs. ore prop	51¼	51⅝	50½	50½	— ⅛
39	41	1,280	Greene-Cananea	38	39	37½	39	+ 1¼
67⅜	67⅝	2,700	Guggenheim Explor	67	68¼	67	67½	+ ⅜
119	120	22	Homestake Mining	119½	119½	119½	119½	..
44¼	45	23,700	Inspiration Copper	44¾	45⅝	44¼	45	+ 1¼
22½	23	5,800	Inter-Met	22½	22⅝	21⅞	22¼	..
22⅞	23	6,300	Interboro Consol	22⅝	22⅞	22	22⅞	+ ⅝
78½	78⅞	1,152	Interboro Con. pf	78½	78⅝	78½	78½	..
54	55	500	Int. Agricultural pf	54	54⅝	54	54⅜	+ ⅝
106	109½	800	Int. Harvester, N.J.	109	109½	108¾	109¼	— ⅛
195	198	2,000	Int. Nickel v. tr.cfs	195	197½	193½	193½	— 2½
107	108	100	I. Nickel pf.v.tr.cfs	107	108	107	107	+ ⅜
11¼	11½	2,900	Int. Paper	11½	11¾	11¼	11½	+ ⅛
41½	42	2,400	Int. Paper pf	42	43½	42	42	+ ½
28⅝	29	7,200	Kansas City South	28½	29½	28½	29	+ ⅝
61⅜	62¾	500	Kan. City South. pf	61¾	62¼	61¾	62¼	+ ⅜
127½	129½	100	Kings Co.El.L. & P.	128½	128½	128½	128½	+ 1
225	250	100	Kresge (S. S.) Co	240	240	240	240	+ 35
107½	109	100	Kresge (S. S.) Co.pf	110¼	110¼	110¼	110¼	— ⅝
83¾	83¾	2,100	Lackawanna Steel	83⅜	85	83½	84½	— ⅝
104½	105	100	Laclede Gas	105	105	105	105	..
10½	12	900	Lake Erie & West	10¾	12	10¼	11½	+ 1⅜
27	32	1,200	Lake Erie & W. pf	26½	30½	26½	29½	+ 5½
77⅞	78	15,510	Lehigh Valley	77⅞	78⅜	77⅜	77⅜	+ ⅛
117	119	100	Liggett & Myers pf	115⅞	118⅞	113⅞	115⅝	+ ⅛
25	27½	300	Loose-Wiles Biscuit	26	27	27	27	+ 1
180	181	275	Lorillard (P.) Co	182	182	181	181	+ 1
62	66	100	Mackay Cos. pf	65⅝	65⅝	65⅜	65⅝	— ¼
128	129	250	Manhattan Elev	128	128⅞	128	128⅞	+ 1
86	86½	43,400	Maxwell Motors	91	92	83	86	— 4½
100½	101	12,300	Max. Motors 1st pf	99⅜	105	99¾	100⅞	+ 1⅝
64⅜	64¾	28,290	Max. Motors 2d pf	65½	68½	64	64¾	— 1½
50	52	100	May Dept. Stores	51	51	51	51	— ½
89	89¼	3,100	Mexican Petroleum	91	91	88	89	— 1
34⅜	34⅞	12,940	Miami Copper	34⅜	35¼	34	34⅞	+ ⅝
13⅞	14	300	Minn. & St. Louis	13⅞	13⅞	13½	13½	+ ⅛
29	31	200	Minn. & St. L. pf	29	29	29	29	+ 3
29	31	50	do., odd lot	28⅝	28⅝	28⅝	28⅝	..
120½	122	900	M., St. P. & S. S. M.	121½	122⅝	120½	120½	— ¾
5⅝	6	600	Mo., Kan. & Texas	6	6	5⅞	6	+ ⅛
..	..	400	Mo., Kan. & T. pf	14	14¼	14	14¼	+ ⅛
4¾	4⅞	1,100	Missouri Pacific	5	5	4⅞	4⅞	+ ⅛
..	..	700	Nat. Biscuit Co	128	128	127⅜	128	..
..	..

We Wish To Buy

Locomobile Co. of America

Quotations on Request

DAWSON & LYON
40 Wall St., N. Y. Tel. 5441 John

AETNA EXPLOSIVES
AMERICAN BRASS
ATLAS POWDER
BABCOCK & WILCOX
CROCKER-WHEELER
DU PONT POWDER
E. W. BLISS
INGERSOLL-RAND
LIMA LOCOMOTIVE
N. J. ZINC
NILES-BEMENT-POND
REMINGTON TYPE.
SCOVILL M'FG CO.

BOUGHT & SOLD

JENKS, GWYNNE & CO
15 BROADST
TEL. HANOVER 7474
MEMBERS N.Y. STOCK EXCHANGE

TENNESSEE COPPER
"Rights"
Quotations and Information on request

Gude, Winmill & Co.
Members New York Stock Exchange
20 Broad St., N. Y. Tel. Rector 8880

City of East Orange, N. J.
4½% Water Bonds
Due serially August 1, 1931 to 1939, inclusive,
LEGAL INVESTMENT FOR SAVINGS BANKS AND TRUST FUNDS IN NEW JERSEY.
Prices to yield 4.30%
Circular on application
R. M. GRANT & CO.
31 NASSAU ST., NEW YORK
BOSTON CHICAGO

We Are Specialists in United Cigar Stores Co. of America. $10 Par Value Stock
Now Listed on the
New York Stock Exchange
We are preparing a booklet regarding this Company. A copy will be mailed to you on request.

Purchases of this Stock made on or before Oct. 28th will carry 1¾% dividend, payable Nov. 15th next.

B. H. & F. W. PELZER
Members N. Y. Stock Exchange
Phone 6037 Broad. 12 BROADWAY, N. Y.

MEGARGEL & CO.
Members New York Stock Exchange.
Investment Securities
15 Congress St., Boston — 35 Pine Street, New York

W.C.Langley & Co.
Investments
115 Broadway, New York City

6% INVESTMENTS.
First Mortgage 6% Bonds in denominations of $500 and $1,000. No investor has ever lost a dollar of interest or principal on any securities purchased of this house.
S. W. Straus & Co.,
Straus Bldg., Chicago. — One Wall St., New York.

U. S. STEEL QUARTER RETURNS $38,710,644

Earnings Less Than Expected, but They Compare Well with Previous Periods.

NO DIVIDEND ON COMMON

Balance of $18,000,000 After the Payment on Preferred is Equal to 3½% on Junior Shares.

The United States Steel Corporation earned a net income of $38,710,644 in the quarter ended Sept. 30, after operating and maintenance expenses had been met and interest paid on bonds of subsidiary companies. In the preceding quarter the net earnings amounted to $27,950,055, and in the third quarter of last year the Directors' statement showed $22,276,002 earned. The total announced yesterday was smaller by about $2,300,000 than preliminary estimates had it, but the disappointment first felt in Wall Street when the figures were made public was mitigated by the fact that no quarter since the second in 1910, with $40,170,000, had displayed such large earnings, while only two preceding quarters since the busy days of 1907 had records to surpass that of the last three months.

The Directors took no action yesterday on the common stock dividend. Chairman E. H. Gary declined to comment on the quarterly report, and the time the Directors were together in the Steel offices was shorter than that usually spent in dividend meetings.

The balance of $18,037,241 for the quarter after the preferred dividend had been paid was equivalent to more than 3.5 per cent. on the common stock, but the management evidently decided to let earnings accumulate as an offset against two large quarterly deficits since the middle of last year before resuming payments on the common shares. The three quarters of the year have brought all told a total balance for the junior shares of about $20,700,000, equivalent to approximately 4 per cent. on the common stock. There was a deficit of more than $5,000,000 in the first quarter.

The results of the quarter, with comparisons, were:

	Quarter End. Sept. 30, 1915.	Quarter End. June 30, 1915.	Quarter End. Sept. 30, 1914.
Net earnings	$38,710,644	$27,950,055	$22,276,002
Dep., sinking fund, &c..	8,664,853	7,638,471	7,593,980
Net income..	30,045,791	20,311,584	14,682,022
Int. U. S. S. bds. & pre..	5,703,681	5,739,020	5,746,111
Balance	24,342,160	14,572,564	8,935,911
Dividends:
Preferred...	6,304,919	6,304,919	6,304,919
Common ..			2,541,513
Surplus	18,037,241	8,267,645	89,479

The monthly net earnings for the three-quarters of the year compare with those of the previous two years as follows:

	1915.	1914.	1913.
January	$1,687,150	$4,941,337	$11,342,533
February	3,638,578	5,655,611	10,830,051
March	7,132,081	7,397,433	12,254,217
First quar.	$12,457,809	$17,994,381	$34,426,801
April	$7,286,409	$6,920,879	$13,072,801
May	9,320,576	6,845,823	14,354,569
June	11,343,070	6,690,894	13,562,537
Second quar.	$27,950,055	$20,457,598	$34,426,801
Half year	40,407,864	38,451,977	75,646,614
July	$12,048,218	$7,475,993	$12,936,658
August	12,583,099	7,584,926	12,657,439
September	13,793,327	7,215,083	12,836,312
Third quar.	$38,710,644	$22,276,002	$38,450,409
Nine months.	79,118,508	60,727,979	114,097,014

A study of the monthly earnings figures shows that the corporation made substantial strides forward. The August total was $850,000 higher than July's and July was more than $600,000 ahead of June. September brought $924,000 more in net than August. This persistent improvement by months was looked upon in financial circles yesterday as one of the most encouraging items of the statement, as it was seen that if the same percentage of gain were continued in the final quarter the net income would be in the neighborhood of $45,000,000.

The usual quarterly preferred dividend of 1¾ per cent. was declared, payable Nov. 29 to shareholders of record Nov. 4. The statement showed unfilled orders amounting to 5,317,618 tons when the quarter ended.

SHORT TERM NOTES.

Government Issues.

Security.	Rate.	Due.	Bid.	Ask.	Yield.
Anglo-French	5	Oct., 1920	97¼	98	5.45
Argen. Gov't.	6	Dec., 1915	100⅛	100⅛	2.00
Argen. Gov't.	6	Dec., 1916	101¼	101⅜	4.60
Argen. Gov't.	6	Dec., 1917	101	101¼	5.35
Argen. Gov't.	6	May, 1920	99	99⅜	6.20
City of Mont.	5	Dec., 1917	99	99⅜	5.15
City of Q'b'c.	5	Apr., 1920	98¾	99¾	5.20
Dom. of Can.	5	Aug., 1916	100¼	100⅜	4.00
Dom. of Can.	5	Oct., 1917	100	100¼	4.80
French Gov't.	5	Apr., 1916	99¼	99⅜	6.50
German Gov't.	5	Jan., 1916	99¼	100	5.00
Italian Gov't.	6	Oct., 1916	99⅞	100	6.09
Norway Gov't.	6	Oct., 1916	100	100⅛	5.45
Norway Gov't.	6	Oct., 1917	100	100⅛	5.70
Swedish Gov.	6	Dec., 1916	98½	99¼	6.70
Swiss Gov't.	5	Mar., 1916	99¾	100	5.00
Swiss Gov't.	5	Mar., 1918	99¾	99¾	6.45
Swiss Gov't.	5	Mar., 1920	95¼	96	6.15

Company Issues.

Ala. Power	6	Feb., 1918	100	101	5.60
Am. Cot. Oil	5	Nov., 1917	100⅝	101	4.45
Am. Loco. Co.	5	July, 1916	100¼	101¼	3.00
A. T. & T. sub.	5	Apr., 1919	100⅜	101⅛	2.75
Ansa. Cop.	6	Mar., 1917	100⅜	101⅛	4.10
Balt. & Ohio.	4½	Dec., 1917	100¼	100⅜	4.30
Balt. & Ohio.	4½	June, 1918	100	100⅛	4.45
B'klyn R. T.	5	July, 1918	99⅞	100⅛	4.95
Can. North'n.	5	Sept., 1917	98	98⅜	5.75
Can. Pacific.	6	Mar. 2,'24	102⅛	102⅜	5.60
Ches. & Ohio.	5	June, 1919	96	96¼	5.30
Chi. & W. I.	5	Sep., 1917	99	99⅜	5.30
Chi. El. Rys.	5	July, 1916	92	94	18.65
Con. Pow. Co.	6	May 1,'17	99	100	6.00
Con. Gas, Balt.	5	May, 1917	99	100	6.00
C. P. R.	4	June, 1916	100	101	5.60
Erie R. R.	5	Apr., 1916	100⅜	100⅝	3.75
Erie R. R.	5½	Apr., 1917	100	101	4.80
E. Pr. & Lt.	5		1918	93	96½	6⅜
Gen. Rubber	5	Dec., 1918	100	100⅜	4.90
Gr. Rap. Rys.	5	May, 1918	100	100⅜	5.70
Gr. Rap. Ry.	5	June, 1916	100	100⅜	3.88
Hav. El. Ry.	6	Sept., 1916	99½	100	6.00
Hock. Val.	5	Nov., 1917	100¼	100⅜	4.80
Int. Harv.	5	Feb. 15,'18	101	101¼	4.55
Lack. Steel.	5	Mar., 1917	100⅝	101	5.35
L. S. & M. S.	5	Dec., 1915	100⅛	100⅛	2.00
Louis. G. & E.	6	Apr., 1918	98⅜	99⅜	6¼
Mich. Ry.	6	June, 1916	100	100½	5.85
Minn. Gen. E.	6	June, 1917	100¼	101	5.50
Mont. T. & P.	5	Apr., 1917	95	97½	7.95
N. E. Nav.	6	May, 1917	97½	97¾	6.90
N. Y. N. H. & H.	5	May 1,'16	100⅜	100⅝	3.50
North. S. P.	6	June, 1917	99¼	100	6.00
Penn. Co.	4½	June 15,'21	99⅞	100⅛	4.45
P. S. C. N. J.	5	Mar., 1916	100⅜	100⅝	2.65
Sea. Air Line.	5	Mar., 1916	100¼	100½	2.65
Southern Ry.	5	Feb., 1918	100	100⅛	3.30
Southern Ry.	5	Mar., 1917	99¾	100	5.00
Sulz. S. Sons.	6	June, 1916	100¼	101	4.40
U. S. Smelt.	5	June, 1918	98½	99¼	6.25
U. S. P. S. Co.	6	Apr., 1918	97½	98½	6.40
Union Typew.	5	Jan. 15,'16	94	97	19.50
United Fruit.	5	May, 1917	101¼	101⅜	4.75
United Fruit.	6	May, 1918	99¼	99⅜	5.10
Utah Co.	6	Apr., 1917	100	100⅜	5.55
West. E. & M.	5	Oct., 1917	101	101½	4.35
W. Penn. Tr.	6	Mar., 1917	97	100	6.00
W. S. G. & E.	5	Oct., 1917	98¼	98¼	6.55
W. P. Co.	6	Mar., 1917	98½	98½	6.25
W. V. T. & E.	6	June, 1917	96	98	7¼

*To date.

LONDON MARKET FIRM.

Huge Business in the War Loan Feature of Day's Trading.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—Money was in good demand today for the payment of the last call on the war loan, amounting to about £80,000,000, which was completed without trouble. Discount rates were steady. American exchange was erratic. Cable transfers opened at 4.62½ and later advanced to 4.63½.

The stock market was quietly firm. The feature of the trading was the huge business in the war loan, which advanced to 98⅝, while the rights for conversion realized ⅝. South American stocks improved, and Brazilian bonds gained 2 to 3 points, but traction stocks and Mexican rails were easy.

American securities were active with United States Steel, Erie and Canadian Pacific the most prominent leaders. Prices declined at noon, but later hardened and closed firm.

The Stock Exchange will be closed Monday, Nov. 1, All Saints' Day.

Prices Heavy on Paris Bourse.

PARIS, Oct. 26.—Prices were heavy on the Bourse today. Three per cent rentes, 66 francs 15 centimes for cash. Exchange on London, 27 francs 61 centimes.

GAIN IN WABASH EARNINGS.

Gross for Third Week in October Shows Increase of $117,000.

The newly organized Wabash Railroad Company, with capital stock of $143,400,000, made a good showing in its first week of operation, according to reports received yesterday. The gross earnings for the third week in October were $690,206, an increase of $117,673, or 20.5 per cent. compared with the same week in 1914.

Winslow S. Pierce, Chairman of the Board of Directors, who was Chairman of the Reorganization Committee, spoke optimistically yesterday of the prospects of the company under the management of E. F. Kearney, its President.

"The reorganization," he said, "has been an arduous task. We have passed through a period of business depression and this period has been one of peculiar anxiety to those concerned with the welfare and future of the great railway enterprises of the country. I believe this period has passed, and as a result of the more favorable attitude of the public toward the railroads the feeling of anxiety over the country's railway interests is gradually subsiding. "It is our belief that the reorganized Wabash Railway comes into existence at a time when the public is informed and friendly and at the beginning of a new constructive period."

OUT-OF-TOWN MARKETS

BOSTON.

MINING.

Sales.		Open.	High.	Low.	Last.
15	Ahmeek	96¾	96¾	96¼	96¾
6,265	Alaska Gold	32½	34¾	32¼	33½
5	Algomah	2	2½	2	2
1,000	Allouez	54	55¾	54	54⅝
11,670	Am. Zinc	99½	99½	97⅞	98
603	Anaconda	75	76⅝	75	76⅛
240	Ariz. Com'l	7⅞	8⅛	7⅞	8
10	Butte-Bal	3¾	3¾	3¾	3¾
2,865	Butte & Sup.	64	66	64	65
290	Cal. & Ariz.	63¾	64½	63¾	64¼
180	Cal. & Hecla.	541	545	541	543
505	Chino	49½	51¾	49½	51¼
1,273	Copper Range	56¾	57¾	56½	56⅜
695	East Butte	12⅝	13¼	12⅝	13
26	Franklin	9	9	8⅞	8⅞
754	Granby	82¾	85½	82¾	85
980	Greene-Can.	37⅜	39¼	37⅜	38½
75	Hancock	16¾	17	16¾	17
195	Hedley	27	27	27	27
100	Indiana	5	5	5	5
180	Inspiration	44¼	45½	44¼	44⅝
25	Island Creek	43½	43½	43½	43½
24	Island Cr. pf.	87	87	87	87
805	Isle Royale	28¼	30⅝	28¼	29
15	Keweenaw	2¾	2¾	2¾	2¾
110	Lake	13	13⅞	13	13⅞
225	Mass. Cons.	10¾	11⅜	10¾	11⅜
125	Mayflower	4¼	4½	4¼	4¼
175	Miami	34½	35¼	34	34⅜
100	Michigan	2¾	2¾	2⅝	2⅝
1,605	Mohawk	79	81	78¾	80
10	Nevada Cons.	15¼	15¼	15¼	15½
570	New Arcadian	10	11	10	10½
265	New Idria	9½	10	9½	10
130	Nipissing	6¾	7	6¾	7
1,130	North Butte	29¾	31	29¼	29⅜
120	North Lake	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜
200	Old Colony	3⅜	3⅜	3⅜	3⅜
100	Old Dominion	54	54	54	54
100	Osceola	83	85	82½	84½
170	Pond Creek	17	17	16½	17
68	Quincy	83	84	81	82
420	Ray Cons	25¼	26	25¼	25⅝
2,585	Santa Fe	4¾	4¾	4½	4⅝
160	Shannon	7¼	7¼	7	7
1,445	Shattuck	28¾	28¾	28¼	28½
110	South Lake	6½	6	5½	6
300	South Utah	30c	30c	30c	30c
100	St. Mary's	56	56¾	56	56
375	Sup. & Boston	2¾	2¾	2¾	2⅞
800	Sup. Copper	26¾	27½	26¾	27
200	Tamarack	53	54	52	52
425	Trinity	8¾	9½	8½	8⅝
400	Tuolumne	43c	43c	43c	43c
640	U. S. Smelting	42¾	43¾	42	43
62	U. S. Sm. pf	47½	47½	47	47
325	Utah Apex	3	3	2⅞	3
335	Utah Cons	12¾	12¾	12¾	12¾
480	Utah Copper	69½	71¾	69¼	70⅞
128	Wolverine	58	59¾	58	58½

RAILROADS.

100	Bos. & Albany	180	180	180	180
254	Boston Eleva.	84	85	84	85
40	Boston & Me.	34	34	33¾	33¾
28	do pf.	44	44	42	42
25	C. Jct. & S. Y. pf.	103	103	103	103
406	N. Y., N. H. & H.	81¾	83	81	82
1	Nor. & Worc. pf.	140	140	140	140
1	Old Colony	150	150	150	150
50	Rutland, pf.	25	25	25	25
24	Union Pac. pf.	81⅞	81⅞	81¾	81⅞
79	West E. S. Ry.	64	64	64	64

MISCELLANEOUS.

24	Am. Agr. Ch.	71¾	72½	71¾	72½
21	do pf.	98½	99	98	98
40	Amoskeag	64	64	64	64
2,250	Am. Pneu. Ser.	3¼	3½	3	3
15	do pf.	17½	17½	17	17
35	Am. Sugar	112¾	112¾	112¼	112¾
42	do pf.	115	115¾	115	115¾
627	Am. Tel. & Tel.	124½	124¾	124	124⅝
128	Am. Woolen	55	55¾	53	53⅝
229	do pf.	97⅝	97⅞	97	97⅛
3,118	A., G. & W. I.	24½	25	24	24
1,292	do pf.	39	39¾	38	38¾
100	E. Boston Ld.	9	9	9	9
98	Edison	239	239	239	239
3	Ga. Ry. & Elec.	119	119	119	119
45	General Elec.	180⅜	180⅜	180	180
7	Mass. Gas pf.	87	87	87	87
40	McElwain pf.	98	98	97¼	97½
20	N.E.Cot. Y. pf.	50	50	50	50
110	N. E. Tel.	134	134	133¼	133⅝
120	Swift & Co.	119	119¼	118⅝	119
5	Torrington	34½	34½	34¼	34½
15	do pf.	29	29	29	29
382	United Fruit.	133⅛	134½	133¼	134½
339	Un. Shoe Mach.	49	49¼	49	49¼
10	do pf.	28⅜	28⅜	24⅜	28⅜
3,570	U. S. Steel	85¾	87½	85¾	86¾
3	do pf.	115	115¼	115	115¼
1,450	Ventura Oil	11⅜	12	11⅜	11⅞
147	Western Union	80¼	80¼	80	80
50	Wollaston L.	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜

BONDS.

$18,000	Am. T. & T. 4s.	90	90	90	90
19,200	Am. T. & T. 4½s.	103¼	103⅜	103¼	103⅜
21,000	A. G. & W. I. 5s.	75	75	74½	75
1,000	C. B. & Q. Jt. 4s.	97¼	97½	97¼	97½
1,000	Mass. G. 4½s.	91¾	91¾	91¾	91¾
20,000	N. E. C. Y. 5s	74½	75	74½	75
1,000	N. E. Tel. 5s.	100⅜	100⅜	100⅜	100⅜
3,000	Swift 5s.	97	97	97	97
1,000	W. T. & T. 5s.	98¼	98¼	98¼	98¼

BOSTON CURB.

	Bid.	Asked.		Bid.	Asked.
Alvarado	.80	1	McK-Dar.	.30	.32
Bay S Gas	.20	.23	Mex Met.	.23	.24
Bingham	7⅛	7½	Mines of A	2⅜	2⅝
Bohemia	2	2¼	New Baltic	3	3¼
Begole	.50	1	N. Cornelia	8	8¼
Boston Ely	.20	.23	Nev-Doug.	.70	.75
Butte & L.	.31	.32	Old Dom r	.50	.75
Calaveras	1⅝	1⅞	Ohio Cop.	.14	.15
Chief Con.	.95	1	Oneco	1	1½
Con Ariz.	1½	1⅝	Onondaga	1⅝	2
Con Cop.	1½	1⅝	Riker	5⅞	6
Cortez	.50	.70	S W Miami	.50	1
Crown Res	.35	.45	Stewart M	.65	.70
Davis-Daly	1⅜	1⅝	U V Ext.	5⅜	6
Eagle & B	1½	1⅝	Utah Met.	9¼	9⅝
First Nat.	5	5½	Ton Belm.	3⅜	3⅝
Goldf Con.	1⅛	1¼	Tono Min.	5½	5⅝
Houghton.	2⅜	3	Yukon	2½	2⅝
Iron Blos.	.70	.73	Cal-Corbin	.02	.05
La Rose.	.40	.50	Butte N Y.	2⅜	3
Majestic	.65	.70

CHICAGO.

STOCKS.

Sales.		Open.	High.	Low.	Close.
220	Am. Ship. com.	34	35	33¾	34½
210	Chi. Pen. Tool.	86½	88½	86	86
80	Chi. Rys., Ser. 2	17½	17½	17¼	17¼
10	Com. Edison	137¾	137¾	137¾	137¾
15	Deere pf.	95½	96	95½	96
140	Diam'd Match.	102¾	102¾	102¾	102¾
210	Lindsay Light com.	4½	5	4½	5
50	Mont. Ward pf.	111¾	111¾	111¾	111¾
20	People's Gas.	119	119	119	119
115	Pub. Serv. com.	98½	99	98½	99
65	Pub. Serv. pf.	99	99	99	99
40	Quaker O. com.	295	295	295	295
25	Stewart Warner pf.	107	107	107	107
125	Sears-Roebuck com.	157	157	156¾	157
598	Stewart Warner	75¼	75¼	75	75¼
154	Swift & Co.	118½	118½	118½	118½
138	Union Carbide.	160½	160½	159	159

BONDS.

$7,000	Chi. Ry. 1st 5s	94⅞	94⅞	94⅞	94⅞
1,000	Com. Edison 5s.	101¼	101¼	101¼	101¼
5,000	Un. El. Ry. 5s.	60	60	60	60
5,000	Ogden Gas 5s..	94	94	94	94

PHILADELPHIA.

STOCKS.

Sales.		Open.	High.	Low.	Last.
300	Am. Ice	25½	25½	25½	25½
95	Am. Rys.	30	30	30	30
100	Am. C. & Fdy.	88	88	88	88
420	Am. Loco.	72¼	72¼	71¼	71¼
25	Buff. & Sus. pf.	54⅜	54⅜	54⅜	54⅜
205	J. G. Brill	64½	64½	64	64
5,232	Cambria Steel	68¾	69	68½	68¾
300	Elec. S. Bat.	71½	72	71	71
1,180	Erie	39¼	40⅝	39¼	39⅝
700	Gen. Asphalt.	34⅜	34⅜	34¼	34⅜
440	Gen. Asphalt pf	72	72	72	72
1	Ins. Co., N. A.	23½	23½	23½	23½
790	Lake Superior.	9⅜	9⅜	9¼	9½
45	Lehigh Nav.	78	78	78	78
259	Lehigh Valley.	78	78⅝	77⅞	77⅞
100	L. V. Tran. pf.	89	89	88½	88½
5	North. Central.	84	84	84	84
833	Penn. R. R.	58⅞	59	58⅜	58⅞
209	Penn. S. Mfg.	100½	100½	100¼	100½
30	Penn. Steel.	99	99	99	99
25	Penn. Steel pf.	90	90	90	90
110	Phila. Co.	47	47	46⅝	46⅝
1,395	Phil. Electric	27⅛	27⅞	27	27
1,445	P. R. T. t. c.	15⅝	16⅛	15⅜	15⅞
15	Phil. Traction.	76	76	76	76
100	Ray Con.	23¾	25⅞	23¾	25⅞
720	*Reading	80⅝	80⅞	79¾	79⅞
200	South. Pacific.	98⅝	98⅝	98⅝	98½
10	Southern Ry.	22¼	22¼	22¼	22¼
2,790	Ton. Belmont.	3⅝	3⅝	3⅛	3⅜
351	Ton. Mining.	5½	5⅝	5½	5⅝
50	Utah Copper.	70¾	70¾	70¼	70¼
93	Union Traction	43¼	43½	43	43½
409	U. G. Imp.	86	86	85¾	85¾
11,090	U. S. Steel.	85½	87	85⅝	86
5	U. S. Rubber.	55⅞	55⅞	55½	55⅞
169	War. I. & S.	10⅜	10⅜	10⅜	10⅜
2	W. J. & S. S.	48½	48½	48¼	48½
115	York Rys.	8¼	8¼	8	8
2	Welsbach	45	45	45	45

BONDS.

$3,100	Am. G. & E. 5s.	88	88	87	87
30,000	Bald. L. 1st 5s.	106¼	106½	106¼	106¼
1,000	Con. Traction, N. J., '52.	101	101	101	101
4,000	Elec. & P. 4s.	78	78	78	78
3,000	Int. Rys. 4s..	59¼	59½	59¼	59¾
1,000	Keystone Tel. 1st 5s.	94½	94½	94½	94½
3,000	L. S. Inc. 5s.	29	29	29	29
4,000	Leh. Nav. con.	100	100	100	100
1,000	Leh. V. gen. 4s	89¼	89½	89¼	89¼
76,000	Penn. gen. 4½s.	98¼	98¼	98	98⅛
1,000	Phil. Co. con. 5s.	88½	88½	88¼	88½
4,600	Phil. Elec. 4s.	82½	82½	79¾	79¾
900	Phil. Elec. 5s.	103	103	103	103
2,000	Read. gen. 4s.	94¾	94¾	94¼	94¾
11,000	Un. Ry. inv. 5s.	74	74½	74	74½

*Ex-dividend.

PITTSBURGH.

STOCKS.

Sales.		Open.	High.	Low.	Last.
176	A. W. Glass pf.	90½	91	90½	91
1,660	A. W. Gl. Mch.	30	30	28	28½
280	A. W. G. M. pf.	125	125	124⅞	124⅞
10	Caney Riv. Gas.	30¼	30¼	30	30
1,040	Columb. G. & E.	13⅞	14	13⅝	13⅞
15	Hb. Walker pf.	99	99	99	99
180	Ind. Brewing.	4⅜	4½	4¼	4½
85	Ind. Brew. pf.	18⅜	18⅜	18⅛	18⅜
2,980	La Belle Iron.	50½	50½	50½	54¼
10	La B. Iron pf.	119	119	119	119
20	Mfrs. L. & H.	49¼	49¼	48¼	49¼
1,645	Nat. Firepfg.	11½	12	11½	12
810	Nat. Firepfg. pf.	23	23½	23	23½
95	Ohio Fuel Oil.	15⅜	15⅜	15⅜	15⅜
17	Ohio. Nat. Gas.	70	70	70	70
200	Pitts. Brew.	6¾	6¾	6¾	6¾
220	Pitts. Brew. pf.	19	19¼	18¾	19¼
520	Pitts. Coal.	38¾	39⅝	38½	38½
25	Pitts. O. & G.	5½	5½	5½	5½
210	Pitts. Pl. Glass.	110	110	110	110
500	Pitts. Silv. Pk.	10c	10c	10c	10c
900	Pure Oil	18	18	17⅜	17⅜
4,300	San Toy	21	21	19	21
45	Union Nat. Gas.	134	134	134	134
50	Un. Sw. & Stg.	122½	122½	122½	122½
128	U. S. Steel.	86	86⅝	86	86⅝
185	Westh. A. B.	143½	143⅝	143½	143½
515	Westh. Electric	74	74½	74	74

BONDS.

$4,000	Pitts. Brew. 6s.	61	61	61	61
2,000	Pitts. Coal deb.	95¾	96	95¾	96

BALTIMORE.

STOCKS.

Sales.		Open.	High.	Low.	Last.
112	Con. Coal	98	98	98	98
169	Con. Power	108⅝	109¼	108⅝	109
2,621	Cosden	6⅞	7	6⅞	7
950	Elkhorn Fuel.	19	19½	18¾	19½
125	Fairmount Gas	30	30	30	30
129	Fair. Gas pf.	51¾	51¾	51¾	51¾
20	First Nat. Bk.	240	240	240	240
75	Houston O. pf.	61¾	61¾	61¾	61¾
50	M. & M. Bank.	28¼	28¼	28¼	28¼
80	Mt.

We Deal In

American Brass
Babcock & Wilcox
E. W. Bliss
Jos. Dixon Crucible
Niles-Bement-Pond
Standard Screw
Scovill Mfg.

GWYNNE BROS.
25 Broad St., N. Y. Phone 3232 Broad

Wanted
Guantanamo Sugar

CHANDLER BROS. & CO.
Members
New York and Philadelphia Stock Exchanges
34 Pine St., New York
Phone John 3680

Niles-Bement-Pond
Hale & Kilburn
Midvale Steel (Old)
Babcock & Wilcox
Bought—Sold—Quoted
Hoit & McWilliam
Phone 4744 Broad. 25 Broad St., N. Y.

S. S. Kresge
F. W. Woolworth
McCrory Stores Corp.
The principal 5 & 10c Stores Companies.
We have prepared a pamphlet showing the reasons for the success of these corporations which we will be pleased to forward to those interested.
Ask for Booklet T-104.
Geo. H. Burr & Co.
BANKERS
120 Broadway, New York
Philadelphia Boston Chicago
St. Louis Seattle San Francisco

WE SPECIALIZE IN BABCOCK AND WILCOX
Leonard Snider & Co.
RECTOR 496 60 BROADWAY

STANDARD OIL

WE WILL BUY	WE WILL SELL
20 Atlantic Refining	25 Eureka P. L.
20 Indiana P. L.	50 Galena Sig. Com.
25 Prairie Oil & Gas	50 S. O. of Cal.
25 Prairie P. L.	25 S. O. of Indiana
25 S. O. of Kansas	25 S. O. of Kentucky
20 S. O. of N. Y.	50 Vacuum Oil

CARL H. PFORZHEIMER & CO.
Dealers in Standard Oil Securities.
Phones 4360-1-2-3-4 Broad. 25 BROAD ST., N. Y.

Hale & Kilburn
Gulf States Steel
MORGAN & FINLAY
STOCKS & BONDS,
115 B'way, N. Y. Tel. Rec. 9273.

N. Y. Shipbuilding
J.K.Rice, Jr. & Co.
Phones 4001 to 4010 John. 36 Wall St., N. Y.

WE WILL BUY
Amer. Lt. & Tract., Com.
Amer. Gas & Elect. Com.
Aetna Explosives
Pacific Gas & Elec. Com.
Williams, Dunbar & Coleman
60 Wall St. Phone 5960 Hanover. N. Y.

ANNUITIES
Reduced rates. $100,000,000 security. Best provision for old age incomes.
THE JOHNSTON & COLLINS CO.
55 Liberty St.

OUTSIDE SECURITIES

Prices Generally Higher In a More Active Session of Curb Trading—Bonds Firm.

Transactions in the outside security market yesterday amounted to 382,232 shares of stock and $471,0000 of bonds. The sales of stocks were divided as follows: Industrials, 176,788; oil, 6,229, and mining, 199,215. The range of prices of all issues in which transactions were recorded was:

INDUSTRIALS.

Shares.		Open.	High.	Low.	Last.
1,570	Am.-Br. Mfg...	40	41	38	39
5,005	Amer. Zinc...	69	69¾	68¾	69
510	†Can. C. & F.	106	108	106	107
750	†C. C. & F. pf.	119	121	119	120
80	†Carbon Steel.	123	125	125	125
3,000	†Char. L. & P...	9¼	9¼	9	9
200	†Central Fdry.	16½	16¾	16	16
100	†Cen. Fdry. pf.	32½	32½	32½	32½
1,850	†Chev. M. C. Co., w. i.	125	129	122	123
3,850	†Cosden Refin.	6¾	7	6¾	7
350	Cramp Ship...	86	86	85	85
1,500	Driggs-Sea...	133	145	133	145
450	Emer. Phon...	11	11¼	11	11¼
300	Guan. Sugar...	68	69	68	69
300	†Hall Signal...	35	33¾	33	33
675	†Hendee Mfg..	37	36	35	35
800	†Hop. & A. A.	70	60	60	60
85,000	†Int. Mer. Ma.	10½	12¾	10¼	12½
45,000	†Int. Mer. Ma. pf.	43¾@44	46	42½	44¾
5,885	Int. Mer. Mar. Can. Tr. ctfs.	43¼	45¼	42¾	44¼
2,000	†Inter. Motors.	45½	46½	45	46
100	†Int. Mot. pf..	71	71	71	71
785	Kath. B'ze. pf.	4¾	4¾	4¾	4¾
400	Kelly S. Tire...	278	280	278	285
80	Kelly S. Tire new 1st pf...	95	95	94	94
3,000	K. S. T., w. i.	75	76¼	75	75
800	†Keystone Ord.	10¾	11¼	10¾	11
3,000	†Lake T. Boat.	17½	19¼	17½	19
500	†L. T. B. 1st pf	18	19	18	19
600	Mex. Tramst...	⅝	⅝	⅝	⅝
81	†M. H. P. Mot.	99½	99¼	99¼	99¼
1,000	Marconi of Am.	4¾	4¾	4¾	4¾
25,000	†Midvale St. I.	95½	92½	92½	93
25	Nat. Steel Car...	49½	49½	49½	49½
42	Nat. S. C. pf..	90	93	90	93
1,500	C. of R. & Mag	5¾	5¾	5¾	5¾
100	†M. Rum., w. i.	22	22	22	22
1,600	†Stand. Motors.	12¾	12¾	11¾	12
1,700	Sterling Gum...	2½	2½	2½	2¼
7,000	†St. Jo. Lead..	14¾	14¾	13¾	14
5,000	Sub. Boat.....	42¼	43¼	42¼	43
1,000	†Tob. Products.	39	39	36	36
2,000	Tri. Film ctfs.	6¾	7¼	6¾	6¾
1,500	Un. Profit S...	2¼	2¼	2¼	2¼
10,000	†U. S. L. & H. Corp	5¾	6¼	5¾	6
1,000	†U. S. L. & H. Corp. pf.....	5½	5¾	5¾	5¾
1,400	†World Film....	4¼	3¾	3¾	3¾

OIL ISSUES.

Sales.		High.	Low.	Last.	Net Ch'ge.
300	†Houston Oil..	19½	19⅝	19⅜	— ⅜
40	Illinois P. L...	153	152	153	..
500	†Int. Petrol'm..	10	9⅞	10	+ ⅛
20	Northern P. L.	103	103	103	..
100	Ohio Oil	158	156	156	— ½
75	Prairie O. & G.	420	416	420	+18
74	Prairie P. L...	217	214	214	— 4
115	S. O. of Cal...	324	315	315	+ 4*
35	S. O. of N. Y.	488	483	486	+ 1
20	Union Tank L.	83	83	83	— 1
350	Ventura Con....	11¼	11¼	11¼	..
4,600	†Victoria Oil...	1⅞	1⅝	1⅝	..

MINING STOCKS.

Sales.		Open.	High.	Low.	Last.
7,700	†Alaska Jun..	12	13¼	11⅝	12¾
1,000	†Am. Con. Min.	22	22	22	22
2,300	††Am. Com'dr.	9	9¼	9	9¼
8,000	††Atlanta	26	28	25	25
1,000	Big Ledge Dev.	3⅝	3⅞	3⅝	3⅞
6,500	Braden Cop....	9¾	10	9¾	10
1,900	Bu. C. & Z. ctfs.	4⅝	4⅝	4⅜	4¾
200	Butte & N. Y.	2⅜	2⅜	2⅜	2⅜
1,300	†Caledonia	98	99	98	98
25,000	†Can. Copper..	1¼	1¾	1¾	1½
15,000	†Cashboy	8	7	8	8
10,400	†Chile Cop....	23¼	23¼	23¼	23⅝
6,000	Con. Ariz. Sm.	1½	1½	1½	1⅝
1,700	††Emma Cop..	27	28	26	28
100	Davis-Daly C.	1⅞	1⅞	1⅞	1⅞
1,500	First Nat. C...	4¾	5	4¾	4¾
2,840	Goldf. Con....	1½	1⅝	1½	1⅝
300	††Gold. Merger	18	19	19	19
300	Howe Sound...	4⅜	4⅜	4½	4½
1,500	Jumbo Exten..	1¼	1¼	1¼	1¼
8,375	Kenne. Cop....	54	54½	53¾	53¾
4,500	††Kewanas	34	34	33	33
500	Magma Cop....	14¼	14¼	14	14¼
700	†Majestic M...	65	65	65	65
2,700	†McK.-Dar....	29	30	29	30
2,000	††Mari. Min..	31	32	31	32
26,500	††Mother Lode.	35	36	34	35
1,200	††Nat. Z. & L.	72	75	72	74
600	Nip. M. Co....	7	7	6¾	6¾
2,000	††Oro	6	6	6	6
2,900	Ray Hercules..	4¼	4¼	4¼	4¼
2,900	††Rex Con. M.	45	46	45	45
1,800	††Sand. Kend..	10¼	10½	10½	10¼
2,700	Santa Fe C....	4⅞	4⅞	4⅞	4⅝
13,000	†San Tor....	22	24	21	24
1,225	Stand. S.-L...	1¼	1⅝	1¼	1⅜
200	Stewart	1¼	1¼	1¼	1¼
23,000	†xSuccess M..	68	70	64	69
4,100	†Sup. Min. Co.	24	25	24	24½
1,100	Tono. Ext....	2⅛	2⅛	2⅛	2⅛
1,800	Tonopah Min..	5⅞	5⅞	5⅞	5⅞
200	Tri-Bullion....	½	½	½	½
4,100	†W. E. Con....	70	75	70	74

BONDS.

$351,000	B. Cop. 6s...	193	200	193	193
120,000	Ken. Cop. 6s.	170	172	170	172

†Sells cents per share. xEx dividend. ‡Unlisted.

***

Bid and asked quotations of issues not traded in compared with those of previous week:

INDUSTRIALS.

	Oct. 26. Bid.	Asked.	Oct. 25. Bid.	Asked.
Am.-Br. Mfg. Co. pf.	85	103	85	105
B.-A. Tob. Co., ord..	14	15	14	15
B.-A. T. Co., ord. tr..	14	15	14	15
Can. Gen. Electric..	124	127	124	127
Carbon Steel 1st pf...	76	82	76	82
Carbon Steel 2d pf...	85	95	85	95
Car'ge Fac., Can....	52	54	52	54
Cramp Shipbuilding..	86	90	86	89
Domin'n Steel.....	47½	48¼	47¾	48½
Fisk Tire	122	126	122	125
Franco-Spanish Pet, (a prospect).....	1	1¼	1	1¼
Hall Signal pf.....	52	55	55	55½
Kathodion Bronze pf.	4¼	4½	4¼	4½
Mutual Pr. Sharing.	9	9½	9	9½
N. Y. Transportation.	15	17	15½	16
Pacific Gas & Elec.	53	55	53	55
Pyrene Mfg. Co.....	15	16½	16	16½
Sherman Carbide.....	7¾	8¼	7¾	8¼
Sherman Carbide pf.	8	15	8	15
Steel Co. of Canada..	35	36	35	36
Wayland O. & Gas..	3½	4	3½	4

OIL ISSUES.

Anglo-American	16½	17	16¾	17
Pierce Oil	13¾	14¼	13	13½

MINING STOCKS.

Arizona Duquesne...	37	40	37	40
Big Cottonwood	3	4	3	4
Booth	34	37	35	37
Cerro de Pasco Cop. per Corp.	47	48	47	48
Howe Sound.....	4½	4¾	4½	4¾
Iron Blossom	68	72	68	72
La Rose Cons.....	⅛	⅜	⅛	⅜
New Utah Bingham...	2⅞	3	2⅞	3
Santa Fe Mining....	4⅜	4⅝	4⅜	4⅝
Silver Pick	8	10	9	10
Stewart	⅝	1⅛	⅝	1⅛
Tuolumne Copper...	⅞	1	⅞	1
White Knob Cop. pf.	1½	2	1½	2

BONDS.

Anglo-French 5s.....	97¾	98	97¾	98
Con. Arizona 5s.....	25	30	25	30
Inter. Mer. M. n. 5s.	85	90	85	90
Western Pacific.....	33	34½	33	34½
Pierce Oil 6s.....	80	82	82	82

***

MUNITIONS STOCKS.

	Yesterday. Bid.	Asked.	Monday. Bid.	Asked.
Aetna Explosives	160	165	163	166
Aetna Explosives, pf..	84	87	84	87
Atlas Powder	268	273	263	268
Atlas Powder, pf.....	95	99	95	98
Bliss (E. W.).....	410	430	435	455
Bliss (E. W.) pf....	72	80	72	80
Canadian Explosives..	390	415	390	415
Can. Explosives, pf..	106	110	100	110
Colt's Arms	900	925	870	890
Du Pont Pow., new..	445	450	445	450
Du Pont Powder, pf..	100	102	100	102
Hercules Powder....	434	440	424	440
Hercules Powder, pf..	114	118	114	118
Midvale Steel.....	450	460	460	475
Midvale Steel & Ord.	94	95	95	96½
Niles-Bement-Pond...	193	200	193	200
Niles-Bement-P., pf..	101	105	101	105
Savage Arms	385	400	390	405
Scoville Mfg. Co....	400	450	375	390
Winchester R. A....	2900	3000	2850	3000

RAILWAY EQUIPMENT BONDS.

The following are quoted on a percentage basis:

Name.	Maturity.	Rate.	Bid.	Ask.
Atlantic Coast L..	1916-'23	4	@4½	4.30	4.35
Balt. & Ohio....	1916-'23	4½		4.45	4.35
Buff., R. & P....	1916-'30	4½	@5	4.55	4.40
Can. Pacific.....	1916-'28	4½		4.35	4.05
Car., Clinch. & O.	1916-'24	5		5.12	4.88
Ches. & Ohio....	1916-'24	4½		4.50	4.50
Chicago & N. W.	1916-'23	4½		4.45	4.25
Chi. Ind. & Louis.	1916-'23	4½		5.00	4.75
C., St. L. & N. O.	1916-'24	5		4.60	4.40
C., C., C. & St. L.	1916-'29	5		5.00	4.75
Del. & Hudson....	1922	4½		4.47	4.35
Erie Railroad....	1916-'23	4½	@5	4.58	4.65
Hocking Valley....	1916-'23	4	@5	4.75	4.50
Illinois Central..	1916-'23	4½	@5	4.50	4.53
Louis. & Nash....	1916-'23	5		4.45	4.25
Mo., Kan. & Tex.	1916-'22	5		6.25	5.25
Missouri Pacific.	1916-'22	5		7.00	5.75
N. Y. Central L...	1916-'23	4½	@5	4.35	4.05
Norfolk & West..	1916-'24	4½		4.40	4.25
N. Y., N. H. & H.	1916-'28	6		4.75	4.50
Penn. Gen. Frgt..	1916-'23	4	@4½	4.35	4.15
St. L., I. M. & S.	1916-'24	5		6.00	5.00
Seaboard Air Line.	1916-'23	5		4.85	4.70
Southern Railway.	1916-'24	4½	@5	4.80	4.30
Southern Pacific..	1916-'28	4½		4.50	4.38
Virginian Ry.....	1916-'19	5		4.75	4.50

COLORADO MINING STOCKS.

	Bid.	Asked.		Bid.	Asked.
Dr. J'kpot.	9½	9⅝	Isabella ...	10½	10⅝
Elkton	25	30	Jackpot ...	6½	7½
El Paso....	75	85	McKinney..	35	37
Findlay	3¼	4½	Portland ...	188	190
Golden Cy.	177	180	Vindicator.	150	155
Gold Dol...	2½	5	Rav. B. H.	3½	4½
Gold Sov..	6½	7

CONSOLIDATED EXCHANGE.

Throughout the day trading attention on the Consolidated Stock Exchange was particularly centred upon United States Steel common. It advanced sharply early in the session, but fell back again in the later dealings. Many of the railroad issues moved up decidedly in the early trading and their advance had an encouraging influence upon trading sentiment in regard to the whole market. The copper shares also strengthened decidedly early. The late afternoon tone, however, was reactionary all through the list.

Sales.		Open.	High.	Low.	Last.
160	Alaska Gold...	32¾	34	32¾	33½
240	Allis-Chalmers.	44	44¼	43¾	43¾
60	Am. Beet Sug.	63	63¾	64½	65¼
1,400	American Can.	63¼	63¾	62¾	63
440	Am. C. & Fdy.	89¾	89¾	87¾	86¾
30	Am. Cot. Oil...	38	38¼	38	38¼
330	Am. Ice Sec...	24½	25	24¼	25¾
290	Am. Linseed...	28½	30	27¾	27¾
350	Am. Locomot..	73¾	73¾	71	72
570	Am. Smelting.	93	94	92¼	93¾
10	Am. Steel F...	39¾	39¾	39¾	39¾
8,840	Anaconda Cop.	75	76¾	75	76¼
70	At., T. & S. F.	106¾	107	106¾	107
200	Baldwin L. Co.	139¾	141	138¾	140¾
180	Balt. & Ohio..	93	93¾	93	93
20	Brook. R. T..	87	87	87	87
40	Cal. Petroleum	19	19	18½	18½
910	Cent. Leather.	59¾	59¾	57	57½
370	Ches. & Ohio.	57¾	58¾	57¼	58¾
90	C., M. & St. P.	93¼	93¼	92¾	92¾
270	C., R. I. & P..	17¾	17¾	17¾	17¾
200	Chino Copper..	51½	51¾	50	50
970	Col. Fuel & I..	59¾	60	58	58¾
1,440	Corn Products.	21¼	21¼	19¾	20¾
630	Crucible Steel.	92	93	90	90
200	Dist. Securities	48¼	48¼	46¾	47½
8,720	Erie	39¾	40¾	39	39½
280	Erie 1st pf....	56¾	57¼	56¾	56¾
1,010	Goodrich Co....	77¼	79¼	77¼	77¾
500	Gt. Nor. Ore...	51¾	51¾	49¾	50¾
10	Gt. North. pf..	121¾	121¾	121¾	121¾
620	Inspir. Copper.	44½	45¾	44½	45
20	Inter. Metro...	22¾	22¾	22¾	22¼
210	Interbor. Con..	22½	23	22¾	22
100	Kan. C. So....	29	29¼	29	29¼
480	Lehigh Valley.	77¾	78¾	77¾	78
1,290	Maxwell Motors	91	91	84½	86¾
90	Maxwell 2d pf.	67¾	68¾	64¾	64¾
280	Mexican Petrol.	90½	91	88½	89
500	Miami Copper.	34½	35¼	34¼	34¼
100	Mo. Pacific....	5	5¼	5	5
130	Nat. En. & S..	35¼	35¾	33¾	34
240	N. Y. Central..	100¾	101¾	100¾	100¾
390	N. Y., N. H. & H	81¾	83¼	81¾	82
80	N. Y., O. & W.	30¾	31	30¾	31
60	Pennsylvania ..	59	59	58¾	58¾
30	Pitts. Coal...	59	59	57	58¼
560	Pressed S. Car.	71½	74¾	71¼	73¾
40	Ry. Steel S....	49½	49¾	49¼	49¼
250	Ray Con	26¼	26¼	25¼	25¾
6,500	Reading	79¾	81½	79¾	79½
220	Rep. Iron & S.	54¾	54¾	53¾	54
620	South. Pacific..	98¾	99¼	98¾	98¾
210	Southern Ry..	21½	22¾	21½	22¾
170	Studebaker	184½	190	184	186
530	Tenn. Copper..	63	64¾	63	63¾
200	Tenn. C. rights	2¼	2¼	2	2
100	Third Av	62	62	60½	61¼
1,020	Union Pacific..	136¾	136¾	135½	135¾
330	U. S. Rubber..	55¾	55¾	54¾	54¾
24,380	U. S. Steel....	85½	87¼	85¼	86
610	Utah Copper....	70¾	71¾	70¾	70¾
480	Va.-Car. Chem.	50¾	52	50¼	50½
6,740	West. E. & M.	74	74¾	73¼	73½

71,940

MINING STOCKS.

400	Atlanta	.25½	.25½	.25½	.25¼
1,000	Cash Boy	.07	.07	.07	.07
500	Con. Va	.32	.32	.32	.32
800	Goldfield Con..	1.35	1.35	1.35	1.35
500	Gold. Merger.	.19	.19	.19	.19
200	Isabella	.17	.17	.17	.17
400	Jim Butler	.80	.81	.80	.81
300	Jumbo	1.30	1.30	1.30	1.30
400	Mexican	.46	.46	.46	.46
1,000	Montana	.29	.29	.29	.29
500	Sandstorm K...	.11	.11	.11	.11
100	Savage	.15	.15	.15	.15
500	Ton. Minimg..	5.50	5.50	5.50	5.50
300	Ton. Merger...	5.50	5.50	5.50	5.50
200	Tonopah Ext..	2.90	2.90	2.80	2.90
500	Union Con	.85	.85	.85	.85
800	West End	.72	.73	.72	.73

7,800

RAILROAD EARNINGS.

The railroads reporting so far for the third week of October show these aggregate changes in gross earnings, those showing gains and those showing losses being stated separately:

Twelve roads.....	$9,139,345	+$1,740,814
One road.....	642,655	-44,727
Total (13 roads)....	9,782,000	+1,696,087

ATCHISON, TOP. & S. F. for September—

	1915.	1914.	1913.
Mileage	11,242	11,092	10,890
Gross	$10,795,294	$10,639,292	$9,740,766
Net aft. tax.	3,639,361	3,636,666	3,042,462
3 mos. gross.	32,122,013	30,415,024	28,615,798
Net aft. tax.	10,580,830	9,903,504	8,314,041

BUFF., ROCH. & PITTS. for September—

Gross	1,016,388	867,942	1,049,744
Net aft. tax.	282,833	218,850	328,150
Other inc....	47,180	62,086	59,435
Total inc....	329,964	280,923	387,585
Sur. aft. chg.	151,359	101,982	221,422

CANADIAN NORTHERN for September—

Mileage	4,983	4,870	4,520
Gross	$2,014,600	$2,109,900	$1,994,900
Net	662,600	590,700	524,900
9 mos. gross.	4,413,000	5,071,900	5,748,500
Net	1,186,600	1,265,900	1,447,800

CAROLINA, CLINCHFIELD & OHIO for the year ended June 30—

	1915.	1914.
Oper. rev.....	$2,280,775	$2,679,208
Oper. exp.....	1,192,309	1,255,287
Net oper. rev....	1,068,466	1,423,921
Taxes	164,266	131,322
Oper. inc.	904,199	1,292,598
Other inc.....	302,573	373,822
Total inc.....	1,206,772	1,666,420
Charges	988,906	966,306
Surplus	147,805	700,114

CENTRAL OF GEORGIA for the year ended June 30—

	1915.	1914.	Decrease.
Gross	$12,108,184	$14,326,573	$2,218,391
Expenses ...	8,975,511	10,785,764	1,810,253
Net	3,134,673	3,540,811	406,138
Sur. aft. chg.	1,202,005	1,091,042	•110,963

•Increase.

Miscellaneous Earnings.

CENTRAL LEATHER COMPANY for the quarter ended Sept. 30—

	1915.	1914.	1913.
Total inc.....	$3,089,116	$2,289,032	$2,108,000
General exp., losses, and misc. inter...	874,872	781,916	789,429
Int. on bonds and debts.....	459,551	459,551	459,551
Net	1,754,693	997,565	909,560
Pref. div., pay Oct. 1.....	582,732	582,732	582,732
Surplus	1,171,961	414,833	326,837
Nine months:
Total inc.....	7,964,808	7,424,740	6,781,659
General exp. losses, and miscel. int...	2,689,285	2,525,274	2,227,080
Int. on bonds and debt.....	1,378,656	1,378,656	1,423,182
Net	3,946,666	3,520,811	3,132,045
Pref. divs.....	1,748,196	1,748,196	1,748,196
Surplus	2,198,470	1,772,615	1,383,849

HERCULES POWDER COMPANY for the nine months ended Sept. 30—

	1915.	1914.	Increase.
Gross	$8,675,567	$5,974,427	2,701,139
•Net	2,359,464	996,966	1,362,498
Int. & prd. div.	310,983	305,135	5,848
Surplus	2,048,481	691,831	1,356,650

•After deducting all expenses incident to manufacture and sales, ordinary and extraordinary repairs, maintenance, &c.

INTERNATIONAL AGRICULTURAL CORPORATION for the year ended June 30—

	1915.	1914.	1913.
Gross profit...	1,544,789	1,934,494	1,718,832
Expenses	a1,198,816	1,170,151	1,054,441
Net	645,983	764,342	664,391
Other income..	18,000	208,750	.....
Total income..	663,983	913,072	664,391
Bond inter....	616,890	646,529	650,000
Amortiz'n of bond disc't..	207,106	241,686	.....
Net deficit....	160,022	•84,908	•14,391
Pfd. divid'ds..	.....	.....	457,203
Deficit	160,022	•84,908	442,812
Prof. on bonds	886,799	222,000	.....
Prev. deficit..	1,152,502	1,459,470	.....
Total deficit..	975,725	1,152,502	.....

•Surplus.

PHILADELPHIA COMPANY for September—

	1915.	1914.	Increase.
Gross	1,931,758	1,829,614	102,144
Net	778,147	541,354	231,893
6 mos. gross.	11,879,685	11,729,946	150,709
Net	4,987,772	4,048,387	889,385

THE TREASURY STATEMENT.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Receipts and expenditures:

	This mo.	Fiscal yr.
Customs	$13,666,347	$39,358,179
Ordinary internal rev..	27,301,460	116,288,458
Income tax.....	727,189	11,772,290
Miscellaneous	2,065,663	13,017,787
Total receipts.....	$43,768,800	$200,886,707
Excess of ord. disburse. over ord. rec.	7,289,267	40,685,184
Excess of total disburse over. total rec.	3,528,264	29,929,456
Expenditures	51,057,867	241,071,863

Kelly-Springfield Stock Change.

Directors of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company voted yesterday to amend the certificate of incorporation so as to reduce the par value of the common stock from $100 per share to $25 a share. A special meeting of the stockholders will be held Nov. 30 at 15 Exchange Place, Jersey City, to approve this action. The par value of the 6 per cent cumulative preferred and the 7 per cent. second preferred stock will not be reduced.

STOP-LOSS ORDERS AID COTTON BEARS

Prices Decline About a Dollar a Bale, Partly on Poor Spot Demand in the South.

FARMERS REFUSING TO SELL

Reported That England Is Discouraging Buying in Order to Help the Exchange Situation.

The cotton market showed decided weakness again yesterday and made a new low record for the month, closing about $1 per bale under closing prices of the previous day. Business on the Exchange was active, and there was a great deal of long cotton closed out on stop-loss orders.

During the early morning the market did not show the weakness which developed later in the day. There was a good tone at the opening in spite of the fact that Liverpool was as good as due, and prices worked up to a level about 10 points higher than the close.

It was scattered outside buying that caused the early advance, and the trade soon supplied all the cotton that was wanted, and the market turned very weak on reports from the South that there was little or no demand for spot cotton.

Some wires from the belt were to the effect that farmers were holding tight and refusing to cut prices, but information of this sort had little market weight when it was considered that there was little demand even at a lower basis. It was reported that England was discouraging the purchase of cotton in order to make it easier to hold exchange rates. Whether this was true or not it looked reasonable enough for the market to believe that it might be so and had a bearish influence.

At the low point of the day January cotton was 115 points under the high of the season. This decline has been a rapid one and has about wiped out the scattered long interests. The trade

COLORADO TOWED TO PORT.

Badly Damaged by Fire, but Much of Cargo Can Be Saved.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Oct. 26.—The Mallory Line freight steamer Colorado, which caught fire Sunday night while en route from Charleston to New York with cotton, was towed into port early today. The vessel is badly damaged, but it is believed much of the cargo can be salvaged. The blaze started in the superstructure from a cause not yet determined.

The fire was burning so fiercely at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon when the tugs Cecelia and Waban reached the Colorado that it was necessary to play streams of water on the steamer for some time before a line could be attached.

COMMODITIES MARKETS.

WHEAT.

The wheat market was nervous and feverish and after numerous price changes both ways closed with net losses of ¾c to ⅞c. Early in the day values sold off 2 cents a bushel under renewed liquidation and more vigorous operations on the selling side by leading bears, prompted by continued favorable weather conditions over the West and the belief that Monday's advance had been due almost entirely to technical conditions. In the local cash market No. 1 Durum was quoted at 1.11¾, free on board, New York; No. 1 northern, Duluth, 1.04¾, and No. 1 Northern Manitoba, 1.04¾, cost, insurance and freight, Buffalo.

NEW YORK PRICES.

	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. Close.	Last Year.
Dec.	.....	.....	1.07⅞	1.08⅝	1.14⅝

CHICAGO PRICES.

Dec.	1.02	99¼	1.00⅜	1.01⅛	67⅜
May	1.04	1.01⅝	1.02⅝	1.03⅝	70⅜

CORN.

While prices in the corn market were influenced more or less by the action of wheat, the undertone was firm and at the close values were ⅝c net higher. Weather conditions were highly satisfactory for curing the new crop and for the movement of old corn, but country offers were comparatively light. In the local cash market No. 2 yellow corn was quoted at 75½c prompt shipment.

CHICAGO PRICES.

	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. Close.	Prev. Year.
Oct.	.....	.....	.....	.....	.....
Dec.	68⅛	65⅜	68⅛	.....	.....
May	59¼	57⅜	58⅝	58⅝	67⅜

OATS.

The oats market was moderately active with feverish price changes. The undertone was steady, however, and at the close of the day values were net unchanged to ⅛c lower. The local cash market was steady. No. 3 white quoted at 41 to 41½c, No. 4 white, 40 to 40½c; ordinary to fancy clipped, 40 to 44c, all elevator.

CHICAGO PRICES.

	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. Close.	Prev. Year.
December	38⅞	38	38½	38⅝	49⅛
May	40⅝	39¾	39½	39¾	52⅜

PROVISIONS.

The market for hog products was moderately active and prices showed a declining tendency throughout the day, closing at about the lowest. Receipts of hogs were fairly liberal and it was thought that packers were on the selling side. Receipts of hogs at Chicago were 16,000 head, estimated for Wednesday, 24,000; Kansas City received 11,000 and Omaha 2,000.

CHICAGO PRICES.

	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. Close.	Prev. Year.
Lard—
January	8.92	8.82	8.82	8.97	10.80
May	9.20	9.10	9.10	9.22	9.85
Ribs—
January	8.82	8.77	8.77	8.87	9.75
Pork—
December	13.40	13.30	13.30	13.50	18.77
January	16.07	15.82	15.90	16.15	19.05

COTTONSEED OIL.

Price changes in the cottonseed oil market were irregular and closing bids ranged from 8 points advance to 5 points decline. The active positions were generally heavy, however, and sentiment was influenced by the weakness in cotton and lard.

Range of prices:

	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. Close.
Spot	.....	.....	7.78@7.90	7.70
October	.....	.....	7.78@7.90	7.70
November	7.80	7.75	7.75@7.79	7.80
December	7.72	7.72	7.73@7.77	7.75
January	7.79	7.75	7.76@7.77	7.75
February	7.84	7.84	7.83@7.85	7.78
March	7.90	7.88	7.88@7.87	7.87
April	.....	.....	7.92@7.98	7.93
May	8.05	7.99	8.02@8.03	8.04

COFFEE.

Peace rumors from abroad, as well as buying for foreign account, caused a quick rally in the coffee market at the close of the day, and after having shown a rather heavy tone throughout the greater part of the session, the market closed firmly with net gains of 5 to 15 points. The local spot market was inactive, but steady, with Rio 7s quoted at 7¾c. Range of prices:

	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. Close.
October	.....	.....	6.46@6.50	6.39
November	.....	.....	6.46@6.50	6.39
December	6.43	6.43	6.50@6.53	6.42
January	.....	.....	6.52@6.55	6.44
February	.....	.....	6.54@6.56	6.43
March	6.57	6.44	6.56@6.57	6.50
April	.....	.....	6.61@6.62	6.55
May	6.70	6.54	6.69@6.67	6.60
June	.....	.....	6.72@6.73	6.65
July	6.80	6.65	6.76@6.80	6.70
August	.....	.....	6.85@6.86	6.75
September	6.91	6.80	6.91@6.92	6.80

SUGAR.

Futures opened dull and easy, unchanged to a decline of 6 points, with no business reported on the call. Business remained quiet until the later afternoon, when a little trade buying sent prices up a few points, the market closing barely steady, 1 to 3 points net decline, with sales for the day 8,850 tons.

RANGE OF PRICES.

	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. Close.
Oct.	.....	.....	3.17@3.20	3.18
Nov.	3.17	3.16	3.17@3.20	3.18
Dec.	3.17	3.08	3.11@3.12	3.12
Jan.	3.03	3.02	3.02@3.04	3.03
Feb.	2.95	2.94	2.95@2.97	2.96
Mar.	2.96	2.96	2.98@3.00	3.00
Apr.	.....	.....	3.01@3.03	3.04
May	.....	.....	3.05@3.07	3.08
June	.....	.....	3.09@3.10	3.12
July	.....	.....	3.14@3.15	3.17
Aug.	.....	.....	3.16@3.18	3.19
Sept.	.....	.....	3.18@3.20	3.20

BUTTER AND EGG MARKET.

BUTTER.—Receipts for week, 30,598 packages; last week, 36,203 packages. Exports for week to Europe, 2,130 packages; to other countries, 401 packages. Slight weakness followed the last weekly report, but this did not last long, the market soon recovering and then making a further gain of ½c. At the present writing there is a very firm feeling on the better grades of creamery with current quotations easily obtained. The quality has been running off of late and the decreasing proportion of fancy stock is the main cause of the present strength. Quite a good deal of fresh creamery to be had from 26¾@28½c. Home trade good, but less export business. European advices are decidedly weaker. Quiet trading in renovated and ladles have moved rather slowly. Packing stock in good demand and quite firm. Creamery, extras (86 to 90 score,) 28¾@29c; higher scoring, 29¾@30c; firsts, 27½@28¼c; seconds, 24½@27c; thirds, 23@24c. State Dairy, finest, 28½c; good to prime, 27@28c; common to fair, 23@25¾c; renovated, extras, 27½@28c; firsts, 25¾@26c; lower grades, 22½@23c; imitation creamery, firsts, 24@24c; ladles, current make, firsts, 22@22½c; seconds, 21¢@21¾c; lower grades, 19½@20½c; packing stock, June make, fine, 21c; current make, fine, 20½@21c; No. 2, 20c; lower grades, 15¢@19½c.

EGGS.—Receipts for week, 46,153 cases. The arrivals have been light and the proportion of new-laid qualities has further decreased. Stock showing a large proportion of high-grade eggs fit for the best class of trade has been promptly salable at hardening prices. Medium and lower qualities are still fairly plentiful, but accumulations have been reduced and there has been some improvement in average prices, although the range of prices is still very wide. Storage eggs have moved rather slowly; there is no speculative demand, and buyers are confining their purchases to immediate needs. Sales reported are generally in the range previously quoted, at which there is still a very free offering. Near-by eggs in very small supply and of irregular quality; fancy new-laid stock is very scarce and wanted at firm prices; white eggs of large size would probably exceed any quotations for uniform new laid, but there are scarcely any such obtainable. Fresh gathered, extra fine, per dozen, 37@38c; extra firsts, 34@36c; firsts, 29@33c; seconds, 26@29c; thirds and poorer, 22@25c; dirties, No. 1, 22@22½c; No. 2 and poorer, 18@21½c; checks, good to choice, dry, 20½@21c; culls and inferior, 15@20c. Refrigerator, special marks, fancy, 26c; firsts, 24½@25½c; seconds, 23@24c; thirds or poorer, 20@22½c; State, Pennsylvania, and near-by, hennery whites, fine to fancy, 32@35c; ordinary to good, 30@30c; gathered whites, as to size and quality, 35@32c; Western, gathered whites, 33@40c; State, Pennsylvania, and near-by, hennery browns, 40@42c; gathered brown and mixed colors, 30@38c; near-by, refrigerator whites, 27@30c.

DECISIONS AND CALENDARS.

CASES WILL BE CALLED IN THE ORDER GIVEN BELOW.
(4) This character means versus or against.

FEDERAL.

Supreme Court.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—P. Wagner v. O. Leser—Argument continued.

29—The Peterborough Ry. v. Boston & Maine Ry.—Argued.

33—H. W. O'Neill v. J. F. Leamer—Argument commenced. Adjourned until tomorrow.

Call for Oct. 27: Nos. 33, 34, 35, 37, 38, 40, 41, (and 22½ and 24½,) 42, 43 and 44.

Southern District.

DISTRICT COURT—Learned Hand, J.—Room 337, P. O. Bldg., at 10:30 A. M. Jury calendar.

Barrett<Clauses. Isaksen<Steinpr.
Schwartzman<B T Babbitt. U S<Balen.
Cuppy<Gebrueder-Noll<werck. USC J S Johnson Co.
Baldwin<Eldman. Wieland<Erie R R.
McLaughlin<Nat Fire Ins Co. Summons Mfg Co<Vulcan Metal Co.
Same<Orient Ins Co. Wright<NY, NH & H R R.
Gray<Leh Val Coal Co. Vulcan Metal Co<Summons Mfg Co.
Prairie Oil & Gas Co<Globe & Rutgers F Ins Co.

DISTRICT COURT—Hazel, J.—Room 1, 12th floor, Woolworth Bldg., at 10:30 A. M. Equity.

Case on—Universal Saving Corp'n<Morris Plan Co. of N. Y.
No day calendar.

DISTRICT COURT—Hough, J.—Room 3, Woolworth Bldg., 12th floor, at 10:30 A.M. Admiralty:

US<City North America, &c.

DISTRICT COURT—Mayer, J.—Room 227, P. O. Bldg., at 10:30 A. M. Jury calendar.

Trambenkl<Erie RR. Gleason<Thaw.
Dickerson<Penn R R. Colucci<Penn RR.
Meares<D, L & W R R. US<Israel.
Glickman<Gilman.

Noot<Inter Mer Mar.

Eastern District.

DISTRICT COURT—Veeder, J.—At 10:30 A. M., in Room 312, P. O. Bldg.

Criminal calendar:

US<Van De Sand. US<Luis Sing.
US<John Oltman.

Common law calendar:

Yonalem<Jacob. O'Connor<Brown.
Gimmo<Marresford. Penotta<D, L & W.
Klein et al<Blair et al. (2) Novicky<Penn RR. Pinches<Ransom & Randolph.
Deguzis<D, L & W.

DISTRICT COURT—Chatfield, J.—Motion calendar at 2 P. M. in Room 208, P. O. Building.

Bay Dredg & Con Co<Lukosewicz<P & R C & I Co.
Donovan<Tug Ono. McDonough<same.
McDonough<same. Israelowicz<P RR.
Auditore Stevedoring Co<SSMaleas. Am Cone & Wafer Co<Consol Wafer Co.
Am Ammonia Co<Columbia Chem Works. Spencer<Babylon RR.

TRICT COURT—Chatfield, J.—Admiralty calendar for Saturday, Oct. 30.—Room 328, P. O. Building, at 10:30 A. M.

Youker<McCalden Bros Co. Lehigh V Transp Co<St'tug Transfer 20 et al.
Huntley<Ziegler. Hatfield<Stitug Black Diamond et al.
Murphy<Steers. Sparks<Yacht Queen Bess.
O'Connell<Moran. Edward Moore<St'tug Irene.
Brown<Std O Co et al. Eclipse Light & Trans<St'tug Arrow.
Robins D D & R Co<Pierce Bros. Morrell et al<St'tug Black Diamond et al.
Perrego<Weiner & Royal Dittmar<F Starr Con Co et al. Williams<St'tug G H Rellus et al.
Re Arow, (Limit.) Borkholm<St'tug H R Wheeler.
N Y Cent<St'tug Foot Montclair. Santa Cecilia Sugar Co<SS Madawnska.
Kennedy<Clinton Pt 10 Re C S Leavy Co.
McWilliams-Tracy<Stiff. Re Knudsen.
Amundsen<Baltimore. Sigman<NY, NH & H RR. (2)
Aldrich<St'tugs Overbrook et al. Adirondack League Club<Snyder.
Re J Roy, (Limit.) Simpson<Levy, (2.)
Wilson & Co. Mann Life Ins Co<Wilvare Ry Corp.
Jenis<Lenox, Inc. Meehan<Burchell-Johnston Corp.
Hecht<Burchell-Johnston Corp. McGillicuddy<Meyering.
Meegan<Luitwieler Pump Eng Co. Duffy Co<Stapleton Nat Bank.
Girardi<St Denis. Scarpinato<W L Cosgrove Co.
Freibrun<NY Con RR. Miklaszewski<Miklaszewski.
Murphy<Ross. Napel Mills, Inc<John Schubert Cotton Co.
Frawley<Persch. Stern<Met Life Ins Co
State of Yucatan< Spiro<Libman.
Argumendo, Helpershausen<Marx. J P Duffy Co<Stapleton Nat Bank.
Cardani<Bookman. Scarpinato<W L Cosgrove Co.
Wood<Bissell. Richards<Aetna. Accid & Liability Co.
Richards<Aetna. Accid & Liability Co. Re Feinsot.
Re Feinsot. Re Reingen.
Curry<W A Brady, Ltd Seattle<Hopper, (2.) Abraham (Ball)<Amer Exch Nat Bank.
Emigrant Ind Sav Bk<Ivory. Geddes<Hotel Hermitage Co.
Reich<Cochran. City R E Co<Bellemore Holding Co.
Asch<Schulman. Newgent<Alsberg.
Herrlich<Herrlich. McGrath<Murphy.
Morris<Du Luart. Niehaus<Niehaus.
Rabinowitz<Rabinow's Greenwich Sav Bk<McAleer. Hollender<Wallace.
I D Wolfson, Inc< Cooke<Cooke.
Stark. Re Goldschmidt.
Greenberg<Waldes, Mann Life Ins Co<Vonder Driesch. B S Barnard & Co<McIntyre.
Cohen<Cohen. Hermen<Herman.
Barnard<McIntyre. Van Dyk<Friend.
Kirby<Lum and Galler- Fredericks<Taub, (4.)
ley & Auc R, &c. Villemin<same.
Weeks<Sawyer. Grey<Zindel.
Bein<Mahoney. Luttinzer<Luttinger.
John<Sidtnick. Kress<Stevenson.
Sullivan<Ryan. Bartnick<Bartnick.
Turner<Turner.

PART II.—Erlanger, J.—At 10:30 A. M.—Ex parte business.

PART III.—Newburger, J.—At 10:15 A. M. Motions:

Hirsch<Hirsch. Wilson<Wilson.
O'Toole<Hammer. Demurrer:
Townend<Townend. Thomson<Rothschild. Preferred causes:
Richards<Aetna, &c, Co. Reiner<Van Tuyl.
Same<London, &c, Trust Co. US Trust Co<Hendricks.
Behar<Behar. Sweu<Goodstein.
Geiger<Geiger. Undefended divorces:
Ubertino<Mentaatl. Cohen.
Pitofsky<Polansky (2.) Hosnedl.
Kuchler<Kuchler. Loomis.
Schonfeldt<Hecht. Drew.
Ganopoulos<Alexiom. Boehm.
Shapiro<Shapiro. Charles.
De Bow<De Bow. Sandler.
Steiglitz.

Schnurmacher<Schiffman.
Eckford<Wesley.
Scandore<Scandore.
Seccatico<Seccatico.
Weinberg<Weinberg.
Taylor<Pitzer.
Misten Co<Hacker.
Stember<Stember.
Totten Film Co<Sawyer Film Corp.
Municipal Liens Co<Sturgis.
Van Nort<Van Nort.
Paris<Paris.
Kilpatrick<Crown Infants' Wear Co.
Tower<Mass, &c; Co.
Moran<Midville Rity.
Moliver<Lese (2.)
Fishbone<Bellwood Realty Co.
Fishbone<Lese.
Mme Irene<Vulcan Metals Co.
Turner<Turner.
Kait<Kait.
Exch Buffet Corp<Cafeteria Buffet Lunch Co.
Gargullo<Frevola.
Repetti<Repetti.
Grossman<Grossman.
Jones<Humphreys Homeopathic Med.
Yennie<Sterns.
Snyder<Met L I Co.
Atkin<Atkin.
Riley<Riley.
McCaddon<Central Tr. NY Trans SS Co<Crossing.
De Wolfe<Neuhauser.
Walsh<Walsh.
Mendelson<Eldlitz & Son.
Sway Apt Rity Co<Rickert-Finlay Rlty.
Weil<Ill Surety Co. Case on.
Adler<Stueber.

PART IV.—Greenbaum, J.—At 10:30 A. M. Case on.

PART V.—Giegerich, J.—At 10:30 A. M. Clear.

PART VI.—Hotchkiss, J.—At 10:30 A. M. Certiorari cases.

Trov Realty<same (2.) Fox<same.
Rafel<same, Ingersoll<same.
Norwood Park<same. Case on.
Bellas Hess & Co< same.

PART VII.—Ford, J.—At 10:30 A. M. —Case on.

PART VIII.—Blanchard, J.—At 10:30 A. M. Case on.

TRIAL TERMS—Part II.—Weeks, J.—At 10:00 A. M.

Riley<Riley. Snyder<Fisher.
Sturm<Davis. Livingston<Sinclair.
Sherman Nati Bk< Basin (2.) Gabler<Bijur Bros.
W T Keogh Amus Co<Wm Fox Amus Co (2.) Canadian Bk of Commerce<Gallick.
Same<Fox (2.) C F Keating Co<Mc-Gonigal.
Rush<Fields. Meeker<Smith.
Mitchell Motor Co< Chandler. Tooker<Gulf Mfg Co.
Schorsch<London Guar & Ac Co. Colvin<Fost Mfg Co.
Hirsch<Butler. Case on.

PART III.—Dugro, J.—At 10:30 A. M.

Dunn<CNY. Belogrodsky<Neuwirth.
Tangeman<same. Proctor<Mason Seaman Trans Co.
Smith<Cumard SS Co. A Weinerman<Verran.
Fyres<CNY. M Weinerman<same. Case on.
Armstrong<Mulcahy & Gibson. Rodman<Specialty Co<Simon.
Levin<Harris. Idaho Montana Mines Co<Miller.

PART IV.—Delehanty, J.—At 10:30 A. M.

Reilly<J P Parker Co. Cohen<Engel.
Gianser<G I & B R R. Kelly<Workman's Educational, &c, Assn.
Cohen<Morgenstern. Eichel<Jefferson Leasing Co.
Magnanimo<Coast Coaling Co. Lantz<Sharpe.
Geschwind<Heydt. Davis<Linden.
Goldard<Wolffberg. Thomson<Pittsburgh Cont Co.
Gross<Smith. Connolly<Bradley Cont Co.
Herk<B H RR. Flonsheim<Cohen.
Barisch<Postal Transfer Service. Hirsch<Radt.
Faber<CNY. Wagman<Bradley Cont Co.
De Barberi<Borden's Cond Milk Co. Morgan<Tiber Bldg Corp.
Ludvigh<Thurnauer. Case on.
Wehrlen<Kny. Scheerer.

PART V.—Donnelly, J.—At 10:30 A. M.

Gendelman<E Riv Wet Wash Co. Kalabya<Reilly.
Scheninger<C I & B RR. Bartick<Postal Trans Ser.
Fischer<Singerovitz. Barriola<same.
Schlesinger<C I & Brooklyn RR. Holder<Corse.
Williams<New Eng S S Co. Gerson<Fitzpatrick.
Glynn<Roth. Hermansen<J Edwd Ogden Co.

PART VI.—Davendorf, J.—At 10:30 A. M.

Ing—Monglass<Pitts Cont Co. Lewis<Huff.
Woods<Yonkers L, &c. Kuhre<Atlas Safe &c.
McGregor<Erie RR. Handman<Devlin Stable Co.
Buckley<Von Clausen Case on.
Cinquemani<Taylor.
Huhle<Verschleiser.
Abrams<Smith.

PART VII.—Whittaker, J.—At 10:30 A. M.

Cuillnane<Cons Gas. Kernan<Miller & Brisben Co.
Leppanen<Irvel Rity Co. Clear.
Halmans<Int R T.

PART VIII.—Pendleton, J.—At 10:30 A. M.

Weinstein<Singer Sew Mach Co. McMurrough<3d Av RR.
Cornelius<Rieser. Sullivan<Mad Sq Theatre Co.
Laks<Keller. Stackof<Zaffe.
Leavitt<O'Rourke Eng & Const Co. Bluemner<L'Ecluse.
Johnston<Wave Imp & Const Co. Barkhemer<Empire Carrying Co.
Muzlin<Fargo. Case on.

PART IX.—Platzek, J.—At 10:30 A. M. Case on. Hennessey<CNY. No day calendar.

PART X.—Adjourned for the term.

PART XI.—Adjourned for the term.

PART XII.—Adjourned for the term.

PART XIII.—Adjourned for the term.

PART XIV.—Finch, J.—At 10:30 A. M.

CNY<NY Steam Co. Smith Cont Co<CNY.
Posner<Kurzrok Bros Co. N Y Assets Real Co<Thompson.
Shalek<Eppig. Hoes<Stanton.
Fischer<Schram. Carlton Illustrators<Am Loco Co.
Reich<Moody. Case on.
CNY<Bradley Cont.

PART XV.—Cohalan, J.—At 10:30 A. M.

Lake<Pioneer P B Co. Freehoff<Mesars.
Moore<McDermott. Powers<Henderson.
Fed Trust<Carberry. Valentine<Martin.
Archer<Amsdell. Hall<Galban & Co.
Lykens<Hopkins. Rieser<CNY.
Ryan<Ballet. Fryer & Hanna Co<Weimore.
Schloss<Hoffman Co. Case on.
Sleicher<Wilbur.
Muller<Cohen.

PART XVI.—Lehman, J.—At 10:30 A. M.

Alexander & Co<Gelberg. 42 St, &c, Ry<US Wood Preserv Co.
Hanna<De Paoli. Fawcett<CNY.
Hathaway<CNY. Case on.
Hillyard<Brande.

PART XVII.—Gavegan, J.—At 10:30 A. M.

Inq.: Finch<Hall. CNY<B'klyn Alcatraz Asphalt Co.
Jacobs<Dowling. Ruderman<Bayside Lumber Co.
Sutton<Mackbride. Lehman<Calanda.
Haulty<Gorham Co. Goodman<Goodman.
Felt<Lorberbaum. Rosenbaum<Specialty Co<Simon.
P J Carlin Const Co< Idaho Montana Mines Co<Miller.
CNY. Richmond Estates Collecting Co<Sternberg.
St'd Plunger Elev Co< Regan. Parker<Scheuer.
Shaen<Bachmann. Molley<Lexow.
Solar Light Co<Steel Prod Enam Co. Kinematophone Co<Hudson Wood w'k'g Co.
I Mark<Wener. Case on.
N Mark<same.
Penn Cement Co<Gustaw Rader Co.
Whitcomb<Burr.
The Ansonia<Hein. Sugarman<Rosenblum.
CNY<B'klyn Alcatraz Asphalt Co.
Burkhart<Jamaica Estates.

PART XVIII.—Goff, J.—At 10:30 A. M.

Merc Nat Bank< Fleitman.
Sturtevant<Fisa Doerr. McNeal<Sea Gate Assn.
Blumner<Waters. Case on.

Surrogates' Court.

CHAMBERS—Cohalan, S.—At 10:30 A. M.—Wills for probate:

Anna F. McIlvaine, Marie H. Salican,
Chancey A. Frees, Margaret N. Schwing.

TRIAL TERM—Fowler, S.—At 11 A. M.
Estate of Morris Ruskin.

City Court.

SPECIAL TERMS—Part I.—La Fetra, J.—At 10 A. M. Motions.

Bachman<Erickson. Walden<Morse D D, &c, Co.
Rogers-Pyatt Shellac Co<Emerman & Baumoehl Co. Bender<Keene.
Epstein<Weinstein. Rosenstein<Evans.
Woodward<Richmond Levering & Co. Rizo<Solomon.
Devoe<Davis Laheney & Co. Reiser<L Prager, Inc.
Levy<K & K Rity Co. Forman<Thomas.
Bonynge<Hanway. Polito<Torio.
Packard M C Co< Murphy<Hay Foundry, &c, Co.
Blair. Tarnagel<Flemish Rty
Kurzman<Rothstein. Jones<Young.
Lieb<Elec Carriage, &c, Co. Duchner<Rauober.
Lyimtsky<Whiting Motor Co. Regal Holding Co<Berger.
Goodman<Armstrong. Rice<Chesebro Bros.
Siskind<Goldstein. Golden<New Harlem, &c, Co.
Ganoposki<Waldorf-Astoria Hotel Co. Hoppe<Horowitz.
A Elliott Renney Co<Darrow<Brown.
Brenizno<Horter.
Pakula<Simon.

PART II.—O'Dwyer, J.—At 10 A. M.

TRIAL TERMS—Part I.—Ransom, J.—At 0:45 A. M.

Ascher Det Agy< Drummond.
Internicola<Consol Tel & Elec Subw Co.
Sterrer<Fass.
Timin<Yellow Taxicab Co.
Kerrigan<H S Houpt Mfg Co.
Kasnur<L Bauer Co.
Brown<Gahlee Fish.
Lovenson<Goldfarb.
Tuck<Levine.
Standyk<N Y Rys.
Myszlinik<Dock Cont.
Hudson Wrecking, &c, Co<15 W 44th St Co.
Meehuriasman<NY Rys
List<same.
Luparelli<Borden's C Milk Co.
Symons<Pels.
Reid<Freitung.
Sandstrem<Lovering & Garrigues.
Nelson<Nat Bridge W
Anderton<Norton.
Wilkoselek<Mason & Hanger Co.
Tryfonick<Bradley C Co.
Resnick<Baum, (2.)

Bubenstein<N Y Rys.
Tayen<Hudson Trans Co.
Am Rolling Mills Co< H Shapiro Co.
Mandel<Ryman.
Crivello<same.
Shoffin<Barchardt.
Govern<Kanor Con Co.
Milazzo<Branchia.
Plotkin<Stein.
Ritter<Sasso. (2.)
Goodman<Bway Taxi Cab Co.
Boyd<Penn RR.
Mann<Berkowitz.
Beder<Khouri.
Luria<Linch.
Weissman<Slater.
Reznikoff<Kessel.
Lee<Degnon Con Co.
Christie<Mooney.
George<Lisch.

The following cases will be called, but will be passed for the day as of course if counsel on either side so requests. Applications for adjournment for more than one day should be made by affidavit in strict compliance with the rules of the court:

Bernstein<Lashman. Howland<Bradley Con
Eisner<Fox. Mandel<NY Pie Bak'g
Zimmerman<Ferdinand. Mooney<NY Rys.
Michaels<Kaetzer. Hiddenberg<Sobel.
Liprodt<Greenberg. Steinberg<Mandel. (2.)
Treacy<Myers. Harding<Pietrowski & Konop Co.
Atlas Port, &c, Co<St Paul, &c, Ins Co. Altman<Weissberg.
Halpern<Rosenfeld. Casper<Grunnet.
Hollberg<Cowen. Schurmacher<Selmerding.
Sonn<Greenbaum. Marchart<NY Rys.
Brown<Trachtenberg. Marks<Blumstein.
Cagetori<McKean-Rty. Skolnick<Custen Bros.
Litter<NY Rys. Browarnik<Pankin.
Gillman<Prosner. Upher<Hawes.
Rhodes<Hinternhoff. Burman<NY Rys.

SHORT CAUSE CALENDAR—Cases will be sent to Trial Term, Part II., for trial. Case on.

Woelfel<Harriman.
Berlin<H F Hat Co.

PART II.—Allen, J.—Care on.

PART III.—Smith, J.—Held in Brownstone Bldg. (Chambers St.) at 10 A. M.—Commercial calendar:

Goldman<Northwestern Nat Ins Co. Baur<Sweig.
Weil<Jacobson. Kohn<Home Ins Co.
Kohn<North British & Mercantile Ins Co. Same<Nord Deutsche Ins Co.
Kohn<N Y Fire Ins Co. Friedman<Joar.
Meyer<Blaustein. Solomon<Alexandroth & Gabel House & Carton Co<Lionel Mfg Co. Power Mfg Co.
Parsons<Terhune. Temmer<U S Cas Co.
Flippen<Padell. Goodman<McMullen.
Clark<Mt Gilead Baptist Church. Harris<Weiner.
Pinkes<Oringel. Sarrini<Tepper.
Volk<Sheritz. Smithenhart, &c, Co<New Tuxicab, &c, Co.
Meyercorn Co<Forest, &c, Co. Parc<Crystal.
Rubel<Honig. Barth<Reade St, &c, Co. Clear.

PART IV.—Lynch, J.—Clear.

PART V.—Zeller, J.—Clear.

PART VI.—Finelitz, J.—Clear.

PART VII.—Schmuck, J.—Clear.

PART VIII.—McAvoy, J.—Case on.

Receivers Appointed.

SUPREME COURT.—Philbin, J.—Macy< Levy & Weinstein Realty Const. Co.—A. Wells Stump, Biddle<Biddle—Alfred J. Talley, Maynard<Messinger—Albert De Silver, Lebaudy<Carnegie Trust Co.—John G. Dyer.

SUPREME COURT.—Erlanger, J.—N. Y. Life Ins. Co.<Michalover (2)—Jerome Hess. Koelsch<Harper—Abraham B. Kene.

BRONX COUNTY.

Supreme Court.

CHAMBERS—Brady, J.—Ex parte business at 10 A. M.

SPECIAL TERM—Part I.—Brady, J.—Motion calendar.

Waldman<Elbetz. CNY<Weill.
Natale<Purmington. Alexander<Virden.
Cecala<Boulevard Rty Co.

SPECIAL TERM FOR TRIALS—Part I.—Brady, J.

Ginzberg<Ginzberg. Barber<Woolf.
Barner<Margraff. Brown<same (2.)
Crossin<Bannon.

TRIAL TERM—Part I.—Brady, J.—No day calendar.

Surrogate's Court.

CHAMBERS—Schulz, S.

Motions:
Anthony Hoffman,
George W Riley.
Accountings:
Rebecka Kortjohann.
Wills for probate:
Joseph Beckhardt.

TRIAL TERM—Schulz S.—Contested will: Charles Lowen.

County Court.

CHAMBERS—Gibbs, J.—Ex parte business.

SPECIAL TERM FOR MOTIONS—Gibbs, J.

Simpson-O'Toole Co< Apex Paint Co. Kresner<Colton Rity.

TRIAL TERM—Nieman, J.

Schwartz<Hvaas. Lowenstein<Smith.
Fine<Turek. Fiaks<Santini & Co.
Ribsam<Union Ry. Rath<Cavanaugh.
Rothstein<Int R T.

Receiver Appointed.

SUPREME COURT—Brady, J.—Benjamin W. B. Brown<Abraham Abeiman—Henry W Goddard.

KINGS COUNTY.

Supreme Court.

APPELLATE DIVISION—Second Department. DECISIONS.

J. Azelo, respt., v. F. Rocco, applt.—Judgment and order of Co. Court of Westchester Co. reversed, and new trial granted, costs to abide the event.

Empire City Racing Asso., respt., v. Nat'l Fair and Exposition Asso., Inc., applt., et al., defts.—Appeal dismissed, with $10 costs and disbursements.

F. Perlitz, respt., v. City N. Y., applt.—Judgment and order affirmed, with costs.

O. G. Haight, applt., v. J. J. Brown, as Prest. of Village of White Plains, et al., respt.—Order affirmed, with $10 costs and disbursements.

C. Hecht, applt., v. G. K. Cox, Town Clerk of the Town of White Plains, et al., respt.—Order affirmed, with $10 costs and disbursements.

E. D. Kelly et al., respt., v. E. J. Dooley, &c., et al., applt.—Order reversed, with $10 costs and disbursements, and proceedings dismissed.

F. Reisert, respt., v. City N. Y., applt.—Judgment and order affirmed, with $10 costs.

APPELLATE DIVISION—Second Department—Recess.

APPELLATE TERM—Second Department—Recess.

SPECIAL TERMS—Part I.—Kelly, J.—Motions.

Re Av P. (Kenyon.) Profit Holding Co< Diaz Bldg Co.
Christie<Downey. Re 59th St. (Peck.)
Gowanus Wreck Co< De Bevoise. Re 48th St. (Rice.)
Neufeld<City. Austin, Nichols Co< Crowley.
Watt<Copeland, (2.) Lenroff<Simring.
Mundheim<Scharlach. Meyer<Meyer.
Perlmutter<Di Fede. Gang<Levy & Baird.
Fore<Munro. Zucker<Calet Bros.
Nelson<August Kuhnla, Inc. Hund<Hund.
Johnson<Carpenter, B & H, Inc. Nisbet (McKeon)< Trautman.
Sweeney<Cheesebrough Bldg Co. Einstein<Queensboro Properties.
Knutson<Leahy Rty. Descher<Obermeyer & Liebmann.
Kimber<Kimber. Re McMullan.
Spitzer<Kunditz. (2.) Isaacson<Thespian Bldg Co.
Poppolardo<Poppolardo. O'Connell<Pignatelli.
Re Flatlands Av. (K Co. Rty Co, Trustee.) Leike<Bonacci.
Gleason<Craig. J Dold Pckg Co<Kings Co Refrig Co.
McLean<McLean. Mills<Mills.
Lawyers Mtg Co<Nesbit & Co, Inc. Hillis<Ferguson.
Decker<Decker. Re Birken.
Augustinian College< Idaho-Maryland Co.

PART II.—Callaghan, J.—Ex parte business at 10 A. M.

Undefended divorces: Ludwig,
Hanson, Arnao,
Murray, Jr., Van Brunt,
Lockwood, Earl,
Bryan, Wignall,
Siegel, Williston,
De Felippo, Abbey,
Lodoginsky, Lum,
Meek, Winkleman,
Allen, Griffin (Cook,)
Kenney, Wegmann,
Schaufele, Garts,
Chandler, Cohen.
Bauer,

SPECIAL TERM FOR TRIALS—Case on.—No day calendar.

TRIAL TERM—Part I, Manning, J.; Part II., Kapper, J.; Part IV., Joyce, J.; Part V., Maddox, J.; Part VI., Aspinall, J.; Part VII., Van Siclen, J.

Farley, Comr, &c< Volckening & First Nat Bank, Bklyn. Johnson<Barrett.
Heath Steeplechase Park Co. Sweeney<CNY.
Kessel<Kenny Co. Scodgarsky<Hoffman.
Sulzbach<Sisly. Rupp<Manhack Metallic Bed Co.
Harvey<B H RR. Cafiero<CNY et al.
Manley<L I RR. Dineen<DeVeau.
Leonard<B H RR. Ford<B H RR.
Schmitt<German Evangelical Church. Miller<Enright.
McAvoy<Bankowsky. Hansen<B H RR.
Bonynge<Hanway. Denton<same.
Packard M C Co< Blair. Brown<Bergman.
Kurzman<Rothstein. Hendrickson<Schaefer.
Lieb<Elec Carriage, &c, Co. Schulman<B H RR.
Lyimtsky<Whiting Motor Co. Devoe<Streeter et al.
Goodman<Armstrong. Hippel<B H RR et al.
Siskind<Goldstein. Goebler<B H RR et al.
Ganoposki<Waldorf-Astoria Hotel Co. Schanzer<same.
Adler<Nassau RR.
Quick<Sullivan.
Elsen<Nassau RR.
Jacobson<B H RR.
Rouse<Heepe.

The following causes, if marked ready, will be passed for the day. No cause will be set down for a day upon this call:

Cody<same. Akeson<Shewan &
Scheir<NY Consol RR. Co.
Sealey<Reinhart. Gill<Lee.
Radsky<Douglas. Cannon<Nassau RR.
Seals<Garbarino. Tuffy<C I & B RR.
Seaman<Nassau RR. Brown<Post et al.
Goggin<B H RR. Zenower<Harding.
Wright<Steeplechase Park Co. Meltzer<B'klyn Paint and Wall Paper Co.
Mfg Co. Dorsey<N Y Rys Co.
Scott<Mullins. Burke<Matthews Sons
Kean

MORE TROOPS SENT TO ARIZONA LINE

Funston Ordered to Guard American Territory in Threatened Villa Attack.

TRENCHES DUG AT DOUGLAS

Citizens Prepare to Flee—Guns and Carranza Troops Being Rushed Through Texas.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—The War Department is taking steps to meet any emergency along the Arizona border as a result of the extensive military operations threatened in that region by the effort of the Carranza de facto Government to crush the remainder of the Villa movement.

The situation is shaping itself that serious trouble is expected in the vicinity of Douglas unless the Mexican factions observe strictly the neutrality of the American border.

Secretary of War Garrison today instructed Major General Frederick Funston, commanding the United States Army forces on the Mexican border, to send any of the troops of his own force of 20,000 men to Douglas or wherever he pleases to dispose them, and that such men of the Funston border patrol as thus assigned will be replaced by the War Department with forces from other parts of the United States.

Senator Ashurst of Arobona, visited the War Department today and asked that something be done to protect the American border at threatened Arizona points. As a result of this conference General Funston was instructed to send more troops to Douglas.

Reports from the border state that General Villa and George C. Carothers, American special agent with Villa, had begun negotiations with a view to arranging for Villa to find refuge in the United States. These reports have not been confirmed in official circles here, though it is believed by officials that certain Villista Generals are arranging to bring about arrangements with the Carranzistas for granting general amnesty to the Villistas.

All reports to the State Department from Mexico today indicated general improvement in conditions and these were considered gratifying at the State Department.

DOUGLAS, Ariz., Oct. 26.—Every preparation is being made to meet the expected attack of Villa troops on Agua Prieta.

Today trenches were dug by the Carranza garrison facing Douglas, and only about 300 feet from the border. They are designed as a defense should General Villa attempt to slip around to the east and west of Agua Prieta, and attack from the American side.

Sixteen field pieces, shipped from Piedras Negras, are due to arrive, and with these General P. Elias Calles, the Carranza commander, will have twenty guns.

General Benjamin Hill, who with his staff and troops, received permission to pass over American territory from Laredo to Douglas, will arrive about twenty-four hours ahead of the soldiers. When these reinforcements arrive General Calles expects to take the field against the invading Villa army.

Villa detachments were reported today at Fronteras, at Colonia Morelos, and at a point on the border thirty-five miles east. Yaqui Indians under Urbalejo now hold Anavacachi Pass, twelve miles southwest, while General Cosio and approximately 1,500 men are at Santa Cruz, between Nogales and Cananea.

C. O. Ellis, Mayor of Douglas, has sent a telegram to the State Department at Washington, it became known today, asking that assurances be given that the attack on Agua Prieta will not be permitted.

Residents of Douglas and vicinity are becoming alarmed and many are preparing to leave at the first signs of an attack.

VILLA CONFISCATES AMERICAN SMELTER

Guggenheim Property to Be Operated by Mexicans—Protest May Be Sent to Carranza.

EL PASO, Oct. 26.—Confiscation of the Chihuahua plant of the American Smelting and Refining Company by the Villa State Government of Chihuahua was announced today by S. L. Baker, legal representative of the corporation.

"There are 2,000 tons of fuel at the plant," said Mr. Baker. "My advices are that the Villa government is operating or is about to operate the plant."

Recently General Villa denied that he had ordered the smelter or any other foreign-owned property confiscated. Governor General Avila of Chihuahua State later announced that the smelter plant had not been confiscated.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—The State Department had not been officially advised today of the confiscation of the Chihuahua plant of the American Smelting and Refining Company, but the news was not surprising.

Representations recently were made to both Carranza and Villa. Carranza informed that department he was extending his zone of protection as rapidly as possible, and that he would do all within his power to protect American property.

If officially advised of the confiscation of the Chihuahua plant, additional representations, it was said, might be made to the recognised de facto Government. No official representations can be made to Villa, all relations with him having been severed. However, there was said to be a possibility of making unofficial representations or of warning Villa to refrain from confiscating American owned property.

Confiscation by Villa of the American Smelting and Refining Company's properties at Chihuahua had long threatened, and consequently did not come as a surprise. In anticipation of such action, William Loeb, Jr., visited Washington recently to confer with the State Department on measures to be taken after the seizure.

The American Smelting and Refining Company owns plants in fifteen cities four of which are in Mexico. The plant at Chihuahua is a lead smelter covering 200 acres. There are three furnaces there, with an annual capacity of 153,000 tons. What Villa will do with the output of the plant, if he runs the furnaces, has been puzzling Wall Street, for the domestic consumption in Mexico is small and it will be impossible to export any of the lead.

None of the Guggenheim officials could be reached last night in an effort to learn what action, if any, the company will take.

LONDON SAFER THAN MEXICO.

English Banker Says He Will Withdraw from Republic.

Lionel H. Miller, an English banker of Mexico City, who arrived yesterday from Liverpool on the Anchor liner Tuscania, said he was going to withdraw all his interests in Mexico and go back to live in England.

"I prefer to be in London and take my chances with the Zeppelins rather than remain in Mexico and risk the Mauser rifles," he said.

LATEST CUSTOMS RULINGS.

The Appraisers Classify a Number of Imported Articles.

Modeling clay under the present tariff was held dutiable yesterday by the Board of United States General Appraisers at the rate of 15 per cent. ad valorem as an article unenumerated. The Collector was reversed in returning the commodity at 20 per cent. as an earthy or mineral substance. The importers were the Embossing Company, and William A. Brown & Co.

Redden & Martin imported goods invoiced as "shoe buttons." Appraiser Sague described them as button blanks composed of gallilith, duty being taken at the rate of 40 per cent. ad valorem. The importers claimed the goods to be properly dutiable at 15 per cent. ad valorem as shoe buttons, or at free rate as unenumerated manufactured articles. Neither of the claims were held by the board to be applicable.

The board reduced the Collector's assessment on paints and colors imported by L. Reusche & Co., and B. F. Drakenfeld & Co. They were returned for duty at the rate of 20 per cent. ad valorem, and claimed properly dutiable at 15 per cent. It was shown that the paints were enamel, and of the kind specified in the paragraph carrying the lower duty.

So-called cyclone, or siren, whistles composed of brass nickel-plated, imported by E. V. Halpin & Co., Chicago, were held to be properly dutiable at 20 per cent. ad valorem as manufactures of metal. The Collector claimed that the whistles were articles carried on or about the person, and on this account took duty at 60 per cent. ad valorem. At the hearing, witnesses for the importers testified that the whistles were never carried about, but attached to the wall of a building and used to make weird noises in moving picture shows, or theatres. As this evidence was not contradicted by the Government, the board sustained the protest and reversed the Collector.

F. Pustef & Co. were partly sustained in protests relating to crucifixes and statuettes. The Collector returned both classes of goods for duty at 50 per cent. ad valorem under the provision for articles gold or silver-plated. The claim was for entry at 20 per cent. ad valorem as metal manufactures. The Government chemist reported that the crosses were not plated, but that the corpus accompanying each cross was, its value being greater than that of the cross. The statuettes were found not to be plated. Judge Sullivan affirmed the Collector's rate on the crucifixes, but reversed the higher tax on the statuettes.

The G. M. Thurnauer Company, Inc., lost in protests against the Custom House rate of 30 per cent. ad valorem taken on bellows returned as leather chief value. The importers claimed a 20 per cent. tax as manufactures in chief value of metal, or other rates lower than assessed. The report of the Government chemist established to the satisfaction of the board that leather predominated in the make-up of the bellows.

PROMISES DIVIDEND SOON.

Canadian Car Co. Expects Business of $150,000,000 This Year.

The Canadian Car and Foundry Company, which has been prominent in the war munition business since the war began, issued a letter to shareholders yesterday, saying that gross sales in the current year, to end Sept. 30, 1916, should be in excess of $150,000,000. The best previous year in the company's history, President Nathaniel Curry says in the letter, brought gross business amounting to $27,000,000.

"It is the desire of the board" the letter continues, "that the stockholders shall have as clear a view of the situation as it is possible to give them, both regarding the amount of war orders and the progress which has taken place in the manufacture of the same, although, for obvious reasons, it is not considered wise to publish much detail regarding the orders received. The company's railway equipment business is less than in former years. Several of the plants, as well as those of Canadian Steel Foundries, Ltd., have been equipped for the manufacture of parts of shells, the production of which is well under way. Plants are working twenty-four hours a day and production is constantly increasing in a satisfactory manner. A large part of the work is for the British Government on which substantial deliveries have already been made.

"The transaction of this business has involved the negotiation of large contracts for parts of shells between this company and manufacturers of the United States, as well as Canada, greatly increasing the magnitude of the operations of your company. While the Directors do not feel at this time that they should make any definite announcement as to the disposition of the surplus earnings which will accrue from this business, they feel that the shareholders may look forward with confidence to an early resumption of dividends."

President Curry states that two contracts were made several months ago with the Russian Government for shells, and that a third order is under negotiation now. It is learned that this amounts to $3,000,000 worth of high explosive and shrapnel shells. Early last Summer the company distributed among companies of this country and Canada heavy orders received under a single contract for $83,000,000 worth of munitions.

RAILROAD CLERKS STRIKE.

Labor Trouble Causes Michigan Central to Close Detroit Terminal.

DETROIT, Oct. 26.—Clerks employed by the Michigan Central Railroad in Michigan, Ohio, Illinois, and Indiana went out on strike tonight to enforce a demand calling on officers of the road to meet a committee representing the clerks to discuss alleged grievances.

J. J. Forrester, Grand President of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, who issued the strike order, declined to state the exact nature of the demands the committee wished to present to the railroad company. It is understood, however, the clerks seek recognition of their organization, an increase in wages, and standardization of working conditions.

Twenty men on the night force at the Detroit Terminal walked out tonight and the offices were closed. Reports received from other cities in Michigan indicate the strike order was obeyed.

ONE DEAD, FOUR ILL AFTER NURSE ERRS

Atlantic City Hospital Doctors Fight to Save Patients Who Got Poison for Medicine.

KEPT THE MISTAKE SECRET

Woman's Fatal Blunder Not Revealed Until Death of Victim Was Recorded in Vital Statistics Bureau.

Special to The New York Times.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 26.—Every physician connected with the Atlantic City Hospital is aiding in a fight to save four persons from the death by poison which came to Joseph W. Thomas almost two weeks ago, after a nurse had given to him and the others a poison liquid in mistake for a remedy resembling it in color. Until tonight the fight had been made a secret. None but the hospital authorities, Prosecutor Charles S. Moore, and the county medical authorities knew of the error of the nurse.

Tonight the record of Thomas's death was discovered in the Bureau of Vital Statistics, and an investigation was begun which disclosed the tragedy of his end and the danger which still threatens four others. Even now the identity of these victims is kept secret. They are said to be persons well known in this city, but their names are carefully concealed, and it is believed even their own families do not know that their condition is due to any cause other than the maladies which sent them to the hospital.

Prosecutor Moore said tonight he had agreed not to prosecute the nurse or to make any investigation other than that which he might be said to have made when he verified statements made to him by the Board of Directors of the hospital. According to the Prosecutor, the Board visited him, explained the mistake of the nurse, assured him that everything possible was being done for the four persons endangered, and, for the sake of the hospital's reputation, asked that he refrain from a prosecution which could have no result other than unwelcome publicity to the institution. Mr. Moore said he had agreed to this after assuring himself that Thomas's death and the condition of the four patients were due solely to the mistake of the nurse.

All five patients, it was learned tonight, were suffering from the same illness, though what this malady was the hospital refused to disclose. All, accordingly, were receiving the same treatment and all received the poison in approximately the same quantity. County Physician Louis Souder explained that Thomas's death resulted from his generally weak condition.

"He had just undergone an operation," Dr. Souder said, "and had not the strength to fight against the poison which the other four possessed."

The conditions of these four are said to be precarious, but the fact that the mistake was discovered almost at once and prompt treatment given lends hope that the lives of the four may be saved.

RESULTS AT AUCTION.

AT 14 VESEY STREET.

By Joseph P. Day.

31st St, 184 West, s s, 400 ft w of Sixth Av, 25x152.10x25x148, four-story tenement and stores and rear tenement; Union Dime Savings Bank against M. J. McDonald et al; Woodford, B. & B. attorneys; R. F. Weeks, referee; due, $47,258.71; taxes, &c., $1,262.41, to the plaintiff for $48,000.

Second Av, 2,276, s e corner 117th St, 25.5x84.10, four-story tenement and stores and one-story store; J. J. Vall against H. A. Wingert et al; Chalmers Wood, attorney; Russell H. Robbins, referee; due, $20,832.21; taxes, &c., $900; to the plaintiff for $21,000.

By Samuel Marx.

103d St, 166 East, s s, 150.6 ft w of Third Av, 27x100.11, five-story tenement; L. N. Wheelwright against F. C. Hirleman et al; E. M. Scudder, attorney; Alex. Wolf, referee; due, $17,969.33; taxes, &c., $1,182.90; to the plaintiff for $17,500.

AT 3,208 THIRD AVENUE.

By Henry Brady.

Kelly St, 1,118-20, e s, 149.2 ft n of 167th St, 50x111.7x50.8x106.3, five-story flat; Max Edison against Jus Realty Corp. et al; Action 1; Abr. Rosenblum, attorney; M. B. Bernstein, referee; due, $5,835.29, taxes, &c., $216.98; subject to mortgage of $37,500; to the plaintiff for $40,500.

By Samuel Marx.

Kelly St, 1,122 and 1,224, e s, 99.2 ft n of 167th St, 50x116.11x50.3x111.7, five-story flat; Max Edison against Jus Realty Corp et al; Action 2; same attorney and referee, due, $5,141.28; taxes, &c., $217.12; subject to mortgage of $35,000; to the plaintiff for $38,000.

By Joseph P. Day.

Brown Place, 164, n e corner of 138th St, 33.4x100, five-story flat and stores; Lawyers Mortgage Co. against Security Mortgage Co. et al; Cary & C., attorneys; J. P. Hennessy, referee; due, $51,968.37; taxes, &c., $625.21; to the plaintiff for $26,250.

Webster Av, e s, 275 ft s of 171st St, 100x121x100.4x112.10, vacant; A. M. Nelson, guardian, against Maria Zibelt et al; H. M. Bellinger, Jr., attorney; A. N. Gleason, referee; due, $10,029.65; taxes, &c., $603.40; to Robert C. Baker for $5,000.

By Charles A. Berrian.

Cedar Av, 1,957, w s, 91.8 ft n of 179th St, 16.7x100.9, two-story dwelling; F. T. Hoffman against Edson Building Co. et al; Ernest Hall, attorney; E. D. Dowling, referee; due, $4,418.49; taxes, &c., $206.97; to the plaintiff for $4,000.

Cedar Av, 1,959, w s, 107.11 ft n of 179th St, 16.7x100.9, two-story dwelling; same against same; Action 2; same attorney and referee; due, $4,418.49; taxes, &c., $206.97; to the plaintiff for $4,000.

THE BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

150th St, n s, 150 ft w of Broadway, for a six-story tenement, 150x88.11; 114th St and 7th Av Construction Co., 1,884 7th Av, owner; Gronemberg & Leuchtag, 303 5th Av, architects; cost, $200,000.

Park Av, e s, 108 ft s of 176th St, for a two-story brick garage, 48.8x100; Robert Boylan, 4,144 Park Av, owner; Adams & Kirby, Arthur and Tremont Avs, architects; cost, $15,000.

Grand Concourse, e s, 14.93 ft s of 187th St, for a one-story brick store, 25x52.6; Edward Kehoe, 2,584 Creston Av, owner; John F. Boyland, 2,526 Webster Av, architect; cost, $8,800.

167th St, n e corner of Findlay Av, for a four-story brick house, 200x200; Home of the Daughters of Jacob, Mrs. A. J. Dworsky, 801 East Broadway, owner; Louis A. Abramson, 220 5th Av, architect; cost, $400,000.

Alterations.

Items under $5,000 omitted.

11th St, 311 to 315 East, to a three-story factory; Adelaide Watson, Los Angeles, Cal., owner; H. Neus, 1,827 Topping Av., architect; cost, $14,000.

5th Av, 424 to 434, to a ten-story department store; F. V. and J. H. Burton, Newburg, N. Y., owners; Starrett & Van Vleck, 3 West 40th St, architects; cost, $5,000.

THE REAL ESTATE FIELD.

$327,200 Paid for 225 Lots in Dash Estate Auction Sale—Remainder to be Offered Today—$9,100 for Broadway Lot at 237th Street—Bronx Buyers—Good Leasing Market.

Interest in the realty market centred yesterday in the auction sale of the Dash estate property, comprising 329 lots with Broadway frontages, just below Van Cortlandt Park. The sale was conducted under the auspices of J. Clarence Davies and Joseph P. Day, the latter being the auctioneer, in the Vesey Street Salesroom and brought to the room a large number of prospective investors. The sale began early and was continued until after 6 o'clock, at which time 225 lots had been disposed of at a total price of $827,200, averaging $1,454 per lot. Under the present conditions of the financial and realty market Mr. Day considered the results very good, although he admitted that many of the buyers had secured veritable bargains.

Chief interest naturally centred in the Broadway lots, of which there were practically three block fronts on both sides of that thoroughfare between 236th and 238th Streets, the subway station being at the latter street. The choicest lot was at the very foot of the station, at the southwest corner of 238th Street, fronting 46.10 on Broadway and 81.14, a circular line, on Kingsbridge Avenue. It went for $15,000, but the buyer failed to pay the required deposit at the close of the day's sale and it will be resold today.

Next to this the highest price obtained for a single lot was $9,100 for the 25 by 100 lot at the northeast corner of Broadway and 237th Street. It was bought by Herbert F. Rawll, and he took three adjoining ones on Broadway, paying $4,750 each for two and $4,400 for the third, a total of $23,000 for his four lots, with a frontage of 100 feet close by the subway station.

Two blocks west of Broadway the lot at the southwest corner of Corlear Avenue and 238th Street was bought by William M. Blair for $3,050, and he took the adjoining one on the street for $2,000. The next four street lots went to David Zipkin, who has been an active Bronx builder, for $7,675 each. The two adjoining lots on the corner of Tibbett Avenue went to Margaret A. Burkhead for $3,650. M. L. Knapp paid $1,500 for the northeast corner of Tibbett Avenue and 238th Street, and Eugene D. Brooks $1,200 each for the next two lots on the street. The fifteen inside lots on Tibbett Avenue went for from $975 to $1,100. Cornelius Doyle paid $9,000 for a row of nine.

Robert F. Bonsall took seven lots at the northwest corner of Tibbett Avenue and 244th Street, directly opposite the grounds of Manhattan College, for $11,150. The adjoining corner lot at Waldo Avenue brought $3,200, and four inside lots on the avenue $2,100 each. Four lots on 244th Street at Waldo Avenue went to Walter B. Parsons at $1,700 each, and the northeast corner of Tibbett Avenue and 244th Street, 88 by 100, brought $5,850.

Aaron J. Binsky paid $5,100 for the four lots at the corner of Tibbett Avenue and 236th Street. The two adoining lots on the avenue went to Thomas A. Ryan for $1,000 each, and the next two for $925 and $1,000. The average for the lots in this westerly section of the tract was from $1,100 to $1,200.

The remainder of the lots will be sold today. Mr. Day stated that today's sale will include about 100 of the best lots, including the choice corners on Broadway and Kingsbridge Avenue at 238th Street.

Frederick Brown, Operator, a Heavy Buyer.

Frederick Brown, an operator, is the buyer of 830 West 144th Street, a six-story flat resold last week by the Benenson Realty Company. Mr. Brown has also purchased the following properties: 1,329 Clinton Avenue, a five-story apartment house, on plot 50 by 137, near McKinley Square, from Margaret McKay; 100 East Broadway, a seven-story loft building, on lot 25 by 75, between Pike Street and the Manhattan Bridge, from the State Banking Department in the matter of Max Koven, bankrupt; 1,301 to 1,305 Brook Avenue, from David Rausch, three four-story flats, each on plot 25 by 100, between 159th Street and Anna Place; also 235-237 Avenue B, adjoining the corner of Fourteenth Street, two five-story flats, on plot 40.6 by 61, from F. D'Onofrio, to whom he gave in part payment two lots on the west side of Webster Avenue between 206th and 207th Streets.

Bronx Sales.

Kurz & Uren have sold for Delco Holding Company, Inc., the vacant plot of land, 50 by 100, on the north side of Tarmadge Avenue, (formerly West Street,) 71 feet east of Crotona Parkway.

Peter Herlick has purchased from Eberhard & Podgen the new five-story flat 2,482 Valentine Avenue, on a plot 60 by 100. In part payment the buyer gave the five-story flat 916 Kelly Street, on a plot 87 by 100. Richard H. Scobie negotiated the sale.

An investor has purchased from the Paterno Construction Company 1,061 Prospect Avenue, a business building, on a plot 42.8 by 144. Cohn & Plitman and F. Oppenheimer negotiated the sale.

Brooklyn.

Frank M. Smith has purchased from the Alco Building Company 2,137 Sixty-seventh Street, a one-family brick dwelling on a lot 24 by 100.

G. M. & B. L. Sykes sold a plot, 40 by 100, adjoining the new Bay Ridge Theatre, to a builder, for improvement with a business structure.

Long Island.

The J. Albert Johntra Company has sold the property owned by Emma E. Annett at 53 Linden Avenue, Flushing, to Joseph Wegmann of Flushing, consisting of an eight-room house on a plot 25 by 200.

Frank Novotny bought at foreclosure sale yesterday the plot 100 by 100 at the northeast corner of Third Avenue and Washington Place, Long Island City, for $8,025.

The Germania Business Corporation has purchased from Kilian Schruger a plot at Ridgewood, with a frontage of 100 feet, at the corner of Stephen and Seneca Streets, for $14,500.

New Jersey.

S. S. Walstrum-Gordon & Forman have sold for Clyde D. Hutton a lot on Brookside Avenue, 50 by 203 feet, to Edward J. Hart of Ridgewood, N. J.

The Simpson Merritt Company has sold a six-family brick apartment house on Summer Avenue, in Montclair, for Edward H. Holmes of Montclair. The new owner is Dr. John T. Eddy of Newark.

Sale at Westport, Conn.

John Crawford has sold for Mrs. Elisabeth P. Gault to George W. Alger a country place at Westport, Conn., consisting of two and one-half acres, with a house, barn, and garage.

Commercial Leases.

Carstein & Linnekin, Incorporated, have leased, for a term of years, at a rental of about $8,000 per annum, the entire six-story building 155 and 157 West Thirty-fourth Street, to Budd & Co., dealers in office equipment and furniture. The Budd firm recently leased the building at 371 Broadway as its downtown branch.

William D. Bloodgood & Co., Incorporated, have leased for the Kouwenhoven Estates 23 East 115th Street, for a period of twenty-one years, at an aggregate rental of $50,000. The property consists of a five-story stable, on lot 25 by 100. The tenants expect to make extensive alterations.

William Stonebridge has leased for John M. Susser of 547 East 183d Street, the Bronx, to the Royal Skirt Company the lower part of the premises 2,381 Bathgate Avenue, the Bronx; for Charles Immor of Brooklyn to the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company the lower part of the building 2,158 Arthur Avenue, and for Julius & August Kuhn to the Madame Adele Millinery Company the entire corner building 607 East 183d Street, the Bronx.

George R. Read & Co. have leased for Mary J. Lynn the store and basement in 24 West Thirty-fifth Street, for a term of years to Rubin & Davidsohn.

G. Schwager has leased to the Schulte Realty Company the ground floor and basement at 142 Flatbush Avenue, Brooklyn, extending through to Pacific Street.

Private Dwellings Leased.

Pease & Elliman have leased for Mrs. William Armstrong the five-story and basement dwelling, 25 by 100 feet, at 19 West Forty-eighth Street, to Mrs. William Grosvenor of Newport, R. I., and the residence at 4 East Seventy-ninth Street, for John V. and Maitland F. Griggs to Mrs. Richard Hudnut.

Goodwin & Goodwin rented for Wallace Van Doorn to Dr. Joseph Kraner the three-story and basement private dwelling at 51 West 119th Street.

New Industry Locates in Long Island City.

The Cobal Company, manufacturers of electrical goods and supplies, have just leased through Clay, real estate brokers, for a term of years, the factory building on Thirteenth Street, west of East Avenue, Long Island City, owned by the Wilson Remover Company of Newark, N. J. The company will begin operations about Nov. 1, as soon as improvements are completed.

$28,000 Bronx Loan.

The New York Title Insurance Company has loaned $28,000 on the five-story and basement brick and stone apartment on the west side of Grand Boulevard and Concourse, 232 feet north of 184th Street, recently completed by the Nista Construction Company.

Realty Notes.

A meeting of the Harlem Property Owners Association has been called for Thursday evening at 147 East 125th Street.

Alexander A. Koswick has opened a real estate office at 489 Fifth Avenue.

TODAY'S AUCTION SALES.

AT 14 VESEY STREET.

By Henry Brady.

27th St, 182 to 142 West, s s, 320 ft w of 6th Av, 120x98.9, two six-story loft buildings; Emigrant Industrial Savings Bank against 140 West 27th Street Corporation; R. & E. J. O'Gorman, attorneys; Winter, Russell, referee; due, $220,331; taxes, &c., $2,756.50.

79th St, 225 West, n s, 264 ft w of Amsterdam Av, 16x102.2, four and five story dwelling; Samuel R. Weiser et al. against Omar A. Jenks et al.; George E. Coney, attorney; James M. Vincent, referee; due, $24,565.68; taxes, &c., $681.47.

Hillside St, s s, and St. Nicholas Av, n s, part of Plot 147, map of estate of Isaac Dyckman, 170.3x209.9x68.8x143.9, vacant; New York Mortgage and Security Co. against Mary A. Moriarity et al.; Henry M. Bellinger, Jr., attorney; Augustus R. McMahon, referee; due, $6,588.82; taxes, &c., $2,891.58.

By Joseph P. Day.

107th St, 218 East, n s, 360 ft w of 2d Av, 25x100.11, four-story tenement and stores; Caroline E. Heath et al. against Joseph Incert et al.; Warner & Korb, attorneys; John J. Rooney, referee; due, $10,704.64; taxes, &c., $158.90.

111th St., 136 and 138 West, s s, 287.6 ft e of 7th Av, 37.6x100.11, five-story tenement; Mary J. Kingsland against Irving Arms Real Estate Corporation et al.; Charles P. & William W. Buckley, attorneys; Charles O'Sullivan, referee; due, $36,776.32; taxes, &c., $841.50.

111th St, 232 and 234 East, 200 ft w of 3d Av, 40x100.11, six-story loft building; John A. McVickar against Realty Realization Corporation et al.; Clarence R. Freeman, attorney; Thomas L. Feitner, referee; due, $25,684.07; taxes, &c., $884.07.

Oliver St, 52, e s, 75 ft n of Oak St, 25x102x24.1x100, two-story brick tenement and stores and six-story rear tenement; City of New York against Michael A. Rofrano et al.; Frank L. Polk, attorney; Henry A. Deimel, referee; due, $33,055.28; taxes, &c., $2,625.

AT 3,208 THIRD AVENUE.

By James J. Donovan.

Monticello Av, w s, 92.11 ft s of Kingsbridge Rd, 50x100; Monticello Av, w s, 300 ft n of Sorang Av, 75x100; Seton Av, e s, 300 ft s of Edenwald Av, 50x100; Dora Pines against Horatio N. Meredith et al.; Schwartzman & Schwartzman, attorneys; William J. McKeown, referee; due, $839.50; taxes, &c., $296.72.

Roberts Av, e s, whole front between Gainsborg Av and Eastern Boulevard, 200.1x100; Dora Pines against Washington Savings Bank et al.; Theodore I. Schwartzman, attorney; William J. McKeown, referee; due, $983.62; taxes, &c., $1,623.44.

By J. H. Mayers.

Union Av, 993, w s, 266.2 ft s of 165th St, 45.7x104.5, five-story tenement; William L. Condit against Davis Israel et al.; Elkus, Gleason & Proskauer, attorneys; George B. Hayes, referee; due, $41,504.85; taxes, &c., $1,800.36.

BANKRUPTCY SALES.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE United States for the Southern District of New York.—In Bankruptcy.—In the matter of JULIAN O. HANFT and J. FREDERICK HANFT, individually and as co-partners trading as HANFT BROS., Bankrupt.—Chas. Shongood, U. S. Auctioneer for the Southern District of New York in Bankruptcy, sells this day, Wednesday, Oct. 27th, 1915, by order of the Court, at 10:30 A. M., at 683 Madison Av., Borough of Manhattan, assets of the above bankrupt, consisting of florist fixtures, ice box, safe, vases, baskets, plants, etc., and further sells at 15 E. 58th St., Borough of Manhattan, on October 27th, at 11 A. M., two delivery wagons.

FREDERICK C. LEUBUSCHER, Receiver.

OTTERBOURG, STEINDLER & HOUSTON, Attorneys for Receiver, 200 Fifth Av., New York.

ASSIGNEE'S SALE.

SUPREME COURT, NEW YORK COUNTY.—In the matter of the general assignment for the benefit of creditors of JULIUS OLIN and WILLIAM MOSES, trading as OLIN & MOSES. Notice is hereby given that the undersigned Assignee will sell at public auction, through Charles Shongood, Auctioneer, on Monday, the 8th day of November, 1915, at 10:30 A. M., at 9 W. 20th St., Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, property and assets of the above estate, consisting of coats, suits, piece goods, trimmings, machinery, electric motor, electric cutting machine, pressing plant, office fixtures, safe, etc.

LIONEL C. KRISTELLER, Assignee.
LEONARD BRONNER, Attorney for Assignee, 309 Broadway, New York.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE United States for the Southern District of New York.—In Bankruptcy.—In the matter of FREEMAN HESS COMPANY, Bankrupt.—Chas. Shongood, U. S. Auctioneer for the Southern District of New York in bankruptcy, sells Thursday, Nov. 11, 1915, by order of the Court, at 10:30 A. M., at 103 27th St., Borough of Brooklyn, assets of the above bankrupt, consisting of wheelbarrows, plow, brooms, rake, pitchfork, pickaxes, stamper, lamps, cement mixer and tar pot.

EDGAR A. WESTHEIMER, Trustee.
PHILLIPS & AVERY, Attorneys for Trustee, 41 Park Row, New York.

ASSIGNEE'S SALE.

SUPREME COURT, NEW YORK COUNTY.—In the matter of the General Assignment for the benefit of creditors of LOUIS HIRSHLER & SON.—Notice is hereby given that the undersigned Assignee will sell at public auction, through Charles Shongood, Auctioneer, on Saturday, the 6th day of November, 1915, at 10:30 A. M., at 38 W. 25th St., Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, property and assets of the above estate, consisting of merchandise used in waist manufactory, also machines, power tables, motor, fixtures, safe, etc.

HERBERT A. CONE, Assignee.
MAX BERG, Attorney for Assignee, 53 E. 21st St., New York.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE United States for the Southern District of New York.—In Bankruptcy.—In the matter of SALTZMAN & LEVY, Bankrupt.—Chas. Shongood, U. S. Auctioneer for the Southern District of New York in bankruptcy, sells this day, Wednesday, Oct. 27th, 1915, by order of the Court, at 2 P. M., at 118 West 22d St., Borough of Manhattan, assets of the above bankrupt, consisting of dress goods, machines, counters, shelving, fixtures, &c.

GERVASE GREEN, Receiver.
GRAHAM FOSTER, Attorney for Receiver, 14 Wall St., New York.

TRUSTEE'S SALE.

Charles Shongood, Auctioneer, will sell Friday, Oct. 29th, 1915, at 10:30 A. M., at 839 Broadway, stock consisting of about 1,000 yards of carical cloth.

MOSES COHEN, Trustee.
ROSENBERG, LEVIS & BALL, Attorneys for Trustee, 74 Broadway, New York.

BANKRUPTCY NOTICES.

NO. 20,540.—U. S. DISTRICT COURT FOR the Southern District of New York.—SALVATORE FERRARI, also known as CHARLES FERRARI and NICHOLAS FERRARI, individually and as copartners doing business as FERRARI BROS., Bankrupts.

Notice is hereby given that Salvatore Ferrari, also known as Charles Ferrari, and Nicholas Ferrari, individually and as copartners doing business as Ferrari Bros., bankrupts, have filed their petition praying for a discharge from all their debts in bankruptcy, both individually and as copartners and members of the said firm of Ferrari Bros. and said firm of Ferrari Brothers., and that all creditors and other persons are ordered to attend at the hearing upon said petition before United States District Judges in the United States Court House and Post Office Building, in the City and County of New York, on Monday, November 29, 1915, at 10:30 A. M., and then and there show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said petitioners should not be granted, and also attend the examination of the bankrupts thereon.

JOHN J. TOWNSEND,
Referee in Bankruptcy.

NO. 20,410.—U. S. DISTRICT COURT FOR the Southern District of New York.—ZALE SCHWARTZMAN, bankrupt.

Notice is hereby given that Zale Schwartzman, bankrupt, has filed his petition praying for a discharge from all his debts in bankruptcy, and that all creditors and other persons are ordered to attend at the hearing upon said petition before United States District Judges in the United States Court House and Post Office Building, in the City and County of New York, on Monday, November 29, 1915, at 10:30 A. M., and then and there show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted, and also attend the examination of the bankrupt thereon.

JOHN J. TOWNSEND,
Referee in Bankruptcy.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT, Southern District of New York.—No. 21,388.—In Bankruptcy.—JOSEPH EDELSTEIN, Bankrupt.

Joseph Edelstein was duly adjudicated bankrupt on April 29th, 1915, and the first meeting of creditors will be held at my office, 71 Broadway, City of New York, on November 8th, 1915, at 11:30 A. M. Creditors may then attend, prove their claims, appoint a Trustee, examine the bankrupt, and transact such other business as may properly come before said meeting.

Dated, October 25th, 1915.

STANLEY W. DEXTER,
Referee in Bankruptcy.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT, Southern District of New York.—No. 21,632.—In Bankruptcy.—SAMUEL A. KRULEWITCH, Bankrupt.

Samuel A. Krulewitch was duly adjudicated bankrupt on September 25th, 1915, and the first meeting of creditors will be held at my office, 71 Broadway, City of New York, on November 8th, 1915, at 11 A. M. Creditors may then attend, prove their claims, appoint a Trustee, examine the bankrupt, and transact such other business as may properly come before said meeting.

Dated, October 25th, 1915.

STANLEY W. DEXTER,
Referee in Bankruptcy.

NO. 22,158.—U. S. DISTRICT COURT, Southern District of New York.—In Bankruptcy.—In the matter of VOLTURNO ITALIAN WORKERS CORPORATION, Bankrupt.

Volturno Italian Workers Corporation was duly adjudicated bankrupt on September 27th, 1915. The first meeting of creditors will be held at my office, No. 233 Broadway, City of New York, on November 9th, 1915, at 10:30 A. M. Creditors may attend, prove their claims, appoint a trustee, examine the bankrupt, and transact such other business as may properly come before said meeting.

MACGRANE COXE,
Oct. 26, 1915. Referee in Bankruptcy.

NO. 22,262.—U. S. DISTRICT COURT, Southern District of New York.—In Bankruptcy.—In the matter of ASA J. FAULKNER, Bankrupt.

Asa J. Faulkner was duly adjudicated bankrupt on October 6th, 1915. The first meeting of creditors will be held at my office, No. 233 Broadway, City of New York, on November 9th, 1915, at 11 A. M. Creditors may attend, prove their claims, appoint a trustee, examine the bankrupt, and transact such other business as may properly come before said meeting.

MACGRANE COXE,
October 26, 1915. Referee in Bankruptcy.

REAL ESTATE AT AUCTION. | REAL ESTATE AT AUCTION. | REAL ESTATE AT AUCTION. | REAL ESTATE AT AUCTION.

If Ever There Was a chance to make REAL MONEY

It is TODAY

at the Exchange Salesroom, 14 Vesey St., at 12 o'clock at the DASH ESTATE SALE

Realize this

Yesterday $500 ($150 cash) to $1000 ($300 cash)

bought lots within a block of the B'way & 238th St. Subway Station.

lots which are actually worth $2000 to $5000 each

Profits have already been offered to a number of the buyers

You can't help but Double or Triple

the money you put into these lots IN A SHORT TIME

The shrewdest Real Estate operators in New York City are buying

Some of the Best Lots on Broadway, 238th St. and Kingsbridge Ave. MUST BE SOLD TODAY

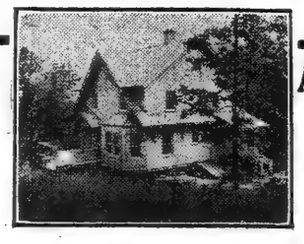
For Whatever They Will Bring

Go to the Sale---
Pick up Some Lots---

And know that you have made Real Money

You will never have another chance of buying B'way Lots At a Subway Station—at These Prices

NEW JERSEY—FOR SALE OR TO LET. | NEW JERSEY—FOR SALE OR TO LET.



Artistic Country Home

Near the Water.
Actual Water Rights.
PRICE $5,500.
Terms to Suit Responsible Purchaser.

CONVENIENT COMMUTATION TO CITY EXPRESS STATION.

A most delightful home on large grounds, 100 by 324 feet, in select neighborhood. Large living room with inglenook open fireplace, dining room, butler's pantry, and well-fitted kitchen on the first floor. Front and back stairway. Four fine master bed chambers and tiled bath on the second floor. Open attic over entire house. Large veranda and open terrace. Every modern convenience; electric light, parquet floors, beamed ceilings; walls beautifully panelled in hard woods; convenient to country club, golf, ideal outdoor and water sports. Highest, healthiest climate within commuting distance of N. Y. City. Compare this home with any you have seen for $3,000 more. Send or call for photograph.

For Further Particulars Address
R. F. BARNES, 170 BROADWAY. Tel. 1521 Cort.

MORTGAGE LOANS.

MORTGAGE MONEY
ALBERT B. ASHFORTH

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS

TUESDAY, OCT. 26.

With name and address of purchaser and attorney. When attorney's name is omitted, address party of the second part.

Manhattan.

HAVEN AV, w s, 50.6x105x50.2x100, s's, being e part of Lot 46, map Fort Washington and Buena Vista Syndicates; Carrie S. Weiss to Becker Building Corporation, 42 Broadway, 2d liens, Oct. 25; attorney, Title Guarantee Co., 176 Broadway.....$100
SHERIFF ST, e s, 125 ft s of Houston St, 25 x100; Hyman Schiff to Sara Schiff, 3,675 Broadway, Oct. 8; attorney, C. L. Borck, 38 Park Row.....$100
WEST ST, 419, e s, 50 ft n of Perry St, 23x68.8; Louisa O. T. Boynton to Alfred H. Ackers, 233 West 128th St, Aug. 28; attorney, Lawyers Title Co., 160 Broadway..$100
SAME PROPERTY; Alfred H. Ackers to Louisa O. T. Boynton, at Pleasantville, N. Y. (mtg $9,000,) Oct. 25; attorney, same.$100
WILLIAM ST, 319, w s, 83.11 ft n e of Spruce st, 23.6x77.6x24.4x82.11; Wm. H. Zinsser, 1 W 10th st, to William H. Zinsser & Co., Inc., 195 William st, Oct. 20; attorneys, Peale & McLaughlin, 61 Broadway.....$1
1ST AV, 154, e s, 69.2 ft n of 9th st, 22.1x100; Rosie Spitz, (Huppert,) New Brunswick, N J, to Regina Huppert, 35 South 10th St, Flushing, Borough of Queens, 1-3 part, all titles, all liens, Oct 25; Attorney, A. F. Silverstone, 150 Nassau st.....$100
8TH ST, s s, 153.3 ft e of Avenue C, 24x97.6; Hyman Schiff to Sara Schiff, 3,675 Broadway, Oct. 8; attorney, C. L. Borck, 38 Park Row.....$100
8TH ST, 333 East, n s, 164.5 ft w of Avenue C, 24.9x93.11; Dora Schiff to Rhea Hirschkorn, 506 West 151st St, Oct. 1; attorney, C. L. Borck, 38 Park Row.....$100
9TH ST, 220 East, s w s, 307.6 ft n w of 2d Av, 21x75; a. t.; 3d Av, 100, n w s, 129.6 ft n e of 12th St, 26x100, a. t.; 18th St, 36 East, s s, 193.9 ft e of Madison Av, 18.9x102.2, a. t.; also land in St. Louis, securities, personal property, &c.; Cornelia M. Rogers to Julius F. R. Frazier and William B. Rogers, as trustees, Kenneth Frazier during life, party 1st part, all liens, March 4, 1915; attorneys, Gould & Wilkie, 2 Wall St.....$1
11TH AV, s e corner of 36th St, 100.5x20; Alida B. Emmet, Stony Brook, L. I., to Lewall Realty Co., 32 Liberty St., c. a. g., all liens, Oct. 19; attorney, Henry L. Morris, 37 Liberty St.....$100
49TH ST, 257 East, n s, 224 ft w of 2d Av, 18x100.5, (foreclosure Oct. 21;) Kneeland Moore, referee, to George Kilian, 244 East 68th St, one of defendants, Oct. 26; attorney, Lawyers Title Insurance Co., 160 Broadway.....$11,250
55TH ST, n s, 200 ft e of 11th Av, runs w 100 x n 25.5x w 100 to e s of 11th Av, x n 75 x e 200 x s 100.5 to beginning; Francis S. Chanler, Barrytown, N. Y., to Lewall Realty Co., 32 Liberty St, c. a. g., all liens, Oct. 18; attorney, Henry L. Morris, 32 Liberty St.....$100
58TH ST, n s, 200 ft w of 10th av, 100x200.10 to s s of 59th st; Wm. H. Zinsser to William H. Zinsser & Co., Inc., 195 William st, Oct. 20; attorneys, Peale & McLaughlin, 61 Broadway.....$1
59TH ST, 243 and 245 West, n s, 465 ft w of Amsterdam Av, 40x100.5; Richard C. Murphy, referee, to Rosina Vollhart, 250 West 82d St, Oct. 25; attorney, Title Guarantee Company, 176 Broadway.....$23,450
74TH ST, 105 East, n s, 75 ft e of Park Av, 25x102.2; John H. Taylor to Sophia Mayer, 41 East 72d St, (mtg $35,000,) May 26, 1914; attorneys, Weil & Mayer, 5 Beekman St.....$100
74TH ST, 101 and 103 East, n s, 25 ft e of Park Av, 50x102.2; John H. Taylor to Sophia Mayer, 41 East 72d St, all liens, b. and s., June 18, 1914; attorneys, Weil & Mayer, 5 Beekman St.....$100
87TH ST, s s, 370 ft w of Columbus av, 20x100.8; Benj. Bernstein to Mosdyck Company, 42 Broadway, mtg $20,000, Oct. 25; attorney, Lawyers' Title & Trust Company, 160 Broadway.....$100
SAME PROPERTY; Mosdyck Company to Samuel W. Bandler, 134 W 87th st, mtg $20,000, B & S, Oct. 25; attorney, same..$1
91ST ST, n s, 100 w of Amsterdam Av, 27.6x100.8; Johanna M. O'Rourke, (Kelly,) to Wilhelmina G. Luhrs, 137 West 97th St, (mtg $22,000,) Oct. 15; attorneys, A. & H. Block, 90 Nassau St.....$100
98TH ST, s s, 83.9 ft e of 3d Av, 25.3x100.8; Morris Goldfarb to Esther Rubin, 1,318 Stebbins Av, Bronx, (mtg $15,000,) all liens, Oct. 23; attorney, John L. Bernstein, 5 Beekman St.....$100
103RD ST, 323 and 325 East, n s, 250 ft w of 1st Av, 50x100.11; Hymen Oken to Domenico Romano, 445 East 117th St, (mtg $32,000,) Oct. 19; attorney, Title Guarantee Co., 176 Broadway.....$1
114TH ST, 413-15 E, n s, 177.10 ft e of 1st av, 42.2x100.10, (foreclosure Oct 14;) Isidor Wasservogel, referee, to Annie Hayes, 804 4th av, College Point, L. I.; mtg $34,000, Oct 23; attorneys, Gettner, S. & A., 229 Broadway.....$100
123RD ST, s s, 185 ft e of Lenox Av, 37.6x99.11; Estelle Meyer and William Holzman to F. D. Onofrio, 1st West 116th St, (mtg $46,000,) Oct. 25; attorney, William C. Wolf, 132 Nassau St.....$100
131ST ST, 118 W, s s, 225 ft w of Lenox av, 18.7x99.11; Benj. Harris to Benenson Realty Co., 401 E. 157th St, c. a. g., Oct. 15; mtg $8,500.....$1

Bronx.

ARTHUR AV, n e corner 186th st, 25x85.4; Joseph Barba to Barba Realty Co., Inc., 2,371 Arthur av, mtg $2,000, Sept 15; attorney, Title Guarantee & Trust Company, 176 Broadway.....$100
BAILEY AV, 2,572, e s, 25x100.4; also Bailey Av, 2,882, e s, 25x100.7; also Bailey Av, 2,890, e s, 25x100.7; Harry Cahn et al. to Joseph F. Merkel, 284 Washington Place, Flushing, L. I., (mtg $18,000,) Oct. 21; attorney, Title Guarantee and Trust Co., 176 Broadway.....$100
BENSON AV, s w s, at n w s of St. Raymond Av, 100x100; William C. Denning to Archer M. Huntington, 1,083 5th Av, (mtg $5,000,) Sept. 30; attorney, I. E. Gates, 15 West 81st St.....$3,000
BROADWAY, w s, 50 ft n of 236th St, 24.9x irregular; John P. Burns to Bowie Dash Realty Co., 240th St and Dash Lane, Oct. 25; attorney, Title Guarantee and Trust Co., 176 Broadway.....$100
COLLEGE AV, w s, 95 ft s of 169th St, 150x80; James Harris to Valhalla Corporation, 619 Willis Av, (mtg $5,000,) Oct. 26; attorney, Title Guarantee and Trust Co., 176 Broadway.....$100
DALY AV, 1914, e s, 32.1x150.11; Valhalla Corporation to Jas. Harris, 530 Jackson av, mtg $19,500, Oct 26; attorney, Title Guarantee & Trust Company, 176 Broadway...$100
DECATUR AV, e s, 225 ft n of 195th st, 25x100; Elisa Geiger to Crescent-Star Realty Co., 211 E 55th st, mtg $8,300, Oct 25; attorney, Crescent-Star Realty Company, 211 E 55th st.....$100
FOREST AV, n w corner of 158th St, 37.6x100; Alexander I. Rorke, referee, to Brooklyn Savings Bank, 141 Pierrepont St, Brooklyn, Oct. 15; attorneys, Schanck & P., 84 William St.....$90,000
GRANT AV, 1,060, e s, 25x101.5; Carrie Lustig to Kate Collins, 100 East 128th St, Oct. 25; attorney, Title Guarantee and Trust Co., 176 Broadway.....$100
HUNTS POINT ROAD, 826, e s, 19.3x104.6; Lillian MacD. Rossell to Frances S. MacDermott, 823 West 84th St, July 8; attorney, C. P. Latting, 34 Pine St.....$1
INTERVALE AV, w s, 266.11 ft s of 167th St, 75.9x88.1; Bernard Construction Co. to Keve Meyer, Elizabeth, N. J., (mtg $45,000,) Oct. 25; attorney, E. Greenthal, 1,185 Washington Av.....$100
KELLY ST, 1,122 and 1,124, e s, 50.4x116.11; Mortimer B. Bernstein, referee, to Sarah Edison, 545 West 111th St, Oct. 26; attorney, Abraham Rosenblum, 320 Broadway.....$5,000
KELLY ST, 1,118 and 1,120, e s, 50.4x111.7; Mortimer B. Bernstein, referee to Sarah Edison, 545 West 111th St, Oct. 26; attorney, Abraham Rosenblum, 320 Broadway.....$5,000
LAND in block bounded by 238th St, Kingsbridge Av, 236th St, and Corlears Av; interborough Rapid Transit Co. to Bowie Dash Realty Co., 240th St and Dash Lane, Oct. 23; attorney, Title Guarantee and Trust Company, 176 Broadway.....$1
LOTS 7 and 8, Block 69A, map of Morris Park; Max Rodin to Fannie Rodin, 1,409 Prospect Av, Oct. 9, (mtg $2,300;) attorney, Samuel Rabinowitz, 459 Stone Av, Brooklyn.....$1
LOT 35, map Daily estate; Pasquale Lama to Teodosio Muscio, 1,301 3d Av, Jan. 19, 1914; attorney, Teodosio Muscio, 1,301 3d Av.....$1
LOT 1, map, 82 lots on 18th and 19th sts, (Wakefield;) Martin J. Keogh to John G. Kremer, 4,185 Bronxwood Av, Oct. 21; attorney, Title Guarantee & Trust Company, 176 Broadway.....$1
LOT 97, map of New Jerome, 25x100; Catherine C. Hill to Morris Leberman, 719 East 218th St, and another, (mtg $10,000,) Oct. 26; attorney, Lawyers Title and Trust Co., 160 Broadway.....$100
SIMPSON ST, e s, 320 ft n of 163d St, 40x100; Peter A. Leo to Windermere Real Estate Co., Inc., 35 Nassau St, (mtg $30,000,;) attorneys, Goldsmith, R., M. & B., 35 Nassau St.....$100
TERRACE PLACE, e s, 55.6 ft s of Waverly St, 56.6x126.6; Edward Woylett to Otto Meslop, 317 East 86th St, (mtg $6,000,) Oct. 19; attorney, Otto Meslop 317 East 86th St.$100
161ST ST, n s, 253.8 ft e of Courtlandt Av, 25x71.11; Louis Reiss to Flora Schmitz, 291 Riverside Drive, (mtg $6,500,) Oct. 25; attorney, Theo. Sattler, 147 4th Av.
169TH ST, s s, 307 ft w of Concourse, 30x127.3; Mary T. Welsh to Ellen F. Gannon, 116 East 166th St, (mtg $8,000,) Oct. 25; attorney, E. Osborn Smith, Jerome and Burnside Avs.....$1
181ST ST, s s, 225.8 ft e of Vyse Av, 25x irregular; Dennis Collins to Carrie Lustig, 1,080 Grant Av, Oct. 25; attorney, New York Title Insurance Co., 135 Broadway.$100
185TH ST, s s, 127.4 ft e of Marmion Av, 33x100.7; J. Walter Robertson to Monastery Realty Co., Inc., 42 Broadway, Oct. 25; attorney, J. Edward Murphy, 42 Broadway.....$1
236TH ST, n s, 100 ft w of Broadway, 50x irr.4x82.11x120; Bowie Dash Realty Co. to John P. Burns, 458 West 150th St, Oct. 26; attorney, Title Guarantee and Trust Co., 176 Broadway.....$100

RECORDED MORTGAGES.

With name and address of lender and lender's attorney. Interest is at 5 per cent. unless otherwise specified.

Manhattan.

ARDEN ST, e s, 134 ft n of Nagle Av, 27x110; Bromberg Realty Co. to Agency Realty and Mortgage Co., 31 Nassau St, 2 years, 6 p. c., Oct. 26; attorney, E. J. West, 31 Nassau St.....$3,500
ARDEN ST, s w s, at n w s of Nagle Av, 129.6x130; Douglas W. Brown to George W. Philips, Jr., 905 West 144th St, Aug. 21, 1914, prior mtg $132,000, 1 year; attorney, Charles S. Davison, 90 Wall St.....$50,000
BRADHURST AV, w s, 299.11 ft s of 145th St, 17x60.3; Catherine C. Randall to Emma E. Cattus, Jr., 771 West End Av, 3 years, Oct. 26; attorney, Asa A. Spear, 79 Wall St.....$1,500
COLUMBUS AV, n e corner of 89th St, 75x58, prior mtg $60,000; Nathan Lemlein to David Sheeline and another, 203 West 91st St, Oct. 25, 3 years, 5 p. c.; attorney, Title Guarantee Co., 176 Broadway.....$6,000
HAVEN AV, w s, Lot 46, map of Fort Washington and Buena Vista Syndicates, 50.6x105; Becker Building Corporation to Carrie S. Weiss, 44 West 86th St, Oct. 26, 1 year, 6 p. c.; attorney, Title Guarantee Co., 176 Broadway.....$45,000
MANHATTAN ST, 114 to 118, s s, 74.8 ft w of Broadway, 79.6x78.1 to 127th St x95.3x55, prior mtg $25,000; Ferdinand C. Bamman to Charles Kimmelman, 247 Audubon Av, Oct. 25, due, &c., as per bond; attorney, S. Wacht, Jr., 74 Broadway.....$4,000
WEST ST, 419, e s, 50 ft n of Perry St, 23x68.6; Alfred H. Ackers to Heyward Scudder, at Northport, L. I., Oct. 25, 3 years; attorney, Lawyers Title Co., 160 B'way.$9,000
2D AV, 1,903 and 1,905, w s, 26 ft n of 83d St, 50.5x76.6, prior mtg $5,000; Frank P. Sheehy et al. to Maurice S. Regan, 121 West 121st St, Oct. 18, due, &c., as per bond; attorney, Title Guarantee Co., 176 Broadway.....$3,000
137TH ST, 410 to 412, s s of 7th Av, 20x81.6; Cary F. Simmons to Jonathan H. Blackwell, 157 West State St, Trenton, N. J., prior mtg $8,000, due Oct. 15, 1916, 6 p. c., Oct. 15; attorney, New York Title Insurance Co., 135 Broadway.....$2,000
149TH ST, n s, 224 ft w of 2d Av, 18x100.5; George Killian to K. George Falk, 151 Central Park West, Oct. 20, due July 9, 1918; attorney, Lawyers Title Co., 160 Broadway.....$9,000
91ST ST, n s, 100 ft w of Amsterdam Av, 27.6x100.8; Wilhelmina G. Luhrs to Johanna M. O'Rourke, 232 West 101st St, prior mtg $22,000, Oct. 15, due Jan. 1, 1920, 6 p. c.; attorney, Title Guarantee Co., 176 Broadway.....$9,000
111TH ST, 99-70 East, s s, 200 ft w of Park Av, 50x100.11; Cathedral Construction Co. to Gerson B. Citron, 103 East 111th St, Oct. 25, demand, 6 p. c.; attorney, Leo Schafran, 51 Chambers St.....$8,000
127TH ST, 210 West, n s, 105.6 ft w of 7th Av, 15x99.11, 4-5 parts, all title; Marion M. Smith et al. to Elizabeth Larkin, 238 West 135th St, Sept. 10, due, &c., as per bond; attorney, J. C. Brady, 156 Broadway..$5,600

Bronx.

ARTHUR AV, n e corner of 186th St, 25x85.4; Barba Realty Co., Inc., to City Real Estate Co., 176 Broadway, Oct. 28, 1 year, 6 per cent.; attorney, Title Guarantee & Trust Co., 176 Broadway.....$180,000
BATHGATE AV, e s, 20 ft n of 172d St, 19.10x115.6; Annie V. Shields to New York Title Insurance Co., 135 Broadway, Oct. 25, 3 years, 5½ p. c.; attorney, New York Title Insurance Co., 135 Broadway.....$5,500
DALY AV, 1,914, e s, 32.1x150.11; Valhalla Corporation to Jacob O. Pedersen, 2,327 Valentine Av, prior mtg, $17,500, Oct. 26, due Nov. 1, '17, 6 per cent.; attorney, Title Guarantee & Trust Co., 176 Broadway.$2,000
DECATUR AV, e s, 245.5 ft n of 194th St, 50.1x100; Fogal estate to Wentworth Mortgage Co., 1,204 Tinton Av, prior mtg $35,000, Oct. 25, due as per bond; attorneys, Sproull, H. & S., 1 Madison Av.....$5,500
FRANKLIN Av, e s, 224.11 ft s of Jefferson Place, 20.5x145; Eliz. Ochse to Anna C. Schall, 1,356 Franklin Av, Oct. 25, 3 years; attorney, A. Werner, 49 Chambers St.$4,000
FRANKLIN AV, e s, 203.1 ft s of Jefferson Place, 19.10x145; Lena Smith to Anna C. Schall, 1,356 Franklin Av, Oct. 25, 3 years; attorney, Adam Wiener, 49 Chambers St. $5,000
LOT 486, map of Mapes estate; John A. Steinmetz to Minnie Borger, 1,007 East 180th St, Oct. 22, due as per bond; attorney, J. A. Steinmetz, 1,005 East 180th St.....$5,000
LOTS 6 AND 7, Parcel 24, map Wm. B. Ogden; Wm. H. Gannell to Michael Burke, 160 Bush St., Oct. 26, 5 years; attorney, Title Guarantee & Trust Co., 176 Broadway.....$9,000
PROSPECT AV, s e s, 242.10 ft n e of 177th St, 150.2x0.2x145.4 to Mapes Av x47.1x295.6x47.2; Corner Construction Corporation to Rockland Realty Co., 509 Willis Av, Oct. 16, due as per bond; attorney, Enoch C. Bell, 509 Willis Av.....$2,500
165TH ST, 507 East, n s, 16.10x71; Geza Rechnitz to Isidor Monheimer, 601 W. 140th St, Sept. 16, 3 years, 5½ per cent.; attorney, Title Guarantee & Trust Co., 176 Broadway.....$3,300

RECORDED LEASES.

Manhattan.

With name and address of lessee.

BLEECKER ST, 222, store; Hy. L. Meyer to Samuel Block, 686 Beck St, 4 7-12 years, from Oct. 13, 1915.....$720
SPRING ST, 119, store; Wm. Deitz to Harry Jacobson, 3 years, from Oct. 1, 1915; attorneys, Schindler & L., 1,393 3d Av..$900 to $800
10TH ST, 235 WEST; Charles St. 98 Mill all; Nancy Hall to Charles E. Hall, Montclair, N. J., 2 10-12 years, from Oct. 23, 1915; attorneys, De Witt, L. & De W., 88 Nassau St.....$2,500
107TH ST, 229 to 233 West, all; Nancy Hall to Charles E. Hall, Montclair, N. J., 2 10-12 years, from Oct. 23, 1915; attorney, De Witt, L. & De W., 88 Nassau St.....$1,000
315TH ST, 103 West, corner store; Harris Mandelbaum and another to Christian J. Wahmann, 521 6th Av, 5 years, from May 1, 1915; attorney, C. J. Wahmann, 521 6th Av.....$8,000
135TH ST, 38 and 39 West, store and basement; Adrem Construction Co. to Mosaic Tile Co., Zanesville, Ohio, 5 years, from Feb. 1, 1916; attorney, E. V. Levy, 309 Broadway.....$4,000
281ST, 533 West, corner store and basement; Theodore W. Myers to Mishkin Bros., Inc., 10 years, from May 1, 1914; attorney, M. Mishkin, 1,583 3d Av.....$9,400 for the term

Bronx.

BROOK AV, 464, part store, &c; Harry Shurtzer to Louis Afromowitz, 480 Brook Av, 5 years from Nov 15, 1915; attorney, B. I. Cantor, 71 Wall St.....$600
HOLLAND AV, 1,801, store; Cesare Palmieri to Ferdinando Nunziato, 95 Park St, 3 years from Nov 1; attorneys, Bernstein & Q., 22 West 1st St, Mt Vernon, N Y.....$420
PROSPECT AV, 876, store; Bloke Realty Company, Inc., to Israel Epstein, 876 Prospect Av, 5 years from Oct 1, 1916; attorney, S. M. Rosenthal, Berghs Building.....$1,620 to $1,800

MECHANICS' LIENS.

Manhattan.

BROADWAY, 287 and 289; Maxrose Realties, Inc., against Edna G. Stuart et al, owners; Goldberg, lessee and contractor.....$138
CANNON ST, 7 and 9; Linquist and Hanna Mfg. Co. against Manhattan Pie Baking Co., owner and contractor.....$1,444
SAME PROPERTY; Nichol Straight Foundry Co. against Manhattan Pie Baking Co., owner; B. F. Fish Mfg. Co., contractor.$343
CATHARINE ST, 22½; Frank R. Santore against Harry and Charles Abrahams, owners; Jacob Gottlieb, contractor.....$50
EDGECOMBE AV, s e corner of 139th St, 142x95, and Edgecombe Av, e s, 13.11 n of 138th St, 90x85; John Di Pace et al against 114th Street and 7th Avenue Construction Co., owner and contractor.....$2,500
EDGECOMBE AV, 78 to 86 and 90 to 98; Samuel Aptheker against 114th Street and 7th Avenue Construction Co., owner and contractor.....$5,600
MANHATTAN ST, 17; Melvin Rosenberger against David W. Kahn, owner; Hugo Bierhoff, contractor.....$61
WATER ST, 393; Jacob Victor against Domenico Benedetto, owner; John Barckman and John Lustig, contractors.....$334
2D AV, 698; Isidor Schwartz against Hyman Schwartz, owner; Louis Wallin, contractor.....$130
9TH ST, 12 West; Hull, Grippen & Co. against Jean McL. Johansen, owner; J. C. Johansen and Clirchugh & Clirchugh, contractors.....$117
36TH ST, 310 to 328 West, and 37th St, 327 and 329 West; Koehler, Spyr & Farrington against Emma M. Wynne, owner; Winsome Amusement Co., contractor.....$225
43D ST, 147 to 151 West; Ferber & Son against Alonzo H. Hornby, owner; Berghoff Brewing Association, contractor, renewal.
36TH ST, 306 West; William H. Black against 36th Street and West End Avenue Co., owner; Margaret W. Whyte, contractor.....$40
111TH ST, 126 to 136 West; Gallo & Boscarelli against 114th Street and 7th Avenue Co., owner and contractor; Isidor Reis, owner.....$3,100
111TH ST, 125 to 135 West; Ducker & Gozansky, Inc., against 114th Street and 7th Avenue Construction Co., owner and contractor.....$2,775
111TH ST, 66 to 70 East; Grossman Bros. & Rosenbaum against Cathedral Construction Co. and George B. Citron, owners; 114th Street and 7th Avenue Construction Co., Max Weinstein, Nathan Silverson, and Louis Raslovitzky, contractors.....$310
111TH ST, 125 to 135 West; Gallo & Boscarelli against 114th Street and 7th Avenue Construction Co., owner and contractor.....$3,403

Bronx.

KELLY ST, 1,013; Samuel and Sadie Cohen against Kelbert Construction Co., Inc., owners and contractors.....$143

SATISFIED MECHANICS' LIENS.

Manhattan.

BROADWAY, 1,680 to 1,684; John C. Brady against Amos F. Eno et al., dec. 9, 1914.....$1,700
SAME PROPERTY; W. E. Pruden Hardware Co. against same, Nov. 4, 1914.....$166.77
SAME PROPERTY; John C. Brady against same, Oct. 26, 1914.....$1,700
BROADWAY, 1,680; Hoffman & Elias against same, Oct. 28, 1914.....$300
SAME PROPERTY; George E. Gibson Co. against same, Oct. 26, 1914.....$469
40TH ST, 38 West; Henry H. Meise & Son against G. M. Heckscher et al., Sept. 27, 1915.....$108

Bronx.

BEAR SWAMP ROAD, n e corner of Pierce Av, 74.3x141.6; Isaac Saltman against V. Bonomo et al., May 24, 1915.....$150

BUILDING LOAN CONTRACTS.

Manhattan.

VERMILYEA AV, s s, 100 ft e of Isham St, 75x100; Hickory Realty Corp. loans Julius Bendheim, to erect a five-story apartment.....$80,000

Bronx.

BATHGATE AV, e s, 29 ft n of 172d St, 19.9 x115.6; New York Title Insurance Co., loans Annie V. Shields, to erect one-story apartment.....$5,500

LIS PENDENS.

Manhattan.

DELANCEY ST, 244; Selg Goldstein against A. Fred Silverstone et al., (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorneys, Ascher & Goldstein.
JAMES ST, 93, and New Chambers St, 81; Farmers' Loan and Trust Co. against Union Construction Co. et al., (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorneys, Geller, Rolston & Honan.
18TH ST, n s, 80 ft e of 7th Av, 20x50.4; Louis Neichardt against Peunlane Realty Co. et al., (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorneys, H. A. & C. E. Heydt.
38TH ST, 338 West, rear; Tenement House Department against Helen C. Trowbridge et al., (violation of tenement house law;) attorney, L. Hardy.
57TH ST, s s, 191.3 ft e of 3d Av, 18.9x 100.4; Union Trust Co. of N. Y. against Lillian E. Bates et al., (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorneys, Miller, King, Lane & Trafford.
73TH ST, n s, 100 ft w of Amsterdam Av, 25x107.5; Mary E. Mitchell against Thomas P. Kelly et al., (action to impress trust;) attorneys, Wilder, Ewen & Patterson.
84TH ST, n s, 146 ft w of Amsterdam Av, 27x102.2; Edward Ashforth et al. against Wohlfarth Realty Co. et al., (amended foreclosure of mortgage;) attorneys, Montgomery & Peabody.

Bronx.

BAILEY AV, e s, 225 ft n of Albany Road, 98.8x irr; Prospect Investing Co. against Bailey Apartment Corporation, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorney, S. W. Collins.
FILLMORE ST, e s, 425 ft n of Van Nest Av, 25x100; Max Spitzberg against Samuel Kirkowitz et al. (action to foreclose mechanic's lien;) attorneys, Abramson & Rose.
FOREST AV, 1,054.2 ft s of 165th St, 36.3x300; Leopold Guttag against Bianca Guttag et al., (partition suit;) attorney, H. Wetherhorn.
LOT 164, (easterly half,) village of Melrose South, in the Manor of Morrisania; Henry K. Du Bois et al., as administrators, against Annie Levy et al., (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorney, S. L. H. Ward.

REAL ESTATE AT AUCTION.

Special Sale
5 East 47th St.,
OPPOSITE CARLTON HOUSE.
Business Property
TO BE SOLD AT Public Auction
TO-MORROW, OCT. 28
at 12 o'clock noon, at Exchange Salesroom, 14-16 Vesey St., N. Y. C. Four story and basement Building, 175 feet east of 5th av.; size of lot, 25x100.5 feet. Maps and further information at office of Samuel Marx
Auctioneer,
Woolworth Building, Suite 2120-2126.
Tel., 6911-12—7004-05 Barclay.

MANHATTAN—FOR SALE OR TO LET.

234 WEST 122D ST.,
Between 7th and 8th Avenues.
Five-story apartment house, 2 apts. 8 rooms and bath on each floor; will lease for term of years. Full particulars at SLAWSON & HOBBS, 162 West 72d St.

BROOKLYN—FOR SALE OR TO LET.

Factory or factory properties for sale or to lease in all sections of the Borough of Brooklyn and Queens.
Geo. W. Palmer & Co.,
781 Manhattan Av., Brooklyn.

QUEENS—FOR SALE OR TO LET.

NEAR THE WATER
House 8 rooms and bath, hot water heat, gas, water, sewer, electricity; 30 minutes from city; refined location; private bathing beach; $500 down, balance to suit; guaranteed title. T. Stephenson, 243 West 34th St., N. Y.

WESTCHESTER—FOR SALE OR TO LET.

25-ACRE ESTATE.
Dwelling, 14 rooms, 3 baths; garage, superintendent's cottage; attractive grounds, splendid views; abundance of fruit; near country clubs.
FOX REALTY COMPANY,
22 East 42d St. 2875 Murray Hill.

A NEW COLONIAL HOUSE.
The finest section of New Rochelle. Most attractive home, 10 large rooms, 3 bath, hot-water heat, gas, electricity, ½ acre plot; garage. Price $13,500. Easy terms.
JAMES D. McCANN
221 Huguenot St. Tel., 451—New Rochelle, N. Y.

SCARSDALE AND VICINITY
Residence Properties—Sale or Rent
Joseph Elsener, Scarsdale, New York

LONG ISLAND—FOR SALE OR TO LET.

AN UNUSUAL OPPORTUNITY
Country home and farm overlooking Sound, 42 acres, on State Road, 40 miles from New York City. 12-room house, 2 baths, electricity, hot water heat, garage, 6-room cottage, all improvements, model chicken house, barn with rooms for farmer, orchard of 250 trees, beautiful shade trees. For quick sale owner will take $20,000.
EDWIN R. ROWLEY, Northport, L. I., Or 47 West 34th St.

SACRIFICE BUNGALOW
At Brentwood in the Pines, L. I.—Ten Rooms, tiled bath, hot-water heat, gas, electricity and water; splendid all year home; five minutes from station; only $750 cash, balance easy. Address OWNER, Room 1,106, 1 West 34th St., N. Y. C.

NEW JERSEY—FOR SALE OR TO LET.

FACTORY FOR SALE
IN JERSEY CITY, N. J.
Located on desirable plot, containing about 1¾ acres, fronting on two streets and the Morris Canal.
Buildings are one, two, three and four story brick, iron and concrete, containing about 26,000 square feet of floor space; also frame office, stables, and wagon sheds, covering half of the land area, leaving more than half an acre for future development.
Full particulars, maps, diagrams, and photos furnished on request.
HUDSON REAL ESTATE CO., 168 Ocean Av., Jersey City, N. J.

YOU ARE HELPLESS
if there is a flaw in your title. Insure and be sure. We make a specialty of Bergen and Rockland County Real Estate titles, and our Booklet A is worth reading. Write for it.
North Jersey Title Insurance Co.,
Hackensack, New Jersey.
N. Y. Rep., Glenn K. Carver, 61 B'way.

CONNECTICUT—FOR SALE OR TO LET.

SAVE MONEY
By buying your country place now. Have a 100-acre farm with good buildings and fine view, places on the Sound with acreage, and a hill-top of 100 acres, commanding a wide view of Sound and surrounding country. Prices range from $12,000 to $50,000. Address
W. B. BROTHERTON, Milford, Conn.

U. S. MARSHAL'S NOTICES.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR the Southern District of New York.
NOTICE.
On Oct. 22nd, 1915, a libel of information was filed in the above named Court on behalf of the United States against 94 cases, each containing 2 dozen cans of apples, upon a seizure thereof, theretofore made by the Collector of Customs for the Port of New York, setting forth the said seizure and praying the condemnation and forfeiture of the property seized to the use of the United State for violation of Food and Drugs Act June 30th, 1906, of the United States Revised Statutes.
Pursuant to the monition of said Court therein, I hereby notify all persons claiming said goods, wares and merchandise or interested therein, to appear before said Court in the General Post Office Building, on Nov. 8th, 1915, at 10:30 o'clock A. M., (provided the same shall be a day of jurisdiction, otherwise the next day of jurisdiction thereafter), at which time and place the process will be returnable, and the trial had, and to interpose their claims and allegations, or they will be defaulted and said property condemned.
Oct. 22nd, 1915.
THOMAS D. McCARTHY, United States Marshal.
H. S. MARSHALL, U. S. Attorney.

TO LET FOR BUSINESS PURPOSES.

M&L HESS INC. BUSINESS PROPERTY SPECIALISTS 907 BROADWAY COR. 20th ST.
FULL COMMISSION TO BROKERS.
MODERN FIREPROOF BUILDINGS.

30-2 West 15th St.
Lofts, 50x100.

50-4 West 17th St.
66x92.
Store, Basement and Lofts.

277-83 6th Av.
S. W. Cor. 18th Street.
To Sublet at a Sacrifice.
South part 1 loft, 50x100.

151-53 West 19th St.
Lofts, 47x90.

27-33 West 20th St.
Lofts, 100x92.

49-53 East 21st St.
74x98.9.
5 Lofts, Offices and Showrooms.

13-21 East 22d St.
145x98.9 or 54x98.9 or 91x98.9.
Lofts, Offices and Showrooms.

16-18 West 22d St.

15-17 West 21st St.
Lofts, 11,000 sq. ft. each.

115-17 East 23d St.
Lofts, 56x110.
Might divide.

32-46 West 23d St.
21-35 West 22d St.
Lofts, 175x197.6.

148-56 West 23d St.
Lofts, 102.3x98.9.

53 West 24th St.
Floors 20x100.
Also ¼ Floors.

24-26 West 25th St.
Lofts, 50x98.9.

22-24 West 27th St.
Lofts, 50x98.9.

34-38 West 27th St.
Lofts, 68.6x98.9.

134-40 West 29th St.
100x98.9.
Store, Basement and Lofts.
Live steam if desired.

151-5 West 30th St.
Lofts, 75x98.9.

12-14 West 32d St.
Lofts, 34x98.9.

28-32 West 36th St.
Lofts, 50x98.9.
Will divide.

81-95 University Place
N. E. Cor. 11th Street.
Stores and Lofts.
Floor area 20,000 sq. ft.
Will divide.

71-77 Grand St.,
S. E. Cor. Wooster.
40x75 or 44x75 or 50x100.
Lofts—connecting floors can be had.

146-54 West 30th St.
THREE-STORY BUILDING, 115x98.9.
Can be altered to suit for Garage, Stable or Warehouse. Also for Heavy or Light Manufacturing

HESS BUILDING,
4th Ave., Corner 26th Street.
OFFICES AND SHOWROOMS,
800 to 8,000 sq. ft. No manufacturing.

NEW BUILDING
Sixty-six Feet Eight Inches by Ninety-eight Feet Nine Inches.
Leases from Feb. 1st. Ready for occupancy Nov. 15th.
STORE AND LOFTS
116-118-120 East 27th St., Near 4th Ave.
Centrally located in the wholesale dry goods district. Absolutely fireproof. Two fireproof stairways. Smoke-proof fire tower. Three electric elevators. A complete, approved sprinkler system. Windows on four sides in each of the upper ten floors, assuring light and air. Every convenience and improvement for the comfort and safety of the tenants. The building will furnish the highest class service. Superintendent of the building will live on the premises.

Store, Basement and Mezzanine, $7,000 per annum
Second to Ninth Lofts, $2,750 to $3,000 per annum
Renting Agent on premises. Apply to your own broker, or to
A. L. MORDECAI & SON
30 East 42nd Street

New Fireproof Factory Building
To Lease for Term of Years
20,000 Feet
Modern, up-to-date
will finish to suit desirable tenant
M. F. HAMSLEY,
36th St. and 2nd Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

526-530 W. 25th St.
6 STORIES & BASEMENT, 75x100.
Sprinkler system; exceptionally fine light; suitable any business; large driveway for unloading inside of building. Occupied by Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Co.
Long Lease; Rent Reasonable.
Particulars own broker, or ROOM 604, 51 CHAMBERS ST.

CORNER STORE
With large light basement, suitable for Dressmaker, Milliner, Interior Decorator or Drug Store.
S. E. Cor. Madison Ave. and 53d St.
Apply Land Brokerage Co., 1 Madison Avenue, New York.

REAL ESTATE—OUT OF CITY.

4 ROOM HOUSE $1,850
Great all-year home; garden all planted with fruit and vegetables; commuting distance to New York City; $150 down, $10 monthly; cheaper price for more cash; real bargain. Owner, Box 176 Times Downtown.

APARTMENTS TO LET—Unfurnished.

MANHATTAN—West Side.

THE AYLSMERE,
60 West 76th St.
Seven and eight large, light rooms, bath; 2 elevators; night and day passenger service; steam dryer; convenient all traction lines; $1,200-$1,500. Supt. on premises.

61ST ST., 42 WEST.
Corner Apartment, 6 large, light rooms and bath, rent $60.
GODDARD, PERRY & DWIGHT, Inc.
1,138 Broadway, at 26th St.
Phone Farragut 9494.

THE ANICO,
1690-1696 B'way (cor. 53d)
Two, three, five rooms, extra large; high-class elevator building; parquet floors throughout; baths; $50, $70.

The Sevillia
Apartment Hotel, 117 W. 58th St.
Apartment of 2 rooms and bath; also one

Property Out of the City

Thirty-five cents an agate line.

New Jersey—For Sale or To Let.

ATTRACTIVE BARGAINS
In modern one-family houses and choice building lots at private sale, a large number from which to select.
THE BANKING DEPARTMENT, STATE OF NEW YORK, to quickly close the business of two corporations, offers these properties at about 50% of former prices. They are located at Grantwood, Palisade, Morsemere and Leonia, New Jersey, (opposite Grant's Tomb), within twenty-five minutes of Manhattan.
An inspection of these properties will convince you that they are unusual bargains.
Liberal terms. Title Guarantee Policy Free.
For further details and terms address
BENJ. D. SLAIGHT, Special Deputy Supt. of Banks, care of Banking Department, 61 Broadway, New York City.

MODERNIZED HOMESTEAD.
Situated between Nutley and Montclair, N. J., in the foothills of Orange Mountains; 9 rooms, with steam heat, all modern improvements; artistically fitted up; decorated, fruit and shade trees; old-fashioned garden with large variety of flowers, shrubs, etc.; artistic pergolas and cobblestone gateways add to the attractiveness of the place; garage, stable and chicken house; $5,500, terms to suit; over acre ground, additional land if desired; photo. Lambert, owner, 233 Broadway, New York. Phone 6984 Barclay.

ONE ACRE, with modern 6-room cottage, steam heat, bath, electric light, hardwood floors, all improvements; 15 minutes' walk from station; $5,000; comfortable terms. Might rent.
S. S. WALSTROM-GORDON & FORMAN, Ridgewood, N. J. Fone 555.

River Edge cottage, 8 rooms, $20; two acres; near station; Hasbrouck Heights, 5-room apartment, $10; 46 Terrace Av., store and rooms, Paterson, 519 East 39th St., two floors, barn, grounds, $10; to loan on mortgage, $2,000 to $3,000; offices, $5 up. Ackerman, 137 Greenwich St.

FOR RENT.—SOUTH ORANGE, N. J.
Attractive house, 8 rooms, 2 baths; electric light; just painted and redecorated; good neighborhood; near depot; $30 month.
J. CHARLES O'BRIEN CO.,
141 Broadway, N. Y., and South Orange, N. J.

Owner cannot occupy residence just completed; cost $3,900; will sacrifice; 7 rooms, open fireplace, steam heat; 34 minutes New York. Birdseye, Room 602, 159 Broadway.

Builder forced to take eight-room house, all improvements, hot water heat, best section, will sell $4,250; value $5,500. Smith-Singer Co., Ridgewood, N. J.

"NUTLEY IN A NUTSHELL."
All about the "Ideal Home Town."
SECRETARY, Box 314, Nutley, N. J.

FARMS, acre upward, hour out, for poultry, fruit, vegetables; $10 monthly. Write for pictures. Room 1,701, 141 Broadway.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., Property My Specialty.
Harvey R. Linbarger, 197 North Av.

New Jersey farms to let; list 10 cts. Paul Williams, New Brunswick, N. J.

MONTCLAIR—Real Estate—Sale or rent. Apply to Simpson Merritt Co.

Real Estate for Exchange.

Want good farm; not rocks; have good income property and mortgages to exchange. Piquet, 354 Fulton St., Jamaica.

Apartments to Let

Furnished.

Thirty-five cents an agate line.

Apartments. — Hotel Oxford, 35 East 27th. Unfurnished; furnished; full hotel service; restaurant; cheapest rental in New York; 2 rooms, bath, $12 weekly and up.

MADISON AV., 222.—Large, handsomely furnished parlor floor, three rooms, bath; reasonable.

435 Madison Av.—Bed, sitting room, kitchenette, bath; charmingly furnished. Telephone Lightfoot.

West Side

THE WILSONIA,
225 West 69th St., near Broadway.
3 rooms, bath, and kitchenette, $50 up.
Apartments by the Month or Year.
Also Unfurnished.
SPOTLESSLY FRESH AND CLEAN.

No questionable or objectionable tenants. Phone, elevator service; maid service optional. Near Subway, "L," 5th Av. bus, street cars. REFERENCES ABSOLUTELY ESSENTIAL.

We offer hotel conveniences at apartment home rates. You are invited to inspect our specially attractive apartments.
CATHEDRAL PLAZA,
100 CATHEDRAL PARKWAY,
110TH ST. AND COLUMBUS AV.
We have 1, 2, 3, 4 room apartments, $30, $40, $50, $60 UP MONTHLY.
Completely furnished, including dishes, silver, cooking utensils. Maid service optional. Every apartment has private bath, kitchenette. Concession on these and unfurnished. Near subway and "L." Must be seen to be appreciated. Phone Riverside 2970. 5th Av. bus line stops at our door.

98th St., 305-307 West.—Schuyler Arms Hotel, between Riverside and Broadway; strictly high-class house; beautifully furnished apartments; shower baths; 2, 3, 4, and 5 rooms, with or without kitchen, fully equipped for housekeeping; all night elevator, telephone, bellboy and maid service; restaurant in building. Phone 3064 River.

Bright, sunny apartment, newly furnished; 4 rooms and bath; most attractive; must be seen to be appreciated; $85 per month. The Poinciana, 434 West 120th St., Apt. 5C.

OVERLOOKING THE HUDSON.
Convenient 137th express subway; 5 rooms, bath, exceptionally well furnished in old English style; $100. Frederick L. Hurt, 30 East 42d. Murray Hill 5726.

If you have a nicely furnished, high class apartment and want to rent it for 5 or 6 months send full particulars to Slawson & Hobbs, 162 West 72d St.

Five to nine rooms, $100 to $350; private parties subleasing; completely furnished; west side, 70s to 100s. Wickliffe Gray, 269 West 72d. Columbus 3974.

HANDSOMELY FURNISHED APARTments, long, short leases; east, west side; high class only. R. de Florez, 501 5th Av. Murray Hill 8350.

GRANT COURT.
113TH ST., 610 West, near Riverside Drive.—4, 5, 6 rooms; high class apartment. Fisher.

FURNISHED APARTMENTS.
Frederick L. Hurt,
30 East 42d.

Central Park West, 302.—Charming 5-room apartment to sublet, furnished or unfurnished, balance of lease.

40TH ST., 50 West.—Luxuriously furnished floor; bath; service; physician; housekeeping. Bryant 9426.

We have furnished apartments for rent, 5 or 6 months or longer. Slawson & Hobbs, 162 West 72d St.

Beautifully furnished apartment, 8 rooms, 3 baths, 448 Riverside Drive. Phone 6670 Morningside.

86th, 28 West.—Handsomely furnished, unusually large two-room and bath; breakfast optional.

119th, 430 West.—Five outside rooms, bath, completely, beautifully furnished, $55.

Handsome, newly furnished apartment, 7 rooms, 2 baths. Coyle, 137 West 82d.

80TH ST., 119 West.—Two sunny rooms and bath.

Apartments to Let

Unfurnished.

Thirty-five cents an agate line.

East Side.

MADISON AV., 1,186, COR. 87TH ST.
9 rooms, electricity, parquet floors; $100.
1,182 MADISON AVENUE.
Eight rooms, unusual light, size; $75.
38-55 EAST 80TH STREET.
Seven extra large rooms, $70-$75.

THE CLEVELAND.
126 to 130 East 24th St.—Nine rooms and bath; well arranged; rents $1,000 and $1,200. Apply to CAMMANN, VOORHEES & FLOYD, 64 William St.

FOR HIGH-CLASS APARTMENTS,
A. L. Mordecai & Son, 30 East 42d St.

51st St., 157 East, near Lexington.—Modern steam-heated apartment, 6 rooms, bath, $40.

West Side

9 ROOMS, 3 BATHS; THE WELLWYN, 5TH FLOOR, SOUTH, 260 WEST 72D; SUNSHINE IN ALL ROOMS. APPLY EARLE & CALHOUN, BROADWAY AND 72D ST.

Will sublet 8-room apartment in elevator house, 50 Morningside Av., 119th St.; lease expires next Oct. 1; regular rent $55; concessions granted. Perkins.

57th, 329 West.—Three beautiful, large, light rooms and bath; all improvements; rents, $30 to $60. Apply on premises.

SUBLET.
Three rooms and bath.
HOTEL WALTON, 104 West 70th St.

The Selkirk, 308 West 82d.—Two rooms, bath; southern exposure; elevator; restaurant in building; rent, $50. Apt. 64.

97th St., 140 West.—Large living room, two bedrooms, two baths, kitchen, dining room, modern building; $1,400. Meyrowitz.

BROADWAY, 2,708, (103d.)—Three rooms, bath, kitchenette; owner's management; lease; $36-$40.

81st, 72 West.—Two rooms, bath; also single room; all improvements; $6-$9.

Apartments consisting of 2-10 rooms; best sections of city. Kempe, 87th, Broadway.

Grand Concourse Apartments.—See H. A. Douglas Co., 187th St. and Grand Concourse.

For apartments of from 3 to 10 rooms consult Paterno, 601 West 115th St.

130th, 660 West.—Elevator apartments, 5, 6, 7 rooms, $45 to $70.

Apartments to Let

Unfurnished.

Thirty-five cents an agate line.

THE NEWPORT,
52d Street, 200-206 West, s. e. cor. Broadway. Five and six rooms, $55 to $75. Elevator, steam heat, electric lights. Quiet and respectable building. Apply on premises or to
WM. A. WHITE & SONS,
46 Cedar Street. 'Phone 5700 John.

THE CHESTERSHIRE,
568-570 West 183d St.
1½ blocks from subway station; modern six-story elevator apartment, 6 and 7 rooms and bath; $45 to $65. Superintendent on premises.

128 West 11th St.—Leaving city; will sublet my attractive seven-room apartment; all outside, sunny rooms; high-class elevator house; regular rent $1,000; will sublet for $900. See Manager.

Central Park West, (98th St.)—Attractive 6-room modern elevator apartment; exclusive section; all improvements; newly decorated; unusual opportunity; sub-lease, 2 years to run. Call Bryant 4980.

St. Nicholas Av., 430, (facing St. Nicholas Park.)—Seven large, light rooms; steam heat; modern plumbing; location first class; $30. Janitor.

$24—5 ROOMS, BATH.
105th, West, (near Central Park.)—Steam heat, hot water; location unexcelled; small families only; no dogs. Janitor.

21ST ST., 210 WEST.—ELEVATOR APARTMENTS; 5 AND 6 ROOMS, ALL IMPROVEMENTS, $35 UP.

Carolyn Court, 414 West 121st St.—Choice 3-4-5 rooms and bath; $480-$720.

Brooklyn.

DEAN ST., 1,303, near New York Av., $30, $42; 1,045 Sterling Pl., near Brooklyn Av., $42; steam heat, hot water, telephone, vacuum cleaner; select neighborhood.

Bronx

5 and 6 room elevator apartment; all rooms facing street; including all modern improvements. Tremont Court, 1,950 Washington Av., Bronx.

Apartments Wanted

Thirty-five cents an agate line.

Furnished.

Have clients wanting handsomely furnished apartments, east, west side; high-class only. R. de FLOREZ, 501 5th Av.
Murray Hill 8850.

Unfurnished.

Two or three rooms, preferably unfurnished, with sleeping porch or roof; Manhattan; give full particulars. W 108 Times.

Boarders Wanted

Twenty-five cents an agate line.

East Side.

5TH AV., 47.—Unusual location; double, single room; steam heat; private bath.

15TH, 210 EAST, (Stuyvesant Park.)—Single, double rooms; home cooking; table guests.

34TH, 117-119 EAST. (Near Park Av.)—Large and single rooms, with board.

45TH ST., 8 EAST.
Table board; rooms; references.

73D, 12 EAST.—Double and single rooms; excellent table; references exchanged.

MADISON AV, 71.—Handsome third story room, suitable for two; also small.

MADISON AV., 213.—Rooms newly furnished, some with bath; table board; references.

West Side

5TH AV., 2,066, (127th.)—Large room, second floor; small room; excellent board.

16TH, 20-22 WEST.—Large, small rooms, well heated; unexcelled board; telephone.

43 WEST 47TH ST.
Attractively furnished rooms; first-class service; table unexcelled; every convenience; table guests.

47TH, 53 WEST.—Exceptional rooms, large, single; private bath; excellent board. 4589 Bryant.

53D, 57 WEST.—Quiet room, bath, suitable two; reasonable responsible parties; references.

54TH ST., 54 WEST.—Single and double rooms, suites; private baths; electricity.

56TH, 62 WEST. — Desirable large, small rooms, with board; suite, with bath; references.

57TH, 349 WEST.—One large room; southern exposure; private bath; board; references.

58TH, 37 WEST.—Attractive rooms; private baths; excellent cooking and service; table guests.

58TH, 146 WEST.—Handsomely furnished large and small rooms; table guests; references.

71ST, 120 WEST.—Single, double rooms, newly furnished; private baths; Hebrew social surroundings.

72D, 52 WEST. — Superior location and appointments; private family desiring Winter home.

72D, 157 WEST.—Handsomely furnished rooms; southern exposure; well-appointed house; references.

72D, 286 WEST.—Attractive location; large, small rooms; excellent meals; references; telephone; transients.

74TH, 102 WEST.—Desirable rooms; private baths; telephone; electricity; steam; table boarders.

75TH, 105 WEST.—Large room, with dressing room; also small room; home cooking; private family; references. Mrs. W. A. Ryerson.

75TH, 147 WEST.—BEAUTIFUL SECOND FLOOR; OTHER ROOMS; REFINED SURROUNDINGS; REFERENCE EXCHANGED.

76TH, 105 WEST.—Comfortable rooms; homelike; parlor dining; superior table; references; reasonable.

76TH, 249 WEST.—Attractive rooms; parlor dining; table guests; references.

76TH ST., 237, 239 WEST.—Large rooms, bath, single; excellent table; fine location.

78TH, 155 WEST.—Nicely furnished large, small rooms; running water; excellent board.

79TH, 114 and 132 WEST.—Unusual and attractive "pensions," with large parlors, tea room, and lounge; steam heat; private telephones; booklet on request.

79TH, 128 WEST.—Newly decorated, newly furnished; electric light, telephones; opened Oct. 1.

79TH, 122 WEST.—Attractive small and medium rooms; electricity; excellent cuisine.

80TH, 121-123 WEST.—Well-furnished, newly decorated, large, small rooms; private baths; continuous hot water; parlor dining; exclusive.

80TH, 106, 108, 110 WEST.—A satisfactory home for refined people; all new high-type furnishings; pure food, wholesome, generous, well-balanced meals; table guests.

80TH, 124 WEST.—Attractive large, small rooms; electricity; good table; parlor dining.

82D ST., 146 WEST.—THE BARRETT. Rooms furnished, unfurnished; elevator; table optional.

82D, 19 WEST. (Kenilworth.) — Desirable rooms; excellent table; parlor dining; table guests.

82D, 124 West, (Graycourt.)—New and attractively decorated; modern; table guests; booklet.

82D, 20 WEST.—Beautifully furnished rooms; excellent home cooking.

85TH, 130 WEST.—NEWLY DECORATED ROOMS; GOOD TABLE; REASONABLE TO BUSINESS PEOPLE; TELEPHONE.

86TH ST., 114 WEST.—Owner's home, large and small rooms, "L" and subway.

86TH ST., 23 WEST.
Superior accommodation; table board.

87TH, 138 WEST.—Refined home; large, small rooms; electricity; references; table guests.

89TH, 318 WEST.—Very attractive, large room; also skylight; every convenience; exclusive house; best home cooking; reference; table guests.

89TH, 306 WEST.—Refined Jewish home can accommodate few people; excellent cooking.

91ST, 51 WEST.—Large, furnished room, with private bath; excellent board; phone.

94TH, 18 WEST. — Attractive rooms; private bath; table boarders; excellent meals; references.

103D, 246 WEST.—Large room, dressing room; table guests; New Englanders.

106TH, 314 WEST.—Unusual accommodations in private home for bachelor or family; two large rooms and bath; also single room; near Riverside.

107TH, 322 WEST.—Unusual opportunity for bachelor or family to live in luxurious economy; three large rooms and bath; also single room; between Riverside and Broadway.

120TH, 116 WEST.—Elegant, large room, with beautiful private bathroom, suitable for couple or three; parlor floor dining room.

120TH, 7 WEST.—Attractive large and small rooms, with strictly kosher board; table guests.

122D, 158 WEST.—Well-furnished large, small rooms; refined house; home cooking.

137TH ST., 296 WEST.—Private house; well-furnished rooms, with bath; excellent Vienna table; telephone; reasonable.

140TH, 344 WEST. (Broadway subway near by.)—Bright rooms, good board, $8 up, single; $14 up two; every comfort; social surroundings. Telephone 2057 Audubon.

RIVERSIDE DRIVE, 583.—Beautiful rooms; southern exposure; refined surroundings; exceptional board; references.

Boarders Wanted

Twenty-five cents an agate line.

West Side.

THE FLORENCE, 888 St. Nicholas Av.,(155th St.)—A regular place for regular people.

WEST END AV., 520.—Residence for young girl students; home care, chaperonage; eleventh year.

WEST END AV., 930, (105th St.)—Couple, with references, can find congenial home in private family of two. Alston.

WEST END AV., 531, (86th St.)—SUPERIOR TABE BOARD. 8958 Schuyler.

Board Wanted

Twenty-five cents an agate line.

COUPLE and child, 11, wish two rooms and board with private family between 70th and 96th Sts.; references; answer fully. Box K 229 Times Downtown.

BOARD, room, by Christian girl; private home; Washington Heights; reasonable. K 212 Times Downtown.

YOUNG FOREIGNER, engineer, desires excellent room and board in private family. W 100 Times.

YOUNG WOMAN will exchange light services for room and board. W 90 Times.

Country Board

Thirty cents an agate line.

Westchester.

EDGEHILL INN,
SPUYTEN DUYVIL-ON-HUDSON.
Exclusive home for few guests; broad verandas; beautiful country; near country club; accessible to train and subway. Tel. 860 Kingsbridge.

HIGHCLIFFE HALL HOTEL, Park Hill, Yonkers.—Winter engagements low; unexcelled home cooking; large porches; well-heated house; river view. W. E. Robinson. Phone 2161 Yonkers.

New Jersey.

THE MARLBOROUGH,
45 North Arlington Av.,
East Orange, N. J.

"30 Minutes from Broadway."

Compare this with what you are paying and what you are getting for it—A parlor, bedroom, and private bath, with delicious meals, for $23 per week for two persons; exclusive and homelike; social conditions very pleasant. Take Lackawanna at Hoboken, hotel one block from East Orange station. Write for booklet. W. T. Reade, Prop.

ELMWOOD HOTEL,
43-45 SOUTH WALNUT ST.,
EAST ORANGE, N. J.

THIRTY MINUTES FROM BROADWAY. WILL GIVE YOU ROOM WITH PRIVATE BATH AND FIRST-CLASS BOARD FOR TWO PEOPLE, $18 to $30; FOR ONE, $10 TO $15. CALL OR PHONE 2085 ORANGE.

South Orange, 117 Scotland Road.—Refined family; beautiful home; near D., L. & W.; large room, private bath; excellent table; references.

Convalescents' home; trained nurses' care; moderate prices. Schofield, 234 Avenue A, Bayonne.

Furnished Rooms

Twenty-five cents an agate line.

East Side.

17TH ST., 130 EAST.—Desirable, well furnished rooms; bathroom floor; reasonable.

18TH, 113 EAST.—Rooms in refined home, Gramercy section, at subway; references.

23D ST., 20 EAST. (Madison Square South.) —Suite, two rooms and bath.

30TH ST., 119 EAST.—Newly furnished room; modern conveniences; gentleman.

31ST, 47 EAST.—Large, front room, near subway; all conveniences.

53D, 32 EAST.—Two large rooms with or without bath, electricity; gentlemen.

55TH, 71 EAST.—Large, newly decorated rooms; electric lights; all conveniences; references.

55TH, 71 EAST.—Two large, light rooms; electric light; running water; references.

56TH, 83 EAST.—Large, elegant rooms, bath adjoining; steam, electricity, phone; second floor.

57TH, 105 EAST.—Desirable room, front; also medium, spacious parlor floor; unsurpassed location; exclusive house; breakfast; gentlemen; references.

75TH, 1,044 Lexington Av.—Handsomely furnished room, bath, connecting; gentlemen only; references.

IRVING PLACE, 14.—Front rooms; box-spring beds; tiled bathroom; absolute cleanliness.

LEXINGTON AV, 686.—Elegant back parlor and one large room; references; telephone.

MADISON AV., 220.—Large, attractive studios for musical, meeting, dancing; studios subrented hourly, monthly; 8 rooms, furnished, unfurnished.

West Side

9TH, 17 WEST.—Private residence, charming accommodations; bachelors; hot-water plant, electricity; references.

12TH ST. 48 WEST.—Very large room, bath, $12; well-kept house.

40TH, 66 WEST.—Floor 2 rooms, bath, single, en suite; exclusive; electricity; references; bachelors.

44TH, 12 WEST, (The Mansfield.)—Highest class bachelor apartments, furnished or unfurnished, with complete hotel service; refrigeration; open fireplaces; excellent location.

49TH, 50 WEST.—Distinctive, en suite, separately, private bath; physician's suite. Bryant 9428.

52D, 55 WEST.—Large room; private bath; electricity; telephone; reasonable; gentleman only; references.

53D, 62 WEST.—Desirable double and single rooms, or en suite; private bath.

58TH, 128 WEST.—Handsome room, with alcove, bath adjoining; select location; electricity; telephone.

58TH, 49 WEST.—Large, elegant room; gas, electricity, bath, telephone; reasonable; light housekeeping.

58TH, 329 WEST, (Columbus Circle.)—Large, small rooms, all improvements; business people.

64TH ST., 115 WEST.—Large, pleasant room; running water; suitable one, two; moderate.

68TH, 71 WEST—Beautiful, sunny, large rooms; perfectly private house; moderate; references.

118 WEST 69TH ST.
West Hall.
Large room with southern exposure; saloon dressing room and private bath; suitable for two; also smaller room.

69TH, 111 WEST.—Desirable large room; steam, hot water, electricity, telephone; references.

70TH, to sublet, 4 beautifully furnished rooms and bath; suitable for business gentlemen; also single room; references. 2,080 Broadway. Telephone 6814. Apt. 5 East.

70TH, 220 WEST.—Desirable large room; electricity; private residence; gentlemen only; references.

70TH, 307 WEST.—Large, bright room, private house; all conveniences; suitable two gentlemen.

70TH, 134 WEST.—Beautiful, large, sunny rooms; private bath; private house; reference.

70TH, 286 WEST.—Light, sunny room, with private washroom, bath, electric light.

71ST, 57 WEST.—Large, sunny room; southern exposure; continuous hot water; references.

71ST, 66 WEST.—Large furnished rooms; telephone; improvements; near subway, "L" stations.

71ST, 251 WEST—Large room, suitable two; gentlemen or business women; private.

72D SUBWAY.—Single room, immaculately clean, next bath; gentleman; references; price $6. Apt. 1C. Phone Columbus 684.

72D, 248 WEST.—The Greystone, phone Columbus 1894; furnished room; excellent table.

72D, 120 WEST.—Newly decorated and refitted; electricity; private baths. M. Lues.

73D, 103 WEST.—Nicely decorated rooms; running water; large closets; gentlemen; moderate.

73D, 255 WEST.—Large rooms, with and without private bath; reference.

74TH, 149 WEST. — ATTRACTIVE ROOMS, SINGLE, DOUBLE, WITH AND WITHOUT PRIVATE BATHS; CONTINUOUS HOT WATER; REASONABLE.

74TH, 165 WEST. — Connecting rooms, elegantly furnished; separately or suite; bath; gentlemen.

75TH ST., (329 Amsterdam.)—Large, sunny room, adjoining bath; elevator; telephone; electricity; furnished or unfurnished; no other roomers. Wyeth

75TH, 147 WEST.—BEAUTIFUL SECOND FLOOR; OTHER ROOMS; REFINED SURROUNDINGS; REFERENCES EXCHANGED.

75TH, 124 WEST.—Large room; private bath; southern exposure; other rooms; telephone; references.

75TH, 159 WEST.—Newly furnished, high class, parquet floors, electric lights, private baths.

76TH ST., 100 WEST.—Large, sunny room; private family; elevator, telephone; reasonable. Jacobs.

76TH, 148 WEST.—Large, sunny, pleasant room; bath adjoining; electric light; telephone.

76TH ST., 140 WEST.—Furnished rooms, bath, modern improvements, $6 up; references exchanged.

76TH, 171 WEST.—Homelike, sunny rooms, continuous hot water, private baths, electricity.

76TH, 135 WEST. — Sunny front rooms; handsome back parlor, with private bath.

76TH, 37 WEST.—Attractive rooms, adjoining bath; table guests. Tel. 9725 Schuyler.

77TH ST., 102 WEST.
Very attractive, pleasant rooms; home comforts.

77TH, 125 WEST. — Desirable, homelike rooms; quiet private house; references; telephone.

77TH, 102 WEST.—Very attractive, pleasant rooms; home comforts.

80TH, 114 WEST. — Large rooms; private bath; lavatory, kitchenette; breakfast; $8 up.

80TH, 119 WEST.—Large room and bath, suites and small room.

81ST, 8 WEST.—Large back parlor, kitchenette; home comforts; electricity, steam.

82D, 152 WEST.—Moderate rates; handsomely furnished rooms; every convenience; "L," subway.

82D ST., 146 WEST. THE BARRETT. Rooms furnished, unfurnished; elevator; table optional.

82D ST., 134 WEST.—Large and medium second floor rooms; rates reasonable; references.

82D, 56 WEST.—Large, well-furnished room; private bath; electric lights; references.

82D, 90 WEST.—Exceptionally desirable front room, single, $3.50; bath adjoining. Anderson.

82D, 88 WEST.—Rent, beautiful large, small front room, newly furnished; references.

84TH, 31 WEST.—Unusual southern exposure 2d floor room; newly furnished, every convenience.

84TH, 56 WEST.—Newly decorated, sunny rooms; exclusive house; parlors for guests' use.

85TH, 207 WEST.—Large room, immaculate; running water; elevator; breakfasts; $5. Sharpies.

85TH, 213 WEST.—Nicely furnished room, adjoining bath; $3; private family. Wilson.

private residence; one or two gentlemen; all conveniences; references required; apply between 6 and 7.

87TH, 117 WEST.—Double rooms; strictly private family; moderate prices.

87TH, 153 WEST.—Will rent second floor in 87TH, 319 WEST.—Elegant large, also small room; gentleman; private family; references.

88TH, 335 WEST, (Drocaam Hall.)—Exclusive bachelor dwellings; rooms, $5 to $12; subway.

88TH, 29 WEST.—Large room, private bath; suitable for two; references; private house; telephone 10 Riverside.

90TH, 58 WEST.—Attractive rooms, running water, southern exposure; private house; reference. Barry.

91ST, 88 WEST.—Newly furnished residence, sunny rooms; with baths; electricity; $9-$11.

91ST, 66 WEST—Large alcove room; also medium sized and skylight rooms.

94TH ST., 55 WEST.—Handsomely furnished connecting rooms, and single; everything new; select house; references. Riverside 7987.

94TH, 153 WEST.—Beautifully furnished rooms; single, double; running water; private house; bachelors.

96TH, 316 WEST.—Private family; single room; large closet; gentlemen; apt. 41.

96TH, 11 WEST.—Front, sunny room, top floor; also medium room; reasonable.

96TH, 231 WEST.—Beautifully appointed guest room, facing Broadway; gentleman; exclusive. Apt. 3D.

97TH, 230 WEST.—Medium, well-furnished room; closets, water, heat; board. Apt. 6-A.

97TH ST., 305 WEST.—Desirable, attractive room; modern; reasonable. Apt. 4.

97TH, 316 WEST.—A sunny room; refined family; river view; next Drive.

97TH, 145 WEST.—Private house; unusually attractive, well furnished room, bath; gentleman.

102D, 202 WEST.—Large front and sunny outside room for responsible gentlemen desiring refined surroundings with private family; one block subway; references exchanged. Halsted.

102D, 311 WEST.—Large, handsomely furnished room; running water; bath adjoining; board optional.

102D, 302 WEST—Private house; large, comfortable room; suitable two gentlemen; bath.

107TH ST., 230 WEST.—Handsomely furnished rooms for gentleman; elevator. Apt. No. 1.

111TH ST., 515 WEST, (Apt. 3.)—Large, light outside room; gentlemen or couple preferred.

111TH, 515 WEST.—Large, light room; elevator; kitchen; call evening.

112TH, 511 WEST.—Nice room, near bath; elevator apartment; private family. Woodland.

113TH, 541 WEST.—Parlor, room adjoining; one, two gentlemen; private. Apt. 3.

114TH ST., 602 WEST.—Private American family will rent to a business gentleman large, outside, sunny room, with commanding view, overlooking Columbia campus; adjoins bath, with shower; elevator, electricity, telephone; cleanliness, comfort, independence. Garman, Apt. 81.

114TH, 540 WEST.—Small, sunny south room; terms reasonable.

118TH, 400 WEST.—Large, sunny front room, overlooking Morningside; elevator; electricity. Camp.

118TH, 414 WEST.—South rooms; elevator building, beside Columbia; kitchen privileges. Apt. 8.

119TH, 400 WEST.—Two large outside rooms, (bath, kitchen;) attractively furnished; $60.

122D, 500 WEST.—Double, single, outside rooms, en suite, separately; large closets; kitchen privileges. Whyte.

127TH, 13 WEST.—Nicely furnished, large and small rooms; all conveniences; moderate terms.

129TH, 257 WEST.—Room, bath; breakfast optional; gentleman; exclusive apartment; reasonable. Golding.

137TH ST., 306 WEST.—Large front room; southern exposure; running water; phone; conveniences.

139TH, (574 St. Nicholas Av.,) near 140th St. "L."—Large outside room, facing park; exclusive elevator apartment for one or two gentlemen; board optional. Bachrach, Apt. 6a.

143D, 501 WEST.—Large front room, southern exposure, adjoining bath; scrupulously clean; elevator apartment; all improvements. Apartment 27.

145TH, (676 Riverside Drive.)—Large, sunny room; subway; conveniences. Apartment F-1.

162D, WEST, (16 Jumel Terrace.)—Two, single, en suite; bath; running water; large closets; spotless; telephone; $4, $5.

184TH, 608 WEST.—Pleasant home for business woman; outside room; electricity, telephone; Christian family; $2.50. Apartment 20.

ALLERTON HOUSE FOR BACHELORS,
302 WEST 22D ST.
The comfort of home, the genial atmosphere and spirit of a well-appointed club for men of refinement; new fireproof building; roof garden; private showers; billiard room, library, and lounge; no tipping; running water every room; single, $4 to $6 weekly; rooms for two, $3 to $3.50 weekly each.

BROADWAY, 2,880, (112th.)—Two fine and unusually large rooms, adjoining bath; high-class apartment. Vosburgh. Telephone 2903 Morningside.

BROADWAY, (168th)—Seven rooms; two baths; 2 S, rooms, bath. Audubon 8515. Ellsworth.

CENTRAL PARK WEST, (86th St.)—Couple, having charming apartment, rent delightful outside room; private lavatory; excellent transportation. 7015 Columbus.

FORT WASHINGTON AV., 454.—Beautifully furnished rooms, with private bath; $5 weekly; also very large rooms, suitable for two, $6 weekly; gentlemen only; exclusive apartment; ideal location. Apt. 49.

LARGE PARLOR and alcove, newly furnished; conveniences; suitable for couple. W 42 Times.

LARGE, small rooms; running water; kitchen, laundry, verandas; on Hudson. Aud. 1487.

MOST DESIRABLE FRONT ROOM, overlooking Central Park; exclusive elevator apartment; exceptionally reasonable. Columbus 8377.

SOUTHEAST CORNER 118TH ST. AND ST. NICHOLAS AV.—Handsomely furnished rooms, with or without bath, from $6 to $10 per week; full hotel and elevator service; restaurant; very moderately priced.

ST. NICHOLAS AV., 851.—Large room, adjoining bath; telephone, electric light, elevator. Apartment 24.

ST. NICHOLAS, 285.—Private family desires gentleman roomer; modern apartment. Apt. 33.

WEST END AV., 676, (93d St.)—Two elegantly furnished rooms, with board.

Brooklyn.

ST. MARK'S AV., 101.—Large, handsomely furnished room; all conveniences; phone; very cheap.

Furnished Rooms

Twenty-five cents an agate line.

West Side

76TH ST., 140 WEST.—Furnished rooms, bath, modern improvements, $6 up; references exchanged.

76TH, 171 WEST.—Homelike, sunny rooms, continuous hot water, private baths, electricity.

76TH, 135 WEST. — Sunny front rooms; handsome back parlor, with private bath.

76TH, 37 WEST.—Attractive rooms, adjoining bath; table guests. Tel. 9725 Schuyler.

77TH ST., 102 WEST.
Very attractive, pleasant rooms; home comforts.

77TH, 125 WEST. — Desirable, homelike rooms; quiet private house; references; telephone.

77TH, 102 WEST.—Very attractive, pleasant rooms; home comforts.

80TH, 114 WEST. — Large rooms; private bath; lavatory, kitchenette; breakfast; $8 up.

80TH, 119 WEST.—Large room and bath, suites and small room.

81ST, 8 WEST.—Large back parlor, kitchenette; home comforts; electricity, steam.

82D, 152 WEST.—Moderate rates; handsomely furnished rooms; every convenience; "L," subway.

82D ST., 146 WEST. THE BARRETT. Rooms furnished, unfurnished; elevator; table optional.

82D ST., 134 WEST.—Large and medium second floor rooms; rates reasonable; references.

82D, 56 WEST.—Large, well-furnished room; private bath; electric lights; references.

82D, 90 WEST.—Exceptionally desirable front room, single, $3.50; bath adjoining. Anderson.

82D, 88 WEST.—Rent, beautiful large, small front room, newly furnished; references.

84TH, 31 WEST.—Unusual southern exposure 2d floor room; newly furnished, every convenience.

84TH, 56 WEST.—Newly decorated, sunny rooms; exclusive house; parlors for guests' use.

85TH, 207 WEST.—Large room, immaculate; running water; elevator; breakfasts; $5. Sharpies.

85TH, 213 WEST.—Nicely furnished room, adjoining bath; $3; private family. Wilson.

private residence; one or two gentlemen; all conveniences; references required; apply between 6 and 7.

87TH, 117 WEST.—Double rooms; strictly private family; moderate prices.

87TH, 153 WEST.—Will rent second floor in 87TH, 319 WEST.—Elegant large, also small room; gentleman; private family; references.

88TH, 335 WEST, (Drocaam Hall.)—Exclusive bachelor dwellings; rooms, $5 to $12; subway.

88TH, 29 WEST.—Large room, private bath; suitable for two; references; private house; telephone 10 Riverside.

90TH, 58 WEST.—Attractive rooms, running water, southern exposure; private house; reference. Barry.

91ST, 88 WEST.—Newly furnished residence, sunny rooms; with baths; electricity; $9-$11.

91ST, 66 WEST—Large alcove room; also medium sized and skylight rooms.

94TH ST., 55 WEST.—Handsomely furnished connecting rooms, and single; everything new; select house; references. Riverside 7987.

94TH, 153 WEST.—Beautifully furnished rooms; single, double; running water; private house; bachelors.

96TH, 316 WEST.—Private family; single room; large closet; gentlemen; apt. 41.

96TH, 11 WEST.—Front, sunny room, top floor; also medium room; reasonable.

96TH, 231 WEST.—Beautifully appointed guest room, facing Broadway; gentleman; exclusive. Apt. 3D.

97TH, 230 WEST.—Medium, well-furnished room; closets, water, heat; board. Apt. 6-A.

97TH ST., 305 WEST.—Desirable, attractive room; modern; reasonable. Apt. 4.

97TH, 316 WEST.—A sunny room; refined family; river view; next Drive.

97TH, 145 WEST.—Private house; unusually attractive, well furnished room, bath; gentleman.

102D, 202 WEST.—Large front and sunny outside room for responsible gentlemen desiring refined surroundings with private family; one block subway; references exchanged. Halsted.

102D, 311 WEST.—Large, handsomely furnished room; running water; bath adjoining; board optional.

102D, 302 WEST—Private house; large, comfortable room; suitable two gentlemen; bath.

107TH ST., 230 WEST.—Handsomely furnished rooms for gentleman; elevator. Apt. No. 1.

111TH ST., 515 WEST, (Apt. 3.)—Large, light outside room; gentlemen or couple preferred.

111TH, 515 WEST.—Large, light room; elevator; kitchen; call evening.

112TH, 511 WEST.—Nice room, near bath; elevator apartment; private family. Woodland.

113TH, 541 WEST.—Parlor, room adjoining; one, two gentlemen; private. Apt. 3.

114TH ST., 602 WEST.—Private American family will rent to a business gentleman large, outside, sunny room, with commanding view, overlooking Columbia campus; adjoins bath, with shower; elevator, electricity, telephone; cleanliness, comfort, independence. Garman, Apt. 81.

114TH, 540 WEST.—Small, sunny south room; terms reasonable.

118TH, 400 WEST.—Large, sunny front room, overlooking Morningside; elevator; electricity. Camp.

118TH, 414 WEST.—South rooms; elevator building, beside Columbia; kitchen privileges. Apt. 8.

119TH, 400 WEST.—Two large outside rooms, (bath, kitchen;) attractively furnished; $60.

122D, 500 WEST.—Double, single, outside rooms, en suite, separately; large closets; kitchen privileges. Whyte.

127TH, 13 WEST.—Nicely furnished, large and small rooms; all conveniences; moderate terms.

129TH, 257 WEST.—Room, bath; breakfast optional; gentleman; exclusive apartment; reasonable. Golding.

137TH ST., 306 WEST.—Large front room; southern exposure; running water; phone; conveniences.

139TH, (574 St. Nicholas Av.,) near 140th St. "L."—Large outside room, facing park; exclusive elevator apartment for one or two gentlemen; board optional. Bachrach, Apt. 6a.

143D, 501 WEST.—Large front room, southern exposure, adjoining bath; scrupulously clean; elevator apartment; all improvements. Apartment 27.

145TH, (676 Riverside Drive.)—Large, sunny room; subway; conveniences. Apartment F-1.

162D, WEST, (16 Jumel Terrace.)—Two, single, en suite; bath; running water

VITAGRAPH Theatre, Broadway & 44th St. 3D MONTH. TREMENDOUS BUSINESS.
TWICE TO-DAY & EVERY DAY, 2:30 & 8:30.
The Powerful Patriotic Photo Spectacle.

J. STUART BLACKTON & ALBERT E. SMITH present "The Greatest War Drama Ever Filmed." —N. Y. American
THE BATTLE CRY of PEACE
Based on Hudson Maxim's "Defenseless America."
Written by J. STUART BLACKTON.
Featuring CHARLES RICHMAN.
Vitagraphed by Wilfrid North. 30,000 Soldiers—Aeroplanes—Seaplanes. Submarines—Battleships—Dreadnoughts—Artillery, Etc.
SCHOOL CHILDREN'S MATINEE NEXT SATURDAY MORNING AT 11 O'CLOCK—Special Prices: Entire Orch. 50c. Entire Bal. 25c.
REGULAR PRICES EVES.: 25-50-75-1.00-2.00. MATS.: 25-50-1.00.
"A CALL TO ARMS AGAINST WAR."

NEW YORK'S LEADING THEATRES.
EMPIRE Broadway & 40th St. Evgs. at 8. Mats. Today, Sat. & Elect. Day 2.
WM. GILLETTE
NOV. 6th FINAL PERFORMANCE OF His Famous Success, SHERLOCK HOLMES
NOV. 8th, "SECRET SERVICE."
LYCEUM West 45th Street. Evgs. at 8:20. Mats. Tom'w, Sat., Elec. Day 2:20.
ETHEL BARRYMORE IN HER GREAT COMEDY SUCCESS, OUR MRS. McCHESNEY
NEW AMSTERDAM THEATRE, W. 42d St.
MONDAY NIGHT, NOV. 1ST. SEATS NOW. KLAW & ERLANGER WILL PRESENT
AROUND THE MAP
A Musical Globe Trot by C. M. S. McLELLAN. Music by Herman Finck.
After the Play Visit DANSE DE FOLLIES. ZIEGFELD MID-NIGHT FROLIC "Meeting Place of the World" Atop New Amsterdam Theatre
GAIETY B'way, 46th St. Evs. 8:20. Matinees TODAY, Sat. & Election Day 2:20. MATINEE TODAY BEST SEATS $1, $1.50.
YOUNG AMERICA
GEO. M. COHAN'S B'way, 42d St. Evs. 8:15. Mats. Today, Sat. & Elec. Day. POPULAR PRICE MATINEE TODAY. Last Week "MISS INFORMATION"
ELSIE JANIS
HUDSON West 44th St. Evenings at 8:15. Mats. Today, Sat. & Elec. Day. "THE SHENANDOAH" OF 1915."—Times.
Under Fire
With WM. COURTENAY.
HARRIS West 42d Street. Evenings at 8:15. Mats. Today, Sat. & Elec. Day 2:15.
ROLLING STONES
FULTON 46th St., nr. Broadway. Evs. 8:30. FIRST MATINEE TODAY 2:30.
H. H. FRAZEE ANNOUNCES
SHERMAN WAS RIGHT
A NEW FARCE BY FRANK MANDEL.
AT LIBERTY W. 42d St. 2:15 & 8:15.
THE FIVE TWICE Daily, Incind. Sunday. Ev. & Sat. Mat. 25-50-75-$1-$2. Other Mats.....25c, 50c & $1.
D. W. GRIFFITH'S GIGANTIC SPECTACLE. Symphony Orchestra of Forty.
CANDLER West 42d Street. Bryant 6344. Evs 8:15. Mats. Today, Sat. & Tues.
MATINEE TODAY BEST SEATS $1, $1.50.
THE HOUSE OF GLASS
with Mary Ryan and the Great All-American Cast. Orch., $2, $1.50. 500 Seats 1st Balc., 50c, 75c, $1.
REPUBLIC West 42d Street. Evenings 8:20. Mats. Today, Sat. & Elec. Day.
COMMON CLAY with JOHN MASON and JANE COWL
SEATS SELLING 8 WEEKS IN ADVANCE.
BELASCO West 44th Street. Evenings 8:30. Mats. Tom'w, Sat. & Elec. Day.
"BULLY FUN."—Post. "FULL OF LAUGHS."—Mail.
THE BOOMERANG
ASTOR B'way, 45th St. Evs. 8:20. Bryant 287. Mats. Today, Sat. & Elec. Day 2:20.
MATINEE TODAY BEST SEATS $1, $1.50.
Geo. M. COHAN'S Great American Farce,
HIT-THE-TRAIL-HOLLIDAY
With FRED NIBLO as "BILLY HOLLIDAY."
GLOBE EVERY NIGHT AND MATINEES TODAY, Saturday & Election Day.
MONTGOMERY & STONE in THE OLD CHIN

CORT West 48th Street. Phone Bryant 46. Evs. 8:10. Mat. Today (Pop.) & Sat. 2:15
THE PRINCESS PAT Eleanor Painter
"BEST COMIC OPERA IN YEARS."—Chas. Darnton, Evening World.
LEXINGTON 51st St. & Lex. Evs. 25c to $1. Mat. Tomorrow 25c & 50c. "The Natural Law"
STANDARD B'way & 90th St. Evs. 25c to $1. Mat. Today 25c & 50c. "THE SHOW SHOP"
Sun. Eve. Symphony Concert N. Y. Orchestral Soc'y.
LONGACRE W. 48th St. Bryant 23. Evs. 8:20. Pop. Mats. Today, Sat. & Nov. 2.
THE GIRL WHO SMILES
Musical Hit by authors of "Alma," "Adele," &c.

Every officer and every man in the army and the navy urges every American citizen to SEE THE BATTLE CRY of PEACE!

PARK THEATRE, 59th St. & Col. Circle. Daily 2:30—4—8 & 9:15.
FOR WOMEN ONLY—Only Authentic Motion Pictures in the World of
Twilight Sleep
And Lecture by Dr. Kurt E. Schlossingk.

Triangle Plays This Week: Ford Sterling in "His Father's Footsteps," "Martyrs of the Alamo," "Pickle Fatty's Fall." Julia Dean in "Matrimony."
Evenings at 8. Matinees at 2. Matinees, 25c and 50c. Evenings, 25c, 50c, 75c, $1, and $2.
Knickerbocker Theatre, B'way & 38th St.

"Peace at any price for America means the price Europe is now paying." SEE THE BATTLE CRY of PEACE!

Century 62d St., nr. Broadway. Evs. 8:15. Mats. Tues., Thurs. & Sat. 2:15. Phone 8600 Columbus.
Continental Music Hall. Smoking Sections.
NED WAYBURN'S TOWN TOPICS
SUNDAY EVE. CONCERT—15 BIG ACTS.

B. F. KEITH'S PALACE B'WAY, 47 ST. Daily Mat. 25c to $1. ANNA HELD Harry FOX & Yansci DOLLY, Harry Green, David Sapirstein, Arnaut Bros. Others.
COLONIAL Mats. Daily 25c. LUBOWSKA, WHITING & BURT, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Barry, others.
ALHAMBRA Mat. Daily 25c. EVELYN NESBIT & JACK CLIFFORD, McKay & Ardine, oths.
Loew's American Roof 42d St. & 8th Av. Every Eve. at 8:15. FRANK BUSH, CHAS. BACHMANN & CO., 10 Oths. ALL SEATS RESERVED 25c, 35c, 50c. Enclosed, Heated, Comfortable.

"To neglect one's liberty is to lose it—To neglect one's country is to perish with it." SEE THE BATTLE CRY of PEACE!

STRAND B'way & 47th St. Noon to 11:30. 10c to 50c. BLANCHE RING "The Yankee Girl" Next Week Geraldine Farrar in "Carmen" Strand Orch. & Soloists
COLUMBIA B'way Burlesque & 47th. Matinee Today. Geo. STONE—Etta PILLARD and The Social Maids.
YORKVILLE 86th St., Burlesque at 3d Av. Mat. Today 15c to 50c. FROLICS OF 1915 Smoking Permitted.
GARRICK 35th St., nr. B'way. BURLESQUE "Blue Ribbon Belles" Mat. Today. 15, 25, 50c.
IRVING PLACE THEATRE TONIGHT at 8:15. Lehmanns Kinder. Thurs., Ein Idealer Gatte.
Bandbox, 57 & 3d Av. Plaza 812. Mats. Sat. & Elec. WASHINGTON SQ. PLAYERS Evgs. 8:45.

RITZ CARLTON HOTEL
Bazar de Charite
and
Fashion Revue
Thursday and Friday Evenings, Oct. 28-29, at nine o'clock, To Aid
French Wounded Emergency Fund
Tickets $5.00, Including Supper.
Boxes, holding six, $30.00.
DANCING
Tables Reserved for Supper Parties.
Tickets Can Be Had at the Ritz Carlton, or Vacation War Relief Committee, 38 WEST 39TH ST.
PROGRAM GIVEN BY
ELSIE JANIS — MAURICE FARKOA
GRACE FIELD — MELVILLE ELLIS
DOLLY SISTERS — BETTY LEE
Fashion Revue Directed by J. M. Gidding.

The Biltmore
MORNING MUSICALES
Management of Mr. R. E. JOHNSTON.
Grand Ballroom, Hotel Biltmore, at 11, Nov. 5, 19, Dec. 3, 17, Jan. 14, 28, Feb. 11, 25.
ARTISTS ENGAGED:
Frances Alda — Fritz Kreisler
Lucrezia Bori — Giovanni Martinelli
Clarence Bird — Mme. Melba
Enrico Caruso — Rosa Olitzka
Camille Decreus — Lucile Orrell
Mischa Elman — Ignace Paderewski
Geraldine Farrar — Marie Rappold
Anna Fitziu — Antonio Scotti
Rosina Galli — Louis Siegel
Mabel Garrison — Andreas de Segurola
Leopold Godowsky — Albert Spalding
Frieda Hempel — Theodore Spiering
Josef Hofmann — Andre Tourret
Beatrice de Holthoir — Aline Van Barentzen
Louise Homer — Mary Warfel
Subscription Price, Res. Seats, $20 for 8 concerts; single seats, $3; subscription price for boxes, $200 for eight concerts; single box, $30. Now on sale at R. E. Johnston's office, 1451 Broadway. Knabe Piano.

CARNEGIE HALL, Sat. Aft., Oct. 30, at 2:30
—VIOLIN RECITAL— MISCHA
ELMAN
(STEINWAY PIANO.) Mgt. Wolfsohn Bureau.
CARNEGIE HALL, TUES. AFT., NOV. 2d, 2:30.
SCHUMANN-HEINK ONLY SONG RECITAL THIS SEASON
(STEINWAY PIANO.) Mgt. Wolfsohn Bureau.
Carnegie Hall, Sunday Aft., Oct. 31, at 3.
Mme. MELBA
Assisted by BEATRICE HARRISON, 'Cello; ROBERT PARKER, Baritone; FRANK ST. LEGER, Piano
Tickets, $1, $1.50, $2, $2.50. Boxes, $15, $18.
Now on sale at Box Office.
Direction C. A. Ellis, Mason & Hamlin Piano.

SYMPHONY
Society of New York
WALTER DAMROSCH, Conductor.
NEXT SUNDAY AFT., OCT. 31, AT 3.
GRAINGER
TSCHAIKOWSKY PROGRAM.
Seats at Box Office, Aeolian Hall.

MANHATTAN OPERA HOUSE
BOSTON GRAND OPERA CO.
PAVLOWA BALLET RUSSE Matinee Today 2:30. 50c to $2.50.
"Puppen-Fee" & "Snowflakes," with Pavlowa, Volinine & Ballet. Tonight at 8, "Carmen," with Gay, Zenatello, Mardones, Saroya, Gottschalk, Clement, Kaufman, Pulli, Moranzoni, Pavlowa & Ballet.

PHILHARMONIC
SOCIETY OF NEW YORK
JOSEF STRANSKY, CONDUCTOR.
Tomorrow (Thurs.) Evg. 8:15 & Next Fri. Aft. 2:30.
MacDowell, Max Reger, Berlioz, and TCHAIKOVSKY'S 4TH SYMPHONY.
CARNEGIE HALL. Tickets at Box Office.

Aeolian Hall, 2nd Recital Mon. Eve., Nov. 1, 8:15
CLARA AND DAVID
MANNES
Schumann and Beethoven Sonatas and Chausson Concerto with the assistance of the Saslavsky Quartet.
Tickets at Box Office and Haensel & Jones, Aeolian Hall. Tel. Bryant 6427. Steinway Piano.

GODOWSKY
SECOND PIANO RECITAL
CARNEGIE HALL, SAT. AFT., NOV. 13.
Popular Prices, 50 cts. to $1.50, on sale at Box Office. Management R. E. Johnston. Knabe Piano.

MAY PETERSON
Opera Comique, Paris—Song Recital.
Aeolian Hall, Tomorrow (Thurs.) Aft. 3. Seats now.

CARNEGIE HALL, Sun. Aft., Nov. 7, at 3.
CONCERT BY JOHN McCormack
TICKETS NOW AT BOX OFFICE.

AEOLIAN HALL, Tues. Aft., Nov. 2, at 3.
First of Six Historical Recitals by OSSIP Gabrilowitsch
Mgt. of Loudon Charlton. Mason & Hamlin Piano.
AEOLIAN HALL, Fri. Eve., Oct. 29, at 8:15
VIOLIN RECITAL
RODERICK WHITE
Tickets $2, 1.50, 1.00, 75 & 50c. Now at Box Office.

Men with mothers and wives to protect—SEE THE BATTLE CRY of PEACE!

AEOLIAN HALL, This Afternoon at 3.
Piano Recital by LESTER DONAHUE
50c. to $2. Management Loudon Charlton.
AEOLIAN HALL, Sat. Aft., Oct. 30, at 3.
Piano Recital by HAROLD BAUER
Mgt. Loudon Charlton. Mason & Hamlin Piano.
AEOLIAN HALL, Thurs. Eve., Oct. 28, at 8:30.
SONG RECITAL.
FREDERIC MARTIN BASSO.
Tickets, 50c. to $1.50. Mgt. Foster & David.
AEOLIAN HALL, Fri. Aft., Oct. 29, at 3.
Song Recital by Mme. GADSKI
50c to $2. Management Loudon Charlton.

American Citizens! "A man's right to vote carries with it the obligation to bear arms for his country."—SEE THE BATTLE CRY of PEACE!

CITY PLACEHOLDERS FIGHT CONSTITUTION

Forum Says Home-Rule Plan Will Throw Civil Service Into Politics.

PARSONS ANSWERS THEM

Who Is to Run This State and City? He Asks—Those Employed or the People Who Employ Them?

Civil service employes in the Municipal Building found on their desks yesterday morning a pamphlet issued by the Civil Service Forum, and advising every employe of the city to vote against the proposed Constitution because "while home rule as a principle is desirable, the plan proposed, if adopted, will throw civil service into politics."

J. J. O'Reilly, Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Forum, is editor of The Chief, and William B. Ellison, another member of the committee, is counsel for policemen's organizations.

Parsons Comments on the Forum.

Herbert Parsons, Delegate at Large to the Constitutional Convention, when asked what he thought of the Forum's argument, looked over the leaflet and said:

"Well, 'the tree with the good apples gets the most stones.' This leaflet is aimed at home rule. The attitude of these employes should arouse every one who believes in home rule to vote for the proposed Constitution. For what is home rule unless it means that the people of the cities have the right to say how many public servants they shall employ and what they shall pay them? There is no home rule without that power, and it is because the new Constitution gives to the cities that power that the civil service employes are urged to be against it.

"The attitude of the Civil Service Forum is just like that of most of the other persons opposed to the proposed Constitution. The new measure is too good; it is in the interests of the people as a whole. Some kinds of persons fear that they cannot work things for their own personal advantage under the new Constitution as well as they have been able to under the present one, and therefore they do not want the change. That is, they don't want what is to the people's advantage.

Who Is to Run the City?

"If by any chance the proposed Constitution should not be adopted, New York City will never get any home rule, because the civil service employes will say that they defeated the present proposal, and in a new convention the fear that these same interests would defeat in turn its Constitution, if it contained a real measure of home rule, would prevent such a measure being incorporated.

"Who is to run this State and city? Those employed by the State and city or the people of the State and city who employ them? This leaflet of the Civil Service Forum puts this question squarely before the voters.

"To vote against the Constitution at the behest of those who appear to have vested interests in the continuance of the old system is folly; to inject into the question partisan considerations is stupid, and to show no interest in the matter is imbecile," said Frederic R. Coudert yesterday. "For home rule is nothing more important in our State than this question of the Constitution. The great contribution of America to political science has been that of the written Constitution embodying the fundamental principles of our people and safeguarding the acquisitions which years of political experience have given us.

"This Constitution was framed by an exceptional body of men and under exceptional circumstances. I am absolutely convinced that it is untainted by partisanship or narrowness. It is a safe and sound endeavor to meet dangers that have been besetting the representative system during these last years—that have led to the cry for nostrums which would be little better than destructive of political doctrines and principles developed as the resultants of experience since the time of Magna Charta. If representative government has become misrepresentative of all except partisan politics and bossism, it was mainly because the elector found himself lost amid the multiplicity of officers which so divided the responsibility as to leave the citizen almost impotent. This Constitution makes an effort to maintain really representative government by focusing responsibility in a few individuals.

For Representative Government.

"Next in importance to this great reform is the endeavor to create a sane and sound system of taxation by a budget system, such as is in force in every great community save our own.

"It has been true since the time of the great charter that delay was denial of justice, and the New York procedure has become almost a public scandal. The judiciary article of the Constitution has endeavored, within the line of best experience in English speaking communities throughout the world to remedy this evil.

"The adoption of the Constitution will not bring about the millennium and until the citizens take a more active part in their own affairs, there will be abuses, and the politician will continue his ancient practices. We will, however, have an instrument of government which, if not perfect, at least it embodies in it sound features, making the existence of real representative government possible to a community that really desires it."

The Committee on Governmental efficiency, headed by Miles M. Dawson, yesterday made a report to the Efficiency Society, Inc., on the proposed Constitution, in which it said:

"In every respect the amendments embraced in the proposed Constitution of the State of New York are found by this committee to be such as will greatly increase the efficiency and economy of State and Municipal Government, and will, in our opinion, remedy the most serious evils of the existing conditions.

"Whatever faults may be found with the proposed Constitution reasonably are those of omission only, and these may be attended to, one by one, by subsequent amendments, and are not such as would warrant postponing and thereby certainly jeopardizing the securing for the State, the city, and the people of New York the great affirmative benefits and advantages of the adoption of this Constitution."

Besides Mr. Dawson the members of the committee are Dr. Fabian Franklin, Winston Paul, Arthur R. Marsh, Francis D. Pollak, A. L. Gutman and Ward Melville.

Professor Dawson Cites Berlin.

The Committee for the Adoption of the Constitution last night issued a statement by Professor Edgar Dawson of Hunter College, in which he said:

"It has recently been said that even during the war Berlin is making great progress in municipal betterment, and that New York in times of peace cannot lay out a plan for handling its own garbage without encountering reversal and rebuke from a doubting State Executive, and that no Prussian authority would dream of interfering with Berlin's methods of keeping itself the best run city in the world. Yet the same newspaper which gave such publicity to these sentiments is now strenuously and vociferously opposing the adoption of a revision of the State Constitution which would make it possible for New York City to make itself the best run city in America. The proposed Constitution provides the only method by which the present situation can possibly be changed."

STIMSON SEES A CONSPIRACY.

Warns Voters of Danger in a 1917 Tammany Convention.

The Committee for the Adoption of the Constitution with headquarters in Albany has given out a careful summary of the new Constitution's merits and the objections made to it prepared by Henry L. Stimson. Mr. Stimson's concluding paragraph says:

"During the last two weeks a definite conspiracy has come to light, voiced by some of the newspapers of New York City and evidently originating in the neighborhood of Tammany Hall, to defeat this constitution in order that a new convention may be held in 1917 under different auspices.

"Let up-State voters beware how they play into the hands of this conspiracy. Let them remember the attempt that was made to gain control of the last convention by those same conspirators. Let them remember the fraudulent votes that were cast in the gas house district controlled by Mr. Murphy in the special election in June, 1914, and which was subsequently brought to light in the court investigation.

"A new convention in 1917 might not protect the legitimate interests of the up-State citizen as well as these were protected by the convention of 1915. I very much doubt whether either the up-State Republicans or Democrats would prefer the efforts or results of a convention in 1917 controlled in the interests of Tammany Hall to the one last Summer presided over by Elihu Root."

CONDEMNED BY LABOR MEN.

New Constitution Opposed at Allied Printing Trades Meeting.

Resolutions opposing the proposed Constitution were adopted last night by more than 400 members of the printing trades and delegates from twenty-one unions claiming a membership of 22,000, who attended a conference under the auspices of the Allied Printing Trades Council of Greater New York, 63 Park Row. Speeches were made by State Senator Robert F. Wagner, James P. Holland, President of the State Federation of Labor, and others.

The proposed Constitution was opposed on the grounds that it "seeks to remove the government of this State from the people by substituting for representative vote-controlled administration a system that locates in appointed commissions the power to make law; diminishes the powers of the Legislature; exalts the Governor to the place of dictator; places the military courts above the civil courts, and makes private citizens liable to military arrest and punishment; elevates inferior court Judges to permanent membership in our Court of Appeals without nomination or election; permits other inferior court Judges to be appointed to our Court of Appeals to the extent that the appointees will form a majority of such court; offers as a 'speedy trial' method a plan of procedure that will constitutionalize railroading of the friendless and helpless to State Prison without indictment or trial."

Furthermore, the conferees held the belief that the Constitutional Convention was "controlled by interests."

WINNECONNE TO SAIL, DEFYING ADMIRALTY

Ship Unjustly Classed as German-Owned, Her Charterers, Graham & Co., Declare.

The steamship Winneconne, chartered by P. H. Graham & Co. of 17 Battery Place, which is now loading a cargo of food and other noncontraband supplies for Danish and Swedish ports, and which is one of the forty-seven ships posted by the British Admiralty a few days ago as being either controlled or owned by German capital, will sail as scheduled for Copenhagen and Gothenburg, despite the British warning, it was announced at the office of Graham & Co. yesterday. Mr. Graham, the son of an English Baronet, but himself an American citizen, told a representative of THE NEW YORK TIMES that there was not a single man concerned in the ownership or charter of the Winneconne who was not a native-born American citizen. Mr. Graham, who is the son of Sir Robert James Stuart Graham, was born in this country.

In a half-page advertisement that appeared in yesterday's Journal of Commerce, Graham & Co. announced that the Winneconne would sail as scheduled.

The British Admiralty warning was published in this country last Sunday, and on Monday the cancellations of cargo in the case of the Winneconne entailed a loss of more than $10,000 to Graham & Co., despite the fact, as Mr. Graham pointed out yesterday, that every ounce in that cargo was inspected and passed upon by representatives of the British Government before it was accepted for shipment. Not only did officials of the British Consulate personally inspect and pass upon every box and package, but they even went so far, Mr. Graham said, as to X-ray the shipments that were in bales. For rendering this service Mr. Graham gave his check for $250 to the British Consulate General. The check was paid to the Consulate General on Oct. 19, and Mr. Graham has a receipt.

Mr. Graham, when he figured up what his cancellations had cost him, decided to appeal to the shipping public for support in a fight he determined to make upon the legality of the Admiralty order. He thereupon inserted in The Journal of Commerce the advertisement, in part as follows:

Will the United States Government allow this ship to be "blacklisted"?

Will the United States Government refuse protection to its citizens and their commercial interests so long as they are strictly neutral?

We are an American corporation all of whose stockholders are United States citizens. We are conducting only a legitimate neutral business. We are within the law and we will insist upon our rights.

How long will our Government permit another nation to dictate how we will do business with neutrals?

Will we permit that nation to ruin our small merchant marine?

Mr. Shipper, is the American flag of any value to you?

"This proceeding of the Admiralty in blacklisting the Winneconne," said Mr. Graham, "is nothing short of outrageous. No one can accuse me of being pro-German, for I see anything else than

DETECTIVE CAUSES PANIC IN SUBWAY

Beats Yonkers Youth at 72d St. After Dragging Him from a Train.

WOMEN SCREAM AT PISTOL

McConeghy Locked Up and Suspended by Inspector After Business Men Tell of His Actions.

John Manning, 19 years old, of 25 St. Mary's Avenue, Yonkers, a clerk in the Department of Public Works of that city, was badly beaten last night on the island platform of the subway at Seventy-second Street, by Detective Sergeant Alexander R. McConeghy of the Second Branch, and would probably have been killed if the cartridges in the detective's revolver had not been defective.

When a downtown express pulled into the station at 7:30 o'clock, the platform was crowded with theatregoers, and they were amazed to see the detective suddenly strike Manning and pull his revolver, which he flourished, causing women to scream and ending by creating a panic. Manning was knocked down and kicked. Some of the spectators ran to the street and notified two traffic policemen. They found the young man only partly conscious and covered with blood.

The traffic policemen caught hold of McConeghy, who was waving his revolver about in the air. Then the Detective Sergeant showed them his gold badge and said that Manning had been disorderly and was interfering with passengers.

McConeghy took Manning to the West Sixty-eighth Street Police Station and made the same charge before Lieutenant Dempsey. He said further that Manning had resisted him. Gustave Weir, a special policeman of the Interborough, who had tried to prevent McConeghy from beating Manning, also went to the station house and asked that a charge be made against the Detective Sergeant for flourishing a revolver and causing a panic among the passengers at the station.

Weir said that when the train had pulled into the station he saw a commotion and broke through the crowd to see Manning thrown to the floor and the Detective Sergeant kicking him repeatedly in the face. He said McConeghy was flourishing his revolver, and, when he interfered, told him to get out of his way or he would shoot him. Weir tried to get the reveiver and cut his hand badly. He continued the struggle until the traffic policemen arrived.

Lieutenant Dempsey called Dr. Thomas from the Polyclinic Hospital, who dressed Manning's wounds. He had a cut in the head which required several stitches, two of his teeth were knocked out, and his face was badly cut and bruised. The doctor dressed Weir's hand, which had several deep gashes between the thumb and forefinger.

The Lieutenant ordered that Manning be taken to Night Court, and McConeghy was pacing up and down the station house, waiting for the patrol wagon, when Thomas Donkerton, manager of an distilling company with offices at 2 Rector Street, burst into the station. He rushed up to the desk and demanded breathlessly of the Lieutenant, "Where's that boy?"

He was told that Manning was in the back room and then he said: "I never thought to thank Heaven that you haven't got a corpse here instead of a prisoner. That big man tried to kill that boy. He pointed his revolver at him and pulled the trigger twice, but it did not go off. Further, he threatened my wife and boy and myself with it."

Lieutenant Dempsey then sent for Dr. Charles Dillon, a surgeon of the Police Department, who examined McConeghy and said he was not intoxicated. Then the Detective Sergeant was locked up on a charge, as entered on the blotter at the station house, of "assault at 7:35 in his possession at the Seventy-second Street station of the subway a revolver, and of pointing the same at a man lying on the platform, and pulling the trigger twice and snapping same twice."

Inspector John Cray arrived at the station house shortly afterward and suspended him from duty.

Manning was taken to Night Court by Detective Armstrong and arraigned before Magistrate Koenig on a charge of being disorderly. A. Epstein of 517 West 145th Street, a salesman for the Pathé Film Company, appeared and told the Magistrate substantially the same story as Donkerton had told Lieutenant Dempsey. He said McConeghy was intoxicated.

The Magistrate paroled Manning in his own custody for examination on the charge of disorderly conduct in the West Side Court this morning. He also set the examination of McConeghy for felonious assault for this morning at the same court. After hearing Epstein's testimony the Magistrate said he believed the Detective Sergeant was in no fit condition to be examined.

PACKERS WANT ACTION.

Renew Conferences on Representations on Confiscation of Cargoes.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Counsel for American packers who are urging that special representations be made to Great Britain in regard to confiscation of their cargoes by the British Prize Court began today a new series of conferences with State Department officials. Alfred Urion, who represented the packers in London, gave Counselor Polk a comprehensive review of the proceedings there.

Action by the department on the request for representations is being delayed pending the submission of additional evidence to prove that the confiscated products were not destined ultimately for Germany or Austria.

TUBE IN HIS BRAIN DRIVEN BY SLAYER

Coroner Says Hospital Patient, in Coma 43 Days, Was Murdered.

A man was discovered before daylight one morning about the middle of last September lying on a truck in a vacant lot opposite 507 Hamilton Avenue, Brooklyn. He was unconscious and appeared to have fallen from his high seat to the floor of the truck. An ambulance was summoned and the man was taken to the Holy Family Hospital, where the doctors discovered that he had a fractured elbow and a slight bruise on the forehead which caused his left eye to be curiously swollen.

The patient regained consciousness in the evening and murmured that he was Daniel McLoughlin, 35 years old. Then he lapsed into coma. From that time until his death yesterday morning, just forty-three days after his arrival at the hospital, Daniel McLoughlin never became conscious again.

His case puzzled surgeons and eye specialists alike, for while his injuries seemed to mend, his eye continued swollen out of all proportion to a hurt like the slight bruise that had appeared on his head. The police considered the case closed. The man had been drinking, they declared, the night before he had fallen from the seat of the truck, and any injuries he might have received came from that fall.

Coroner Ernest C. Wagner, as soon as he heard of McLoughlin's death yesterday, ordered an autopsy on the body, which was performed by Dr. George W. Tong. It revealed that an instrument which was apparently the rubber barrel of a fountain pen at least three inches long had been driven through the left eye into the brain. It was broken off, and the eyelid concealed it from sight.

Coroner Wagner insisted that the man had been murdered, and that the instrument, whatever it was, had been driven into McLoughlin's brain by the powerful blows of some person who took care to break it off lest the crime be detected. He was indignant at the surgeons of the Holy Family Hospital.

"It is a foul murder," he declared last night. "And it should have been discovered when the patient was brought into the hospital. I suppose, because he was a charity patient, that they did not pay as much attention to him as they should have done. An X-ray should most certainly have been used, and if the Holy Family Hospital has not got one they could easily have removed him to the Kings County Hospital. Hospitals take money from the city, and they should take care of their charity patients in the same way they do the others. As I see it, they use many of the inmates merely for experimental purposes."

Dr. Edward Fiske of the Holy Family Hospital, one of those who examined McLoughlin, was indignant at the Coroner's criticism.

"McLoughlin received the same care as any millionaire," he declared.

The police when they heard of the result of the autopsy, asserted that they still regarded the man's injuries as due to his fall, and so far as they were concerned the matter was closed. Coroner Wagner in his report to the District Attorney's office of the autopsy will ask for an investigation.

According to the police McLoughlin lived at 507 Hamilton Avenue, and is survived by a brother and two married sisters, but they have not been able to find these relatives yet.

CALIFORNIA VOTES "NO."

Proposal to Make All State Offices Non-Partisan Defeated.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 26.—Majorities against the proposition to make all State offices non-partisan were shown in returns from all parts of the State up to 9 o'clock tonight. These returns also showed majorities against all the other measures submitted to the voters at today's special election.

Never before in the history of California was so little interest displayed in an election as today, when eleven State proposals were voted on. It is estimated that the vote cast was not more than 30 per cent. of the registration.

Nearly all of the proposals voted on, some of them proposed laws and some projected constitutional amendments, were advocated by the State Administration. The nonpartisan amendment would eliminate party lines from the ballot in all except national elections.

The measure of second importance is that providing for an enabling act, by constitutional amendment, removing the barrier now preventing the Legislature from laying the necessary financial basis for extending rural credits. The other propositions have to do with local county government.

Motor Racing and Aviation
Sheepshead Bay Speedway.
Election Day, Tues., Nov. 2
100-Mile Championship
Winning drivers of 1915, Resta, Burman, Aitken, Rickenbacher, Mulford.
Also spectacular exhibitions by famous airmen. Flying upside-down, loop-the-loop, and passenger-carrying flights.
EVENTS START 2 P. M.
Admission $1, Including seat in open stand. Grand Stand, including admission, $2; Boxes (6 seats), $15 to $30, including admission. Parking space within oval, reserved, $10; unreserved $3, not including admission.
Tickets on sale at R. H. Macy & Company, Theatre ticket agencies, all Automobile Clubs within the vicinity of New York, and at Sheepshead Bay Speedway Corporation, No. 1696 Broadway, between 53d and 54th Streets. Telephone Circle 1015.

Hippodrome
Mgt. Charles Dillingham. Matinee Today HIP HIP HOORAY
Sousa & Band, 100 Novelties.
Staged by B. H. Burnside. & Every Day.
Eve. & Sat. Mat. Best Seats $1.50.
SENSATIONAL ICE BALLET
Daily Mat. exc. Sat., Best Seats $1
World's Biggest Show Lowest Prices.
1505 Res'd Seats $1. SUNDAY ALL STARS JOHN SOUSA.

GOTHIC THE NEW ARROW 2 for 25c COLLAR IT FITS THE CRAVAT

CLUETT, PEABODY & CO., INC., MAKERS

Here it is The LILY cup a charming little paper glass clean and crisp white and translucent round, rigid and pleasantly proportioned yet quite inexpensive you should use it in your office the LILY CUP co., equitable bldg., n. y.

Browning, King & Company
You'll find here the smartest styles and newest materials.
Is there a new fabric?—we get it at once.
Every week sees new garments added to our stocks.
The new shades include copper underplaids, nut browns, silver grays and knob mixtures.
Suits $15 to $40.
Overcoats $15 to $50.
Manhattan Shirts and Stetson Hats.
B&K
Broadway at 32d St.
Cooper Square at 5th St.
Manhattan
Fulton St. at De Kalb Av.
Brooklyn.

THATCHER

Since 1850
Makers of GOOD House Heaters and Kitchen Ranges
THATCHER FURNACE CO.
131-137 West 35th Street, N.Y.

Your Luncheon Today
If you are planning a matinee today lunch at Shanley's—an unusually attractive restaurant close to all the theatres
Seven skillfully prepared courses - - 75c (Music)
A nightly cabaret of twenty leading features.
SHANLEY'S
Broadway—43rd to 44th St.

REISENWEBER'S 58th Street and Columbus Circle. 'Phone, 9640—Columbus.
A tuneful CABARET "FULL OF SPEED" Presented by SAM SHANNON
WITH AN EXCEPTIONAL BEAUTY CHORUS, SNAPPY MUSIC AND DELIGHTFUL DANCERS.
A most gorgeous and spectacular entertainment PRESENTED NIGHTLY AT 7:30 AND 12.
Afternoon Tea Dances 4-7. Beefsteak Dinner, $1.25.
An Exceptional Table d'Hote Dinner $1.00
A la Carte Portions Cooked to Your Order.
SERVED EVERY EVENING 6 to 10 AND SUNDAYS NOON to 10 P. M.
Assorted Relishes. Blue Points, Cherry Stone or Little Neck Clams, Canape Anchovies, Spiced Anchovies, Russian Sardines, Canape Smoked Salmon, Deep-Sea Caviar, Saucisson Hongroise.
Soups (Choice). Vegetable Soup, Cream of Corn, Consommé Celestine.
Entrees (Choice). Broiled Bluefish, Fried Kingfish, Salmon Saute, Broiled Veal Cutlet, Spring Chicken Sauté, Broiled Lamb Chops, Bagout a la Deutsch.
Roasts to Order (Choice). Sirloin of Pork, Half Fried Chicken, Broiled English Mutton Chop, Wiener Schnitzel, Roast Stuffed Chicken, Small Beefsteak, Hamburger Steak, Emince of Turkey.
Cold. Half Chicken, Sliced Chicken, Smoked Beef Tongue, Meat Salad Mexicaine, Bismarck or Marinierter Herring, Roast Beef, Sliced Star Ham, Salami, Smoked Salmon in Oil, Roast Sirloin of Beef, Sliced Virginia Ham.
Combination Cold Cuts, Sardines de Nica, Normanna Mackerel Roe.
Salads (Choice). Green Salads en Saison, Cress, Beets, Mixed.
Dessert or Cheese. (Choice). Rice Pudding, Fruit Sauce, Coffee or Chocolate Ice Cream, Raisin Cake, American, Macaroons, Lady Fingers, Cream Swiss, Plum Tartelette, Lemon Water Ice, Coffee Cake, Neufchatel, Demi-Tasse.

Hotel Bretton Hall
BROADWAY 85TH TO 86TH ST.
Subway Station at Door
Offers All the Advantages of the Best New York City Hotels at Much Lower Prices
EXCEPTIONAL APARTMENTS OF ALL SIZES
Furnished or Unfurnished for Long or Short Periods
Transient Rates $2.50 per Day Up
NO EXTRA CHARGE WHEN ROOMS ARE OCCUPIED BY TWO PERSONS.

HOTEL BOSSERT
A transient-residential hotel of charm and comfort on aristocratic Brooklyn Heights, overlooking New York Harbor. Montague-Hicks-Remsen Sts., Brooklyn.

Prince George Hotel
Fifth Ave. and 28th Street.
One of the most beautifully appointed hotels in New York.
300 Rooms with Bath. Rates, $2 and up.

In Philadelphia, Chestnut & 13th. Hotel Adelphia 400 Rooms 400 Baths

TEA ROOM 11 EAST 22ND ST.
Southern Cooking. Hot Breads. BEST DINNER IN TOWN, 50c., 5:30 to 7:30

Hotel Berkley
170 West 74th St.
APARTMENTS unfurnished, by the year FROM $600.
RESTAURANT A LA CARTE.

FLEISCHMANN'S RESTAURANT
11th St. & B'way near Wanamaker's. Duane St. & B'way Convenient for Jurors and others at Court.

Luchow's
14th Street, near Fourth Ave.

CASTLES-IN-AIR AND ICE PALACE
ATOP 44TH ST. THEA.
After the Theatre Adm. $1, Nightly 10:30 (Ex. Sun.) SUPPER AND DANCING.
Tea 4 to 6. Wed. & Sat. World Champion Ice Skaters Adm. free to table d'hote dinner, $1.50, and a la carte, 6 to 9. Skating at Tea,

"All the News That's Fit to Print."

The New York Times.

THE WEATHER
Fair today; fair, warmer Friday; moderate northwest to north winds, becoming variable.
For full weather report see Page 18.

VOL. LXV...NO. 21,096. NEW YORK, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1915.—TWENTY-TWO PAGES. ONE CENT In Greater New York, Jersey City and Newark. Elsewhere TWO CENTS.

FAY'S NEW TALE OF GERMAN PLOT

Says He was Sent Here by Secret Service to Blow Up Ships.

PICKED FROM ARMY FOR JOB

Sent to Chief to Get Instructions and Read Letter from Dr. Kienzle.

WELCOMED BY AGENTS HERE

Breitung Returns and Gives $25,000 Bail—Explosives Taken to Governors Island.

The plot to blow up ships leaving American ports with ammunition for the Allies, for which five Germans are now under arrest on charges of conspiracy, was engineered in Germany by officers of the German Secret Service, according to a new and signed confession made yesterday by "Lieutenant" Robert Fay, said to be the leader of the five, to officers of the United States Secret Service, in the presence of United States District Attorney H. Snowden Marshall.

Fay's statement also indicates a connection, though so far as known an indirect one, between Dr. Herbert Kienzle, another of the defendants on the conspiracy charge, and the German Secret Service. Fay had already admitted that he had been provided with $4,000 by one Jansen, a district head of the German secret agents. His confession yesterday gave new details of this, and also showed how the connection between Fay and Kienzle became established.

Kienzle's Letter to Father.

Early last Spring, according to Fay, Dr. Kienzle, then living in New York, wrote a letter to his father, Herbert Kienzle, who is head of the Black Forest Clock Company of Schwenningen, in Wertemberg—the largest clock-making firm in the world. With his letter he inclosed a number of newspaper clippings showing the sailings of various ships from American ports with munitions for the Allies, detailing manifests of their cargoes, and specifying various railroads engaged in the transport of munitions—particularly the New York Central and the New York, New Haven & Hartford.

Other clippings told how various firms, including the Allis-Chalmers Company, manufacturers of machinery, with plants at Chicago, Milwaukee, Scranton, and West Allis, Wis., and the Brown-Sharpe Company of Providence, had turned over their plants in great measure to the manufacture of munitions.

Fay's original statement said that he had been moved on his own intiative to start the plot which was to have been carried out in this country, and that when he had mentioned the matter to the Colonel of his regiment the Colonel had sent him to Jansen. But the new confession declares that Jansen had asked some army officers to pick him out a good man for a piece of difficult work, and that Fay was thereupon selected by his superiors.

He went to see Jansen in a city in Germany, which he refuses to name, and got his $4,000 and instructions as to his plan of campaign.

Must Not Touch Letter.

Then this letter, which Dr. Kienzle had written to his father, was laid on a table before Fay by Jansen. Fay was told to read it and memorize the names—he was not allowed to touch the letter—and then to use this information to identify himself when he got to this country.

Fay came to New York, and immediately upon arrival went to Dr. Kienzle and told him who he was and, apparently, something of his errand in this country. And to prove that he was what he represented himself to be he repeated to Kienzle the content of the newspaper clippings included in the letter to Kienzle's father, and mentioned names of the New York Central and New Haven Railroads, the Allis-Chalmers Company, the Brown-Sharpe Company, and several steamers which had sailed with cargoes of munitions.

The Federal officials say that this circumstance as well as other details of the confession which they have not made public, indicate clearly enough that the plot to destroy ships with mines set in American waters was hatched in Germany.

Breitung Under Arrest.

With the surrender yesterday of Max Breitung, cousin and business associate of E. N. Breitung, the banker, all the five men for whom warrants were issued were in the hands of the Government.

Paul Daeche is in the Hudson County jail in Jersey City held under $25,000 bail, waiting examination next Wednesday. Lieutenant Robert Fay, Walter E. Scholz, and Dr. Herbert Kienzle are in the Tombs under the same bail, awaiting a hearing on Nov. 4. Breitung, whose case was adjourned till the same day, gave $25,000 bail and is free.

Breitung was expected to reach Grand Central Terminal from Chicago yesterday morning at 9:20, and was awaited by a squad of detectives and reporters, but he didn't arrive, and there was anxiety for the next two hours. Then Breitung called the Federal District Attorney and told him he would appear at once for a hearing.

At 11:30 he was in the Federal Building accompanied by his attorney, William M. Parke, who is with Stanchfield & Levy at 120 Broadway. He was arraigned before United States Commissioner Clarence S. Houghton on the charge of conspiring with Fay, Scholz, Deache, and Kienzle "maliciously to attack and set upon a vessel belonging to another with intent to despoil the owners of said vessel of their goods, money, and merchandise laden on board thereof."

The hearing was continued until Nov. 4, and Breitung was held in $25,000 bail. This was furnished by a surety com-

Continued on Page 4.

ASQUITH TO BE ASKED ABOUT PEACE RUMORS

Reports That Negotiations Have Been Going On Are Current in London.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Thursday, Oct. 28.—J. Annan Bryce, Liberal member of Parliament for Inverness Burghs and brother of Lord Bryce, has given notice that he will ask the Prime Minister whether unofficial exchanges of views or negotiations are being or have been carried on directly or indirectly between responsible persons in London and Berlin with a view to the conclusion of an early peace.

Rumors to this effect have been current for some days past in usually well-informed circles.

It is predicted that Mr. Asquith's reply will be that the Government has no information of any such negotiations in which responsible persons in this country are concerned.

The reports have caused depression in certain circles, where it is argued that any move in the direction of peace now would imply recognition of the Teutonic empires' ultimate victory.

LONDON, Thursday, Oct. 28.—When Premier Asquith returns to the House of Commons today he will be asked, in addition to the question put by Mr. Bryce, whether he still adheres to the declaration in his Guildhall speech that Great Britain should not sheath her sword until "the freedom of Europe is secured."

Another of the many questions to be addressed to the Premier is whether, "in view of the defiance of international law by the German Emperor in ordering wholesale destruction of the private property of civilians in this country by Zeppelins, the Government will take steps to trace and sequestrate private securities in England of the German Emperor and rulers of German States, and hold them as security for present and future damage caused by air raids."

Announcement was made yesterday that Mr. Asquith's statement regarding the military situation, which was to be delivered today, had been postponed until next Tuesday.

GERARD HAD LONG TALK WITH THE EMPEROR

Said to Have Gone Over German-American Relations in Detail.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

THE HAGUE, Oct. 27.—No intimation is given out in Berlin, according to reports to the Neuwe Courant here, as to the subject of the conference held yesterday between Ambassador Gerard and the Kaiser.

The interview is said to have been long and important, taking place at the Potsdam Palace, and the Under Secretary of Foreign Affairs, Dr. von Jagow, attending it and accompanying Mr. Gerard to and from the palace.

It is stated that the Kaiser and Mr. Gerard traversed the whole field of German-American relations as affected by the incidents of the war.

Whether the Cavell case and the German refusal to heed Minister Whitlock's remonstrances were touched upon is not stated. A pall of complete silence has fallen on the German press as to the Cavell case, which, except for a few indirect references and guarded semi-official justifications of the incidents, has been ignored. The German public, apparently, is still in ignorance of the extent to which the execution has aroused indignation in neutral countries.

LONDON, Thursday, Oct. 28.—An Amsterdam dispatch to The Daily Express says that the German Emperor's audience with the American Ambassador has caused a sensation. It is regarded as significant, as it was the first audience granted to any Ambassador of a neutral country for eight months, and it lasted an unusually long time.

BRITISH TANKER SUNK IN MEDITERRANEAN

The H. C. Henry, Owned in Seattle, Sent to Bottom by a German Submarine.

SEATTLE, Oct. 27.—The British tank steamer H. C. Henry, when two days out from Alexandria, Egypt, in the Mediterranean Sea, was torpedoed and sunk by a German submarine, according to a cablegram received today by the Pacific Creosoting Company of Seattle, owners of the vessel.

No lives were lost, according to the message, which gave no other details.

The H. C. Henry was a steel single-screw steamer built at Greenock in 1909 for the H. C. Henry Company of Vancouver, B. C. She was 360 feet long, 49 feet beam, 28 feet 9 inches depth of hold, and 4,212 gross tonnage.

FOR BRITISH WAR COUNCIL.

Cabinet Has Decided to Have Small Body Decide Executive Acts.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Thursday, Oct. 28.—The Daily News's political correspondent writes:

"The Cabinet have been engaged during their last few meetings in considering steps to be taken to reconstitute the War Council. The inner council of the Cabinet, to which matters concerning the direct prosecution of the war are referred, is a body which has no official existence. It felt that the time has come to continue this body more exactly and to lay down the principles on which it shall act.

"The Cabinet, therefore, have decided that a committee shall be officially appointed and shall decide on executive acts of the war. The committee shall sit daily whenever possible, and their decisions on executive acts need not in future be referred for approval to the whole Cabinet.

"There is one important exception—that a decision involving a new departure in the operations or a vital new departure in the operations of the war must be referred to the whole Cabinet."

"The number of the inner council shall be three, five, or seven, but which of these figures shall be chosen depends on which of the principles is to be adopted in selecting the members. One proposal is that in selecting the Ministers the balance of opinion, represented in the Cabinet, should be preserved, so that as far as the parties are concerned the War Committee would be a microcosm of the whole Cabinet. The other proposal is that the members of the War Council should be only those Ministers whose departments are directly concerned with the prosecution of the war. In any case, it is understood that Winston Churchill, as Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster, would no longer serve in the War Council."

LONDON, Thursday, Oct. 28.—Rumors were again current in the lobbies of the House of Commons last night that Winston Spencer Churchill, Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster, was about to resign his seat in the Cabinet.

TRADE PROTEST GOES TO ENGLAND

10,000-Word Note on Blockade Forwarded as Germany Plans Embargo on Exports.

WASHINGTON GETS WORD

Move Is Interpreted There as Designed to Draw Us Into Demand on Britain.

PACKERS' CASES TAKEN UP

Belief at Capital That President Will Make Meat Seizures Subject of a Note.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—America's long considered protest against British interference with commerce between the United States and Europe has been dispatched to London by special messenger, and will be presented by Ambassador Page at the British Foreign Office next week.

It became known today that the note, which comprises about 10,000 words and covers exhaustively the argument of the American Government on all phases of interference with neutral trade, was approved by the President last Saturday and started on its way to London on Sunday. Alexander W. Kirk, Third Secretary of the American Embassy at Berlin, who had returned to Washington carrying documents from Ambassador Gerard, was intrusted with the mission on his return journey to Berlin.

Until today the fact that the communication had been sent was kept secret, instructions having been given to officials that no announcement of any kind was to be made about it. That it contains a repetition of arguments made in the note of March 30, which recorded the Washington Government's first protest against the Order in Council, or so-called blockade, is admitted, but no intimation was given by officials today as to what measures were proposed in the event that there was no modification of British practices.

Not only does the communication cover the various notes and memoranda sent by the British Government since March 30, but it also acknowledges and discusses the long notes that came from Great Britain in January in response to the first protests by the United States against interference with neutral trade.

It was the note now on its way which ex-Secretary Bryan advocated sending at the same time that the second Lusitania note was dispatched to Berlin last June. President Wilson declined to send it that time because of the possibility that the United States might be placed in the position of bargaining for its rights with Germany on the basis of its attitude toward Great Britain. With the clearing up of the Arabic case, it was announced at the State Department that the note to Great Britain would go forward. After three weeks of consideration at the White House it finally was dispatched.

As prepared originally at the State Department, the document was understood to be vigorous in tone and replete with objections to Great Britain's policy. No intimation as to whether the document had been modified was available tonight.

President Wilson is to review the complaint of the Chicago beef packers against the British Government for seizure of meat shipments and refusal to settle on terms asked by the packers.

The President will have a conference tomorrow morning with Alfred H. Urion, representing the packers, who has been in London eleven months seeking to obtain a settlement.

It is the belief of the representative of the packers here tonight that the President will authorize the sending to England within a week of a sharp note dealing specifically with the packers' cases.

Mr. Urion, with Henry Veeder and Charles J. Faulkner, Jr., attorneys, had a series of conferences today with Secretary Lansing, Frank L. Polk, counselor of the State Department; Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British Ambassador, and Sir Richard Crawford, the British Embassy's commercial attaché, but there was nothing tangible agreed on to clear the situation for the packers. All information as to results of this work here during the last two days was refused by Mr. Urion.

GERMANY PREPARING TO STOP ALL EXPORTS

Washington Hears an Embargo Is to be Put on All Manufactures.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Unofficial information reached Washington today through several reliable channels that the German Government contemplated the prohibition of all exports from that country. Such an embargo would not only raise serious issues for the Government of the United States, growing out of the importunities of importers, but would result in losses, running into the millions, for American importing houses, which for months have been clamoring for German and Austrian goods for this Winter's holiday trade. These goods have been tied up in Holland, Germany, and Austria by the British Order in Council.

To further complicate the situation involved in the effort to bring these American-owned goods to the United States, it was learned tonight that unofficial information has reached Washington that the British Government was contemplating refusing to permit the passage of any goods of the class upon which Germans might have placed such an embargo. This, it was said, would seriously hinder the efforts of the State Department's trade advisers to facilitate the shipment of such goods.

There has been no official confirmation of either of these reports as to

Continued on Page 3.

TWELFTH ANNUAL BUSINESS SHOW, 1 to 10:30 P. M. All This Week.—Advt.

The Case of Edith Cavell

By JAMES M. BECK

Former Assistant Attorney General of the United States and author of the most widely read article published since the war began entitled "In the Supreme Court of Civilization: The Dual Alliance vs. The Triple Entente." This article was reprinted in nearly every language of civilized nations and created a sensation. In his reply to Dr. Zimmermann, Germany's Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, he shows the same vigorous style and clear legal analysis of the execution of Miss Cavell.

IN NEXT SUNDAY'S TIMES.

Order The Sunday Times today. The Times is always sold out early.

RUSSIA BUYS CLOTH HERE FOR $7,350,000

American Woolen Co. Will Make Material for 1,250,000 Long Army Overcoats.

WORK FOR 35,000 PERSONS

Contract, Signed Yesterday, Largest of Its Kind, Requires 13,000,000 Pounds of Wool.

The Russian Government signed a contract yesterday with the American Woolen Company for 5,000,000 yards of heavy woolen cloth, which is designed to supply 1,250,000 overcoats for the Czar's soldiers.

This contract is said to represent the largest single order or purchase ever made of any one particular style and quality of cloth. It is expected to take six months to complete. About 35,000 operatives will be required to do the work, using, approximately, 1,800 weaving machines and looms and consuming 13,000,000 pounds of cleaned wool stock in the process.

At the Russian Consulate, 22 Washington Square North, the contract was signed by Colonel Nicolai Golejevski, Military Attaché to the Russian Embassy at Washington, and Lieutenant Mikhael Alexeew, a Russian fabric expert, on behalf of the Russian Government, and William M. Wood, President of the American Woolen Company. The total amount of the contract is $7,350,000.

"Negotiations had been on for several weeks to determine the exact amount of the purchase," said President Wood, "and, pending that, we had already begun work on the cloth. It is the largest order of its kind ever given to an American manufacturer. I want to express my satisfaction with the businesslike manner in which the representatives of the Russian Government have handled the transaction."

The cloth is to be made into uniforms in Russian factories, and shipments are to be made direct to Archangel and Vladivostok, the first within two months, a second in February, and the final shipment in March.

"These American overcoats are to serve the Russian soldier both as a uniform and as a blanket in the field," said Mr. Wood. "As may be known, the Russian Army does not furnish its soldiers with blankets as a part of the general equipment. Instead, these long overcoats are made with hoods which the soldier draws over his head for protection when asleep on the field."

Only a part of the manufacturing resources of the American Woolen Company will be engaged in filling this order. There are forty-five mills operated by the company, but a number of them make worsted goods.

"Such a large order would not ordinarily come here except for war necessities, because the American manufacturer has to pay wages so much higher than the European manufacturer that it would ordinarily be practically impossible to meet competition," said Mr. Wood.

"I hope President Wilson will be able to find some way to protect the American manufacturer against conditions that will come after the war. To my mind I can see no other way of accomplishing that than by a tariff to prevent the markets here being flooded with goods from abroad the moment European industries are revived. The Payne-Aldrich tariff law, under the conditions which are bound to prevail, will, as a matter of fact, be a low tariff."

CONSCRIPTION NOT NEEDED.

Lord Derby's Plan Is Said to Have Been a Big Success.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Thursday, Oct. 28.—The Daily Chronicle's parliamentary correspondent says:

"Some well-informed politicians are unwilling to give credence to the rumor that the Cabinet is to be greatly reduced in number. The notion that a smaller Cabinet would facilitate a decision favorable to conscription may safely be disregarded.

"In point of fact, the success of Lord Derby's scheme in bringing in men promises to be so marked that conscription is not likely to be again a bone of contention in the Cabinet, be it small or large."

LONDON, Oct. 27.—Reports published recently in conscriptionist newspapers concerning the flight of Britons to escape compulsory service are not borne out by official figures presented to Parliament today by Walter Runciman, President of the Board of Trade, at the request of Captain Amery Therin.

The number of males twelve years of age and upward who left the British Isles in the twelve months ended Sept. 30 last was 36,594, compared with 101,663 in the previous twelve months.

Mr. Runciman's estimate of the number of men of military age—18 to 45—who left the Kingdom was that it did not exceed 31,000, as compared with 86,000 in the previous year.

THE AUGUSTA SPECIAL.
Aiken and Augusta via SOUTHERN RAILWAY. Modern train, superior equipment. Lv. New York daily 1:08 P. M. N. Y. Office, 161 Fifth Ave.—Advt.

DENIES PROMISES TO BRAND WHITLOCK

Semi-Official German Statements Call the Cavell Report Inaccurate.

BELGIAN LAWYER BLAMED

Said to Have Deceived Whitlock, Who is Quoted as Branding British Statements as Untrue.

BRUSSELS, Oct. 27, (via Amsterdam to London.)—A semi-official statement has been issued here relative to the case of Miss Edith Cavell, the English nurse who was executed by the German authorities. It reads as follows:

"The American Ambassador at London has placed at the disposal of the British Government documents regarding the Cavell case. The documents contain statements respecting the exchange of letters between the American Legation at Brussels and the German authorities at Brussels about the trial. The British Government promptly handed the documents to the press and had them distributed abroad by Reuter's, [Reuter's Telegram Company.]

"In these documents most of the important events are inaccurately reproduced. Particularly is the impression created that the German authorities with empty promises put off the American Minister (Brand Whitlock) in order to conceal from him pronouncement of the death sentence and deprive him, by speedily carrying out the sentence, of the possibility of intervention in Miss Cavell's behalf.

"In a statement, which is also published, Sir Edward Grey declared that the worst feature of the action of the German authorities was that a promise made to the American Minister continually to inform him of the course of the proceedings was not kept.

"Such a promise was never given by the German authorities and could not, therefore, have been broken. This was admitted by the American Minister in Brussels when the matter was discussed with the German authorities.

"That the American Ambassador in London was wrongly informed can be explained by the fact that the Belgian advocate, who as attorney for the American Legation, played a part in this incident, caused a misleading construction to be placed upon his reports.

"In any case, the American Minister at Brussels was painfully affected by the report as made public. He intends to inform his London colleague and his Government at once of the difference between the written report of the Belgian attorney for the legation and the facts."

A similar statement was received here yesterday from the Overseas News Agency of Berlin, transmitted by wireless, via Sayville. The first paragraph of this statement reads:

"The Overseas News Agency today gave out a statement regarding the case of Miss Edith Cavell, the English nurse who was executed recently in Belgium, at the outset of which it declares that the United States Minister in Brussels, (Brand Whitlock,) states that the British Government publications regarding the Cavell case are untrue so far as he is concerned."

The rest of the statement is substantially the same as that issued in Brussels.

No Word Received from Whitlock.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—The statements from semi-official sources in Brussels and Berlin that Brand Whitlock, the American Minister to Belgium, had complained of misrepresentations of his statements concerning the conviction and execution of Miss Edith Cavell, have not been confirmed by any official information received at the State Department. The German statements said that Minister Whitlock would appeal to Washington. According to officials, this Government not only knows nothing about Mr. Whitlock's alleged dissatisfaction, but has never received from Ambassador Page in London, Minister Whitlock, or any other source the report of Hugh S. Gibson, Secretary of the American Legation in Brussels, concerning the efforts of the Spanish Minister there, and himself, to obtain a respite for Miss Cavell. The State Department officials said today, had not been requested by the British Government to take any action with reference to Miss Cavell's case.

London Denies Altering Reports.

LONDON, Thursday, Oct. 28.—It is officially stated in London that the papers relating to the case of Miss Cavell were published exactly as they were received from the American Embassy, and, of course, after the consent of the American Embassy had been obtained.

DOOM ANOTHER BELGIAN WOMAN TO DEATH

German Military Judges at Liege Sentence Anna Benazet—Espionage the Charge.

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 27, (via London.)—Anna Benazet of Verviers, Belgium, was sentenced to death by a German court-martial at Liége on Monday.

This woman was one of nine persons convicted by the court-martial. Seven of them were Belgians and the others French. In four cases sentence of death was passed, and the other prisoners were condemned to terms of from ten to fifteen years in prison. The charge against them was of having collected information useful to the French Government, for which it was intended.

The sentences of death have not yet been carried out.

PARIS, Oct. 27. — The correspondent at Hazebrouck, France, of the Havas News Agency sends the following:

"It is learned that M. Foulon, a priest

Continued on Page 2.

GERMANS OPEN ROUTE TO TURKEY, LINKING UP WITH BULGARS IN SERBIA; BRITISH JOIN FRENCH IN THE SOUTH

Berlin Is Pleased with the Balkan Outlook; Expects Serbia's Elimination and Praises Bulgars

From a Staff Correspondent.
Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BERLIN, Oct. 27.—The Balkan drama continues to dominate all other war news here. The Germans are absolutely confident that at last one enemy is going to be permanently eliminated. They are following the Austro-German-Bulgar operations with quiet satisfaction, contrasting significantly with the jubilation of Austrians here and the grim hatred of Bulgarians.

Germans are more than satisfied with their new ally, Bulgaria. One frequently hears the Bulgarians' smashing high-speed offensive contrasted with the Italian campaign.

Summarizing the situation, Major Moraht in the Berliner Tageblatt says:

"The present main theatre of war in Serbia is witnessing a chain of successes which our armies, with Austria-Hungary's and Bulgaria's, are winning daily without a single reverse. Events are ripening to a final decision which is not far off. Our northern advance already is gaining momentum. The hardest task was the crossing of the Danube barrier and the breaking of the defense of the Serbian main forces on the hills on the southern bank of the river.

"There is no knowing where the troops constantly being landed at Saloniki will finally be used. For the Serbian decision they come too late; for attacks in another direction they have not come as a sufficient surprise. The strategic and political situation of Serbia will soon mean its passing from the ranks of our enemies."

What will Greece do, is the question that everybody is asking here, but the only real quetsion in German minds is whether or not Greece will go so far as to maintain neutrality by force of arms. Nobody here doubts that Greece will try to continue her neutrality. Germans feel confident that their successful aggressive diplomacy will repeat in Athens its success in the Balkans and oumanotuvre the allied diplomats.

In well-informed circles here one begins tto meet the idea that if the Allies put undue pressure on Greece this may result in driving the latter into the camp of the central powers. While no undue importance is yet being attached to the Budapest report that the Greek Government demands the withdrawal of the allied troops from Saloniki and its prepared to enforce the demand with the army, there is a feeling here that a crisis is fast approaching and that the situaton in the Balkans will soon be quite clear.

The reported significant utterances of the Greek Minister at Sofia that relations between Greece and Bulgaria are now better is regarded as a good omen, as also is the fact that Crown Prince George has gone to Saloniki in place of the King of Greece. The National Gazette says:

"The first report was that the King himself would go to Saloniki, but his presence at the capital at the present moment is more pressing. He remains at the centre of events, where he has the political and military levers in hand.

"The journey of the Crown Prince under his father's orders to the scene of the Anglo-French landings can hardly be interpreted otherwise than as a demonstration to bring home to those who seek to violate Greece that the Hellenes desire to remain masters in their own house, and that the Greek ruler is man enough to pick his own trail in the political labyrinth."

EAST DANUBE PORTS LOST

Serbia Cut Off From All Supplies By Way of Rumania.

PIROT FORTS SURROUNDED

Albanians Attack Serbs in West as Teutons Advance Rapidly from North.

DEMANDS MADE ON GREECE

Turkey and Bulgaria Want to Operate on Greek Soil—Object to Landing of Allies.

LONDON, Thursday, Oct. 28.—The German army which crossed the Danube at Orsova has joined hands with the Bulgarians, who invaded Serbia near Prahovo, and the central powers now have an open road through Northeastern Serbia and Bulgaria to the Aegean Sea and Constantinople. They are thus in a position to send guns and munitions down the Danube to railway connections for their Bulgarian and Turkish allies, who will be greatly strengthened thereby.

The invasion of the northern portions of Serbia by the Austro-Germans continues apace, while the Bulgarians are putting forth a strong effort to obtain control of additional sections of the Belgrade-Saloniki Railway. All the important East Serbian Danube ports are said to be in their hands, thus cutting off Rumania as a source of supplies, and they are reported to have completely surrounded the fortress of Pirot.

British Join French in South.

So far as the north is concerned, Serbia, it is feared by her allies, is doomed; but in the south, reinforced by the British and French, who are now fighting by her side, Serbia is using all her strength to throw the Bulgarians back. The fact that the British have joined the French was announced by David Lloyd George in the House of Commons yesterday.

A big battle is still in progress at Veles, an important railway and road junction twenty-five miles south of Uskub, which the Serbians reoccupied on Tuesday. On the southwestern frontier Albanians have joined the fighting and are attacking Serbians in the Prisrend region, according to an official announcement at Sofia.

It is argued in London that if the Bulgarians can be held in the south until the Anglo-French reinforcements now on the way arrive, Bulgaria may yet be prevented from seizing Macedonia, on which she has set her heart. But the Allies will also have to make an attempt to block the German road to Turkey, and their big attack may be directed elsewhere.

The Rumanians are displaying some uneasiness as to the inactivity of their Government, and an agitation in favor of the Allies is being carried on by influential leaders, according to unofficial reports.

The Allies, however, are depending on their own resources and arranging to throw into the Balkans as many men as can be spared. At the present time they cannot weaken the other fronts, as the Germans are showing considerable activity.

The Hestia of Athens, as quoted by the Havas Agency of Paris, says that steps are being taken by the Bulgarian and Turkish Ministers to Greece with the intention of establishing the right of their governments' troops to pursue the Serbians and their allies into Greek territory, should the occasion arise.

These Ministers, the Hestia says, have complained to Premier Zaimis of Greece that the presence of foreign troops in Greek Macedonia is contrary to a spirit of neutrality and places the Bulgarian forces operating in Serbian Macedonia in a difficult situation. M. Zaimis recalled the fact that Greece had protested to the Allies at the time of the first landing of troops.

Since making this reply to Turkey and Bulgaria, the question has not been discussed, but it is expected further representations will be made to Greece. The Bulgarian newspapers are conducting a campaign against the presence of allied troops at Salonifki.

Official Account of Operations.

Following is the latest report of progress of the invasion as issued yesterday by the German Army Headquarters Staff:

Dobrin, east of Vishegrad (Bosnia) has been taken.

The armies of Generals von Koevess and von Gallwitz have driven back the enemy wherever he has made a stand.

As regards the main forces, the general line of Valyevo-Morawos (on the Ljig)-Docola has been reached. East of this line the Jasenica and Raca have been crossed on both sides of Svilajacrenava. In the Pek Valley Neresnika has been taken.

Forces advancing to the east of Orsova captured twelve heavy cannon near Kladowo.

At Ljubicevac, on the Danube, west of Bara Palanka, direct connection with the army of General Boyadjieff (the Bulgarian commander) has been established by patrols. The right wing of this army is pursuing the enemy

GERMANS PIERCE DVINSK DEFENSES

Unable to Hold All Positions Taken, Berlin Admits, Against Russian Attacks.

BRING UP MORE TROOPS

Teutons Strike Harder to Cut Riga from Dvinsk—Russians Continue Attacks in the South.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—The Germans, who continue their attacks against the Russians in the Riga and Dvinsk districts, say today they have penetrated the Russian positions near the railway line west of Dvinsk. They could not hold all the ground gained, as the Russians launched immediate counterattacks.

While the position in this region remains serious for the Russians, they appear, on the whole, to be holding their own.

In the south, on the other hand, along the Styr River and on the Galician frontier, the Russians report successes both in carrying through their own attacks and repulsing German attacks.

The report of the German War Office on the eastern front follows:

South of the Abely-Dvinsk Railway our troops penetrated Russian positions in the region of Tymschany over a front some two kilometers (1¼ miles) wide. They captured 6 officers, 450 men, one machine gun, and two mine-throwers. The positions won were retained in spite of the repeated Russian attacks. We evacuated only the churchyard of Szaszaly, one kilometer northeast of Garbunowka, during the night.

There is nothing to report concerning the army of Prince Leopold.

Army Group of General von Linsingen: West of Czartorysk our attack has progressed as far as the line of Komarov and Kazenucha Heights, and to the southeast of Meidwieze.

The official communication issued by the Russian War Office tonight reads:

West of Riga, in the region of Lake Babite, minor engagements have occurred. The Germans continue their attacks in the district west of Ikskul, but without success, all of them being repulsed. A German offensive in the direction of Neuselburg, northwest of Jacobstadt, was stopped by our fire.

On the Dvina, from the town of Liwenhof, above Jacobstadt, to Illoukst, there has been an artillery duel, as well as rifle fire. West of Dvinsk the Germans are attacking in many places, but without success. At times the artillery fire attained tremendous intensity.

On the front sought of Dvinsk to the Pripet there has been no fighting. South of the village of Redvehka, northwest of Czartorysk, the enemy assumed the offensive, but was met by our counterattacks with the bayonet at every point.

Near the village of Kamenoukha, south of Medveika, a counterattack threw back the Germans advancing to the east. We captured prisoners. Southwest of Olyka our troops progressed and occupied the village of Konstantinovka and the enemy's intrenchments.

An offensive by the enemy in the environs of the village of Drogutchovka, near the confluence of the Stripa

Continued on Page 2.

LONDON IN GLOOM OVER GALLIPOLI

Captain Fortescue in Book and Ashmead-Bartlett in Lecture Declare Campaign Lost.

SAY ALLIES CAN'T ADVANCE

Attack on Allied Diplomacy in Correspondent's Doleful Talk Passed by Censor.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Thursday, Oct. 28.—A hopeless view of the position of the Allies in the Dardanelles is taken by Captain Granville Fortescue in his forthcoming book, "What of the Dardanelles?" from which preliminary extracts are quoted in The Daily News this morning, and others are given in the current issue of The British Weekly.

Captain Ellis Ashmead-Bartlett, lecturing in this city last night, expressed similarly pessimistic sentiments as to allied prospects in the Near East.

Captain Fortescue, formerly of the United States Cavalry, saw the Gallipoli campaign from the Turkish side as an American correspondent, and the fact that his book has been passed by the Censor is declared to be the most significant piece of news received for a long time from the Dardanelles.

"The Balkan crisis comes at an opportune time," says Captain Fortescue. "The evacuation of the Dardanelles zone can now be excused as a military necessity. He who pushed the plan can escape indictment of his folly in the East. What would have been a blow to British prestige can be explained away. The gigantic failure and its cost, 100,000 casualties, will become history."

But the position is not without a threat of disaster to the Germans. "It can be accepted as certain," Captain Fortescue writes, 'that the German General Staff know the whole truth about the situation in the Dardanelles. They know that the Mediterranean expeditionary force must withdraw or it will be exterminated. If it is withdrawn it returns to the western battle line. At the present moment Germany has her hands full in that zone. She must prevent this completely organized army from reinforcing Sir John French.

"Once already the Allies have been distracted from the theatre of main operations. The German General Staff ask themselves: Cannot this manoeuvre be repeated with success? King Ferdinand is paid his price, and the experiment is made. The German push into Serbia has for one of its objects the immobilizing of the large British force concentrated at the Dardanelles base. By the attack on Serbia Germany hopes to draw these troops into the Balkan theatre of war and so destroy their usefulness against the main objective.

"If this war is to end in something more than an inconclusive draw Germany will have to be beaten in France and Flanders. Whenever pressure is brought to bear in this zone far-flung German corps fly back to it like springs suddenly released, but if the Teuton staff can induce its opponents to exhaust their energies in other fields the lost section of France and Belgium will never be recovered."

Ashmead-Bartlett Very Pessimistic.

Trenchant criticisms of the manner in which the Dardanelles expedition was conducted and of England's diplomatic handling of the Balkan situation were delivered by Ellis Ashmead-Bartlett in a lecture at Queen's Hall last night.

Continued on Page 2.

from Negotin in northeasterly and southwesterly directions. Fighting continues for possession of Kniasyvac.

The Vienna War Office bulletin issued yesterday morning was as follows:

Our forces, advancing from Vishegrad, drove the enemy back on the frontier. The royal and imperial troops and the army of General von Koeveas, operating in the northwest corner of Serbia, are approaching upper Kolubara and the Valjevo positions which the Serbians evacuated before our cavalry.

Austro-Hungarian divisions sent south from Obrenovac wrested from the enemy after fierce fighting strong hill positions south of Lazarevac. German troops have driven the enemy across the Arangjelovac River, and these forces are engaged in battle at Topola and the hills to the east.

The mountainous country in the bend of the Danube east of Kliasura Narrows has for the greater part been cleared of all hostile forces. Three cannon abandoned by the Serbians, including one howitzer, have been captured here.

A later bulletin issued by the Austrian War Office last night says:

East of Vishegrad we captured the heights on both sides of the Dobrano. The army of General von Koeveas threw back the enemy in the mountains north of Krn and Milnova. We drove the enemy with the bayonet from positions on the heights of Topolai.

The German armies operating on both sides of the Morava reached the heights to the south and continued their march up the River Klava. The Orsova army entered Brza Palanka.

At Kladovo twelve big Serbian guns and a quantity of ammunition were captured.

The forces west of Negotin have established communication between the Austro-Hungarian and German troops. The Bulgarian forces operating against Kniasyvac fought an engagement in the eastern part of the town.

Albanians Attacking Serbs.

Bulgaria's General Staff also issued a statement, which reads:

The offensive continues along the entire front.

In Negotin we found great quantities of flour and oats. In the Harbor of Kussicke, on the Danube west of Prahovo, we found 4,000 Winter waistcoats, 2,000 hoods, 2,000 military caps, and 30 boxes of ammunition. Near Kujazeva we captured 4 field guns, 6 cases of ammunition, 1 Captain, and 80 men.

In the district of Koseovo the Albanians have commenced hostilities against the Serbians.

Several Serbian officers remained in Uskub. The Serbian authorities, while advising American missionaries and other foreigners to leave Uskub, as they said the Bulgarians were barbarians and would kill them, left their own families there, saying that the Bulgarians would not harm them.

RUMANIA NOW CONCERNED.

Way Through Serbia Opened Up Along Her Frontier.

The report of the junction of the German left with the Bulgarian forces under General Boyadjieff shows that the invasion of Serbia has entered upon a stage which intimately concerns Rumania. Communication has been established between the Germans and Bulgarians at a point on the Danube between Serbia and Rumania almost due south, eighteen miles from Orsova, where Hungary, Rumania, and Serbia meet. Both Ljubicevac and Brza Palanka are on the northern side of an elbow of the Danube, which at this point forms a Rumanian salient into Serbia for a distance of three or four miles. Here the river drops its general direction and flows from east to west.

As soon as the Serbians can be cleared from the northeastern river-peninsula, an area of about 300 square miles, whose isthmus is spanned by a highway seven miles long, running west from Brza Palanka to Miroczevo on the Hungarian frontier, the navigable Danube will doubtless be used to bring supplies for the relief of Turkey, for they can be transshipped at the Bulgarian river ports of Somovit and Rushchuk and thence get on to the Orient railway at Sofia, and go direct to Constantinople.

Rumania, however, would be seriously concerned by such traffic carried on along her river boundary, and it is doubtful if the transports could sufficiently hug the right bank to suit her, particularly at the Iron Gates of Orsova, where the Danube, at the only point of its entire course, flows through mountain gorges, and at the fortified port of Turnu Severin, where the western or right side is very shallow, inviting a trespassing on the Rumanian side.

As to what the junction between the Germans and Bulgarians would regard to land operations with an opening up of the Orient Railway in the prospective, it all depends on what forces the Germans can bring to the elbow of the Danube to aid the Bulgarians, who are fighting on the line, Radonyevac-Negotin-Vrazogrnac-Zalecar-Kniasyevac, at entrances made at the junction of the Danube and the Timok, the Kadibogtas, and St. Nicholas Passes.

The Germans, who have arrived in Ljubicevac, could only have come via the Mirocevo-Brza Palanka highway, already mentioned—a small force evidently, for the road is rough and inaccessible to heavy traffic. Another highway, broad and well kept, but weak from a strategic point of view, as it passes through walls cut in the solid rock, leaves the Danube just west of Mirocevo and runs south for forty miles to Vrazogrnac, where it joins the Radonyevac-Vrazogrnac-Zalecar-Knaisyevac Railway, for the possession of which the Bulgarians are now fighting.

The German possession of the highway of Vrazogrnac might enable them to cut off the Serbians, whose sole means of retreat from the Zalecar line are the threatened railway to Nish and two highways, one from Zalecar and the other from Knaisyevac, running west to the Belgrade-Nish railway. At any rate, it would make the holding of the Radonyevac-Nish line by the Serbians more hazardous than it now is.

AMERICANS TAKEN WITH LADY PAGET

Her Hospital in Serbia May Be Made International or Staff Interned.

Advices from London, referring to the fact that Lady Paget and her hospital staff, among whom are several Americans, were in Uskub when that Serbian city was taken by the Bulgarians, say that her hospital there either will be made international or she and her associates will be interned.

Lady Louisa Margaret Leila Wemyss Paget is a daughter of General Arthur Paget and a granddaughter of the late Mrs. Paran Stevens of this city. She was married in 1907 to Sir Ralph Spencer Paget, a distant cousin, then British Minister at Bangkok.

Lady Paget has been identified with the Red Cross work in Serbia the past year, having established a hospital at Uskub. In March she was stricken with typhus and was reported to have died. Later this was corrected by her mother in a cable circulated through The Associated Press. She returned to England to recuperate, but went back to Serbia with her husband in July.

The Pagets being pioneer workers in the little Balkan States, their name is known and loved in every community. In Belgrade "Paget Ulitza" is the name of an avenue which forms a thoroughfare alongside of the royal palace of the Crown Prince. The principal thoroughfare in Uskub is named for them, as also is an avenue in Pirot.

The automobile taken by the Pagets to Serbia on their first trip was the first machine that the natives in the rural sections had ever seen. When it entered a village men, women, and children would crowd around, awed by the speed and silence of the strange vehicle. "Children," said Lady Paget, "would run up and touch the shining brass and then run off, frightened but satisfied."

At Nish where the Pagets established their headquarters, they have one of the largest and most modern private mansions. Every one in Nish knows Sir Ralph Paget as "Sir Rafe."

Dr. Harry Plotz of Mount Sinai Hospital in New York, is attached to the Paget Hospital in Serbia. Dr. Plotz, who is only 24 years old, announced in April last that he had isolated the germ of typhus.

Route to Constantinople Opened Up

A possible water and land way between Hungary and Constantinople has been opened up by the junction of the German and Bulgarian forces at Ljubicevac, in Northeast Serbia. It depends, however, on the Serbs being driven from the peninsula and the lack of opposition on the part of Rumania to the traffic at Orsova and Turnu Severin. With the Danube thus open, supplies from the river transports could be entrained at the Bulgarian ports of Somovit and Rushchuk, and thus reach Constantinople via Sofia and the Orient Railway. The points of river and rail connections are indicated by arrows.

FRENCH HISTORIAN ASSAILS FERDINAND

Reinach Quotes From Personal Messages, Charging King With "Shameless Hypocrisy."

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Thursday, Oct. 28.—Joseph Reinach, the French historian, contributes a long article to The Morning Post, telling from personal knowledge the story of King Ferdinand's dealing with the Entente Powers.

M. Reinach was introduced to King Ferdinand in London on Aug. 21, 1906, by King Edward, who described the Bulgarian ruler as "very intelligent, but somewhat unreliable." Subsequently M. Reinach corresponded with King Ferdinand, who always protested his good will toward France, his mother's country, and signed his letters "The Good European."

M. Reinach first felt uneasy regarding Ferdinand's tendencies toward the end of 1914, and in February last, when it was announced that Bulgaria was negotiating with Berlin for a loan, he telegraphed the King expressing his regret at the news. He replied:

"I know nothing whatever of the news to which you refer. Whatever it may be, I believe the historian is too shrewd to accept without confirmation statements of such doubtful authenticity. As to my sentiments, they remain unchanged.

"THE EUROPEAN."

M. Reinach again telegraphed: "In common with all our friends I knew that the Austro-German press calumniated your Majesty. Your reply is fresh proof of the friendly feeling of which I feel proud. Let Rumania have confidence in those who have undertaken the liberation of Europe. The work of justice will spread to all Balkan peoples now that England, Russia, and France are fraternally united after so many struggles."

The King, however, did not reply. Further, M. Reinach proceeds:

"I have been assured on best authority that he did not finally decide in favor of the Germanic empires until the month of March. The unchanged sentiments of Queen Eleonora and Princess Olga, as of Feb. 12 had been changing. In the month of April the betrayal, one of the most despicable recorded in history, was accomplished.

"In fact, the Minister of Rumania at Sofia intimated as much to his Government which communicated the information to the powers of the Triple Entente at the same time the King of the Hellenes sent a warning on the subject to at least one of the three allied Governments. In fact he even sent two warnings, but Ferdinand continued to protest he would remain at least neutral and that at heart he remained friendly to Russia, England, and France. Rarely has a ruler displayed such shameless hypocrisy."

As a further proof of Bulgarian perfidy M. Reinach quotes from a letter written by Dobrovitch, chief of Ferdinand's political Cabinet, on Aug. 15, 1915, expressing satisfaction with the progress of the Entente armies, as follows:

"The Russians have had some rather serious defeats latterly, but I do not think this fact will greatly alter the situation. They will now require some time to reorganize and prepare their forces, and they will afterward, I hope, be able to resume the offensive. Bulgaria continues to preserve her neutrality.

"Will she maintain it to the end? I do not think so, but in any case she will not abandon her neutrality before Greece and Rumania adopt the same course. The catastrophes of the last war, the second, have taught her to be cautious, not to trust too much to promises, and, above all, to discard sentiment in politics."

M. Reinach points out that the date of this letter is important, for the German-Bulgarian treaty had been signed on July 17.

"I was deceived," says M. Reinach, "in believing, with Shakespeare, that there is no such thing as a perfect scoundrel."

PLOT DISCOVERED AGAINST FERDINAND

Leaders of Military Conspiracy Said to Have Been Executed in Bulgaria.

LONDON, Thursday, Oct. 28.—According to advices from Athens, the internal situation of Bulgaria is serious and may have some effect on the Balkan campaign.

A military conspiracy against King Ferdinand is said to have been discovered and the leaders put to death.

Many of the inhabitants of Bulgaria are still loyal to Russia, the advices say, and manifest a disinclination to join the colors.

A dispatch from Sofia on Sunday announced that General Radke Dimitrieff, the Bulgarian General who had been commanding a Russian army corps in the war, was in Rumania and seeking to foment a revolution in Bulgaria. According to other dispatches six Colonels had been arrested in Sofia and shot because of dissatisfaction in the army over the alliance with Turkey and Austria-Hungary.

20 TO 1 AGAINST FERDINAND.

Underwriters Will Pay If He Holds Throne to June 30.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—Underwriters yesterday accepted a rate of 5 guineas per cent. for a policy, providing for payment of a total loss claim, should King Ferdinand still be on the Bulgarian throne on June 30, 1916.

The low rate indicates that, in the underwriters' opinion, the risk insured against is small.

KING TO STAY IN ATHENS.

Concludes His Presence in Saloniki Might be Misconstrued.

PARIS, Oct. 27.—Information was received here today to the effect that King Constantine of Greece has given up his project of going from Athens to Saloniki.

The King had made all preparations for the trip, but finally concluded it might lead to an embarrassing situation, owing to the presence at Saloniki of the allied commanders, and exchange of official calls with whom might be misconstrued.

LONDON IN GLOOM OVER GALLIPOLI

Continued from Page 1.

The lecturer was the British press representative at the Dardanelles.

"There is no doubt," he said, "that the scheme to force the Dardanelles was a great conception. For to have an open road to Constantinople opened out great possibilities, and, therefore, no matter think any one can blame the originators of the enterprise, whoever they were.

The parents of the enterprise were a little doubtful, he remarked parenthetically, but a great deal of criticism might be made against the methods in which the expedition had been carried out up to the present. He did not think the British entered upon it with any real knowledge of the Turkish Empire at all. They judged from the Balkan wars that the Turks were on their last legs, and altogether underestimated their forces, but he believed that at the very least there were 100,000 Turks now under arms. He added:

"I have every reason to believe that the originators of the expedition supposed that, as we had a large surplus fleet of pre-dreadnought battleships, it would not matter very much if we lost them or got them in going through to Constantinople—at least not so much as if we had to land an army, because then we should become engaged in a great war from which it would be difficult to withdraw."

Referring to the arrangements which were made for the operations after the failure of the naval attack the lecturer said that after the Turks had warning that England's intentions were serious Great Britain undertook land operations with far too small a force. With this force she started this desperate attack on the Turkish Empire, supposing they had practically no troops available to defend the Gallipoli Peninsula.

Bulair appeared to be the most desirable place at which a landing could be effected, and he was told by those who took part in a naval demonstration there that no one was in occupation of the coast at that point. The decision went against a landing at Bulair, but he argued that it was a mistake to have landed troops at Anzac, because, as it turned out, they could only just hold their own against Turkish counterattacks at Cape Helles.

His opinion was that if the Australians had been landed at Cape Helles also, the British would have had enough men to capture the Achi Baba position, which would have been a very decided success and useful for future operations.

The landing had been a complete success, but it was after that that the real troubles and difficulties of the British began.

The attack which followed on the position at Achi Baba was an utter failure, and it was at this point early in May that they should have decided whether they were going to withdraw or send an immense force there to carry the thing through. For some time they did neither one thing nor the other. The fresh divisions which arrived were used in various local attacks which led to practically no results at all.

Though it was essential to send these reinforcements, said the lecturer, it was far more important to have got Bulgaria on our side at this stage. He thought that might have been done. The Allies had suffered no big reverses at this time, and if the Bulgarians could have been got to move they could have got astride the peninsula and the whole Turkish Army in Gallipoli would have been starved out in a fortnight.

The criticism he would make was that everybody seemed to think that once the British did get through the Narrows they had got right through to Constantinople. From the information available it would appear that the Turks had fortified the whole channel right up to the entrance at Gallipoli, therefore if they captured the Narrows they were not at all sure of getting the fleet through. He had never wavered in the belief that the attempt to get astride the peninsula from Suvla never had the smallest chance of success, owing to the nature of the country.

There was no use denying the fact that the British had failed altogether to achieve their objective, said the lecturer, and the result was to make the Bulgarians believe that the other side would win. The participation of Bulgaria in the war entirely changed the situation, because the British could no longer really hope to get through to Constantinople. Even if the fleet got through the Dardanelles he was afraid the Turks would not give in at this stage.

FOUR GERMAN SHIPS SUNK IN BALTIC SEA

British Submarines Continue Their Destruction of the Kaiser's Shipping.

PETROGRAD, Oct. 27, (via London.)—British submarines have sunk four more German steamers in the Baltic.

This announcement is made in the Russian official statement issued tonight.

FOREIGN LEGION TO BALKANS

Americans Transferred to Regular French Regiment Welcomed.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, Oct. 27.—A letter from a New York member of the Foreign Legion describes the transfer of the unwounded Americans after the Champagne offensive into a French line regiment as follows:

"The shattered legion was reformed to be sent to the Balkans, but could not take the Americans along, as they had enlisted to fight only in France. The American company in making the transfer marched nearly all night and immediately went into the first line trenches.

"They were tired and hungry, but the company cook had a meal ready and the soldiers gave them a great ovation. All the officers of the regiment received them, shaking them all by the hand, praising their courage while in the legion, and welcoming them as comrades."

The news has reached Paris that James Bacue, the American airman of the Foreign Legion, recently captured, is well and uninjured. A paper bearing the news was dropped from a German aeroplane on a French aviation field.

AIRMEN'S BIG PART IN LOOS VICTORY

They Wheeled in Flocks Above the Field, Directing the British Fire.

DROPPED BOMBS ON TRAINS

Outnumbering the German Aviators 8 to 1, They Prevented Effective Reconnoissance.

BRITISH HEADQUARTERS, France, Oct. 13, (Correspondence of The Associated Presos.)—Since the taking of Loos all the army is singing the praises of the guns and the aeroplanes. No such bombardment had ever been heard on the British front as that which preceded the attack. There seemed no intervals between the reports of the guns—not even those of the beat of a snare drum. The roar had the power and continuity of Niagara Falls. House windows in the surrounding country kept up a continuous rattle.

"It is the sweetest sound in the world," said one of the surviving veterans of the retreat from Mons. "It means you will get into the German trench and have a fair fight of it, and you won't charge into the play of the machine guns or be hung up in the barbed wire. A year ago when we held the Germans back from the Channel ports, we were doing it with flesh and blood against the outnumbering German artillery. The most comforting sight in the world is an eight-inch howitzer, and next to that is a motor truck loaded with high explosive shells.

As morning approached after the night of bombardment, officers on the British front were looking at their wrist watches. In front of Loos the figure 6 marking the half hour—6:30—was the goal of the creeping minute hand. At that moment a wave of men rose from the first-line British trenches, and the volume of shell fire was lifted from the first German line to the second line as the steam from a hose is lifted from one flower bed to another. Meanwhile every man in the charge tried to outrun every other man. The sooner they were in the German trenches the less the likelihood of the Germans coming out of their dugouts, recovering their senses after the bath of shells and firing on the advance. If only one machine gun can be manned before the charge goes home the charge may be stopped in that immediate section. It is all a matter of wrist watches, of speed, team play, and of seconds.

With the first flush of dawn the birds of war had come from their aerdromes. The shell fire and the aeroplanes were all that the onlooker might see.

"I should think that we had eight planes that day to one of the Germans," said an aviator. "We had concentrated planes as well as guns."

Only when the scret of the point of concentration is kept can such an attack succeed against a modern defensive position. The Germans had learned that the British were preparing an attack for their soldiers called from their trenches to the British. "When are you coming?" to which one Briton replied: "I'll let you know as soon as Sir John French tells me."

Attacks were made that morning at several places; but the Germans expected the real attack elsewhere than at Loos.

"There has been a good deal of talk," said a staff officer, "to the effect that the element of surprise has disappeared from war. It is as vital as it ever was. Only concealment was never so difficult."

Troops and guns had to be moved at night so that the German aeroplanes might not note the concentration. British aeroplanes must ward off German aeroplanes by day.

Infinite labor and pains in detail are required before hundreds of thousands of men for such an attack. That of the medical corps alone is stupendous. On the morning of the attack beds were ready, and the countless ambulances and the clearing stations and all the intricate organization for caring for the wounded.

As the attack proceeded a flock of aeroplanes was cutting circles and dipping and turning over the battlefield as if in an exhibition of airmanship. They appeared to be disconnected from the battle; but no participant was more busy or intent than they. All the panorama of action was beneath them; they alone could really "see" the battle if they chose. But each aviator stole only passing glimpses of the whole; for each one was intent on his part, which was to keep watch on whether the shells of the battery to which he reported were on the target or not.

To distinguish whose shell-burst was whose in the midst of that cloud of dust and smoke over the German positions seemed as difficult as to separate the spout of steam of one pipe from another when a hundred were making a wall of vapor.

Every youth in England apparently wants to get into the aerial service. So the corps has its pick. Promotion is rapid; the romance and the excitement of the service appeal. It is easy to learn to fly in the very stable latest types of machines which, as the saying goes, are "fool-proof." It takes only two months to train a man with aptitude to do the routine work of reconnoissance, but he must be young. Men do not learn readily after they are thirty, with few exceptions, and they are very poor pupils indeed after they are thirty-five. It is not difficult to spot shells when only a few batteries are firing, but when perhaps a hundred guns are dropping shells on a half-mile front of trench a highly-trained eye is required. Occasionally a plane was observed to sweep down like a hawk which had located a fish in the water. At all hazards that intrepid aviator was going to identify the shell-bursts of the batteries which he represented. The Germans might have him in rifle range, but they were too busy trying to hold back the English infantry to fire at him.

Other aeroplanes were dropping shells on railroad trains and bridges, to hinder the Germans, once they had learned where the force of the attack was to be exerted, from rushing reinforcements to the spot. For that kind of work, as for all along reconnoissances, the aviators like low-lying clouds. They slip down out of these to have a look around and drop a bomb, and then rise to cover before the Germans can bring their anti-aircraft guns to bear.

The first thing was to hold what was taken in this advance. All the labor of turning the wrecked German trenches into British, of making new dugouts, traverses and parapets and laying out barbed wire had to be done before the Germans swept back in the counter-attack which was expected and which came. A Niagara of German gunfire added to that of the British announces another German effort. So far the British have held their new positions; and when the Germans were attacking in one part of the line the British repulsed the German attack and took 500 yards from the Germans in an adjacent part.

KING GEORGE UNDER FIRE.

German Shells Burst Near Him and the Prince of Wales.

PARIS, Oct. 27.—Four shells exploded only 200 yards from King George of England and President Poincaré of France during their visit to the front yesterday, according to a Temps correspondent back of the firing line.

The King and the President, with the Prince of Wales and General Joffre, says the dispatch, had taken a point of observation when a German battery fired two heavy salvos, resulting in the explosion of shells near the official party.

The party left soon afterward, felicitations being exchanged between the British ruler and the French Executive and the high officers at the front.

SMITH'S ISLAND
Oysters are now for sale at all First-class Hotels, Restaurants and Clubs.

GEORGE V. PAYS TRIBUTE TO FRENCH SOLDIERS

His Praise of Their Valor Officially Communicated by General Joffre.

PARIS, Oct. 27.—The following order of the day was issued today by General Joffre, the French commander:

"It gives me pleasure to transmit to the army an order of the day which his Majesty, the King of England, has gracious addressed to you on the occasion of his visit to the French front:

Soldiers of France—I am happy to have been able to realise a desire long held in my heart and to express my profound admiration for your heroic deeds, for your élan, and also for your tenacity of purpose and admirable military valor, which are the worthy heritage of the Army of France.

Under the brilliant direction of your eminent Commander in Chief and the distinguished officers associated with him, you officers and men have won the regard of your beloved country, which will always recognize your valiant efforts to safeguard and defend it.

My armies are proud to fight beside you and to have you as their comrades. May the ties which unite you be permanent and may the two countries ever be united by intimate ties.

Soldiers, accept my most cordial and sincere salutations. I do not doubt that you will continue this gigantic struggle to a victorious conclusion. In the name of my soldiers and in the name of my country I express to you my most cordial greetings and best wishes.

"The President of the Republic, who accompanied the King of England on his trip, joins with him in extending his personal congratulations to those who are addressed by his Majesty."

GERMANS PIERCE DVINSK DEFENSES

Continued from Page 1.

and Dniester, was stopped by our flank counterattack. The enemy here was thrown back toward the village of Schoutromintze.

The official communication issued by the Austrian War Office today says:

The repulse of the Russians west of Czartorysk continues, despite the enemy's strenuous resistance.

HARDER BLOWS AT THE DVINA.

Germans Call Up More Troops and Mass Their Artillery.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PETROGRAD, Oct. 27, (Dispatch to The London Daily Chronicle.)—Uxkull and Illoukst are the points at which the Germans are making the biggest effort to force the Dvina. Uxkull is on the right flank of their Riga positions and Illoukst is on the left flank of their Dvinsk positions. Simultaneous attacks at these two points are probably being made with the definite object of separating the Russian Riga and Dvinsk armies.

The seriousness of this effort is not to be minimized. The Germans know perfectly well a new Russian advance is only a matter of time. To meet that advance on a strong front it is necessary for them to be in possession of the Dvina line before the Winter sets in, otherwise their position will be perpetually insecure. Moreover, established beyond the Dvina they can hold their front with a much smaller force and devote closer attention to the western and Serbian fronts, where the need for men grows more pressing every day.

During the last fortnight the Germans have considerably strengthened their forces on the Dvina, perhaps to a certain extent at the expense of their centre and partly, according to one rumor, at the expense of the Belgian front. The main body of reinforcements seems, however, to consist of Landsturm troops mobilized for home service at the beginning of the war and latterly trained for line work.

The number of troops operating directly against Dvinsk is not extraordinarily large, about 80,000 men on a twenty-eight-mile front, but they are supported by a most astonishing quantity of artillery which at a maximum activity pours out shells at the rate of 100,000 a day. This reckless expenditure has led to interruptions in the supply, as the light railway from Vilkomir has proved unequal to the task of transport and the services of peasants have been commandeered.

In point of courage and energy the battles near Uxkull and Illoukst do honor to both sides. Dashing attacks are followed by splendid counterattacks, and the magnificent fighting qualities displayed here shine out even in the long record of the courage of the patient millions which this war has already established in history.

The German soldiers are assured by their commanders that once Riga and Dvinsk are taken there will be no more fighting for the Winter, so they are gathering up for one desperate effort every scrap of courage and endurance left in their sorely tried spirits.

FRENCH BLOW UP GERMAN TRENCHES

Mine Positions North of Arras and Establish Themselves in the Craters.

BALK CHAMPAGNE ATTACKS

German Assaults Break Down Under Concentrated Fire—French Hold La Courtine Gains.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—By a series of mine explosions southeast of Neuville-St. Vaast (four or five miles north of Arras) French troops today destroyed German intrenchments and occupied the craters, which they still hold in the face of a violent bombardment and several counterattacks. West of Soissons the French batteries are reported to have inflicted heavy damage on the German fortifications. In Champagne, east of Rheims, German infantry advanced against the French trenches under cover of gas clouds, but the attacks broke down before a concentrated rifle and artillery fire:

Tonight's official report from the French War Office follows:

After having exploded in the neighborhood of the road from Arras to Lille, to the southeast of Neuville-St. Vaast, a series of powerful mines, which destroyed the German intrenchments and entanglements, our troops immediately occupied the excavations. They installed and maintained themselves there, notwithstanding a very violent bombardment and several counterattacks by the enemy, who suffered serious losses. We captured about thirty prisoners.

To the north of the Aisne, in the sector of Roche, west of Soissons the methodical fire of our batteries has caused heavy damage to the organizations, blockhouses, and shelters of the enemy.

To the east of Rheims the Germans renewed on the front from La Ferme de Marquise to Prosnes their attempts to attack, with the employment of suffocating gases in large quantities. Our troops were able to protect themselves efficaciously against the blankets of gas coming from the enemy trenches. They broke down, by infantry and artillery barrier fire, the effort of the assailants, who were everywhere completely repulsed.

Spirited combats with grenades continued during the entire day, without appreciable change, in the trenches to the north of Ville-sur-Tourbe.

The French afternoon official statement says:

To the south of Loos our aeroplanes drove back and dispersed by their fire strong patrols of the enemy.

In Champagne in the course of the night the Germans attempted a new attack against our trenches at La Courtine. This attack was checked immediately by our infantry fire and machine guns, and failed completely.

The night was calm on the rest of the front.

Sir John French's report, made public tonight, says:

Since my last communication of Oct. 24 the situation on our front has remained unchanged. There have been mining activities on both sides, but without important results.

The enemy's artillery has been active east of Ypres and south of the La Bassée Canal. Our reply to this shelling has been very effective.

Our airmen brought down two German aeroplanes yesterday, one falling inside our own lines and the other close behind the enemy's front trenches.

The Belgian official communication reads:

The enemy displayed much activity this morning on the Belgian front. His artillery has bombarded Furnes, Loo, and several points on our front. To the north of Steenstraete there has been bomb fighting.

The Berlin report from the Franco-Belgian front follows:

After the explosion of a French mine on the Lille-Arras Road an unimportant engagement developed, which went in our favor.

Northeast of Massiges, (in Champagne,) the French in the course of an attack with hand grenades penetrated one of our advanced trenches at one small point. They were driven out during the evening.

In an aerial combat Lieutenant Ingelmann brought down his fifth enemy aeroplane. It was a French biplane carrying British officers, who were taken prisoners. Two other enemy aeroplanes were brought down behind the lines of the enemy. One of them was destroyed completely by our artillery. The other fell at a point north of Souchez.

32,400 TEUTONS INTERNED.

LONDON, Oct. 12.—There are 32,400 Germans and Austrians in the alien internment camps in England at the present time, notes a circular from the Home Secretary.

Nearly nine thousand aliens have been repatriated. The number of exemptions from internment is 7,200. The number of women exempted from the repatriation rule is about 16,000.

Imagine yourself at this desk—sitting down, working in comfort, all your accounts (12,000 of them, we'll say) within arm's reach.

You'd know what you were doing every minute—and you wouldn't be working nights to keep your "books" straight.

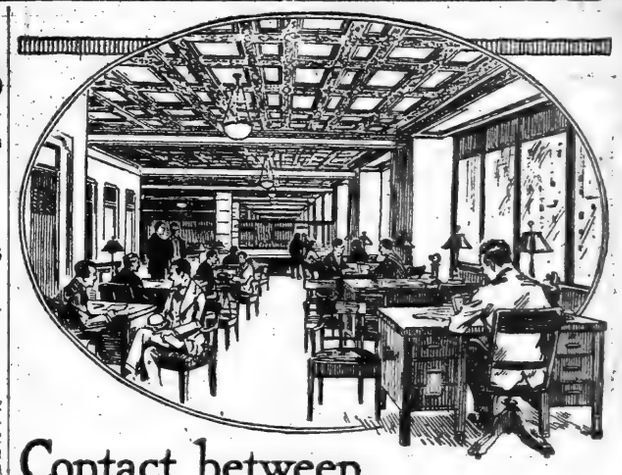
Isn't this the sensible way to keep accounts—or records of any kind?

This Library Bureau unit record desk (in either wood or steel) represents a plain everyday business idea. It is the most practical means devised to assemble and handle card records.

It brings the facts of any man's business right where he can, literally, lay his hands on them.

It's worth your time to find out where an L. B. unit record desk would fit into your office system.

Library Bureau
Manufacturing distributors of
Card and filing systems. Unit cabinets in wood and steel.
O. H. RICE, Manager
316 Broadway, New York



Contact between Customers and Officers

Personal contact between the customers of the Irving National Bank and its officers is furthered by the special design of the bank's quarters; all officers are within easy reach.

Personal service has been an important factor in the growth of this bank; since 1900, the increase has been as follows:

Capital and Surplus—1900	$ 300,000
Capital and Surplus—1915	7,000,000
Total Assets—1900	3,471,057
Total Assets—1915	80,770,848

IRVING NATIONAL BANK
Strictly a Commercial Bank—Capital and Surplus, $7,000,000
WOOLWORTH BUILDING NEW YORK

DENIES PROMISES TO BRAND WHITLOCK

Continued from Page 1.

of Standon, near Roulers, who received an order from German soldiers to deliver French soldiers supposed to have been concealed in his presbytery, was shot at point-blank before he could give a reply and killed. Three other persons are reported to have met the same fate."

WILSON TRIES TO SAVE CONDEMNED BELGIANS

Instructs Gerard to Intercede for 32 Persons Now Under Sentence of Death.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—In response to appeals from Belgian sources to President Wilson, James W. Gerard, the American Ambassador at Berlin, has been instructed by Secretary Lansing to intercede informally with the German Government with a view to obtaining clemency for thirty-two persons sentenced to death by the German military authorities in Liége for alleged espionage.

The State Department's advices on the subject say that there are no British subjects included among the group of persons which a German court-martial ordered to be shot. Press dispatches gave the number of the convicted persons at thirty-four, but the State Department was informed that the correct number was thirty-two.

BERLIN, Oct. 27, (via London, Thursday, Oct. 28.)—Although he has not yet been notified officially of the execution of Miss Edith Cavell by the Germans at Brussels, Ambassador Gerard is anticipating the possibility that he may be required to investigate the circumstances of the case.

Mr. Gerard said today that he was yet uncertain whether he or Brand Whitlock, the American Minister to Belgium, would be asked to make a further report to the State Department at Washington.

MADRID, Oct. 27, (via Paris.)—The Marquis de Lema, Minister of Foreign Affairs, announces that he has received information which leads him to believe that death sentences imposed on women in Brussels will be commuted.

Aside from that of Miss Cavell the names of only two other women who were condemned to death in Brussels have become known. They are the Countess Jeanne de Belleville and Mlle. Louise Thulier. A dispatch from London on Oct. 22 said Emperor William had notified King Alfonso of Spain that he had pardoned these two women.

WON'T THREATEN VON BISSING

British Government Refuses to Fix the 'Murder' of Miss Cavell on Him.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—In reply to a question whether the British Government intended to notify General von Bissing, the German Governor of Belgium, that he "will be held personally responsible for the quasi-judicial assassination of Miss Cavell," Lord Robert Cecil, Parliamentary Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, said that it would serve no purpose to convey such a resolve to any particular German official, who was not necessarily responsible. Lord Robert recalled the words of Premier Asquith last May that reparation would be exacted for any mistreatment of English prisoners. The Under-Secretary added:

"That pledge still holds good, and it applies with two-fold force to the savage murder under legal form of that noble woman."

WHAT SECRETARY GIBSON SAID

Cavell Case Report Included No Denial by the Governor.

The papers on the Cavell case forwarded by Minister Whitlock to Ambassador Page, the text of which was published in THE NEW YORK TIMES of Oct. 22, included reports from M. Deleval, the Counsellor of the Legation, (to whom presumably the German semi-official charges refer when they speak of a "Belgian advocate,") and from Hugh Gibson, Secretary of the Legation. A part of the latter's report read as follows:

Baron von der Lancken stated that it was quite improbable that sentence had been pronounced, and even if so it would not be executed in so short a time, and that, in any event, it would be quite impossible to take any action before morning. * * *

I further called attention to the failure to comply with Mr. Conrad's promise to inform the Legation of sentence.

So far as Mr. Gibson's report shows, Baron von der Lancken, the Civil Governor, did not repudiate the suggestion that a promise had been given to keep the legation informed as to the developments in Miss Cavell' case.

There Are Two Ways to Prevent Smoke

One of them is to burn hard coal. The other is to install a boiler that burns soft coal so perfectly that none of the fuel is wasted. Because if all of the fuel is used to make heat there can't be any smoke—because smoke is nothing but unconsumed fuel.

As a matter of fact you can't afford to burn anything but soft coal. Hard coal is scarce; costs more money than bituminous; and contains less heat. So every time you install a boiler that burns soft coal smokelessly you save money in two ways. First because you can buy cheaper coal—and second because you waste none of the fuel you do use.

400 Park Ave., New York City.
Fullerton, Weaver Realty Co., Owners.
Warren & Wetmore, Architects.
2 Kewanee Smokeless Boilers and Garbage Burner installed by W. G. Cornell Co.

KEWANEE
Smokeless Boilers
CUT COAL COSTS

Fullerton & Weaver's latest apartment building (No. 400 Park Ave.—N. W. Corner Park Avenue and 54th St.) is just one of many of New York City's best buildings where bituminous coal is burned smokelessly in a Kewanee Smokeless Boiler.

And the experience of building owners has been that the use of soft coal in a Kewanee Smokeless Boiler cuts their heating costs. This is proven by the repeat orders we have received from practically every building owner who has given a Kewanee Smokeless a chance to make good.

May we give you complete information?

KEWANEE BOILER COMPANY
Kewanee, Illinois
Steel Heating Boilers, Water Heating Garbage Burners
New York City, 47 W. 42nd Street

29

Insuring an active Directorate

MUCH of the responsibility of management falls upon the Executive Committee of the Directors.

The Executive Committee should therefore be as representative of the entire Board as possible.

Nine members of the Columbia Trust Company's Executive Committee are elected annually from the Board. They serve one year. A tenth member is appointed each month to serve one month.

There are always ten members of the Board on the Executive Committee. By this rotation plan all members of the directorate share actively in supervision and management responsibility.

COLUMBIA TRUST COMPANY

IN FINANCIAL DISTRICT: 60 BROADWAY
IN SHOPPING CENTER: FIFTH AVENUE AND 34TH STREET
IN HARLEM: 125TH STREET AND LENOX AVENUE
IN BRONX: 148TH STREET AND THIRD AVENUE

Interest credited monthly on interest-bearing deposits.

To Those Born Without A Platinum Spoon!

PRECIOUS few of us are born with a platinum spoon in our mouths. Most of us must bestir ourselves not only for the spoon, but something to go on it.

Therefore—make every dollar bring its penny-fullest return. $20 and $25 for these Suits or Overcoats in Solid Greens and Browns buys the utmost value—sound fabric, soft tailoring, smart style.

$3.50 for French Flannel Shirts in bold Stripes and Plaids—distinctively new and different.

Town-and-Country Suits and Overcoats

$20.00 to $65.00

JOHN DAVID
STEIN-BLOCH SMART CLOTHES
Broadway at 32nd Street

SPEND A WINTER IN NEW ORLEANS

Enjoy wonderful climate—Delightful Social Life. Opera. Carnival—Good Theatres. Racing, Golf, Tennis, Hunting, Fishing—all year round.

MAGNIFICENT HOME CAN BE LEASED

One of the South's finest residences. Decorated by Baumgarten & Co. Perfect taste. Every comfort provided. Large grounds surrounded by beautiful palms.

An Exceptional Opportunity

Real Estate Dept.,
Hibernia Bank & Trust Co.,
825 Carondelet St., New Orleans.

CLYSMIC
THE KING OF TABLE WATERS

BELL-ANS
Absolutely Relieves Indigestion. One package proves it. 25c at all druggists.
Contains no harmful or deleterious substance

FOR YOUR SKIN

POSLAM SOAP

To cleanse and purify; to safeguard its health. Soothing. Wholesome. For Toilet and Bath.

At All Druggists, 25 cents and 15 cents.

IVANGOROD'S GOLD DOME WAS MASKED

Russians Deceived the Germans by a Screen That Imitated Trees.

'LEARNED FROM JAPANESE'

Invaders' Explanation of the Subterfuge — Appreciate It, Though They Suffered.

'RUSSIA BROKEN IN TWO'

An Officer's Remark to J. O'Donnell Bennett in Regard to the Capture of the Great Fortress.

By JAMES O'DONNELL BENNETT.

CZENSTOCHOWA, Russia, Sept. 26.—In the days before the war the first object seen by the traveler journeying up or down the Vistula to the City of Ivangorod was the golden dome of the garrison's Greek church, which rises from the centre of the great block of buildings constituting the Fortress of Ivangorod. For miles upon miles across the plain it was visible and when the late afternoon sun shone across it it blazed against the sky like a ball of fire.

The dome is still there.

But unless he looked very sharply the traveler who sought it now would see nothing in that direction save what might strike him as a lofty tree—or perhaps a group of three or four trees—of peculiarly luxuriant foliage. If he had some hint that a deception had been practiced, and if he surveyed the landscape from the river through field glasses he probably would suspect that the outlines of this mass of trees were too regular to be natural, and if he were an artilleryman he would almost surely suspect something.

And his suspicion would be justified.

Certain German artillerymen were a good deal baffled when they came into this region with the purpose of pounding the Fortress of Ivangorod to pieces.

They looked on their wonderful maps and they learned from them that at such and such a point there should be the gilded dome of a large church and with that fact in mind they said to each other, "Now where is that dome, and by any possibility can that mass of trees in the neighborhood of where the dome should be mean anything?" To clear up their doubts they sent some shots across the river and into the mass of trees.

The experiment was fruitful. What had seemed to be a mass of trees was not lopped and spread apart as it should have been had the mass been veritable trees. The shots went cleanly through. The doubts of the Germans were cleared up.

When they marched into the fortress they found the garrison church still standing. It was not much damaged. Looking up at the dome, they found that its gilded dome had received a coat of green paint and that then the whole extent of it had been carefully covered with a thick wave of evergreen branches. Through this mass and through the dome two of the German shots had gone clean.

The ruse had served a double purpose. It had not only given the Russians a safe signal station at a critical time, but it had deprived the enemy of a capital point for taking the range and left him at sea at a time when every instant was precious.

Taught by the Japanese.

When the Germans saw the masked dome they grinned appreciatively, for they are capable of taking a joke when it is a military joke, and said what they always say when the Russians do anything clever:

"We bet they learned that from the Japanese."

At present, Ivangorod having fallen and the Germans being safely in it, the only beings for whom the dome retains a practical value are the birds. They said "much obliged" and went to live among the faded evergreens.

As to the future of the church, the German officer now in command of the fortress said with a gravity through which not a gleam of irony shone: "As the Russians will not be coming back the church is being refitted for Catholic services."

All the forts of Ivangorod were blown up before the Russians evacuated the fortress and fire was thrown into all the buildings. The destruction is terrible to behold and the flight is deplorable to think upon.

"A beautiful fortress," said my friend, "a beautiful fortress. It seems as if it could have been held indefinitely. Certainly the speedy evacuation was not ethical."

His epitome of what Ivangorod meant in the general scheme of Russian affairs was worth listening to because he knit up the fate of that fortress with the fate of Novo Georgievsk and Brest-Litovsk—fortresses that constitute the great Polish trilateral.

And what he said was this: "Russia is broken in two."

Around Ivangorod we have done long stretches on foot, and it is grilling hard work. We are routed out at dawn and we have got so we consider it not bad luck if we get one hot meal every twenty-four hours. On one of these stretches a cold night followed a very warm day, and what with weariness and thirst and the abrupt change of temperature, some of us got queer in our inside. It was then that the Spaniard collapsed, not because he lacks spirit, but from sheer dog tiredness. Beside his own tongue he speaks German, French, Italian, and a little English, and he generally saves the Italian for his more emotional moments, which are numerous. When he is pleased with the situation he cries "Bravo!" and when it astounds him he shouts "Per Bacco!" and if he likes you and thinks you are "tres gentil" he addresses you as "Caro mio."

Well, the night he gave out we were plunging through the dark in the neighborhood of Novo Georgievsk, and our only light was the glow from the burning fortress. We were pretty quiet, and the road we had taken was silent and deserted except when we would come upon a detachment of Germans who were trying to manoeuvre the teams of frantic horses dragging the munition wagons through mires that would have broken the heart of an elephant. Once past this lashing and shouting, we would hear nothing for many a verst and see nothing but the red glow in the sky. Once a goat came scampering out of a field and joined us—whether for the sake of human companionship or in the hope of being milked after days on a deserted countryside nobody could determine. Always she emitted quite companionable bleats as she trotted along with us, except that sometimes when we paused to deliberate about the correct route she would set up crying that was go much like a child's crying that it was uncanny.

Suddenly there was a soft little moan of "Caro mio" behind us, and somebody said, "Was that the goat or Don Quixote?"

It was the Don, and after struggling along for hours a bad place in the road had brought him down. The Bulgarian, who is a grenadier of a man, and the Hollander, who is stock and grim, caught him up in their arms and half carried him through the dark until we found the place where we had had to leave our autos because the roads beyond that point had been reported very bad.

A World in Two Words.

When they lifted him into one of the autos he turned his wonderful eyes first to one and then to the other and said: "Caro mio." That was the only thanks he needed to utter. He can say "Caro mio" in a tone that almost brings tears to your eyes. War cures sentimentality, but it cannot drive from our hearts the very genuine tenderness we all feel for the courtly, gallant, excitable Don.

Next evening he was all right again and he and I drank to his health in a glass of mineral water for the lack of anything more convivial. That pleased him and he asked me if I who had so long studied plays knew the plays of his compatriot Jacinto Benavente.

I had to confess that I did not know them and asked if Benavente were one of the big men of the new Spanish drama.

"O," he shouted, "col-os-sal! O, enorme! Oh, like Shakespeare! O, our greatest poet of the theatre! O, he is my master, my master!"

So we had to drink some more mineral water in honor of Jacinto Benavente, and then I proposed the health of José Echegaray, to whom, I said, I could drink with intelligence because I knew his best plays pretty thoroughly and revered the author.

The Don blew a kiss and bowed his head at the mention of that name and taking the toast for a compliment to him—as it was meant—said that, per Bacco, if the Americans and the Spaniards had only understood each other better seventeen years ago they never would have fought each other and that when I came to Barcelona he would be my guide and that nobody else should be, per Bacco!

As the townsmen of one of Arnold Bennett's heroes used to say of him, "he's a card"—the Spaniard.

Copyright, 1915, by The Chicago Tribune.

FRENCH AVIATOR BAGS TWO GERMAN AIRCRAFT

Jumps From "Cloud to Cloud" and Surprises Balloon and Sentinel Aeroplane.

PARIS, Oct. 27.—Sergeant Aviator "G. G.," who recently destroyed a German captive balloon and an aeroplane on one trip, describes his double exploit in a letter received by friends at Fontenoy-le-Comte, where he was a high school teacher.

"It was our fourth attempt," writes the aviator, "to attack a famous balloon which was so well guarded that we never were able to get near it. When we got over the Boche lines I saw the balloon emerging from a sea of clouds fifteen miles away. Being wary, we made a wide detour so as to get to windward and bear down upon it from its own lines, whence it was certain not to expect an attack.

"On the way, however, we came upon a sentinel aeroplane which, being beneath us, did not appear to see us. I signaled our pilot. He pushed his engine to 1,300 revolutions and dropped vertically upon the enemy. My position was precarious, my body hanging out over space, clinging to a strut with the left hand, my right hand on the butt of a machine gun.

"At 350 yards I opened fire. Instantly the Boche swerved and tried to flee, but he got across us and I gave him a broadside. He pitched downward into the clouds.

"We were then within three miles of the balloon. We advanced crab-wise, jumping from cloud to cloud. The balloon didn't budge. We got close up, I gave the sign and we swooped upon him. When 300 yards above it I opened with the second gun.

"In twelve seconds it was all over. I leaned over and could see the balloon, half deflated, lying on the trees. The German batteries saw nothing and did not fire on us.

"We waltzed home delirious with joy, photographing each other on the way."

MRS. NICOLL WATCHED AIR RAID ON LONDON

Seemed Like a Battle of Fallen Angels to Wife of New York Lawyer.

Mrs. De Lancey Nicoll, who is temporarily living in London in apartments at 13 Wilbraham Mansions, witnessed the big Zeppelin raid on Oct. 13. In describing it to a friend in New York, she wrote:

"It was somewhere near 10 o'clock. I was thinking of going to bed, when my sharp ears caught a muffled 'bomb, bomb.' For one instant I thought of subway explosions—realized that they did not have them over here, and that it must be Zeppelins, so I seized a coat and scrambled through the dormer window out upon my balcony.

"It was a clear, starry night, with just the usual cold London night mist in the streets, and there, way up among the serene stars, were exploding, falling globes of fire—many searchlights darting across the heavens, and the distant muffled 'bomb, bomb' of the guns; then a muffled explosion like dynamite under ground. I cannot describe to you how spectacular and yet how simple it was—like titanic fireworks. That men were fighting up in the air gave it a completing touch of unreality. So might the fallen angels have battled. It was all over in fifteen minutes. There really was not enough of it. My little cook joined me on the balcony, but her sister was crying and frightened in the kitchen, so she went back and I watched alone.

"This is a very quiet part of London. Hardly any one was in the street, and presently a policeman ordered me in for fear of bits of falling shell. The explosion was so far off and dull I thought the raid was nowhere near London—so fancy my surprise when I went to see the damage done yesterday. I found that it was just one block from the Savoy.

"Last night another raid was predicted, but none came off. It is rather like sitting at the theatre and waiting for a dilatory curtain. Some people say they saw the Zeppelins, but I did not—and the noise near the Strand must have been intense; here it was dull and far off."

NEW AIR FLEET FOR FRANCE.

Aerial League Wants 5,000 Machines to Wreck German Factories.

PARIS, Thursday, Oct. 28.—The formation of a supplementary air fleet of 5,000 aeroplanes, the special mission of which will be to conduct a ceaseless campaign of destruction on German factories, is the object of the new French Aerial League.

The league was founded by a group of prominent Frenchmen headed by ex-Premier Louis Barthou, Georges Clemenceau, Stephen Pichon, the Duc de Rohan, Baron Henri de Rothschild, Etienne Clementel, Count Robert de Clermont-Tonnerre, Paul Doumer, Guillaume Capus, Charles Humbert, David Menet, and Professor Paul Painlevé.

GERMANY PUTS BAN ON SALE OF SHIPS

Passes a Law to Prevent Transfer of Any of Her Merchant Vessels.

ENACTMENT A WEEK OLD

Law Is Said to Apply to All German Subjects Residing Abroad.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—The possibility of the sale of German merchant vessels tied up in American ports has been disposed of by the action of the German Government in forbidding it. The State Department has received advices from Berlin to the effect that on Oct. 21 a law was enacted under which every German subject owning or having a share in any merchant vessel was forbidden to sell or in any way dispose of this interest to any person not a German subject. The Department was informed that the law applied to German subjects residing in foreign countries.

Whether the law applies to the sale of interest in merchant vessels since the beginning of the war and prior to the date of the enactment of the law, is not known here. If it should apply in that way it would materially affect the status of the several steamers which have been sold in this country since the outbreak of hostilities. The French Government has never recognized as legal the sale of an enemy-owned merchant vessel during the progress of hostilities, and in accordance with that position the French Government seized the American steamship Dacia, which was purchased in this country from the Hamburg-American Line after the war began.

While the British Government had in the past taken a position indicating that it would recognize such sales to citizens of neutral countries during the progress of hostilities, action was taken within the past week showing an intention to change this policy. Announcement was made by the British Government last week that British shippers must not charter vessels carrying neutral flags in which enemy subjects were interested financially, and in the list of vessels suspected of being included in that category were the names of eight ships of the American Transatlantic Company, a Delaware corporation, which purchased the vessels in Denmark and had them transferred to American registry. The British Government announced that it would not recognize a section of the Declaration of London which sanctioned the transfer of enemy merchant vessels to a neutral ownership and flag during the progress of hostilities.

It has been charged and denied that in its plans for organizing a Government-owned merchant marine the Wilson Administration contemplated getting the nucleus of the proposed line by buying German merchant vessels which were tied up in American ports. The enactment of the new German law appears to dispose effectually of the chance of any purchase of these vessels for the Government-owned merchant marine should the so-called Ship Purchase bill be enacted.

In the view of officials the enactment of the German law means that the German Government has decided that it must keep what is left of the merchant marine for use after the war. Germany has suffered heavily on the sea, and even if there are no more sales or captures of German merchantmen the merchant shipping of the country will be badly crippled when normal conditions are restored.

NEW HOSPITAL FOR FRENCH.

Institution Headed by Dr. Blake Not for British Soldiers.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, Oct. 27.—Lady Allen Johnston, wife of the British Minister at The Hague and a sister of Gifford Pinchot, made the following statement to THE NEW YORK TIMES correspondent today:

"In American papers it is stated that the Reckitt-Johnston Hospital at Risorangis will take the place of the British base hospital, which is incorrect. It is for French wounded only and under direct control of the French War Office.

"Harold J. Reckitt, M. P., joined me in offering a fully equipped hospital of 100 beds. The Government placed at our disposal the former monastery of the Maronite Father, Risorangis, which was modernized and transformed into a hospital.

"Later they asked us to enlarge the accommodations to 225 beds, and the funds were raised by Mr. Reckitt and English friends.

"We have a staff of American, English, and Canadian doctors under the direction of Dr. Joseph Blake, assisted by Kenneth Taylor, bacteriologist.

FORM ZEPPELIN WATCHES.

London Citizens Volunteer to Warn Householders of Raids.

LONDON, Oct. 15, (Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—Watching for Zeppelins is a new form of volunteer duty not yet recognized by the Government. It is undertaken by men who have nervous women to look after, and it consists in scanning the sky from 9 P. M. until about 2 A. M., on the theory that this is the period of the night the "Zeps" are likely to operate.

In the districts which have been raided heretofore the feeling of uneasiness is strong, especially in families with children, as time is needed to carry them to the basement or lower floor. Here the watchers organize themselves and divide up the watches. While they are not officially recognized, they are known and unofficially recognized by the police.

These organizations practice surprise drills, and have arranged telephone connections with the small shopkeepers who have friends in the suburbs.

SPY SHOT IN LONDON.

Had Been Tried by General Court-martial and Found Guilty.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—Official announcement was made today that another spy had been put to death.

The announcement says the prisoner, charged with espionage, was tried recently by the general court-martial, found guilty, and sentenced to death. This sentence was confirmed, and was carried out this morning.

NORWEGIAN SHIP IS SUNK.

Nineteen of the Selma's Crew Believed to Have Been Drowned.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—Lloyd's announces that the Norwegian steamer Selma, of 987 tons, has been sunk. Two members of the crew were picked up.

Nineteen others are believed to have been drowned.

German Beer Higher; Output Less.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BERLIN, Oct. 27.—There has been an increase in the price of beer in Germany, and it is announced that the consumption of Pilsener beer must be reduced to one-third, as, owing to a shortage of raw materials, the famous Bohemian breweries have been forced to reduce their output to one-third.

TRADE PROTEST GOES TO ENGLAND

Continued from Page 1.

projected action by Germany and England, but the unofficial reports that reached Washington today are known to have been supplemented by similar information reaching private interests in New York City. The information is of such a character that officials here are inclined to regard it as authentic. Should this be so it is probable that President Wilson and Secretary Lansing will find it necessary to take vigorous diplomatic action in an effort to facilitate the movement of American-owned goods now in Germany.

Retaliatory Measure.

According to the unofficial information received here, the Berlin Government contemplates the embargo in an effort to force Great Britain and the Allies to relax blockade or to permit American cotton and other goods to enter Germany when destined only for the use of the civil population. It was intimated here tonight that the Berlin Government felt that in the present condition of affairs, Germany could very well afford to establish such an embargo. The probable purpose is to force President Wilson to take a decisive stand in behalf of the freedom of the seas. In one of his notes to Germany during the correspondence over the submarine controversy, President Wilson asserted that he intended to leave no stone unturned to maintain the freedom of the seas for American commerce, and that he would challenge all efforts to restrict such freedom of the seas for American commerce from whatever source assailed. The information reaching Washington is that unless the United States Government takes definite action to compel England to maintain the freedom of the seas, so far as non-contraband shipments to Germany are concerned, Germany will retaliate by refusing to permit any products to be shipped out of Germany.

Germany has been saying that she would permit certain products to come to the United States, provided the British Government would not interfere with the movement of these shipments, or with certain non-contraband shipments into Germany from the United States. In this situation, the Foreign Trade Advisers of the State Department in their efforts to bring potash, dyestuffs, or other goods from Germany have first been endeavoring to obtain permits from England for the movement of such goods through the blockade, and then informing the German Government, asking it to lift the embargo on the particular product affected.

Vast Sum Tied Up.

After considerable negotiation and difficulty the United States Government, acting informally, has finally made arrangements whereby American-owned goods, made in Germany and Austria, may be permitted to come through under special permits, if satisfactory proof is offered to show that the goods were bought and paid for, or actually contracted for, before March 1, 1915. The goods that have been held up and for which special permits are now being sought are worth approximately $150,000,000. Some of these are in Rotterdam, or in various neutral ports contiguous to Germany. Still other goods, although owned by American importers, are in mills in Germany and Austria and have not yet been shipped.

If Germany should prohibit all exports the American-owned goods which the Trade Advisers have been endeavoring to have brought to this country will be marooned.

"The Drizzler" Removes All Doubt

THE new metropolitan idea is "The Drizzler," which has made its Broadway bow in the Weber and Heilbroner stores.

★ ★

When you leave the house or the hotel, whether the weather is thick or thin, "The Drizzler" is the safest, as well as the smartest, companion you can have.

★ ★

The latest Fifth Avenue overcoat styles—a brown, or a gray, a herringbone or a heather, cravenetted so that it protects you against the rain—and keeping the secret under cover.

★ ★

As smart as turning up your trousers because it's raining in London.

And at a very reasonable overcoat price—$20, $25 and $30.

Largest Distributors of "Neverbreak" Wardrobe Trunks—$15.

Weber and Heilbroner
Eleven Stores

241 Broadway, 345 Broadway, 757 Broadway, 1185 Broadway, 44th and Broadway, 1363 Broadway, 58 Nassau, 150 Nassau, 20 Cortlandt, 27 New, 42nd and Fifth Ave.
Clothes at 27 New, 241 B'way, 1185 B'way, 44th and B'way, 42nd and 5th Ave.

SHOOTING OF FOOLS SHAW'S WAR MISSION

He Tells Audience He Wants to Obliterate Looters of England's Character and Morals.

TOO MUCH LUSITANIA FUSS

Seeing That the Army Suffered Terrible Losses at Same Time—Gentlemen Don't Hate Foes.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—George Bernard Shaw's lecture on "Illusions of the War" in the King's Hall, Covent Garden, last night, was the first of a series of Fabian Society addresses. Curiously enough, the fullest report of the lecture available is given, not by any London paper, but in The Manchester Guardian.

Mr. Shaw said that when the war began he wanted the War Office to issue this placard: "If you have any business, go and do it; if you have none, get out of the way—Kitchener."

Mr. Shaw seems to be of the opinion that the nation as a whole has for the past year been holding on to a level-headed view of things, but that the talking and writing part of the nation has been going in for sentimental ravings of all kinds, and he thinks England's success in the war depends largely on getting the ravers suppressed and getting rid of the illusions which tempted people to say that war was a disease.

In war, he said, everything depended upon pluck, good humor, and industry, on a light heart and a serious mind, but these things were founded on facts and not in illusions.

Mr. Shaw said his mission in the war was to shoot those who were looting the character and morals of the nation. The great need in war was economy, and the intellectual waste which took place in the talking of nonsense might possibly lead to England's defeat.

Mr. Shaw contrasted the war code of the gentleman and the code of the cad in a most effective passage, remarking that a gentleman refused to hate his enemy, and that the only thing that made war tolerable to honorable soldiers was that it was not a matter of spiteful and vicious hatred. In a real sense, the brave man was the man who loved his enemy.

After some more remarks to this effect, Mr. Shaw dealt out some fierce badinage to the Anti-German League and other advocates of vindictiveness, saying:

"It is time for the gentlemen of England to take the upper hand. The mischief with the ecstatic view of war is that it is kaleidoscopic and constantly changing, but the truth does not change. If all the brains and literary talent, energy, and enthusiasm which have been put into the writing of balderdash during the last year had been devoted to pulling us through the war, we should have been almost in Berlin by this time."

Speaking incidentally about the "scrap-of-paper" controversy, Mr. Shaw said he had always maintained that nothing was more sacred in this war than Great Britain's obligation to Belgium, adding:

"If we don't get the Germans out of Belgium we are dishonored and beaten, because Belgium was forced into the conflict by an alliance to which we belonged. Belgium had nothing to rely upon except a treaty called a 'scrap of paper.'"

Speaking of what he called the "intense selfishness of ecstatic people," Mr. Shaw was indignant at the "want of proportion" shown in the "storm of fury and rage" over the sinking of the Lusitania on the part of civilians, who had practically nothing to say about the terrible losses that had happened in Flanders at about the same time. He said that the only persons he could talk to on this subject were soldiers, and they heartily agreed with him.

The lecturer thought it would be more decent on England's part not to make so much of Zeppelin raids, saying that the country should feel it was just as well that it should have personal experience now and again of what the soldier had to face in the trenches every day. He went on:

"What is dangerous at present is that our statesmen are enjoying utterly demoralizing impunity. We want an infusion of younger men among the politicians and the General Staff. We can only get that by bringing men strictly to account when they make a mess of things."

What ought to be tried now, said Mr. Shaw, was relaxation of military law. People had seen what happened under military law in the shooting of Miss Cavell. Some of the remedies that had been suggested were as bad as the disease. He would rather see the Kaiser installed in Buckingham Palace than see Lord Northcliffe prevented from expressing any of his opinions on the war. "Lord Northcliffe's liberty," he remarked, "is as precious to me as my own liberty."

Mr. Shaw said he would rather have open oppression and subjugation than a pretence of liberty. To save England by oppression would be to save her by losing her old liberties. The remedy for what Lord Northcliffe was saying was not to shut up Northcliffe but to open the mouths of other people. The remedy for political confusion was a general election, and there was no reason why there should not be a general election during the war except the reluctance of all Governments to come to a democratic test.

RHODES SCHOLARS WON BELGIAN GIRLS

American Students at Oxford Took Time from War Work to Fall in Love.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

OXFORD, Oct. 27.—Many Americans at Oxford are wearing American flags or the insignia of the Belgian Relief Commission of the American Red Cross Corps since a correspondent of the 'Varsity Magazine mistook a group of them for "slackers" and wrote in criticism of Oxford patriotism. The Oxford roll of service includes more than 9,000 names. Of these men from 800 to 900 already have been killed, while virtually complete registration figures show 600 against a normal count of 4,000 undergraduates in residence, these 600 being to a man training for commissions, foreigners or men unfit for military service.

The present year is one in which normally no American Rhodes scholars are elected, but about thirty of them who spent last year doing some form of war work now are beginning their first year of Oxford. A rather unexpected result of the work of these young Americans in Belgium and their rôle of heroes in Belgian eyes has been the announcement of a number of engagements to Belgian girls.

C. H. Carstairs of Philadelphia and London will shortly marry a girl living near Mons. T. B. Kittredge, who now is teaching history in the University of California, will return next Summer and marry a girl of the Province of Limburg whom he met when bringin into Limburg the first cargo of American food to reach that part of Belgium.

Rhodes scholars now returning to Oxford have been in nearly every theatre of the war, sometimes facing one another from opposite sides of the lines. F. H. Gailor of Tennessee and Dorsey Stephens of California were in charge of relief work behind the German lines in Northern France only a few miles from where two classmates, Preston Lockwood of St. Louis and E. F. Hollman of California, were driving field ambulances behind the French trenches.

BRITAIN RAISES INTEREST.

Treasury Bills Now Yield from 4¾ to 5 Per Cent.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—A reduction in the selling price of treasury bills over the counter was announced today by the Bank of England.

Three months' bills now yield 4¾ per cent., six months' bills 4⅞, and nine and twelve months' bills 5 per cent., as compared with the previous rate of 4½.

These higher rates seem to indicate that the next loans made by the Government will be on a 5 per cent. basis.

Style and How to Get It

¶ We get things in this world in just that proportion that we desire them, be it love, money, knowledge, reputation or Style.

¶ But don't confuse a wish with a desire—a wish is the echo of a regret—but to desire a thing is to go out in the world and get it.

¶ If you like style, if you really want it, if you are genuinely keen about it, Saks' is the one clothing store where you can get it.

¶ Whether you want a suit or an overcoat or both is secondary to the fact that it must be Saks-made if you really want style.

¶ And that goes whether you pay $25 or $40, for Style is the common and uncommon attribute of every suit we make, regardless of price considerations.

Suits ..... $17.50 to $50
Overcoats .... $15.00 to $38

Saks & Company
Broadway at 34th Street.

BONWIT TELLER & CO.
The Specialty Shop of Originations
FIFTH AVENUE AT 38TH STREET

Furs of Fashion and Quality

High-Class Hudson Seal Coats

Made of the choicest Seal-dyed Muskrat. Models in exclusive Russian Cossack, belted and flare types with deep funnel, muff, chin, convertible and novelty collars of contrasting furs, full fur bordered and quaintly cuffed effects. 95.00 to 550.00

Trimmed Hudson Seal Coats
Full flare model with Skunk or self funnel collar 95.00

Trimmed Hudson Seal Coats
Entirely bordered and with collar and cuffs of Skunk; flare model 125.00

Trimmed Hudson Seal Coats
Loose, full model, with border, collar and cuffs of Skunk 165.00

"Jenny" Model Hudson Seal Coats
52 inches long with deep Skunk border, collar and cuffs 245.00

Hudson Seal Coats—Replicas of Paris Models.
Exact reproductions of the best Paris models trimmed with contrasting fur 295.00

High-Class Caracul Coats

Coats that mark the highest standard not only in quality of pelts but in workmanship as well. Designed in the very newest models. 75.00 to 950.00

Trimmed Caracul Coats
Full flare model of flat curl pelts, Skunk funnel collar 75.00

Trimmed Moire Caracul Coats
Entirely bordered and with collar and cuffs of Skunk, flare model 145.00

SPECIAL VALUES IN

Cross & Blue Fox Sets

Cross Fox Animal Scarf and Muff 69.50
Cross Fox Animal Scarf and Muff 95.00
Cross Fox Animal Scarf and Muff 125.00

Other Cross Fox Sets up to $350

Natural Blue Fox Sets 195.00
Natural Blue Fox Sets 225.00
Natural Blue Fox Sets 295.00

Other Blue Fox Sets up to $550

A Collection of Rare Silver Fox Sets $450 to $2,850

SPECIAL VALUES IN

Wholeskin Animal Scarfs

Raccoon 9.50
Natural Lynx 14.50
Skunk 14.50
Baum Marten Fox 25.00
Red Fox 22.50
Battleship Gray Lynx 22.50
Battleship Gray Fox 24.50
Afrique Brown Fox 25.00
Slate Fox (white dyed) 50.00
Blue Fox (white dyed) 39.50

The New Barrel Muffs to Match Scarfs At Correspondingly Moderate Prices.

GEN. WOOD WANTS 35,000 OFFICERS

He Hopes to Get Many from the 40,000 Students Attending Military Schools.

WOULD TRAIN 1,500 A YEAR

Urges Graduates to Join the Summer Camps and Suggests a Short Service in the Army.

Major Gen. Leonard Wood, U. S. A., commanding the Eastern Department of the Army, in an address to the members of the Technology Club, 17 Gramercy Park, yesterday, discussed the movement for the military instruction of the boys and men of the country in the colleges and at the Summer instruction camps. Several of the great universities, among them Harvard, Yale and Princeton, are already considering the proposal to make military instruction part of their courses, while the General Staff of the Army is working on a plan to standardize the military training in schools of a military or semi-military character.

General Wood traced the development of the military instruction camps during the last three years, and ended with a tribute to the business men who made the recent Plattsburg camps such great successes. General Wood said he expected to have three such camps next Summer, lasting all together three months, during which the training would be of the most intensive sort, averaging nine and a half hours' work daily under picked instructors from the regular army.

"We have got to make a lot of officers," said General Wood. "I do not think that the people realize how few we have. All told the number of line officers in the United States, and the figures include those of the National Guard as well as those of the regular army, do not total much more than 11,000 men, whereas for an army of 1,000,000 men we would need at least 35,000."

General Wood then referred to the activities of the National Reserve Corps, the head of which is President Drinker of Lehigh University. Among the other officials are Presiuent Lowell of Harvard, President Hibben of Princeton, and many other educators in various parts of the country. This corps was organized after the close of the first student encampments, three years ago, and has had several thousand students. General Wood pointed out that the board controlling the Reserve Corps had not a single army or navy man on it.

"I want to see the military schools and other institutions in which military training is offered send at least 1,500 men to these Summer camps every year," said General Wood, "and I also hope it will be made possible to give many of them a chance to better themselves by serving a year in the regular army as reserve Second Lieutenants. We have men qualified to make a splendid reserve of officers, and out of all this splendid material we ought to be able to train a body of men who would be ready for service in the event of need.

"We have more than 40,000 young men receiving some sort of military instruction with army officers as instructors. We have got to standardize that training, so that when a man comes out of the colleges we will know what he has done. There are about 9,000 men who graduate. We want to get as many of these as possible and put them through intensive training, so that they will be fitted to become First or Second Lieutenants.

"Large numbers of reserve engineers are needed near all cities to attend to the plans of defense which are all written in engineering language and can be carried out by any engineer of small military training. Men of some military training can be made quickly into officers, if they can be put in camps for short periods. Now a vast quantity of good material for officers is going to waste. It takes a long time to make a good officer, so it is wise to co-ordinate the work in the schools as soon as possible."

General Wood said there were two sorts of soldiers, and that the best sort were the intelligent sort who learn quickly, are actuated by intelligent purpose, and are highly patriotic.

In response to questions General Wood said that older men would be taken in the instruction camps because of the influence that they have on their communities when they go home.

NAVY WILL BUILD A GIANT AEROPLANE

First Flyer Constructed by Government Will Rival Big French Fighters.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Secretary Daniels today signed orders for the construction at the Washington Navy Yard of a very powerful and speedy biplane of the Government's own design.

It will be the first aeroplane built in any Government establishment, and is designed to carry about 2,200 pounds, a speed of from fifty to eighty miles an hour, and a maximum range of seven hours at full speed. The machinery is to be equipped with two 160-horsepower motors. The load of 2,200 pounds, which may be made up either of passengers, fuel or weapons in varying percentage, will allow the employment of the machine over the broadest field, from the long range scouting to a rapid ascent or the convoyance of heavy explosives. It will be almost as big as the great French fighting aircraft, and it is said it may be equipped with special three-inch guns.

For some months experts in the Navy Department have been at work designing a type of aircraft which, it is hoped, will prove adequate for the naval service. This work has been conducted under the direction of the Bureaus of Construction and Repair and of Steam Engineering and under the immediate charge of Naval Constructor H. C. Richardson, U. S. N., who is himself a qualified air pilot and has been a close student of aeronautics for the last two years.

Work on the machine will be started at once, and it will be rushed to completion with all possible speed.

FLETCHER TO KEEP COMMAND.

Rumors That He May be Relieved as Head of Fleet Are Denied.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—No action will be taken by the Secretary of the Navy against Admiral Fletcher for the manner in which the Commander in Chief of the Atlantic fleet conducted his end of the recent war game. There have been reports that, on account of the criticism directed against the Admiral, he might be relieved from his command.

The principal critics of Admiral Fletcher's strategy were Rear Admiral Benson, Chief of Naval Operations; Rear Admiral Knight, commander of the "enemy" fleet in the war game, and Captain Sims, commander of the torpedo division of Admiral Fletcher's fleet. Admiral Knight submitted to the Secretary of the Navy a written report on the war game, in which Admiral Fletcher's conduct of the home defense fleet is held to have been faulty. Admiral Benson and Captain Sims, in discussing the war game at a meeting of officers at the Naval War College in Newport, said that Admiral Fletcher, by dividing his fleet, weakened it to such an extent that the victory of the "enemy" fleet was made possible.

Admiral Fletcher has submitted a report of the war game which defends his methods of conducting the operations, and his statements have impressed some of the officials of the naval administration. He has been defended also by officers who participated in the Newport meeting.

A very high opinion of Admiral Fletcher is held by the Wilson Administration because of his work at Vera Cruz in April, 1914. He directed the operations resulting in the occupation of Vera Cruz, and after the arrival of Admiral Badger, his superior officer, he was the shore administrator of the Mexican city.

In naval circles the frank discussion of the strategy of the recent war is regarded as an excellent thing for the service. The knowledge that a commanding officer will be freely criticised, and that his future in the service may depend on the manner in which he displays his ability to conduct a fleet engaged in these operations, is expected to stimulate all officers to study strategical problems.

CHAMBERLAIN FOR DEFENSE

Chairman of Military Affairs Committee Backs Wilson Program.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—An important conference will take place at the White House tomorrow between President Wilson and Senator Chamberlain of Oregon, Chairman of the Committee on Military Affairs, concerning the Administration's policy increasing the national defense. Senator Chamberlain arrived in Washington today, and he indicated that he was in accord with the President's desire to have the country in a condition of preparedness. He said he was one of the original advocates of better means of national defense and expressed the belief that opposition to the movement would dwindle.

In the opinion of Senator Chamberlain, full garrisons should be maintained at all times to guard the Philippines, Hawaii, and the Panama Canal.

Some relief is felt among those who are backing President Wilson, Secretary Garrison, and Secretary Daniels in their national defense plans by statements coming from friends of Representative Kitchin of North Carolina, who will be the Democratic floor leader in the House, that he will not attempt to lead his party associates in opposition to the Administration's preparedness program. Mr. Kitchin had let it be known that he was opposed to the maintenance of large military and naval forces and did not see how he could stand behind the Administration without abandoning his convictions. While Mr. Kitchin will not declare definitely a national defense policy until he has conferred with President Wilson, his friends believe that he will oppose the Administration program as an individual Representative, leaving some other Democrat to take his place temporarily as the Democratic floor leader, who will seek to carry through the House legislation designed to provide a stronger force on land and sea.

ANIMAL CHARCOAL ABSORBS BACTERIA

Antidote for Cholera, Typhus, and Other Toxins in Alimentary Canal, German Scientists Find.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Behind the curtain of war, German science has made discoveries in medicine in the benefits of which the civilized world will share. The new line of work has been done by German chemists in the use of animal charcoal for medical purposes. It has been learned by practical experiments that this substance, which has been used to remove coloring matter from chemical solutions, will absorb and remove not only poisons from the intestinal canal, but the bacteria of typhus fever, and cholera. The poisons can be neutralized within a very short time, and all poisonous substances in the alimentary canal can be removed by absorption. The action of the animal charcoal extends to the bacteria themselves, which it mechanically absorbs and destroys.

Consul Talbot J. Albert at Brunswick, in a report to the Department of Commerce, mentions as deserving credit for the discovery the chemists Freundlich, Lichtwitz, Glassner, and Suida. He says they have proved that the absorbing quality of animal charcoal is promoted by the presence of the phosphates, sulphates, and nitrates of calcium, sodium, and potassium. The rapidity of the absorption increases with the temperature, so that the heat of the animal body aids the therapeutic effect of the animal charcoal.

The application of animal charcoal extends chiefly to cases where the poison is conveyed to the organism from the outside, and where it arises from bacteria in the intestinal canal in the natural course of living. Cholera was the first disease to be considered; then came typhus and dysentery, when it was possible to exclude the injurious microbes from the system. As the charcoal becomes infected with the bacteria, or with the poisons which it absorbs, such agents as Glauber salts, Karlsbad salts, etc., are used.

It also appears that animal charcoal is applicable in surgery, as it will stop suppuration, which destroys the tissues.

E. WEINACHT ARRESTED.

Former European Manager of Adams Express Co. Held in England.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—Edward Weinacht, a shipping agent and an American citizen, was remanded at the Bow Street Court today on a charge of trading with hostile interests. He was admitted to bail on furnishing two sureties of $2,500 each.

The attorney for Mr. Weinacht said the latter had a complete answer to the charge. He was general manager of a company with large interests both here and in the United States, and had only arrived in England four days ago, on his first visit to this country since the issuance of the warrant.

Until a year ago Mr. Weinacht was European manager of the Adams Express Company. He severed his connection with that company and returned to New York on Aug. 11, 1914. He then obtained an emergency passport, which set forth that he was a native of New York.

Weinacht lives in Elizabeth, N. J. After leaving the Adams Express Company he assisted in the organization of the Sutherland International Dispatch, with offices in New York and London. He was arrested at the London office of that company.

The full extent of the charges against Weinacht has not been made public, but his attorney states that there is more behind them than appeared in today's proceedings. The preliminary hearing will be resumed next Wednesday.

Edward Weinacht is general manager of the Sutherland International Dispatch, customs brokers and forwarding agents, with offices at 1 Broadway. At his office yesterday those in charge said they knew nothing of his arrest and declined to make any comment until they had been advised by cable from Mr. Weinacht.

From inquiries made at his home, 540 Morris Avenue, Elizabeth, N. J., it was learned that Mr. Weinacht sailed for England on Oct. 9 for the purpose of transacting business in relation to the Sutherland International Dispatch. Mrs. Weinacht said last night that her husband was an American citizen, born in New York. He has been living in Elizabeth for eighteen years.

Previous to last Jan. 1 Mr. Weinacht had been for ten years general manager of the foreign department of the Adams Express Company. He is a member of the New York Athletic Club.

BELGIANS WIN IN AFRICA.

Defeat Germans in Two Battles Along the Congo Border.

HAVRE, Oct. 27.—That there has been heavy fighting between the Belgians and the Germans along the boundary line of the Congo Free State and German East Africa is indicated by advices just received by the Belgian Minister of the Colonies.

These dispatches say that the German troops were beaten with heavy loss and put to flight by the Belgians on Sept. 11 near the Rusisi Delta, and on Sept. 29 near the frontier station of Lavingi.

The Belgians are reported to have captured machine guns, rifles, and a quantity of munitions.

6,500 TROOPS SENT TO GUARD ARIZONA

Two Infantry Regiments Added as Villa Nears Border to Attack Carranza Force.

FUNSTON MAY USE HIS GUNS

They Would be Turned on Villistas, Who Are Now Outlaws in the Eyes of This Government.

DOUGLAS, Ariz., Oct. 27.—The advance guard of General Villa's forces invading Sonora was reported late today by cowboys to have reached a point near the international border, eighteen miles east of Agua Prieta, opposite here, where the Carranza forces of General P. Elias Calles are concentraied.

General Villa was reported to be near Colonia Morelos, to the rear of this advancing column of soldiers, supervising the transportation of artillery and baggage wagons.

The troops which reached the border were estimated to number from 1,500 to 3,000, cavalrymen. Additional soldiers were arriving there hourly, the cowboys said.

Army officers here today selected a site for the camp of the Seventh and Twentieth United States Infantry and two additional batteries of artillery, which are to arrive tomorrow from El Paso.

The arrival of these reinforcements will increase the border patrol in this vicinity to approximately 6,500 United States soldiers to enforce American neutrality in the event of an attack upon Agua Prieta by the Villa forces.

Villistas Now Considered Outlaws.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Should Villa troops cross the border and attack the Mexican town of Agua Prieta from the Texas side, as press reports from the scene have indicated they might do, they would be treated as outlaws, disarmed, and, in the event of resistance, shot down by United States troops. Officials at the State and War Departments made this clear tonight, although no official advices had been received that such developments were in prospect.

Major General Funston, commanding the American border forces, has full authority to take any necessary steps to prevent violation of American territory by Mexican armed parties, short of actually invading Mexico. An order to cross the border would have to come from Washington, but if bullets fall on the American side during any battle across the line General Funston may use his artillery to drive the combatants away.

In the event of a battle at Agua Prieta, in which General Funston should find it necessary to use his guns to protect American lives and property, it is said that they undoubtedly would be trained upon the outlaws, not upon the Carranza forces.

CARRANZA BARS POLITICS.

Generals Agree Not to Form Parties Until Country Is Pacified.

Special to The New York Times.

TORREON, Oct. 24, (Delayed.)—A meeting of Generals in Torreon on Saturday issued the following statement:

"We acknowledge receipt of the circular sent by the Secretary of State to all Governors making known the necessity of prohibiting the formation of political parties or groups until the complete pacification of the country, as it is considered premature and inconvenient, and work of a political character under the circumstances could not be done without dividing the elements of the Constitutionalists, endangering the proud fruits won by the revolution. This measure will place us in a condition to realize more easily the definite triumph that has been obtained by the Constitutionalists, consolidating the political discipline of the triumphant revolution."

The statement was signed by Obregon, Aguilar, Hill, Caballero, Murguia, de la Garza, Trevino, Luis Gutierrez, Admiral Maipica, Governor Espinosa Mireles, and Dr. Alt.

This means absolute control by Carranza and removes all danger of a split in the party. The signers control the army and navy and the statement is taken as evidence of a determined effort to consolidate the Constitutionalist cause.

BRITISH SUBJECT KIDNAPPED.

With a Priest He Is Held for Ransom by a Mexican Band.

EL PASO, Oct. 27.—Ernest F. Ayton, a wealthy British mining man, and the priest (unnamed) of the Guanacevi district of Chihuahua, were kidnapped on Oct. 19 by an armed force whose affiliations are unknown, according to advices received today by the Acting British Consul here.

Representations have been made to the State Department, the British Embassy and to General Carranza.

PRINZ ADALBERT'S FATE THREW FLEET IN PANIC

Escorting Craft Fled Without Attempting to Attack British Submarine.

LONDON, Thursday, Oct. 28.—A story of the sinking of the German armored cruiser Prinz Adalbert, just received from Copenhagen, pays an enthusiastic tribute to the skillful work of the British submarine, inasmuch as the cruiser was specially protected against submarine attack by an accompanying flotilla of torpedo boats.

The attack occurred 25 miles west of Libau, when the cruiser was returning from a voyage in the Gulf of Finland.

The fact that so few of the Prinz Adalbert's crew were saved was due in part, according to this account, to a panic which seized the torpedo craft, all of which fled to top speed, alarmed by the amazing violence of the explosion and fearing further attacks.

No attempt was made to attack the submarine.

CAPT. COLQUHOUN MISSING.

Columbia Man Supposed to Have Been Captured by Germans at Loos.

Relatives and friends of W. W. Colquhoun, Columbia '14, now a Captain in the British Army in France, have appealed to the United States Consuls in Germany to help locate him if he is still alive. The last word was heard of him Sept. 25, and if he is living it is feared he has been captured by the Germans. A cablegram received by a former classmate from Colquhoun's father reads: "Captain Colquhoun fought in battle Loos 25th September; reported missing 26th; probably prisoner of war."

Captain Colquhoun was graduated from Columbia in June, 1914, with the degree of mining engineer. The war started while he was on a visit to England with his father, James Colquhoun, for many years President and General Superintendent of the Arizona Copper Company. He enlisted and received a Lieutenant's commission in the Eleventh Battalion of the Highland Light Infantry, and while in the Aldershot training camp he was promoted to a captaincy.

Since last Spring he has been in active service in France, and early in July he was wounded in the right arm by a bullet from a German sniper. On another occasion he was slightly wounded while watching for a sniper, and the man who took Colquhoun a place was killed by the same sniper fifteen minutes later.

Captain Colquhoun was born in Clifton, Ariz., and was educated in Scotland. At Columbia he took an active part in campus activities, played three years on the Varsity soccer team, and was Captain during his last year.

NO HOPE FOR TIEPOLOS.

Experts Say Austrian Shells Entirely Destroyed Venetian Frescoes.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

VENICE, Oct. 27.—Tiepolo's magnificent frescoes in the Church of the Barefooted Friars, representing the finest work of his maturity, have been hopelessly destroyed by Austrian shells. This is the verdict of art critics like Signor Modigliani, Director of the Brera Gallery in Milan; Ugo Opetti, and others who hastened to Venice to ascertain whether the damage was irreparable.

They say that the frescoes are now merely a memory, a bomb having penetrated the vaulted ceiling and burst in a confined space, destroying the entire roof, which fell in heaps of dust and small fragments on the pavement of the church.

Fortunately the side chapels were untouched, and paintings by Giovanni Bellini and other masters had been removed earlier to places of safety.

A large crowd surrounds the ruined building throughout the day, weeping with rage at the destruction of a cherished treasure. Venetians say the Austrians could not have discovered a more efficacious means to rouse Italian feeling against the age-long enemy and to increase the enthusiasm for the war against what they call "spiteful barbarians."

VIENNA, Oct. 27.—In the official Austrian report today this explanation is made of the attack on Venice:

"On Oct. 24 an Italian aviator bombarded the town of Trieste, killing three inhabitants. His visit was returned by our naval aviators with a visit to Venice. Our aviators bombarded the arsenal, electric power station, railway station, some fortifications, and other military buildings with bombs of medium calibre, causing many fires. Next morning our squadron of naval aeroplanes again attacked Venice, where fires from the previous attack were still burning. This time our airmen bombarded a flying shed and a war vessel.

"Weak attempts by two of the enemy's airmen to disturb our attack were quickly frustrated by our rifle fire. During both attempts our aviators were subjected to a heavy but unsuccessful fire by the enemy's artillery. They all returned unharmed."

Near Plava the Italian infantry could not advance.

In the southern sector the Gorizia bridgehead is still under a heavy fire. The enemy penetrated in the afternoon a small portion of our trenches, which we recovered at night.

The artillery fire against the Doberdo Plateau has slackened considerably.

Attacks on our Dolomites front continues. Attacks by strong Italian forces against the Col di Lana, Sief Saddle, were unsuccessful.

GORIZIA STILL HOLDS OUT.

Italians Unable to Retain Captured Positions Under Austrian Fire.

CHIASSO, Oct. 27, (via Paris.)—Advices from Brescia state that the Italians on Oct. 25 interrupted their bombardment at Gorizia to permit of the launching of a formidable infantry attack. They captured strong positions, but the Austrian artillery proving effective against them, the Italians resumed the bombardment from south of Tolmino to St. Andrea.

The situation of the Austrians at Gorizia is considered critical, the Brescia dispatches indicate, as the Austrian artillery is outranged, and the Italians are now attacking the Austrian inner lines.

VIENNA, Oct. 27, (via London.)—The early official Austrian bulletin today regarding the action in the Italian theatre, said:

Yesterday's fighting on the Doberdo plateau was less active than that of previous days. The severest fighting was involved in the attempts to take our bridge-head positions from Goerz and Tolmino up to Krn. These engagements all ended in complete failures for the enemy. At Krn three Italian attacks collapsed before our fire. The enemy's night attack on Mrzlivrh failed. Vigorous artillery fire introduced a fresh attack by strong forces against the Tolmino bridge-head.

Late in the evening our troops repulsed an attack on the height west of Santa Lucia. Early this morning a second attack against a position north of Kocarsoe failed, with heavy losses suffered by the enemy in hand-to-hand fighting. The district of Descla has been under ceaseless fire. A weak Italian attack against Zagora was easily repulsed.

A later report says:

Italian attacks on our front in the coastal districts have continued, but again with the big sacrifices of men and munitions as on the previous days. The enemy hesitates to send in his reserves. Several attempts to attack our Krn positions made no headway, and repeated attacks on the Tolmino bridge-head were repulsed.

The Plava sector is frequently under an incessent fire. An attack near Globna was repulsed.

Shells Fell Near Italian King.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

TURIN, Oct. 27, (Dispatch to The London Daily Chronicle.)—Signor Barzilai, the Irredentist Minister, who has just returned from the war zone, says that Austrian shrapnel burst only a hundred yards away from the observatory where he was watching the battle on the Isonzo, in company of King Victor.

SEES CAPTURED GUNS.

Twenty-one German Field Pieces and Three Mortars in London.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Thursday, Oct. 28.—"With their silent nozzles pointing toward St. James's Park," says The Daily News, "the first trophies of the great offensive in France were ranged on the Horse Guards' Parade yesterday. Twenty-one German field guns and three trench mortars formed a war exhibit of the highest interest to Londoners.

"Not since the Crimea and the Indian Mutiny have guns captured from an enemy crunched the gravel of the Horse Guards' Parade and been publicly ranged as labeled exhibits. With the exception of three pieces captured at Le Cateau on Aug. 26, 1914, all the guns took part in the Battle of Loos on Sept. 25, last.

"The mud and stain of the battlefield are upon them. In some cases it appears that the Germans had time to remove the breech-blocks. Otherwise the guns are in good condition and suggest that they were hastily abandoned before they could be severely battered by our men.

"The trophies were hauled into position by gunners of the Royal Horse Artillery, and beneath the nozzle of each gun was driven a little notice board informing the public of the name of the regiment or division which captured it and where it was captured. Four armed sentries guarded the trophies, and a sentry box was placed at each of the four corners of the wired inclosure.

"The presence of these captured guns from Loos made an appeal to the imagination of the thousands of people who swarmed round the inclosure."

BRITISH ARMY PROMOTIONS.

Five Major Generals Advanced for Distinguished Service.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—The following Major Generals in the British Army have been promoted to the rank of Lieutenant General for distinguished service: Sir John Stevens Cowans, member of the Army Council; Sir Archibald James Murray, chief of the Imperial Staff at Army Headquarters, London; Sir Charles Carmichael Munro, the new commander on the Gallipoli Peninsula; Sir William Robert Robertson, chief of the General Staff, and Sir William Riddell Birdwood, who on the withdrawal of Sir General Ian Hamilton was placed in temporary command on the Gallipoli Peninsula pending the arrival there of General Munro.

J. C. CRAIGIE WOUNDED.

Only Son of "John Oliver Hobbes" Is Hurt by Bomb in War.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—Lieutenant J. C. Craigie, "John Oliver Hobbes," was wounded in the leg and foot by a bomb on Oct. 10 in northern France. He is reported to be doing well.

VILLA AGENT SEIZED IN HOTEL AS A THIEF

F. A. Sommerfeld Arrested in the Astor on an Indictment Seventeen Years Old.

CALLED AN ARMY DESERTER

Hans Zimmerman Identifies Prisoner as Man Who Stole $275 —Clew in Newspapers.

Felix A. Sommerfeld, a mining engineer who played an exciting part in the Madero administration in Mexico, and subsequently attached himself to the staff of General Villa, for whom he is now purchasing ammunition in this country, was arrested in his suite in the Hotel Astor yesterday for a theft alleged to have been committed by him seventeen years ago. He protested angrily when taken to Police Headquarters and insisted he was the victim of a case of mistaken identity.

Before Detective Russo took him in custody at the Astor, Sommerfeld was identified by Hans Zimmerman, a real estate agent, of 150 East Twenty-seventh Street, as the man who stole $275 from him on Sept. 14, 1898. An indictment was found against Sommerfeld in that year. Zimmerman on Oct. 1, 1915, read of the appearance before the Federal Grand Jury of a Felix A. Sommerfeld who was called to testify in the passport conspiracy charge against Andrew D. Meloy, a real estate operator, of 55 Liberty Street. Meloy had been arrested by agents of the Department of Justice on board the Nieuw Amsterdam of the Holland-America line for aiding Franz Rintelen, a German Government agent in this country, to obtain an American passport by swearing that he was a United States citizen.

From the accounts of the Federal Grand Jury proceeding, Zimmerman discovered that Sommerfeld had established headquarters as General Villa's purchasing agent in the Hotel Astor. Recalling a rumor that the Sommerfeld who had stolen his money had fled to Mexico, Zimmerman thought General Villa's agent might be the very man he had been seeking for seventeen years. He reported his suspicions to the police. The old indictment was discovered in the files of the District Attorney's Office and a warrant was issued for Sommerfeld's arrest.

When he appeared before the Federal Grand Jury in the Meloy case Sommerfeld said he was a German citizen and purchasing agent in this country for General Villa. But Zimmerman asserts the prisoner is an American citizen and a deserter from the United States army. According to the police, the old records of the case identify the Sommerfeld who stole Zimmerman's money as a man who was a member of a regiment at Huntsville, Ala., and who deserted after the Spanish-American war began.

Zimmerman says he became acquainted with Sommerfeld seventeen years ago through his brother-in-law, Herman Sommerfeld, who had a newsstand near Zimmerman's home. Sommerfeld visited him on Sept. 14, 1898, in his army uniform and pretended to be on a short furlough, Zimmerman says, and he was invited to remain overnight. That night, according to Zimmerman, Sommerfeld stole a box containing $275 from under a pillow in Zimmerman's bedroom. It was not until the following day when Sommerfeld left, presumably to join his regiment, that Zimmerman discovered the theft.

Sommerfeld told the detectives at Police Headquarters that he was a close confidant of Francisco Madero during the revolution which overthrew Diaz. He said that as Chief of the Secret Service under Madero's administration and when Madero was killed he rescued the members of the President's family and took them to a place of refuge.

Sommerfeld gained prominence in Mexican affairs again when he was accused of inciting Villa to revolt against Carranza. He denied the charge, but after the split between the two leaders became decisive Sommerfeld came to America as the purchasing agent for General Villa's army.

The Federal authorities summoned him before the Grand Jury in the Meloy investigation, for it was believed he could tell something about the operations of secret agents of Germany believed to have fomented the revolts on the Mexican borders.

Sommerfeld, in answer to questions, said yesterday that he had great mining interests in Mexico. He said he was 38 years old and single. He denied he ever had taken any money from Zimmerman, and said he would clear himself of the charge within a few days. He gave $1,000 bail before Judge Malone in General Sessions.

ARMS MACHINES BY RUSE.

Germany Buys Old Equipment from Neutrals, Which Import New.

In spite of the efforts of England and her Allies to prevent Germany from obtaining war materials in this country, large quantities of metal-working machinery, such as could be used in the manufacture of arms and munitions, have been shipped from New York and other American ports, with Germany as the ultimate beneficiary, according to L. P. Alford, editor of The American Machinist.

"Engineers from abroad told me recently that Germany had been procuring a great deal of nominally old metal-working machinery from the Scandinavian countries and Switzerland," Mr. Alford said yesterday. "The reports prompted us to have a statistician compare the reported shipments of such machinery from this country to the Scandinavian countries for this and preceding years, and many of the statistics are already in. These show that during the fiscal year ended last June these countries purchased hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of such machinery in excess of their normal purchases in America.

"According to the engineers from abroad, the German agents buy up the old machinery in the shops of Sweden and Switzerland, and leave the machinery in the original plants until it can be replaced with new machinery from America or elsewhere. Through this ruse they prevent the Allies from being able to prove that the new machinery is not actually intended simply to replace the old machines. It is also said by the engineers that some of the new machinery is smuggled into Germany with the old. Nine-tenths of the machinery from America has been shipped from New York."

MRS. ANGLE TO REMARRY.

Woman Tried for Waldo Ballou's Death Will Wed Former Husband.

Special to The New York Times.

BRIDGEPORT, Oct. 27.—Mrs. Helen M. Angle, who was acquitted a few months ago of the charge of murdering Waldo R. Ballou, will remarry her former husband, Frank W. Angle, a foreman at the Union Metallic Cartridge Company of this city. Mr. Angle this afternoon confirmed the rumor that he was to remarry Mrs. Angle, and said that the wedding would probably take place Saturday.

The Angles were first married in the Stamford Methodist Church by the Rev. F. W. Crowder on Sept. 21, 1898. Four years later Mrs. Angle and her husband separated, and in 1910 she started action for a divorce, which she received the following year. The ground was desertion on the part of the husband.

Waldo R. Ballou was found dying in front of the Rippowan Building in Stamford in 1913. During her trial Mr. Angle's sympathies were aroused and he was a frequent visitor in the court. This sympathy led to their meeting again on cordial terms and to several months of courtship.

Mr. and Mrs. Angle were in Stamford a few days ago.

FAY'S NEW TALE OF GERMAN PLOT

Continued from Page 1.

pany, and Breitung left the court with his lawyer. He refused to make any statement, as did Mr. Parke, but the latter said that he was confident that it would be easy to prove Breitung innocent.

Breitung Disappears.

It was said that Breitung was going back to 11 Pine Street, where he is secretary and treasurer of the Oil Well Device Corporation, of which E. N. Breitung is President. At those offices information was refused.

Mr. Parke said Breitung got off the train at the 125th Street station, walked through the party of detectives and reporters, and took a taxicab downtown. This was not admitted by the police and secret service men, who say he must have left the train at Harmon, where the change is made from a steam to an electric locomotive.

John B. Stanchfield, senior partner of Mr. Parke's firm, is expected from Washington today and it is said that he will take charge of Breitung's defense.

Dr. Herbert Kienzle, whose release on bail on Tuesday afternoon was prevented by a technicality, was still in the Tombs last night. His lawyer, Benno Loewy, said it would have been easy to get the bail from a surety company, but that for sufficient reasons it had been decided not to do so. What these reasons are he did not say. Mr. Loewy said he would not waive a hearing, but would fight for one.

Louis Jersawitz and Abraham Snydecker, attorneys, respectively, for Fay and Scholz, visited their clients yesterday, and Mr. Snydecker was quoted as saying that Scholz had been used as a doormat and that he had advised him to confess. This report Mr. Snydecker promptly denied.

Still Seek Men Higher Up.

While it is understood that other arrests are not expected immediately, there is good reason to believe the heads of the conspiracy have not been reached and that others, farther up the social and financial scale, and nearer the headquarters of intrigue will soon be taken. William J. Flynn, Chief of the Federal Secret Service, is making a careful investigation of the activities of German plotters and, while he will not admit knowledge of the identity of the persons who may be involved, the impression was general yesterday that there would be further exposures.

At Police Headquarters there was dissatisfaction with the implication that the Secret Service men thought the New York police had been too precipitate in rushing the arrest of Fay and Scholz last Sunday in Grantwood. It was pointed out there that the police from previous experience knew that there was much risk in waiting in the hope of getting somebody higher up. The Secret Service, however, is understood to be disgruntled over the part played by the police.

The police as well as the Federal authorities are going ahead with investigations.

The 200 letters found in Fay's rooms were turned over yesterday by the police to the Secret Service. They have not been translated, but have been read carefully by the police.

Government Takes Explosives.

Yesterday afternoon several Secret Service officials, accompanied by Colonel Dunn of the United States Army, went over to Weehawken and took charge of the explosives belonging to Fay and Scholz, which were seized after their arrest on Sunday. They also took charge of the last motor boat which the two had purchased for use in their trips about the bay and presumably to take them out to fasten the mines on munition ships This was run down to Governors Island and is now in custody of the Government officials there.

The mechanisms, mine cases, and machinery used in making the mines will be held as evidence in the case. The materials, amounting to 400 pounds of chlorate of potash, 200 pounds of dynamite, about fifty pounds of trinitrate of toluol, and a considerable quantity of detonating caps, were also taken to Governors Island, where the Secret Service is in charge of them.

Alarm aroused among makers of war supplies by the exposures of the Fay plot was reflected yesterday when detectives were put on guard at the plant of the General Vehicle Company in Long Island City. This plant is said to be connected with the General Electric Company at Schenectady, where there has been a strike, and a few days ago 250 skilled workmen at the Vehicle plant struck. More than 600 workmen are still employed at the Vehicle plant under police guard. The men sleep in the factory and there has been no disorder.

NOT A FOREIGN OFFICE SPY.

Berlin Denies Knowledge of Fay or His Activities.

BERLIN, Oct. 27, (via London.)—Baron Mumm von Schwarzenstein of the Foreign Office, speaking today of the arrest in New Jersey of Robert Fay, said that no such person as Fay is known at the Foreign Office, that the Foreign Office maintains no Secret Service Department, and that any bona fide officer in giving reliable information about himself would give the name of his regiment, to which he was always attached, and not his army corps, from which he was liable to be dissociated at any time.

Baron Mumm expressed ignorance concerning the Fay case and discredited the man's claims, but said he was investigating the matter.

BERNSTORFF DENIES FAY.

Says Prisoner Has No Connection with German Government.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Count von Bernstorff, the German Ambassador, has telegraphed to the State Department that Robert Fay, arrested in New York for alleged conspiracy to put bombs on departing ships, had no connection with the German Secret Service or the German Government.

With this assurance, the State Department is disposed to leave it to the courts to deal with the alleged conspiracy.

CONVICTED OF RECRUITING.

San Francisco Men Found Guilty of Hiring Men for British Army.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27.—Ralph K. Blair and Dr. Thomas Addis were found guilty today of conspiring to hire men in the United States for British military service. The cases against Lieutenant Kenneth Croft of the British Army and Harry G. Lane were not considered. They were merely wanted as witnesses. Clive E. Lawrence and the Blair-Murdock Company were found not guilty. The verdict was returned under instructions from Judge Maurice T. Dooling in the United States District Court.

Stipulations were filed by prosecution and defense that an instructed verdict should be given. A jury was impaneled as a matter of legal procedure.

Counsel for the defense said an appeal would be taken. It was reported that the British Consulate, which was represented in court during the trial, urged such a course.

Judge Dooling's findings conformed with the action of John W. Preston, attorney for the Government, who did not press the charges against Croft and Lane, whom he said he considered merely as "tools." Mr. Preston said he considered Dr. Addis and Blair the ringleaders. The penalty for the offense is imprisonment for not more than two years or a fine of not more than $10,000, or both.

The neutrality cases came into prominence when nineteen men bound for England were stopped in Chicago and New York and brought back here. The defendants admitted that they had provided these men with money, which, the Government attorneys asserted in court, came from British official sources, but maintained they merely used it to send men to England, without any agreement as to fighting.

The stipulations filed with Judge Dooling admitted funds for recruiting men were furnished by A. Carnegie Ross, British Consul here; that 155 men were recruited, that headquarters were maintained here where the men were housed and fed; that transportation and $9.10 each for sustenance on their journeys were furnished the men, and that the men were to be transported to England.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Convictions under the old statute making a crime of conspiracy to employ men on American soil for military service abroad is thought by State Department officials likely to bring to an issue the question whether the United State shall permit to remain in effect a law based upon a policy which might operate to its own disadvantage in time of war.

The statute under which Blair and Addis were convicted at San Francisco does not affect the activities of representatives of a foreign power, who arrange for the return of reservists but imposes heavy penalties upon agents of a nation undertaking to send back home for service citizens or subjects who are not already on military rolls.

Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British Ambassador, who was at the State Department today, conferring over an adjustment of the question of facilitating the release of American-owned goods of German and Belgian origin now held in Holland, expressed surprise when he learned of the convictions. Embassy officials have conferred with the Department of Justice on the subject, and it is understood that at the embassy's instance the cases will be appealed and that if the result is then unchanged the matter will be taken up diplomatically between Great Britain and the United States.

COTTON BOARD BANS ALIENS

Exchange Makes It Impossible for Them to Do Business.

The New York Cotton Exchange members, by a vote of 190 to 40, adopted the following amendments to the by-laws yesterday:

No member elected after Nov. 1 shall, while an alien, vote at any meeting or election or be eligible to serve or act as an officer; and no member elected after Nov. 1 shall, while an alien, either make any contract on the Exchange or sign any contract made on the Exchange.

The effect of these changes will be to make it unprofitable for any but citizens of the United States to become members of the Exchange after Nov. 1.

A current opinion that this action was due to prejudice is not substantiated by Cotton Exchange leaders. It was explained that the movement was taken as a measure of "preparedness." The new rule would help to avoid embarrassment and trouble if this country ever became involved in a war with a European nation, it was stated. The step is also regarded as a retaliatory measure against the Liverpool Exchange, which allows Americans only associate membership and limited privileges.

INSTRUCTION.

It Is a School's Work That Counts

CONCENTRATION is the keynote of our work. Before a boy leaves here he has learned once for all to keep his mind on one thing at a time. It is not a cramming process. It is simply utilizing the moments a boy wastes if he lets his mind wander. These records are more than isolated cases. They are representative of the type of work we do. Names and indisputable records on request.

Not by Cramming, but by CONCENTRATION

A Boy of 12 in Two Years passed the following Regents subjects:

Arithmetic		U. S. History
Geography		Writing
Spelling		Elementary Algebra
Reading		Plane Geometry
Elementary English		English, Three Years

A Boy of 16, between October, 1914, and June, 1915, did

Four Years' Work in One and earned the 70 Regents counts indicated below:

Algebra	100%	Plane Geometry	95%
Intermediate Algebra	82%	Solid Geometry	82%
Adv. Algebra	64%	Trigonometry	85%
French, 2d

VICTROLAS

VICTOR RECORDS

THESE Ten Associated Victrola stores represent the type of store you like to do business with. Large, complete stocks of newest machines and latest records—and service that's really "complaint-proof." Convenient Weekly or Monthly Payments.

Associated New York VICTROLA DEALERS

CHAMBERS — OWENS & BEERS, 81 Chambers St. Just off Broadway.
23rd ST. — GLOBE TALK. MACH. CO., 8 W. 23d St. Tel. Gramercy 3337.
34th ST. — CHAS. H. DITSON & CO., 8 East 34th St. Tel. Murray Hill 4144.
59th ST. — SOL LAZARUS, 216 E. 59th St. Tel. Plaza 1400.
86th ST. — I. ZION, Inc., 2300 B'way. Tel. Schuyler 8973.
106th ST. — EMANUEL BLOUT, 2789 B'way. Tel. Riverside 3623.
125th ST. — ALBERT SICHEL, 233 West 125th St. Tel. Morningside 907.
138th ST. — JAMES BROOKS, 510 E. 138th St. Tel. Melrose 123.
145th ST. — F. L. STEERS CO., 5486 B'way. Tel. Audubon 5159.
165th ST. — L. J. ROONEY CO., 1451 St. Nicholas Ave. Tel. Audubon 2372.

ADVERTISEMENT.

Why Not Get Relieved of Skin Diseases?

If your skin itches and burns with any tormenting, unsightly skin disease, simply wash the sore places with Resinol Soap and hot water, dry, and apply a little Resinol Ointment. The itching stops PROMPTLY, you no longer have to dig and scratch, sleep becomes possible, and healing begins. That is because the soothing, antiseptic Resinol medication strikes right into the surface, arrests the action of the disease, and almost always restores the tortured, inflamed skin to perfect health—quickly, easily and at little cost.

Prescribed by doctors for over 20 years, and sold by every druggist. For sample free, write to Dept. 1-R, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.

ADVERTISEMENT.

THIS IS FOOT COMFORT WEEK AT ALL REGAL SHOE STORES

Here is welcome news for weary straphangers. Skillful, experienced Foot Specialists are demonstrating and fitting the famous Dr. Scholl corrective foot appliances at all Regal Stores in New York during this week. Free examinations and advice as to the care and treatment of your feet will be given you by men qualified by long experience in orthopedic work. If you have a fallen arch, turning ankles, painful cramped toes, callouses, a corn or a bunion, go to the nearest Regal Store and let the Foot Specialist there tell you how to get rid of it forever. A consultation costs you nothing—there is no obligation to buy.

ADVERTISEMENT.

Why Live on Milk and Such Nursery Diet

Although you may have indigestion so severely that anything but the most limited diet causes you the keenest suffering, there is a simple way to get back safety onto pleasanter, more nourishing food. Just sip a glass or two of clear, good Man-a-cea Water with each meal and begin at once to eat a little of any food you crave. Man-a-cea Water is not a laxative, but stimulates the secretion of the digestive fluids and soon enables you to try one more good dinner without fear of bad results. Sold by all druggists. Acker, Merrall & Condit Co., Park & Tilford, Charles & Co., and other first-class grocers. Served at clubs, hotels, and restaurants. Get a booklet at your dealer's.

To obtain an occupant for that furnished room use The New York Times.

It is read by more persons earning over $2,000 per year than any other newspaper in America. An applicant for a furnished room advertised in The New York Times is generally one who is making much more than the average wage. Such an applicant is able to pay a good price.

Times readers make the most profitable and desirable tenants, and the character of The Times circulation insures the advertiser more than the usual results. The net paid sale of The Times, daily and Sunday, far exceeds 300,000 copies.

Advertisements accepted by phone from telephone subscribers. Call Bryant 1000.

Advertising agents all over the city accept advertisements for The New York Times.

BUFFALO APATHETIC TO SUFFRAGE PLEAS

Municipal Contest and Barge Canal Issue Overshadow Equal Franchise Question.

WOMEN WELL ORGANIZED

Conducting a Vigorous Campaign in Western Counties—Antis Predict the Amendment's Defeat.

Special to The New York Times.

BUFFALO, Oct. 27.—This city is watching the woman suffrage struggle with a somewhat absorbed air, for pressing questions of political purport are holding the attention of the voters here. Buffalo, intent upon setting its municipal house in order, has just emerged from a thrilling primary fight to enter upon its first city campaign under a commission charter.

The hotly waged municipal contest, the campaign over the revised Constitution, and the question regarding the $27,000,000 additional appropriation for the Barge Canal, which is of vital importance to the business interests of Buffalo, overshadow the woman suffrage amendment in the city proper.

To appreciate to what extent the woman suffrage amendment has been subordinated to other questions which will come up for settlement on election day, one should enter this end of the State from any of the other States where suffrage fights now are in progress. In New Jersey, prior to the special election where woman suffrage was defeated, the equal franchise was the subject of general discussion.

In Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, the biggest cities of Pennsylvania, the suffrage colors were seen on all the main thoroughfares even though hot municipal campaigns were in progress. Here one might walk for miles up Main Street, Buffalo's Broadway, without seeing a suffrage banner or any evidence that suffrage was an issue in the campaign.

The suffragists here are well organized, militant, and under splendid leadership. The city is the headquarters for the local suffrage campaign and the campaign in Erie County, of which Buffalo is the centre. Moreover, the fight in eight of the western counties is conducted with Buffalo as the base.

The anti-suffragists are conducting a campaign, too, but they are not as well organized as their opponents, nor are they covering the territory which their opponents are making their battleground. The Buffalo branch of the Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage has not been organized on a war footing for more than a month.

All the pro-suffrage forces here have pooled their interests and are conducting their campaign in Buffalo and adjacent territory under the auspices of the Empire State Campaign Committee, of which Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt is the President. Mrs. Frank J. Shuler is the general of the suffrage forces in the Eighth Campaign District, which has its headquarters here. The district includes, besides Erie County, the counties of of Chautauqua, Cattaraugus, Allegany, Wyoming, Niagara, Orleans, and Genesee. Most of it is rural territory.

Suffragists Are Hopeful.

The hottest suffrage fight, of course, has been made in this city. The suffragists have been conducting it without let-up for two years. According to statements made at their headquarters, public sentiment here has undergone a remarkable change. Once it was one of pronounced hostility. By degrees the audiences have become more sympathetic.

"If this remarkable change means anything, it indicates that we have made headway, and that we can look hopefully for a good vote on Election Day," said Miss Marjorie Shuler, speaking for her mother.

The suffragists believe that the vote in at least three of the counties in the district will do credit to the suffrage cause and to the work done here by its advocates. In Niagara County there is a suffragist organization which carries on its fight without any help from the district headquarters. There and in Orleans County the suffragists believe that they have a chance of winning. In the Second Assembly District of Chautauqua County they are expecting a good vote. The Socialists have shown considerable strength there. In Erie, in Wyoming, Cattaraugus, and Genesee the odds are heavily against woman suffrage.

The woman suffragists here have not found the rural districts fertile soil for their propaganda as did the suffragists in other States. According to all accounts they have had disheartening experiences among the farmers, where they encountered indifference when hostility was not manifest. This has been true in Wyoming, Allegany, and Cattaraugus, despite the fact that the suffragists have conducted a campaign in these counties for years.

"I guess the people there have become gospel hardened," said a suffragist to THE NEW YORK TIMES correspondent.

The absence of woman suffrage banners and insignia from the streets in these closing days of the campaign was explained by Miss Shuler.

"We are working on different lines," she said. "We are not bothering so much about Main Street, with its transient traffic. We are carrying our campaign into the Assembly districts where we are more certain to meet the men who have votes. And we have found these people in their home environments ever so much more sympathetic than the man on Main Street."

While the suffrage forces, even though they will not admit it, have abandoned all hope of carrying Buffalo for the amendment, they have found in spots pronounced and widespread sentiment in favor of letting women vote, according to the statement made at their headquarters. They have made canvasses in various wards of Buffalo. In one ward, the Twenty-fourth, the canvass has been completed. This is a district where persons of moderate means make their homes. According to the report, the canvass showed "one voter out of every 1.90 in favor of woman suffrage, a little better than an even break," as it was put by the woman who conducted the canvass in her talk with THE TIMES correspondent.

The suffragists have an actual enrollment of 25,000 in Buffalo, and the women are all of voting age, according to data furnished at the headquarters of the Empire State Campaign Committee. On an average eighteen open-air meetings are held daily in this city alone, and all the smaller towns in Erie and the surrounding counties are visited regularly by workers from headquarters.

"We have found it necessary not only to tell them what to do, but to actually show them how it should be done," said one of the suffrage leaders in discussing the campaign in the rural counties. "The stage fright those women away from the city suffer from is one of our greatest perplexities in this fight."

Many leading women of Buffalo are enlisted in the suffrage fight. Most of the financial support has been supplied by two of the wealthiest women in the city, Mrs. Dexter P. Rumsey and Mrs. George Howard Lewis. The suffragists have spent about $12,000 in carrying on their propaganda in Buffalo.

The antis have been less active here than in any other district visited by the correspondent. The suffragists insist that they are not worried by the campaign conducted against them by opponents of their own sex.

"The anti movement has never got off Delaware Avenue," said one of the suffrage leaders. Delaware Avenue is the Fifth Avenue of Buffalo.

Views of the Antis.

In one respect the anti-suffragists believe that they have done some very effective work, and say that they are beginning to see results. They have devoted much of their time toward converting the labor organizations from their supposed suffragist tendencies. At first they found it difficult to obtain a hearing. Recently, however, they have been receiving invitations to send speakers to the gathering of local labor unions, and in some instances resolutions have been adopted by such bodies indorsing their stand even though the Central Labor organizations in this State are on record as favoring votes for women.

"We believe that the woman suffrage amendment will be defeated very heavily," said Mrs. Frank W. Fiske, Jr., one of the leaders in the anti-movement. "It will be defeated if the men who ought to know what they are talking about are telling us the truth."

The political leaders of Erie County have been too busy to take much account of the suffrage campaign. They profess to take no interest. Both ex-Postmaster Fred Greiner, leader of the Republican forces in Erie County, and William J. Fitzpatrick, the Democratic leader, expressed the opinion that the suffrage amendment would be lost. In the Democratic camp the suffrage cause has found an outspoken advocate in ex-Chairman William J. Conners, who, until the time of Fitzpatrick's ascendency, was leader of the Erie County Democrats.

"If having the ballot would tend to make our women folk more happy and contented, we ought to let them have it," said Mr. Conners when he was asked to give his reason for advocating woman suffrage. He is supporting the movement in both of his Buffalo newspapers.

The registration in Erie County is heavier this year than at any time in its history. Buffalo in particular will roll up a big vote this year. Buffalo, however, has not been propitious fighting ground for the suffragists.

The voting on woman suffrage here will be by machine. The arrangement is rather intricate, and the general opinion among the political leaders is that the vote will slump off considerably, and that less than 60 per cent. of the vote cast for the various candidates will be polled for the suffrage amendment.

Marc Cole, Democratic leader of Orleans County, who was here today, said that the suffragists had no good reason for claiming a victory for suffrage in Orleans. He said that, in his opinion, the amendment would be defeated there by a majority of about 2,500.

From all the western counties in the group of eight for which this city is the suffragist base, with the exception of Niagara County, come reports that presage defeat for the suffrage amendment. In Niagara County George W. Batten, the Democratic leader, predicts defeat for suffrage, while the Chairman of the Republican County Committee expresses the belief that it will win.

HAYWARD AFTER THIRD AVE.

But Other Commissioners Vote Railway Co. Extension of Time.

Commissioner Hayward moved yesterday at the meeting of the Public Service Commission that its counsel should be instructed to take immediate action to enforce the orders issued to the Third Avenue Railway Company concerning the repairs to its track. He was, however, voted down by Chairman McCall and Commissioners Williams and Wood. Commissioner Hayward asserted last night that this amounted not only to his own "spanking" but to the absolute nullification of the public service law by his colleagues, and the grant of immunity to the company from the consequences of its action.

The state of the tracks of the Third Avenue Company came before Colonel Hayward soon after he was appointed Commissioner through a complaint of a broken rail near Bretton Hall in Broadway. A complete survey of the tracks was made, and on May 23 the commission adopted a schedule of repairs which the company should be required to carry out, some of them by Oct. 1, some by Nov. 1, and so on. It was reported yesterday to the commission by its engineers that this schedule had been disregarded, and that only some of the repairs in Forty-second Street, between Fifth Avenue and Broadway, had been undertaken.

This led Commissioner Hayward to move that the counsel of the commission should take action, which would mean the imposition of a penalty on the company of a fine of $5,000 a day and a charge of misdemeanor against the officials who were responsible. Commissioner Hayward has already tried to enforce the criminal side of the Public Service law against Superintendent Dempsey of the B. R. T. on account of a neglected order. His colleagues, however, gave the Third Avenue an extension until Dec. 1 for compliance with the order. Speaking of this afterward, the Commissioner said:

"The files of the commission are choked with complaints against the Third Avenue, and I find that the order concerning the completion of repairs was accepted by both Edward A. Maher, General Manager of the company, and his son. Yet all the Summer apparently they have done only enough to keep their cars on the track.

"My motion would simply have carried out the mandate of the law, and now, not content with spanking me, the commission gives the company until Dec. 1 to carry out its order. This means that it will be impossible for any one to start a damage action against the company till then, and so it gets immunity. In effect, the commission has repealed the law under which it was constituted. Its order has had no more effect on the Third Avenue than the wind blowing over it."

LIFEBOAT TO CIRCLE GLOBE.

Captain Cosgrove to Start in the Safety First Next Week.

The Safety First, a lifeboat cruiser anchored in the Hudson River off the house of the Columbia Yacht Club, will start next week, probably on Wednesday or Thursday, on a trip around the world, according to Capt. O. L. Cosgrove.

The Safety First was built by the Holmes Motor Company of West Mystic, Conn., as a non-sinkable lifeboat, to cruise on one load of fuel for a distance of 5,500 miles and in an emergency carry 100 passengers or more. It was originally known as the S. O. S., but its name was changed at the direction of Government officials, because the lifeboat carries a wireless outfit, and the signature of S. O. S. to messages might be taken for the sea call for help.

The lifeboat is to go up the Hudson River and then take the Erie Canal to the Great Lakes, reaching the Mississippi by the Chicago drainage channel and going down to New Orleans. It is then to go to San Francisco by way of the Panama Canal. Captain Cosgrove said he would go to Hawaii, then to the South Sea Islands, back again to Hawaii, thence to Australia, Japan, Madagascar, and by way of the Suez Canal or the Cape of Good Hope to England. From England it is intended to cross the Atlantic to New York. Captain Cosgrove said the trip would take from eighteen to thirty-six months. He will be accompanied by his wife and two seamen, Joseph Jenek and Richard Landman, both Hollanders.

The Safety First is 36 feet 6 inches long, with a beam of 8 feet 4 inches, and looks much like an ordinary motor boat. It has an iron keel weighing 2,000 pounds. Its normal speed is between nine and ten knots.

Porto Ricans Want Home Rule Now

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Oct. 27.—The Unionist Party, of which the leader is Luis Munoz Rivera, a Resident Commissioner at Washington, has drafted a platform in which a declaration is made in favor of immediate home rule, as against independence of the United States.

Original Renaissance Drop

Dale Can Save You Money

By selling you Dale quality lighting fixtures direct at factory prices, we can save you at least one-third and give you original designs.

Our lighting engineers will be glad to lend you their assistance free of cost.

Write for Booklet, "Lighting the Home"

Or, better still, call at our showrooms.

Dale Lighting Fixture Co., 111 WEST 13TH ST., NEW YORK

SUFFRAGE REMINDER FOR WIGWAM ANTIS

Photograph of Signature to Democratic Plank Sent to Tammany Men.

UNION ASKS EXPLANATION

Mrs. Whitehouse Charges Advertising Firm Is Unfair to "Votes for Women."

The Women's Political Union yesterday began the circulation of photographs of the names of Tammany Hall men signed to the woman suffrage plank of the Democratic platform, adopted at the Saratoga Convention in 1914, because some of the Wigwam braves have declared they will vote against suffrage on Tuesday.

The letters sent out by the union quoted the plank in question:

> We the undersigned, members of the Democratic Party in the State of New York, urge upon our Representatives in State Convention assembled, that the platform of 1914 not only renew the party's promise of 1912 to refer woman suffrage to the voters, but pledge the party to stand in the Constitutional Convention for submitting a Constitution embodying woman suffrage.
>
> And we further urge that the platform of 1914 call upon all Democratic voters, when woman suffrage is submitted to them, to help fulfill the ideals of the greatest leader of our party and establish in this State a government based upon the consent of the governed.

The first photographed signature was that of John F. Curry, executive member of the Thirteenth Assembly District. Mr. Curry was quoted on Tuesday as saying that he was decidedly against woman suffrage. Peter J. Dooling, who says that he is non-committal on woman suffrage, signed the plank, and so did John V. Coggey, leader of the Eighteenth, who now says he is neutral. George L. Donnellan, leader of the Twenty-seventh, who says that the women ought to decide the question for themselves as a special election, the men having no part in it, is another whose name was photographed.

Dr. S. Goldenkranz, leader of the Tenth, who now is a neutral, and "has not time to take up the question," signed the statement, the Union points out, and says that if the men would like to refresh their memories it would like to have them come around to its headquarters at 25 West Forty-fifth Street, and see the signatures or it will send them one of its photographs.

Meantime Mrs. Norman de R. Whitehouse, Chairman of the Press and Publicity Council of the Empire State Campaign Committee, was out gunning yesterday for another of the suffragists' enemies. Mrs. Whitehouse wrote a long letter to the Public Service Commission asking for a hearing to enter a complaint against Ward & Gow, the firm which, she says, discriminated against the suffragists by refusing to take suffrage advertisements in the subway trains, but later accepting the advertisements of the anti-suffragists. The women were not even allowed to occupy the space which was donated to them by a firm occupying space in the subway cars, so Mrs. Whitehouse says.

The suffragists were working hard yesterday getting ready their placards to carry in their laps in the subway trains Saturday and Monday, telling that 1,000,000 women in New York State want the vote.

Sixty speakers are to take part in the twenty-six-hour suffrage demonstration in Columbus Circle beginning at 10 o'clock Friday night and ending at 12 P. M. Saturday.

OPEN FORUM ON SUFFRAGE.

Only Anti Speaker Drifts Off to the Constitution.

There was an open forum "in the interest of democracy and woman suffrage" under the auspices of the Democratic women of the city at the Hotel Netherland last evening. The "open" meant that antis would be allowed to speak, but there was only one on hand, Francis D. Gallatin, who, besides William Harman Black, a suffragist, was the only man speaker of the evening. The two men sat harmoniously side by side, which was explained later when Mr. Black said he and Mr. Gallatin had a gentleman's agreement not to hurt each other's feelings.

The other speakers were mostly suffrage campaigners who came in between meetings at other places.

"One of the arguments against women having the vote," said Mr. Black, "is that they will have to serve on juries. Now, I don't know much about it because I am not a family man, but I think I should rather have the women of my family, if I had one, serve on a jury than go to tango teas or smoke cigarettes. Not that I think there is any harm in either of these things—in fact, I think they are rather nice."

"Politics is perfectly easy to understand," said Miss Grace Isabel Colbron.

"It is just housekeeping on a larger scale. Take home rule for instance. You know perfectly well that you would not like to have another woman come in and try to rule your house. Every woman wants to spank her own children, discharge her own cook, and tell her husband what she thinks of him. That is home rule. You only have to know a few little technicalities to understand the same thing applied to States and countries."

Mr. Black got away from suffrage to the Constitutional Convention, and called Elihu Root the Svengali who played and made "all the little Trilbys sit up and sing." He said that New York City would never get her proportionate voice in the Legislature or say as to the taxes she pays. "New York is sick and they give her poison for medicine," he said.

SUFFRAGISTS AT THEATRES.

Women Have Their Night in All the Prominent Playhouses.

The suffragists carried their propaganda to the theatres last night. In many of the Broadway playhouses prominent suffragists occupied boxes, while groups attended the performances in dozens of the theatres in the outlying districts.

The boxes in all the theatres were decorated in uniform style. They were draped with yellow bunting and bore an American flag or two and a poster which read: "Vote Yes on Woman Suffrage Nov. 2." In a few theatres the visitors made speeches between the acts or after the performance, but in the majority there was no speaking. Packages of matches with the legend of the poster printed on the paper covers were distributed to the men as they left the auditoriums and printed circulars containing quotations from speeches by President Wilson and other prominent men giving their reasons for favoring the cause were handed out.

At the Playhouse Mrs. D. Clark Balch, Miss Anne Rhodes, Mrs. Belle da Rivera, Mrs. Raymond Brown, and Dudley Field Malone were among those in the four boxes given over to the suffragists. Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, Miss Mary Garrett Hay, Mrs. H. Holman, and Mrs. Mary Johnston saw the performance of "Chin-Chin" at the Globe. At the Candler were Mrs. Richard Aldrich, Mrs. John Grainger, Percy Grainger, and Miss Ruth Morgan. Miss Lillian Wald, Mr. and Mrs. Oswald G. Villard, Mr. and Mrs. Boissevain, Mr. and Mrs. Ogden Reid, Miss Alice Lewisohn, and Mr. and Mrs. Morris Hillquit made up the party at the Gaiety. There were other groups at the Republic, Cohan, Hippodrome, Century, Harris, Liberty, Knickerbocker, Vitagraph, Belasco, Bandbox, Lyceum, and Hudson Theatres and the Manhattan Opera House.

BORAH HEARD IN BRONX.

Senator Urges Woman Suffrage at Overcrowded Meeting.

Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, one of the speakers at a mass meeting of the Bronx Woman Suffrage Party in Hunt's Point Hall, 163d Street and Southern Boulevard, last night said the success of woman suffrage in his State indicated beyond a doubt that universal suffrage would result in general national benefit.

"Do not mind what the antis say against suffrage," he suggested, "for I am willing to predict that they will be the first to rush to the polls when women get the vote. According to the voting records there were 108,000 citizens who did not vote at the last election. Is that a reason for depriving others of their vote? Why not permit the 200,000 women of this greater city to vote and make up this deficiency on the part of the men who fail to perform their political duty?"

"Are men a success or failure at voting?" was one of many questions propounded to the Senator.

"Men here will never make a complete success of the franchise until they share the vote with the women," he asserted.

In the audience of more than three thousand there were, at fewest, 1,800 men. A bar in an ante-room where liquors were sold at political meetings of men was closed. The crowds became so large within and without the hall that Police Captain Palmer closed the doors at 8:30 o'clock. The speakers included Mrs. Daniel Appleton Palmer, President of the Bronx Woman Suffrage Party; Judge L. D. Gibbs of the Bronx County Court, Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, Mrs. Mabel D. Curry of Indianapolis, Ind., and Mrs. Florence Cotnam of Arkansas.

New Submarine Is Launched.

QUINCY, Mass., Oct. 27.—Submarine L-9, built for the navy by the Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation, was launched today.

B. Altman & Co.

direct attention to the enormous quantities of Floor Coverings exhibited in the greatly enlarged

Rug Department

Rare Oriental Rugs in large and unusual sizes are shown in generous assortments.

Beautiful specimens of genuine

CHINESE RUGS

are ready for immediate use.

AMERICAN RUGS

of the finest qualities manufactured in this country, many of the designs being exclusive to B. Altman & Co., are offered at very moderate prices.

B. Altman & Co. unreservedly guarantee the wearing qualities of every Rug sold in the establishment.

Fifth Avenue - Madison Avenue
34th and 35th Streets - New York

PLANS PROTECTION WITHOUT NEW TARIFF

Administration Seeks Means to Prevent Dumping of Cheap Goods Here After the War.

AND TO EXTEND OUR TRADE

Foreign Sales Agencies and Application of Clayton Act the Proposed Remedies.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Legislation to aid American merchants in their efforts to take advantage of trade opportunities growing out of the European war and to protect home industry against ruinous foreign competition upon the restoration of peace was considered today by President Wilson in conference with Secretary Redfield of the Department of Commerce and Chairman Davies of the Federal Trade Commission. The President favorably received suggestions as to anything that would put limits upon foreign competition and enable exporters to co-operate in the establishment of foreign sales agencies.

As a result of the conference the Secretary of Commerce will recommend to Congress the enactment of a law making selling by foreign firms at less than the cost of production "unfair competition" punishable under the anti-trust laws. A similar recommendation will be made by the Federal Trade Commission in its annual report to Congress, which also is expected to propose an amendment to the Clayton anti-trust law to legalize combinations for the operation of co-operative selling agencies abroad.

Both of these subjects have been exhaustively investigated by the Department of Commerce and by the Federal Trade Commission.

It is probable that they will be dealt with by the President in his next message to Congress.

The Federal Trade Commission has held numerous hearings throughout the country to develop information as to the need for co-operative selling agencies, and while no report has yet been made it is understood that the commission is practically unanimous in favoring an amendment to permit their establishment.

No Tariff Amendments.

In considering proposals for legislation to prevent foreign manufacturers flooding the American market with products at prices below the cost of production at the close of the war commercial officials have rejected plans calling for tariff law amendments. Dr. E. E. Platt, Chief of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, who has been in charge of the investigation of this subject by the Department of Commerce, said today:

"The question of the tariff has been raised in connection with the building up of new industries. The tariff question can be left out of the discussion. We are not likely to reach any conclusion in such a discussion."

Secretary Redfield made it apparent that he believed the "anti-dumping" problem could best be met through changes in the Clayton anti-trust act. Suggesting a tentative plan for an amendment that would cover the anti-dumping evil, he said:

"It would seem possible that legislation supplemental to the Clayton Anti-Trust act of 1915 might render difficult or impossible, in international trade, commercial transactions which involve unfair restriction of domestic trade through foreign transactions

Outlines New Law.

"For example, it might be enacted substantially as follows:

"A. It shall be unlawful for any person, engaged in interstate or foreign commerce or industry, to sell or purchase articles of foreign origin or manufacture, in the sale of which, in the country of origin, or elsewhere, discrimination as to prices is made between different purchasers, where the prices to be paid for such articles by any American buyer, user, consumer, or dealer, after deduction of all charges incident to transportation, handling, and entry, are materially below the current market rates for such articles in the country of production, or from which shipment is made to the United States, in case such prices substantially restrict competition on the part of American producers of similar or allied articles, or tend to create a monopoly in the sale of such articles in American markets.

"B. It shall be unlawful for any person engaged in interstate commerce or industry to buy, sell, or contract for the sale of articles of foreign origin or manufacture, or to fix a price charged therefor, or rebate upon such price, conditioned upon the purchaser thereof not using or dealing in wares produced or sold by competitors of the manufacturer or seller, where the effect may be to substantially lessen competition in the production in the United States of such articles, or tend to create a monopoly in the sale of such articles in American markets.

"The appropriate penalties are prescribed in the Clayton Anti-Trust law."

ANTHRAX VICTIM IS CURED.

Illinois Physician Had Been Given Up by Attending Doctors.

BENBOW CITY, Oct. 27.—Dr. J. C. Helper, who a month ago was stricken with anthrax, today was pronounced cured by his attending physician. Dr. Helper's wife was largely instrumental in bringing about his cure. Throughout the greater part of his illness she applied, at fifteen-minute intervals, an antiseptic treatment to a wound on the physician's neck, which had been caused by the disease.

Dr. Helper believes he caught the disease from a mosquito bite. For a week both he and the physician in charge of the case held faint hope of his recovery.

The only permanent ill effect left by the disease is a three-inch scar on Dr. Helper's neck, where the flesh had been eaten away.

Hill Gives $125,000 to Harvard.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 27.—Gifts to Harvard University amounting to $142,000, including one by James J. Hill of $125,000, were announced today at a meeting of the President and fellows. Mr. Hill's gift will be added to the principal of the James J. Hill Professorship of Transportation, recently established.

CUTS BUDGET FOR SCHOOLS

Board Reduces 1916 Estimate by $1,520,211.25.

The Board of Education yesterday adopted the report of its Committee on Finance on the departmental estimate for 1916, with amendments reducing the amount originally asked. An appropriation of $42,374,312.96 for the general and special school funds is requested now. The deduction is $1,520,211.25.

John Greene, Chairman of the Committee on Finance, said that at midnight on Saturday the final estimate would be made up. It was, he said, the smallest increase that had been asked since he became a member of the Board of Education.

The night schools, it was said, would be kept open on the $50,000 from the repairs fund until Monday, Nov. 8. This includes Wednesday and Thursday of next week, the schools being closed on the night before election and on Election Day. This will allow the Board of Estimate to act on the granting of $237,000 special revenue bonds by the Board of Aldermen to keep the schools open until the Christmas holidays. William G. Willcox said that the shortage of money for the evening schools was not due to the use of their funds for any other purposes. President Churchill said that nothing had been taken from the evening schools fund to meet any other expense.

Morton Stein, Chairman of the Committee on By-laws, asked that the matter of leaves of absence with half pay granted to Principals and teachers be laid over. They were now, he said, examining into each case, and that Associate City Superintendent Shallow hoped to have ready in forty-eight hours a full statement. This would be gone over and a conference would be held with the Controller to restore to duty such persons as were deemed fit.

Mr. Greene said yesterday that he was not a candidate for Vice President on the Willcox ticket.

CAUGHT BY DICTOGRAPH.

Police Charge Labor Union Man with Extortion.

A dictograph used by the police in Brooklyn in labor troubles for the first time yesterday resulted in the arrest of Andrew Eagan of 355 East Fifty-seventh Street, business agent of the Elevator Constructors' Union, on a charge of extortion. He is charged with trying to get $500 to prevent a strike on a building being constructed by J. G. Bailey of Thomaston, Ga., at Bond and Fulton Streets.

Two weeks ago, it is charged, Eagan went to William S. Shaw, in charge at the building, and demanded $1,000. After several meetings, it is said, the demand was cut to $500. Shaw visited the police and Detectives Roddy, Weldon, and Murray were put on the case. A dictograph was installed in a shanty at the building and connected with the office of Shaw. A meeting was arranged for yesterday morning, and the detectives say they heard every word spoken in the office.

A remark about the weather served as a signal that money had been passed and the detectives arrested Eagan. The police say they found $200 in marked bills in their prisoner's pocket.

Arnold. Constable & Co.

October 28th (today) till Friday, November 5th, to 2 P. M.

7 DAY SALE

Biggest event of its kind ever held.

$486,000.00

No Job Lots. Every Rug our own.

Oriental Rugs and Carpets

Reductions 25% to 30% off

NOTICE—To make this the biggest event of its kind ever held, we offer every Rug and Carpet from a stock which inventories at $486,000 at the following range of prices. This sale is final and preparatory to our removal to our new building, November 8th, at 40th Street and Fifth Avenue.

Beluchistans, Daghestans, Mousouls and Kirmanshahs, ranging in size from 2.6x4.6 to 4x7. Value $16.00 to $150.00. — 12.50 to 112.50

Turkish, Persian and Indian Rugs, in plain effects or allover designs, ranging in size from 6x9 to 16x25. Prices 90.00 to 900.00 — 25% Reduction from ticketed prices, which are actual former selling prices.

Kirmanshahs, Sarouks and Bijars in exceptional qualities and exquisite colorings, ranging in size from 9x12 to 15x26. Prices from 465.00 to 5,000.00 — 30% Reductions from ticketed prices, which are actual former selling prices.

5,000 Yards

Celebrated Bigelow Carpets

At Drastic Reductions in Price

Former Actual Retail Price $1.65 to $2.25 yard.

A special assortment of our private patterns in Bigelow Brussels and Axminsters of superior grade and suitable for all styles of furnishing. Removal Sale Price 1.10 to 1.50

Former Actual Retail Price $3.00 and $4.00 yard.

A particularly choice lot of the finest grades of Bigelow and English Wiltons in a variety of desirable patterns and choice colorings. Removal Sale Price 1.75 to 2.75

3,000 Yards

(To Sell at Below Cost)

Fine Upholstery Fabrics

Former Actual Retail Price $2.75 to $6.50 yard.

Comprising a special assortment of handsome fabrics, including Armures, Damasks and Tapestries. Removal Sale Price 1.50 to 2.75

Appropriate for hangings, furniture covering, pillows and other interior decorative purposes.

Broadway & 19th Street

Waists for
Stout Figures
(Sizes up to 56 bust measure)
Especially designed and correctly proportioned to give stout figures slender lines. Made extra long and with needed roominess at armholes. From the simplest lawn waist at $1.45 to elaborate theatre waists at $25.00 all bear a distinctive style and individuality.
SPECIAL
Elegant waist of chiffon cloth combined with satin in colors to match your suit; lined; sizes up to 56 bust; value 12.50; special 8.75
The entire main floor is devoted to Suits, Coats, Dresses,
Skirts, Waists, Negligees,
Corsets and Underwear to fit you from stock, no matter what your figure or bust measure—a service which no other house can render.
Phone 6416 Greeley. Lane Bryant 25 West 38th St.

R. H. Macy & Co.'s Attractions Are Their Low Prices.
Macy's
Herald Square, Broadway, 34th to 35th St.
Custom Made Shirts
WE now have on display 300 of the newest designs in fine imported and domestic shirtings, ready for our shirt experts to make into custom made shirts at
$2.48 and $3.44
If you are in the habit of paying from $4 to $5 for your shirts, give us an order for one—say at $3.44. Try it on, and if you are not perfectly satisfied as to fit, quality of material and workmanship, we will refund your money.
The risk is ours—why not place your order today.
We make evening dress shirts equally well and at prices correspondingly low—ranging from $2.48 to $4.89.
Macy's—Main Floor, 35th St.

R. H. Macy & Co.'s Attractions Are Their Low Prices.
Macy's
Herald Square, Broadway, 34th to 35th St.
Interior Decoration
Its Principles and Practice
By Frank Alvah Parsons
$2.69
Publisher's price $3.00
A TIMELY and authoritative discussion of interior decoration that treats not of the vogue of the moment, but of what is correct as judged by the true principles of art and practice.
Macy's—Main Floor, Rear.

Gillies' Broken COFFEE
Retailers 35¢ Quality 25¢ Per Lb.
Fresh off the Roaster From Wholesaler Direct
This is derived from the smaller and broken beans of higher-priced coffees. It's as pure, as strong and as good, but not so fancy in appearance. It must be ground anyway, so what's the difference? Bean or ground.
ARECO COFFEE 20¢ Per LB.
Equal To Retailers Regular 30¢ Coffee.
ARECO is famous for its superior excellence over coffees in the 30c. grade, but our price is only 20c. a pound. That's because you buy it direct from the wholesaler and SAVE THE RETAILERS' PROFIT.
DELIVERED FREE—5 lbs. in Greater New York and within 25 miles, or 10 lbs., 300 miles, C. O. D.; 5 lbs., 300 miles, or 10 lbs. within 1,000 miles, cash, M. O. or check with order.
SATISFACTION OR MONEY BACK.
Interesting Booklet, the Story of Coffee, with Complete Price List Free on Request.
GILLIES COFFEE CO.
233-237 Washington St., New York.
Bet. Park Pl. and Barclay St.
Estab. 75 Years. Phone Cortlandt 8471.

Make a note of it—to join the Superior comfort fans today.
Superior
THE PERFECT UNION SUIT

DEAD STORAGE FOR AUTOS AT NOMINAL RATES.
PIONEER
Fireproof Storage
Warehouses
39 to 53 Flatbush Ave., Brooklyn.
PHONE MAIN 6900.

PERKINS ATTACKS NEW ORGANIC LAW

Each Amendment Should Be Submitted Separately, Progressive Says.

KILLS MARKET DEPARTMENT

Exempts Sea Food from Conservation Commission's Jurisdiction—Budget Plan Wrong, He Insists.

George W. Perkins, who announced several days ago that he would vote against the proposed Constitution, gave his reasons for opposing it in detail yesterday in a letter to Elihu Root. In the first place Mr. Perkins said he was opposed to it because the voters had to accept it as a whole or not at all. Sixteen of the eighteen sections, he said, are submitted in one block and these sixteen questions are the all-important part of the Constitution.

The Convention, in arranging this, either did not think the voters capable of wisely discriminating between the sixteen different sections, or it feared their intelligence, said Mr. Perkins. Whichever reason existed, he said, the fact was that the voters had been deprived of their unquestioned right to select and reject as they might deem proper. He added:

"It seems clear to me that there is no answer to the serious objection to the manner of submitting the new Constitution. It is a fundamental weakness in the whole scheme. I appreciate that in a great document like a State Constitution there has to be a certain amount of give and take and that half a loaf is sometimes better than no loaf at all, granted always that the half loaf be not poisoned. Why should a man who objects to the conservation article, for example, but who favors the short ballot article, be forced to take the conservation article in order to get the short ballot article? This illustration applies to many of the articles."

Apportionment and Census

The apportionment article, which is submitted separately, Mr. Perkins called a delusion and a snare.

"It makes no difference in the apportionment," he said, "which way the people vote on it, for if it is adopted things remain as they are and if it is defated things remain as they are."

By tying up the State enumeration amendment with the apportionment, he said, the voters will be put in the position, if they vote for the proposition, of apparently approving the present apportionment, and if they vote against it, of apparently approving the continuance of the present "unnecessary and extravagant State census."

Regarding the short ballot, Mr. Perkins said:

"I personally regard this as such a long short ballot as to be inefficient. It does nothing except in a very slight way recognize the theory of a short ballot. The only real short ballot recognized by the convention is in the method of submitting the Constitution to the voters. That is a short ballot with a vengeance! There is no compromise about that."

Mr. Perkins said there were so many changes in the judiciary article and they were of such far-reaching effect that it was impossible for the people to comprehend their importance in the short time they have been given in which to consider them. On this point he said:

"Briefly, my objection to the article is that it puts the judiciary more into the practical politics of the State than it has ever been before, while progress should be made in exactly the opposite direction. To give Judges the power to appoint subordinate Judges in my judgment is all wrong. To give them, as the new Constitution proposes, power without limit to appoint as many Judges as they desire under the name of 'Supreme Court Commissioners' is conferring on them a patronage that is bad in principle and sure to bring the court into politics. If the appointive principle is to be established in our Constitution, it would be much safer to leave it with the Governor than with the Judges."

The Budget in Politics.

Regarding the power of the Governor and the budget, Mr. Perkins said:

"In the matter of giving the Governor more and broader power, I believe there are mistakes of such a serious character that the proposal in this respect will prove more harmful than beneficial. I believe thoroughly in a proper budget system, but under our plan of electing a Governor for two years, granted that there is a change every two years, we would get an independent responsible budget system but every other year. For, if the Governor were to be elected this year and take office on the 1st of January, the budget for him would be made up by the department heads that were going out with the outgoing Governor. The next year the new Governor and his department heads could make up their own budget, but the following year he in turn would make up the budget for the next incoming Governor. This certainly provides a beautiful opportunity for outgoing Governors of different political parties to play politics with the efficiency of the State departments at the expense of incoming Governors and vice versa. No large business concern could obtain anything like reasonable efficiency under this method of doing business, and in my judgment, no State with such vast administrative interests as ours can do so either."

Mr. Perkins is against the establishment of a State printing concern, as it might confine the printing to Albany County printing firms. Mr. Perkins said he is in favor of consolidating a great number of State departments into a few large departments, but the matter is of such vast and far-reaching importance that before adoption it should be studied by a committee of experts and recommended to the people "as a carefully thought-out, practical, and efficient scheme of administering the State's affairs." He added:

"The plan, as submitted, is intended to be made copper-fastened for twenty years. The proposed Constitution specifically takes away from the Legislature the power to create a single other department, for it specifically says: 'No new department shall be created hereafter. Any bureau, board, commission or office hereafter created shall be placed in one of the departments enumerated in this article.'"

No Department of Markets.

This plan, he said, not only abolished the recently created Department of Markets, but prohibited the Legislature from creating a new one. He said:

"As a department of markets is not created as one of the seventeen departments or even indirectly referred to, the only possible way in the future to have anything that would resemble a department of markets would be to have it created as a bureau of one of the seventeen existing departments. This means that it would be a very subordinate affair—in the hands of an assistant without direct responsibility publicity or control, without any opportunity to obtain recognition for his work in behalf of the people if it were good, or criticism from the people if it were poor—the precise position in which many dealers in foodstuffs desire to have the matter placed.

"Perhaps the most burning question of the day, particularly in this great city of New York, is the high cost of living. We will never get anywhere in the solution of it until we have a market department in this State that is recognized as such and that is given the dignity of a department with all the power necessary to serve the producers on our farms and the consumers in our cities. In view of my experience in this matter, I regard the omission to create a department of markets and the provision prohibiting the Legislature from hereafter creating one as so detrimental to the people of the State that I would vote against the adoption of the Constitution for this if for no other reason."

Mr. Perkins said he regarded the entire scheme of conservation as outlined in the proposed Constitution as "pernicious and thoroughly objectionable."

"In place of centralizing power," he said, "and placing it where the people can put their finger on it, the new Constitution broadly scatters it and places such executive power as there is in the hands of a Superintendent."

Sea Food Not Conserved.

Among the most serious objections to the Conservation program, said Mr. Perkins, was the exemption of "migratory fish of the sea" from the jurisdiction of the commission. He said:

"This, of course, means to a large extent the sea fish in and about the waters of the City of New York. This again brings up my own experience of the past year on the Mayor's Food Supply Committee, where it was found that the lack of supervision and control of this industry causes great destruction of perfectly good sea food, and to a considerable extent accounts for the high price of such sea food as we get. To deny to the Conservation Commission this extremely important function is, in my judgment, not only a great mistake, but an insurmountable impediment to any reforms necessary to provide New York City with a suitable supply of sea food at proper prices."

In summing up his objections Mr. Perkins said:

"There are various defects in the proposed Constitution. I doubt if a layman could find them all, for there is so much vagueness about so many provisions and one is put to the necessity not only of studying the new Constitution but the old Constitution, the laws of the State, and the practices of the Legislature in order to reach anything resembling an intelligent understanding of the matter. In my judgment the reasons stated above are ample to convince any thoughtful voter that it is his duty to vote against the adoption of the Constitution as submitted.

"If this proposed Constitution is rejected, then automatically under the old Constitution a new convention will be elected in the Fall of 1916 to assemble in 1917. Broadly speaking, if the proposed revision fails of adoption the time and money spent on it will not have been in vain, for it has aroused a State-wide discussion that has been of great educational value and we will approach the whole subject another year better equipped to deal with the great problem of really representative and efficient government which is facing us for solution. In view of the discussion since the Constitutional Convention adjourned another convention at least would not dare to submit a Constitution in block. Puolic opinion would compel its submission article by article."

ATTACK BUDGET PROVISIONS.

Amos Pinchot and Rabbi Wise Talk to 250 in Cooper Union.

Amos Pinchot told 250 persons scattered about in the great hall at Cooper Union at a meeting to oppose the new Constitution last night that one of the most dangerous features of the instrument, although it had passed unnoticed up to the present, was the section which permitted the Legislature to cut down the budget as submitted by the Governor, but does not permit the Legislature to add to it.

He said that this provision would enable the Governor to starve out any department of the State by refusing to allow appropriations for it. The Governor could, he said, practically abolish the Civil Service Commission by denying funds for its maintenance, or could coerce any officeholder or any department into supporting his measures or wishes by the threat to cut off appropriations. Mr. Pinchot said authorities to whom he had submitted this provision of the budget article had told him that no one would dare to put forth such a proposal in any other free Government in the world.

Rabbi Stephen S. Wise attacked the new Constitution on the ground that it opened the door to military usurpation. He said:

"Who will claim that the men who managed the convention could pass fairly and impartially upon a direct issue between the safeguarding of property rights on the one hand and the security of merely human rights on the other?

"As for the fear of getting a still less effective Constitution in 1918 it needs but to be said that the present Constitution was framed in a year of timidity and reaction. The next Constitution will be framed by a convention carefully chosen and not elected virtually by default. The State is hardly likely to fare worse in the next convention as far as its membership is concerned in view of the circumstance that the present convention included in its membership Quigg, the accelerator, but no social worker; William Barnes, the unlibellous, but no physician; Ray Smith, and Mr. Sheehan, but no teacher of ethics or religion."

NO SUFFRAGE CONFUSION.

Parsons Answers Attempt to Confound Constitution.

The Empire State Campaign committee yesterday issued a statement from Herbert Parsons, delegate to the Constitutional Convention, in which he said:

"There is no truth in the statement in a leaflet which is being circulated around New York that the woman suffrage amendment, if approved, will not be part of the Constitution. It will be part of the Constitution. If the new Constitution should fail of adoption, then the woman suffrage amendment, if approved, becomes part of the old Constitution. These matters were all carefully considered by the Constitutional Convention, and provisions were unanimously inserted so that there could not be any possible question of the effectiveness of the woman suffrage amendment, if adopted.

"A vote for woman suffrage is not a vote for or against the new Constitution. It has no connection with the questions submitted by the Constitutional Convention, which are on a separate ballot."

B. B. ODELL APPROVES NEW CONSTITUTION

It Offers Relief from Many Evils State Has Suffered Under, He Says.

PAUL FULLER PRAISES LAW

Democrat Says Narrow Partisanship of 1894 Convention Was Not Repeated This Year.

Ex-Governor Benjamin B. Odell, Jr., said last night that he would vote for the proposed Constitution next Tuesday. That is, he will vote for the Constitution proper, under Question 1; he will oppose Question 2, the apportionment article, and Question 3, the taxation article.

"I believe the proposed Constitution offers relief from a number of evils from which the State has been suffering," he said. "I consider the serial bond provision for the contracting of State debt a most wise provision, for the sinking fund system has proved a most expensive plan. I also consider the judiciary article an able provision. Not only does it tend to speed up the action of our courts, but any one who knows the situation at Albany knows how lawyers have introduced special bills amending the code to suit their needs. The code is against the contentions of a lawyer who has a big suit pending; he goes to Albany and has the code changed. This is a nuisance I think the proposed Constitution will abate."

"Do you think it wise to give the Governor the increased powers contained in the new Constitution?" was asked.

"I will answer that by saying that it all depends on the Governor," was the reply. "Of course, it won't help matters to make a bad Governor more powerful: it may help to assist a good Governor in his undertakings. I want to say that I do not believe the giving to the Governor of arbitrary power in making his appointments will increase efficiency in those officials. I do not think the provisions which tend to mix up the three branches of government will do any good. But I do not see in these objections sufficient reasons to oppose what seems to me good in the Constitution.

Discusses the "Pork Barrel."

"I do not take much stock in the talk of the abolition of the 'pork barrel.' A Governor who wants to cut that out can do it under the present Constitution. I never approved an appropriation which the departments didn't give good reasons for. If a Governor hasn't spunk enough to veto these appropriations he probably won't have spunk enough to keep them out of an Appropriation Bill he frames. However, the Constitution certainly does not make the situation any worse.

"I have studied the proposed Constitution very carefully, and as a result I am going to vote for the main part—that is question 1. I am against Question 2 and Question 3, the taxation article. I regard this as especially bad because it takes assessment powers away from local authorities, and centres the power of appeal in a distant court. I hope the voters will defeat the last two questions. I think they will be wise to support the first."

State Controller Eugene M. Travis issued a statement yesterday, in which he said he believed the adoption of the proposed Constitution will remedy many defects in the State's financial system. He said:

"Especially important is the adoption of the amendments from the viewpoint of the financial features. When the last Constitutional Convention met in 1894 the revenues and expenses of the State Government were on a much smaller scale than now, and no adequate provision was made for conditions which have since developed. Indeed, it is safe to say that much of the needless growth of expenses would never have occurred had there been such constitutional control as is provided in the new Constitution.

Remedies Financial Errors.

"Furthermore, during the last fifteen years we have been creating a great bonded debt in this State, and because of inexperience errors were made in sinking fund calculations, as the result of which we are at present compelled to pay an excessive amount toward the extinguishment of the debt. This condition is remedied in the proposed amendments.

"As an economic proposition the amendments should be adopted. This convention has cost the State $1,200,000. If its work is not confirmed and another convention is called, the expense of the new gathering will be just as much, without any prospect that its efforts would be any more satisfactory.

"Inasmuch as the Controller's duties under the new Constitution will remain practically as they are, it makes it possible for me to speak impersonally and without bias regarding its various features and to indorse it purely on its merits."

Paul Fuller, personal friend of President Wilson, was asked by Joseph M. Price, Chairman of the Citizens' Nonpartisan Committee for the Adoption of the Constitution, to give his views on the measure. In his reply to Mr. Price Mr. Fuller wrote yesterday:

"You inquire of me whether I purpose to support the adoption of the proposed Constitution. Why shouldn't I? Is it because of the clamor that it is a Republican document, framed by a convention having a large Republican majority? I scarcely think that this is a platform broad enough for a citizen to stand on.

"In fact, recalling the convention of 1894, I rather think we Democrats should be thankful that the narrow partisanship of that day was not repeated in the convention of this year, and those of us who are inclined to be Democrats before being citizens may console themselves with the fact that the proposed Constitution was drafted with the aid of a very large Democratic vote.

Fuller Sees Many Good Points.

"Can Democrats object to the improvement of the annual budget, or are they satisfied to have the money of the citizens appropriated in the haphazard way which has prevailed heretofore? Is it an objection that taxation is to be so regulated by the State that it may be somewhat more equal and uniform and rest upon a basis which will in part at least do away with local favoritism? If this is the obvious purpose of Article X., and if they still object, they are free to vote against the adoption of Article X., still saving the other benefits of the Constitution.

"Some resentment may not unnaturally be felt at the failure to give to the City of New York a larger legislative apportionment, but there is a two-fold answer to allay this resentment—first, that the new Constitution does not make the situation any worse than it is under the present Constitution, and second, that voters are free to express their dissent from this particular provision and yet vote for the Constitution as a whole.

"The home rule amendment, although not as radical as many of us would have desired, is unquestionably a long step forward toward granting to municipalities the freedom to regulate their own affairs. Shall we reject this first and important concession because more has not been given us? Can't we realize that it is an entering wedge which it would be folly for us not to hammer in?

"All of us Democrats and Republicans alike—and even Independents—have suffered from the confusion and delay in court procedure. Here again we have an honest effort in the new Constitution remedy this distressing loss of time and money to all the litigants and taxpayers of the State. The remedies suggested may not be all that you and I would have desired, but they are remedies, and if compromise is one of the essentials of Democratic Government, this is only is an occasion when we should welcome the betterment which the judiciary article affords and await our opportunity, if need be, for further betterment.

Short Ballot a Reform.

"Lastly, and by no means least, the short ballot provisions, which reduce the long list of elective State officers to the Attorney General and the Controller, is of enormous importance to enhance the dignity and the value of representative government, the virtue of which I conceive consists in the people electing representatives whom they know and whom they can trust, almost an impossibility if we hold the long list of elective officers heretofore in vogue.

"Incident to this is the reorganization of the innumerable, unrelated, and often irresponsible departments among which the business of the State was 152 times sub-divided. Whether or not economy will result from reducing these departments to seventeen, one thing seems certain—that we will have greater responsibility brought home to those upon whom it should fall, and a more sound, coherent, business-like administration of the affairs of the State.

"Are all these benefits to be rejected because the members of the convention did not agree upon other improvements which a part of our people at least desired, or because, as some believe, these other improvements were denied to us by the Republican preponderance in the convention? Let us gladly accept the excellent changes secured by this proposed Constitution, and with time and patience work for other amendments, which are always in reach of the people if they really desire them."

Mr. Fuller was a member of the Board of Education until recently, when he resigned, and was appointed a trustee of Hunter College. He is an authority on international law, and was recently President Wilson's special envoy to inquire into conditions in Mexico.

Two Organizations Object.

The United Anglers' League yesterday issued a circular letter opposing the new Constitution. The circular asks for contributions to fight the measure.

"The new Constitution," the letter says, "gives the fish trust complete power over your fish food supply for twenty years by taking from the proposed commission the right to make any regulations affecting migratory fish in the marine district—in other words, every fish that swims in salt water. Do you want to pay trust prices for your fish for twenty years? Do you want to see fish pounds put up all over the coast to ruin your sport? Do you want to see netting going on in every little bay along our coast, with no possible way of regulating it? If not, vote against, and get others to vote against, this barefaced robbery of your rights."

The War Veterans Citizens' Committee, with headquarters at 44 Cedar Street, yesterday offered twenty reasons for opposing the new Constitution. Their circular was signed by L. F. Fetzer, Chairman.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE FOR IT

President Seth Low Makes Organization's Position Clear.

Seth Low, President of the Chamber of Commerce, gave out this statement last night:

"Members of the Chamber wish it made clear that the Chamber has acted favorably on the revised Constitution, known on the ballot as Question 1; on the tax article, known on the ballot as Question 3, submitted by the Constitutional Convention, and on the canal referendum, known as Proposition 1, submitted by the Legislature, but that the Chamber has taken no action on the apportionment article, submitted by the Constitutional Convention; nor on the woman suffrage amendment, submitted by the Legislature; nor on the amendment authorizing the Legislature in certain conditions to change the rate of contributions to the sinking fund."

GRIFENHAGEN SEES SPLIT.

Thinks Citizens' Union Is Divided on Smith's Indorsement.

In a speech at the Yorkville Casino last night Sheriff Max S. Grifenhagen said that a serious split is imminent in the ranks of the Citizens' Union, owing to the action of the Executive Committee in indorsing the candidacy of Alfred E. Smith, the Tammany candidate for Sheriff, and expressing the opinion that he would improve conditions in the Sheriff's office.

"Letters are beginning to pour in on me," said the Sheriff, "from indignant members of the Citizens' Union who resent the new-born alliance between Tammany and the Union's Executive Committee. Other members are writing, I am informed, to Chairman Schieffelin, and there is every prospect of an open split in the union. Such a split can only be avoided, I believe, by a recantation of this unholy alliance between Fourteenth Street and 41 Park Row.

"As to the criticisms of my administration of the Sheriff's office, I have asked in vain for an explanation and have demanded that Mr. Schieffelin, as Chairman of the Citizens' Union, inform me that conditions exist in the Sheriff's office under my administration which he hopes the Tammany Hall candidate will improve. But Mr. Schieffelin has not responded except, indeed, to tell me that I am too thin-skinned and take too lofty a view of the office.

"Perhaps I am taking Mr. Schieffelin too seriously, but I intend to find out what change has come over the spirit of his dreams to make Mr. Schieffelin such an ardent advocate of the Tammany candidate for Sheriff. I have been long identified with the Citizens' Union and have been proud of that connection, for the union has stood for progress and good government and against Tammany and corruption."

Joseph Beihilf, a member of the union, wrote Chairman Schieffelin yesterday expressing regret that the organization had indorsed Smith. As between Smith and Frank K. Bowers, the Republican candidate for Sheriff, he said there was no comparison.

ROOSEVELT INDORSES TWO.

Praises Payne for Alderman and Callaghan for Bench.

Colonel Roosevelt in a letter to Richard W. Lawrence, Chairman of the committee that has charge of the campaign of George Henry Payne, candidate for Alderman from a Bronx district, said of Mr. Payne:

"I know him well and have been associated with him in more than one capacity. I am extremely pleased that the Republican, Progressive, and Independence League Parties have joined to put him forward for Alderman and I trust that all good citizens will give him their support."

Mr. Payne's candidacy has also been indorsed by George McAneny, President of the Board of Aldermen, former Corporation Counsel Archibald R. Watson; Oswald G. Villard, and William Jay Schieffelin.

Colonel Roosevelt also indorsed the candidacy of Judge Stephen Callaghan for the Supreme Court on the Republican ticket in the Second Judicial District, which includes Brooklyn, Long Island, and Richmond County.

"Ordinary partisan consideration," wrote the Colonel, "should not obtain in choosing a Justice of the Supreme Court, for it is always a misfortune when an ordinary machine politician is put on the Bench. Judge Callaghan is peculiarly fitted for the high office to which it is sought to elect him and he should be supported by all independent citizens without regard to party."

A New Industrial City
MANUFACTURERS
FACTORY SITES
are now offered for sale where already are located the Loose-Wiles Biscuit Co., the American Ever-Ready Works of the National Carbon Co., Mark Cross Co., Brett Lithographic Co., Studebaker Co. and others. We can prove our claims of Savings in Rent, Power, Insurance, Trucking and Labor.
For Illustrated Booklet, Write 30 E.42d St., New York City.
Phone Murray Hill 7505.
DEGNON TERMINAL
GATEWAY TO WORLD'S GREATEST MARKETS

Chauffeurs' Outfits Special
AT $43.50
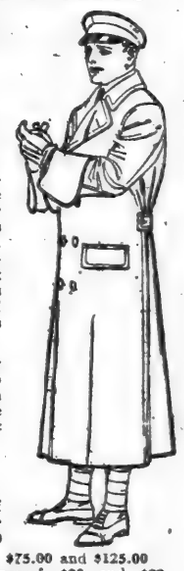
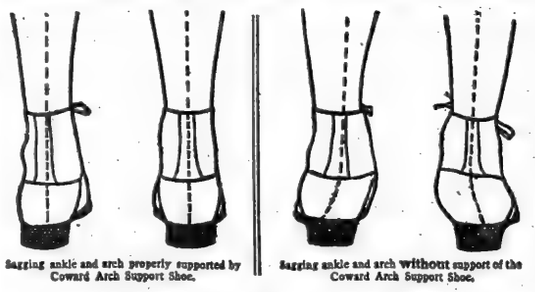
Overcoat, Suit and Cap to Match

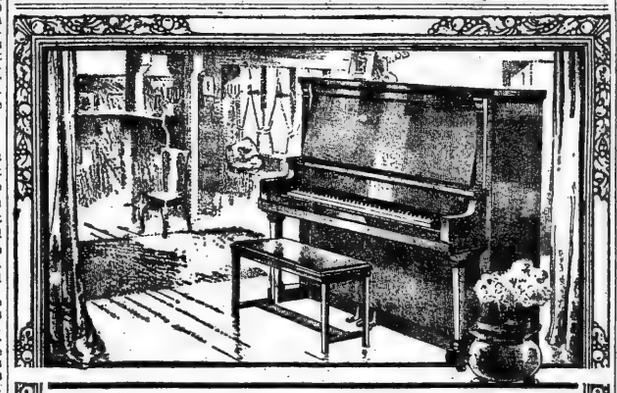
Smart, neat, perfect fitting and durable; the best value in Motor Clothes for Chauffeurs that can be bought. A Double-Breasted Overcoat. A smart Norfolk Jacket with Trousers or Breeches. A Cap of Regulation Chauffeur's Style.
Made of fine quality worsted whipcord in two shades of gray and in tan—the outfit complete $43.50, or as follows:
Overcoat . $25.00
Suit . . $16.50
Cap . . $ 2.00
Suit with two pairs of Trousers or Breeches or one pair of each—$23.50


Other Outfits of Better Grade at $37.50, $75.00 and $125.00
Chauffeurs' Raincoats—Guaranteed Waterproof—$20 and $22
Motor Apparel Catalogue Mailed on Request.
Brill Brothers
BROADWAY AT 49th ST.

The Case of Edith Cavell
An answer to Dr. Zimmermann, Germany's Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs,
By James M. Beck,
Late Assistant Attorney General of the United States, and author of the most widely read article published since the war began, "In the Supreme Court of Civilization: The Dual Alliance vs. The Triple Entente," written for The New York Times. This article has been reprinted in nearly every language of the civilized world, and over a million copies of it have been published.
The execution of Miss Cavell is dealt with from several standpoints, but especially from a legal one, and Mr. Beck presents the case with force and skill. In
Next Sunday's Times
Order The Sunday Times Today.
The Times Is Always Sold Out Early.

Children's Feet Need Care


Sagging ankle and arch properly supported by Coward Arch Support Shoe.
Sagging ankle and arch without support of the Coward Arch Support Shoe.
The Coward Shoe
The delicate bones of a child's feet are easy to mould.
Whether they are moulded into shapely, well formed feet or whether your child's feet will grow up ill-shaped and trouble-giving, depends largely upon the shoes his feet grow up in.
The Coward Shoes for children will make your child's feet natural and shapely when he grows up.
Sold Nowhere Else
James S. Coward
264-274 Greenwich Street, New York
(Near Warren Street)
Mail Orders Filled Send for Catalog



THE STROUD PIANO
PRICE $285.00
THE full, melodious Stroud tone is the result of finest materials and highly skilled workmanship, employed without stint or limitation. Stroud case beauty is the expression of the art of master designers. Stroud moderation of price exemplifies the great merchandising power of The Aeolian Company.
ARTHUR NIKISCH, famous orchestral conductor, says of the Stroud:
"If it is your idea to demonstrate that a really good piano can be sold at a low price, you certainly have been successful. In comparing the Stroud Piano with other instruments it is difficult to understand how you do it at the figure."
THE AEOLIAN COMPANY
AEOLIAN HALL, 29-33 West Forty-second Street
"Makers of The Aeolian-Vocalion and the famous Pianola—Largest Manufacturers of Musical Instruments in the World"
Copyright 1915, The Aeolian Co.

Distinction

There are several good publications for women, and on the surface they look very similar. But a painstaking analysis will reveal differences which can be clearly classified.

In such an examination the feminine view point is valuable. If this problem comes to you, consult the women of your own household. They may be able to tell you, in regard to a publication, whether its recipes are practical its fashions authentic its fiction interesting and clean its special articles of any real importance its editorial policy sound and substantial

Any point of superiority in a magazine becomes important when it is multiplied by a circulation which runs into the hundred-thousands. The elements of distinction in The Designer are recognized and appreciated in more than 350,000 homes.

Standard Fashion Company, N. Y.

THE DESIGNER

is one of the three magazines called by advertising men The Butterick Trio and bought as an advertising unit. The other members of the Trio are The Delineator and The Woman's Magazine. The average monthly net circulation of The Butterick Trio is guaranteed to be in excess of 1,400,000.

UNDER THE RED CROSS
FLAG
AT HOME AND ABROAD
By
Mabel T. Boardman

Chairman National Relief Board, American Red Cross.

The authorized book of the American Red Cross,—a book of deep interest to all Americans,—a never-to-be-forgotten story of heroism and self-sacrifice, the accumulated offering of the men and women who are making the American Red Cross stand for a humanitarianism embracing every nation and every people.

16 Illustrations.
Octavo. Cloth, $1.50 net.
At All Bookstores.

LIPPINCOTT

For Your Eyes' Sake
use the Welsbach "Reflex"
"SHIELD OF QUALITY"
Gas Mantles
Formerly 25c Now 15c
(For Upright and Inverted Gas Lights)
Durable, economical, eye-comforting

For Sale by Gas Company and Dealers

WHEN YOU KNOW WELSBACH
LIGHTING YOU PREFER IT

THE PIANO SHOP

offers the best bargains in used pianos. Here you find STANDARD MAKES in all styles. All are put in the best condition by experienced piano men.

Steinways, Knabe, Chickering, Grands and Uprights, and a lot of others too numerous to mention. Also a lot of Player Pianos, Grand and Upright. Nothing like them anywhere. Lowest prices. All guaranteed.

Terms to suit any pocketbook; liberal allowance for cash.

CHRISTMAN SONS,
35 W. 14th St., bet. 5th & 6th Avs.

MORGAN DISAVOWS 'YELLOW DOG' FUND

Tells Committee He Never Heard of Interborough Plan to Hide Dual Contract Cost.

FOUND SHONTS RELIABLE

Satisfied Proposed Stevens Contract Was Not Extravagant When Risk Was Considered.

J. P. Morgan told the Thompson Legislative Investigating Committee yesterday that he had never heard of an attempt by Theodore P. Shonts or the Interborough Rapid Transit Company to meet by subterfuge obligations covertly incurred by the company in its efforts for the adoption of the dual subway contracts with the city.

Mr. Morgan denied knowledge of any obligations made by the company which it might not wish to have on its books, and he testified that he had always found Mr. Shonts thoroughly reliable and trustworthy.

Mr. Morgan was summoned by the committee to tell of his part in the discussions relating to the one-time proposal by the Interborough Company to let a contract to John F. Stevens for third-tracking the elevated lines of the Manhattan Railway Company. Mr. Morgan's name was brought into the question by William A. Read, a former director of the Interborough Company, who told the committee last August that, when Mr. Shonts attempted to persuade the Board of Directors in 1913 to accept the contract, he opposed the action and requested Mr. Morgan to dissuade Mr. Shonts from entering into it. Mr. Read, who was supported in the Board of Directors by the late Gardiner M. Lane of Boston and George W. Young, told the committee that the three opposed the contract on the ground that it was extravagant in that it allowed Mr. Stevens too much profit.

$2,000,000 for 18 Months' Work.

According to testimony before the committee, Mr. Stevens would have got about $2,000,000 for eighteen months' work had the contract been given to him, and the efforts of the committee have been directed toward finding out why Mr. Shonts and many of the Directors of the Interborough were willing to make a contract so apparently advantageous to Mr. Stevens. Specifically, the committee has sought to prove or disprove a rumor that a part of this profit to Mr. Stevens was intended as an indirect appropriation to cover expenditures in connection with the dual subway contracts which the company did not want to enter upon its books. This rumored "appropriation" has been described as "the yellow dog fund."

Mr. Morgan seemed a frank and willing witness. As he took his seat in the witness chair, half a dozen cameras were aimed at him, and preparations were made for a flashlight picture. Senator Thompson told the photographers to wait for Mr. Morgan's permission, and asked Mr. Morgan if he objected.

"Oh, no," said Mr. Morgan, "let them go ahead. I don't mind."

So the picture was taken, Mr. Morgan and Senator Thompson sitting side by side.

Mr. Morgan said he was not a Director of the Interborough, but his firm had taken more than $160,000,000 of the company's bonds and, therefore, had been interested in its financial ventures. Whenever he questioned or advised Mr. Shonts or the company, he said, he did so to be sure that the bonds would be well protected. When the Stevens contract was under discussion, he testified, Messrs. Read and Lane called upon him and expressed objections.

Complained of Extravagance.

"They said," Mr. Morgan went on, "that the contract was extravagant, that the Interborough's own engineers could do the third tracking for much less than Stevens would get. After I had seen them, I asked Mr. Shonts to come to see me, and he told me that because of the liability for injury and damage suits that might result from the work, he thought it to the interest of the company to let the contract to Stevens, whom he had worked with in Panama and knew well. I told him that I simply wanted his assurance that the contract was not extravagant, and he gave me that assurance and I was satisfied. I recall that he used a favorite saying of his, 'When quality and price are equal, friendship begins.'"

"Did Mr. Read or Mr. Lane give reasons for objecting to the contract?" asked Mr. Lewis.

"Not beyond saying that it was extravagant," Mr. Morgan replied. "Mr. Lane said: 'I don't like this thing and I don't want it to go through.' That was enough for me. When Mr. Lane said a thing was extravagant, I wanted to know that it was not extravagant before I disagreed with him."

"Did Mr. Lane make any charges of bad faith on Mr. Shonts's part, or refer to any collusion between Mr. Shonts and any one else?"

"I don't think so. I recall nothing like that."

"Did you ever hear from Mr. Lane or any one else, Mr. Morgan, that money had been expended by the Interborough Rapid Transit Company to bring about the dual subway contracts and that the company wanted to cover such expenditures without record on its books?"

"No."

"Didn't you know that George McAneny opposed this contract on the Board of Estimate?"

"I don't think so."

"Didn't you know that Public Service Commissioner Maltbie opposed it and presented memoranda on it to the commission?"

"No. There have been so many memoranda, answers, and rejoinders in the Public Service Commission that I can't remember them all."

No Supervision Required.

"Did you know that the certificates for third tracking issued by the Public Service Commission to the Manhattan Railway Company and the New York Municipal Railways Company were the same except that the Manhattan Company was permitted to contract for the third tracking of its lines in Manhattan without submitting the contracts for approval to the Public Service Commission, while the New York Municipal Railways Company had to have its contracts for third tracking in Brooklyn approved by the commission?"

"I probably knew it at the time, but I have forgotten all about it now."

"You knew, didn't you, Mr. Morgan, that, shortly after the Stevens contract had been abandoned, Messrs. Lane, Read, and Young were eliminated or eliminated themselves from the Board of Directors of the Interborough Company and that shortly after that the board let a contract similar to the proposed Stevens contract to T. A. Gillespie?"

"I knew that Mr. Lane resigned, but I never heard of the Gillespie contract."

"Did Mr. Lane tell you why he resigned?"

"He talked about resigning for some time before he got out. His health was failing, and he said that, as he lived in Boston, he could not attend the meetings of the board as regularly as he should."

"Did he intimate that he felt that he should watch the Board of Directors carefully?"

"Not any more than he would watch any other Board of Directors of which he was a member."

Big Profit for Gillespie.

"Did you know that the Gillespie contract allowed Mr. Gillespie a profit of 15 per cent. over costs?"

"No. I knew only that the work of third-tracking was going on because my firm had to pay out the money for it."

"You did not know then that Mr. Gillespie sublet a contract to Terry & Tench by which that firm did 80 per cent. of the work, took almost all of the liability of which Mr. Shonts spoke, and yet received only a little over 4 per cent. profit, while Mr. Gillespie, who took almost no risk and simply sublet the work, made a profit of about 9 per cent?"

"No, I didn't know that."

"Wouldn't you call such a contract as that let to Mr. Gillespie an extravagant contract?"

"I think that would be a matter for the Board of Directors to look into."

"Don't you think that it is a matter for the Legislature to look into?"

Can't Direct the Legislature.

"That is for the Legislature to determine," Mr. Morgan replied, laughing. "I can't direct the Legislature."

Mr. Morgan said that when his firm accepted the bonds of the Interborough Rapid Transit Company his counsel, Francis Lynde Stetson, had examined the details of its contracts and business and that he personally had never acquainted himself with many of these facts.

Mr. Morgan was on the stand just forty minutes, and after his testimony the hearing was adjourned. It is expected that George W. Young will testify before the committee when it meets again in the latter part of next week.

INQUIRES INTO POISONING.

Atlantic City's Mayor Asks Report on Death Due to Nurse's Error.

Special to The New York Times.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 27.—Mayor William Riddle sent a letter today to the Board of Governors of the Atlantic City Hospital asking for a report on the death on Oct. 14 of Joseph W. Thomas, to whom a nurse gave poison in mistake for a remedy of similar color. The board announced tonight that the letter probably would not be considered until the next regular meeting on the second Wednesday of next month. It was said, however, that only two victims of the error of the nurse remained in the hospital and that only four had been affected at any time. Thomas died, and one other recovered. Here is Mayor Riddle's letter:

Gentlemen: Whether it be true or not I am unable to say, but this morning's papers say that the hospital refuses to file an account or information about three people who were handed the poison cup, one of whom died. As Atlantic City contributes $82,500 annually to the support of the hospital it is quasi-municipal, and therefore all the taxpayers of the city are anxious to have an explanation and an investigation. I trust you will send it to me.

The nurse who administered the poison gave oxalic acid, and on discovering her mistake became nearly frantic. She is now in charge of the Rev. Father John Howard of St. Nicholas's Church, and is held to await action by the authorities.

FIRE IN PATERSON CHURCH.

Blaze Does $12,500 Damage to First English Lutheran.

Special to The New York Times.

PATERSON, N. J., Oct. 27.—The First English Lutheran Church, at Carroll and Pearl Streets, this city, was damaged by fire this afternoon to the extent of $12,500. The rectory was threatened by the blaze, but the firemen and the police managed to save it and the silver communion service and the books belonging to the church, under the direction of the Rev. Arthur N. Bean, the rector. The fire was reported by a passerby, who saw the smoke coming from the roof, and two alarms were turned in.

Fireman Frank Giebelhausen was chopping a hole in the roof when he was overcome by smoke and fell 20 feet to the ground, breaking his right leg and sustaining internal injuries. He was taken to the General Hospital.

California Expositions Closing
San Francisco . . December 4th
San Diego . . . . December 31st
Buy your tickets now
$94.30 Out and Back
Rates advance December 1st.
Southern Pacific Steamships
New York to New Orleans
Connecting with Sunset Route to the Coast
For further particulars inquire
1158 Broadway at 27th St. | 366 Broadway at Franklin St. | 39 Broadway near Wall St.

EPISCOPALIANS BAR RELIGIOUS CRUSADE

Mission Board's Delegates to the Panama Congress Can Do Nothing but Confer.

HIGH CHURCH WILL FIGHT

Will Appeal to the General Convention of the Church, and Bishops May Also Use Pressure.

High Church will keep up its fight on the Protestant Episcopal Board of Missions, which at its adjourned meeting yesterday at the Missions House, 281 Fourth Avenue, officially appointed delegates to attend the Panama Congress on Religious Work in Latin America.

The five Bishops and clergymen who had resigned the day before, after the board refused to rescind its action in arranging for representation at the congress, consulted with the eight others who had opposed the action but had not withdrawn.

The delegates who are to visit Panama are to pay their own expenses and are to do nothing but confer with others at the congress, but the opponents of the project feel strongly that even that limited participation endangers church unity and widens the gulf between Protestants and Catholics.

They still insist that a slight has been put on the See of Rome, whose work for four centuries in South American countries, they think, should be considered in a conciliatory spirit.

Bishop Weller, who left last evening for his home at Fond du Lac, Wis., said that before the forces of Pan-Protestantism gathered at the Isthmus in February there was likely to be a special meeting of the House of Bishops. Although the prelates cannot actually forbid the delegates to go, Bishop Weller and his associates believe that if the house declares its disapproval none will attend despite their appointments from the board.

High Church Party to Appeal.

Certain it is that the High Church party will make an appeal from the action of the Board of Missions in the Panama matter the next General Convention of the Church, which will be held a year hence in St. Louis. Its adherents maintain that they have been overridden ruthlessly, and not only do they propose to file an appeal, but they may also try to depose the present board and elect one more to their liking.

Bishop Weller said in response to a direct question that there was no thought entertained by him or any of his associates of going over to the Church of Rome. They consider themselves the most loyal of churchmen, and, in fact, they regard themselves as "The Church," and their opponents in error on this question.

He said that siding with Pan-Protestantism at this time was peculiarly unfortunate, for the Anglican community, including both the English and the Episcopal Churches, had always regarded itself as an intermediary between the Catholics and the Protestants.

"The Catholics can understand us," he said, "for we have orders and a priesthood and an episcopate. We can treat with them with the idea of bringing about unity and help in drawing all Christian bodies into one fold."

The Bishop said he and the Rev. Dr. William T. Manning, rector of Trinity Church, were members of a Congress on Faith and Orders, which had church unity for its ultimate goal. Letters had been interchanged between members of a committee of this congress and the Papal Secretary of State just before the outbreak of the European war.

Planned to Consult the Pope.

"It was the intention," said the Bishop, "eventually to send a delegation of Episcopal Bishops from this country to confer with the Pope on this matter, but everything was stopped by the war. After that conflict is over, I think the hearts of men will be more disposed toward religion and something can be done. I do not expect to see church unity come in my life, but I believe it will some day."

It was decided by the thirteen members of the anti-Panama contingent that it was well that some of them remained on the board, so that when an appeal came up before the General Convention they might be in a stronger position. The resignations of the five members were intended as an emphatic protest. The Right Rev. G. Mott Williams, Bishop of Marquette, although he had resigned, appeared as usual at the meeting and took part in the discussions. He said he did this because as a Bishop he was still an ex officio member and entitled to speak, although he had surrendered his right to vote. He asked that the resignations of Bishop Weller, Bishop Harding, Dr. Manning, Dean Selden P. Delaney, and himself be formally accepted in accordance with their action of the day before. The board, however, declined to take any such step, and several of the lawyer members declared it was not required.

While the anti-Panama faction was foregathering in another part of the building the board addressed itself to the task of preparing instructions for the delegates to the congress. Copious extracts from the bulletins of the Executive Committee of the congress were quoted. Referring to Bulletin 2, it appeared that the congress "was not to be a gathering for legislation on ecclesiastical questions or even on matters of missionary policy, and that other faiths were not to be antagonized."

Delegates' Powers Restricted.

On the motion of Bishop Talbot a resolution, amended by the Rev. Dr. Alexander Mann of Boston, was passed as follows:

Resolved, That our delegates go for conference only and with no purpose, authority, or power of committing this board to co-operation.

To act under such conditions the following seven men were chosen: The Right Rev. Arthur S. Lloyd, President of the board; the Right Rev. Lucien Lee Kinsolving, Bishop of Brazil; the Right Rev. Albion W. Knight, formerly of Cuba and now in charge at Panama; the Right Rev. Hiram R. Hulse of Cuba; the Right Rev. William Cabell Brown, formerly at work in Brazil but now Coadjutor Bishop of Virginia, and the Right Rev. Henry D. Aves, Bishop of Mexico.

It is understood that, although appointed as a delegate, Bishop Knight is not in favor of the congress. Bishop Aves has not been heard from for several months, owing to difficulty of communication.

The Right Rev. Nathaniel S. Thomas, Bishop of Wyoming, introduced this memorial, which was adopted unanimously:

Resolved, That the Board of Missions appoint a committee to draft a resolution to memorialize his Imperial Majesty, the Emperor of Germany, to use his influence, as a well-known champion of Christianity, with the Sultan of Turkey with a view to assuaging the ravages of religious persecution now inflicted by the Turks upon their Armenian subjects.

Much of the morning session was taken up with the discussion of the best method of raising $100,000 as a fund to be specifically applied to domestic missions.

The afternoon session closed with an interchange of views on missionary work and an address by the President of the board.

'JITNEYS' IMPERIL TROLLEYS

Atlantic City Traction Company Asks for Protection.

Special to The New York Times.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 27.—The "jitney" threatens to push the local trolley company into bankruptcy with its success at this resort. Relief must come shortly in the way of regulations against the auto-buses, according to the traction officials, or the service must be discontinued, as the advent of those conveyances has cut the receipts three-quarters, they say.

The hotel men, Rotary Club, Chamber of Commerce, and other prominent business men say they hope to enact city legislation to keep the "jitney" off the thoroughfares. The move, however, must be deferred until June 15 next, as the licenses already out allow this franchise. The "jitneys" have been averaging from $15 to $20 a day all during the Summer and $10 now. There are 500 in operation here.

COLORADO'S CAPTAIN TRAPPED BY FLAMES

But Crew of Burning Freighter Stood by in Boats and Saved the Skipper.

Special to The New York Times.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 27.—The Merchants and Miners' steamer Suwanee brought to this port today Captain L. E. Congdon and the crew of thirty-five of the Mallory steamer Colorado, which caught fire off the Carolina coast.

For three hours, from 1:30 until 4:30 on Monday morning, these men rowed about the Colorado in lifeboats, risking their lives again and again by getting near the crackling, roaring steamer in order to save Captain Congdon, who had been trapped on the forward deck of his ship by the flames.

"I was asleep when the fire was discovered by Second Officer Frank Magruder," said Captain Congdon today. "We had left Charleston some hours before with 6,000 bales of cotton, bound for New York. Mr. Magruder first saw the flames coming from an afterhatch. He gave orders to get the pumps to work and called me.

"I got out on deck wearing nothing but my undershirt. There isn't time to dress when a ship catches fire at sea. We had worked for half an hour when the flames broke out again from another hatch, this time forward. There was a ring of fire between the crew and the lifeboats and I thought for a minute that we were trapped.

"But I ordered the men to rush across the flames, and they made it. When I had seen that all were able to reach the lifeboats the fire between me and the boats was too hot. I couldn't go through, so I ordered them to put off. Mr. Magruder didn't want to do it, but he obeyed orders. Then for four hours the thirty-three men, in two boats, stuck close to the Colorado.

"It was getting hotter and hotter where I was, but I wasn't so much afraid that I would be hurt as I was that the flaming masts would tumble overboard and finish the crew. I told them to stay away, but they stuck around. Finally the masts went and I managed to get over the side with a rope.

"All the men lost everything they had. The greater number of the crew were asleep when the fire started and did not even have time to snatch their clothes. I haven't the slightest idea how the fire started. I wish I knew."

James Kibler, wireless operator on the Suwanee, says it was about 8 o'clock on Monday morning when the Merchants and Miners' ship sighted Captain Congdon and his crew about eight miles northeast of Cape Romain.

The Mallory liner was equipped for wireless, but did not have an operator aboard. Walter Osterloh, who made the trip down to Savannah on the Suwanee, was to have joined the freighter at Charleston, but missed her by a few hours.

Captain Congdon left today for New York.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Oct. 27.—The steamer Colorado was still burning tonight, after having been turned to this port and the damage could not be estimated. It is believed that the 5,900 bales of cotton aboard and the vessel itself have been badly damaged.

FOX UPSETS A FIELD MEET.

Leads 46 Beagles Ten Miles in an Impromptu Chase.

ROSELAND, N. J., Oct. 27.—Members of the New Jersey Beagle Club, which was holding a field meet here this afternoon, were treated to an impromptu fox chase of more than ten miles, the dogs killing the fox in Riverside, Morris County.

Two of the dogs that had been sent away on the scent of a rabbit picked up the fox scent. The yelps from these two dogs indicated that they were on a new trail, and the forty-four other dogs were released and the whole pack trailed the fox across the Passaic River into Morris County.

Some of the members of the club followed the dogs as best they could in automobiles and on bicycles. When they came upon the pack it was found the dogs had killed a little red fox.

GYMNASIUM FOR STEVENS.

Institute Will Erect $80,000 Building at Castle Point Field.

Plans were filed in the Building Inspector's office in Hoboken yesterday for a gymnasium to be erected on the grounds of Stevens Institute of Technology in Hoboken. The gymnasium is to cost about $80,000, and is to be erected on the east side of the Castle Point Field, southeast of the old Stevens Castle.

The building is to be 112 feet long by 88 feet wide, oval, and two stories, with a basement. It will be of terra cotta brick, with a wide entrance from the terrace. In the basement there will be a pool 60 by 20 feet, with a depth varying from 4 feet 6 inches to 8 feet. Adjoining the pool there will be shower baths and appliances for heating, purifying, and emptying the water.

Just above the second floor will be the running track. This will be suspended from the roof by trusses, so that the floor will be clear. The track will be 10 feet wide.

The entrance to the gymnasium will be through the trophy room, and an arrangement of folding doors will close off the rear part of the lower floor for secret practice and for classes in boxing and fencing.

The plans were filed by Architects Ludlow & Peabody of 101 Park Avenue, New York.

LOSSES
Innumerable have been incurred through mistakes in investment. You can make neither mistake nor loss when buying our 5%
GUARANTEED MORTGAGES
LAWYERS MORTGAGE CO.
RICHARD M. HURD, President
Capital, Surplus & Pr. $9,000,000
59 Liberty Street, Manhattan
184 Montague Street, Brooklyn

7-20-4
R.G. SULLIVAN'S
Factory has been increased in size by 10,000 additional feet of floor space.
Largest selling brand of 10c Cigars in the world.
FACTORY, MANCHESTER, N. H.

SAFETY FIRST!
Watch the Five A's Grow! They Spell Protection for You
A-A-A-A-A
ÆTNA
ACME
ACCUMULATED
A——?
A——?
ÆTNA

SAXON CARS
Strength-Economy-Service
Here Are Quality Features

New Series Saxon "Six" at $785 is distinctly a fine quality car—with 2-unit electric starting-lighting; Timken axles and bearings; yacht-line body, high speed 6-cylinder motor; comfort for all passengers; lustrous body finish; helical bevel drive gears—everything top grade.

Saxon "Six" Touring	$785	Saxon "Four" Roadster	$395
With Limousine Top	935	With Coupe Top	455
Saxon "Six" Roadster	785	Electric Starter & Lights	50

Saxon Motor Co. of New York
251 W. 57th St. Phone Col. 7811
Brooklyn Agency, 1270 Bedford Avenue
(185)

Don't "Jiggle" the Hook

There are two ways to recall the telephone operator when you are making a telephone call.

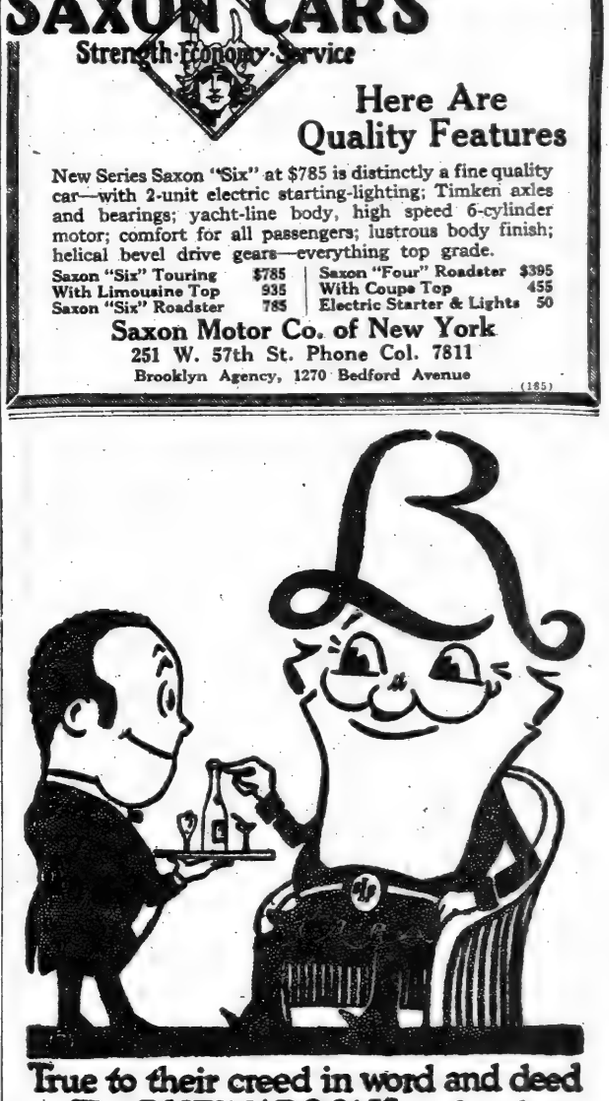
The wrong way is to "jiggle" the hook so rapidly that the tiny electric lamp that signals the operator in the Central Office does not remain lighted long enough to attract the operator's attention.

The right way is to move the receiver hook up and down slowly, so that the light will glow and the operator will know that you are calling her.

The right way saves your time and patience. It adds to the speed with which the operator can serve you. It helps improve the quality of your telephone service generally.

Always move the receiver hook up and down SLOWLY to recall the operator. It is the correct way and the quickest way.

NEW YORK TELEPHONE COMPANY



True to their creed in word and deed
The RHEINAROONS make clear
Their preference for temperance
By drinking Rheingold Beer.

Rheingold Beer

The growing popularity of mild malt beverages like Rheingold Beer holds more promise of real temperance than all the prohibition laws that were ever passed.

S. Liebmann's Sons Brewing Co.

CHARGE LOSS OF F-4 TO RUSTED RIVETS

Naval Board of Inquiry Also Says the Craft Had Poor Diving Qualities.

ABSOLVES VESSEL'S CREW

Submarine's Builder Takes Issue—Says Open Air Valves Caused Disaster, and Charges Carelessness.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—A graphic story of the battle for life waged in vain 300 feet beneath the surface of the sea by the twenty-one men who perished in the navy's submarine F-4 last March at Honolulu is told in the final report on the loss of the vessel submitted by a board of inquiry headed by Rear Admiral Busch and made public today. Examination of the wrecked hull after it had been brought to the surface and placed in dry dock convinced the board that the disaster was caused by a leak resulting from a corroded battery lining and corroded rivets, and the failure of the boat, through poor diving qualities, to respond promptly to the rudder change which should have returned her to the surface.

Sharp issue with the conclusion reached by the Naval Board as to the cause of the loss of the F-4 was taken in a statement given out here tonight of Henry R. Carso, President of the Electric Boat Company, which built the submarine. While admitting that there may have been corrosion of rivets and that this corrosion may possibly have been contributory to the disaster, Mr. Carso practically charges that carelessness in leaving open air tanks was the real cause of the tragedy. In this connection Mr. Carso says in his statement: "The question of air valves having been found open on the forward, middle, and aft main ballast tanks and the auxiliary ballast tank will account for the loss of the vessel."

Fight of Trapped Men.

Discarding the theory once advanced that chlorine gas brought quick relief in death to the crew, the Naval Board of Inquiry, from signs within the rusted and battered hulk, pieces out in its report a dramatic account of how the doomed men strove desperately to save themselves as their vessel sank to the bottom. Fifteen met death in the engine room, where they sought refuge at the last; six died at their posts in the flooded forward compartment. All members of the ship's company are absolved from blame in this tribute:

"From the facts established, we find that the accident resulting in disaster to the U. S. S. submarine F-4 on March 25, 1915, was not due to carelessness, negligence, or inefficiency on the part of the officers or men of the vessel and that, furthermore, the personnel remained at their respective stations until all effective means employed to avert the disaster impending had failed and thereafter sought refuge."

Cause of the Disaster.

After a review of all the facts established in the investigation, the board gives its conception of the disaster as follows:

"The primary cause of the disaster was the corroded condition of the lead lining of the battery tank, and, in consequence, of certain rivets in the port wall of the forward battery steel tank.

"The secondary causes were:

"(A) The poor diving qualities of the vessel, and

"(B) The consequent failure of the vessel promptly to respond to measures taken to bring her to the surface.

"Unknown to the commanding officer, the vessel acquired some negative buoyancy forward of the centre of gravity, through the leaky rivet in the port wall of the forward battery steel tank.

"Water accumulated in the forward battery lead-lined tank and, through corroded slop tanks, overflowed into the battery cells, in contact with sulphuric acid in the cells generating chlorine gas.

"The vessel developed a strong tendency to dive.

"Upon these intimations of danger, there followed:

"Up-rudder, but, due to the poor diving qualities of the vessel, aggravated by the additional quantity of water taken in through the port wall of the forward battery tank, the vessel did not respond, but, in fact, continued to descend, and downward momentum gained before propellers were stopped.

"Automatic blow was tripped, and blow valve on auxiliary tank opened.

"In the endeavor to check the downward momentum manoeuvring with propellers probably took place.

"The appreciable length of time requisite for air to build up in ballast tanks for the expulsion of sufficient quantities of water resulted in the vessel reaching crushing depths.

"The seams of the vessel began to open and—probably through open torpedo tubes and seams—water entered the vessel. A condition of positive buoyancy was never attained.

"There followed actual disaster. The vessel began filling with water. The personnel abandoned stations, and many sought refuge in the engine room, closing its doors. Under great pressure, the engine room bulkhead failed suddenly, leaving the vessel on the bottom, completely flooded."

Emergency Measures Failed.

From its examination of the valves of the automatic device, which was set to expel water from the vessel's ballast tanks at a depth of 100 feet as required by departmental regulations, the board found that the accident which started the F-4 on her downward plunge had occurred before the 100-foot mark was reached.

The most effective procedure for sending the boat to the surface was promptly carried out, diving rudders were set to send her upward, valves opened to empty the forward ballast tanks, and the electric motors started to drive her upward, all without avail. It was then that some member of the crew rushed into the engine room compartment and the door of the bulkhead was closed. Fifteen bodies were found there, and from this fact and the position of the valves and rudders the board concluded that:

"Some member or members of the personnel were alive and capable of action for at least a short time after the occurrence which led to the disaster."

The board places the primary cause of the tragedy forward of the engine-room bulkhead. In this connection it says:

"Slop tanks and lead lining of battery steel tanks found corroded and therefore this corrosion resulted from the chemical action of sulphuric acid upon impurities in the lead.

"Battery steel tanks in general were found in excellent condition, and therefore the corrosion of certain rivets occurred prior to March 25, 1915, the date of the disaster.

"Valves and rudders found operated; switches found thrown; engine room door intentionally closed; and, therefore, the personnel were not asphyxiated before the vessel, under normal conditions, could have been brought to the surface.

"A corroded rivet in port wall of forward battery steel tank, in wake of frame No. 51, was found to leak slightly under even a small head of water—not more than one foot—to which this portion of tank could be subjected in dock, and, therefore, on the dive of March 25, 1915, this corroded rivet leaked considerably.

"Due to inevitable short-circuit or heavy ground, caused by flooding of cells through slop tanks, in the presence of chlorine and free hydrogen, (or, in the presence of free hydrogen alone, if in sufficient quantity,) an electric arc struck, and therefore an explosion occurred.

"A battery fire of limited extent occurred in the forward battery positive cell, but, nevertheless, this battery fire was not the primary cause of the disaster.

"Leak found in port wall of forward battery steel tank; probable leaks around certain other corroded rivets in both battery tanks; probable leak through open torpedo tubes; otherwise no positive evidence found as to where leakage occurred.

"The vessel began to leak through open seams when, or before, the depth of 300 feet was reached, and at such a rate that the weight of water coming in was greater than the weight of water being expelled from the ballast tanks."

The report continues:

"No evidence was found that the F-4 had poor diving qualities prior to her docking in February, 1915, when experimental propellers were fitted—the only known alteration made—and, therefore, the experimental propellers so substituted probably so affected the influence of the after diving rudders as to make it difficult for the diving rudderman to control the vessel.

"The poor diving qualities consequent upon this change of propellers were the secondary cause of the disaster.

"Air valves were found open on forward main, middle main, auxiliary, and after main ballast tanks, and, therefore, in the endeavor to check the vessel's downward momentum, the interval of time requisite for the expulsion of sufficient quantities of water, permitted the vessel to reach crushing depths."

Builder Charges Carelessness.

In his statement tonight assailing the report of the Board of Inquiry, President Carso of the Electric Boat Company said:

"The item of lead lining and corrosion of rivets would indicate lack of care. All vessels and machinery are liable to corrode, and should be regularly overhauled, cleaned, and painted. A similar experience in connection with the battery tanks was met with some time before the loss of the F-4 in connection with one of the boats of the E class on the Atlantic coast. Measures are now being taken carefully to guard against deterioration of this nature of boats now in the service.

"While this corrosion may possibly have been a contributory cause to the accident, it could not have been the main cause, as it is always possible to detect such leaks and bring the boat to the surface before serious damage results.

"The propellers on the F-4 were an improved design on those used on previous boats. The propellers differed only slightly, having increased area of blades. They were used on this boat during her official acceptance trial, and no evidence of poor diving qualities was discovered then, or was any mention of poor diving qualities ever made in official reports after commissioning. It is impossible to see from a technical point of view how such slight variation in propellers could affect the diving qualities of the boat in any way.

"The question of air valves having been found open on the forward, middle, and aft main ballast tanks and the auxiliary ballast tank will account for the loss of the vessel.

"When a submarine is properly handled these valves are only open sufficiently long for the air to escape from the ballast tank when the tanks are being filled. Immediately after filling the tanks the valves must be closed; if they are not closed, it is impossible to blow the ballast from the tanks and allow the boat to rise to the surface.

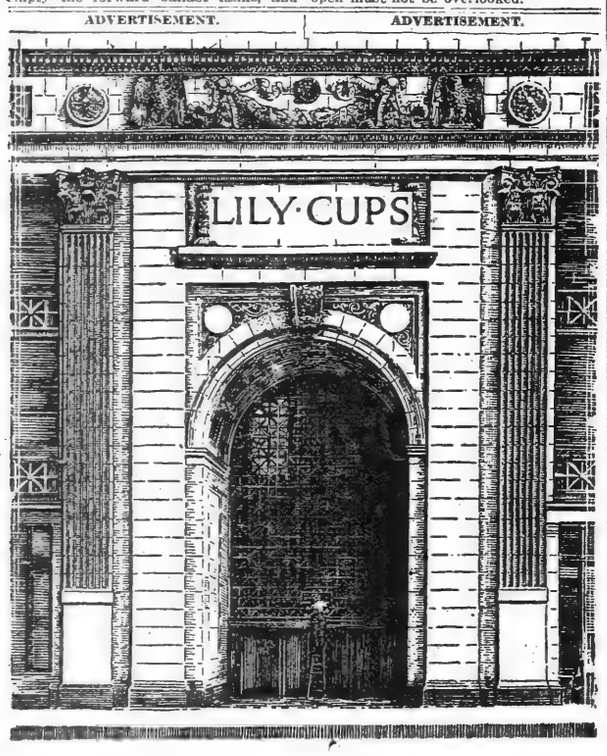
"In case a boat is carelessly trimmed and in case she should spring a leak, or have a collision with a reef or any submerged object, she is doomed unless these valves are closed. To make the function of these valves clear it may be stated that they are known as vent valves, and connected with the top of the tanks. At the bottom of the tanks there are large valves for the admission or discharge of water. If the vent valves are left open when the boat is submerged, the compressed air which is turned into the tank for the purpose of blowing out water merely escapes through the vent valves and will not lighten the vessel.

"An automatic device known as the automatic blow is fitted for the purpose of automatically admitting air to the ballast tanks when the boat through negligence or accident exceeds a predetermined depth. If, however, the vent valves are left open the automatic valve, although it may work properly, can accomplish nothing.

"This one fact is sufficient evidence of the cause of the loss of the vessel. Such primary causes as negative buoyancy, a leak, or a collision, would not necessarily result fatally unless these valves had been left open. All instructions governing the operation of boats require these valves to be closed. Nothing further is required to explain the much regretted loss of this vessel.

"In the foregoing remarks there is no intention of reflecting on the unfortunate men who lost their lives in the vessel, but the fact that these valves were left open must not be overlooked."

ADVERTISEMENT. ADVERTISEMENT.



'AL' SMITH CENTRE OF 'OLD HOME NIGHT'

Young and Old, "His Folks" Hail East Sider as the Next Sheriff.

POLITICIANS OUT OF IT

Women and Children Boss Celebration of Affection for Tammany Candidate.

Any one who happened along Oliver Street on the lower east side last night must have thought the election for Sheriff was over. It was "Old Home Night" for "Al" Smith. Several days ago friends and neighbors of the Tammany candidate decided to show him just what they thought of him. "Al" has lived on Oliver Street all his life, and his neighbors have been watching his career since he first entered politics. Even the children call him by his first name.

So the neighbors "chipped in" and arranged a carnival. Politicians were not allowed to contribute. All that "Big Tom" Foley, Congressman "Dan" Reardon and others prominent in Tammany affairs, who live on Oliver Street, a door or two from Smith, were allowed to do was to look on. The women of the district arranged the celebration and nothing just like it has ever been accorded an east side candidate.

The blocks bounded by Oliver, Henry, Catharine, and Madison Streets were closed to traffic and the houses festooned with Japanese lanterns, buntings and incandescent lights. In front of 25 Oliver Street, the candidate's home, there hung a great painting of Smith bordered with red, white, and blue lights. Inside "Al," Mrs. "Al," and the five "Al" kiddies were "at home" to the multitude. For hours a stream of men, women, and children filed in and out of the house and congratulated everybody connected with the Smith family.

Outside every now and then perspiring policemen would push back the crowds and arrange a square in the middle of the street, where the children, some Greek, some Chinese, and some Italian, but mostly Irish, in carnival costumes, performed folk dancing and sang. Three bands had trouble making themselves heard. Open-air movies also furnished entertainment. When the candidate appeared on the steps of his home from time to time a mighty shout went up, the bands blared, and the children screamed. And every time "Al" would start to tell how happy he was some one would shout:

"Hurrah for the next Sheriff!"

In the midst of the din a hush suddenly fell. Word went through the crowd that Mrs. Margaret Whalen, 85 years old, and confined to her bed for many years, was coming. Mrs. Whalen was present when "Al" came into the world and ever since she has lived just around the corner. She insisted that she be allowed to see the fun and they wheeled her in a chair through the shouting throng right into the Smith home. It was the signal for refreshments and no one who squeezed into the house went out hungry or dry. Around the corner on Madison Street, where Mr. Smith has his office, there was sterner stuff for the thirsty.

"It looks as if you might pull through," ventured Congressman Reardon with a grin.

"Yes, they tell me I have a fighting chance," replied Smith, as he motioned the bartender to set 'em up for the house.

"They never did anything like this for me when I ran for Sheriff, and I've lived on Oliver Street longer than you have," complained "Big Tom" Foley.

"Yes, but you're not 'Al' Smith," came back a chorus.

"Old Home Night" was being celebrated at a later hour.

GUNMEN KILL CHAUFFEUR.

Victim Slain Because of Attentions to Girl.

Bullets from two revolvers, fired at the same moment, brought instant death to John Nicolini, 18 years old, a chauffeur, who got mixed up in a gang fight at Ninty-ninth Street and Second Avenue last night. One bullet struck him in the ear; the other penetrated his heart. Two men who had done the shooting scurried around the corner and disappeared before the arrival of Policeman Case of the East 104th Street Station, who ran up from the next block when he heard the report of the revolvers. Neither of the gunmen has been caught.

Nicolini and his assailants had quarreled over a girl whom they all admired. It was learned that Nicolini had been threatened with death unless he stopped his attentions to her.

ORGANIST HITS BACK AT MUSIC COMMITTEE

Charges a Bass in Striking Choir of Tarrytown Church Once Sat With Sopranos.

Special to The New York Times.

TARRYTOWN, N. Y., Oct. 27.—The congregation of the First Baptist Church, which frequently is attended by John D. Rockefeller, remained after the prayer meeting tonight to consider the controversy between Robert C. Jones, the organist of the church for nearly fifty years, and the Music Committee. Their differences caused the resignation of Mr. Jones on Oct. 1, and his resignation resulted in a strike of twenty-one out of twenty-four members of the choir.

At the meeting, which was held behind closed doors, a letter was read from Mr. Jones, in which he expressed his indignation at ill treatment he said he had received from members of the Music Committee and at the charge made against himself that he had acted with dictatorial arrogance in controlling the musical talent of the church.

Of the several retorts which he made regarding members of the Music Committee, one was that E. L. Bennett, Chairman of the committee, a bass, on the evening of Sept. 26, between the hours of 7:30 o'clock and 9, left the bass section of the choir and sang in the soprano preserves. Mr. Jones also wrote that a certain member of the Music Committee was "not a gentleman."

The asperity of Mr. Jones's criticisms on the proximity of bass and sopranos on the night of Sept. 26 is said to have been the immediate cause of the quarrel. Mr. Bennett, it was said, sought tonight to be heard in his own defense. It was ruled that he could have a seat at the meeting, but not a voice in it, by reason of the fact that he contributed directly to the collection plate instead of extending support to the church by means of an envelope and check, of which records are kept.

Members of the choir, it was said, reasserted their determination to remain out on strike until Mr. Jones should be re-employed, but the Rev. Dr. Arthur T. Brooks, who presided, finally ruled that the whole meeting was out of order and that the case was one to be acted upon by the Trustees.

ROCKEFELLER FIGHTS LAW.

Rich Albany Post Road Residents Aim to Punish Assemblyman.

Special to The New York Times.

TARRYTOWN, N. Y., Oct. 27.—Walter W. Law, Jr., Republican Assemblyman for the Third District of Westchester, who resides in Briarcliff Manor, is being opposed for re-election by William Rockefeller, John D. Archbold, and many other wealthy residents along the Albany Post Road because he fathered an act to repeal the Burns law, which prohibits a trolley on that road. Opposing Mr. Law on the Democratic ticket is John V. Schaefer of Pleasantville, who is being backed by Mr. Rockefeller and his friends.

Mr. Law says the attack is unfair, as the proposition to repeal the law was put to the voters of Greenburgh and Mount Pleasant and they voted 4 to 1 in favor of it. On the other hand Mr. Rockefeller says the wishes of those living on the highway should be consulted, and they were almost unanimously opposed to a trolley.

While Mr. Law succeeded in passing the bill Governor Whitman vetoed it. The district is Republican, and Law won last year by a majority of nearly 2,000. While this may be cut, there is little doubt of his re-election.

MATHEWSON AT THE BAR.

Baseball Pitcher Guilty of Blocking Coal Hole, but Gets Off.

"Christopher Mathewson," called a court attendant in Yorkville Court yesterday, and the star pitcher for the Giants stepped up to face Magistrate Barlow.

"You are charged with violating traffic regulations by blocking the street in front of the Imperial Hotel when three coal trucks were waiting to discharge their loads yesterday," he was told. "Patrolman Suhr of Traffic Squad C said your machine was directly over the coal holes, and it took him twenty-five minutes to locate you. What have you got to say?"

"I'm afraid I'm guilty," the pitcher said, smiling. "But I did not mean to delay traffic."

"I find you guilty and suspend sentence," said the Magistrate.

Mathewson gave his age as 35, occupation a ball player, and address 87 St. Nicholas Avenue.

EXPLAIN THE SECRET OF TEN-CENT MEALS

Mothers and Housewives Get Facts About Food in People's Kitchen.

EXHIBITS OF EATABLES

Women Eager to Learn from Miss Laura A. Cauble, Who Lectures In Vanderbilt Philanthropy.

How to buy, when to buy, where to buy, how to choose food and how to keep food clean—these are the things that Miss Laura A. Cauble of the Bureau of Food Supply of the Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor told mothers and housekeepers last night in the People's Kitchen, operated by the association at Twenty-seventh Street and Tenth Avenue. Miss Cauble and her assistants emphasized their words with exhibits of foods.

Some of the exhibits were designed to show the food values of popular edibles, so that the uninitiated might know what each article of diet was worth in calories and bone-building properties. The housekeepers learned from one exhibit, for example, that the food value is the same in 4 prunes, 3 heads of lettuce, 1½ heads of cabbage, 6 almonds, 2 dozen raisins, 1½ carrots, and a glass of milk.

Another exhibit was of model meals which poor persons could afford. There was a 923-calorie meal, consisting of a bunch of grapes, a dish of baked beans, a cup of cocoa, two thick slices of bread, and a piece of butter. This meal in the People's Kitchen costs the consumer 10 cents. For those whose palates were not tempted by the 923-calorie meal there was a 945-calorie meal, consisting of ham and potato salad, one apple, a glass of milk, bread, and butter. This meal costs 15 cents in the kitchen.

There were also exhibits of model meals for growing children, each of which sold in the kitchen for a few cents, and any one of which a careful mother might provide herself for a very small cost. The culinary, pantry, and serving departments of the kitchen were also shown to the housekeepers, so that they might learn how to keep their kitchens, dining rooms, and foodstuffs clean.

The kitchen was filled all evening with women who seemed eager to learn what Miss Cauble and her assistants had to tell and show them. The exhibition will be continued this evening and tomorrow evening.

The People's Kitchen was made possible by the philanthropy of Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., and Mrs. James A. Burden, Jr., who provided the fund necessary for its opening. It is now self-supporting, however, despite the scale of its prices. Something may be understood of what food costs in the kitchen from the fact that, in generous portions, cereals are sold for 2 cents a dish, split pea soup for 3 cents, baked beans for 3 cents, roast beef for 10 cents, milk for 2 cents, goulash for 7 cents, and so on.

Meals are served all day in the Kitchen, the routine being: Breakfast for the fathers of families at about 5:30 A. M.; breakfasts for the mothers an hour or two later, breakfasts for the children just before school time; luncheon for every one at noon and meals in the evening from dusk until 8 o'clock. The Kitchen was opened on Feb. 22 last and by Oct. 1 had served 116,734 portions of food at an average cost of 4 cents a portion.

The Kitchen is the only one of its kind in America, but it has been so successful in maintaining itself and supplying a need to the poor, that the association is seeking to establish others. To do so, contributions of money are needed to defray the original expenses of opening the kitchens. After they are opened, as has been established by the experience of the one in Tenth Avenue, they will pay their own expenses.

AEROPLANES FOR ALLIES.

Baltic Also Carries Motor Trucks for Hauling Guns.

The White Star liner Baltic, which sailed for Liverpool at 2:30 o'clock yesterday, was delayed two and a half hours on account of eighteen aeroplanes in cases which were late arriving from the New York Central freight yards.

The aeroplanes were lashed to the deck forward, with thirty-five big armored motor trucks with broad-tread wheels for hauling guns over rough ground.

The Baltic had 48 first, 261 second, and 327 third class passengers, a record number for any British steamer since the Lusitania was sunk. The majority of the passengers came from Canada and were principally people going over to see relatives fighting at the front. The Baltic had 16,000 tons of cargo.

SERGT. McCONEGHY HELD.

Dr. Dillon Insists Detective Wasn't Drunk When He Beat Youth.

Acting Detective Sergeant Alexander R. McConeghy was arraigned before Magistrate House in the West Side Court yesterday on a charge of felonious assault as a result of his attack on John Manning, 19 years old, in the West Seventy-second Street Station on Tuesday night.

Manning appeared in court to press the charge. His face was swollen and discolored, and a bad cut in which a number of stitches had been taken could be seen on his scalp. McConeghy asked to have his case postponed until Friday, and the Magistrate held him in $2,000 bail.

Dr. Charles Dillon, the Police Department physician who examined McConeghy Tuesday night after he had arrested Manning and had, in turn, been arrested himself when the stories of witnesses to the attack were heard, said last night that he did not say after the examination that McConeghy had not been drinking, but that he was not drunk in the legal sense of the word at the time of the examination. Dr. Dillon said that the examination was made about an hour after the attack. He applied the legal tests, he said, and ascertained that the detective was at that time able to sign his name, read, walk straight, and in other ways meet the requirements of the test.

On the docket at the West Sixty-eighth Street Police Station the report made by Dr. Dillon said that McConeghy was "not found to be suffering from the effects of an intoxicant agent so as to be unfit for duty, although it was evident that he had recently injested alcohol." If McConeghy had been found to be under the influence of liquor to such an extent that he could not be considered responsible for his actions, it was explained, the charge against him would not have been so serious as the present charge of committing an assault classed as a felony and punishable by confinement in State prison.

According to an account of the cause of the assault given yesterday, McConeghy told young Manning to get up and give his seat in the Subway to a woman who was standing, and Manning excused his failure to do so by saying that he had worked hard all day. Then, it was said, McConeghy slapped the young man in the face, and as they were leaving the car at the station drew a revolver from his right hip pocket and struck Manning with it a number of times, knocking him to the floor. He snapped the hammer of the revolver, it was said, but it did not explode. Then he kicked the prostrate youth, the witness said.

McConeghy has been suspended by the Police Department on account of the attack, and will be tried before one of the Deputy Police Commissioners, in addition to the trial in the regular courts.

The charge of "disorderly conduct" which McConeghy made against young Manning was dismissed at a hearing in the West Side Court yesterday.

Idle Space Is Expensive

Even short periods of idleness eat into the income disastrously. It pays to consult a live real estate organization—one that can find tenants and keep them, too.

Wm. A. White & Sons
Established 1868
46 Cedar Street

LEADER.
The New York Times leads all New York newspapers in volume, as well as in character, of general advertising.—Advt.

Rich Man, Poor Man

By MAXIMILIAN FOSTER

Author of "The Whistling Man"

IMAGINE a pretty, vivacious girl of unknown parentage, brought up on charity in a cheap boarding-house, instructed only by little Mr. Mapy, a broken-down bookkeeper, turning out to be the Granddaughter of Old Beeston, the richest man in New York!

That was what happened to Bab Wynne. Imagine the extraordinary situation further complicated by her falling heels over head in love with the star boarder, young Varick, whose father had been ruined in Wall Street by Beeston. And then imagine young Varick's emotions when he found himself in love with Bab, one of this family on whom he had vowed eternal vengeance.

This is just the beginning of a swiftly-moving story, full of quick turns, jolting surprises and happy outcomes.

THE SATURDAY EVENING POST

OUT TODAY

Five Cents of all Newsdealers and Post Boys

THE CURTIS PUBLISHING COMPANY
INDEPENDENCE SQUARE, PHILADELPHIA

Hear the New Victor Records for November—OUT TODAY.

Any Victor dealer will gladly give you a descriptive list of these new Victor Records and play any music you wish to hear.

There are Victors and Victrolas in great variety of styles from $10 to $350.

Victor Talking Machine Co., Camden, N. J.

Victrola XVI, $200
Victrola XVI, electric, $250
Mahogany or oak

Bound Copies of
Current History Magazine
Volume II.
NOW READY

This Volume Contains:

DIPLOMATIC PAPERS: Text of all diplomatic papers and official announcements of the Chancelleries of Europe during the second six months of the great war as well as the notes passed between Washington, Berlin, London, and Vienna.

SPEECHES OF RULERS AND STATESMEN of all the nations involved in the war—of the Kaiser, Czar, King of Italy, President of France, and of the Premiers and War Ministers—reported in full.

MILITARY OPERATIONS: Reports of campaigns, official dispatches, stories of soldiers in the trenches and descriptions of the chief phases of the fighting, by trained war correspondents.

CONSEQUENCES: The far-reaching consequences of the war outlined in articles by ex-Presidents Roosevelt and Taft, Count Albert Apponyi, Guglielmo Ferrero, Hendrik Willem Van Loon, Norman Angell, George von L. Meyer, Gabriele d'Annunzio.

ARTICLES BY DISTINGUISHED AUTHORS: Such as George Bernard Shaw, Rudyard Kipling, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, Charles W. Eliot, Emile Verhaeren, Hermann Sudermann, Maximilian Harden, Arnold Bennett, Eden Phillpotts, John Galsworthy, Hugo Muensterberg, Gerhard von Schulze Gaevernitz, Pierre Loti, Count Julius Andrassy, Emile Faguet, Maurice Maeterlinck, and Gabriele d'Annunzio.

A complete encyclopedia of the second six months of the great European war. 1238 pages, including a large number of maps, charts, portraits and cartoons. Bound in substantial seal—brown cloth, embossed, with gold lettering.

Price $2.00
Delivery Charges Extra

CURRENT HISTORY MAGAZINE
of The New York Times

TIMES SQUARE
NEW YORK

Novemer Records Out Today

A FINE LIST

including:
FIDDLE AND I, by Alma Gluck and Zimbalist
MARY OF ARGYLE, by McCormack
AVE MARIA, (Schubert.) by Culp
CARMEN, (Air de la fleur,) by Martinelli
I WANT TO SEE THE OLD HOME, (with male chorus,) by Whitehill.
THE LOST CHORD, by Evan Williams
CARRY ME BACK TO OLD VIRGINNY
and
OLD FOLKS AT HOME, by Alma Gluck, ARE STILL IN GREAT DEMAND

SIX NEW DANCE RECORDS

FOUR NEW HAWAIIAN RECORDS

TWELVE NEW POPULAR SONGS

We are giving Special Renderings of the above new November Records on

The Victrola
Is everywhere acknowledged
the SUPREME MUSICAL INSTRUMENT.

With genuine Victrolas at $15.00, $25.00, $40.00, $50.00, and up to the Magnificent Victrola XVI, at $200.00 and $350.00, there is a Victrola easily WITHIN THE REACH OF EVERY HOME.

Investigate our Easy Payment Plan. Come and Hear Them—Catalogues gratis.
Repairing by Expert Workmen.

Telephone, Murray Hill—4144.

CHAS. H. DITSON & CO.
Distributors
8-10-12 East 34th St., New York

Restfulness

Most women know how hard it is to get a shoe that is really restful to the feet.

Dr. Reed Cushion Shoes with their built-in cushion of comfort, take all of the strain and jars out of walking and make for real restfulness.

Women's Shoes, $5 & $6

Dr. A. Reed Cushion Shoes
1472 Broadway, at 37th St.
[illegible] Place, Woolworth Building

"IT'S IN THE CUSHION"

Think what an automobile top must withstand:

Sun, wind, rain, snow, folding, misuse

The top material probably gets harder service and less attention than any other part of the car.

A Genuine Pantasote

top is built to withstand these things—to retain its newness and preserve the beauty of the car—and to provide perfect, leakproof shelter.

Genuine Pantasote needs no explantion to the man who has had experience with it and other top materials.

The Pantasote Company
1751 Bowling Green Bldg., New York City

Natural Laxative Water from Spain
Approved by Academy of Medicine, Paris
Llorach Assists
It is nature's own remedy for Constipation
Small quantity suffices. Wineglassful only.
Ask Your Physician
Sold by All Druggists. Look for the Yellow Label
LUYTIES BROTHERS
New York
Sole Agents for U. S. and Canada

ADVERTISEMENT.

POMPEIAN OLIVE OIL
ALWAYS FRESH-PURE-SWEET AWARDED GOLD MEDAL
SAN FRANCISCO EXPOSITION

HERRESHOFF SEEKS TO QUIT SANITARIUM

Illegally Detained at Instance of Family, Golf Star Alleges—Habeas Corpus Writ Sought.

COMMITTED FOR DRINKING

Fled to Philadelphia and Was Arrested After Father and Wife Made Complaint Here.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Penn., Oct. 27.—A petition for a writ of habeas corpus to show cause why Frederick Herreshoff, golf player and scion of a prominent New York family, is "being held unlawfully and deprived of his liberty in a sanitarium at Gladwyn, Montgomery County," has been allowed by Judge Patterson and will be argued as soon as Mr. Herreshoff's impaired nerves will permit his appearance in court.

Although Judge Patterson allowed the petition a week ago last Monday and set Friday of last week for the hearing, this move to gain freedom for Mr. Herreshoff did not become publicly known until today. At the same time it was learned that the young man fled here from New York to escape being committed to an institution at Hastings-on-Hudson at the instance of his father, J. B. Francis Herreshoff, a wealthy chemist, and the young man's wife, Mrs. Mary Faulkner Herreshoff.

"Freddie" was here several days before his father learned of his whereabouts. Counsel here for the Herreshoff family took the matter up with Judge Sulzberger with the view of having "Freddie" taken into custody. The Judge ordered that the young man be brought before him for examination. Court attachés were sent out to locate Herreshoff, and, after a brief search, it is said, they found him in a café at a Broad Street hotel.

The young man was arrested and sent to Moyamensing Prison in a van filled with petty thieves and others who had had hearings before Magistrates and had been unable to get bail. After a night in a cell, young Herreshoff was returned to City Hall and taken into court. Judge Sulzberger then committed him to the Gladwyn Sanitarium.

The imprisonment of "Freddie" occurred on Oct. 12, but it was kept quiet until today. At the same time it was learned that the golf enthusiast's wife and father previously had petitioned the Supreme Court in New York, charging that "Freddie" was "threatening and abusive" as a result of an over-indulgence in stimulants.

The elder Herreshoff said in his petition that his son began drinking when a schoolboy and had continued the habit. It is said the young Herreshoff's over-indulgence has impaired his optic nerves to such an extent that he will never again be able to play golf in his former style.

"Freddie" Herreshoff is well known in club and society sporting circles in this city. He is a member of the Racquet Club and is an ardent sportsman. Few amateur golfers in the United States are better known.

Francis Tracy Tobin, counsel for young Herreshoff, refused to comment on his client's attempt to be freed from the sanitarium. Neither would Mr. Tobin say on what day he would bring the young man into court.

Fred Herreshoff has been prominent in national golf circles for more than ten years. He has represented the Ekwanok Golf Club, and has held the metropolitan title, in addition to being a finalist twice in the national amateur championship. In 1911, on the Apawamis Golf Club links, he lost the national title to Harold H. Hilton, the British champion, by 1 up in 37 holes, in one of the most sensational matches seen on an American course. In 1904, at Baltusrol, Herreshoff lost the final round for the amateur title, 8 and 6. He was a semi-finalist in 1913 at Garden City, when he was beaten by Jerome D. Travers, 5 and 4.

In 1910 Herreshoff won the metropolitan championship, and in 1913 finished sixteenth in the national open championship at Brookline, Mass. In the Spring of last year he accompanied Jerome Travers to England and took part in the British amateur championship tournament.

Gets $700 for Husband's Love.

Mrs. Anna A. Mitchell, who sued Ruth Austin, the actress, for $25,000, on the charge that she alienated the affections of James Murray Mitchell, her husband, got a verdict yesterday in Justice Pendleton's part of the Supreme Court for $700. Mrs. Mitchell complained that Mrs. Austin not only deprived her of the love of her husband and the comfort of his society, but also deprived her of many luxuries that she enjoyed before Mr. Mitchell began spending money on the defendant.

Cutting Down the Tax Roll.

Tax Commissioners in Manhattan made 421 examinations yesterday on a total tentative tax assessment of $86,616,600. Of this number only seventy-nine were held for a final assessment of $783,350. Of those examined twenty-one were exempted owing to non-residence and one was reported dead. Since the books were opened 4,739 persons in Manhattan have been examined on a total tentative assessment of $394,608,100. Of the number 785 have been held for a final assessment of $5,566,591.

TO AMORTIZE MORTGAGES.

Conference of Leaders to Discuss the Subject Tomorrow.

A conference of the various financial institutions of the city and individuals interested in the mortgage loan market will be held tomorrow in the library of the Chamber of Commerce at 3 P. M. Many of those who will attend the conference are expected to advocate long-term mortgages amortized by annual payments. The granting of such mortgages by the large lending institutions of the city, it is asserted, would greatly relieve the present mortgage and help not only the large builder but the small investor and home builder.

Tomorrow's conference will be held under the auspices of the Advisory Council of Real Estate Interests, and the following institutions will be represented: New York Life Insurance Company, Mutual Life Insurance Company, Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, Equitable Life Assurance Society, Lawyers' Mortgage Company, Lawyers' Title and Trust Company, New York Title Insurance Company, Union Trust Company of New York, Columbia Trust Company, Equitable Trust Company, Fidelity Trust Company, New York Trust Company, Franklin Trust Company, United States Mortgage and Trust Company, Hudson Trust Company, Central Trust Company, Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, Title Guarantee and Trust Company, United States Trust Company of New York, Bowery Savings Bank, Malden Lane Savings Bank, Excelsior Savings Bank, Union Dime Savings Bank, Emigrants' Industrial Savings Bank, Irving Savings Institution, Dry Dock Savings Institution, Italian Savings Bank, Williamsburg Savings Bank, Queens County Savings Bank, Greater New York Savings Bank, German Savings Bank of Brooklyn, East River Savings Institution, Dollar Savings Bank, and East Brooklyn Savings Bank.

JURY GETS ZELINKA CASE.

Importer Accused of Falsifying Passport Application.

Harry Max Zelinka, an importer, of 440 Fourth Avenue, was on trial yesterday before Judge Foster in the Federal District Court on the charge of having fraudulently identified Alfred Bondy as Harold Green, an American citizen, in order to obtain a passport to which he was not entitled. Bondy sailed for Europe in May, and in order to obtain American credentials said that he was born in Prague, but that he had come here when he was not one year old with his family, and as his father became naturalized in 1878 he was entitled to citizenship.

The names of Port Warden Lazarus and Congressman Michael J. Farley had been mentioned in connection with the case, but Assistant District Attorney Harold A. Content showed that Warden Lazarus had given a letter of introduction to Bondy as Green to the Congressman only on the solicitation of a young truckman called Max Stern. Abram S. Rose, counsel for Zelinka, fought to exclude Stern's testimony on the ground that he had served a term in Elmira Reformatory, but the court admitted it.

Congressman Farley wrote a letter to Secretary of State Bryan introducing Bondy as Green, but in that he stated explicitly that he had no personal knowledge of the man, and that he was merely basing his recommendation that a passport be issued on the assurances given to himself.

Stern also admitted that it was he who had introduced Zelinka to a clerk in the State Supreme Court, who had taken the application of Bondy in the name of Green. He protested that he had himself been deceived by Bondy, and that when Assistant Superintendent Joseph F. Baker of the Department of Justice began to make investigations into the matter Zelinka had sent him to Washington to see Secretary Bryan and explain what had occurred. As a matter of fact, Stern said, he did not see the Secretary or any of his political friends at the capital, but when he returned he told Zelinka it was all arranged.

Zelinka on his own behalf denied that he had ever schemed to defraud the State Department or that he had ever known that Green's real name was Bondy. Moreover, he denied that he had ever said to Stern that Bondy ought to pay him $1,000 for getting him the fraudulent passport.

The jury was still out when the court adjourned for the night. Judge Foster ordered a sealed verdict.

Fined for Letting Autos Smoke.

Seventeen persons were arraigned in the Tombs Court before Magistrate Cobb yesterday on charges of violating Section 211 of the Sanitary Code by leaving smoking automobiles standing in the street. Fifteen of them were fined a total of $75 and two received suspended sentences. All were arrested Tuesday in Fifth Avenue above Forty-second Street by Patrolmen acting under orders of Lieutenant Belton of the Health Squad.

Returns with Son from Berlin.

Princess Elizabeth Hatsfeldt Trackenberg, wife of the Secretary of the German Embassy, arrived yesterday from Copenhagen on the Scandinavian-American liner Frederik VIII. with her two-year-old son. The Princess went to Berlin three months ago to visit her boy, and decided to bring him back with her. She went to the Ritz-Carlton Hotel.

$23,260 Judgment to Cripple.

To Jackson McClellan, who was carried into the Supreme Court, Broklyn, a few days ago on a stretcher in his suit to recover $50,000 damages from Martin Livingston, a furniture dealer, a jury awarded a judgment of $23,260 yesterday before Justice Jaycox. McClellan is paralyzed. He asserts his injuries were the result of being run down by Livingston's automobile.

HIS EX-BOOKKEEPER ACCUSES FERGUSON

Mrs. Burns Says Lawyer Built Apartment with Dr. Hillis's Cash.

JUSTICE CRITICISES HER

Minister Declares in Affidavit Bonds Were Issued When He Didn't Agree.

That Frank L. Ferguson, former confidential business administrator of the affairs of Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis, pastor of Plymouth Church, in Brooklyn, took $27,000 from Dr. Hillis's bank account in 1911, and used the money in the construction of an apartment house in Jamaica, was the charge made in the affidavit submitted to Justice Kelly in the Supreme Court yesterday. The affidavit was sworn to by Mrs. Bessie H. Burns, formerly a bookkeeper in the employ of Mr. Ferguson, and was one of nine affidavits submitted by counsel for Dr. Hillis in an effort to show why the order compelling Mr. Ferguson to submit to an examination before the trial of a suit brought against him by Dr. Hillis for an accounting should not be vacated.

Mr. Ferguson was represented by R. W. Kellog, while Charles T. Lark and Nash Rockwood represented Dr. Hillis. The argument on the motion took up most of the afternoon session of the court. Justice Kelly announced that he would reserve decision. If Justice Kelly upholds the original order, compelling Mr. Ferguson to submit to an examination, the lawyers for Dr. Hillis will be able to question Ferguson under oath as to all the details of his handling of the minister's affairs during the five years that he acted as Dr. Hillis's business adviser. This, Dr. Hillis asserts, is necessary for the drafting of a complaint in his action.

In her affidavit Mrs. Burns said she left Ferguson's employ because she feared that she would become involved in charges against him because of his "loose handling" of Dr. Hillis's accounts and that she considered, from her viewpoint as Ferguson's bookkeeper, his handling of the accounts of Dr. Hillis was a "swindle." In a letter to Dr. Hillis which is part of her affidavit Mrs. Burns alleges that she has made her statement entirely because of her desire to see justice done, and then tells of the taking of the money from the account of Dr. Hillis to build the apartment house which was called the "Franklin." She said the money was taken while the house was in the course of construction. The letter concluded with the statement that "Mr. Ferguson's funds were then exhausted, and it was your money which paid for the building of the Franklin apartment house."

Justice Kelly listened while the affidavit was being read, and at its conclusion said:

"What has all this washing of dirty linen got to do with a motion of this kind to vacate an order for an examination before trial? The idea of this woman Bessie, whatever her name might be, assuming an attitude of righteous indignation and trying to make this man out a swindler does not recommend itself to me."

The eight other affidavits submitted by counsel for Dr. Hillis included one from the minister in which he characterizes the affidavit submitted last week by Mr. Ferguson as "scandalous, untrue," and containing "unwarranted and insinuating statements," one from Richard Hillis, a son of Dr. Hillis, that he had been unable to get a satisfactory statement of the affairs of his father from Mr. Ferguson, affidavits containing denials from Mrs. Hillis, her father, and brothers, that Ferguson had accounted in their presence for Dr. Hillis's affairs, a statement from Mr. Lark that Ferguson had distorted facts, and a statement from Mr. Hinrichs that Ferguson had parted with bonds owned by Dr. Hillis, which he held as security.

Dr. Hillis in his affidavit said:

"Frank L. Ferguson in his affidavit has introduced a number of scandalous, untrue, and unwarranted statements and insinuations, as I believe, for the sole purpose of hoping thereby to deter me from enforcing my just rights in the premises, by avoiding unpleasant and unnecessary public discussions thereof in the press. A number of my friends to whom Frank L. Ferguson has referred in his affidavit and has thus tried to drag into the controversy have offered to submit affidavits denying the allegations and insinuations therein contained, but I have declined to permit others to be drawn into the affair and am, therefore, submitting no affidavits of this character in reply."

The affidavit of Dr. Hillis, while largely a denial of the charges of Ferguson that he had rendered an accounting and had given both Dr. Hillis and his son, Richard D. Hillis, full access to all the books and papers dealing with his affairs, is marked by a recital of alleged new discoveries which he says he made regarding the disposition of Alberni Timber bonds belonging to him.

Dr. Hillis recounts that in August, 1913, he discovered that Ferguson had issued $100,000 in bonds of the Alberni Timber Company in his absence, and had had them made payable to Frank L. Ferguson personally. This act on Ferguson's part, Dr. Hillis contends, caused him to lose confidence in Ferguson, and he made a peremptory demand for a full accounting of all his property and at the same time commissioned his son to investigate Ferguson's administration. Dr. Hillis declares that on Feb. 20, 1915, he went to the office of Mr. Ferguson at 66 Orange Street and demanded the surrender of $10,000 worth of Alberni Timber bonds which he held for him. He declares that Ferguson told him that he gave them to his son, but he learned later that Ferguson had given $5,000 worth of the bonds at par value for a personal loan from the Bank of Long Island.

Dr. Hillis concludes with the statement:

"I have every reason to disbelieve the explanatory statement as made by Frank L. Ferguson, and that the true and correct facts in relation thereto may be had only through an examination of the personal check books of Ferguson as well as the check book which he used as attorney in transacting my business matters, and I confidently believe that such an examination will disclose the fact that he has taken may thousands of dollars for services alleged to have been rendered by him on my behalf."

In his deposition Mr. Lark said that in one instance a check for $2,000 given by Dr. Hillis to Ferguson as attorney was placed in Ferguson's personal bank instead of in his bank account as attorney for Dr. Hillis, and was later on paid out of Ferguson's personal account and charged against Dr. Hillis in Ferguson's account as cash advanced by him personally to Dr. Hillis.

"When he was confronted with the check showing this matter," declares Mr. Lark, "he naively described the omission as being a clerical error."

Mr. Ferguson later in the day made public an affidavit consisting of nineteen typewritten pages which he filed with the court. In this affidavit he goes over the charges made by Dr. Hillis in his answering affidavit, and makes a specific denial of each charge. The accusations made in the affidavits of Bessie H. Burns and the others are each taken in turn and all of them denied. In closing his affidavit, Mr. Ferguson says:

"All of the answering affidavits submitted on behalf of the plaintiff herein contain insinuations and misstatements of facts regarding me. The same are, however, contrary to the facts as they will be disclosed, and are made only for the purpose of clouding the issues and creating the erroneous impression that my administration of the plaintiff's affairs has not been businesslike and honorable."

CHINESE ATTACK MISSIONS.

Churches Burned and Native Christians Killed in Kansu Province.

PEKING, Sept. 29, (Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—Letters from Belgian priests telling of the burning of churches and the slaughter of Christians in Kansu have been received by the Belgian Legation in Peking and by Father Hoogers, who is in charge of the Belgian mission headquarters in Shanghai.

The uprising occurred at Hoei-hsien on Aug. 15. It was at first reported to have grown out of the movement to change the form of China's Government, but this probably is not true.

Chang Che-dsei led the riot, which was largely a demonstration against oppression on the part of officials who have levied excessive taxes. Two Christian churches were burned and five Chinese Christians were killed by the mob, which numbered 2,000 at the time the Belgian priests made their escape.

All the Christians and thousands of other natives fled into the hills from Hoei-hsien. Most of the property of Christians was destroyed. The military was unable to check the mob, which moved on toward the large city of Kingyangfu.

This riot is typical of uprisings occurring frequently in some of the interior provinces far from military centres. Szechuen Province, which adjoins Kansu Province, is one of the most turbulent sections of China. General Chen Yi, Governor of Szechuen, recently obtained $800,000 from the Central Government for the suppression of brigands.

NEW HAITIAN OUTBREAK.

American Marines Sent to Aid Garrison Attacked by Brigands.

CAPE HAITIEN, Haiti, Oct. 27.—The American naval forces are sending 350 men to Grand Rivière to reinforce the native garrison there, which has been attacked by Haitian brigands and the commander of which has been killed in a skirmish at Bahon, the terminus of the railway line, a short distance from Cape Haitien.

Fort Liberté, some twenty-five miles to the east of Cape Haitien, fired a cannon at the Americans. The commander of the fort later was seized and taken to Cape Haitien, where he was tried and condemned to serve a sentence at hard labor.

The situation in the immediate vicinity of Cape Haitien is quiet. Commercial affairs are active.

WHITE GUILTY OF BRIBERY.

Asked Battleship Clerk to Pass Short-Weight Meat Consignment.

Thomas J. White, manager of the Brooklyn Steamship and Hotel Supply Company at the Wallabout Market, was convicted yesterday of bribery by a Federal Jury before Judge Van Vechten Veeder in the United States District Court of Brooklyn. Walter G. Roach, Commissary Steward on the battleship Texas, was also indicted. Roach turned State's evidence at the trial, and his testimony convicted White.

On Jan. 9 Roach offered Joseph Ray, pay clerk of the Texas, then lying in the Navy Yard at Brooklyn, $200 to certify a short-weight consignment of meat to the ship from White's company. The clerk informed the Captain, who ordered him to pretend to accept the money. Assistant United States District Attorney Samuel J. Reid was present, and they trapped Roach, who implicated White. White was sent to the Raymond Street Jail to await sentence.

TYPHOON KILLED 170.

800 Were Injured and $1,000,000 in Property Lost in Luzon.

MANILA, Oct. 27.—The typhoon in southern Luzon killed at least 170 persons and injured nearly 800. Damage to property and to the hemp and rice crops is estimated at $1,000,000.

A heavy landslide involved part of the volcano of Mayon.

Change Red Cross Hospital Name.

An order was signed by Justice Erlanger of the Supreme Court yesterday permitting the Red Cross Hospital at 100th Street and Central Park West to change its name to the Park Hospital. Allen Wardwell, the President, who presented the petition, explained that the hospital was founded in 1894 as a branch of the National Red Cross under the authority of Clara Barton. In 1898 the entire staff of nurses and doctors of the hospital volunteered to go to Cuba to look after the sick and wounded in the Spanish-American war. To change its name would give the hospital a wider scope and permit it to accomplish more good. The hospital was first used as a training school for nurses.

4½% MONEY

THE standard rate to-day for mortgage loans in Manhattan and the Bronx is 5% to 5½%.

Once in a while we have a client with money to invest at 4½%.

If you have a choice loan in Manhattan that you want at this rate we shall be glad to consider your application.

TITLE GUARANTEE AND TRUST Co
Capital . . $ 5,000,000
Surplus (all earned) 11,000,000
176 B'way, N.Y. 175 Remsen St., B'klyn.
350 Fulton St., Jamaica.

Pathé Pathé

The Pathé Pathéphone Shop
Announces the Opening of Un Salon De Luxe
Where
The Pathéphone
the Great Invention of the Famous
PATHÉ FRÈRES
Will Be on Exhibition

We cordially invite you to see and hear this Perfect Phonograph, whose many new features make it supreme in SOUND REPRODUCTION and which plays all makes of Disc Records perfectly.

Your present instrument can be equipped to play PATHÉ RECORDS.

DAILY RECITALS
From 12 to 5 P. M.

487 Fifth Avenue Four Doors South of 42d Street

W. L. DOUGLAS

$3.00 $3.50 $4.00 $4.50 & $5.00 SHOES

YOU CAN SAVE MONEY BY WEARING W. L. DOUGLAS SHOES VALUE GUARANTEED

FOR MEN AND WOMEN

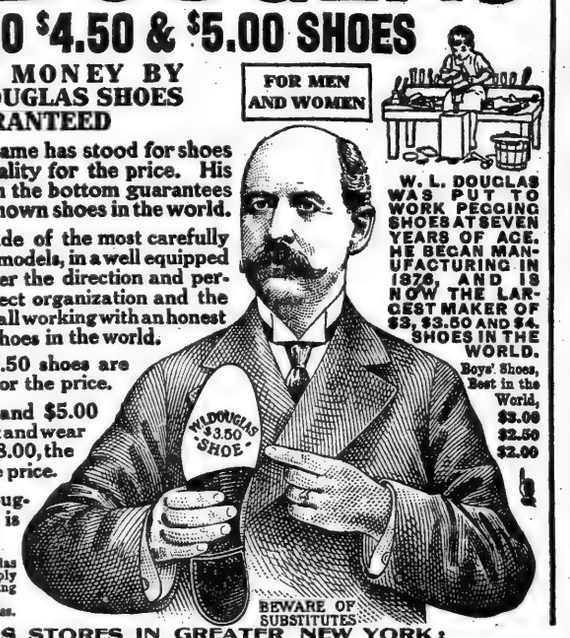
For 32 years W. L. Douglas name has stood for shoes of the highest standard of quality for the price. His name and the price stamped on the bottom guarantees full value. They are the best known shoes in the world.

W. L. Douglas shoes are made of the most carefully selected leathers, after the latest models, in a well equipped factory at Brockton, Mass., under the direction and personal inspection of a most perfect organization and the highest paid skilled shoemakers; all working with an honest determination to make the best shoes in the world.

W. L. Douglas $3.00 and $3.50 shoes are the best that can be produced for the price.

W. L. Douglas $4.00, $4.50 and $5.00 shoes are just as good for style, fit and wear as other makes costing $6.00 to $8.00, the only perceptible difference is the price.

None genuine unless W. L. Douglas name and the retail price is stamped on the bottom.



If you do not live near one of W. L. Douglas retail stores, and your local dealer cannot supply you, write for Illustrated Catalog showing how to order by mail. W. L. DOUGLAS, 160 Spark Street, Brockton, Mass.

W. L. DOUGLAS STORES IN GREATER NEW YORK:

93 Nassau Street.
755 Broadway, cor. 8th St.
847 Broadway, near 14th St.
*1352 Broadway, cor. 36th Street.
1495 Broadway (Times Square).
*984 Third Avenue.
*1432 Third Avenue.
*2202 Third Av., cor. 120th Street
*2779 Third Av., bet. 146th & 147th Sts.
347 Eighth Avenue.
*250 West 125th Street.
JERSEY CITY—18 Newark Ave.
*UNION HILL—276 Bergenline Av.
*NEWARK—831 Broad Street.
*PATERSON—192 Market Street.
*TRENTON—101 E. State St. cor. Broad
BROOKLYN
*421 Fulton Street, cor. Pearl.
708-710 Broadway, cor. Thornton.
1367 Broadway, cor. Gates Avenue.
*478 Fifth Avenue, cor. 11th Street.
*859 Manhattan Avenue.
1779 Pitkin Avenue.

*Stores marked with a * carry complete lines of W. L. Douglas $3.00, $4.00 and $4.50 shoes for Women*

Ask your newsdealer today for a copy of the

MID-WEEK PICTORIAL
of The New York Times

With every copy will be given saparately a splendid rotogravure reproduction of Simont's famous painting,

"THE ENEMY"

12½x20 inches, on heavy paper, suitable for framing. Love and hate, success and failure, freedom and captivity are all portrayed in moving manner.

Drawings and Photographs

Warfare in the Warrens.—To the average man this picture, showing the extent of the trenches on the western front, and the vast amount of detail involved in their construction, will be a revelation.

Tricks of Austrians and Russians.—Very few pictures have ever been published which show more clearly the means employed to hide from the enemy the presence of hostile troops.

Scenes in Mesopotamia.—Where the British are battling for Bagdad.

Listening for Zeppelins.—How the French get warning of air raids and many other pictures make up a splendid number.

Reading Matter

The Mid-Week Pictorial with this issue inaugurates a new policy. In the past this magazine has been devoted to pictures. Henceforth it will contain, in addition, several pages of text. This week

Dr. David Starr Jordan writes on the "Armament Problem in the United States."

Dr. Joseph H. Odell, in "Has the Great War Wrecked Christianity?" treats of the effect of the war on the Church, and Tien-tsin, the port of Peking, is described in an illustrated article showing how detachments from the armies of all the warring nations unite to keep the peace of China.

Humor and Cartoons

Another innovation is the page devoted to the humorous side of affairs of the warring nations. This does not supersede the page of cartoons which has received so much favorable comment in the past.

For this page the choicest bits of foreign wit and humor are selected by the editors of Mid-Week Pictorial.

A page of cartoons, the best that appear in the European periodicals, is another feature that is worthy of careful perusal.

10c a Copy $5.00 a Year

MID-WEEK PICTORIAL
of The New York Times

Times Square, New York

ON ALL NEWS STANDS

The New York Times

"All the News That's Fit to Print."

PUBLISHED EVERY DAY IN THE YEAR BY THE NEW YORK TIMES COMPANY.

ADOLPH S. OCHS, Publisher and President. B. C. Franck, Secretary.

Address: THE NEW YORK TIMES.

Publication Office.....Times Square
Times Annex...43d St., west of Broadway
Downtown.....7 Beekman Street
Wall Street.....2 Rector Street
Harlem.....368 West 125th Street
Bronx.....2,900 Third Avenue
Brooklyn....Room 605, 367 Fulton Street
Staten Island..93 Stuyv. Pl., N. Brighton
Queens...317 Fulton Street, Jamaica, L. I.
Jersey City.....582 Jersey Avenue
Hoboken.....61 Second Street
Paterson.....1 Park Avenue
Elizabeth.....59 Broad Street
WASHINGTON.....Riggs Building
PHILADELPHIA.....Public Ledger Building
CHICAGO.....1,202 Tribune Building
BOSTON.....7 Water Street, Room 316
ST. LOUIS.....400 Globe-Democrat Building
DETROIT.....630 Ford Building
SAN FRANCISCO.....742 Market Street
LONDON.....Marconi House, Strand, W. C.
PARIS.....32 Rue Louis le Grand
ONE CENT New York, Jersey City, Newark. Elsewhere Two Cents. Five Cents Sunday.

Subscription Rates:

Postage free in United States, Canada, Mexico, Panama, Canal Zone, Cuba, Porto Rico, Hawaii, Philippines, Guam, Samoa, Shanghai.

	1 Yr.	1 Mo.
DAILY AND SUNDAY	$8.50	$0.75
DAILY, without Sunday	6.00	.50
SUNDAY, with Picture and Magazine Sections and Review of Books	2.50	.25
Binder for Picture Section, $1.75. Binder for Magazine Section and Review of Books, $1.25.
Canada, Sunday only	5.50	.45
Other countries, postpaid:
Daily and Sunday	24.00	2.00
Daily, without Sunday	15.60	1.30
Sunday only	8.40	.70

THE ANNALIST, (Mondays,) per year, $4; Canada, $4.50; other countries, $5. Binder for 26 issues, (one vol.,) $1.25.

THE NEW YORK TIMES BOOK REVIEW, (Weekly,) per year, $1; Canada, $1.50; other countries, $2.

THE NEW YORK TIMES MID-WEEK PICTORIAL, (Thursdays,) three months, $1.25; six months, $2.50; one year, $5. Canada, $6; other countries, $6.50. Binder for 52 issues, $1.25. Bound volumes, ten numbers, Cloth, $1.

THE NEW YORK TIMES CURRENT HISTORY, Illustrated Monthly Magazine, three months, 75c.; six months, $1.50; one year, $2. Per copy, 25c. Bound volumes, six monthly issues, Cloth, $2.

THE NEW YORK TIMES INDEX, Quarterly—Full Cloth, per copy, $2; per year, $8. Entered as second-class mail matter.

NEW YORK, THURSDAY, OCT. 28, 1915.

EXPORTS AND EXCHANGE.

For the past week sterling exchange has fallen an average of a cent a day from a level so abnormal that it is a serious hindrance to trade which needs to be done on this side the ocean as well as the other. The incident is all the more significant because the half billion Anglo-French loan is still undistributed. An issue of bonds for war supplies is somewhat like a city's issue of bonds for fireworks, or the State's issue of bonds for roads worn out before the maturity of the bonds. There is the excuse of necessity for Governments with huge deficits. There is then the alternative of commercial credit.

True, there is some difficulty about commercial credits for property to be destroyed as soon as the buyers can manage it. But such paper is not ordinary commercial paper. It is Government paper, and as self-liquidating as the taxing power can make it. It is a sort of commercial paper which is as superior as unusual, and ranks above the best bankers' paper. For example, the Bank of England is now buying American securities to send to this country as a credit against the debits which are depressing the exchange market. The Empire is behind the Bank, and the bank here which would not take such paper for three months or six, or which would not accept paper drawn on such an acceptor, is showing inappreciation of the opportunity for banking profits. The course our money market is taking in demanding gold is as short-sighted. Here is the occasion to use the tool which the Federal Reserve system has placed in our hands. It is lying idle at the threshold of the greatest opportunity which ever will happen.

This is not a time to think in half billions. Sterling exchange is not a matter of English trade. England is financing all the Allies, and has an adverse balance of $3,000,000,000, toward which goes her half of the half billion borrowed here. That is makeshift, and unless big measures are adopted there will be financial disorder of greater importance to us than the money market between New York and London. If the British market is not placed in command of sterling exchange our trade will be checked, with other events in the background which it is unwelcome to consider. London's application to this market for help is abdication from control of the world's money market in our favor. The title is of no consequence unless we are prepared to wield the sceptre as well as to hold it. For us to allow the collapse of sterling exchange would be worse than a blunder. It would be a crime comparable to a deliberate refusal of London to help us in our crises. London never made such a confession of incapacity. Our equality to the emergency remains to be seen.

So far as we are concerned we would help London less than ourselves by protecting our trade against the collapse of sterling. It is not a matter of helping the Allies' campaign. It is a matter of enabling a customer of the highest credit and unequaled resources to buy what we must sell or be distressed ourselves. Our exports for the week reported on Tuesday were $98,777,000, surpassing the largest previous record by $25,000,000. Our excess of exports up to and including the last reported month, September, was double that of any previous year. For nine months the excess of exports of goods has been $1,228,318,609, and the imports of gold $252,902,608. We are indeed in a new era. Old statistics are of no use as a standard, and new figures have unsuspected meanings. We have been so accustomed to taking "invisible" debits into consideration in connection with our foreign trade that it is difficult to consider an invisible credit of proportions worthy the swollen totals above. An Anglo-French loan of a half billion can hardly be called "invisible," but it is so in connection with the above figures, which include no part of foreign loans of some $800,000,000. The invisible debit in the case is our imports of some hundreds of millions of securities, paying for them with exports of goods. The alternative to the granting of commercial credits is to invite the depression of our security market by sales to get a credit here. Both sides of the account need to be revised by amounts for which there is no authority, but which certainly run into hundreds of millions of both exports and imports before the true balance can be discovered. The sure proof of it is the depression of exchange, an incident which is ominous unless corrected with our assistance in the way of commercial credits, but of the best augury if we rise to the opportunity.

AMERICAN DEFENSE AND AMERICAN UNITY.

MR. WILSON will make at the Manhattan Club on Nov. 4 a speech on "American Defense and American Unity." The title promises matter of vital moment to all Americans. The two subjects are of keen immediate interest. The United States, taught by the war in Europe to realize the ineluctable necessity and duty of putting itself in a state of adequate self-defense and preparedness, is stirred by a wide, general, and deep resolve to provide that preparedness and self-defense. Devoted to peace, valuing it all the more in the midst of the long sufferings and terrors of Europe, America has learned the disastrous cost of military impotence. If attack from without is ever to come, and the new place of the United States in the affairs of the world will not lessen the possibilities of attack, Americans want to be ready.

So much for possible exterior foes. Of alien foes in this country, seeking to injure its prosperity and violate its neutrality, every day's newspaper brings news. More regrettable, more difficult to deal with, more dangerous, are those aliens in spirit who, technically American citizens, are steadily loyal to another nation, disloyal to their own. Their domestic politics rests on their sympathies and antipathies abroad.

To these men, more noisy, perhaps, than numerous, Mr. WILSON has already addressed a needed reproof. In speaking on "American Unity" he can hardly fail to repeat and strengthen the admonition. A prepared nation, a united nation, American Americans all! Dual nationality must end.

SOME CRITICISMS OF THE NEW CONSTITUTION.

The objections which Mr. GEORGE W. PERKINS presents against the adoption of the proposed Constitution are based chiefly, it appears, on Mr. PERKINS's unwillingness to put his faith in men. If we could choose all our public servants from the heavenly choir we could get along very well under any Constitution or under none. The best and wisest law, organic or statute, must for its working depend very much upon men. We see no reason, therefore, why a Conservation Commission of nine members, one for each judicial district, may not be expected to discharge its duties not only with full knowledge of local conditions, but wisely and impartially for the general good. The overlapping terms of the Commissioners will stand in the way of any attempts to "pack" it for political ends, and the Superintendent and all the employés will be subject to the civil service rules.

Mr. PERKINS objects to the prohibition upon the sale of dead trees and timber removed for fire protection or reforestation. But this provision appears to be a safeguard against designing lumber interests. The convention defeated many proposals in the interest of the lumber and water power men.

As Chairman of the Mayor's Food Supply Committee Mr. PERKINS acquired a good deal of information. Out of the fullness of that knowledge he arraigns the convention for taking away from the Legislature the power to create new departments, particularly "a great, all-powerful Department of Markets." But a Bureau of Markets may at any time be created, and if it be administered by competent men the fact that it is only a part of some department, not independent and "all-powerful," would surely not hamper it in good works. Mr. PERKINS thinks it is a "serious objection" that the commission will not have powers of regulation and control over "migratory fish of the sea." It happens that an existing law of the State imposes that restriction; also that authority over migratory fish of the sea within the marine district is vested in the United States Government.

Mr. PERKINS would have the short ballot made shorter. So would we. But the gain is measurable, distinct, important. It is worth accepting. He protests that inasmuch as every other year the budget will be made up by department heads who will go out of office with the Governor there will be a fine opportunity to "play politics" at the expense of the incoming administration. The remedy for that is to choose Governors and department heads for life. There is no other, since the budget for each year must be made up in the preceding year, and Governors serve but two years.

Against the judgment of the experienced and able members of the bar who, as members of the convention, strove to amend the judiciary article in such a way as to assure the prompt and impartial administration of justice, Mr. PERKINS puts his own lay judgment that the revised article "puts the judiciary of "the State more into practical politics than it has ever been before." Does he believe that the Committee on Judiciary really did that, either by intent or by inadvertence? The power to appoint Supreme Court Commissioners was given to the Judges because they are in a position to know the need for the service and the men best fitted to perform it.

The voters, we think, will not agree with Mr. PERKINS in his insistence that the Constitution should have been submitted section by section separately, to the end that some might have been accepted and others rejected. Separate submission is provided for the most controversial sections. We feel sure that the voters will be grateful that the whole instrument was not parceled out in that way. Experience in this State shows that, whatever the truth ought to be, the truth is that amendments of the Constitution, even when separately submitted, are not studied with minute attention. The convention was representative of the best citizenship of the State. It labored in good faith to prepare a sound, workable Constitution. Selfish interests, like the office-holding, salary-receiving class, and the labor agitators have organized for its rejection. Some politicians oppose it for political reasons. Some men of candor and intelligence like Mr. PERKINS oppose it because in some of its provisions it does not meet their preconceived views. But we believe that the convention had the confidence of the people. We believe the revision is worthy of their adoption.

MR. BEVERIDGE AND WASHINGTON

The Directors of the San Francisco Exposition invited Mr. ALBERT J. BEVERIDGE of Indianapolis to be the orator for "George Washington Day," which is to be observed on Nov. 15. "A very great compliment," as The Indianapolis Star says, to a man who "has been out of public life for years." All Indiana will agree with The Star that "his historical research, eminent literary accomplishments, and oratorical power admirably fit him for such a service. "It is to be regretted that he could "not find the time to accept the "responsibility."

The regret will be shared by all the lovers of poetry and rhetoric, and by the innumerable amateurs of Hoosier literature. Is it considering too curiously to wonder if lack of time was the real reason that deprived the Golden Gate of that golden voice? On most themes known to the cyclopaedia Mr. BEVERIDGE can speak with ease, with charm, with passion. As an orator on GEORGE WASHINGTON would he not be a curious infelicity? With all respect to Mr. BEVERIDGE's talents, could he be just to a man so antipathetic to his temperament and habit, a man whose unlikeness to exuberant statesmen was memorably recorded by Professor A. WARD of Baldwinsville?

QUESTION NO. 2.

When the voter goes to the polling place next Tuesday he will receive two ballots in addition to the regular ballot for candidates for office. One will be a ballot enabling him to vote for or against the proposed Constitution, and the other will be a ballot on three "propositions" submitted to the people by the last Legislature, two of which are constitutional amendments not covered by the work of the Constitutional Convention.

The ballot on the Constitution is divided into three questions. Question No. 1 merely asks the voter if he approves of the proposed Constitution. Two articles of the Constitution, however, are excepted from this question and are to be voted upon separately. This was done because the convention feared that these two articles would arouse such opposition that if they were included in Question No. 1 the whole Constitution might go down. Therefore any one who disapproves of them may vote against them and yet vote for the rest of the Constitution, by voting "Yes" on Question No. 1 and "No" on Questions Nos. 2 and 3.

Question No. 2 reads: "Shall the "proposed amendments submitted by "the Constitutional Convention to Sections 2, 3, 4, and 5 of Article III. "relating to legislative apportionment "be approved?" It is hard to see why there should be so much opposition to this as to make it necessary to have a separate vote, for it leaves the existing Constitution very much as it was, and what slight changes it makes are improvements. The grievance in this city over the apportionment question is that under the existing Constitution New York City can never have more than half of the State Senate, no matter how much its population may exceed that of up-State. The proposed Constitution makes no change in this arrangement, so that the city will be neither better nor worse off than it now is.

The only change of importance made is to substitute the Federal census for the State census as a basis of apportionment. It eliminates the State enumeration, which costs about half a million dollars every ten years. The Federal census is taken anyway and costs the State nothing. The other amendments are merely routine ones, making the law conform to present day conditions. There is no reason why even the most strenuous home ruler should find anything objectionable in Question No. 2. If he votes against it because it does not give this city better representation he will merely continue in force the provision of the existing Constitution, which is to exactly the same effect.

ANOTHER COTTON CONSPIRACY.

There's always something the matter with cotton, and the Federal Trade Commission would seem to be the very body to find out what is "unfair" about the price which is paid for it to producers. Accordingly it is welcome news that the planters have appealed to the Commission to discover and denounce the conspiracy whereby one-half cent a pound more is offered in one place than in another twenty miles away. The territory is said to be apportioned among buyers so that they do not bid against one another, and producers must take what is offered. The complaint is that there is no "live market."

Presumably what is wanted is that every buyer should bid higher than any other, instead of some bidding below others. It is altogether too simple a remedy that producers should take the higher price which they say is offered so near them. If there is any reason why they do not, perhaps it also is a reason for the mysterious difference in price which is made a grievance. If all the cotton took the higher price it is clear that there would be no lower price, and so no grievance.

The eternal mystery about the price of cotton is a proper subject for the Commission.

CHARLTON'S CASE AND OTHERS.

Whenever we grow impatient and contemptuous about the American practice of turning murderers loose or giving them light sentences, something like the Charlton case comes up to restore our self-esteem and show that it isn't an exclusively American practice after all. The forms, the court procedure, the rules of evidence, differ widely in different countries, but the result is pretty much the same. From the Ural Mountains west to the Golden Gate, with a few exceptions, there has been an unconscious change in the attitude toward crimes of passion. In the eye of the law in every country murder is the same, whether it is committed for gain or in blind rage, but the law has been set aside by public sentiment.

Short-sighted cynics dispose of it by saying that there is one law for the rich and another for the poor. That does not cover the case. CHARLTON was not rich, and many another murderer in this country or Europe who has gone free or been lightly sentenced had no money. Juries everywhere are reluctant to inflict the extreme penalty upon a man who was never a criminal, except in one mad moment, and whose upbringing has been gentle and whose character and appearance inspire confidence or sympathy. This is true whether he has money or not. The men who go to the gallows, the chair, or the guillotine are mostly professional criminals or men who come under the English designation of "bad lot" or the French "mauvais sujet." We may like this or not, but it is the result of a general change in the tone of feeling that began to come about when cock-fighting and bear-baiting died out. Admirable or abhorrent, it is the result of a softer civilization.

In Great Britain men suffer the punishment of murder whether they are habitual criminals or the criminals of a moment. A British jury looks only at the crime, not at the defendant. But if a French jury acquits a murderer after spectacular courtroom scenes we talk of it as typically French; if an American jury acquits one after days of solemn testimony from alienists, we call it typically American; if a Russian jury acquits one after a welter of sloppy Russian psychology, we call it typically Russian; and the result is the same. America's way is the least edifying of all. We reach a predestined and unescapable result after weeks of useless and farcical testimony, and then draw the case out through appellate courts for perhaps years, only to turn loose our murderers and murderesses as it was ordained from the beginning. The Italian method, even the French method, has merits we might copy, since all of us reach the same conclusion. Both these methods are less expensive and less ridiculous, and even the French method is less repellent.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES.

A Report Only, and Not Exciting.

A dispatch that came from Berlin by way of London last Sunday night announced the arrival in the German capital of Dr. CONSTANTIN DUMBA, the erstwhile Austro-Hungarian Ambassador to this country. It also quoted an important Berlin paper, the Vossische Zeitung, as saying: "We learn from a usually well-informed source that Emperor FRANCIS JOSEPH has ennobled Ambassador DUMBA."

In considering this piece of news—and the printing of it in the paper mentioned made it news—several circumstances must be taken into account. That it passed through London will excite the suspicion of some, but there is no reason and hardly any excuse for suspecting that the British censor did to this particular piece of news anything except to read and pass it, for not even the severest of his critics have accused him of exercising, in the performance of what he thinks his duty, any inventive powers that he may possess. But from "a usually well-informed source" is by the characterization itself admitted to be fallible, and the probability is obvious that even if the Austrian Emperor intended to give his maladroit representative a precious particle to put in front of his name as consolation for painful experiences here, he would not do it until the accelerated voyager reached Vienna.

Be that as it may, the report is not yet official, and, while it remains a mere rumor, it need not be made the subject of excited comment. As a matter of fact, nobody here has been appreciably stirred by the story or is likely to be, even if it turns out to be true. One of the London papers gravely discusses the probability that Americans will feel "insulted" at the honoring of a man whose conduct caused our formal demand for his recall, but that was presumably done as a "suggestion." Any honoring of Dr. DUMBA by his Emperor would of course be an assumption of responsibility for his work here and an implied commendation of it, but the chances are that we wouldn't much mind.

There was and is more inclination here to laugh at Dr. DUMBA than to hate him. 'Let him have his "von" if he wants and can get it. The bestowal would be only another illustration of Teutonic tactfulness in the preservation of international amenities.

War News True and False.

A dispatch like that relating to the ennobling of DR. DUMBA, like a good many others that are coming from Europe nowadays, should be read with an intelligent appreciation of the influences to which all of them, to a greater or less degree, are subjected before they reach us. The frequently made assertion that, because each of the several belligerent Governments maintains a careful censorship over the news prepared for both home and foreign consumption, therefore none of it can be believed or trusted, is right in a way, but in a much more important way it is wrong.

The censors have only one power—that of suppressing for a while information of the sort considered by them injurious to the interests they serve. The delay which they can effect, however, is usually short, for they work against each other, each helping into wide publicity what his enemy would suppress, and this fact has resulted, for the United States, at least, in a fairly prompt and more than fairly accurate chronicling in the newspapers of every important war happening.

Not all of the dispatches are true, and many of them are "colored," but the erroneous impressions thus created are removed, by later dispatches, almost as soon as they are formed, while the mental remainder, left after the unintentional mistakes have been corrected and the intentional deceptions have been eliminated, constitutes a safe basis of judgment.

Properly read, the war news is trustworthy. Some of it, and by far the greater part, cannot be, and is not, doubted by anybody. The rest is taken by sensible readers as it is intended to be taken—for what it is worth, coming whence and as it does.

By this time few newspaper readers of ordinary sophistication can have failed to learn the difference between authentic reports and flying rumors, between the interested and the disinterested narratives, between falsehood and veracity. Rarely is the discrimination difficult, and almost never are the occasions for a suspension of judgment undiscoverable by those who are honestly looking for them.

Why Must Spies be Shot?

If the shooting of spies were not a military custom so old that military authorities nowhere think of questioning its propriety, at least a few of them might in these days be moved to wonder whether it was worth while to keep up the cruel practice.

It began, of course, in the remote times when it had the justification that there was practically nothing to do with an enemy possessing dangerous information except to kill him and so prevent its use. Wandering tribes when at war had nowhere to put prisoners of this or any other kind, and the captured spy was put out of the way as a matter of course.

This severity never has had the slightest effect as a deterrent of espionage; it can hardly be called punitive, as in every army the spy's perilous work is held honorable and even heroic, and the idea of reformation does not enter. As the slaying of spies is not enforced by modern conditions and facilities for safe confinement, and as it is still, as ever, quite useless as a protective measure against more spying, it does seem that these particularly cold-blooded butcherings of men and women for performing what everybody recognizes to be a patriotic duty, with no element of "moral turpitude" in it, might stop.

England's few executions of spies seem even worse than the wholesale slaughters that are reported from unfortunate Belgium. In the one case ruthless militarism is expected, and in the other there has been at least a hope for gentler behavior.

A Barber's Socialness.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Woe the Hotel De Gink! Why not have a few more Hotels De Gink next Winter and make the City of New York a menace to the already hungry and despondent New Yorkers? Why not allow the self-styled King of Hobos to continue his self-advertising schemes? Why not support his good work in manufacturing Vagabonds? Last Winter he asserted that he and his hobos would not accept any charity nor harbor any scabs in the Hotel De Gink.

Well ask me about it. I had the pleasure of being one of his assistants and therefore I consider myself an authority in the Hotel De Gink business. I arrived in New York City, my home town, December 27th, 1914, after a sociologistic and practical way of four and a half years all over our country's missions, bread-lines, and cheap lodging houses. I noticed in the newspapers that Jefferson Davis was playing one of his games with the New Yorkers as easy-marks. One afternoon I was introduced to Jeff. Davis and right there and then I made up my mind to learn his game by becoming the barber of the Hotel De Gink. When I write this article I do not mean to help the City Government in any way, all I want is to wake up some of the people. JAMES PRESTO.

New York, Oct. 23, 1915.

New Verbs for New Actions.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

New words are constantly springing into our language as a result of modern inventions. Not so very long ago wireless telegraphy introduced us to the amazing verb, "to wireless," meaning to send a message by wireless telegraphy. Now that wireless telephony is an accomplished fact, this novel verb fortunately becomes ambiguous, and we seem to lack brief names which will make clear the distinction between the sending of a written message by wireless and the sending of the voice.

In this situation permit me to suggest that "aerophone" might be appropriate as applied to a vocal wireless message, and that also "aerograph" and "aerogram" might even yet, though starting late in the race, overtake the awkward "wireless." Their brevity and very obvious meanings—suggested by analogy from telephone, telegraph, and telegram—should entitle them at least to a respectful hearing.

HARRY FRANKLIN COVINGTON.

Princeton, N. J., Oct. 23, 1915.

FOR THE CONSTITUTION.

The Salient Points of Advantage Emphasized by Mr. Choate.

Naumkeag, Stockbridge, Mass., Oct. 26, 1915.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

I hope that every citizen who has the good of the State of New York at heart will vote for the new Constitution, which I regard as a great improvement and advance upon that under which we are now living.

It gives home rule in a large measure to cities.

It puts responsibility for the conduct of the different branches of the State Government into the hands of the Governor and within reach of the people.

By the abolition of sinking funds and the substitution therefor of serial bonds it will save us many millions of dollars.

It requires the prompt publication of debates in the Legislature, and so will inform the people of what is going on there, which it has hitherto been very difficult to discover.

It improves legislative procedure in many other ways; and most important of all, it simplifies court procedure, and makes it more possible than ever before for the poor man to get justice.

Its provision for a shorter ballot will greatly reduce the power of the bosses, and by providing for the equalization of taxation it will, to a large extent, relieve the unjust burden under which the City of New York is now laboring.

The new Constitution is nonpartisan, and if adopted will tend to raise the whole tone of our public life.

I hope for the adoption of the Constitution by an emphatic majority.

JOSEPH H. CHOATE.

Mrs. Catt's Public Protest.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

In your columns today appears a letter from the Chairman of the Man-Suffrage Association, in which he asserts that I do not deny holding the sentiment imputed to me in the leaflet that his association has withdrawn from circulation. May I encroach on the hospitality of your columns long enough to quote as follows from my first protest to Mr. Wheeler about his leaflet:

The leaflet says: "Woman suffrage should be repudiated because of the type and attitude of the leaders it has drawn to its cause," and then goes on to say, after naming me with others as "accepted leaders," "All are opposed to the doctrine that the family is the unit of society and the State." The inference from that statement, when taken in conjunction with the context of the rest of the leaflet, is that I hold immoral views and am an enemy to home and family. I am not. The association's statement in regard to me is false.

That it is false the association could very easily have learned if it had made any effort to investigate the facts, for my entire life as a daughter and a wife has been under the observation of a wide circle who know me and my views thoroughly.

The action of your association in delaying reply and in persistently circulating this libelous leaflet, cunningly designed to mislead, with its implication therein that the millions of women who have or desire the vote wish to lead "loose" lives, is rankly dishonorable and the exact opposite of that chivalry of men to women on which you anti-suffragists claim women can rely for justice.

Could I more emphatically deny holding the sentiments that are imputed to me in the leaflet that was withdrawn from circulation? At the risk of burdensome repetition I again say that when Mr. Wheeler imputes to me opposition to the doctrine that the family is the unit of society and the State, when that expression is used in its ordinary acceptation, he makes the imputation over my public protest.

CARRIE CHAPMAN CATT.

New York, Oct. 27, 1915.

Another Recruiting Idea.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

The bearing of a comparatively large percentage of the male population of Great Britain toward the holding of Governmental positions has often impressed me. So many of them value moderately salaried positions with their surety of pensions in old age. This no doubt in part accounts for the large numbers of Irish descent among our policemen, firemen, clerks, and politicians. They lean strongly toward what is sure and settled in life, even though the work may be monotonous and the compensation meagre.

My idea is to obtain a similar enticement toward army enlistment. It is very large and probably very Utopian. Most of us want a large army for defense, provided we are not unduly inconvenienced on account of it, either by taxation or service. Therefore, after intensive national education toward the end in view, let the Government put through immense irrigation schemes where practicable in arid lands of the West and colonize them completely with young men and their wives, every man a soldier, and the land always restricted to be soldiers' homes.

I believe recruits would not be lacking with the United States Government controlling the irrigation, the United States Treasury, as a loan association, behind all home-building operations, and each soldier's knowledge that, in event of his demise at the front, his wife and children would be sure of a good home and property or its equivalent. Each man would be in part an independent truck farmer, aided by the Department of Agriculture in crop or fruit raising and marketing. L. H. SLATER.

Yonkers, N. Y., Oct. 25, 1915.

The Movies Defended.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

In regard to the discussion in your paper about the filming of war scenes and crimes in motion pictures, I notice that your correspondents have no objection to the use of the same in the world's greatest operas, plays, or books, nor have they a kind word to say for the really meritorious productions that have artistic and educational value. Considering the fact that the film business is only a few years old, and during that brief time has risen to be the fifth industry of the country, it is extremely flattering that so little fault has been found. While it is true that the movie has been blamed for everything, yet the fact that such artists as Geraldine Farrar, Robert Mantell, Sarah Bernhardt, William Faversham, Mrs. Fiske, and a host of others have found pride in expressing their art for the screen (which is reflected in the pleasure of about a million patrons in Greater New York alone) makes an adverse criticism, that once in a great while will find its way into public print, seem mediocre.

WILLIAM BRANDT.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Oct. 23, 1915.

A Word for Home Industries.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

The case wherein a picture collector is reported to be suing a dealer for the return of the money paid for a painting by Romney is of intense interest to the American public at large. Why do not these rich collectors buy works by living painters, preferably by those resident in these United States, about which there can be no possible shadow of doubt? I am convinced that any one buying good modern work at the present time has a sound investment for his money. A hundred years ago people bought modern work at reasonable prices, and these are the pictures for which our wealthy citizens now pay more for a simple example than the painter received for his whole life's output.

A hundred thousand dollars, the price of a possibly doubtful "masterpiece," invested with care in modern paintings of the right sort, apart from the pleasure of possession they would give their owner, would be as safe and sound as any industrial security now on the market.

SCOTSON CLARK.

New York, Oct. 22, 1915.

THE LIGHT THAT MAY GO OUT IN TURKEY.

What the Armenians Have Done to Sustain Christianity and Western Civilization in the Household of the Prophet.

By ARSHAG MAHDESIAN,
Armenian Editor and Publicist.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Zia Mufty-Zadé, the eminent apologist of the Turkish atrocities, in his rambling extenuation and justification of the criminal conduct of the Ottoman Government, asks: "Where is Armenia?"

He thinks that as Armenia is divided between three powers—Russia, Persia, and Turkey—she no longer exists. But Poland also is divided between three powers. Do we ask: "Where is Poland?"

The provinces of Aleppo Adana, Trebizonde, Erzeroum, Van, Bitlis, Diarbekir, Mamouret-ul-Aziz, and Sivas, inhabited by the Armenians, constitute Armenia in Turkey. The Turkish Government itself acknowledged officially the existence of Armenia during the Russo-Turkish war. When the Turkish armies were destroyed the Sultan and his advisers realized that the victor, Russia, might demand the annexation of the provinces of Erzeroum, Diarbekir, and Sivas. Therefore, they urged the Armenians to demand for the provinces inhabited by them political autonomy under Ottoman suzerainty. The arrival of the British squadron before Constantinople, however, encouraged Turkey to change her mind, and in the course of the peace negotiations at San Stefano she refused to accept the text proposed by the Russian plenipotentiaries in behalf of Armenian administrative autonomy. Finally the phrase "administrative autonomy" of Article XVI. of the treaty of San Stefano was replaced by that of "reforms and ameliorations" which Russia would guarantee by occupying Turkish territory. At the Congress of Berlin, through the efforts of Great Britain, the clause concerning Russian occupation was eliminated and thus Article LXI. of the treaty of Berlin was substituted for Article XVI. of the treaty of San Stefano. The diplomatic negotiations embodied in Article XVI. of the treaty of San Stefano and in Article LXI. of the treaty of Berlin are an irrefutable acknowledgment of the existence of Armenia in the Turkish Empire.

Moreover, the existence of a nation is indicated not alone by its political independence, but by its civilizing activities. The whole population of the Turkish Empire is estimated at 32,000,000, of whom only 1,100,000 are Armenians. Yet the Armenians have 785 educational institutions, with more than 82,000 students, whereas the Turks can scarcely boast of 150 schools, with only 17,000 students.

To give an idea of the economic power of the Armenians in the Turkish Empire, Marcel Leart records the fact that of 166 importers in Sivas, which has the smallest Armenian population of the six Armenian provinces, 141 are Armenians, 13 Turks, and 12 Greeks.

Of 150 exporters, 127 are Armenians and 23 Turks.

Of 37 bankers and capitalists, 32 are Armenians and only 5 Turks.

Of 9,800 shopkeepers and artisans, 6,800 are Armenians and only 2,550 Turks, the rest being divided among various other nationalities.

The same is true of native industry. Of 153 factories and flour mills, 130 belong to Armenians, 20 to Turks, and 3, carpet concerns, to foreign or mixed companies. The personnel of all these establishments is Armenian exclusively. The number of employes is about 17,000, of whom 14,000 are Armenians, 3,500 Turks, and 200 Greeks and others.

The Turks belong to the Turanian race of Central Asia. With their appearance in Syria, Mesopotamia, Byzantium, Arabia, Egypt, Armenia, and Greece civilization invariably vanished. Victor Hugo has admirably described this blighting influence of the Turk in the following lines: "Les Turcs ont passé là, tout est ruine et deuil." (The Turks have traversed there, all is ruin and mourning.) The Turk has no bond, no consanguinity with the Arab, and hence no claim upon his civilization. He is heartily despised by the Arab, who sings:

Three things naught but evil work—
The locust, the vermin, and the Turk.

Surrounded on all sides by the destructive Turkish hordes, the Armenians have been the representatives of Western civilization, first by their Christianity, and then by their culture. While the Turks furnish the criminals in the Ottoman Empire, the Armenians furnish physicians, the artisans, and the savants. It was an Armenian architect, Sinan, who designed and built the famous Mosque of Adrianople and the Mosque of Suleyman in Constantinople; and Armenian architects, the Balians, constructed the palaces of Cheragan, of Beyler-bey, and of Dolma Bahche, "which might be taken," writes Theophile Gautier, "for a Venetian palace—only richer, vaster, and more highly ornamented—transported from the Grand Canal to the banks of the Bosporus."

Even the introduction of Turkish printing and the drama was accomplished by the Armenians, and it was two distinguished Armenians, Odian and Servicen, who collaborated with Midhat Pasha in framing the Turkish Constitution. The Turks would not have a grammar of their own language if it were not for the Armenian philologists. Sherif Pasha, the distinguished Turkish exile in Paris, must be congratulated for his sincerity when he declares, as reported in the columns of THE TIMES of Oct. 10, that:

"If there is a race which has been closely connected with the Turks by its fidelity, by its services to the country, by the statesmen and functionaries of talent it has furnished, by the intelligence which it has manifested in all domains—commerce, industry, science and the arts—it is certainly the Armenian."

Besides, Armenia in Turkey is the sustainer of the Turks. Attest the subjoined paragraphs from a letter which a Turk has sent to his son in this country:

"I am returning the check you sent, for we cannot cash it, there being no rayah here any more. * * * Times are bad, my son, the rayah was everything for us. * * * I tell you when Winter comes we ourselves will have to starve, for, as you know, we all live on the rayahs' crops."

In view of these facts, might not one ask of Zia Mufty, "Where is Turkey?"

ARSHAG MAHDESIAN.

New York, Oct. 19, 1915.

MYTH OF GRAVITATION.

Newton Ignorant of Electro-Magnetism, Which Also Fails to Explain.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

I hope that some reader interested in astronomical matters will take occasion to make some reply to this letter and possibly contend that electro-magnetism cannot supersede Newton's theory of gravitation in the suspension and movement of the universe of worlds. One thing is certain: No one can satisfactorily explain the governing force if it is material. It is the great mystery and the greatest of all miracles.

Putting together two related incidents in the life of Sir Isaac Newton, one of which is that he had a finger ring containing a magnetic stone seal weighing three grains which he found by experiment would attract and sustain a piece of iron weighing 750 grains, or 250 times its weight, and the other the observation of a falling apple, the wonder of the writer is why he didn't choose what would seem a more sensible base, and follow out that demonstrated by the ring instead of that suggested by the falling apple. The mathematical results would have been the same.

Magnetism is possessed by the whole mass of earth and universe of heavenly bodies, and is an essence of known demonstration and laws. By adopting it we have the advantage over the gravity theory by the use of the polar relation in magnetism. A magnetic north pole presented to a magnetic south pole, or a south pole to a north pole, attracts, while a north pole to another north pole or a south pole to another repels. This gives to us a better reason than gravitation can for the elliptical orbit of the planets instead of the circular. It also gives us some light on the mystery of the tides, the philosophy of which the profoundest study has not solved. Certain facts are apparent; but for the explanation of the true theory such men as Laplace and Newton, and others more recent, have labored in vain. By the admission that the influence of the sun and moon on the tides is lateral, for which there appears evidence, instead of direct, as has generally been held, a good point seems to have been gained in favor of magnetic polarity. Since Newton announced his universal law of gravitation, scientists have accepted and educators taught it, and rarely has it been questioned. Occasionally one has the temerity to say that gravitation is a myth, an invented word to cover scientific ignorance.

Newton was doubtless confident of that principle which, after years of study, he finally announced to the world, though he did say that any one who has, in philosophical matters, a competent faculty of thinking could not admit for a moment the possibility of a sun reaching through millions of miles and exercising there an attractive power.

If we change the name of the attractive force from gravitation to electro-magnetism we have not solved the problem of the movement of the heavenly bodies. It must be something more than gravitation or magnetism that sets the earth spinning on its axial rotation with such amazing regularity.

C. H. KILMER.

Mecklenburg, N. Y., Oct. 18, 1915.

If You Take a Sword.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

I am not a "peace at any price" man by any means; in fact, I sympathize warmly with the cause of the Allies. But I have wondered why none of those who hate war have failed to recall Hosea Biglow's protest against our late unpleasantness with Mexico:

As for war, I call it murder.
There you have it plain and flat.
I don't need to go no further
Than my Testament for that.
If you take a sword and with it
Run another feller through,
Congress cannot answer fur it;
God will charge the crime to you.

There is more of the same tenor, but this seems to me to constitute a pretty thorough arraignment of the militarists. J. H. P.

New York, Oct. 13, 1915.

SHROPSHIRE IN WAR TIME.

How the English Countryside Raises Money for the Wounded.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

The charge of indifference which has been leveled against the people of England in regard to the war is one which must appear most unjust to any one who has a real knowledge of all classes throughout the country. The simple truth is that the entire people are anxious to serve their country and to aid the Allies in any way they can. One of the ways in which it is evidenced that the heart of the people is in the war is the extreme generosity shown throughout the nation toward the wounded among their allies—whom they realize are harder pressed than they. And perhaps the most remarkable examples of the kindly feelings for the war sufferers (not of their own country) is seen in the rural districts.

I am for the moment domiciled in an out-of-the-way corner of the County of Shropshire. It is a purely agricultural region. The land produces abundant harvests; the rich meadows pasture numerous herds of the large red and white Hereford breed of cattle, and numberless flocks of the small, round headed, highly prized Shropshire sheep. Walking along the high road one wonders who tends so many cattle and sheep, so infrequent—to the eye—are human habitations. But the deep dells between the hills are interwoven with paths and grassy roads which lead to the homes of the herder and the shepherd. Built of white plaster intersected with black oaken beams and rafters, and well thatched, (many of them survivals of the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries,) set in gardens in which roses and dahlias are now blooming together in a gay confusion, the cottages and the cottagers present a picture at once so neat, so comfortable, and so picturesque, that it hardly seems reality.

From the cottages in these secluded dingles, and from the large farmhouses, substantial stone structures which stand out boldly

CONNOR LAWRENCE WEDS MISS FITCH

Daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Allen Fitch a Bride in St. Bartholomew's Church.

MAIDS OF HONOR IN PINK

Her Bridesmaids in Blue and Silver and Ribbon-Laced Silver Sandals —The Reception and Guests.

The wedding of Connor Lawrence, a son of Frank R. Lawrence, and Miss Diantha Allen Fitch, the second daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Allen Fitch, was celebrated at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon in St. Bartholomew's Church, which was decorated with masses of pink and white chrysanthemums and Autumn leaves. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Leighton Parks, assisted by the Rev. George W. Atkinson, rector of Grace Church, Washington, D. C., a cousin of the bride.

The ushers were Herbert Reed Lawrence, David H. Taylor, Benjamin Harrison McKee, Henry S. Durand, Edwin B. Dickinson, Raymond J. Schweizer, Horace Dorsay Newson, and Ronald M. Ferry.

The bride, who walked with her father, wore a novel frock of white chiffon brocade in silver, having a very short skirt with a puff of silver lace instead of a hem and a Court train of white satin gathered at the top and showing a knot of silver ribbon at the side. At the top of the train there was a wide Medici collar of silver lace. The low cut corsage was trimmed with old rose point lace, also worn by her grandmother at her wedding. Long tulle sleeves finished it. The extremely full tulle veil extended to the end of the long train, and was gathered full across the forehead falling back over a close tulle cap held by orange blossoms. She wore a diamond pin, the gift of the bridegroom, and carried gardenias and lilies of the valley.

The two maids of honor were the bride's sisters, the Misses Marion La G. B. Fitch and Katharine R. Fitch, who wore pink satin frocks with very short full skirts, plain across the front, but finished at the back and sides with flounces of silver lace stiffened so as to stand out like crinoline, and which swayed as they walked. The corsages were of old style, short-waisted, with silver girdles, and cut very low and square, with short, puffed sleeves of the lace and pink roses caught at one side. Their large black velvet hats were faced with pink, and each hat had a long scarf-like streamer of black velvet faced with blue that extended from the brim around the neck and down the back. A single pink rose was caught to each brim, and they carried large bouquets of pink roses with trails of long-stemmed roses.

The bridesmaids were gowned like the maids of honor, only in blue and silver. All wore old-time ribbon laced silver sandals, with flat heels, and their hats were faced with pink. They were the Misses Jean Robb Stewart, Ella F. J. Carpender, Dorothy E. Brown, Rose Kane, Mallard Noble, Mildred Holmes, and Harriet R. Gaylin of Philadelphia.

Little Miss Eva Lawrence Taylor, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David H. Taylor, and a niece of the bridegroom, was the flower girl. She wore a short frock with touches of blue, a white satin bracelet in flowers and wreath with white ostrich feathers and little pink roses, and carried a basket of pink rosebuds and forget-me-nots.

Mr. Lawrence had his brother, Frank Lawrence, as his best man.

The ceremony was followed by a reception at the residence of the bride's parents, 38 West Fifty-sixth Street. Mrs. Fitch, who received, wore a black chiffon gown combined with royal blue sequin covered net and a black hat with paradise plumes, and the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. David H. Taylor, who also received, in a gown of rose-colored taffeta trimmed with silver lace.

Pink roses and chrysanthemums were the house decorations. On their return from their honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence will live at 114 East Eighty-fourth Street.

Among the guests were Mrs. Henry Bishoff, Mrs. J. Wray Cleveland, Mrs. James R. McKee, Mrs. A. P. Ralli, Mrs. John Porter Shannon, Miss Margery Shannon, Mrs. R. J. Schweizer, Mrs. G. S. D. Stewart, Miss Marjorie Bruce Stewart, Mrs. John Innes Kane, Mrs. George Cuthbert, Miss Cass Gilbert, Mrs. J. Durand, Mrs. C. H. Ferry, Mrs. F. E. Blackwell, Mrs. G. W. Atkinson, Mrs. Earl J. Moon, Mrs. S. P. Davidge, the Misses Davidge, Emma Apezteguia, Helen Elibeck, Ada Earl, Emily and Julia Gilbert, Helen Hoffstot, Mary McCreery, Estelle and Maud O'Brien, Gertrude Pardee, Louise Simmons, Josephine and Dorothy Taylor, Eva Ingersoll Brown, Eleanor Kendall, Claire Van Lennep, Mabel Alker, Caramai Carroll, Margery Clinton, Elizabeth Sabin, Fannie Seaman, Vera de Ropp, Phyllis Brown, Dorothy Porter, and the Misses Orr, and the Misses Ralli.

True—Robertson Wedding.

Miss Alice Lucille Robertson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ross F. Robertson of 630 West 122d Street, and Frederick Starr True of Buffalo were married last night at 8 o'clock in St. Thomas's Church. The Rev. Frank M. Townley of St. Bartholomew's Church, Brooklyn, officiated.

The bride was attended by Miss Margaret Wolcott, and George Billings of Buffalo was best man. Albert Pauly and Allen McDonald were the ushers.

The couple will spend their honeymoon in the Adirondacks, and later make their home in Buffalo, where Mr. True is the soloist at St. Paul's Church.

Gardiner-Carpenter Engagement.

Mrs. Sidney Herbert Gardiner of 567 Third Street, Brooklyn, announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Ruth Gardiner, to John Tilney Carpenter of New York, a son of Professor William H. Carpenter, Provost of Columbia University. Miss Gardiner is a daughter of the late Dr. Sidney H. Gardiner and a granddaughter of George C. Bennett, founder of The Brooklyn Times. She was graduated from Smith College. Mr. Carpenter was graduated from Amherst College and is now a student at the Law School of Columbia University. No date has been named for the wedding.

Miss Eleanor Lindley Engaged.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lindley of 48 East Thirtieth Street announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Eleanor Crosby Lindley, to Bennet Bronson, a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Hobart Bronson of Waterbury, Conn. Mr. Bronson, who is a graduate of Yale University, is in business in Waterbury. No date has been mentioned for the wedding.

MISS EDITH HASKIN A BRIDE.

Married to Hugh T. Porter at the St. Regis—The Attendants.

The wedding of Miss Edith Mae Haskin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Bussing Haskin of 34 West Eighty-sixth Street, to Hugh T. Porter took place at 8:30 last evening in the large ballroom at the St. Regis. The Rev. Dr. Henry Sloane Coffin officiated.

The bride, whose father gave her in marriage, wore a gown of white satin trimmed with tulle. A court train depended from the shoulders, and over this fell a veil of tulle which was caught up about the coiffure with sprays of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley, and her only ornament was a diamond and platinum brooch.

Mrs. W. Arthur Flinn, sister of the bride, acted as matron of honor. She wore a gown of orchid-colored velvet, draped with gray tulle, and carried an arm bouquet of orchids. The bridesmaids were the Misses Ruth Conklin, Grace Eidlitz, Joan Michler, and Edna Bussing Haskin. They appeared in blue silk frocks, draped with orchid-colored tulle, with hats to match, and carried pink orchids.

Mr. Porter had as best man W. Arthur Flinn. The ushers included Ralph Blackburn, Kenneth Weeks, Wilmot Wheeler, and George Catlin. After the ceremony a large reception was held. Mr. and Mrs. Porter left later for the South, where they are to spend their honeymoon. Upon their return they will make their home at 320 West Eighty-sixth Street.

MISS R. LAVELLE WEDS.

Married to William Dougherty by Her Uncle, Mgr. Lavelle.

The marriage of Miss Rosemary Lavelle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. Lavelle of 685 East 170th Street, to William Dougherty of Crotona Park North, was celebrated at 10 o'clock yesterday morning in the Church of St. Thomas Aquinas, in the Bronx. Mgr. Michael Lavelle of St. Patrick's Cathedral and an uncle of the bride, performed the ceremony, assisted by another uncle, the Rev. Father Francis Lavelle, and the Rev. Francis A. Barry. The Rev. William Dougherty, a cousin of the bridegroom, celebrated the nuptial mass.

The bride, whose father gave her in marriage, wore a robe of Princess lace embroidered with pearls over white satin. A court train of Duchess satin fell from the shoulders. Her veil of Princess lace was caught up with orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley.

Her cousin, Miss Irene Mullen, acted as maid of honor. She wore a gown of pink taffeta veiled with light blue tulle, a gold lace hat and carried pink roses. The bridesmaids were the Misses Marie Cottogio and Irene Welstead. They wore gowns of pink taffeta veiled with pink tulle and carried pink roses.

Following the church ceremony there was a wedding breakfast at the Hotel Majestic. Mr. and Mrs. Dougherty will spend their honeymoon in the South and will later make their home at 881 Crotona Park North.

CALIFORNIANS MARRY HERE.

Ralph E. Merritt and Miss Agnes B. Wells Wed in Broadway Tabernacle

Miss Agnes Booth Wells and Ralph Ensign Merritt, both of Oakland, Cal., were married yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Broadway Tabernacle. The Rev. Dr. C. R. Brown, Dean of the Divinity School at Yale University, performed the ceremony.

The bride's parents are both dead, and she has been visiting with Miss Mary E. Nicoll at 151 Joralmen Street, Brooklyn.

The couple are both descendants of the early settlers of California, their ancestors having come over in the "Forty-niners," when the gold fever was at its height in California. The bride's grandfather, the late John Nicholl, was the founder of the town of Richmond, Cal. She is a graduate of Stanford University and Mr. Merritt was graduated from the University of California. They will make their home in Oakland, Cal.

A wedding breakfast was served at Sherry's previous to the wedding, after which the couple started at once for the West.

SOCIAL NOTES.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Ives Plumb of Islip, L. I., will sail on the steamer Rotterdam, Nov. 4, for England.

Mrs. Sanford Bissell and Miss Doris Wolcott Bissell are leaving today for California. They will spend the Winter at Santa Barbara after visiting the Panama-Pacific Exposition.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Aylette Buckner will give a tea on Saturday afternoon, Nov. 27, for their débutante daughter, Miss Mary Olive Buckner, at Brentmere, their country house at Riverdale-on-Hudson. The tea is to be followed by dancing and a buffet supper in the evening.

The wedding of Miss Cecile Tesson Thayer and Douglas Gibbons will take place today at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin B. Thayer, at Lawrence, L. I., and will be an informal affair. A reception will follow the ceremony.

Miss Dorothy W. Hurry and Robert Beaver Smith will be married at 4 o'clock this afternoon in the Church of the Epiphany, Thirty-fifth Street and Lexington Avenue. The reception will follow at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Hurry, the bride's parents, 242 Lexington Avenue.

Miss Mildred Gautier Rice, who is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Mitchell in Chicago, will return to New York next week.

MRS. THOMAS LOSES GEM.

$200 Reward for Sapphire Missed at Dinner in the Biltmore.

The following advertisement was printed in THE TIMES yesterday:

LOST—An unset sapphire on the Biltmore Cascades the evening of Oct. 25. Reward of $200 will be given person returning same to Black, Starr & Frost, 5th Av., 48th St.

It was learned last night that the sapphire dropped out of a ring worn by Mrs. Leonard M. Thomas when she was dining with her husband and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Havemeyer. Mrs. Thomas discovered her loss before she left the Cascades, and a careful search of the restaurant was made. Even the vacuum cleaners were used on the floor in the search. The sapphire is worth several thousand dollars.

'CARMEN' IS SUNG BY BOSTON COMPANY

Maria Gay a Vivid and Active Figure in the Title Role of Bizet's Opera.

ZENATELLO FINE AS JOSE

Mlle. Pavlowa and Her Ballet Give Tschaikowsky's "Snow Flakes" for First Time at Manhattan.

CARMEN, opera in four acts, by Georges Bizet. At the Manhattan Opera House.

Carmen	Maria Gay
Micaela	Bianca Saroya
Frasquita	Belle Gottschalk
Mercedes	Fely Clement
Don Jose	Giovanni Zenatello
Escamillo	Jose Mardones
Zuniga	Alfred Kaufman
Morales	Giorgio Pulliti
El Dancairo	Paolo Ananian
El Remendado	Ernesto Giaccone
Conductor,	Roberto Moranzoni.

The Boston Opera company gave two performances yesterday, a matinee, at which Mlle. Pavlowa and her ballet gave a scene from Tschaikowsky's "Nut-Cracker" ballet under the name of "Snow Flakes" for the first time, the ballet "Puppenfee," and several divertissements, and an evening performance which brought forth Bizet's "Carmen," sung in French.

Maria Gay, who has been heard in the rôle before in New York, sand the title rôle in "Carmen"; Giovanni Zenatelio was Don Jose, while Bianca Saroya sang Micaela, and Jose Mardones was the Toreador. There was an audience larger than has yet attended the performances of this company, one, in fact, which comfortably filled those portions of the house visible from downstairs. There was also considerable enthusiasm on the part of the audience, spread over certain portions of the evening.

Bizet's opera fares well at the hands of the company on the whole, although its first act was very dull; here there was little sparkle, and the singing of the chorus in its difficult music added to the impression. The stage direction allowed the crowds to group in the old-time stolid masses, and the escape of Carmen, always a feat that taxes the imagination of an audience, was particularly clumsy in arrangement.

But with the second act the performance took on a vitality which was maintained to the end and made it if not of overwhelming brilliance, certainly of considerable excellence in several regards.

Mme. Gay's Carmen, which is not now so much of the soil as it has been on occasions, is a vivid and active figure, even if one not notable for charm of intonation. It was interesting to note the effect of a "dark" voice on the rôle, after hearing the last new Carmen in the soprano version. Mme. Gay was in good condition vocally and sang with good effect.

The tenor, Zenatello, gave a performance of Don Jose that can be called distinguished. His acting was easy and natural, while his singing was always skillful and effective, and sometimes rose to notable heights, as in his impassioned version of the "Flower Song."

Bianca Saroya succeeded reasonably with the rôle of Micaela, especially in the singing, but it was not less colorless a figure than seems the tendency to make this ingenue cast in a wicked world. The singer's sense of rhythm is not inexceptionable. Jose Mardones was a very good Toreador, the quality and evenness of his remarkable bass voice standing him in good stead. The smaller rôles were all well done. Mr. Moranzoni again demonstrated that he is a conductor of authority and imagination.

At the beginning of the fourth act Mlle. Pavlowa appeared as the premiere in a series of ballet numbers that consisted of the complete ballet written for the opera. In her numbers Mlle. Pavlowa was superb, and if the ballet can be traditionally written into operas could be interpreted always as they were done last night, they would acquire a significance not usually assigned to them.

In the afternoon there was another triumph for Mlle. Pavlowa, who has never been in better form than at present. The Tschaikowsky ballet, capably directed by Adolph Schmid, forms a valuable addition to the repertoire.

C. C. TEGETHOFF MARRIED.

Harriman Estate Manager Wed to Loretta MacDonald, Actress.

Charles C. Tegethoff, manager of the Harriman estate, of 475 Fifth Avenue was married last Friday to Miss Loretta MacDonald, an actress, who appeared last season with "Chin Chin," and was to have appeared in the "Stop, Look, Listen" production now rehearsing for Gaby Deslys.

Only a few intimate friends knew of their marriage, which took place at the Hotel Warrington, where they are now living. The Rev. Dr. J. H. McGuinness officiated, and among those present were the bride's mother, Mrs. Mary MacDonald of 282 Prospect Place, Brooklyn, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Bowstead, and David M. Perry.

Miss MacDonald is a sister of the late Miss Sadie MacDonald of the Trip to Chinatown company, who died in Sydney, Australia, while on a world tour with the farce. Mr. Tegethoff was private secretary to the late E. H. Harriman and his confidential representative. He is now personal representative for Mrs. Harriman, and is a Director in the Harriman National Bank, the International Tobacco Company, Treasurer and a Director of the Harriman Industrial Corporation, and is connected with many other corporations.

OCEAN VOYAGERS.

Some of Those Sailing for Europe Today—The Arrivals.

Some of those booked to leave today for Naples on the Europa are:

Mr. and Mrs. F. Carlovero, Miss J. M. Higgins, S. Mottis, A. Gobbis, Dr. G. Grinaldi, and Mrs. E. Dinati.

Among those who sailed for Liverpool yesterday on the Baltic were:

J. H. Anstee, J. E. Bentley, Dr. C. S. Butler, H. T. Clay, Philip Croyn, A. D. Edgar, W. W. Fletcher, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Foster, Arthur Goulding, J. C. Hails, R. F. Hayward, Joseph Holbrook, Miss Helen Johnson, J. W. Jones, G. F. Joseph, J. A. King, Stanley Lee, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Lee, F. Leslie, J. J. Lynch, J. D. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Osborne, J. R. Russell, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Stokes, Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Sutherland, Mrs. M. T. White, and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Wise.

Some of the passengers who arrived yesterday from Copenhagen on the Frederick VIII. were:

S. M. Algase, Miss Harriet Booth, Miss Alice Beattie, W. Bermays, P. J. Donnelly, P. G. Fourman, Mrs. A. Frank, Princess Elizabeth Hatzfeldt, Miss J. S. Irwin, Mrs. M. E. Joel, David Lewin, A. C. Spencer, Mrs. Maud Sergent, William Wilkinson, and A. B. Thayer.

THE OLD RELIABLE

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure

MADE FROM CREAM OF TARTAR

LINCOLN TRUST Company

THIS bank's service is prompt, constant and comprehensive. More than that, it has behind it an honest desire to be genuinely helpful. And it is helpful, chiefly for this reason.

204 Fifth Avenue
(Opposite Madison Square)
BROADWAY AT LEONARD STREET
BROADWAY AT 72ND STREET

NEW SOCIAL SECRETARY.

Miss Edith Benham Succeeds Miss Hagner at the White House.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Announcement was made from the White House today of the appointment of Miss Edith Benham as Social Secretary there to succeed Miss Isabella Hagner, who has resigned to marry Norman James of Baltimore. As Miss Benham has for the last week been acting as secretary to Mrs. Norman Galt, her selection for the White House post is no surprise to her many friends.

The new secretary is the only daughter of the late Admiral Andrew E. K. Benham, U. S. N., and except for such time as she has passed in Europe, where she received much of her education, and on the Pacific Coast has lived most of her life in Washington. She engaged in secretarial work after the death of her father. An accomplished linguist and well versed in literature and a young woman of pleasing personality, she was selected by Baroness Rosen, wife of the former Ambassador from Russia, not only as secretary, but as the companion of her young daughter, the Baroness Elizabeth Rosen, both before and after the debut of that former belle.

Miss Benham was Social Secretary for Mrs. Bryce, now Lady Bryce, wife of the former Ambassador from Great Britain; Mrs. Theodore Perry Shonts, and a number of Congressional hostesses. She is popular in the Navy circle, being Secretary of the "Society of Sponsors." She was the sponsor for the cruiser San Francisco, and the torpedoboat Benham, named for her father.

LESTER DONAHUE'S RECITAL

A Young Pianist Plays an Unconventional Program Well.

Those who observe and note the first appearances of youthful and unknown musicians in New York concert halls were agreeably impressed yesterday afternoon by the playing of a young pianist, Lester Donahue, who gave a recital in Aeolian Hall. He is from California and is a pupil of Rudolf Gans; and the results of his study were encouragingly demonstrated in a program that had especial interest on account of some of the important but unfamiliar numbers on it. These were Beethoven's variations and fugue on the theme that he used later as the theme for variations in the finale of the Eroica symphony, and that he first employed as the finale of a ballet called "The Creatures of Prometheus." It is evident, therefore, that the composer thought highly of its tune; and the variations he wrote on it for pianoforte are of a beauty and variety that deserve more attention at the hands of pianists.

The other little known number was Brahms's second pianoforte sonata in F sharp minor, Op. 2, a nobly and passionately conceived work in his austere early style, showing somewhat less mastery over his material, perhaps, than the well-known sonata in F minor, but full of vitality and an intense energy, and worthy to share some of the attention lately concentrated by pianists on that.

There were also Chopin's Ballade in G minor, Mazurka in F minor and Scherzo in C sharp minor, Liszt's "Gnomenreigen," "Spozalizio," and Tarantella. Mr. Donahue played all this music with unusual insight; he entered perhaps most fully and with the greatest conviction into Brahms's sonata. He has an excellent equipment in intelligence, musical feeling, and a firm sense of rhythm. His technique is good, too, especially in the right hand, is not always so round and full as it might be, which does not mean that he is lacking in power; nor was his technique already well developed, flawless yesterday; nervousness may have accounted for this in part. Mr. Donahue's playing is free from extravagance and from the hankering for personal display. He is evidently young in years, and it was natural that he should not have grasped and expressed all the significance contained in his music, but he clearly has the root of the matter in him and there are fair prospects for his development.

SOUSA'S BIRTHDAY CHEER.

Bandmaster's New March to be Played in 200 Theatres.

A novel plan of celebrating John Philip Sousa's birthday, which will be Saturday of next week, has been devised by the Hippodrome. The complete orchestration of the bandmaster's new march, "The New York Hippodrome," has been sent to the orchestra leaders of the theatres in the principal cities of the United States with the request that the piece be played on that afternoon. Sousa makes his appearance for the ballet of the States shortly after 4 o'clock, and the orchestras have been asked to play the march as near this hour as possible.

Orchestra leaders have shown great interest in the proposed demonstration of regard for the veteran bandmaster, and from present prospects about 200 theatre orchestras will be playing his composition simultaneously, or nearly so. A circuit of playhouses in Texas and others in Baltimore, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, San Francisco, St. Louis, Chicago, and Boston have already signified their intention of joining the celebration.

SEEK ACTORS' EQUITY AID.

White Rats Ask Support in Campaign Against Booking Offices.

The White Rats held another meeting to stimulate interest in the movement to better the working conditions of vaudeville actors early yesterday morning in their clubhouse. A campaign has been begun to increase the membership of the club to 10,000 so that the booking offices may be approached with some show of force. Several years ago the membership was about 8,000, but recently it has dropped far below that number.

It was decided to ask the Actors' Equity Association to work in conjunction with the club and eventually to become affiliated with it. An officer of the association said yesterday, however, that he did not believe the organization would accept the invitation.

DAVID BELASCO'S NEW PLAY

"Van Der Decken," for Warfield, Is a Legendary Drama of the Sea.

The play David Belasco has written for David Warfield has been named "Van Der Decken." It is described as a legendary play of the sea and is the first drama from the Belasco pen for this star since "The Return of Peter Grimm."

The piece will go into rehearsal today at the Belasco Theatre, and the first performance will be given in the Belasco Theatre, Washington, early in December. It had been planned to present it here before the holidays, but the success of "The Boomerang" is such that the local premiere will be deferred till the new year. In Mr. Warfield's supporting company will be seen Fred Graham, Fritz Lieber, Ernest Stallard, Harold Russell, Horace Braham, William Boag, Tony Bevan, Jane Cooper, and Marie Bates.

Smith and Golden to Produce Plays.

Winchell Smith and John L. Golden have formed a partnership to produce plays. They have accepted a comedy by Jack Hazzard entitled "Like Mother Made," and will present it as their first offering. The cast is being selected, and the play will soon be put in rehearsal. Mr. Smith is well known as a dramatist. Mr. Golden is known chiefly as a writer of songs and musical comedy books.

Rockefeller Sees 'Hip, Hip, Hooray.'

John D. Rockefeller saw the performance of "Hip, Hip, Hooray" at the Hippodrome yesterday afternoon. He was accompanied by his Secretary and the two occupied a box toward the front of the auditorium in full view of the audience, many of whom recognized Mr. Rockefeller. He seemed to enjoy the entertainment hugely. The dog show parade, which was a special feature of the Fifth Avenue scene, seemed to interest him particularly.

Educational Dramatic League.

The annual open meeting of the Educational Dramatic League was held last night at the Washington Irving High School. Mrs. August Belmont, President of the league, outlined the work for the Winter, and there were talks by Miss Kate Oglebay, the Vice President, Miss Rachel Crothers, Miss Helen Ford, and Dr. Edward A. Stitt. "The Enchanted Garden" was acted by a company of boys from Public School 83.

EX-GOV. ROBBINS DEAD.

He Was the Originator of "Old Home Week" and a Banker.

BOSTON, Oct. 27.—Frank West Rollins, Governor of New Hampshire during 1899-1901, and head of the firm of E. H. Rollins & Sons, bankers of this city, New York, and San Francisco, died at a hotel here tonight. He was the originator of the "Old Home Week" movement and lived in Concord, N. H. Mr. Rollins had been ill for the last three months with heart disease.

He was born in Concord and was in his fifty-sixth year. His father was the late United States Senator Edward H. Rollins, and Mr. Rollins received the degree of B. S. from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, the degree of A. M. from Dartmouth College, and finally studied law at Harvard University.

In addition to being President and a Director of E. H. Rollins & Sons, he was a Director of the Great Western Power Company. Mr. Rollins was Adjutant General of New Hampshire during 1893-95; President of the State Senate during 1895-6, and Governor of the State from 1899 until 1901. He originated the "Old Home Week" movement in 1898.

Mr. Rollins was a Trustee of St. Paul's School at Concord, the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, the Concord Public Library, and the Orphans' Home of Concord. He was a former President of the New England Business Federation, and was President of the New Hampshire Forestry Society, the New Hampshire Good Roads League, the Church Settlement Society, and was a member of the Boston Chamber of Commerce.

He belonged to many clubs, among which were the University, Union, Exchange, Authors, Dartmouth, and Technology of Boston; the Wonolancet, Snow Shoe, and Beaver Meadow Golf of Concord.

Ex-Governor Rollins was before the public in May, 1910, when he attempted to defraud the Government out of $1,500 customs duties and was detected. The case attracted wide attention owing to his having toured his State speaking in support of the high tariff, and was closed when he pleaded guilty before Judge Hand in the United States District Court and was fined $2,000, which he paid in addition to other costs, including the duties of $1,500, making a total of $5,500. There were cases against his wife and son arising at the same time, but these were dropped. The attempt at smuggling was made when the family arrived from England on the Lusitania, recently torpedoed by a German submarine.

COL. JOHN C. MOORE DIES.

Pioneer Editor Who Was a Firm Believer in the Duel.

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo., Oct. 27.—Colonel John C. Moore, pioneer newspaper editor and first Mayor of Denver, Col., died here today at the home of his son. He was 84 years old.

Colonel Moore was the first editor and one of the founders of the old Kansas City Times. He went to Colorado in 1857, and a little later founded The Denver Mountaineer.

When the civil war began Colonel Moore dismantled The Denver Mountaineer and joined the South in the struggle. He served through the greater part of the war on the staff of General Marmaduke, with the rank of Colonel.

Colonel Moore was a famed fighting man of the old school. He had himself taken part in duels and had been a second when other men fought. At the historic duel in which General L. M. Walker was killed by General Marmaduke, Colonel Moore was a second for the latter. One of the duels in which Colonel Moore was a principal, took place on Bloody Island, in the Mississippi River, opposite St. Louis.

"I have always been a firm believer in the duel, and at 84 years I believe in it yet," Colonel Moore said recently.

JAMES J. COOGAN'S FUNERAL

Cardinal Farley Presides at Services in the Cathedral.

The funeral of James Jay Coogan was held yesterday morning at 10 o'clock at St. Patrick's Cathedral. Cardinal Farley presided and Mgr. Mooney celebrated the mass.

The honorary pallbearers were United States Senator James A. O'Gorman, Justice Victor A. Dowling, J. Sergeant Cram, Henry B. Anderson, Public Service Commissioner Edward E. McCall, Justice Luke D. Stapleton, former Justice Morgan J. O'Brien, and Joseph B. Martindale.

Interment was in Calvary Cemetery.

Mr. Coogan, who was a real estate owner and for many years a prominent merchant of this city, died on Sunday at his apartments at the Netherland Hotel, Fifth Avenue and Fifty-ninth Street, in his seventieth year. He is survived by his widow, a daughter, Miss Jessie Coogan, and three sons, Jay, Gardiner, and W. Gordon Coogan.

Ex-Deputy Fire Chief Callaghan.

Richard W. Callaghan, a retired Deputy Chief of the New York Fire Department, died on Tuesday at his home, 104 Morningside Avenue. He was injured at a fire in East 106th Street six years ago, and never fully recovered. Chief Callaghan was appointed to the department by Commissioner Croker in 1885 and assigned to Engine Company 7. He became a Lieutenant in 1891, and in 1898 was promoted to Battalion Chief, later commanding the Second and Eleventh Battalions. Commissioner Hayes appointed him a Deputy Chief, stationed in Harlem and the upper west side. Next he had charge of the Borough of the Bronx, from which he was retired in December, 1913, on a salary of $2,800 after twenty-eight years' service. During this time he served under Chiefs Shay, Bonner, Purroy, Croker, and Kenlon.

Dr. Horace G. Norton.

Dr. Horace G. Norton, Secretary of the New Jersey State Board of Medical Examiners, died yesterday in St. Francis' Hospital, in Trenton, N. J., in his fifty-eighth year. He was born in Hightown and was a descendant of a Revolutionary family. Dr. Norton was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania in 1880 and went to Trenton in 1889. For many years he was visiting physician of St. Francis Hospital. Dr. Norton was a former President of the New Jersey Medical Society. He was also an honorary member of the New Jersey Microscopical Society, a member of the Sons of the Revolution and the Trenton Historical Society, and an associate editor of The Medicus, published in Philadelphia. He was Vice President of the Farmers' National Bank of Allentown, Penn., which he helped to organize. His wife survives him.

Harry Welch Stowe.

Harry Welch Stowe, a member of the editorial staff of The Evening World for the last twenty-five years, and one of the widest known newspaper men in this city, died yesterday at his home in Whitestone Landing, L. I., in his forty-fifth year. He was operated on for appendicitis in the Flushing Hospital a week ago, but the appendix had burst and blood poisoning ensued. On Tuesday he realized that he could not live and asked to be taken home. Mr. Stowe was born in Brattleboro, Vt., and came here when a child. Since his tenth year he had worked in the newspaper offices of this city. He was a member of the Episcopal Church of Whitestone and of the Beechhurst Yacht Club. His wife, a son, and a daughter survive him.

Michael Ratsey, Yacht Designer.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—Michael Ratsey, the veteran yacht designer who created the first British challengers for the America's Cup and likewise the schooner Cambria, which defeated James Gordon Bennett's Dauntless in the famous race from Queenstown to New York, died in retirement yesterday at Kington-upon-Thames.

Obituary Notes.

HARMOND POTTER BUTLER, formerly of the staff of The Clipper and a theatrical manager, died on Tuesday at his home, 140 West Ninety-fourth Street. Mr. Butler at various times was manager of the Twenty-third Street Theatre, the Union Square Theatre, Proctor's Theatre, in Albany, and finally of the Proctor's Theatre at Fifty-eighth Street and Third Avenue. His widow survives him.

E. B. BYINGTON, for many years General Passenger Agent of the Lehigh Valley Railroad, died at his home in Allentown, Penn., yesterday, aged 70 years. He retired in 1890.

Mrs. SUSAN TROWBRIDGE RAY, widow of Benjamin F. Ray, for many years prominent in civic affairs in Utica, N. Y., died on Tuesday at the home of her son, Franklin Trowbridge Ray, at 125 West Fifty-sixth Street. She was a daughter of the late Artemus Trowbridge of Pomfret, Conn., and of Mrs. Eliza Lewerthy Trowbridge of this city and Westmoreland, N. Y. Mrs. Ray will be buried from Grace Church, Utica, on Saturday, with Bishop Olmsted officiating.

Mrs. ELLEN FRANCES GREGG, wife of General D. McM. Gregg, one of the few surviving great commanders of the civil war, died in Reading, Penn., yesterday. Mrs. Gregg was 77 years old. She was a descendant of Frederick A. Muhlenberg, speaker of the first United States Congress.

HARRY TURNER, a builder here for the last twenty-five years, and the head of Harry Turner & Son of 82 West 175th Street, died yesterday at his home, 82 West 174th Street, in his fifty-fifth year. He was born in England and was a member of the Mason Builders' Association of New York and of the Building Trades Employers' Association. His wife, six sons, and two daughters survive him.

WALTER S. McCLARY, a policeman attached to Traffic Squad C, died yesterday at St. Luke's Hospital, in his thirty-ninth year. A year ago he met with an accident in stopping a runaway, but neglected to receive proper attention. Ten days ago he was compelled to go to a hospital, where an operation was performed. For the last twenty-three years he had lived with his parents at 314 West 149d Street.

Captain ARCHIBALD ROBERTSON, for the last twenty-five years employed by the Ward Line, died on Tuesday at the Flower Hospital, in his sixty-third year. He was born in Scotland, and lived in Arlington, N. J. Captain Robertson had followed the sea for fifty years and for four years was the Ward Line agent in Vera Cruz, Mexico.

Miss ARETHUSA ELIZABETH CLARK, the last of the eighth generation descended from Hugo Clark, who came to this country in 1627, died on Tuesday at the home of her nephew, Watson Clark, in Tenafly, N. J., in her ninety-fourth year. She was born in Scarsdale, Mass., and came to this city in 1846 and lived most of her life here. Miss Clark had nine brothers, who formed the firm of Clark Brothers & Co., famous merchants here for more than fifty years.

GEORGE L. HUNTER, formerly a well known restaurateur of Manhattan and Brooklyn, died yesterday morning at the home of his sister, Mrs. James McNerney, 410 DeKalb Avenue, Brooklyn, in his fifty-third year. Mr. Hunter was at one time the proprietor of the old Colman House and the Sidney Chop House in Manhattan and also operated restaurants in Brooklyn.

Mrs. ELIZABETH REDMOND, widow of James B. Redmond and for a number of years active in church work in Brooklyn and in England, died on Tuesday at her home, 815 Balmbridge Street, Brooklyn, aged 67 years.

Mrs. MARGARET EMELINE NEAR, 82 years old, widow of Emmet Near, died on Tuesday at her home, 1,615 Fifty-first Street, Borough Park, from apoplexy. Mrs. Near was born in Dutchess County, N. Y., and was of Dutch ancestry. She is survived by a son, Mervin Near, widely known in the wholesale paper business, and a brother, Jacob J. Thompson, for forty-five years cashier of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

Mrs. CHRISTINE BAILEY, widow of William Bailey, a civil war veteran, and prominent in fraternal circles in Rochelle, died on Tuesday at her home, 1,749 West Twelfth Street, Bath Beach. She was 66 years old and had held various offices in the Florence Nightingale Council, Daughters of St. George, Brooklyn Circle, Companions of the Forest, and Olive Branch Lodge, D. of R.

Mrs. SOPHIE BETHON, widow of Charles Bethon, a retired clothing manufacturer and at one time an Alderman, died from stomach disease on Monday at her home, 114 Centre Street, Ridgewood. She was 58 years old and was active in church and benevolent work in that borough. She was also one of the original managers of the German Evangelical Home for the Aged.

Mrs. LAURA ANN RATTRAY, 67 years old, widow of James Rattray, died in the German Hospital in Brooklyn on Monday following an operation. Mrs. Rattray was a resident of Nanuet, New Providence Island, Bahamas, and was visiting her son, Claude, at 1,183 Hancock Street, when she was taken ill.

RICHARD BRIDGES, active in Democratic politics in the Second Assembly District of Brooklyn and a cousin of ex-Alderman John Bridges, died recently at his home, 384 Second Street, Brooklyn, aged 31 years.

Mrs. MARTHA M. VAN DELINDER, wife of George E. Van Delinder and a daughter of the Rev. John G. Hehr, pastor of the First German Presbyterian Church in Ridgewood, died on Monday at the Ogdensburg (N. Y.) Hospital. She was born in Brooklyn thirty-one years ago and was a graduate of the Erasmus Hall High School and of St. Lawrence University at Canton, N. Y.

WILLIAM H. ROBINSON, for thirty-five years employed by the Erie Railroad and a prominent member of St. Mary's P. E. Church, died on Tuesday at his home, 252 Greene Avenue, Brooklyn, in his fifty-ninth year. He left a widow and three daughters.

JEHU C. MOORE, 78 years old, of 1,801 Ditmas Avenue, Brooklyn, died recently at the home of his son in Melrose, Mass., while on a visit, and was buried yesterday in the Friends Cemetery in Prospect Park. Mr. Moore was born in Wilmington, Ohio, and was formerly manager of the Home Benefit Insurance Company of Manhattan, now out of existence.

Mrs. ANNA TILTON died on Monday at her home, 821 Crescent Street, Long Island City. She was born in Toms River, N. J., and came of revolutionary ancestry. Her husband was at one time a prominent Mason in Manhattan.

WILLIAM EVANS LEARNARD, at one time widely known on trotting tracks, died on Monday at his home, 304 Marion Street, Brooklyn, at the age of 91 years. Mr. Learnard was born in Boston and a son of William Learnard, a wealthy banker of that city. He served throughout the civil war and then went to live in Brooklyn, where he became active in Republican politics. He is survived by his wife, two sons and three daughters.

WARREN M. HILL, Treasurer and a Director of the National Tack Company, died suddenly on Tues

COLUMBIA TALKS OF NEW STADIUM--FOOTBALL PRACTICE AT COLLEGES

COLUMBIA STADIUM RUMOR REVIVED

It Is Said an Alumnus Promises to Raise $100,000 for Athletic Plant.

Another movement toward the erection of a stadium for Columbia University is to be started, according to the announcement yesterday by an alumnus connected with the affairs of the football team. The rumor is that a graduate of the early nineties has promised to raise $100,000 for this purpose if such a movement should receive the unconditional sanction of the university authorities. At present Columbia has a promise of $100,000 provided a certain definite amount for a stadium is raised, and with $200,000 available at the start Columbia undergraduates and alumni believe that the dream of all Columbia men for the past twenty-five years promises to become a reality.

The plans for the new stadium as drawn up tentatively some years ago call for the construction of the bowl of concrete in the Hudson River, between 115th and 120th Streets. South Field is entirely too small for a stadium, and one of the reasons why only temporary stands were erected this year for the return of football to Morningside Heights may perhaps have been because of the possibility of a stadium being constructed in a few years.

This latest rumor about the stadium is the chief topic of conversation at Columbia. The authorities are non-committal, and the alumni most interested refuse to be quoted, yet there is something about the rumor which distinguishes it from all former ones.

The 'Varsity squad had its first scrimmage since Saturday's game yesterday. For a half hour Coach Metcalf had the first eleven hammer away at the freshman team, alternating the 'Varsity work from offensive to defensive. The freshman goal line was crossed by Kennedy and Donoho, and Colloton, left half back for the Blue and White cubs, made their only touchdown. The absence of Calder from the field on account of injuries necessitated a general shake-up in the 'Varsity line. Healey was moved from left tackle to left end, Donaldson from right to left tackle, and Wilber went in at right tackle. Reeder alternated with Quermeyer at right end. Captain Simonds was in the 'Varsity line-up for the first time in more than two weeks. He played full back in place of Littauer, who is away because of slight injuries sustained in Saturday's game. Mueller was at quarter back, and Donoho at the half-back positions. When darkness set in a white ball was used for the first time.

After the practice the freshman squad elected Bernard A. Colloton Captain of the 1916 team. Colloton plays left half back, and has been the stellar performer for the freshmen since Coach Pete Fisher formed the first team. He prepared for Columbia at Ulster Academy, Kingston, N. Y.

CAPT. BARRETT OUT AGAIN.

Cornell's Full Strength Will Be in Virginia Poly Game.

Special to The New York Times.

ITHACA, N. Y., Oct. 27.—All of the Cornell regulars who played in the Harvard game last Saturday appeared on the field this afternoon for the first time this week and took part in a long scrimmage with the scrubs. The only 'Varsity man who did not appear in the line-up was Mueller, who was detained by university work, but his place was well filled by Lewis.

Captain Charles Barrett, who was knocked out in the Harvard game, not only donned the togs, but led the 'Varsity through a hard scrimmage and scored one of the two touchdowns made on the scrubs. Barrett seemed to have everything, speed, dodging, slipperiness, and power, and all doubts as to his future strength to the team were dispelled by today's showing.

The 'Varsity was slow in getting started this afternoon, and as a result Hoffman for the scrubs kicked a field goal and Schock made a touchdown after Barrett had fumbled the ball. About the middle of the scrimmage, however, the 'Varsity came to life and soon made two touchdowns. Clever runs by Coleman and Barrett with a few good plunges by Shiverick and Lewis gained plenty of ground.

The entire 'Varsity team seemed to be in good shape. The ends played a very good game, particularly Shelton, and Zander at left end on the scrub team showed up very well. Jameson, the big 'Varsity tackle, blocked a punt and the balance of the line did good work. It now looks as if the entire 'Varsity team would enter the Virginia Polytechnic game Saturday.

Honors Even in Union Scrimmage.

Special to The New York Times.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Oct. 27.—Three grinding ten-minute scrimmages between the Union College 'Varsity and scrub elevens resulted in a scoreless tie this afternoon. The whistle prevented the 'Varsity's chances of scoring in the final period, after it had carried the ball forty yards down the field on straight football. A number of men ineligible to play in intercollegiate games have strengthened the second team greatly in practice. The weight and experience of these men gives the 'Varsity a better fight and makes of each practice a hard game. Waldie Girdling got a hard blow in the ribs that put him out of practice this afternoon. The backfield composed of Rosecrans, Anderson, and Roof alternated with Waller, Travis and Deplante in scrimmage, and had to fight every inch against the sturdy opposition of the second team. Avell and Young, on the ends, fought hard, while Bettinger, on the second team, put up a strong article of football. Captain Jenkins, Dubois, Gardner, Hay, and Price worked well on the 'Varsity line. With tomorrow's grooming the team will be ready to play Rhode Island State Saturday.

Indians Work Out on Wet Field.

Special to The New York Times.

CARLISLE, Penn., Oct. 27.—The Carlisle Indian football eleven had a chance this afternoon to practice on a heavy, wet field, the result of a severe thunderstorm here last evening. The redskins were put through a long rudimentary drill, in which handling a wet and heavy ball featured. A thirty-minute scrimmage was held between the 'Varsity and reserve elevens, and the 'Varsity had little trouble in scoring. While on the defense the first string players showed improvement over last Saturday.

Flood took a turn at quarter back this afternoon, and the team showed renewed dash and spirit. Burd is likely to be retained on end, as his work in the Bucknell contest and during this week has been especially good. Every player is in good physical condition, and it is hoped the eleven will find its stride in the West Virginia Wesleyan game.

Navy Drills in Forward Passing.

Special to The New York Times.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 27.—Head Coach Ingram continued to drill the Navy team in forward pass plays today with considerable success. There was no change in the back field, with Captain Miles at quarter back, Martin and Westphal at the halves, and Von Heimburg at full back. Von Heimburg, Miles and Martin all had chances of getting off the ball in some of the plays, and they were quite varied. However, the team is beginning to acquire accuracy in getting the ball off and catching it. Kenworthy and Jackson were on the ends this afternoon, but Blodgett and Harrison, who have been out of the game much of the time, are expected to make a strong bid for the places when they get back into shape.

Soccer New Rutgers Sport.

Rutgers College will add soccer to its list of sports this Fall, and an effort will be made to arrange games with Princeton, Yale, Cornell, Pennsylvania, and Haverford. As soon as the football schedule closes, many members of the eleven will turn their attention to soccer. Nash and Toohey have played the game and will coach the candidates.

TIGERS DO NOT IMPROVE.

Football Work Yesterday Described as Haphazard.

Special to The New York Times.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 27.—Princeton's 'Varsity had another hard workout this afternoon, and a great deal of the time was devoted to running through signals. An hour of scrimmage against the scrubs in the early part of the afternoon, and another hour against the same opponents just before a halt was called for the day, comprised the work of the afternoon. In the intermission the second 'Varsity had a tussle with Fred Tibbott's freshmen team, which is having its final grooming before the game with Exeter next Saturday.

The showing of the 'Varsity in the scrimmage gave no signs of improvement over the standard of last week. In fact, there was almost a retrogression in evidence. Occasionally a good play would come, but as a general rule the work was haphazard. The interference is by no means developing as fast as it should, and there were times when the scrub smothered a runner without any trouble at all.

There was one shift in the line-up today. Lamberton was reinstated at end position after playing at half back all year. The fierceness with which Lamberton tackles makes "Red" a valuable end for Princeton's kicking game, especially when the Tiger ends have not been efficient down the field. The showing of Charles at Lamberton's former place in the backfield makes the latter's presence there unnecessary. Thomas, who was shifted from end to half back yesterday almost by accident, made a most creditable showing against the freshmen today. Several long runs and spectacular ability in a broken field made him the star of the occasion. Merlon Wilson played well at end for the second 'Varsity.

McLean was still out of the game, and his absence weakened the line again. Parisette showed up strong at the tackle position, but Mulsey failed to provide any brilliant features. The regular centre trio, Nourse and Hoff at the guards and Gennert at centre, with the regular backfield, Glick, Shea, Tibbott, and Driggs, were in the 'Varsity line-up. Brown and Highley are still regular ends, as Moore seems to have failed and Lamberton is having his first tryout.

ARMY TEAM DISAPPOINTING.

Scrubs Frequently Break Up 'Varsity's Plays in Practice.

WEST POINT, N. Y., Oct. 27.—Two hours of gridiron work were ordere for the Army men today. The big midweek practice was disappointing from many points of view, and the coaches were plainly irritated at the poor showing made by the 'Varsity in the forty-five minute scrimmage which completed the workout. The scrubs time and again broke up the big team's plays, the 'Varsity line yielding and frequently permitting a scrub forward to nail the play behind the line. Four times Murrill was balked in his attempts at forward passing. Cole, a scrub end, smearing the play each time and throwing Murrill for a loss. Not one of the 'Varsity's air line plays was successful. Ford, Mitchell, and Hoge made up the 'Varsity backfield today. Ford did the punting, which was the only redeeming feature of the 'Varsity's play. McEwan was used but little, Goodman doing most of the pivotal work. Engeldinger played at guard for Meecham, who was hurt doing the rough work. Mitchell was also slightly injured and gave way to Walker. Oliphant contented himself with practice at a goal from placement drill.

When the 'Varsity had flashed everything it had, in an effort to score and had failed, Coach Daly called on Oliphant for a goal from placement from the thirty-yard line. On the fourth attempt the ball was sent over the bar, and this, with a touchdown, which came to the big team after a scrub back had muffed a punt on his own five-yard line, constituted the scoring for the day. Timberlake was in at tackle for a while for Weyand. Gerhardt, at quarter back, and Calle, at end on the scrubs, played well today.

"Bloody Wednesday" at Dartmouth

Special to The New York Times.

HANOVER, N. H., Oct. 27.—There is always one day each year in Dartmouth football known as "Bloody Wednesday," and today certainly earned that cognomen, as one of the fiercest scrimmages ever held on alumni oval was witnessed today. The 'Varsity was able to get only two more points than the scrubs, winning 14 to 12. Each side made two touchdowns, but the second men were unable to kick the goals. Speard did the honors for the 'Varsity. Fishback was shifted from the second team into Captain McAuliffe's place, and will hold it unless the leader of the Green makes a decided improvement. Thelscher was placed on the scrub through no fault of his own, but to strengthen their backfield and to give them a punter.

For the first team Emery, Duhamel, Carolan, and Spears did well, while for the scrubs Tyler, Worthington, and Trier carried off the honors.

Lafayette in Dashing Practice.

Special to The New York Times.

EASTON, Penn., Oct. 27.—The Lafayette 'Varsity, playing with the full quota of men who will start the game on Saturday against Pennsylvania, swept the scrubs off their feet on March Field this afternoon and in a whirlwind of open field plays scored six touchdowns in the fifty-five minutes which the scrimmage was limited. The 'Varsity line remained as it has been all week and this begins to look like a permanent organization. Scott, however, was in for the first time since his injury in the Princeton game and Lerch for the time being, at least, displaced Taylor at quarter back. The play of the Lafayette 'Varsity was the fastest and most spectacular that has been seen in the preparation for the game with Pennsylvania.

Minnesota Suspends Solon.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 27.—Lorin Solon, deposed Captain of the University of Minnesota football team, has been suspended from the university for an indefinite period. The announcement was made today from the office of President George E. Vincent in the form of a bulletin. This, it is explained, is not an equivalent of dismissal, as it leaves the deposed football Captain the privilege of petitioning for reinstatement at some future time, conditional on good conduct. When the charges of professional baseball playing were made against Solon he was questioned as to the truth of the rumors. He persisted in his denial up to his disqualification.

Knox College Drops Football.

GALESBURG, Ill., Oct. 27.—The Faculty of Knox College decided today that football shall be discontinued at least this year because of the death of Bryan Scott as a result of injuries received in the game with St. Louis on Oct. 16.

For all transmissions and differentials that use grease

DIXON'S Graphite Grease No. 677

For Transmissions and Differentials

Reduces friction to a minimum, stops humming and grinding.

DIXON'S Graphite Automobile Lubricants

There's a Dixon lubricant for every part of your car.

Ask your dealer for the Dixon Lubricating Chart

JOSEPH DIXON CRUCIBLE CO.
Established 1827
Jersey City, N. J.

YALE CLASHES WITH INELIGIBLE ELEVEN

'Varsity Slowly Recovering Physical Condition—Men In New Places.

Special to The New York Times.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 27.—Deciding to hold only one scrimmage this week, the Yale football coaches ordered it this afternoon, but it was limited to a ten-minute bout between the 'Varsity and the Ineligibles, and only the 'Varsity players who were in the best of condition were allowed to take part. Scovil, Black, Baldridge and Savage were on the sidelines. The 'Varsity twice took the ball from midfield through the Ineligibles' line for a touchdown, "Effie" Walte carrying it over. The 'Varsity had to fight fiercely for every first down, and no long runs were made. The Ineligibles were not permitted to attack the 'Varsity line, and the prowess of Harry Legore, full back for the Ineligibles, was not in evidence.

Two new tackles were tried in Way and Conroy. Way did not prove a success in the backfield during yesterday's trial, but today showed better form at tackle, where he had considerable experience two years ago before going to centre. Conroy, who was last year's left guard, has just returned to the eleven after an injury. Eckley Markle, freshman half back last year, has been restored to the squad by being declared eligible, and today went to right half back. He is a brother of Don Markle, half back two years ago. He has not yet learned the 'Varsity plays, but may figure in the final games.

The 'Varsity may have Bob Bingham, freshman quarter back last year, on its hands before long. He has passed a couple of scholarship examinations and the Faculty is considering his case. If he returns to quarter back two excellent substitutes for Captain Wilson in Savage and Markle will be available, and there is a possibility that Wilson may go to half back, although the recent experiments in using him in that position were not successful.

For tomorrow's practice a novelty will be tried in having the Ineligibles use Colgate plays.

Gradually the eleven is recovering from the exhaustion of the game with Washington and Jefferson, and the coaches believe that it will make a much stronger showing against Colgate than it made against the Pennsylvania eleven. Guy Hutchinson joined the visiting coaching staff today. The line-up:

Left end, Moseley; left tackle, Conroy; left guard, Kent; centre, White; right guard, King; right tackle, Way; right end, Church; quarter back, Wilson; left half back, Waite; right half back, Markle, and full back, Higginbotham.

Cullum Hall Defeats Brooklyn Team

Special to The New York Times.

WEST POINT, N. Y., Oct. 27.—The Army's Cullum Hall squad defeated the Commercial High School Alumni team of Brooklyn today by a score of 6 to 3. Commercial High led at the end of the first half, when Woodworth kicked a goal from placement from the 30-yard line. The Cadets scored in the third quarter on a pretty run of 25 yards by Kilburn. Sweeney and Kalman played well for the High School lads, while Herman and Kilburn were the Cadets stars. The line-up:

Army.	Position.	Commercial.
Worsham	Left end	Dutemple
Black	Left tackle	Lynch
Frier	Left guard	J. Sackman
Wood	Centre	Roscoe
Sherrell	Right guard	Arnold
Toppin	Right tackle	Glatzmayer
Cota	Right end	O'Shaughnessy
Walsh	Quarter back	Frugone
Guion	Left half back	Hoffman
Stewart	Right half back	W. Sackman
Herman	Full back	Woodworth

Time of quarters, 10 minutes each. Referee—Cadet Cinfer. Umpire—Cadet Monsarratt. Head linesman—Cadet Steiner. Substitutions—Kilburn for Walsh, Winfield for Dutemple.

Hard Practice for Penn State.

STATE COLLEGE, Penn., Oct. 27.—A forty-five-minute scrimmage against the freshman eleven yesterday marked Penn State's first active preparation for the Harvard game Saturday. Coaches Harlow, Whitney, and Martin drove the regulars at top speed, perfecting the attack and strengthening the defense all along the line. Certain defects that developed in the set Virginia Wesleyan contest were given special consideration, and there was an improvement in team play. All the first-string men who started against the West Virginians were in the 'Varsity line-up. O'Whitney has played but little of his own, but to strengthen their backfield and to give them a punter.

For the first team Emery, Duhamel, Carolan, and Spears did well, while for the scrubs Tyler, Worthington, and Trier carried off the honors.

Williams Driven Hard in Drill.

Special to The New York Times.

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Oct. 27.—Signal practice behind closed gates was the order of the day for the Williams 'Varsity football squad on Weston Field this afternoon. The regular eleven put in one of the stiffest workouts of the season, and it was evident that Coach Daly was pushing the men to the limit in order to get them into top form for the Princeton game on Saturday. A scrimmage with the freshman team took up the greater part of the afternoon. The first string men had little trouble in tearing holes through the 'Varsity and in making the Ineligibles use Colgate plays, but spent the greater part of their time trying out different kinds of formations which will probably be used against the Tigers. When it became too dark for practice the entire squad proceeded to the baseball cage and there spent nearly half an hour in hard signal drill.

Miller in Rutgers Line Again.

Special to The New York Times.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Oct. 27.—For the first time in several weeks "Togo" Miller, regular centre, took part in the scrimmage work of the Rutgers football squad at Nelson Field this afternoon. Just before the Princeton game Miller twisted his ankle and has been unable to do any work since. His return will necessitate the shifting of Mason to guard, while Cole, the Brooklyn freshman, who has been showing promise, will be kept in reserve. The practice this afternoon was long and hard. Coach George Foster Sanford drove the men at full speed for a half hour of scrimmage. Much attention was devoted to the mass formation which was so effective last year. Sanford also spent considerable time on the defense, the scrubs, strengthened by Twing and Toohey, using the Springfield Y. M. C. A. College formations.

Lehigh Developing a Punch.

Special to The New York Times.

SOUTH BETHLEHEM, Penn., Oct. 27.—There was some punch to Lehigh's practice this afternoon. For nearly two hours the men scrimmaged, first to give the 'Varsity offensive work on line plays in combination with forward passing, then defensive work with the scrubs in possession of the ball of the five-yard line, and lastly block-kick formation to give Cahall drop-kicking practice. Cahall was in good form and made a high percentage of his tries mostly from the forty-yard line. Resident Coach Keady gave the 'Varsity back field a complete rest today as far as the scrimmage part of the work was concerned, Cahall being the only 'Varsity man called on, and then only to punt. The stress that has been laid on experimenting all season showed no signs of a letup today. An hour's punting was a feature this afternoon and showed much improvement, one "boot" sailing sixty yards. Hallowell's running back of punts and dodging were excellent.

Commerce-Morris Game Tuesday.

The annual football game between the High School of Commerce and Morris High School will be played at the Polo Grounds on Election Day. Prior to this there will be a soccer contest between the two schools. Large delegations of students will be present, as well as members of the Board of Education.

Subway Team Ties Yale.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 27.—The Subway Soccer team celebrated the eleventh anniversary of the opening of the New York Subway this afternoon by playing a tie game with Yale, the score being 2 to 2. The team is composed of subway guards, most of them Scotchmen, and they put forth a hard battle against the collegians. It was this team which last year won the Metropolitan Cup.

TRINITY ANSWERS N. Y. U.

No Indication That Brickley Will be Withdrawn from Football Team.

What will be the final word in the matter of New York University's protest to Trinity with regard to playing alleged professional players on its football team, remained undecided yesterday, although a rather undecisive answer was received by the athletic authorities at University Heights late yesterday afternoon. Trinity's reply was addressed to the Chairman of the committee on student organizations and came from the Acting President of Trinity College.

Although it is hoped that Trinity will comply with the demands of the local university authorities, it is by no means certain that such will be the case if the former sees fit to treat the protest in the same manner that similar requests from other institutions have been disposed of.

The letter, which has been the only official communication received, represents the Faculty's attitude in regard to the matter, and expresses the expectation of an amicable settlement of the entire issue. It reads as follows:

Thank you for sending me a copy of your letter to our Faculty Committee. It is written in a very friendly spirit, and I appreciate fully your delicate position in the matter. Just what action will be taken by the college in this matter it is impossible to say, because the question regarding eligibility does not come before the Faculty, but is settled by our Alumni Advisory Committee, in which the Faculty is represented by two of its members. They plan to hold a meeting in the near future, and will decide what to do in the case of Mr. Brickley. Yours sincerely,

HENRY A. PERKINS, Acting President.

In addition to the step already taken, it is probable that the general meeting of the New York student organization, which takes place today, will produce some further developments in the case, which will be in the form of a protest on the part of the student body, in accordance with and supplementary to the stand already assumed by the athletic authorities. It was stated authoritatively yesterday that it was not probable that the Violet would cancel its game with the Harvard eleven in any case, but whether future athletic relations with the latter will be countenanced is still to be decided.

According to one of the football authorities at Columbia, no protest will be made to the Trinity management against the playing of George Brickley in the Columbia-Trinity game Nov. 13. It is argued that Brickley's alleged professional playing was with a baseball team, and that, whereas Columbia might protest if he were to play on the Trinity baseball team against Columbia, his work on the gridiron has no bearing on the matter. However, the matter has not been taken up officially by the Columbia football heads.

HARTFORD, Conn., Oct. 27.—Williams College has canceled its baseball game with Trinity College next Spring, it was announced tonight. Williams recently declared its determination of severing all athletic relations with Trinity because George Brickley, said to be a former professional baseball player, was a member of the local college football team.

HARVARD IN ITS STRIDE.

Another Day of Dashing Football Played Against Second Team.

Special to The New York Times.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 27.—In the second session of the hard driving week of football at Harvard, the 'Varsity players again showed that their "comeback" of Tuesday was a reality. For the second time in the week the second team was defeated, this time the score being 18 to 0. Horween and Enright hit the line with strength and Rollins proved himself very dangerous on the end run plays. But the work of Captain Mahan was the feature of the afternoon, his punting and drop kicking before the scrimmage coming up to his average. The ends and linesmen got their daily drill from the line coaches, and the punting and running down under kicks took up a large part of this preliminary work. The work of Mahan was above par in the drop kicking game and he sent one ball after another over the bar with great accuracy and with lots of power behind it. If the Harvard line can hold the Princeton men, the Tigers will have a job keeping the Crimson from scoring.

The 'Varsity's first touchdown came on three successive plunges through the line by Enright, the total distance covered in these plunges being 35 yards. Rollins made a spectacular run of 20 yards for the second score and the third tally was made by Horween after a series of tremendous smashes through the middle of the line. In all probability a fourth touchdown would have been made by the regulars if Watson, at quarter back had not fumbled the ball on the scrubs' one-foot line.

With the exception of McKinlock, Gilman, Dadmun and Wiggin the whole squad took part in the practice and scrimmage. Dadmun has a bruised shoulder and Wiggin a slight muscle bruise.

Winners with the Cue.

Excellent playing gave Dr. H. D. Jennings a victory over George T. Moon, Jr., last night in the amateur handicap 18.2 balk line billiard tournament at the Knickerbocker Academy in Brooklyn by the score of 200 to 150. Jennings conceded a handicap of 15 points to his opponent and completed his string in forty-six innings, making two runs of 17 points and one of 20, with an average of 4 31-46. Moon's high runs were 21, 18, and 12, and he averaged 3 15-45.

George Gardner won a closely contested game from Dr. H. Pope last night in the amateur handicap three-cushion carrom tournament at the Audubon Academy. The former was playing for 40 points, while Pope had only to score 28 to win, and the final tally favored Gardner by one point, 40 to 27.

A. Frank defeated Schlatter in an interesting game in the amateur handicap three-cushion carrom tournament at the Morningside Academy, 125th Street and Lenox Avenue, last night by the score of 17 to 16 in forty-eight innings. Both contestants were playing on even terms, each having to score 17 points to win.

George Avery defeated Harry Cashman in last night's game of the three-cushion carrom tournament at Doyle's Academy in West Forty-second Street by the score of 25 to 16 in forty-three innings. In the English billiard tournament W. Davis defeated J. Britton by the score of 150 to 135.

First Race for Tiger Harriers.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 27.—The Princeton cross-country team has had hard practice in preparation for the first race of the season against the Yale runners who come here Saturday. Ten men are now at the training table—Captain Dowell, Glover, Decker, Colwell, Floto, Bishoff, Shotwell, Paul, Boyd, and Zunino. The team has lost all the men who finished among the first of those wearing the Orange and Black in last year's intercollegiates. Recruits from last year's freshman team and the ineligible of last season are depended on to bring the team up to a fair standard. Floto, Bishoff, and Paul are the best of these.

—A buyer of discrimination looks First for quality.

Ask us about the MOORE Multiple Exhaust System,—it is one of eleven quality features you will enthuse about in the

Lexington

THE THOROUGHBRED SIX

Write to-day for "A Little Journey to Connersville," by Elbert Hubbard.

LEXINGTON MOTORS CORP.
1849 BROADWAY, New York City.
Brooklyn: 1001 Bedford Avenue.
Philadelphia: 150 North Broad Street.

N. Y. U. PLAYS OVER ON FORDHAM FIELD

Elevens of Bronx Colleges in Friendly Practice Clash—No Scoring Allowed.

With the stands well filled by a noisy delegation from both Bronx universities, Fordham Field yesterday saw a New York University football team play a Fordham eleven for the first time in fifteen years. Although it was only a practice game the excitement was intense, with the result that the players soon caught the spirit and went at each other with all the vim of a good clean regular contest.

No actual scoring was permitted, but both teams were over the line for what would have been scores in a regular game. Fordham got its choice early in the game when Butler broke through Williams and got over the point line. However, the big New York tackle evened up matters just before the contest closed by catching a forward pass behind his own goal posts.

Neither team had all its regulars in the line-up, and while New York had eight of its 'Varsity men in action, Fordham depended on the makeshift team selected Tuesday to do the bulk of its work with the result that seven 'Varsity players were kept on the bench. This is only one of the instances of the means Coach Vaughn is going to employ in his effort to get suitable substitutes ready for the emergencies that will probably arise in the Georgetown and Carlisle games. The four regulars who played for Fordham yesterday were May, Kendricks, and Mulcahy on the line, with Butler the only regular in the back field. As it was, he was shifted from right half to full back. Later Al Yule and Cartwell got in to help the Maroon's forward pass attempts. New York University was minus Bernstein and Erwig in the back field, while Egan was absent from the end.

After the kickoff Fordham took the base, and with Morcaldi choosing the plays found hole after hole in the opposing line. As soon as the Violet took the offense, however, the Maroon found all its could do to stop the perfect passes of Manley and Conn, which carried the attack from the twenty-yard line down to the goal posts.

Kendricks did splendid work for the Maroon, while Paul Conklin, a brother of Jack Conklin, the regular left end, piled up charge after charge. Williams stood out well above the other New York linesmen. Manley was successful in several end runs, while Conn showed an ability to get well over Cody's punts. Both coaches were anxious to strengthen their lines and for this reason directed that most of the plays be of the rush style. Both Trinity and Georgetown are expected to present this type of attack at the Bronx gridirons next Tuesday. As a result of the success of the two practice games held so far Managers Dodin of Fordham and Schulte of N. Y. U. are arranging for another exchange of visits.

SENIORS EASY VICTORS.

Capture Columbia Interclass Track Honors with 49 1-2 Points.

Columbia seniors had no difficulty in winning the annual Fall interclass track meet on South Field yesterday afternoon. The fourth year men captured seven first places out of eleven events, making a score of 49½ points. The juniors, who finished second, scored 36½ points. Captain Harvitt of the 'Varsity won the 100 and 200 yard dashes with ease, and Gertz took the half and mile runs. D. W. Vollmer won both hurdle events, and Loescher had to clear only five feet seven inches in the high jump to win. One of the interesting events was the two-mile run in which Captain S. Langthorn of the cross-country team won from Al Hulsenback, former P. S. A. L. champion. The summaries:

100-Yard Dash.—Won by A. Harvitt, '16; T. E. Black, '17, second; J. Pettibone, '19, third; V. Nekarda, '17, fourth. Time—0:10 2-5.

220-Yard Dash.—Won by A. Harvitt, '16; T. E. Black, '17, second; J. A. Erneman, '19, third; J. Pettibone, '19, fourth. Time—0:23 4-5.

440-Yard Dash.—Won by V. Nekarda, '17; J. A. Erneman, '19, second; E. D. Russell, '19, third; R. Hegeman, '19, fourth. Time—0:56 1-5.

Half-Mile Run.—Won by M. Gertz, '16; J. P. Knox, '17, second; E. T. Appleby, '16, third; H. C. Ashley, '19, fourth. Time—2:10.

One-Mile Run.—Won by M. Gertz, '16; T. McCracken, '19, second; J. P. Knox, '17, third; no fourth place. Time—4:48.

Two-Mile Run.—Won by J. S. Langthorn, '17; A. L. Hulsenback, '18, second; H. Larsen, '19, third; R. Hunt, '17, fourth. Time—10:23 4-5.

120-Yard High Hurdles.—Won by D. W. Vollmer, '16; W. A. White, '18, second; dead heat for third place between E. T. Appleby, '16, and S. T. Howell, '17. Time—0:16 4-5.

220-Yard Low Hurdles.—Won by D. W. Vollmer, '16; W. A. White, '18, second; dead heat for third place between E. T. Appleby, '16, and S. T. Howell, '17. Time—0:27 3-5.

High Jump.—Won by E. F. Loescher, '17, with 5 feet 7 inches; J. Riseley, '17, with 5 feet, second; F. Nolte, '18, with 4 feet 9 inches, third; J. Pettibone, '19, with 4 feet 8 inches, fourth.

Broad Jump.—Won by L. C. V. Busch, '17, with 20 feet; E. F. Loescher, '17, with 18 feet 11 inches, second; A. Harvitt, '16, with 17 feet 1¼ inches, third; W. A. White, '17, with 17 feet ¼ inch, fourth.

Shot-put.—Won by M. L. Krulowitz, '18, with 30 feet 11 inches; E. T. Appleby, '16, with 30 feet 4¼ inches, second; E. F. Herlong, '19, with 29 feet 10 inches, third; E. F. Loescher, '17, with 27 feet 4½ inches, fourth.

Point Scores—Seniors, 49½; juniors, 36½; freshmen, 20; sophomores, 14.

Ide Collars

are easy to button and unbutton because they have Linocord Buttonholes—pliable yet unbreakable.

No metal hook necessary—just use your fingers.

Wear Ide's and put an end to your collar troubles.

2 for 25c

Illustrated below is the HOLISTON

the super-smart shape of the season. See it to-day.

GEO. P. IDE & CO., MAKERS
TROY, N. Y.

DEAN BRIGGS PRAISES YALE.

Harvard Official Commends Action in Disqualifying Athletes.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 27.—Dean Le Baron Russell Briggs of Harvard, Chairman of the Athletic Committee and President of the National Collegiate Athletic Association of America, discusses Yale's recent disqualification of five of her prominent athletes in the current number of The Harvard Alumni Bulletin.

Dean Briggs praises Yale for its action and expresses sympathy not only for Yale but for the athletes who have been barred from competition. His article in The Bulletin follows:

A few facts about the Yale athletes who have found themselves disqualified under the Yale eligibility rules should be generally known:

1. Their ineligibility was reported by Yale to Princeton and Harvard before any public announcement.

2. Neither Princeton nor Harvard would have protested these players; and, so far as Princeton and Harvard were concerned, Yale was free to use her own judgment.

3. Though the rules of Yale, Princeton, and Harvard are fundamentally alike, their likeness is based on a mutual understanding and on no intercollegiate agreement now in force. Examination reveals in the three sets of rules considerable differences.

4. The five players themselves withdrew before definite action by the Yale Athletic Association.

5. The Yale Athletic Association in the persons of its Chairman and Treasurer generously took on itself the blame for the unfortunate position of the five players.

It is difficult to see how any college could have acted more honorably than Yale, and impossible to find two men more sensitively and generously right-minded than the Chairman and the Treasurer of the Yale Athletic Association.

To cynical or skeptical persons it may seem incredible that the five athletes, who must have heard endless talk about the professionalism of Summer ball, were substantially innocent; it is at least equally incredible that a group of the best Yale athletes should wittingly jeopardize their amateur status by openly doing what invited investigation and would not bear it. The endless talk they have heard may itself be one cause of their downfall. Nothing is more bewildering, nothing is viewed in more partial and contradictory ways, than the ethics and the academic result of Summer ball playing. There is the institution which believes that a man may work his way through college by pitching in Summer leagues and remain in the college nine; there is the institution which disqualifies a man who plays in a game in which a professional takes part on either side; and there are all manner of intermediate institutions. Every amateur team takes expenses out of the gate receipts, if those receipts are sufficient; and few men, young or old, whose expenses are paid lead ascetic lives. The Yale players had their expenses paid. We have no evidence that they received more, and we have their own testimony that they did not.

This testimony and their allegation of ignorance every fair-minded man must accept; first, because on general principles they should have the benefit of the doubt; next, because they are men whose word among those who know them is taken without question. Nor should their ignorance surprise anybody who has closely observed youth. A printed rule forbids their receiving boards; probably not one of them had ever read the book of rules. If students read—and remembered—all the printed matter made accessible to them by the college office, there would be an immediate end to the problem of college administration. Year in and year out, with consequences varying from embarrassment to dismissal, students get their information on vital questions, not at headquarters, but in clubrooms or on the street, not from those officers who alone speak with authority, but from fellow-students who got it from other fellow-students, who got it from others. Yale had apparently permitted some university players to play among professionals or semi-professionals, and to play Summer ball at Quoque.

Of course she would have disqualified any player known to receive pay above his expenses—that is a different matter—but the five men some had played at Quoque before; all got their information from Yale men who had played at Quoque or been concerned with the Quoque team. Culpably careless they may have been. I see no reason for charging them with anything worse. When the new committee, not grasping the situation of the damage was done, expounded the rule to them, they paid for their board, but too late.

When their disqualification was made public the attitude of Harvard students was refreshing. I have yet to hear a word of satisfaction either in the punishment of Yale offenders or in the loss of strength to Yale teams. One and all the students have expressed their sympathy with their fellow-students of a rival college and their regret that such a player as Le Gore, admired for his skill and respected for his personal qualities, should no longer match himself against Harvard men. With warm admiration for the Yale authorities in athletics, some of us yet believe that the reform of an evil, provided the evil is not a crime, begins best after clear warning, and that the penalty is wisely applied first to those whose treasons are as conscious as it is unmistakable. Yale has shown that she will risk severity toward herself rather than unfairness toward a rival. We wish her to believe that her rival is not only a rival but a partner that also is free to use her students according to their deserts as if no intercollegiate games were involved; and that in abolishing Summer ball for the future and ignoring in the disqualified past she would now not merely restore some of her best athletes to their own but would help Harvard to a larger and truer view of intercollegiate athletic friendship.

The Bulletin comments very favorably upon Dean Briggs's statement editorially, and takes the point of view that Yale's action has an important bearing on intercollegiate athletic relationship, and also The Bulletin calls attention to the fact that insinuations recently have been made that the status of some of the athletes at Cambridge should be investigated.

"We do not hesitate to say," continues the editorial, "that if any responsible person has a charge to make against any athlete at Harvard it ought to be made directly and in authentic form to the athletic authorities. We know that they are, and always have been, ready to take action on any such charges, and that the alumni body is heartily with them."

Rough Riding at Military Show.

Difficult feats of horsemanship by members of both the National Guard and the regular army will be features of the Military Show, which will be held at Madison Square Garden during the week of Nov. 15. Two of the most prominent amateur riders who will take part are Lieutenants Fred G. Alpers and W. R. Rockwell. The regulars will be represented by members of the cavalry from Fort Myer, Virginia.

Hamilton to Play New Rochelle.

The football team of Hamilton Institute will play the strong New Rochelle High School eleven at New Rochelle Saturday. The clean-cut victory which the Hamilton team scored over Rutgers Prep last Saturday proves that the eleven is a strong contender for the scholastic championship.

MINOR ELEVENS BIG FACTORS IN FOOTBALL

They Have Advanced Rapidly in Strength and Gridiron Strategy.

The present football season offers a remarkable example of the all-around improvement made by the average college eleven in playing strength and gridiron strategy. A decade ago it was an extraordinary event when the minor 'varsity team scored upon its big university rival. Today the eleven which can show a clean slate at the season's halfway mark is a rarity. The radical changes made in the rules during the last few years are responsible, to some extent, for this increase in scoring power, but the fact remains that the smaller college combination is no longer unfamiliar with the full possibilities of football.

In a list of more than 100 institutions less than a dozen have gone through the season to date without being scored upon and when this number is restricted to those colleges which year in and year out make a high-class and consistent football showing, the number can be counted upon the fingers of one hand. In the East and Middle West all but three have met opponents capable of crossing their goal line or goal bar. The select trio with clean slates is composed of Vanderbilt, Colgate, and Washington and Lee. Wisconsin and Syracuse have escaped with but one field goal registered against them, but the others were far from being so fortunate.

Among the elevens which have tasted the bitterness of defeat are Yale, Harvard, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Dartmouth, Virginia, Army, Navy, Brown, Syracuse, and Rutgers. A peculiar angle of the situation is that the group of undefeated elevens includes many representing colleges which were seldom heard from in the football of a few years ago. Among those same teams will be found

BASEBALL — DOG SHOWS — TENNIS

BASEBALL PEACE RUMOR IN CHICAGO

It Involves National and Federal Leagues, but Tener Knows Nothing About It.

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—Chicago papers print today a story that peace terms have been reached under which the Federal League and the National League will unite. The story was published upon the return of President Weeghman and Vice President Walker of the Chicago Federals from New York, where they have been for three weeks. Mr. Weeghman is quoted as saying that he would not deny there had been meetings in New York for the purpose of settling the baseball war. "I cannot advance any information now but hope soon to be able to give out some news," he was quoted as saying.

The peace plan, according to the story published, includes the possible purchase of the New York Nationals by Harry Sinclair, owner of the Newark Federals, and the union of the National and Federal teams in Brooklyn, St. Louis, Pittsburgh, and Chicago. The grounds at Newark would be used by the Giants on Sundays. The Brooklyn Federal League grounds might be turned over to the International League and agreements for the union of the clubs in Buffalo and Kansas City with an International League club to go into Baltimore are included in the plan, the papers say.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Oct. 27.—Chairman August Herrmann of the National Commission when told today of the report that peace terms had been reached between the National and Federal baseball leagues, said: "I can say nothing, or rather, I have nothing to say, but it is a story worth printing."

The talk of peace between the Federal League and organized baseball has been strenuously denied by both parties to the controversy in this city. The Federal League has scouted any such idea, and President John T. Brush of the National League says that he has no knowledge of any peace move. Organized baseball men have maintained all along that there was not room for three major leagues, and that peace could come only with the complete surrender of the Federals, which would mean that the league must cease to exist. It was also said recently by President Tener that there had been no meeting between the Federals and organized ball since the one in Philadelphia after the first game of the world's series, and that one was only for the purpose of hearing what the outlaws had to say.

Americans Must Not Play Feds.

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—Players under contract to organized baseball were warned today by President B. B. Johnson of the American League and member of the National Baseball Commission, not to play post-season games against picked teams when Federal Leaguers are engaged in the contest. Reports reached President Johnson that Chance and Weaver, members of the Chicago Americans, had played against a team at Watseka, Ill., which played Grover Gilmore and Felix Chouinard, Federal League players.

"The National Commission has issued a ruling covering this point," Johnson said, "and our players who violate the order are simply playing with fire."

All-Americans Win Again.

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., Oct. 27.—The All-American baseball team defeated the All-National nine in an exhibition game here this afternoon, on their tour of the West, by the score of 7 to 5.

"DIAMOND JIM" PLUNGES

But Loses on 7 to 1 Long-shot Chaloner in Rose Tree Race.

Special to The New York Times.

MEDIA, Penn., Oct. 27.—"Diamond Jim" Brady was a visitor today at the Rose Tree race course, and his betting Commissioner spread consternation among the "bookies" before the running of the sixth race. The layers of odds posted 7 to 1 before the name of Chaloner, an old hunter entered by the club, hoping to draw a few straggling bets from those who like to shoot at the long shots. Instead of attracting the nibblers, the bait was most alluring to "Diamond Jim," and he instructed his Commissioner to "go down the line and place $100 at a crack on Chaloner." Excepting the veteran, Sol Lichtenstein, these hunt-meeting bookmakers never saw such betting, and they fell all over themselves in a hurry to make up a new slate and escape the play on Chaloner at the long odds. But Chaloner didn't win.

The race was over the three-mile cross-country course. Nelephant and Doe Run went out to set the pace, closely followed by Miss May, Summer Girl and Chaloner. St. Winfield refused the jump near the barn. Coming over the hill for the last time Nelephant was leading, with Chaloner closing fast. Miss May, a 10-1 shot, coming rapidly from the ruck, was soon in the van, with Hunt, on Chaloner, driving to the limit to get up, but he could not save the day for "Diamond Jim," finishing two lengths behind Miss May. Poor old Nelephant staggered in a distant third.

J. G. Leiper, Jr., carried off the riding honors with clever victories on Captain E. B. Cassatt's Spearhead in the second race, and his own mare, Bruin Belle, in the fourth. Both horses were heavy favorites, which made the wins all the more popular.

Bruin Belle, at even money, led all the way in the fourth event and breezed home two lengths in front of Pons Asinorum, which had been played from 3 to 1 down to 3 to 1.

The two-mile steeplechase, third on the card, furnished the best finish of the day. Golden Vale led until the last obstacle, where he came to grief and unseated Jockey Cadman. Sixty-four, which had been played from 5 to 1 down to 7 to 2, and J. C. Ewalt, the 6 to 5 favorite, indulged in a whipping finish, in which the former won by a neck.

Four horses faced the issue for the Middletown Plate, at 3½ miles cross-country. Good Friday refused at the first fence and was never a contender. Millwork, a rank outsider, took the place and Good Friday, with no opposition, finally finished third.

The real sporting event of the day was the last race, for which President Riddle, of the Rose Tree Hunt Club, had as guests at dinner after the race, the owner of the winner and all those who had entered the event. Alexander Sellers was the lucky owner, his horse Swipe beating out the other two starters, Sisto and Rose Girl, in handy fashion. The books cleaned up on this race, as Sisto was heavily backed to win at 7 to 10.

FRED KELLY BREAKS LEG.

World's Champion Hurdler Injured in Football Practice.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27.—Fred Kelly, world's champion hurdler in several classes, has broken his leg in football practice, it was learned here today. He has been playing with the University of Southern California.

Although Kelly's injury consists of a fracture near the left ankle a doctor who attended him said today that it would not decrease the athlete's efficiency at the hurdles.

Rutgers Cancels Basket Ball Dates.

NEW BRUNSWICK, Oct. 27.—The entire basket ball schedule for the coming season has been canceled by the Rutgers College management, and the game will be abandoned hereafter unless the alumni contribute a sum large enough to defray the expenses of the season. Last year the money was raised by student subscription, but this season it was thought the same plan would not be feasible.

PELL TAKES TENNIS CUP.

Ranking Player Wins Singles in Real Estate Tournament.

The annual tennis tournament of the members of the Real Estate Board of Trade was held yesterday on the clay courts of the West Side Tennis Club, Forest Hills, L. I., with Theodore R. Pell figuring prominently in both singles and doubles. About thirty players took part in the tournament, which was divided into singles and doubles in Classes A and B. Owing to the big entry list it was impossible to finish the doubles.

Both singles classes furnished several interesting matches. It was expected that the finals in Class A would bring together Pell and Benjamin M. Phillips, but the pair were drawn in the first round and Phillips lost in straight sets at 6—2, 6—1. Pell played four matches in singles, including the final round, and lost only six games in the eight sets played. Richie, who played Pell in the final round, was blanked in the first set, when the West Side ranking player let up in his game and allowed his opponent to score two points.

Class B singles went to R. Holt, who won from Thurman Lee in the final round at 6—1, 6—0. In the first round the majority of the matches required an extra set, but in the second and semi-final rounds straight set victories were the order. Holt qualified for the finals through defeating F. V. Calder 6—1, 6—2, and Lee came through by eliminating H. C. Forbes 6—3, 6—1.

Pell was unable to carry his partner through the doubles. He bore the brunt of the attack and took many of Coffin's shots. The pair was carried to 8—6, 8—6 by McGuire and Houghton in the first round, but in the second the teams agreed to decide the match in one set, which was won by Richie and Ashley 6—3. The summary:

Men's Singles, Class A.—First Round—James G. Coffin defeated J. J. McGuire, by default; H. R. Houghton defeated Howard Williams, 6—1, 6—4; Leo S. Herzog defeated H. Parker, 6—4, 4—6, 9—7; K. T. Tucker defeated Joseph N. Nassauit, by default; T. R. Pell defeated Benjamin M. Phillips, 6—2, 6—1.

Second Round—R. D. Richie defeated A. E. Ashley, 6—2, 9—7; J. J. McGuire defeated H. R. Houghton, 7—5, 6—3; Leo S. Herzog defeated K. T. Tucker, 6—1, 6—4; T. R. Pell defeated Stanley M. Isaacs, 6—0, 6—0.

Semi-Final Round.—R. D. Richie defeated J. J. McGuire, 7—5, 6—2; T. R. Pell defeated Leo S. Herzog, 6—0, 6—1.

Final Round.—T. R. Pell defeated R. D. Richie, 6—0, 6—2.

Men's Singles, Class B.—First Round—Thurman Lee defeated Wallace J. Hardgrove, 4—6, 6—2, 6—3; H. C. Forbes defeated J. L. Vanderbilt, 6—3, 4—6, 5—6; S. Newman defeated J. F. Brennan, by default; Frederick V. Calder defeated S. F. Weaver, 6—2, 2—6, 6—4; George P. Millard defeated R. Holt, 6—2, 7—5; Leroy Coventry defeated A. V. Amy, 6—1, 6—1.

Second Round—Thurman Lee defeated E. A. Treadwell, 6—6, 6—1; H. C. Forbes defeated S. Newman, 6—3, 6—0; R. Holt defeated Frederick V. Calder, 6—1, 6—2; Leroy Coventry defeated R. C. Lord, 6—1, 6—0.

Semi-Final Round.—Thurman Lee defeated H. C. Forbes, 6—3, 6—1; R. Holt defeated Leroy Coventry, 6—2, 6—1.

Final Round—R. Holt defeated Thurman Lee, 6—1, 6—0.

Men's Doubles, Class A.—First Round—Pell and Coffin defeated Vanderbilt and McGuire, 8—6, 8—6; Richie and Ashley defeated Parker and Weaver, 6—3, 8—6; Phillips and Isaacs defeated Newman and Treadwell, 6—2, 6—2.

Second Round—Phillips and Isaacs defeated Houghton and Tucker, 6—0, 6—4; Richie and Ashley defeated Pell and Coffin, 6—3. (Only one set played to decide match.)

Men's Doubles, Class B.—First Round—Bracker and Calder defeated Nassaoit and Hargrove, 6—2, 6—4; Millard and Holt defeated Lord and Lee, 6—2, 6—3.

WESTERN TENNIS STAR HERE

R. Lindley Murray, Former Metropolitan Champion, Moves to East.

Local tennis circles will be strengthened by the addition of R. Lindley Murray, who is now a chemist in the Bayonne, N. J., works of the Pacific Coast Borax Company. The young California player will do his playing as a member of the West Side Tennis Club at Forest Hills, although he will probably not join the club until next Spring. He has been here for the past few weeks, but has not appeared on the tennis courts. Very few persons knew that the Palo Alto youngster had finished his course in the Leland Stanford University and had made his home in the East.

Murray was ranked fourth on the list of players last year by the National Association, following Maurice E. McLoughlin, R. Norris Williams, 2d, and Karl H. Behr, who occupied the first three positions. He was rated above National Champion William M. Johnston, William J. Clothier, and other cracks. Last year during his Eastern invasion he won the Metropolitan and New England championships, the Sleepy Hollow, Southampton, and Delaware State tournaments, and was finalist at Longwood and lost the New York State challenge round to Maurice E. McLoughlin.

POWER BOAT MEN MEET.

Change Some Rules and Elect Officers at Annual Session.

The American Power Boat Association held its annual meeting yesterday at the Waldorf-Astoria.

In accordance with the recommendations of the various committees for broadening the scope and influence of the association, many changes and additions were made. One of the principal changes made is that the Executive Council is to be increased by the addition of an advisory technical committee, to be composed of an expert timer, a designer, and one other member.

The Secretary of the association was authorized to request each section to recommend points where buoys and lights should be placed, so that the association may supply, if necessary, a limited number of distinctive American Power Boat Association buoys to be planted by the Government, in case the Government declines to furnish its own.

The definition of a "cruiser," it was added, is now to be a boat that does not exceed nine times the square root of the load water line length. The rule was formerly twelve times the square root.

The classification for boats which are to compete for the gold challenge cup in the future has been changed from four to two classes, so as to read: "26-foot class shall consist of boats 26 feet over all length and under" and "40-foot class shall consist of boats 40 feet over all length and under." This relieves the smaller boats from racing against the larger ones in the high speed races.

Vice Commodore Chester R. Hoag of the Thousand Islands Yacht Club laid before the association a plan for circuit racing for motor boats. His club has offered a gold cup for an annual race on the St. Lawrence River between high speed boats, the cup to be held by the winner until thirty days before the next race, when it is to be returned to the club. Meanwhile races may be held at Detroit, Lake George, or New York, so that if a boat breaks down before one of the races or during one she may still have an opportunity to race for the trophy at another meet. Commodore C. M. Enzlis of the Thousand Islands Club indorsed the plan, which will probably be acted upon in the near future.

The officers elected for 1916 were: President, A. L. Judson; Treasurer, C. C. Kinsen; Secretary, T. B. Taylor; Measurer, F. K. Lord.

ENGLISH-BRED 'POM' TAKES SHOW HONOR

Miss Marion Kennedy's Pomeria Wasp "Best" in McAlpin Exhibition.

The first match show of the American Pomeranian Club attracted a large number of entries and spectators to the Winter garden on the roof of the McAlpin Hotel yesterday afternoon. Many "poms" of high degree kept Miss Edith Barry, the judge, busy discriminating among the rare representatives of the different species. Miss Barry recently came here from England and made her first appearance as a judge in this country.

Her award for the best dog of the show to Miss Marion Kennedy's Pomeria Wasp over Mrs. Emma E. Allard's Offley Mite Sunflower, caused some surprise. Both of these "poms" are English bred and both have won championships at English shows. Sunflower won three championships in England and was brought to this country by Mrs. H. McKenna Pultz, who recently sold the champion to Mrs. Allard. It was said that Mrs. Pultz paid $1,200 for Sunflower in England.

Pomeria Wasp, the winner yesterday, is sable in color and has a coat of beauty. Wasp was shown in the ring by Miss Kennedy, while Mrs. Pultz showed Mrs. Allard's entry. The winners in all the classes yesterday received prize cards, instead of ribbons, according to the custom at English shows. The winners were also presented with other prizes.

Miss Edith Hydon's puppy, Miss Brown, carried off several blue cards. Miss Brown was first in the class for puppies under six months old and later was adjudged the best American bred entry and also won first place in the specials as the best novice.

In the open class, Mrs. Emma Allard's Offley Mite Sunflower won first prize as the best of her sex, and Miss Kennedy's Pomeria Wasp took first among dogs. In the final match Pomeria Wasp made the better appearance in the ring and took away first honors. In the class for puppies over six months first place went to Mrs. H. C. Smyth's Banner Miss Dot, with Mrs. Allard's Pomland Young Tip second, and Miss Lena Schilling's Haughty Sable Princess, third.

There was close competition in the novice class, which was won by Miss Elizabeth Lewis's Dynamite, with Mrs. H. Grasser's Dinkie Girl second. The first prize card in the limit class was won by Mrs. F. T. Clarke's Fairfax Sable Lady Love, with Mrs. H. Grasser's Winsome Girl, second.

DOGS PLEASE ROCKEFELLER.

Watches Parade of Those to Compete in Hippodrome Show.

Perhaps some day John D. Rockefeller will find golf a bit tiresome and he may occupy his spare moments as a dog fancier. At any rate he showed an interest at the Hippodrome yesterday afternoon that was promising. Probably he didn't know that he was witnessing a parade of some of the most notable dogs in the city when they came trooping across the stage in the Fifth Avenue scene of "Hip Hip Hooray." It was preliminary to the third day's judging in the first of the Hippodrome dog shows, and Mr. Rockefeller leaned forward in his box and applauded just as if he was much interested in the canine blue bloods as were their owners. He didn't see all of the dogs, however. Some of them you wouldn't know were around unless you stepped on them. But it was a representative array ranging from little toys to the Danes and the Russian wolfhounds, and it would be hard to tell which Mr. Rockefeller liked best.

After the parade the dogs were judged by those who were more impartial than Mr. Rockefeller, and R. A. Scott's French bulldog La France won the trophy for the best in the show. The second choice went to Mrs. Henry Hill's Pomeranian, Raitts Radium. The victory of La France appeared to be well deserved. The dog has a fine head, a good front and is pleasing in general conformation. The dog has thus far never been defeated. Raitts Radium had been shown in but one show before that of yesterday, when it won. It was recently imported to this country from Scotland. The winners in the various classes were:

Pekingese puppies, Mrs. Chambers's Sally; Pekingese dogs, Mrs. Presbrey's Prince Chi; Pekingese bitches, Mrs. Ludlow's Ling; Chihuahua, Mrs. Luescher's Nettie; Spits, Mr. Mooney's Snowball; Airedale, Mrs. Holmes's Reminiscence; French bull, R. A. Scott's La France; English bull, Joe Zare's Billie; Schipperke, Mrs. Neuman's Romeo; Great Dane, Miss C. Whitney's David; wolfhound, Mrs. Dunn's Jumbo; Yorkshires, Mrs. De Witt's Tasay; toy poodle, Miss Mary Van Ness's Crescent; French poodle, Mrs. Minor's Bon Bon Buddy; Blenheim spaniel, Miss C. Whitney's Merry Xmas; ruby spaniel, R. Nathan's Tipo Titan; black and tan, Mrs. Kolce's Snookums; collies, Mr. Kelly's Sarfield Chieftain; Pomeranians, Mr. Hill's Raitts Radium; American bulldog, Sidney Lutz's Tip. Winner of the Cups—R. A. Scott's French bull, La France Model. Winner of Brace—Atwood's Chihuahuas, Benita and Lolita.

SPEED CARS TO TUNE UP.

Will Start Preparation Today for Auto Races Tuesday.

Although the Sheepshead Bay Speedway was a deserted place yesterday afternoon, there promises to be plenty of thrills this afternoon when Eddie Rickenbacker, Ralph Mulford, Dario Resta, Bob Burman, and John Aitken will start tuning up their machines. Rickenbacker's Maxwell arrived at the track late yesterday afternoon, Aitken's Peugeot made its appearance early in the afternoon, and the Peugeots to be driven by Resta and Mulford and Burman's big Blitzen Benz are expected this morning.

It is doubtful whether Barney Oldfield will be one of the contestants in the 100-mile special invitation race to be held on Election Day, next Tuesday. Oldfield is in Los Angeles, and while nothing official has been announced, it is not expected that he will be here for the 100-mile whirl around the wooden course. However, he is expected here before Winter sets in, and will attempt to better the time made at the Election Day race, especially that of Burman in his Benz.

Ralph DePalma and his Mercedes speedster will arrive at the track today, or at least that is what is reported. DePalma was to have driven the Mercedes in the Astor Cup race, but was unable to get the car in proper condition, and so piloted a Stutz. That balky Mercedes is now in fine condition and DePalma expects to lower the world's records for both 50 and 100 miles.

Prince Paul Troubetzkoy of Russia was not at the track yesterday. That match race between the titled sculptor and Harry Harkness for $10,000 seems to be a myth. If such a contest is to be staged, no one at the speedway knows anything about it.

There was one busy spot in the racing camps yesterday, and that was the little garage where the Chevrolet was housed. A couple of mechanics were hard at work going over every part of the machine. The Chevrolet will not be an entry in the Election Day races, but the overhauling is being done to put it in shape for the Corona Road race to be held in California.

Belmont's Stud Superintendent Dies.

Edward Keene, Superintendent of August Belmont's Nursery Stud Farm at Lexington, Ky., died yesterday at Fairmont Hospital, Cleveland, from cancer of the stomach. Keene had been complaining of stomach trouble for some time, and one week ago went to the Cleveland hospital for an operation. His wife was with him at the time of his death. Keene was formerly connected with horse breeding at Babylon, L. I., and was one of the oldest breeders in the country.

THE WEATHER

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—High pressure prevails generally today except over Florida and the North Upper Lake region, and there was no precipitation during Wednesday except in Florida and West Washington, although there were thunder storms Tuesday night in New England and the Middle Atlantic States.

Temperatures have fallen in the Atlantic States and the Lower Lake region to about normal conditions, but elsewhere they remain much above the seasonal average. As a result except for showers Thursday over East and South Florida, fair weather will prevail during the next two or three days east of the Mississippi River.

It was somewhat warmer Thursday in the Lake region and Upper Ohio Valley and on Friday it will be warmer in New England and the Middle Atlantic States.

Winds for Thursday and Friday along the North Atlantic Coast will be moderate northwest becoming variable; Middle Atlantic Coast, moderate northwest and north, becoming variable; South Atlantic Coast, moderate northeast.

FORECASTS: TODAY AND FRIDAY.

Eastern New York and Eastern Pennsylvania—Fair Thursday. Friday, fair, warmer.

New Jersey and New England—Fair Thursday. Friday, fair; warmer in the interior.

Western New York—Fair, warmer Thursday. Friday, fair.

The temperature record for the twenty-four hours ended at midnight, taken from the thermometer at the local office of the United States Weather Bureau, is as follows:

	1914.	1913.		1914.	1915.
3 A. M.	39	59	4 P. M.	41	65
6 A. M.	36	58	6 P. M.	36	58
9 A. M.	35	61	9 P. M.	35	51
12 M.	39	65	11 P. M.	36	50

This thermometer is 414 feet above the street level. The average temperature yesterday was 58; for the corresponding date last year it was 40; average on the corresponding date for the last thirty-three years, 51.

The temperature at 8 A. M. yesterday was 38; at 8 P. M. it was 54. Maximum temperature, 67 degrees at 2 P. M.; minimum, 50 degrees at 10 P. M. Humidity, 90 per cent. at 8 A. M.; 44 per cent. at 8 P. M.

The barometer at 8 A. M. yesterday registered 30.17 inches; at 8 P. M. it stood at 30.17 inches.

FIRE RECORD.

A. M.	Loss.
12:30—543 E. 16 St.; Leo Zamel	Slight
1:20—59 Watts St.; not given	None
2:05—388 3 Av.; United Cigar Stores Co.	Not given
10:00—1,675 Bathgate Av.; Isidore Heght	Slight
P. M.
1:45—80 E. 98 St.; John Orlowsky	Slight
2:15—43 Peck Slip; George E. Hollock, Jr.	Slight
2:55—314 Henry St.; Harry Lesser	Slight
3:15—552 Lenox Av.; Josephine Bayne	Slight
4:45—112 W. 118 St.; Herman Deutsch	Slight
5:30—196 Allen St.; Benj. Schestopol	Slight
6:35—554 W. 38 St.; Hugh Tierney	Slight
6:50—1933 E. 136 St.; M. E. Fox	$1,500
7:45—450 W. 40 St.; Mary Murray	Slight
8:05—118 Eldridge St.; Jacob Falkowsky	Slight
9:20—58 1 St.; Harry Rosenblatt	$100

THE UNITED SERVICE.

Special to The New York Times.

Army.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—2d Lt. L. F. J. Zerbee, C. A. C., from 127th Co. to unassigned.

Promotion of 2d Lt. L. Mercader, Porto Rico Reg. of Inf., to 1st Lt. is announced.

Capt. A. L. Fuller, C. A. C., in addition to his other duties, is designated a member of the Coast Artillery Board, Ft. Monroe, Va., effective about Dec. 1.

Capt. A. J. Cooper, C. A. C., from Coast Def. of Eastern N. Y. to 165th Co., Nov. 30.

1st Lt. D. H. Connolly, C. of E., will report to comdg. General, Southern Dept., for duty at Ft. Sam Houston until time to proceed to San Fran. He will proceed to the Philippines about Jan. 5 for duty.

Following Aviation Sec. officers from Ft. Sill, Okla., to their proper stations at San Diego; 1st Lts. R. B. Hutton, S. W. Fitzgerald, and L. MacDill.

Following Capts. of C. A. C. transferred as indicated, effective about Nov. 15: A. H. Sunderland, 49th to 163d; E. J. Behr, 24th to 168th; F. T. Hines, 38th to 6th, and K. C. Masteller, 6th to 49th.

1st Lt. M. H. Thompson, C. A. C., from Coast Def. of the Potomac about Dec. 1, then to Coast Def. of Sandy Hook.

1st Lt. W. W. Hicks, C. A. C., from staff duty, Def. of Eastern New York, about Jan. 2, then report to the comdg. officer of those defenses for assignment. He will be relieved from assignment there in time for him to proceed from San Fran. about March 5 for Honolulu.

Leaves: Col. D. L. Brainard, Q. M. C., 8 days' extension; 1st Lt. H. A. McCune, C. A. C., 2 months, and 1st Lt. F. E. Williford, C. A. C., 2 months.

Navy.

Ensigns: V. Wood, the Tennessee to the Yankton, and E. R. Morrisey to the Fulton.

Surgn. G. Williams, Norfolk Hosp., to Marine Brigade, Haiti.

P. A. Surgns.: G. A. Riker, the Texas, to Marine Brigade, Haiti; D. G. Allen, the New Hampshire, to Marine Brigade, Haiti; E. U. Reed, New York Marine Recruiting Sta., to Marine Brigade, Haiti.

A. Surgns.: R. A. Torrance, Portsmouth (N. H.) Hosp., to Marine Brig., Haiti; A. E. Beddoe, the Tennessee, to Marine Brig., Haiti; R. C. Waterhouse, the Montana, to Marine Brig., Haiti, and C. H. Dragoo, the Nebraska, to the Salem and Recvg. Ship at Boston.

Civil Engineers: P. L. Reed, Bureau Yards and Docks, Nov. 15, to Charleston (S. C.) Yard, and F. T. Chambers, Charleston Yard to Department of Justice, Washington, D. C.

A. Chaplain V. Ellis, to temp. duty, Atlantic Reserve Fleet.

Bosn. J. E. Armstrong, warranted.

Machst. J. A. Hickey, to the Milwaukee, and M. M. Schreiber, to the Wisconsin.

Paym. Clerk J. J. Lynn, appointment revoked.

Movements of Naval Vessels.

Arrived—Benham, Cassin, Cummings, and the Walker, at New York Yard; Burrows, Patterson, and Building, at Boston; Cyclops and New Hampshire, at Norfolk; Drayton and McCall, at Rosebank; Flusser, Preston, and Reid, at Gardiner's Bay; Mackenzie, at Gay West; Militia, at Puerto Cortes; Nicholson, at Newport; New Orleans, at Guaymas.

Sailed—Abarenda, Guam for Manila; Balch, Newport for New York; Brooklyn, New York for Barcelona; Chicago, Guantanamo for La Paz; Kansas, Philadelphia to sea; Lamson, Boston for Gardiner's Bay; Nero, La Paz for San Diego; O'Brien, New York for Newport, and the Whipple, Mare Island for San Pedro.

EDUCATION NOTES.

Permission has been granted for the use of the following additional public school buildings as polling places on Election Day: P. S. 82, 83, 74, 68, and 121, Manhattan, and 117, Brooklyn.

Thomas H. Dibbins, Assistant Supervisor of Janitors, has been transferred to the position of janitor-engineer in the Bushwick High School, at $1,140 a year. Out of this amount he pays his help.

Elizabeth Rothschild, a teacher in P. S. 70, Manhattan, has been fined five days' pay for violation of the rule against corporal punishment.

The following Advisory Board in Vocational Work has been appointed: C. G. Norman, John J. Mulholland, and Miss Leonora O'Reilly, for two years each, and Samuel Rosenthal and E. V. Deering for one year each.

Permission has been granted to Benjamin C. Gruenberg, co-ordinator, to attend the National Conference on Vocational Guidance to be held in Minneapolis during the week of Jan. 16. He is to be paid his salary, but must pay his expenses.

District Supt. Jenkins's report on evening schools for the year ended July 31, 1915, has submitted to the Board of Education yesterday.

About 200 men and women took the examination yesterday for substitute teacher in common branches in the elementary schools.

The Board of Superintendents has withdrawn its nomination of Andrew I. Sherman as Principal of a elementary school.

The evening schools will be closed on the night of Nov. 1.

The abstract of monthly reports for September, 1915, transmitted by City Supt. Maxwell to the Board of Education yesterday, shows a school registry for the whole city of 806,910, and an average attendance of 691,-339. In the elementary schools, Manhattan had a registry of 276,954 and Brooklyn 251,-181; Manhattan an average attendance of 231,023 and Brooklyn 242,303. In the high schools, Manhattan had a registry of 24,547 and Brooklyn 27,021; Manhattan an average attendance of 19,180 and Brooklyn 22,809.

WILLS FOR PROBATE.

McKIM, ROBERT VANERBURGH, (Oct. 20,) at 50 E. 82 St. William J. A. McKim of Short Hills, N. J., son, and Mrs. Mary A. Wilds of Baltimore, Md., daughter, receive all family portraits, pictures, china, several diamond rings, diamond cross and necklace, other jewelry and bric-a-brac, and furniture in residence at 50 East 82 St.; income from $50,000 for life to Mrs. Wilds, and income for life from $25,000 each to sons, William J. A. and Robert McKim, principal from this fund, at death of beneficiaries, to grandchildren of testator; $5,000 outright each to brother Clarence McKim of Jamaica, L. I., and sister, Laura McK. Pryor of 104 East 81 St.; Robert V. McKim, 2d, grandson, $2,000; residue to William J. A. McKim.

CLAPP, F. W., (Oct. 20,) at 501 West 110 St.; bequests of $25,000 each to children, Florence M. and G. Everett Clapp; residue equally to three children; grandchildren, Lorraine B. and Russell A. Clapp, Jr., $10,000 each; other bequests total $25,000.

POLICE AND FIRE NEWS.

Police Department.

Departmental recognition is awarded to the following members of the force for acts of valor or meritorious conduct performed in the line of duty: Honorable mention—Patrolmen Franklin S. Traver, 32, and Nicholas M. Campo, 22. Commendation—Patrolmen Thomas Hackett, 30, (formerly in 40,) and John Collins, Traffic Div., Subdiv. E. Excellent police duty—Patrolmen Ernest Nobel, 2; Michael P. Murphy, 274, and Frank F. Gleason, 154.

Transfers and assignments—Patrol., 4 P. M., Oct. 26, G. H. Storer, 13 to 26, assignment to clerical duty discont. 4 P. M., Oct. 28. H. Jacobs, 22 to Traf. Div., Subdiv. A; T. T. McAuliffe, 31 to Traf. Div., Subdiv. C; E. M. Burns, 40 to Det. Bu., designated as Act. Det. Serg., 2d Gr. (Mutual,) 4 P. M., Oct. 28. Motorcycle Patrol. H. Schuiter, 74 to Comm.'s Office, as messenger; T. J. Leehane, Comm.'s Office to 74, assignment as messenger discontinued.

Temporary assignments: Lieuts. J. F. Connors, 32, to Comr's office, 15 days, 8 A. M. Oct. 26; F. J. McCarthy, 143, to B. B. H. Squad, duty in Warrant Squad, 30 days, 8 A. M. Nov. 2; A. L. Duffy, 149, to office of Traffic and Marine Divs., 30 days, 8 A. M. Oct. 28. Patrol. J. Horn, 7, and J. Heilriegel, 154, to B. B. H. Squad, duty in Special Squad 1, 15 days, 8 A. M. Oct. 28; J. R. Buckley, 15, to D. B., 3 days, 4 P. M. Oct. 26; E. E. Cahill, 21, to C. O., duty in office of Chief Insp., 15 days, 4 P. M. Oct. 31; T. Gibbons, 156, and J. Fennesy, 157, to 8 I. D., duty in raided premises, 15 days, 4 P. M. Oct. 26; B. Devers and S. Matthews, 144, to duty in plain clothes, 30 days, 4 P. M. Oct. 26; M. A. Meyer and C. F. Reilly, 147, to duty in plain clothes, 30 days, 4 P. M. Oct. 28.

Leaves of absence without pay: Patrol. C. J. Sheridan, 14, 1 day, 8 A. M. Oct. 27; T. O'Sullivan, 14, 1 day, 4 P. M. Oct. 28; T. J. Cullen, 28, 1 day, 4 P. M. Oct. 28; G. H. Scherb, 29, 1 day, 12:01 A. M. Oct. 29; S. H. Weinstein, 29, 3 days, 8 A. M. Nov. 3; E. J. Gnotosky, Traf. Div., Subdiv. B, 1 day, 8 A. M. Oct. 27. J. Treaher, Traf. Div., Subdiv. E, 1 day, 8 A. M. Oct. 28.

Applications for full pay approved: Patrol. E. J. O'Rourke, 15, 2:46 P. M. Aug. 21, to 1:24 P. M. Sept. 3, while under suspension.

Advancements to Grades: To $1,400 Grade (Nov. 5)—Patrol. J. T. O'Hare, 1; F. Prigge, 2; J. L. Ryan, 4; H. C. McCarthy, 5; E. Lynch, 6; E. C. Schmidt, 13; F. A. La Battaglia, 13; P. J. Malone, 14; J. Gross, 15; C. Tirello, 18; T. McMahon, 22; J. J. O'Connell, 26; L. Fitzgerald, 26; J. McKiernan, 33; J. H. Cox, 36; P. Fahje, 38; M. R. Slattery, 42; I. W. Nylin, 68; L. A. Nielsen, 80; F. J. Szumlnsky, 149; J. P. A. Rafferty, 153; G. Hennenlotter, 153; A. Stolzenberger, 155; E. J. Winkel, 160; P. J. Wasg, 163; W. C. Goehring, 170; T. Lobdell, 276; J. L. O'Gorman, 278; J. A. Dunn, B. B.; J. C. Sullivan, D. B.; L. Smith, Traf. A; J. J. Garraston, Traf. C; R. M. Drum, B. B. H.

To $1,400 Grade—W. J. Kennedy, 15, Nov. 2; J. E. Hughes, 15, Nov. 7.

To $1,350 Grade—P. J. Maney, 4, Nov. 12; H. J. A. Power, 152, Nov. 13.

To $1,250 Grade (Nov. 8)—C. A. Harrold, 7; J. J. Murphy, 13; W. A. Gibbons, 16; S. J. Finnigan, 14; W. E. Rose, 16; J. J. Cannin, 17; A. C. Freed, 17; T. J. Sweeney, 21; T. J. Shea, 23; M. Kelly, 32; W. Wagner, 35; V. A. Hastings, 37; B. S. Egan, 38; F. J. Feeney, 38; T. F. Healy, 40; J. J. Ellis, 42; T. E. Cummings, 42; J. Corry, 42; J. Pape, 61; A. H. Kornich, 79; H. W. Stevenson, 152; H. Schiesser, 153; A. Brolle, 163, H. C. Petermann, 172; B. Lane, 265; P. J. Mulcahy, 268; D. B.; S. F. Gorman, D. B.; W. Randolph, D. B.; E. McDonald, D. B.

To $1,150 Grade—L. O'Leary, 171, Nov. 1.

To $1,350 Grade (Nov. 6)—J. A. Steen, 18; J. P. O'Malley, 18; B. J. Brick, 18; J. Benzinger, 18; L. Schonfeld, 21; C. J. King, 22; F. Schmitt, 23; J. A. Ryan, 23; S. D. Mancini, 23; F. J. Minnick, 31; G. O. Masterson, 42; C. F. Hughes, 45; V. D. Lander, 45; T. J. Egan, 69; H. M. Van Cott, 143; T. C. Pepper, 145; P. J. Boyle, 143; J. J. Naughton, 149; T. J. Schaefer, 161; J. E. McLaughlin, 153; H. Baer, 155; L. Z. M. Moskowitz, 156; J. Fitzgerald, 161; F. Birmingham, 161; J. J. Becker, 165; M. J. Gilligan, 169; J. J. Keefe, 170; B. J. Lester, 276; W. Ahern, Traf. C; W. L. Nau, Marine; T. J. Ford, D. B.; C. P. R. Barrois, 3d Dist.

Suspended (without pay): Act. Det. Sergt. 2d gr., A. B. McConeghy, Det. Bu., 11:20 P. M., Oct. 26. Death: Patrol. W. S. McClary, Traf. Div., Subdiv. E, at 6:50 A. M., Oct. 27.

Fire Department.

Leave of absence, with pay, five days, 8 A. M., Oct. 27, to Capt. Henry B. Burtis, H. & L. 125, prior to his retirement.

Revocation of temporary detail, while on sick report, 8 A. M., Oct. 28: Fire., 1st gr., J. Laux, Eng. 250, to new fire alarm station, Malbone and Washington Sts. and Flatbush Av., Brooklyn.

Temporary detail, while on sick report, 8 A. M., Oct. 28: Fire., 1st gr., W. J. Nichols, H. & L. 110, to new fire alarm station, Malbone and Washington Sts. and Flatbush Av., Brooklyn.

The following having filed applications for examination for promotion to the position of engineer of steamer, will report to Chief of Bat. J. J. Henry, Supervising Engineer, at the foot of Court and Old Fulton Sts., on date and time specified, for practical test in operating steam fire engines: Oct. 29, at 9 A. M., R. H. Borden, Jr., Eng. 4; P. Broderick, Eng. 16; A. P. Callahan, Eng. 31; H. Callahan, Spear, Eng. 226 C. A. Hutchinson, H. & L. 149. At 10 A. M.—E. H. Levy, Eng. 27; C. D. Wiese, Eng. 28; C. Krapp, Jr., Eng. 52; B. F. Stone, Eng. 234; G. F. Englert, H. & L. 124. At 12 noon—J. Ullrich, Eng. 93; A. Walsh, No. 2, Eng. 20; H. Krebs, Eng. 251; J. J. Hayes, H. & L. 13; C. J. Miller, H. & L. 128. At 2 P. M.—F. Hartman, Eng. 25; P. Martha, Eng. 91; W. Ryan, Eng. 239; H. B. Spencer, H. & L. 28; G. H. Colligan, H. & L. 148.

The following companies will report at Company School, 157 and 159 East 67th St., at time and date specified: Nov. 1, at 10 A. M., Eng. 95; at 1 P. M., Eng. 207. Nov. 3, at 10 A. M., Eng. 6; at 1 P. M., Eng. 284. Nov. 4, at 10 A. M., Eng. 27; at 1 P. M., Eng. 288. Nov. 5, at 10 A. M., Eng. 36; at 1 P. M., H. & L. 144. Nov. 6, at 10 A. M., H. & L. 36; at 1 P. M., H. & L. 140.

Capt. P. L. O'Regan, H. & L. 80, is designated as Acting Ch

EXPORTERS OPPOSE GOVERNMENT SHIPS

Manufacturers Condemn the Seaman's Act and Recommend a Shipping Board.

ADDRESSES BY SPECIALISTS

American Association Discusses Subsidies, Transportation Problems and Foreign Trade.

Transportation problems were the principal topics discussed yesterday afternoon at the sixth annual convention of the American Manufacturers' Export Association at the Hotel Biltmore. The association followed the National Foreign Trade Council in condemning Government ownership and the Seaman's act, and recommended the appointment of a Government Shipping Board, composed of persons experienced in ocean transportation, to promote the interests of American shippers.

Professor Emory R. Johnson of the University of Pennsylvania in an address on "Transportation in Relation to the Export Trade," took up railroad transportation problems. He recommended that the Interstate Commerce Commission establish rules governing car movements and the use of terminals, so as to relieve the congestion of traffic at seaboard terminals.

"For three years the railroads of the United States, even those conservatively managed, have had to economize rigidly in order to make their decreased revenues cover unavoidable expenses," he said. "Some railroads have been able to maintain dividends without drawing upon accumulated surplus, while others have paid their regular dividends only by incroaching upon surplus and by postponing renewals and improvements. The inadequate equipment and terminal facilities of the railroads will seriously inconvenience the public; indeed, it is probable that the car shortage during the coming Winter will be as great as it was nine years ago.

"It is to the interest of the public that the railroads should obtain revenues sufficient to enable them to keep their facilities not only abreast of immediate requirements, but ahead of the needs of the hour, so that they may be able to meet exceptional demands with reasonable adequacy."

Even if the Government could succeed in operating ocean vessels profitably, it ought not to do so, Professor Johnson said, because such an act would be justifiable only under conditions of complete nationalization. In answer to the question, "What can the Government do?" Professor Johnson suggested that it could declare its desire to bring about the establishment of at least four strong lines of vessels—one line from the Eastern seaboard of the United States to points on the East Coast of South America; another from the Eastern seaboard to the West Coast of South America; a third from the Western seaboard to Japan, China, and the Philippines, and a fourth to New Zealand and Australia.

"The Government," he said, "can offer either to give these lines a fixed subvention for a period of ten years, or it can guarantee to pay their owners the difference between the expenses of owning and operating the lines under the American flag and the expenses that would have been incurred had the vessels been operated in the same services under the British or German flag. Another thing that the Government can do promptly is to repeal Section 18 of the Seaman's Act."

Alba B. Johnson of the Baldwin Locomotive Works, President of the association, expressed the belief that the United States might expect a large volume of business from the belligerent countries after the war. Peace, he said, would restore normal conditions to South America and China, which would supply the needs of Europe from the cheapest market. Only by extending American finance, as in the $500,000,000 loan, he said, can we make the countries of Europe expand their trade with us.

B. Olney Hough, editor of the American Exporter, suggested two ways in which, he thought, export trade could be doubled. The first was by using credit along broader and more intelligent lines; the second, by employing locally domiciled commission agents or manufacturers' representatives in foreign countries. Professor Guy Edward Snider of the City College described for the association the proposed course of training for foreign trade.

The new officers of the association are E. M. Herr, President of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, President; W. W. Nichols, assistant to the Chairman of the Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Company, First Vice President; A. N. Hargrove of the G. J. Brill Company, Second Vice President; L. Moon of the C. W. Hunt Company, Third Vice President; Lindsay McCandlish of the Hutchinson Coal Company, George E. Long of the Dixon Crucible Company, and H. K. Mulford, Directors.

The speakers at the association's dinner last night were Percival Farquhar, President of the Brazil Railways Company; John Candler Cobb, President of the National Tariff Commission Association, and Isaac N. Seligman of J. & W. Seligman & Co.

Mr. Farquhar said the control by American interests of South American railroad property would bring big business to the United States.

Mr. Cobb declared that the problem of preparing for the readjustment of our tariff and trade relations at the close of the war was the most important question relating to our future prosperity.

Speaking on "Banking in Relation to Foreign Trade," Mr. Seligman asserted that an American bank, to be successful in South America, would find it necessary to supply a comparatively large amount of capital for investment purposes.

"As most of the South American countries are purely agricultural," he said, "it is for agricultural purposes that most of the capital would have to be employed. It follows that a bank would have to be equipped not only along banking, but along commercial lines."

FIND DRUGS; HOLD BIEGEL

"Doc" Insists His Trade Is All in South America.

"Doc" Biegel, a charter member of the Tim Sullivan Association, was arrested last night in handsomely furnished apartments at 617 West 113th Street by several detectives and revenue service men who accused him of trafficking in drugs. "Doc," who was arrested in London last December as a German spy, and on his release was deported to this country, protested his innocence and declared he was a commission merchant in drugs with a trade to South American countries. He was taken to the West 125th Street station where he was locked up as a Federal prisoner. He will be arraigned before United States Commissioner Houghton today.

In "Doc's" rooms, according to the raiders were a young woman and a youth, who the detectives said, was a drug fiend well known to them. These two were not arrested. The detectives searched the flat and said they found four bottles containing a drug they believed to be morphine and receipts from wholesale houses showing Biegel had bought from 150 to 200 ounces of cocaine about every five or six days. The detectives say he has distributed this to salesmen and reaped enormous profit.

The detectives got on the trail of "Doc" through a conversation which one of them overheard in a Broadway restaurant recently.

Donner Retains Steel Option.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Penn., Oct. 27.—Directors of the Pennsylvania Railroad discussed the Pennsylvania Steel Company negotiations at their meeting today. It is understood that William H. Donner, President of the Cambria Steel Company, retains his option on the Pennsylvania Steel holdings of the Pennsylvania and Reading roads, and that unless Charles M. Schwab makes a higher bid in a few days the transaction will be closed.

LINCOLN RELICS GO CHEAP.

Burton Sale Reaches Total of $4,823.45.

"Speeches and Letters of Abraham Lincoln, 1832-65," published in London in 1909, was bought for $45 by H. W. Bell at the sale of the Lincoln material in the library of John E. Buxton of Milwaukee, at the Anderson Galleries yesterday. This book was passed around among the guests at the Lincoln Centennial Association banquet at Springfield, Ill., Feb. 12, 1909, and was signed by M. Jusserand, Ambassador from France; James Bryce, Ambassador from Great Britain; William J. Bryan, Robert T. Lincoln, and others.

Mr. Bell also paid $40 for an autograph album containing the signatures of the majority of the northern protagonists in the civil war. Inserted in the book is a card signed by Abraham Lincoln, with three lines in his handwriting and the date, Dec. 27, 1864.

George D. Smith obtained for $15.50 "Ides of March, or Abraham Lincoln, private citizen, Being a sequel to the end of the Irrepressible Conflict, by a Merchant of Philadelphia," published in that city in 1861. Mr. Bell gave $16.50 for "Abraham Lincoln. A Lecture," by Robert G. Ingersoll, one of ten copies printed. He also paid $19 for "In Memoriam of Abraham Lincoln," an interesting collection of pamphlets relating to the Reconstruction period, Lincoln and political questions of that time. A scarce "Discourse preached at Lynn on the day of the National Funeral of Lincoln," by Samuel Johnson, went for $18.50. The rare first edition of Charles G. Leland's "Abraham Lincoln" was bought by Thomas F. Madigan for $14.50.

"Speech of Mr. Lincoln of Illinois on the Reference of the President's Message in the House of Representatives, Wednesday, Jan. 14, 1948," was knocked down to Mr. Smith for $17.50, and he paid $26 for another of Lincoln's speeches on "The Presidential Question," delivered in Congress on July 27, 1848.

A letter from President Lincoln to General Joseph Hooker, Jan. 26, 1863," limited to forty-five copies, and printed privately, was bought for $15 by the Library of Congress. Mr. Smith paid $16 for a letter of Mary Lincoln, dated Dec. 16, 1869, denying that she was to remarry, and $25 for a letter of Robert T. Lincoln regarding his brother, "Tad." A. M. Samuel paid $18 for two rare pamphlets on Lincoln, a discourse by the Rev. Robert Norton, and an address by Robert F. Burns at St. Catherine's, Canada West, April 23, 1865.

The total to date is $4,823.45. The sale will be continued today.

HITS BRITISH SHIP WARNING.

R. Wagner Says His Company's Vessels Are All American-Owned.

Richard Wagner, President of the American Transatlantic Company of 17 Battery Place, said yesterday that the action of Great Britain in warning shipping men against chartering certain steamers, forty-seven in all, ten of which were under the American flag, together with the new Order in Council gazetted Tuesday, abrogating the observance of Article 57 of the Declaration of London, which provided that the character of a vessel was determined by the flag she was entitled to fly, was deliberate notice to such vessels that they would be seized, regardless of ownership and although trading only between neutral countries. The ten American vessels are owned by Mr. Wagner's company.

When asked to make a statement regarding the American Transatlantic Company, Mr. Wagner said:

"Suspicion that the ships belonging to this company were not American owned was aroused in foreign ports because the United States Commissioner of Navigation, E. T. Chamberlain, through prejudice against adding these ships to the American Merchant Marine, delayed granting American registry for over two months. Whether he was influenced by foreign nations who obviously see competition and increased American naval power in a larger American merchant marine, or whether it was simply ignorance of the statutes governing American navigation laws is not apparent.

"At the time the American Transatlantic Company was organized there was a tentative arrangement under which part of the capital stock was to be subscribed by a Danish interest represented by A. Jenson of Copenhagen, however, these arrangements were never completed.

"These ships are owned outright and free of any incumbrance by the American Transatlantic Company, which is an American corporation, incorporated for $2,500,000, all of the stock of which was always, and is now, owned and held by American citizens. There never was a German, Austrian, or Turkish ownership in any of these ships, either in whole or in part, neither before or after the outbreak of the war.

"Under these circumstances the American Transatlantic Company, feels entirely free to employ its ships in all legitimate trades and relies upon the justice and power of the American Government to protect its rights and to secure for its compensation for any infringement of these rights by foreign nations, and to uphold the dignity of the American flag."

WEIL WINS PLEA FOR APPEAL

Supreme Court Will Review Case of Pittsburgh Lawyer.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Chief Justice White of the Supreme Court of the United States, on the application of Philander C. Knox of Pittsburgh, Louis Marshall of New York, and George E. Price of Charleston, W. Va., granted a writ of error to the Supreme Court of West Virginia in the case of A. Leo Weil against H. K. Black, Judge of the Intermediate Court of Kanawha County, W. Va., and the State of West Virginia. The Supreme Court will now review the action of the State Supreme Court.

This is the case in which the Supreme Court of West Virginia recently decided that Mr. Weil, as an attorney at law practicing in the United States Court, was amenable to the laws of West Virginia in a matter affecting the procuring of testimony in a case pending in a Federal court. Mr. Weil, it was alleged, offered to protect certain Public Service Commissioners who appeared as witnesses to disclose the story of the interference of Governor Hatfield with the action of the commission.

The testimony, which it was alleged Mr. Weil was endeavoring to procure, was that the commission decided against the Manufacturers' Light and Heat Company at the dictation of Governor Hatfield, who declared, it was asserted, that the decision must be adverse to the company under peril of loss of their places upon the commission. The truth of this story was not challenged in the indictment against Mr. Weil.

LEWISOHN STADIUM LIGHTED

Philanthropist Adds Illuminating Device for Night Meetings.

To further his plan for the general use of the stadium of the College of the City of New York, Adolph Lewisohn has made another donation to cover the cost of installing an artistic lighting arrangement in the big amphitheatre. Mr. Lewisohn has been in conference with the architect, Arnold W. Brunner, several times, and as a result a new and very unusual lighting system has been installed in the stadium.

This lighting arrangement will make the big meeting place available for evening entertainments. The architect and his engineering corps were persuaded to rush the work in order to have the lights ready for the citizenship reception to first voters tomorrow night. Mr. Brunner has apparently solved the difficulties of the task by placing all his lighting units behind the colonnades, thus bringing out a new form of indirect illumination.

NEW HAVEN'S BOARD HID MANY BIG DEALS

Government Shows Morgan and Rockefeller Acted as Secret Agents.

ROBERTSON FOOLED PUBLIC

Much Discussion of "Syndicate" When He Got Control of M. W. & C. R. R. R.

The care taken by the New Haven to hide its hand in the acquisition of the properties it added to its system was brought out yesterday by the Government at the trial before Judge Hunt in the Federal District Court of the charge that William Rockefeller, Lewis Cass Ledyard, and nine other past and present Directors of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company conspired in violation of the Sherman law to monopolize the traffic facilities of New England. While Mr. Mellen sat on the steps leading to the witness chair and answered a few questions, Frank M. Swacker of counsel for the Government put in a mass of documents to illustrate the New Haven's methods.

It appeared that when the Old Colony system was taken over the Morgan firm was paid 5 per cent. to take over the controlling interest and held it for an indefinite period at the option of the New Haven. When the Rhode Island & Massachusetts was to be acquired, William Rockefeller and J. P. Morgan each purchased one-third of the stock, which was afterward passed on to the New Haven. When the New England was acquired, William Rockefeller again came to the aid of the New Haven with $1,500,000, while J. M. Hall, the Vice President, raised another $3,000,000. Finally it was A. Heaton Robertson, one of the other defendants, who was believed by the public to have purchased for a syndicate the Mineiis, Waterbury & Connecticut River Railroad, although he was really acting for the New Haven.

Mr. Mellen has nearly concluded his testimony, but will be on the stand this morning to tell of the acquisition of certain trolley lines during the time he was Second Vice President of the New Haven. He will then be excused, to be recalled when the Government has brought its story down to the period of his return to the road as President. The question has arisen as to whether he is to be cross-examined on the testimony he has already given. The Government is willing that he should, but the principal counsel for the defense seemed to feel yesterday that to divide the cross-examination would be very bad policy.

Defendants Became Impatient.

So far the Government has not produced evidence to connect several of the defendants with the alleged conspiracy, and their counsel have discussed, it is said, the advisability of moving at once the motion to dismiss, which would otherwise follow the conclusion of the Government's testimony. H. M. Earle, counsel for Robert W. Taft, said yesterday morning that in the first two weeks of trial nothing had been brought up to connect his client with the alleged conspiracy.

"It is an impossition to ask any one to sit here and listen day after day to matters of twenty-five years ago, with which he cannot be possibly connected," he said.

It was suggested to William Rockefeller yesterday, as he listened to the history of the case, that a company should be formed on the lines of a title guarantee company to protect Directors from the consequences of the acts of their companies before they joined the board.

"Good idea," he said. "The company might insure a Director's peace of mind."

Mr. Swacker began the morning session by putting on the record the resolutions of the New Haven Directors concerning the leasing of the Old Colony railroad system and the exchange of New Haven shares for Old Colony shares.

This occurred in the Spring of 1893, and was followed in October by the acquisition by the New Haven of the 2,827 of the 12,000 shares of the Old Colony Steamboat Company, which did not belong to the railroad. That there was some doubt concerning the legality of these actions was shown by the introduction in February, 1894, of resolutions in the Massachusetts Legislature calling for an inquiry into them, whereupon the Directors arranged that the steamboat shares should be taken over by Drexel, Morgan & Co., giving the New Haven the option to buy them back at cost, plus 5 per cent.

A year later, however, in February, 1895, it was reported to the Directors that the Massachusetts Railroad Commissioners had approved of all the steps necessary for the acquisition of the Old Colony Railroad and Steamship Company and that the transaction was complete. The company had also exercised its option with the Morgan firm and had given it a note for $500,000 without interest, with an undertaking to pay it before reducing below that sum the amount to the credit of the trustees from the debenture funds.

Guaranteed Steamboat Profit.

It also appeared that after the New Haven had taken over the Old Colony Steamboat Company it was agreed that it should pay it enough to declare a 10 per cent. dividend on its stock, as well as $100,000 to its sinking fund. Mr. Mellen was asked whether it had been necessary to discriminate against any other steamboat company in order to enable the Old Colony to earn that amount.

"I can't recall," he replied, "that any change was made in the traffic arrangements of the Old Colony. It was a tremendous earner. I don't think there was any difficulty, either, about the Providence & Stonington."

Having disposed of the absorption of the Old Colony systems, Mr. Swacker turned to the history of the New York & New England Company. He went back to 1892 and showed that the executive officers of the New Haven were then authorized by the board "to take such steps as they may deem wise to protect this property against any action of any railroad company that may be hostile to the interests of this company."

Mr. Nicoll sighed as he heard the date and remarked:

"There is one date in this case we shall never hear again. That is 1848. I believe we have passed that finally."

Mr. Swacker paid no heed, but put in a series of resolutions dealing with the acquisition of the Rhode Island & Massachusetts Railroad. In a letter addressed to William Rockefeller on April 28, 1892, Charles P. Clark, President of the New Haven, explained to him that this was a line which was owned by two companies of the same name, one incorporated in Rhode Island and the other in Massachusetts. It was operated by the New England Company and now it was proposed to extend it by constructing some six or seven miles into the suggested Union Station at Providence. But this would compete with the Providence & Worcester, a subsidiary of the New Haven, and the company was not at all disposed to see a rival spring up in this territory. So Mr. Clark called Mr. Rockefeller's attention to the situation and suggested that he might step in and purchase the control of the Rhode Island & Massachusetts.

"I want to present to you the facts in regard to a matter involving an investment of between $800,000 and $350,000 on a basis which will pay the investor 5 per cent, thinking perhaps you would like the investment and being sure that if you should choose to make it, this company would be put in a stronger position in Rhode Island."

Rockefeller Gets R. I. & M. Stock.

Then after explaining the situation Mr. Clark pointed out that if the New England, which was then in difficulties, were to forfeit its lease of the Rhode Island & Massachusetts, that line would naturally become a branch of the Providence & Worcester, and if the New Haven were to acquire the New England, it would, of course, take over the Rhode Island & Massachusetts. So Mr. Clark said, he could see no contingency in which the investment would not be perfectly safe to anybody who had the money to invest at 5 per cent.

Mr. Rockefeller accepted Mr. Clark's suggestion and bought one-third of the stock of the road, another third being bought by J. P. Morgan. A few weeks later Mr. Clark was on record as writing to William G. Roelker of Providence concerning the repeal by the Rhode Island Legislature of the bills authorizing the extension of the line to Providence.

Then there came on Sept. 18, 1895, the resolution of the Directors of the New Haven to purchase the capital stock of the Rhode Island & Massachusetts, and on Sept. 19 a letter from Mr. Clark to Mr. Rockefeller, sending him the money to reimburse him for the stock, which he had now transferred to the New Haven.

"The transaction will be incomplete," he wrote, "without expressing my thanks as representing the New Haven road, for the original advance, which prevented the construction of the competing line, and so answered the purpose for which we desired to have the stock bought."

An identical letter was sent to Mr. Morgan. In 1895 the difficulties of the New York & New England Railroad had come to a head and it had gone into the hands of receivers, to be reorganized as the New England Railroad Company. The New Haven was determined to get possession of this and on July 18, 1895, John M. Hall announced to the standing committee of the road that the company had borrowed $1,500,000 from Mr. Rockefeller and that he had himself raised $3,000,000 with the promise of a further $900,000 at 3½ per cent. for the expenses of this capture.

Purchase of New England.

Mr. Swacker established all the facts of the purchase by putting in a series of formal resolutions and minutes, and showed how Mr. Clark as President of the New Haven was made President of the New England, and a policy was laid down as to the treatment of the newly acquired property.

Mr. Mellen denied that he had anything himself to do with the operation of the New England, as he was connected only with the New Haven, and when a particular letter in which he had given advice to the traffic officials of the New England was called to his attention he said:

"It was just fatherly advice from a man who was close to the father, Mr. Clark. I had no authority."

From the fact that it appeared that the purchase of some additional New England preferred stock was made by William E. Barnett, Executive Secretary of the New Haven, and the Finance Committee of the latter ordered that no mention should be made to the standing committee of the board, and that the amount of Mr. Barnett's note should be paid by check by one of the members of the Finance Committee.

"I object to that as irrelevant," said Mr. Lindabury. "Every one knows that's the way to get stock in if you don't want the price run up on you."

"It's very significant," retorted Mr. Swacker. "It follows a month after the decision of the Trans-Missouri case."

Mr. Swacker then went into the details of the acquisition of the New England by the New Haven to show the anxiety of the Directors of the latter that their bargain should not come before the Railroad Commissioners of Massachusetts. In the end the deal was put through and legislation obtained to sanction it, the shares of the New England being exchanged for stock of the New Haven.

New Haven Wants Secrecy.

Then Mr. Swacker passed on to the affairs of the Meriden, Waterbury & Connecticut River Railroad. It was leased to the old New York & New England in 1892 and in 1895 the President of the New Haven was authorized to purchase its control. In connection with its purchase the names of E. D. Robbins and A. Heaton Robertson, two of the defendants, came prominently before the court. It appeared that the New Haven did not wish its purchase known and so on May 20, 1896, John M. Hall, Vice President, wrote to Mr. Robbins asking in whose name the check for the road should be made out. He wrote:

"We should like to have it arranged so that the check in payment may not be publicly disclosed. I do not see why the check cannot be passed directly to you by Judge Robertson without anyone seeing it. I suppose if you said to the court that you had received the check that would be a payment in court sufficient to satisfy the statute."

Mr. Lindabury admitted that Mr. Robertson had been the actual purchaser of the Meriden line for some time before it went to the New Haven. The road had been foreclosed, and he had bought it at the foreclosure sale, holding it for three years for the New Haven.

On Memorial Day, 1896, President Clark, Vice President Hall, and the Chief Engineer of the New Haven took a trip over the line and asked Mr. Robertson to come along if he was not "intending to deliver a Memorial Day address somewhere."

From another letter it appeared that the public in general was quite taken in by the purchase of the road through Mr. Robertson. From a letter of J. M. Hall to Henry C. Robinson in July, 1898, it appeared that it had been generally believed that Mr. Robertson represented a syndicate, and since the line was lying idle for two years some awkward questions were asked. Mr. Hall feared that it would be suggested that the franchise might be forfeited, and that disagreeable questions would be raised concerning the evasion of the taxation. Mr. Mellen said the line was afterward operated by the New Haven with electricity.

In conformity with an undertaking made with counsel for the defense, Mr. Swacker then spent a good deal of time reading into the minutes the records of the Goldsmith suit, which paved the undoing of the old New York & New England. It was brought by a liquor dealer of Boston, called Goldsmith, who was indemnified from all loss by Austin Corbin. Then the New Haven took it over, J. P. Morgan and William Rockefeller assuming the liability for the costs of the trial in place of Mr. Corbin.

In connection with this Mr. Swacker introduced a letter to J. P. Morgan, in which the New Haven, through J. M. Hall, informed him, "You need pay no attention to the Corbin suit, as we will assume all care and responsibility in the matter, and it is now in the hands of our counsel, who will give it all the attention the case demands. I am very glad to know of your safe return and good health."

Mr. Swacker then brought out that after the New Haven had acquired the New England care was taken to give the latter the same amount of business it had enjoyed previously. It was done, Mr. Mellen said, because there was still a considerable minority interest in New England stock outstanding, and the New Haven did not wish to dissatisfy it.

When Mr. Swacker suggested that the Vanderbilts still held a block of New England stock, however, Mr. Lindabury objected vigorously, declaring it was an unjustifiable assertion.

The trial was then adjourned until this morning.

HEAR SCHMIDT'S APPEAL.

Repudiated Confession Caused Conviction, Slayer's Attorney Asserts.

ALBANY, Oct. 27.—Briefs urging and opposing a new trial for Hans Schmidt, convicted of the murder of Anna Aumuller in New York in 1913, and now under sentence of death, were filed with the Court of Appeals today. In his brief requesting a reversal of the judgment of conviction and requesting a new trial, Alphonse Koelble, attorney for Schmidt, asked for an opportunity to present evidence that the Aumuller girl met death as a result of an operation. He averred that the conviction was obtained largely upon Schmidt's confession which he since had repudiated, that he cut her throat with a razor "in obedience to an internal voice which said she should be a sacrifice of love and atonement."

The brief of Robert C. Taylor, Assistant District Attorney, opposed the motion and requested the court to uphold the record of the trial. Schmidt was tried twice. The jury disagreed on the first trial. In both cases his defense was insanity.

There "Ain't No Sich Person."

We yield to no man in our sincere admiration of the many natural advantages of this garden spot of the world, including the Scioto, the Olentangy, and Alum Creek, but we confess that it makes us smile slightly in our wan way when we get a letter addressed to the marine editor of this old palladium of liberty.—Ohio State Journal.

WANT NEW HAVEN TO SUE DIRECTORS

Effort to Recover Certain Moneys Urged at Stockholders' Meeting—Proxies Delay Action.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 27.—At the annual stockholders' meeting of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company today the wish of representatives of certain interests to examine proxies delayed announcement of the vote on approving the acts of the Directors, as contained in the annual statement, and the election of fifteen Directors. The meeting was fairly well attended. Most of the stockholders left after depositing their ballots, the recess then taken lengthened into hours, and finally tonight was continued until tomorrow morning. President Howard Elliott said the tellers might be at work all night.

Those stockholders who left apparently thought that business had been completed after a lively debate, based chiefly upon opposition to the action of the Directors in not instituting suits against former Directors to recover moneys alleged to have been recklessly expended.

Asa P. French and Hugh W. Ogden introduced resolutions, the former to have the stockholders authorize the Directors to prosecute former Directors, and the latter to compel the officers and Directors to cease objecting to the suit of minority stockholders now pending in the Massachusetts courts, which has a similar purpose in view. A stock vote was ordered on both.

President Arthur T. Hadley of Yale, a Director, defended the Directors' action, and said that Mr. French's protest had little weight, as he had not availed himself of the opportunity to assist the Directors in their consideration of evidence, which might have been used against the alleged recreant Directors.

Mr. Ogden, in an interview, said the tellers were comparing proxies with the stock book. He did not question the election of the fifteen Directors whose names were on the ballot, as he presumed all voted for them. He had understood that the count had revealed that some stockholders, executors, and Trustees had sent proxies which had not been properly prepared.

President Elliott's report on the road's business since June showed that the tide of traffic was rapidly increasing and that facilities for handling it were taxed to the utmost. His figures for the three months ended Sept. 30 showed that on the steam road the revenues increased $1,550,935, and the operating expenses $42,185. After allowing $104,000 taxes, he said, the net income for the period was $2,096,048, an increase of $867,671 over the same period in 1914. On the Central New England Railway the net increase in income was $259,402, and with the New England Steamship Company the net increase was $124,436 over 1914.

For three weeks in October on the steam road the increase in business was $537,786, on the Central New England $90,851, and on the New England Steamship Company $54,820, as compared with the same period in October, 1914.

President Elliott said that these figures were gratifying to those who recalled the dark days of the last few years. In April, 1914, the management was trying to arrange to take care of maturing notes when business was receding. Now the company was faced with the problem of providing more trackage, more engine terminals, and more rolling stock to meet the business in New England growing out of the trade in munitions and other products.

Cloverleaf Earnings Grow.

The Toledo, St. Louis & Western Railroad, better known as the Cloverleaf Road, has made its first report under the management of Walter S. Ross as receiver. For the year ended June 30 the gross earnings were $4,136,059, an increase of $47,037 over 1914. The net earnings, however, owing to an increase in operating expenses by about $300,000, were only $888,922, a decrease of $356,215.

COMMODITIES MARKETS

WHEAT.

Irregular conditions prevailed in the wheat market yesterday in response to a number of unsettling influences. Opening easier, the market rallied and at one time sold ⅝@⅞c above the previous night, but this was followed by a drop of over 2 cents a bushel, after which prices rallied a little near the close and were finally ⅛@⅜c net lower. Cash wheat here was easy, closing as follows: No. 1 Durum, 1.10¼, free on board, New York; No. 1 Northern Duluth, 1.08¾, and No. 1 Northern Manitoba, 1.04¼, car, insurance, and freight, Buffalo.

NEW YORK PRICES.

	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. Close.	Last Year.
December	....	....	1.06¾	1.07⅝	....

CHICAGO PRICES.

	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. Close.	Last Year.
December	1.01⅛	98⅝	99½	1.00⅝	1.13¼
May	1.03⅝	1.01⅛	1.01⅛	1.02⅜	1.19

CORN.

At the outset corn was steady and a shade higher owing to the firmness of cables, but soon weakened under the reports of splendid weather and commission house selling. In the afternoon the market dropped about a cent under the early high point in response to a report by Snow, claiming that the Government November report is likely to show a crop surprisingly large. About 160,000 bushels of new corn were reported for export at the Gulf. Yellow corn here was reported at 76c for No. 2 prompt.

CHICAGO PRICES.

	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. Close.	Last Year.
October	65¼	64¼	65¼	63¾	67¾
December	59	57⅞	58½	58⅜	67¾
May	60¼	59½	59⅝	60½	70⅝

OATS.

There was a decline of ⅛@¾c in the market for oats, following the weakness elsewhere and the continued liberal receipts. Export business amounted to 350,000 bushels. No. 3 white oats here were quoted at 41@41½c; No. 4 white, 40@40½c; ordinary to fancy clipped, 40@44c, all elevator.

CHICAGO PRICES.

	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. Close.	Last Year.
December	36⅛	35¾	36⅛	35⅝	45⅝
May	39⅛	38¾	39⅝	39⅛	53

PROVISIONS.

Early in the session provisions showed weakness in sympathy with lower hogs and a liberal movement which induced liquidation. Heavy covering appeared on the decline, however, and losses were more than regained, the late market showing decided strength upon good commission house buying and support from packers. The arrivals at Chicago were 25,000 hogs, with 24,000 expected on Thursday. Kansas City had 7,000 and Omaha 2,000 hogs.

CHICAGO PRICES.

	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. Close.	Last Year.
Lard—
January	8.97	8.77	8.97	8.82	10.07
May	9.20	9.02	9.20	9.10	9.90
Ribs—
January	8.95	8.72	8.95	8.77	9.80
Pork—
December	13.87	13.45	13.50	13.80	18.95
January	16.07	15.55	16.07	15.90	19.10

COTTONSEED OIL.

Throughout the entire session the cottonseed oil market was well sustained, but showed particular strength in the late afternoon in sympathy with the sudden upturn in lard. Final prices showed 2 to 8 points net advance, with sales of 14,000 barrels. Range of prices:

	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. Close.
Spot	....	....	7.90@7.90	7.78
October	7.87	7.87	7.80@7.90	7.78
November	7.79	7.79	7.80@7.86	7.75
December	7.75	7.73	7.80@7.85	7.73
January	7.83	7.75	7.82@7.83	7.76
February	....	....	7.90@7.93	7.83
March	7.95	7.85	7.93@7.95	7.86
April	7.97	7.97	8.00@8.06	7.82
May	8.11	8.04	8.10@8.11	8.02

COFFEE.

The coffee market was very active. Realizing and trade selling caused reactions of several points in the late trading, but the close was steady and last prices still showed net gains of from 6 to 10 points for the day. Sales were reported of 51,000 bags. The local spot market was steady and higher, with Rio 7s quoted at 7¼ and Santos 4s at 9¼c.

RANGE OF PRICES.

	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. Close.
October	....	....	6.55@6.60	6.46
November	....	....	6.55@6.60	6.46
December	6.70	6.58	6.60@6.65	6.50
January	....	....	6.61@6.63	6.52
February	....	....	6.63@6.65	6.54
March	6.74	6.57	6.64@6.66	6.56
April	....	....	6.76@6.72	6.61
May	6.84	6.66	6.76@6.77	6.66
June	....	....	6.81@6.83	6.72
July	6.86	6.76	6.86@6.87	6.76
August	....	....	6.91@6.93	6.85
September	7.02	6.87	6.97@6.98	6.91

SUGAR.

Futures opened quiet and irregular, 3 points lower to 8 points higher, with first sales 50 tons. The market closed steady, 1 to 3 points net higher. Sales 100 tons.

RANGE OF PRICES.

	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. Close.
Oct.	....	....	3.25@3.27	3.17
Nov.	3.18	3.18	3.23@3.27	3.17
Dec.	....	....	3.12@3.16	3.11
Jan.	3.06	3.05	3.07@3.09	3.02
Feb.	....	....	2.99@3.01	2.95
March	....	....	3.02@3.04	2.98
April	....	....	3.00@3.03	3.01
May	....	....	3.10@3.12	3.05
June	....	....	3.14@3.16	3.09
July	....	....	3.18@3.20	3.14
August	....	....	3.20@3.22	3.16
Sept.	....	....	3.22@3.24	3.18

BUTTER AND EGG MARKET.

BUTTER.—Receipts yesterday, 8,413 packages. The very mild weather is affecting trade to some extent and the volume of business today was light. Receivers had no difficulty in sustaining prices for the higher qualities, but medium grades favored the buyer. Ladies are quiet and a shade easier. Packing stock steady to firm. Creamery, extras (93 score), 28½@29c; higher scoring, 29½@30c; firsts, 27½@28½c; seconds, 24½@27c; thirds, 23@24c. State dairy, finest, 25½c; good to prime, 26@28c; common to fair, 23@25½c; renovated, extras, 24½@25c; firsts, 24@24c; lower grades, 22@23c; imitation creamery, firsts, 23@24c; ladles, current make, firsts, 22@22½c; seconds, 21@21½c; lower grades, 19½@20½c; packing stock, June make, fine, 21c; current make, fine, 20½@21c; No. 2, 20c; lower grades, 15@19½c.

EGGS.—Receipts yesterday, 9,836 cases. Arrivals of fresh-gathered eggs continue light, and the general market shows a firm tone. Qualities are still extremely irregular, and prices are showing a very wide range. But the medium and lower grades are working down a little better than heretofore and are averaging better in price, and high qualities containing a good proportion of new-laid stock are scarce and firm. Storage eggs are meeting a little better demand and tone is steadier. Nearby eggs in very small supply; fancy new-laid qualities continue in sellers' favor; offerings are of extremely irregular quality and value. Fresh-gathered, extra fine, per dozen 37@38c; extra firsts, 35@36c; firsts, 33@34c; seconds, 27@29c; thirds and poorer, 23@26c; dirties, No. 1, 22½@23c; No. 2 and poorer, 19@22c; checks, good to choice, dry, 21@21½c; culls and inferior, 16@20½c; refrigerator special marks, fancy, 28c; firsts, 24½@25½c; seconds, 23@24c; thirds or poorer, 20@22½c; dirties, 18@21c; State Penn. and nearby, hennery whites, fine to fancy, 53@57c; ordinary to fine, 35@53c; Western gathered whites, 34@36c; State, Penn., and nearby hennery browns, 40@42c; gathered brown and mixed colors, 30@38c; nearby, refrigerator whites, 27@30c.

BANKRUPTCY NOTICES.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT, SO. Dist. of N. Y.—No. 22,606.—In Bankruptcy.—GEORGE M. GARSSON, individually and trading as GARSSON BARGAIN HOUSE, Bankrupt.

Creditors of said George M. Garsson, individually and trading as Garsson Bargain House, are hereby given notice that on September 3d, 1915, he was duly adjudicated bankrupt. The first meeting of creditors will be held at my office, No. 32 Beaver Street, New York City, November 8th, 1915, at 2 P. M. Creditors may prove claims, appoint a Trustee, examine the bankrupt, and transact such other business as may come before the meeting.

Dated New York, October 27th, 1915.

WILLIAM H. WILLIS, Referee in Bankruptcy.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT, Southern District of New York.—No. 22055.—In Bankruptcy.—DAVID KIGNER and RUBIN KIGNER, Bankrupts, individually and trading as D. KIGNER & BRO.

David Kigner and Rubin Kigner were duly adjudicated bankrupt on August 24th, 1915, and the first meeting of creditors will be held at my office, 71 Broadway, City of New York, on November 8th, 1915, at 11 A. M. Creditors may then attend, prove their claims, appoint a Trustee, examine the bankrupt, and transact such other business as may properly come before said meeting.

Dated October 26th, 1915.

STANLEY W. DEXTER, Referee in Bankruptcy.

REST TALLAS CASE TODAY.

Prosecution Completes Testimony Against Nichols Pantry Boy.

Further testimony that Mrs. Elizabeth B. Nichols, wealthy widow of James Nichols, was strangled to death by burglars who entered her home on Sept. 8, was given at the trial for murder of Onnie Tallas, her pantry boy, before Judge Malone in General Sessions yesterday. Dr. Otto Schultze, medical examiner for the District Attorney's office, described the results of a microscopic examination of Mrs. Nichols's body in the Morgue. The condition of her internal organs convinced prompts the purchase of such investments as the preferred stock of the Consumers Power Co. (Michigan).

Conservatism in Buying Stocks

This stock is commission approved, protected by earnings 3¼ times the amount necessary to pay dividend charges after paying all fixed charges and yields at its present price well over 6%.

Send for Descriptive Circular No. A-59

Hodenpyl, Hardy & Co
Incorporated
Investment Securities
14 Wall St., New York

State of Tennessee

Refunding 4% and 4½% Bonds

Exempt from Federal Income Tax.

Legal Investment for Savings Banks in New York, Connecticut and Other States.

Total debt less than 2% of Assessed Valuation.

Price 4% Bonds to yield 4.225%
Prices 4½% Bonds to yield 4.275%

Maturities and further particulars on request for Circular AG-75.

N.W.Halsey&Co
49 Wall Street, New York
Philadelphia, Boston · Chicago, Baltimore · San Francisco, St. Louis

$500 Bonds that pay 6%

and that come due in 1, 2 and 3 years. The security is two and three name commercial paper deposited with a trust company.

Circular T-28 gives full description. Call or write for it today.

COMMERCIAL SECURITY COMPANY
Est. 1908
Resources, $7,000,000.
Knabe Building.
8th Ave. & 30th Street.

A LITTLE START

may lead to important financial results. You need only a small cash sum and small monthly payments to become an investor if you use our

Partial Payment Plan

You can buy dividend-paying stocks and bonds, income from which accrues to you from date of first payment. Or you can buy at low prices into properties that have a promising future.

Send for our Booklet A.

Degener & Burke
Members N. Y. Stock Exchange
20 Broad Street · New York

City of Watervliet
New York
4½% City Hall Bonds
DUE SERIALLY
MAY 1ST, 1922 TO 1928
Exempt from Federal Income Tax and from Taxation in New York State.
Legal Investment for Savings Banks and Trust Funds in New York and acceptable as security for Postal Savings Deposits.
To Yield 4.30%
Curtis & Sanger
Members
New York, Boston, and Chicago Stock Exchanges.
49 WALL STREET
Boston · New York · Chicago

Wm.A.Read&Co.
Investment Bonds
Nassau & Cedar Sts., New York
Chicago Philadelphia Boston London

Municipal Bonds
Send for Offerings
Redmond & Co.
33 Pine Street - New York

W.C.Langley&Co.
Investments
115 Broadway, New York City

FINANCIAL MARKETS

War Stocks Slump in Final Hour —No New Aids for Exchange Market.

There were two popular views of yesterday's market. The first was that the professional traders, having witnessed a decline Tuesday on the whisper of peace overtures, took advantage of the uneasiness to sell stocks for a further decline. This was the view of the public. The other was that the investing public, having seen how easily war stocks were depressed by mere rumor of peace, sold out positions taken at lower prices. This, needless to say, was the view of the professionals. At any event, the market proved itself in a position where it was susceptible to attack, and the reaction assumed good sized proportions in some of the specialties which have derived their popularity from the war. The rails were generally undisturbed, although they did not benefit immediately by the loss of interest in some of the war order issues.

There was nothing more in yesterday's news to give color to the report that the Kaiser is willing to talk peace, and no one believed the report, but the fact is that it suggested what might happen some day when a real movement toward ending the war is made. Traders thought that if a random and extremely improbable rumor could start a reaction it was well to let the reaction take its course, in order that stocks may be better distributed before the advance is resumed. Baldwin Locomotive gave ground rather easily, slipping back 10 points from 140 without any support. Trading in Bethlehem was so limited that the movement in that issue was not significant. The stock closed at 559, with a net loss of 21 points. The Maxwell issues and Studebaker surrendered without much show of resistance some of the gains so easily added in the last few days. Studebaker holders were not enthusiastic over the terms of the new stock offering under which they are to be allowed to subscribe to the extent of only 7 per cent. of their holdings to the new shares. As for Maxwell, the rise had been engineered so crudely that much of the work was easily undone as soon as the stock was left to care for itself.

Steel regained its old position as market leader, transactions in that issue totaling 201,000, or about 20 per cent. of the day's entire trading. Whether Steel led the recession or was influenced by it was not clear. The quarterly earnings statement did not prove disappointing to any but those persons who put their expectations beyond the happiest possibilities, and the indication in the statement that the company is now earning a surplus at the rate of approximately 20 per cent. per annum proved satisfactory to the Street. The issue sold up to 86 yesterday, but closed off a point at 84⅞.

In the face of the weakness in most of the industries a display of strength throughout the list of coppers attracted not a little attention. Anaconda was both active and strong, closing at 78⅛, with a net gain of 1⅞ points. Chino, Inspiration, and Utah all held their ground after losing gains made before the market developed its real weakness in the last hour. Southern Railway responded quickly to an unusually good earning statement.

The bond market was again broad and active, New York City issues being in particular favor. Arrival of another $5,000,000 in gold was without apparent effect on the exchange market. Talk of new Government credits is still decidedly premature, although there is a tacit understanding that Great Britain and France shall be extended the banking accommodations they want whenever they are prepared to confirm a tentative understanding reached some time ago. Russia has not yet opened negotiations through official channels, although inquiries have been made in a roundabout way.

MONEY AND EXCHANGE.

RESERVE BANKS DISCOUNT RATES.

	Days.
	10 or Less.	Over 10 up to 30.	Over 30 up to 60.	Over 60 up to 90.	Over 90.
Boston	3	4	4	4	5
New York	3	4	4	4	5
Phila.	3	4	4	4½	5
Cleveland	3½	4	4	4½	5
Richmond	4	4	4	4½	5
Atlanta	4	4	4	4½	5
Chicago	4	4	4	4½	5
St. Louis	3	4	4	4	5
Minneap.	4	4	4	4½	5
Kan. City	4	4	4	4	5
Dallas	4	4	4	4½	5
San Fran.	3	3½	4	4½	5

*Notes maturing in not more than 90 days secured by cotton or other staples, warehoused and insured, or in course of shipment, are discountable at the special rate of 3 per cent.

BANK ACCEPTANCES.

Sixty days	2¼@2⅛
Ninety days	2¼@2⅛

COLLATERAL LOANS.

	High.	Low.	Last.	Renewal Rate.
On call	2	1⅝	2	1⅝

ON TIME.

60 days	2⅛@2¼	5 months	2⅜@3
90 days	2⅛@2¼	6 months	2¼@3
4 months	2¼@3

COMMERCIAL PAPER.
Best Known Names.

4 months	3 @3¼	6 months	3 @3½
60 to 90 days			3

Other Names.

4 months	3¼@3¾	6 months	3½@4

FOREIGN EXCHANGE RATES.
Range of Sterling.

	High.	Low.	Last.	Chge.
Demand	$4.62½	$4.60¾	$4.62¾	+ .00⅞
Cables	4.63⅜	4.61⅝	*4.63	+ .00⅝

Closing Rates.

	Demand, (or check.)	Cable.
London	$4.62⅜	$4.63
Paris	5.96½	5.95½
Switzerland	5.36⅝	5.35⅝
Scandinavia	25.95	26.05
Berlin	.81⅝	.81⅞
China—
Hongkong	48.35	49.50
Shanghai	56.00	..
Singapore	57.50	..
Greece	5.17	5.18
Holland	.40⅝	.41⅛
India—
Bombay	38.00	..
Calcutta	38.75	..
Italy	6.45	6.44
Japan—
Kobe	49.37	49.45
Yokohama	49.12½	..
Philippine Islands—
Manilla	49.62	49.75
South America—
Buenos Aires	41.00	41.12
Rio	23.37	23.50
Spain	19.00	19.00
Austria	14.60	14.70
Russia	..	32.50

TIME BILLS ON LONDON.

	Bankers.		Commercial.
	60 Days.	90 Days.	60 Days.	90 Days.
	$4.58¾	$4.56¼	$4.56¾	$4.54¾

Clearing House Figures.

New York Clearing House exchanges, $519,226,060; balance, $25,418,355; Sub-Treasury credit balance, $486,583.

The local banks have gained $4,399,000 on their Sub-Treasury operations since Friday.

Domestic Exchange.

Exchange on New York at domestic centres: Boston, par; Chicago, 10c discount; St. Louis, par; San Francisco, 35c premium; Montreal, 15⅝c premium.

Bar Silver.

London, 24d, up 1-16d; New York, 48¾c, unchanged.

Trading Quiet on Paris Bourse.

PARIS, Oct. 27.—Trading was quiet on the Bourse today. Three per cent. rentes 66 francs for cash. Exchange on London 27 francs 60½ centimes.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 27, 1915.

	Stocks, (Shares.)
Total sales	1,112,336
Same day last year	Exch. closed
Year to date	138,762,794
Same period last year	45,989,158
Average price and change 50 stocks	91.93 — .85
Same day last year	*Exch. closed

	High.		Low.
Year's range to date	94.13	Oct. 22	68.99	Feb. 24
Range year 1914	73.30	Jan. 31	57.41	July 30
Range year 1913	79.10	Jan. 9	63.09	June 10

*Closing average July 30, 57.77.

Closing. Bid.	Ask.	Sales.		First.	High.	Low.	Last.	Net Chge.
33	33½	2,400	Alaska Gold mines	33⅛	33⅞	33	33½	— ⅝
41¾	42½	10,600	Allis-Chalmers Mfg	43	43⅝	41¾	42	—1½
73½	74	1,200	Allis-Chal. Mfg. pf	73⅝	74	73½	73¾	+ ⅞
71½	72	600	Am. Agricul. Chem	72	72¾	71½	71½	— ⅞
64	64½	600	Am. Beet Sugar	65¾	65¾	64	64¼	— ⅝
103	107	200	Am. B. S. & F. t r	103½	103½	103	103	+1
212	220	3,100	Am. B. S.& F.pf.t.r.	200	213	200	209	+13
61½	61¾	12,500	Am. Can	61	63¼	61⅜	61½	—1½
106½	106¾	100	Am. Can pf	106⅞	106⅞	106⅞	106⅞	+ ⅛
86	86¾	23,700	Am. Car & Fdry	88	88¾	85	86½	—1½
152¼	153¼	600	Am. Coal Products	155¾	155¾	152¼	152¼	—1¾
61	61½	1,000	Am. Cotton Oil	62½	63	61	61	—2
107	115	50	Am. Express	111	111	111	111	...
12¾	13	1,000	Am. H. & Leather	13⅜	13½	12⅞	12⅞	— ⅜
57¼	57¼	2,100	Am. Ice Securities	57¼	58	57	57½	+ ⅜
24¼	24⅜	700	Am. Ice Securities	25¾	25¾	24½	24⅝	—1⅝
27	27¼	9,600	Am. Linseed	27⅞	28	26⅝	27	—1
45¼	46	3,740	Am. Linseed pf	46	47½	45¾	46	— ¾
69¾	69¾	14,400	Am. Locomotive	70¾	72¼	69¼	69¾	—1⅝
8½	9	10,700	Am. Malt	7¾	10	7¾	8½	+1¼
33	33½	1,900	Am. Malt pf	30¾	34½	30¾	34	+1½
82	...	60	Do., odd lot	30	30	30	30	...
92½	92¾	7,500	Am. Smelt. & Ref	93	93¼	91½	92¾	— ⅛
82	82½	300	Am. Smelt. S. pf. B	82½	82½	82½	82¼	...
68¼	68½	4,900	Am. Steel F'dries	70½	70¾	68	68½	—1½
111½	112½	100	Am. Sugar Ref	112	112	112	112	+ ¼
124¼	124½	1,300	Am. Teleph. & Tel	124¼	124⅝	124¼	124¼	— ⅜
229¾	231	100	Am. Tobacco	229¾	228¾	229½	229½	— ⅜
53¼	53½	6,100	Am. Woolen	54½	55	52⅝	52⅝	—2⅞
51	52	200	Am. Woolen pf	52½	52½	52½	52¾	—1½
96¼	97⅝	200	Am. Woolen pf	97	97	97	97	— ⅞
78⅛	78¼	65,800	Anaconda Cop. Co	76½	78¼	76½	78⅛	+1⅞
8	12	2,300	Assets Realization	11¾	14	11¾	13½	+3¼
106½	106¾	1,300	Atch., Top. & S. F	107⅛	107⅛	106⅞	106⅝	— ⅛
101	101⅛	400	Atch., T. & S. F.pf	101	101⅛	101	101⅛	+ ⅛
132	132½	30,600	Baldwin Loco	130	140⅞	130½	132¾	+5⅞
92⅞	93	3,900	Baltimore & Ohio	93	93⅞	92¾	93	...
75	75½	100	Baltimore & O. pf	75	75	75	75	— ⅝
...	...	10	Bank of Commerce	173	173	173	173	...
525	550	300	Bethlehem Steel	580	580	559	559	—21
525	550	70	Do., odd lot	580	580	553½	553½	...
85	86	500	Bklyn Rapid Tran	86½	86½	86	86	— ⅝
133½	135	200	Bklyn Union Gas	132	134	132	134	—2
86	90	100	Burns Bros.	87	87	87	87	—1
65	65½	2,900	Butte & Superior	65	65⅞	64	65	— ⅛
30½	32	100	Butterick Co	30½	30½	30½	30½	+ ⅝
41½	43	300	California Petrol	41⅝	41⅝	41½	41½	...
173⅜	174	9,030	Canadian Pacific	173⅜	175½	173	173⅜	...
57¼	57⅝	9,900	Central Leather Co	57⅛	58¼	57	57⅛	+ ⅛
107½	107⅝	200	Central Leather pf	107⅞	107⅞	107⅝	107⅝	+ ⅛
57¼	57⅝	4,200	Chesapeake & Ohio	57⅜	57⅞	57¼	57⅝	+ ⅛
13¾	13⅞	300	Chi. Great Western	13⅞	13¾	13¾	13¾	+ ⅛
34	34½	500	Chi. Gt. West. pf	34½	34⅝	34¼	34¼	+ ⅛
92⅜	92¾	900	Chi., Mil. & St. P.	92⅞	93	92¼	92¼	— ⅞
127½	128¼	100	Chi., M. & St. P. pf.	128⅜	128⅜	128⅜	128⅜	— ⅛
127½	128½	10	Do., odd lot	128½	128½	128½	128½	...
177⅜	177⅞	11,000	Chi., Rock Isl. & P.	177⅛	180	177⅛	177⅞	+ ⅜
116	120	100	Chi., St. P., M.& O.	116⅜	116⅞	116⅜	116⅜	—1⅞
116	120	10	Do., odd lot	116½	116½	116½	116½	...
50¾	51	6,400	Chino Copper	50½	51⅝	50	50⅞	+ ⅛
50	53	100	Clev., C., C. & St.L.	50½	50½	50⅛	50⅛	...
60	63½	400	Cluett, Peabody Co.	60⅝	63⅝	60	63	— ¼
57¼	57¾	14,500	Col. Fuel & Iron	58	59¾	56⅝	57⅜	—1⅝
53½	54¼	100	Col. & South. 1st pf.	54½	54½	54½	54½	+1
142¾	143¼	9,300	Consolidated Gas	141	146½	140	143¼	+2
100	101	1,650	Continental Can	101	102	100	100	—1⅜
19⅝	19⅞	7,400	Corn Products Ref	20⅛	20⅝	19⅝	19⅞	— ⅛
89	90	1,000	Corn Prod. Ref. pf.	90¼	90⅝	90	90	+ ⅛
85¼	86	28,300	Crucible Steel	89	90	84½	86	—4
117	119	2,100	Cuban-Am. Sugar	117	121	117	118	+1½
210	213	100	Del., Lack. & West.	212½	212½	212½	212½	—2½
8	8½	100	Den. & Rio Grande	8½	8½	8½	8½	— ⅛
19	19¼	200	Den. & Rio Gr. pf.	19	19	19	19	+3½
46⅞	47	10,600	Distillers' Secur	47⅛	48¼	46½	47	—2½
24⅞	25	14,000	Dome Mines	26⅞	27	24	25	—2¼
70½	72	200	Elec. Storage Bat	71	71	71	71	— ¼
38⅝	39⅜	33,900	Erie	40¼	40⅝	39	39½	— ⅛
55¾	56¼	6,900	Erie 1st pf	56¼	57	55⅞	56⅛	— ⅛
46	48	400	Erie 2d pf	47¼	47¼	47	47	— ¾
49	51	100	Federal M. & S. pf.	50½	50½	50½	50½	...
340	350	20	General Chemical	345	345	345	345	...
177	179	3,500	General Electric	179⅝	179⅝	177	177	—1⅞
364	366	200	General Motors	367	367	366	366	—9
112⅝	113½	300	General Motors pf	112⅞	113	112⅝	113	...
77½	77¾	12,770	Goodrich (B. F.) Co	78	78⅜	77	77⅝	— ⅛
114½	115	1,200	Goodrich pf	114½	114½	114½	114½	+3⅝
121½	122	800	Great Northern pf	122¾	122¾	121¾	121¾	— ⅞
50	50¼	11,800	G. N. ctfs. ore prop.	50⅜	51⅞	49⅜	50	— ⅞
38	38¾	500	Greene-Cananea	39	39	38¼	38¼	— ¾
67¼	67½	2,050	Guggenheim Explor	67½	68	67¼	67⅝	— ⅛
107	109	200	Illinois Central	108	108	108	108	+1
45¼	45⅜	44,500	Inspiration Copper	44½	45¾	44½	45¼	+ ⅛
22	22½	1,400	Inter.-Met.	22¾	22¾	22	22	— ⅜
99¼	99¾	2,900	Interboro Consol	99¾	99¾	99¾	99¾	— ⅛
78	78¼	700	Interboro Con. pf	78⅝	78⅝	78	78	— ½
78	78¼	50	Do., odd lot	78¼	78¼	78¼	78¼	...
23	24	400	Int. Agricultural	24⅜	24⅞	23¼	23¼	—1¼
54	54¼	2,100	Int. Agricultural pf	54¾	54¾	53⅞	54¼	— ½
108	109	1,000	Int. Harvester, N.J.	109	109	108	108	—1½
104½	105	1,350	Int. Nickel v. tr.cfs.	103½	103½	103	102	—1½
106	108	100	Int. Nickel pf.v.tr.cfs.	108	108	108	108	+1
11	11¼	1,600	Int. Paper	11½	11½	11	11	— ½
42	42	1,000	Int. Paper pf	42½	43	41¾	41½	— ½
29	29¼	4,100	Kansas City South	28¾	29⅝	28¾	29	...
62	62½	200	Kan. City South.pf.	62½	62¾	62½	62¼	...
127⅜	128½	15	Kings Co. El.L.& P.	129½	129½	129½	129½	...
225	250	100	Kresge (S. S.) Co.	249½	249½	249½	249½	+10½
81	81½	5,920	Lackawanna Steel	84	84¼	81	81¼	—2
103½	104½	100	Laclede Gas	104	104	104	104	—1
11	12	100	Lake Erie & West.	12	12	12	12	+ ½
28	32	400	Lake Erie & W. pf.	30	31	30	31	+1½
77⅝	77⅞	3,800	Lehigh Valley	78⅜	78⅞	77½	77⅞	— ⅛
24½	26	200	Long Island	24¾	24¾	24¾	24¾	— ¼
177½	183½	500	Lorillard (P.) Co	182½	182½	182	182	+1½
125½	127	100	Louis. & Nash	127	127	127	127	+2
81½	82	21,100	Maxwell Motors	84	86	80¼	81¾	—4⅛
99½	100	3,900	Max. Motors 1st pf.	101¼	102	99½	99⅞	—1
61⅝	62½	13,850	Max. Motors 2d pf.	64½	66	60¾	61⅞	—2⅞
51	53	800	May Dept. Stores	52½	52⅝	52½	53	+2
89	89¼	4,200	Mexican Petroleum	89	89½	87½	89½	+ ⅛
34⅝	35	6,750	Miami Copper	35	35⅝	34⅝	35	+ ⅛
120½	121	200	M., St. P. & S. S. M.	120⅝	120⅞	120⅝	120⅝	+ ⅛
125	128	200	M., St.P. & S.S.M.pf.	127⅞	127⅞	127⅞	127⅞	+ ⅛
73	85	100	M.,St.P. & S.S.M.1.l.	74⅜	74⅜	74⅜	74⅜	+8⅜
...	5¾	200	Mo., Kan. & Texas	5⅝	5⅞	5⅝	5⅞	— ⅛
14	15	800	Mo., Kan. & T. pf.	14	14	14	14	— ⅛
4⅝	4⅞	600	Missouri Pacific	4⅞	4⅞	4⅝	4⅞	— ⅛
58½	58⅝	1,000	Montana Power	57½	58⅛	57⅞	58⅛	+ ⅛
82	83	200	Nat. Cloak & Suit	83	83	83	83	...
108	110	100	Nat. Cloak & S. pf.	109¾	109¾	109¾	109¾	+ ⅝
33¾	33¾	4,500	Nat. En. & St. Co.	34¾	34¾	33¾	33¾	— ½
92	92	100	Nat. E. & S. Co. pf.	92	92	92	92	...
67	67	2,500	Nat. Lead Co	67	67	65⅞	65⅞	—1½
15⅛	15⅝	1,860	Nevada Con. Cop	15⅛	15⅝	15	15	— ⅜
146	147	1,500	N. Y. Air Brake	148	148	146	147	—1½
100⅜	100⅝	5,300	N. Y. Central	100	101	100	100¼	— ⅛
82	82¼	2,700	N. Y., N. H. & H.	81¾	82¾	81½	81⅞	— ⅛
30⅛	30¼	1,700	N. Y. Ont. & West.	30⅜	30⅜	29¾	29⅞	— ⅛
19½	22	100	Norfolk Southern	19½	19½	19½	19½	— ⅛
115	115⅜	700	Norfolk & Western	115⅞	116	115½	115⅞	— ⅛
72	73	200	North American	72	72	72	72	...
111⅜	112	1,800	Northern Pacific	112¼	112½	111¾	111¾	— ⅜
42	44	100	Pacific Tel. & Tel	43¼	43¼	43¼	43¼	— ¾
58½	58⅝	3,700	Penn. R. R.	58⅝	59	58¼	58⅝	— ⅛
119¾	120¼	1,100	People's Gas, Chi	119½	120¼	119½	120¼	+1½
46	46½	1,500	Philadelphia Co	47	47	45⅝	46	— ½
78⅝	80	30	P., C., C. & St. L.	80⅝	80⅝	80⅝	80⅝	...
38	38½	3,700	Pittsburgh Coal	39	39	37⅜	38	— ⅝
105	107	500	Pittsburgh Coal pf.	106	106¼	105¼	105¼	— ⅝
73	73¼	18,500	Pressed Steel Car	74½	76	72¾	73	...
111	111½	300	Public Service N. J.	111	111	111	111	...
165⅞	167	100	Pullman Co	166⅜	166⅞	166⅜	166⅝	— ⅜
49¼	49¼	4,600	Railway Steel Sp	49¾	51⅞	48	49½	— ⅛
25⅝	25⅞	7,000	Ray Con. Copper	25¼	26	25½	25⅝	+ ⅛
79½	79⅞	16,450	Reading	79⅝	80⅝	79	79⅜	+ ⅛
52¾	53¾	6,900	Rep. Iron & Steel	53⅞	54	52¼	52⅜	—1½
103½	104	100	Rep. Iron & S. pf	103½	103½	103½	103½	— ½
5¼	5½	1,000	Rumely, (M.,) Co	5¼	5½	5¼	5½	+ ⅛
7¾	8⅝	500	Rumely,(M.,) Co. pf.	7¾	8¼	7¾	8¼	+1
5⅝	5½	600	St. Louis & S. F.	5⅝	6	5⅝	5½	— ⅛
10	11	100	St. L. & S. F. 1st pf.	10	10	10	10	+ ⅛
7⅝	7⅞	400	St. L. & S. F. 2d pf.	7⅝	7⅞	7⅝	7⅝	+ ⅛
16½	16½	300	St. Louis Southwest.	16½	16½	16½	16½	+ ⅛
13¾	13¾	1,600	Seaboard Air Line	13¾	13¾	13¾	13¾	+ ⅛
34½	34⅝	500	Seaboard Air Line pf.	34½	34⅝	34¼	34¼	+ ⅛
39¼	40¼	1,400	Seab. Air Line pf.	39¼	40⅜	39	39½	— ⅛
156¾	157⅜	400	Sears, Roeb. & Co	157⅝	157½	157⅜	157⅜	+ ⅛
59⅝	60	1,400	Sloss-Sh. S. & I. Co.	59⅝	60	58	60	...
98¾	98¾	5,100	Southern Pacific	98⅜	98⅞	98¼	98¼	— ¼
120	134½	250	So. Porto Rico Sug.	134	135½	134	135½	—1½
21¾	22¼	21,000	Southern Railway	21⅞	23¼	21⅞	22¾	+1¼
60	62	4,920	So. Railway pf	60	62	60	61½	+2
84½	85	11	Standard Mill. pf.	80¼	80¼	80¼	80¼	...
179	180	14,050	Studebaker Co.	186½	188	177	179½	—5½
117	118	2,200	Studebaker Co. pf.	116	119½	116	117	+4
63½	63¾	4,550	Tennessee Copper	64¼	64¾	63	63⅜	...
165	168	1,500	Texas Co.	168	170	165¼	165¼	—2½
13¾	13⅞	800	Texas & Pacific	13⅞	14	13⅝	14	+ ⅛
60½	61	1,840	Third Avenue	61½	61½	60⅞	61	— ⅛
91	93	300	Underwood Typew.	91¾	91¾	91	91	— ¾
7	7¼	800	Union B. & P. Co.	7	7	7	7	...
27	27	100	Un. B. & P. Co. pf.	26	26	26	26	...
135	135¼	6,700	Union Pacific	135⅜	136½	135¼	135¼	— ¼
63	64½	4,300	United Cigar Mfrs.	63½	66½	62½	63	—2
9⅞	9⅞	4,700	United Cigar Stores.	9⅞	9⅞	9⅞	9⅞	— ⅛
11½	12¼	500	Un. Cigar Stores pf.	11½	11½	11½	11½	...
26	26¼	700	United Fruit Co.	26	26¼	25⅝	25⅝	— ⅛
43	45	400	United Fuit Co. pf.	43	43	43	43	—2
28¾	29¾	27	U. S. C. I. P. & F.	28¾	29¾	27	28¾	+1½
50	51½	2,100	U.S.C. I. P. & F. pf.	50	51½	49½	51	+2
68	68	100	U. S. Express	68	68	68	68	— ½
120	120¼	118	U. S. Indus. Alco	120	120¼	118	118	—3
120½	120½	100	do., cash	120½	120½	120½	120½	...
105	105	100	U. S. Ind. Alco. pf.	105	105	105	105	— ½
3	3	100	U. S. Red. & Ref.	3	3	3	3	...
55⅛	56½	14,100	U. S. Rubber	55⅛	56½	55⅛	55¾	+ ⅛
106	106	100	U. S. Rub. 1st pf.	106	106	106	106	...
85⅛	86	201,100	U. S. Steel	85⅛	86	84⅜	84⅞	—1
115¼	115⅝	1,400	U. S. Steel pf	115¼	115½	115¼	115¼	— ⅛
70⅝	71⅜	12,100	Utah Copper	70⅝	71⅜	70⅝	71	...
49¼	49½	5,900	Va.-Car. Chemical	49⅞	51⅛	48	49½	— ⅛
70	72	1,000	Va. Iron, Coal & C.	73½	73½	70	70	—2⅞
14¼	14⅜	16,980	Wabash w. i.	13⅞	14½	13¾	14¼	+ ⅝
46⅝	46⅞	14,800	Wabash pf. A w. i.	46½	47½	46¼	46¾	...
28¼	28⅝	21,800	Wabash pf. B w. i.	27½	28⅝	27½	28¼	+1
119	120	500	Wells Fargo Exp.	120	120	120	120	...
32¼	33	300	Western Maryland	32⅜	32⅜	32⅜	32⅜	...
79¾	80	1,700	Western Union Tel.	79¾	80¼	79¼	80	— ⅛
72⅜	72⅝	60,600	Westinghouse El. & M.	72⅝	74½	71¼	72½	— ⅝
3⅞	4	1,600	Wheeling & L. E.	3⅞	4	3⅞	3⅞	...
12¾	14	1,550	W. & L. E. 1st pf.	11½	13⅜	11	13⅜	+1⅜
5¼	5¾	1,600	W. & L

AMERICAN BRASS
BABCOCK & WILCOX
LIMA LOCOMOTIVE
NEW JERSEY ZINC
NILES-BEMENT-POND
REMINGTON TYPE.

CANADIAN ISSUES
PRIVATE WIRE TO MONTREAL

BRAZILIAN TRAC.
DOMINION STEEL
CAN. GENL. ELEC.
NATL. STEEL CAR

BOUGHT & SOLD

JENKS, GWYNNE & CO
15 BROADST
TEL. MANOVER 7474
MEMBERS N.Y. STOCK EXCHANGE

McCrory Stores
CORPORATION
7% CUMULATIVE PREFERRED STOCK

The McCrory system, established thirty-three years ago, has grown from one store with a nominal capital until today it operates 115 stores. Prior to its incorporation in 1915 this growth was financed almost entirely by the reinvestment of surplus profits.

The financing effected early in the current year supplies the corporation with working capital proportionately larger than that of other concerns in the same line of business. Beneficial effects from this new capital are expected to the extent of a 25% increase in profits in the current year and a larger ratio of increase in 1916.

The popularity of Five and Ten Cent Stores as reflected in the steady growth of this company, together with the large margin of safety for both principal and dividends, we believe, warrants our recommendation of this Preferred Stock to conservative investors.

Descriptive Circular and Recent Sales Figures on Application.

Price to Yield Over 7%

MERRILL, LYNCH & CO.
Seven Wall St., NEW YORK. Penobscot Bldg., DETROIT.
Telephone Rector 6377.

Tennessee Copper
"Rights"

BOUGHT & SOLD

HARTSHORNE AND PICABIA
Members N. Y. Stock Exchange
7 Wall St. Tel. Rector 4590.

Members N. Y. Stock Exchange

Will Buy:—

Safety Car Htg. & Ltg.
Singer Mfg. Co.
Gulf States Steel
Am. Brass Co.
Celluloid Co.
Am. Druggists Synd.
Yale & Towne Mfg.
Remington Typewriter
A. B. Kirschbaum Pfd.
Ward Baking Com.

ESTABLISHED 1873
TOBEY & KIRK

International Mercantile Marine Company
Special Descriptive Circulars on request.
E. BUNGE & CO.
44 Broad St., New York
'Phones Broad 6951—2—3—4—5—6.

Parkinson & Burr
Founded 1866.
Members New York Stock Exchange
7 Wall Street, New York
Boston Hartford

N. Y. Shipbuilding
J.K.Rice,Jr.&Co.
Phones 4001 to 4010 John. 36 Wall St., N. Y.

NEUTRAL CARGOES TO BE GUARANTEED

Government and American Overseas Corporation Unite to Assist Exporters.

TO GIVE PLEDGES TO ALLIES

American Shipments to be Guarded So as Not to Reach the Enemies of the Entente Powers.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Representatives here of the American Overseas Corporation were instructed tonight to inform Secretary Redfield of the Department of Commerce that the corporation was prepared to begin operations in accordance with conditions outlined in the Secretary's letter, which was considered today at the Director's meeting in New York. A conference will be held at the department tomorrow to arrange the details of Government co-operation with the new enterprise.

It is understood here that the corporation will send representatives abroad immediately to negotiate arrangements with the Governments of Great Britain and the Scandinavian countries for handling American export business through its system. Operation of the plan is expected to be launched between Nov. 10 and Nov. 15.

Bankers and business men interested in the proposed American Overseas Corporation held a meeting yesterday at the Guranty Trust Company, at which preliminary steps of organization were taken. A. J. Hemphill, Chairman of the trust company, was elected provisional President of the new institution, and R. L. Seamon of the trust company's foreign department was chosen Secretary for the time being. No further information about the progress made was made public, except for a statement that formal anouncement of plans and the names of permanent officers would be issued within ten days. It is understood that the officers will be men affiliated with the Guaranty.

The purpose of the corporation will be to give guarantees that shipments under its direction are noncontraband and will not reach enemy countries. The corporation will act simply as a forwarding agency with the additional function of assuring nations at war that shipments of merchandise and foodstuffs are bona fide and intended solely for neutral destinations. It is expected that this work will tend to reduce insurance rates on vessels and cargoes going to and from Europe, and will lessen delays in the movement of goods across the seas.

It was reported the meeting discussed a letter from Secretary of Commerce Redfield, and also considered the methods followed by the Overseas Trust of Holland, which for many months has virtually controlled the foreign trade of the Netherlands. Under the laws of the Dutch organization, every importer and exporter must notify the trust of his business ventures. Due inquiry is made into the information given, and a bank guarantee is secured by the organization that goods to be exported are not for the account of a buyer belonging to a nation at war. In case of imports the bank guarantee extends to the matter of consumption of the goods, which are confiscated by the trust if it is learned that shipments are going to belligerents.

Many local manufacturers and exporters have assured the sponsors of the American corporation that they will further the venture in all ways possible. It is expected that the names of firms actively interested in the corporation's work will be made public shortly.

IMPORTS LITTLE DECREASED

Exports for First Eight Months of 1915 Tremendously Increased.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Statistics prepared by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce show that imports for the eight months ending with August last totaled $1,150,858,760; for the same period ending with August, 1914, the total was $1,270,361,263. In the same period of 1915 the volume of exports was $1,034,502,456, as compared with $616,289,563 in the same months the year before.

Exports to Europe increased extraordinarily. From $48,875,232 in August, 1914, they went up to $172,495,744 in August, 1915, and for the eight months they increased from $783,921,580 in 1914 to $1,634,693,475 this year. At the same time both imports and exports in our trade with North and South America, Asia, Oceania, and Africa increased very heavily. For instance, in August last year our exports to South America amounted to $5,312,457, but this year they were $13,450,247. Exports to other parts of the world were in the same ratio of increase.

Trade with the war countries has suffered a wholesale diminution. Imports from Austria fell from $830,506 in August, 1914, to $113,061 last August; Belgium, from $2,329,145 to $76,038; Germany, from $9,400,033 to $725,244; Italy, from $3,445,825 to $2,694,413, and Russia, from $740,766 to $440,124. France alone shows an increase. We imported from France in August, 1914, goods to the value of $6,962,668, and in the same month this year $7,538,826.

Exports to Germany for the eight months ending with last August fell off from $156,038,929 for the same period in 1914 to $11,688,510; Austria, from $12,798,495 to $43,334, and Belgium, from $32,696,395 to $14,057,335. Imports from Germany in the same period fell off from $110,886,396 to $36,819,943; Austria, from $12,802,157 to $4,540,188, and Belgium, from $28,184,693 to $1,711,434.

SCHWAB REJECTS APPEAL.

Issues Letter Refusing to Cut Bethlehem Shares to $10.

Charles M. Schwab said in a letter sent out last night to about 100 persons, banks and brokerage firms that the Directors of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation were opposed to reducing the par value of Bethlehem stock from $100 to $10 a share. Mr. Schwab's letter resulted from a circular issued in the financial district asking that the change be made. The circular said that owing to the high price of Bethlehem stock, there was danger of wide fluctuations, which stockholders did not like to see, and that an increase in the number of shares outstanding through the reduction of the par value would have a beneficial effect on the market. Copies of the circular were sent to the Bethlehem offices signed by the persons and firms to whom Mr. Schwab wrote.

"While we have great respect for the judgment of those from whom these communications emanate," said the letter, speaking for the Directors, "we have been compelled to consider the request which they contain from the point of view of the interests of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation and the entire body of stockholders. Viewing the situation from this standpoint, it is our unanimous conviction that it would be a mistake to reduce the par value of the shares from $100 to $10 at the present time.

"Our business at present is large and profitable, but conditions are unusual, and any readjustment of capitalization that may be deemed necessary can well await the return of more normal conditions. Furthermore, we are in a position to assure you that the holders of a substantial majority of the stock of our company are opposed to the change."

CONSOLIDATED EXCHANGE.

The reactionary tendency which affected most of the market in the late trading on the Consolidated Exchange had a special effect upon Crucible Steel, Baldwin Locomotive, Maxwell Motor and Studebaker, which all broke sharply. Vague rumors of early peace was used as a factor to depress these so-called war issues. The railroad shares, as a rule, held well, with Southern Railway the feature.

Sales.		Open.	High.	Low.	Last.
850	Allis Chalmers	42⅞	43¼	41⅞	42
90	Am. Beet Sug.	64⅝	64⅝	64	64¼
1,630	Am. Can	61¾	63¼	61	61⅜
1,420	Am. C. & Fdy	88	88⅝	85½	86⅜
30	Am. H. & L. pf	13¾	13⅝	13¾	13⅜
220	Am. Linseed	28	28½	27¼	27¼
1,230	Am. Locom've	70⅜	72	69½	70⅜
20	Am. Malt	9⅝	9⅝	9⅝	9⅝
860	Am. Smelting	93	93¼	91⅝	92¼
30	Am. T. & Tel.	124⅜	124⅜	124⅜	124⅜
14,200	Anaconda Cop.	76½	78⅝	76½	78¼
60	A., T. & S. F.	106⅞	107	106⅞	107
530	Baldwin Loco.	130¾	140¼	131½	132⅝
60	Balt. & Ohio	91	93¼	92½	92⅝
10	Brooklyn R. T.	86¾	86¾	86¾	86¾
20	California Pet.	18⅛	18⅛	18⅛	18⅛
80	Can. Pacific	173	175⅝	173¾	173¾
510	Cent. Leather	57⅛	58	56⅝	57
80	Ches. & Ohio	57½	57⅝	57½	57½
330	C. I. & L. P.	17⅝	18⅛	17¼	17⅜
370	Chino Copper	50⅝	51⅝	50	50
1,560	Col. Fuel & I.	58¼	59⅛	56⅝	57½
220	Consol. Gas	141⅜	145½	141⅜	143⅞
320	Corn Products	20	20½	19⅜	19⅜
2,430	Crucible Steel	89	89⅝	84	85¼
220	Dist. Securities	47⅛	48	46½	46¾
2,780	Erie	40¼	40¼	39	39⅜
250	Erie 1st pf	56⅝	56⅝	55¾	56⅜
740	Goodrich Co	78⅝	78⅝	76¾	77⅝
480	Gt. Nor. Ore	50½	51	50	50
10	Gug'heim Ex	68	68	68	68
1,180	Inspiration Cop	45¼	45⅞	44⅝	45½
60	Interboro Cons.	22½	22½	22¼	22½
10	Kan. City So.	28½	28⅝	28½	28½
270	Lehigh Valley	79	79	77⅞	78
960	Maxwell Motor	86	86	81	81⅜
310	Mexican Pet.	89¼	89¼	87⅞	88⅝
360	Miami Copper	34⅞	35¼	34⅞	35
80	Nat. En. & Stg	34	34	33	33
40	Nevada Con.	15¼	15⅝	15¼	15⅜
40	N. Y. Central	100⅜	100⅜	100⅜	100⅜
140	N. Y. N. H. & H	83	83	81½	81⅜
100	Pennsylvania	59	59	59	59
100	Pitts. Coal	38¼	38⅝	38	38
250	Pressed S. Car.	74⅛	75⅞	72½	72⅛
160	Ray Copper	25⅞	25⅞	25½	25⅝
2,470	Reading	70¾	80½	70	79½
550	Rep. Iron & S.	53⅜	54½	53¼	53¼
280	Southern Pac.	98½	98⅝	98⅛	98⅛
410	Southern Ry.	21⅜	23¼	21⅜	23¼
150	Studebaker Co.	180½	188	180	180⅝
160	Tenn. Copper	64	64½	63	63⅜
70	Tenn. C. rights	2¼	2¼	2⅛	2⅛
50	Texas Pacific	13⅜	13⅜	13⅜	13⅜
870	Union Pacific	135½	136	135	135⅛
3,620	U. S. Rubber	53½	56⅝	55½	55⅞
34,380	U. S. Steel	85⅝	86	84⅝	84⅞
10	U. S. Steel pf.	115	115	115	115
530	Utah Copper	70¾	71½	70¾	71
310	Va.-Car. Chem.	50¾	50¾	49¼	49¾
7,100	West. E. & M.	72⅝	74½	71¼	72⅝
86,680

MINING STOCKS.

1,000	Atlanta	.25	.25	.25	.25
500	Cholla	.09	.09	.09	.09
100	Hale & Nor.	.10	.10	.10	.10
800	Isabella	.16½	.16½	.16	.16
500	Jim Butler	.80	.80	.80	.80
400	Mexican	.43	.43	.43	.43
500	Montana	.30	.30	.30	.30
300	Ophir	.45	.45	.45	.45
300	Sierra Nevada	.79	.79	.79	.79
800	Tonopah Ext.	2.87½	2.87½	2.87½	2.87½
700	West End	.72½	.75	.72½	.75
5,900

PUBLIC UTILITY SECURITIES.

	Bid.	Asked.
American Gas Co.	116	120
†American Light & Traction	340	345
†American Light & Traction pf.	107	109
Adirondack Electric Power	14	16
Adirondack Electric Power pf.	53	56
*American Gas & Electric	103	105
*American Gas & Electric pf.	48	50
American Power & Light	59	62
American Power & Light pf.	78½	80
American Public Utilities	30	35
American Public Utilities pf.	61	67
American Waterworks & Electric	5½	7½
Am. W. W. & E. participating pf.	13	16
American W. W. & E. 1st pf.	50	56
Atlantic P. & Lt. 7 p. c. cum. pf.	92	95
Cities Service	60	63
Cities Service pf.	64	66
Colorado Power	24	25½
Colorado Power pf.	95	97
Commonwealth P. R. & L.	55½	58
Commonwealth P. R. & L. pf.	81½	83½
Consumers Power Co. 5s, 1929	90¾	91¾
Consumers Power (Me.) pf.	90	94
Denver Gas & Electric gen. 5s	92	95
Electric Bond Deposit pf.	60	70
Electric Bond & Share pf.	98½	100
Empire District Electric 5s	76	80
Empire District Electric pf.	65	72
Federal Light & Traction	10	14
Federal Light & Traction pf.	50	70
Gas & Electric Securities	50	70
Gas & Electric Securities pf.	60	75
Great Western Power Co. 5s, 1946.	81½	83
Lincoln Gas & Electric	10	20
Northern Ontario Light & Power	10	15
Northern Ontario Light & P. pf.	50	55
Northern States Power	29½	30½
Northern States Power pf.	86	88
Ozark Power & Water	15	25
Pacific Gas & Electric	54	55
Pacific Gas & Electric pf.	87½	89
Republic Ry. & Light Co.	15
Republic Ry. & Light Co. pf.	62	65
Southern California Edison	77	80
Southern California Edison pf.	92	96
Southwestern Power & Light pf.	95	100
*Standard Gas & Electric	3¾	5
*Standard Gas & Electric pf.	27	28
Tennessee Ry., Light & Power	7½	9
Tennessee Ry., Light & Power pf.	30	35
United Light & Railways	38	42
United Light & Rys. 1st pf.	67	70
Utah Securities	15	16
Western Power	17	19
Western Power pf.	50	53

*Par value $50. †Ex dividend.

BID AND ASKED QUOTATIONS.

Closing quotations for United States Government bonds:

	Bid.	Asked.
2s, r. 1930	97½	..
2s, c. 1930	97½	..
3s, r. 1918	101	..
3s, c. 1918	101	..
3s, r. 1925	109	..
3s, c. 1925	109¾	..
Fan 2s, r. 1936	96½	..
Fan 2s, r. 1938	96½	..
Fan 3s, r. 1961	100½	..
Fan 3s, c. 1961	100½	..

Closing quotations for stocks in which there were no transactions:

	Bid.	Asked.
Adams Ex.	100	105
Am Ag Ch pf.	97½	98¾
Am B Sug pf.	92	93¾
Am C & F pf.	115	117
Am Cot Oil pf.	99	100¼
Am Lo pf.	98	99
A S pf. A.	86	87
A S & R pf.	109	109½
Am Snuff.	150	153
Do pf.	107	109½
Am Sug R pf.	115	116
Am T & C pf.	109	110½
Am W pf.	109	110½
Am W ctfs	95	98
Am Wr Pa pf.	8¼	9¾
A M 1st pf.	52	95
Atl C L.	109	111
Bald L pf.	109	112
Batop M.	1½	1⅝
Bond Plat.		38
Do pf.		70
Beth S pf.	170	175
Brown Sh.	37½	42
Do pf.	86	91
Bruns Ter.	7¾	8¼
B. R. & P.	75	95
Burns B pf.	100	101
Calif Pet.	15¾	16⅛
Canada So.	54½	..
Case (J I) pf.	79	84
Cent Leather	57	58
Do pf.	97	98
Cent Foundry	2	3
Do pf.	15	20
Cent Steel	50	55
Do pf.	100	105
Chi Pneu Tool	116	118
Do pf.	97	99
Chi Ry.		10
Do pf.		20
C. C. C. & St. L.	102½	..
Do pf.	82	..
Colo Fuel & Iron	38	39
Do pf.	102	112
Colo Oil	6¾	7
Colo Power	97	98
Colo Power pf.	100	..
Colo Southern	23	24
Do 1st pf.	46	48
Do 2d pf.	30	..
Cons Cigar	70	75
Do pf.	100	103
Cont Can pf.	108	109
Cont Chem	50	60
Cont Chem pf.	90	95
Cuba Cane	2	2½
Do pf.	15	20
Cuba Cane Sug	15	16
Do pf.	70	75
Cuba Cane Sug pf.	90	95
Cuba Co	3	4
Cuba Co pf.	15	20
Cuba R R pf.	50	60
Cuba R R 1st pf.	70	80
Cuba R R 2d pf.	30	40
Cuba Tobacco	30	35
Do pf.	70	75
Cuban Dom	2	3
Cuban Dom pf.	15	20
Cuban Ex	2	3
Cuban Ex pf.	15	20
Cuban Tel	15	16
Cuban Tel pf.	90	95
Cuban Trop	2	3
Cuban Trop pf.	15	20
Cuyamel Fruit	30	35
Davison Chem	3	4
Do pf.	15	20
Del & Hud	147	148
D M & Ft
D	6	..
Det Ed.	130½	131
Det Ry.	65	..
D S S & A	6	6½
Do pf.	11	12
East Kod.	500	..
F M & S.	20¼	30
Gen C pf.	112	115
Granby C.	90	100
Hock Val.		112
Homest'ke.	120	..
Int-M pf.	81	..
I H N J pf.	117	118
Int Harv.	97	99
Int Paper		10
Do pf.		20
Iowa Cent.		10
Do pf.		20
K C, Ft S & M pf.	62	..
Kayser (J) & Co.	83	86
Do 1st pf.	96	112
K & D M.	1¾	..
Do pf.	30	..
Kresge(SS) Co pf.	100	110¼
L E & W.	11	12
Ligg & M.	240	247
Do pf.	117	119
L-W Bts.	26	27
Do 1st pf.	94	95
Do 2d pf.	64⅞	65
Lorill'd Co pf.	112	115¾
M'kay Cos.	78¾	80½
Do pf.	63½	66
Man B'ch.	2	8
Man Elev.	128	130
Man Shirt.	54½	65
Do pf.	103	..
M Dep Sts pf.	98	98½
Mex P pf.	85¼	86
Mich Cent.	110	..
M & St L.	14	14
Do 1st pf.	26½	32
Mon P pf.	107	109
Mor & Es.	91	..
M & R pf.	60	75
N. C & St L.	127	135
Nat Bis.	126	129
Do pf.	121¾	..
Nat L pf.	110½	113
Nat Rys of M 1st pf.	20	25¾
Do 2d pf.	8¾	9
N Y, C & St L.	40½	42
Do 1st pf	80	85¾
Do 2d pf.	60	65
N Y, L & West	112½	..
Norf & Wn pf.	92	92
N W Tel.	51	..
Ont Min.	3	3¾
Pac Mail.	30½	31
Peo & E.	9	12
Pett-Mull.	75	80
Do 1st pf	95	100
P, C, C & St L pf.	93	99
P, Ft W & C.	154½	..
Pitts St pf.	97	99
Pr St'l Car pf.	104⅞	106
Quicksilver	2⅞	3
Do pf.	2½	4
Ry St'l Spr pf.	93	97
Rdg 1st pf.	42	44½
Do 2d pf.	42	43
Rock Isl'd.	¼	⅝
Do pf.	⅝	¾
Rumely (M) Co.	3¾	5
Do pf.	3¾	5
St L S W pf.	32½	34
Sears-R pf.	123½	..
S-S S & I pf.	88	94
So P R S pf.	105	110
So R'y M & O ctfs.	60	75
St'd Mill.	77¼	79
Tex Co full paid	101	170
T P L Tr.	94¾	..
Tob P pf.	90¾	100½
T, St L & West	4½	5½
Do pf.	10	12
T C & T.	36	39
Und T pf.	107	110
Un Bag & P.	82	82½
Un Cig M pf.	105	109
Un Dry G.	23	50
Do pf.	66	70½
U S R & Imp pf.	30	35
U S R & Ref pf.	3	4
Va-Car Ch pf.	109	110
Wabash pf.		¼
Do pf.		½
W Md pf.	45	49
West A B.	140	145
W S & M 1st pf.	80	88

FINANCIAL NOTES.

The time for depositing Missouri Pacific trust 5s and first collateral 5s with the Brown Brothers & Co. Protective Committee has been extended to Dec. 1. Certificates representing deposited bonds of both issues were listed on the Stock Exchange yesterday.

The Third Avenue Railway showed an increase of $11,570 in gross for September and an increase of $53,890 in net revenue.

The Peabody Protective Committee for the first and refunding 4 per cent. bonds of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railway will ask for the deposit of those bonds.

A. A. Housman & Co. have issued a circular on the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway.

A committee is being formed to solicit proxies for the annual meeting of the Tri-Bullion Smelting and Development Company.

Pouch & Co. have issued a circular on the Midvale Steel and Ordnance Company.

In response to inquiries officials of the Driggs-Seabury Ordnance Company, a Delaware corporation, stated yesterday that their company had no connection with or interest in a new New York corporation known as the Driggs Ordnance Company. The officials said they knew nothing about the new concern.

The Directors of the B. F. Goodrich Company yesterday declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent. on the preferred stock, payable Jan. 1 to stockholders of record Dec. 21.

The General Chemical Company has declared a quarterly dividend of 1¼ per cent., payable Dec. 1 to stockholders of record Nov. 19.

COTTON UNSETTLED BUT CLOSES HIGHER

Traders Apparently Too Much at Sea to Take a Positive Stand on the Markets.

DAY'S GAIN 3 TO 9 POINTS

Course of Prices Depends on Action of the Southern Spot Holder—Much of the Crop Picked.

As was to be expected, after the sharp break of Tuesday, the cotton market yesterday was irregular and unsettled, with occasional periods of weakness. The undertone occasionally showed steadiness, but the trade is too much at sea just now to take a positive stand on the market. The net change for the day was trifling, and even the few remaining bulls appeared to be satisfied that a fresh advance occurred. The market did not reach its low level of Tuesday, but the rally of 15 to 18 points early in the day was not fully sustained. Except in the December option the close was at an advance of 3 to 9 points.

It is felt that the market is fairly well liquidated, so far as long contracts are concerned, but it is recognized that the situation so far as the course of prices is concerned is clearly up to the Southern spot holder. There were rumors yesterday that banks were bringing pressure to induce sales of spot cotton. It is only fair to state, however, that this is one of the stock rumors in circulation after a severe break of 115 points from the recent high level. New Orleans wired that spot cotton was fully 1-16 under yesterday's prices with only a moderate demand.

Special reports to The Journal of Commerce show a very large percentage of cotton picked compared with recent years. In North Carlonia this percentage is placed at 65 per cent, against 58 per cent. last year, and 53 per cent. two years ago. In South Carolina the percentage is 72 per cent., against 68 per cent. last year and 66 per cent. two years ago. In Georgia the proportion is placed at 81 per cent., compared with 60 per cent. last year, and 71 per cent. two years ago.

Southern spot markets, as officially reported, were unchanged to 10 points lower. The local market for spot cotton was quiet with 5 points advance. Middling, 12.15c. Futures closed steady.

	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. Close.
Dec.	12.13	11.96	12.04@12.05	12.06@12.07
Jan.	12.26	12.07	12.19@12.20	12.16@12.17
March	12.45	12.27	12.40@12.41	12.35@12.36
May	12.57	12.39	12.52@12.53	12.43@12.44
July	12.62	12.44	12.57@12.58	12.49@12.50

Total port receipts, 37,928 bales; last week, 42,303 bales; last year, 45,046 bales.

RECEIPTS.

	Yesterday.	Week.	Last Year.
New Orleans	11,082	5,846	5,823
Galveston	13,307	12,664	22,166
Mobile	1,375	691	265
Charleston	937	3,053	1,536
Savannah	4,332	6,442	4,021
Wilmington	1,236	1,106	485
Norfolk	3,263	2,725	1,437

INTERIOR RECEIPTS.

	Yesterday.	Week.	Last Year.
Augusta	13,339	4,242	13,688
Memphis	8,484	7,780	8,489
St. Louis	2,919	2,473	4,669
Houston	875	8,786	5,240

Exports, 15,948 bales; total thus far this season, 1,219,526 bales; total last season, 491,765 bales.

SOUTHERN SPOTS AND STOCKS.

Sales.	Spots.	Stocks.	Last Y'r.
100 Galveston	12.05	290,311	251,182
1,458 New Orleans	11.93	228,927	109,109
— Mobile	11.88	17,380	23,357
905 Savannah	12c.	188,454	106,662
— Charleston	12c.	38,690	46,945
— Wilmington	11¾	39,028	22,420
371 Norfolk	11.63	58,743	25,766
873 Augusta	11.63	165,449	105,136
1,200 Memphis	12c.	147,026	143,132
— St. Louis	12¼	8,617	17,951
2,278 Houston	11.90	.....	110,633

The Liverpool market opened easy. There was a moderate business in spot cotton, with middling 7 points decline. Sales, 8,000 bales. Receipts, 1,000 bales. All American markets closed steady.

TO SELL IRON PLANT.

Thomas Company Stockholders Give Option Price of $3,500,000.

ALLENTOWN, Penn., Oct. 27.—Stockholders of the Thomas Iron Company at a meeting today granted an option on the company's property to Mills L. C. Kachelmacher of Ohio, who represented interests whose identity was not disclosed. The option price was $3,500,000.

The report that Charles M. Schwab of the Bethlehem Steel Company figured in the deal was denied by officials of the iron company and by officials of the Bethlehem Steel Company.

The meeting was called to consider a proposal of Mr. Kachelmacher to take the stock at $45 a share. The par value is $50. When the meeting opened an offer to take the stock at par was received from Philadelphia bankers, whereupon the Kachelmacher interests agreed to add $500,000 to their offer of $3,000,000, which brought the stock to $55 per share, and the stockholders voted almost unanimously to grant the option. The capital stock of the company is $2,500,000, divided into 50,000 shares.

STANDARD OIL STOCKS.

	Yesterday. Bid.	Asked.	Tuesday. Bid.	Asked.
Anglo-American	16¼	16¾	16¼	16¾
Atlantic Refining	630	640	630	640
Borne-Scrymser	265	275	265	275
Buckeye Pipe Line	110	112	110	112
Chesebrough Mfg	710	730	710	730
Colonial Oil	150	160	150	160
Continental Oil	250	255	250	255
Crescent Pipe Line	44	47	44	47
Cumberland P. Line	62	65	62	65
Eureka Pipe Line	245	255	250	260
Galena S. Oil pf.	135	140	135	140
Galena S. Oil	157	160	158	160
Illinois Pipe Line	151	154	150	153
Indiana Pipe Line	110	114	110	114
Int. Pet. Co., Ltd.	10⅛	10¼	10⅛	10¼
National Transit	31	33	31	33
N. Y. Transit	220	225	220	225
Northern Pipe Line	104	108	105	108
Ohio Oil	158	158	156	158
Penn.-Mex. Fuel Co.	58	60	58	60
Prairie Oil & Gas	415	420	415	420
Prairie Pipe Line	212	216	215	218
Solar Refining	285	295	285	295
Southern Pipe Line	230	235	230	235
South. Penn. Oil	335	340	335	340
South. West. Penn.	123	130	125	130
Standard Oil of Cal.	315	318	315	318
Standard Oil of Ind.	445	450	459	463
Standard Oil of Kan.	435	445	435	445
Standard Oil of Ky.	325	330	325	330
Standard Oil of Neb.	345	350	345	350
Standard Oil of N. J.	486	489	485	488
Standard Oil of N. Y.	199	201	199	201
Standard Oil of Ohio	510	515	505	515
Swan & Finch	125	135	125	135
Union Tank	85	85	85	85
Vacuum Oil	219	221	219	221
Washington Oil	43	47	43	46

FINANCIAL NOTES.

The time for depositing Missouri Pacific trust 5s and first collateral 5s with the Brown Brothers & Co. Protective Committee has been extended to Dec. 1. Certificates representing deposited bonds of both issues were listed on the Stock Exchange yesterday.

The Third Avenue Railway showed an increase of $11,570 in gross for September and an increase of $53,890 in net revenue.

The Peabody Protective Committee for the first and refunding 4 per cent. bonds of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railway will ask for the deposit of those bonds.

A. A. Housman & Co. have issued a circular on the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway.

A committee is being formed to solicit proxies for the annual meeting of the Tri-Bullion Smelting and Development Company.

Pouch & Co. have issued a circular on the Midvale Steel and Ordnance Company.

In response to inquiries officials of the Driggs-Seabury Ordnance Company, a Delaware corporation, stated yesterday that their company had no connection with or interest in a new New York corporation known as the Driggs Ordnance Company. The officials said they knew nothing about the new concern.

The Directors of the B. F. Goodrich Company yesterday declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent. on the preferred stock, payable Jan. 1 to stockholders of record Dec. 21.

The General Chemical Company has declared a quarterly dividend of 1¼ per cent., payable Dec. 1 to stockholders of record Nov. 19.

DROPS OLD WABASH STOCK.

Exchange Also Removes Comstock Tunnel, but Admits Others.

The old $53,200,000 common and $39,200,000 preferred stocks of the Wabash Railroad Company, the medium of much speculation in past years, were stricken from the trading list of the Stock Exchange yesterday. For a week the three classes of Wabash shares provided in the reorganization plan have been dealt in. The price the Wabash brought at foreclosure permitted an equity of no more than $33.15 for each $1,000 bond, so nothing was left for the old stock.

Comstock Tunnel stock was

J. K. Rice, Jr. & Co. Will Buy

50 American Brass
100 Aeolian Weber P. & P. Com.
50 Bush Terminal Com.
25 Bucyrus Co. Pfd.
50 Babcock & Wilcox
25 Conn. Ry. & Ltg. Com.
100 Computing-Tabulat.-Recording
50 Dixon Crucible
50 Empire Steel & Iron Pfd.
50 Franklin Insurance
25 Fidelity-Phenix Insurance
50 General Development
100 Garland Corporation
100 Gray National Telautograph
25 Home Insurance
100 Hale & Kilburn Com.
200 Ingersoll-Rand Com.
10 International Salt 5s
25 Jas. Butler Pfd.
100 New York Shipbuilding
100 New Jersey Zinc
25 Phelps Dodge & Co.
100 Republic Ry. & Light Com.
50 Remington Typewriter (all issues)
25 Scovill Manufacturing
50 Safety Car Htg. & Ltg.
25 Singer Manufacturing
25 Thompson-Starrett Com.
200 Ward Baking Com.

J. K. Rice, Jr. & Co. Will Sell

25 American Brass
50 American Gas & Elec. Pfd.
200 Aeolian Weber P. & P. Com.
50 Babcock & Wilcox
50 Bush Terminal Com.
100 Computing-Tabulat.-Recording
100 Eastern Steel Com.
25 Empire Steel & Iron Com. & Pfd.
25 E. W. Bliss Com.
100 Fifth National Bank
25 German-American Insurance.
10 Harriman National Bank
100 Harrison Bros. Pfd.
100 International Salt
50 Jas. Butler Com.
100 Milliken Bros. Com. & Pfd.
25 Midvale Steel (Old)
200 New York Shipbuilding
25 National Park Bank
50 Niles-Bement-Pond Com.
100 New Jersey Zinc
25 Omaha St. Rys. Pfd.
100 Pacific Coast Com.
50 Remington Typewriter (all issues)
25 Scovill Manufacturing
100 Tidewater Oil
50 Utah Securities
25 Victor Talking Machine
7 Winchester Repeating Arms
25 Yale & Towne Mfg.

J.K.Rice,Jr.&Co.
Phones 4001 to 4010 John. 36 Wall St., N. Y.

I recommend the purchase of
Babcock & Wilcox
which recently paid its 126th consecutive quarterly dividend. During the past 25 years the company has never paid less than at the rate of 7% per annum.

Contracts have just been closed aggregating about $19,000,000, on which a large profit should be made.

The Company has a capitalization of $15,000,000, all in one class of stock, and has no outstanding debt.

I offer a limited amount
At the Market.
Inquiries Solicited.

ERNEST SMITH
25 Broad St., N. Y. Tel. 974 Broad.

We Buy, Sell & Quote
Lima Locomotive
Descriptive Circular T-2 sent on request
Slattery & Co.
SPECIALISTS
40 Exchange Place New York
Telephone 4361 Broad.

We Have Orders in
Am. Graphophone
Int. Merc. Marine
Locomobile Co.
Pacific Coast Co.
Pa. Steel Casting
DAWSON & LYON
40 Wall St., N. Y. Tel. 5441 John

Gulf States Steel
Standard Screw
Jos. Dixon Crucible
Am. Tube & Stamping
Cen. Aguirre Sugar
Cuban Am. Sugar Pfd.
Fajardo Sugar
New Niquero Sugar
Bought—Sold—Quoted
CHAS. H. JONES & CO.
20 Broad St. New York
Telephone 9140 Rector. Cable "Orleniment."

Aetna Explosives
Lima Locomotive
Du Pont Powders
Hercules Powder
PERPALL, SHASKAN & DROGE
50 BROAD ST. Telephone 1630 Broad

SCOVILL MFG.
J.K.Rice,Jr.&Co.
Phones 4001 to 4010 John. 36 Wall St., N. Y.

ANNUITIES
Reduced rates. $100,000,000 security. Best provision for old age incomes.
THE JOHNSTON & COLLINS CO.
66 Liberty St.

OUTSIDE SECURITIES

Sharp Break in Prices in the Majority of the Curb Stocks —Bonds Active.

Transactions in the outside security market yesterday amounted to 442,620 shares of stock and $701,000 of bonds.

The sales of stocks were divided as follows: Industrials, 205,380; oil, 8,626, and mining, 228,120. The range of prices of all issues in which transactions were recorded was:

INDUSTRIALS.

Shares.		Open.	High.	Low.	Last.
1,400	A. B. Mfg. Co.	41	41	36	36
500	Am. Zinc.....	67⅝	68¼	67⅝	68
920	‡Can. C. & F...108	109	107	107
1,050	‡C. C. & F. pf.120	121	119	120
3,300	‡Car. L. & P..	9¼	9¼	9⅛	9⅛
100	Cen. Foun. pf.	31	31	31	31
1,800	‡C.M.C.Co.,w.l.122	128	121	125
600	‡Cramp Ship..	85½	85½	82	82
70	‡Dominion St..	47¾	47¾	47¾	47¾
965	Driggs-Seab ..145	147	138	140
965	Eastern Steel..	60	60	57
1,225	Emerson Phon.	11	11⅛	10¾	11
120	Guant. Sugar..	68	68	*66	*66
950	‡Hall Signal..	35	35	31	33
800	‡Hendee Mfg..	35	35	33	33
20	‡Hop. & A. A.	50	50	50	50
40,700	‡Inter. M. M..	12¾	13⅜	12¾	12⅜
29,500	‡Int. M. M. pf.	45¾	45¾	43⅝	43¾
5,000	I.M.M.CT.ctfs.	45	45	43	43½
2,000	‡Inter.. Motors.	45	46	43	43
75	‡Inter. Pa. pf.	98	98	96	96
785	Kthod. Br. pf.	4¾	4¾	4¾	4¾
450	Kelly Sp. Tire.285	302	285	301
85	Kelly Spg. T. new 1st pf..	93	93	93	93
12,600	‡K. S. T. w. l.	76	*78½	76	77½
550	‡Keystone Ord.	11¾	11¾	10¾	10¾
13,000	‡Lake Tor. B..	19	19	15	16½
1,000	‡L.T.B. 1st pf.	19	19	17	17
1,000	Man. Transit...	¼	⅝	¼	⅜
3,300	Marc. of Am..	4¼	4½	4¼	4⅜
50,000	‡Midvale Steel	93¾	93⅝	89¼	89½
2,700	C. of R. & H.	5⅝	5⅝	5⅝	5⅝
4,000	‡Stand. Motors	12	12	11¾	11¾
1,500	Sterling Gum.	2⅝	2⅝	2¼	2¼
7,000	‡St. Jos Lead.	14	14	13⅝	13⅝
5,000	Sub. Boat.....	43¼	43¼	42	42¼
1,300	‡Tob. Prod....*37	38½	36	38
2,000	Tri. Film cfs..	6⅞	6⅞	6⅝	6⅝
2,000	Un. Prof. Sh..	2½	2⅝	2½	2⅝
5,000	‡U.S.L. & H.C.	5⅞	5⅞	5½	5½
2,000	‡U. S. L. & H. C. pf.	5⅜	5⅜	5¼	5⅜
100	Way. Oil & G..	3¼	3¼	3¼	3¼
4,000	‡World Film..	4	4	3⅞	4

OIL ISSUES.

Sales.		High.	Low.	Last.	Net Ch'ge.
300	Cosden & Co..	7	6½	6¾	— ⅛
523	‡Houston Oil..	19¾	19¼	19¾	— ⅛
95	Illinois P. L...155	162	156	156	+ 2
20	Indiana P. L..112	110	110	110	— 3
1,150	Midwest Ref...	41	37	41	+ 6
63	Ohio Oil 157	158	157	157	+ 1
22	Prairie O. & G.418	418	415	418	— 2
5	Southern P. L.234	234	234	234	— 1
10	South Penn Oil.340	340	340	340	— 4
79	S. O. of Cal..819	819	819	819	+ 4
50	S. O. of N. J..490	487	486	486	+ 8
79	S. O. of N. Y.201	209	200	200
300	Ventura Con..	11⅝	11¼	11¼	— ⅛
6,000	‡Victoria Oil...	1⅜	1⅛	1⅛	..

MINING STOCKS.

Sales.		Open.	High.	Low.	Last.
4,000	‡Alaska Juneau	13	13⅝	12⅝	12⅝
600	‡‡Alta Con. M. Co.	20	20	19	19
4,000	‡‡Atlantis	26	26	25	25
810	Big Ledge Dev. Co.	3⅜	3⅞	3⅜	3⅜
3,000	‡‡Booth	35	35	35	35
28,700	Braden Copper.	9⅞	10⅜	9⅞	10⅛
2,000	Butte Copper & Zinc ctfs..	4⅜	4⅜	4¼	4¼
700	Butte & N. Y..	2⅜	2⅜	2⅜	2⅜
20,000	‡Canada Cop...	1½	1⅝	1⅝	1⅝
40,000	‡Cashboy	7	9	7	8
18,900	‡Chile Copper..	23⅝	24	23⅜	24
9,000	Con. Ari. S...	1⅜	1⅜	1⅛	1⅛
200	‡Diam'd B. B..	5¼	5¼	5¼	5½
600	‡‡Emma Cop...	27	27	27	27
1,000	First Nat. Cop.	4⅜	5	4⅞	4⅞
4,800	Goldfield Con..	1⅝	1⅝	1¼	1¼
200	‡Reed Mining..	2⅞	3	2⅞	3
1,700	Howe Sound...	4¼	4¼	4¼	4¼
500	Jumbo Ext.....	1¼	1¼	1¼	1¼
4,500	Kennecott Cop.	53¼	53⅝	52¼	52¾
11,000	‡‡Kewanas	33	33	31	31
800	Magma Copper	14½	14⅝	14	14⅜
300	‡Majestic M....	70	70	65	65
1,000	‡McKin.-Dar...	30	30	29	30
3,100	‡Marsh Min....	31	31	29	31
3,600	‡‡Mother Lode.	35	35	34	35
100	Mines of Am..	2¾	2¾	2¾	2¾
1,600	‡‡Nat. Z. & L.	80	85	80	83
400	New Utah B..	3	3	3	3
500	Nip. Mines Co.	7	7	6⅞	6⅞
2,000	‡‡Oro	6	6	6	6
1,300	Ray H., w. l..	4¼	4¼	4¼	4¼
2,100	‡‡Rex. Con. M.	45	45	44	44
3,000	‡‡Sandstorm K.	10½	10½	10	10
3,100	‡Santa Fe M..	4¾	4¾	4¾	4¾
500	‡‡Silver Pick..	9	9	9	9
1,900	Standard S.-L..	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛
1,500	Stewart	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛
31,000	‡‡Success Min.	69	70	65	67
4,300	‡Sup. Min. Co..	24	25	24	24½
500	Ton. Belmont..	3⅜	3⅜	3½	3½
500	Tonopah Ext...	2⅞	2⅞	2⅞	2⅞
500	‡Ton. Merger...	41	41	41	41
110	Ton. Mining...	5½	5½	5½	5½
6,500	Tri-Bullion ...	½	½	½	½
2,500	‡West F. Con..	73	75	72	75

BONDS.

$598,000	Bra. C. 6s....100	212	199	212
100,000	Ken. Cop. 6s.170	172	170	172
3,000	W. Pac. 5s..	35	35	35	35

*Odd lots. ‡Sells cents per share. ‡‡Unlisted.

Bid and asked quotations of issues not traded in compared with those of previous week:

INDUSTRIALS.

	Oct. 27. Bid.	Asked.	Oct. 26. Bid.	Asked.
Am.-Brit. Mfg. pf....	75	100	85	105
Brit.-Am. Tob., ord..	14	15	14	15
Brit.-Am. Tob., ord., bearer	14	15	14	15
Can. Gen. Electric....124		127	124	127
Carbon Steel 125		135	125	135
Carbon Steel 1st pf...	76	82	76	82
Carbon Steel 2d pf...	85	93	85	93
Carriage Fact., Can..	48	52	52	54
Central Foundry	15	16½	15	16½
Central Foundry pf..	31	32½	32	33
Fisk Tire	122	125	122	125
Franco-Spanish Petroleum, (a prospect)..	1	1¼	1	1¼
Hall Signal pf.....	50	54	52	55
Man. High Power Mar.	93	105	95	105
Mutual Profit Sharing	9	9½	9	9½
N. Y. Transportation.	15	17	15	17
Pacific Gas & Elec..	53	55	53	55
Pyrene Mfg. Co.....	16	16¾	16	16¾
M. Rumely, w. l.....	21	23	21	23
Sherman Carbide	7⅝	8¼	7⅜	8¼
Sherman Carbide pf..	8	15	8	15
Steel Co. of Canada..	35	36	35	36

OIL ISSUES.

Anglo-American	16¾	17	16¾	17
Inter. Petroleum.....	9⅞	10	9⅞	10
Pierce Oil	13¾	14	13¾	14¼
Ventura Oil	11¾	12	11¾	12

MINING STOCKS.

American Commander	8	10	8	10
Arizona Duquesne...	37	40	37	40
Big Cottonwood	3	4	3	4
Caledonia	98	1	97	1
Cerro de Pasco Copper Corp.	47	48	47	48
Consol. Copper Mines	1½	2	1½	2
Goldfield Merger	17	18	17	18
Iron Blossom	70	72	68	72
La Rose Cons.....	⅞	⅞	⅞	⅞
Tonopah Mining	5⅛	5⅜	5⅛	5⅜
Tuolumne Copper....	⅞	⅞	⅞	⅞
White Knob Cop. pf..	1½	1⅞	1½	2

BONDS.

Anglo-French 5s.....	97⅞	98	97⅞	98
Con. Arizona 5s.....	25	30	25	30
Inter. Mer. M. n. Co.	85	90	85	90
Pierce Oil 6s	80	82	80	82
Western Pacific 5s...	33	34½	33	34½

MUNITIONS STOCKS.

	Yesterday. Bid.	Asked.	Tuesday. Bid.	Asked.
Aetna Explosive 155		160	155	165
Aetna Explosives pf..	83	86	84	87
Atlas Powder 267		270	268	273
Ajlas Powder pf.....	95	99	95	99
Babcock & Wilcox....142		150
Bliss (E. W.)	410	430	410	430
Bliss (E. W.) pf.....	72	80	72	80
Canadian Explosives.	390	415	390	415
Can. Explosives, pf..	100	110	100	110
Colt's Arms	900	925	900	925
Du Pont Pow. new..	436	445	445	450
Du Pont Powder, pf..	100	102	100	102
Hercules Powder....	434	440	434	440
Hercules Powder, pf..	114	118	114	118
Midvale Steel & Ord.	93	94	94	95
Niles-Bement-Pond ..	196	201	193	200
Niles-Bement-P., pf..	101	105	101	105
Savage Arms	395	405	385	400
Scovill Mfg.	425	435	400	420
Winchester R. A....	2900	3000	2900	3000

MINING STOCK QUOTATIONS.

SAN FRANCISCO.

Alta	.01	Justice	.03
Andes	.11	Kentucky Con.....	.03
Best & Belcher....	.10	Mexican	.42
Bullion	.02	Occidental Con....	.75
Challenge Con.....	.08	Ophir	.43
Chollar	.08	Overman	.18
Confidence	.22	Potosi	.06
Con. Cal. & Va....	.29	Savage	.10
Con. Imperial	.03	Seg. Belcher	.05
Gould & Curry....	.06	Sierra Nevada....	.86
Hale & Norcross..	.16	Union Con.....	.75
Julia	.03	Utah Con.....	.03
Jacket Con.....	.24

TONOPAH.

Belmont	3.60	Booth	.35
Halifax	.68	C. O. D.	.04
Jim Butler	.76	Comb. Fraction..	.07
MacNamara	.02	D'field Black B..	.05
Midway	.18	Florence	.44
Mizpah Exten.....	.30	G'field C. M....	1.35
Montana	.90	G'field Konwana..	.32
North Star	.18	G'field Merger....	.18
Rescue Eula	.07	Jumbo Exten.....	1.25
Tonopah Exten...	2.80	Lone Star	.04
Tonopah Merger..	.38	Silver Pick	.08
Victor	.34	Nevada Hills.....	.19
West End	.74	Rochester Mines..	.58
GOLDFIELD.		Round Mountain...	.40
		MANHATTAN.
Atlanta	.24	Man. Big Four....	.05

COLORADO SPRINGS.

	Bid.	Asked.		Bid.	Asked.
Dr. J'pot..	9	9¼	Isabella ..	16¾	16½
Elkton ...	25½	26	Jackpot ..	6½	7½
El Paso..	75	85	McKinney.	35	38
Findlay	3½	4½	Portland ..	170	174
Golden ..	177	179	Vindicator.	151½	153
Gold Dol..	2	5	R. B. H..	3¾	4
Gold Sov..	6½	6¾

RIVAL MACHINES BANNED.

Witnesses in St. Louis Court Bare United Shoe Machinery Tactics.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 27.—Testimony introduced in the hearing of the Government anti-trust suit against the United Shoe Machinery Company in the Federal District Court here today was that the company brought pressure to bear on shoe manufacturers to prevent them from using machinery other than that made by the United Shoe Machinery Company.

An affidavit by Louis F. Marler, salesman for the Universal Shoe Machinery Company of St. Louis, declared that on Oct. 7, 1915, he asked F. C. Rand, Vice President of the International Shoe Company, why the latter concern did not buy more machinery from the Universal Company. Rand's reply, according to the affidavit, was that he feared a controversy with the United Shoe Machinery Company, and Rand showed a letter from the company warning him not to get into a controversy, with the United by buying machinery from other concerns. The affidavit further said that Rand asserted he could make shoes cheaper by using Universal machines, but did not dare do so lest the United Company enforce its penalties.

The affidavit also said that in Milwaukee, last August, Mahler met Philip Frahler of Boston, a representative of the United Shoe Machinery Company, who was warning shoe manufacturers not to buy machines made by independent concerns. It also set forth that Frahler told Mahler that the Farmington Shoe Company of Dover, Del., wanted to get back into favor with the United Company, but that the latter demanded $12,000 penalties and an apology for using independent machinery.

An affidavit by John F. Cavanaugh, a representative of the Boylston Manufacturing Company of Masachusetts, said that B. A. Corbin & Co. of Boston used Boylston shoe machinery, but that when the shoe firm got two large contracts last Winter the company applied to the United Company for additional machines. The affidavit said that the United Company forced the Corbin Company to throw out all Boylston machines and replace them with United machines.

The affidavits were introduced after H. Larue Brown, special Assistant Attorney General, had outlined the Government's case under the Clayton act. The Government is seeking an injunction restraining the United Company from enforcing certain clauses in its contracts. A temporary injunction now is operative. Mr. Brown said that the United Company had a patent on a machine indispensable in the manufacture of shoes, and that because of this it was able to dictate to shoe manufacturers.

J. S. BACHE BUYS A BANK.

Gets Control of the International as an Investment.

Jules S. Bache of J. S. Bache & Co. has bought the controlling stock interest in the International Banking Corporation of 60 Wall Street, which has fifteen branches in the Far East. The price was $160 a share for the stock owned by the estate of General Thomas H. Hubbard and by his partner, Edward F. Sales. The announcement of the purchase yesterday was accompnied by the statement that Mr. Bache stood ready to buy in all the minority stock at the same price.

The International Banking Corporation is capitalized at $3,250,000. A recent statement showed loans and discounts of $20,430,000, commercial credits amounting to $2,855,000 and large cash resources. The bank owns the $500,000 stock of the International Bank, another Hubbard institution, and this is included in the sale to Mr. Bache. Branches are situated in China, Japan, India, and the Philippines, and among the bank's European correspondents are the Crédit Lyonnais of Paris and the Deutsche Bank of Berlin.

Mr. Bache said yesterday that the transaction represented a personal investment. He denied a rumor that the National City Bank had arranged to buy his controlling interest, but intimated that the stock might be sold if a bidder appeared with a satisfactory figure.

RAILROAD EARNINGS.

The railroads reporting so far for the third week of October show these aggregate changes in gross earnings, those showing gains and those showing losses being stated separately:

Fifteen roads.....	$10,551,787	+	$1,891,165
Two roads.....	656,725	—	45,076
Total (17 roads).....	11,208,512	+	1,846,089

ILLINOIS CENTRAL for September—

	1915.	1914.	1913.
Gross	$5,756,583	$5,529,482	$5,855,044
Net aft. tax..	1,577,333	1,256,722	1,128,146
3 mos. gross..	16,165,253	16,770,904	16,910,074
Net aft. tax..	2,982,190	3,226,326	2,888,431

SOUTHERN RAILWAY for September—

Gross	5,616,934	5,509,732	6,010,529
Net aft. tax..	1,678,891	1,037,679	1,582,493
9 mos. gross..	16,140,461	16,902,895	17,280,924
Net aft. tax..	4,387,177	3,812,304	4,155,225

UNION PACIFIC for September—

Gross	9,152,464	9,162,999	9,351,489
Net aft. tax..	3,928,276	3,923,913	3,895,149
3 mos. gross..	25,445,893	25,190,263	26,615,599
Net aft. tax..	10,180,810	10,056,196	9,945,500

YAZOO & MISSISSIPPI VALLEY for September—

Gross	1,100,166	878,547	1,007,828
Net aft. tax..	332,372	170,755	207,877
3 mos. gross..	2,997,209	2,656,850	2,706,038
Net aft. tax...	717,594	421,363	386,432

Miscellaneous Earnings.

LACLEDE GAS LIGHT COMPANY of St. Louis for the nine months ended Sept. 30—

	1915.	1914.	Increase.
Gross earnings	3,370,901	3,388,501	*17,600
Exp. and taxes.	1,522,544	1,695,810	*173,266
Net earnings..	1,848,356	1,692,691	145,665
Dep. and cont. charges	247,960	204,005	43,955
Int. chgs. and pf. divs.....	929,826	924,781	15,045
Surplus	660,570	563,905	96,665

*Decrease.

MASSACHUSETTS ELECTRIC COMPANY for the quarter ended Sept. 30—

	1915.	1914.	Decrease.
Gross	2,874,745	2,948,926	74,181
Expenses	1,867,152	1,782,042	*84,510
Net	1,017,593	1,166,884	168,691
Chgs. & taxes.	519,585	523,271	3,686
Surplus	498,008	663,013	265,005

*Increase.

WISCONSIN - MINNESOTA LIGHT AND POWER (a subsidiary of American Public Utilities Company) for the twelve months ended Sept. 30—

	1915.	1914.	Increase.
Gross earnings	1,085,309	1,011,944	73,365
Exp. and taxes	547,075	519,394	7,691
Net earnings..	538,234	492,560	65,674

OUT-OF-TOWN MARKETS

BALTIMORE.

STOCKS.

Sales.		Open.	High.	Low.	Last.
140	Con. Power...110	111	110	111
1,072	Cosden	7	7	6⅝	6⅞
435	Elkhorn Fuel..	19⅜	19⅜	19	19½
527	Fairmount Gas	30¼	30¼	30	30
445	Fairm. Gas pf.	50	51	50	51
20	Houston Oil..	19⅜	19⅜	19⅜	19⅝
50	Mercan. Trust.	200	200	200	200
50	Mt. V. C. M..	11	11	11	11
15	Mt. V. C. M. pf	53¼	53¼	53½	53¼
13	Nor. Central..	84	84	84	84
100	Penn. W. Pow.	73¾	73¾	73¾	73¾
63	Un. Ry. & El.	24½	24½	24¼	24½
1,042	Wayland Oil..	4¾	4	3⅝	4

BONDS.

$1,000	Ala. C. & I. 5s.	77	77	77	77
5,000	A. C. L. cv. 5s.	92¼	92¼	92¼	92¼
2,000	Chic. Ry. 5s..	94⅝	94⅝	94⅝	94⅝
300	C. of E. 3½s. '40.	90	90	90	90
7,000	C. of B. 4s,'51	96⅝	95⅝	95⅝	95⅝
1,000	Con. C. ref. 5s.	89	89	89	89
2,000	Con. Gas 6s...	102¼	102¼	102¼	102¼
1,000	Con. Gas 4½s.	93½	93½	93½	93½
1,000	Elk. Fuel 5s..	99	99	99	99
3,000	Mary. Elec. 5s.	96¼	96¼	96¼	96¼
4,000	N. Ry. & El. 5s	96½	96¼	96¼	96½
1,000	Nor. P. T. 5s.	82½	82½	82½	82½
200	Un. Ry. & El. fdg. 5s.	86¾	86¾	86¾	86¾
1,000	Un. Ry. & El. fdg. 4s.	84	84	84	84
5,000	Un. Ry. & El. fdg. 4s.....	81	81	81	81

CHICAGO.

STOCKS.

Sales.		Open.	High.	Low.	Last.
3	Am. Radiator..356	356	356	356
28	Am. Shipbuild.	35	35	35	35
125	Am. Shipb. pf.	72¼	72½	72¼	72½
5	Booth Fish pf..	75	75	75	75
405	Chi. Pn. Tool..	96	96	83¼	83½
40	Chi. Ry. S. 2.	17½	17⅞	17½	17⅞
115	Comm. Edison.	138	138½	138	138½
60	Deere pf.	96	96½	95½	95½
16	Diam. Match..102½		103	102½	103
10	Illinois Brick..	70	70	70	70
30	K. C. Ry. & L.	24	24	24	24
30	K. C. Ry. & L. Light ctfs...	25	27	25	27
10	K.C.Ry. & L.pf.	58	58	58	58
40	K.C.Ry.& L.pf. ctfs.	60	60	60	60
460	Lindsay Light..	5	5¼	5	5¼
45	Mont. Ward pf.	112	112	112	112
50	Max. Mot. 2d..	64	64	64	64
100	Nat. Carb. pf.	120¾	120¾	120¾	120¾
89	People's Gas..	119	120	119	120
30	Public Service.	99	99	99	99
64	Pub. Serv. pf..	99	99	99	99
20	Quaker Oats ..	300	300	300	300
235	Quak. Oats pf.	106½	107½	106½	106½
205	Sears, Roeb...	157½	157¾	157½	157¾
481	Stew. Warner.	75¼	75¾	74⅝	74⅝
25	Swift & Co...	118¼	118¾	118¼	118½
97	Union Carbide.	159	159	159	159
100	Union Sw. & S.	129	129	129	129

BONDS.

$2,000	Chi. C. Ry. 5s.	97	97	97	97
1,000	Chi. Ry. B 5s.	69¼	69½	69½	69½

PHILADELPHIA.

Sales.		Open.	High.	Low.	Last.
700	Allis Chal.....	42¾	42¾	42¾	42¾
110	Anaconda	77⅛	77⅞	77⅛	77⅞
475	Amn. Rys	31	31½	31	31¼
65	Amn. Rys. pf.	96¼	96¼	96¼	96¼
100	Amn. Smelt....	92¾	92¾	92¾	92¾
100	Baldwin Loco.	137⅞	137⅞	137⅝	137⅞
250	Buf. & Sus. t.c.	22	22	22	22
60	Buf. & Sus. pf.	53½	53½	52⅞	52⅞
1,015	J. G. Brill....	64½	64½	64	64
8,810	Cam. Steel....	69	69	67¼	67¼
100	Colo. Fuel....	57⅝	57⅝	57⅝	57⅝
325	El. Stor. Bat..	71¼	72	71	71
600	Gen. Asphalt..	34½	34¼	34¼	34¼
100	Gen. Asph. pf..	71¼	71¼	71¼	71¼
35	Ins. Co. of N..	23½	23½	23½	23½
1,155	Lake Su. Corp.	9⅞	9⅞	9¼	9⅞
458	Lehigh Navi..	73⅞	73⅞	73	73
891	Lehigh Valley.	78¾	78¾	77¾	77¾
180	Lehigh V. Tr..	17¼	17¼	17¼	17¼
565	Lo. V. Tr. pf.	88¾	88¾	87⅞	87⅞
40	Minehill	56½	56½	56½	56½
1,015	Penn. R. R....	59	59	58⅝	58⅝
375	Penn. S. M. Co.	101¼	103	101¼	102
15	Penn. Steel....	98½	98½	98½	98½
85	Phila. Co.....	46⅝	46⅝	46⅛	46⅛
55	Phil. Co. cm.pf	43	43	43	43
1,250	Phila.

Auctioneers

whose announcements of sales appear on the Business Page of The New York Times:

Mercantile.

William Livingston, Auct., 308 Canal St., 3266 Franklin, advances; consignments solicited. Cash buyers, high-grade mdse. preferred.

GROSS, FRANZBLAU & CO., 27 Greene St., pays cash for all kinds of merchandise, machinery and fixtures. Tel. 886 Spring.

DAVID W. BIOW & CO., 520-522 BROADWAY.

WISE, Auctr., 428 Columbus Av., 7175 Schuyler, pays highest cash prices, furniture, &c.

D. HARTMANN, Auctioneer of high-class merchandise, 15 Mercer St. Tel. Spring 4290.

HARRY M. MOSES, Auctioneer & Appraiser, 180 Broadway, Cortlandt 1238.

Chas. Shongood, Auctioneer, 539 Broadway, will buy large plants. Nothing under $1,000.

Van Praag & Co., 15-17 Greene, largest cash buyers; mdse., fixtures, machinery. Sp. 2248.

Michael M. Weisz buys all kinds mdse., machinery, fixtures. 7 Lispenard. 2847 Frank.

HENRY LILLY CO., 88-90 Reade St. Trade Sales of Shoes Every Wed. & Fri.

National Purchasing Co., 8 Lispenard St., Fr'n 4343. Largest Cash Buyers Mdse. & Fixtures.

In BROOKLYN, It's I. SINGER, 582 Broadway. Buys mdse., all descriptions, cash.

Frank Jacobovits, 10 Lispenard, Tel. 2950 Franklin, Buys All Kinds Stocks and Plants.

Dan'l Greenwald, Act'r to Sheriff, N. Y. County, 23 Lispenard St. Tel. Frank. 1780.

H. PERELMUTER, 208 Canal, pays liberal prices for cloaks, suits, and miscel. mdse.

Samuel Marx—Auctioneer & Appraiser, Woolworth Bldg. Telephones: 6911-12 Barclay.

LARGE wholesale or retail stocks wanted for cash. A. Schaap & Sons, 394 B'way.

Eastern Mdse. Co., 456 Broadway, Auctioneers and commission merchants.

Retail.

Art, Furniture, Rugs, etc.

Works of art, pianos, bric-a-brac, paintings bought, any quantity. Broadway Galleries, 1,362 B'way.

Highest prices furniture, pianos, antiques, &c. A. Kaliski, 88 Univ. Pl. 'Phone 2377 Stuyv.

WISE, Auctr., 428 Columbus Av., 7175 Schuyler, pays highest cash prices, furniture, &c.

J. GORDON NOAKES, Auctioneer and Appraiser, 715 6th Av. Tel. Bryant 4343.

FIFTH AVENUE AUCTION ROOMS, INC., 333-341 Fourth Av., at 25th St.

K. KAPRELIAN, ORIENTAL RUGS, 179 Madison Av., at 34th St.

AUCTION SALES.

MERCHANDISE.

JOS. SHONGOOD'S SONS
Julius Shongood, Auctioneer
Salesroom, 94 Bowery

Will Sell at Auction
TODAY, THURS., OCT. 28
At 10 A. M.

The season's largest and finest collection of

HIGH-GRADE FURS

COMPRISING
RUSSIAN SABLE SETS
RUSSIAN SABLE SCARFS, SEALSKIN COATS, SEALSKINS AND HIGH GRADE FURS AND FUR GARMENTS OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

BY ORDER OF
Jas. J. Ryan, Inc., 132 Myrtle Ave., Brooklyn
Robt. T. Adam Co., 2158 Eighth Ave., Manhattan
H. Silberstein & Sons, Inc., 10 6th Ave., Manhattan
Silberstein Bros., 2457 Eighth Ave., Manhattan

Also on Friday, Oct. 29, at 10 A. M.

HIGH-GRADE FURS

By order of
The Provident Loan Society of New York
Max Bernstein, 273 W. 125th St., Manhattan
H. S. Isaacs, 2488 Eighth Ave. Manhattan

COMPRISING
RUSSIAN SABLES, SEALSKINS, FUR SETS, LADIES' FUR COATS, MEN'S FUR-LINED OVERCOATS, FUR MOTOR COATS, FUR NECKPIECES AND RAW SKINS, a very fine and varied assortment.
DEALERS ESPECIALLY INVITED.

An Exceptional, Staple and Most Up-to-Date Stock of consisting of very select Silver Fox, Natural Blue, Beaver, Skunk, Cross Fox, Black and Pointed Fox, Fitchi and Raccoon

FURS

SKINS

ALSO A STOCK OF

Manufactured Furs, consisting of Genuine Fisher, Red Cross, Black, White, Citks, and Pointed Foxes, Mink, Hudson Seal, Persian Lamb, Skunk, Fitch, Chinchilla Squirrel, Caracul, Natural Blue, Mole and Ermine, and various other skins made up into

SCARFS, MUFFS, SETS AND COATS, made in the latest models for the coming season, and will be sold strictly without reserve.

D. HARTMANN, Auctioneer,

will sell Tom'w, Friday, Oct. 29, '15, commencing at 10:30 A. M., at salesroom, 417 MERCER ST., NEAR CANAL ST., N. Y.

SPECIAL NOTICE—I beg to call the attention of the trade to the exceptional fine class of Natural Blue, Cross and Silver Fox, Beaver and Fisher SKINS, which, owing to the high prices realized at the St. Louis Auction Sale for this particular fur, should prove an advantageous chance for prospective buyers.

This offering will be open for

Inspection TODAY,

Thursday, Oct. 28th, from 1 P. M. to 5 P. M. For further information telephone 4299 Spring.

FURNITURE—RUGS—ART.

Keeler Art Galleries,

12 Vesey St., near Broadway.
(Subway Station at Fulton St.)

ABSOLUTE AUCTION SALE
THIS DAY AND TOMORROW
at 2 P. M.

Household Furniture

Contents of two private residences. Chickering and Mathushek Pianos, large number of Oriental and Domestic Carpets and Rugs, rich Draperies, Bedroom, Parlor, Library and Dining Room Furniture, China, Glassware, Paintings, rare Etchings, Bric-a-Brac, &c.
GEO. W. KEELER, Auctioneer.

TO-DAY at 2 P. M.
And Following Days at Same Hour
AT THE Old Galleries 43 LIBERTY ST., NEW YORK.
GREAT SALE BY AUCTION of Carefully Chosen
ORIENTAL RUGS
AND CARPETS
in many sizes, weaves and colors.
Mr. C. Beaudere Clarke, Auct.

MISCELLANEOUS.

About $50,000 Worth of
High Speed Steel Tools

BROWN & SHARPE,
PRATT & WHITNEY,
AND OTHER HIGH-CLASS TOOLS
CONSISTING OF

Milling Cutters, Gauges, Reamers, Arbors, Thread Gauges, Lathe and Drill Chucks, Taps, Dies, Face Plates, Tool Racks, etc.

CHARLES SHONGOOD, Auctioneer, will sell Today, Thursday, October 28, 1915, at 10:30 A. M., at 539 Broadway, New York City, the above property.

ALL THESE GOODS ARE PRACTICALLY BRAND NEW.

BUSINESS WORLD

Buyer's Wants

50 Cents per agate line each insertion. Count six words agate to a line.

OPEN for Blue and Gray Chinchilla; must be cheap; quantity no object. Eisenberg & Friedman, 57-59 East 11th St.

DRESS FASTENERS wanted; all sizes. Telephone 5393 Franklin.

BIG SACRIFICE.—Have 100 dozen waists to close out at exceptionally low figure. Jos. Rosenberg & Co., 134 Spring St.

JOB 100 dresses, assorted; charmeuse, velvet, combination taffeta and serge dresses, cheap. National Costume Company, 148 West 24th St.

HAVE 200 COATS to close out; also very desirable Piece Goods in coatings, 15th floor, 20 West 22d.

JOB OF SERGE, silk, and velvet dresses to close out. Graber and Wechsler, 164 West 25th St.

ON HAND 1,000 cloth coats, fur trimmed; close out at $4.75. Hirsch & Bro., 153 W. 27th St.

WE CARRY LARGE QUANTITIES OF ALL kinds of mixture coats on hand for immediate delivery.
Weinstein & Klipstein,
139-141 Spring St., Corner Wooster St.

FOR IMMEDIATE DELIVERY, PLUSH COATS AND FUR-TRIMMED MIXTURE AND BROADCLOTH COATS, ALL SNAPPY STYLES AND LATEST MODELS. L. & B. SAPIRO CLOAK CO., 45 WEST 20TH ST.

On hand, COATS, FUR TRIMMED; cloths, pile fabrics, $4.50 to $12.50; immediate delivery. Hirsch & Brother, 153 West 27th St.

FUR-TRIMMED COATS.
In plushes, corduroy, velours, mixtures; 1,000 for immediate delivery. Kaplan Bros., 150 West 22d St.; Chelsea 2163-6918.

WE HAVE NIFTY FUR-TRIMMED DRESSES FOR IMMEDIATE DELIVERY. DICKER & GINSBERG, 142 W. 26TH ST.

HAVE ABOUT 3,000 FUR-TRIMMED PLUSH COATS on hand for immediate delivery. Morris Jaffe, 40-46 W. 25th St.

HAVE 5,000 plush coats on hand, ready for immediate delivery, at reasonable prices. Rudinsky Bros., 27 West 24th.

VELVETEEN SUITS, fur trimmed, for immediate delivery. M. L. & G. Cloak and Suit Co., 20 West 17th St.

500 PARTY DRESSES for immediate delivery from $5 up. Nilret Manufacturing Co., 6 West 20th St.

250 PIECES OF FURS, consisting of scarfs, muffs, and coats, at a sacrifice. Schiller, 224 Sixth Av.

ON HAND for immediate delivery, up-to-date dresses at a price. Nassar Dress Co., 39 West 32d St.

HAVE a few Pieces of Sali's Esquimette Plush at $3.65 per yard. M. Drachman, 147 West 23d St.

FUR-TRIMMED VELVETEEN and cloth suits; $4.50 up. S. Greenberg, 141 West 20th St.

FOR SALE—F. & H. Columbia Broadcloth, $1.20 less 6. Phone 9849 Farragut.

JOBS desired for cash in highest-grade Ladies' and Children's Dresses and Suits, Plush and Winter Coats, Skirts, Waists, Petticoats, Furs, Sweaters, Sunmer,'8 Lispenard St. Franklin 4343.

DESIRE at once jobs ladies' suits, dresses, skirts and waists; will pay cash. Eastern Merchandise Co., 456 Broadway. Spring 358.

WILL BUY woman's wearing apparel. Harris Bros., 40 West 22d St. Gramercy 2387.

OPEN FOR JOBS, coats, suits, and dresses, for cash. Handel's, 336 6th Av.

SHOW CARDS—Hand-made, printed, and lithographed show cards. Salzer & Co., 100 Nassau St.

COMMERCIAL PAPER.

Yesterday...3@3½ per cent. for the best names
Tuesday....3@3½ " " " "
The quotations are for six months paper.

Gem Business Is Improving.

As the season advances a gradual improvement in the demand for precious stones is reported. This is true both of diamonds and colored gems, though in the case of the former there is some discontent regarding the slowness with which the improvement is said to be manifesting itself. In the colored stones aquamarines are still in favor, and there is some call for black opals, which are growing scarce and more expensive. Fine rubies, emeralds and other high-grade precious stones are not in steady demand at the moment, but neither are they being entirely neglected.

Jewelry Trade Is Picking Up.

Reports from the Maiden Lane jewelry district tell of steady improvement in business, the books of leading houses showing them to be in a much better condition than they were at this time a year ago. This applies not only to sterling and plated silverware and gold jewelry, but to platinum jewelry as well. Manufacturers of the latter goods are being hampered somewhat by the decreasing supplies of the raw material, which is a result of the embargo put on shipments from France and England some weeks ago. Yesterday platinum was quoted at $60 an ounce here, while iridium, which is used as an alloy for hardening purposes, was held at $80 an ounce.

Raw Silk Imports Gain.

Figures compiled by the Silk Association of America show that raw silk imports for the first three months of the current fiscal year exceed those in the same period in both 1914 and 1913. So far a total of 7,255,580 pounds has been brought in, against 6,411,502 pounds in 1914, and 6,370,089 in the year before

AUCTION SALES.

FURNITURE—RUGS—ART.

For account UNDERWRITERS & CONCERN

FINE ORIENTAL RUGS and CARPETS

105 FINE KERMANSHAH, SAROUK, TABREZ, Mahal, Meshed and Goravan Carpets and fine weave and colorings in small Rugs and Hall Strips; desirable goods. One high-grade Ispahan Carpet, 10x12.

Also
DOMESTIC RUGS AND CARPETS,
Friday, October 29th, at 11:15 o'clock sharp.

BURLING & DOLE, Auctioneers,
7-11 Greene St. and 337-341 Canal St., N. Y.

MISCELLANEOUS.

ASSIGNEE SALE

In the matter of the general assignment of William W. Balke
to
Robert W. Thompson, Assignee,

SAMUEL MARX, Auctioneer,

Will Sell by Public Auction on Thursday, October 28th, 1915, at 10:30 A. M., Auctioneer's Salesroom, 115-17 Spring St., Near Broadway, City.

Assets of above, consisting of a very fine and elaborate collection of household furniture, books, carpets, rugs, paintings, bric-a-brac, silverware, and works of art, etc.; also Champagnes, Wines and Old Vintages, Beers, Ale, Liquors, Groceries, etc.
ROBERT W. THOMPSON, Esq., Assignee.
YANKAUER & DAVIDSON, Attorneys for Assignee, 261 Broadway, N. Y. C.

TRUSTEE SALE
SOLID SILVERWARE

SAMUEL MARX, Auctioneer,

Will Sell by Public Auction, on Thursday, October 28th, 1915,
At 2 P. M.,
At 115-17 Spring St., Near B'way, City, Entire Collection of Henry Knebel, Dec'd, Consisting of

A very elaborate pair of Candelabra with Brackets, Samovar and Tray, Coffee, Tea, Cream and Chocolate Sets with extra trays, large and small; Forks, Spoons, Knives, Oyster Forks, Ladles, and various other articles, all being solid silver, and will be sold without reserve.
By order of Joseph K. Savage, Esq., Trustee, 32 Wall St., City.
Also by Order of Whom It May Concern.

EXECUTOR SALE

Norma H. Barrett, Deceased, consisting of an exceptionally fine assortment of Furs, such as Russian Sable Set, with extra Scarf, Alaska Seal Coat, Persian Coat and Muff, and a Fisher Set.

SALES ARRANGED AND CONDUCTED BY PHILIP SMITH.

SAMUEL MARX, Auctioneer,
Woolworth Bldg., Suite 2120-2126.
Tel. 6011-4912-7004-5 Barclay.
Salesroom 115-17 Spring St., nr. B'way, City.
Tel., 4061-5882 Spring.

Exhibition and Descriptive Catalogue Tuesday, Oct. 26th, and Wednesday, Oct. 27th, 10 A. M. to 5 P. M.

CURRANTS ARE SCARCE.

The Greek Troubles May Mean a Dearth for the Holidays.

Unless the Greek Government releases without delay vessels held at home ports containing cargoes of 1915 crop Greek Amalia currants, there will be a serious shortage in this country to supply the approaching holiday demand. While handlers here of currants and other Greek products said the situation prevailing in Greece at the present time is not as clear to them as they would like to have it, the supposition was that the Greek Government is holding merchant vessels engaged in the transatlantic trade with the United States for possible use as transports.

Frank Jackson, 87 Nassau Street, an importer of Amalia currants, said yesterday that the American market at the present time was practically bare of stocks in this line, owing to the inadequate steamship service between Greece and this country.

"I had a cable on Sunday," said Mr. Jackson, "stating a steamer was about to leave a Greek port with a cargo of currants, and hope by now it is on its way. There is a good deal of trouble in getting cables through to Greece just now as well as replies to messages. Only one steamer has arrived from Greek ports with currants in a month. The steamer River Clyde is believed to be on her way here from Patras, the chief currant shipping point, but as this vessel is a slow boat she is not expected to arrive at New York before the middle of next month. In fact, unless good weather is encountered the vessel may reach here too late to land supplies for the Thanksgiving trade. All importers are short in stocks, while prices are rapidly rising."

Importers were in receipt of cables yesterday to the effect that another vessel, the Frixos, was to sail from Patras yesterday with consignments of currants. Just what quantity is aboard was not known here, but several of the leading factors in the trade said they hoped to be able to claim small consignments at least. The Frixos had already sailed for this port before the Greek mobilization took place. Although the vessel was thought here to have been almost out of the Mediterranean at the time, it was recalled by the Government by wireless. Whether the same cargo is still aboard, now the steamer is again under way, is unknown here. The fact that the Government decided to release this ship encourages importers to hope that other faster vessels now detained in Greek ports may shortly be released and placed in the regular mercantile service.

A representative of a large importing firm said that an empty market on the eve of the Thanksgiving and general holiday season made the situation the most serious in the history of the trade. The consumer relied on the Greek currants for holiday use. Under normal conditions it was said the imports of Greek currants amount annually to approximately 30,000,000 pounds.

Factors in the trade said yesterday that the prices now being asked are the highest for at least ten years. The stocks on the River Araxes were said to arrive at 8½ cents, uncleaned, in barrels, while those on the Orentes, the only vessel now in transit to this country, have been advanced to 10 cents as the lowest possible price. When this rate may be advanced before the ship reaches port. In the New York spot market prices quoted are given out with the explanation that they are merely nominal.

HEAVY WOOL BUYING.

Large Concerns Are Stocking Up with Heavyweight Goods.

Special to The New York Times.

BOSTON, Oct. 27.—The American Wool and Cotton Reporter will say to-morrow:

"Buying for the heavyweight season has pushed the wool market up. Australians and Capes have been moving in considerable volume, and there has also been a substantial quantity of territory wool sold. There is considerable cheap wool on the market, but it is being absorbed.

"The present seller's market in woolen goods is expected to be profitable. A feature of the week under review was the purchasing of women's wear cloaking fabrics for use in the men's wear field, owing to the acute condition. The wool situation and the dyestuffs situation are limiting style developments.

"The war order situation is much discussed. It is now realized that much cloth is likely to be purchased continually, and that a relatively large amount of domestic machinery will not be available for domestic distribution. Some business is now being obtained in South America.

"Although the general situation in the cotton goods market is much more satisfactory than it was a month ago, it was not as active during the week as previously."

STEEL MILLS OVERWHELMED

Some of the Manufacturers Are Forced to Refuse Orders.

From trade centres come reports showing that the pressure of orders for steel is so great that manufacturers can fill only a part of those offered. An encouraging feature is the increasing purchases by the railroads of equipment and track supplies. The Iron Age says:

Despite efforts of the larger steel companies to hold the demand in check, signs of a runaway steel market are increasing. They report orders coming in at such an enormous rate that all of them are being carefully considered before being accepted. On some classes of material it is a question of getting deliveries and not prices. This month will establish new records in the output of iron and steel, but in spite of the huge production the mills are getting further back in deliveries.

The pig iron market is very strong and prices are not only maintained, but are being advanced in some districts. Several furnace interests have withdrawn completely from the market for delivery this year, and some have stated their inability to consider orders on foundry iron until next July. There appears to be a growing scarcity of basic pig iron.

The Iron Trade Review says:

Buying of rolling stock by the railroads is continuous on an increased scale. Buying of cars in the week has called for about 15,000, of which the principal lot, amounting to 9,000 cars, was for the New York Central system. The recent buying of this system alone has amounted to about 15,000 cars. Locomotive orders also are heavier. Pending negotiations call for a large number of Lehner cars and locomotives. Car building is active. These mounting requirements of steel for the railroads and other leading domestic buyers are making the problem of steel-workers more and more difficult, as, with the heavy foreign trade continuing, it is practically impossible to fill all the demand.

BUSINESS TROUBLES

In Town.

METALOCK MANUFACTURING COMPANY.—A petition in bankruptcy has been filed against the Metalock Manufacturing Company of 25 Pine Street, manufacturer of metal tags for shipping, railroads, and express companies, by these creditors: James B. Wilson, $501; John F. McClum, $154, and Charles W. Glover, $285. It was alleged that the company permitted creditors to obtain judgments for $463, and on Aug. 31 Judge La Fetra of the City Court appointed Abraham M. Praiser receiver in supplementary proceedings. The company was incorporated on June 25, 1914, with capital stock of $30,000, and had a plant at Bush Terminal, Brooklyn. For some months past the company has been under a reorganization.

H. N. ROWE & CO.—A petition in bankruptcy has been filed against Harvey N. Rowe, doing business as H. N. Rowe & Co., fruit and produce commission merchants at 173 West Street, by these creditors: H. G. Miles & Co., $2,151; W. O. & H. W. Davis, $3,100, and Thomas P. Wallace, $13. It was alleged that an assignment had been made to Ward W. Smith. The assignment was made for H. N. Rowe by William G. Rowe, attorney in fact. Assets are estimated at $10,000. The store, it is said, was closed on Saturday last. Mr. Rowe began business in August, 1905.

ROSENFELD-SHAFFRON COMPANY, INCORPORATED, manufacturer of dresses at 37 West Twenty-eighth Street, has made an assignment to Benjamin B. Greller. A petition in bankruptcy was also filed against it by these creditors: M. V. Scanlan, $129; H. Abrams, $136, and Frederick A. Stiefel, $240. The company was incorporated Feb. 19, 1915, with capital stock of $15,000. Moses Shaffron is treasurer. Liabilities are $9,000 and assets $5,000.

HARRY GOODMAN.—A petition in bankruptcy has been filed against Harry Goodman, dealer in men's and women's furnishing goods at 767 Columbus Avenue, by these creditors: Samel & Co., Frederick W. McManus, $229, and Albert Rabinowitz, $93. He made an assignment on Sept. 1.

CHARLES C. BIGELOW, manager and salesman, of 201 West Seventy-ninth Street, formerly President of Bigelow, Smith & Co., publishers, has filed a petition in bankruptcy with liabilities of $7,908 and assets of $2,245, consisting of notes, $839; accounts, $108, and unliquidated claims, $1,296. He also has 996 shares of stock of Bigelow, Smith & Co., of no value.

JONAS GREENBERG, an embroiderer, of 235 East Thirteenth Street, has filed a petition in bankruptcy, with liabilities of $1,532 and no assets. Rose Greenberg, his wife, also filed a petition with him jointly to get rid of a judgment for $255 against both of them.

BESSIE MICHAELS.—A petition in bankruptcy has been filed against Bessie Michaels, dealer in millinery at 143 Norfolk Street, by these creditors: Pennsylvania Furniture Company, $662; Nathan Altman, $772, and Levy & Emsler, $9. She made an assignment on Aug. 13.

PETITION DISMISSED.

COLLAPSO PRODUCTS COMPANY.—Judge A. N. Hand has dismissed the petition in bankruptcy filed on May 18 against the Collapso Products Company of Tenth Avenue and Twenty-third Street on consent of creditors.

Receiver Appointed.

ONE HUNDRED AND FOURTEENTH STREET & SEVENTH AVENUE CONSTRUCTION COMPANY.—Judge A. N. Hand has appointed Clarence S. Hoffman receiver for the One Hundred and Fourteenth Street & Seventh Avenue Construction Company, bond $1,000, on application of Simons & Meyer, creditors. They alleged that the company was unable to continue the building on the corner of Edgecomb Avenue and 139th Street, and the other on Edgecomb Avenue, near 138th Street, under a building loan from a life insurance company. On Oct. 22 the company received $9,000 on the building loan, and that Max Weinstein, the President, converted the money to his own use and left the State, leaving contractors, material men, overlooking men, and laborers unpaid. These buildings are unfinished. The company also owned 125-135 West 111th Street, but transferred them on Oct. 2 to Isidor Reis.

Bankruptcy Schedules.

ISAAC BERGER, dealer in dry goods at 94 Orchard Street, has filed schedules showing liabilities of $47,740 and assets of $18,843, consisting of stock, $8,032; fixtures, $100; accounts, $10,500, and cash in bank, $211.

BLOCK & MILLER, manufacturers of boys' clothing, at 722 Broadway, have filed schedules showing liabilities of $20,021 and assets of $11,662, consisting of stock, $6,896; fixtures, $300; accounts, $4,331, and cash in bank, $235.

Assignment.

UNITED AUTO SUPPLY COMPANY, dealer in automobile supplies at 88 Chambers Street, has made an assignment to Julian H. Paw. The company was incorporated in March, 1911, with a capital stock of $10,000. George E. Levites is President. A petition in bankruptcy was filed against the company on Nov. 12, 1913, and it made a composition with creditors at 20 cents on the dollar.

Out of Town.

Special to The New York Times.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 27.—Whether Owen W. Owen of the Racine Stool Manufacturing Company was insolvent at the time of the filing of involuntary bankruptcy in July is to be determined by a jury in the United States District Court. The collapse of the Commercial and Savings Bank of Racine was responsible for the petition. Banking Commissioner Kuehl, representing the bank, seeks to realize on its claim of about $45,000, for which Owen personally was liable.

The Lueck Manufacturing Company, manufacturers of metal and wire specialties, asked to be adjudged bankrupt in a petition admitting liabilities of $34,177.30, and listing assets of $41,177.17.

JUDGMENTS.

The following judgments were filed yesterday, the first name being that of the debtor:

In New York County.

Airweller, Julius—Ideal Heat & Draft Regulator Co.....$116.84
A. L. M. Motor Sales Co.—Rowland Advertising Agency, Inc.....286.88
Bankers National Realty Cor.—M. Heybeck.....256.02
Berkowitz, William F.—S. E. Ashley.....379.91
Briggs, Wilbur L.—Simon Geoghan...1,030.74
Bordens Condensed Milk Co.—B. Passel...500
Bartels, Alfred—City of N. Y.....1,031.85
Brill, Henry M.—E. Lewin.....224.48
City of N. Y.—Coneland.....428.21
Same—H. S. Kerbaugh, Inc.....14,235.84
Cole, Herbert S.—J. S. Crosby.....469.51
Cutler Abraham J.—E. Faber.....241.91
Dinhmy, Farrai Co.—Dutty Carney Co...323.83
David, Charle, T.—Philip Strobel & Sons, Inc.....278.86
Donnelly, Thomas F.—Acker Merrall & Condit Co.....131.38
Danziger, Arthur W.—S. Kahn.....202.56
Danforth, Edward M.—B. Krieger.....151.16
Eller, Max—J. Brown.....263.90
Eusner, Genovefa or Genevieve—Staten Island Savings Bank.....2,246.83
Elsnowitz, Benjamin, and Morris Lewine or Levin—A. Nuffik et al.....170.65
Finkelstein, Isse—City of N. Y. costs...125.25
Freundlich, Leo H.—R. L. Briggs.....318.19
Flanagan, J. Arthur—Edwards & Rierdon Co.....141.56
Fluegelman, Isadore—Bupeck & Guerin.715.42
Forsythe, Frank—M. Needle.....374.30
Goldberg, Samuel, Mollie Goldberg, and Isidor Meiselman—M. Brager.....168.25
Feldman, Esther—M. Udovich.....310.65
Graus, John—Hibson Distilling Co.....217.04
George J. Sirico Ass'n—Rudolph Wurlitzer Co.....266.68
Goldberg, Samuel—M. Brayer.....139.70
Gelbstein, Jacob & Yetta—S. Green et al. 169.74
Gershnowitz, Joseph—J. Scheuer & Co., Inc.....149.17
Gerlach, Anton J.—A. J. & J. J. McCollum, Inc.....443.63
Holmes, Amelia—M. D. Becker.....102.21
Harris, John—K. Harris, costs.....108.10
Herbert Robertson & Co., Inc.—A. C. Aborn.....5,561.04
Karro, Harry—Majestic Metal Bed Co., Inc.....128.42
Kibbe, Frank—Bluthenthal Bickart, Inc.181.33
Kohan, Samuel & Abraham—M. Koven.504.91
Kelly, Patrick—Gibson Distilling Co.....143.58
League of New Hungary—M. Trautman.....139.33
Lynch, Luke G.—M. J. Rubin.....135.16
Linch, Geo. W., Rec'r.—M. Ringo.....7,658.60
Same—M. Ringe.....500.00
Lisi, Giuseppe—S. Rizzo.....100.15
Locke, Chas. E.—Illinois Surety Co.....314.01
Meadows, Thomas C.—J. R. Hasbrouck.220.50
Meyer, David A.—F. O. Dobler et al.....305.73
Mankin, Gussie—America Coat Co.....262.20
Mangianelli, Paolo—A. Milone, adm...5,462.98
Mennella, Mariangiola & Vincenzo—Farmers' Loan & Trust Co.....5,580.65
Manzione, Luigi—M. Polito.....114.27
Morris, Abraham—H. S. Rosenbloom...182.65
McDonald, Heber—A. M. Nodine.....124.94
Peter Langdon, Inc.—Rudolph Wurlitzer Pittsburgh Contracting Co.—J. Manglass.....6,132.35
Perenyi, Bela—G. D. Berko, costs.....140.69
Pryer, Christopher—W. V. Kelley.....132.75
Purits, Ella—M. Brayer.....131.05
Ryan, Cornelius J.—National Casket Co.645.38
Ryan, John—L. Lashure, costs.....147.51
Rowland, Samuel—W. Maher.....2,576.46
Roth, Nathan—German Exchange Bank.367.61
Stern Selling Service, Inc.—Perkins, Van Bergen & Co.....1,236.01
Speer, Mary A. A.—N. Y. C. & H. R. R. R. Co., costs.....112.40
Same—New York State Realty & Terminal Co., costs.....105.60
Sheriff, Michael—J. Volk.....1,037.00
Shidlovsky, Sussman—R. Passavant et al.....306.39
Schrier, Harry—S. Keiser.....460.47
Spear, Robert—T. R. Danner.....149.87
Shebar, Abraham, and Harry Klein—H. Salant.....298.56
Sternbell, Samuel—I. Sheinberg.....383.40
Stern, Morris—A. M. Levinson et al.....300.63
Smith, Horace H.—Acker, Merrall & Condit Co.....102.66
Schlesinger, Adolph—C. Lanier.....2,488.40
Same—C. L. Lawrence.....2,510.74
State Bank—Y. Horowitz, possession of chattels or.....1,584.50
Tarbulsky, Joseph N., and Ethel M. Kalil—G. K. Phillips.....1,130.00
Thring, Eugene—W. P. Anderson.....136.91
Wolf, William—Williams & Morford Co.418.39
Wilson Art Glass Co., Inc.—United Art Glass & Lamp Mfg. Co., Inc.....319.55
Weber, Robert K.—A. Campagna, Construction Co.....530.15
Winslow, W. Gaston—Stitt & Cohen.....275.69
Witt, Chaim—Austro-American Steamship Co., Ltd.....455.61
Zeuner, Jacob—Brooklyn Heights R. R. Co., costs.....108.28

In Bronx County.

Anderson, Theodore—E. Fleischl et al..341.72
Bischoff, Gustav—M. H. Gillespie et al.476.31
Barba, John—J. F. Mason.....194.47
Botteuus, Ralph E.—H. M. Witt.....180.11
Ehrlich, William—M. Meyer.....66.10
Flanagan, Thomas, and Frederick J. Conklin—D. Schachner.....37.41
Gellis, Philip—Olin J. Stephens, Inc....54.67
George Sykes, Inc.—R. Morrison.....304.91
Gerlich, Anton J.—A. J. & J. J. McCollum, Inc.....443.63
Gold, Benjamin—L. L. Goldstein.....78.26
Knepper, Herman—S. Rosenberg.....106.30
Olkofsky, Max—B. Heftman.....94.20
Pitkowsky, Jennie, and Philip Kaldopkin—A. F. Fowler.....1,576.55
Schoen, Louis—F. W. Stock & Sons....115.16
Singer, Morris—Grossman Bros. & Rosenbaum.....42.32

SATISFIED JUDGMENTS.

The first name is that of the debtor, the second that of the creditor, and date that when judgment was filed:

In New York County.

Celio, Gennaro—Fruit Auction Co., Aug. 10, 1915.....$283.96
Gifford, Stanley—E. L. Richards, June 24, 1915.....1,427.48
Herbst, Meyer—P. Poiacsek, Oct. 18, 1915.....200.00
Hanover, Moses J.—M. Epstein et al., June 9, 1914.....301.11
Kramer, Tema—D. Shukoff, Sept. 24, 1915.....3,209.28
N. Y. Life Ins. & Trust Co.—J. Tringle, March 15, 1915.....2,150.75
Phillips, Isaac S.—M. Testig, March 25, 1915.....820.92
Tiernan, Patrick, and James Masterson —International Wine & Liquor Co., April 4, 1914.....261.13
Uhl, Herman—B. Clarke, March 10, 1915.....1,644.48
Zinsser, Frederick G.—Hastings Land Imp. Co., March 20, 1915.....2,727.62
Douglas, Charles—City of N. Y., Sept. 24, 1915, (vacated).....531.88

LATEST CUSTOMS RULINGS.

A dispute between the Custom House officials and Mogi, Mononei & Co. regarding the classification of Japanese fern dishes, vases, trays, &c., was settled yesterday by the Board of General Appraisers. The Collector returned all of the merchandise as manufactures in chief value of bamboo, and took duty at the rate of 35 per cent. ad valorem. The importers' claim was for entry at 15 per cent. as manufactures in chief value of wood. The board found that certain items on the invoices were principally of wood. As to these the Collector was reversed, his classification on the balance of the goods being affirmed.

Roger & Gallet and others lost in the contention that the provision for "talcum" in the tariff is more specific than the provision for toilet preparations. The merchandise in controversy was talc scented or perfumed. It was assessed for duty at 60 per cent. ad valorem as a toilet preparation. Counsel for the importers claimed at the hearing that the proper rate of duty was 15 per cent. under Paragraph 69, providing for "talcum." The witnesses for the protestants testified that the article was used on the face. Judge McClelland said in his decision that it had been the practice of the authorities for ten years to classify the article in controversy as a toilet preparation. He held that, while the merchandise may be largely composed of talc, it had become by processes of manufacture and by the addition of other materials a finished article ready for a specific use. It was, the decision said, no longer simply talcum or ground talc: Collector affirmed.

The International Forwarding Company, Chicago, questioned the Collector's classification of peanut oil. The commodity was taxed 6 cents per gallon as peanut oil, while the importers claimed free entry as Chinese nut oil. A witness stated that, while some of the oils in controversy were not in fact peanut oils, they were dealt in under that name and used for similar purposes. The Government chemist at Chicago reported that the merchandise was peanut oil. As the testimony failed to show that the product was Chinese nut oil, the Collector was affirmed.

Hensel, Bruckmann & Lorbacher won in the contention that lambskins tanned but not finished were not dutiable at 10 per cent. ad valorem as glove leather. The board accordingly ordered their entry free of duty as unfinished skins.

GETTING RUSSIAN GOODS.

E. C. Porter, agent in charge of the local branch office of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, which has been handling the arrangements connected with the release of certain shipments of goods from Russia, announced yesterday favorable developments during the past few days. The Russian authorities have responded with cable answers to most of the requests which have already been filed, and in a great majority of cases permission to ship goods has been granted.

H. D. Baker, Commercial Attache of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce in Petrograd, has made special efforts to secure speedy action in regard to these applications, and his vigor and energy in following the matters up have borne fruit.

At the present time, on account of military necessities, the Russian Government has forbidden the release of shipments of hides and skins and all wools. Fur skins, seeds and other articles, however, have been released without undue delay.

TURN YOUR CAPITAL AS OFTEN AS POSSIBLE

Because it reduces the percentage of your fixed charges and increases your profits.

When you borrow on your outstanding accounts as and when you need the money you are turning your capital more often.

We DON'T NOTIFY your customers and YOU collect the outstandings. Charges interest at 6% per annum and a fair bankers' commission.

Representative will call on request.

LICHTENHEIN & STERN
New York: 26 Exchange Pl.
Philadelphia: 422 Drexel Bldg.

ARRIVAL OF BUYERS.

Arriving Buyers may register in this column by telephoning 1000 Bryant.

ALLENTOWN—Annewalt Bros.; W. H. Annewalt, hats; Imperial.
ATLANTA—Dawson-Paxon-Stokes Co.; M. H. Douthit, carpets and upholstering goods; 71 W. 23; Longacre.
BALTIMORE—Baltimore Bargain House; F. M. German, neckwear; 354 4th Av.; Broztell.
BALTIMORE—Goldenberg Bros.; M. Oppenheimer, white goods, linings, umbrellas, and notions; L. Goldenberg, rep.; 15 W. 26th.
BALTIMORE—Stewart & Co.; W. B. Reed, rugs, carpets, upholstery goods; 18 W. 35th; Prince George.
BALTIMORE—B. Freedman & Son; M. J. Freedman, woolens, tailors' trimmings; Aberdeen.
The pig iron market is very strong and prices are not only maintained, but are being advanced in some districts. Several furnace interests have withdrawn completely from the market for delivery this year, and some have stated their inability to consider orders on foundry iron until next July. There appears to be a growing scarcity of basic pig iron.
BALTIMORE—Lauer's Dept. Store; M. H. Goldstein, cloaks, suits, dresses, upholstery; Breslin.
BALTIMORE—W. E. Arnold Co.; W. A. Delahay, window shades, trunks, &c.; Imperial.
BALTIMORE—Goldenberg Bros.; M. Schneeberger, laces, embroidery, hosiery, gloves, &c.; 15 Longacre.
BALTIMORE—W. H. Towles Mfg. Co.; W. H. Towles, piece goods; 346 B'way.
BALTIMORE—E. Fleischer & Son; S. M. Fleischer, ball goods; Knickerbocker.
BALTIMORE—L. Singer & Son; S. M. Singer, woolens; Wallick's.
BALTIMORE—Baltimore Bargain House; W. J. Bigler, notions, &c.; 354 4th Av.
BALTIMORE—The Hub; A. P. Clarke, men's hats; Navarre.
BALTIMORE—Miller Clothing Co.; L. M. Miller, clothing, furnishing goods; Herald Sq.
BALTIMORE—Hochschild, Kohn & Co.;

DECISIONS AND CALENDARS

CASES WILL BE CALLED IN THE ORDER GIVEN BELOW.
(c) This character means cersus or against.

FEDERAL.

Supreme Court.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Frank T. Wolcott of New York City was admitted to practice.

33—H. W. O'Neill v. J. F. Leamer.—Argument continued.

34—City of New York v. W. Sage, Jr.—Argument commenced.

35—L. Houck v. The Little River Drainage Co.—Argument commenced.

Adjourned until tomorrow.

Call for Oct. 28: Nos. 33, 37, 38, 40, 41, (and 224, and 242,) 42, 43, 44, 45, and 46.

Southern District.

DISTRICT COURT—Learned Hand, J.—Room 337, P. O. Bldg., at 10:30 A. M. Equity.
De Laski & Thropp<US Tire Co.

DISTRICT COURT—Hazel, J.—Room 1, 12th floor, Woolworth Bldg., at 10:30 A. M.
Woolworth Bldg., 12th floor, at 10:30 A.M.
Admiralty:
Chappell<Tugs Auburn & Minnie.
Am Tobacco Co<SS Roualia.

DISTRICT COURT—Mayer, J.—Room 227, P. O. Bldg., at 10:30 A. M. Jury calendar.
Trumbenski<Erie Rit. Co.
Dicherson<Penn R R.
Meares<D, L & W R. R.
Noel<Inter Mer Mar.

DISTRICT COURT—Learned Hand, J.—Equity call calendar.
Townsend<Cohen & Harris.
Thowless<Narnst L'mp Cleaners Co<US Expansion Bolt Co.
Du Pont<Gardiner.
Grand Rapids Showcase Co<Straus.
Webb<Seiple.
Nat Carbon Co<Bright Star Battery (2.)
Hubert & Stern<same.
Schnaier<Lee & Bloch<same.
Newhall<same.
Diamond Expansion Bolt Co<same.
Newhall<Topping Bros
Benedict<CNY.
Slip Scarf Co<Church, Webb & Close.
Marconi<De Forest.
Splitdorf<Bosch Magneto Co.
NY Gas App Co<Stolzer.
Marconi<De Forest.
Piel<Stewart-Warner & Corum.
Wing<Riesner (2.)
Greenwald Bros. Inc<Oppenheim, Collins & Co.
McManus<Sawyer & Blake.
Fitch<Young & Underhill.
Pinero<Evans Film Mfg Co.
Dolan<Metropol Bank.
Ritz Cycle Car Co<Driggs-Seabury O Corpn.
Marconi<Wireless Specialty Apparatus Co.
Paper Co.
Tuenling<CNY.

TRIAL TERMS — Part II.—Weeks, J.—At 10:30 A. M.
Sherman Nat Bk<Basin (2.)
Rusn<Fields.
Mitchell Motor Co<Chandler.
Schorsch<London Guar & Ac Co.
Snyder<Fisher.
Gabler<Bijur Bros.
Booker<Gulf Mfg Co.

PART III.—Dugro, J.—At 10:30 A. M.
Tangeman<CNY.
Pyrea<CNY.
Armstrong<Mulcahy & Gibson.

PART IV.—Delehanty, J.—At 10:30 A. M.
Glasser<C I & B R R.
Cohen<Morgenstern.
Magnanimo<Coast Coaling Co.
Geschwind<Heydt.
Goldfarb<Wolfberg.
Gross<Smith.
Merk<E H RR.
Barisch<Postal Transfer Service.
Faber<CNY.
De Barber<Borden's Cond Milk Co.
Ludvigh<Thurnauer.
Wehrlen<Kny.
Schrerer.
Cohen<Engel.

PART V.—Donnelly, J.—At 10:30 A. M.
Gentleman<E Riv Wet Wash Co.
Fischer<Singerovitz.
Williams<New Eng S S Co.
Glynn<Roth.
Kalabya<Reilly.
Bartick<Postal Trans Ser.

PART VI.—Davendorf, J.—At 10:30 A. M.
Woods<Yonkers L, &c.
Huhle<Verschleiser.
Abrams<Smith.

PART VII.—Whittaker, J.—At 10:30 A. M.
Cullinane<Cons Gas.
Berskin<C I & B RR.

PART VIII.—Pendleton, J.—At 10:30 A. M.
Weinstein<Singer Sew Mach Co.
Cornelius<Rieser.
Leavitt<O'Rourke Eng & Const Co.
Johnston<Wave Imp & Const Co.
Muslin<Fargo, McMurrough<3d Av RR.

PART IX.—Platzek, J.—At 10:30 A. M. Case on. No day calendar.

PART X.—Adjourned for the term.

PART XI.—Adjourned for the term.

PART XII.—Adjourned for the term.

PART XIII.—Adjourned for the term.

PART XIV.—Finch, J.—At 10:30 A. M.
CNY<NY Steam Co.
Posner<Kurzrok Bros Co.
Shalek<Eppig.
Fischer<Schram.
Reich<Moody.
CNY<Bradley Const.
Smith Cond Co<CNY, N Y Assets Real Co<Thompson.

PART XV.—Cohalan, J.—At 10:30 A. M.
Moore<McDermott.
Fed Trust<Carberry.
Archer<Amsdell.
Lykens<Hopkins.
Lykens<Ihlefeld.
Schloss<Hoffman Co.
Spencer<Wilbur.

PART XVI.—Lehman, J.—At 10:30 A. M.
Hathaway<CNY.
Hillyard<Brande.
42 St. &c. R R<US Wood Preserv Co.

PART XVII.—Gavegan, J.—At 10:30 A. M.
Sutton<MacBride.
Haulty<Gorham Co.
Feit<Lorberbaum.
Penn Cement Co<Gustav Rader Co.
Burkhart<Jamaica Estates.

PART XVIII.—Goff, J.—At 10:30 A. M.
McNeal<Sea Gate Assn.

Surrogates' Court.

CHAMBERS—Cohalan, S.—At 10:30 A. M.
Estate of:
Johanna Reubner.
Wills for probate:
Celia Zuckerman.
Lily E. Jones.
Abijah Alexander.
Yuh Angeblich.
Amanda Webb.

SPECIAL TERMS—Part I.—La Fetra, J.—At No day calendar.

City Court.

SPECIAL TERM—Part I.—La Fetra, J.—At 10 A. M. Motions.
Am Slicing Mach Co<Wagner.
Kantor<Vanta.
Koholy<Sherman.
Re Neiman & Trubin.
West Side Bank<Brandt.
Ferris Co<Lillerose.
Shimm<Stancompiano.
Cohen<Barthel.
C Ludwig Baumann & Co<Wilson.
Bway Bldg Co<Baumbuettner<Behrend. (2)
Brown<Stephens.
Hyman<Solomon.
Forman<Ellis.
Seldman<Bakal.
Corrigan<Locust Farms Co.

PART II.—O'Dwyer, J.—At 10 A. M.

TRIAL TERMS—Part I.—Ransom, J.—At 9:45 A. M.
Kasmer<L Bauer Co.
Blaustein<Amabila.
Timin<Yellow Taxicab Co.
Stanchvik<N Y Rys.
Myszlinik<Dock Cont
Meshurisman<NY Rys
Ritter<Saso, (2.)
Beder<Khourl.
Lurla<Linch.
Frager<Amsterdam Bldg Co.
Unger<5th Av Coach.
Lipfeld<Greenberg.
Treacy<Myers.
Laemmle Dairy Co<Hagenkotter et al.
Brzozowski<Brzozowski et al.
O'Brien<Ruppel et al.
Bossert et al<Listort et al.
Frost<Goeller et al.

Cases will not be placed on the ready section of the calendar until the pleadings have been received by the clerk.

The following causes, if marked ready, will be passed for the day; no cause will be set down for a day on this call:

Municipal Liens Co<Valentine et al.
Eldred<Eldred.
Mayer<Tevlin et al.
Payne<E River Gas Co of L I City.

Highest number reached is 99h.

TRIAL TERM—Part I., Crane, J.; Part II., Blackmar, J.—At 10 A. M.
Braun, as admx<Place et al.
Lindeke, an inf<L I RR.
Jench<same.
Lynch<C I & B RR.
Ochsen<NY & E R Ferry.
Anderson<Degnon Con
Michaels<Boyd.
Meyer<Elias Brew Co.

The following causes, if marked ready, will be passed for the day. No cause will be set down for a day on this call:

Kohl<L I RR.
Pidgeon<Burke.
Lynch<L I RR.
Pascale<B H RR.
Flore<same.
Phelan, an inf<Barclay, an inf.
Phelan<same.
Carbone, an inf<Lyman.
Johnson, an inf<Hollerith.
Remsen<L I RR.
Satriana<McGovern.
Greenberg, as admx<B. & O. & S RR.
Brust<NY Consol RR.
Palitoski, an inf<Van Iderstine Co.
Steinmetz, an inf<Metal Stamping Co.
Elliot<NY & Q Co Ry et al.

Highest number reached on the general calendar is 441.

County Court.

TRIAL TERM—Humphrey, J.—At 10 A. M.
Flance<Ferris.
Scheuer<NY & Q El L & P Co.
Wood<B H RR Co.
Hart<Sus.
Corcoran, an inf<B H RR Co.
Costell<Same.
Van Wicklen<Same.
Mitchell<Same.
Marsh<Kelly.
Wittpen<Kelsey.

Remainder of calendar passed for the term.

WESTCHESTER COUNTY.

Supreme Court.

SPECIAL TERM FOR TRIALS—Clark, J.—At 10 A. M.
Powles<Knopp et al.
Bischofsky<Wohl.
Levy<Dockendorff.
Schroeder<Elflein et al.
Donner<Donner.
Siegel, as receiver<Reich et al.

Cases will not be placed on the ready section of the calendar until the pleadings have been received by the clerk.

The following causes, if marked ready, will be passed for the day; no cause will be set down for a day on this call:

Municipal Liens Co<Valentine et al.
Eldred<Eldred.
Mayer<Tevlin et al.
Payne<E River Gas Co of L I City.

Highest number reached is 99h.

TRIAL TERM—Part I., Manning, J.; Part II., Kapper, J.; Part IV., Jaycox, J.; Part V., Maddox, J.; Part VI., Aspinall, J.; Part VII., Van Siclen, J.
Kearse<County Co.
Sulzbach<Siry.
Leonard<B H RR.
McAvoy<Benkowsky.
Annunziata<Tulin Co.
Buck<CNY.
Farley, Comr, &c<Alevola.
Herman<CNY.
Albert<B H RR.
Lakin<CNY.
Johnson<Barrett.
Sweeney<CNY.
Sodagarsky<Hoffman.
Rupp<Monitauk Metallic Bed Co.
Cafiero<CNY et al.

The balance of the day calendar stands over until Nov. 1.

Highest number reached on regular call, 1810.

Surrogate's Court.

CHAMBERS—Ketcham, S.—Day calendar at 10 A. M.
Wills of:
James R O'Connor.
Annie M Budd.
Catherine Harrison.
Accounting of:
James Gibben.
Julius Zimmer.
Charles Donley.
Robert Craddock.
Ellen Craddock.
Lustenberg Infants.
Otto Schreiber.
John-D Carroll.
Cornelia Conkling.
Emile Maier.

CONTESTED CALENDAR.
Charlotte Jenkins.

County Court.

PART IV., Hylan, J.; Part V., Dike, J.—Calendar called at 10 A. M.
Brady<Loeser & Co.
Schlers<B H RR.
Capone<Law.
Merdalis<Mansdorf.
Martin<B H RR.
Hulse<Gartenlaub.
Safier<Nas Elec R R.
Bertha Bederman.
Joseph Gonzales.
James Surpless.
Herman Clark.
Helen Balmes.
Boris Balland.
James Dykman.

Estates of:
Michael Hart.
Anna Sembler.
Dunn Infants.
Daniel Nash.
Joseph K Bell.
Louis Magenheimer.

KINGS COUNTY.

Supreme Court.

APPELLATE DIVISION—Second Department—Recess.

APPELLATE TERM—Second Department—Recess.

SPECIAL TERMS—Part I.—Kelly, J.—Motions.
Embrey, Inc<Winant, (2.)
DeSonge Co<Baumann, (2.)
Sullivan<McGarvey, (2.)
Relyea<Relyea.
Re Koch Co. (Lummis, Assignee.)
Bossert<Ducker Co.
Hunter<Hall.
Williams<N Y Co.
Cusick<Cusick.
Witteman<Continental Ins Co, (2.)
Levy<Levy. (2.)
Warshauer<Newman & Carey Co.
Nichols<Nichols.
Crippen<Terry & Tench Co.
Pollakoff<McKinney's Express Co.
Hallister<Billings.
Schin<Brown & Co.
Egan<Dempsey.
Sickinger<Sickinger.
Beach<Makosky.
Acchille<Gaeto.
Re Central Av.
Re Cassel Av.
Bellove<Bellove.
Re 76th St.<Corley.)
Adams<Gen'l Bag Co.
Sussman<Beaver Eng & Contr Co.

PART II.—Callaghan, J.—Ex parte business at 10 A. M.

SPECIAL TERM FOR TRIALS—Case on.—No day calendar.

TRIAL TERM—Part I., Manning, J.; Part II., Kapper, J.; Part IV., Jaycox, J.; Part V., Maddox, J.; Part VI., Aspinall, J.; Part VII., Van Siclen, J.
Kearse<County Co.
Sulzbach<Siry.
Leonard<B H RR.
McAvoy<Benkowsky.
Annunziata<Tulin Co.
Buck<CNY.
Farley, Comr, &c<Alevola.
Herman<CNY.
Albert<B H RR.
Lakin<CNY.
Johnson<Barrett.
Sweeney<CNY.
Sodagarsky<Hoffman.
Rupp<Monitauk Metallic Bed Co.
Cafiero<CNY et al.

The balance of the day calendar stands over until Nov. 1.

Highest number reached on regular call, 1810.

Surrogate's Court.

CHAMBERS—Ketcham, S.—Day calendar at 10 A. M.
Wills of:
James R O'Connor.
Annie M Budd.
Catherine Harrison.
Accounting of:
James Gibben.
Julius Zimmer.
Charles Donley.
Robert Craddock.
Ellen Craddock.
Lustenberg Infants.
Otto Schreiber.
John-D Carroll.
Cornelia Conkling.
Emile Maier.

CONTESTED CALENDAR.
Charlotte Jenkins.

County Court.

PART IV., Hylan, J.; Part V., Dike, J.—Calendar called at 10 A. M.
Blance<Ferris.
Scheuer<NY & Q El L & P Co.
Wood<B H RR Co.
Hart<Sus.
Corcoran, an inf<B H RR Co.
Costell<Same.
Van Wicklen<Same.
Mitchell<Same.
Marsh<Kelly.
Wittpen<Kelsey.

Remainder of calendar passed for the term.

WESTCHESTER COUNTY.

Supreme Court.

SPECIAL TERM FOR TRIALS—Clark, J.—At 10 A. M.
Powles<Knopp et al.
Bischofsky<Wohl.
Levy<Dockendorff.
Schroeder<Elflein et al.
Donner<Donner.
Siegel, as receiver<Reich et al.

Cases will not be placed on the ready section of the calendar until the pleadings have been received by the clerk.

The following causes, if marked ready, will be passed for the day; no cause will be set down for a day on this call:

Municipal Liens Co<Valentine et al.
Eldred<Eldred.
Mayer<Tevlin et al.
Payne<E River Gas Co of L I City.

Highest number reached is 99h

REAL ESTATE AT AUCTION.

A RARE BARGAIN
RAHWAY, N. J.

FOR SALE, at auction, twelve-room house; all improvements; corner plot, 60x132 feet approximately; appraised at $6,000.

81 Jacques Avenue, Cor. Hazelwood Avenue.

Splendid location; five blocks from Pennsylvania Railroad Station, on main line; frequent trains both directions; commutation from New York $7.65 per month.

House newly painted and decorated; everything in best condition. Rooms large and airy; plenty of closets; storage room top floor. Steam heat; Smith & Travers Dragon No. 206 E Boiler; radiators in hall and every room.

Beam Ceiling in Dining Room; Panelled Walls, Plate Rail, China Closet.

Extra large kitchen, pantry; Porcelain Sink and Drain Board. Large Double Richardson & Boynton Range; Wash Tubs in cellar.

Garage on premises.

Large shade trees; beautiful Hedge; cement walks.

SALE ON PREMISES SAT., OCT. 30, 3 P. M.

UPSET PRICE AT SALE $3,000. (Assessed Value $3,700.)

Highest Bid Above Upset Price Takes It

TERMS: One-third cash, balance on bond and mortgage for three years at five and one-half per cent. per annum.

DON'T MISS THIS RARE OPPORTUNITY.

SAMUEL VAN POZNAK, Auctioneer,
42 South Orange Ave., Newark, N. J.

REAL ESTATE AT AUCTION.

PUBLIC AUCTION SALE
OCTOBER 29, 1915
Exchange Salesrooms, 3,208 Third Av., Bronx, at Noon, of VALUABLE WATERFRONT and New York Real Estate

As per Diagram:

Appraised Valuation, 1913. $526,360.00

First mortgage lien on the 29th inst., including interest, taxes, assessments, &c. $247,325.37

Property affords COMPLETE FACILITIES FOR TRANSPORTATION, EITHER BY RAIL OR WATER, and includes TWO LARGE, MODERN IRON, BRICK AND STONE BUILDINGS and SEVERAL BRICK FACTORY BUILDINGS. WATERFRONT CRIBBED AND BULKHEADED. 138th Street trolley direct to premises. Sale occasioned by difficulties attending execution of a trust. NO OTHER WATERFRONT PROPERTY OF SIMILAR SIZE, CHARACTER AND VALUE NOW AVAILABLE ON EITHER NORTH OR EAST RIVERS.

Parties interested may be able to effect A CONTRACT PURCHASE ON FAVORABLE TERMS BY PROMPT NEGOTIATIONS WITH THE UNDERSIGNED; otherwise the sale will take place.

STEELE & OTIS, Attorneys for Trustee, 25 Broad St., Manhattan.
JACOB H. SHAFFER, Esq., 113 Broadway.
LEO OPPENHEIMER, Esq., 60 Wall St.

Special Sale
5 East 47th St.,
OPPOSITE CARLTON HOUSE.
Business Property
TO BE SOLD AT Public Auction
To-day, Oct. 28,
at 12 o'clock noon, at Exchange Salesroom, 14-16 Vesey St., N. Y. C.
Four story and basement Building, 175 feet east of 5th av.; size of lot, 25x100.5 feet. Maps and further information at office of Samuel Marx
Auctioneer,
Woolworth Building, Suite 2120-2126.
Tel.: 6511-12—7604-05 Barclay.

MORGENTHAU JR & CO
AUCTIONEERS
1 BROADWAY

REAL ESTATE.

HUDSON RIVER ESTATE

To close estate of the late
Hon. Frederick W. Seward,
property at Montrose-on-Hudson, 38 miles from New York, comprising about 50 acres. Beautiful landscapes, with forest trees and shrubbery; attractive grounds and drives. Extensive frontage on Hudson River; private lakes.

Photos and maps with
Horace S. Ely & Company
21 Liberty Street

ASSIGNEE NOTICES.

CHARLES BRUNIG.—The people of the State of New York to all persons interested in the estate of Charles Brunig, assigned to Charles H. Meyer for the benefit of creditors, send greeting:

You and each of you are hereby cited and required personally to be and appear at a Special Term, Part I., of the Supreme Court of the State of New York, in and for the County of Kings, New York, to be holden in the County Court House, in the City of New York, Borough of Brooklyn, on the 22d day of November, 1915, at ten-thirty o'clock A. M., then and there to show cause why a settlement of the accounts of Charles H. Meyer, assignee of above named Charles Brunig, insolvent debtor, should not be had, and if no cause be shown, then to attend the settlement of the assignee's accounts.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto caused the seal of the said Supreme Court for the County of Kings, New York, to be hereunto affixed. Witness, Hon. Joseph Aspinall, a Justice of the said court, this 27th day of September, 1915.

(Seal) By the Court,
CHARLES S. DEVOY, Clerk.
GEORGE W. SIMPSON, Attorney for Assignee, 51 Chambers St., New York City

SURROGATE NOTICES.

BURR, JR., MELANCTHON.—In pursuance of an order of Honorable Robert Ludlow Fowler, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Melancthon Burr, Jr., late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same with vouchers thereof to the subscribed, at their place of transacting business at the office of The Union Trust Company of New York, No. 80 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, in The City of New York, on or before the 20th day of March next.

Dated, New York, the 15th day of September, 1915.

VAN RENSSELAER BURR,
THE UNION TRUST COMPANY OF NEW YORK, Executors.
NOBLE & CAMP, Attorneys for Executors, 2 Wall Street, New York City.

SCHMIDT, ANNA E.—In pursuance of an order of Honorable Robert Ludlow Fowler, a Surrogate of the County of New York, Notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against ANNA E. SCHMIDT, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same with vouchers thereof to the subscriber, at his place of transacting business at the office of Carl Schurz Petrasch, No. 80 Maiden Lane, Room 302, in the Borough of Manhattan, in the City of New York, on or before the 3rd day of April next.

Dated New York, the 21st day of Sept., 1915.
WILLIAM H. SCHMIDT, Executor.
CARL SCHURZ PETRASCH, Attorney for Executor, 80 Maiden Lane, Borough of Manhattan, New York City.

BROOKLYN—FOR SALE OR TO LET.

Factory or factory properties for sale or to lease in all sections of the Borough of Brooklyn and Queens.

Geo. W. Palmer & Co.,
781 Manhattan Av., Brooklyn.

QUEENS—FOR SALE OR TO LET.

MANY NEW HOUSES JUST COMPLETED.

Prices from $8,500 to $22,500, on convenient terms. These houses are well worth inspection. We offer also villa plots of exceptional beauty, commanding extensive views, on reasonable terms.

Kew Gardens
Surrounding Kew Gardens Station.
15 Minutes from Herald Square
Via Penn.-L. I. Electric Express Service.
In the Beautiful Hills of Kew.

Information on request from JOHN J. BRITTON, Marbridge Building, Broadway and 34th St., New York. Telephone Greeley—5250 and 5251. Representative at Kew Gardens office at Kew Gardens Station every day. Convenient trains for inspecting Kew Gardens leave Penn. Station, 33d St. and 7th Ave., via L. I. R. R. WEEK DAYS—8.17, 9.00, 10.00, 11.05, 11.50 A. M.; 12.30 (12.52 Saturday only), 1.15 Saturday only), 1.25, 2.06, 3.00, 3.45, 4.07, 4.29, 5.00 (5.11, except Saturday), (5.18 Saturday only), 5.32 P. M., &c. SUNDAY—8.25, 9.05, 10.00, 11.17, 11:34 A. M.; 1.08, 1.56, 2.12, 3.03, 4.11, 4.45, 5.25 P. M., &c. Returning at frequent intervals

Forest Hills Gardens
"A Forward Movement in Suburban Development."
15 Minutes from Herald Square.
SAGE FOUNDATION HOMES CO.,
47 W. 34th St., or Forest Hills, L. I.
Send for Booklet B.

WESTCHESTER—FOR SALE OR TO LET.

AT SCARSDALE.

2 acres, exceptionally high elevation; apple orchard, some woodland, balance in lawn; large modern dwelling, combination stable and garage; station one mile; price, $33,000.

FOX REALTY COMPANY,
22 East 42d St.

WESTCHESTER COUNTY
In Its Entirety,
SOUND—HUDSON—HILLS
Fish & Marvin 527 5TH AV.

AT CRESTWOOD

40 minutes from 42d St. Semi-bungalow, 7 rooms and bath, electricity, steam heat, living room with open fire place; high ground; rent $45.

Cooley Realty Co. 39 Prospect Avenue, Mount Vernon, N. Y.

LONG ISLAND—FOR SALE OR TO LET.

AN UNUSUAL OPPORTUNITY

Country home and farm overlooking Sound, 42 acres, on State Road, 40 miles from New York City, 12-room house, 2 baths, electricity, hot water heat, garage, 6-room cottage, all improvements, model chicken house, barn with rooms for farmer, orchard of 250 trees, beautiful shade trees. For quick sale owner will take $25,000.

EDWIN R. ROWLEY, Northport, L. I., Or 47 West 34th St.

"Water Front Estate Bargain"

Beautiful water front estate, 8 acres; magnificent mansion, 110 feet long, Georgian brick, all improvements; outbuildings, aristocratic neighborhood; commuting zone; cost $125,000; sacrifice $40,000.

HARVEY B. NEWINS,
WOOLWORTH BUILDING NEW YORK.

SACRIFICE BUNGALOW

At Brentwood in the Pines, L. I.—Ten Rooms, tiled bath, hot-water heat, gas, electricity and water; splendid all year home; five minutes from station; only $750 cash, balance easy. Address OWNER, Room 1,106, 1 West 34th St., N. Y. C.

MUST HAVE $250 CASH

at once; will sacrifice 6-room house and farm, only one hour from city; balance can be paid off on $12 per month; open evenings. SALAY, 349 East 14th St., N. Y.

NEW JERSEY—FOR SALE OR TO LET.

Most Attractive Estate, Dutch Stone House.

See photograph our office of this Bergen County Estate, property of rare charm throughout; 20 acres; fine stream; picturesque waterfall; superb land; beautiful fruit. Cut stone house, 90 feet long; hot water heat, bath, light; 14-room house with conservatory; mahogany trim. Immense and fine barns. Rubble stone farmer's house. Every acre of this place has charm. Deceased owner spent $40,000. Asking for quick sale $30,000. Greatest opportunity yet offered.

ALLABOUGH & SON 150 NASSAU ST., NEW YORK.

$75 Cash, $25 Monthly,

Which Includes Taxes and Interest,

Buys This HOUSE

5 rooms and bath; 2 added rooms can be finished off now or later. All city improvements. Attractive Northern New Jersey town; half hour out. Price $2,800. Address "Builder," P. O. Box, 1041, N. Y. City.

RENT then BUY

New, artistic, 8-room all-year residence, remarkably situated, right on golf course, 400 feet from country club; 2 baths; big living room; prefer sell outright, but willing to rent to proper party, with purchase privilege, rent to apply. "Owner," P. O. Box 416, N. Y.

AT MONTCLAIR

Am compelled to sacrifice my new $17,000 residence, 10 rooms, 3 baths, sun porch, sleeping porch, large plot, for $12,500. May be seen Sundays. Apply to my broker, Murdoch, opp. Lackawanna Terminal.

NEW JERSEY—FOR SALE OR TO LET.

FACTORY SITES
On Deep Water with Railroad Facilities

Property located midway between Newark and Jersey City, N. J., 5 MILES FROM N. Y. CITY HALL, fronting on the Passaic and Hackensack Rivers; in the heart of the World's Greatest Labor Market

crossed by
FOUR RAILROADS
and their branches, sidings from which can be obtained:

Pennsylvania R. R.
Central R. R. of N. J.
D., L. & W. R. R.
Erie Railroad

Newark Bay and Passaic River Channels up to the property 20 feet at low tide.

Property suitable for any kind of manufacturing or commercial enterprise requiring tide water and railroad facilities.

'Phone 744—Cort. 31 Nassau St., N. Y. City.

Joseph Day

Industrial Department

FACTORY FOR SALE

IN JERSEY CITY, N. J.

Located on desirable plot, containing about 1¾ acres, fronting on two streets and the Morris Canal.

Buildings are one, two, three and four story brick, iron and concrete, containing about 20,000 square feet of floor space; also frame office, stables, and wagon sheds, covering half of the land area, leaving more than half an acre for future development.

Full particulars, maps, diagrams, and photos furnished on request.

HUDSON REAL ESTATE CO., 168 Ocean Av., Jersey City, N. J.

IDEAL HOME

Price $5,500, Including Garage.

Cash required $500. Owing to business changes must sell; house has seven large rooms and cozy inglenook, with open fireplace; large closets, sanitary gas kitchen; tiled bathroom; large piazza; located on large plot; 30 minutes from New York; good transportation.

Schools, clubs, churches. All the conveniences, sewer, water, gas, electricity. This is not a speculative built house, but was built by owner by day's work for his own occupancy. Full particulars,

GEORGE S. SHAW,
Room 516—47 West 34th St., City.

TO LET FOR BUSINESS PURPOSES.

LOFTS
247-253 W. 19TH St.

7,500 SQUARE FEET TO FLOOR.
NEW SUBWAY STATION, 18th St. & 7th Av.

Exceptionally fine lights; well kept building; nice class of tenants; few Lofts with all modern improvements; 100 per cent. sprinkler system; suitable any business.

Lease, Rent Reasonable.

Apply superintendent on premises.

REVEL REALTY & SECURITIES CO., OWNER.
51 Chambers St., Phone 732—Worth.
OR YOUR OWN BROKER.

LIGHT STORE

In high-class sprinklered building on East 23d St., near Second Avenue. Size, 72x90. Will carry heavy weights. Very low insurance.

E. W. Bliss Bldgs., 312 E. 23d St.

BROADWAY STORES TO RENT
VICINITY 103D ST.
Desirable Location—Subway Station.
LOW RENTS.
Goodale, Perry & Dwight, 2705 Broadway.
Telephone Riverside 975.

NEW STORES FOR RENT.

Excellent location in college section, suitable for any business. Ideal corner store for restaurant. Amsterdam Ave., cor. 122d St.

APARTMENT HOTELS.

512 Fifth Ave.
Southwest Corner 43d St.
APARTMENTS

APARTMENTS TO LET—Furnished.

BACHELOR APTS
Furnished and Unfurnished.
2 & 3 rooms & bath, with service.
THE DURHAM, 7 E. 32d St.
THE Oakdale, 36 W. 35th St.
Renting Agent on Premises, or
Van Norden & Wilson
1 West 34th St., N. Y.

SAN JACINTO
18 EAST 60TH ST.
Any number of Rooms; Complete Service.

38 West 59th St.
FACING PARK
2-3, OR 6 ROOM KITCHENETTE APTS.

TO SUBLET,
BEAUTIFULLY FURNISHED
2 and 5 Room Apts.
In a high class, fireproof building.
Inquire office. 507 West 113th St.

APARTMENTS TO LET—Unfurnished.

MANHATTAN—West Side.

209 W. 87th—One 7-room apartment; running water in bedrooms.....$540

1,885-1,893 7th Av., at 115th—Two 8-room corner apartments..$1,200-$1,400

695 St. Nicholas Av., cor. 145th—Five rooms, $540; 7 rooms.....$720

854 W. 180th, cor. Northern Av.—One 6-room apartment $720

522 W. 183d, cor. Audubon Av.—One 7-room apartment, all outside.....$780

These apartments have all modern improvements, including elevator & phone.
CONCESSIONS TO DESIRABLE TENANTS.

Convenient to subway, "L" and street cars. Inquire on premises or of LOUIS ISRAELSON, 398 W. 145th.

THE ANICO,
1690-1696 B'way (cor. 53d)

Two, three, five rooms, extra large; high-class elevator building; parquet floors throughout; baths; $50, $70.

GAINSBOROUGH STUDIOS,
22 West 59th St.

Apartment of 3 Rooms and Bath
Ideal for Bachelor or Couple.
James E. Ball, Manager.

61ST ST., 42 WEST.

Corner Apartment, 6 large, light rooms and bath. Rent $60.
GOODALE, PERRY & DWIGHT, INC., 1,133 Broadway, at 26th St.
'Phone, Farragut—9494.

APARTMENTS TO LET—Unfurnished.

THE SOPHOMORE
21 Claremont Av.,
Just Above 116th St.
8 Rooms, 2 Baths, Lavatory.
Rents $1,400 to $1,600.

Unsurpassed location, overlooking Columbia University grounds, one block from subway station.

THE REGNOR
601 West 115th St.
N. W. Cor. Broadway.

Extra large, sunny rooms, all facing the outside, overlooking Columbia University grounds, one block from subway.

4-5-6-7 Rooms, 1-2-3 Baths.
Rents $810 to $1,850.

THE MENTONE
895 West End Av.,
S. W. Cor. 104th St.
5-6-7 Rooms, 2 & 3 Baths.
Rents $1,100 to $2,300.

Every modern improvement; one block from subway and surface lines.

THE LUXONIA
305 West 72d St.,
Bet. W. End Av. & R'side Dr.
Close to Subway Exp. Station.
5-6 Rooms, 2 Baths.
Rents $1,500 to $2,000.

Excellent appointments throughout. All have southern and eastern exposure. Should be seen to be appreciated.

Representative at Each House, or
PATERNO BROS.,
Owners and Builders,
Office, 601 West 115th St.
Tel., 1114—Morningside.

MANHATTAN—West Side.

2 Rooms
Bath and Kitchenette,
THE CAMBRIA
347-351 West 55th St.
Unfurnished, $50 to $67.50 per Month.
Furnished, $60 to $77.50 per Month.
Renting Agent on Premises, or
J. Romaine Brown Co.
299 Madison Ave.

BACHELOR APARTMENTS
SPENCER ARMS
S. E. cor. B'way & 69th St.
2, 3 & 4 ROOMS
or larger combinations — maid service included, and meals served in apartments.
Every room with permanent outside light and large closet space.
Most Convenient Location in City
Rental, $70 to $125
C. F. de Casanova, Agt., on premises, or our own broker. Tel. Columbus 3896.

El Dorado
Situated Best Section Central Park.
ELEVATOR APARTMENTS
300 Central Park West
90th to 91st St.
SUITES OF
10 Rooms, 3 Baths
13 Rooms, 3 Baths

An apartment house of the highest class, modern in every detail. Rooms are exceptionally large and well arranged.

Apply Superintendent, on Premises, or
M. RAYMOND,
507 W. 113th St. 'Phone, Morn.—8240.

TERRACE COURT
202 Riverside Drive,
S. E. Cor. 93d St.

Only one apartment of 8 rooms and one apartment of 9 rooms, 2 and 3 baths, remain to lease in this modern fireproof building. Apply to Manager on premises or SLAWSON & HOBBS, Agts., 162 W. 72d St., or
J. AXELROD,
OWNER.
200 W. 72d Street. Cor. B'way.

AVONMORE
2,131 Broadway, at 74th Street
Beautifully Appointed Apartments,
7 & 8 Rooms, $1,200-$1,600
Southern Exposure.
Within 2 blocks of 72d St. Subway Station
SUPERINTENDENT ON PREMISES.

WHITE COURT
203 WEST 107TH ST.
6 Rooms, Bath. Large and Light.
Select, Fireproof, Elevator Apartment.
$68—$80. Efficient Service.
HALL & BLOODGOOD,
542 5th Ave. Bryant 7632.

THE ADRIAN,
58 West 72d.

Eight large, light rooms, bath; parquet floors, electric light; elevator service day and night; convenient subway, elevated, and surface lines. $1,100-$1,300. Inquire Superintendent.

THE AYLSMERE,
60 West 76th St.

Seven and eight large, light rooms, bath; 2 elevators; night and day passenger service; steam dryer; convenient all traction lines; $1,200-$1,500. Supt. on premises.

Skylight Studios
5 West 16th Street
Bachelor Apartments
$30 to $60
West Side, Above 110th Street.

GRAND CORNER
7th Av., 1,919, corner 116th; open plaza, bet. subway and "L" express stations; 7-8 rooms, extra large, light, high class; all improvements; newly decorated; reduced to $80, $70, $65; great concessions; see our inducements before you select.

APARTMENTS TO LET—Unfurnished.

The Belnord
86th Street—Broadway—87th Street.

A magnificent fireproof building, embodying every known improvement. Complete in all details. Private house rooms. A location second to none. Centrally located. Immense closet space. Largest open air garden, assuring light at all times. Manager on premises.

7 to 11 ROOMS,
2 to 4 BATHS
Rental $2,100 to $7,000
F. R. Wood,
W. H. Dolson Co.
AGENTS,
89th St., Cor. Broadway.
Tel. Schuyler 3800.

ALWYN COURT
New York's Most Exclusive Apartment House.
One Luxurious Suite of
14 Rooms, 5 Baths.
One Furnished Apartment to Sublet.
Special Terms for One or More Years.
182 WEST 58TH STREET.

West Side, Above 110th Street.

KEMPE & CO.
87th St. and Broadway.

DUE to the lateness of the season we offer extraordinary values in the following New Elevator Houses. Positively Best Values on Washington Heights.

The Duncraggan,
181ST ST. & RIVERSIDE DRIVE.
Just completed. On Plaza 120 feet wide commanding elegant view of Hudson River and Palisades.
3 Rooms, $30-$35
5 Rooms, $45-$55
Short walk to subway, surface lines. New bus line will pass door.

THE TROSSACHS,
106 Northern Av., at 181st St.
Unexcelled view of prettiest part of Hudson River and Palisades.
5 Rooms, $45-$50
6 Rooms, $55-$65
Near Broadway subway and surface lines.

HOLYROOD COURT,
436 Ft. Washington Av., Cor. 180th St.
On a tree-lined avenue under supervision of Park Department.
3 Rooms, $35
5 Rooms, $50-$55

Each of these Houses is thoroughly modern; rooms are large and light, with abundant closet space. Service of the highest type is assured.

The Riviera
Riverside Drive, 156th to 157th St.
Modern 12-story Fireproof Apartment. Subway Station Half Block Distant.
5 rooms $660 to $750 per annum
7 rms. $1000 to $1200 per annum
8 rms. $1200 to $1500 per annum
9-10 rms. $1600-$2000 per annum
A. J. ODELL, Resident Manager.
Telephone, Audubon—5400.
Service and management under direct supervision of owners.
Manhattan Leasing Co.,
149 Church St. Tel. 6390—Barclay.

780 Riverside Drive
Corner 155th St.
5 & 6 Rooms } $750 to $1250

630 W. 141st
Corner Riverside
5-6-7 Rooms } $700 to $1300
Furnished Apts. $1000 and up

These Are Exceptional Apartments and positively represent the best value on Washington Heights.
Liberal Arrangements to Desirable Tenants.

BROCKTON—Elevator
661 WEST 180TH ST.
(N. E. Corner Broadway.)
4 Rooms .....$35 to $40
4 Rooms, corner, top floor $50
5 Rooms .....$45 to $50
KNAP & WASSON CO., Agents, 4729 Broadway, at 181st St.

587 RIVERSIDE DRIVE,
Corner 136th St.
7 Rooms, Rental $960
8 Rooms, Rental $1,380

1100 PARK AVE.,
Corner 89th St.
9 Rooms, Rental $1,500
EDGAR A. LEVY,
505 Fifth Ave. Tel. Murray Hill 6960.

THE HILLCREST
430 West 116th St. Facing Columbia University Grounds
MODERN ELEVATOR APARTMENTS.
8-9 Large Sunny Rooms & Baths

Rents	Parlors	18x23
$1,500 to $1,800	Dining Rooms	19x19
	Bedrooms	14x16

Manhattan Av. & 123d St.
Near 125th St. "L" and Subway.
High-Class Elevator Apartments.
2-3-4 & 5 Rooms
Kitchens and Kitchenettes,
$28 to $60 Per Month.
Large Rooms, Unusual Closet Space
'PHONE 8927 MORNINGSIDE.

THE EDWIN
561 West 147th St. N. E. Cor. B'way.
4, 5, 6, 7 Large Light Rooms.
Quiet, well kept, conveniently located house, near subway and surface lines. One very desirable corner apartment.
Resident Owner.

The Plaza,

795, St. Nicholas Av., corner 150th St.—Magnificent large, light eight-room apartment to rent; every modern convenience; rent $67.50. Superintendent.

West Side, Above 110th Street.

AT REDUCED RENTALS

We offer A-1 tenants reduced rents in order to rent the few remaining apartments in the following houses:

35 Fort Washington Av.
Corner 160th St. (Dayton Court)
Beautiful new elevator apartment; street under care of Park Department; magnificent, spacious rooms, with abundance of closet room.
4 and 6 Rooms

91 Fort Washington Av.
Cor. 162d St. (Chesburne)
A magnificent new elevator apartment on a tree lined avenue, overlooking Hudson and Palisades; all outside sunny apartments.
4-5-6 Rooms

Orinda, 530 W. 157th St.
High-class elevator Apartment House; subway express station on corner; all large rooms; all newest improvements.
5-6-7 Rooms

BERLIN RENTING AGENCY
B'way, Cor. 162d, & 141 E. 17th.

NEW BUILDINGS
Now Ready for Occupancy
THE LOYAL
894 RIVERSIDE DRIVE
Corner 161st St.
Overlooking the Hudson & Palisades.
and
DUNRAVEN APTS.
654 WEST 161ST ST.
Suites of 4-5-6-7-8 Rooms and 2 Baths
Rents, $480 to $1,320 Yearly
Open Evenings.
Renting agent on premises.
'Phone, 8045—Aud.
Friedman Con. Co., 189 Broadway

MANHATTAN—East Side.

Gramercy Park
APARTMENTS
36 Gramercy Park East
Only two apartments vacant.
A quiet, refined locality.
Special Park Privileges.
Very Attractive.
Suites of 8 & 9 Rooms
Light & Airy. Unobstructed view.
Rental price, $1,800-$2,400
Inquire of
Superintendent on premises.

Non-Housekeeping Apartments

A few Apartments available for fall renting. 1 and 2 large, airy, outside rooms with bath; modern in detail. Day and night attendance. Vacuum cleaning system, maid service, mail chute, open fireplaces, ample closet room. Meals served in apartments. Agent always on premises. 'Phone, Plaza—6070.

Rents, $600 to $1,000.

507 Madison Avenue At 53d St.

109-111 EAST 56TH ST.
Elevator Building.
135 EAST 56TH ST.
2 Rooms and Bath.
Large, light studio apartments. Rent from $540 to $900, including room service. Apply to E. C. POILLON, 103 Park Ave. Tele. 1850 Murray Hill.

RUTHERFORD
206 East 17th Street.
4 all light, outside, cozy rooms; elevator and telephone service night and day. Rent $38.

MADISON AVE., "Hoffman Arms," Corner 59th St.
4 ROOMS & BATH $900
7 ROOMS & BATH, $1,400.
2 and 3 Room Apts.—Reduced Rents.

For the Home.

Endless instruction and entertainment obtained from turning over the beautifully printed pages of The New York Times Mid-Week Pictorial. War pictures forming a record of the European conflict. 10 cents everywhere—$5.00 a year. Handsomely bound volume for $1.00 by mail. Times Square, New York.—Advt.

APARTMENTS TO LET—Unfurnished.

MANHATTAN—East Side.

The Schermerhorn
ENTIRE BLOCK FRONT,
MADISON AVE.,
82D TO 83D STS.
Exclusive
APARTMENTS
ALL OUTSIDE
9 ROOMS
Foyer and 3 Baths
$3500 to $3800
ONE APARTMENT OF
10 ROOMS
Foyer and 3 Baths
$4,000
Mark Rafalsky & Co.
56 WEST 45TH ST.
Telephone, Bryant—7848.

THE HILLHURST
160
EAST
91ST STREET

Desirable suites adapted to wants of bachelor men and women of moderate means. No children taken. Quiet, orderly people only. Tasteful decorations. Polite attendants. Superior service night and day.

UNFURNISHED HOUSEKEEPING APARTMENTS
TO LET: IMMEDIATE POSSESSION.

2 Rooms inside	$14.00	to $20.00
2 Rooms outside	$26.00	to $30.00
4 Rooms outside		$33.00
5 Rooms outside		$35.00

MAGNIFICENT ROOF GARDEN EXCLUSIVELY FOR TENANTS.
TWO OTIS PASSENGER ELEVATORS.
Free Private Phone in Each Apartment.
Night and Day Service.
MEALS SERVED IN HANDSOME DINING ROOM IF PREFERRED.
$1.00 DINNERS FOR 50C.

New Buildings.
993 PARK AVE.
Cor. 84th St.
10 Rooms, 3 Baths..$2,800-$4,300

1,155 PARK AVE.
Cor. 92d St.
10 Rooms, 3 Baths..$2,700-$3,000
12 Rooms, 4 Baths..$3,200-$3,900
Larger or smaller suites can be arranged.
Apply on Premises or at the Office of
BING & BING, 119 West 40th St.
Tel., 6410—Bryant.

145 E. 35th St.
THE SOUTHFIELD
Modern Fireproof Building, Southern Exposure.
Large, bright rooms. Extra maids' rooms. Exclusive features usually only found in higher priced apartments.
7 Rooms and 2 Baths (Simplex) $1,800-$2,500
3 Rooms and Bath $900

PEASE & ELLIMAN
Agents
340 Madison Avenue
'Phone, Murray Hill—6200.

BROOKLYN.

St. Paul Arms
79-83-87-91 Woodruff Ave.,
NEAR ST. PAUL'S PL., FLATBUSH
Only 25 minutes from Park Row; ½ block Woodruff Ave. Station Brighton Beach "L." Best section of Flatbush. New buildings, nicely decorated, completely up to date in every respect. Sanitary kitchens, tiled floor and walls, etc.
Day, Night Tel. & Hall Boy Service.

3-4-5 Rooms & Bath	$30 to $55

One 7-Room Apartment, 2 Baths, Suitable for Physician.
Hoytreis Con. Co. 516 5th Av., N. Y. Tel. Bryant 7142.
Office on premises. Phone Flatbush 2377.

ROSEMUIR
MOST DESIRABLE APARTMENTS IN BEAUTIFUL FLATBUSH.
1710 TO 1722 CATON AVE.
LOCATION UNSURPASSED.
ONE BLOCK NORTH OF CHURCH AVENUE STATION, B. B. L., TWO BLOCKS FROM PROSPECT PARK.

8, 4, 5 and 6 spacious rooms and tiled bath with shower; hardwood trim, parquet floors, handsome electric light fixtures, artistic decorations; all night telephone service; rents $28 to $60 from.....

Renting agent on premises daily, including Sunday.

WESTWOOD REALTY COMPANY
685 FLATBUSH AV.,
BROOKLYN, N. Y.

BRONX.

5 GRAND ROOMS $32—$38
JUST COMPLETED
University Heights Apartments
1912-1928 LORING PLACE,
BET. WEST BURNSIDE AVE. AND WEST 179TH ST., WEST BRONX.
Broadway Subway, 181st St., to University Av. trolley, 8 cents. Parquet floors; two families on floor; tenants restricted. Booklet.

Mortgage Loans
Forty-five cents an agate line.

Wanted.—Building loans in Queens County; 50 per cent. valuation. "Attorney," H 228 Times Downtown.

City Property
Thirty-five cents an agate line.

Real Estate.

MARK RAFALSKY & CO.,
56 West 45th Street. Tel. Bryant 7848.
RICKERT-FINLAY REALTY CO.,
Phone, Greeley 5000. 1 West 34th St.
J. CLARENCE DAVIES,
Real Estate. 149th St. and 3d Ave.
RULAND & WHITING CO.,
5 Beekman St. 693 Madison Av.
LOTON H. SLAWSON COMPANY,
171 Madison Avenue, New York.
WM. A. WHITE & SONS,
Real Estate. 46 Cedar St.

Manhattan—For Sale or To Let.

Firm owning large house, first-class condition, 20 minutes from Herald Square, will accept reliable family tenant and particularly low terms, subject to 2 months. L 98 Times.

Brooklyn—For Sale or To Let.

Craftsman Homes in the heart of Flatbush: only $4,250; send for booklet. Otto Singer, on premises, East 13th St. and Av. K, Brooklyn. Avenue J station, Brighton Beach "L."

See our ad. Sunday, easy housekeeping homes, Crown St. Realty Associates, 162 Remsen St.

Queens—For sale or To Let.

Will sacrifice two Jamaica lots for $165 each; original price $450 each; genuine bargain; must have some cash quick. C. Johnson, 4 Hanson Place, Brooklyn, opp. Flatbush Av. L. I. R. R. Depot.

Real Estate for Exchange.

Wanted—One-family house in New York City in good residential section in exchange for well-rented non-elevator apartment in Newark, N. J., yielding a large income. M. Bock, 16 Central Av., Newark, N. J.

City Houses to Let—Furnished.

For Rent—Handsomely furnished nine-room house, with Winter sleeping porch, steam heat, electric light, Oriental rugs, piano and Victrola; $125 per month. Address H. J. Prudden, 7 Oneida Av., Mount Vernon, N. Y., or 458 4th Av., New York City.

City Houses to Let—Unfurnished.

83D, 57 WEST.—Four-story, high-stoop house, 12 rooms, 2 baths; excellently laid out for rooming house. Will rent very reasonably. Caretaker on premises, or Goodale, Perry & Dwight, 2,705 Broadway at 103d.

Four-story-and-basement dwelling house, 22x100; 214 West 56th St., off s. w. cor. B'way, will sacrifice for $75,000; mortgage $32,000. W 67 Times.

128th, 106 W.—Handsome 8-story and basement dwelling; 2 baths; $900; near subway.

To Let For Business
Thirty-five cents an agate line.

PHYSICIAN'S OR DENTIST'S OFFICE.
Large, light back parlor, 18x15; running water; exclusive use of front parlor for waiting room; private house; no objection to use for sleeping; near surface, subway, elevated, bus; electric light; reasonable; agents recognized. Telephone Harlem 6344. 1 East 124th St.

MUSIC STUDIO.
Large, perfectly appointed music studio and reception room to sublet; best location in city Broadway and 57th St.; seen by appointment; telephone Circle 410. X 357 Times Annex.

Looking for OFFICES or a LOFT? We can save you both TIME and MONEY. Large or small space. All parts of city. Long or short terms. THE SUB-LEASING CO., 1,476 B'way, (cor. 42d.) Bryant 5786.

STUDIO.
77 IRVING PLACE, (S. W. COR. 19TH ST.) Rental $25. Apply on premises, or to Wm. A. WHITE & SONS, 46 Cedar St. Tel. 5700 John.

WILL BUILD FOR TENANT,
5,500 SQUARE FEET,
NEAR 34TH STREET & NINTH AVENUE.
M. M. HAYWARD & CO., 100th St. & B'way.

ONLY ONE STORE LEFT.
Choice business location, transfer point, Madison Av., cor. 80th St.; suitable cigars, stationery, florist, confectionery, &c.

Part of office to let; excellent location; building trades representative or young architect preferred. 'Phone Murray Hill—78.

Offices to let—Transit Bldg. & Annex, 7 E. 42 St. & E. 43 St. Homer Foote, Jr., Agt.

FIFTH AVENUE Showroom, sublease. Ewing Bacon and Henry, 101 Park Av.

WM. H. WHITING & CO., 41 PARK ROW.
Business Property—Sale, Rental, Management.

For Rent—Completely fitted show room. Apply Room 1,103, Oppenheim Collins Bldg.

Accountant offers services in exchange for desk room. T 31 Times.

Wanted for Business Purposes.

MANUFACTURER DESIRES SPACE.
Manufacturer, fine waists, desires space as part occupant; 8th Av.; shopping district or Wall St. section; capital $25,000; caring for retail trade; no manufacturing. Y 356 Times Annex.

Wanted, near 5th Av. and between 32d and 50th Sts., a large room, with a hardwood floor, suitable for a private dancing studio. L 100 Times.

U. S. MARSHAL'S NOTICES.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR the Southern District of New York.
NOTICE.

On October 18, 1915, a libel of information was filed in the above named Court on behalf of the United States against fifteen assorted packages of butter upon a seizure thereof, setting forth the said seizure and praying the condemnation and forfeiture of the property seized to the use of the United States for violation of Food and Drugs Act June 30, 1906, of the United States.

Pursuant to the monition of said Court therein, I hereby notify all persons claiming said goods, wares and merchandise or interested therein, to appear before said Court in the General Post Office Building, on November 8, 1915, at 10:30 o'clock A. M., (provided the same shall be a day of jurisdiction, otherwise the next day of jurisdiction thereafter), at which time and place the process will be returnable, and the trial had, and to interpose their claims and allegations, or they will be defaulted and said property condemned.

October 18, 1915.
THOMAS D. McCARTHY,
United States Marshal.
H. SNOWDEN MARSHALL, U. S. Attorney.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR the Southern District of New York.
NOTICE.

On October 20, 1915, a libel of information was filed in the above named Court on behalf of the United States against 5 cases of condensed milk upon a seizure thereof, setting forth the said seiz

Property Out of the City

Thirty-five cents an agate line.

Westchester—For Sale or To Let.

For Rent, Westchester County—New 7 room and bath, Colonial house; decorated; all improvements; line of Putnam main line; 45 minutes to Wall St.; $35. Theo. R. Heinrichs, Getty Square, Yonkers.

96 lots remaining unsold, will sell at 50 off, in fully developed tract on the Sound; 30 minutes from city. Address Collins & Rowe, 283 Elizabeth St., New York.

HOMES AND ESTATES
FOR SALE OR RENT.
ANGELL & CO., SCARSDALE, N. Y.

Come and see homes and bungalows at Larchmont. Leo Rugg, 40 West 32d St.

New Houses in Van Cortlandt Terrace. Rollins Bros., cor. Broadway & Oakmont Av.

Country Estates—Westchester, Orange Counties. Seaman Lowerre & Co., 15 East 40th.

Long Island—For Sale or To Let.

NEW MODERN HOUSE.
Semi-bungalow type, 7 rooms and tile bath; sun parlor and large porch; electricity and gas, parquet floors, white enamel, 2d floor; 28 minutes out; 100 trains; restricted neighborhood; price $5,950; easy terms. J. Mead Briggs, 200 Broadway, N. Y. Phone 3876 Cortlandt.

Chicken or vegetable farm; new, attractive 6-room house; range, tubs, china closets, &c.; large plot of rich soil; near trolley and depot and L. I. Sound; one hour from city; terms $100 down; $12 monthly. C. Owner, 1,218 Broadway, corner Van Buren St., B'klyn.

FOR LOW COST, HIGH-GRADE BUNGALOWS, VISIT BRIGHTWATERS; BOOKLET 3 ON REQUEST. T. B. ACKERSON CO., 1 WEST 34TH ST., NEW YORK.

$4 monthly and $25 down buys acre farm, near station and big towns; hour from city; price $425. Farm, Box 175 Times Downtown.

50x100; all improvements; good location; near station; 35 minutes out; $100; terms; wonderful bargain. B. F. McLain, 47 W. 34th St.

Neponsit.—Seashore homes in New York City. Neponsit Realty Company, 1 West 34th St.

Country Real Estate. L'Ecluse, Washburn & Co., 18 East 34th St., New York.

New Jersey—For Sale or To Let.

ATTRACTIVE BARGAINS
In modern one-family houses and choice building lots at private sale, a large number from which to select.
THE BANKERS' DEPARTMENT, STATE OF NEW YORK, to quickly close the business of two corporations, offers these properties at about 50% of former prices. They are located at Ridgewood, Fallsadc, Morsemere and Leonia, New Jersey, (opposite Grant's Tomb), within twenty-five minutes of Manhattan.
An inspection of these properties will convince you that they are unusual bargains.
Liberal terms. Title Guarantee Policy Free.
For further details and terms address
BENJ. D. HAIGHT, Special Deputy Supt. of Banks, care of Banking Department, 61 Broadway, New York City.

ONE ACRE, with modern 6-room cottage, steam heat, bath, electric light, hardwood floors, all improvements; 15 minutes' walk from station; $5,000; comfortable terms. Might rent.
S. S. WALSTROM-GORDON & FORMAN, Ridgewood, N. J. Fone 555.

Cranford, N. J.—If you want a home do not overlook Cranford, the most beautiful town in New Jersey; have now a few houses at a bargain price and easy terms. Droescher, 79 Warren St., New York City.

$50 cash buys bungalow at Cranford, brick and stucco, all improvements; special monthly payments; sacrifice. T. Horace, 189 Broadway. Phone 7560 Cortlandt.

Builder forced to take eight-room house, all improvements, hot water heat, best section, well at $4,250; value $5,500. Smith-Singer Co., Ridgewood, N. J.

ALL THE ORANGES Modern houses, every description, sale or rent. Frank H. Taylor, Op. Brick Church Station.

FARMS, acre upward, hour out, for poultry, fruit, vegetables, stock; monthly payments. Write for pictures. Room 1,101, 141 Broadway.

PLAINFIELD N. J., Property My Specialty. Harvey R. Limbarger, 197 North Av.

Ridgewood, N. J.—Five-acre model poultry farm; new house. Y 348 Times Annex.

New Jersey farms to let; list 10 cts. Paul Williams, New Brunswick, N. J.

Connecticut—For Sale or To Let.

Westport.—10 acres fine shore front, only $30,000. John Crawford, 7 East 42d St.

Real Estate for Exchange.

Want good farm; not rocks; have good income property and mortgages to exchange. Piquet, 354 Fulton St., Jamaica.

Apartments to Let

Furnished.

Thirty-five cents an agate line.

East Side.

LUXURIOUS BACHELOR APARTMENT, TWO ROOMS, BATH, AND KITCHENETTE, VERY HANDSOMELY FURNISHED, ORIENTAL RUGS, SOLID MAHOGANY, &C., IN HIGH-CLASS BUILDING OPPOSITE RITZ-CARLTON HOTEL; MAID AND VALET SERVICE; MEALS SERVED JUST; DECORATED; PERFECT CONDITION; RENT $150 PER MONTH TO JUNE 1; $125 PER MONTH TO OCT. 1. CARLTON CHAMBERS, 402 MADISON AV., AT 47TH STREET.

AN EXCLUSIVE apartment, 3 rooms and bath, for bachelor; very exceptional. 28 East 52d St.

Apartments. — Hotel Oxford, 35 East 27th. Furnished, unfurnished; full hotel service; restaurant; cheapest rental in New York; 2 rooms, bath, $12 weekly and up.

Desire to sublet my apartment, consisting of three rooms and bath, nicely furnished, at $40 per month. Apartment 11, 18 EAST 40TH ST.

West Side

We offer hotel conveniences at apartment house rates. You are invited to inspect our specially attractive apartments.
CATHEDRAL PLAZA,
100 CATHEDRAL PARKWAY,
110TH ST. AND COLUMBUS AV.
We have 1, 2, 3, 4 room apartments, $30, $40, $50, $60 UP MONTHLY.
Completely furnished, including dishes, silver, cooking utensils. Maid service optional. Every apartment has private bath and kitchenette. Concessions on lease and unfurnished. Near subway and "L." Must be seen to be appreciated. Phone Riverside 8970. 5th Av. bus line stops at our door.

THE VAN DYCK AND SEVERN APARTMENTS,
at Broadway, 72d to 73d St.,
overlooking Sherman Square, offer finely appointed furnished apartments of six, eight, and nine rooms, two and three baths. Manager's office, 175 West 72d St. Telephone Columbus 3547.

Alcazar, 215 Manhattan Av., Corner 109th. Capitol, 107 West 109th St.
Elegantly furnished, 2, 3 rooms, kitchenette, bath, modern elevator building, near "L," subway, Central Park; rents $50 monthly up; references essential. Phone 10200 and 9735 Riverside. Restaurant in building, open evenings.

98th St., 305-307 West.—Schuyler Arms Hotel, between Riverside and Broadway; strictly high-class house; beautifully furnished apartments, 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6 rooms, with or without kitchen, fully equipped for housekeeping; all night elevator; telephone, bellboy and maid service; restaurant in building. Phone 3064 River.

If you have a nicely furnished, high class apartment and want to rent it for 5 or 6 months send full particulars to Slawson & Hobbs, 562 West 72d St.

Five to nine rooms, $100 to $250; private duplex subleasing; completely furnished; west side, 70s to 100s. Wickliffe Gray, 260 West 73d. Columbus 3974.

HANDSOMELY FURNISHED APARTments, long, short leases; east, west side; high class only. R. de Flores, 501 5th Av. Murray Hill 3850.

GRANT COURT,
113TH ST., 610 West, near Riverside Drive.—A, 5, 6 rooms; high class apartment. Fisher.

Handsomely furnished apartments; long, short leases; choice localities. Clark Realty Co., 30 East 42d. Phone Murray Hill 5392.

Bachelor Apartment, 59th St., Overlooking Central Park.—Large living room, 2 bedrooms, and bath; maid service. L 52 Times.

96th St. Subway, express; 6 outside rooms, $60; also 8 rooms, 64th St., near Riverside, $180. Particulars, 268 West 96th St.

FURNISHED APARTMENTS.
Frederick De Hart, 30 East 42d.

Riverside Drive, No. 120, (north corner 84th.) —Eleven all light, well-furnished rooms. Call or address W. R. Stewart.

Broadway, (243 98th.) 6 B.—Attractive, sunny seven rooms; elevator; completely furnished; piano; $155.

We have furnished apartments for rent, 5 or 6 months or longer. Slawson & Hobbs, 562 West 72d St.

Sublet handsomely furnished apartment, three rooms, bath, kitchenette; $160 per month. 88 West 39th St.

Beautifully furnished apartment, 8 rooms, 3 baths, 448 Riverside Drive. Phone 6370 Morningside.

86th, 23 West.—Handsomely furnished, unusually large two-room and bath; breakfast optional.

119th, 420 West.—Five outside rooms and bath; completely, beautifully furnished; $35.

52d, 137 West.—Handsomely furnished apartments; 3, 4, 7 rooms, baths. Coyle.

Completely furnished, 7 rooms, to June; $110 month. Apt. 3. Riverside 7380.

One room, bath, kitchenette, 347 West 55th, Apt. 6-I, Cambria.

Apartments to Let

Furnished.

Thirty-five cents an agate line.

West Side.

THE WILSONIA.

225 West 69th St., near Broadway.
8 rooms, bath, and kitchenette, $50 up.

Apartments by the Month or Year.
Also Unfurnished.
SPOTLESSLY FRESH AND CLEAN.

No questionable or objectionable tenants. Phone, elevator service; maid service optional. Near Subway. "L," 5th Av. bus, street cars. REFERENCES ABSOLUTELY ESSENTIAL.

Apartments to Let

Unfurnished.

Thirty-five cents an agate line.

East Side.

MADISON AV., 1,186, COR. 87TH ST.
7 rooms, electricity, parquet floors; $100.
1,182 MADISON AVENUE.
Eight rooms, unusual light, size; $75.
53-55 EAST 86TH STREET.
Seven extra large rooms, $70-$75.

GREAT OPPORTUNITY to secure a $2,100 high-class corner apartment, on a sublease, for $1,400; eight large, light rooms and bath; vicinity of Gramercy Park; all modern improvements; references required. W 131 Times.

29th, 128 East.—Corner apartments, 6 large, light rooms, bath, steam heat, hot water, light on four sides, all outside rooms. Louis Carreau, Agent, 796 6th Av., (45th.)

STUDIO.
77 IRVING PLACE, (S. W. COR. 19TH ST.)
Rental $25. Apply on premises or to Wm. A. WHITE & SONS, 46 Cedar St. Tel. 5700 John.

Madison Av., 121.—Desirable housekeeping and non-housekeeping apartments.

31st St., 157 East, near Lexington.—Modern steam-heated apartment, 6 rooms, bath, $40.

34th, 141 East.—Large, light room, kitchenette, bath; steam heat; electricity. Zobel.

West Side

THE CLEBURNE, 924 WEST END AV.
HIGHEST TYPE 8, 9, 10 ROOM APARTMENTS, 3, 4 BATHS.
APPLY ON PREMISES OR
L. J. PHILLIPS & CO., 138 BROADWAY.

Broadway, 2,731, (Two minutes from 103d Subway Station.)—Six sunny, all light, medium sized rooms; Broadway front; all-night elevator; quiet, respectable house; no infants or dogs; reduced to $50.

West End Av., 850, (Near 102d St.)—High-class elevator apartments, eight rooms and bath; parquet floors; rent $1,100 to $1,200.

Doctor's office and apartment, 59 Gramercy Park, 105 East 21st St.; all appointments; high-class elevator building; separate entrance; $1,200; 3 rooms.

St. Nicholas Av., 430, (facing St. Nicholas Park.)—Seven large, light rooms; steam heat; modern plumbing; location first class; $30. Janitor.

$24—5 ROOMS, BATH.
105th, West, (near Central Park.)—Steam heat, hot water; location unexcelled; small families only; no dogs. Janitor.

153d, 445 West.—To sublet, 5 large, light rooms; high-class elevator apartment; Washington Heights; convenient elevated and subway; $50. Apt. 4-A.

57th, 323 West.—Three beautiful, large, light rooms and bath; all improvements; rents, $50 to $60. Apply on premises.

SUBLET.
Three rooms and bath.
HOTEL WALTON 104 West 70th St.

The Selkirk, 308 West 82d.—Two rooms, bath; southern exposure; elevator; restaurant in building; rent, $50. Apt. 64.

21ST ST., 210 WEST.—ELEVATOR APARTMENTS; 5 AND 6 ROOMS, ALL IMPROVEMENTS. $35 UP.

BROADWAY, 2,708, (103d.)—Three rooms, bath, kitchenette; owner's management; lease; $36-$40.

Ask Lewis B. Preston, Inc., 165 B'way, N. Y. C., for illus. bklt. on The Roxborough, 251 W. 92d St.

SKYLIGHT 5 West 16th St. BACHELOR STUDIOS. $30 to $60. APARTMENTS. Apartments to sublet on the upper west side, 4 to 10 rooms. Write Z., Box T 25 Times.

Grand Concourse Apartments.—See H. A. Douglas Co., 187th St. and Grand Concourse.

Apartments consisting of 2-10 rooms; best sections of city. Kempe, 87th, Broadway.

182 West 58th St.—An apartment most attractive; 14 rooms and 5 bathrooms.

79TH, 307 WEST.—8 rooms, 2 baths; $1,500-$1,800. Superintendent on premises.

Elevator apartments of 7 and 8 large rooms, $1,000-$1,500. 102 West 75th St.

150 West 79th.—High-class apartments, nine rooms, duplex and simplex $2,600.

84th, 19 West.—Seven rooms, bath, (new plumbing;) steam, hot water; $45.

Ambrosia, 405 West 123d, opposite park; 7 large rooms, bath, shower; $43.

51st, 72 West.—Two rooms, bath; also single room; all improvements; $6-$9.

838-844 Riverside Drive; near 158th St.; 6 and 7 rooms; $780 to $1,100.

106th, 209 West.—Six beautiful corner rooms, bath, steam, &c.; $40.

150th, 680 West.—Elevator apartments, 5, 6, 7 rooms, $45 to $70

58th St., 200 West.—4-5 rooms, $1,400 to $2,000. Apply Supt.

Apartments Wanted

Thirty-five cents an agate line.

Furnished.

Have clients wanting handsomely furnished apartments, east, west side; high-class only. R. de FLOREZ, 501 5th Av. Murray Hill 3850.

SMALL furnished apartment by refined family, 3 adults; would board owner in exchange; first-class table. W 127 Times.

WANTED, for 3 or 4 months, 3 rooms and bath, furnished, below 70th; will pay $100 per month. K 245 Times Downtown.

Boarders Wanted

Twenty-five cents an agate line.

East Side.

5TH AV., 47.—Unusual location; double, single room; steam heat; private bath.

15TH, 210 EAST, (Stuyvesant Park.)—Single, double rooms; home cooking; table guests.

34TH, 117-119 EAST, (Near Park Av.)—Large and single rooms, with board.

45TH ST., 8 EAST.
Table board; rooms; references.

62D, 38 EAST.—Second floor suite; other rooms; excellent table.

63D, 30 EAST.—Double and single rooms, all conveniences; excellent table; parlor dining.

76TH, EAST.—Beautiful room, with board; ladies; modern apartment for Winter; chaperonage if desired; students' residence. Lenox 6837.

MADISON AV., 213.—Rooms newly furnished, some with bath; table board; references.

West Side

5TH AV., 2,066, (127th.)—Large room, second floor; small room; excellent board.

16TH, 20-22 WEST.—Large, small rooms, well heated; unexcelled board; telephone.

22D, 327 WEST.—One large room, vacant; unexcelled cuisine; references required; investigate.

43 WEST 47TH ST.
Attractively furnished rooms; first-class service; table unexcelled; every convenience; table guests

54TH ST., 54 WEST.—Single and double rooms, suites; private baths; electricity.

56TH, 62 WEST. — Desirable large, small rooms, with board; suite, with bath; references.

57TH, 349 WEST.—One large room; southern exposure; private bath; board; references.

58TH, 37 WEST.—Attractive rooms; private baths; excellent cooking and service; table guests.

58TH, 146 WEST.—Handsomely furnished large and small rooms; table guests; references.

70TH, 127 WEST.—Attractive, newly furnished, redecorated rooms, with and without bath; exceptional table and service; table guests.

71ST, 120 WEST.—Single, double rooms, newly furnished; private baths; Hebrew social surroundings.

72D, (Broadway, West End.)—Beautiful private residence; accommodate refined couple. Columbus 2390.

72D, 52 WEST. — Superior location and appointments; private family desiring Winter home.

72D, 242 WEST.—Handsome large single room; private bathroom; electric lights; references.

72D, 157 WEST.—Handsomely furnished rooms; southern exposure; well-appointed house; references.

74TH, 102 WEST.—Desirable rooms; private baths; telephone; electricity; steam; table boarders.

75TH, 147 WEST.—BEAUTIFUL SECOND FLOOR; OTHER ROOMS; REFINED SURROUNDINGS; REFERENCE EXCHANGED.

76TH, 105 WEST.—Comfortable rooms; homelike; parlor dining; superior table; references; reasonable.

76TH, 240 WEST.—Attractive rooms; parlor dining; table guests; references.

76TH ST., 237, 239 WEST.—Large rooms, bath, single; excellent table; fine location.

Boarders Wanted

Twenty-five cents an agate line.

West Side.

78TH, 164 WEST.—Pleasant rooms; excellent table; parlor dining rooms; table guests.

70TH, 114 and 132 WEST.—Unusual and attractive "pensions," with large parlors, tea room, and lounge; steam heat; private telephones; booklet on request.

79TH, 128 WEST.—Newly decorated, newly furnished; electric light; telephones; opened Oct. 1.

79TH, 122 WEST.—Attractive small and medium rooms; electricity; excellent cuisine.

80TH, 121-123 WEST.—Well-furnished, newly decorated, large, small rooms; private baths; continuous hot water; parlor dining; exclusive.

80TH, 106, 108, 110 WEST.—A satisfactory home for refined people; all new high-type furnishings; pure food, wholesome, generous, well-balanced meals; table guests.

80TH, 124 WEST.—Attractive large, small rooms; electricity; good table; parlor dining.

82D ST., 146 WEST.—THE BARRETT. Rooms, furnished, unfurnished; elevator; table optional.

82D, 19 WEST. (Kenilworth.) — Desirable rooms; excellent table; parlor dining; table guests.

82D, 124 West, (Graycourt.)—New and attractively decorated; modern; table guests; booklet.

82D, 20 WEST.—Beautifully furnished rooms; excellent home cooking.

82D, 55 WEST.—Second floor front, private bath; third floor rear; refined house.

83D, 5 WEST.—Unusually desirable, quiet; modern improvements; arrangements for coming season.

85TH, 130 WEST.—NEWLY DECORATED ROOMS; GOOD TABLE; REASONABLE TO BUSINESS PEOPLE; TELEPHONE.

86TH ST., 114 WEST.—Owner's home, large and small rooms. "L" and subway.

86TH ST., 23 WEST.
Superior accommodation; table board.

87TH, 138 WEST.—Refined home; comfortable rooms; electricity, references required; table guests.

80TH, 306 WEST.—Refined Jewish home can accommodate few people; excellent cooking.

102D, 253 WEST.—Saloon floor, elegantly furnished; private bath; also one single room with bath; Jewish family. Aarons.

106TH, 314 WEST.—Unusual accommodations in private home for bachelor or family; two large rooms and bath; also single room; near Riverside.

107TH, 322 WEST.—Unusual opportunity for bachelor or family to live in luxurious economy; three large rooms and bath; also single room; between Riverside and Broadway.

114TH, 419 WEST.—Sitting, bedroom; two, four adults; excellent table; subway. Apt. 2-B.

120TH, 7 WEST.—Attractive large and small rooms, with strictly kosher board; table guests.

137TH, 233 WEST.—Rooms; modern; good Jewish table; convenient lines. 5884 Audubon.

149TH, 544 WEST, (Broadway subway near by.)—Bright rooms, good board, $8 up, single; $14 up, two; every comfort; social surroundings. Telephone 2757 Audubon.

HOTEL LA PORTE,
117th, corner Amsterdam Av., 2 blocks from subway express station, overlooking grounds Columbia University; southern exposure; entirely renovated, redecorated; new bathrooms; hotel service; room and board, $10 weekly up; with bath, $15 up; suite of rooms, bath and board for two, $25 up; beautiful dining room; special attention to table boarders; new management.

RIVERSIDE DRIVE, 583.—Beautiful rooms; southern exposure; refined surroundings; exceptional board; references.

THE EVELYN LODGE.
Charming family Hotel of high standard; Grand location; 20 min. Broadway, 5c. fare; Lovely furnished rooms; suites; all comforts; Excellent chef and service; separate tables; Delightful atmosphere; worth investigation. Weekly, $10-$14 per adult, with meals. 71 CENTRAL AV., ST. GEORGE, S. I.

Two beautiful rooms, with private bathroom; two couples or four gentlemen, seeking superior accommodations; Swiss service and cuisine; $60 weekly for four. Y 364 Times Annex.

WEST END AV., 544.—Select pension; new, handsomely furnished rooms; en suite, single; private baths; parlors; European cooking; electricity.

WEST END AV., 520.—Residence for young girl students; home care, chaperonage; eleventh year.

Board Wanted

Twenty-five cents an agate line.

Room and board wanted by young woman; state particulars. W 114 Times.

Country Board

Thirty cents an agate line.

Westchester.

HIGHCLIFFE HALL HOTEL, Park Hill, Yonkers.—Winter engagements low; unexcelled home cooking; large porches; well-heated house; river view. W. E. Robinson. Phone 2161 Yonkers.

Will rent completely furnished floor, private house, for Winter; situated between 73d and 93d St., West End to Riverside; also consider six-room apartment. Hellman, 139 West 25th St.

"The Colonial," 7 North Broadway, White Plains, N. Y., spacious rooms; excellent table; select all-year home; beautiful surroundings; easy commutation. Phone 687.

New Jersey.

Having a beautiful country home would entertain a few paying guests reasonably at week-ends or permanently; city conveniences. J. Babbitt, Dayton, N. J.

Convalescents' home; trained nurses' care; moderate prices. Schofield, 234 Avenue A, Bayonne.

Furnished Rooms

Twenty-five cents an agate line.

East Side.

17TH ST., 130 EAST.—Desirable, well furnished rooms; bathroom floor; reasonable.

18TH, 113 EAST.—Rooms in refined home, Gramercy section, at subway; references.

23D ST., 20 EAST, (Madison Square South.) —Suite, two rooms and bath.

80TH ST., 119 EAST.—Newly furnished room; modern conveniences; gentleman.

81ST, 47 EAST.—Large, front room, near subway; all conveniences.

45TH, 16 EAST.—Comfortable room, with bath; single room; breakfast optional; references.

53D, 32 EAST.—Two large rooms with or without bath, electricity; gentlemen.

55TH, 71 EAST.—Large, newly decorated rooms; elegantly furnished; all conveniences; references.

55TH, 71 EAST.—Two large, light rooms; electric light; running water; references.

124TH, 1 EAST.—Newly opened, newly furnished, newly decorated, private house; handsomely furnished suites and rooms; large, small, private bath; electricity; refined surrounding; opposite park; reasonable; breakfast if desired; large, light back parlor; running water; for physician or dentist. Telephone 5344 Harlem.

IRVING PLACE, 14.—Front rooms; box-spring beds; tiled bathroom; absolute clean liness.

LEXINGTON AV, 586.—Elegant back parlor and one large room; references; telephone.

MADISON AV., 220.—Large, attractive studios for musical, meeting, dancing; studios subrented hourly, monthly; 8 rooms, furnished, unfurnished.

West Side

12TH ST., 48 WEST.—Very large room, bath, $12; well-kept house.

40TH, 66 WEST.—Floor 2 rooms, bath, single, en suite; exclusive; electricity; references; bachelors.

44TH, 12 WEST, (The Mansfield.)—Highest class bachelor apartments, furnished or unfurnished, with complete hotel service; refrigeration; open fireplaces; excellent location.

51ST, 30 WEST.—Small rooms, with running water, in doctor's house.

52D, 55 WEST.—Large room; private bath; electricity; telephone; reasonable; gentleman only; references.

53D, 62 WEST.—Desirable double and single rooms, or en suite; private bath.

58TH, 128 WEST.—Handsome room, with alcove, bath adjoining; select location; electricity; telephone.

58TH, 49 WEST.—Large, elegant room; gas, electricity, bath, telephone; reasonable; light housekeeping.

58TH, 122 WEST.—Bachelors; perfectly appointed, splendidly kept house; rooms $10-$11.

64TH ST., 115 WEST.—Large, pleasant room; running water; suitable one, two; moderate.

118 WEST 66TH ST.
West Hall.
Large room with southern exposure; saloon dressing room and private bath; suitable for two; also smaller room.

69TH, 111 WEST.—Desirable large room; steam, hot water, electricity, telephone; references.

70TH, to sublet, 4 beautifully furnished rooms and bath; suitable for business gentlemen; also single room; references. 2,080 Broadway. Telephone 6314. Apt. 5 East.

70TH, 307 WEST.—Large, bright room, private house; all conveniences; suitable two gentlemen.

71ST, 57 WEST.—Large, sunny room; southern exposure; continuous hot water; references.

Furnished Rooms

Twenty-five cents an agate line.

West Side

72D, 99 WEST.—Large furnished rooms; telephone; improvements; near subway "L" stations.

71ST, 251 WEST—Large room, suitable two gentlemen or business women; private.

72D SUBWAY.—Single room, immaculately clean, next bath; high-class apartment; gentleman; references. Phone Col. 654. Apt. 10.

72D, 248 WEST.—The Greystone, phone Columbus 1894; furnished room; excellent table.

72D, 120 WEST.—Newly decorated and refitted; electricity; private baths. M. Lugg.

73D, 108 WEST.—Nicely decorated rooms; running water; large closets; gentlemen; moderate.

73D, 255 WEST.—Large rooms, with and without private bath; reference.

74TH, 104 WEST.—Comfortable, large, well-heated rooms, bath; continuous hot water; telephone; breakfast privilege; homelike; private residence.

74TH, 149 WEST.—ATTRACTIVE ROOMS, SINGLE, DOUBLE, WITH AND WITHOUT PRIVATE BATHS; CONTINUOUS HOT WATER; REASONABLE.

74TH, 5 WEST.—Large, attractive front room; southern exposure; second floor; reasonable.

74TH, 165 WEST. — Connecting rooms, elegantly furnished; separately or suite; bath; gentlemen.

75TH ST., (329 Amsterdam.)—Large, sunny room, adjoining bath; elevator; telephone; electricity; furnished or unfurnished; no other roomers. Wyeth.

75TH, 147 WEST.—BEAUTIFUL SECOND FLOOR; OTHER ROOMS; REFINED SURROUNDINGS; REFERENCES EXCHANGED.

75TH, 124 WEST.—Large room; private bath; southern exposure; other rooms; telephone; references.

75TH, 159 WEST.—Newly furnished, high class, parquet floors, electric lights, private baths.

75TH, 111 WEST.—One suite, one hall room; references; all conveniences.

76TH, 148 WEST.—Large, sunny, pleasant room; bath adjoining; electric light; telephone.

76TH, 171 WEST.—Homelike, sunny rooms, continuous hot water, private baths, electricity.

76TH ST., 140 WEST.—Furnished rooms, bath, modern improvements, $5 up; references exchanged.

76TH, 125 WEST. — Sunny front rooms; handsome back parlor, with private bath.

76TH, 57 WEST.—Attractive rooms, adjoining bath; table guests. Tel. 9725 Schuyler.

77TH ST., 102 WEST.
Very attractive, pleasant rooms; home comforts.

77TH, 158 WEST.—Attractive room, private bath, all conveniences; private house; references.

77TH, 102 WEST.—Very attractive, pleasant rooms; home comforts.

78TH, 112 WEST.—Attractive, large front room, adjoining bath; telephone; references.

80TH, 114 WEST.—Large sunny rooms; private bath, lavatory; kitchenette; breakfast; $8 up.

81ST, 3 WEST.—Large back parlor, kitchenette; home comforts; electricity, steam.

82D, 152 WEST.—Moderate rates; handsomely furnished rooms; every convenience; "L," subway.

82D ST., 146 WEST. THE BARRETT. Rooms furnished, unfurnished; elevator; table optional.

82D ST., 134 WEST.—Large and medium second floor rooms; rates reasonable; references.

82D, 56 WEST.—Large, well-furnished room; private bath; electric lights; references.

82D, 80 WEST.—Exceptionally desirable front room, single, $8.50; bath adjoining. Anderson.

82D, 33 WEST.—Rent, beautiful large, small front room, newly furnished; references.

85TH, 207 WEST.—Large room, immaculate; running water; elevator; breakfasts; $6. Sharples.

87TH, 117 WEST.—Double rooms; strictly private family; moderate prices.

88TH, 335 WEST, (Droccam Hall.)—Exclusive bachelor dwellings; rooms, $5 to $12; subway

90TH, 58 WEST.—Attractive rooms, running water, southern exposure; private house; reference. Barry.

91ST., 64 WEST.—Handsomely furnished large rooms; southern exposure; select house; references.

91ST, 38 WEST.—Newly furnished residence, sunny rooms, private baths; electricity; $10, $12.

91ST, 66 WEST—Large alcove room; also medium sized and skylight rooms.

91ST, 251 WEST.—Large and small sunny rooms; gentlemen. Phone Riverside 4832.

94TH, 153 WEST.—Beautifully furnished rooms; single, double; running water; private house; bachelors.

94TH, 163 WEST. — Entire floor, sitting room, bedroom, bath, Owner. References.

96TH, 231 WEST.—Beautifully appointed guest room, facing Broadway; gentleman; exclusive. Apt. 3D.

97TH, 230 WEST.—Medium, well-furnished room; closets, water, heat; board. Apt. 6-A.

97TH ST., 303 WEST.—Desirable, attractive room; modern; reasonable. Apt. 4.

97TH, 316 WEST.—A sunny room; refined family; river view; next Drive.

97TH, 145 WEST.—Private house; unusually attractive, well furnished room, bath; gentleman.

101st, 16 West.—Attractive rooms, suites; telephone, electricity; housekeeping; $3 to $7. McNamara.

102D, WEST, (Between West End-Riverside.) —One, two rooms, bath; owner's private residence; elegantly furnished. Telephone 2007 Riverside.

105TH ST., 248 WEST, (Broadway.)—Choice room; running water; private family; elevator apartment. Phillips.

106TH, 246 WEST.—Single room, with or without board; steam heat. Anderson.

112th, 511 West.—Handsomely furnished modern six-room apartment; comfortable home. O'Connor.

114TH, 540 WEST.—Small, sunny south room; terms reasonable.

121ST, 170 WEST.—Corner rooms; electricity, telephone, shower; single, en suite; $3-$5. Hungerford.

121ST, 527 WEST.—Light, airy rooms; telephone, electricity, steam, elevator; moderate. McCague.

127TH, 13 WEST.—Nicely furnished, large and small rooms; all conveniences; moderate terms.

102D, 802 WEST.—Private house, Riverside Drive; nicely furnished room; bath; telephone.

162D, WEST, (16 Jumel Terrace.)—Two, single, en suite; bath; running water; large closets; spotless; telephone; $4, $5.

180TH ST., 715 WEST.—Exceptionally attractive room; modern conveniences; terms very reasonable.

BROADWAY, 2,880. (112th.)—Two fine and unusually large rooms, adjoining bath; high-class apartment. Vosburgh. Telephone 3903 Morningside.

BROADWAY, 3,810, (159th St.,) Apartment 44.—Pleasant room; reasonable; private family; references.

CENTRAL PARK WEST, (66th St.)—Couple, having charming apartment, rent delightful outside room; private lavatory; excellent transportation. 7915 Columbus.

LARGE PARLOR and alcove, newly furnished; conveniences; suitable for couple. W 42 Times.

LARGE, small rooms; running water; kitchen, laundry, verandas; on Hudson. Aud. 1467.

MUST BE SEEN TO BE APPRECIATED. In very select neighborhood, beautiful, large, and neatly furnished room; strictly private house; reference required; prefer gentleman. Address L 96 Times.

NEATLY FURNISHED small room in private house, West Seventies; conveniences. L 93 Times.

Refined family of three would like to rent one room in up-to-date house, located between 104th and 105th Sts., Central Park West, to gentleman only. W 130 Times.

SOUTHEAST CORNER 118TH ST. AND ST. NICHOLAS AV.—Handsomely furnished rooms; with or without bath, from $8 to $10 per week; full hotel and elevator service; restaurant; very moderately priced.

STRICTLY PRIVATE HOUSE.
Large, beautiful, well-furnished and lighted room, adjoining dressing room; southern exposure; location West Seventies; convenient; gentleman preferred; suitable for two; references required. L 90 Times.

WEST END, 611.—Large, front, single or suite; private bath; electricity; private house.

WEST END AV., 569, (87th.)—Room, with lavatory; steam heat; gentlemen; references.

Brooklyn.

ST. MARK'S AV., 101.—Large, handsomely furnished room; all conveniences; phone; very cheap.

Unfurnished Rooms

Twenty-five cents an agate line.

40TH ST., 66 WEST.—Floor, 2 rooms, bath; single, en suite; exclusive; electricity; references; bachelors.

94th St., 32 West.—Large back parlor, with private bath; phone, electricity; furnished or unfurnished; $8. Riverside 1224.

Automobile Exchange

Thirty-five cents an agate line.

USED CAR BARGAINS.
Must move all second-hand cars to make room for new models; no reasonable offers refused: Hupmobiles, Oakland, Overland, Haynes, Renault, &c. Chas. E. Riess & Co., Inc., 1,690 Broadway.

Stearns Knight runabout, 1912; dynamo lighting, clock, Klaxon horn, speedometer; overhauled; manufacturer's new car guarantee. Stearns Company, 417 West 55th St. Telephone 7600 Columbus.

Pierce-Arrow (1914) Touring, 48 H. P.
Isotta (1914) Sedan Limousine, 45 H. P.
Cadillac (1915) Runabout; like new.
Turner, St. James Hotel. Phone 2247 Bryant.

Ford delivery cars, bodies, every description. Automobile Manufacturers Exchange, 403 E. 149th.

Bodies, limousine, landaulet, in elegant condition; also mounting, painting. 508 West 58th St.

Hacker's chance; limousine body, $65; landaulette body, $35. Keene, 306 West 39th.

Flat landaulet, 30 H. P.; excellent condition; great bargain; $700. Bord, 114 West 50th.

Automobiles for Rent.

EGIDI AUTO SERVICE.
Pierce-Arrows, Packards, Renaults; high-class service offering more advantages than private ownership; polite, liveried chauffeurs; hour, day; special rates week, month, year. 123 West 52d St. Phone Circle 774.

Classy Packard or Renault closed or touring cars for hire, $3 and up; reliable chauffeurs. Hotchkiss Co., 20 West 60th. Phone Columbus 1509 and 10159.

Packard limousine, newly painted, mechanically perfect, by hour, day; special rate monthly. Bord, 114 West 50th. Circle 1420.

Late model Packard limousine, 6 cylinder, 48 horse power, luxurious upholstery; monthly or yearly contract. Inquire 8036 Columbus.

Beautiful Garford Six, seven-passenger touring; like new; wire wheels; hour, week, or month; owner drives. Lenox 8767.

Practically new Packard, $2.50 hourly, $300 monthly; owner drives; references. Morningside 8833.

Packard limousine; hourly, monthly; owner drives. Verlangieri. Harlem 4882. 156 East 120th St.

Beautiful landaulet, Packard town car reasonable monthly rental. Veline, phone Lenox 8767.

Packards, late sixes, limousines or landaulets, for monthly rental. Hawkins, 3842 Columbus.

Packard, 7-passenger; $2.50 per hour, with chauffeur. 15 East 30th. Tel. 886 Madison.

Beautiful Renault limousine, by month; reasonable. 3130 Lenox. Brooks, 182 E. 73d.

Automobile Repairing.

Auto Welding.—We successfully repair broken aluminium cases, cracked cylinders and housing as good as new; we have a complete machine shop for repairs to the trade. Smith, 804 West 52d. Phone Columbus 2036.

Automobile Storage.

AUTO STORAGE.
Live, dead; 1st floor; fireproof; $5-$18. 410 East 52d St. Tel. Murray Hill 369.

Wanted.—Storage in private garage, without washing, &c., small limousine. Y 358 Times Annex.

Automobile Instruction.

Largest and Best School in WEST SIDE U. S. Send for Booklet and Y. M. C. A. Pass to Visit School: Tel. 7920 302 W. 57th St. Col. Special class for women.

STEWART Booklet explains WHY our AUTOMOBILE course is BEST. Inspect SCHOOL. our plant and be convinced 225 W. 57th St. Ladies' classes.

Best school for automobile owners; trial lesson and descriptive booklet free. Bedford Branch Y. M. C. A. Auto School, Bedford Av. and Monroe St., Brooklyn.

Rooms Wanted

Twenty-five cents an agate line.

Furnished.

AMERICAN (Jewish) bachelor desires outside room in strictly private family; all conveniences; breakfast optional; state terms; between 70th and 110th Sts., west side. W 112 Times.

Two Jewish young men, brothers, desire room with private family; must be moderate; Washington Heights preferred. W 135 Times.

Situations Wanted, Female

Fifteen cents an agate line.

ACTRESS.—Young lady, with several years' experience, wishes position as actress; best of references. R., 1,629 Amsterdam Av.

BOOKKEEPER - STENOGRAPHER.— Absolutely efficient and reliable; highly recommended; five years' experience; salary, $18. W 49 Times.

BOOKKEEPER, assistant typist, telephone operator; three years' experience; $8; no agency. H 302 Times Downtown.

BOOKKEEPER.—Double entry; can take complete charge of office; salary, $25 per week. G 345 Times Downtown.

CARE of lady's or gentleman's apartment; capable woman; city reference; no cards answered. E., 23 Perry St., City.

CONFIDENTIAL SECRETARY to man of large affairs; possess sound judgment, initiative, tact; competent to handle office affairs in absence of employer; experienced in public and social welfare work. W 85 Times.

COOK.—French woman, with excellent references from city employers and

SEATS IN ALL PARTS OF METROPOLITAN OPERA HOUSE
By Subscription or Single Performances at Box Office Prices.

Tyson & Company
Main Office: LONG ACRE BUILDING,
1,472 B'way, at 42d St. Tel. 4080 Bryant.

Branches: Hoffman House and 96 Broadway (at Wall St.)

NEW YORK'S LEADING THEATRES.

EMPIRE Broadway & 40th St. Evs. at 8. Mats. Sat. & Thurs. (Elec. Day) 2.
WM. GILLETTE
NOV. 6th FINAL PERFORMANCE OF His Famous Success, SHERLOCK HOLMES
NOV. 8th, "SECRET SERVICE."

LYCEUM West 45th Street. Evs. at 8:20. Mats. TODAY, Sat. Elec. Day 2:20
ETHEL BARRYMORE
IN HER GREAT COMEDY SUCCESS,
OUR MRS. McCHESNEY

NEW AMSTERDAM THEATRE. W. 42d St.
MONDAY NIGHT, NOV. 1ST, SEATS NOW.
KLAW & ERLANGER WILL PRESENT
AROUND THE MAP
A Musical Globe Trot by C. M. S. McLELLAN.
Music by HERMAN FINCK.

After the Play Visit DANSE DE FOLLIES.
ZIEGFELD MID-NIGHT FROLIC "Meeting Place of the World"
Atop New Amsterdam Theatre

GAIETY B'way, 46th St. Evs. 8:20. Matinees Sat., Election Day & Wed. 2:20.
YOUNG AMERICA

GEO. M. COHAN'S B'way, 43d St. Evs. 8:15. Mats. Sat., Elec. Day & Wed.
ELSIE JANIS in "MISS INFORMATION"

HUDSON West 44th St. Evenings at 8:15. Mats Sat., Elec. Day & Wed.
"THE SHENANDOAH. OF 1915."—Times.
Under Fire
With WM. COURTENAY.

HARRIS West 42d Street. Evenings at 8:15. Mats. Sat., Elec. Day & Wed. 2:15.
ROLLING STONES

FULTON 46th St., nr. Broadway. Evs 8:30. MATINEE SAT. 2:30.
SHERMAN WAS RIGHT
A NEW FARCE BY FRANK MANDEL.

AT THE LIBERTY W. 42d St. 2:15 & 8:15.
TWICE Daily, Includ. Sunday. Evs. & Sat. Mat. 25-50-75-$1-$2. Other Mats.....25c, 50c & $1.
BIRTH OF A NATION
D. W. GRIFFITH'S
GIGANTIC SPECTACLE.
Symphony Orchestra of Forty.

CANDLER West 42d Street. Bryant 6344. Evs. 8:15. Mats. Sat., Tues. & Wed.
THE HOUSE OF GLASS
with Mary Ryan and the Great All-American Cast. Orch., $2, $1.50. 500 Seats 1st Balc., 50c, 75c, $1.

ELTINGE Opening Tues., Nov. 2d
West 42d St. (Election Night). Seats Today.
"FAIR AND WARMER"
A farce for Laugh-Lovers by Avery Hopwood.

REPUBLIC West 42d Street. Evenings 8:20. Mats. Sat., Elec. Day & Wed.
COMMON CLAY
SEATS SELLING 3 WEEKS IN ADVANCE

BELASCO West 44th Street. Evenings 8:30. Mats. TODAY, Sat. & Elec. Day.
MATINEE TODAY AT 2:20.
THE BOOMERANG

ASTOR B'way, 45th St. Evs. 8:20. Bryant 287. Mats. Sat., Elec. Day & Wed. 2:20.
Geo. M. COHAN'S Great American Farce,
HIT-THE-TRAIL-HOLLIDAY
With FRED NIBLO as "BILLY HOLLIDAY."

GLOBE EVERY NIGHT AND MATINEES Saturday, Election Day & Wed. 2:15
MONTGOMERY & STONE in CHIN CHIN

CARNEGIE HALL
Announcement
Course Ticket Sale
Opens Today for ELMENDORF LECTURES
Prices: For Five
Lectures $2.50, 3, 4, 5.

CORT W. 48 St. Phone Bryant 46. Evs. 8:10. Mat. Wed., Sat. & Elec. Day 2:15.
THE PRINCESS PAT Eleanor Painter
"BEST COMIC OPERA IN YEARS."—Chas. Darnton, Evening World.

LEXINGTON 51st St. & Lex. Evs. 25c to $1.
"The Natural Law"
Mat. Today 25 & 50c. Next Week—"BRINGING UP FATHER."

STANDARD B'way & 90th St. Evs. 25c to $1.
"THE SHOW SHOP"
Mat. Today 25 & 50c. Next Week—"SINNERS."

Sun Eve. Symphony Concert N. Y. Orchestral Soc'y, at 8:30

LONGACRE W. 48th St. Bryant 23. Evs. 8:20. Pop. Mats. Sat., Tues. & Wed.
THE GIRL WHO SMILES
Musical Hit by authors of "Alma," "Adele," &c.

B. F. KEITH'S PALACE B'WAY, 47 ST. Daily Mat. 25c to $1
ANNA HELD
Harry FOX & Yansci DOLLY, Harry Green, David Saplrstein, Arnaut Bros., Ernest Ball, others.

COLONIAL LUBOWSKA, WHITING & BURT, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Barry, others.

ALHAMBRA Mat. Daily 25c.
EVELYN NESBIT & JACK CLIFFORD, McKay & Ardine, others.

PARK THEATRE, 59th St. & Col. Circle. Daily 2:30—4—8 & 9:15.
FOR WOMEN ONLY—Only Authentic Motion Pictures in the World of
Twilight Sleep
And Lecture by Dr. Kurt E. Schlossingk.

Triangle Plays This Week:
Ford Sterling in "His Father's Footsteps." "Martyrs of the Alamo." "Fickle Fatty's Fall." Julia Dean in "Matrimony."
Evenings at 8. Matinees at 2. Matinees, 25c and 50c. Evenings, 25c, 50c, 75c, $1, and $2.
Knickerbocker Theatre, B'way & 38th St.

CENTURY 62 St., nr. B'way. Evs. 8:15. Mats. Tues., Thurs. & Sat. at 2:15.
MATINEE TODAY 25c to $1.00.
Ned Wayburn's Town Topics
SUNDAY CONCERT—SYLVESTER SCHAFFER, A. J. CORBETT, Balalaika's Orchestra, 15 others.

GLOBE THEATRE. Special Mat. Today { 25-50, & Every Day when Chin-Chin is not playing { 75-1.00
MR. & MRS. VERNON CASTLE { A Thrilling Photo Drama in 6 Parts.
In "THE WHIRL OF LIFE."
Note: MONTGOMERY & STONE in CHIN-CHIN Every Night and Wed. and Sat. Matinees.

VITAGRAPH, B'WAY, 44 ST. THE BATTLE
TWICE TO-DAY, 2:30, 8:30. CRY of PEACE
Evs. & Sat. Mat. 25c, 50c, $1 & $2. Other Mats. 25, 50c, $1
School Children's Mat. Sat., 11 A. M., 25c, 50c.

Loew's American Roof 42d St. & 8th Av. Every Eve. at 8:15
JULIA NASH & CO. ALL SEATS RESERVED
Bob Hall, Max's Circus, 10 others. Enclosed, Heated, Comfortable. { 25c, 35c, 50c.

STRAND B'way & 47th St. { Noon to 11:30. 10c to 50c. BLANCHE RING "The Yankee Girl" Strand Orch. & Soloists
Next Week Geraldine Farrar in "Carmen"

GARRICK 35th St., nr. B'way. BURLESQUE "Blue Ribbon Belles" Mat. Today 25, 25, 50c

Phone 4180 Greeley. OPERA TICKETS. Subscriptions bought, sold and exchanged. Theatre Ticket Office, Broadway and 38th St.

Ice Skating St. Nicholas Rink Opens Next Sat.

EDEN WORLD IN WAX. European War Heroes. New Attractions. MUSEE
OPEN EVERY DAY FROM 10:30 TO 10:30.

RITZ CARLTON HOTEL
Bazar de Charite
and
Fashion Revue
Thursday and Friday Evenings, Oct. 28-29, at nine o'clock,
To Aid
French Wounded Emergency Fund
Tickets $5.00, Including Supper.
Boxes, holding six, $30.00.

DANCING
Tables Reserved for Supper Parties.
Tickets Can Be Had at the Ritz Carlton, or Vacation War Relief Committee, 38 WEST 39TH ST.

PROGRAM GIVEN BY
ELSIE JANIS — MAURICE FARKOA
GRACE FIELD — MELVILLE ELLIS
DOLLY SISTERS — BETTY LEE

Fashion Revue Directed by J. M. Gidding.

The Biltmore
MORNING MUSICALES
Management of Mr. R. E. JOHNSTON.
Grand Ballroom, Hotel Biltmore, at 11. Nov. 5, 19, Dec. 3, 17, Jan. 14, 28, Feb. 11, 25.
ARTISTS ENGAGED:

Frances Alda	Fritz Kreisler
Lucrezia Bori	Giovanni Martinelli
Clarence Bird	Mme. Melba
Enrico Caruso	Rosa Olitzka
Camille Decreus	Lucile Orrell
Mischa Elman	Ignace Paderewski
Geraldine Farrar	Marie Rappold
Anna Fitziu	Antonio Scotti
Rosina Galli	Louis Siegel
Mabel Garrison	Andreas de Segurola
Leopold Godowsky	Albert Spalding
Friedа Hempel	Theodore Spierling
Josef Hofmann	Andre Tourret
Beatrice de Holthoir	Aline Van Barentzen
Louise Homer	Mary Warfel

Subscription Price, Res. Seats, $20 for 8 concerts; single seats, $3; subscription price for boxes, $200 for eight concerts; single box, $30. Now on sale at R. E. Johnston's office, 1451 Broadway. Knabe Piano.

METROPOLITAN OPERA STARS
And Other Renowned Artists in Concert, followed by VERDI'S REQUIEM MASS
BENEFIT FOR ITALIAN WAR SUFFERERS
Chorus of 300, Orchestra 80 Musicians
At
CARNEGIE HALL
MONDAY EVE., NOV. 1ST
Tickets at Box Office and International Music and Drama
Long Acre Building, Broadway and 42d St.

CARNEGIE HALL, Sat. Aft., Oct. 30, at 2:30
VIOLIN RECITAL— MISCHA
ELMAN
(STEINWAY PIANO.) Mgt. Wolfsohn Bureau.
CARNEGIE HALL, TUES. AFT., NOV. 2d, 2:30.
SCHUMANN-HEINK ONLY SONG RECITAL THIS SEASON
(STEINWAY PIANO.) Mgt. Wolfsohn Bureau.

PHILHARMONIC
SOCIETY OF NEW YORK
JOSEF STRANSKY, CONDUCTOR.
CARNEGIE HALL
Tonight at 8:15 and tomorrow (Fri.) aft. 2:30.
MacDOWELL, Symphonic Poem, "Launcelot and Elaine"; REGER, Variations and Fugue for Orchestra on a Theme by Mozart (first performance in America); BERLIOZ, Scherzo "Queen Mab"; TCHAIKOVSKY, 4th Symphony. Prices 50 cts. to $2.00. Tickets at Carnegie Hall Box Office.

Carnegie Hall, Sunday Aft., Oct. 31, at 3.
Mme. MELBA
Assisted by { BEATRICE HARRISON...'Cello ROBERT PARKER....Baritone FRANK ST. LEGER....Piano
Tickets, $1, $1.50, $2, $2.50. Boxes, $15, $18, now on sale at Box Office.
Direction C. A. Ellis, Mason & Hamlin Piano.

SYMPHONY
Society of New York
WALTER DAMROSCH, Conductor.
NEXT SUNDAY AFT., OCT. 31, AT 3.
GRAINGER
TSCHAIKOWSKY PROGRAM.
Seats at Box Office, Aeolian Hall.

SYMPHONY CONCERTS
FOR YOUNG PEOPLE
N. Y. Symphony Orchestra.
Walter Damrosch.....Conductor
Soloists: GRAINGER, ELMAN, HOFMANN.
Nov. 20, Dec. 18, Jan. 22, Feb. 5, 26, Mch. 11.
Christmas Carols by Cathedral Choir.
CARNEGIE HALL.
Boxes, tickets, programmes at office, 33 W. 42d St. (Aeolian Bldg., Room 1202.)

MANHATTAN OPERA HOUSE
BOSTON GRAND OPERA CO. with
PAVLOWA BALLET RUSSE | TONIGHT AT 8
"Madama Butterfly," with Tamaki Miura, Martin, Chalmers, Leveroni, Ananian Campbell, Cond. Jacchia, and "Snowflakes," with Pavlowa, Volinine, Ballet Russe and Chorus.

Aeolian Hall, 2nd Recital Mon. Eve., Nov. 1, 8:15
CLARA AND DAVID
MANNES
Schumann and Beethoven
Sonatas and Chausson Concerto with the assistance of the Saslavsky Quartet.
Tickets at Box Office and Haensel & Jones, Aeolian Hall. Tel. Bryant 6427. Steinway Piano.

MAY PETERSON
Opera Comique, Paris—Song Recital.
Aeolian Hall Today at 3. Seats Box Office.

Aeolian Hall, Wed. Aft., Nov. 3, at 3. VIOLIN RECITAL
ARKADY BOURSTIN
Tickets 75 cts. to $2. Mgmt. Haensel & Jones.

AEOLIAN HALL, Tomorrow Eve., at 8:15
VIOLIN RECITAL
RODERICK WHITE
Tickets $2, 1.50, 1.00, 75 & 50c. Now at Box Office.

AEOLIAN HALL, This Evening, at 8:30.
SONG RECITAL.
FREDERIC MARTIN BASSO.
Tickets, 50c. to $1.50. Mgt. Foster & David.

AEOLIAN HALL, Fri. Aft., Oct. 29, at 3.
Song Recital by Mme. GADSKI
50c to $2. Management Loudon Charlton.

AEOLIAN HALL, Tues. Aft., Nov. 2, at 3.
First of Six Historical Recitals by OSSIP
Gabrilowitsch
Mgt. of Loudon Charlton. Mason & Hamlin Piano.

AEOLIAN HALL, Sat. Aft., Oct. 30, at 2.
Piano Recital by HAROLD BAUER
Mgt. Loudon Charlton. Mason & Hamlin Piano.

Bandbox, 57 & 3d Av. Plaza 812. Mats. Sat. & Elec.
WASHINGTON SQ. PLAYERS Evgs. 8:45
IRVING PLACE THEATRE Every Eve. at 8:15.
Ein Idealer Gatte. Sat. Mat., Lehmanns Kinder.

WOULD KILL BUDGET AND CONSTITUTION

Stewart Browne Seeking Injunction on Estimate and Elections Boards.

COMMITTEES WIPED OUT

Social Welfare, Markets, Charter Revision Abandoned by Board of Estimate.

The Board of Estimate began public hearings yesterday on the tentative tax budget for 1916. Before the proceedings had fairly started Stewart Browne, President of the Real Estate Owners' Association, announced that he intended to ask for an injunction today to prevent the signing of the budget. Under the law it must be signed by Oct. 31.

There will be at least three actions, said Mr. Browne, one to restrain Mayor Mitchel and his colleagues from imposing assessment and collecting the money needed as the city's share of the State direct tax, amounting to $13,975,000. Another will seek to restrain the Board of Estimate from including items aggregating $1,700,000 in the budget. The members of the board did not take Mr. Browne's threat seriously.

The complaint in the first proposed injunction will set forth that Mayor Mitchel and his colleagues in the Board of Estimate "have no right or authority to take action such as they give out, avow, and threaten to perform as set forth in Paragraph 4 of this complaint by reason of said Chapter 729 of the laws of 1915 being void and unconstitutional and contrary to Section 24 of Article III. of the Constitution of New York." It is contended that the whole State tax is unconstitutional, as it is not needed.

Attacks Constitution Also.

The items which the second proposed injunction will seek to keep out of the budget relate to money paid to men on the city payroll who do no service and others who are ill and are kept on so they may retire with pensions. Point will be made of the admission by city officials that some men on the payroll receive more than they are worth. In this class are mentioned salaries paid to firemen, policemen, employes of the Department of Health, the Board of Assessors, and appropriations for the College of the City of New York and Hunter's College, which, according to Mr. Browne, are in excess of the maximum laid down by the charter.

Mr. Browne will also ask for an injunction restraining the Board of Elections from counting the vote on the new Constitution on the ground that it violates a section of the Federal Constitution.

Up to the close of the County Clerk's office last night no complaint had been filed and no injunction restraining the Board of Estimate from passing the tentative appropriations that had been asked for. Mr. Browne said later that he had ordered the complaint filed, and that efforts were being made to serve the members of the Board of Estimate.

Before beginning public hearings on the budget, members of the budget committee voted yesterday to abolish five committees and one bureau of the Board of Estimate. These are the Bureau of Sewer Plans, $12,250; the Committee on Social Welfare, $17,400; the Committee on Charter Revision, $6,730; the Committee on Port and Terminal Facilities, $6,500; the Committee on Taxation, $6,700, and the Committee on Markets, $8,950. The work of most of the committees, it was said, has practically been completed. The amount saved by their abolition will be $68,530. The budget examiners pared down the total requests of the Board of Estimate $114,673.

For the Bureau of Standards, of which George Tirrell is Chief, the reduction for next year amounts to $44,080, and for the Bureau of Contract Supervision, of which Tilden Adamson is Director, the reduction is $22,220. Both men have charge of the standardization of salaries plan.

Tells Mayor of Demoralization.

At the public hearing in the Board of Estimate chamber Alfred J. Talley appeared on behalf of city employes. He said he represented 100,000 men and women.

"You, Mr. Mayor, are the leader of this army," he said. "Your army is demoralized. Standardization has come to mean the reduction of salaries of men and women who have given their lives to the city. The real estate men know that the reduction of salaries is inconsiderable, but they want the large things to be decreased, and the standardization of salaries does not reduce large things. It often means the destruction of homes and self-respect.

"We recall that his Honor, the Mayor, before election pledged himself that reductions in salaries would not affect the then employes of the city, but would come by resignations, death, or new appointments. This question applies to the entire city government, and you must consider making your city employes a happy family or you cannot get the work done in the proper spirit."

The Mayor in reply said salaries had been standardized upward as well as downward. Standardization, he said, was a matter of justice to employes. It was not being done as a matter of economy alone, he said. Human consideration, he said, had entered into every appeal.

"You haven't got the result of this Committee on Appeals, Mr. Talley," said the Mayor, "and you cannot know what the committee has done. From the incomplete figures now at hand it would appear that the number of increases are greater than the number of decreases."

The board took up consideration of the Mayor's department requests, and Stewart Browne objected to the salaries of the three members of the Board of Assessors, who now receive $5,000 a year. He said the Charter only allowed them $3,000 each. The original appropriation was passed.

Plea for County Employes.

Ex-Justice Stover of the Supreme Court appeared for the employes of the county departments and told the board that the county officials had to have experienced and capable help in order to properly conduct the county's business. These employes, he said, should receive salaries in accordance with their duties.

"There is no standardization that any board can make with reference to the salaries of these men," said Mr. Stover. "It should be left to the county officials to determine. Many of these men who have been years in the service have to know as much as lawyers. You cannot reduce salaries in a wholesale manner, for efficiency under the civil service cannot be obtained in this manner."

Judges Crain and Wadhams of General Sessions appeared to protest against the reduction of the salaries of fourteen court clerks from $4,000 to $3,000 a year. Judge Wadhams said the present salary is the same as paid to the Supreme Court clerks, and that the clerks in General Sessions work more hours than do the clerks in the Supreme Court.

"If you reduce these men one-fourth you will do them an injustice," he said, "and I have confidence that this board wants to do justice to all city employes. It will be a great misfortune to these men if you reduce their salaries to $3,000."

The hearing will be continued today.

It is believed that the tentative budget will be about $220,000,000, and that the Board of Estimate will cut this some $3,000,000 or $4,000,000 before the budget becomes final on Saturday night. A $217,000,000 budget would make the tax rate average for the city between 2.12 and 2.15.

TO SAVE PUBLIC LECTURES.

Jacob H. Schiff Asks Controller to Reconsider Budget Cut.

Jacob H. Schiff has written a letter to Controller Prendergast urging reconsideration of the budget makers' action in cutting the appropriation for the public lecture system maintained by the Board of Education from $140,000 in 1915 to $36,000 for 1916. In his letter Mr. Schiff says:

"I am informed that the grant for 1915 is $140,000, or about one-fifteenth of 1 per cent. of the budget, and that this amount is less than it was eight or nine years ago when the entire budget was much smaller. This would indicate that it has been economically administered.

"The Public Lecture System has existed for more than a quarter of a century, and to my mind is on the same plane as the Public Library, which system came into existence after the Public Lectures. It encourages good reading, makes for better citizenship, develops the student habit, is an antidote for the movies, has been a pioneer in the movement for the wider use of the school house, reaches all classes of our community, including the immigrants, and it is most encouraging to have grown people desirous of continuing their education.

"You know that I heartily indorse every justifiable effort to get the city run as well and as economically as possible. It seems to me, however, it would be unwise to further reduce a unique department which is doing so much good as the Public Lecture Department. It, therefore, seems to me that this feature of our educational department, which appeals so generally to all classes of the people and whose influence reaches every part of the city, is one which should be encouraged, and that the closing up or even materially reducing these lecture centres, would be a great loss to those who are trying to keep an interest in life, and that the slight amount gained would not warrant this. I urge you to consider favorably the retention of this valuable item in the city budget."

MARTIN ESTATE $177,662.

Transfer Tax Report Shows Shrinkage from $9,000,000.

Although William R. H. Martin, who was a member of the firm of Roger Peet Company, owned real estate and personal property worth nearly $9,000,000, the total value of his estate is estiamted at $177,662 in the transfer tax report which was filed yesterday by Appraiser John J. Lyons. Mr. Martin died Jan. 30, 1912. His debts were so great and the claims of his creditors were so pressing that a month before his death he transferred the bulk of his holdings to Alfred E. Marling, Robert Thorne, and George Leask as trustees. They were to pay all debts and out of the remainder of the income, give Mrs. Martin $1,333 a month.

A balance sheet of the trust transferred by Mr. Martin shows that the principal assets included were: Marbridge Building, Herald Square, $6,260,654; the Martinique, $4,361,926; property at Broadway and Thirty-first Street, $1,452,959; Trowmart Inn, $358,101. Furniture in various establishments, according to the transfer tax report, was valued at $316,290. A list of liabilities show mortgages against realty amounting to $8,260,090; accounts payable, $426,342; bills payable, $771,956, and all other items, $9,619,442.

A memorandum filed with the Appraiser by Harris & Towne, counsel for the estate, stated that if the Appraiser had estimated the estate in accordance with the usual rule of the office, listing all the assets and then deducting all debts, that method of appraisal would have rendered the estate bankrupt and wiped out even the net estate shown.

A balance sheet of the trust property, dated Dec. 31, 1912, a year after Mr. Martin's death, which was prepared by accountants, estimated the property in trust at $13,352,178. Mr. Martin had real estate in Greenwich, Conn., worth $316,000. Under the will of his father, John T. Martin, Mr. Martin received an income from $150,000 for life.

Hippodrome
Management Charles Dillingham.
Mat. TODAY and Every Day.
WORLD'S BIGGEST SHOW AT LOWEST PRICES
HIP HIP HOORAY with 100 Wonders. SOUSA and BAND Sensational ICE BALLET.
Staged by R. H. Burnside.
Eve. & Sat. { BEST SEATS $1.50 | Daily Matinees, Mat. $1.50 { Exc. Sat., $1.00.
1500 RESERVED SEATS AT 50c.
Sunday—Sousa, Hip Stars and Features.

COLUMBIA B'way & 47th. Burlesque Matinee Today.
Geo. STONE—Etta PILLARD and The Social Maids.

YORKVILLE 86th St., Burlesque at 3d Av. Mat. Today 15c to 50c. Smoking Permitted
FROLICS OF 1915

Ice Skating St. Nicholas Rink Opens Next Sat.

JETWOOD
A SMART COLLAR WITH A COMFORTABLE LOW FRONT
E&W
RED-MAN 2 FOR 25¢
TROY'S BEST PRODUCT

Save Money Without Sacrificing Satisfaction

40,000 men—many who should and others who need not economize—have their clothes made here. They know that Arnheim values cannot be equalled and that Arnheim service insures perfect fit and individual style.

Suits and Overcoats, $20 to $50

No matter what you've paid or where you've bought, do justice to yourself and investigate Arnheim values.

Broadway & 9th St.
Arnheim

ASTORIA GAS TUBES WORLD'S GREATEST

Single Main in Tunnel Under East River Carries 22,000,000 Feet a Day to Consumers.

ANOTHER SOON TO BE OPEN

Pipe Six Feet in Diameter, Built in Sections That Weigh Thirteen Tons Each.

Twenty-two million cubic feet of gas is now being drawn every day beneath the East River through the largest cast iron pipe at present in use in the world.

It is expected that by the end of this week its mate, which lies alongside it in the Astoria gas tunnel, will be ready.

These gigantic tubes are six feet in diameter and they extend for 4,700 feet from Astoria to 132d Street, the Bronx.

Part of the gas goes to mains in the Bronx and part may be diverted to pipes in Manhattan.

These mains represent a notable feat of gas engineering. Many years ago it was recognized that gas plants could not always be operated in Manhattan and several new ones were built on Long Island. The first mains laid on the river bottom were ten and twelve inches in diameter. The building of the million-dollar plant of the Astoria Light, Heat & Power Company on Long Island with its great holder necessitated the boring of the tunnel under the river to carry the gas to consumers in the city. To accommodate the big pipes it was necessary to have a tunnel of an average diameter of eighteen feet and twenty-six feet in the clear at the western end. The Astoria shaft was sunk in 1910 and the Bronx shaft at Port Morris at the foot of 132d Street was put down a year later.

The digging of this tunnel under the supervision of William H. Bradley, chief engineer of the Consolidated Gas Company, of which the Astoria plant is a subsidiary, was accompanied by many difficulties. There was much decomposed rock, and through fissures considerable quantities of water were admitted into the tunnel. There were at one place three large water flows at various times. One of them had an average flow of 1,000 gallons a minute. The ingenious use of cement in a grouting process stopped the flow, and the entire tunnel was lined with segments of steel. The mains were then carried through the tunnel side by side and were surrounded by decking. Over them is a runway which may be used for any further utilities.

The engineer in chief said yesterday that the iron pipes were unquestionably the largest ever made. They are 72 inches in the clear and their metal walls are 2¼ inches thick. They have hub and spigot joints and were cast in standard twelve-foot lengths. The weight of each length is 13 tons and the displacement of water for each is 24,800 pounds, from which it is seen that even if the tunnel should fill with water the pipes would retain their position secure. Each twelve-foot section is supported by two concrete blocks. The laying of the mains, the caulking of the joints, and many other processes required special devices owing to the great size of the sections. The mains are now connected with a network of pipes under the city streets. Owing to their size the gas is drawn through them with pumps.

APPLAUD SURGEON'S WORK.

Clinical Congress Delegates Watch Many Operations in Boston.

Special to The New York Times.

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 27.—Members of the Clinical Congress of Surgeons today took part in 100 operations or demonstrations at the big hospitals here. One of the chief operations at the Massachusetts General Hospital today was performed by Dr. Samuel J. Mixter of Boston for the removal of the gall bladder. As he finished the surgeons who were watching applauded. Other operations were performed at this hospital by Drs. G. W. W. Brewster, F. G. Balch, Farrar Cobb, and Lincoln Davis.

The major operations at the Massachusetts General Hospital were performed in the new Bigelow amphitheatre. To save time two operations go on at once. The preliminary work is done behind a screen and the operating table is pulled into view for the important part of the operation.

They Certainly Do Have Style!

Never in your life have you seen more real style—more of that definite, clean-cut air of correctness which you want in your own clothes—than there is in our new

Hart Schaffner & Marx

Varsity Fifty Five Suits

They are made of all-wool fabrics—which means that their good looks remain as they were when you bought them.

Pay $25—and make your choice from a selection which we have purposely made extra large and extra varied.

Suits—$18 to $50.
Overcoats—$15 to $60.

Wallach Bros.
Broadway, Cor. 29th St.
Broadway, below Chambers St.
Third Ave., Cor. 122d St. } Open
246-248 West 125th St. } Evenings.

WESTPORT
2¼ IN.
THE CORRECT CUT-A-WAY SHAPE
Lion Collars
OLDEST BRAND IN AMERICA
UNITED SHIRT & COLLAR CO., TROY, N. Y.

HOTEL ENDICOTT
Columbus Ave. and 81st St., New York City.
A "Home Hotel" of superior appointment. The spacious dining rooms and 400 sleeping rooms have been reopened after an expenditure of an enormous sum in remodeling, redecorating and refurnishing.
Cuisine and service of the highest standard. Average charge per entree, thirty-five cents. Restaurant prices fifty per cent. less than elsewhere.
RATES
Room with use of Bath.....$1.00
Room with Private Bath..... 1.50
Parlor, Bedroom and Bath 2.50

HOTEL THERESA
Under New Management.
Phone 8270 Morningside.
7th Ave., 124th to 125th St.
Block Front.
The largest and most beautifully appointed hotel in Harlem.
One block from "L" and Subway. Surface cars to all points at door. Within a few minutes' walk of N. Y. Central R. R. Station.
FAMILY AND TRANSIENT
Special Rates by Month or Season (Board $10.50 per week.)
Single rooms with running water and shower .....$1.50 per day
Single rooms with bath .....$2.00 per day up
Double rooms with bath .....$2.50 per day up
All outside rooms with every comfort and convenience. Excellent cuisine and service. Breakfast, 50c; Lunch, 50c; Dinner, $1.00. R. P. Leube, Mgr.
Special Luncheon
Every Tuesday & Thursday
12 to 1:30 P. M.
50 cents.

Hotel Bretton Hall
BROADWAY 85TH TO 86TH ST.
Offers All the Advantages of the Best New York City Hotels at Much Lower Prices.
EXCEPTIONAL APARTMENTS OF ALL SIZES,
FURNISHED OR UNFURNISHED, FOR LONG OR SHORT PERIODS.
Transient Rates, $2.50 per Day Up
No Extra Charge When Rooms Are Occupied by Two Persons.

Fourteen East Sixtieth St
A quiet, luxurious Residential Hotel. Affording the Exclusiveness and Elegance of a Private Residence
Opposite the Metropolitan Club and 5th Av. Entrance to Central Park. Apartments, single or en suite, rented, furnished or unfurnished, for long or short periods.
EAGER & BABCOCK.

CASTLES IN THE AIR AND ICE PALACE
ATOP 44TH ST. THEA.
After the Theatre Adm. $1.
Nightly 10:30 (Ex. Sun.)
SUPPER AND DANCING.
Tea 4 to 6. Wed. & Sat. World Champion Ice Skaters Adm. free to table d'hote dinner, $1.50, and a la carte 6 to 9. Skating at Tea, Dinner and Supper.

STANLEY'S
So.—IN YONKERS—B'way.
OLD FASHIO ED HALLOWE'EN PARTY.
Special Entertainment.
Surprise Souvenirs.
WATCH FOR THE WITCHES

Cuchow's
14th Street, near Fourth Ave.

Strand Roof Garden B'way & 47th
Cafeteria Lunch 11:30 A.M. to 2 P.M.
Afternoon Tea 4:30 to 6:30.
Evenings 6 P. M. to 12 P. M.
TONIGHT Special Dancers.

Not a Restaurant Only but a gathering place for those who seek bright, lively diversion amid comfortable, picturesque surroundings
An elaborate cabaret entertainment of twenty feature acts—seven to one.
Attention is directed to the excellent seven course luncheon—75c. (Music)
SHANLEY'S
Broadway 43rd to 44th St.

REISENWEBER'S
58th Street and Columbus Circle.
'Phone, 9640—Columbus.
A tuneful CABARET "FULL OF SPEED" Presented by SAM SHANNON
WITH AN EXCEPTIONAL BEAUTY CHORUS, SNAPPY MUSIC AND DELIGHTFUL DANCERS.
A most gorgeous and spectacular entertainment PRESENTED NIGHTLY AT 7:30 AND 12.
Afternoon Tea Dances 4-7. Beefsteak Dinner, $1.25.
An Exceptional Table d'Hote Dinner $1.00
A la Carte Portions Cooked to Your Order.
SERVED EVERY EVENING 6 to 10 AND SUNDAYS NOON to 10 P. M.

Assorted Relishes.
Blue Points, Cherry Stone or Little Neck Clams, Canapé Anchovies, Spiced Anchovies, Russian Sardines, Canapé Smoked Salmon, Deep-Sea Caviar, Saucisson Hongroise.
Soups (Choice).
Vegetable Soup, Cream of Corn, Consomme Celestine.
Entrees (Choice).
Broiled Bluefish, Fried Kingfish, Salmon Solid, Breaded Veal Cutlet, Spring Chicken Saute, Broiled Lamb Chops, Ragout a la Deutsch.
Roasts to Order (Choice)
Roast Shoulder of Pork, Half Fried Chicken, Broiled English Mutton Chop, Wiener Schnitzel, Roast Stuffed Chicken, Small Beefsteak, Hamburger Steak, Emince of Turkey.
Cold.
Half Chicken, Sliced Chicken, Smoked Beef Tongue, Meat Salad Mexicaine, Bismarck or Marinierter Herring, Roast Beef, Sliced Star Ham, Salami, Smoked Salmon in Oil, Roast Sirloin of Beef, Sliced Virginia Ham, Combination Cold Cuts, Sardines de Riga, Normanna Mackerel Roe.
Salads (Choice).
Green Salads en Saison, Cress, Beets, Mixed.
Dessert or Cheese. (Choice).
Rice Pudding, Fruit Sauce, Coffee or Chocolate Ice Cream, Raisin Cake, American, Macaroons, Lady Fingers, Cream Swiss, Plum Tarteiette, Lemon Water Ice, Coffee Cake, Neufchatel, Demi-Tasse.

HOTEL WALLICK
BROADWAY AND FORTY-THIRD STREET.
Positively the Best Location and Values in New York.
Rooms, with Bath,
$1.50, $2.00, $2.50, $3.00
Also Attractive Suites at Very Reasonable Rates.
All the leading theatres within 5 minutes' walk.
And a Restaurant That's Known from Coast to Coast for Quality at Moderate Prices.
Dancing in the Pierrot Room—Afternoon and Evening

Jansson wants to see you
At the Famous
HOFBRAU HAUS
BROADWAY AND 30TH ST.
GREATEST LUNCHEON AND DINNER PLACE
Highest Class Music from Noon Until After Theatre.
Finest Table d'Hote in City, $1

Hotel Ansonia
Broadway, 73d to 74th Street.
Overlooking the Hudson River.
Single rooms, $2.00 per day; with bath $2.50 per day; double rooms with bath, $4.00 per day; parlor, bedroom and bath, $5.00 per day.
Club or a la Carte Breakfasts served in rooms without extra charge for service.
17 Stories.
1,400 Rooms, All Outside.
Largest Transient and Family Hotel in New York City. Absolutely Fireproof.

HOTEL BRISTOL
122-124 W. 49th St.
European Plan, $1.50; American Plan, $3.00 Per Day up. Weekly rate, 2 persons, 2 rooms with bath, European, $17.50; American, $37.50 up.

Best Foods—Good Cooking—Popular Prices—Pleasant Surroundings
DALY'S RESTAURANT & GRILL
20 E. 42D ST.
MUSIC

"All the News That's Fit to Print."

The New York Times.

THE WEATHER
Fair Friday and Saturday; moderate southwest winds.
For full weather report see Page 21.

VOL. LXV...NO. 21,097. NEW YORK, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 29, 1915.—TWENTY-FOUR PAGES. ONE CENT In Greater New York, Jersey City and Newark. Elsewhere TWO CENTS.

CLOSE TO BIG MEN IN SHIP BOMB PLOT

Secret Service Agents Expect to Make Important Arrests Soon.

DR. KIENZLE OUT UNDER BAIL

Government Seeks Details of His Life Here and Abroad—Expect Indictments Next Week.

Government agents are trying to find the missing link to complete a chain of evidence against persons "higher up" in the plot to blow up ships carrying munitions to the Allies. It was said yesterday by a man in authority that if the trail "continues to lead true" several sensational arrests may be expected soon. Not a word to indicate the identity of the suspects, however, was to be had.

That everything possible is being done to keep the men under arrest from talking of the case was indicated yesterday. The lawyers for all the accused were in joint conference most of the afternoon in the office of John B. Stanchfield. Max Breitung and Benno Loewy, attorney for Dr. Herbert Kienzle, who was released from the Tombs in $25,000 bail yesterday, were present. At its conclusion neither Mr. Stanchfield, Mr. Loewy, nor Mr. Breitung would talk.

Louis Jersawitz of 220 Broadway, counsel assigned to Lieutenant Robert Fay, was in conference for an hour with his client in the Tombs. Afterward Mr. Jersawitz said he was not prepared to say what Fay had told him. Tomorrow, he said, he expected to have a three hours' conference with the prisoner, and that he might give a statement of Fay's position.

"Is there any likelihood of Fay repudiating his confession to the Secret Service agents?" Mr. Jersawitz was asked.

"I suppose you refer to the alleged statement he made to Captain Flynn. I do not wish to say whether that alleged confession is true or untrue. It may or it may not be true," Mr. Jersawitz replied.

"Have you any witnesses in view whose testimony may help your client?" Mr. Jersawitz was asked.

"I am not prepared to say."

No Help from Attaches.

"How about Captain Boy-Ed and Captain von Papen, the Attachés of the German Embassy? Don't you think they might help him if they went on the stand?"

"Fay says that at no time was he identified with the German Embassy. I do not thing he even talked with Captain Boy-Ed, while, as for CSaptain von Papen, I have heard that he talked with that officer, but that von Papen frowned on the proposal Fay put forth."

"Is Fay your client's right name?"

"As far as I know, that is his name. He says there are two or three families in Germany who spell their names that way. I have no reason to think his name is not wh he says it is."

Mr. Jersawitz said his client had not made any additional statements since he was sent to the Tombs, and that a story that he had made a second confession to the Government authorities in which he amplified what he said shortly after his arrest was untrue.

Abraham Snydecker, attorney for Walter L. Scholz, Fay's brother-in-law, said yesterday that Scholz had no statement to make which would implicate any persons except those already mentioned. Scholz's connection with Fay, he said, was that of a workman, for which he received $25 a week from Fay. Scholz's work, he added, was restricted to drawing plans for Fay and for his own inventions, and for running errands for Fay. He said Scholz admits being a German reservist, and said that he also told him he was a civil engineer and a graduate of a German technical institution. Mr. Snydecker said he would make a strong fight for Scholz, and that he believed he would be able to prove that his client had not violated any Federal law.

Tracing Dr. Kienzle.

As for Dr. Kienzle, his connection with the case is so important, from the Government's viewpoint, that his career in this country and in Germany is being thoroughly investigated. In the records of the United States District Court it was discovered that on June 30 of last year the United States brought a civil action against Erich Kienzle, brother of Dr. Kienzle, who is in the clock business, to recover $39,879.64 on clocks imported from Germany which, it was alleged, were undervalued.

The papers in the case included an affidavit by Dr. Kienzle to explain the absence from jurisdiction of his brother. In that affidavit Dr. Kienzle said the home of the Kienzle family is at Schwenningen in the Black Forest, and that the head of the family is Jacob Kienzle, the head of the great clock factory. Another brother, Oskar, Dr. Kienzle said, was killed in battle in the present war, and that Erich at that time was fighting in the German army. After saying that Erich Kienzle said for Germany on July 12 and on his arrival was ordered to the colors, the affidavit goes on to recite the impossibility of his leaving Germany and the unfairness of continuing the trial in his absence.

Passenger on the Cecelie.

Dr. Kienzle further on in his affidavit said that he was a passenger on the North German Lloyd liner Kronprinzessin Cecelie, which vessel was at sea bound for Bremen when the war began, and raced back to America to escape being captured by British and French cruisers then patrolling the North Atlantic. Max Breitung is also said to have been a passenger on the same ship.

Assistant United States District Attorney John C. Knox went to Jersey City yesterday and conferred with County Prosecutor Hudspeth concerning the conspiracy case against Fay, Kienzle, Breitung, Scholz, and Paul Daeche. The visit was for the purpose of connecting up the various links of the case in New Jersey.

Secret Service agents also visited New Brunswick yesterday, where they investigated reports that Fay had been there several times last Summer, where he had registered from Philadelphia. They ascertained that he had visited the town and had stopped at the Mansion House, also that he always came unaccompanied. There are three ammunition factories near New Brunswick, one at Parlin on the Raritan River, another at Roosevelt, and a third at Millville. It is understood that the Government is

Continued on Page 2.

BACHE SELLS BANK TO NATIONAL CITY CO.

International and Its Asiatic Branches Likely to be Merged in National City Bank.

The International Banking Corporation, a controlling interest in which was acquired by Jules S. Bache of J. S. Bache & Co. a few days ago, has been sold to the National City Company, the investing company of the National City Bank. It was said yesterday that Mr. Bache acted as a broker in finding a buyer for the stock owned by the estate of General Thomas H. Hubbard.

Frank A. Vanderlip, President of the National City Bank, would not make any comment yesterday on the reported purchase, but he denied that the National City Bank was a party to it. It is understood that the National City Company will retain possession of the International's stock only until the Federal Reserve Board approves a request for the transfer of the International's branches throughout the world to the National City Bank. When Mr. Vanderlip was asked if interests identified with his bank had not bought the Bache stock, he would only say:

"When you use that word 'interests' you open a wide range of possibilities."

Steps preliminary to the transfer of stock control of the International from Mr. Bache to the National City Company are now being taken.

It is believed that before final negotiations are completed application will be made by the controlling interests in the International Corporation for membership in the Federal Reserve system. The International, which has branches throughout the Far East and in Panama, has a State charter. Under the Federal Reserve act a member of the system may operate branches outside this country.

Ownership of the International will put the National City Bank in a strong position relative to its plans for extending operations abroad. It already has six branches in South America and Cuba, and the addition of the International's foreign branches will bring the total up to twenty-two. The International under the administration of General Hubbard became strongly intrenched in China, Japan, India, and the Philippines, and according to bankers familiar with the National City plans, the branches in Asia would do much to fill out details of the bank's desire for an important part in the world's banking business.

KAISER'S NEW MOVE FOR LARGER FAMILIES

Will be Godfather to Seventh, Eighth, and Ninth Sons, Even if Daughters Intervene.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BERNE, Oct. 28, (Dispatch to The London Morning Post,)—As a further encouragement of large families in Germany, Emperor William now promises to be godfather, not only to the seventh and eighth sons born in succession, but also to the seventh, eighth, and ninth sons born with a daughter or daughters intervening.

GREY WOULD ARBITRATE ANY DISPUTE WITH US

Says We Have the Right to Submit Prize Court Verdicts to Tribunal.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—The Foreign Secretary, Sir Edward Grey, said in the House of Commons today that the American Government had the right to demand the submission to an international tribunal of verdicts of the British Prize Court. Sir Edward made this admission on being pressed as to the power given to the American Government in this regard in the British note of July 31.

"If a dispute arose with the United States," he said, "after all legal remedies had been exhausted I think undoubtedly we should refer it to arbitration."

The Secretary added that this was the usual procedure adopted by the British Government "when ordinary negotiations have failed, and is to be preferred to settlement by war."

BRITAIN MAY FORCE LOAN FROM SUBJECTS

London Express Says Treasury Considers Commandeering a Third of All Incomes.

LONDON, Friday, Oct. 29.—The Daily Express says that the Treasury is considering the advisability of a forced loan to curb private expenditure and conserve the national resources for the purposes of war.

"Mr. Montagu," (Financial Secretary to the Treasury,) says The Express, "stated a few days ago in the House of Commons that every citizen ought to be prepared to put half his annual income at the disposal of the nation.

"We are able to state that the Treasury is considering the advisability of acting in accordance with this warning, and if the nation will not save voluntarily, it will be made to do so.

"Not half, but a third, of every man's present income will be commandeered. Part will be taken as a tax, while for the remainder an equivalent interest-bearing paper will be issued."

CZAR TO SOUTHERN FRONT.

Russian Ruler is Accompanied by the Crown Prince.

PETROGRAD, Oct. 28, (via London.)—The Russian Emperor, accompanied by Crown Prince Alexis, has gone to the southern front.

The visit of the Czar "to the southern front" is suggestive of a continuation of the important operations in Galicia, where the Russians have already made a considerable advance since the north wing and the centre came to rest in their present positions. This advance has extended from the Sereth to the Stripa River and has been carried out with an abundance of ammunition and a superiority of troops.

DAY LINE AUTUMN TRIPS
To and including Election Day. See advs.—Advt.

BATTLE IN THE DARK BY LIGHT OF SHOTS

Policeman on Stairway and Robber on Roof Fire Through Scuttle.

HAD HELD UP CIGAR STORE

Thief Shoots Patrolman Three Times and Is Wounded in the Leg Before He Is Captured.

Policeman John Benner of the Mulberry Street Station, talking at a police telephone box in Houston Street, a few steps west of the Bowery, at 9:30 o'clock last evening, heard a man yell and saw him point to the United Cigar Store on the corner and then race for a tenement, into the doorway of which he darted. Benner dropped his telephone and jumped to the side door of the store, only a few feet from him. He recalled that he had seen two men enter the store a moment before.

But the door was locked now, and as Benner ran to the front door, which opens diagonally upon the corner of the Bowery and Houston Street, two men dashed out and started at full speed down the Bowery. Behind them ran a frightened clerk, shouting they had robbed him.

Benner, yelling to the men to stop, fired a shot into the air as he ran after them. The second of the fugitives halted at the report, turned, and fired two bullets directly at the policeman. Then he ran on. Benner fired two bullets from his revolver, and again the man turned and replied with two more shots.

The Bowery was crowded with terrified men and women all fleeing for stores and doorways to get out of range of bullets, and at the risk of hitting them Benner fired the last two shots in his revolver. Neither hit a fugitive and they kept on at full speed, now heading across the Bowery and making for the corner of Stanton Street.

Cars Stop for Bullets.

Surface cars and automobiles, northbound from the Delancey Street bridge, stopped to let the chase go past, or put on additional power and scooted beyond reach of the bullets. Benner, his weapon empty and useless, nevertheless kept on and reached the Stanton Street corner in time to see one of the men turn into the tenement at 10 and the other into the house at 14 Stanton Street.

Behind Benner ran Policeman John McCarron of the Fifth Street Station, whom the reports of the revolvers had called from First Street and the Bowery. As Benner turned into 10 Stanton Street, McCarron kept on to 14, and went bounding up the stairs on the trail of the man, whom he could hear a flight above him.

But when McCarron reached the fifth landing, that of the top floor, he was in darkness, and above him everything was still. He started cautiously up the stairs leading to the roof scuttle. Then the scuttle was drawn back and against the blue black of the sky which showed through the narrow opening McCarron saw the arm of a man appear, a revolver clutched in the fingers. The policeman jumped the stairway rail to the landing a few steps below and crouched there as the weapon above him roared out and two bullets buried themselves in the wall. Then the arm was withdrawn and the scuttle slipped back into place.

For an instant there was no sound from the roof, though below him McCarron could hear the frightened inmates of the tenement running into the halls, shouting and shrieking. From the street came the roar of other dozens who had fled from their flats at the first reports and who now shouted, demanding to know what had happened.

Both Fire Together.

Still there was no sign from the roof, so again McCarron started up the stairs, this time with his revolver ready aimed in his hand. He was up only two or three steps when again the scuttle slid back and the arm appeared. This time the policeman and the bandit fired almost together, but before McCarron could rush his man the scuttle was shoved back, and again the policeman was in darkness.

Again and again McCarron essayed the stairs, and again and again he encountered a fusillade, which he answered from his own revolver, but which nevertheless drove him down the stairs again. One bullet had gone through the left shoulder of his uniform. Another had struck his right breast, been deflected by a memorandum book in his pocket, and passed on out the back of his coat, scorching McCarron's side in its passage. A third had torn his left cheek, leaving a shallow furrow, which burned and maddened the policeman, but he could not reach his man.

He was waiting, gun in hand, crouched at the foot of the stairs, for another movement of the scuttle when Detective Joseph Kemp, Policeman Hayden, and half a dozen of the reserves from the Mulberry Street Station came running up the stairs.

"There's others going up over the other roofs!" shouted Kemp, encouragingly. "They'll drive him down!"

And almost as the detective spoke the scuttle opened. Apparently the bandit had seen the heads as policemen rose through the scuttles of a half-dozen nearby houses and, apparently, he had determined to take his chances with the men below him. Against the sky, on which he was outlined as he stepped into the scuttle opening, the bandit showed a huge dark figure, his arms extended before him and in each hand a pistol from which he began to fire as he set foot on the first step.

Twin Streams of Fire.

In the darkness the flashes of his guns showed like twin streams of fire shooting from the muzzle of each weapon, and he sprang down the stairs two steps at a time. He was almost at the bottom when McCarron let him have two bullets from his own revolver. His legs crumpled under him and he pitched headlong to the landing, where McCarron and the others fell on him. The policeman's shots had entered his right leg, and although no bones were broken, the shock had thrown the bandit from his feet.

Benner, who had joined the hunt for McCarron's man, reported that his own man had escaped him in the dark halls of the tenement at 10 Stanton Street,

Continued on Page 5.

BOSCA BRUT—Dry, Exquisite Flavor.
Favored by those who like dry champagne.—Advt.

France Sober But Confident

By Owen Johnson.

The well-known novelist writes of the strong undercurrent of consecration and sacrifice and determination to wage war to the bitter end that pervades that country. In

NEXT SUNDAY'S TIMES.
Also:
THE CASE OF EDITH CAVELL,
By James M. Beck,

over a million copies of whose article on "In the Supreme Court of Civilization: The Dual Alliance vs. the Triple Entente" have been circulated.

Order Next Sunday's Times Today
The Times Is Always Sold Out Early.

FLIER, LOST IN FOG, GETS FUEL AT SEA

Kendrick, Essaying Albany-Hatteras Trip, Drops Among Motor Boat Fishing Fleet.

FILLS TANKS AND GOES ON

Weather Spoils Effort to Win $1,000 Prize for Ten-Hour Hydroaeroplane Journey.

A little fleet of fishing smacks was pitching in the long swell of the Atlantic about twenty miles off the Delaware Capes yesterday evening, when they heard a distant rumbling as though some one were beating a giant drum. The mist, unusually heavy, hung low over the water, and the fishermen could scarcely see from one boat to another as they called to know what the noise meant. Nearer and louder came the sound; it was not of the ocean, but seemed to roar above them in the darkening clouds.

Suddenly, just as it seemed to be over their heads, it ceased, and the men in the fishing boats looked at one another in awe. While they wondered, and tried to pierce the gloom, out of the sky, through the mist, plunged what appeared to the startled fishers a great bird.

Its wings glistened with drops of water from the clouds whence it had come, and as it came down among the boats it veered sharply to avoid a collision. The creature settled in the water, and as it rose and fell with the waves, a man stood up and called out to know who the fishermen were and how far it was to land.

Beryl H. Kendrick, in a 100-horse-power Curtiss flying boat, rose from Albany yesterday morning shortly after 9 o'clock and turned south down the Hudson River at a height of 200 feet. By his flight he hoped to win the Curtiss Trophy, which carries with it a cash prize of $1,000, for he expected to make Cape Hatteras, a distance of 755 miles, within ten hours.

As he flew past Poughkeepsie, the airman was surprised to see another hydroaeroplane rise and come whirring after him. As it passed the helmsman waved a friendly greeting and indicated his desire to race. The two machines stayed together for fifteen miles, each making approximately seventy miles an hour. Then the stranger dropped astern and Kendrick sped on, wondering whom his competitor might be. Later it was learned that J. Bayard Verplank was his escort.

Near Ardsley the flying boat came down and rested a few minutes on the water near Edwin Gould's yacht. The aviator was tightening wires here and there and getting his machine ready for its flight over salt water.

In a short time Kendrick rose again and continued past Yonkers, and over the crowded traffic of the North River, whose tugs sent up shrill blasts of encouragement.

It was noon when he flew past Hoboken at a height of more than 400 feet, and the sailors on the interned Vaterland gathered at the stern and cheered him as he passed.

When the airman got to Bayhead, N. J., and was pointed well out toward the open sea, he noticed from his elevation that low clouds hung near the horizon, and that a mist was rolling up over the ocean. He decided that he must hurry, and so he went higher and increased his speed. He had expected to get gasoline at Bayhead, but the threat of fog drove him on with the hope of making Ocean City, Md., before stopping.

As time passed and the mist became more dense, the aviator heard his motor dying down. Anxiously, he opened the throttle wider and went on. He did not know where he was. He had gone out from the land many miles, and swerved to get closer to shore. The engine was growing weaker and weaker and the aviator prepared to glide to the surface of the sea, where he had seen a group of fishing boats which carried gasoline for their auxiliary engines, the fuel he so much needed. In a few minutes he had found out where he was and had got some gasoline from a tender which they sent him from one of the boats.

Kendrick landed in Ocean City, Md., shortly before 6 o'clock, and sent the Aero Club here the following message:

"Ocean City, Md., Oct. 28, 1915.

"Lost in the mist twenty miles off the Delaware Capes. Landed in ocean when fuel was exhausted. Obtained sufficient fuel from fishing smack. Flew in here.

"KENDRICK."

At the Aero Club, it was said last night that the distance flown by Kendrick, approximately 370 miles, was not sufficient to gain the prize which is offered for the longest flight made in ten hours by a flying boat. The trophy is now held by David H. McCulloch of Newport, Penn., who flew 480 miles in 7 hours and 42 minutes.

It was pointed out at the club, however, that Kendrick had made a record flight, since McCulloch made his in a closed space. Kendrick, they say, failed on account of starting too late from Albany, but they expect him to make another try.

START DELAYED BY FOG.

Kendrick Three Hours Late Getting Away from Albany.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Oct. 28.—It was three hours after the hour scheduled when Beryl H. Kendrick's hydroaeroplane rose from the Hudson bank opposite this city and took a course toward Cape Hatteras. The start was to have been at 5 o'clock this morning, but a bank fog rolled up the river and enveloped everything. With the rising of the sun it quickly disappeared. Contrary to the expectation of a large assemblage, Kendrick made no trial trip, having confidence in his machine, which he assembled this week. When the 1,300-pound aquatic bird rose Kendrick waved his hand and soon was lost to sight. Jacob L. Ten Eyck, official representative of the Aero Club of America, was the starter, and gave the correct time of leaving as 8:15 o'clock. Frank Mills, his machinist, was Kendrick's only companion.

BRIAND CALLED AS FRENCH PREMIER AS THE VIVIANI CABINET RESIGNS; SIX EX-PREMIERS MAY BE MINISTERS

THE TEUTON-BULGAR UNION

Forces That Joined Hands in Serbia Celebrated the Event.

FIRST MEETING A SURPRISE

Patrols Encountered Each Other in the Dobravoda Mountain Region.

FEAST IN CONQUERED TOWN

Rumanians Across the River Heard and Saw Rejoicing of the United Troops.

By WILHELM CONRAD GOMOLL.
Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.
(The Cologne Gazette Dispatches.)

HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY OF GENERAL VON GALLWITZ IN SERBIA, Oct. 27.—Yesterday, toward evening, two officers and twenty-five men belonging to a Bulgarian patrol came upon the outposts of our troops in the region of the Dobravoda Mountains, where the combined German and Austro-Hungarian forces had been conducting a vigorous attack ever since the crossing of the Danube at Orsoya. The meeting was unexpected and both the patrolling parties were taken by surprise.

The Bulgarians were immediately conducted to headquarters, where they were received with tremendous enthusiasm.

The meeting of the allied armies took place northeast of Palanka, between that city and the small town of Milutinavac, which lies on the road leading south to the bend in the Danube. It was a moment of world historical significance. We had reaped the fruits of long, hard work. The victory of our own and the Bulgarian offensives against Serbia had been achieved.

The Orient and Occident have been united, and on the basis of this firm, indissoluble union a new and mighty vierbund comes into being, created by the victory of our arms. The road from Germany through Austria-Hungary and Bulgaria to Turkey lies open, unbroken by any intervening foreign territory.

In the fortified Serbian city of Kladovo the victory was greeted with great enthusiasm, the troops of the allied armies fraternizing and the celebration lasting all last night and today. The national hymns of the different allied nations, sung throughout the night, resounded to the Rumanian shore, where residents of Turnu Severin stood assembled, watching the events on the Serbian side.

Upon receiving the news that the junction of the armies had been established, the commander of the forces around Dobravoda hastened to Kladovo to welcome the Bulgarian troops. Duke Adolf von Mecklenburg, with many German and Austro-Hungarian officers, accompanied him. On the streets through which the troops passed in entering the city many houses displayed white flags of truce, linen sheets or tablecloths, as a sign of their willingness to submit to the new authority. On their entrance the victorious troops were presented with wreaths of flowers.

At a festival luncheon today in honor of the Bulgarian officers the rulers of the allied nations were toasted, Lieutenant U. P. Gadjew, commander of the Bulgarian cavalry, afterward holding a parade of his troops, most of whom fought in the last Balkan war against Serbia.

The district can now be regarded as cleared of the enemy. As our troops are again making a strong advance toward the south, the situation is such that the Serbians are no longer in a position to disturb the connection now established.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.
[The Cologne Gazette Dispatches.]

SOFIA, Oct. 26, (Delayed in Transmission.)—The importance of the union of the allied forces in the northwest corner of Serbia, which is expected on Wednesday, is enormous. Its full significance will soon become apparent in the measures taken to insure that in spite of the prevailing fog the combined armies will get the full advantage of the fact that the Danube road now lies open. A flotilla of steamers for the transportation of war materials is waiting at a point where they will be readily available.

The new victory, which is due to the bravery and fine leadership of the allied forces, is decisive for the future course of the war in the Balkans. In Bulgarian circles and in circles friendly to us and the cause of Bulgarian independence there prevails deep satisfaction and a feeling of gratitude toward the troops who in spite of the unusually unfavorable weather have won a victory surpassing all expectations.

Delicious Deerfoot Farm Sausage.
Come to you from the Farm, wrapped in pound parchment packages—perfectly protected.—Advt.

Italy Favors a Central Authority To Prosecute the War of the Allies

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

ROME, Oct. 28.—The opinion is spreading in political circles here that the only way to insure prompt, concerted action initiated with a full diplomatic knowledge of the circumstances and interests at stake, the lack of which has been the chief cause of the present impasse in the Balkans, is to start as soon as possible a central committee, or assembly, representing all the Governments of the Entente, their military and naval experts, and the strongest and most clear-sighted minds of the respective nations, in order to decide rapidly upon necessary action and to unify efforts in every branch of the immense war. The vast powers and activity thus represented would be united in a single will and a single point of view.

It appears that the same idea is gaining ground in France.

The Corriere della Sera says it is universally admitted that the Conferences of London obtained excellent results during former explosions in the Balkans, and suggests that the same principle be applied by the Quadruple Entente in this the gravest moment of their history.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

MILAN, Oct. 28, (Dispatch to The London Daily News.)—Publication of facts about the Italian Government's recent deliberations has had the effect of drawing renewed attention to the suggestion that an international diplomatic and military committee is desirable to obtain uniform and simultaneous action wherever the Allies are facing the common enemy.

150,000 FRENCH LAND TO AID SERBS

German Reports Tell of Allied Reinforcements—British Supports on the Way.

RUSSIAN SHIPS SHELL VARNA

Germans Push On in North Serbia as Bulgars Take Zaiecar and Pirot.

Uskub Recaptured by Serbs; Allies a Shock to Bulgars

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

ATHENS, Oct. 27, (Dispatch to The London Daily Mail.)—After a severe defeat the Bulgarian left wing in southern Serbia at Veles is being forced back along the Brigalnitza River to Ishtip in disorder. The Serbians have been reinforced from the south.

The Serbian withdrawal from Uskub was carried out in perfect order to the mountains commanding the town. The Bulgarian left having since been turned and the Serbians around Uskub reinforced, the enemy is reported to have found Uskub untenable, and after a severe attack by the Serbians retired toward Ishtip and was pursued.

The French forces are meeting with remarkable successes. The Bulgarian rank and file have not yet recovered from their amazement at being opposed by allied troops. Their morale has been shaken.

LONDON, Friday, Oct. 29.—Despite the seriousness of the situation in the Balkans, optimism prevails in Serbian quarters in London, which are probably best able to judge of the assistance being sent by France, Great Britain, and Russia.

The French, according to German dispatches, have already landed 150,000 men, with 100 guns, at Saloniki. While the whereabouts of the British reinforcements which are to join the troops now at the front, and numbering 13,000, remains a secret, that they are of considerable size may be judged from the fact that Lieutenant General Sir Bryan T. Mahon, who headed the columns which relieved Mafeking in the South African War, has been placed in command of the expedition.

Outside of the German official statement, which records the advance of the Austro-German forces and the capture by the Bulgarians of Zaiecar and Kniasyevac, both on the Timok River northeast of Nish, and the heights of Pirot, almost directly east of Nish, there is little or no authentice news of the invasion of Serbia.

There are reports, however, that the Bulgarians have actually occupied Pirot; also that the Serbians have recaptured Uskub. This is not improbable, if, as Saloniki dispatches report, the French now hold the line of Krivolak, Radovista, and Strumitza, for, with an army there and the Serbians at Veles, Uskub would form a dangerous salient. Uskub was abandoned by the Serbs, according to a dispatch to the Matin sent from Saloniki Tuesday, with the object of drawing on the Bulgarians and enabling the Serbian forces at Veles to envelop them.

The Paris Havas Agency correspondent at Athens sends word that railway communication between Saloniki and Veles has been re-established, and that a military train going a long distance northward from Veles encountered no Bulgarian troops. The correspondent also reports that the Franco-Serbian troops which retook Veles are marching eastward upon Ishtip, overcoming Bulgarian resistance in that region.

A squadron of French aeroplanes has been assembled at Saloniki, and is soon to proceed by air to the front.

For the moment, the danger spot for the Serbians is the northeast corner, where they are being attacked from

Continued on Page 3.

TWELFTH ANNUAL BUSINESS SHOW,
1 to 10:30 P. M.
All This Week.—Advt.

BRITAIN SCOUTS PEACE RUMORS

Lloyd George, Speaking for Asquith, Denies Exchanges Are On with Berlin.

QUOTES GUILDHALL SPEECH

Washington Anxious to Know Subject of Gerard's Conference with the Kaiser.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—An emphatic denial that Great Britain was engaged in any peace negotiations, direct or indirect, was made by David Lloyd George, the Minister of Munitions, in reply to a question in the House of Commons today.

Mr. Lloyd George spoke for Premier Asquith, when the question, of which Annan Bryce had given notice, came up. The query was as to whether unofficial exchanges of views had been carried on between Berlin and London with the possible object of the conclusion of an early peace, and whether inquiries of similar nature had been made by official representatives of any neutral power.

"Certainly not," was the reply of the Minister of Munitions. "The words of the Prime Minister still hold good," he added, referring not only to the question of peace negotiations, but as to whether the Premier still adhered to the declaration in his Guildhall speech that Great Britain should not sheathe her sword until "the freedom of Europe was secured." Mr. Lloyd George continued:

"We shall not think of entering any peace negotiations except in common with our allies in accordance with the agreement made in September, 1914."

ROME, Oct. 28.—Pope Benedict expressed gratification today at the work of Cardinal Gibbons in furtherance of the Papal plans for preparing public opinion to exercise a powerful influence in favor of peace. In this connection the Pope referred to the visit of Cardinal Gibbons to President Wilson last month.

Speculation on Gerard's Visit.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Ambassador Gerard's recent conference with Emperor William is causing much speculation in official quarters here. Secretary Lansing said today that the Ambassador had not been directed to visit the Emperor and that no report of the conference had been received. It is generally presumed that on the return of the Emperor to Potsdam the Ambassador made an informal visit in the interest of German-American relations. The satisfactory settlement of the Arabic case gives ground for the belief that the Ambassador may have sought the Emperor's views on several diplomatic questions which have been held in abeyance, owing to the submarine controversy.

The possibility that Emperor William might have taken advantage of the opportunity to express to Ambassador Gerard Germany's views on peace was generally talked of here today, particularly as a consequence of published reports that Germany intended soon to make known the basis on which she would make peace. Reports that Prince von Bülow, former German Chancellor and Ambassador to Italy, was to visit King Alfonso of Spain, and later the United States, have attracted much attention here because of the belief that he may be intrusted with the task of explaining Germany's viewpoint.

President Wilson has made clear that until one of the belligerents indicates plainly a desire to accept mediation there would be no initiative on the part of the American Government. The fact that King Alfonso is mentioned as a mediator is regarded here as significant, because for some time it has been indicated that the King of Spain was desirous of acting in harmony with President Wilson when the time for making peace arrives.

GENEVA EXPECTS VON BUELOW

Rumor That He Is to Meet Another Diplomat in Switzerland.

GENEVA, Oct. 29.—Prince von Bülow, the former German Chancellor, accompanied by two other persons, is expected here.

It is reported that his visit will be in connection with a special mission for the German Government, says The Tribune, and that he will meet another diplomat in Switzerland.

DEWEY'S AMERICAN WINES.
A trial will convince you of their quality.
Dewey's, 138 Fulton St. and 31 Nassau St., N. Y.—Advt.

'NO MANDATE,' SAYS BRIAND

But Socialist Leader Is Working on Makeup of New Government.

MAY BE FOREIGN MINISTER

While Cambon, ex-Ambassador to Germany, Is Mentioned as His Principal Secretary.

SOCIALIST COMMENT HERE

No Party Victory Claimed, but Some Leaders See Signs of Peace in French Crisis.

PARIS, Oct. 28.—The French Cabinet, of which René Viviani was head, resigned today, but up to a late hour tonight Aristide Briand, who was called upon to form a new Cabinet, had not succeeded in completing his task.

Six ex-Premiers, including M. Viviani, are mentioned as possible members of the reorganized Ministry.

The subject of M. Viviani's retirement from the Premiership and the reorganization of the Cabinet was discussed at length by the political leaders, but as no definite arrangement could be reached, the Chamber of Deputies, which was awaiting the appearance of the Ministry in the House, adjourned in the afternoon without any formal announcement having been made

There had been rumors since the resignation of Théophile Delcassé, the Foreign Minister, of important changes in the Cabinet, but the withdrawal of M. Viviani was in the nature of a surprise, as his Ministry received a vote of confidence in the Chamber recently by a very large majority.

Statement of Briand.

The following statement to the press was made by M. Briand:

"Premier Viviani took steps to enlarge his Cabinet. I am continuing them in my turn, but I have no official mandate, since there is no Ministerial crisis. Accordingly, the conversations I have had with various political leaders have been only semi-official, and I ask you to explain that it is in that sense that my activities must be regarded. Perhaps I may be in a position to say more very soon."

It is believed that M. Briand will be officially invested with the mission of forming a new Cabinet as soon as his selections for the various portfolios are made.

It is suggested in some quarters that Premier Viviani will retire from his present position in favor of M. Briand, and that M. Viviani will be Minister of Justice in the reorganized Cabinet.

Information now available indicates that M. Briand will become Foreign Minister as well as Premier, with Jules Cambon, who was Ambassador to Germany at the outbreak of the war, as his principal Secretary. In addition to M. Viviani, probable designations are: Minister of War, General J. S. Gallieni, Military Governor of Paris; Minister of Marine, Rear Admiral Lacaze; Minister of Agriculture, Etienne Clementel, former Minister of Agriculture and of Finance; Minister of Commerce, L. L. Klotz, former Minister of the Interior and of Finance, or Joseph Thierry, Under Secretary in the Ministry of War; Minister of Instruction, Emile Combes, former Premier.

The other members of the present Cabinet, according to this program, will continue in their present positions.

The Journal says that there will be six Ministers of State without portfolios, of whom four will be Senators and two Deputies. It is also said the Under Secretaryships will not be filled, except in the case of the Minister of War, in which department Albert Thomas is to be continued in office, in charge of the output of munitions.

Another Tentative Slate.

According to a list issued by the Havas News Agency, giving the names of the members of the Cabinet as it says it learns that body will be provisionally constituted, Charles de Freycinet is to be Vice President of the Cabinet and Minister of State; Professor Paul Painlevé will be Minister of Public Instruction and inventions concerning national defense; Jules Meline, a former Premier, will be Minister of Agriculture, while either René Renoult or Gabriel Guist Hau will be Minister of Labor.

As Ministers without portfolio the list carries the names of former Premiers Emil Combes and Léon Bourgeois, together with Denys Cochin and Jules Guesde, who are now in the Cabinet as Ministers without portfolio.

It is understood that, as General Secretary of the Foreign Office, M. Cambon will be responsible for the direction of foreign affairs.

The belief was expressed by persons in close touch with the situation that Premier Viviani's long service through the period since the outbreak of the war had taxed his strength severely, and that he desired to rest, as well as to bring forward some strong figure who could unite all elements as his successor.

It is expected that M. Ribot, Minister of Finance, and M. Millerand, Minister of War, will be associated with the new Cabinet.

VETERAN STATESMEN MAY WORK WITH BRIAND

Six Former Premiers Are Mentioned as French Cabinet Possibilities.

The French Ministerial readjustment has brought to the surface of political France the most distinguished statesmen ever assembled in a Cabinet of the Third Republic. It will be known today whether they desire to remain there. Neither the Waldeck-Rousseau "Cabinet of Republican Defense" of 1808, nor the Viviani coalition "Cabinet of National Defense," which has carried the country so far in the war, can be compared to it for men of long service in the State.

Not to mention Mi Viviani, there is de Freycinet, who has been seven times Premier; Ribot, also a former Premier, and a distinguished Foreign and Finance Minister; Bourgeois, another former Premier, who has also held as many portfolios as de Freycinet; Jules Cambon, who has distinguished himself as Ambassador at Washington, Madrid, and Berlin, the brother of Paul Cambon, now Ambassador at the Court of St. James's; two other former Premiers, Doumergue and Dr. Emile Combes, the latter of whom, from 1902 to 1905, put through the measures of republican defense made necessary by the Dreyfus case, and devised by the Cabinet of his predecessor, the late M. Waldeck-Rousseau, and Jules Guesde, the well-known Parliamentary Socialist, who was a Minister without portfolio in the late Cabinet. Finally, General Gallieni, the defender of Paris a year ago, and Admiral Lacaze, are both men who stand high in their respective professions.

Although both Briand and Viviani have the reputation of being Socialists, they have long since broken with the organized party—like M. Millerand, the Minister of War—and so the hopes of that party are solely centred on M. Guesde. The Cabinet of 1808 and that formed on Sept. 26, 1914, had a much larger Socialist representation.

Since the Dreyfus crisis of 1895-99 the Socialists have, directly or indirectly, had a predominant influence on the political, sociological, and economic affairs of the Republic. While working out their propaganda in times of tranquillity, they never failed to support the Government in great international crises. It was so in 1898, and at the time of the Morocco imbroglio in 1905; at the time of the Agadir trouble in 1911 and, finally, a year ago last August.

But their work, whether it concerned disarmament or organized labor, could not be undone over night. France was found practically without an army in 1905 and without a navy in 1911, and would have been without either when the present war began had it not been for the wave of patriotism which had swept the country during the Winter of 1913 and through the Spring of 1914. Socialism, which had sought to separate itself from patriotism, gradually found that such a divorce was impracticable. At the same time the Socialist vote in the Chamber has steadily increased because of the labor organizations behind it, not because the people of France were becoming more Socialistic.

Take the last two general elections, those of May, 1910, and 1914: The number of Organized Socialist Deputies increased from 75 to 102; the Democratic Left from 72 to 102, and the Organized Radicals from 115 to 136. But if these groups usually rally to the support of the Government in a great crisis, that does not mean that they cease to exercise their influence as Radicals and Socialists in order to make their independent power felt and promote their propaganda after the crisis has passed.

There have been so many secret sessions of the French Chamber since the war began that the public could gain few hints of what was going on. It could judge only by the Ministerial decrees which have, in war time, the force of legislation. It was the late Jean Jaurès, the Parliamentary Socialist, who in 1904 tried to have the country abandon conscription—even the two-year army service, last year replaced by the old three-year turn, was a sufficient concession in his opinion—and establish a national militia. The present Radical and Socialist Deputies have been untiring in their efforts to have all aristocratic names erased from the list of Generals.

Nothing has been published on the subject on account of the censor, but private letters have revealed the situation. It seems that Generals like Franchet d'Esperey, de Langle de Cary, de Maud'huy, and the Marquis de Castelnau, however distinguished their services may have been, have been blacklisted by the Socialists and Radicals, and every influence has been brought to bear upon M. Millerand, the Minister of War, and General Joffre, the Generalissimo, to have them replaced by men whose names are not historic and whose sentiments are supposed to be democratic, if not socialistic. A scandal, if not worse, was narrowly avoided last August when the Radicals and Socialists tried to make political capital out of the transfer of General Sarrail from the Argonne to the Dardanelles.

The resignation of M. Delcassé as Foreign Minister on Oct. 13 is supposed to have been brought about by the fact that the Socialist influences in the Ministry had failed to prepare for the eventuality of Greek and Rumanian neutrality and Bulgarian hostility, and that he declined to work with his hands thus tied, when his preparations of other European Chancelleries were not backed up by other departments of the Government.

A new election, it is said, would eradicate the predominating Socialist influence, as in the electoral campaign the truth would be told. But, as a general election at this time is impracticable, it is believed that President Poincaré has, through M. Briand, sought to provide a Ministry which shall faithfully represent the country, arguing that the Chamber would not dare defeat such a distinguished body; the alternative being a general election.

M. Briand has twice been Premier. He was the first Socialist Premier when appointed in 1909 to succeed M. Clemenceau. The latter had had to deal with the strikes of organized labor, but his methods had not been effective. With M. Briand, a Socialist, Premier and Minister of the Interior, a great strike was organized. In 1910 all the railway employes were called out. M. Briand was equal to the occasion. He ordered the strikers to join the colors for three weeks' training and assigned them as soldiers to run the trains.

After the election of M. Poincaré in January, 1913, M. Briand formed the first Cabinet. Since then, whether in or out of office—he has, meanwhile, been Minister of Justice—he has been the President's most energetic and faithful lieutenant.

The French Constitution does not always permit the President, no matter what his ability may be, actively to intervene in the selection of a Cabinet whose members are responsible, not to him, but to Parliament. In the present instance, however, it is believed that the slate presented is as much the work of M. Poincaré as it is of M. Briand, and that both men have regarded the sentiment of the country and have defied the Chamber to provoke a new election in case it denies the new Ministers a majority

ANNUITIES
...reduced rates. $100,000,000 security. Best provision for old age incomes.
THE JOHNSTON & COLLINS CO.
65 Liberty St.

BRIAND STRONG MAN, SOCIALISTS HERE SAY

But They Deny Party Significance in His Ascension to Premiership.

A MOVE FOR EFFICIENCY

French Cabinet Changes Indicate Distrust of British Leadership, According to One View.

The announcement that Aristide Briand was to head the new French War Cabinet caused widespread comment in many circles in this city yesterday. The fact that he had been perhaps the most violent of the French anti-militarists lent special interest to the discussion of his appointment among prominent Socialists here yesterday. Some of them knew him personally, both before and after he began to alter his views on militarism, and know the radical views he had held on other subjects.

The appointment was also widely discussed yesterday among local authorities on international law, and persons who have followed European politics closely, among whom were a number who had met and talked with him.

Dissatisfied With British Leadership.

The consensus of opinion among those who were familiar with the European situation was that Briand was peculiarly fitted for the post to which he had been raised. It was also generally agreed that the collapse of the old ministry signified the deep dissatisfaction in France with the manner in which the war had been conducted. One prominent lawyer, especially conversant with French political affairs, who has represented the French Government in this country in a semi-official capacity on a number of occasions, came out flatly with the statement that the change was due more to French dissatisfaction with British affairs than with their own.

"The British have been the cause of a great deal of unrest in France lately," he said. "Of course this fact has not been allowed to pass the censor, and has not become generally known, but I am in a position to know that there has been rising a host of objections to what has been called 'British bossism' in the management of the war. The British, these complaints allege, have tried to run things according to their own ideas, and have made frightful blunders from the start. British diplomacy is largely blamed for the situation in the Balkans, and the fact that Bulgaria became an ally of the Teutons instead of France, England and Russia.

"The sudden change in the French Ministry means that the French at last have demanded that men be placed in charge of their affairs who can really manage them, instead of leaving the management to the British and the burden of the execution of blundering ideas to the French."

The fact that Briand is a Socialist was generally considered, even by the Socialists, to have little or no significance. Morris Hillquit, the Socialist lawyer, leader, and writer, who has met M. Briand on a number of occasions, pointed out that he had been called to the Premiership to replace a Socialist, M. Viviani, but said that with both men their socialism at present was only incidental. Both, he said, had been expelled by the Socialist Party on account of their views, and, while they both still called themselves Socialists, their presence in the Cabinet would have little effect on the main body of French Socialists.

Seen in Changes Signs of Peace.

Mr. Hillquit saw a deeper significance in the shake-up, which he said was more in the way of a reorganization than in complete collapse of the old Ministry.

"It is one of the many recent signs that the people of France, as well as of other belligerent countries, are gradually coming around to the Socialist and anti-militarists' point of view of war and its uselessness," Mr. Hillquit said. "At the outbreak of the war France was a unit, but the signs of dissatisfaction have been noticeable for some time now, and they have finally culminated in the overthrow of the war Ministry and the formation of a new Ministry. Among the recent signs of dissatisfaction in France have been the repeated demands of organized labor for peace. This is an indication of war weariness. The similar demands in England and the outbreaks and incipient revolutions in Russia show that this war weariness is not confined to France, by any means, but that all of the countries at war are experiencing it. The first grand enthusiasm has passed, and the people are sobering up to the enormity of the thing, and to the fact that it can accomplish nothing, after all.

"This change in the French Cabinet means nothing so far as individual Socialists are concerned, but it will be found to have great significance when the history of the war is written. For a while the change may succeed in accomplishing what probably is its chief purpose, to conciliate the different classes that have been showing their dissatisfaction, and to renew the enthusiasm of the people. But this and the other signs of dissatisfaction with the war itself in all of the countries involved in it can have no other effect than that of hurrying peace.

"I first met M. Briand in 1904, at the International Socialists' congress at Amsterdam. At that time he still held the views which had attracted attention to him, and was urging the laboring classes to go on strike if France went to war, and advocating insurrections and uprisings to prevent war. When I visited France last, in 1913, the radical Socialists, who had formerly looked up to Briand as one of their most radical leaders, were still amusing themselves by circulating some of the pamphlets he himself had written in advocacy of the general strikes and insurrections. He was in the Cabinet in 1913.

Briand was ousted from the Socialist Party when he first accepted a portfolio in the Cabinet, in 1906, as Minister of Public Instruction and Worship. He was appointed to this post after winning distinction by his fight in the Chamber of Deputies for the separation of Church and State. The Socialists were opposed to having one of their members take office in a Cabinet which they could not control, in a capitalistic country, and as Briand took this office without the permission of his party he was dropped, and has since styled himself an independent Socialist. His views soon became more conservative. I saw him again in 1907, and by this time he had changed his views almost completely."

Final Stage of the War Approaching.

Maurice Léon, who is considered well versed in French politics and who is himself a Frenchman and an authority on international law, said that the Cabinet changes convinced him that the war was about to enter into its final stage, and that ultimately this change would mean German defeat in that it would strengthen to a vast degree the management of the Allied campaign.

"It signifies that the war is entering its most crucial stage at the present time," Mr. Léon said, "and the beginning of the Germans' end must be not long deferred if the Allies now take advantage of their opportunity to put forth their best endeavors.

"France, in this change, announces her determination to take a leading political as well as military part in the conduct of the war. She is entrusting the direction of her affairs to her ablest statesmen and diplomats. An abler set of statesmen than the set named in the dispatches it would be impossible to find in any country, and the wisdom of the changes can be seen particularly in the appointment, as indicated in the dispatches, of a General at the head of the War Department, Gallieni, and an Admiral at the head of the Marine Department, Lacaze. Gallieni contributed to the battle of the Marne its master stroke, not only stopping von Kluck's flanking movement, but actually flanking von Kluck.

"Recent dispatches also indicate a similar resolve in England and Russia to overcome German efficiency with greater efficiency on the part of the Allies, and this in every field, in diplomacy and finance as well as in actual military warfare."

Meyer London, the Socialist Congressman, saw in the Cabinet shake-up the realization on the part of the French of the necessity of strengthening the war management of the Allies so as to cope more successfully with the centralized power of the Teutons. He pointed out that on the one side the Germans had assumed complete control of the campaign, while on the other side there had been three Governments in control. The fact that a change took place at all, he said, was due to the dissatisfaction of the people, combined with the fact that France was a democracy in which the views of the people, instead of a group in power, had weight.

"I wouldn't connect the resignation of M. Viviani with the fact that he is a Socialist," Congressman London said, "for at the outbreak of the war all of the Socialists immediately merged with the other parties, and have supported the war as heartily since as they disapproved war before. For the same reasons I do not think the changes in the French Cabinet and the appointment of another Socialist to replace Viviani will have any appreciable effect on Socialism in France or on world Socialism.

"Viviani and Briand were of the same class as regards their Socialism, and their views differed only regarding the importance of immediate measures. The fact that they were taken into the Ministry at all, of course, shows the importance of the Socialist movement in France. France couldn't last a day under the present strain if it were not for the support of the Socialists."

Briand Once an Anarchist.

In an article on "Briand, the First Socialist Premier in History," published in The American Review of Reviews soon after M. Briand was first made Premier, André Tridon, who was formerly a journalist in Paris, told of M. Briand's brilliant career and rapid rise.

"Briand is in politics what Pasteur was in scientific research," M. Tridon wrote, "an unassuming worker who never cares for popular applause, but goes on doing his work in silence. Briand is a constructive Socialist who, however he may love his ideas, knows that changes must be brought about gradually and not without much experimenting. Briand's private life is of an almost austere simplicity."

When he heard of M. Briand's appointment as the head of the new Ministry yesterday, M. Tridon said that the appointment would strengthen the Government materially.

"I was acquainted with him when I was in France, though at that time he was a lawyer who had been practically unheard of. He was an anarchist first and a radical Socialist afterward. When about 30 years old he edited a small anarchist paper and attracted some attention with his views favoring trial marriage, free love, and divorce by mutual agreement. Since becoming more conservative he has developed into a very strong character, and has an enormous and powerful following in France, particularly among the working classes. His following here is far greater than Viviani's, and it is probable that this fact had a great deal to do with his selection as Premier at the present time, for, of course, we don't know just how threatening the workingmen had become lately in France. Briand gained his popularity with them by settling the railroad strike without bloodshed four years ago."

Robert Bacon of this city was the American Ambassador to France when Briand was Premier before, in 1910. Mr. Bacon was greatly interested when he learned of the changes in the French Cabinet, but said that it would not be proper for him to make any public comment on them.

THINK BRIAND DESIRES PEACE.

Some Socialists Here Look for Early Negotiations with Germany.

Socialist leaders throughout the country who have expressed their views on the French Cabinet crisis, in response to inquiries by THE NEW YORK TIMES, lay little stress upon the appointment of a so-called Socialist as Premier; but there is a disposition, most strongly voiced by Victor Berger, Milwaukee's Socialist ex-Congressman, to see in it an indication of an early peace with Germany. Following are the statements of the various Socialistic opinions:

Predicts Early Peace with Germany.

Special to The New York Times.

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 28.—Victor Berger, the Socialist ex-Congressman, who was born and educated in Austria-Hungary, thinks that a Briand Cabinet in France will mean an early peace with victorious Germany. Mr. Berger said tonight:

"The shake-up in the French Cabinet is simply a reflex of the shake-up in the English Cabinet. It began with the resignation of Delcassé and will be forwarded by the resignation of Asquith and Sir Edward Grey. It is a sign of the disintegration of the war parties in the Governments of the Allies.

"Briand, whom I know personally, is known as a Socialist, but is a syndicalist, or what in America we would call an I. W. W. He brought about the separation of Church and State in France. It was his boast that he drove Jesus Christ out of France, and yet he was bright enough and strong enough to so pacify the Roman Catholic Church that he now has the support of the Church in this crisis. I believe that when Briand finds that he cannot drive the Germans out of France he will be bright enough and strong enough to make peace with Germany and end the war, in which France can no longer gain anything whatever for herself, and in which she is simply pulling the chestnuts out of the fire for England. It is a very hot fire at that."

District Attorney W. C. Zabel said:

"France has, with its being involved in war, become a unit for the prosecution of the war. Socialist principles are for peace and the brotherhood of man, but the actual presence of war seems to have caused the Socialists to be forced into line with the radical war party. We hope for peace, but cannot think it is near."

"First Step Toward Securing Peace."

Special to The New York Times.

BUFFALO, Oct. 28.—Commenting on the reaccession of M. Briand, N. D. Arthur, a local Socialist leader, said tonight:

"It would appear that the people of France are beginning to realize that the struggle is a vain one, and that the only hope of the country lied in having a strong man at the helm who will assert himself in the interests of peace when the time comes. When nations war, the workingman pays. The reaccession of Briand can mean nothing else than the first step of France toward securing peace."

Likely to Strengthen the Government.

Special to The New York Times.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 28.—G. A. Hoehn, editor of Labor, a Socialist publication, expressed surprise at the appointment of Aristide Briand to head the new French Cabinet. He said that the effect of the change would be negligible, so far as it affected the Socialist Party, although he thought the change might have the effect of strengthening the French Government in the confidence of the people.

Natural Result of Balkan Fiasco.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 28.—Socialists may attach but little significance to the accession of Briand to the Premiership, according to Joseph E. Cohen, a leader of the Socialist movement in this city.

"The Government of France today is, to a considerable extent, merely a general staff for military purposes," he said, "as is that of every country engaged in the war. Cabinets are made and broken purely with the end of prosecuting the war along one line or another.

"The change in the French Cabinet follows Germany's diplomatic stroke in winning Bulgaria to its side, thereby extending its plan to form a Central European combination strong enough to sever Russia from its allies and open the door for Asiatic and African foodstuffs. It was natural that the blame for this Teutonic master stroke should be placed upon the Premiers of the English and French Cabinets, with the consequences we have seen.

"From the Socialist point of view there is little significance in the exchange of Viviani from Briand. The Socialists of the different countries are aiding the people to repel and to maintain their national existence. They are not able to do much as yet for labor at home or the families of those at the front. But they will try to bring their influence to bear on behalf of the masses upon whom the burdens of war fall heaviest when the conflict draws to a close and the monumental task of reconstruction begins."

'In No Sense a Socialist Achievement.'

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—"I do not see that the appointment of Aristide Briand is of any particular significance to the Socialists of the world," said Alderman William E. Rodriguez, one of Chicago's prominent Socialists, tonight. "Although he was elected as an Independent Socialist, I believe that M. Briand long since withdrew from the Socialist Party in France, and his accession to the head of the Government is in no sense a Socialist achievement."

Calls Briand a Renegade.

Special to The New York Times.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 28.—"From the Socialist point of view, the accession of Briand to the Premiership of France is not important," said C. E. Ruthenberg, Socialist candidate for Mayor of Cleveland, tonight. "Briand, years ago, was declared a renegade to the principles of Socialism, and his present position does not mean any more to the Socialist cause than his previous position as a member of the French Cabinet."

"The new position of Briand in the French Cabinet will not affect the attitude of Socialists toward the war," said Fred Guy Strickland, national lecturer of the Socialist Party. "The influence of the pro-war faction had already spent its force. Briand had lost caste in the International before the war began."

$500,000 IN WAR GOODS BURNED IN SEATTLE

British Steamship Company's Pier Destroyed After Third Attempt Within a Week.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 28.—Fire, supposedly of incendiary origin, destroyed tonight Pier 14, at the foot of Broad Street, occupied by Dodwell & Co., Ltd., agents for the Blue Funnel Line of British steamers. Much valuable merchandise was burned, the loss probably exceeding $500,000. Two attempts were made to burn the pier last Tuesday. Both fires were started in piles of rattan stacked on rolls of paper. Fire Department officials said they believed both these fires originated from a time fuse.

In the blaze tonight Japanese and Chinese merchandise just arrived on the steamer Ixion was destroyed. Part of the Ixion's cargo of silk, valued at $2,000,000, had previously been sent East. Blue Funnel Line steamers have been taking barbed wire, machinery, and implements of war across the Pacific. The Ixion on her next trip was booked to stop at Vladivostok with supplies for Russia.

BRITISH CRUISER RUNS ASHORE; CREW SAVED

The Argyll Strikes on Scottish Coast in Storm and May be a Total Wreck.

LONDON, Oct. 28, (1:50 P. M.)—The British cruiser Argyll has run aground and may be a total wreck. All hands were rescued. This was made known by the Admiralty today in the following announcement:

"H. M. S. Argyll, Captain James Tancred, R. N., grounded this morning off the east coast of Scotland. Owing to bad weather prevailing, it is feared she may become a total wreck. All her officers and the crew have been saved."

The Argyll, 10,850 tons displacement, was laid down in 1902. Her normal complement is 855. She is 450 feet long. Her largest guns are 7.5 inches, of which she carries four. She has 6 six-inch, 2 three-inch, and 22 three-pound guns and 2 torpedo tubes.

$200,000,000 in Gold Turned In.

PARIS, Oct. 28.—In response to the request of the Government last June that private individuals exchange their gold coins for notes, a total of 1,000,000,000 francs, ($200,000,000,) gold has been turned over to the Bank of France.

Pope Sends $5,000 to Polish Fund.

BERLIN, Oct. 28, (by Wireless Telegraph to Tuckerton, N. J.)—Announcement that Pope Benedict had donated 25,000 kronen, (about $5,000,) to the Polish Relief Fund was made by the Overseas News Agency today.

$3.00
Round Trip
BALTIMORE
The Monumental City
WASHINGTON
The Capital of the Nation
SUNDAYS
Nov. 7 and Dec. 5
Special Train leaves New York, Pennsylvania Station, 12.20 A. M. Returning, leaves Washington 4.35 P. M. Baltimore 5.37 P. M.
Tickets on sale preceding each excursion.
Pennsylvania R.R.

Smoky Fireplaces Made to Draw
Also expert services on general chimney work, heating and ventilating.
No payment accepted unless successful.
FREDERIC N. WHITLEY
Engineer and Contractor
217 Fulton St., Brooklyn, N.Y.

300 Years of Distilling Experience and Maintained Excellence.
Bols'
Rare Old Dutch Gin
Creme de Menthe
Curacao, Kummel
Obtainable from all Dealers. Sold in all First-Class Hotels, Restaurants and Cafes.
The Mumm Champagne & Importation Co
Sole Agents

STUBBORN BATTLE GOES ON AT DVINSK

German Claims of Holding New Positions Are Denied by Petrograd Report.

THREAT BEHIND CHARGE?

Germans in Danger from Own Artillery, Russians Say—Teutons Hold Offensive on the Styr.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—On the Russian front the heaviest fighting is before Dvinsk, and the Germans and Russians are carrying out hard attacks and counterattacks. The official reports are contradictory, the Germans claiming that they hold newly-won Russian positions, while the Russians say the forces which penetrated their trenches have been driven out. The Petrograd report on the conflict says the German attack was made under a threat of being fired upon by their own artillery in their rear.

On the Riga front minor engagements have apparently brought the Germans no nearer to their goal.

West of the Styr another contradiction in reports leaves the situation in doubt, but the Teutons hold the offensive.

The following official statement was given out by the Russian War Office tonight:

In the region of Riga the situation is unchanged. South of Lake Babite there have been several engagements in the wooded region which, however, have not affected the general situation. South of Ikskul there has been artillery fighting.

On the Dvinsk front the enemy attacked to the northeast of Garbunovka and at first succeeded in occupying some of our trenches, but he was soon dislodged by our vigorous counterattack. The fighting was accompanied by an artillery duel which still continues. During one of the furious attacks the Germans suffered severe losses. This attack was undertaken by the Germans only under threat of being fired upon by their own artillery in their rear.

On the front of Lakes Demmen and Dreswiaty, and further south as far as the Pripet, the artillery fighting continues.

On the left of the Styr the enemy attempted to advance eastward in the region of the Village of Ezertzy, northwest of Lake Bieloe, but suffered heavy losses through our fire and was obliged to fall back.

During the night of the 27th the enemy thrice attacked us in the region of the Village of Amenovha, west of Czartonysk, but was everywhere repulsed. The Village of Rudki, west of Czartorysk, remained in our possession after fierce fighting.

On the remainder of the front toward the South, and in Galicia, there has been artillery fire at many points, but the general situation is unchanged.

The announcement of the German War Office follows:

The army of Field Marshal von Hindenburg is maintaining its progress northeast of Garbunowka, [west of Dvinsk,] against Russian attacks.

The churchyard at Szaszaly is in our possession. Two officers and 150 men were captured. Our artillery fire prevented the enemy from developing a movement undertaken from Garbunowka.

Army Group of Prince Leopold: Near Thtshersey, on the Niemen northeast of Novo Grodek, a strong Russian attack failed.

Army Group of General von Linsingen: Rudka, to the west of Czartorysk, has been taken.

RUSSIA MOBILIZES MILLIONS FOR WORK

All Able-Bodied Men Called On to Prepare Armies for Future Campaigns.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PETROGRAD, Oct. 28, (Dispatch to The London Morning Post.)—Russia before long will have a vast number of men available for service—they will not, I understand, actually bear arms. Russia has wider views than merely the provision of soldiers, and this calling up of millions is in no wise necessitated by the conditions of the fighting.

Of the millions who will now be summoned, while all will be under strict military law, the majority are intended for perfecting services on which the success of the fighting forces at the front depends. Within a brief period of time all Russia will be turned into a military camp. Factories, ironworks, and engineering shops have already been appropriated for the manufacture of everything needed for the success of the armies in the field, and also in all probability the railways will be served by men under military discipline.

In other words Russia is about to do what Germany wisely did at the outset of the war. All able-bodied men of the nation must serve, some with rifle and bayonet, gun, or maxim, pick and spade, but most with equally necessary tools of peace.

RUSSIAN SUBMARINE CAPTURES A PRIZE

Takes a German Steamer Near the Aland Islands and Brings Her to Port.

PETROGRAD, Oct. 28, (via London.)—The Russian official report today contained the following:

In the Baltic Sea our submarine Alligator captured a German steamer near the Aland Islands. She was brought into one of our ports.

'ATROCITIES MUSEUM' OPENED IN PETROGRAD

Photographs and Statistics Collected by a Russian Commission Are Shown.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—A dispatch to Reuter's Telegram Company from Petrograd says:

"The German Atrocities Museum was opened here today. It contains a large number of photographs of mutilated soldiers whose wounds are alleged to have been caused by explosive bullets, and also tables of statistics of 5,000 cases of atrocities investigated by the special Commission of Inquiry, by which the museum was established."

NEAR TO BIG MEN IN SHIP BOMB PLOT

Continued from Page 1.

trying to connect Fay's visits with one or more of these plants.

The Federal Grand Jury will meet next Wednesday and the first cases to be brought before it, it is understood, will be that of the alleged German conspirators.

SIEBE'S CAREER IN CHICAGO.

Was a Bookkeeper and There Met Max Breitung.

Special to The New York Times.

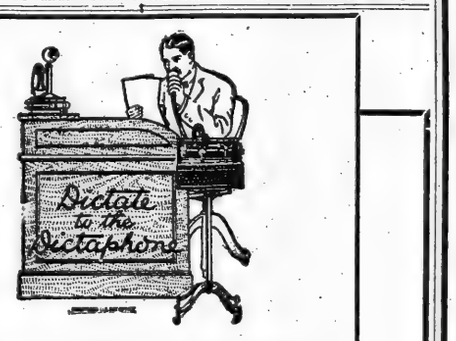
CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—Paul Siebe, detained in New York, was an employe in the auditing department of the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois, 72 West Adams Street, in 1910 and 1911, according to data unearthed here today. Siebe is said to have been regarded by his associates as a "man of mystery" and to have received the title of "Count Paul" in a jocular way.

He left here in 1911 with his wife, giving as a reason that he was going back to Germany. Siebe and Max Breitung became acquainted in 1912, when Siebe was a bookkeeper and traveling auditor. A year of Siebe's activity in Chicago is not accounted for. He came to the city in 1910 and joined the Public Service bookkeeping staff in the Summer of 1911. He brought good references and was not quizzed concerning his previous employment.

He was tall and thin and walked like a soldier," said an official of the company today. "He made friends readily enough, but none of them ever was able to get under his skin. When he left here few of us knew any more about him than we did when he started.

"He was called Count Paul from the very first. Where the title originated it would be hard to say, but it stuck. He had the bearing that went with it. Some of the boys were of the opinion that he really was a Count who had run afoul of the German authorities, but that theory was dispelled when he finally quit.

He showed a first-class ticket to Hamburg, and there was a little surprise about that. It was generally known that Paul was none too well off financially. He was married, and, I believe, lived at 6,418 Jefferson Street. His wife went with him on his return to Europe."



The world's fastest Dictaphone Operator

At the Annual Business Show, October 26, the silver cup emblematic of the world's professional championship for highest speed and greatest accuracy in transcribing Dictaphone dictation was awarded

Mr. J. L. Tanenholz

Champion for the second successive year, he wrote 108 words per minute gross, and, deducting for errors in typewriting, 95 words per minute net.

The Dictaphone Speed Contest had over seventy entries, every one employed in a business house. And every one of them transcribed the Dictaphone dictation vastly faster and more accurately than a stenographer could have transcribed from shorthand notes, to say nothing of the time wasted in taking those notes.

Are you still dictating to a stenographer? Call the Dictaphone and find out why you should stop. Worth 3043.

83 Chambers Street

THE DICTAPHONE
REGISTERED
(This advertisement was dictated to the Dictaphone)

KING GEORGE'S APPEAL BRINGS MANY RECRUITS

Big Increase in Enlistments Also Due to the Execution of Edith Cavell.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—There has been a great increase in recruiting throughout the country during the last week, according to a number of newspapers. The Manchester Guardian says that recruiting is now going on at a higher rate than any reached since the early months of the war, King George's proclamation and the execution of Miss Edith Cavell in Belgium both having been the cause of bringing many into the ranks. The increase, it is noted, is despite the fact that Lord Derby's scheme for calling on men by sections, drawing first the unmarried and those not engaged in work connected with military production, has not yet been put into operation.

The Guardian publishes messages from various towns reporting heavy enlistments. Manchester and Birmingham are included among the centres showing the best results.

One of the chief obstacles confronting the authorities is the attitude of many employers, who instead of urging their men to join the colors, are not only refusing to grant them allowances, as was done in the earlier stages of the war, but will not guarantee that employes who enlist shall be reinstated in their positions on their return. The matter is being investigated by labor leaders, who probably will make a report to Lord Derby.

Arthur Henderson, President of the Board of Education, has addressed a circular appeal to teachers throughout the country, urging all those who can to enlist. Teachers, he said, must be prepared to make greater sacrifices. "There is a time," says the circular, "when a man who is building must leave his work to guard against the destruction of the building itself. That time has now come.

The system of personally canvassing for recruits under the plan of the new Director of Recruiting, the Earl of Derby, began in several districts of London today. Soldiers and civilians with lists of names taken from the recent national register made a round of visits and brought back distinctly favorable reports, although the officials say that it is too early yet to announce whether the novel method of recruiting will prove successful.

INTENSE ARTILLERY ACTIONS IN THE WEST

Artois and Champagne Scenes of Activity — German Trench in Vosges Destroyed.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—Intense and prolonged artillery actions are reported today from the Western battle front, particularly in Belgium and in the Arras and Champagne regions. The French announce the destruction by heavy cannonading of a German trench in the Vosges and the repulse of the resulting counterattack.

No official German report was received today.

The official communication issued by the French War Office tonight is as follows:

Artillery actions, particularly intense and prolonged, are reported in Belgium on the Het Sas-Steenstraete front, as well as to the north of Arras, in the Bois en Hache, and in the region of Roclincourt.

The enemy directed in Champagne a violent bombardment against our positions at Tahure and Maisons de Champagne. Our batteries replied by systematic fire on the enemy trenches.

In the Vosges one of our reconnoissances having accomplished at Reichaskerkopf the destruction of an enemy trench, which had been shattered by our cannonading, the Germans delivered a counteratack, which was easily repulsed.

This afternoon's French report reads as follows:

There have been reported last night nothing more than some outpost engagements and reconnoissances of small importance, which everywhere resulted in our favor.

The Belgium official statement reads:

There was a slight bombardment to the north of Dixmude, and a violent bombardment between the "Ferryman's House" and Steenstraete.

ADVERTISEMENT.
A citizen of the world.
It went with Peary to the north pole, packed as a necessity along with the pemmican.
It moves in the best circles — including the arctic.
Rameses.
They call it "The Aristocrat of Cigarettes," and it travels with real men, in snow hut or bamboo shack, by land or sea.
There must be something very different about Rameses which makes men of discrimination and experience select it with critical care, smoke it with constant satisfaction, and recommend it as an act of real friendship.
All over the world "Nobody ever changes from Rameses".

AEOLIAN HALL
"A Business Community with Distinction"
At the center of New York's commercial activities. Every section of the business and financial districts are within quick and easy reach from Aeolian Hall.
ELLEN & JEFFERY
Agents for Aeolian Hall
Telephone Bryant 897

VECTO
To Stop Cold in the Head
Get Ahead of the Cold
25c a tube—all druggists.
Write for free booklet on colds.
Vecto Chemical Co., 52 B'way, N.Y.

The Brilliant Fur Success
JERUET
(Trade Mark Registered)
Fashion's Latest Shade in Fox
BEST described by the women who have seen it as a
"SYMPHONY IN FUR"
Richer than the finer grades of blue fox and being featured at the leading fashion shops.
We announce our exclusive ownership of this fashionable fur novelty, and our ability to furnish "Jeruet" fur sets, without delay, TO RETAILERS ONLY.
Kaye & Einstein, Inc.
New York
(Exclusively Wholesale)

MORE BELGIANS REPORTED SHOT

Baron Hemptinne and Three Others Said to Have Been Executed.

BAN ON BELGIAN HOSPITALS

German Soldiers Forbidden by Von Bissing to Contribute to Local Institutions.

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 28, (via London.)—The Telegraaf hears from Liége that two more persons have been sentenced to death there by court-martial. Their names are Franz Laquay and Andreas Garot. Three others, Orial Simon, Amadeus Hesse, and Constant Herck already have been shot at Liége.

Nothing is known concerning the fate of Anna Benazet of Verviers, who was sentenced to death by a German court-martial on Monday.

The Echo Belge says today that Baron Joseph de Hepmtinne was executed at Ghent on Oct. 26. He was a member of a prominent Catholic family.

A Rome dispatch of Oct. 19 said that Pope Benedict, at the request of the British and Belgian Legations, had interceded with Emperor William on behalf of Baron de Hemptinne, condemned to execution by the German authorities.

BERLIN, Oct. 28, (by Wireless to Tuckerton, N. J.)—Denial of a report printed in Holland that thirty or more death sentences against Belgians charged with espionage and treason had been pronounced by court-martial at Liége is made by the Overseas News Agency today.

"As a matter of fact," it says, "there have been in Liége recently no death sentences imposed upon persons for assisting Belgians to escape and join enemy armies, nor are proceedings in cases of that nature now pending. The report is a pure invention."

FORBIDDEN TO HELP BELGIAN HOSPITALS

German Soldiers Told by von Bissing to Keep Their Money For German Poor.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Friday, Oct. 29.—The Daily Telegraph's Rotterdam correspondent, describing what he calls Germany's new reign of terror in Belgium, says:

"General von Bissing's most recent proclamation forbids his own officers and soldiers in Brussels helping the funds of hospitals nursing, as they have done with absolute impartiality since the beginning of the war, German wounded as well as French and British. Here is the text of the order, which has been directed to the police of Brussels and its suburbs:

"I have forbidden the officers and soldiers of the troops in the district under my command to take part in collections which the Belgians make in public places. In future our soldiers will devote their gifts to the poor in their German Fatherland, and especially to the poor in East Prussia, where the Russians, who are allies of the Belgians, have acted in a barbaric manner.

I draw the attention of collectors to this so that they may not beg of German officers and soldiers. Even those begging for the Belgian Red Cross will have to be provided with special German proof of identity.

Speaking of forced labor levies, the correspondent says:

"At first the Germans attempted to put the cloak of legality over their proceeding. The original proclamation intimated that any refusal to work at the order of Germans would be allowed, if it were found to be 'grounded upon and admitted by international law.' Of course in practice this meant nothing. Knowing, in many cases, that the work they were ordered to do was of a military character, many patriotic Belgians, appreciating the international law on the matter, refused. Was their refusal allowed? It was not even listened to. Men were either imprisoned or spirited away to Germany. But now the spurious guise of international law has been thrown aside.

"Here are the words of one German commander at Lokeren, when the local authorities appealed to international law to protect their community against forced labor on military works:

"'I know nothing of The Hague Conventions. The only rules I care about are the orders I have received.'

"And for its protest Lokeren was fined, communally, cut off from the rest of the world, and told to keep within doors.

"So, too, at Eccloo. Here 200 artisans were rounded up and taken off to the station for destination unknown. A scene, terrible in its pathos, followed. Their women folk, distraught with fear as to the fate of their husbands and sons, gather together, weeping and beseeching the German officers to tell them where the men were to be transported. No word of assurance was given them, and, in despair, the women tried to drag their men away from the soldiers. Many were arrested, the town was fined, the streets were closed to all the male inhabitants, and the women were only allowed out two hours each day to do their shopping."

CROY DENIES CHARGES.

Says He and Miss Cavell Did Not Counsel Soldiers to Escape.

LONDON, Friday, Oct. 29.—Prince Reginald de Croy authorizes The Daily Sketch to deny the German allegations of the existence of any organization to assist soldiers to escape from Belgium, of which he and Miss Edith Cavell, as alleged, were the leaders.

He says that, so far from there being such an organization, some of the prisoners tried at Brussels did not even know the others. He himself did not counsel soldiers to escape, but when he found that they were determined to escape he assisted them, as did Miss Cavell, from humanitarian motives.

WOMEN TO THANK GIBSON.

Commend Him for His Efforts in Behalf of Miss Cavell.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—Women are being invited to sign the following address to be sent to Hugh Gibson, Secretary of the American Legation at Brussels:

"We, the undersigned, wish to convey to you our heartfelt gratitude on behalf of the womanhood of Great Britain for the most noble part played by you in the unspeakable tragedy of the execution of Nurse Cavell, which so deeply moved and horrified all humanity. And we would assure you of our deep sympathy for you in the future of your efforts to save a life which had ever been devoted to the alleviation of human suffering."

GERMANS DEFEND DEAD 'SPY'S' NAME

Say the Russian Accusations Against Miassoyedof Were Without Foundation.

CHARGES IMPLICATED KAISER

Russian Colonel Said to Have Reported to the Emperor at His East Prussian Chateau.

BERLIN, Oct. 28. (By Wireless to Tuckerton, N. J.)—Denial that Lieut. Col. Miassoyedof, an interpreter on the staff of the Russian Tenth Army, who was hanged some time ago as a German spy, was ever in fact as a spy for the Germans, as charged, is made by the official Norddeutsche Allgemeine Zeitung.

The newspaper, as quoted by the Overseas News Agency, refers to a new discussion regarding the case recently opened in the English and French press, and asserts that Lieut. Col. Miassoyedof "was innocent, if he was really sentenced for spying in the German service, since neither he nor those associated with him ever gave information to Germany or Austria-Hungary."

The Norddeutsche Allgemeine Zeitung adds that it would have been useless to make any declaration of the nature of the present one before the execution of the accused.

How Miassoyedof Was Convicted.

Disclosures of treachery on the part of Russian officials of high rank after the first Russian advance into East Prussia resulted in the punishment of two of them, Miassoyedef and Freinat—the former by hanging and the latter by imprisonment.

A Russian correspondent of the Journal de Genève reviews the activities of these persons before and during the war.

At the outbreak of the war, according to the correspondent, Colonel Miassoyedof was head of the Government spy system, and one of the highest officers of the political police—chief of the "agents provocateurs." He was also known as one of the most zealous workers for the Russification of Finland, and in general as an instrument of the reactionaries. Last February he was detailed to the staff of the Tenth Army, in East Prussia, in the quality of interpreter.

Long suspected of treasonable dealings with the Germans, but protected by powerful interests in the Government, the correspondent says, Miassoyedof was at last brought to trial in connection with charges against General Rennenkampf, who was dismissed from the command of the forces in East Prussia. Miassoyedof was shown to have been in direct communication with the Kaiser at the latter's château at Rominten and was abandoned by his official protectors and condemned to death.

Caught in the same net, Otto Freinat, conspicuous for his part in the protection of the perpetrators of the Kishineff massacres in 1903, was condemned to penal servitude. He was born in the Baltic provinces of German parents and, having embraced the legal profession, settled in Kishineff, where, at the time of the pogroms, he was police magistrate. Deputed to take evidence in cases of multilations of Jewish women, Freinat refused to hear the accusations and treated the cases as bagatelles. He altered the purport of the evidence of some of the wounded, and a non-Jewish nurse, who had knowledge of the facts, made an energetic but ineffectual protest.

GETS NO WHITLOCK DENIAL.

Embassy at London Without Further Word on Cavell Tragedy.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—The American Embassy here reported today that it had received no word from Brand Whitlock, American Minister to Belgium, with relation to the recently published report on the case of Miss Edith Cavell, which a German semi-official statement yesterday charged was inaccurate.

The German statement declared that Minister Whitlock had made known his intention to inform the Embassy here of the alleged discrepancy between the facts and the Cavell report as it was given out.

DENIES BRITISH SLEW WOMEN

Boer General Defends Kitchener Against the German Charge.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BERNE, Oct. 28, (Dispatch to The London Morning Post.)—The Wolff Agency's excuse for Miss Edith Cavell's execution was that many similar acts had been committed by order of Earl Kitchener on Boer women and children during the South African war.

General Joubert Pienaer, a nephew of the former Boer Commander in Chief, who fought against England throughout the South African war and is now staying in Berne, has asked the British Legation at Berne to reply to the statement on his behalf.

He says that never throughout the Boer war were any acts of this description committed by order of Kitchener or any other British authority.

ITALY FOR PRESSING WAR.

Still Considers This the Best Countermove to Balkan Drive.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

MILAN, Oct. 28, (Dispatch to The London Daily News.)—From a semi-official statement of what occurred in the Italian Cabinet council last night it appears obvious that the Quadruple Entente Powers have abandoned hope that either Rumania or Greece can be persuaded or bribed to observe their treaty obligations to come to the aid of Serbia. This comes as a disappointment to certain circles where it was hoped yesterday that the Italian and Russian efforts to influence Rumania might be crowned with at least partial success.

Italy remains of the opinion that the best countermove will be a vigorous offensive against the German, Austrian, and Turkish line in every theatre of the war, thus preventing the transference of troops to the Balkan area and compelling the Central Powers to go slowly with their new enterprise. Italy herself has set the example. For ten days not a moment's respite has been given to the Austrians on any part of her 400-mile front.

I am unable to affirm that what leaks out about the Italian Government deliberations correctly represents the Allies' attitude, but its publication has had the effect of drawing renewed attention to the suggestion that an international diplomatic and military committee is desirable to secure unity of form and simultaneous action wherever the Allies are facing the common enemy.

ITALIAN GUNNERS TRAP AUSTRIANS

Allow Their Foes to Reoccupy Trenches and Then Mow Them Down.

GAINING ON THE ISONZO

King Victor's Men Tightening Their Grip—Rome Believes Fall of Gorizia and Riva Near.

UDINE, Italy, Oct. 28, (via Paris.)—News of the great Italian offensive all along the Isonzo front is being brought down by the wounded and the men of the convoys which are escorting Austrian prisoners to the rear.

In three days more than 3,000 prisoners have passed through Udine, which gives some idea of the magnitude of the operations.

All the soldiers agree that the artillery preparation preceding the offensive, lasting three days, was appalling.

"If it was an inferno for us," said a wounded gunner, "how much worse was it for those yonder, where the shells burst?"

The Italian soldiers assert with pride that they are now reaping the benefit of a systematic destruction of the Austrian observation points on the mountain peaks, mastered after fierce struggles during the past months and the lack of which, they say, has greatly decreased the accuracy of the aim of the Austrians. The men say that five months of warfare have enabled them to understand the tricks of their opponents.

When the Italian artillery prepared the way for an infantry attack on the intrenchments, the soldiers declare, the Austrians would retire. When the artillery ceased firing for the purpose of allowing the infantry to cover the ground between the opposing positions the Austrians would reoccupy their intrenchments with double forces. When finally the Italians discovered these tactics they adopted a ruse to catch the Austrians.

After the artillery had ceased firing, the Italians, according to the soldiers, permitted an interval of time to elapse sufficient for the Austrians to return to their trenches. Then they reopened fire with their artillery and later charged, and when the infantry reached the trenches they were literally filled with the bodies of dead Austrians.

"We are now solidly in possession of trenches and positions like Cima Fredda, the hinge of the formidable triangular defense of Tolmino, which the enemy seemed determined to hold at any cost," said an officer today. "In the fierce struggle in the neighborhood of Gorizia, where the Austrians had concentrated large reinforcements, the Austrians were finally repulsed. As they retreated the Austrians set fire to a long tract of country, making a wall of fire to protect them from the pursuing Italians."

ROME, Oct. 27, (via Paris, Oct. 28.)—In political circles here the fall of Gorizia and Riva is considered imminent, notwithstanding the heavy reinforcements Austria is concentrating on the Italian front.

At the Cabinet meeing this afternoon Salvatore Barzilai, Governor General of the Austrian territory held by the Italians, who has just returned from the front, gave a report of the vigorous Italian advance, which the Ministers considered most satisfactory.

Signor Barzilai, who was at Venice after that city was bombarded by the Austrian airmen, described the condition of the famous Church of the Barefooted Friars. He said he was certain the Austrians intended to destroy St. Mark's, but their bombs missed that structure and fell in the street near by.

Italian advances on the height of Santa Lucia and opposite Tolmino and the capture of a field fort southeast of Globna are recorded in the official statement issued tonight by the War Office. The statement says:

From new positions, one on the right bank of the Adige, which commands communications at the bottom of the valley, our artillery on Oct. 25 surprised and seriously damaged one of the enemy's military trains which was moving toward the Sant' Ilario station north of Rovereto.

On the Upper Cordevole, Oct. 26, on the rugged slopes of Col di Lana, we stormed another fort filled with hostile troops. We found the enemy's trenches choked with bodies. We took eight prisoners.

In the Monte Nero zone on the night of the 25th and 26th the enemy in great strength again tried to attack our positions above Vodil. We allowed them to come within a short distance, then mowed down and dispersed them with our cross fire.

Our offensive accomplished fresh progress on the height of Santa Lucia and opposite Tolmino, where we made twenty-one prisoners. In the Plava zone we conquered a field fort southeast of Globna. We took prisoners survivors of the garrison to the number of 102, four of them officers, and captured two machine guns.

On the Carso front heavy bombardment by the two artilleries continued throughout the day. Small advances were made there. We stormed several trenches, taking fifty-five prisoners, including one officer.

Rome Reports Further Gains.

ROME, Oct. 28, (via London.)—The official statement from General Headquarters of the Italian Army, dated Oct. 28, says:

The enemy made an attack, preceded by intense artillery and rifle fire, on the night of the 25th on our positions at Valle Torra, (Astico.) It was repulsed with heavy losses.

In the Monte Nero zone the activity and aggressive spirit of our troops have not been diminished by the low temperature. We accomplished further progress on the 27th on the Vodil spur, storming strong trenches and taking seventy-nine prisoners and one machine gun.

In the Plava section our positions before Globna were on the same day attacked by strong forces of infantry, which were repulsed, leaving twenty-nine prisoners, two of whom were officers, in our hands.

On the Carso front, during the night of the 25th-27th, our troops, by throwing bombs and tubes filled with explosives, took several trenches by assault. The enemy fled, abandoning arms and ammunition and one trench mortar.

Full details, which have now been received, show that between Oct. 21 and 27, on the Isonzo front, we captured 5,064 prisoners, 117 of whom were officers, and one howitzer, four trench mortars, twenty-one machine guns, 1,000 rifles, and many cases of bombs and other war materials. The machine guns and mortars were at once used by us against the enemy.

PRIVATE ACCUSES GERMAN OFFICERS

Tells in a Diary of Alleged Brutality to Their Men at the Front.

COWARDICE ALSO ALLEGED

Troops' "Desire for Peace Amounts to Physical Pain," Writes ex-Professor.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Friday, Oct. 29.—The Times publishes this morning extracts taken from the diary of Private Becker of the Sixth Company of the Ersatz Battalion of the Third Foot Guards of the Landsturm, a Professor of Latin at the Gymnasium of Bonn. The writer throughout makes complaints of brutalities practiced by German officers and non-commissioned officers on soldiers. On Aug. 7, when on the Russian front, Becker wrote:

"A march of from seventeen to eighteen miles. Everywhere graves, bodies of horses unburied or only half covered, flies, dirt. One lives like a beast in the filth.

"Disgusting conduct of officers. Officers divide presents from home among themselves. They take away tent canvas from the men and have fine tents put up for themselves in which to wrap themselves up comfortably. They go on a spree, steal bread and wine out of wagons, and all the while they are drawing big rations."

On Aug. 9 Becker wrote: "We are now three miles from the front. The Third Company has come back. All the men I knew in it were either wounded or killed. The men's stories are very depressing. They are horribly tired, and their morale is low."

Aug. 10—" Drill night under canvas. It is a trifle in itself, but the endless threats of punishment for the smallest blunders make life unbearable. In the presence of the haughty and independent attitude of the non-commissioned officers the men seem like mere ciphers."

Aug. 13.—Everybody is fed up with the war, and especially with the whole of the military régime. It was 5 o'clock in the afternoon before we got anything to eat, for we had to march past before Prince Eitel Friedrich. The Prince looked well, and seemed in good spirits. He might almost have been having a treat."

On Aug. 14.—" In action. Awful fire. The regiment lost about 170 men. 'It is stupid to attack so strong a position,' muttered Captain B——. All the same, that did not prevent him from firing on his own men."

Aug. 15.—" In pursuit of the Russians. Worn out by excitement and hunger. Exuberant cheerfulness of the officers. Colonel, Major, Captain laugh boisterously, their faces beaming and shining with fat. For us hardships, dirt, hunger. We are treated like criminals, and worse. All of a sudden for nothing one is threatened with a beating. The commissioned ranks, from Major Stillfried downward, set the example. Everybody is discouraged. Men of peaceful nature are crushed, the passionate desire for peace amounting to physical pain."

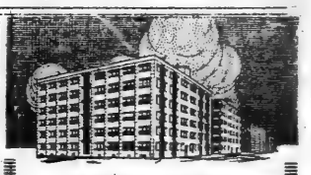
Aug. 25.—" Lieutenant Reinicke is never there when the firing is going on. When the danger is over he rushes impetuously to the front. The whole company laughs at it. He is a grotesque sight."

Aug. 29.—" As soon as the attack opened the officer commanding the company, Lieutenant Reinicke, stayed behind, and nothing more was seen of him. Not only so, but the section leaders and non-commissioned officers stayed behind the sections, and groups advanced without leaders. Indescribable jumble. We had heavy losses, but one no longer notices them."

On Sept. 21, when the diarist was transferred to the French front, he wrote:

"Lieut. Reinicke has got the Iron Cross. It is the triumph of this vile régime of masters and slaves. As a result of our marches in Poland many of us have sore feet. Every day the Color Sergeant checks some of the lame men, threatens them, and puts them on extra fatigue, even those who have swollen feet, of which the battalion doctor has advised them to be careful, are made to march incessantly, and if they flinch they are threatened with extra drill in the afternoon."

Sept. 27.—" One gets stunted intellectually. One has no longer a single idea except to keep going physically. Always the same longing for peace, and before my eyes the spectre of the French front close at hand, with the horrors of its artillery fire. Lieutenant Reinicke has been drunk since yesterday."



Bush Terminal Co., Brooklyn
Four of 14 Bush buildings erected on cost-plus-fixed sum contracts
William Higginson, Architect.

"Turner for Concrete"

Turner has concentrated on reinforced concrete for 13 years—527 contracts.

14 for Bush Terminal Co.
8 " Robert Gair Co.
22 " Standard Oil Co.
7 " Carborundum Co.
26 " J. B. King Co.
6 " American Agricultural Chemical Co.

Nearly every prominent Metropolitan concern that has built in concrete has used the Turner Service.

TURNER Construction Co

GREEK VOTE NEXT WEEK.

Chamber Will Be Called Upon to Express Confidence.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

ATHENS, Oct. 28, (Dispatch to The London Daily News.)—The entire press sums up the political situation, which is considered critical. It is felt to be certain that by next week a vote of confidence will be asked for in the Chamber. The Venizelists now avoid to expedite matters, so as to enable a large number of allied troops to land at Saloniki and permit all Venizelist Deputies to arrive in Athens. The Gounaris press wants to expedite matters because it is thought if the present Government resigns the Crown will not intrust the formation of a fresh Government to Venizelos, but will dissolve the Chamber.

Reliable private information shows the situation will probably take a decisive turn after the powers' demarché, which probably will be within the next few days.

150,000 FRENCH LAND TO AID SERBS

Continued from Page 1.

three sides and must eventually fall back toward the southwest. Thus far they have been retiring in good order.

Greek Assurances to France.

Anxiety still exists as to the attitude of Greece. It is known that Austria, Germany, and Bulgaria have complained of the continued hospitality shown the Allies at Salonikl, and one account goes so far as to say that the Greek Government has asked the Allies to leave Greek territory. Against this is the quoted assurance given by the Greek Minister at Paris to the French Government that Greece has no intention of committing any hostile act toward the allied troops.

The German official statement concerning the operations in Serbia issued by the War Office in Berlin yesterday follows:

The armies of Generals von Koevess and von Gallwitz continue to advance. Since Oct. 23 the army of General von Gallwitz has taken 2,033 prisoners and several machine guns.

The army of General Boyadjieff, (the Bulgarian commander,) has taken Zaiecar. West of Kniasyevac the Timok has been crossed over a wide front. Kniasyevac is in Bulgarian hands. Several guns have been captured. The height of Krenovaclava, 25 kilometers (about 15 miles) northwest of Pirot, has been occupied.

The Serbian Legation at Paris here tonight issued the following statement concerning the situation in Serbia:

On the 26th, on the northeastern front, the Serbian trops on the right bank of the Morava River were obliged to fall back to the south after heavy fighting and have occupied the lines of Svilaenatz - Grabovatz - Chetonga. On the left bank of the Morava and the left bank of the Lepenitza there has been a violent artillery duel all along the front. Fighting is also going on along the line Vissak-Kladour.

On the southern Morava front the Serbian troops have repulsed the enemy on the left bank of the Korbiovatchka Reka. There is nothing to report on the Nichava front.

On the Kniajevats-Sinee Serbian troops have retired on the position of Tressibaba under strong pressure from the enemy. In the direction of Kojel Boutchie the enemy attacked with strong columns, and the fighting lasted all day.

The enemy attacked in the Zaiecar region today. The fighting still continues there.

In the Koutchoul region the Serbians by counterattacks have recaptured the mouth of the Koutchoul defile.

The Vienna War Office bulletin says:

East of Visegrad the Austro-Hungarian troops, advancing, have repulsed the enemy on both sides of Karaula to the other side of the frontier. Two flanking counterattacks by a Montenegrin brigade were repulsed.

The right wing of the army of General von Koevess has crossed the upper Kownbara on a broad front.

The Germans have scaled the chain of mountains north of Rudnik. To the east on the same heights Austro-Hungarian columns are advancing on both sides of the road to Pola and Kraguyevatz.

The army of General von Gallwitz has won ground west of the railway station of Lapowo and chased the enemy in a heavy fight from the heights south and southeast of Svilajnac.

The Bulgarian first army has captured Zaiecar and Kniajevac and is now fighting successfully on the heights on the left bank of the Timok.

REPORT OF ALLIES' DEFEAT.

Berlin Hears Turks Repulsed Anglo-French Forces Near Strumitza.

BERLIN, Oct. 28, (by Wireless to Tuckerton, N. J.)—Turkish troops have engaged and repulsed an Anglo-French force near Strumitza, according to a dispatch from Sofia given out today by the Overseas News Agency.

"Bulgarian and Turkish mountain artillery has done great execution," says the dispatch. "Two thousand prisoners, among whom were troops of all colors, have arrived at Sofia."

PARIS, Oct. 28.—The Havas Agency correspondent at Athens says that General Kirkoff, in command of the Bulgarian forces along the Greek frontier, has issued an order of the day, in which he says to his troops:

"The hour has struck to realize the aspirations of the people and hunt down the ravagers of Macedonia. Bulgarians will thus dominate from the Adriatic to Thrace. Remember the heroism of your ancestors. Give rebirth to the glory of Alexander, the great Bulgarian."

BULGARS IN PRIZREND?

Occupation of Town Would Mean Division of Serb Forces.

PARIS, Friday, Oct. 29.—Bulgarian troops, advancing from Egri Palanka, have entered Prizrend after occupying Uskup, according to the Athens correspondent of The Journal.

It is believed that that the Serbians now occupy a defensive position west of the Vardar River on a line passing by the summits of the Karadzitza and Babuna ranges and that their bases are Monastir and Gievgeli.

Prizrend is at the western border of Serbia and northwest of Uskub. A Bulgarian line from Ergi Palanka to Prizrend would cut off all southern Serbia from the Serbian armies operating in the North. As the Serbians claim the recapture of Uskub, the reported taking of Prizrend seems to be hardly possible, unless it is a small raiding force.

MAFEKING RELIEF HEAD TO COMMAND IN SERBIA

Gen. Sir Bryan Mahon Assigned to Lead the British Expeditionary Force.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—Lieut. Gen. Sir Bryan Thomas Mahon has taken command of the British forces in Serbia.

This announcement was made in the House of Commons this afternoon by Harold J. Tennant, Parliamentary Under Secretary for War.

This is not the first relief expedition in which General Mahon has taken part. It was he who, during the last Boer war in 1900, commanded the expedition sent to relieve the beleaguered town of Mafeking in South Africa, the defense of which by Colonel, now Lieutenant General, Sir Robert Baden-Powell, was one of the great heroic episodes of the war. The following year Mahon was made Military Governor of Kordofan, and from 1909 to 1914 was in command of the Eighth (Lucknow) Division in India.

He was born in Belleville, County Galway, Ireland, April 2, 1862, and is a cousin of Sir Edward Carson. He joined the army in 1883, and was promoted to the rank of Captain in 1888. He commanded the Seventh Cavalry of the Egyptian Army when the advance into the Sudan began in 1896. He took part in the action of Firket and the pursuit of dervishes to Suarda.

A little later he was sent on an expedition to the Third Cataract by General Hunter, who was in command of the advanced post. With two squadrons of cavalry and a detachment of the camel corps he covered seventy miles in twenty-four hours and drove Osman Azrak and the dervish rearguard from the villages near the cataract. He participated in the advance on Dongola and the pursuit of the dervishes. At the close of the campaign he received the Distinguished Service Order.

In 1897 he took part in the battle of the Athara, and the following year was promoted to the rank of Major. At the battle of Omdurman he performed a brilliant feat of arms when Colonel Broadwood, with the Egyptian cavalry, was forced to retire before the dervish division, led by the Khalifa's son, Osman, the Sheikh-ed-Din. Two of the guns of the horse artillery had been lost, and Mahon checked the advance of the dervish troops by charging them with his squadron. The small band of Egyptian horsemen had to ride into a great mass of Osman's spearmen, who were encouraged by seeing the cavalry retire before and by the capture of the two guns. Their advance was stopped momentarily by Mahon's charge, and was turned back finally with the assistance of gunboats that came up at an opportune moment. Mahon was breveted Lieutenant Colonel in 1898.

BULGARS DESTROYED VRANYA POPULATION

Took Revenge for Being Fired at From Houses After Hoisting of White Flag.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BUDAPEST, Oct. 28, (Dispatch to The London Morning Post.)—Hungarian correspondents with the Austro-German and Bulgarian armies in Serbia have sent the following details of the offensive in the Balkans to the Budapest newspapers.

The operations of the Bulgarian Army, it is stated, are progressing everywhere under great difficulties, but favorably and comparatively quickly. In military circles in Sofia the opinion is that the Serbian Army is on the verge of total annihilation.

One of the correspondents quotes an official description of the fighting before Pirot, where the Bulgarians had to take a strongly fortified Serbian position. The latter covered the ground with a hail of shells, so much so that the position could only be taken by a storming attack. The Bulgarians, throwing away their kits, and even rifles, and retaining only their bayonets, crept up, rushed the position, and in a hand-to-hand fight, which can only be described as Balkan in its horribleness, succeeded in throwing the Serbians back.

These, although much inferior in numbers, put up a resistance never before experienced even in the war of two years ago.

The fighting was not only with bayonets, but also with knives and fists and nails, the men strangling each other in a most appalling way.

In connection with the occupation of Vranya official statements are appearing in the Bulgarian press to the effect that during the occupation of the town incidents occurred "which will no doubt give rise in the enemy press to the usual charges of inhuman atrocities on the part of Bulgarian armies."

In the face of such accusations it is pointed out beforehand that the massacre of the civil population of the Serbian town was due to treachery on the part of the civilians, who put up a white flag when the Bulgarians entered the town and received them with shouts of "Zivio!" yet a few minutes later a fusillade of bullets was fired at the Bulgarians from all the houses without exception. Naturally such treachery had to be punished. Private accounts relate that only a few dozen of the civilian population escaped the revenge of the Bulgarians.

It seems certain that civilians did put up a white flag on the assumption that the Serbian soldiers had retreated from the town, but as a matter of fact the houses at the street corners where the Bulgarian invading troops had to pass were occupied by soldiers, and the machine guns worked havoc among the Bulgarians who were trapped in this way. They lost hundreds of men. In consequence they took revenge of the innocent women and children of the occupied town.

The numbers of wounded who are being brought back to Bosnia and Southern Hungary are unusually great. Many trainloads leave the Semlin station day after day, and I understand that more than 150 trains full of wounded have passed through Brosnadrod.

Up to the present it is estimated that the number of wounded brought back from the Serbian frontier exceeds 50,000. This number is derived from the fact that the hospitals established for the purpose of accommodating 50,000 wounded in Bosnia and South Hungary are announced to be overcrowded already, and private householders are being asked to receive wounded soldiers.

DIMITRIEFF TO LEAD RUSSIAN EXPEDITION

Bulgarian General in Czar's Service to Invade Bulgaria, Rome Hears.

MILAN, Oct. 28.—The Corriere della Serra learns from a diplomatic source that General Hadko Dimitrieff, former Minister of War of Bulgaria, who since the beginning of the present war has commanded a Russian army, will command the Russian forces sent against Bulgaria.

He is now at Bucharest trying to induce the Rumanian Government to permit the passage of Russian troops through Rumania.

BERLIN, Oct. 28, (by Wireless to Tuckerton, N. J.)—The Frankfurter Zeitung says that inasmuch as the Rumanian Government has replied in the negative to an unofficial request for its permission to send Russian troops through Rumania, Russia has decided not to make a request officially to this effect.

RUMANIA WON'T FIGHT, SAYS FOREIGN CHIEF

Nation Is Under No Obligation to Aid the Serbians, E. Porumbaro Asserts.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

MADRID, Oct. 28.—F. Porumbaro, Rumanian Minister for Foreign Affairs, has made the following statement to the correspondent of the newspaper A. B. C., now with the Austro-German armies:

"Rumania does not desire to intervene in the war, and would only intervene if her interests were threatened by some belligerent. Rumania is not obliged to defend Serbia against Bulgaria, because Bulgaria fights as an ally of the Central Empires, and her contest with Serbia is therefore an episode of the European war.

"Rumania is not under any obligation to defend the treaty of Bucharest against the great powers, but only against the countries signatory to the treaty.

"We have no aspirations regarding Bessarabia, Transylvania, and Bukowina and no probability exists of Rumanian intervention on the side of the Central Empires."

SHIFT GUNS FROM BOSPORUS.

Turks Move Them to Tchatalja and Adrianople.

PARIS, Oct. 28.—The entire armament on the Bosporus has been transferred to Tchatalja and Adrianople, while the Turkish garrison has been sent to the Bulgarian frontier. The Havas correspondent at Athens wires that he has this news from reliable sources in Constantinople.

For fear of raids by Russian aeroplanes, Constantinople is plunged in obscurity nightly.

RUSSIAN WARSHIPS BOMBARD VARNA

Aviators Drop Missiles on Forts —German Submarines Beaten Off.

PETROGRAD, Oct. 28.—An official communication issued this evening goes extensively into the bombardment of Varna by Russian warships and the attack by German submarines against the Russian squadron. It says:

"Our Black Sea Fleet bombarded Varna with heavy guns for about an hour, while hydroplanes dropped bombs. The harbor works, sheds, and coast batteries were damaged, but the town itself was not hit.

"During the bombardment the Russian fleet was attacked by German submarines, which were driven off without our suffering any loss.

"During the day our wireless station recorded a telegram from a German station to Constantinople, asserting that a German submarine attack had resulted in seriously damaging a Russian battleship of the Pantelelon type.

"This statement is one of the usual German lies, which is proved by the fact that our fleet returned to Sebastopol without sustaining the least damage or loss of life. The diving off of the submarines failed to interfere with the bombardment, because the submarine attack was repulsed by the smaller guns, while the main armament continued to fire on the town.

"After the bombardment the fleet steamed across the bay in front of the town and then headed for Sebastopol.

"Our aviators dropped twenty-one bombs in the vicinity of the harbor. They were subjected to a terrific fire, but none of them was hit and all returned safely."

A previous report by the War Office said:

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 28.—A dispatch from Sofia says that some civilians were killed in the Russian bombardment of Varna, but that little material damage was done.

ROME, Oct. 28.—A Bucharest dispatch to the Stefani News Agency, filed yesterday, says that the Russians have begun an attack on the Black Sea coast of Bulgaria.

"A Russian fleet arrived at 4 o'clock this morning off the Bulgarian coast," the correspondent writes, "and immediately began a bombardment of Varna.

Shelling was still proceeding at 11 o'clock. Considerable damage has been done to the town."

SOUTH MACEDONIA SEIZED?

Sofia Hears That Several Towns Rose Against the Serbians.

SOFIA, Oct. 26, via London, Oct. 27, (Delayed.)—The occupation of southern Macedonia is an accomplished fact, according to advices received here. South of the Vranya-Katchania line the Bulgarians, reports say, either have established their authorities, or the Macedonians, who had risen against the Serbians, have installed their own local governments subject to the approval of the authorities.

Among the Macedonian communities which are reported to have taken this action are Monastir, Periepe, Ochrida, Krouchevo, and Strouga. Macedonian volunteers are fighting with the regulars against the Serbians.

The advance of the Bulgarian troops has been due to the comparatively weak Serbian forces they have met and the assistance given them by Macedonians, according to reports from reliable sources, which add that only a few bad mountain roads through Montenegro now connect Serbia with the outside world.

The Austro-German advance is being impeded by bad roads; since the beginning of their offensive there have been only three days on which no rain has fallen. The mountain plateaus are already deeply covered with snow.

Says Serb King May Go to Italy.

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 28.—A telegram from Budapest to the Cologne Volkszeitung says that King Peter of Serbia will probably leave that country and go to Italy.

HOME MILK
GRADE A

THE MEDAL WINNER AND GREAT FAMILY MILK

Its cleanly purity, creaminess and fine flavor make it the preferred milk for baby and family.

Dally Wagon Deliveries.

Telephone Bryant 1547.

BELL-ANS
Absolutely Relieves Indigestion. One package proves it. 25c at all druggists.
Contains no harmful or deleterious substance

Getting The Sheep's Goat In Gloves

YOU needn't know the difference between a Mocha Sheep and a Mocha Goat, if you buy of me. There's no deception practised here about Gloves. My finest Mochas are genuine Arabian sheepskin.

$1.15 for my Tan Cape Glove that makes $1.50 look 35c overweight.

$1.50 for my Gray Mocha Glove, self or black-stitched backs, that softens with wear like a bedroom slipper.

$3 for "Wash-Rite" Gloves that you can wash like your hands and keep as smooth as your skin.

JOHN DAVID
STEIN-BLOCH SMART CLOTHES
Broadway at 32nd Street

Franklin Simon & Co.
Fifth Avenue

Men's Clothing Shop
8 West 38th St.—Store Floor

Men's Sack Suits
For Young Men and Men, 33 to 46 Chest
Approved custom tailor models, finest imported and domestic fabrics.
18.50 to 45.00

TO-DAY at Special Prices
Men's Hand Tailored Suits
Sleeves Silk Lined—Approved Custom Tailor Models
Two, three or four button models of the newest Invisible Overplaids, Overplaids combined with Stripes, Pencil or Combination Stripes, Checked Velour, Oxford Vicuna, English Tweed or Navy Serge. 33 to 46 chest.
20.00 Regular Price $27.50

Men's Silk Lined Overcoats
Winter Overcoats, Chesterfield Model
Highest grade vicuna, in black, blue or Oxford, lined throughout with Skinner satin, custom tailored. 33 to 46 chest.
Special 23.50

TO-DAY at Special Prices
Silk Lined Fall Overcoats
Hand Tailored, Chesterfield Model
Of black or Oxford Vicuna; silk lined throughout, plain or silk lapel. 33 to 46 chest.
Special 16.50

"Your Uncle Interwoven"

Good old Yankee ingenuity is largely responsible for the unusual qualities of Interwoven Socks.

The Interwoven sock-producing machinery — invented in America by an American—knits the only sock with 1 Wearproofed toe, sole and heel.

2 Snug-fit ankle and instep but no seams.
3 Roomy, shrink-proof foot.
4 Full-size toe and heel.

And that sock's name is Interwoven. Are you profiting by this remarkable invention?

25c, 35c, 50c and $1.00 the pair

Interwoven
TOE & HEEL
Socks

SHOWS GERMANY UPHELD ARMS SALES

American "White Book" Reveals Note from Berlin Admitting Legality of Trade.

AROSE OVER FUEL SUPPLIES

England's Pledge Against Attacks by Merchantmen Also Among the Documents.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—A second instalment of what has come to be popularly known as the United States Government's White Book was issued tonight by the State Department. It gives the text of important diplomatic correspondence with the belligerent Governments of Europe since the publication of the first instalment last May.

Besides constituting a public record of the position of the United States as precedent for the future, the volume reveals to the public a series of charges and countercharges by the belligerents that reflect the difficulties constantly encountered in the delicate task of observing neutrality. Most of the correspondence never before has been made public in text, although press dispatches have covered much of it in substance.

One of the most interesting features of the new edition is the publication for the first time of a memorandum of the German Foreign Office referred to in a colloquy between Chairman Flood of the House Foreign Affairs Committee and Representative Bartholdt of Missouri at the hearing on the bills proposing an embargo on arms. Mr. Flood quoted the memorandum as a justification of his argument that the German Government did not hold shipments of munitions to the Allies as illegal. It appears that the correspondence with the German Government conducted by Ambassador von Bernstorff developed, as a consequence of a ruling by the United States, that it was a violation of neutrality for merchant ships to leave American ports for the express purpose of supplying belligerent warships at sea. The Ambassador's note said:

"The position taken by the Government of the United States as to the delivery of coal and other necessaries to warships of the belligerent States, constituting a violation of neutrality, is, in the opinion of the Imperial German Government, untenable in international law. The Imperial German Government has set forth its position on this point in a memorandum which, in compliance with instructions, I have the honor to forward to your excellency."

Munition Shipments Legal.

The memorandum follows:

Under the general principles of international law no exception can be taken to neutral States letting war material go to Germany's enemies from or through their territory. This is accordant with Article 7 of The Hague Convention of Oct. 18, 1907, concerning the rights and duties of neutrals in naval and land warfare. If, however, a State avails itself of that liberty in favor of her enemies, then it must in accordance with a rule generally accepted in international law and confirmed in Article 9 of the two conventions above cited, place no obstacle to the German military force ordering contraband from or through its territory. * * * In spite thereof, various American port authorities have denied clearance from American ports to vessels of the Merchant Marine which would carry needy supplies or fuel to German warships either on the high seas or in other neutral ports. According to the principles of international law above cited, a neutral State need not prevent furnishing supplies of this character; neither can it, after allowing the adversaries to be furnished with contraband, either detain or in any way disable a merchant ship carrying such a cargo. Only when contraband trade would turn the ports into bases of German military operations would the unilateral stoppage of the trade of those vessels become a duty.

Such perhaps would be the case if the Germans kept coal depots in the ports, or if the vessels called at the port in regular voyages on the way to German naval forces. But it stands to reason that one merchant vessel occasionally sailing with coal or supplies for German warships does not turn a neutral port into a German point of support contrary to neutrality.

Our enemies draw from the United States contraband of war, especially arms, worth several billions of marks. This in itself they are authorized to do, but if the United States would prevent our warships occasionally drawing supplies from its ports a great injustice grows out of the authorization, for it would amount to an unneutral treatment of the belligerents and constitute a breach of the generally accepted rules of neutrality to Germany's detriment.

The Secretary of State in his reply said:

"The essential idea of neutral territory becoming the base for naval operations by a belligerent is, in the opinion of this Government, repeated departure from such territory of merchant vessels laden with fuel or other supplies for belligerent warships at sea. In order to ascertain the vessels which are thus operating, the Government has been obliged to investigate certain cases, in order that it might determine whether there have been or are about to be repetition of such acts, but in all respects equality of treatment has been observed toward all merchant vessels suspected of carrying supplies to belligerent vessels."

British Complained, Too.

The correspondence shows that the State Department received also a complaint from the British Ambassador stating that the "systematic way in which neutral ships have left American ports in order to supply German cruisers, and have been allowed to operate freely in the ports of the United States, in spite of the warnings which have been given it, the matter causes grave anxiety to his Majesty's Government."

The Secretary of State replied that so far as he was advised "every suspicious case of a vessel leaving an American port to supply German cruisers, which has been brought to the attention of the United States, with any basis of fact to support some such statement, has been fairly investigated. * * * The Government of the United States therefore feels obliged to decline to accept any suggestions intimating that its vigilance in the maintenance of its neutral duties under international law has been relaxed."

Case of the Tug Dalzell.

On another occasion the German Ambassador in complaining to the State Department that the tug F. B. Dalzell put to sea from New York to carry provisions to the British cruiser Essex, declared that the tug came out "under the searchlights of the U. S. S. Florida."

Mr. Lansing answered this with the statement that the Government of the United States had investigated the matter thoroughly and was not able to find sufficient evidence to show that the tug did supply British warships. He asked for further evidence on which to renew the investigation, but this, it appears, was not supplied.

In this connection Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British Ambassador, gave the State Department an extract from a letter written by the Admiral in command of the British ships along the American coast saying: "Except on one occasion in September, last, which formed the basis of the complaint referred to in your telegram, I am satisfied that no attempt has been made to order anything from the United States territory."

A series of communications passed between the British Embassy and the State Department on defensive armament of merchantmen and the right of belligerent merchant ships to leave neutral ports prepared to arm at sea. The British Embassy said that with reference to the fitting out on American territory of vessels intended for warlike purposes, Great Britain would "hold the United States Government responsible for any damages to British trade or shipping, or injury to British interests generally which may be caused by such vessels having been equipped at, or departing from, United States ports."

Never to Arm for Attack.

The ruling of the State Department that it was permissible for merchant ships to arm for defensive purposes, drew forth a note from the British Embassy on instructions from the Foreign Office, giving "the fullest assurances that British merchant vessels will never be used for purposes of attack; that they are merely traders armed only for defense; that they will never fire unless first fired upon, and that they will never under any circumstances attack any vessel."

The German Government, in a memorandum transmitted by Ambassador Gerard, took exception to the view that merchant vessels were permitted to defend themselves against a war vessel, and argued that it was a question whether or not armed merchant ships "should be admitted into neutral ports at all," the extent of armament being held as affording "no guaranty that ships armed for defensive purposes only will not be used for offensive purposes under certain circumstances."

The answer was that the United States held that vessels of small armament to enjoy the hospitality of American ports as merchant vessels was not a violation of neutrality.

"Nevertheless," the American reply adds, "the Government of the United States is not unmindful of the fact that the circumstances of a particular case may be such as to cause embarrassment and possible controversy as to the character of an armed private vessel visiting its port. Recognizing, therefore, the desirability of avoiding a ground of complaint this Government, as soon as a case arose, while frankly admitting the right of a merchant vessel to carry a defensive armament, expressed its disapprobation of a practice which compelled it to pass upon a vessel's intended use, which opinion, if proven subsequently to be erroneous, might constitute a ground for a charge of unneutral conduct.

"As a result of these representations no merchant vessels with armament have visited the ports of the United States since the 10th of September. In fact, from the beginning of the European war, but two armed private vessels have entered or cleared from ports of this country and as to these vessels their character as merchant vessels was conclusively established."

The efforts of the State Department to obtain improvements in the censorship of commercial cablegrams constitutes an extended correspondence covering a period of more than a year. The history of the formation of the Belgian relief commission and part the United States Government played in it is shown in a series of notes passing between Ambassador Gerard, Ambassador Page, and Minister Whitlock.

The correspondence relating to the attempt of the German ship Odenwald to sail from San Juan, Porto Rico, without clearance papers, furnishes another interesting chapter of the volume. The State Department's note, in answer to the German Government's complaint that the port authorities opened fire on the steamer without warning, concludes after a long review of the evidence that "the United States authorities at San Juan in the performance of their duties avoided any act endangering the safety of the vessel and the lives of the persons on board and exercised no greater force than was necessary to prevent the illegal departure of the Odenwald from the port of San Juan."

The case of August Piepenbrink, an American citizen of German birth, who was taken from an American vessel on the high seas by the French cruiser Condé, was the subject of long exchanges. The Trent case, in the civil war, was cited as a basis for the American demand for the release of Piepenbrink.

The text of a note from Foreign Minister Delcassé to Ambassador Sharp at Paris, shows that Great Britain and France never admitted the American contention, although the prisoner was surrendered "As a special favor." The Allies argued that Piepenbrink was not really an American citizen, having only declared his intention to become naturalized. The State Department set forth the view that "There is no justification in international law for the removal of even an enemy's subject from a neutral vessel on the high seas bound to a neutral port, even if he could properly be considered as a military person."

PRESIDENT STUDIES FUTURE OF OUR TRADE

